Operators Watching Wells In Lea County

Local Interest In The No. 2 of Maljamar And Gas Corp.—T. P. No. 2 Flowing By Leads From 3,712 Feet.

Developments have been noteworthy in the past week both in southern and western Lea county. Interest is centered in the No. 2 of the Maljamar Oil and Gas Corp., in the center of the E. sec. 21-17-32, approximately 4 miles east of here, which is producing this morning below 4,015 feet. The first major break encountered earlier in the well was at 3,965 feet with a better break coming at 4,004 feet. The well is making about 10 million feet of gas and is flowing 90 barrels a day. Yesterday the well was shut in because of the pressure being too high. The well is being worked on to bring it to a commercial well at present depth. Another and better break is expected to be encountered at 4,108 feet. The big gas test was cased off at 3,745 feet.

Yesterday erected a 250 foot storage tank on the lease and constructing a pipe line to the well at the Bais No. 1 well to the east of the overflow. The well is in southeastern Lea county, the center of interest. Among these is the Texas Coal and Oil Co., State No. 21-23-36, which started drilling when drilled two miles from here at 3,712 feet. It is said to have made 25 feet per hour natural when the first encountered and produced 250 barrels by heads. It is reported to have made an average of 230 barrels daily since it is now shut in for repairs.

The drilling the Bowers No. 1 Humble Oil and Refining Co., 20-18-38, deeper, fifty million feet of gas was encountered at 3,690 feet. Efforts will be made to kill the gas flow and carry the well to the surface.

State No. 1 of the Ohio Oil Co. in the SW 4 sec. 9-19-38, in the area, is drilling ahead below 2,000 feet of oil in the hole. Keely No. 1 of the Grayburg Co. in the center of SE SE sec. 20-18-38, has reached an interesting depth and will be watched for the next few weeks. Drilling is underway 2,785 feet and drillers are of opinion that a slight increase in gas flow was encountered last week. An oil show was found at 2,785 feet.

Weich and associates have re-announced a new location for a well in the SW corner of the sec. 27-17-28.

TRUCKY THIEVES BUSY

Truck thieves are busy and have had two recent raids, officers reported yesterday. W. T. Haldeman, northeast of Artesia lost twenty-five early turkeys Sunday and on the previous night twenty birds stolen from his place. Officers are working on the matter that may lead to an arrest, but the guilty parties are still at large.

As reported this morning that Haldeman found his turkeys that had strayed away from his place however the other bunch have been located and it might be well they raise to be on the lookout for thieves.

APPLE SHIPMENTS

Apple shipments from this county totaled one hundred and twenty-five tons up to yesterday afternoon. Apple harvesting operations in this county are fast coming to a close. Gathering operations have been completed on the C. A. P. ranch, one of the largest producers in this area. Harvesters will finish harvesting this week.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL AT CARLSBAD ON TUESDAY FRUSTRATED

Ross Conner, deputy sheriff, who was a Carlsbad visitor Tuesday, reports that Walter McDonald, jailer cut short an attempted jail break by a timely discovery. One of the prisoners, whose name was not learned had sawed out of his cell and was sawing out a window bar when discovered. The saw used by the prisoner is believed to have been smuggled into the jail in a milk bottle. Graphite was used in concealing the break in the steel made by the saw.

The prisoner thought that he was alone when he attempted to saw his way to liberty and would have been free in another hour, had not Jailer McDonald investigated a suspicious noise.

TWO CARS FURNITURE ARRIVE FOR THE HOTEL --WALLINGFORD HERE

Two carloads of furniture arrived the first of the week for the new hotel and the first shipment of carpets has also been received. The remainder of the hotel fixtures are expected to arrive before the close of the week. Work on finishing the interior of the building has progressed sufficiently to be out of the way of the workmen who have started placing the furniture. All of the pipe fittings have been completed and the building will be ready to open as soon as the furniture has been placed.

Messrs. Merrill and Wallingford who will operate the new establishment hoped to have the building ready for opening by the 25th of this month, but owing to a delay in receiving the furniture the hotel will not likely be opened for business before November 10th. J. K. Wallingford of Abilene, Texas, who will manage the new hotel, arrived here yesterday to superintend the preliminaries connected with the installation of the furniture. Mr. Wallingford expects to return to Abilene the latter part of the week for his family.

HEAVY RAIN SOUTH

Carlsbad and portions of the south Eddy county received one of the heaviest rains of the year Friday night, the precipitation in places is said to have amounted to four or five inches. Travelers going toward Carlsbad, Friday evening were unable to navigate the high waters in the highway near Lakewood and a few Carlsbad people returning from the Cotton Carnival at Roswell were compelled to remain here over night. Showers also visited this section Thursday night, but were not as heavy as Friday evening's rains.

WET WEATHER SLOWS GINNINGS--FIVE GINS TURN OUT 2,943 BALES

Cotton picking operations have gone slower than usual during the past week due to inclement weather, although cotton continues to open rapidly according to reports. While the recent rains may damage the staple of the early cotton, they may help to mature the cotton planted late.

The total ginnings of the five plants numbers 2,943 bales, according to tabulations made up to yesterday morning. The Association gin at Espula has been inoperative since Friday on account of burning out an electric motor, but they expect to be operating again to-night.

Totals by gins:

Lake Arthur gin	465
Association gin, Espula	753
Association gin, Artesia	644
Farmers gin, Artesia	610
Association gin, Atoka	471

OVER 300 ATTEND THE ROUND-UP BRANDING LAKEWOOD STOCK PENS

Round-Up And Branding Is Also An Occasion For Old Settlers Reunion.—Barbecue Is Served At Noon Last Sunday.

Stirring scenes of the old west were recalled Sunday when John Fanning, pioneer resident held his annual branding and round up at the Lakewood stock pens. Incidentally this event is also the occasion for a reunion of all of the old timers of this section and Sunday's round up was attended by more than 300 people.

Two or three crews of cow hands worked during the morning and several hours in the afternoon branding and marking 260 head of white faced calves. Out of the number branded and marked only one casualty was reported and this was a calf that sustained a broken neck when thrown. The animal was quickly skinned and butchered.

At 12:30 the cow hands and the visitors were invited to partake of a barbecue prepared by Mr. Fanning. Neighbors brought in lots of pies, cakes and other eats that usually goes with a picnic and the entire crowd enjoyed a sumptuous barbecue and lunch. After lunch came the work again. In the meantime the old timers, who had met at the dinner table took occasion to swap a few yarns, exchange greetings and have a pleasant chat.

Recalls Indian Fight Nearby

Mrs. G. D. Lucas of Carlsbad, who attended the round up recalls an interesting incident that occurred in the early days not far from the place of the branding Sunday. Her father Charles Slaughter, who used to own a ranch near Lakewood had gone out one day to meet some kinsmen. Seeing two horsemen approaching, he rode out to meet them. Owing to the distance, Mr. Slaughter could not distinguish their features and did not know who they were until he heard an Indian oath and later heard the whizz of a bullet. He wheeled his horse and returned the fire, firing as he ran. Mrs. Lucas (nee Fannie Slaughter) was standing on a hill nearby with two brothers and a friend and watched the start of the fight, however, owing to the numerous coyotes, the watchers mistook the fight for a coyote hunt and were ignorant of their peril until Mr. Slaughter rode into their midst. The onlookers started a mad scramble toward the hill side. Mrs. Lucas' friend who was a bit portly took no chance in running, but literally rolled down the slope.

The writer hoped to secure a complete list of all of the old timers attending the annual round up, but owing to the numbers present, this was practically impossible. Among those we met were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turknett, Mrs. Nellie Cogsdell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ballard all of Artesia; M. V. Corn of Roswell, Mrs. Alice Angel of Lakewood; Jas Fanning of Orla, Texas; H. C. Holcomb, Lakewood; Mrs. Lucille Englema, Artesia; Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Lucas, Carlsbad; H. B. Lucas, Carlsbad; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Skinner and son, Malaga; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson West and children of Roswell; J. E. Steadman, J. B. Neatherlin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neatherlin all of Lakewood; R. R. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Middleton all of Carlsbad; Mrs. Landie Howell and Will Howell of the Oil Field; Louis Howell of Weed.

The next session of the annual conference will be held in Portales, New Mexico.

At the close of the annual Methodist conference Sunday night at Marfa, Texas, Rev. A. L. Moore of Roswell was again named as presiding elder of the Roswell district. Other appointments announced in the Roswell district included Rev. R. C. Edwards, returned to the pastorate of the First Methodist church at Roswell; J. A. Ludham, Alamogordo; H. G. Scoggins, Artesia; J. O. Cox, Carlsbad; J. L. Lawson, Carrizozo; J. C. Jones, Clovis; E. H. Johnson, Dexter; C. L. Cleveland, Elida; B. E. Hall, Hagerman; W. V. Walthall, Hope; W. G. Jones, Lake Arthur; W. R. Burnett, Lovington; T. B. Sowell, Portales; R. O. Tomlinson, Tatum; J. L. Chunn, Texico; B. M. Stradley, Talarosa.

The Artesia and Carlsbad all star grid iron elevens battled to a scoreless tie at the Brainard park here Sunday afternoon and gave the local fans a good exhibition of the popular American pastime. The teams composed of ex-college and high school stars appeared to be about evenly matched. The ball remained around the 50 yard line and most of the playing was done in mid-field. The locals excelled in line bucks, but the visitors were able to complete more passes, thus making the honors of the game about even.

LARGE DAHLIAS

Pete Loving had on exhibit yesterday a large collection of beautiful dahlias, which have been entered in the Yard and Garden contest. One of the dahlias grown from a seedling measured over eight inches in diameter. Such exhibits make the Yard and Garden contest really worth while and has served to demonstrate that Artesia can grow beautiful flowers.

THE METHODIST CON. AT MARFA TEXAS WAS NOTEWORTHY MEETING

Reports 100 Per Cent On Assessments For Benevolences First Time In Its History — Appointments Are Announced.

The New Mexico annual conference which convened at Marfa, Texas, October 10th was an occasion of historical note.

There are in the Methodist Episcopal church south, twenty-seven annual conferences. The oldest is one hundred and forty-five years old. These conferences meet each year. Out of all of these sessions of all of the conferences only twice has any of them been able to report one hundred per cent on the assessments for benevolences. One of these instances was that of one of the older conferences in the east which accomplished this feat in 1914. The other is the New Mexico conference at its session which has just closed.

Another feature of the work that is outstanding, is the record made by the Sunday school organization of this conference. This section of the conference has accomplished three outstanding successes. The per capita offering for Sunday school missions is the greatest in southeastern Methodism. The records show a greater percentage of teachers, officers and workers taking credit in leadership training classes. And one hundred per cent of the Sunday schools observed Sunday School Day, being the only annual conference in the church which has this record, and this being the second consecutive year that they have made this record.

Unusual honors were conferred on Methodists who live in the Roswell district. J. E. Robertson, conference treasurer, was elected on the first ballot as one of the two lay delegates to represent the annual conference at the quadrennial session of the general conference which meets in Dallas next May. Mr. Robertson received the largest number of votes by which a layman was ever elected and is thereby leader of the lay delegates. The second delegate elected was J. H. Mullis, of Roswell. Rev. R. C. Edwards pastor of the Methodist church in Roswell was elected as clergyman delegate also, making three of the four delegates elected which live in this district.

Rev. Harold G. Scoggins was re-appointed as pastor of the church in Artesia. This being his second year here. Rev. Scoggins was honored also by the conference. He was elected a trustee of Westmoorland College which is situated at San Antonio. This is the first year that New Mexico has been granted the privilege of naming a trustee of this college, this is a permanent post. Rev. Scoggins was also elected by the Conference Sunday School Board to represent the board at the general council on religious education which meets in Nashville, Tennessee in December.

The next session of the annual conference will be held in Portales, New Mexico.

At the close of the annual Methodist conference Sunday night at Marfa, Texas, Rev. A. L. Moore of Roswell was again named as presiding elder of the Roswell district. Other appointments announced in the Roswell district included Rev. R. C. Edwards, returned to the pastorate of the First Methodist church at Roswell; J. A. Ludham, Alamogordo; H. G. Scoggins, Artesia; J. O. Cox, Carlsbad; J. L. Lawson, Carrizozo; J. C. Jones, Clovis; E. H. Johnson, Dexter; C. L. Cleveland, Elida; B. E. Hall, Hagerman; W. V. Walthall, Hope; W. G. Jones, Lake Arthur; W. R. Burnett, Lovington; T. B. Sowell, Portales; R. O. Tomlinson, Tatum; J. L. Chunn, Texico; B. M. Stradley, Talarosa.

Heavy Rains Fall Over The Southeastern Slope Today

Starts Raining Here At An Early Hour—Moisture Is Heaviest Around Dexter And Hagerman—Hiways Are Still Passable.

J. Pluvius is doing his stuff in the middle valley this morning and an early estimate states that the precipitation has amounted to more than a half inch. Rain began falling here at an early hour this morning and has continued fairly steady for several hours. Moisture has been heavier in the north valley. Hagerman reports that rain fell at intervals throughout the night and at Dexter the rainfall up to this morning has totaled over four inches. A heavy rain in this vicinity Monday night accounts for the greater portion of precipitation.

Travel has been slow and heavy on the main highways, but cars are still able to go through. The north bus was an hour late this morning. Motorists are getting through in good shape from here to Carlsbad, but are having difficulty between here and Hagerman on account of the road repairs. Cotton picking and cotton ginning has been stopped.

The clouds broke away at noon but are banking up again as we go to press. Conservative estimates place the precipitation at one inch. So far as known all roads are still passable. Travel on the lateral roads is treacherous and heavy.

To-day's rain is reported to be general over the eastern slope and is believed to be fairly general over the state.

CAN SEVEN MILLION PEOPLE BE WRONG?

In a recent article, Paul Tomlinson, Financial Editor of Harper's Magazine, defends Wall Street and the investment attitude of the public. He says that an attack on the stock exchange is in reality an attack on the seven million American investors who patronize it. "Can seven million people be wrong?" he asks. "It seems hardly and yet if Wall Street is a wicked institution engaged in nefarious practices, over seven millions of our citizens are its partners in crime."

Mr. Tomlinson points out that the stock exchange is a place where supply and demand for capital meet; where a market is provided for the sale and purchase of the securities of major industries all over the world—a market essential to progress, and one surrounded by safeguards for the investor.

Prices on the stock exchange, says Mr. Tomlinson, have never been artificially controlled, but adapt themselves to the shifting economic forces of supply and demand. It has been said with authority that perhaps the safest investment in the world is a call loan secured by stock exchange collateral.

Attacks on the stock exchange are more often prompted by ignorance than by any real grievances. It should be understood that without a market for securities, the development and growth of our great industries would have been impossible. The modern exchange, more than any other agency, has led in the movement to distribute high class securities in all types of business, among citizens in all walks of life.

COTTON BREEDING IMPORTANT TO STATE

The growing of cotton has gradually been spreading northward and westward says G. N. Stroman of the New Mexico Agricultural College. Many areas which ten years ago were supposed to be far out of the cotton belt are now growing large acreages of this crop. In southern New Mexico under the Elephant Butte project and in the Pecos valley, cotton has been the leading cash crop.

In the introduction of cotton to this southern New Mexico region, many varieties had to be tried out in order to ascertain the best variety to grow. The experiment station was instrumental in finding that the acala, even though bred under other conditions of soil and climate, was better adapted than the other varieties tested.

Cotton breeding, however, is to play a part in the further development of southern New Mexico. There is already a strong agitation for the building of a cotton mill in the Rio Grande valley. If it is erected, through cotton breeding investigations now in progress at the experiment station, it should, in time, be possible to supply a variety that is well suited to the needs of this mill. By such breeding work on the acala variety, it is possible that a new variety or strain will be produced that will not only yield better, but will have the desirable spinning qualities, such as length and strength of lint, and lint having a fine silky body, as well as a good natural twist, so necessary for proper strength required of the best yarns.

Cotton breeding will be a help to agricultural development by giving to new regions adapted strains, and to the older cotton producing regions, strains of cotton better adapted as to spinning requirements which, of course, should tend toward making cotton production more profitable.

OLD TIMERS

Some times when we are prone to get discouraged over the progress of our section, if we could talk to some of the old settlers, who are living in our midst, we would no doubt take courage. Many of the early residents will tell you that it seems but yesterday when the Pecos valley was just a cow ranch. To them, enduring the hardships in order that the trail might be blazed, it is a little difficult to realize the amount of progress that has taken place. They have not always been accustomed to driving fifty miles an hour when they start some place and they have not been privileged to enjoy the many conveniences we have to-day.

What they have accumulated represents many long hours of toil. It is no wonder that they are possessed with more patience than the present generation has.

The Yard and Garden Contest has proved its merits in Artesia the past year and even though the growing season is fast coming to a close, one can still see the results of the good work brought about by the contest.

Life is one thing right after another. Now that the world series baseball is over with we can turn our attention to football.

The Town Doctor (The Doctor of Towns)

ON

YOU ARE JUST AS BIG AS YOU THINK AND DO

There is only one obstacle to the progress of any community that is definitely fatal, and that is lack of civic spirit and team work on the part of its citizens.

A few years ago a small town was in the sticks; to-day the only towns or communities in the sticks are those made up of sticks and a "stick" is one who refuses to do anything himself or get together with those who will.

A town is just as big as the people in it. The trouble is that it is easier to be little than big, and nature, left alone, does not improve without aid.

A big job requires big people, and in this day of keen competition, "putting your town over," is no little undertaking, and if there is an over-abundance of "little" people in any community, it won't be done. "Little" people are those who say it can't be done. "Big" people are those who interrupt those who say it can't be done, by doing it.

Thinking Artesia is the best place on earth isn't enough. It helps, but thinking so doesn't make it so, unless you follow up thinking with doing.

You say, "I think Artesia should do this," or "We should have that." You read these editorials and say, "That's a good idea," or "I think that's right," etc. etc., but what do you do about it?

As you read this, you say, "I hope so-and-so sees this. It hits him right on the head, he is always talking a lot, but never does anything," and you may be right, but how about yourself? Maybe you don't even talk it up; otherwise, you will say to yourself, "Oh, let the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club or somebody else do it."

To do "big" you do not have to be a merchant, a doctor, a lawyer or a banker. If you think you are little potatoes, you will be little potatoes. No matter who you are or what you do, you are just as big as you think and do.

MELLON WILL REMAIN

It is not going to be over the hills to the poorhouse for Andrew W. Mellon. The white house says he can have his job till the administration goes out.

Time was when that announcement would have stirred up the voters in the doubtful states. Unkind critics would have recalled that, as one of our richest men, his power in the Harding and Coolidge administration was usually on the side of the vested interests. There was that matter of secret tax refunds to corporations and open insistence that the poor be taxed as much as possible and the rich as little as possible and the government's failure to go against the Mellon aluminum trust, and the government's lacidity in pushing the Mellon Gulf Oil Company's alleged case against Columbia.

But Hoover never has seemed impressed by Mellon's millions, nor awed by Mellon's financial genius. And he has no political debts to Mellon, who opposed his nomination.

Hoover already has reversed various Mellon policies, publicly and with gusto. That was the case when the president decided for publicity on tax refunds. Also he has ignored several Mellon patronage pleas.

No, Mellon is not the power in Washington he used to be.

Then why has the president decided to retain him, even though Mellon is now apparently willing to take all his policies from the white house?

One answer is that Mellon is to be Hoover's sop to Wall Street. The street likes Mellon and doesn't like Hoover, whose nomination it fought. The street thinks Mellon is an emergency brake on the administration.

That remains to be seen. So far Hoover has not been stopped by Mellon on tax, or oil conservation, or on anything else that is known. If the secretary does get too influential again, Couzens and his other critics can be depended upon to make things awfully hot.

Meanwhile it is just possible the president can use Mellon. Some day there may be a show-down with those New York bankers who have been sabotaging the Federal Reserve Board's efforts to restrict speculation. When that day comes Mellon could be useful in helping to bring Wall Street to time.—State Tribune.

CENSORSHIP

Senator Cutting's bill to remove the censorship of foreign literature has caused quite a bit of adverse and unfavorable comment recently. In as much as we are not familiar with the context of the bill, we do not know whether the author proposes to remove all of the bars on foreign literature or remove part of the restrictions. At any rate churchmen have already voiced objection to the proposed measure.

You cannot legislate public morals. Any attempt on the part of the state or national government to restrict the reading or teaching of a certain doctrine will usually make the public curious and once the public curiosity is aroused, they will read all available literature on the subject that is banned, even though they have to smuggle it in. The average student never gave the theory of evolution a serious thought until several states prohibited its teaching in the public schools and then they became curious to know what it was all about.

It looks like now that if Albert Fall pays a penalty for his alleged misdemeanors, it will be in the next world and not in this. Fall has come to the evening of life a broken spirited man. No doubt he has suffered much.

STICK TOGETHER A HABIT

In commenting on Governor Dillon's reply to the Santa Fe grand jury report of the highway muddle, the Tucumcari News remarks:

"It appears as if the waters are being muddied for a republican defeat next year, unless they get together, but—and remember this—the G. O. P. has the habit of getting together—in fact, it is more or less of a disease with that party just about election time."

E. W. Howe says: Half the people are martyrs to unreasonable, disagreeable kin.

CATTLE GRADING EXPERT HOLDS DEMONSTRATIONS

A series of cattle grading demonstrations were conducted the past month by J. K. Wallace, of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, assisted by Dr. W. L. Black, livestock specialist of the extension service of the New Mexico Agricultural College.

These meetings and demonstrations were held in different parts of the state, beginning with the first at the Gray ranch of the Diamond A Cattle Co., 65 miles south of Lordsburg to the ninth and last which was held at the Philmont ranch at Cimarron.

The outstanding demonstration of the tour and probably the largest meeting of the kind ever held in the United States, was held at the ranch of Christian Otto and Son, registered Hereford breeders, six miles from Clayton. There were over 600 people from six states present at this meeting.

Besides the two mentioned above, demonstrations were held at the following places: Cureton Walking X ranch, halfway between Silver City and Lordsburg, on the Grant and Hidalgo county line; Lone Pine Inn, the mountain resort home of S. W. Land, situated at Glencoe. The attendance at this meeting consisted chiefly of members of the Ruidoso Cattle Growers' Association, which is composed of owners of small bunches of stock being pastured in the Lincoln National Forest. The ranch of Austin Reeves, registered Hereford breeder, at Elk was also the scene of a demonstration as was also the Hedgecoxe ranch, 60 miles south east of Roswell. Another demonstration was held at the Made Tank ranch of the Diamond A Cattle Co., 20 miles from Roswell. This organization has no connection with the Diamond A in Hidalgo county, being an entirely different company. The ranch of T. E. Mitchell & Son of Albert was also visited and a demonstration given.

At all the meetings in the series Mr. Wallace handled the cattle grading and marketing end of the work, while the cattle breeding and sheep work were discussed by Dr. Black.

TWIN LAMBS

Twin lambs are more likely to be produced by the flock next spring if extra feed is given the ewes at breeding time. This is the conclusion reached by the U. S. Department of Agriculture after a 12-year study on the subject. Extra feed given the ewes during a period beginning two weeks before and continuing through the breeding season, a practice known as "flushing," resulted in an average of 16 more lambs per 100 ewes, as compared with ewes given no extra feed. Either grain or good pasture may be given to flush ewes, the latter usually being cheaper and more readily supplied. Probably nothing is better than fresh, sweet bluegrass for this purpose, though soybeans, cowpeas, sweet clover and alfalfa are also satisfactory. A mixed-grain ration of equal parts of corn and oats makes a good ration for flushing ewes.

EDDY COTTON ESTIMATES UP

In the recent crop report issue by R. F. Hare, agricultural statistician and based on the condition of the crop on October 1, it is interesting to note that the Eddy county cotton crop will show a considerable gain over 1928, according to the estimate which was 18,000 bales last year and 24,000 bales for this year. Last year the Chaves county cotton crop was estimated at 14,000 bales and this year at 15,000. ### AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary held a most interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Kile on Monday afternoon with a record attendance. Three new members from the field, Mesdames McGonagill, Haskins, and Williams drove in to be present. Preceding the annual election of officers the unit voted to cooperate with the Legion in putting on a play in the near future. Mrs. Jess Truett, who was the only member present at the national convention of the Legion and Auxiliary in Louisville, Kentucky recently, gave an excellent report of that great meeting, bringing out many of the intimate and amusing incidents, which make the verbal report of an eye witness so much more thrilling than a newspaper report.

Mrs. Albert Richards, department president, installed the newly elected officers: Mrs. Frank Seale, president; Mrs. Frank Linell, first vice-president; Mrs. Lewis Story, second vice-president; Mrs. Jess Truett, secretary; Mrs. Fred Brainard, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Story, historian; Mrs. Gail Hamilton, chaplain; Mrs. Myron Brunning, sergeant-at-arms. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. Kile and Mrs. Grover Kinder.

HALLOWEEN S. S. CLASS PARTY

G. L. Deane's Baptist Sunday school class of young men and Mrs. W. C. Martin's class of young ladies enjoyed a joint party at the Martin home Tuesday evening. The house was elaborately decorated in honor of Halloween with all the regulation devices, wicks, black cats, pumpkins, etc. A number of thrilling games were played, the hosts being assisted in managing the amusements by Mrs. Reid Brazell and Miss Aline Wilson. The refreshments of hot doughnuts and sweet cider fitted perfectly into the Halloween scheme. About thirty-two young people were present.

ROSWELL ZONE MEETING

Mrs. I. C. Dixon, state chairman of publicity of the Methodist Missionary Society, and Mrs. R. O. Cowan, study leader of the Artesia Society, were in Roswell Tuesday, guests at the Roswell Zone Meeting of the Missionary Society. Both ladies were on the program, Mrs. Dixon speaking on the subject, "To Whom Do I Report," and Mrs. Cowan upon, "How to Make the Meetings Educational, Interesting and Spiritual." A fine luncheon was served in the basement of the church at noon.

SANTA FE WANTS TO CONSTRUCT 380 MILES OF RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The three subsidiaries of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad Monday filed applications with the interstate commerce commission to construct new railroad lines aggregating 380 miles in Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

In one application the Elkhart and Santa Fe railway asked the commission's authorization for the building of 149 miles of line in Oklahoma and New Mexico. The line would extend from Cimarron county, Oklahoma, into Colfax and Union counties, New Mexico. One branch of 39 miles to be built would run from a point on the south line of Cimarron county, in a northwesterly direction into Boise City, Oklahoma, and the other proposed line would extend from Felt, Oklahoma, southwest through Cimarron county and into New Mexico via Clayton, N. M., terminating at Colmor, New Mexico, a station on the Santa Fe railroad.

A certain dietist was once troubled by a rather trying patient, who was in the habit of writing about his complaint at least once a day.
On one occasion the dietist received a note worded thus:
"Will you kindly tell me how much fish I should eat daily for the improvement of my mind?"
The dietist was so tired of the whole thing that he answered rather tersely:
"In your case, I think a whale on toast each morning will have the desired effect."

"Its the little things in life that tell," said the co-ed as she yanked her kid brother from under the sofa.

BIG TENT SPREAD FOR CITY WIDE REVIVAL

Rev. Mack Wyatt and evangelistic party have arrived in town and people are beginning to take notice of the doings of the fiery little evangelist from the west coast that has come to invade Artesia and battle against sin and wickedness. Not that Artesia is a wicked city, but many are not Christians and they need a personal introduction to Jesus Christ who died for every man and every woman. Rev. Wyatt prays for the sick and great numbers are healed in every revival. Recently in the campaign in the city of Lubbock, Texas, a great many healings took place. Cancers dropped out by the roots, Mrs. Lennie Morrison was healed instantly of deafness of 25 years standing. A lady had not been able to raise her arm above her head was instantly healed and gave her testimony before two thousand people. The evangelist believes in a consistent religion. If God healed in the days of the past he will still heal right now, for the Bible says:

"Jesus Christ the same, yesterday, and to-day and forever." (Heb. 13:8). Yes sir the little fellow from the west coast just tells them in plain words what the Bible says, and there's no use talking he just hands out a clean pure gospel that changes a man's heart and saves his soul. Bootleggers get converted, drunkards, thieves and every class from the highest to the lowest that gets saved in Wyatt revival are different people after their conversion than before. Its just an old time Methodist and Baptist revival full of love for the lost with a message of cheer to guide them to that haven of rest.

The big tent is erected on the corner of Second and Main streets and should the weather turn cold the Gas Company has promised to supply the tent with gas free of charge. The fiery little Paul of the twentieth century will probably warm things up enough that gas for heat may be out of the question altogether. The revival will begin with a bang Wednesday night, and by Thursday night the evangelist has promised to have the meeting going red hot. And that is not half of it, Mr. and

Mrs. Fred A. Campbell, singers and musicians will thrill the congregation night after night with their wonderful gospel selections. Mrs. Campbell is known as the "Nightengale of Kansas," and both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are singers of national fame. That alone will be a real treat for Artesia. Its certainly going to be hard with the devil and his crew, if he has any in Artesia, after the revival begins. Everyone is invited to attend the revival and be benefited in spirit, soul and body. Services begin promptly at 7:30 and don't miss the singing folks, its like the revivals of years gone by. Special rally services each Sunday afternoon 2:30 p. m. Everybody welcome.

SHOPPING A BLOCK IN ARTESIA

(BY A FORMER RESIDENT)

Some one has said that, "The prosperity of any community is reflected largely by the class of merchandise the local merchants offer for sale." This is especially true in towns fortunate enough to have live merchants and I believe Artesia has. I was delightfully impressed as I walked down one block of Main street, with the improvement made even since by last visit here two years ago. With a cleaner looking town and cleaner and better looking articles offered for sale, I can see no difference in shopping in Artesia and towns three or four times as large, unless perchance you want to pay the big cities price, which is naturally higher than here on account of the overhead. Certainly I could hope to find no better selection and quality in the larger towns.

Coming east down the south side of Main street, the first store I entered was that of Peoples Mercantile Co. dry goods Manager L. L. Clark was arranging his window displays, one for the ladies featuring especially a new shipment of Princess coats also dresses in the ensemble suits and transparent velvets. Men's suits were also given a prominent place in the other window. As I walked back in the dry goods department I observed a large display of buck skin coats and red flannel shirts. "Getting ready for the hunting season" I thought. I passed on through to the grocery department where the grocery salesmen were busy sorting out a morning delivery. I made a few purchases for my morning's meal and secured a ticket on the Chevrolet sedan from Mr. Keller, the manager of this department.

My next stop was at the new quarters of the J. C. Penney Co., where I met the obliging manager Mr. Schulze. In this store I found quite a few holiday suggestions in addition to a display of many seasonal articles including new street dresses in flat crepes colors brown and black. A large assortment of blankets served as a reminder that cold weather would soon be here. A salesman was arranging a number of holiday novelty goods on the shelves.

I turned my steps eastward and found another new establishment, which had opened since my last visit to Artesia, the Safeway Stores Inc. One could hardly desist from stepping inside, so inviting was the interior of the store, clean and nice with all of the food products displayed in such a pleasing manner. I liked Manager Reid's method of making a window display. Menu could almost make out the noon menu by window shopping.

Walking on down Main, I happened to remember that I wanted to purchase some tooth paste and I walked into the Palace Drug Store to be greeted by my old friend, Gob Watson. The last time I called at the Palace I saw a baseball suit of Gob's in the window he was supposed to have worn at the last baseball game I saw in Artesia. I saw Joe Hamann too. Joe you know has settled down to be a druggist, after trying several other professions. My visit to the Palace reminded me that the Hallowe'en season was not far away. I saw a lot of Hallowe'en decorations in the windows and a nice display of Hallowe'en novelties and candies inside. I also learned from Mr. Story that the Palace is now the local distributor for the new Brunswick phonograph. Paul Otts, whom I knew at Roswell has established a jewelry business in the front of the Palace and has gained quite a reputation as an expert repairman. Paul is still the same, he likes to eat and argue. He had just displayed some new Elgin watches, which I thought were very clever. He has purchased a nice lot of jewelry.

My Next stop was at the Band Box. Rightly named, I mused. This was an interesting place with an assortment of articles for the ladies and misses and numerous novelties and gift goods. Mrs. Grimm, the proprietress is especially proud of a new shipment of ladies dresses, consisting of transparent velvets, satins, combination silk and wool and silk crepes, she has recently stocked at a very attractive price. Mrs. Grimm is also displaying a nice line of fall millinery in felts, velours and metallic hats.

Tommy's Sandwich Shop was the sign that greeted me on my next stop, where I stepped in to get a soda. This too was a new place opened since my last visit. And some people say that Artesia hasn't grown any in the last twenty-four months. I should have known who Tommy was but it did not occur to me at first that the proprietor was none other than Tommy Spivey himself. They said it couldn't be done, but Tommy has built up quite a nice business, which is very popular with the young folks.

Mount's the store for men, has long been noted for its interesting show window. Bill Mount usually sees to it that his window represents the latest things of local interest. In this store is featured men's outdoor wearing apparel such as King's fur jackets, Pendleton's shirts, new Stetson hats and Narconia Cowboy boots.

FAMOUS COLUMN

Mrs. Kimbrough says the reason A. C. likes to wear his golf pants is because knee breeches reminds him of his childhood days. We are inclined to believe Kimbrough is given to doing childish things and no doubt was responsible for sticking us for the minimum fee when we slipped out last month, turned on the gasmeter and burned a hundred or so feet of gas to keep from freezing.

Paul Otts who says that he has always hankered to promote a good show had his early ambition almost crushed last week when the hula hula dancer he was sponsoring at the carnival was stopped after her second appearance.

Bill Linell, cow pasture pool enthusiast, who cuts Sunday school to indulge in his favorite past time has been studying the habits of the chameleon with a view to manufacturing a new golf ball. The new ball, however, will work on the opposite principles of the chameleon, for instead of turning to the color of the vegetation it happens to be in it will do just the opposite.

The Roswell Record of Tuesday says that M. W. Evans had his gun oiled, his dogs fattened and his tonsils removed preparatory to the opening of duck season yesterday. We understand that there has been some miscalculation about the number of dogs M. W. needs and that he is short several. If you have a spare hound around the place and could loan the animal for a few weeks, kindly bring it down to the new hotel, tie it up to a railing at the west entrance and call the attention of Mr. Dexter to your visit, who will take your hound to the reception room for hunting dogs.

QUINN TRIAL MAY BE SQUASHED

SANTA FE—District Judge Reed Holloman at noon Monday took under advisement the attempt of Attorney O. O. Askren to squash the indictment against Frank Quinn, former equipment engineer of the state highway department. The arguments on demurrers filed by Askren were completed before noon Monday. Judge Holloman said he would announce his decision in three or four days.

District Attorney John Kennedy contended that Quinn was a ministerial officer and that the New Mexico bribery statute was broader and included all minor ministerial officers, not specially named in the constitution or laws.

PECOS VALLEY GIRL TEAMS IN LAS CRUCES CONTEST

Two teams from the Pecos valley one composed of girls from East Grand Plains, the other of girls from Cottonwood, Eddy county, are this week competing at Las Cruces in the state 4-H club contests.

The Chaves county girls are Laura Hobson and Inez Southworth. They prepare and serve breakfast during the contest. The Cottonwood girls, Alma Bradley and Virginia Mae Vaught, demonstrate the selection and care of shoes and hose.

County Agent J. R. Thomas and Miss Velma Borschell, home demonstration agent are attending the meeting. — Southwestern Dispatch, wednesday.

"You don't seem to have any notorious spots here," said an inquiring tourist to the native guide. "In the last village we stopped at they showed us a place where a man had lain in wait for his rival in love and attacked him with a fiendish gusto." The guide had never heard of this remarkable crime, but his professional jealousy was aroused.

"That is quite true, sir," he unblushingly bore witness. "But you, perhaps, are not aware that the villain afterwards made his escape in this direction, and you are now standing on the very spot where he threw away the fiendish gusto with which he made the attack."

$2,000,000 HIGHWAY BONDS ARE SOLD AT SANTA FE SATURDAY

SANTA FE—The financial affairs of the New Mexico highway department which have been undergoing sensations similar to taking a long ride on a roller coaster for the past few months, were straightened out Thursday, when the highway commission sold $2,000,000 worth of highway debentures on a combination bid of seven bond houses.

Two bids were submitted, both at six per cent, and the highway commission decided upon that of John Nuveen and company of Chicago and six other companies. The premium will be $1,537. Among the other companies who shared in the Nuveen bid are: Fidelity National, Providence National and Seagood and Meyer.

W. C. Davidson, chief highway engineer, said Thursday that just as soon as the debentures have been printed and the money received, the highway department will be able to go ahead with its full program planned for the remainder of the present biennium.

FUNDS APPROPRIATED FOR RECONSTRUCTING THE RIO GRANDE DIKES

SANTA FE—The state board of finance Tuesday made available to State Engineer Herbert Yeo the remainder of the Rio Grande improvement funds for reconstructing dikes and restoring the Rio Grande to its normal course.

At the time of the August flood the board of finance appropriated $25,000 of this fund for flood relief work. Mr. Yeo had spent $4,000 at the time the September flood struck, and Tuesday the board authorized him to use the remaining $21,000 of the fund.

Mr. Yeo submitted an estimate to show that the total cost of reconstructing dikes, irrigation ditches and diverting the river together with other necessary work in the lower Rio Grande valley will be about $72,000.

The board did not act on where the remainder of the money is coming from for the remaining $19,000 in the Rio Grande improvement fund is all that is available at the present time.

Mr. Yeo showed that after the August flood the engineers office had restored all works to their condition previous to that flood, but the September flood wiped out all of the work which had been done and had occasioned increased damage.

LEGION NOTES

The next meeting of the American Legion will be on October 21st, at the Bullock banquet hall for the purpose of installing officers. Everybody try and come as we hope to have quite a time.

During the recent carnival that was held here under the auspices of the American Legion, we netted $99.50. This money will be spent for equipping a room in the Artesia Hospital. The equipment to consist of a bed, two chairs, dresser, stand rug and linen. This room will not be for the sole use of the Legionnaires but will be for the use of anyone.

We wish to thank Mayor Mann and the City Council for allowing us to have this carnival and for allowing us to conduct it tax free as otherwise we would not have made any thing. We also wish to thank Cunningham Bros. and Ford Service Station for the use of the lots.

The Legion has also voted to spend an additional $50.00 for the completion of the airport which will make a total of $112.00 that they have spent on this project to date.

At the last American Legion dance held in the Artesia hotel roof garden we netted $108.00. Pretty good. We hope to arrange a masquerade ball for the night of Halloween in the roof garden.

Did you know that Gail Hamilton has gone into the push cart business? Don't forget the next meeting. REPORTER.

WASTE OF TIME THRU SCATTERED ACTIVITIES A SOURCE OF LOSS

By S. W. Straus, president American Society for Thrift.

There are many forms of waste but it is doubtful if any of these exceeds waste of time. While it is true that one of the great achievements of modern science is the tremendous saving of time made possible by the inventive genius of man, the fact remains that the element of wasted time by individuals is an outstanding feature of current life. This is true because so many people spend their days and years in useless employment.

The great secret of time saving is concentration. To scatter one's forces to attempt to do things for which we are unfitted, to start a task and then leave it unfinished, to endeavor to accomplish many things beyond our ability—all of these bring about waste of time which seriously impedes our personal progress.

Nothing worth while was ever accomplished without concentrated effort. This rule applies with special force in the administration of one's personal affairs. Those who scatter their efforts and give their time to all sorts of activities and enterprises are not apt to gain satisfactory results.

In every community there are those whose success testifies to the fact that singleness of purpose is a tremendous asset. A study of the careers of the successful men of this or of any country will bear out the same truth.

This does not mean that there is any virtue in selfishness or in a narrow attitude toward life. Successful men keep themselves in a receptive mood to changing conditions in order that they may not get out of step with the marching feet of progress.

But it is lack of thrift—a sheer waste of time, effort, opportunity and money—not to have one outstanding purpose or plan in life and bend every effort accordingly. It is always better to do one thing well than to do many things poorly. It requires will power and strength of character to stick to a given purpose. It is the weakling—the potential failure—who follows ever the line of least resistance, enthusing over one project to-day and casting it aside for another one tomorrow.

Of all the elements that constitute thrift, concentration is one of the most useful and necessary.

What have tank cars to do with motor cars? Just this. Every day, tank cars filled with Phillips 66 are shipped North, South, East and West. The volatility of the gasoline in each of these tank cars is scientifically controlled to fit the climatic conditions of the locality in which it is sold. The result? Instant starting, quick warm-up, rapid acceleration, remarkable power and mileage—regardless of weather—at no extra cost! For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66... or 66 Ethyl.

FULL WORK A CHRISTIAN DUTY
 Text—Gen. 2:15, Ex. 20:9, 10, 11, John 9:4, Acts 20:33-35, 11:16
 Topic—This we command that if any would not work, he should eat.
 Doing Our Work
 Doing Our Work
 Intermediate and Senior Topics—Work Essential to Success. Young People and Adult Topics—The Gambling Spirit Hurful to us and Morals.
 The First Man Set to Work
 It was God's primal thought for even in the state of innocence to have useful employment. In the coming of sin, new burdens added.
 The Time to Work (Ex. 20:9)
 "Six days shall thou labor and do thy work." Six out of seven days to be devoted to work. Idleness of the six days is as great a sin as working on the seventh day. Let it never be forgotten that the fourth commandment is a promise of labor as well as rest; that there can be no rest unless there has been work. The idler and Sabbath breaker are equally before God.
 The Working of the Father and the Son (John 5:17)
 God of the Bible is a working God. It is true that God, when His work was done, rested; that He rested from creative work, but not from other work besides that of His Father. There is no such thing as inactivity in the divine kingdom. In His ceaseless activity every day He is working. To be idle is to be inactive. He had healed an impotent man on the Sabbath day. The Jews sought to kill Him for this good deed, and He linked Himself with God in their eyes. He made Himself equal with God. The special points of His work with God were:
 Giving life to the dead.
 God had shown Himself able to use from the dead.
 Judging mankind (John 5:22)
 He claimed to be the judge of all men and His supreme claim to be the agency of the work (John 5:19)
 "I do not work the works of God; it is my Father who works in me, and He who has sent me, He who has said, 'The night cometh when no man can work.'" His words were uttered in connection with the appalling need of the blind man. Delivering men and women from their sins is the work of God which must be done. The night is coming when no man can do it. The night is here when the world is when Jesus is sent from it.
 Paul an Example of Working (1 Cor. 9:3-5)
 He did not work to board up, but to support himself while preaching the gospel. A truly great man is the one who preaches by word but in deed.
 The Man Who Will Not Work (2 Thess. 3:10)
 Paul's teaching concerning the coming of the Lord, a day to idleness developed at Thessalonica. They reasoned that the Lord's coming was so near that it was useless. The true teaching is that the coming of the Lord is not a present duty in the scriptural sense. Those who will not work should not eat. This is the principle upon which to base the work of the church. It is the principle of economic order and should be applied to all classes.
 The Object of Work (Eph. 4:1)
 "Next sets forth the only thing which will get money or position of any kind."
 It was common among the ancients. It is common today, even in the United States. Many ways of getting money can be designated by the name of gifts.
 The work for which we have possessions which have been given us, of course, wrong. To what which benefactors have given us, even though it may be a blessing. To have that which we have earned is not only right, but gives personal satisfaction that it has come through our own hands.
 Master of the Situation
 "It is always the unknown quantity which we cannot measure. It would seem that it is not of God that we should in our own hands feel ourselves masters of the situation. It must be enough to know that He is Master of it."—P. 10

Things Worth Knowing

How to Raise Poultry
 By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.
 St. Louis, Mo.

The dairy cow will be less likely to get milk fever at calving time if she is given plenty of water and salt and fed a minimum quantity of concentrated feed for several days before and after calving.

Cockrels intended for roasters should be kept on free range and made to grow as large frames as possible. Plump birds are in greatest demand, and there may be a difference of 5 cents or more a pound between thin and plump birds.

Johnson grass meadows in the south are more productive if they are plowed up every third or fourth year. Unless the land is cultivated occasionally, other grasses invade the meadows and reduce the yield so much that hay production becomes unprofitable.

Shoes worn while working with lime, Portland cement, lye, and other alkaline substances that ruin leather will last much longer if kept well greased. Among the best materials for greasing leather are neat's-foot, cod, and castor oils, tallow and wool grease.

It is better to keep dirt out of milk than to strain it out. Small top milk pails are a great help in doing this. They are easy to use, cost little more than ordinary pails, and keep a large part of the falling hair and dirt from the cows out of the milk.

Red clover makes an excellent fall pasture for any kind of livestock, but a first-year growth should not be grazed too closely at this time of year, or next season's hay crop may suffer. The clover plants should go into the winter with some growth on the crowns to prevent winter killing and to store up material for early growth in the spring.

Too much concentrated feed for the dairy cow after calving may cause digestive troubles and hinder the reduction of swelling in the udder. From 4 to 7 pounds a day is enough just after calving, the amount depending on the size of the cow, her production, and the condition of the udder. With good producers not less than three weeks should be taken to get them on full feed.

Scales are becoming an important piece of feed-lot equipment in range areas now that more feeder cattle are bought directly from the producers and many feeders prefer to buy by weight rather than by head. At some shipping points railroad companies have installed scales, and others are built jointly by cattlemen. Some of the most successful cattle feeders weigh the cattle every month.

Barley, though widely utilized in part of the west as a stock feed, is not so fully appreciated as it should be by the eastern farmer. On some farms where small grains are a part of the regular crop program, barley is often the most profitable one. However, it can not compete with corn where sufficient labor is available to work the crop. Barley is regarded in Europe as valuable for production of bacon, and on account of its high protein content is good for growing stock. In this country it is recognized as a first class substitute for corn. It is better fed ground or rolled than whole.

LAKE ARTHUR ITEMS
 (Mrs. Ned Hedges, Reporter)

The U. S. D. A. has a new leaflet, N. 45, "Pork in Preferred Ways," which contains many seasonable recipes for this excellent meat.

In cooking conserves and jams watch your kettle closely or they may scorch. An asbestos mat placed under the kettle is a safeguard.

Tart, underripe apples are best for making jelly or pectin for future jelly making. Crab apples are especially good for jelly. Partly green fruits usually make more jelly per pound of fruit than do ripe fruits.

Use two pans when you wash spinach. Trim the leaves from the stalks first; much of the grit that clings to spinach is at the lower ends of the stalks. Lift the spinach from the first pan to the second, letting the sand settle; change the water each time you transfer the spinach wash in five or six waters if necessary. If the spinach is unusually free from sand or grit, it may be put into a colander and washed under running water, but the first way gives more certain results. Enough water will cling to the leaves after the washing to start cooking the spinach. Cover it closely at first so it will steam, then remove the cover and cook as short a time as possible—ten or fifteen minutes. As soon as it is tender, drain it, chop it and season with salt and melted butter or thick cream. Serve hot.

WHEN EGG MAKERS GO ON A STRIKE

In a recent radio talk, Raymond Hitchcock stated that even though he had called all his hens together and scolded them severely, they still refused to lay any eggs for him. Not many people would employ the famous comedian's method for trying to get eggs but many of the ways used to break hens of broodiness are just as ridiculously ineffective. It is really important that better ways of overcoming broodiness should be known. A broody hen is an unprofitable hen especially where incubators do all the hatching. Consequently the sooner her broodiness can be broken up the sooner she can begin once more to earn her board and lodging.

It is a mistake to frighten a broody hen by tying red ribbons to her tail, plunging her into cold water or confining her in a closed box without food, water or light. Such methods belong to the dark ages of poultry raising. They do not actually cure broodiness but only put the hen in poor flesh and health. The only way to get a hen out of this condition is to get her mind off the subject, so to speak, so she will once more begin eating and drinking in normal fashion. One good way to accomplish this is to confine one or more broody hens in a small coop with a vigorous male.

Broodiness can also be easily and humanely overcome through the use of broody coops. The important thing in using such a coop is to get the broody hen into it the very first day she shows any sign of that condition. If this is done she will forget her broodiness in less than half the time that will be needed if she is allowed to stay on the nest, two, three, or four days. The longer the broodiness is allowed to continue the harder it is to overcome and the greater will be the loss of egg production. I shall describe two broody coops that I have found exceptionally effective.

For just one hen, make a coop 2 by 2 by 2 feet. The sides are to be of slats for ventilation, and the top solid for protection. Using a single rope or wire fastened to the center of the top, hang this coop from any convenient rafter or branch of a tree. Such a coop will sway with every gust of wind and with every step the hen takes. That will keep her so busy trying to retain her balance that she soon forgets her broodiness.

The second form of broody coop I wish to describe may be used with good effect, when a number of hens all decide to go on a strike at about the same time. This coop should be 3 by 4 or 4 by 5 feet and two feet deep. The sides should be made of slats or poultry netting and the floor either slatted or solid. A good roof should be provided and should extend far enough on each side to give good protection from the rain. This coop should be at least 2 or 3 feet off the ground to allow for good circulation of air all around the hens. This is very important, as broody hens should be kept cool. From three to six hens may be placed in this coop and kept in it day and night. It should be put in a cool, shady spot instead of the sun.

Plenty of good feed and clean water should be kept within easy reach of broody hens the whole time they are confined in a broody coop. This is very important and should not be neglected under any circumstances.

Hens so confined constantly fuss among themselves, which tends to make them forget their broodiness. Seeing other fowls at liberty also helps considerably to speed up the end of broody spells. This method should have the desired effect in from three to five days. It is a particularly good method not only because of its effectiveness but because it is absolutely humane.

Better than any method of curing broodiness is the plan for eliminating it, now being successfully used by many poultry raisers. With careful breeding it is possible to develop a strain of non-sitters or hens that will not go broody. Only hens that do not go broody should be used for breeding and if care is used in selecting just the right hens, broodiness can be practically eliminated in a few generations.

A broody hen unless needed for hatching eggs, is simply a nuisance and an unnecessary nuisance at that. It is so easy to break up the habit there is no reason why it should be tolerated and a great many reasons that every poultry raiser knows well why it should not be tolerated. But to be successful one must not make the mistake of using the harsh methods once so much in vogue.

The right way is always the cheapest and best. That is why I recommend sane, humane methods of curing broodiness. They work along scientific lines by not trying to scare

MARION WILKINS TOP'S BILL AT KEITH'S CAPITOL

Friends of Miss Marion Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wilkins of the Cottonwood community, may be glad to know that she is winning laurels on Broadway with a dancing quartette. Miss Wilkins recently completed a three day engagement at Union City, New Jersey. The Jersey Observer says of her appearance:
 At Keith's Capitol Theatre, Union City, beginning to-day for three days the bill is headed by Marion Wilkins. The Dance Fraternity is proud of Marion Wilkins. Little Miss Wilkins is generally conceded to be one of the top-notchers of the younger terpsichorean stars. Not only is she a born dancer but she has taken dancing seriously. With Genee and Pavlova as models she has worked diligently and under almost every recognized master to make herself worthy of her example. The result is that her natural gifts have been given expert technique and her constant effort has made it possible for her to master almost every form of dancing. Forkins congratulated her upon her ability as a Russian dancer. She became sufficiently proficient as a Spanish dancer to become the partner of Jose Cansino of the famous Cansino family. Ned Wayburn declared her the best buck and wing dancer to graduate from the post graduate course at his school.

Vaudeville knows her as a twinkling bit of animated humanity dancing with several partners and with several acts she has toured the Varieties for several seasons. This year she heads a dancing quartette. The Harris Twins and Jack Meyers are her associates and the four offer an act called "This Year's Style in Dancing." It is just that.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

About sixty years ago the following article appeared in a Boston newspaper.

"A man about forty-six years of age, giving his name as Joshua Coppersmith, has been arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by the listener at the other end. He calls the instrument a 'telephone' which is obviously intended to imitate the word 'telegraph' and win the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument without understanding the principles on which it is based.

"Well informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over the wires as may be done with dots and dashes of the Morse Code, and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value. The authorities who apprehended this criminal are to be congratulated, and it is to be hoped that his punishment will be prompt and fitting, that it may serve as an example to other conscienceless schemers who enrich themselves at the expense of their fellow creatures."

Pruning Old Neglected Orchards During Winter

In the pruning of old neglected orchards it is usually advisable to work during the mild days throughout the winter. While occasionally some injury is reported from winter pruning it is rather rare compared with the amount of it that is done. This pruning can then be continued up until the buds have enlarged to such an extent that they are easily raked off when pulling the branches out of the trees. If it were not for this you could keep right on pruning up until late spring without injury. Because of the close planting in many orchards it is becoming more and more evident that heavier pruning of our old trees is necessary. Unproductive wood and that which produces small, green apples on the underside of the trees should be removed, as well as a moderate opening up throughout the entire tree.

Why Bird Is "Turkey"

In view of the fact that the origin of the turkey is clearly traced to North America, some may wonder how this bird obtained its present name, which would suggest its origin as being Asiatic. Turkeys, on being brought to Spain from the New world, were handled and sold by the Hebrew merchants of that country. As the turkey was quite generally confused with the peacock, it was natural, therefore, that the Hebrew traders should apply to it their name for the peacock, or "tukki." More or less common use of this name followed, which easily became in the English language our present name "turkey." Such an explanation seems to be much more probable than that the name arose as a result of an erroneous impression that the bird originated in or near Turkey.

AVALON DAM MAY NOT BE ENLARGED

Keen interest in the situation caused by the unfavorable report of government engineers on the proposal to increase the capacity of Avalon dam, and a willingness to do all possible to help, are expressed in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from representative A. G. Sims of Albuquerque.

Congressman Sims states that he has been called to Washington expectedly and will be unable to visit Carlsbad at this time, as he planned to do before returning here to hear more about the project, and is anxious to make a report on the project, which however, was contingent on the engineers' report.—Current-Argus
