Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

Our dentist of long standing in Big Spring, Dick Lane now has a new partner or associate. He is Reginald Lynn Cranford.

On Johnson Street in Big Spring, Lane plans to take it take life a little easier now and not push it. He has been our dentist since the early '50s. 8—BALL

I was kinda wanting to see Ronnie Reagan give Gerald Ford a good race for the Republican presidential nomination. He had a good come on and rapport—with the American people for awhile back there. He must have dropped most of it somewhere down the line. Or has he?

8—BALL

Then Patrick Daniel Monihan who had a lot of appeal on his own, signed in with Scoop Jackson. (It seems that maybe he would get to be secretary of state if Jackson should win the election) and thereby he might have lost his britches. Jackson really does not have the appeal to win as president—or at least it seems that way to me from way out here. He may fool me. 8—BALL

Jimmy Carter keeps smiling his way through primary wins. He has appeal for the young voters and folks, there's a lot of them in the U.S of A.

I read somewhere that the average age of voters in the U.S.A. was 28 plus a fraction.

8—BALL

Jerry Lackey said in his column that there is more grass and weeds growing out of the cracks in sidewalks and streets then were growing on the ranges in lots of West Texas ranges.

Maybe we ought to pave the pastures with concrete or asphalt. And leave a lot of little

8—BALL

I heard the curator of Fort Concho Museum speak last week at a meeting of the Press Club at the Santa Fe Junction. The curator told of plans for the museum and how many visitors they expected to have in the years to come. He was a young bearded likeable guy.

I told him that when I moved to San Angelo, practically al of the old fort was there. Then came the tear down. The old horse sheds and barns and that kind of buildings were torn down, and became (in part) the Monarch Tile Co., the Rudy Vaughn Wool House, other places of business until only the old oficers quarters were left. And they had been sold and people made residences out of them.

Now they are trying to restore a lot of the old buildings (or rather rebuild) and have archeological crews dig under where the old buildings were.

Crabtree made it sound exciting. Maybe it will be a real restoration (in part) someday.

And the crowds of visitors will be as big as he thinks. 8—BALL

If it doesn't start raining soon,
I think I will start runinng my rainy forecasts again in the paper each week. It couldn't hurt.
8—BALL

You have to register by April 1 if you plan to vote. (That is if you haven't already registered or gotten your blue registration slip from the tax assesor-collector). Do not get caught without it. You may want to vote for a presidential delegate in the primary this May.

Or for some other candidate.

HOW DOES IRA WORK FOR HUSBAND and WIFE?

An IRA can be especially valuable to a married couple who each have an earned income as a retirement vehicle and as a tax advantage. To be eligible you must meet the following requirements: be younger than age 701/2, receive compensation from an employer or from self-employment and not all ready active in qualified pension or profit-sharing plans. If you meet these requirements, both of you may contribute 15% of your earned income or $1,500, whichever is less, toward your future retirement. This money, put into your IRA plan, will not be included in your taxable income until the money is withdrawn from the account. The net result being $3,000 off the top of your gross income (on which you pay income taxes) for the family unit...$3,000 saved to be enjoyed later during your retirement, when tax brackets are usually lower.

College Students: Bored of Education?

To many concerned parents, today's college students seem much less impressed with the importance of their education than were students of years ago. Sometimes, the students even seem

But educators and psychologists point out-seriously, yet sometimes with a smilethat many college students today are learning far more at school than their parents ever

Today education is different. Not only do new teaching methods make learning easier and lots more effective, but also college is seen as a place for social—as well as academic-instruction. Which is as it should be, when you consider that college is a mini-model of the tough outside world students will soon enough have to cope with and function in. And adjusting properly to that world is just as important and just as difficult as any course a school has to

That's why so many students are getting involved with the running of their schools. The actuality of practical campus politics is a good deal more enlightening and instructive than classroom theories.

That's also why students seem to take their competitive sports more seriously than ever before. Trying to do one's best is very much a part of the outside world and these kids are very much aware of it. They play hard and work hard at keeping themselves fit with effective medications like Tinactin cream; solution and powder, which fight most fungus to kill and help prevent athlete's foot, that old college locker room nemesis.

Unfortunately, these kids-the good kids who make up the majority of this nation's student body-rarely make news on radio or TV. But their abilities and straight thinking have not gone unnoticed.

Each year, more and more of these grade-A students are being recruited by business and industry before gradua-

Which would indicate that they were far from bored with their college education.

OF ECOLOGY

SCOUTS GIVE TRASH THE SACK

Three billion dollars! That's the estimated annual bill Americans are paying for public collection and disposal of garbage and solid waste the third most expensive community service in the land. .which is exceeded only by spending for highways and schools. Concerned citizens, of course, can make significant contributions to cleaning up this national mess. As in Watertown, N. Y., where the initia-tive of the Environmental Systems Division of St. Regis Paper Company and a local Boy Scout Council is currently leading the way.

Recently, the more than 500 Boy Scouts of Jefferson and Lewis County launched an intensive environmental cleanup campaign to make their community a better place in which to live.

Soliciting the aid of the 30,000 homeowners in their area, the Scouts began their drive with the sale of St. Regis disposable refuse sacks. In addition to their 30-gallon capacity and convenience; these sacks were selected because unlike plastic sacks - they will break down in sanitary land fill without adding to our ecological problems.

Watertown homeowners who purchase these sacks sepa- in your community?

rate paper, cans, rags, metal. returnable bottles and miscellaneous glass. Then, free of charge, the Scouts pick up the differentiated sacks and dispose of them in ways compatible to our ecology. Glass bottles, for example, are sold for recycling; bio-degradable trash is sent to land fill sites. Provi-

The best part about the program is that everyone profits. The community gets a cleaner environment; the Scouts get the credit for a job well done and the modest proceeds from selling the sacks and whatever trash they can. . . for the support of other worthwhile Scouting programs.
