One of the most successful rodeos ever staged at Hope came to a close Saturday night after three days of celebration and merry making.

Friday, the day of the barbecue and public speaking, was the gala day of the rodeo. Business houses here closed from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. in order to attend.

Speakers for the day included, Sen. Z. B. Moon, Hope, Prager Miller, Roswell, O. E. Little, Roswell, Bob Fletcher, Roswell. Visitors were also present from other valley towns, Carlsbad, Lake Arthur, Roswell and Hagerman.

The Artesia Juvenile band accompanied the Artesia delegation and rendered an enjoyable concert both morning and afternoon.

Carnival attractions provided other amusement features in addition to the rodeo staged each afternoon.

The Silver Moon orchestra of Artesia furnished music for the dances given in the evenings on the concrete dance platform, especially provided for on occasions of this kind.

ARTESIA HIGH IS EASY VICTOR IN GAME WITH TULAROSA SATURDAY

Piles up Score of 39 to 0 in Second Game of the Season—The Team Work of the Bulldogs is Too Much for Visitors.

Last Saturday afternoon the Tularosa football team went down in defeat by a 39-0 score before the powerful Artesia High team.

The enthusiastic fans that witnessed the game were well pleased with the caliber of football displayed by the Bulldogs in all departments of the game.

The game was a clean hard fought one, and the large score is a poor indication of the merits of the Tularosa team.

The touchdowns were made by well executed plays behind perfect interference. For the losers Captain Warren played exceptional ball, but was poorly supported by the other members of the squad.

Led by Capt. Bob Burns, the Artesia aggregation swept the visitors off their feet. The interesting feature of the game was the long runs by half back.

A return game will be played in Tularosa on November 1st. The local team will journey to Lamesa, Texas on Saturday, October 17, to meet the strong eleven representing their high school.

WHO CAN WEAR A PAIR OF OVERALLS WHICH MEASURE 68 IN. WAIST

The largest pair of overalls ever seen in Artesia was on display in the windows of the Peoples Mercantile Co. dry goods department Wednesday morning.

The overalls measured 68 inches in the waist and how long they were we would not attempt to say. One leg would provide almost enough cloth to clothe an ordinary man.

"Of course," explained manager Coalson, "We do not expect to find a man in this section large enough to wear them, but the company merely wants to show that they can fit any size."

PERMITS ISSUED TO REPAIR AND BUILD 17 HOUSES SINCE JUNE

According to the record of the building permits issued since June 17th, forty-seven permits have been issued to build either new residences or make repairs to the dwellings already constructed.

In the majority of cases, new dwellings have been built. This one item alone shows that Artesia is experiencing a growth which is steadily increasing.

Stock Sales In New Hotel Pass $50,000 During Week

Good Progress Made by the Volunteer Salesmen Who Expect to Reach $75,000 Within the Next Few Days.

Signed stock subscriptions for the new hotel building fund have passed the $50,000 mark according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Chester Russell, chairman of the stock selling campaign committee organized by the Chamber of Commerce to get a 50 room fire proof hotel here.

The largest subscription is from Flynn, Welch & Yates and is for $25,000. L. P. Evans has subscribed for $5,000. The balance of the subscriptions are for smaller amounts.

"This new hotel will mean more to the merchants and other business men than any other single thing that could be done for Artesia at this time," declared a new resident and business man here who has cast his lot with the town and when approached for a subscription quickly consented to buy $1200 of stock.

"Artesia can't be a town without this new hotel," he continued, going ahead to explain that a modern, progressive town nowadays, is one that connects with the outside world, invites the stranger here, and provides the same kind of good hotel accommodations that visitors find in other towns.

Will Help Merchants. "Business men now coming here, and those who would like to come, bring new capital which they put into circulation first by stopping at the best hotel, and then by patronizing local merchants. This does not take account of the money they invest in real estate or business, which is stupendous in comparison with what has been spent here up to a year or more back."

It is pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Tourist and Convention Bureaus have definite compiled records proving that the minimum spent by travelers in a town where they take

ORCHARDS DISAPPEARING

The first of the preliminary surveys made by the department of commerce of the Pecos Valley and of Chaves country was received this week. While the figures are not yet complete, the result announced was compiled from the farm census conducted in 1925. Of the livestock on the farms, dairy cattle and mules are the only ones listed, which have made a gain in comparison with the year 1920. Of the apple trees listed both young and now bearing, a comparison of the years 1920 and 1925, shows that the numbers have decreased more than seventy-five per cent during this period.

Cotton has made the most wonderful gain of any farm crop, jumping from 68 acres in Chaves county in 1920 to a total of 18,719 in 1925. Hay acreage has also decreased, but not as great as might be imagined from information obtained from some sources.

The total yield in tons is slightly under the same period in 1920 and indicates that more hay is made per acre now than five years ago.

THE BUNGLING LAWS

That bungling laws are worse than no laws at all is aptly illustrated in the charges of the South Texas dairymen against the Horticultural board in their effort to eradicate the foot and mouth disease. A case closer home is called to the attention of the public by an editorial which appeared in the Santa Fe New Mexican. Probably the intention of the law makers was good but the innocent should not be made to suffer.

The editorial states:
"Reports indicate more bonehead work in dealing with the Indians in Arizona in connection with the campaign against cattle scabies. Confiscation of Navajo cattle for dipping charges because the Navajos didn't have the cash to pay on the nail, if it occurred as reported to the commissioner, was an outrageous proceeding. Now comes the story of the Hopi that their perfectly good, non-infected cattle were worn out and many of them died from being driven long distances, mixed with infected cattle, for dipping. Congressman Hayden of Arizona, it is reported, has asked for a full investigation of the alleged rough work among the Hopi. How much of this ill-advised handling of the situation is true and how much is rumor is not entirely clear, but it sounds very much like the old stuff of kicking the Indian around because he is nothing but an Indian."

FIRE MENACES FEDERAL FORESTS

Recently published figures show that more than one-half of the land area of the eleven states west of the Dakotas and Texas is owned and controlled by the federal government. About half of this land comprises national forests which are one of the principal assets in most western states.

State and private forest service agencies trained their guns on the Interior Department for fire hazard conditions existing on timbered sections of the public domain at a recent hearing before the Senate Public Lands Committee at Portland. Charges were preferred against the Interior Department alleging that no fire patrol or provisions for fighting conflagrations on the Oregon domain were made and the department was selling timber off the tracts and allowing the slashings to remain in the woods, contrary to state and federal regulations. E. T. Allen, representing the Western Forestry Conservation Association, testified that there were 2,000,000 acres of unappropriated timber lands in the public do-

GLIMPSES OF THE PAST

From the files of the Advocate, October 7, 1911:

County candidates spoke at Lake-wood Wednesday night.

Mrs. C. S. Starkey went to Roswell Wednesday to attend the fair.

Judge J. G. Osborn, of Artesia, has announced for State Senator from Eddy county.

J. H. Requa, of Dewey, Oklahoma, is on a visit to his brother, E. N. Requa.

F. L. Kauffman, of Des Moines, Iowa, has come to Artesia to locate and will be with C. F. Erb. He is a brother of W. A. Kauffman.

Miss Rossie Temple has returned from Carlsbad, where she has been sometime working on abstract records of the Artesia Abstract Co.

main in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Utah for which the Interior Department provides no fire patrol or other protective measures.

State and federal laws require private owners to provide adequate patrols to reduce the danger of fires, but such work is virtually useless if adjoining timber lands in the public domain are not protected.

The situation in regard to timber offers a fine illustration of the conditions which develop when federal regulations in the hands of the departments, bureaus and commissions in Washington is allowed to encroach upon and control local resources in the several different states.

There is no excuse for further imperiling the great timber resources of the west by a shortsighted national policy in regard to fire prevention.

PLAYING POLITICS WITH COAL

The Portland Oregonian, in commenting on the present coal strike says:

"Anthracite and bituminous coal are sold in distinct markets, but the United Mine Workers, whose members mine both fuels, have ordered a strike in the anthracite field and hold in reserve the threat of a strike in the bituminous field for the purpose of forcing federal intervention between miners and operators in both fields.

"One incident of the miners' strikes might induce the president to intervene with vigor. That is the riots and even murders that have accompanied others. When he was governor of Massachusetts he refused to intervene with the Boston police strike until the city confessed its importance and called for state aid, he then used the entire armed force of the state and quickly crushed the strike. That precedent does not auger well for any men who may attempt a repetition of the massacre that has made Williamson County, Illinois a by-word for mob rule. He has authority to repel insurrection without awaiting a request from a state for aid he will use it if a state proves unwilling or unequal to the task. He would not interfere with the right to strike, but he would make it well understood that this does not include the right to riot and murder."

K. O. B. BROADCASTS AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM

Beginning October 1, and every week thereafter until May 4, the New Mexico A. & M. College will broadcast agricultural information from radio station K. O. B. with a wave length of 348.6 meters. Subjects of timely interest to the farmers and housewives of the state and surrounding territory, will be discussed by members of the experimental and extension staff of the College. The complete program for the year has not been worked out, but speakers and subjects will be assigned at least three weeks in advance so that they will appear in radio magazines in time for everyone to know what to expect.

Home economics subjects will be discussed by Miss Dewey and Miss O'Laughlin, of the resident home economics staff, also by Miss Long, Whitesurst and Strong of the extension division.

Professor Lantow and Mr. Dickson of the animal industry husbandry department will take up subjects related to livestock production on the ranches and farms of the southwest. One subject that has been assigned is "This Year's Cattle Feeding at Tucumcari." Feeding work has been carried on at this station in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture for several years, and the results will be of interest to the cattlemen of the state.

Professor Garcia and others of the horticultural department will discuss the problems of the fruit and vegetable growers. Recent developments along the latter line, including varieties to grow and ways to meet market demands, are arousing a great deal of interest in many sections of New Mexico.

Subjects to be discussed by Professor Berry of the poultry department are "Brooding," "Incubating," and "Mating and Breeding." There will come at a time when they are of the greatest interest to the farmers and poultrymen of the state.

Economic questions will be handled by Mr. Hauter of the extension service. There will include marketing of farm products, prices and other questions of today. One subject of this series is "Agricultural Price Situation for New Mexico," which will be broadcast October 26.

Judging from a few agricultural programs that were broadcast last year and the response by farmers and others who listened in on them, this series will be awaited with interest throughout the state and the southwest.

AUTO TAX

Taxes on automobiles are due and payable after December 1 and are delinquent on December 31, under a new law passed at the last session of the state legislature. Renditions should be made immediately to County Tax Assessor Dick Westaway in order that he may make up his rolls to be forwarded to the county treasurer.

Under this law no 1926 licenses will be granted by the state comptroller until a receipt showing that property taxes have been paid is exhibited. When an automobile license is applied for, the applicant must at the same time exhibit a tax receipt showing that his taxes have been paid, or must exhibit a certificate of exemption which will be furnished to owners of automobiles who are exempt from the payment of property taxes.

This law in effect causes owners of automobiles to pay their taxes on them in advance since the tax which becomes delinquent on December 31 of this year is the tax for the year 1926.

This new law applies only to automobiles and other motor vehicles and in no way effects other taxes.

Local county officials have just received a ruling from the attorney general's office on this new law.

Chaves county motor vehicle owners should immediately render their cars. The taxes then become payable on December 1, and delinquent on December 31. A tax receipt must be exhibited before a new automobile license will be granted, or before a transfer of the car or license will be allowed.

Those who are exempt from the payment of property taxes for any reason whatsoever should secure a certificate of exemption which will operate in the same way as a tax receipt in securing 1926 license.

"Careless Elegance" Is Secret of the Day's Sports Clothes

DO YOU remember the days when you saved all your old clothes to play golf or tennis in? "Anything's good enough for the links," you said.

It isn't that way
today. The baggy old trousers and sweater are about as much out of date as mother's old pongee duster and long-flowing motor veil she wore in 1905, according to Edgar
R. Born, Fashion
Director of the Born Tailors Guild of Chicago.

The keynotes for the up-to-date sports outfit are comfort, durability and a certain air of careless elegance.
The so-called golf suit is the ideal suit for almost all sports. It consists of knickers and loose-fitting coats with inverted plaits at the back to permit an easy swing of club or racket.
Tweeds are the most popular materials with flannels and homespun not far behind.

One very practical suit is a four-piece, consisting of coat, vest, trousers and knickers, combining in one suit all the essentials for sports and business. Knickers are being made with knitted cuffs, which, being close-fitting, allow the cuff of the golf hose to cover them and show to advantage.

Sweaters are being worn in every conceivable pattern and color, the gayer the better. The high "turtle" collars are very popular. Wool hose and sweater have struck up an affinity,
and are purchased in sets to match. The cap is trying to intrude itself as a triangle to the situation, but where the hose and sweaters match it is better, in the interest of variety, to have a cap that tones with, but does not match, the rest of the costume. The cuff of the fancy hose must be plain for good taste.

NEW HOTEL

hotel accommodations, is $10 per day.
Yearly Loss $150,000

It is estimated conservatively that the loss to Artesia yearly by not having more and modern hotel facilities, is in excess of $150,000. Large numbers of oil men billet themselves now in Roswell and Carlsbad, driving back here daily to do business, it is stated, because they cannot get the better kind of hotel rooms. They will stay here in the new hotel when it is ready as permanent guests, they say.

"It is evident that the town is losing business by not having a good hotel that can give visitors a good room with hot water and bath," declared L. P. Evans, a member of the stock selling committee. "Guests at a hotel spend more money for living expenses and luxuries on an average than residents, and yet those most willing to come and spend their money here, are obliged to spend most of their time in other towns because Artesia cannot house them."

That Artesia is building a new hotel every year in some other town with the hotel trade it is losing, is a statement of fact from the hotel survey made here before starting the stock selling.

As a member of the committee pointed out, "It isn't what it will cost the business men of Artesia to build this new hotel, it's what it will cost them if they don't build it."

No town the size of Artesia has ever become bigger and better and more prosperous until it prepared to properly house the visitors who came to do business with local interests," declared a prominent oil man who has done business in all the big oil fields of the country.

Enterprise Needed.

"There is another important consideration to this new hotel project," continued the speaker, and that is that until local business interests show they are strong enough for the hotel to get the building fund started well, they cannot expect outsiders, or newcomers, to rush to their assistance."

"Casper, Wyoming is a good example. When they found oil the town had about 2500 people. Now it has 15,000—and is a substantial city. With the discovery of oil, the local business people built a good hotel."

"Another example closer, Tulsa, Oklahoma. A town nearby, that was larger than Tulsa when oil was discovered in that vicinity began advertising itself through the Chamber of Commerce as the oil capital of the state. Tulsa built a good hotel; and today Tulsa has 75,000 population and the other town has 8000."

"From my life time of experience in the oil business, I am firmly convinced that Artesia can maintain its place as capitol of this oil field if it gets a new hotel so people with money can come here and have a place to stay. I can understand how it could easily range beyond the imaginations of some local business men that Artesia might be the largest city in the Pecos Valley within two or three, or at the most five years. But it's a fact. It can be. Now is the town's opportunity. What the town amounts to, depends on what the town does for itself—and the business men make the town."

"There are a great many possibilities in the progress of this oil field that over conservative local business men overlook. Another railroad is coming across the Valley some day. At least three towns in the Valley are trying to get it. All can't succeed. Whether that road comes to Artesia depends on the enterprise of the local residents in getting this new hotel and thus modernizing their town. A good hotel here will do more than anything else to keep another town from growing up at the oil field when the railroad comes through it."

Artesia Must Hustle.

"Our company has one of the largest investments in the field here. We came here to get oil, not because Artesia was here. We can drill wells, produce oil and take the profits away if the local people wish—and frankly, that is about what is going to happen if this hotel isn't built."

"If it is built, if the local business men show enough spirit to finance it, then we are planning a new building of our own here that will run into a tidy sum. But not without the new hotel. And I might say that I am willing to put some money into hotel stock as soon as the local people show they mean business."

In addition to the above building, many other new investments are contemplated here when the hotel is assured, it is learned from probable investors. The following are some of the prospective improvements promised for the town, when the new hotel is assured: a business house with a building costing approximately $100,000; two new apartment houses, one to be fire proof; a garage; an automobile paint shop; a book, stationery and novelty store; two new automobile agencies; two more supply companies of a highly specialized line; and several others of minor nature.

One concern has had a representative here studying the town with a viewpoint to installing gas for light and fuel throughout the town, but he stated that before his company would pipe gas from the field and lay it throughout the town, the new

DELINQUENT TAXES IS LAND OFFICE OPERATING COST IS LARGE SUM

On June 30, 1925, says a bulletin of the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico, more than 20 per cent of the taxes levied for 1924 were delinquent. It is these taxes which furnish the revenues for 1925. It is not surprising, therefore, that the State Treasury is short of funds and that many counties and institutions have to delay payment of their bills.

The 1924 tax rolls as finally filed with the County Treasurers showed a total of $9,033,704.93 taxes to be collected for all purposes. Because of various adjustments, this total stood at $9,017,938.96 on June 30th, of which $7,116,472.20 had been collected, or only 78.92 per cent. The total amount uncollected on that date was nearly $2,000,000.

Counties which had collected 90 per cent or over on June 30 were: Grant 95.02, Luna 92.05, Hidalgo 91.65.

Counties collecting 80 per cent or more but less than 90 per cent were: Colfax 87.65, Valencia 86.67, McKinley 85.51, Lincoln 83.91, Dona Ana 83.42, Guadalupe 82.95, San Juan 82.89, Bernalillo 82.87, Curry 82.73, Otero 80.32.

Counties collecting 70 per cent or more but less than 80 per cent were: Roosevelt 78.42, Chaves 76.88, De Baca 75.83, Santa Fe 75.51, Torrance 74.54, Eddy 73.72, Sierra 73.61, San Miguel 73.37, Quay 72.07, Lea 71.62, Socorro 70.94.

Counties collecting 60 per cent or more but less than 70 per cent were: Mora 69.37, Sandoval 67.90, Union 62.36.

Counties collecting less than 60 per cent were: Catron 59.81, Taos, 58.49, Harding 58.18, Rio Arriba 54.81.

The cost of running the state land office for the year ended Sept. 30 was $70,998.09.

State Land Commissioner Ed Swope, who has been at the head of the office more than seven months of this time, today transferred to the state institutions, which are beneficiaries of the land grants, $163,543.98 as the unused balance of the office maintenance fund for the year.

This fund amounted to $234,542.07. Of this $212,974.24 came as 20 per cent of certain revenues and $21,567.83 from miscellaneous sources. The $163,543.98 transferred to the institutions today is the unused part of the $243,542.07. Simple arithmetic subtracting $83,543.98 from $235,542.07, shows the amount spent for running expenses.

Never but once before in the recent history of the office has operating expenses equalled or exceeded $70,998.09. This was in 1924, when the amount was $75,593.87 which, it is believed, however, can be partly explained at least by the celebrated land office audit which cost approximately $18,000.

The cost of operating the office was $34,381.57 in 1922 and $52,141.94 in 1923—Santa Fe New Mexican, Tuesday, October 6th.

Improving on History

I just finished hearing a Politician, one of the Washington Boys, talk on Abraham Lincoln. The only thing I could picture in common between him and Lincoln was that they had both been in Washington. When a Politician aint talking about himself he is talking about Lincoln. Lincoln has had more Public men speak of his good qualities, and fewer copy any of them, than any man America ever produced. His famous address was only about two hundred words long. No Politician has ever been able to even copy his briefness. In fact that is the last one of his qualities that they would try to copy. Lincoln said more in those 200 words than has been said in the entire City of Washington in the last 10 years, and here is a quality that no historian or speaker has ever brought out before. At the completion of the Gettysburg speech, he wisely refused one of Grant's Cigars, and borrowed a sack of "Bull" Durham from an Ex Southern private, rolled his own, got on his Mule and went back to Washington.

BART A. NYMEYER AGED RESIDENT OF CARLSBAD IS DEAD

The death of Bart A. Nymeyer was announced at noon today, the news coming as a shock to the entire community.

Mr. Nymeyer left Carlsbad Thursday morning for the country south of Loving to do some surveying, the auto being driven by Pete Rouark, who noticed that Mr. Nymeyer suddenly slumped in his seat and became unconscious.

Returning to Loving, Rouark telephoned to Carlsbad for a physician to meet him on the road and Dr. Cuipepper responded to the call, but in some way missed the car driven by Rouark, and the latter came on into the city. The attending physician announced the cause of death as apoplexy.

Mr. Nymeyer was practically dead before reaching the city, having no pulse when the doctor reached him.

The deceased was 84 years of age on the 11th of last January, and for many years had served Eddy county as county surveyor. He was active always in the upbuilding of the country and was widely known and as widely respected, being of a nature that made and retained friends. His death will be mourned by the entire community.

From many years acquaintance with B. A. Nymeyer, the writer knows that if he had selected the manner of his passing, it could not have been more to his liking than it was, for he died as he lived—active in the performance of his duty.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced, but the service will in all probability be under the auspices of Eddy Lodge No. 21, A. F. & A. M.

The deceased is survived by two brothers, a wife, son and daughter, the latter living at Hibdon, Texas, and the funeral will in all likelihood be postponed until her arrival possibly Saturday.—Argus.

MAY APPOINT A TRAFFIC OFFICER FOR P. V. ROADS

The strong arm of the law will soon be reaching out to get violators of the state traffic laws. Reports from all directions have been pouring in to county officials regarding violations of law on the state highways in this section of the state and an effort is being made to have some action taken at once by the proper authorities.

Autoists have been traveling the highways at excessive speed without regard to life or limb or the rights of others. This highway between Carlsbad and upper valley points is dangerous in many places, especially sections immediately south of Lakewood and between Roswell and Dexter. Accidents are reported each week, and some of them have been fatal and many of them very serious.

County officials of the Fifth Judicial District are working out a plan whereby a special officer is to be appointed to patrol the highways in this section of the state. The present plan is to have Eddy and Chaves counties work together and get fulltime officers whose only business will be to act as traffic cops on the highways and arrest all violators of the speed laws of the state.

It is understood the matter will shortly be taken up by the boards of county commissioners of both Eddy and Chaves counties and some plan formulated and put in force which will curtail the breaking of these laws.

It is understood that the appointment of these officers would come within the powers of the judge of the district court, as he has the power to name deputy sheriffs for special duty.—Argus.

BAPTIST CHURCH

War was declared at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and the forces are being marshalled for the battle royal to begin next Sunday morning at 9:45. It all came about by the pastor having made the statement that since women bobbed their hair and shaved their necks and wore pants like men that they have lost their prestige and their ability to do things as Samson lost his strength when his head was shaved. He furthermore proves this statement by the fact that we are having larger numbers of men at Sunday school than we do women and that this condition is going to continue right on. Mrs. N. P. Bullock and her class of women immediately challenged the pastor and his class of men for a battle to see who is who in Artesia. They are organizing as they never did before in order to prove that the hand that rocked the cradle still rules the world. The men are equally determined to prove that salvation and safety is invested in the

Why is blue the universally accepted color for sailors? The Horn Tailors Guild answers the question and gives the credit of selection to a woman. In 1748 George the Second of England was casting around in his royal mind for a suitable color for naval uniforms. By chance one day he came upon the Duchess of Bedford riding horseback and clad in a habit of dark blue with white trimmings. FINALLY Real Sedans at "Coach" Price

BUICK builds only real sedans on the famous Buick chassis—with Fisher bodies.

The 4 and 2 door Sedans, on either the Master or Standard Buick chassis, are attractive, quality closed cars. These Buicks have the better performance power—speed—endurance—and economy that mark the Better Buick as today's better motor car. Buick could build a cheap closed car and sell it at cheap price. But Buick chooses to build for the satisfaction of Buick owners. Buick sees to it that owners have cars they are proud to drive for years—cars that have a high re-sale value when finally traded in.

See these Better Buick Sedans before you spend your money.

AN INVESTMENT WITH TWO DIVIDENDS— ARTESIA NEW HOTEL STOCK

OFFERING

We have organized as a stock selling campaign executive committee, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, for the profit of the entire community, to raise $140,000 with which to construct in Artesia a high grade new hotel to be run for profit. To secure this sum we are selling on behalf of the Artesia Hotel Company, a concern to be organized under the laws of New Mexico, 8 per cent cumulative, non-assessable, preferred stock at $100 per share. With each two shares of preferred stock a subscriber may purchase one share of common for $1. The common stock will serve as a means of dividing the profits above the 8 per cent paid on the preferred stock. Twenty months time is allowed to pay for a subscription.

ABOUT THE FINANCIAL PLAN

Investing money is putting your capital where it will produce a return called interest or dividends. The financial plan of this hotel is right. The investment will be safe and the earning power will be assured. The hotel will be located where the property will increase in value, where the depreciation will be at a minimum. The men back of the enterprise are men you can trust to insure the right kind of organization and good management.

By non-assessable is meant that the large stockholders buy on the same basis as the small stockholders, and that an assessment cannot be made against their stock later for improvements or for any other purpose. The stock will earn and pay 8 per cent from the start as Mr. Day has given an insured lease that guarantees that income.

By cumulative is meant that if 8 per cent is not paid on the stock in one year that the company will owe the stockholders that money and will be legally bound to pay a larger percentage in succeeding years until the 8 per cent promised is paid for the entire time. The stock is cumulative from January 1st, 1928.

THE HOTEL BUSINESS

Over $235,000,000 was invested in new hotel construction in 1923. In 1924 this sum jumped to over $600,000,000. This year it is estimated that a total of $1,000,000,000 will be invested in new hotels. The hotel business of the United States, for capital invested, now stands sixth from the top. This should not only prove the popularity of hotels, but it should prove to the reasonable, thinking people of Artesia that hotel men are not philanthropists—that they put money into hotels to make money. Hotels by the hundreds throughout the United States are paying handsome dividends. One company running twenty-four hotels averaged in 1924, 20.9 per cent net profit from each of its hotels. Any number of similar cases can be cited. Community financed hotels are most popular with hotel operators, because of the united support secured from the local people on account of their being stockholders. Hundreds of cities throughout the United States have secured, or are securing, hotels to cater to visitors in order to get some of the millions of dollars spent annually by them.

We claim for the Artesia new hotel that there will be two dividends.

FIRST DIVIDEND

1. Security. As a basis of security for the investment the Artesia new hotel property itself will represent land, a hotel building, furnishings, equipment, improvements, all in Artesia.

2. Increased Valuation. An outstanding factor in increasing the safety of the investment will be the increased valuation of the site and the property for blocks around the location of the hotel, not to mention the increased value to property in the city anywhere. This is more true in the case of Artesia perhaps than of many other places. The gain in profit to the hotel and to Artesia because of the increase in real estate values, cannot be underestimated.

3. The Property. The construction of the hotel and the improvements will be most substantial and permanent, thereby insuring the investment against immediate depreciation. The lease with the operator provides that he must pay taxes, insurance and upkeep up to $2500, thus further safeguarding the investment.

4. Earnings. Safety of an investment is not enough. It must have earning power. That Artesia's new hotel will have. We are selling 8 per cent preferred stock that is cumulative and non-assessable. A guaranteed lease promises 8 per cent dividends. An extensive survey by The Hockenbury System Inc., hotel specialists of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, has satisfied us that patronage is waiting for this hotel to be opened.

5. Assured Income. The best guarantee of any investment is that its capital be invested in substantial business property which has earning power that assured an adequate income. These fundamentals this hotel has.

6. Operator. The hotel is to be leased to Harry Day, a thoroughly capable and responsible operator on a basis that will pay the taxes, insurance and upkeep on the property up to $2500 and pay the 8 per cent dividend on the preferred stock, with a possible additional division of net profits which can be paid as dividends on the common stock.

7. Location. To have the largest possible appeal and draw the most guests this hotel will be located at Main and First Streets.

8. We Buy. As proof that we believe in this undertaking we are not only giving our time free to it, but we invested heavily in stock.

9. Men Back of it. After the hotel is financed, while it is being built and throughout its operation we expect to interest ourselves in the management of the property for the interest of the stockholders. We do not expect personally to manage the hotel, but we do expect to leave no stone unturned in seeing that the right kind of operator is secured and then seeing to it that he fulfills his contract.

SECOND DIVIDEND

1. Indirect Earnings. The direct dividend of 8 per cent on the preferred stock and the good prospects of an additional dividend on the common stock possibly, equaling the dividend on the preferred stock, will not be the only dividend this hotel will earn for Artesia residents.

2. Favorable Advertising. The city will receive favorable advertising from the hotel, because a high class, well managed hotel is everywhere acknowledged to be a city's best single advertisement. That is because a hotel is to a visitor what your home is to you; this hotel will be the host to our city's newcomers.

3. New Residents. The Chamber of Commerce brings people here and our excellent business opportunities helps to keep them here; but there is a class of people who will come here for health and rest and stay longer when this hotel is built.

4. Trade for Merchants. The winter guests and oil men that this hotel will bring here, will each spend a minimum of $10 a day with local merchants, according to survey figures given out by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Convention Bureaus.

5. New Money. When the new hotel is opened it will bring here new money that will be left here to stimulate local business. Without new capital we are only "swapping dollars" with each other.

6. Increased Wealth. With this hotel visitors to our city will be induced to stay longer than otherwise, thus increasing greatly our chance of making them permanent residents. New homes will be built, increasing employment, increasing our population and our per capita or wealth.

7. A Social Center. The Artesia new hotel will be a social, civic and convention center in addition to being helpful to the community in personal and business ways. It will also increase our opportunities for hospitality and recreation.

AN OPPORTUNITY

We respectfully urge every business man and every citizen, to consider thoroughly and fairly and seriously the merits of the Artesia new hotel stock as an investment. Money invested in this hotel is not a gift. Within the next few days the people of this community are going to finance this hotel by purchasing enough stock to guarantee a building fund, so Artesia will be advertised throughout the country as a city that is awake and thriving. Think over the matter of buying stock—but think fast. Then act! Subscribe for stock now.

BRISBANE WRITES OF FORD TRACTOR WINS NEW MEXICO SCENERY IN PLOWING CONTEST

The following clipping was taken from Author Brisbane of Today and shows that New Mexico is due for an increasing amount of attention from the outsider. The possibilities depicted by Mr. Brisbane, which the future may hold is in no way overdrawn, as thousands, who have seen this section will testify.

"This is written on the rain, west bound, a heavy engine hauling one of two long Santa Fe trains that every day in the year takes passengers from Chicago and points east to California, rolls down through the cold air from Raton mountain, 7,000 feet up, into New Mexico, a domain reserved for a future race, that will be more worthy of so magnificent an abode, and better adapted to lofty isolation. No man could describe the sun rising over the hills and valley of this country. Vainly Dante tried to describe the eternal light that illumines Paradise. He would have been no more successful here.

This land, too good for men now living, wears their feeble minds, overwhelms them. Buckle tells how civilization developed among little mountains, bays and rivers in Greece, Italy, along the shores of the small inland Mediterranean Sea.

The mighty Himalayas dwarfed men's minds, crushed their genius. They could not cope with nature's overwhelming grandeur.

This was illustrated just now by a young gentleman who had been advised to see the sun rise over beautiful New Mexico from the observation car. His hair is carefully oiled and brushed backward, and as the sun rises and blazes over a thousand mountains, hills and ravines he is absorbed in a magazine page headed, "A Hand-Picked Group of Funny Jokes."

Here is the real "old America." The palace of the governor at Santa Fe was built twelve years before the Pilgrim fathers landed and fell upon the aborigines. Wealth immeasurable is in these lands and will soon bring here the modern genius that cares little for scenery or anything that cannot be added to a bank account.

New Mexico's county of Colfax alone has coal beds containing 30,000,000,000 tons, and already the miners' payroll run up to $400,000 a month.

At Lamy, Indian men and women with faces that never change, beckoning with their fingers, muttering a few words, offer pottery for sale. Three children, looking from the car window, remind you that what little decency we possess we owe to the influence of woman.

One child, a boy of 11, says: "Gee! These Indians are comical." A smaller boy, 8, asks hopefully: "Do you think that Indian ever scalped anybody?"

The girl, 12: "I am so sorry for these poor Indians. Nobody seems to buy anything from them." And she goes out to buy.

The pitying heart of woman ended cannibalism and slavery. It will in time end poverty and human misery.

See New Mexico, the empire of a future greater race, if you prefer 122,634 square miles of overwhelming beauty to one page of "hand-picked jokes."

This is a tall State, the lower part to the south; the table lands are 4,000 feet high, rising northward to a height of 5,000 feet. The Rio Grande, from the Colorado line of New Mexico to the old Mexican border, falls 3,500 feet. Back of the Rio Grande and other great rivers of this greater western country there is wealth, reserve power for civilization that dwarfs everything in the East.

One reservoir here, created by the Elephant Butte Dam, has a capacity of more than 862,000,000 gallons, enough water to cover the state of Delaware two feet deep. Your little man in Boston, Hoboken, New York or Chicago contemplating his savings bank book, says, "This is God's own country." It is, indeed, but you don't know it until you have seen this country.

Fordson Tractors captured the three first prizes of the day at the forty-seventh annual Whatland Plowing Match, held recently at Naperville, Illinois and considered to be the most important plowing contest held annually in the country.

Glenn Wright, of Plano, Illinois, representing the Yorkville Motor Company, with his Fordson tractor and Oliver plow won in the manufacturer's class, with a score of 92 points.

Walter Erickson, of Naperville, Illinois, driving a Fordson and Janesville plow, won first honors and a silver cup in the farmers class, with a score of 92½ points.

First place was captured in the only other event, the boys class, by Forrest George, 18 years old, scoring 83½ points with a Fordson tractor and Oliver plow.

The victory of the Fordsons was well received by the 600 or 700 enthusiastic farmers who cheered the contestants, since by far the great majority of them were owners of that type of tractors.

Fordson success was not a surprise to the practical farmers who witnessed this plowing contest. Factors which gave the Fordson first honors in every class were, its flexibility, its short turning radius and ease of steering, one wheel running in a furrow. This makes for better uniformity and straightness of furrows, both of which were points considered in computing the scores.

The farmers at the Wheatland contest were over-joyed because of their vocation in winning scored slightly better than the victor in the manufacturers event with his brand new equipment. Much amusement was offered by the difficulty in finding horses to pull the only two "walking plows" which also took a part in the plowing exhibition.

Concrete protects against Fire, Tornado and Earthquake

Ask Dad—See If He Knows

Father and mother are always thinking of your welfare—there isn't a thing within reason they wouldn't do for you.

But they may unknowingly have been risking your life every day.

When you are at dinner tonight with dad, ask him this question:

"Dad, is our school fire-safe?"

Perhaps he won't be able to answer—he may not know.

Ask dad if he knows that somewhere in the country a schoolhouse burns every day. Ask him if he knows that one-third of all the schoolhouses in the country are nothing better than firetraps—maybe your school is one of them.

Of course dad knows that buildings can be built that will not burn. They are being built everywhere, every day.

If your school is fire-safe, you're lucky. If it isn't, ask dad what he is going to do about it. You have a right to know.

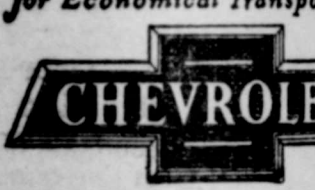

The highest type of fire-safe construction is concrete. Our illustrated booklet "Concrete Schoolhouses" contains a wealth of information on fire-safe construction with which every parent ought to be familiar. Write today for your free copy.

STATE AND NATIONAL LOSSES BY FIRE ARE GIVEN OUT THIS WEEK

In connection with the observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 4th to 10th, we have clipped an article of interest from the Fire Prevention Bulletin, which gives both the national and state losses from fires during the years 1923-24, together with the principal causes of the same.

1923	$ 535,372,782.00
1924	548,810,639.00
50 years, 1875-1924	9,897,652,503.00

At the 1924 rate of burning we will burn as much in the next eighteen years as we have in the past fifty years, but, if we increase each year the same amount as the average increase for the last ten years, it will take us only about twelve years to burn that amount, and in 1935 the annual loss will be approximately $1,000,000,000. It is time to call a halt.

New Mexico.

1923	$1,307,255.00
1924 (estimated)	1,340,000.00

Chief causes, 1923: Defective chimneys and flues; exposure (from other fires); spontaneous combustions; matches-smoking; stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, petroleum and its products; hot ashes and open fires.

HOPE ITEMS

(Noel L. Johnson, Reporter)

Many expert cowboys and riders were here during the Rodeo and everyone seemed satisfied that the Rodeo was a success.

The Fite well drilling on Sec. 4, Twp. 18, Range 23 is going right along and expect to have the well down to a showing in a short time.

Dipping cattle by the local inspector will begin about the 12th at the local dipping vat, and it is expected that it will take about ten days to finish the first dipping.

Farmers continue to gather cotton, apples and beans, a few have good feed crops and altogether it is thought that Hope will have a very successful year after all the bad start from droughts.

Four wells are being put down within a radius of fifteen miles of Hope. No one is excited but nearly everybody seems to think the prospects for getting oil is good in all of the tests.

C. L. Jernigan and wife came over from Old Mexico to be present at the Rodeo, returning this week with Pap Jernigan and Tennie Prude, who expect to spend some time at the ranch over in Mexico.

STOCKMEN'S COMMENTS ON CONDITIONS OCTOBER 1, 1925

STATE SUMMARY—A summary of the comments from stockmen in the different counties indicate an abundance of rain has fallen during the past 60 days over practically the entire state. Only two, one from eastern Sierra, and the other from southern Lea counties report insufficient rain for winter grass. In some places rains came late, and grass is still short. Late frost is needed for its maturity. Many stockmen report best ranges in several years, but state that grass is thin on the ranges, and feed include lots of weeds. Livestock is reported in splendid condition, and many cattle and sheep are grass fat. Complaint of few stock on the ranges is general. Both demand and prices are increasing for cattle. Demand strong for lambs, and ewes and all lambs contracted at from 11c to 13c.

Comments by Counties.
BERNALILLO—Condition of cattle and sheep very good, with ranges excellent.

CATRON—Condition of ranges and livestock good.

CHAVES—Lots of rain and ranges green, but many weeds, and grass is thin on the ground. Sheep market active. Lambs sold as high as 13c; old ewes $5.50; and breeding ewes $12. Some cattle sales at $20 to $25 for steer calves; $17.50 to $20 for heifers; and few offers for cows with calves at $35 to $40. Probably 60,000 head of sheep to be marketed from here in October.

COLFAX—Range feed supply best since 1919, but light hay crop. Lambs sold at 11c to 13c; and old ewes at $4 to $4.50. Steers in fair demand. Sale of 1s, at $42.50 to $45 and 7 cents per pound at loading points. No young ewes offered, but old fulmouthed $8. Taylor Springs—Ranges best in many years. Feed supply short on dry farms, but good pasture from wheat. Good steer calves $25 to $27.

DE BACA—Ranges good, but few stock. Cattle mostly mortgaged.

DONA ANA—Condition cattle good. Ranges improved. Winter feed short.

EDDY—Hope—Ranges best in years, plenty of feed in sight. 10 per cent loss of sheep last 60 days of drought; cattle losses not so heavy. Some ewes sold at $13; lambs at 11c to 12½c; and calves contracted at $25. Carlsbad—Conditions good.

GRANT—Showers continue and grass is good.

HARDING—All stock in fine shape. Feed scarce. No corn, and maize $30 per ton. Good grass and wheat pasture.

LEA—North half had lots of rain, but south half dry in spots. Considerable trading in both cattle and sheep. Steer calves contracted at $22.50 to $27; heifers $2 less; and ewes $10 to $12. Caprock—ranges best for thirty years. Prices stronger. Lovington—Few losses. Little demand for cattle, except steers.

LINCOLN—Glencoe—ranges stocked. Grass good. Showers continue. No destructive hail and cloudbursts. Need warm weather to mature grain. Water holes holding up. Bidding $20 for calves. Light crops on majority of ranches. Breeding conditions are good. Corona—range good. Plenty of grass for winter. No feed on farms.

MORA—Grass best in many years. Some stockmen harvesting grama hay. Few stock left. Plenty of feed and water for winter. Demand for sheep good, and some cattle changing hands. Prices of cattle, 1s, $18 to $22.50; cows, $25 to $40; old ewes, $5; and breeding ewes, $8.50 to $11. Ocate—grass good but apparently "washy." Sheep not gaining as they should. Lambs not large framed, in good health. Optimo—rains damaged prairie hay. Cattle looking good. Cows with year-old calves sold at $40. Good white faced 1s priced at $25—offered $23.

OTERO—Winter range good, but more rains would have helped. Some sheep lost—apparently from poison weed.

QUAY—Plenty of feed. Light losses. Fat cows $40, and 1s, $25. Good many buyers. Early frost will kill some grass.

RIO ARRIBA—Continuous rains caused some rheumatism in sheep. Lambs some lighter than last year, and sheep not very fat. Winter ranges best in twelve years.

ROOSEVELT—Lots of rain; grass best in two years; flies bad. Dipping causing some shrinkage of cattle.

SAN MIGUEL—Ranges and stock good. Grama grass seeded. Winter feed not plentiful. Lots of buyers. Calves sold at $15 to $18. Early frost will do damage.

SANTA FE—Pastures good, but grass short. Prices poor. Insufficient rains for winter feed. Kingston—plenty of feed and water. Stock fine. Some losses.

UNION—Grass wonderful. Cattle and sheep fat. Crops spotted.

VALENCIA—Good winter grass if late frost. Lots of buyers, but no sales. Buyers complain cattle not fat enough for market. Prices sheep—lambs 12c to 13c; old ewes $3.75; and breeding ewes up to $10. Bluewater—rains late. Grass scattered and short. Prices low. San Fidel—plenty of rain since August

INSULATORS IMPORTANT IN RADIO BATTERIES

As radio becomes more and more a necessary part of daily home life, radio experts are looking more closely into the details that may help to make radio sets foolproof and dependable.

One of the essentials which has been given considerable attention of late is the make-up of "A" batteries. Separators for use in radio "A" batteries must be absolutely uniform in thickness and density, otherwise the plates become spotted and many troubles arise. That is the statement of a recognized radio expert in an article printed recently in one of the leading radio magazines.

The separators commonly used in radio storage batteries are wood which is a natural product and in spite of all sorts of treatments given them they can never be as uniformly porous and as even in composition as a manufactured product in which every stage of the manufacture can be accurately controlled.

One battery builder has overcome this evil and the result is a manufactured product where thousands of tiny threads in rubber insulators serve as minute wicks which conduct the electrolyte from one plate to the other much more evenly and quickly than it could pass through a wooden sheet, however thin it is cut.

This product is known as Threaded Rubber Insulation and can be found only in Willard batteries. The rubber insulators prevent spotting of plates and other troubles too well known to the experienced operator. They permit a uniform diffusion of electrolyte which in turn makes a uniform flow of current possible.

RESERVE OFFICERS TO RALLY AT ROSWELL
ON OCTOBER NINTH

The reserve officers of New Mexico, some four hundred in number, have been invited to a rally, which is to be held in Roswell on next Friday, October 9th, which will include officers of the Regular army and National guard as well. A luncheon will be given under the auspices of the Pecos Valley Sector, association of the army of the United States, in honor of Major General Ernest Hinds, commanding the Eighth Corps Area, at masonic temple at noon. A large attendance is anticipated, inasmuch as this event comes on the second day of the Chaves County Cotton Carnival, when many of the Reserve officers would have been in Roswell any way.

One of the features of the Cotton Carnival will be the new 410th Infantry Band, which will play in the opening parade and will render evening concerts. This band represents the 103rd division, United States army, comprising the states of New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona, and is composed of Roswell musicians, under the leadership of Captain Jack Fletcher, veteran band director of the state.

PRBYTERIANS JOIN WITH METHODISTS SUNDAY EVE

The Presbyterian congregation omitted its evening service Sunday and joined with the Methodists for the last service of the Conference year. Rev. Jones assisted Rev. Walker in the service and special music was rendered by the Methodist choir. The Artesia churches have the pleasant habit of joining in each others' services on special occasions, such as this, the leaving of Rev. Walker for Conference, a habit highly to be commended as it is a mark of good fellowship and friendly relationship.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

Mrs. Sid Cox was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Auxiliary last Monday afternoon. The meeting was an unusually good one, as reports were given of the state meeting in Roswell last month. The president, Mrs. Albert Richards, also gave a report of the returns from the lunch stand, which the Auxiliary conducted the last day of the Alfalfa Festival and which proved to be a good financial venture. Mrs. Homer Dunagan, a member of the Artesia Auxiliary, now living in Roswell, was present at the meeting. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Cox, assisted by Mrs. Richards. The meeting next month will be at the home of Mrs. Dan Eipper.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS THURS.

The society met with Mrs. L. W. Feemster last Thursday afternoon with an excellent attendance. The Missionary lesson was conducted by Mrs. E. B. Bullock, who was assisted by Mrs. A. L. Allinger and Mrs. Landis Feather. Mrs. J. H. Walker reported the Bulletin news and in this she was helped by a number of the members. It was decided to meet twice a month instead of monthly, as heretofore, one meeting being devoted to business and a social time and the other to missionary study. The book selected for study is "From Beyond the Border," a book devoted to the people who come to us from Mexico. Mrs. R. O. Cowan will conduct the study. Refreshments were served in two courses by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Ellis. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dan Eipper.

COUNTY HEALTH DEPT. EXAMINES THE SCHOOL PUPILS AT CARLSBAD

The examination of school children in Carlsbad has been completed with the exception of the high school pupils who will be examined at a later date. The examinations have been in force since the fifteenth and up to the thirtieth 445 pupils had been examined of whom 398 were found to have one or more defects.

The number of defects noted were as follows:

Underweight, 149; overweight, 38; teeth, 97; heart, 16, nose 21, skin, 10; tonsils, 142; lungs 1; eyes 2; hearing, 7; vision, 75; scalp, 1; posture 69; nervous system, 1.

The major defects found were those of teeth, underweight, tonsils and vision. Of the children examined 33.9 per cent were underweight; 27.4 per cent had one or more defective teeth; 39.5 per cent had tonsillar conditions needing examinations and treatment and 17.9 per cent had defective vision in one or both eyes. It was found that in some of the children wearing glasses the vision was the same with and without the glasses. Notifications were sent to all parents of children found with defects.

PRODUCTION OF FIELD WILL RUN AROUND 360,000 BARRELS

make a small well at the present depth following a shot is the opinion of a number of operators. The completion of the Ramage would be a big thing for the field as it would in a measure establish the trend of production, something that is very doubtful at present.

Late production figures on the Artesia pool show that approximately 360,000 barrels of oil have been run. As this is coming from 90 producers it gives an average gross production of 4000 barrels to the well. Of this amount however, the Maljamar Oil & Gas Corporation and Twin Lakes Co. have run the largest percentage, from their 320 acres in Sec. 28-18-28. Figures show that 180,000 barrels have been run from these properties with the bulk coming from the Maljamar lease.

To those who sit on the curb and whittle sticks and condemn everything good, bad and indifferent we wish to state that the No. 1 well of the Maljamar Corporation has produced 40,000 barrels of high gravity crude in a few short months. The No. 3 of the same interests has produced 20,000 barrels and the No. 2 of the Twin Lakes Co. has produced 20,500 barrels.

As this production is coming from a sand that varies in thickness from 25 to 33 feet and as this sand in all probability is being fed from a tremendous body of oil at a lower level it is reasonable to expect that the Artesia field will someday rank with the wonder pool at Electra, which has made millions for those fortunate enough to hold on to their properties.

The Bixby well, in the SE NW 1/4 of Sec. 18-28, has made a very favorable showing after swabbing tests the first two days of the week, the amount of production being 75 to 80 barrels. This well was completed sometime ago and proved a disappointment to many, however, the recent showings will be a material boost for this section.

ARTESIA HIGH EASY VICTOR IN GAME WITH TULAROSA SATURDAY

P. Stephens L. H. B. Conner Subs—Richie, Robinson, Briscoe. Conner, who registered two touchdowns, Fullback Jackson plowed through the line for many yards and is gradually developing into a strong cog in the local scoring machine. Jernigan, the star signal caller made consistent gains on every occasion that he handled the ball. The line performed in fine fashion, and the outstanding work was done by D. House and Feemster. The end positions were held down by Jonas and Bullock, and they handled the aerial work like veterans.

All members of the squad were given an opportunity to sidelay their wares and some promising material will be uncovered before the season is over.

THE COLORED STORY

Speaking of a colored story, an Illinois editor thinks he has them all beat when it comes to writing a story with color. Here it is:

Color—and plenty of it—was conspicuous in a chance meeting in one of Mt. Vernon's business places Tuesday. Perhaps it should be designated as a "riot of color" or a human rainbow.

It all happened like this: Miss Gray is in Mt. Vernon representing the White & Brown chautauqua—a three-color combination right there. Tuesday Miss Gray of the White & Brown chautauqua met Mr. Green of the Weilbrenner grocery firm. And—here's still another. Miss Ada Black had just left the Weilbrenner store when Miss Gray of the White & Brown chautauqua bureau met Mr. Green.

P. O. RECEIPTS SHOW 106 PER CENT GAIN OVER THAT LAST YEAR

Over one hundred per cent gain in the total receipts is the record established by the local post office in a recent report. Receipts for the quarter ending September 30th, 1925, shows a gain of 106 per cent over the same period last year.

Demand for boxes is also increasing at a rapid rate. Postmaster Hannah states that approximately 200 patrons are on the waiting list, all wanting a mail box. The rapidly expanding business which the post office has enjoyed for the past few months makes larger quarters imperative and it is likely that some arrangement will be made within the next few weeks.
