Don't Tempt the Thief!

WHEN your money is in the bank it is safe from pick-pockets and burglars. A man who is known to carry a large sum of money on his person soon is marked as prey by the thief. None of the big men of the country carry large sums of money about. Don't tempt the thief. It may cost you not only your money, but your life. Bank your money with us.

RED CROSS RIPPLES

Hope Branch Affiliates With Artesia

The Hope branch of the Red Cross will affiliate with the Artesia chapter. Hope has an efficient working organization and it will be a valuable acquisition to the local chapter.

Dayton will probably be heard from soon.

The Artesia chapter has elected a new finance committee in conformity with instructions from headquarters as follows:

W. M. Todd, A. C. Keinath, J. C. Robertson, Dr. H. A. Stroup, Rev. Buren Sparks, Rex Wheatley.

The executive committee of the chapter met at the home of Mrs. Atkeson Thursday evening and transacted a considerable amount of important business. It was decided to arrange for a Red Cross union service at one of the churches some Sunday night in the near future. Dr. Russell, B. P. Williams, Dr. Clarke and E. B. Kemp are in charge of the arrangements. Particulars next week.

Growth of the Organization

Some idea may be obtained of the importance of the American Red Cross by the size of its membership and its steady growth. On July 1st, there were 1,805,852 members in the United States. To-day the number is more than twice as great. This membership is divided between the 2,400 chapters in different parts of the country.

Illinois has the largest membership, New York second and Pennsylvania third. Nevada is the lowest in the list with only 1,685 members. Alabama is next lowest with 2,070. New Mexico is fifth from the bottom with 5,706. Every country belonging to the U. S., including the Panama canal zone, has Red Cross organizations.

Save Freight Bills

The State Corporation commission has issued the following address to all receivers of coal in order that the latter may place themselves in a position to take advantage of a decision by the Supreme court regarding freight rates on coal, in case the decision should be favorable:

All Receivers of Coal Within the State of New Mexico:

This is to advise that during the month of July, following the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, all rail roads in this state participating in coal traffic, filed supplements to their tariffs, increasing the rates on coal from and to points within this state 15 cents per ton, effective August 20, 1917.

The Commission on the 8th instant, issued a call for a hearing of representatives of all interested carriers, to be held at Santa Fe on the 18th instant, to show cause why the present rates on coal from and to points within this state should not be disturbed until otherwise fixed or determined by this Commission. The hearing was had as scheduled, and the carriers declined to suspend the supplements showing the increased rates, which become effective to day, and this Commission will therefore transfer the cause to the Supreme Court of the State of New Mexico during this week for adjudication; and pending the decision of the tribunal, it is requested that all freight bills paid by receivers of coal in this state, covering shipments from New Mexico mines, based on the increased rates, be retained so that they may be readily accessible in the event that the action of this Commission is sustained by the Supreme Court, so that arrangements may be made for refund to the basis of the old rates. Please be governed accordingly.

Very respectfully,
State Corporation Commission,
By Hugh H. Williams, Chairman.

Woman's Federated Clubs

The annual convention of the New Mexico Federation of Woman's Clubs will be held at Gallup from Oct. 2nd to 5th. The Gallup woman's club will entertain the delegates during the stay, and the railways of the State have made a rate of a fare and a third for the round trip.

Gallup is on the Santa Fe line, about 150 miles west of Albuquerque.

From the Oil Fields.

The Altus Well

Drilling operations are just now at a standstill at the Altus well, as the casings are being reset at a greater depth. When this is completed they will be in the immediate vicinity of the first oil sands, judging by the log of the Brown well a short distance away. Drilling will soon be resumed and will then proceed uninterruptedly.

This well is being drilled primarily to test out the oil sands in that locality, though present indications point to a flow of 100 to 200 barrels per day. A deeper test hole will be drilled later on to reach the deep oil sands.

The Lincoln Oil Co.

The Lincoln Oil Company have been making a readjustment of their casing, and have cemented the bottom of their well. Drilling will cease for a week or ten days for the cement to become thoroughly hard. On resuming they will begin drilling into the oil rock.

The Mexola Company.

The Mexola Oil Company are just now receiving a big supply of fuel, casing and other equipment which is being hauled to the Brown well. When everything is on the ground this company will resume operations and proceed with all possible speed.

The Toltec Company.

The Toltec Company, drilling a well near Roswell, is now down to a depth of 600 feet with their new well, and indications are much more favorable than they were in the old one.

War News in Brief

Some Germans who were made prisoners by the French had to be taken and introduced to Gen. Pershing before they would believe there were any Americans soldiers in France. According to these prisoners the mass of German troops thinks the report that any American troops are in France is a big bluff.

The German sympathizers in the U. S. are now concentrating their efforts to discourage and hinder the second sale of liberty bonds.

While the German newspapers are wrathful over President Wilson's answer to the Pope's proposal the Socialists think it is logical, and they are in favor of changing the present form of government to a form that the president intimates the allies could confer with.

A loan of one hundred million dollars each has just been made by the government to Great Britain and France. This brings the total advanced to the allies to $2,266,400,000.

All newspapers printed in German language in this country are closely scrutinized for disloyal utterances. Many think the time is coming when news papers printed in the German language will be prohibited. Germany certainly would not allow a paper to be printed in the English language in Germany.

Six German airplanes sailed over Chatham, England, thirty miles south from London, last Sunday night and dropped bombs. There were 107 persons killed and 86 wounded. Chatham is the seat of immense military and naval establishments, including dock yard and arsenal. The men killed belonged to the navy. No damage was done to property.

U. S. Troops Not to Fight Yet.

In an interview Gen. Pershing states that American troops will not be on the firing line until they are thoroughly trained and prepared. It may be a year before they see action. He urges the people here to be patient, as follows:

"Americans must learn the meaning and value of patience and not expect that the expeditionary forces landed in France can be rushed immediately to the front line trenches.

To put an inadequate, insufficiently supplied force into actual combat, merely would be making a mistake which the Germans unquestionably have hoped and expected the United States would make. It is the determination, rather, that when America does take her place in the line next year, she will be fully prepared to make the Germans feel the full weight of her military power.

Those of us who have fully studied the situation and who know what is necessary to be done, are anxious that the people at home shall strive to realize the immensity of the task in which we are engaged and shall, through patience and confidence, help us to accomplish that task in the shortest possible time. Every thing is going on well with us, both as a nation and as an army."

Nation-Wide Events

Fire in the Mexican and Austrian quarters of Jerome, Ariz., Sunday night destroyed thirty buildings and rendered nearly a thousand people homeless.

The drought continues in Western Texas, and because cars can not be procured to move cattle to places where they can get grass and water many of them are dying.

Headquarters of the I. W. W. in nearly all of the states are being raided by government officials in order to procure documentary evidence of what is being done or contemplated. In every case some incriminating evidence is found.

Control of the sugar industry in the United States has been voluntarily placed in the hands of the food administration department, and the importation of raw sugar will hereafter be carried on through a committee appointed by Mr. Hoover.

Dr. Crile, president of the New Mexico agricultural college, is visiting some of the noted dairy herds of the Pecos Valley with a view of purchasing some additional stock for the college herd.

Northern Minnesota and N. Dakota were visited by a killing frost last Sunday morning which did serious damage to corn and potatoes. Farmers began cutting their corn next morning for ensilage.

Episcopal Services

Episcopal services, including preaching by Rev. Doane, will be held at the chapel next Sunday evening at 7:30. There will be a communion service at the chapel Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Roy Ammerman and L. B. Boelner, with their families, motored down from Roswell Monday, returning the same evening. Mr. Boelner is a Roswell jeweler, but he has always been identified to some extent with Artesia interests. He is the owner of the store occupied by D. A. Wilson, as furniture store, and other business property. He says it is easy to see that Artesia is growing. It is apparent by the number of people on the street and in the public places. He is not sorry he owns property here.

Birthday of Lafayette

Yesterday, Sept. 6th, was the 160th anniversary of the birth of Lafayette. In many of the large cities of the United States the day was observed with appropriate ceremonies.

As time progresses we realize more and more the extent and magnanimity of the service rendered the struggling colonies of America, not only by Lafayette but by France. Lafayette was only twenty years old when at great cost to France and personal sacrifice to himself he came and fought with Washington and suffered all the hardships that the Continentals were obliged to endure. While leading and encouraging the disheartened troops in the battle of Brandywine he received a severe wound. But he not only remained in the contest until victory was won, but induced France to send over a force of troops and a fleet to aid us. He could not have been more devoted or ardent had the war been between France and England than he was in the cause of the colonists.

Historians agree that it is doubtful if the American troops could have triumphed had it not been for the great service rendered by this gallant young officer and the country from which he came.

The memory of Lafayette has always been revered by every true American citizen. Almost a hundred years ago congress voted him $200,000 and a solid township of land. Most every city in the land also has a school or a park or a street named for him.

During all these years France has never faltered in her friendship for this country. The Statue of Liberty, a wonderful work of art that adorns Bedloe's Island in New York harbor, was a gift from the Republic of France as a testimonial of her friendship.

No sacrifice that could be made by the United States in behalf of France in the latter's present struggle for existence would exceed the debt we owe to her.

Good for the "Happy Hour"

The members of the "Happy Hour" club, on the banks of the raging Cottonwood, have voted to discontinue their club work for the present and devote all their time and efforts to Red Cross work. By so doing the Happy Hour ladies are not only exhibiting a sterling quality of patriotism, but furnishing an example which many other organizations might well follow.

In some instances this might seem a radical step to take, but when the war expenses of the government reach thirty or forty billion dollars, as they are bound to, and we have two or three million boys on the fighting line in France, some radical changes will have to be made in all our social, commercial and industrial affairs. Then, some will begin to realize that this nation of ours is engaged in a titanic struggle, and one that may involve the continuance or discontinuance of our national existence.

Better Remain in Paradise

A letter was recently received from a Texas farmer asking if there was a chance to trade his ranch there for a good farm in this valley. He said his ranch embraced 700 acres and that he raised every known variety of grain, vegetables and fruit in abundance. His house was palatial, with nine rooms and six fire places. The winters in his locality were mild and the climate wholesome.

In reply to his letter he was told that if he had such a paradise as he described he better stay with it, unless he had been requested by his neighbors to move, in which event there might be better places for him than this.

HOT TAMALES

What is there that is more harrowing than to see your plants and fruit go sparrowing?

Some of the best lawyers are employed, not to tell their employers the law, but how to evade it.

The ideoes of September will soon be here; then the roses will bloom and the leaves grow sear.

For people with no income conservation is a blessing. It helps them to make a patriotic virtue of grim necessity.

"Coal will be coal this year" said John; "Glad to hear it," said Kate, "for of all that we've had in former years the larger part has been slate."

Feed has gotten so expensive that some have sold their hens and others their cows. If things keep going this way a poor man won't be able to own a jitney.

People are warned against a waste of most every thing except words. There are many who should apply the principle of conservation to their conversation.

If the drouth in Western Texas continues much longer that part of the state will crack off like an old scab. No wonder so many people "came from Texas."

When the wells hereabouts begin to spout oil the first gush should be used to oil our streets. If there is a place in America where the streets should be oiled Artesia is its name.

President Wilson is the only man who can write a "note" and have it appear the next day in every daily paper in the civilized world. What an easy way to dispose of one's correspondence!

If all the people came to Artesia who have lately written here inquiring about the place it would add 1,000 to our population. And without a doubt some of them will be sensible enough to come.

The tardiness in the publication of the Advocate last week was due to the fact that Suter shut off the "juice". Hereafter we will try to have the paper juicy enough to go through on its own power.

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." Just now President Wilson is the gods, his notes the wrath provoking medium and the German crown heads the victims of ultimate destruction.

Many of the regulations adopted by the government to meet the present war emergencies will remain even after the war ends. The laws governing commerce, manufacturing and mining will never return to the "status quo ante bellum."

The "incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial" fraternity, nee lawyers, of this state are holding their annual powwow at Roswell this week. They'll tell one another many incidents of their practice, but they won't tell much about their practices.

This month having an "R" in it the festive oyster which has been in hiding several months may now be led out. The styles in this winter's crop will be little changed from those of last winter, though the price may be a little higher—on account of the war, of course.

Five automobiles were stolen in five hours in Minneapolis last week. At that rate 24 cars change hands every day. But the losers have the consolation of knowing that winter will be there in another month, and the automobiles that are unstolen will then have to go in cold storage until the snow disappears next May.

Gov. Price of Wheat

The committee appointed to fix the price for the crop of wheat now being harvested has reported. The price is $2.20 per bushel. The varieties known as No. 1 Northern, raised in Minnesota and the Dakotas, and No. 1 Red Winter, are the basic grades, and Chicago the basic market.

This means that the grades mentioned will be $2.20, and inferior grades proportionally cheaper. It also means that while the price will be $2.20 in Chicago it will be higher or lower in other places, depending upon the distance east or west from Chicago. Thus it will be three cents lower in Minneapolis and Duluth, and proportionally higher in seaboard markets, like New York, Boston and New Orleans.

This is because the value of a bushel of wheat is greater at the seaboard than anywhere else, as that is the destination of export wheat, and it costs something to get it there. The value in all other places depends upon the distance of the places from the seaboard and the cost to transport it.

The price is a disappointment to some of the heaviest wheat growers in Minnesota and the Dakotas. They have raised large crops this year at more than usual cost and were clamoring for a price somewhere between $2.50 and $3.00 at the Chicago terminal.

The price will lower the price of flour somewhat, and in the same proportion lower the cost of bread. The millers will probably be allowed a profit of 25cts on a barrel of flour, which in most cases will be satisfactory to them.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes:

"From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . . . It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

A Watermelon Party

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Rowan gave what they termed a melon party to some of their friends. The occasion was the celebration of Mr. Rowan's birth day, and it being Labor day only those were invited whose hands were calloused by toil and who are the "true friends and representatives of the down-trodden, horny-handed laboring men."

The scene of this hilarious occasion was the lane leading to the mansion of the C. A. P. ranch. This lane is boulevard-like a street, and adorned by massive weeping willows whose topmost boughs jostle, causing the passage way to resemble a tunnel through a solid mass of foliage. Autos were parked on the boulevard and there were nearly, if not quite, a hundred people present.

The procession left the Rowan residence at 5:30 headed by grand marshal Rehberg with his motor truck and melons. Probably no one knows exactly how many melons were on the truck. The watermelons were uniform in size and were up to the Pecos Valley standard. When they were carved and placed in a row, inflamed side up, on the grass, they looked in the twilight like a row of smoldering embers.

And the cantaloupes! There were crates and crates of the sweetest and choicest.

Every one came away with a new record for melon absorption, and a few, like Dr. Williams and B. P. Williams, declared they had never before eaten more than one large watermelon at one feed.

The occasion was an enjoyable one and all the guests hoped Grandpa Rowan would be as hale and hearty at 80 as he is now at 70.

As an afterthought, the fifty people who were the guests of Mr. Rowan on the above occasion gathered at the rooms of the Jonquil club on Friday night, and after a social program of refreshments and music presented Mr. Rowan with a beautiful thermos bottle set. Dr. Clarke, in his happiest vein, made the presentation speech. He said a cake for the occasion had been contemplated, with a candle for each birthday, but that it was found there were not enough candles in town.

Mr. Rowan responded briefly but in a manner that showed his ability to handle his end of the affair.

The occasion was a fitting climax to the watermelon feast of Monday evening.

Johnson-Coll

Miss Ella May Johnson and Mr. Max Coll were married at Des Moines, Ia, on August 29th. Miss Johnson is a daughter of W. H. Johnson of this city and is a high school graduate.

Mr. Coll is the son of C. A. Coll of Artesia. He graduated at the Artesia schools, then attended the state agricultural school at Ames, Iowa. He is now in the employ of the agricultural department of the U. S. government.

Congratulations are in order.

Judge Advocate Pistole

Judge W. P. Pistole has received notice that he has been appointed to the position of Judge Advocate in the army with rank of major. The appointment has been approved by the Sec. of War, subject to a physical examination. The examination was made at El Paso this week and was satisfactory. The commission will be issued upon receipt of the examiner's favorable report, and the judge expects to be notified to report for duty within the next ten days. He would not be surprised if he was sent to a foreign field, and in that event his family will accompany him, but that matter is in abeyance.

The appointment is nominally made by the president, but is in fact made by the Judge Advocate Gen. The compensation is $3,000 per year with liberal perquisites, and an addition of ten per cent for foreign service. A great many men were applicants for this position and Judge Pistole naturally feels jubilant over his success.

The Triumphal March of

A NEW CREATION OF SCIENCE AND NATURE

WHEN we announced Bevo recently, our hopes were high. We knew that we had the most unusual soft drink that had ever been offered: A beverage combining the nutritive extracts of wholesome cereals, the zest of Saazer Hops, a flavor all its own and absolute purity. We knew this because, true to our own ideals, we had experimented for years before we were satisfied to say, "We offer you Bevo—it is a different soft drink—it is good and it is good for you."

High as were our hopes for its reception, we have realized them far and beyond our expectations.

Bevo today is an established popular success. Everywhere the same question is asked—"Have you tried Bevo?"

Now, one final word. ### These are Still Chummy

Dr. H. A. Gilliam and wife, of Lamesa, Tex., dropped in on R. V. Young and wife for a visit last week. Dr. Gilliam has a nice practice in the place of his adoption, and is also connected with a sanitarium there.

The doctor and Mr. Young were inseparable chums in the days of their boyhood, and when the time came around for their wedding days they decided upon a double wedding. Thus four hearts were blended into two by one ceremony, and incidentally, they celebrated the anniversary of Washington's birthday, as the event occurred on Feb. 22d, 1911.

Rev. J. W. Harrison will occupy the Presbyterian church pulpit this coming Sunday morning. Rev. Harrison hails from Tyrone, New Mex., and
