ENJOYING THE SUMMER SUN--Tuesday morning was bright and beautiful, a typical August day in Muleshoe. So, Joy Stancell, activity director for the Muleshoe Nursing Home, took many of the residents outside to the patio on the south side of the nursing home to enjoy the sunshine and enjoy refreshments. Some of the residents, warmed by the summer sun, took time out for a 'snooze' and never knew the photographers were around. Mrs. Stancell says she takes the residents outside whenever possible. They all indicated they enjoyed their excursion to the patio area of the nursing home.

Girl Scout House Renovation Is Explained To Rotary Club

Last summer, Nelda Merriott happened to have a visit with Betty Ashford, who was concerned about the Girl Scout program in Muleshoe, which had become inactive during the previous year, and had come to a complete stop.

As Mrs. Ashford's daughter, Robin, was interested in Scouting, she formed a troop and gained some 22 members. But, the Girl Scout Little House was in a very sad state of disrepair, and Mrs. Merriott and Mrs. Ashford visited it to see what needed to be done.

Tuesday, at noon, Mrs. Merriott was special guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Club and brought the group up-to-date on what had transpired following that initial visit to the Girl Scout Little House.

They found some of the plywood walls mildewed, a new roof was needed, the carpet rotted in places, a ceiling brace needed plumbing, a commode and lavatory for the bathroom necessary, along with window panes, paint, paneling, sheet rock, air conditioner, tables, chairs, cookware, stove, refrigerator and other items.

So, as she pondered a way to start, Mrs. Merriott thought of the local civic clubs. As the building was city owned, and they provide the water, as well as mowing for the lot, they still did not provide maintenance for the building.

She explained that following many stories by local media, which also included a two-page spread of pictures of the deteriorating building, money, supplies and labor started flowing in. A new roof was installed, the building was painted, window panes were replaced, screens repaired, a ceiling brace was installed, a room was painted. Donations began to include such as a stove and refrigerator, a table, curtains, silverware, a flagpole, a flag, a couch. This was accompanied by a lot of donated labor by a lot of people.

The carpet which was donated by more than one person will be installed as soon as renovation has gotten far enough along, and a man as volunteered to install the carpet at no cost to

Car Found; Sotelo, Garcia Still Sought

Early this week, Louisiana law enforcement officials notified Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan that they had recovered a vehicle reported to be stolen early on August 3, following a double shooting in Parmer County.

According to the Louisiana officers, the car had been recovered in Livingston Parish, La. and was completely burned.

Still at large is Rene Garcia, 22, of Muleshoe, who is reported to have shot Christi Sotelo, 25, inflicting fatal wounds; and also shooting Tonya Parkinson, 23, who has since been released from Clovis High Plains Hospital.

Uninjured in the double shooting are witnesses Rosa Sotelo Vital, 23 and Hector Sotelo, 12, who escaped in the darkness following the nearly 1 a.m. shooting six miles west of Bovina. They are a sister and brother of the dead Christi Sotelo.

Missing, and unaccounted for since the shooting is 18 year old Ida Sotelo, who was reportedly abducted at gunpoint following the shooting of her sister, and a family friend.

Family members have told officers they have not seen or heard from Ida Sotelo since the night of the shooting and kidnapping.

There have been several reports of sightings of Rene Garcia in Muleshoe, all of them beginning approximately six to eight days following the shooting and kidnapping.

Officers have reiterated, "If you see Rene Garcia, do not approach or accost him in any way," but note where he is, a vehicle description, color and license number if possible, and what direction he is traveling. If he is on foot, where he was when seen, what direction he was moving, and the clothing he was wearing. If at any house in the area, directions to the house, color of the house and other pertinent information, such as occupant of the house and how many people inside, if known.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is offering a $50 reward for information leading to the capture of Rene Garcia. Anyone with information is asked to contact the nearest law enforcement officer or agency. Your name will be held in complete confidence.

Tuesday morning, Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan told The Journal that he had spent a major part of last Friday in a plane flying over the entire area where the Sotelos and Garcia were last seen, with no results.

Of more immediate concern to law enforcement officers is the fact that so many people are converging on locations where officers are conducting house searches for Garcia.

Deputy Sheriff Jerry Hicks said, "It really bothers the officers. We get a tip that Garcia has been seen at a house, and officers go to the house to thoroughly check it out. Area residents see all the officers' cars and move in very close. They must realize how dangerous this can be, not only for the officer, but for themselves. In the event of gunfire, they could be caught in a crossfire.

"Also, in many instances, officers could not shoot, if necessary, as people are standing too close to the area we are trying to search.

"We can't stress enough how important it is for people to stay well away from an area we are searching."

It wasn't a long meeting for the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning, but it did turn out to be a fairly important meeting.

Attention! All young people, and truckers, and downtown employees, take notice!

With unanimous approval of the city council, Ordinance No. 267A is to take effect as soon as signs are erected at the Mule Memorial Lot.

Ordinance No. 267A is "An ordinance adding Section 19-68b and schedule XI of Section 19-70, Chapter 19 of the Muleshoe City Code of 1974, regarding the traffic ordinance of the City of Muleshoe, Texas."

The ordinance has been amended to read Section 19-68. Parking Time Limited on Certain Streets and Public Areas.

b. When signs are erected in a public parking area giving notice thereof, no person shall park a vehicle for longer than 2 (two) hours within any public parking area or lot described in Section 19-70 Schedule XI, attached to and made a part of this ordinance. (Ord. 187A, S 68, 9-12-78).

Schedule XI. Parking Time Limited on Mule Memorial Lot.

In accordance with §3c, 19-68b, and when signs are erected giving notice thereof, no person shall park a vehicle for a period of time longer than two (2) hours within that area commonly known as the Mule Memorial Lot.

The ordinance also calls for a penalty, in other words, when a vehicle of any type has been found to be parked for longer than two hours on the Mule Memorial Lot, that vehicle will be ticketed, and the vehicle owner/operator will be subject to a fine.

This particular parking problem has been discussed many times in recent months by the city council, who have added this particular ordinance to the traffic code.

Muleshoe City Manager Dave Marr said signs would be ordered following the city council meeting and erected as soon as they are received by the City. At that time, the ordinance will be effective.

He also explained that the new ordinance will be effective seven days a week, 24-hours a day.

Meeting with council members was Merlyn Neel, manager of Muleshoe Antenna Co.

Although it was not required, Neel explained that with expanding services for subscribers, and increases in rates from suppliers of television stations for the local cable service, Muleshoe Antenna will be raising rates for the first time since 1981.

Effective with October billing, Neel explained that rates will increase for the basic service from $10 to $11.25, a $1.25 per month increase. He also said all other charges will remain the same.

After placing Muleshoe Antenna on the market, Neel said the owners had negotiated with potential buyers, who had 'big city ideas' about Muleshoe. He said the cheapest rate increase proposed by a potential buyer was $2.95 per month. The owners determined they could make it work for less, added Neel, so the present owners will keep Muleshoe Antenna under local ownership.

In other information, City Manager Marr briefly discussed pending litigation for the city, the Sanderosa Well Field, farming at the airport and a possible lease on the Sanderosa

MHS Cheerleaders Get 'Superior' Ratings At Camp

Returning with 'superior' ratings from the Universal Cheerleaders Association camp, the Muleshoe High School Varsity Cheerleaders maintained the tradition of cheerleader excellence at the San Marcos cheerleading camp recently. The girls attended the week-long training session on the campus of Southwestern State University.

At camp, the squad received extensive training in cheers, chants, jumps, pyramids, partner stunts and dances. Nightly evaluations resulted in the Muleshoe cheerleaders receiving six superior ribbons for such things as camp chants, sideline chants, pyramids and a special ribbon for a 'cheerable' cheer which the girls prepared at home and took to camp. The enthusiasm and spirit of this group was rewarded by the presentation of four spirit sticks; one for each nightly evaluation.

Along with the technical aspects of cheerleading, the MHS squad also participated in the psychology of cheerleading by being involved in personal evaluations, goal setting and

George Flores, Administrator for West Plains Hospital, informed the Journal that West World Community Health Care of Texas Inc. is making financial adjustments with the doctors at West Plains Hospital.

Flores said West World had no intentions of closing West Plains Hospital, and did not want any of the doctors presently at West Plains to leave, but to remain their and maintain hospital services for this area.

At this time the Journal is not prepared to print any comments by West Plains Physicians.

DRUG 'BUST' CONDUCTED FRIDAY--Following a long investigation, city and county officers raided a local residence late last Friday, confiscating the two bags of suspected marijuana. Jailed and charged with 'delivery of a controlled substance' was Jesus Arce, 42, a Puerto Rican residing in Lubbock. Also confiscated, waiting for disposition in the case was his automobile. Shown with the confiscated drug, which is currently in the DPS lab at Austin, are from left, Deputy Sheriff Jerry Hicks, City Patrolman Dewayne Haney and City Detective Julian Dominguez. The investigation is continuing.

SOME KINDA' SUMMER FUN--This unidentified young man was caught perched atop a wagon load of watermelons last weekend, and his shy grin hides anticipation of digging into one of the succulent melons that are beginning to be harvested in this area. Bailey County is noted for producing large, very sweet melons, all over the county.

Attitude...
OF PRAYER

"Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation. Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God, for unto thee will I pray."
Psalm 5:1-2

God hears and answers prayers, but not everyone knows how to pray. Even the Lord's disciples asked that he teach them how to pray.

Attitude of the individual is important in prayer. Prayer is the opportunity that we have to tell God of our blessings and give thanks. It is an opportunity to petition for help, but above all,

South Plains Fair Entertainment Grows

The opening two days of the 69th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair this fall will be a showcase for local talent, general manager Steve L. Lewis has announced.

Lewis said South Plains College in Levelland, Lubbock Christian College and Texas Western College in Snyder has been invited to participate on Sept. 20-21 as the fair opens an eight-day run.

The variety of entertainment on the outdoor stage located between the Women's Building and Merchants Building will be coordinated by Mrs. David (Nicky) Standee. Scheduled as a tribute to the Texas Sesqui-centennial, shows will be presented free from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. on opening day and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Sept. 21.

And as another special treat, Lewis said two free stage shows had been booked for Fair Park Coliseum.

Grand Ole Opry star and humorist Jerry Clower will be joined on stage by Clyde Foley Cummins for a single show on Sept. 22. Lacy J. Dalton will take over the spotlight at the same time the following day, Lewis said.

Doors to the Fair Park Coliseum will open at 6 p.m. on both of the free show nights and patrons will be admitted on a first-come, first-serve basis to a capacity of 5,412. All persons attending must be seated. No tickets will be issued at any time, Lewis said. Shows will begin on both nights at 7 p.m. only.

The outdoor stage and grounds also will be humming following the opening two days, and will feature a variety of entertainment ranging from singers to magicians to animals.

Clower, no stranger to the Lubbock area, has 16 recordings and two books by the Country Music Association and co-hosted the nationally-syndicated show, "Nashville on the Road." He is a native of Mississippi.

Cummins is regarded as a new star on the rise and made his debut here last year. He is the grandson of the country music legend, Clyde "Red" Foley. His aunt, Shirley Foley, is married to singer Pat Boone and several other members of his family have country music ties.

Musically, Miss Dalton has been touted as a female Waylon Jennings, who sings a combination of rock 'n roll, rhythm and blues and country stylings.

The diminutive Pennsylvanian first hit paydirt with "Beer Drinkin'" on her debut album for Columbia/Sherrill Records. Her debut album also includes "Crazy Blue Eyes," "Losing Kind of Love" and "The Tennessee Waltz", all of which became hit singles.

Her second album was entitled "Hard Times". Then came another called "Takin' It Easy."

Six other top containers also have booked for the 1986 exposition including George Strait, 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sept. 20; Merle Haggard, 7 p.m. only Sept. 21; Sawyer Brown, 7 p.m. only Sept. 24; Charley Pride, 7 p.m. only Sept. 25; Lee Greenwood, 7 p.m. only Sept. 26 and Ronnie Milsap, 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sept. 27.

Tickets for all of these shows are $10 each and all seats are reserved.

Tickets may be purchased at the fair office at 102 E. Broadway or by writing Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Mail orders will be processed in the order in which received and must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

More than $100,000 in premiums—an all-time high—are being offered by the fair this year.

fan it. When a smoker lights up, his smoke is pulled straight up and out through a vent to the air outside.

This should satisfy everybody except the fanatics who object to anybody's smoking, even if the smoker is a block away and the wind is blowing in the other direction. They just naturally feel called to object to anybody's endangering his health.

It has been suggested, since over-eating is one of the worst hazards to good health, that restaurants should establish not only smoking areas but also over-eating areas, curtained off so others can't see what the over-eaters are doing to their health.

I'm just reporting the idea, not advocating it. Waitress, I'd like to have another slice of that pie.

Yours faithfully

Bad Choice

The Passenger in an airplane noticed a parachutist floating past the window.
"Going to join me?" called the man on the parachute.
"Not on your life," answered the passenger. "I'm quite all right where I am."
"Please yourself," retorted the parachutist. "I'm the pilot."

Wilkinson's Hold Family Reunion In Sudan

A three day Wilkinson family reunion was held this past week at the home of Mrs. Joe Wilkinson. This was the first Wilkinson reunion to be held and was also the first time all eight of the children of Joe and Mary Wilkinson had been all together in 21 years.

It was termed a success with 55 attending.

Some of the family present had not seen each other in 35 years and many had never met each other. So it was a great time to reminisce, get acquainted and re-acquainted with each other.

The Wilkinson family were pioneers of Sudan. Alexander (Gano) Wilkinson and his wife Arminta (Minnie) had 3 sons and one daughter.

In 1921, Charlie and Elizabeth Wilkinson and their daughter, Lula, came to Sudan. Also traveling with them were Sylvia and Allan Smith.

In early 1922, Bill and Emma Wilinon and their daughter, Willie Mae came to Sudan. In the fall of 1922, Joe Wilinon, his parents, Alexander Gano and Arminta Wilkinson came to Sudan. Mary Wilkinson did not come then because she was expecting her second child at anytime. Joe went back to Oklahoma for the birth of their child, so in January 1923, Joe and Mary and their two daughters, Ophia and Genevieve came back to Sudan. Out of this pioneer family, Mary is now the only one that is still living.

Attending the reunion of the family of Charlie and Elizabeth were M.B. Wilkinson of Wichita Falls, Lela Miller of Portales, N.M.; Linda and Pay Haines (daughter of Lela and Jack Miller of Amarillo; Mike and Julie Miller son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller) of Portales, N.M. Those attending from the family of Bill and Emma Wilkinson were Leroy Wilkinson of Seminole, Pet and Marieta Wilkinson, Mike and Gayle Wilkinson and Dana Wilkinson all of Muleshoe; Family members of Joe and Mary Wilkinson attending included Mary Wilkinson, Sudan; Genevieve and Leonard Kerr of Gautier, Miss; Wayne and Faye Wilkinson of Lubbock; Floyd Wilkinson of Odessa; Mary Jo Attaway, Casper Wyoming; Ada Greer of Houston, Mable Wages of Earth; Jim Wilkinson of Siloam Springs, Arkansas; Ruby and George Smith of Auburn, Washington; Paul, Wendy Erin Jo Wilkinson of Siloam Springs, Ark. and children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilkinon Anita Kremm, Fiance of Paul Wilkinon of Germany; Kevin Thomas son of Ruby Smith-Auburn, Washington.

Family members of Sylvia and Allen Smith were Ernest Smith of San Diego.

The children of Claude and Marcie Wilkinon were Claude, Jr and Millie Wilkinon of Phoenix, Ariz; Troy and Bobbie Wilkinon of Glendale, Ark and Kathryn Martin of Glendale, Ariz.

Others attending were Mrs. Mary Wilkin's sister, Ruby and Bob Botkin of Duncan, Okla; Louise Gerdewill of Pasadena; Tim and Patricia Kent of Olton, Bill and LaQuintha Kent and son of Clovis, N.M.; Marquerite and D.C. Sevier of Littlefield, Olie Stanley of Lazbuddie, and Bonita West, Ila Serratt, Peggy Baker, Darlene Henley, Mildred Chisholm, Mayble Haragan, Bud Graves and Son Qualls all of Sudan.

With the success of this first reunion, the family hopes to make an annual affair of it. Hopefully next year it will be even bigger. Along with the three days of eating, talking, and having fun, the family had 12 decorated cakes for each month of the year to celebrate each ones birthdays and/or anniversaries while all together.

Troy Wilkinon who is a minister, read some scripture from the old Bible that belonged to Michael Blucford Wilkinon, father of Alexander Gano and handed down to Joe Wilkinon.

Looking at family snapshots were enjoyed as well as looking at the photo album of Mary Wilkinon with some dating back to the late 1800's.

It was a wonderful time for all the families and all that were there to share the three great days. A spokesman for the family stated, We the Joe Wilkinon family would like to say a heartfelt "Thank You" to all the wonderful people here in Sudan who have been such a big part of our lives, and for taking such wonderful care and giving so much love to our dear mother.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Three interesting topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on August 19 at 12:00 noon and repeated on Saturday, August 23 at 2:00 pm. (All times are Mountain). Lauren Ryan is with Dow Consumer Products in Indianapolis, IN., and she suggests making and freezing microwaveable hor d'oeuvres and having them to serve when unexpected company arrives at the door. She will share a "basic big batch" recipe for meatballs and demonstrate several variations made from this recipe. She suggests using a new specially designed zip-top freezer bag that can go directly from the freezer to the microwave oven.

Roger Langenberg, Vice-President of Sales and Marketing for Restech Industries in Eugene, OR has a new product called "Restore-X Wood Renewer" -- a kind of liquid sandpaper, that takes much of the hard work out of the process. Restore-X is biodegradable, non-flammable and removes exterior paint and finishes chemically.

Another guest, Vickie Jones, will discuss what to look for when buying a hot water heater. Vickie is the marketing home economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell.

For this week only, "Creative Living" will not be seen on Thursday evening, August 19 at 9:30 pm because of the Pledge Drive.

Three additional topics will be presented on the show on Thursday August 21 at 12:00 noon. Homemade ice cream is good enough to be a treat anytime of the year, however most people don't usually think of making ice cream until summer. Jan Newquist is a home economist and registered dietician with the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque, and she will give some tips about how to have great homemade ice cream every time you get out the freezer. She'll also talk about storing ice cream and give some suggestions for adding different kinds of fruit to the mixture. She'll also share several delicious ice cream recipes.

Another guest will be Jo Ann Cooper, a home economist with the Hershey Foods Corp. in Hershey, PA. All over the world, chocolate is a favorite dessert of millions. Because of this, it's not surprising that Hershey Foods has come up with some recipes for cooking chocolate desserts in the microwave oven. Jo Ann will share some of these microwave chocolate recipes.

The first guest will be Leta Brazell, co-owner of The Quilt Works in Albuquerque. Some quilt patterns remain favorites from generation to generation, and the log cabin pattern is one of these all-time favorites. Ms. Brazell will show us how to do a "quilt-as-you-go" log cabin.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 95 PB5 stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, Colorado.

the Girl Scouts.

Walls were removed and shuffled around, the old bathroom was torn out and a new bathroom was installed.

Work is ongoing and labor and materials are still actively being sought by those in charge of the renovations.

At this time, the renovation fund has a balance of $24.86, with at least two of the three member committee being required to sign checks for necessary purchases. The Girl Scout Committee members include Nelda Merriott, Judy Watson and Jackie Scoggin.

On May 20, the Girl Scouts held a Court of Awards program at the Civic Center, with 78 persons attending. Three troops received badges and awards.

The three troops are expected to expand to five troops in the fall.

Mrs. Merriott also told the Rotarians that the Kiwanis formerly sponsored the Girls Scouts, but voted to sponsor only the Boy Scouts, "and, they are doing a fantastic job with them," she added. "But, we are in need of a sponsor for the Girl Scouts."

"The city furnished the water, we do not have the gas or electricity turned on at this time. The wall heaters are old and in disrepair. We only used electricity last year and for the 12 months, the total cost was $203.52. We used the kitchen stove to heat the north room and all meetings were held there," she continued.

"Work ceased during the cold months because we did not have heat in the other rooms. We want to get back and complete this building. It will be used and we will deeply appreciate any help you can give us. If you can furnish the electricity for the Girls Scouts and gas when we are able to turn it on, we'll be tickled pink."

Mrs. Merriott concluded by again thanking the Rotary, the Kiwanis, the Lions, and all individuals and organizations who had a part in helping to renovate the Girl Scout Little House, and all individuals who donated labor, materials or supplies.

SHE'S A RECORD HOLDER--Current trout fishing champion for the State of New Mexico is Flowella Lynk of Muleshoe. On July 24, she was fishing with a Kokanee Killer on Heron Lake in New Mexico, when she hooked a 30 and one quarter inch, nine pound, 10 ounce Lake Trout. According to Jesse E. Williams, chief, Public Affairs Division of the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish, her catch qualified for the current state record. She received a letter of verification and a certificate verifying the new state record.

ness during my term as pastor." The Linebargers also said they wish to express their appreciation to the people of Muleshoe for being a friendly city. "You made us feel welcome and we want to thank you. Please feel free to drop by and visit with us before we leave," said the minister.

H. John Fuller, superintendent of the Muleshoe ISD, said a special meeting has been called for Thursday, August 21, at 8 p.m. in the school business office.

The meeting will be conducted to introduce the board members to the new personnel in the Muleshoe ISD.

Time is creeping up, and it's almost time to "Meet the Mules," the annual event to introduce players and new coaches to interested parents and students, as well as all interested football and sports fans.

It will be Tuesday, August 26, at 7:30 p.m. at Benny Douglass stadium at Muleshoe High School.

Coaches will be expected to review the upcoming year, and give other information to those present.

Bob Graves, principal of Watson Junior High School, said junior high students may pick up their class schedules on Friday, August 29, from 1-3 p.m. at Watson Junior High School.

Principal Graves also listed the following dress code: (1) No shorts or cutoffs, no shirts with advertising of such things as alcoholic beverages, tobacco, etc.; or shirts with imprinting of poor taste. The body should not show through clothing; (2) hair should be well groomed and clean; (3) clothing should cover the body; (4) wear shoes and socks; and (5) no conspicuous or ridiculous costumes.

Pvt. First Class Doyle A. Albrecht, son of L.G. and Jan Montgomery of Abernathy, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

His wife, Tammy, is the daughter of F.D. and Jackie Buckner, Muleshoe.

Wade Crowson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Crowson, Sudan, has recently completed his basic training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio as a squad leader and is now in training at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls.

The training is Medical Service Specialist and will be completed in 12 weeks.

New Heart Medicine Can Reduce Attacks

A drug used to treat chest pain has been found effective in reducing second heart attacks by 50 percent in a group of heart patients who are prone to recurring attacks, researchers at Baylor College of Medicine and eight other North American medical institutions reported today.

The institutions tested the drug, diltiazem, in patients who are considered highly prone to recurring heart attacks.

The study results were reported in today's New England Journal of Medicine. Patients in the study had what are known as "non-Q-wave" heart attacks because of the shape of the wave on their electrocardiograms, which account for about one-third of all heart attacks.

There are about 1.4 million new heart attacks per year in the United States, of which 400,000 would be non-Q-wave heart attacks. This is the first therapy ever to be shown to prevent heart attacks in this group of patients.

Robert Roberts, M.D., chief of cardiology for Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital, directed the study.

"Thirty percent of all heart attacks are non-Q-wave, which primarily involve the inner layer of the heart," Roberts said. "Although this usually means less extensive injury, these patients run a 15 to 20 percent risk of a second heart attack occurring within a year."

A total of 576 patients were studied over a four-year period. Half received diltiazem, and the other half an inactive drug (a placebo). Treatment was given 24 to 72 hours after the onset of a heart attack and was continued up to 14 days.

A second heart attack occurred in 9.3 percent of the placebo patients and 5.2 percent of the diltiazem patients--a reduction of 51.2 percent.

In addition, the frequency of severe angina, or chest pain, in patients taking diltiazem was also reduced by 50 percent.

Diltiazem is a calcium channel blocker, which means it helps supply more blood to the heart and reduces the rate at which the heart beats.

"For a muscle in the body to contract, it needs calcium," said Roberts, a cardiologist with Baylor's DeBakey Heart Center. "The blood vessels sending blood to the heart are lined with smooth muscle. A calcium channel blocker opens these vessels even more, so that additional blood is carried to the heart. Diltiazem also decreases the heart rate so that it doesn't have to work as hard."

Until recently, non-Q-wave heart attacks were considered benign and patients were often sent home after a few days. Roberts said it has only been since 1981 that physicians have recognized the vulnerability of these patients for recurring heart attacks and have considered more intensive therapy.

"We now recognize the unique opportunity in these patients to prevent a second heart attack and potentially reduce morbidity and mortality rates," Roberts said. "It would now be our recommendation that non-Q-wave heart attack patients be given diltiazem to prevent a recurring heart attack. We would expect the drug to remain effective past the two-week period assessed in this study."

Nine centers participated in the study. Seven from the United States and two from Canada. Included were Baylor College of Medicine; University of Virginia; Brown University; Montreal Heart Institute; University of Toronto; University of Texas Health Science Center of San Antonio; Emory University; Washington University; and University of California, Los Angeles.

Rural Water Supply Needs 'Close' Watch

Many people take the quality of their drinking water for granted, assuming that the water flowing from their tap is clean and safe to drink. However, rural residents who obtain their household water supplies from domestic wells should stay alert for possible signs of contamination.

Odd tasting or funny smelling water may be indications of possible contamination. If family members experience repeated episodes of upset stomachs or diarrhea, water quality may also be suspect. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 samples domestic water quality free of charge within its service area, testing for the presence of fecal coliform bacteria, which is one indication of water quality contamination.

Fecal coliform bacteria live only in the intestines of warm-blooded animals. Therefore, this type of contamination in a domestic water supply well may indicate that the water supply has been contaminated from the household sewage disposal facility or from small rodents having entered the well.

"When I go to sample a well, I do an on-site inspection, looking for any situation that could lead to contamination of the well," comments Dan Seale, Engineer Technician with the Water District who conducts most of the District's domestic water quality sampling efforts.

"I look at the well itself to make sure there is a good seal around the well borehole to prevent rodents from getting into the well. A good seal is also needed to prevent water from leaking back into the well or to prevent rainfall from washing contaminants into the well. I also like to find out where the household sewage disposal facilities are located in respect to the domestic water well."

Seale can also make recommendations to help well owners prevent contamination. He advises, "Don't store anything in the well house or near the well that you don't want in the water. What I try to tell people more than anything else is to keep their chemicals out of the well house."

Seale cautions well owners about attempting to take their own samples for water quality analysis. "We like to collect the samples ourselves because the samples need to be taken under sterilized conditions to maintain the integrity of the sample." Seale sterilizes the faucet with a torch to kill bacteria that may be living on the faucet, then collects the water sample in a sterilized bag.

In the Water District's laboratory, samples are tested with a filter membrane analysis that includes a 24-hour incubation period. If the analysis shows positive results, revealing the presence of fecal coliform bacteria, Seale advises residents to immediately stop drinking the water from the well and use alternative sources such as bottled water. The well is resampled to double check the results, and if the second test confirms contamination, the well must be treated before it is safe to use.

"Usually chlorination will clear up anything unless there is continuous sewage entering the well," Seale notes. "The biggest problem I find is wells that are not properly sealed."

After the chlorine treatment has been pumped out of the well, it is resampled to ensure that the contamination has been removed.
