WHEN YOU INVITE OPPOSITION

The progress made by any town or community may be compared in many instances with the progress made by mankind. It has been said that the more rapidly you progress the greater the wind or wave of resistance. This law of nature does not only apply to the mechanical progress of the air, through the water and along the highway; "it meets" up with man in every line of human advancement. But the man who would progress is often times resourceful enough to get around the obstacle some way. Nature's obstacle was partly removed when man built the modern racing auto and the modern steam boat.

An article on inviting opposition by Marcus Strong in the Paper Book reads:

"When bath tubs were first discovered in America, the medical profession ran true to form and condemned their general adoption. In 1853 one city council prohibited the use of bath tubs during the winter. Another city forbade tubbing without medical sanction.

"When gas was first introduced for street lighting, it was denounced by pulpit and press. It was thought that the brilliant illumination would lead to an increase of crime, and a decrease in health, by keeping people on the streets when they ought to be in their beds.

"Name any progressive step which has ever been taken, and history will reveal the fact that the safe, sane and substantial class were united in crying it down.

"To announce your plan for getting anywhere is to invite opposition, and opposition never waits for a second invitation. Opposition is always on the job; you can never shake it off. The harder you push, the more violent will be its reaction. Action is always equal to reaction, in the opposite direction—a law of physics and punyastics which we all had to learn through theory and practice."

It is often amusing to note the many objections brought forward by many citizens of a community when a line of progress is suggested and could we read twenty years from now the objections made when any improvement is mentioned, it would make some of us blush deeply.

But these differences are forgotten and we point with pride to the man who by working has forged ahead and at the same time has been instrumental in bringing his community to the same standard. Some may say that such a man is exceptionally brilliant, but we would credit him with an unusual amount of good common horse sense and forethought. History has taught us that neither mankind nor a community can stand still. They must either go backward or forward, which will it be?

THE PROBATION BILL

The bill to establish a probation system in the United States district courts has just been favorably reported by the judiciary committee of the house of representatives. The bill gives discretionary power to all federal judges to suspend sentence and place suitable offenders on probation. It was prepared by a committee of the National Probation association, of which Edwin L. Garvin, senior United States district court judge of Brooklyn is chairman. Other members of the committee are Augustus N. Hand, U. S. district court, New York City, George W. Wikersham, former attorney-general, Adolph Lewisohn and George Gordon Battle of New York, Adelbert Moot of Buffalo, and other leading lawyers. The bill was introduced in the house by George S. Graham, chairman of the judiciary committee, and in the senate by Royal S. Copeland of New York. Hearings have been held before the senate committee, and a favorable report is expected there also.

The matter was discussed at the recent Rotary district meeting at Las Vegas, and Rotary is supporting the bill.

United States courts formerly exercised the power to suspend sentence and place young and first offenders under informal supervision, although probation laws enacted by congress have applied heretofore only to the District of Columbia. A decision of the supreme court, however, denied the power of suspending sentence to the federal courts without appropriate legislation by congress.

The National Probation association points out that the pending bill merely grants to the judges of the United States courts the powers enjoyed by the judges of state courts in every state of the Union. Probation laws have been passed by the legislatures of all states, in some states limited to juveniles and first offenders, but in the large majority of states making it entirely discretionary with the judge as to the offender who should be given a chance to redeem himself under the guiding hand of the probation officer.

A recent investigation showed that more than 1000 juvenile delinquencies under the age of 18 are tried in the federal courts annually. In 1923, 673 boys under 20 were committed to federal penitentiaries. Children as young as 10 years of age are brought into federal courts for such offenses as stealing from a letter box, stealing from freight cars in interstate commerce, and other violations of federal laws. In most state courts, such cases are handled constructively, through home investigation and supervision by a probation officer. In the federal courts, young and first offenders must today be sentenced to prison or to pay a fine, the court being powerless to use the methods which have proven most effective in state courts.

The bill has been very strongly endorsed by a majority of the United States district judges and district attorneys. It provides that in suitable cases, after an investigation by a probation officer, the court may place the defendant on probation. The probation officer shall then keep in close touch with each person released, requiring regular reports, attendance at school or regular employment, and good conduct. If the probationer fails to comply with all conditions, he is brought back to court and sentenced.

It has been shown that the probation system can reclaim fully 80 per cent of delinquencies. If properly selected. It makes it possible for the courts to distinguish between the young and unhardened offenders, those who have been led into mistakes through bad environment or companionship, and who, if given a chance with the helping hand of the probation officer, turn out successfully. The same results may be expected in the federal courts, where the need of such legislation has long been felt.

The situation is brought home to Santa Fe by Judge Phillips' statement that 40 out of 42 persons indicted for felony in the federal court here were young men between 15 and 23.—New Mexican.

THE NEW IMMIGRATION LAW

The Johnson bill, which will take the place of our present immigration law is to be voted on by both the house and senate according to advices received from Washington. Its passage is predicted this week. This law would fix the immigration quotas at 2 per cent, based on the 1890 census. It would also provide for the overseas examination of prospective immigrants and would practically bar the Japs.

The present immigration law which expires in June is based on a percentage of immigration to this country in 1917. Practically all parties are agreed that a permanent immigration law is needed, one that would bar the undesirable immigrant of southeastern Europe.

THE PRESIDENT'S NEW APPOINTEES

President Coolidge does not believe in confining the selections for the two cabinet offices recently vacated to any one locality. Curtis D. Wilbur, the new secretary of the navy, was drawn from the California supreme court bench, while the new attorney general, Harlan Fiske Stone, hails from New York. Mr. Stone is the retiring dean of the Columbia University law school, who is looked upon as being a $100,000 man and who for patriotic reasons is willing to accept a $12,000 a year position.

WORK OF ART PRESENTED TO GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The oil painting, which the Woman's club had selected for a gift to the grammar school, was formally presented on Wednesday afternoon. The club president, Mrs. H. A. Stroup, in a few brief remarks, made the presentation on behalf of the club, and Miss Alma Givens, superintendent of schools, gave the speech of acceptance. The short ceremonies were concluded by the singing of "O, Fair New Mexico," by the school. A meeting of the club was held after school—was dismissed.

The picture, which now hangs in the auditorium of the grammar school, is a peculiarly fitting one, for it combines the archaeological and historic interests of New Mexico, while depicting in a very pleasing way the unusual scenery and wonderful color effects for which our state is famous. It is regarded by those qualified to judge as a work of unusual merit. The title of the picture is the "Turquoise Clan," and the artist is Miss Louise Crow, who is now studying in Europe. She has drawn her inspiration from the ruins of the Cliff Dwellers and ancient Pueblo Indians.

WHO KNOWS?

By Elbert Hubbard
I have a profound respect for boys. Grimy, ragged, tousled boys in the street often attract me strangely.

A boy is a man in the cocoon—you do not know what it is going to become—his life is big with many possibilities.

He may make or unmake kings, change boundary lines between states, write books that will mold characters, or invent machines that will revolutionize the commerce of the world.

Every man was once a boy. I trust I shall not be contradicted it is really so.

Very distinctly and vividly I remember a slim, freckled boy, who was born in the "Patch," and used to pick up coal along the railroad tracks in Buffalo. A few months ago I had a motion to make before the supreme court, and the boy from the "Patch" was the judge who wrote the opinion granting my petition.

Yesterday I rode horseback past a field where a boy was plowing. The lad's hair stuck out through the top of his hat; his form was bony and awkward; one suspender held his trousers in place; his bare legs and arms were brown and sunburned and briar-scarred.

He swung his horses around just as I passed by, and from under the flapping brim of his hat he cast a quick glance out of the dark, half bashful eyes and modestly returned my salute. His back turned, I took off my hat and sent a God-bless-you down the furrow after him. Who knows?—I may go to that boy to borrow money, or to hear him preach, or to beg him to defend me in a lawsuit or he may stand with pulse unfastened, bare of arm, in white apron, ready to do his duty, while the cone is placed over my face, and Night and Death come creeping into my veins.

Be patient with the boys—you are dealing with soulstuff. Destiny awaits just around the corner. Be patient with the boys!—The Rotarian.

NEW BULLETIN DESCRIBES BEST METHOD OF GROWING COTTON

A new bulletin describing the most successful methods of cotton culture has been issued by the New Mexico College of Agriculture. This bulletin gives the results of experiments in cotton growing conducted at the college for several years.

One of the main points brought out is that Acala has proved the highest yielding variety of cotton at the college in plot tests for three years. Durango and Triumph have followed rather closely. The bulletin also contains the following suggestions for the cotton grower.

The seed bed should be prepared early and an effort made to get the soil moist and firm, but with a mulch on the surface to prevent excessive drying. Irrigation before planting is usually best.

The cotton should be planted to a depth of one to one and a half inches so that the seed will be in contact with moist, compact soil, but with a mulch of half to three-fourths of an inch at the surface.

Rolling, soaking or delinting the seed is generally good practice, but soaking one hour is as effective as soaking twenty-four hours. Thirty-five to forty pounds of seed an acre should be used in heavy soil, less amounts in lighter, sandy soils. Cultivation with a harrow must begin early to prevent a crust and to combat weeds. Spacing should be done when plants are three or four inches high, and should be eight to twelve inches in the row, under irrigation, depending on soil fertility. Irrigations and cultivations should be given so that plants will make a steady growth.

Exclusive cotton farming should be avoided. Diversified farming is safer. A copy of this bulletin may be secured by writing to the New Mexico Agricultural College, State College, N. M., for Bulletin No. 141 on Cotton.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT merchandise that will satisfy every want, can be found ADVERTISED.

THAT advertised merchandise is not only good in appearance but durable and reasonably priced.

THAT now, more than ever before, the big outstanding sale factor in selling quality merchandise is ADVERTISING.

THAT no business can afford to cripple itself by reducing its advertising. Quality first followed closely by good advertising, assures continued success.

THAT people want to know the truth about merchandise. That is why they read the advertisements. Advertisements cast the light on merchandise. If it couldn't stand the light of advertising, it wouldn't be advertised.

THAT business concerns who have something good to say about their business "say it with ADVERTISING."

THAT advertising is recognized everywhere as one of the big essentials to the success of any business.

THAT the successful business concern is the one that builds its business by advertising, then keeps its business and adds new business by quality service and more advertising.

The business concern that advertises the most gets the business away from the concern that advertises the least.

NEW CHURCH OPENED AT WEED

Presiding Elder Jones, of Roswell, was in town Saturday enroute to Weed, where he delivered the sermon at the opening of the new Methodist church. This church is the result of the efforts of the Rev. Louis Means, who has for the last two or three years been stationed in the mountain district. With the help of the board of church extension a very creditable building has been erected.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Estes last week.

He is not a taxpayer, only paying taxes on one Ford automobile.
He is a transient resident not knowing when he will be sent to some other county by the presiding elder of his church.
He is out of his place. A minister's work is one that requires all their time if it is properly attended to.

He has been connected with the Texas interests seeking waters of the Pecos river which belong to this state.
He has tried to shove himself to the front politically since moving here from Texas.
He is trying to make political capital out of the misfortunes of those who lost money in closed banks when under the law he proposes it would be years before the depositors of a defunct bank could be paid their money. This law could not act to protect those whose losses have occurred. Does he think that he can get off with such as this.

Mr. Moon does not deny that he stated and caused to be circulated the report that Mr. Donahue is a republican and a member of the Ku Klux Klan when he knows such reports are false, and that they were calculated to deceive the voters of Eddy county.
Do you believe such a man should be elected to represent this District in the state senate?

Mr. Moon complains and says that it is unfair for the friends of Mr. Donahue, his senatorial opponent, to withhold any charges they may have against him until the closing days of the campaign so that he can't answer them. No charges had been brought out against him at that time, and the only charges made now are those brought out by Mr. Moon himself. He, evidently, knew that there were charges that could be brought against him and anticipated they would be.
"A guilty conscience needeth no accuser."

Ask yourself if you want Moon for senator and then vote.

Baptist Campaign Has Put $4,000,000 Into Care of South's Orphan Children

Benevolent Phases of Forward Movement Are Set Out In General Statement From Headquarters—Hospitals and Ministerial Relief Greatly Extended.

A Group of Happy Homeless Boys Provided for in a Baptist Orphanage.

Of the $45,500,000 that has been collected in cash on the Baptist 75 Million Campaign to January 1, 1924, the sum of $7,732,831.53 has gone to such benevolent work as caring for orphan children, healing the sick and ministering to aged, worn-out preachers. It is announced by the headquarters of the Campaign

$4,000,000 Went to Orphanages.
More than half of the benevolent fund, or $3,999,192.63, has gone to the 21 Baptist orphanages of the South, two of which have been established as a result of this movement and all of which have been greatly helped by this forward program. Nearly 4,000 orphan boys and girls are being housed, fed, clothed, educated and trained for Christian citizenship in these orphanages and the Campaign has put between $800,000 and $900,000 into the maintenance of these institutions each year. The orphanages are now caring for more children than their normal capacities permit, but despite this extra effort the institutions have been compelled to turn down the applications of 2,000 other orphan boys and girls, simply because there was no room for them.

Sick and Suffering Aided.
Large advance has been made in the ministry of Southern Baptists to the sick and suffering during the four years of the Campaign. At the time this movement was inaugurated Southern Baptists were operating twelve hospitals. The number now in operation has grown to 22, six others are practically completed and ready for service, while two more have been projected. At the time the Campaign began the value of Southern Baptist hospital property was $2,227,000, while today it has grown to approximately $9,000,000 among the institutions already in operation. The number of hospital beds has increased from 1,623 to 3,000.

During the four years of the Campaign a total of 176,000 patients have been treated in these hospitals. Approximately $1,000,000 worth of charity service has been performed there for needy but deserving persons.

925 Old Preachers Helped.

Into the work of ministerial relief the Campaign has put the sum of $1,440,133.31. More than $500,000 has been put into supplying the needs of aged and dependent ministers and their families. This, representing the efforts of four years, is far more than Southern Baptists have ever done for old preachers in all their history prior to the launching of this forward movement. At the same time the Relief and Annuity Board has gathered an interest-bearing endowment and sinking fund to relief alone of more than $450,000, and has gathered for its annuity work an interest-bearing endowment and sinking fund of more than $1,100,000. Today 925 beneficiaries are carried on the rolls of the Relief and Annuity Board.

An effort is being made to bring the 75 Million Campaign to a successful completion during 1924. It is announced by the headquarters office, and forces are at work in every state in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention with a view to enlisting the churches in the immediate discharge of the task they assumed in this five-year movement.

REDUCTION OF REQUIRED AREA OF CULTIVATION IN HOMESTEAD CASES

Circular No. 912, Department of the Interior, General Land Office, Washington, D. C., February 1, 1924. Registers and Receivers, United States Land Offices: Gentlemen:

At the end of paragraph 27-b of Circular No. 541, the following is added:

"Nor will a reduction in the area of cultivation, based on the physical condition of the land, be permitted if, at the date of the application to enter, the land was designated and subject to entry under the stock-raising act. In such cases, the homesteader should file application for change of the character of the entry to one under the stock-raising act, showing therein the non-adaptability of the land for cultivation, that the land does not contain any water holes, or other body of water needed or used by the public for watering purposes, and his consent to the entry being made subject to the reservation to the United States of all coal and other minerals in the land, together with the right to prospect for, mine, and remove the same. The application of the entryman should be in affidavit form, and the showing therein as to the character of the land should be corroborated by the affidavits of two witnesses."

Give the widest publicity to the above addition that may be possible without expense to the United States. Very respectfully,

WILLIAM SPRY, Commissioner.

LATE POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

TO THE VOTERS OF ARTESIA

Today's papers of the county will carry the following statement.

Z. B. Moon has never denied saying that Donahue is a member of the K. K. K. and a republican, I had never thought of Mr. Donahue in connection with the K. K. K. until I saw the statement attributed to me in the papers in the form of a question, they could just as easily asked me if I had not said that Mr. Donahue drank the Panama Canal dry, however I had never heard his democracy questioned, but never questioned it myself for I knew nothing whatever about his democracy.

Just to show the people of Artesia the manner of Mr. Donahue's and Mr. Hartell's campaign, I will incorporate in this article a letter in full.

Hon. Z. B. Moon, Hope, New Mexico.
Dear Sir: In regard to your candidacy in Lea county, I wish to make the following inquiry. Did you give a check to a "singer," who assisted in a revival meeting at Hope, and then have the check turned down at the bank when it came in for collection? The report of such action on your part was published in Lovington and Lea county immediately after Mr. Hartell and Frank H. Donahue came into the county.

However, for your encouragement, it is my opinion that your vote in Lea county will easily reach 80 per cent of the total vote cast on April 15th.

Yours for a successful campaign and clean politics.

W. M. BEAUCHAMP,
Chairman of Lea County, Democratic Central Committee.

I have never said one word derogative to Mr. Donahue, that is not my manner of campaigning.

I have gone before the people of the two counties and presented my views on pending legislation, but if you will stop and consider for one moment the people who put Mr. Donahue in this race knowing as you did that they are opposed to our improvement program, and the Chamber of Commerce of Hope and Artesia have been bending every energy to put the improvement program over. A program in which I am in perfect harmony and have spent four years of my time and considerable money in the interest of the above mentioned program.

It was at the solicitation of the business men of Hope and Artesia that I consented to make this race and had announced as a candidate two months before Mr. Donahue announced his candidacy.

I merely ask you to vote for me because of the fact that our interests are identical.

The history of the check referred to is as follows:

I gave the "singer" check, deposited the collection in the bank at Hope two days later the bank closed, then I took the check up through the First National Bank at Artesia.

Will refer you to the bank for verification.

GOOD THINGS FOR OCCASIONS

A salad is always a welcome dish, and the following dressing will be enjoyed on lettuce:

Russian Dressing.—Beat one-half cupful of French dressing, using six tablespoonfuls of oil with two of vinegar. Salt, paprika to taste. Add gradually this dressing into a half-cupful of mayonnaise, beating with an egg beater; then add two tablespoonfuls of chili sauce and fold in one-third of a cupful of cream, whipped. Season well with chopped green and red pepper, onion juice, parsley and chopped cucumber pickle.

Apricot Sponge.—Soften one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-quarter of a cupful of cold water, then add one cupful of apricot pulp and juice, heated hot; add one-quarter cupful of sugar; stir until the mixture thickens, then fold in the whites of two eggs, stiffly beaten. Serve with whipped cream. Prunes are good used in the place of apricots.

Chesse and Chicken Dish.—Rub the yolk of one hard-cooked egg to a paste with a tablespoonful of olive oil or butter. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one of made mustard, one of granulated sugar and one-quarter teaspoonful of cayenne. Mix with two cupfuls of grated chesse and one cupful of chopped chicken. Press into scallop shells or ramekins and bake just long enough to become hot and the chesse melted.

Made Mustard.—Into four tablespoonfuls of dry mustard beat one tablespoonful of salad oil. Mix well, adding enough vinegar to make a smooth paste, then add a teaspoonful each of white pepper, onion juice and sugar. Beat hard and long to mix well, then bottle. This mustard equals the best mustards in the market, at very little cost.

Another Salad.—Take one cupful each of cooked peas, peanuts finely minced and one-half cupful finely minced good-flavored pickles and the same of chopped ripe olives. Add a good well-seasoned boiled dressing, mix well and serve on lettuce.
