RED CROSS COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE IS NOW UNDERWAY IN ARTESIA

The annual Red Cross roll call was started here yesterday. The call or the drive proper is being sponsored by the Artesia Lion's club and committees from the Lions club were canvassing each business block here yesterday. Business men have been asked to make their contributions liberal as all amounts above the roll call fee will be placed in the Community Chest fund. Fifty cents of the $1.00 roll call remains in Artesia and fifty cents is sent to the national headquarters of the Red Cross. The Lions club committees are combining the drive for the Artesia community chest and the Red Cross in order to save time. They will appreciate the cooperation of each business firm and of each individual. A Red Cross booth will be maintained in the post office lobby by the ladies, Friday and Saturday. The booth will be maintained for the purpose of giving the people outside of the business district an opportunity to join this worthy organization.

J. W. GOOD ILL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—James W. Good, secretary of war, was in a critical condition at Walter Reed hospital last night after an emergency appendicitis operation from which close friends feared he would not recover.

Some hope was being held, however, on the basis of physician's reports that his pulse and blood pressure seemed favorable and that he was resting fairly well. "Very serious" was the way the White House described his condition.

For more than an hour the 62 year old cabinet member was on the operating table. Staff surgeons said gangrene had set in and the excision was unusually difficult because of the low position of the appendix.

ALTO YOUTH BURNED BADLY

The eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hightower, of Alto, this state, was seriously burned Sunday afternoon when he flipped a match in an open can of gasoline. The body of the youth was enveloped in flames, but he had presence of mind to run to a creek near by. His condition was considered critical according to an early report.

SHIPS OUT STEERS

J. R. Means, of Weed, delivered 107 steers here yesterday morning to C. C. Pritchard, Roswell cattle buyer. It is understood that the steers will be shipped to market.

Miss Irene Bell, who is attending school here, spent the week end at home at Pinon. She returned on Monday evening with an aunt, Mrs. Herbert, who came down from the mountains on a shopping trip and visited her sister, Mrs. Mark Newman, while here.

TWELVE ARE ARRESTED OVER THE STATE FOR GAME LAW VIOLATIONS

Number Of Violations Are In Excess Of Deer Tags Reported To State Game Warden Perry — One Is Fined For Two Does.

SANTA FE—Twelve arrests have been reported to date for violation of the big game laws, State Warden Edgar Perry said yesterday at Santa Fe.

A party of three Coloradans accompanied by Oliver Parker of El Rito was arrested Sunday for hunting on the El Rito refuge. The Coloradans had no licenses.

J. W. Roberts of Clovis was found on the O-Bar-O mountain with two slain does, by G. L. Miller of Albuquerque, a volunteer deputy game warden, and was fined $500. He had an alibi but apparently it did not convince the justice of the peace at Beaverhead.

He said he saw a buck and shot and then found two does dead.

Mr. Perry said that so far the number of hunters bagged by deputies exceeded the number of deer slain and reported to him.

The first card showing a "white tail" came to the warden's office yesterday and was signed by William F. Cheek, of Albuquerque.

Many sportsmen returning to Santa Fe yesterday reported that snow was so deep and roads in such bad condition through the mountain regions that hunting was difficult.

SUN FLOWER CULTURE

About thirty-five acres of sun flowers were planted by local farmers this year according to recent figures released by the Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association. The sun flower acreage this year was planted in an experiment. Total yield of about 25,000 pounds was secured from the thirty-five acres this year. The present value of sun flower seed is approximately four cents per pound. The thirty-five acres would therefore be valued at $1,000. These figures indicate that the seed would have to net the farmer about five cents per pound before a profit could be realized.

FINANCIAL DRIVE FOR SCOUTS INCOMPLETE

The financial drive for the Boy Scouts of eastern New Mexico has not yet been completed, it was announced here yesterday. Not all of the committees appointed to canvass the business district have reported, it was said yesterday. Any resident who has not been seen by the committee and who may desire to contribute to the Boy Scout organization, will confer a favor on the management by mailing your contribution direct to E. B. Bullock, area commissioner.

FEEDING PIGS IS MADE PROFITABLE — LATE SHIPMENT TO MARKET

E. B. Bullock shipped out a car of hogs to the market at Kansas City, Thursday and was unfortunate enough to hit the lowest market of the year since January. Telling of Mr. Bullock's misfortune, however, was not what we started to do, for there is another moral to the story, which concerns the profit and loss in feeding pigs or hogs, before shipments. On the 16th of September, the pigs, they were then, were unloaded at Artesia and weighed ninety-four pounds. Fifty-two days later, when they were shipped from the local feed lot they weighed an average of 196 pounds.

JONES BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

Casey Jones former resident of Artesia employed as a traffic enumerator at Tularosa and arrested two weeks ago on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was bound over to await the action of the Otero county grand jury, following a hearing before Earl P. Saunders, justice of the peace at Alamogordo on November 2nd. Jones, the complaint alleges fired into the car of an Alamogordo resident in an effort to stop the car. Jones is alleged to have been intoxicated.

FURTHER EXTENSION ON OIL AND GAS PERMITS

Information has been received from Washington that the senate bill 1752, introduced by Senator Warren some time ago, will be amended before final passage. The bill is now in the hands of the Public Lands and Surveys committee. As originally drafted, the bill would provide for a further extension of two years on oil and gas prospecting permits on the federal domain which have been in effect for nine years. There are a number of such permits on which considerable work has been done and on which the holders propose to do further exploration. An amendment has been suggested by the Secretary of the Interior Wilbur which would make the authorized extension three years instead of two and give the secretary discretion as to the time drilling operations should begin.—Inland Oil Index.

GAS USERS WARNED TO TURN OFF STOVES IF FIRE SIREN BLOWS

Company Officials Believe Even Pressure Can Be Kept In City Mains Now — Break In Roswell Line Trouble This A. M.

If you hear the fire siren "going crazy," it is the signal that your gas has gone off. This system of warning has been agreed upon between the City Council and the officials of the Pecos Valley Gas Co., to signal the local gas consumers that the gas supply has temporarily gone off and that it would be advisable to turn off the household gas appliances in order to avoid an accident. A series of short "toots" will be used as a warning. The fire siren was turned on here last night, when the pressure went off, but a number of residents did not understand its meaning and looked for a fire.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced by the Pecos Valley Gas Co., during the last four or five days, in keeping an even pressure in the city mains. This is said to be due to a connection made with the new Maljamar well, which contains a large percentage of air, causing the gas to blow. Employees of the gas company have been working day and night in an effort to clear the lines of this gas and have succeeded. The following statement was issued at the local gas office this morning:

"The Pecos Valley Gas Co., connected up with the big Maljamar gasser last Thursday, it was Saturday before the Maljamar gas had reached the city gates. At this time it was discovered that this gas would not burn to an advantage in domestic appliances. The gas from the Maljamar well was immediately cut off and the lines blown in order to eliminate the Maljamar gas, which naturally lowered the pressure in all lines. The cold wave struck here about the same time, the consumption was heaviest and it was not until three o'clock this morning that the pressure was built back to normal. About 6:00 a. m. it was observed that the gas pressure was lowering rapidly and upon investigation it was found that the Roswell main was broken. The Roswell main, however, has been repaired and the pressure is now back to normal.

Work was started yesterday taking up the line that was laid to the Maljamar well and workmen will immediately start laying this line to the big Texas gasser, which will act as an emergency line and will insure an ample gas supply under all circumstances."

It was also understood here this morning that negotiations were under way by the Pecos Valley Gas Co., to drill additional wells in the area of the Texas-Robinson No. 1 gasser.

RUMOR DENIED THAT CARLSBAD DENTIST IS SHOT DEER HUNTING

Westfall, Carlsbad dentist has been accidentally shot while deer hunting in the mountains near Magdalena, was denied in a special dispatch sent to the Current-Argus at Carlsbad yesterday. There has been no hunting mishap in the Magdalena district this season says the dispatch.

MANY HUNTERS BAG A BUCK—D. I. CLOWE GETS HIS IN 55 MINUTES

Local deer hunters are returning from the hills. A few it seems enjoyed exceptional luck and bagged their buck the first day out. Dick Clowe and son, Frank hold the record so far as known for quick work. They each bagged a deer within fifty-five minutes from the start Sunday morning. Mr. Clowe shot his buck as two or three stragglers emerged into a small clearing. The hunters had the advantage of the wind and as a buck stood near a tree trying to locate the direction of the shots, Mr. Clowe handed his 14 year old son the gun, who made a hit after one or two attempts. Ed Holt, Tatum hunter brought in the first buck seen here Sunday, arriving in town about 3:30 p. m. The buck was bagged above the Flying H ranch. Other successful hunters were: Ira Stuart, Merrill Sharp, Guy Smith, Roy Roberts, Joe Hamann, Joe Clayton, Calvin Dunn, Dan Watson, Jim Nellis, and Landis Feather and Howell Gage bagged one together, neither claiming all the honor.

Remley, special master of Raton. Nine hundred of these water rights are on the Pecos river and its tributaries in De Baca, Otero, Eddy and Chaves counties. HUNTING LICENSE SALES INCREASE

The local hardware stores have enjoyed a rushing business in hunting license sales during the past two weeks. This year over 400 game licenses have been sold here to date. Of the 400 about twenty were issued to non-residents. General hunting licenses, which includes big game issued here numbers about 346.

QUIET ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day was quiet in Artesia with a good per cent of the male population in the hills in quest of deer. No armistice program was attempted on account of the hunting season. A few residents journeyed to Roswell to see the football game between Roswell and Albuquerque High schools.

BAPTIST CLOSE A SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

New Mexico Baptists closed a very successful meeting at Santa Fe, last Thursday. Roswell was chosen as the next convention city. The local delegation experienced difficulty in traveling the highways due to the heavy snow storm. They returned by way of the Las Vegas to visit the Artesia students at Montezuma College, Misses Ina and Gladys Cole and Herman Cole. Between Santa Fe and Las Vegas they saw nine cars abandoned. Four cars were abandoned between Vaughn and Roswell on account of the drifting snow. The Artesia delegation was composed of Mrs. C. M. Cole, Mrs. George Beal and Rev. and Mrs. R. Peterson.

Is Shot Through Stomach While Hunting Near Mayhill — Dies En Route To A Hospital At Carlsbad Tuesday morning.

The first casualty of the deer season reported here occurred north of Mayhill Tuesday about 1:00 p. m., when Lon Latham, age 18, of Mayhill was accidentally shot through the stomach. Latham and about nine other companions were hunting in a canyon and according to the story told here of the accident yesterday morning, the lads had an understanding that no member of the party was to shoot back up the canyon. J. R. Pendergrass, age 20, also of Mayhill, who had missed several shots, heard a noise and saw the bushes move. Pendergrass aimed and fired, the ball, shot from a 25-20 rifle, struck Latham in the stomach and passed through his body barely missing his spine.

The companions of the wounded boy made an improvised stretcher and carried him out of the canyon a distance of four miles through a heavy snow. Jim Jackson, a former Artesia resident and Russell Rogers started with Latham to Carlsbad. They were accompanied to Artesia by a Tularosa physician, but Latham's conditions was apparently very much improved and the Tularosa doctor turned back here. Latham died a short time later about 1:30 a. m., near Lakewood, while en route to Carlsbad. He had asked for a cigarette about five minutes before his death, which was evidently caused from an internal hemorrhage.

The body was returned to Mayhill for burial yesterday morning. Another Mayhill resident was reported to have been accidentally shot in the shoulder Monday morning, while hunting in the community, but his name was not learned.

SNOW DAMAGES TENT

The snow Friday night did considerable damage to the large brown tent on Main street. On the north side of the tent the snow drifted so deep and became so heavy it split the canvas from top to bottom, and many other places in the tent gave way because of the weight of the snow. Evangelist Wyatt and party worked hard all night long to save the tent, otherwise it would have been a total wreck. Rev. Wyatt says the tent will be repaired and sometime in June "Rising Sun" world famed Indian evangelist will begin a revival in the tent in Artesia. Rev. Wyatt and party left for Roswell Tuesday where a short campaign will be held.

JOHNSON TO PEN

William C. Johnson, sentenced to serve not less than 98 nor more than 99 years in the state pen for the slaying of his sweetheart, Miss Minnie Lumpkins in Roswell on September 28, will be removed to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe the latter part of the week, it was announced in Roswell, Tuesday. This statement was given out by the Chaves county sheriff's department, after it was learned at Santa Fe that Sam Kelsey, deputy warden at the state pen and a brother-in-law of Johnson would resign, effective January 1.

PRINCIPAL ROADS IN EASTERN NEW MEXICO IN A FAIR CONDITION

All highways in this region are open according to current reports. Oiling operations on the highway between here and Dexter have been held up due to the rain, sleet and snow. The equipment used in the road oiling operations is now located at Greenfield. The highway west to the mountains is reported passable. The eastern section of the same highway between Artesia and Lovington is reported in fair conditions. The Roswell Brownfield highway is in good condition to the state line and is passable to Brownfield. The highway from Roswell to Vaughn had been cleared of the heavy snows, as has the highway from Roswell to Fort Sumner. From Roswell to Clovis the road has been cleared of the snow and slush with the exception of one or two places, which are passable.

2. You shall believe us, and buy all you can from us, for we want your best, because we do not know you personally.
3. You shall send your money to us in advance so that we can buy the goods from the factory with your money; you may have to wait a few weeks, but that is our business method.
4. You shall get help from your nearest city or village to build good roads, so that you may easily haul goods from the depot, but do not ask help from us—we don't help to build good roads.
5. You shall buy church bells and altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance—that is our rule.
6. You shall get all the help you can for your church from the business men in your nearest village or city, for, although we have more profits from you than they, it is against our rules to give to churches.

COAL A COMPETITOR OF OIL

We have just read where a form of pulverized coal may become a competitor of oil in the American industrial world. We are not alarmed that we may see a real competition between these two basic industrial units in the near future. Neither are we alarmed over the propaganda that we shall see the end of our oil supply within the next fifteen or twenty years and hence we need to adopt a rigid conservation on all oil producing lands. Some may laugh at the idea of coal becoming a competitor of oil or even taking the place of it, but chemistry has done some wonderful things.

We are of the opinion that when the American supply of crude has been exhausted, if we live to see that time, an economical substitute will be on the market. The way they are finding crude over the various parts of the country we do not expect to see that day, but we refuse to worry, even if the worst comes to the worst.

We also hear much criticism with reference to the waste of oil and gas. There has been, just as in every other large industry during its early years.

We should remember that the oil industry is yet practically an infant when compared with other lines of activity. Still there have been many important developments made in the oil business, resulting in the saving of millions of dollars worth of products, once considered a waste.

GREATEST THING IN LIFE

What is it? To stick around? To be useful? To do one's duty? Yes, first and foremost to those who are dependant on you—your immediate family. It is not their fault that you are related to them. Your duty to them performed, you may develop yourself as an individual. Your personality, your individuality are next in importance.

Is it not a national sense highly important that we formulate a national philosophy founded on the efficient individual and service for the masses?

The concept of Americans by the Europeans, that we are a nation of men and women who are mere dollar-chasers, is a mistaken one. We have amassed the most dollars because we have made wealth a by-product of principle, not putting dollar-worship first.

The principle of service, better service, more service, has become the greatest thing in life with American industrial leaders.

Men who have made millions are generally plain and common as old shoes.

We cannot fully appreciate the paved streets until a wet spell comes.

The Town Doctor

(The Doctor of Towns)

ON
MOST PEOPLE ARE LIKE DUCKS

You read about "self-made" men. There is no such thing. No man ever made himself. Other people did it. The so-called "self-made" man was just smart enough every time to know that every time he did something for others, others would do more for him—and he did it.

You want to make money. You wouldn't be doing what you are doing if you didn't. Believe it or not, the fact remains you can not make money unless your neighbor does. Therefore, what you do to help him, helps you; and what he does to help you, helps him.

Your neighbor isn't just the man next door, but the man next door to him, and the man next door to everybody else in this town. In other words, your neighbors are the people who make up your community.

If your neighbors didn't do for you, where would you be? You can't do a thing by yourself. You can't eat, sleep work or play without others entering into it some way. Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it—but try getting along by yourself and see how far you get.

Socially, the fellow who does not hold up his end is a poor sport, a short horse, a tight wad and a moocher. You say, "He has fish hooks in his pockets," which is anything but complimentary, and something that you would not want said about you. In fact, you detest such people.

There really isn't a great difference between things social and things civic, except that there are more short horses entered in the latter event. Many of you who are good sports socially are moochers civically—not always intentionally so, but so nevertheless.

Most of you are like ducks. Ducks are used to water—in fact, can't live without it. While they have it, they don't worry because of the lack of it, but if their pond dries up, they quack their heads off.

Others are working to keep the water in your pond—to insure continual existence, growth and prosperity of your town that you and your neighbors may live, work, play and make money. Recognize it; appreciate it. If in the past you have unwittingly been a civic tightwad, there is no time like the present to come out of it.

THE COTTON MARKET

The one hundred million dollar loan promised the cotton farmer by the federal farm board, boosted the cotton market, but it was for a short time only. The serious financial situation created by the New York stock exchange soon erased the advances caused by the proposed loan and then came along the cotton forecast, which seems to have a habit of advancing this year. Which all reminds us that it is a hard proposition to get rich raising cotton.

CREDIT

Artesia business men would save several hundred dollars a year through the organization of a retail credit association or a similar association. Not only would such an association serve the merchants in extending credit, but would stop, to a large extent the practice of issuing worthless checks. The trouble has been heretofore that a few figure they are well enough acquainted with the local conditions to know when to issue credit, but the best of us get fooled at times and every time we do, it costs money.

BUDGETING OUR DONATIONS

Budgeting our donations just as we budget other expenses is one logical way of handling this expense item so that the best interests of our local organizations may be served. This month as we understand, the business men will be asked to contribute to at least four drives. Not knowing what will come up next, the ordinary business man is just a little hesitant about giving all that he might, on account of the uncertainty of what may arise next.

We hope that the time is not far distant when we may look to the community chest for the proper distribution to local and foreign organizations, barring disasters, it will save everybody time and money.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Albuquerque citizens are supporting the officers in an effort to stamp out drunken driving, says a press report. This action comes, after continued disregard for the law and the rights of others. Unfortunately the local officers have never had the proper public support. While conditions here have never been what one would term grave, we have not escaped our share of accidents and injuries due to drunken driving.

It is unfortunate that Artesia has an element that has never attempted to cooperate with the local officials in holding auto accidents and other misdemeanors due to drunkenness to a minimum. This same class will go much farther to destroy the good works of an official than the ordinary citizen will go to aid him. It makes no difference who serves as constable, marshal or deputy sheriff if the officer does what he is supposed to do, he soon incurs the disrespect of the same element.

HOW TO BUILD ARTESIA

There used to be a fellow here who would come around and tell us what was wrong with Artesia. Unfortunately this man does not get around very often and we do not know whether the town is being run all right or not. Among the things wrong was that the local merchants got about two or three cents more for a dozen oranges than they did at other places. He seemed to think that if a few little grocery items were changed, it would be necessary to build two or three hundred houses here to hold the people who would want to come here to buy cheap oranges, etc.

Another fellow, who we knew here in an early day thought the Chamber of Commerce ought to chip in and help him drill for oil. Still another fellow thinks we would be better off if we had a livery stable for every garage.

Us? We would hate to turn the town over to them expecting an improvement.

It takes about 50 per cent more corn to fatten young hogs when corn alone is used than when the corn is balanced by some feed rich in protein such as soybean meal or tankage.

It costs each man, woman and child in the United States less than one cent a year for protection from adulterated and misbranded foods and drugs afforded under the federal pure food law.

Although turkey raising under suitable conditions is quite profitable, the number of turkeys in the country is much less than thirty years ago. During the last fifteen years, however, there has been little change in the number raised, and interest in commercial turkey raising has recently increased.

You don't need a chimney sweep to clean the soot from the chimney, all you need is common salt. The fire should first be put in good condition with a substantial bed of hot fuel on top, and about a pound of dry salt sprinkled on the fire close to the furnace door. Shut the door and open all the dampers so the fire will burn as rapidly as the drafts permit. Keep the dampers wide open until the fumes have disappeared, about a half hour. Exceptionally heavy deposits of soot may require an additional dose of salt.

While the livestock raiser doesn't need to know the exact analyses of home grown feeds, some general knowledge of the nutrients they contain is necessary for a balanced and economical ration. In general, the grains such as corn are rich in carbohydrates, especially starch. Bran and other cereal products are fairly rich in protein, while packing-house products such as tankage, cottonseed cake or meal, flaxseed and soybeans are very rich in protein. Straws, stovers, and coarse hays are high in crude fiber. Legume hays are fairly rich in protein and the more important minerals. The oil-bearing seeds are rich in oil. STATE'S SCHOOL FOR BLIND PLANS BUILDING

ALAMOGORDO.—The directors of the New Mexico School for the Blind in session here last week made plans for construction of the new $60,000 building authorized by the last legislature.

The building will consist of two units with from 18 to 20 rooms. They will include a needed assembly hall with a stage, which will be placed on the first floor, and in the basement will be a gymnasium.

The second unit will consist of three dining rooms for boys, girls and faculty, and a central kitchen which will eliminate the necessity of separate kitchens in the dormitories.

INSIDE INFORMATION

Hard cooked eggs are excellent with Finnan Haddie or other smoked fish served in cream sauce or scalloped.

It is not necessary to skim jelly constantly while it is cooking. It is less wasteful to skim once, when the jelly is done, just before you pour it into glasses.

For a good sandwich spread, mix peanut butter and strained honey. Another good honey spread is equal parts of thick honey and grated orange rind, slightly salted.

Children will enjoy their meals and take more interest in eating what they are given if they have their own set of dishes and table implements. The knife, fork and spoon should be easy to grasp and use, the tumbler for water should fit small hands, and the pitcher for milk should be sturdy, easy to pour from, and not too heavy to hold. Very young children can soon learn to feed themselves without mishaps if given the right articles to handle. At first it may be necessary to guard the floor and furniture against spilling, but after a few accidents the child will be quite independent.

The proper care of shoes in wet or cold weather greatly prolongs their life, thorough greasing with suitable oils or greases is necessary for all shoes worn for out-of-doors work. Neat's-foot, cod and castor oils are among the best material for greasing. Tallow and wool grease are also good. First brush the soles and uppers well and then warm the shoes carefully, taking care not to get them very hot. Apply warm oil or grease no hotter than the hand can bear, with a swab of wool or flannel, and rub it well into the leather. Work the grease in with especial care where the sole is joined to the upper. Let the greased shoes dry in a warm but not hot place. Whenever the leather begins to dry or fails to turn water off well, this should be done.

NEXT YEAR'S BUDGET IS SLIGHTLY OVER THREE BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Hoover administration has drawn up its first budget and plans an expenditure of $3,830,000,000 in the fiscal year of 1931, a total $111,000,000 less than that appropriated by congress for disbursement in the corresponding fiscal period ending next June. The figure, however, is $158,000,000 greater than the budget submitted by the Coolidge administration for the present fiscal year. This called for an expenditure of $3,672,000,000 and to this was added nearly $300,000,000 in deficiency appropriations. Neither the amount appropriated for this year nor that planned for the next, however, includes appropriations for the federal farm board, which this year has been given $150,000,000 by congress to finance its activities. Its needs for the year ending in 1931 have not yet been ascertained.

The new budget contemplates an additional appropriation of $10,000,000 for inland waterway development a subject of great interest to President Hoover and full continuation of the five-year program for the development of the army air corps.

The children were gowned to represent characteristic costumes of the different periods and gave many pretty typical dances. It was altogether a delightful entertainment. The eleven different features depicted were: The Primitive (Indian); The First American Invention, Colonial Days, Plantation Melodies, 'When Johnny Comes Marching Home,' A Husking Bee, Westward Ho, Old Fashioned Garden, Spanish America, The Dough Boy's Dream and Modern Fairies.

THE SOCIAL LIGHTS OF WASHINGTON INVOLVED IN BOOTLEG SCANDAL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Information alleged to involve a number of nationally prominent men and women in large liquor transactions was before the justice department Tuesday it was said.

The case closely interlocks with the government's New York indictment against Count Polignac, head of the Co-Bart company and representative of a foreign champagne company, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the dry law and of alleged smuggling of liquor.

It was also understood details in the case had been sent to the White House.

The case involves the operations of an alleged bootleg ring, its customers and the activities of federal officers.

The justice department has received from the prohibition bureau data that a prominent New York business man had a bootleg ring smuggle 245 cases of liquor from aboard his suburban estate. Later the man, after dry agents learned of his cache, surrendered the liquor, and it is now stored at the army base in New York.

This information, together with data that a prominent moving picture star, a former diplomat and several nationally prominent women, were the "best customers" of the bootleg ring has been turned over to U. S. District Attorney Tuttle at New York.

Tuttle is expected to decide after court action on the Count Polignac case, whether conspiracy indictments will be sought against the customers of the ring.

Federal agents are working also to determine whether the steamship company which transported liquor—1,100 gallons smuggled in as dinnerware and 85 cases as earthenware—should be prosecuted.

Decorative Buffet Ensemble

Women interested in sealing wax flowercraft will be fascinated with this resplendent ensemble consisting of candlesticks and centerpiece. It glorifies buffet or formal dinner table with equal grace. They are teaching this fascinating art in fancywork departments where materials for paper flowers are sold. To tell in this brief space "how to make" would be too long a story. Suffice it to say that the bases of candlesticks and the tree are formed of melted-to-softness sealing wax piled in a mass and then left to harden. The flowers and leaves are cut from crepe paper, wired and lacquered with transparent sealing wax paint. A Christmas gift worth receiving, we'll say!

NOW, REFORM THE CALENDAR

Calendar reform, which seemed for a while to be making good strides into favor, fell behind in a nationwide referendum of business organizations conducted by the United States Chamber of Commerce. A majority vote favored the proposals, but according to the rules of the chamber only a two-thirds vote can commit the organization, and hence no official recommendations can be made. The three proposals voted on were:

That the present calendar should be changed to bring about greater comparability in business records for periods within the year, and for periods from year to year.

That forms of changes in the calendar should be determined through international conference.

That the government of the United States should participate in an international conference to determine forms of changes in the calendar.

The last proposal received the largest affirmative vote, 1856 for and 1009 against.

Calendar reform seems destined to become a subject of fanatical favor or opposition, as has the metric system, and as the twenty-four hour day will become, once it is suggested in this country. The metric system has been accepted and put in use in every other American nation, the twenty-four hour day is in use in the most advanced of them, and a revision of the calendar is favored in practically all. We should get in step with our neighbors.

SEASONABLE FOODS

This is the time of the year when the buckwheat cake is abroad in the land. A well made and cooked buckwheat cake is hard to equal in the griddle cake family.

Old-Fashioned Buckwheat Cakes.—Prepare the batter a day or two before it is needed. Procure good buckwheat flour. Add one cupful of water to a yeast cake and when well dissolved add enough buckwheat flour to make a thin batter. Let stand in a cool place until the next evening, then place in a warm place to rise. In the morning add a little warm water if the batter seems too thick, remove one cupful of the batter for the next day's cakes, add flour to make a rather thick batter and set away. To the remainder of the batter add salt, a little soda and water to make a thin batter. Fry on a hot griddle and serve with sausage or bacon. This batter will keep on rising for some time; occasionally add another yeast cake and cakes will always be ready for the griddle.

Raisin Whole Wheat Muffins.—Cream one tablespoonful of butter, add one tablespoonful of brown sugar, one beaten egg and one-half cupful of chopped raisins. Sift one and one-fourth cupfuls of whole wheat flour with one and one-fourth teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix the flour and other ingredients alternately with one cupful of milk. Bake in greased gem pans twenty to twenty-five minutes.

Cream or Milk Toast.—The toast should be freshly made; dip the edges of the crust into hot water, lay on a hot platter and cover with the following: Three tablespoonfuls of butter melted and blended with three tablespoonfuls of flour; add one pint of milk and salt to season. Cook until thick and pour over the softened and well buttered toast. Serve piping hot. If a more nourishing dish is desired add a half cupful of grated cheese to the hot sauce; when melted pour over the toast.

How Charcoal Burners Prepare Their Product

Burning charcoal is one of the chief industries in the Tharandt forest in Saxony, Germany. Charcoal is a form of amorphous carbon and is prepared by burning wood with but little access of air. This is known as limited or smothered combustion. The wood is piled in a heap and covered with sand and earth. Fire is applied at an opening near the bottom of the pile and small openings are provided above for the escape of the gases. Wood consists of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen and the carbon remains in the form of charcoal while the hydrogen and oxygen escape in the form of gas. The resulting product is used for fuel, filters, crayons and as a deodorant. High-grade charcoal used in the manufacture of gunpowder is made by burning special willow wood in iron retorts, in which the hydrocarbons and acids are removed by a process of distillation.

NUTRITION IMPORTANT TOPIC AT CONFERENCE

The all-important question "what shall we have to eat?" was freely discussed in the nutrition section of the Western States Regional Conference held at State College, November 4-8. This conference was marked as a gathering of authorities on human foods such as New Mexico has never seen before. The sessions were devoted to a review of the accomplishments in the western region and the methods used in the various states for the successful promotion of the work.

Dr. Louise Stanley of the research laboratories of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Miss Miriam Birds-eye, nutrition specialist of the department and Dr. Helen Thompson of the University of California, at Los Angeles, gave to the conference the summary results of many years of research in foods laboratories, where experiments have ascertained that the basic diet of the American people, of meat, potatoes, white bread, butter, cheese and milk must be supplemented by an adequate amount of fresh, dried and canned fruits and vegetables and of whole grain products if the American health is to be maintained at a point of efficiency.

As the other part of the program was on range livestock, in order to tie the two parts of the conference together, Miss Lucy Anderson of the bureau of home economics, Washington, D. C., gave a talk on the "Utilization of Meats," following a meat demonstration. Later in the conference, she prepared certain cuts of beef and mutton, using some of the tender and some of the less tender cuts.

Eight of the states represented reported on specific pieces of nutrition work which had been carried on and told the methods used in each state. A nutrition committee was appointed that drew up recommendations for further work in the states, which was to be adapted to the conditions and also to the programs of the

SOUP TO START THE MEAL OFF RIGHT

Soups, being served at the beginning of the meal as they are, act, in the case of bouillon and consommé, more or less as an appetizer, but the cream soups and other hearty soups contribute to the food value of the meal. Such soups are an ideal way to add variety to the home dinner or luncheon, says Miss Inez S. Willson, home economics director of the National Livestock and Meat Board, and indeed may really be considered the main dish of the meal as in the French Pot au Feu. The recipes given below are for soup which may be classed as hearty soups.

Soup With Marrow Dumplings
Chop very finely 2 ounces of beef marrow and stir it smooth with 2 whole eggs, salt, pepper, a pinch of sugar, and a sprig of finely minced parsley. Add 2 cups fine crumbs of bread one day old and a little onion juice. Stir until smooth and place it in the refrigerator so that the mixture will stiffen. When ready to use, form into balls about the size of a walnut, put them into the boiling soup and let them cook slowly for 15 minutes. The dumplings should be light and porous but should not fall apart. They may be tested by boiling one in salt water and then adding more bread crumbs to the dough if necessary.

Soup With Riced Liver
Chop finely 1-3 pound of calf's liver; mash through a fine sieve. Cook, but do not brown, one tablespoon of minced onion in one tablespoon of butter; when soft add one teaspoon minced parsley, salt and pepper, and the inside of two slices of bread which have been soaked in water and squeezed dry. Stir thoroughly and add one egg and just enough flour to have a smooth, thick-flowing mixture. Five minutes before serving, pass it through a coarse sieve into the soup and let it cook for this length of time. Remove with a strainer and put some in each soup plate; then pour over the hot beef soup.

If you desire that you and your children get the most out of their religious training offered by the Sunday school be prompt and regular in your attendance.

The first quarterly conference of the night George Frisch, was held last night, he is his purpose to the school sessions promptly.

At eleven a. m. Harold G. Scoggins preached on the theme, "The Gospel According to Jesus." The congregation last Sunday, when snow covered the ground and the temperature was way down, was the largest we had at regular service for several months. The presiding pastor who preached at the evening service said that the crowd was the largest he had preached to any Sunday during his three years on the district.

An evening message at 7:00 p. m. pastor will preach on the theme "Divine Demand." The new work is getting under way in a most gratifying manner which promises much for the future.

South League every Sunday evening at 6:00 p. m., just an hour before the evening church service.

The league report to the quarterly conference indicated that they are receiving many new members and their programs were well carried out. All young people are invited and urged to take part in these meetings.

Wednesday evening service. The pastor will continue the lecture on the book of Romans two weeks longer, next the lecture is based on Romans 9, 10, and 11. Read these chapters between now and next Wednesday and come to the service.

A special surprise feature is being planned for Sunday December 8th. Keep that date in mind. It is something entirely new. It is a Christmas gift service, nothing like it has ever been held in Artesia.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning the pastor will give an account of the convention. We had four of the leading men of the south and three returned missionaries present. They contributed much to the interest of the convention. It is exceedingly interesting to hear the reports which these missionaries brought us from their fields in the foreign countries. They are from the dark continent, Africa. At the evening service the pastor will bring a message on "God's Interest in Men." Our choir together with the orchestra will bring us some good music.

Our Bible school is doing good work. We have a good corps of fine teachers. We shall be glad to have you and the children in our classes. Come and you will enjoy the study of the book of God. Our young people have interesting programs at 6:30 p. m. All young people are invited to the B. Y. P. U. s. A warm welcome awaits you in all our services.

NEW MOTOR VEHICLE LAW WILL GO INTO EFFECT DEC. 1

SANTA FE.—The new motor vehicle registration law, designed to produce more revenue than the old system, goes into effect December 1. Charles Roehl, motor vehicle commissioner said Tuesday. The new licenses will be available in each of the thirty-one county seats and the new licenses become delinquent on January first.

The first of December marks the passing of the old system which required a registration fee plus property tax on autos. The property tax which has proved so cumbersome in the past now goes to the limbo and there will be nothing but a registration fee. The chief gain under the new law, Mr. Roehl said, will come from heavy trucks, motor cars which in the past were under assessed, and higher minimum rates.

Mr. Roehl estimates an increase of approximately $300,000 on vehicles which have been on the tax rolls in the past at figures under the taxable value, and he expects to pick up $100,000 more on the higher minimum rates.

"On automobiles which have been assessed correctly in the past," he said, "there will be a decrease in some cases. I have personally looked into several cases and have found the new fee at least no higher than last year's charges, on vehicles classed as pleasure cars."

STOCK MARKET BREAKS
AGAIN LAST TUESDAY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A fresh collapse in stock prices Tuesday sent nearly 300 issues on the New York stock crashing to new low levels for the year.

Net declines in scores of active stocks ranged from $2 to nearly $20 a share, with a sprinkling of ordinarily inactive specialties down all the way from $25 to $106 a share.

So great was the volume of trading that the stock exchange ticker did not stop running until two hours and twelve minutes after the three hour session had ended. The day's sales were 6,452,700 shares, as contrasted with 3,367,150 yesterday.

The market closed with most stocks at or near the day's low levels, offering little hope that the flood of liquidation which has wiped out many billions of dollars in quoted values since the first bad break of October 24 had run its course. Scores of issues closed Tuesday at prices which represent only a small fraction of the year's high levels. No responsible person in Wall street would venture a prediction as to how much longer the decline would run.

SAVINGS ACCOUNT SHOULD BE REGARDED AS A FRIEND

By S. W. Straus, president American Society for Thrift.

"I have learned to look upon my savings bank as a strong, dependable friend—the kind of friend that will stand by me if I should ever be in need. It affords me satisfaction to know that I have a good friend of this kind."

The foregoing paragraph is from a letter recently received by this writer from a man who has been patiently saving money for a number of years. The idea of personifying one's bank account in this manner is, we believe, a very helpful idea. Human friendship is one of the most splendid things in life. A friend who can always be counted on is indeed a priceless possession. We may have other blessings in life but we never can arise above the need of human friendship.

There is an old saying that: "A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed" and that is the kind of friend one's saving bank account always is.

Human friendships are, of course, not fostered for the purpose of having a place of refuge or help in times of trouble. In the same way, a savings bank account should not be created merely for the sake of having something to fall back on when we are in need. But when trouble comes to a man, he turns to his friends for sympathy and if need be, help. In the same way he turns to his bank account as a means of salvation when he might otherwise be swept down in ruin.

It also is to be remembered that one's bank account is a friend to whom one may turn for help when opportunities for self-advancement come along. Many a man owes his success in life to the fact that he was able to take advantage of an opportunity when it presented itself—an opportunity that could not have been utilized had he been without funds.

It is well to keep in mind the thought that a savings bank account is a friend that every dollar we add to this account makes this friend just that much stronger and that much more able to help us when we have need or opportunity for assistance.

COMMISSION HEARS
ARGUMENTS IN LEA
RAILWAY CONTEST

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Oral arguments were heard Saturday before the inter-state commerce commission in the contest between the Texas-New Mexico Railroad and the South Plains and Santa Fe Railroad for the authorization to enter New Mexico oil districts of Lea county.

The Texas-New Mexico has asked permission to construct from its present terminal at the Texas-New Mexico state line to Lovington in Lea county.

Later the South Plains and Santa Fe sought authorization to construct a line from Seagraves, Texas to Lovington and a branch line from a point near Lovington southward thru La county. The plans of the latter road for the extension closely paralleled the proposed extension of the Texas-New Mexico line. The Texas-New Mexico company is a branch of the Texas-Pacific and the South Plains is a branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad.

Examiner H. C. Davis recommended to the commission that the Texas-New Mexico construction be permitted, and that the South Plains line from Seagraves to Lovington also be allowed, but he opposed that part of the South Plains application which paralleled the proposed extension of the Texas-New Mexico line. The Texas-New Mexico company is a branch of the Texas-Pacific and the South Plains is a branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad.

Italian Leathercraft

In beautiful Italy where art even survives, hosts of skilled craftsmen are busy creating intriguing handbags of finely wrought leather. Almost unprecedented enthusiasm marks the present vogue for bags of the type illustrated. The leather of which they are made being hand illuminated and tooled in the inimitable Italian way. Some have zipper fastenings and leather-laced edges. Others are mounted on rare frames with handles. No Christmas gift suggestion one may make will outrival that of one of these choice bags. One of the many attractions of these bags is that they are obtainable in all the fashionable costume colors.

COTTON FORECAST
INCREASED ESTIMATE
--15,009,000 BALES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A cotton crop of 15,000,000 bales this year was forecast Friday by the department of agriculture.

To November 1 last year a total of 10,162,482 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, had been ginned. In 1927 a total of 9,920,846 running bales counting round bales as half bales had been ginned prior to November 1.

Ginnings by states included:
Texas 3,142,858
Oklahoma 704,878
New Mexico 37,028
Arizona 59,636

The indicated production by states follows:

Texas 3,950,000
Oklahoma 1,225,000
New Mexico 86,000
Arizona 157,000

For New Mexico 130,000 acres is left for harvest, and the production is indicated at 86,000 bales, compared with 88,000 bales last year, and an estimate at 86,000 bales, compared with 88,000 bales last year, and an estimate of 84,000 bales on October 1, this year. The ginnings in New Mexico to November 1 amounted to 37,000 running bales. It will be seen that the yield per acre is estimated at only 316 pounds, compared with an average yield of 360 pounds last year. The decrease is due to worm damage, as well as to an increased proportion of dry land in this year's acreage. The production in Dona Ana county is indicated at 42,000 bales on about 56,000 acres. In Eddy county the production is estimated at 25,000 bales from about 38,000 acres, and in Chaves county 14,000 bales is estimated from about 20,000 acres. In Roosevelt county 2,500 bales are estimated from about 9,000 acres. The production for Quay, Hidalgo, Luna, Sierra, Lea and Otero counties is estimated at about 5,000 bales.

How Military Salute Came
 The military salute is supposed to be a survival of a ceremony observed in Rome at the time of Julius Caesar. Due to the large influx of foreigners largely as a result of conquest and to other causes, the Roman population was composed of many races and castes between which at times relations were rather strained. So, it was the custom when an inferior was in the position of returning a greeting of his social superior to raise his hand palm outward in order to show that his hand contained no dagger. This precaution against assassination was quite commonly taken by the so-called higher classes; and it is the movement of the hand in question which is said to have developed into the military salute.

How Hail is Formed
 The summer hail, or true hail, is caused by the rapid uprush of air in a violent thunderstorm which carries raindrops so high that they freeze. On freezing they fall back to a lower level, where they pick up more water, and again are caught in an upward current and carried up to the freezing levels. This is repeated several times until the hailstone gets so heavy that it falls through the rising air down to the earth. The winter hail, properly called sleet, consists of frozen raindrops, the rain having fallen through a surface layer of cold air.

How Far Eye Can See
 The distance that the eye can see has not, so far as we know, been definitely measured. It is reported that observers on the Mediterranean coast of France have sighted lights on the Corsican mountains, 186 miles away, and that mirrors on Mount Shasta, California, were sighted from Mount Helena, a distance of 192 miles.

LOW PRICE OF COTTON WILL NOT AFFECT THE FEDERAL FARM LOAN

CHICAGO, Ill.—The federal farm board Tuesday issued a statement reassuring cotton farmers that the new low of 16.17 cents a pound will not effect loan rates to cotton cooperatives. The statement came from Carl Williams, cotton expert of the board, shortly after he learned that the price of December cotton futures at New York dropped Tuesday to the low of 16.17.

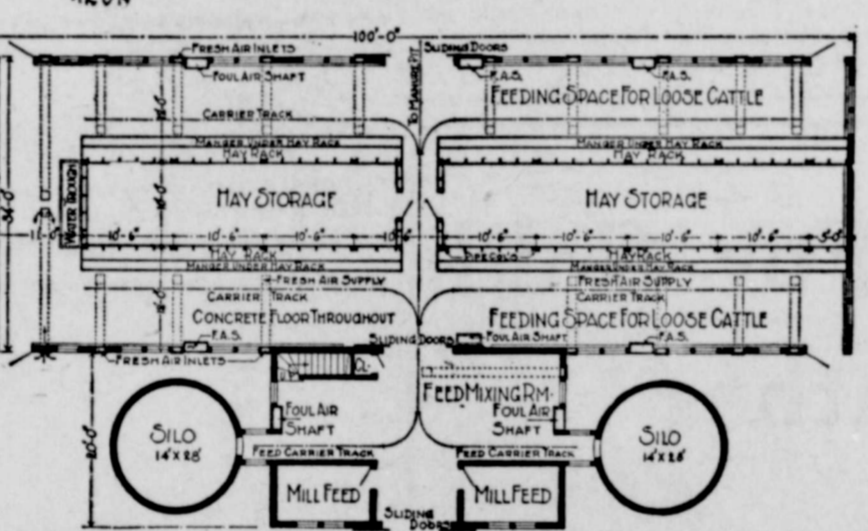

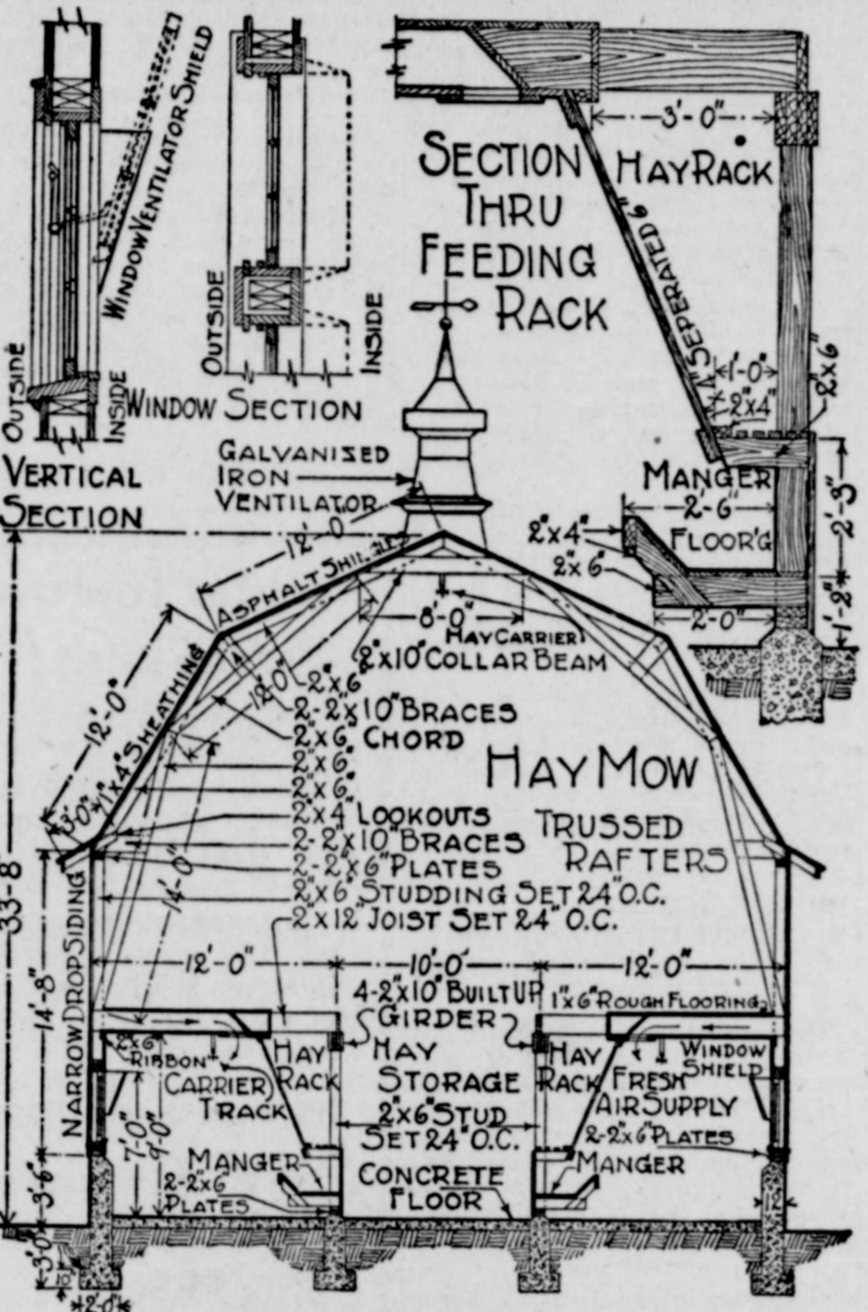

"The federal farm board is not disturbed over the fall in the price of futures contracts for cotton," Mr. Williams said, "although the low reached Tuesday is nearly one half cent a pound below the amount which deducting the costs of delivering to New York, the board is lending to cotton cooperatives of the south."

"It knows that the cause of the drop is the demoralized condition of the stock exchanges and it has full faith in the real supply and demand value of cotton."

"The board is lending to cotton cooperatives at the rate of sixteen cents per pound, basis middling seven-eighths staple at the ten designated spot markets, with proper differentials off and on for grade and staple."

"Less necessary freight and other charges, these cotton cooperatives will pass the government's loan on to all of their seasonal pool members, old and new, at country markets, the amount which the farmer will get varying with the distance from ocean port points. In spite of the decline in price on futures markets, and regardless of the depth to which stock exchange disturbances may carry that price, the board will continue to lend, as above stated."

Beef Cattle Feeding Plant That Cuts Down Cost of Labor

By W. A. RADFORD
 Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 407 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

With fat cattle selling, when this was written, at $17.00 per hundred, the raising and feeding of beef animals is most profitable. However, the feeding operations on the farm will bring a greater return where there is equipment to cut the labor cost and to house the animals so that the feed they consume be used to the best advantage. Herewith is reproduced an exterior view of a modern beef feeding plant. Also there are floor plans showing how the exterior is arranged and a cross-section giving some of the details of construction. The barn is "U" shaped. The main structure is 34 feet wide and 100 feet long. The stable floor is open and is provided with hay racks and mangers running through the center. These racks are built up so that hay is stored in the racks, making an abundant supply constantly available to the animals. At the front of the barn are the feed storage and mixing rooms with twin silos, one on either side. These silos are 14 feet in diameter and 28 feet high. They are connected with the feed room by an enclosed chute to which overhead carrier tracks run. These tracks extend into the stable and are so located that silage is carried to the mangers on either side of the hay storage racks. The barn is of tight weather-proof construction and is equipped with a suction ventilation system. It provides a warm comfortable place for the feeder stock to stay in the winter time. Comfortable animals use their food to put on weight and fat instead of to provide heat to protect them from the cold as is the case when they are in the open during the severe winter time.

PROMINENT JURIST IS HELD IN STABBING CASE AT AUSTIN, TEX.

AUSTIN, Texas — Judge John Brady, 57, at one time judge of the third court of civil appeals was being held without bond Monday in Travis county jail, where he was placed Sunday charged with killing Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28, stenographer for commission to aid the state supreme court.

A preliminary hearing was to have been held Monday, but District Attorney Brooks said witnesses are in San Antonio and he will seek a delay.

Brady, a practicing lawyer of Austin who had held numerous state bar positions, was arrested Sunday night when, according to witnesses, he stabbed Miss Highsmith to death in front of her home.

Officers who held him in jail on a charge of murder said investigation revealed he had been keeping company with Miss Highsmith for several years. She returned home at midnight with an escort and he awaited her, they said. The slaying was attributed to jealousy.

How Influenza Got Name
 Although most of us have suffered with influenza in the last few years, only a scattered few know where the name originated, or that in America it is simply a newly applied designation for a malady as old as the human race. Dr. Alvah H. Doty, noted industrial health authority, quoted in the Golden Book Magazine, offers this interesting explanation: "The Italians believed that the symptoms were caused by the influence of the stars, and so they called the malady 'influenza.' The French were more descriptive writers, though less fanciful. They thought the choking sensation that went with it resembled a throttling or gripping of the throat, so they called the disease 'la grippe.' The old English word for the same disease is 'cold.'"

JOHNSON GIVEN 99 YEAR SENTENCE BY RICHARDSON

William C. Johnson, slayer of his sweetheart Minnie Lumpkins at Roswell on the night of September 28, was sentenced to serve not less than 98 and not more than 99 years in the state penitentiary Saturday morning by Judge Richardson, says the Roswell Record.

Johnson pleaded guilty Friday to second degree murder and Saturday morning received his sentence at an early hour.

"In view of all the circumstances connected with this case, and without any consideration for yourself the court has determined to accept your plea of guilty to second degree murder," Judge Richardson told Johnson as he stood before him Saturday morning.

Still bearing the marks of his attempts at self destruction William C. Johnson, member of a prominent Lincoln county family, heard without apparent emotion Saturday morning the sentence which will probably keep him for the remainder of his natural life behind prison bars.

An aged mother and father, two sisters and two brothers sat just behind the rail in Chaves county district court this morning and heard the sentence passed. They wept bitter tears as the sentence was pronounced, and followed their son and brother back to the county jail after the sentence.

Johnson has been ready to atone for his crime since the very beginning. He realizes, he said, to some extent the enormity of the crime which he committed under the influence of liquor on that night in September when he stepped unannounced into the George Foreman home and turned a blazing pistol on his sweetheart, Minnie Lumpkins and her chum, Miss Norma Foreman as the two girls sat chatting together. Johnson would have pleaded guilty to first degree murder, had the matter been possible under court procedure. He never has denied his guilt and from the beginning has said: "I am ready for anything they want to give me."

Several have asked Owen McClay for a picture dressed in his hunting togs. Mac looked the part of a second Teddy Roosevelt, when he came riding in behind Joe Hamann's buck. While Mac was on the range the deer thought he was kidding and would come so close it would give him the Buck Aque every time he would see a dead pine tree or anything that resembled a buck's horns.

Don't Build Barns by Guess--Use a Plan

There was a time when any kind of a shelter was considered good enough to house a farmer's stock and his garnered crop this is not true today.

The modern farm is a great manufacturing plant where widely diversified lot of things are being produced, and the plant must be just as well housed as any other factory. The farmer knows that equal in importance with his own agricultural skill is the good, serviceable, adequate farm building.

THE POORLY EQUIPPED FARM CANNOT COMPETE!

Do you know it costs about as much to build a poorly ranged, unattractive farm building as it does to build one that is properly arranged, and adds attractiveness to the place? To the best results out of material and labor, you should build by plan.

WINNING PERCENTAGE OF GRID WARRIORS IS CUT BY TWO LOSSES

The winning percentage of the Artesia football eleven is somewhat lower with the loss of two games during the past week. In Friday's contest at Carlsbad, the defeat suffered by Artesia shows how easily the dope may be upset. Over-confidence on the part of Artesia was largely responsible for the 6-0 score for Carlsbad, although playing on the home grounds, the Cavemen exhibited a real fighting spirit. Allen, speedy Carlsbad half-back made one 20 yard run which netted Carlsbad the only touchdown of the game. Artesia threatened Carlsbad's goal line in the last quarter, but the long gains made came too late in the game.

Losses to Portales

Outplayed and on the defensive most of the game, Artesia lost a hard fought contest to the Portales Rams at Portales Monday on a muddy field. Eighteen local players made the trip.

Portales' victory was largely due to a heavy line and backfield. Artesia's line averaged 150 pounds as against 175 pounds for Portales, and the local backfield averaged 145 as against about 170 pounds for Portales.

The summary—Artesia kicks to Portales. Portales makes two first downs and is forced to punt from their 40 yard line. Clayton returns punt to Artesia's 35 yard line. Off tackle and around end plays nets locals two first down, when they are forced to punt on Portales 45 yard line. Portales returns punt to their 40 yard line and with a series of off tackle plays and end runs, carried the ball to within one yard of their goal line, where the local line holds and Portales loses ball on downs. Clayton punts and Portales returns punt to 35 yard line. Portales carries the ball within three yards of their goal line, where they are held to the fourth down, when an end run gives them the first touchdown and they kick goal for the extra point. Artesia kicks to Portales and the ball is returned to Portales 35 yard line. Portales runs two off tackle plays for 8 yards to kick. Kick is returned by Clayton to Artesia's 30 yard line. Hill then takes ball for 30 yards. Portales holds and Artesia is forced to punt. Portales makes 9 yards on line smashes and quarter ends.

Second quarter—Artesia is forced to take the defensive this part of the game, being unable to cope with the much heavier team. Portales makes six first downs and Artesia two. In the closing minutes of the quarter, Portales advanced the ball to Artesia's 20 yard line, where they kick goal from the field. Score: Portales 10; Artesia 0.

Third quarter—Artesia kicks to Portales and they return ball to their 40 yard line. With three successive plays through right tackle, they make 18 yards. Another first down was made and the Artesia line held. Artesia is penalized twice and fails to make a first down and kicks out of bounds on their 30 yard line. Portales carries ball to Artesia's one yard line, but loses ball on downs. Artesia tries end run and makes two yards. A triple play is attempted and they lose 6 yards. Artesia punts out of bounds on their 30 yard line. Portales makes 30 yards through tackle. Pass is attempted but it is incomplete. Portales goes around Artesia's left end for 7 yards. Portales gains 8 more yards through left tackle. A left end run around nets the second touchdown for Portales, but fail to kick goal. Artesia attempts pass, but it is intercepted by Portales fullback, who carries ball to Artesia's 20 yard line. Two plays off tackle nets the third pointer and the goal is kicked as the quarter ends.

Fourth quarter—Artesia takes defensive and open up on passes but is unable to put ball beyond Portales' 30 yard line.

Final score 23-0.

LIVESTOCK EXPERTS MEET AT CONFERENCE

For the second time in the history of the far west, representatives of twelve western range states and the U. S. Department of Agriculture gathered to study the problems of range livestock men and formulate a program of action.

Throughout the conference the fact was emphasized that the livestock industry is the biggest single industry of the western states and that help that might be brought to bear upon all phases of the industry including maintaining and utilizing more efficiently the natural ranges, improving of livestock and more economic production and marketing, was of fundamental importance to the industry.

Not only were extension workers from all the range states present to give all the benefits of their experience and to gain from the experience of others but authorities from related organizations brought much information and many valuable suggestions to the workers. R. M. Hagen, Manager of the Western Cattle Marketing Association set forth some of the range livestock problems arising from consumer demands for beef. H. R. Tolley, of the department of agriculture discussed the economic forces affecting the western livestock industry. D. W. Hartzell of the National Livestock and Meat Board demonstrated the up-to-date method of cutting carcasses of lamb and beef to meet the present day demands for small cuts of meat. Miss Lucy Alexander of the U. S. Department of Agriculture ably showed the utilization of these different cuts in a demonstration that proved most popular both to producer and consumer.

Plans were formulated at the conference for furthering the livestock industry by maintaining and utilizing more efficiently the natural ranges, by livestock improvement, and by more economical production and marketing.

Others from the office of cooperative extension work who assisted with the program are: A. B. Graham, E. Merritt, Dr. C. D. Lowe, W. R. Chapline, E. W. Sheets, Miss Madge Reese.

HOW

"BOWERY," OLD NEW YORK STREET, GOT ITS NAME.—A visit to New York would be incomplete without a visit to its Bowery, known throughout the country as the "toughest street in the world." Yet few of its visitors know that this drab and noisy street was named for its fertile farms hundreds of years before it had gained its bad boy reputation.

When William Kieft (William the Testy) was governor of New Amsterdam in 1637, the town was just a settlement of fur traders. The Dutch West India company was anxious to stabilize the settlers and so it divided the eastern side of Manhattan island, up as far as what is now Fourteenth street, into six fine farms, called boweries, Gov. Peter Stuyvesant, who followed Kieft, bought "Petersfarm," or the Great Bouwerie, in 1651, and started the Bouwerie village where Cooper Union is now.

The road which connected New Amsterdam and the boweries was known as Bouwerie lane. It later became "the first road which extended the length of the island—the post road, called by the English the Bowery road, and now the Bowery. In time, low, picturesque Dutch houses lined both sides, and later the British army of occupation encamped beside them."

Why Evening Is Chosen

Balloon races are started toward evening because hydrogen, with which the balloon is filled, will expand with heat. The danger of this expansion would not be so great toward evening. The hydrogen has greater lifting power when cool and condensed than when expanded.

Why "Female Seminary"

The name, "female seminary," was coined by Emma Willard, one of the pioneers in the field of American education. When in 1814 she opened a school for young ladies she could not call it a college for fear of "intruding on the province of men."
