THE COW, THE SOW AND THE HEN

The Amarillo Daily News pays a tribute to the cow, the sow and the hen in the following editorial: West Texas is reaping great benefits from the diversified farming of "cow, sow and hen" program generally adopted throughout the territory eight or ten years ago.

During the past season, West Texas as a whole has suffered one of its worst drouths in history. With the single exception of the bumper wheat crop in the Panhandle area, crops have been shorter than in any year during the past ten, and yet there is no cry of hard times or an exodus of people from this section.

About ten years ago a similar drouth struck West Texas and almost overnight there was a universal cry of hard times and many people moved out of the territory.

But that was ten years ago before the cow, sow and hen idea had been broadcast, before chambers of commerce and other civic organizations had gotten behind to movement to encourage better livestock, better chickens and a more diversified farm program.

At that time banks of West Texas were forced to go to the Federal Reserve bank for assistance in order to tide over the period between crops.

But to-day there is a different story. West Texas banks are full of money. Their loans are at a minimum. They are loaning money to other sections of the state. Farmers talk of the year as "a short one" but there is no talk of hard times or any report of families moving out.

In the past ten years agriculture in West Texas has been stabilized. It has been put on a permanent foundation and is secure. The cow, the sow and the hen have solved the problem. They deserve the credit.

Through the cow, the sow and the hen, West Texas farmers are living at home. They are paying the so-called cash crops. They have proven that farm expenses without the aid of a single one they can make a living and some money even in the driest year West Texas, as a whole, has known.

The cow has been called the "mother of prosperity." She has justified that opinion in West Texas. And the sow and the hen must be added as able assistants.

West Texans are prone to boast of this as the greatest country on earth and to leave the impression that drouths and bad years are unknown. That is not the case. Neither is it true of any other country in the world. Every section has its drawbacks.

SERVICE, THE IDEAL OF MAN

The man who will have the most friends in this community will be the man who renders the greatest service to it. Service should be the watchword of every person on earth. Greatness is only measured in terms of service. We all desire to be great in our way, but so often our idealized picture of "greatness" is blurred because we do not recognize its primary requisite—service to the world in which we live. To such a person as gives his best toward the enrichment of the lives of his fellow men, greatness becomes a reality. The world as a whole may not sing his homage. His purse may not be lined with money, as a pledge that his service has been recognized, but to some who are struggling through life, he is the greatest man on earth.

There is no higher reward of service than the privilege of having been of service. Napoleon, after a particularly important and bloody battle, gave each of his soldiers, a simple medal inscribed with the sentence, "I was there," and the name of the bloody field, yet money could not buy from these soldiers this little memento that they had been of service to the great Napoleon and their country.

The printing press was invented by a poor monk who was spending his life behind the forbidden walls of a monastery. One day when Gutenberg was working in his cell at St. Absorgot Monastery, he heard a warning voice telling him that the power of his invention would enable men to propagate their wickedness and sow dragon's teeth; prophesying that men would profane the art of printing, and posterity would curse its inventor. He took a hammer and broke the type in pieces. Another voice bade him desist from his work of destruction and persist in perfecting his invention, declaring that though the occasion of evil, God would make it the fountain of infinite good and give the right the ultimate triumph.

This paper exists as a medium of service to this community and asserts its right to exist in terms of genuine usefulness.

Some live for the future, others live in the past. An observer can tell pretty well from our accomplishments what age we live in.

ON COMMUNITY FAMILIARITY
BREEDS CIVIC CONTEMPT

A lady wrote me a letter recently in which she asked, "What do you mean when you say one of the monkey wrenches in community machinery is 'contemptuous familiarity?' I understand," she continued, "what you mean by 'monkey wrenches,' but I don't get this 'contemptuous familiarity.'"

"Contemptuous familiarity" is the opposite of "wide awakefulness." It is the blindfold that keeps you from seeing, the ear muffs that keep you from hearing opportunity that is to the right, to the left, above and below you right in Artesia.

Whenever the civic clubs of your community perform a task for the good of all, it causes you to say, "Well, they are supposed to do it, therefore they deserve no thanks for it."

And when your newspaper takes up an issue vital to your welfare and the welfare of your neighbors you are moved to say, "He is paid to do it—he has an axe to grind."

When local business men say, "All we ask is a chance to serve you," it causes you to say, "Why should we do the many favors; what have they ever done for us?"

It is that which puts the idea in your head that there is nothing for you in Artesia, and to be something or do something you have to go elsewhere; that which causes you to feel that Artesia is not big enough for you, when the truth of the matter is that Artesia is just as big as you make it.

To be "contemptuously familiar" keeps you down, belittles you and belittles Artesia, and causes all wide-awake people who know of you, and with whom you come in contact, to feel sorry for and pity you. "Contemptuous familiarity" is worse than a monkey wrench in the machinery—it is a disease, playing havoc with communities everywhere.

You know the story of the man who moved away because it was such a nuisance to pick up the stones full of little black lumps that littered his field and hindered his plowing each year. To-day that field is the largest diamond mine in the world. Also the man who sold his farm because there was so much oily scum on the creek the stock could not drink—to-day is one of the country's finest oil fields. Both men were infected with "contemptuous familiarity."

For years a pretty little stream of clear, pure water trickled from the side of a rock-walled hillside, within four blocks of the center of a community of some 5,000 people. Hundreds of local citizens say it every day, many passing it by, some stopping to drink of it. A stranger came one day saw and drank, but did not pass. He is a millionaire to-day, through the sale of that water in bottles.

Several hundred acres of swamp land overgrown with "worthless" willows were joyfully unloaded by local people onto a "sucker" who now is worth his weight in gold, through resale of the selfsame timber to a reed furniture manufacturer.

Look around you. See, hear and recognize the advantages of Artesia. They are here if you will but take advantage of them.

THE YARD AND GARDEN CONTEST

The 1929 Yard and Garden Contest will soon be history. Anything that stimulates interest in the home is worthwhile and we believe the contest has done just this. It is a well known fact that both renters and property owners living in Artesia have really taken a pride in keeping their premises in order during the past three or four years and pride in the home premises is bound to have a wholesome effect on property values. It is also evident that we must think well of our possessions before we can expect the other fellow to have a desire to become a home owner. The home owner of course makes for stability.

There is no yard stick to measure the good that has come from the Yard and Garden Contest. Some have participated in this event, not because they expected to win any prizes, but for their own satisfaction. There is unquestionably a marked improvement in many Artesia premises over last year and it has been demonstrated that we can grow really beautiful flowers.

SHEEP RAISING ON THE FARM

The other day 3,100 lambs were delivered to the loading pens here. These 3,100 lambs were brought in by eighteen different owners. This procedure is quite different from the marketing system of a few years ago when it was nothing uncommon for one sheepman to bring in over twice the above number. The fact that eighteen people owned 3,100 lambs is significant in that it shows the farmer is becoming interested in the sheep industry and has added sheep to the farm as part of the diversified program. It is also interesting to note that a number of the farmers have made their start from raising the "dogies" or the offcasts from the ranches.

The best thing about a small bunch of sheep is that they keep the weeds down from around the farm and turn the waste products into mutton and wool. If there is a radical drop in the market, the small sheepman isn't seriously hurt because he isn't entirely dependent on sheep for an income.

THE COTTON FARMER

Eighteen cent cotton isn't going to make many millionaires out of the cotton growers, but even with eighteen cent cotton we are profiting by the other fellow's misfortune. Suppose Texas had made their normal crop of four to five million bales instead of about 950,000. We would have seen eleven and twelve cent cotton and the fellow who staked everything on the one crop would have been out of luck and might have wished for a few milk cows, a few chickens and a few hogs. So far Pecos Valley cotton growers have been exceptionally fortunate in that they have usually obtained a fair price for cotton, but as sure as some continue to raise cotton to the exclusion of everything else just that sure are they going to suffer sooner or later.

EDDY COUNTY IN HEALTH PROGRAM

SANTA FE.—Five New Mexico
counties have a chance of obtaining $2,500 for "the promotion of child health programs."

Dr. George S. Luckett, state health director has been notified by the American Health Association that the Rockefeller Institute has given it $100,000 for this sort of work.
Dr. Luckett was invited to put in a request for New Mexico.

If the request is granted the money is to be used in Eddy, Chaves, Santa Fe, Union and Valencia counties, which can comply with the conditions of the gift.

On July 1, Eddy county discontinued a portion of its public health program and lost its public health nurse, because no Rockefeller funds were then available to carry on the program.

rangement with the Rockefeller Institute has been used in this county

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Local Boy Scout leaders are enthusiastic over the announcement that an organization for younger boys, ages 9-12 is to be sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America. This program will be known as "Cubs" and will be started here in the near future.

The Cubs will be organized in small packs and will tie very close to the home. Meetings will be held in the afternoon and the work will in no way duplicate the present Scout
program.

At present the national Boy Scout organization is printing a
"Handbook for Leaders," "Handbook for Cubs," and a "Handbook for Parents." Just as soon as these books are released there will be a conference of parents of boys of 9-12. This conference to be followed by a training course for Cub leaders.

Minor Huffman, area scout executive, expects the work to go over big here in Artesia. He will give direction and leadership to it along with the Boy Scout work.

P. E. O. LUNCHEON

Chapter J of the P. E. O. Sisterhood entertained members of Chapter A and Carlsbad and Chapters B and K of Roswell, at a one o'clock luncheon last Saturday afternoon, at the high school building. The luncheon was served in the domestic science department, under the direction of Miss Ruth Morgan, and was in three courses. The tables were beautifully adorned with huge bouquets of shasta daisies, and the Halloween season was recognized in the quaint nut cups and black cat and witch devices on the walls. Beautiful bouquets of roses and dahlias were used in decorating the reception room and the auditorium, where part of the entertainment was held. Six young girls, Neva Schnoor, Ruth Graham, Mary Corbin, Katherine Filbert, Jeanne Wheatley and Mary Louise Paris of the home economics department waited upon the tables and in their charming costumes formed part of the attraction of the occasion. Mrs. J. H. Jackson acted as toastmaster and following a few brief words by the president, Mrs. Stroup, and responses from Miss Jenny Linn, president of Chapter A, Carlsbad, Mrs. Fall for Chapter B, and Miss Nellie Mason, president of Chapter K, of Roswell, announced the toasts, which centered around the subject of "Woman," in tribute to the personnel of the organization and its seven founders. The toasts, some of them funny and two humorous poems, given by Mrs. Paris, made up a pleasing program, given at the table, after which the company retired to the auditorium. Here a short program was given, consisting of lovely vocal solos by Mrs. Fred Cole and Mrs. V. L. Gates, with Mrs. Tex Henson accompanying and three charming dances by the Misses Wyoma Phillips and Louise Compton, with Miss Grace Sinclair accompanying. For the dance the young ladies were dressed in beautiful light blue satin costumes. Mrs. McClure of Roswell, favored the audience with an original poem, having for its subject, Mrs. Virginia Cottey Stockard, donor of a splendid educational institution, Cottey College, for girls, at Nevada, Missouri, to the P. E. O. Miss Linn, of Carlsbad, gave her delegate's report to the Supreme Convention in Chicago in September and Mrs. Lu O'Connor, also of Carlsbad, and state president of the P. E. O., also reported upon that large gathering, which closed the entertainment.

The visiting guests were: Carlsbad—Mesdames O'Connor, Crawford, Linn, J. W. Lewis, C. C. Lewis, McLennan, Thorne Donley, E. A. Roberts, Kneale, Durden, Farrell and Kern and the Misses Linn and Dorothy Swigart.

Roswell—Mesdames McClure, Fall, Hinkle, John R. St. John, Sylvester Johnson, Arthur Allison and Norman Fee, Lodewick, and the Misses Nelle Mason, Edith Geyer, Bess Bybee, Eula Bybee, Shirley Feather Nine Cullen and Burr Powell.

Mrs. G. M. Winans and the Misses Esther Morgan and Helen Sage, members of Chapter J., at present located in Roswell, were also present, the two latter remaining over until Sunday to visit home folks.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The ghosts walked at the Wheatley home last Saturday evening when sixteen of Joan Wheatley's young friends appeared there in Halloween costumes and ventured into the haunts of black cats and witches. After many thrilling games the chief witch sent them on a treasure hunt for their refreshments, the chase taking them first to the Junior High school, next to the Baptist church, then to the rear entrance of Joyce Pruitt's and lastly to the Smoke House for the dessert course. Joan's mother, Mrs. Rex Wheatley accompanied them on the trip to protect them from ghostly spirits, and after leaving the Smoke House they went to their homes having had the best time ever. The girls who enjoyed this unique party were: Virginia and Helen Meredith Gates, Glenna McLean, Lois Cavin, Berthold Alcorn, Margaret Myers, Elsie Jernigan, Zanna Filbert, Dawn Hornbaker, Natalie Filbert, Mary Ann Miller, Peggy Brainard, Martha Sinclair, Jessie Lee Cunningham, Hannah Belle McCaw, Clementine Cobble and the young hostess.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT BULLOCK BANQUET HALL

Miss Laura Elizabeth Bullock entertained about twenty of her friends last evening at the Bullock banquet hall with a Halloween party. The guests wore costumes, Dudley Venable won first prize consisting of a box of candy for the most attractive costume. A number of lively games provided entertainment for the young folks after which refreshments were served.

METHODIST LEAGUERS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Monday evening the young people of the Methodist church enjoyed a "rip-roaring" good time at the Halloween party given in the church dining room by the Epworth League. More than forty young people were present. The entertainment was planned by Miss LaVon Brown and included squirrel in the tree, flying dutchman, newspaper races, fortune telling, long and perilous ghost walk, interspersed with an occasional sally forth by the young men to repel repeated attempts of some of the older brothers to capture the refreshments. These attempts were made ineffectual both by the eagle eyed vigilance of the young men, and by the fact that the refreshments were scattered here and there in out of the way places.

One of the features of the party was the demonstration in the way love ought to be made, given by Fletcher Hornbaker using a chair as consort. The broom promenade and the popular song contest also assisted in lending noise and high spirit to the occasion.

After everyone had been exhausted by the merriment refreshments were served by the hostess committee, Misses LaVon Brown, Vera Crosby, Catherine Filbert and Mary Smith. The refreshments were cider and doughnuts and apples with animal cookies with fortunes attached as favors.

The room was decorated with Halloween streamers, jack-o-lanterns and witches. The costumes of the masquerade included picturesque Spanish ladies and Senors, witches Old Mother Hubbard, brownies and plain spooks and wood nymphs.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Scoggins were present as sponsors.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON PARTY

Mrs. K. L. Hestead entertained last night the Delta Sigma Epsilon girls at a charming card party honoring her house guest, Dr. Esther Seale of Los Angeles. After a round of games a pretty favor was presented the guest of honor and Miss Fan Fordon was surprised with a bon voyage shower. Dainty refreshments were served. Those who enjoyed the pleasant affair were: Dr. Seale, of Los Angeles, Miss Margaret Oaks of New York, Mrs. Glendon E. Boothe of Honolulu, Misses Fan Fordon, Marjorie Ferrin, Irene Ingalls, Helen Sage, Gladys Webb, Oriol Curtis, Neva Palmer, Gladys Palmer, Mrs. Pete Louissena, Mrs. Maurice Trout, and Mrs. Hestead.—Roswell Record Saturday.

PRESBYTERIANS ENJOY HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Halloween did not fail to bring lots of fun to the members of the Presbyterian church who met for a party last Tuesday night.

The rule of the party was "Mask or pay fine," consequently there was much interest and frolic. Old and young together enjoyed a very happy evening. Among those present were: ghosts, witches, gypsies, black and red fiends and others. After unmasking the evening was spent playing games after which pumpkin pie and coffee was served.

The success of the party was largely due to the entertainment and decorative committee who were: Mrs. Lewis Cole, Mrs. Knoedler, Misses Bradley, Vera Switzer, Mrs. Bruning and Mrs. J. H. Jackson.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Dudley Venable and Mattie George were hosts at a ghost party at the Venable home Monday evening. About forty young people were present, masked, and in a wonderful variety of costumes. Halloween games made the evening a merry one and Halloween refreshments were provided.

Jernigan, with a pot-luck dinner at noon.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

A good soup or stew is always a welcome dish on a cool, snappy day.

Meat Stew With Vegetables—Take two and one-half pounds of beef with bone, two quarts of water, two tea spoonfuls of salt, a little cayenne, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of butter, two cupfuls of diced potatoes, one-half cupful each of diced carrot and turnip. Remove the meat from the bone and cut into inch cubes. Place the bone in the cold water. Season the meat with salt, pepper and roll in flour, then brown in the butter with one small chopped onion. Add this to the bone and simmer for an hour and a half or until the meat is tender. A half hour before the stew is to be served add the vegetables, the potatoes a little later than the carrot and turnip which usually take longer to cook. Be sure that there is liquid enough, then drop in the dumplings and cook ten minutes.

Potato Soup—Take four good-sized potatoes, three large onions, one and one-half quarts of water, two tea spoonfuls of salt, one and one-half cupfuls of evaporated milk diluted with one and one-half cupfuls of water, drained from the potatoes after cooking, three sprigs of parsley and a few dashes of cayenne. Boil the potatoes and onions in the water with the salt. When tender drain and mash. Reserve the water for the soup. Add the chopped parsley to the milk which is scalding in a double boiler, add all to the potato very gradually, stirring to keep smooth. Season with cayenne and celery salt and serve very hot.

Mushroom Gravy—This is delicious served with beefsteak. Take one cupful of mushrooms, canned or fresh. Fry in two tablespoonfuls of butter until brown on all sides. Add salt and pepper. Thicken the gravy from the steak and add the mushrooms, let cook up one minute then pour over the steak and serve.

DEATH OF THE REV. NEFF

Artesia friends of the family will regret to hear of the death of Rev. Stewart Neff, which took place at Detroit, Michigan this past week, while he was on a visit to a sister, whom he had not seen for many years. The remains were brought back to his home at Clovis, where interment took place Sunday afternoon, Ballard Spencer, a relative and Mrs. Spencer attending from here. The Neff family moved to Clovis from Artesia some eight or nine years ago. While here Mr. Neff was quite active in the work of the Methodist church in which he was a local preacher. Mrs. Harry Manda, of Gallup, (Miss Golden Neff) and Miss Ruby Neff taught in the Artesia schools for a number of years.

FARMERS FACING A SEED SHORTAGE

Have you examined the unopened but apparently mature, bolls on your cotton plants? If not, you should do so at once says G. R. Quesenberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College who has, within the last few days, visited all the cotton areas in the state.

Throughout New Mexico, where the leafworm has defoliated the plants, bolls are beginning to open that have immature lint and seed. Much of it resembles frost opened cotton. An examination of unopened bolls on all early worm-damaged plants, even though apparently fully grown, will show a large percentage to be soft. Seed from such bolls, as well as that from the immature cotton that is opening now, is unfit for planting. Much of this seed is developed less than the seed from average frost opened cotton. Some of it will never open and a large part of the cotton will sell as bollie cotton.

The high prices of seed at the oil mills are causing many farmers who have fairly good planting seed to sell it for the prevailing oil mill prices. They plan on saving seed from later pickings, which is usually very satisfactory.

In order that this condition may be overcome, farmers should save or have good seed saved for them, from cotton which has not been worm damaged or from cotton that has already opened in the worm damaged fields. None of the cotton seed produced in the defoliated fields which is unopened now will be fit for planting next spring. Every farmer who has not already saved his seed should examine his cotton immediately in order not to be disappointed next spring with a poor stand.

65,000-70,000 POSTAL WORKERS NEEDED XMAS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Postmaster General Brown said Monday that between 65,000 and 70,000 additional clerks, carriers and laborers would be needed for handling 1929 Christmas mail, as well as 3,000 temporary railway mail clerks.

Already the post office department has perfected plans for a complete cooperation with Santa Claus, St. Nicholas, or what have you, for the 1929 season.

PANTAGES CONVICTED CRIMINAL ASSAULT JURY SUNDAY P. M.

SAN ANGELES, Cal.—Convicted of fatally attacking Eunice Pringle, an old dancer, Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire theater operator, became prisoner 119,251 in county jail Monday while attorneys carried on their fight to keep him and his wife out of the penitentiary.

The wealthy vaudeville impresario, wrestled his millions from the Klondike and his chain of theaters, paled when the jury of women and five men brought their verdict Sunday night. Although the jury recommended clemency, the judge decided that Pantages must serve a prison term. It rejected the plea of giving him a sentence of one year in the county jail. The case involved is one to fifty in prison.

Pantages was convicted of manslaughter a little more than a year ago as the result of a fatal automobile accident. Her car collided with one driven by Juro Rokuta, a gardener, who died after receiving injuries. She faces a term of ten years in prison but is at present under bond pending a hearing for probation. She collapsed during her trial and has been under the care of physicians and nurses since then.

SANTA FE RECINDS GAS FRANCHISE SAT.

After the city council of Santa Fe awarded a natural gas franchise to the Southern Union Gas Co., last week, the council recinded its earlier action in a special meeting Saturday. The Southern Union Gas Co. was awarded the franchise on the representation that it had negotiated to purchase the artificial gas system of Albuquerque. The Santa Fe council rejected the bid of the Pecos Valley Gas Company. Both bidders admitted that it would be necessary to secure the franchise of Albuquerque also before the project would prove profitable. The Southern Union proposes to supply Santa Fe with natural gas from the Ute reservation in the western part of the state at a rate of $1.50 per 1,000 cubic feet for the first 1,000 feet and a sliding scale for larger amounts.

PILOT BRINGS THE LOST PLANE TO DUKE CITY UNDER OWN ITS POWER

ALBUQUERQUE. — Fighting a snow storm most of the way to Albuquerque from Trechado, Arizona, Pilot Jimmy Doles and his co-pilot brought the lost Western Air Express plane 113 safely to the Albuquerque airport Tuesday afternoon under its own power.

Doles, Allan C. Barries, co-pilot; R. L. Britton, steward, and passengers Dr. A. W. Ward, of San Francisco and W. E. Mertz, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., were none the worse for their adventure and the greatest inconvenience had been the loss of time.

The plane encountered a terrific snowstorm over Arizona Monday morning and Doles circled until he found a safe place to light.

He put the plane down at Trechado, and he and his cargo spent the night there to await clear weather. Trechado is about 75 miles southeast of Gallup, and is only about five miles south of the country of treacherous lava beds and extinct volcanoes.

Doles landed the huge trimotored plane at the airport here at a time when the search had been temporarily held in abeyance until a snowstorm raging over the state had cleared.

The plane had been missing since 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

A clever pilot saved the ship and passengers, Dr. A. E. Ward, San Francisco dentist said, "It was thru the cleverness of Pilot Doles that a landing was made and we escaped injury. Doles ran into the storm but kept cool and collected. He circled and searched the limited area visible and finally sighted a small clearing in some heavy timber land. He headed for this spot and brought the plane down safely and without any injury to anyone. There was a cabin nearby which provided us with refuge for the night. Of course, we had no way of communicating with the outside world regarding our safety."

Cheese Custard Enjoyed Occasionally for Lunch

Those who like the flavor of sharp cheese will enjoy cheese custard occasionally as a luncheon dish. It is made in ordinary custard cups served on small plates on which other foods of the same course may also be put. The recipe is from the bureau of home economics:

3 cups milk
1 1/2 cups sharp-flavored cheese cut into thin shavings
1/2 sp. salt
3 eggs
1 tbs. flour
5 drops tabasco

Beat the eggs lightly. Heat the milk in a double boiler, reserving one-half cup of the cold milk to mix with the flour. Stir this flour and milk mixture into the hot milk and add the cheese and salt. Stir until the cheese has melted. Pour this mixture into the beaten eggs and add the tabasco. Fill greased cups with the custard, place in a pan surrounded by water, and bake in a moderate oven until set in the center of the cup when tested with the point of a knife. Serve hot in the cups.

The Back-Porch Swing

How I love the children's laughter,
As they gayly squeal and sing,

When they're swinging from the rafter,
In the little back-porch swing!
Mem'ries sweet are o'er me stealing
As I watch them playing there,
Gayly swinging to the ceiling,
Breezes playing in their hair!

Look—the Boy is wildly "pumping,"
As so many times have I.
Now the ceiling he is bumping,
Soon the "cat" will start to "die."
On the board he now is seated,
Feet tucked up to clear the floor—
Oh, how oft have I repeated
This same thing in days of yore!

Now, Miss Goldie Locks is swinging—
She whom brother loves to tease.
Listen to the rascal singing—
See the dimples in her knees!
Fluffy hair—and face that's beaming,
While her cheeks the breezes kiss,
Eyes ashine with laughter gleaming:
Heart aglow with childish bliss.

Childhood days come backward winging
As I watch them at their play—
In my mind, I too, am swinging
In the self-same care-free way.

From an old-time friendly rafter,
And within my heart there ring
Echoes of the shouts of laughter
From a little old rope swing.

STOCK MARKET CRASHES

NEW YORK.—Five billion dollars in stock market values were washed away Monday as the market—still staggering under the influence of last Thursday's great break—plunged downward in what was considered the greatest break of all time.

Leading issues plunged despite renewed additional support given by big bankers—a group headed by J. P. Morgan and Company—organized to prevent disastrous drops.

In the downturn stocks touched new lows. Losses from 10 to 50 points were recorded and one of the stocks on the curb exchange, Midwest Utilities dropped 119 points during the day.

Monday was the second largest day in the history of the stock exchange, 9,212,800 shares being traded. The only larger day was last Thursday when more than 12,000,000 shares were traded.

It was a rout for the big traders. The "little fellows" had been chased out in that somewhat panicky few hours last Thursday. Monday it was the men who could trade in the expensive stocks who grew over excited and dropped valuable holdings at prices which meant millions of dollars in losses.

J. P. WHITE BUYS HAGERMAN RANCH OF 100,000 ACRES

A 100,000 acre ranch—a small empire of land—changed hands here Monday when J. P. White of Roswell bought the LE pasture, known as the Hagerman ranch, and lying about twenty miles east of Roswell.

The deal was a cash transaction. Mr. White did not state the exact amount saying that one could state roughly "it was between a quarter and a half million dollars." Unofficially it was learned that the transfer included the payment of something around $300,000 in cash for the Hagerman property.

The land was purchased from the South Springs Land and Cattle Co., of which Percy Hagerman formerly of Roswell, now of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is the directing genius. The deal was consummated before noon Monday, the final papers and transfer of money being made at that time.

Mr. White will immediately take possession of the ranch and will stock its vast expanse with sheep and cattle. The land is well improved, is all fenced and abundantly sprinkled with windmills.

The ranch measures more than eleven miles across in an east and west direction and is pierced by the main Lubbock-Roswell highway. Many motorists pass through the property each day. It measures from twenty to nearly thirty miles in length. All of the land is in Chaves county.

Headquarters of the ranch are located about one mile south of the highway.

Mr. White is one of the best known cattlemen in the United States. He formerly had extensive holdings in West Texas but has recently liquidated much of his Texas property. He is still one of the prime business forces in the state of New Mexico and is considered one of the state's most wealthy men. — Southwestern Dispatch.

Next Wednesday evening at 7:30 the Sunday school staff of the New Mexico annual conference will be in Artesia to conduct a short but intensive Sunday school institute at the Methodist church. This group is making an extended itinerary trip throughout the conference during the months of October and November.

Leading the staff is Rev. Fred B. Faust, general superintendent of elementary departments, Mrs. I. J. Ayres superintendent of adolescent departments, Mrs. Tom Watson, superintendent of adult departments. These workers are all from El Paso. Each is especially trained and highly skilled in the especial field where they work. The "Conoco No. 2" and its crew on the nation wide educational tour. Standing in front of the ship, from left to right are: J. E. Moorhead, Ray C. Shrader, B. K. Ludwig and Frank Moore.

Another evidence of the value of aviation to big business is found in the trans-continental tour of the Continental Oil Company's six-place Travelair cabin monoplane, "Conoco No. 2," leaving Denver on October 25 on a trip that carries it through the Rocky Mountain states, across the middle west, to the Atlantic seaboard and back to Denver, a total of over 8,000 miles. The tour is planned for the purpose of acquainting the Continental Company's sales force with the details of a new oil, prior to public announcement of the product, which will be known as "Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil." Technologists of the Continental Oil Company authorize the statement that the new "Germ-Processed" motor oil will be a revolutionizing factor in automotive and general mechanical lubrication. They state that it is a highly refined oil, made from carefully selected crude by an exclusive patented process. Details of the claims for the new oil are to be explained to sales groups at the various points of call of the "Conoco No. 2." A stop of approximately one day is being made at each city. The ship is being piloted by Ray C. Shrader, chief of the company's aviation sales division. Passengers are J. E. Moorehead, sales promotion manager; Frank Moore special representative, and G. K. Ludwig, marketing engineer. Stops for the plane are scheduled at Salt Lake City, Butte, Great Falls, Chicago, New York, Richmond, Kansas City, Wichita Falls, Albuquerque and then back to Denver. Mr. Moorehead, in charge of the tour, and his associates, will utilize charts, printed matter, maps and demonstration apparatus in their appearances before the various local groups, explaining in detail the refining method used in producing the new "Germ-Processed" oil, and outlining its superior qualities. C. C. Warner, advertising manager of the Continental Oil Company, announces that a nation wide newspaper poster, and farm paper advertising campaign to acquaint the public with the new oil, will follow the air tour. Gentlemen of the Field Force: Here they come! Zowie! Look at 'em! The new models! They've got lines that Theo. Roosevelt would have chased. They have colors that would make the rainbow go home and get dressed. They have more changes than a guy with three shirts. They have the comfort of and old rockin' chair. They have more power than home-brew that's "gone yeast young man gone yeast." They're as slick as what looks like a nickel. They stand out like a piece of chocolate cake during an eighteen day diet. They're as smooth as a chronic delinquent's alibi. They hold the road like the boys did at Lexington. They have more instruments than a piano tuner. They pass like an opponent with six of your spades. And will they sell? The public will buy them. The public does. The old cars will be bought up by rich people 'n the new cars go to the poor. So stick six pencils in your pocket, fifteen applications in your hand, two feet in your shoes, your head in your hat 'n your nose in the great outdoors where you can't tell who's a man anymore. Those cars have got to have an injection of insurance in their veins before they start an epidemic of limbecco. An automobile without insurance just naturally can't be trusted. But the owner can—for say thirty days. A Surviving Pedestrian. PHIL.

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT FAILS TO APPROVE THE RIO GRANDE PACT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The interior department Tuesday disapproved the proposed Rio Grande river compact being considered by the senate irrigation committee. Secretary Wilbur notified the committee his department could not sanction it, because the commission which formed the compact failed to apportion the Rio Grande waters among Colorado, New Mexico and Texas, the states party to the proposal. The department also disapproved the compact because under its terms the federal government would have to pay any claims made by Mexico as a result of any agreement entered into by the three states. The proposal as now before the senate committee, the secretary said, also would require the United States government to build a drainage canal in the San Luis valley, and build another reclamation project without any provision made for the federal government to be reimbursed for the work. He held this was contrary to the regulations in the act and would set a precedent which he did not feel should be set.

STATE EXPORTS INCREASE

Exports from New Mexico during 1928 almost doubled those of 1927, the figures being $2,150,133 during 1928 and $1,037,927 during 1927. These figures were obtained from Ernest L. Tutt, district manager of the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The principal exports of the state are metals and manufacturers, coal, wood and paper, machinery, vehicles, and parts, edible animals, chemicals and related products, non-metallic mineral products, textiles and inedible and edible animal and vegetable products. The district office is located in Houston, Texas, and thru it inquiries from exporters, jobbers, wholesalers, and manufacturers are answered without cost. Information concerning the world markets both foreign and domestic is at the call of any one interested. Foreign information is secured thru American consuls, commercial attaches and trade commissioners. The chambers of commerce cooperate with the department in obtaining domestic information. Mr. Tutt is visiting the larger cities of New Mexico in order to further acquaint them with the activities of his department.

A. B. FALL IS FOUND GUILTY OF ACCEPTING BRIBE FROM DOHENY

WASHINGTON, D. C. Albert B. Fall was found guilty Friday of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny for the lease of the Elk Hills, California, naval oil reserve.

The jury recommended to the court that the former interior secretary be shown mercy.

Eight men and four women composed the jury which convicted the sixty-eight year old man, now broken in health, of guilt in this connection while serving as secretary of the interior, in the Harding cabinet.

The verdict was handed down nearly eight years after Fall received the money from Doheny, a friend of prospecting days when they and the west was young.

The case was the first criminal action won by the government in those growing out of the celebrated senate oil investigations. The government has recovered the lease but Fall, once branded by the supreme court as a "faithless public servant" is the first person connected with the leases to be convicted.

During the trial Fall has appeared in court most of the time in a wheel chair and on one occasion a recess had to be taken because of his condition.

The four women and eight men on the jury stood as they announced their verdicts individually.

One by one they were polled each replied: "Guilty, with the mercy of the court."

As the jury which had been out almost 24 hours walked to its place there was not another sound in the court room.

"Ladies and gentlemen," asked the court, "have you reached a verdict?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"What is your verdict?" asked the court.

"Guilty," replied Foreman Thomas E. Norris.

INSIDE INFORMATION

Include a "surprise" of some sort in the school lunch box. If you think back to your own school days you will remember how monotonous the lunches used to be. A few nuts, raisins, dates, or figs, a special kind of cooky, or an especially choice fruit—something that can be saved until last—will greatly be appreciated. If there is time wrap the "surprise" in an interesting way.

Good quality silk is durable material, but it cannot be washed like cotton. Use only lukewarm water for silk garments, for both washing and rinsing. Make good suds of a neutral soap, and wash with as little rubbing as possible. Be careful that the silk does not come in contact with washing powders which bleach, because these powders may rot the material.

Here's an idea for a simple, inexpensive, and wholesome decoration for a child's party cake. Use any preferred cake recipe, and cover the cake with white icing. Have ready some trimmings made from gum-drops—pink, yellow, and green ones. The gum-drops can be sliced thin with a sharp knife, and then cut with scissors into petal and leaf shapes to form wild roses and leaves and stems. A child's name or initials or "Happy Birthday" could be made with bits of gum-drops.

Smothered ham with sweet potatoes is just right these cool fall days. Cut a slice of smoked ham into pieces suitable for serving. Then brown these slightly on both sides, and arrange them to cover the bottom of a baking dish. Spread 3 cups of raw sliced sweet potatoes over the ham. Sprinkle with 2 table-spoons sugar, and add 1 cup of hot water and 1 tablespoon of butter or ham drippings. Cover the dish. Bake slowly until the ham is tender. Baste the potatoes occasionally with the gravy. Brown the top well when the ham and potatoes are done.

A two way or pass closet in the connecting wall between the kitchen and dining room is a great convenience. Soiled dishes are passed thru the opening from the dining room to be stacked on the drain board or counter, level with the sink. The sink is often placed along the connecting wall, or it may be at right angles to the pass closet on an outer wall of the house so that there may be a window above it for light and air. In either case as the dishes are washed the can be put away on the shelves without extra steps. On the dining room side it is a good plan to have a full length door to shut off the glimpse of the kitchen and sink thru the shelves.

STATE LOSSES IN DEFUNCT BANK

SANTA FE—The state had $9,324.05 in deposits in the closed San Marcial state bank, State Treasurer Emerson Watts said Friday. The money is secured by $5,000 in Fourth Liberty loan bonds now selling at 99, and $5,000 in federal farm loan bank bonds now at 92 on the market. "We sent the bank $3,000 additional deposits after the first flood in August," Mr. Watts said. "This balance was left undisturbed because of the disaster. We wished to do what we could to help out the stricken town without taking any risk with the state's money."

JUANITA MC DANIELS ARRESTED AT YUMA, ARIZ. ON BOOZE CHARGE

YUMA, Arizona.—Juanita McDaniels, of El Paso arraigned before a United States commissioner late Monday on charges that she transported 244 pints of liquor from Juarez, Mexico, to El Paso, was held on $1500 bail pending preliminary hearing on November 14th. Miss McDaniel was arrested at Yuma airport Saturday as she stepped from a plane she had flown here from El Paso. She was unable to produce bail and was remanded to jail.

Juanita McDaniels, arrested in Yuma Arizona, late Monday on a charge of transportation of intoxicating liquor is well known in this city.

Miss McDaniels, while acting as a special agent in the employ of the Customs Service at El Paso, had a large part in the capture of C. G. (Smoky) Taylor when he landed with a plane loaded with booze on Salt Creek north of this city.

Miss McDaniels was said to have furnished to prohibition officers information which led to the arrest of Taylor as he landed with the plane. —Roswell Record.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP. Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.

Lesson for November 3
RESPECT FOR RIGHTFUL
AUTHORITY

(World's Temperance Sunday)
LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:13-17; Rom.
13:1, Peter 2:13-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Why We Have
LAW.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Have
LAW.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPICS—
Obeying the Law.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Effective the Will of the Community.

Through our citizenship is in heaven,
we have obligation to the government
under which we live.

1. Obligation to Pay Tribute (Mark 12:13-17).

This teaching concerning the tribute money came in answer to the question of the Pharisees and Herod. They would kill him among the people.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 15-17).

He requested a coin to be brought inquired as to whose image and inscription it bore, declaring that one who accept the coin of Caesar must pay taxes to Caesar. Thus the king escapes their trap and incite the principle which applies to all time of conditions as to the Christian's responsibility to civil government.

3. The Christian's Obligation to the State (Rom. 13:1-7).

The believer is a citizen as well as Christian.

Obedience to rulers (vv. 1-4).

This obligation is upon all Christians. Civil government is ordained of God, and rulers are His representatives. To refuse obedience to civil authority is to resist God. This does not mean that a Christian at the behest of the state should do that which is inherently wrong. The same is true of the child in its responsibility to its parents. While obedience to parents is the will of God for children, this does not imply that the child is under obligation to do that which is inherently wrong, at the command of the parents. Submission to authority is the law of the believer's life.

The spirit in which the Christian obeys obedience to rulers (v. 5).

One should regard it as his obligation
to do that which is morally right.

Methods of expressing this obedience (vv. 6, 7).

In the payment of personal and property taxes. The citizen who enjoys the benefits of government is bound to support it.

Payment of duty upon merchandise and license fees. The business transactions between nations must be regulated. For such regulations, excess is incurred, for which benefit citizens should pay.

Veneration for magistrates—
to whom fear.

One who have the fear of God in their hearts will venerate their rulers' representatives.

"Honor to whom honor." Civil authorities should be honored because of the ministry they perform.

The Spirit of Loyalty to Authority (Pet. 2:13-17).

Loyalty of the Christian to right authority should be glad and free.

The Christian recognizes the necessity of social order, and will graciously submit to the authority of rulers and loyally perform his obligation as a citizen, not through cringing fear, but as the Lord's free man, for the Lord's by means of this free submission to God's servant, he puts to silence the ignorance of foolish men
(vv. 18, 19).

Honor all men (v. 17).

One will see in every man the image of God and therefore give honor to the name of God (v. 17). This is filial, social fear.

Honor the king (v. 17). This is social significance, for in all the wicked Nero was then reigning monarch.

Soul Gains Victory
Soul gains the victory,
when seemingly defeated
through the work of God.—
W. Tompkins.

Important points for the beekeeper to keep in mind in preparation for winter are plenty of young bees, a good queen, plenty of good quality stores, sound hives, and protection from cold and dampness.

Farmers' dairy cooperatives received $640,000.00 in 1928 from the sale of dairy products. Of this amount, nearly 42 per cent was from the sale of fluid milk, about 41 per cent butter, 7 per cent from cream,
and 5 per cent from cheese.

The cowpea succeeds under so many different conditions that it is valuable in almost any system of rotation as a catch crop or for hay or seed production. Although in the cotton belt cowpeas are often stored until winter before thrashing or hull-ing them, it is probably better to thresh or hull them when thoroughly dry, and reclean and store them in sacks.

In times of drought on the range,
many cattle raisers utilize the native plants such as prickly pear, soap weed, sotol, bear grass. These plants, ground up, will keep cattle alive if fed at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds a day for each animal. If 1 to 2 pounds of cottonseed cake is given in addition, a fairly good ration is provided.

Ewes should be gaining in weight when they are bred. Stubble and stalk fields, fence strips in plowed fields, late pastures, green rye pasture in late fall, and, in the south, velvet beans, are all useful in carrying bred ewes through the fall and in to the winter. Silage and root crops are good feeds, but should not be given when the pasturage is soft and watery.

Good storage facilities throughout the fall and winter are necessary to insure sound, firm seed potatoes at planting time. The main thing is to keep the storage temperature low enough to retard germination. Seed tubers that are firm, with the first sprouts just showing, will start quickly when planted and make vigorous growth under favorable conditions
following planting.

If yearlings birds in the poultry flock are to be used as breeders next spring, it is a good plan to omit the mash or the meat scraps and fish meal from their ration for from 3 to 4 weeks in the fall, beginning about November 1. This gives the birds a rest, and if they are then fed a breeding ration they should produce hatching eggs of the highest quality.

After the truck crops are all out of the garden, it is a good plan to remove all vines, dead plants, and other trash and sow the ground to rye or some other green crop. The will prevent the earth from washing and improve the condition of the soil.
If the ground is not sown to a crop,
and there is no danger of washing,
it is well to plow or spade it and let it lie rough through the winter.
Freezing will kill many insects as well as lighten the soil by alternate freezing and thawing.

Mice are very small compared to trees, but these rodents annually destroy thousands of valuable fruit trees, many of which might be saved.
Orchards should be examined regularly in fall and spring for signs of mouse injury. Preventive measures include removing cover from around the bases of trees, treating trees with repellent washes, inclosing trees with mechanical protectors, and killing the mice by poison or traps. Clean cultivation as practiced in western orchards is usually effective in eliminating mice. Most mouse injury to orchards is done either by meadow mice or by pine mice. The pine mouse generally works underground,
where its ravages are unsuspected,
whereas the meadow mouse feeds mostly at the surface. Trees damaged slightly by field mice will usually recover if the injured parts are completely covered by mounding up the soil around the base of the tree, or if paint or other material is applied to keep the wounds from drying out.

FARM BOARD NOW EXPECTS CALLS FOR 15-20 MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Chairman
Legge of the farm board said Monday
he expected calls for loans from grain cooperatives associations amounting to $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 within the next few days.

These loans to individual cooperative associations, the chairman said, in all probability would be made to meet present emergencies to be faced pending complete organization of the National Grain Corporation which the board expects to deal with later.
