PURE DEMOCRACY

Judge G. A. Richardson Makes Able Plea for Larrazolo.

ANDREWS SHOWN UP.

Roasts Teddyrooseveltism and Favors Rule By People.

In a quiet conversational tone Judge G. A. Richardson, mayor of Roswell, laid down the true principles of Democracy to a large crowd at the Logan & Dyer hall Monday night. Taking up the career of our adroit president he showed that during all the years of his administration, while he has pretended to be the friend of the people he has dexterously played into the hands of the monopolists. He called attention to the connection between the president and the trusts in the Harriman episode four years ago and referred to the relations between his subordinates and the monopolists.

Coming to our own territorial affairs the Judge laid the scathing terms the incency, dishonesty and beebessness of the carpet-drawing (embezzling) verary which rightfully belongs to another, while he gives, not the people of New Mexico, but the Quay-Penrose machine of Pennsylvania as a lobbyist on the floor of the house. The position of delegate gives him the freedom of the floor and allows him to gain access with ease to places where other lobbyists for trusts cannot go. This is a telling point in favor of the theory to which we have always adhered that Andrews has never drawn an honest breath for statehood and that he is paid to secretly to defeat it. Perhaps it is not necessary to pay him to defeat it, however, for self-interest would impel him to oppose it. He is intelligent enough to know that he would never be elected to either branch of congress if New Mexico were admitted, so he would lose the salary of delegate and would find his usefulness as a lobbyist seriously curtailed.

Judge Richardson told of a visit that he had made to the House of Representatives while the statehood bill was under discussion. The Republican leaders on the floor of the house were ridiculing the people of New Mexico, Jim Sherman, Republican nominee for vice president leading in the work. Andrews sat silently by and not one word did he utter in behalf of the "Sunshine Territory." (It must be said in justice to him that he is physically unable to say anything on his feet if he wants to do so.) Presently some reflection was cast on Arizona and in an instant the eloquent Democratic delegate from that territory was on his feet with a convincing and brilliant speech for his territory, incidentally defending New Mexico. Is this to the credit of the people who allow Andrews to usurp this office? Does anyone suppose that Larrazolo would allow such aspersions to be cast without making the galleries ring with a logical and eloquent defense of this territory?

In passing, the Republicans do not tell the people of Democratic Arizona that they must elect a Republican delegate in order to secure statehood, they say they will give statehood in any event, but they say that New Mexico must not only elect a Republican but must actually elect a notorious lobbyist and grafter to a job for which he draws a salary to which he is not entitled, in order to prove its fitness to occupy a place in the galaxy of states.

The Judge showed the hollowness of the claim that only a Republican can get appropriations for needed improvements, by showing that Max Smith, a Democrat, secured $30,000 more for Arizona last year than Andrews secured for New Mexico. He exposed the hollowness of the claim that Andrews secured school lands by showing that these lands were obtained years ago by Ferguson, a Democrat, and that the only thing Andrews did was to put through a bill which was prepared by Judge Richardson and others regulating the manner of allotting the lands that had been secured by a Democrat years ago.

Andrews claimed credit for the creation of the sixth judicial district, which had been created by legislation passed while Rody was delegate from the territory.

The address was frequently applauded and had a good effect.

The music by the band was one of the pleasant features of the occasion. Several visitors to town mentioned it and those of us who have not heard it since the festival noted that it has improved on the excellent music furnished at that time.

In addition to the regular extra list and to the papers in the drug stores stands the demands for Advocates at the office last week exceeded by more than two hundred copies the total that we were able to supply, and one gentleman asked us the cost of setting up and running one hundred extras; "there's a reason:" the Advocate prints the news. You may not agree with the opinion of the editor, but if you want to know what Artesians are doing you will have to read the Advocate. This week we publish in full free of charge the ordinance which the city council has agreed to pass granting a franchise to the electric light company as soon as a good bond is furnished. It is a good franchise for the town, much better than the one which expired some time ago. Read it and judge for yourself.

HEARST TROPHY

For Best Exhibit Will Be Held By Artesia, Hope and Carlsbad

TWENTY NINE OTHER PRIZES

For Eddy County, Of Which Artesia Obtained Thirteen.

The representatives from Eddy county have returned bearing the big Hearst $500 prize for the best exhibit and twenty-nine other prizes granted to individuals. The cup will be passed around to the several towns which furnished exhibits from Eddy county. As Schley said after the battle of Santiago "there is glory enough for all" and as none could have won without the other there is no reason for any to try to lord it over the rest.

The following prizes were won by Artesia: first prizes; white Dent corn, corn on stalk, banana cantaloupes, Kaffir corn, rhubarb, cling peaches; second prizes; first cutting alfalfa, second cutting alfalfa, White Elephant potatoes, peaches of any variety, white onions, onions any variety. The peaches which won first and second prizes for Artesia were grown on three year old trees. Hope won first prize on plate of fall apples, five of any variety of winter apples, Ben Davis, Jonathans, Winesaps, Missouri Pippins, Wealthy, Grimes Golden, Bell Flower, Paragon and Arkansas Black, and second prizes came this way: the Catron prize for the best display from any orchard was divided between the Hagerman orchard at Roswell and the Johnson brothers orchard at Hope. The special for white onions was won by little Bonny May Millsap of Artesia.

The order of rotation for the possession of the Hearst trophy cup for the best county exhibit was decided upon by the representatives of the towns of Artesia, Hope and Carlsbad as follows:

"Said trophy shall be exhibited as follows (by the Commercial Clubs of towns named) by the Carlsbad Commercial Club from the 19th to the 29th of October 1908, then by the Hope Commercial Club until the 10th day of November 1908, the Artesia Commercial Club shall then hold the Trophy for a period of three months, after which the Carlsbad Commercial Club shall hold the Trophy for a period of three months then the Hope Commercial Club shall hold the Trophy for a period of three months and so on in the same order if so desired by the clubs; provided that anyone of said clubs have any entertainment at which they desire to exhibit said Trophy they shall have the right to display same."

Great credit is due to the gentlemen who had charge from Eddy county of Eddy county exhibits, F. Barclay Sutherland, of Carlsbad, Jas. R. Cannon of Hope and E. J. Feemster and J. K. Hastie of Artesia and also to W. F. Schwartz, of Artesia, who had charge of the work of decorating.

A STRONG QUARTET.

Leading Democratic Talent of New Mexico To Be in Artesia Tuesday Evening Next.

A telephone message this morning brings the information that Hon. H. B. Ferguson, of Albuquerque, former Democratic delegate in Congress will speak in Artesia next Tuesday evening. He will be accompanied by Messrs. Gatewood, Richardson and Bateman, of Roswell, and Artesia voters will have a chance to hear the strongest men of the Territory.

build up Eddy county with trade that now goes to Chaves county or to Texas; it would build up the Plains and by reason of the increase that would result from such building the taxable property would so increase that the taxes therefrom would more than pay the interest on the bonds. As far as Carlsbad and Malaga are concerned, they feel that they need bridges and they ought to have them; they are the folks to determine what they need and it is likely they would vote bonds on themselves merely to see the wheels go round.

GET OUT VOTE.

Commercial Club Interested In Bridge Asks all to Register

APPOINTS COMMITTEE

Will Appeal to Plains to Support All Bonds.

The Artesia Commercial Club will ask everybody to register and vote for all the bonds, for all three bridges at the coming election and they will labor to see to it that the attention of the people on the plains be called to the benefit of the people there and of the whole county which will result from the building of the bridges.

The principal business of the Commercial Club meeting Tuesday night was in regard to getting out the vote and seeing that the people of the county were informed in regard to the benefits to be derived from the construction of the bridges. Sheriff Jas. D. Christopher made an interesting talk. He said that he understood that the people of Carlsbad would make an effort to get out a good vote for the bridge across the river at that place and he believed that public sentiment had changed in regard to the Artesia bridge. As before, the influence of Bucjac & Brice and of the Joyce-Pruit people will be exerted for the bonds and there are business changes in other directions that will tell for the whole issue. Then Editor Mul-lane who fought the bonds before will support them now. Still naturally Carlsbad workers will work especially for their own bridge and it behooves Artesia to get the facts before the people in regard to hers. It was likely that the principal fight would be on the Plains and considering the advantage that it would be to the people there, there will be no difficulty if the importance of the matter be brought home to the people of that country. Mr. Christopher suggested that all work and that a big bunch go over on the Plains when the new townsite is started at Knowles on the 28th. The celebration there will last three days. On motion it was determined to have the president to appoint a committee of five to get out the vote. Carried. The president has since appointed J. T. Collins, O. H. Ragsdale, J. B. Enfield, G. U. McCrary and M. A. Corbin.

The arguments in favor of the bridge are briefly as follows: It will benefit the cattle men on both sides of the river, giving those west access to the salt and those East access to market; it will be of especial benefit to sheepmen, Commissioner Turknett has repeatedly said that it would be worth $50 to him and that if contributions were in order he would give that amount. It would

The Race Issue

Comes now, Max Frost, he of the New Mexican, and having given his usual stereotyped certificate of character to the Clovis News, the same old certificate in the same old words that he has handed every Republican paper in the territory, and every Democratic paper that would put its paw into the bag where the "dough" is going to be, proceeds to credit said Clovis News with the following:

"At the close of his speech he thanked the people of Abiquiu for the majority that they gave him two years ago and told them he wanted them to give him a greater majority this time as he was a native of the native Spanish speaking people of the territory and therefore entitled to their votes, regardless of party.

"It now develops that Larrazolo was born in Chihuahua, Old Mexico, his statement to Clovis to the contrary notwithstanding."

Now the fact is that the biography of Larrazolo has been published in every Democratic paper in the territory for months, it has never been denied that he was born in Mexico any more than it has been denied that Bourke Cockren, the famous New York orator is Irish, or that John Paul Jones, the famous admiral was born in Scotland, or that LaFayette was born in France of the same Romance branch of the Aryan race from which the Spaniard sprang. When a man comes here and is educated in this country and is good enough citizen to be elected to a number of offices for a series of years by Texas Democrats, when he is familiar with the needs of the people of this country, when he belongs to the same branch of the white race that the rest of us do; shame on the contemptible politician that would say that such man should be defeated because of his origin, by a notorious grafter, like "Bull" Andrews. Of course, Larrazolo never made the speech attributed to him, at Abiquiu or anywhere else. The machine having gotten the most respectable Republican organ in the territory into trouble is now looking around for irresponsible lackeys and hirelings to do its dirty work and draw away attention from its first great error. To be sure this fake will be copied from the New Mexican, which by the way takes care not to assert that it is true, but only says that the News "insists that it is true."

This race issue, which was started by Max Frost who quoted from speeches alleged to have been made by Larrazolo in the Pecos Valley before he came across the mountains, is developing some strange features; for instance, Frost was called down last week by the Hagerman Messenger for his unrestrained praise of the letter of a negro ex-soldier up at Dexter who pretended that he spoke for all the veterans of the Northern army when he declared that the old soldier vote would go solidly for Andrews. The gang that is so finicky about whether a white man belongs to a certain nationality or not, calmly endorsed the sentiment of a member of the black race, who by the way, was libelling the old veterans of the North when he said they were unanimously in favor of Andrews.

Then think of the long list of Mexicans that have represented the territory in Washington. According to a recent issue of the New Mexican itself the following list of men, all Republicans, served the territory with credit; and everyone of them received the support of Max Frost and of the New Mexican.

Col. J. Francisco Chaves, three terms or six years.

Francisco Manzanares, two terms or four years.

Tranquilino Luna, one term or two years.

Francisco Perea, two terms or four years.

Miguel A. Otero, three terms or six years.

Trinidad Romero, one term or two years.

Mariano S. Otero, one term or two years.

Pedro Perea, one term or two years.

So leaving out the two non-Republican Mexican delegates we see that on Max's own confession people of that race can do good service in congress. Probably some of those fellows were tainted with graft; it would be hard for them to serve with the Republican machine and not have their morals tainted, but altogether they were a decent set; and we might add for the benefit of some of their American journalistic friends, who have been trying to stir up prejudice, that it was never necessary for them to steal court records to keep themselves out of the penitentiary.

"Larrazolo the Mexican."

When the infamous fake, the alleged Larrazolo speech was sprung and where the outraged Democratic candidate had denied it the Texico Trumpet published the fake speech, after the denial had been made and then said that now Larrazolo came and denied it, adding "Larrazolo who was born in Mexico."

This is the only answer that the Republican press has given to the arguments that the Democrats have advanced in this campaign.

We say, that this territory is governed by a disreputable gang" and you refute the charge by saying "Larrazolo is a Mexican.

We say, that Larrazolo produced evidence that more than two thousand fraudulent votes were counted for Andrews last time in the counties of Valencia, Torrance and Colfax and you did not even try to contradict this though these facts alone would have given Larrazolo more than fourteen hundred majority without deducting illegal votes cast for Andrews in other counties where you did make some defense: you reply "Larrazolo is a Mexican."

We say the gang which is backing Andrews has passed legislation in this territory which your own leaders inconspicuously have denounced as infamous and have unanimously repealed; you answer "Larrazolo is a Mexican."

We say that it has been established by undeniable evidence that corporation leaders have made preparation for the assassination of Democrats in this territory if they attempted to even electioneer, and those corporation men are advocating the election of your ticket; you crush us with the information, "Larrazolo is a Mexican."

We say, that "Bull" Andrews is a notorious lobbyist and the tool of the rottenest gang that ever cursed American politics; you answer Larrazolo is a Mexican."

We say, that before the recent territorial convention the Tucumcari Times, a leading Republican paper now supporting Andrews quoted Senator Breveridge as saying that he would never consent to favor statehood for New Mexico when men of the character of "Bull" Andrews was sent to represent her; you reply "Larrazolo is a Mexican."

We say, that you have raised the race issue and we have not, but if you must raise it, remember that you sent Mexican delegates to congress for twentyeight years, you depend today on the fraudulent votes of men who are not even American citizens, you set a poor decrepit negro, George Washington of Dexter, up as the representative of the Old Soldiers of the North to speak for them. You have kept Sol

Luna the most corrupt Mexican that ever lived as national committeeman for years and you are still depending on his ability to count thousands of his sheep in Valencia county to help elect your ticket; you answer "Larrazolo is a Mexican."

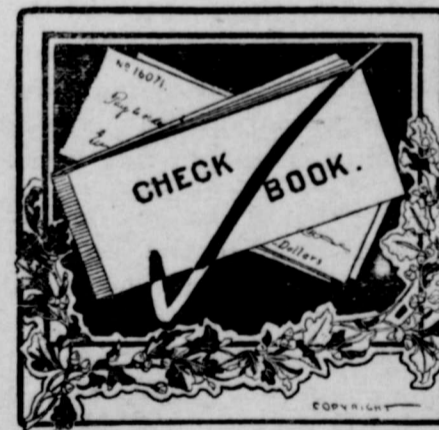

We say, that you do not deny and you never did deny, except perfunctorily, that Larrazolo was elected, you have encouraged this fraud, you have backed and are backing a man whom you know is morally embezzling his neighbors money, you know that the Good Book has some startling reference to the man who partakes with a thief hating his own soul, why do you vote to continue this condition, why do you caluminate a good citizen and an able lawyer? Then you answer, "Larrazolo is a Mexican and does not belong to the same nationality that I do (and God only knows what that is) so though of the same Aryan branch of the Caucasian race I cannot support him for he is not exactly my sort."

Thank God for the admission HE IS NOT YOUR SORT. BUT THAT IS NOT WHY YOU ARE SUPPORTING BULL ANDREWS. You are the biggest set of monumental liars on earth. You are supporting "Bull" Andrews for the boodle there is in it. If it were not for this, the little spark of decency away down in your natures would flame up and "Bull" would not have an editorial friend in the territory of New Mexico.

Remember this bridge matter is of vital interest to you; no matter what your occupation it is money in your pocket, just as much as the money you get for your alfalfa or your Kaffir corn. Moreover, it is a matter wherein if you do not do your full duty you are depriving your neighbor of his right. Protect his rights and your own by registering at once and then voting for the bonds.

If you need a new stove flue we will make it for you, if you need your old one worked over let us do that for you.

HIS HAND IN BAG?

Chicago Tribune Mentions Rumor Connecting Him with Cosmopolitan.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Information concerning the nature and extent of the insolvency of the Cosmopolitan National bank of Pittsburg, which indicates criminal liability on the part of officials of the bank and certain of its directors and stockholders has been received in Washington.

It is reported that no less than $100,000 of the funds of the defunct bank had been diverted to the use of persons intimately connected with the bank's affairs, without customary lawful securities and safeguards being observed.

William H. Andrews, commonly known as "Bull" Andrews, delegate in congress from New Mexico, close associate of Boise Peurose, and a person who has been heretofore identified with Pennsylvania bank disasters is reported to have had his hands in the Cosmopolitan grab bag to the extent of $20,000.

NOTE

The above dispatch is taken from the Chicago Tribune, the leading ultra partisan Republican paper of that city in its issue of September 29. The rumor may not be true, but is it not a peculiar thing that the reputation of "Bull" is such that his own papers in the east mention his connection with a bank looting as the most natural thing in the world?

There is a class of Republicans in this territory who say that they would never vote for a Mexican because he does not belong to exactly the same nationality as they do, even though he belongs to the same branch of the Caucasian race because they want some one who is fit to represent them. Is "Bull" Andrews the kind of man that they think represents them? Is he their kind of people? Is he better than an able and distinguished lawyer with a long and honorable record as a Democratic official in the great state of Texas? Is he nearer their sort? And to elect him they must associate shoulder to shoulder with the foreign contract laborers who are not even citizens and are not legally entitled to vote, who are compelled under duress to vote for Andrews in the coal mines of Colfax, they must associate with the sheep that Sol Luna votes in Valencia. Some people have queer tastes and if "Bull" is the sort that they think represents them we suppose that he is; what we object to is to have him sent as a man fit to represent the rest of us.

Sunday night Rev. J. C. Gage closed a very successful revival meeting at Hope. There were nineteen conversions. A lot was secured for the proposed new Methodist church and a good subscription started toward building the same. We may soon expect to see a new house of God rear its head in the thriving town to the west.

Like all the Rest.

In a long and interesting letter, a lady who lives near Dexter recently recounted all the interesting things she saw during an extended trip to the Pacific coast and through the mountain states. It is evident from her letter that when she left the Pecos Valley she was not entirely satisfied but like everybody else who has ever lived long enough in this favored vale to "get the habit" she returns with the realization that this is the real garden spot.

Among other things she says comparing the fruit of the Pecos Valley with that of California:

"I have discovered that fruit raised in this country and the east has a more delicious flavor I do not see that California can boast of larger and better fruit and grain than is grown right here in New Mexico. So my mind this is a far better country, taking it all round. I think a man has a better chance for getting rich here; and considering it from a health standpoint, I do not see California has any the advantage. I feel somewhat partial to this country; much more pleased than I was last fall, I believe the time will come when there will be rain to make crops without artificial method. New Mexico is alright. I am thinking seriously of buying an apple orchard and sending for the old man to come home."

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, no not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not have otherwise found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Redford & Mann.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Good Franchise Granted on Condition that Bond is Forthcoming

Tuesday night the council voted to grant an electric light franchise to Oscar A. Coates of Bisbee, Arizona, provided that he put up a good and sufficient bond. The franchise is the best for the people of any yet considered; it is much more satisfactory than the old Buller franchise and expires six years sooner. In order that our readers may know what they are getting we publish the ordinance in full as a matter of news. We are glad that such a satisfactory agreement has been reached.

Ordinance No. —
Franchise to Oscar S. Coates, for ice and light purposes.

An ordinance authorizing and granting to Oscar S. Coates, his heirs and assigns, the right to construct, acquire, operate and maintain an electric light plant in the town of Artesia, Eddy county, New Mexico, for the purpose of supplying light and power to the citizens and inhabitants of said town, and the right to construct and maintain electric light wires, lines, poles, etc., along and through the streets and alleys of said town. Said rights and franchises to continue effectual and useful for the period of fifteen years.

Section 1. That Oscar S. Coates, his heirs, representatives or assigns, is hereby granted the right and privilege to construct, acquire, operate and maintain, an electric light plant, with all necessary poles, wires, lamps and guys for anchors and other necessary apparatus in said Town of Artesia; and he is granted the right and privilege and is especially authorized, to use all the streets, alleys, lanes, bridges, viaducts and public grounds from time to time, as he may desire, wires, cables and conduits of electricity, together with lamps, lamp fixtures and appurtenances and devices suitable for distributing and supplying said Town of Artesia and the inhabitants thereof, with an electric current for light and power, and any and all other purposes to which electricity may now or hereafter be applied. Said rights and franchises to continue useful and effective to the said grantee, his heirs and assigns for a period of fifteen years.

Section 2. Said grantee, his heirs and assigns, shall not unreasonably obstruct the passage on any street, alley, lane, viaduct or other public place, and shall place the wires on substantial poles, said wires to be hung at least eighteen feet above the ground. Should it become necessary for the said grantee to make an excavation of any kind, in the construction of the said plant or works, he shall be required to fill, repair and level up the same within a reasonable time, with the streets, alleys and grounds. Where guys are necessary, in conspicuous places, they shall be arranged so as to be plainly visible to passengers along such streets or places.

Section 3. When the poles are set in or along an alley, they shall be set and located not further than one foot from the lot line, and when erected on and along the streets of said town, they shall be set and located under the direction of the street and alley committee.

Section 4. Said grantee, his heirs and assigns, shall not charge, during the life of this ordinance, for a 16 candle power, incandescent lamp, a greater sum than $1.25 at a flat rate, or more than $12.00 per month for arc lamps, to be run on moonlight schedule, the same to be used all night, and shall not charge a greater sum than 20 cents per kilowatt hour, meter rate. Meter rent not to exceed 40 cents per month. Meters to be installed where grantee shall deem necessary.

Dr. L. Baeta-Neves, M. C. E. Brazilian delegate to the Irrigation Congress, who has also been instructed by his government to make a thorough study of irrigation and dry farming in the United States, was the guest of the Commercial Club Thursday. A committee consisting of E. B. Kemp, J. B. Cecil and F. J. Lukins took the distinguished South American through the irrigated farms around town. At night he was guest of honor at a smoker given by the Club. Mr. Neves delivered an interesting speech on the feeling of friendship which his government has for the United States and the love the inhabitants bear the people of this country. Considering the fact that he has been studying the English language but two months his vocabulary is truly surprising. Judge K. K. Scott, of Roswell, was called upon and made a fitting response after which addresses were delivered by several members of the Commercial Club.

W. C. Ragsdale, a brother of O. H. Ragsdale, was in town Thursday.

The C. W. B. M. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. P. White, Tuesday Oct. 12, with an attendance of ten members and four guests. The opening song and prayer were followed by a business session at which the year books for the ensuing year were adopted. The report of the first years work was given by the secretary, and a letter of encouragement and hope from the President and corresponding Secretary of Territorial Board was read. The work in this auxiliary which was organized last April, has flourished exceeding both financially and in a point of membership, the latter now numbering eighteen--the names of Mrs. Judson Osburn and Mrs. Mary White having been proposed at this meeting. A social program then followed consisting of two readings and a spelling contest. Mrs. Atkeson winning the prize, "Works and Workers in Mission Fields of the C. W. B. M." After being served by the hostess with milk and pumpkin pie, the auxiliary adjourned to meet next month with Mrs. J. B. Atkeson.

While the overwhelming Democratic majority in this county, and the fact that the full vote at the primaries obligated those who took part to vote the ticket unless the moral character of the nominee was bad or some gross fraud had been perpetrated, insures the election of Joe Graham as commissioner—for which place he was fairly nominated and for which he is competent morally and otherwise—yet we do protest against the gratuitous insult offered Mr. Turknett by one of his supporters. It was a mean thing to name certain Democrats, who it is said, would be elected by Republicans and then add that the rest of the Democratic ticket had no opposition. Such frankness before Mr. Turknett announced would have been commendable.

Panics and Prosperity

(The panic of 1884.)

In June 1905 Hart, Schaffner & Marx, the famous Chicago clothiers, offered a prize for the best essay on economic subjects by recent graduates of the different colleges and universities of the United States. A board of five of the most eminent masters of political economy in the country were selected to assign the subjects and to determine the merit of the work presented.

The prize was won by W. Jett Loucks who had passed from a fellowship in the University of Chicago to an adjunct professorship of economics and politics in the Washington and Lee University. The subject which he had selected to treat was "The causes of the panic of 1893." The first paragraph of this work we now quote in full:

"During the year 1882 there was a disastrous financial panic in France. Two years later the United States experienced a similar calamity. Out of the general depression following these two events, however, there soon developed a reactionary movement which, year by year, up to 1890, grew stronger and more extensive in its influence. In taking up the first step therefore, in the preliminary problem of the connection between the panic of 1890 and the crisis of 1893, and going backward to trace out the causes of the panic of 1890, the starting point is to be found in the United States, where this tendency toward a revival in trade and industry first made its appearance."

After referring to conditions in this country "Amid the widespread stagnation which followed the crisis of 1884 in the United States" he placed the beginning of the revival of business in the year 1886. An examination of the tables published by Mr. Loucks shows that the panic broke out in May 1884. At that time Chester A. Arthur was President of the United States and prior to the time of the breaking out of the panic there seemed to be little indication that the Democrats would win in the following November. On the other hand, the panic disappeared two years later in 1886 when Grover Cleveland was president and the period of prosperity which then began did not abate when he wrote his famous anti-protective message of 1887, nor did it subside when the low tariff Mills bill was up for discussion in the congress or when the question was before the people and the issue in doubt.

That Loucks is not mistaken in his assertions is proven by the confirmatory testimony of Theodore E. Burton. Here is all that he has to say about this panic:

"The crisis which occurred in May, 1884, the date of the failure of Grant & Ward in New York, with that of the Metropolitan National Bank and other institutions. The downward movement may be said to have reached its lowest point in 1886. After this there was a season of prosperity not marked throughout by the same rapid advance as after 1878-79, but which continued with some variations in activity until 1890, and with an interruption at that time, until 1893. (Crisis and Depressions p 290-91).

Blackmar begins a two page discussion of this panic with the statement, "In May, 1884, the storm burst upon the business world."

Thus we see that a Republican administration may usher in a panic from which the business world cannot recover for two years and finally does recover only under a Democratic "Free Trade" administration. Again we warn our friends not to jump at the conclusion that Republicanism and protection are necessarily the cause of panics. Appearances are sometimes deceptive. Still we might do well to remember that this is two years more out of the alleged forty-five years of prosperity and protectionism that the Republican campaign book of the year says occurred. We must hasten to chop out another panic period from the same era.

(The Panic of 1890).

"Populism never prospers save when men are unprosperous," Theodore Roosevelt; quoted by Bennett in "Roosevelt and the Republic."

Reed I was Czar of Representatives, and Ingalls I was Viceroy of Senators under the reign of Harrison, Benjamin, when the word of discontent came to the farmers in all parts of the country in 1890 and converted them into Populists, people who according to the distinguished gentleman who now adorns the White House only increase and multiply during hard times.

It was while the noted leaders of Republicanism named above held the destinies of the nation in their hands that C. W. McCune national secretary of the Farmers Alliance came before the committee of Ways and Means, then under the chairmanship of William McKinley and made the following address:

"It is not necessary at this time to prove that there is existing in this country a depressed condition of agriculture. The newspapers are teeming with articles which, when they do not directly assert this fact seem to recognize it as a general basis for all discontent and business troubles. It is generally recognized that a depressed condition of agriculture does prevail; even speeches here in Congress have shown that this fact is acknowledged, and already two or more bills have been introduced with a view of creating a commission for the purpose of making a thorough investigation at public expense during the next twelve months as to the causes of the depressed condition of agriculture. Without devoting further time to this feature I shall take it for granted that a depressed condition of agriculture does exist."

McCune advocated a subtreasury system based on the same fundamental principle upon which the recent Republican currency measure is based.

Two years later on a platform which declared that "Business is prostrated, our homes covered with mortgages, labor impoverished and the land concentrating in the hands of the capitalists," the candidates for the peoples party polled more than a million votes and carried six sovereign states. The same year (1892) the Democratic national platform declared that, "Since the McKinley tariff went into operation there have been ten reductions in wages to one increase. We deny that there has been any increase of prosperity since that tariff went into operation, and we point to the dullness and distress, the wage reductions and strikes in the iron trade as the best possible evidence that no such prosperity has resulted from the McKinley act." On this platform Cleveland received 277 electoral votes to 145 cast for Harrison. So the people did not think they were prosperous under Harrison. Let us now turn to the economists. Recollect Loucks spoke frequently of the panic of 1890 in his discussion of the crisis of 1884. In a chapter devoted to the panic of 1890 he says (page 78): "On the 16th of August the bank surplus in New York fell below the legal requirements. From that time a weekly deficit was shown in the weekly bank statements of the New York Banks for eleven weeks out of the twenty remaining to the end of the year. The largest was on September 13 when it reached \$3,306,000. As early as August 8 rates on call loans advanced to 20 and 25 per cent. Two weeks later $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent commission a day was paid in addition to six per cent per annum, or an equivalent of 186 per cent a year. For two weeks during the middle of September, and for a similar period after the news of the Baring failure in England the same extraordinary rates were demanded. Finally the New York banks resolved to relieve the existing stringency by the emergency operation of issuing Clearing House certificates. The first certificates were authorized by the New York Clearing House on the 11th of November." Remember that the deficit in the Clearing House banks occurred under Harrison ten weeks before the election that changed the completion of the lower house from Republican to Democratic;

two years and ten weeks before the second election of Cleveland; nearly two and a half years before Cleveland's second inauguration and four years, lacking twelve days, before the much abused Wilson bill went into effect. At the time we refer to the McKinley tariff bill had just been passed and went into effect during the period we refer to.

Blackmar testifies that in the early part of the year in order to avert disaster the Republican secretary of the treasury threw a million dollars a day into the New York banks for seventy days. And though he adds that while "the panic was of short duration" when it did come, yet the statistics of failures taken from R. G. Dun & Co. by both Loucks and Burton show that there were 1,360 more failures in 1891 than in 1890 with a small increase of capital involved, and though both the number and amount decreased materially in 1892 yet the election of that year showed that the people accepted the theory of the Democratic party that they had not recovered their prosperity. And as Populism reached its greatest strength in 1892, it is clear that the people were not prosperous if Roosevelt is correct in saying that "Populism is only prosperous when men are unprosperous"

Our friend Woods of the Lakewood Progress is doing some fine work for the campaign and his editorials have a directness about them that is refreshing. He calls a spade a spade and a liar a liar. Recently he roasted a Republican paper which had crawled behind the postal laws and endeavored to have a rival paper put out of business for telling the truth. The statute appealed to being the one forbidding the sending of libellous matter through the mail. However, Woods missed the joke, for in due time the Republican authorities at Washington handed down a decision the purport of which was that it was not a libel to call the aforesaid Republican editor a liar. After that sort of recommendation from his own people we could never get rilel up enough over anything that he said to think it worth while to deny it.

RESOLVED, That we the members of The Woman's Club express our deepest sympathy and regrets of the loss of one so dear to us all and one who had learned, that, "The palm is not gained without the dust of labor."

Second, That her visits to the Club were always appreciated, her loving smile, congenial happy disposition always imparted to those about her sunshine and happiness.

Third, That we found in Mother Kemp, truly a mother indeed, full of faith and hope, always ready and willing to do all that she could to assist others over the rugged path she had long since trod. As an Honorary member we will miss her, her place among us cannot be filled by another, but her sweet life will be as a guide post to us all along the pathway of life.

Resolved That we know in this dark hour of grief words of human sympathy would be meaningless did we not know that our loved ones had passed to that home above where sorrow is unknown and the faithful receive their reward.

Resolved That this society feels deeply the loss of these two loved members who have always been so faithful to every cause of duty. They will be greatly missed.

Announcement

The Otero county republican central committee has purchased two columns per week for four issues of the Advertiser for the purpose of exploiting their political views. The space will be principally used for the benefit of the Andrews' campaign and the matter will be edited by the trained corps of newspaper writers and expert clippers (from the New Mexican) which have been secured by the committee. We are not responsible for what may appear in those two columns and it is a fair presumption that as the matter will deal mostly with what Mr. Andrews, "the man who does things," has done and will do, it will be mostly hot air.---Alamogordo Advertiser.

The above statement indicates several things. It shows that the G. O. P. gang has at least secured action on the boodle and that they will spend lots of it from now until election; it shows that where they cannot buy a Democratic paper and the editor as they have done in every instance where an alleged Democratic paper is supporting Andrews, they are willing to buy as much space as they can. It can hardly be expected that the space in the Advertiser will do them any great amount of good, for its editors, the Morgans, are sure-enough Democrats and the stuff they put in the editorial columns of the Advertiser has the right ring, but so plentiful has the money become with the Republicans within the last week that they can hire Democratic space where there is only a remote chance that it will do good.

But why did not the San Marcial Standard and the other so-called Democratic papers before the campaign frankly say to the voters, "all the space in this paper, with a dried up soul of an editor thrown in has been sold to the Republican committee for this campaign?"

Bank of Artesia Increases Capital.

At a meeting of stockholders of the Bank of Artesia which was held Thursday it was determined to increase the capital of that institution from $30,000 to $50,000; the capital has all been paid up and all that is now necessary is to go through the usual formalities customary in such cases. The institution now has in the neighborhood of fifty stockholders, and has a surplus of $12,000.

The officers are, John W. Poe, president; John C. Gage, vice president; John B. Enfield, cashier; Jas. J. Sullivan, assistant cashier.

Directors are, John W. Poe, Joe J. Jaffa, John C. Gage, J. O. Kuyrkendall, C. A. Sipple, J. H. Askew, W. L. Whitaker, R. A. Eaton, and John B. Enfield. Messrs. Poe and Jaffa are president and cashier, respectively of the Citizens National Bank of Roswell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Erb returned from the mountains Saturday night. While away Mr. Erb bought twenty-five fine fat cattle from the flying H and will furnish the meat to his customers from the Artesia Market.

Meeting of Womans' Club.

The first regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held Wednesday Oct., 14 at the cozy home of Mrs. Gayle Talbot, with the following members present: Mesdames Beckham, Brainard, Corbin, Frisk, Gilbert, Graham, Hodges, Lowry, Talbot, White, Swepston, and Mathes.

This was the first study on "Our own Country" and under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Corbin we were made familiar with many interesting events connected with "Early Discoveries" and many thrilling adventures with the "First Americans" (the Indians) were related.

Thro devious ways and various rivers, straits and bays we were led until we finally landed in "Old Jamestown." Many bits of interesting history gather about this ancient landmark and were vividly recited for our mutual profit and delight.

All felt a special interest in that part of the study which related to the oldest City in America and we consider it quite a distinction to live in the Territory, the Capital of which is "Historic Santa Fe." We are anticipating a real treat at our next meeting as Mrs. Beckham is to lead us across the "American Desert" and towards the "Setting Sun" via "The Santa Fe Trail."

The presence of Mrs. Judge Richardson, of Roswell, enhanced the pleasure of the meeting and her descriptions of the Roswell Club as well as her interesting remarks on Santa Fe were greatly appreciated by all.

If this meeting is prophetic of those to follow we have before us a most delightful years work. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Swepston Oct. 28 with Mrs. Mathes as leader and Mrs. Graham asstiant.

The case of the City of Artesia vs Dean Sampson, manager of the Big Jo Lumber Company on the charge of building a lumber yard within the fire limits after the town had refused him a permit, was tried before a jury in Judge Swepston's court Thursday afternoon. The evidence seemed to be insufficient to prove that Mr. Sampson had violated the fire ordinance and the jury brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty." City attorney Davis conducted the prosecution and Judson G. Osburn the defense.

John R. Joyce, of Carlsbad, and A. Pruitt, of Roswell, were in town Monday looking over the business of their firm; they both expressed themselves as delighted with the increased business of Artesia. Mr. Joyce, is now, as he always has been, an enthusiastic bridge man and says that he believes that Carlsbad will cast a better vote for the bonds than it did before and that he believes that they will carry in that town.

The Current says Curry has promised that if Carlsbad Democrats vote for Andrews there will be no county division. Artesia voters will get a hunch that if they vote for Andrews there will be county division, so we assume that all the Democrats of Eddy county will herd with the "Bull." Last spring it was reported that Curry told some folks on the way up to Roswell during the trade excursion that if Artesia elected a Democratic City ticket he would oppose county division. To the credit of the intelligence and patriotism of the leaders of the Citizens movement they did not use this during the campaign. At the time of the Portalis Councilmanic Democratic convention it was given out that if our (Republican) governors man was not nominated Curry would favor county division, but that while he ordinarily looked on county division with favor, if his choice was selected he would see to it that no division bill got through. His man (strangely enough one of the very best citizens of the valley) was not nominated. This Carlsbad report makes the third. The Governor will soon have as many contradictory stories out on this matter as he has in regard to what Teddy said on statehood or in regard to his own partisan affiliations. He makes up a new story every time he connects with a new brand of booze.

Mr. Schwartz, Superintendent of Sunday school of Christian church having last week entertained Miss Ross' class winners in contest for highest attendance during the quarter, on Tuesday evening of this week entertained Mrs. Fatheree's class who stood second in the contest. These little folks were so disappointed when they found they had lost in the race which they tried so hard to win that the kind heart of Mr. Schwartz misgave him and he promised to treat them also.

After an hour or two spent playing games they were feasted to their heart's content on apples, candy, nuts and sandwiches. Members of class were Masters Lea Newkirk, Lloyd Atkeson, George Allen, Elmer Naylor, Erwin Davis, Clyde Fatheree, Dick Turk, Harry Hamilton, Allen Briscon, Carl Morrison, Bro. Stout, Mrs. Fatheree.

THE BIG RACKET STORE.

IMPRESSIONS OF A TENDERFOOT Being Unorthodox Sketches of Real Human Interest.

THE TRUTH ABOUT ADVERTISING.

Rich picking awaits the correct advertiser in every town in the territory, for as yet the art is in its infancy in New Mexico. All of the successful men have been helped most by advertising in some form, but in a mercantile way the field is still practically virgin.

The people of this county read the papers closer than those of any other section. Many of them isolated, the advertising columns are as much news as any other part of the paper.

Few of them would read the news if it were allowed to stand issue after issue, and just as few of them read that ad that stands the same way. Two issues is the limit of usefulness of any mercantile advertisement.

It doesn't require a genius to write advertisements. Say what you have to say, as you would have to say it to a customer in your store.

You would quote prices to a customer in your store and if you are wise you will do it in your ad.

It is all right to say that there are "Bargains in dry goods at Smith's store." If the readers know that Smith's word is all right, such an ad has some value, but if Smith quotes the figures, every reader is convinced.

Losing cuts of prices are not necessary. No one expects Smith to lose money on the goods he sells, or to name Sears-Roebuck prices. Trained modernly they do appreciate being told what certain goods are worth at their trading point in advance, and seeing it in print suggests many wants.

Don't expect that a dollar spent for an ad will return you $100. Advertising is a steady proposition, not a get-rich quick scheme.

There never was a business that would not respond to steady, intelligent and reasonable advertising. Plunging has its place, but it is the steady-pulling horse that moves the load.

The very bigness of the big store advertises it in a way. That is why the little fellow gets more out of advertising. Yet the big fellows are the most persistent advertisers, and the average little fellow lets them get away with the goods.

All forms of advertising have some value, but the ad that pays most is the frequently changed one in a newspaper.

Don't expect a wild stampede your way with your first ad. Others are using the same medium, and to get them coming your way, you must keep everlastingly at it.

Advertising is of most value for the newcomers. Human nature is the same, and they instinctively distrust the merchant who has not faith enough in his goods to advertise them.

Temperance and truthfulness is even more necessary in the ad than it is in the store.

Would Mortgage the Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw: one on my hand and one on a leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at Pecos Valley Drug Store.

Quail has no show in this country nowadays. Last week an unfeeling wretch without any love of the feathered tribe in his soul went out and killed an untold number of quail. This roused the brethren so Wilmer Kemp, Arthur Williamson and Joe Clayton came in the other day with a story that they had killed sixty five quail each at a single shot; that is, the three killed one hundred and nintyfive quail, as we figure it and they fired only one shot each. Then Jas. J. Sullivan came to the front and said that he had killed eighty quail each at a shot per, But is nothing to what is to come. A new bunch has gone forth consisting of E. N. Requa, M. A. Corbin, J. T. Patrick, H. H. Hess, Judge G. U. McCrary and Dr. J. H. McCrary and the things they will have to tell when they return will startle the natives. Unlike the others these gentlemen are noted for their accuracy and they will not overlook a single quail as we fear the other fellows carelessly did.

Had a Close Call.

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Groom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles affected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at Pecos Valley Drug Store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

More Than Enough is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again.—For sale by Redford & Mann.

When Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war who lost a foot at Gettysburg says: "The good Electric Bitters have done is worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at Pecos Valley Drug Store.

accompanied him to Artesia. They were Messrs. Heath, Clayton, Foster, Blake, Christopher, Robinson, Stout, McCrary, Davis, Price, Redford, Turner, Gage, Whelan and Talbot.

Mr. Larrazolo was warmly greeted by the citizens of Artesia, regardless of political affiliation, and a large crowd assembled at 8 o'clock to hear him expound those principles of liberality and progress for which the Democratic party stands, and always has stood, committed. A rousing reception was given by the Artesia Cornet Band. The big Askew warehouse was secured for the evening, as no local auditorium would have held the crowds that gathered to listen to New Mexico's native orator.

The meeting was called to order by George P. Cleveland, president of Artesia Democratic Club. Judson G. Osburn, Esq., was called upon who introduced the candidate for Delegate in a ten-minute speech only a in the people. No could present these important questions in a more simple, forcible manner. At no time did the speaker descend to the vulgar plane of abuse, but his speech was a statement of facts that all the years of Republican success and boasted shrewdness have not been able to refute. This portion of the address was particularly strong and the large crowd present was much impressed thereby.

Coming nearer home, Mr. Larrazolo took up a discussion of political conditions as we know them to be in New Mexico, and made some telling points. Republicans who are new comers in the Pecos Valley were made acquainted with some startling facts regarding the usages that obtain in the councils of the party in New Mexico. The sins being committed in the name of Republicanism in this territory were laid bare in a glaring manner, backed up by statements of facts that were sufficient to whom nominee, were prised to meet a demand of such ability. Many of the new comers, having seen and heard Mr. Andrews, the Republican incumbent at Roswell on the Fourth, supposed that the Democracy had placed in the field a candidate of similar calibre and attainments. Mr. Larrazolo's appearance convinced them that the Democrats of the Territory have named a candidate who, if elected, will be the peer of any in the school of National politics, and whose brilliancy and attainments will be a credit, rather than a reflection, upon New Mexico and its people.

At the conclusion of the speech, scores pressed forward to shake the hands of the speaker and assure him that the Democrats of Artesia would give an accounting entirely satisfactory when the votes are counted in November. The distinguished visitor because though they considered it the worst piece of legislation possible aside from a single gold standard, yet it did in some way recognize silver. Nobody claimed that the bill had the least bit of merit, and it was generally conceded that it was passed originally to help the Republican senators in the silver states who had voted for the McKinley tariff bill which was not popular with their constituents, and they needed a makeshift silver bill to cloud the issue. All three economists, Blackmar, Burton, and Loucks, agree that the deferring of the final great crisis by this means was a very unwise thing, and naturally, they do not have a kind word to say for the measure; and indeed nobody else ever did have a kind word for the measure on its merits. The great cause of the temporary and partial revival, however, was the big crop here and the short crop abroad. As we have stated Loucks, disagreeing with the other two authorities, believes that the result of this condition was so beneficial that there would not have been any recurrence of the crisis in 1893 had it not been for the inflation caused by the passage of the Sherman act.

None of the authors attribute the check to any tariff legislation, wherein they show their wisdom; for the tariff was high during the time of the panic of 1890 and the same tariff continued until more took its place, thirteen showed a deficit and the total shortage for that period amounted to nearly sixty seven million dollars. The whole forty seven months of the McKinley law showed a total deficit of eighty million dollars; so that the plates might have been for bonds to be sold to supply revenue, the bonds might have been issued to supply revenue and indeed this was doubtless one of the causes for their preparation, but the Harrison administration had been as a whole an administration of hard times which begun long before Democratic victory and which while they were checked were simply accumulating to break forth again and Foster was preparing for the storm in preparing the plates for bonds.

That the panic of 1893 was one of the worst of the many industrial crisis that has attacked the country there is no reason to deny. Whatever the cause, it was a time of distress untold and unspeakable. It began at least fourteen months before there was any change in the tariff. According to the eminent Republican economists whom we have quoted it began, essentially, two and a half years before a Democratic administration was installed in Washington, and the worst was deferred, according to the same authorities only because of the unusual condition of crops here and abroad, and to makeshift financial legislation, which, to the extent to which tendent Kingsley who in charge of the Business Men's Relief Committee of the city of Chicago declared that "never in the history of the society have we had so many appeals based entirely on lack of employment." There were soup-houses in the East under following the panic of 1893 but there were soup houses in the East last winter too, and in all human probability there will be this winter, for the Buffalo Republic, one of the leading labor papers in the country declared in a recent issue that millions of workmen are out of employment and it is rather hard to see where they can get work at this time of year for the winter when they have not secured it already.

Only last week the Republican schoolboard of Chicago issued a report to the effect that there are ten thousand school children attending school in that city who have not enough to eat. When we consider the children of school age who do not attend and those under age and adults who are underfed we can get some idea of conditions in the East today.

Recently Mr. Bryan quoted from the tariff plank of the Republican platform and the Associated press dispatches failed to note the quotations. As a result the Omaha Bee edited by E. Rosewater, head of the Republican publicity bureau and the Oregonian, the leading Republican paper in Oregon both attacked the Republican platform, mistakenly thinking that they were attacking Bryan. Then the little Republican papers in Nebraska and Oregon copied the criticism. Their humiliation when they discovered the facts must have been interesting.
