FLOWER SHOW IS TO BE HELD SATURDAY IN SCHUSTER BLDG.

The flower show, postponed from October 1st, will be held Saturday as planned. The place of the show is the Schuster building, corner Third and Main streets. A copy of the rules and regulations of the show can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office. About thirty-one entrants have registered thus far. Awards made in the Yard and Garden division will also be announced at this time.

All exhibits should be in the show room by 9:00 a. m. Saturday. The dahlia exhibit will not be up to the usual standard owing to the lateness of the season, but no exhibitor will have the advantage in this respect. So if your flowers do not look as well as you would like them to, bring them on anyway.

MCADOO DRUG SOLD AND NAME CHANGED TO CORNER DRUG

The McAdoo Drug Store, located at the corner of Main and Second street has passed to a new ownership. Purchase of the McAdoo Drug was announced Saturday by the Mann Drug Co., and the new owners assumed charge Monday. Aubrey Watson, who has been associated with his uncle, Hollis Watson will have charge of the McAdoo stand, to be known as the Corner Drug Store. V. E. Eubank, manager of the McAdoo interests has been transferred to Carlsbad. Fred Henderson will be retained at the Corner Drug and Otice Brown, formerly with the Mann Drug will assist Mr. Watson in the operation of the Mann Drug.

With the operation of two stores here, the Mann Drug interests believe that they can better serve the public and will appreciate a continuation of the patrons of the McAdoo Drug. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McAdoo were up from Carlsbad Monday afternoon, attending to the final details connected with the transfer.

FINED FOR RIDING WITH A DRUNKEN DRIVER

Johnny Bryan plead guilty to a charge of accompanying a drunken driver in police court Monday and was given a fine of $25.00 and costs. Bryan previously waived a hearing on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor and was bound over to await the action of the Eddy county grand jury. Some three weeks ago local officers raided the premises of Bryan and found three and a half pints of liquor.

GEORGE L. REESE, JR. IS UNOPPOSED

George L. Reese, Jr., of Lovington, democratic candidate for district attorney of the 5th judicial district, will not be opposed in the November election. The republicans failed to nominate a candidate for this office.

COTTON PRODUCTION UP TO 11,425,000 BALES ON OCT. 8 TH

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This year's cotton crop was forecast Saturday by the department of agriculture at 11,425,000 bales of 500 pound gross weight compared with 11,310,000 bales forecast a month ago and 17,096,000 bales ginned last year.

The forecast was based on conditions existing October 1 which showed the crop to be 54.2 per cent of normal, compared with 56.6 on September 1 this year, 69.3 on October 1 last year and 52.8 per cent the ten year October 1 average.

The condition indicated a yield of 149.3 pounds per acre as compared with 147.8 pounds a month ago and 209.2 pounds produced last year.

The condition of the crop Oct. 1 and a partial indicated production by states follow: Texas 59 and 4,063,000; New Mexico 83 and 91,000; Arizona 86 and 84,000; California 89 and 120,000.

ITINERARY IS MADE KNOWN FOR STATE DEMO CANDIDATES

Party Headed By Governor Seligman Will Visit Here — Efforts Being Made To Have Senator Bratton Speak Here.

Democratic state headquarters have announced itineraries for three parties of democratic candidates. Only one party headed by Governor Seligman will visit the Pecos valley and eastern New Mexico. The speaking engagements for what is known as party No. 1 including Governor Arthur Seligman, Warren Graham, Frank Vesley and Mrs. Georgia Lusk follow: October 26, Carlsbad, 7:30 p. m.; October 27, Hope, 10:00 a. m., Artesia 3:00 p. m. Roswell, 7:30 p. m.; October 28, Hobbs, 2:00 p. m., Lovington, 7:30 p. m.

Note: The above speaking engagements include only the communities of the southeastern part of the state. The second party of speakers composed of Congressman Dennis Chavez, A. W. Hockenull, Don R. Casado and Mrs. M. P. Baca, will speak in the north and western portions of the state ending the tour at Albuquerque on November 7th. The third party composed of E. K. Neumann, attorney general, A. Velarde and J. D. Lamb will speak in the northern part of the state ending the campaign at Santa Fe on November 7th.

The party headed by Congressman Dennis Chavez will come as far into this territory as Roswell, speaking there on October 20th. It was later learned that Attorney General E. K. Neumann will be at Carlsbad on November 2nd, while the remainder of his party will speak at Carrizozo. Efforts are being made to have Senator Bratton speak in the valley.

MEET TUESDAY TO ARRANGE FOR USED CLOTHING DRIVE

A drive for used clothing will be made in a short time by the Artesia Welfare Committee. It is the intention of the committee to have the local churches co-operate in collecting the clothing. The need for clothing has never been greater.

The need is expected to grow as winter comes on, so hearty public response will be appreciated. The committee announces that shoes of all kinds are in general demand. It is immaterial whether the shoes need repairing, give them to the committee regardless of their condition. Uses can be found for all kinds of clothing, especially underwear, dresses, and overalls, or any clothing that will keep someone warm. The committee is also in need of quilts and blankets. Rural residents are requested to leave clothing at the Bullock warehouse, where they will be taken care of. Fred Brainard announced yesterday that representatives of the various churches, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Women's club would meet in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock and devise plans for gathering the used clothing for the needy.

LEGION OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED WED.

New officers of the Clarence Kepple Post American Legion were installed last night at the regular meeting of the post. Past Commander William Linell acting as installing officer inducted the following officers into office: Chas Morgan, commander; C. R. Vandagriff, vice-commander; R. A. Wilcox, finance officer; H. W. Clady, adjutant; Fred Cole, historian; Bryan Savoie, sergeant-at-arms.

The following committees were appointed: Executive in addition to the officers; W. M. Linell, M. G. Schulze, Fred Brainard; Americanism; C. R. Vandagriff, Jess Truett, Albert Richards; entertainment; Rude Wilcox, C. R. Martin, Earl Bigler; publicity; M. G. Schulze, Sid Cox, E. D. Darst; membership; C. R. Vandagriff, Alex McGonagill, C. E. DILLON AND PARTY TO SPEAK HERE ON WEDNESDAY P. M.

Will Be Guest At Monthly Luncheon Chamber Of Commerce And Will Speaking Date In The Afternoon.

Ex-Governor Dick Dillon of Encino, Hugh Woodward of Albuquerque and Oliver Lee of Alamogordo are scheduled to appear in Artesia next Wednesday afternoon to fill a republican state campaign speaking date, is was announced here yesterday. The visit of Ex-Governor Dillon and the party of republican speakers is yet somewhat tentative according to an early announcement.

Arrangements have been made to have Ex-Governor Dillon and party as guests at the monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday at 12:15. A large turnout is expected, but no politics will be discussed at this time, Fred Brainard, manager of the Chamber of Commerce said. Plans are underway to have the speakers fill an engagement at the Majestic theater Wednesday afternoon.

Definite announcement that Ex-Governor Dillon and a party of republican speakers would be here Wednesday, October 19th, was made this morning.

ATTENTION PLEASE

The Cemetery Board has decided not to have a drive for finances this fall, but will depend upon the contributions from the lot owners and others, who are willing to help in keeping the cemetery in desirable condition. Your generosity in helping with this worthy cause will be appreciated by the board.

ARTESIA FACES A HARD STRUGGLE IN SECOND HOME GAME

Friday afternoon, the Artesia high school bull dogs will meet the Hobbs high school at the Brainard park, in the second home game of the season. Both teams will be about evenly matched in weight, as can be seen from a comparative tabulation made from the starting lineup. Hobbs, thus far is an unknown quantity in the high school football circles of eastern New Mexico and may upset the dope bucket in plastering a defeat on the home record of the Bull Dogs. This feature will add interest to the coming contest. The game starts promptly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Admission 20 and 35 cents.

The probable starting lineup with the weight of each player and position is as follows:

| Hobbs | Position | Artesia |
|---------------|----------|---------------|
| Strech, 157 | LT. | Traylor, 190 |
| Rankin, 186 | LG. | Holeman, 157 |

PECOS DEFEATS ARTESIA

The Pecos, Texas high school eleven defeated Artesia last week at Pecos by a score of 12-0. Further details of the game were not received.

TROY OLDS IS HURT WHEN BRAKES LOCK AND CAR OVERTURNS

Troy Olds, employe of the J. C. Penney Co., was seriously hurt Sunday night near 10:30 o'clock when a Ford coach he was driving overturned near the Farmer's gin. The accident was probably due to faulty steering gear and brakes, according to information gathered by an Advocate reporter Monday. Some mechanism went wrong in the steering gear and when Mr. Olds attempted to stop, one of the left rear brakes locked, causing the car to leave the highway and overturn a couple of times. Mr. Olds who was alone at the time of the accident, suffered a laceration about the head that required seven or eight stitches. He received several minor bruises about the body. The car was almost completely wrecked.

GRADE AND STAPLE COTTON IMPROVING GINNINGS 1,547 B'LES

Good headway has been made in the cotton gathering operations the past few days with fair weather prevailing and gins have been running full time. Dry weather has also improved the grade and staple of the cotton. Several bales of good middling cotton have been ginned recently according to a report made by Chas. Rogers, manager of the Farmers Gin.

Picking prices continue at the same level of forty and fifty cents per hundred, with a tendency toward the lower level. A substantial gain was made by the six gins of this area since the last report. Ginnings are divided as follows:
Lake Arthur gin..... 27
Cottonwood gin..... 225
Association gin, Espeulla *... 181
Association gin, Artesia..... 284
Farmers gin, Artesia..... 442
Association gin, Atoka *..... 388
Total 1,547
*Totals on above ginning tabulated before noon yesterday, except the association gins at Atoka and Espeulla which include ginnings to Tuesday night.

LARGEST WOOL CLIP IS SOLD AT ROSWELL

Ralph Vandewart, New Mexico wool buyer Tuesday announced the purchase of the 1932 wool clip of the F. A. Hubbell Sheep company of 250,000 pounds. This wool was purchased by Mr. Vandewart for French Worsted Company, of Woonsocket, R. I. and the wool was produced near Magdalena and the price, while not officially stated, is believed to have been about 12 cents a pound.—Roswell Dispatch.

RAIN LAST NIGHT

A slow rain fell here last night for about two hours, the precipitation amounted to .18 inches. The rain fall was fairly general over the area. The recent moisture is expected to hasten frost.

SMITH STARTS WELL INSPECTION LAW TO BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED

C. G. Smith of Roswell, artesian well inspector has started his annual inspection of the artesian basin in Eddy county. Mr. Smith, who was a caller at The Advocate office Tuesday stated that he intended to enforce the artesian well law with reference to surface wastage, which is to the effect that all wells must be equipped to quickly and effectively shut off the entire flow of water.

Three automatic water guages are located in the basin and from reading the guages, Mr. Smith said that he had learned the water level at this time had reached the winter high. The winter high was not reached last year until the latter part of December and the first of January.

WILD GEESE MOVE TO SOUTH

If the migration of wild geese means colder weather, winter is on its way. Tuesday a flock of geese was seen flying southward, after cold and snow was reported in many Rocky Mountain states.

Eight Year Girl Escapes Would Be Kidnaper

Makes Escape From The Auto When A Rough Spot Is Hit — Officers Warn Parents Watch Their Children.

The resourcefulness of little Miss Alice Virginia Martin, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Martin residents of Artesia enabled her to escape possible harm from a would-be kidnaper. Last night about dark a man drove up to the Martin residence in south Artesia and asked Alice and her brother, Burns, to help him find George Smith. When the children attempted to get in the car, Burns was shoved from the running board and the door closed and the car started in a south and west direction. Burns followed the car two blocks in an attempt to get the license number, but failed.

Instead of going in a south-west direction the driver turned and traveled northward, holding his hand over the mouth of the little girl to prevent an alarm. When the car reached a rough spot in the northwest part of town, the man found it necessary to release the little girl and she took advantage of the situation to jump out of the car door.

In the meantime the boy had returned home and Mr. Martin notified officers. The girl was gone from home about forty minutes. She ran all the way home and returned exhausted and frightened.

Officers believe that the man may have been unbalanced and have issued a warning to all parents to watch closely after their children. The children should be cautioned not to accept an auto ride with a stranger.

WANTS TO DAM PECOS

A petition is now being circulated in Loving County, Texas by County Judge J. C. Ramsey, addressed to Governor Ross Sterling asking for a loan of $800,000 to this county from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of constructing a dam on the Pecos river above Mentone, or wherever the board of water engineers designate, the purpose being the conservation of storm water to be used in irrigating approximately 20,000 acres of land in this county.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, formed for the purpose of financing development, by the government, is one of the depression relief measures.—Pecos (Texas) Enterprise.

GAME COMMISSION MEET

The state game commission is meeting today in Santa Fe to make plans for patrolling the big game area. The commission will also decide whether to extend the quail season in six counties.

WILD HOBBS WELL SOAKS PART OF THE RESIDENCE SECTOR

Fire from a wild oil well threatened the central residential section of Hobbs Tuesday, when the control head blew off the Turner No. 1 well of the Skelly Oil Co. This well was completed the first of September and the Olson Drilling Co., had just completed moving the rig when the control head blew off and the oil spouted high in the air. Three blocks of the resident section was soaked with oil when the well flowed for an hour before being shut off. Residents hastily abandoned their homes endangered and moved back late Tuesday afternoon.

TURKEYS REPORTED PLENTIFUL IN HILLS

Wild turkeys are reported plentiful in the Sacramento region this year. Feed is abundant and there is an unusually large supply of acorns, which ought to insure plenty of fat game.

THINK TWICE, YOUNG PEOPLE ! !

In a recent radio address, W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, observed that the encroachment of government competition into industry was narrowing chances of young people to go into business for themselves.

Our country reached world leadership through the freedom of individual initiative. So far our socialist friends have been unable to show the same advancement for the individual through their experiments. Under their theory that the government should guarantee employment to worthy people, the government would have to take over all business, including land ownership. It could then, in theory at least, regulate production and income. Every citizen would virtually be a ward or an employee of the government and depend upon the public treasury for his "keep." As all government industries are tax-exempt, they would have to make a profit as does private industry, which, in turn, would be handed to the public treasury to be redistributed, with the citizens drawing their living from the public payrolls or charitable institutions.

The fundamental reason for all past failures of government in the field of business, is simply this: Government does not have to make a profit. It can always demand additional sums from the taxpayers to cover inefficiency, carelessness or mediocrity on the part of public servants who are in no way responsible for losses. This condition breeds lack of initiative in the rank and file of public employes for, in the vast majority of cases, they can reap no reward for superior ability. Once we eliminate individual incentive we have gone a long way toward eliminating progress.

Private enterprise, on the other hand, must be self supporting and make a profit in order to exist and pay taxes to maintain all functions of government. Each business and each individual must strive for efficiency. Every individual has an opportunity to progress according to his ability and latent genius is thereby developed. The record of this nation shows that the achievement of its citizens have benefited the world and given our own people more conveniences, more luxuries, higher wages, more leisure time and more independence than are enjoyed by the citizens of any other country.

Yes, indeed, young people, think twice before you ask government to guarantee you a living and make you a ward. Once it does that, the age of individualism is over and the future will hold little hope for human progress.

MORE ABOUT EXPENSES

The committee on postal regulation in the lower house has recommended that letter postage be reduced to the former charge of two cents. Ordinarily you would not think that the matter of saving one cent on letter postage would be material to the post office patron, but we are told here that as soon as the three cent postage went into effect, more people started to using one cent postals.

The two cent check law hasn't been so hot either. We'll venture the assertion that more than half of the check writing has been cut out. Checks are still used to pay out of town bills, but the sender pays five cents for this privilege, regardless of the size of the check.

We do not believe that the majority of people would mind the additional tax, if there was any assurance that the money thus secured would be spent wisely, but the impression is general that the government has never realized a depression has existed. And after perusing a few of the appropriation bills we have almost come to the same conclusion. Up in Washington we are told folks are still spending freely, which is a good thing for Washington. There has been no appreciable let up in the number of new cars sold and Washington folks are still buying the so-called luxuries.

Notwithstanding this condition there are some departments of state and national governments, existing on a mere pittance. For instance we ask our state senators and representatives to donate us about sixty days or more every two years. The state solons don't draw salary enough to pay expenses. We operate on about the same principle as the average hotel, where the porters depend on the tips for salaries.

A NEW METHOD OF FARMING

More New Mexico dry land will be farmed in the future years as result of experiments being conducted in contouring and terracing. Those who have tried contouring this year are well pleased with results, especially where the contouring was done under the supervision of an engineer. Rains during the past week could have been worth at least twice as much with contouring and terracing in more general practice.

Even pasture land can be made more productive if ranchers will practice the principles of contouring. Floods in the smaller streams could be controlled.

It would have been a splendid thing if the farmers and ranchers had been in position to utilize more of the flood waters of the smaller streams during the rainy period.

NO POLITICAL MAGIC FOR HARD TIMES

Depressions are rarely made and never cured by the politicians. If you don't believe this read your American history. The present depression is due in a large measure to overproduction and surpluses. The politician who promises so much now will not be big enough to arise to the need of the hour in the event of his election. He'll be too busy playing politics. The cure for the present financial condition rests with the individual efforts of the rank and file of the American citizens. You can't wave aside hard times with some political magic.

Ninety to one hundred thousand bills are introduced in the various legislatures every two years and the number of our laws are increased several thousand each year and yet they say that ignorance of the law is no excuse for breaking it.

The successful presidential candidate has our congratulations and along with them our sympathy, for he'll need them both.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Our city water bill has never run under $3.00 for the past two months, regardless of the rains. The reason has just occurred to us. Pearl Morris, the meter reader is accumulating a campaign fund in his race for sheriff. If our bill runs more than the minimum after November, we are going to ask that the meter reader be recalled.

Candidates should remember that out of over 6,000 voters registered there ought to be at least 1,000 babies. Kissing 1,000 babies in less than three weeks is some job, but our neighbor on Poverty hill, J. C. Floore has tackled the job with confidence.

Another thing the candidates should do is to get a list of the biting dogs over the country. When a feller hears his "breeches" rip in an unexpected manner, it ruins a good campaign talk. Owing to the depression the dogs have not found out that this is a campaign year.

Whiskers "a la Russian" have one redeeming feature. With whiskers spread all over a feller's face he ought to save a necktie at least.

They say it takes twelve feet of film to register a kiss in the movies, providing it is a short one, on the order of a mother-in-law's kiss.

A welcome awaits prosperity when it comes from around the corner.

A NEBRASKA WOMAN CARRIED MAIL 30 YEARS

Thirty years ago the first woman rural mail carrier in the U. S. was driving a pair of bronchos cross country over Nebraska prairies and clay hills to deliver mail to its scattered houses.

From then until last July, Mrs. Ruth Kenyon of Monroe, Nebraska has been on the job of mail carrier, bucking blizzards, windstorms and runaways, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. At the national convention of rural mail carriers held at Baltimore this summer she was one of five women rural carriers out of more than 43,000 in the United States.

The team of bronchos in time gave way to a motor car, and although the thirty miles of her route are now all graded roads, there are still very few hard-surfaced roads in her district.

Frozen hands and feet were a commonplace occurrence during the long hard winters of driving, when the thermometer often went to 28 or 29 below zero. Often the approach of one of the sudden snow blizzards forced her to turn about and put in for shelter, to avoid being snowed under.

Snowstorms are so severe, Mrs. Kenyon said, that on her father's farm where she lived men and women often tied themselves together with ropes to make the trip from the farmhouse to the barn to feed the stock.

Mrs. Kenyon has been visiting her sister in Philadelphia, Mrs. Walter Garretson. She is a slender, blue-eyed woman, 50-odd and youthful, with auburn hair. The Indians among whom she used to live as a child called her "Wallie's red-haired girl."

"I could carry mail for ten more years," she said, a little wistfully. "When I found I was to be retired on the act compelling retirement of all those eligible to pension I was too unhappy to attend the annual state convention, though I have missed few state and national conventions during my term of service."

Mrs. Kenyon has had a picturesque life. She went to the west with her father, William Wallace Manington, at the age of 5.

As a little girl she was the only white child among 115 Indian children in the government Indian school in Indian Territory. Years later, when she visited an Indian encampment near Pawnee City, she found among its men and women many of the children she had played with.

They gave a dance and a war-whoop and made a great fuss over her, and later invited "Miss Ruth" to a ceremonial feast.

She was still a little girl when her father and mother left the Indian reservation for Nebraska, riding 500 miles on a pony beside their wagon train. Her mother, she remembers, traded her sewing machine and the cow to Indians for supplies as they traveled.

"The first fall we were in the section that is now the state of Oklahoma, 700 Indians died because they were not acclimated to the reservation," she said. "They had a simple means of treating 'chills and fever.' When the chills came on they would go out and lie in the sun. When the fever seized them they would jump in the creek to get cool.

Mrs. Kenyon took up mail carrying on the advice of her doctor to get into the air. She had been a dressmaker. She liked it too well to give it up, and most of the families she served are her friends. During nearly thirty years' service she has been off duty only about three months. The number of stops on her mail route has nearly doubled since she began work.

Last winter Mrs. Kenyon was forced to abandon her car for horses because of the worst winter of the whole thirty years. For the only time during her mail carrying she was forced to take a man helper with her, to dig a path through the snow.—Kansas City Star.

TEMPTING DISHES MADE FROM GREEN TOMATOES

It is surprising how many good dishes can be made with green tomatoes, says Miss Veda Strong of the New Mexico State College. Why leave them on the vines until some cold night comes along and ruins them? They should be brought in before they freeze and served to the family. The vines themselves can be pulled up, with the tomatoes still on them, and hung in a cellar or other cool place, and the tomatoes used as needed.

Green tomatoes can be used for pickles, in picalilli, or sliced and fried, first dipping in flour or fine bread crumbs; they can also be fried with sliced onions.

Many of the favorite ways of preparing ripe tomatoes will also do for green tomatoes. Plain stewed green tomatoes are delicious; so is cream of green tomato soup.

Have you ever heard of green tomato pie? Have you ever made green tomato marmalade with tomatoes, sugar, lemons and a bit of salt? Do you know that mince-meat to the queen's taste can be made from green tomatoes mixed with chopped apples, raisins, currants, citron, brown sugar and plenty of spice?

Following is recipe for green tomato marmalade. This makes a fine spread for many occasions, being especially good with hot biscuits.

6 pounds of green tomatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
6 cups sugar
6 lemons

Wash and trim tomatoes and cut into small pieces; then add sugar. Cut the lemons into very fine slices and boil for about five minutes in a cup of water to which the salt has been added. Add this to the tomatoes and sugar. Heat the mixture slowly, then cook rapidly, stirring constantly, for about half an hour, or until the marmalade has the consistency of thick, heavy jam. The proportions given will make about three quarts of marmalade.

THE VIRGINIA CREEPER

As a general utility vine in the southwest the Virginia creeper is unexcelled. It grows fast, is hardy and gets along with little moisture. It adorns the front porch and covers up the shortcomings of the sheds and out-buildings in the back yard. Its thousands of blossoms furnish an abundance of food for the bees and its berries supply nourishment for the birds in the fall and winter. Hats off to the Virginia creeper.

FARM NEWS

Eddy county again took many first prizes at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair. And pure seed growers won most of the firsts. C. P. Pardue, won first on his Pardue Acala in the cotton entries; J. R. Ogden won first and second on his Blackriver 4-J alfalfa seed. Both of these men have produced certified seed. Eddy county has taken the first prizes in cotton and alfalfa for the last three years.

Entries for the state 4-H club contest which will be held at State College next week have been chosen. Marjorie Bell Funk and Geraldine Felton will represent the canning clubs. They will give a demonstration on the canning of chicken. Mrs. E. P. Malone is the leader of this club.

Cooper Malone and Douglas O'Bannon will represent the poultry clubs. They have worked up a demonstration on poultry equipment stressing, feeders, waters, and nests. I. H. Burgess is the local leader of this club.

Three teams are still working for the clothing demonstration. Mrs. Jack Elliott is the leader of these teams.

The Eddy county teams accompanied by chaperons and W. A. Wunsch will leave for State College next Monday, October 17th.

Today the Cottonwood ladies club is meeting at the home of Mrs. Bradley on the Cottonwood. At this meeting the canning club and the poultry teams will give their demonstrations.

A number of livestock men of Eddy county plan to attend the annual stockmen's meeting at State College ranch tomorrow.

MRS. MIRIAM FERGUSON WINS LEGAL BATTLE

AUSTIN, Texas.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson won an outright victory in her contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination Saturday when the state supreme court ordered Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify her name as the nominee on the ballots in the November general election.

Mrs. Ferguson had taken her case to the highest court after Governor R. S. Sterling had alleged irregularities in the August primary in which she polled approximately 4,000 more votes than he did, and the state democratic executive committee at Lubbock had declared her the party's nominee.

NEW PLAN FOR COTTON LOANS IS DESIGNED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Cotton will be acceptable collateral on crop production loans under a plan announced by the agricultural department Thursday designed to "ease the burden of repayment of such loans."

Henry S. Clarke, director of the 1932 crop production loan office, said in his announcement that the plan also "should result in improving the cotton market."

It made cotton acceptable as collateral in this year's loans and on unpaid balances of loans made prior to 1932. For collateral purposes, middling 3/8 inch staple will be valued at 9 cents a pound, with premiums for longer staples and better grades, and discounts for short staple and lower grade cotton.

In "certain areas" not specified, Clarke said nine and one half cents will be allowed on the middling 3/8 inch cotton.

LARGE CAVE FOUND IN GUADALUPE MTS.

A large cave believed to have been occupied by a group of men seeking to evade compulsory military service during the World War has been discovered by federal forest officials in the Guadalupe mountains, it was recently learned at Alamogordo.

It was well known that during the war draft there were many men in hiding in the mountains. The cave which was discovered is in an isolated and uninhabited section which officers said would make an ideal hideout.

Copies of a newspaper dated 1917 were found in the cave and there were other indications it was occupied during war days, forest officials said.

The discovery was made while the officials were checking up on herds of Rocky Mountain sheep. Incidentally, they mentioned that during war days the bands of sheep were greatly depleted, apparently being killed for food by men who were in hiding.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

THERE MAY BE A FOOL

"Drive Carefully; There May Be a Fool Ahead." So reads a sign in the Black Hills. A poor driver may cause an accident all by himself. Often, however, it takes a good driver as well. The good driver can say afterwards, if he is still able to talk, that the other fellow stole his right of way, cut a corner, had no brakes or did not sound his horn. Being in the right will not mend a broken arm. It is better to yield your right of way to a road hog (masculine or feminine) than to be both right and wrecked. Never assume that the other driver is either intelligent or polite until you have had time to find out.

They discovered up in Massachusetts that nearly six tenths of the accidents were caused by less than two-tenths of the drivers. They had the good idea of sending for these unskillful drivers and finding out what they were doing which got them into accidents. Before this driving clinic was held 985 drivers had 1,937 accidents or violations in six months. After the clinic the same 985 drivers had only 17 accidents in the course of three months.

There are many people who believe that no one should be allowed to drive until he has passed a medical examination for physical efficiency and a driving test to show that he can manage his machine. Neither of these is required in New Mexico. But your doctor will examine you if you ask him. And you can examine yourself on the rules. Read the traffic regulations printed on the back of the official road map. Grade yourself!

Ninety-one people were killed last year in automobile accidents in this state—twice as many as died from diphtheria.

ACCIDENTS ARE WORSE THAN WAR

Some interesting facts about auto accidents given by the Automobile Accident Insurance Company.

Some of the interesting facts about auto accidents given by the Automobile Accident Insurance Company are:

- 50,510 members of the AEF killed in action and died of wounds during 18 months of World War.
- 182,674 members of the AEF wounded not mortally in action during 18 months of World War.
- 53,650 killed in automobile accidents in the US in 18 months ending Dec 31, 1931.
- 1,576,840 injured, not fatally in automobile accidents in the US in 18 months ending Dec 31, 1931.

Why not help lessen the accidents for 1932 by having your car inspected for defects?

ing an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to the driver who has entered the intersection. When two drivers approach an intersection at approximately the same time, the driver on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the driver on the right. At intersections regulated by police, stop signs or signal lights the right-of-way is so determined for motorists.

With the increase in the loss of life in automobile accidents that this country has witnessed for many years, many close students of the automobile accident problem have come to the belief that speed is playing an important part in the rising motor vehicle death and injury rate.

Driving too fast for prevailing conditions is one of the greatest causes of death in automobile accidents due to improper driving, as is shown by the fact that last year around 10,000 persons met death because of improper speed of cars for time and place. This number of fatalities is nearly a third of all the deaths in automobile accidents. The number of persons injured in mishaps due to driving too fast for existing conditions exceeded 300,000 last year.

The general principle applying to speed of a motor vehicle state that no person shall drive a car at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent, having due regard to traffic, surface and width of the highway, and the hazard at intersections, his own experience, the type and condition of his car, and other conditions existing. The safety principle applicable to speed also states that no person shall drive at a speed which is greater than will permit the operator to exercise proper control and to decrease speed or to stop as may be necessary to avoid collision.

The two days in which most persons are killed in automobile accidents throughout the country for the entire year are Sundays and Saturdays. The most dangerous hours of the day are just before noon in the mornings and from 4 to 7 in the afternoon and the early evening.

Automobile Accident Fatalities—by Days of the Week

| MON | TUE | WED | THUR | FRI | SAT | SUN |
|-----|-----|-----|------|-----|-----|-----|
| 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 10 | 11 |
| 12 | 13 | 14 | 15 | 16 | 17 | 18 |
| 19 | 20 | 21 | 22 | 23 | 24 | 25 |
| 26 | 27 | 28 | 29 | 30 | 31 | 32 |

These facts are brought out in an analysis of the occurrence of automobile accidents for the entire country. They indicate when motorists and pedestrians should exercise the greatest caution in the use of streets and highways.

Fully 20 per cent of all the 34,000 automobile accident fatalities last year occurred on Sundays, while more than 17 per cent happened on Saturdays. The week-end days account for nearly 40 per cent of all automobile deaths and also for 34 per cent of the total number of persons injured, it is shown by the statistics. The usually heavy flow of traffic during the week-end is regarded as an important factor in the increase of deaths and injuries on Sunday and Saturday over any other two days of the week, as a single wrong act by a driver is more apt to involve other motorists on those days than during any other period of the week.

Still WORSE THAN WAR

The Accidental Death Toll From Automobiles Is Worse Than WAR

Every minute of driving an auto requires the driver to make some minor decision that often means the difference between life and death or injury. That minor decision seemingly a trifle may be turned into a tragedy. You may be an expert driver and prepared to meet the emergency, but how about your car? Is it mechanically safe?

Going 60 miles an hour is like dropping from a ten story building you have the same chance to stop.

If You Would Avoid An Accident

Look first to your steering gear and then to your brakes. These are two major causes of auto accidents. Have these two items checked at regular intervals. A locking brake is worse than no brake at all because the unexpected may happen, causing your car to overturn. Locking brakes are caused usually from grease soaked bands. Proper lubrication service is therefore essential. We recommend Texaco Certified Lubrication.

It's Lonely in Borneo

By ALICE DUANE

SIGNS of spring may lightly turn a young man's fancy to thoughts of love, but not so surely as do thoughts of a good job. At least so it was with Brander Yates. He had been out of work for six months. He had spent what savings he had not previously lost and was down to his last ten dollars when out of the blue, as it were, appeared a perfectly good job. Not only a job but a year's contract. Perhaps the contract wasn't so much of a miracle as it sounded, because the job was off in Borneo. Now for six weeks he would work in the home office, then set sail to the field of his new work.

Having no money to spend on theater tickets, flowers and taxis, he had of necessity assumed the semblance of a woman later.

He might have continued to do so had not the personnel man of the new concern asked him whether he was married. In case he was the company would pay transportation for the wife as well as for himself. Brander kept thinking of that. After all, Borneo was a terrible distance away and a fellow might get a little lonely.

At six o'clock Saturday afternoon—the Saturday before the Monday his job began—Brander Yates pressed the button on the front apartment of a nice but unpretentious apartment house where in former days he had been wont to spend an occasional Saturday afternoon or week day evening. Under one arm he carried a long and bulky paper roll from the ends of which protruded the heads of some rather faded gladioli. The door of the apartment was opened for him, but instead of Daphne in the dark frame of the doorway stood a girl whom he had not at first recognize.

He looked again and thought rapidly. "Oh, it's you, Joan," he said. "Take these weeds before I drop them—and the magazines if they are any good to you." Then he looked at the little brown-eyed girl whose name he had nearly forgotten. "Gee, but it's good to see you."

"It's surely good to see you, Mr. Yates," she said. "And isn't it great how you found out where I was? I've only been here a week and I've often thought of you since you left Bradley's."

Brander told Joan that a small young bird had told him how to find her and she helped out the bird by explaining that Daphne had gone away and that as the lease did not run out until October she had let Joan have the apartment at a reduction. Joan had no lease, so it was a simple transaction. "And then after the first of October I don't know where I shall go," Joan explained to Brander, and Brander beamed at Joan, reflecting that the first of October was when he sailed for Borneo. Rare coincidence! He didn't even flinch when Joan mentioned that Daphne was to be married.

Joan gave Brander cool drinks and then insistently set a little table to share a bit of supper with him. Brander went into the kitchenette later to scan the only clock. It was necessary for him to catch the nine o'clock train for the beach—nine o'clock being the last train that way. He couldn't spend the night in town because he had already spent nearly his last dollar for flowers and magazines.

At twenty minutes to nine he started to leave and then Joan explained that she was very sorry but the clock was twenty minutes slow.

So Joan and Brander went out on Joan's small balcony and Tom told her of his plans—told her also that he would now have to sleep in the park. He had planned to commute from his sister's cottage at the beach the next week and right now he hadn't enough for a hotel.

Pretty nice girl Joan turned out to be—and all those months he had known her at Bradley's he had never realized it. Joan put a five dollar bill into one of Brander's hands and the handle of a small but empty over-night bag into the other and told him to go to a nearby hotel.

Brander appeared promptly at nine the next morning at Joan's. After breakfast they washed the dishes, took a leisurely walk, sat on a park bench, ate luncheon at Joan's together, and talked, until somehow Brander asked Joan whether she could endure the idea of going to Borneo, and Joan—another rare coincidence—said that all her life she had just yearned and longed and pined to go to Borneo. Brander was marveling at the lovely lights that glistened in Joan's eyes and at the musical quality of her voice. It would be easy to ask her now, but after all he thought he ought to make explanations about the flowers.

"I knew they were for Daphne," Joan told him.

Joan lowered her lovely brown eyes. "I turned the clock slow when you weren't looking last night. I wanted you to come back."

"And you don't mind about the flowers?" Brander asked.

"No," said Joan. "Times are hard and a girl can't expect too much and—besides, Brander, I've always wanted to go to Borneo."

J. JOHNS KIDNAPERS BELIEVED CAUGHT

The two desperadoes who kidnaped Deputy Sheriff Joe Johns at Carlsbad several weeks ago, later releasing him near San Antonio, are believed by Dallas officers to be responsible for a bank robbery at Cedar Hill, Texas near Dallas last Saturday according to information received at Carlsbad, Tuesday says the Current-Argus.

One robber held up two employees and two customers, escaped in with between $1,500 and $1,600 after locking his victims in a vault. He was believed to have escaped in an automobile in which an accomplice waited near the bank.

The two youths suspected have been sought for several months in connection with the murder and robbery of J. N. Bucher at his filling station in Hillsboro last April, the fatal shooting of a deputy sheriff at Atoka, Oklahoma, the robbery of a packing plant in Dallas in August.

It is believed that the pair later held up a man near Waco and commandeered his car. The man, W. A. Hamer, was later released when his car developed motor trouble.

John was taken as a hostage when he attempted to question the pair at a house in the west part of Carlsbad, August 14. He was released in San Antonio the following morning after one of the greatest man hunts in the history of the area.

COLUMBUS BOASTS THE HIGHEST TAX RATE

SANTA FE—The little town of Columbus boasts the highest tax rate in the state, so far computed if that is a boasting matter, according to figures compiled by the state tax commission.

The rate for the city alone is $50.32 per $1,000 taxable valuation, or about $17 per $1,000 valuation higher than the average rate over the state.

CARLSBAD DRY GOODS STORE IS CLOSED

The Peoples Mercantile Co., are closing out their stock of dry goods at Carlsbad. The store lease has expired and the company did not wish to renew it at this time was the reason given for closing the store.

FIFTY BIRTHS IN MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

Fifty births were registered in Eddy county against twenty-seven deaths for the month of September, according to Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer. Births registered were a fifty-fifty break between the Angolos and the Mexicans, being twenty-five Angolos and twenty-five Mexicans. Of this number twenty-seven were boys and twenty-three girls. Of the deaths recorded, four were people above seventy years of age, two between sixty and seventy and two between fifty and sixty.

ELK HERD DRIFTS TO N. M.

Elk liberated on a Texas cattle range a few years ago have drifted into New Mexico and are making their winter feeding headquarters south of Lincoln forest, ranchers reported recently.

John McCullom, who lives in the southern part of the forest, said the elk are seldom seen in the day time but they feed at night. There is every indication the herd is a sizable one, he said. The animals stay in the roughest part of the mountains.

A Texas rancher liberated the elk south of the Guadalupe mountains.

SEPT. TOLL 207 VARMINTS
Eleven hunters, working a total of 307 1/2 days accounted for 207 predatory animals in New Mexico in September, according to the biological survey bulletin on control of "varmint." The bag included 138 coyotes, 32 bobcats, and 37 miscellaneous animals. The high catch was scored by E. B. Garrard, trapping in Catron county, who bagged 44 predators, including 38 coyotes and six bobcats. I. L. Ritchie, Colfax county, was second with 17 coyotes and three bobcats; and V. J. Holmes, Torrance, made third with 18 coyotes and one bobcat.

AL SMITH HAS HAD TO BUY OWN DERBY

NEW YORK — The depression has caused a slump in the free crop of brown derbies that Alfred E. Smith garners every year. In previous Octobers he always had derbies aplenty to sell from. They were sent by admirers in many parts of the country. This year he got only three, and none of them fit. He had to order one made for the democratic state convention at Albany.

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS OF MEETINGS HELD MONDAY, OCTOBER 3rd, 1932

BE IT REMEMBERED, that the Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County, New Mexico, met in regular session on Monday, October 3rd, 1932 at 10 o'clock a. m., pursuant to adjournment had.
Present and presiding: C. W. Beeman, Chairman. R. M. Thorne, Commissioner, District No. 1. C. E. Mann, Commissioner, District No. 2.
The minutes of the former meetings were read and approved.
R. E. Wilkinson, County Treasurer, presented to the County Commissioners a proposition to furnish a new bond as County Treasurer of the County of Eddy, with the Standard Surety & Casualty Company of New York as Surety, in the sum of $60,000.00 as required by statute, provided that such bond shall contain no provision of liability on the part of such surety for money deposited in banks to the credit of Eddy County, New Mexico, in the event of the insolvency or default of any such banks, and that such bond shall specifically eliminate such coverage.
It was moved by Commissioner C. E. Mann and seconded by Commissioner R. M. Thorne, that the County Treasurer's bond, as above described, and subject to the conditions above set forth be approved by the County Commissioners when duly executed and filed. The motion was duly carried.
Bids on the printing of the ballots for the coming General Election were submitted by The Artesia Advocate, and The Carlsbad Printing Co., the contract was awarded to The Artesia Advocate, it having submitted the lowest bid.
It is hereby made the order of the Board, that Warrants No. 15037 to 15062 be issued in payment of claims this day allowed. There being no further business the Board adjourned subject to call.
(SEAL) C. W. BEEMAN, Chairman.
Attest: RUTH S. NYE, Clerk.

G. O. P. OPENS STATE CAMPAIGN TUESDAY

New Mexico's political battle got underway at Socorro Tuesday night as the republicans opened their first offensive drive in the 1932 election campaign with former Governor R. C. Dillon, candidate for governor, firing the first shot.
Mr. Dillon, speaking on taxation, said, "I want to assure the voters of New Mexico that my first concern shall be a reduction of taxes by reducing expenditures wherever they may be cut without doing more harm than good."
During the address, he declared that "property taxes must come down," and said he believed the two remedies to the tax situation involved "reduction of expenditures where reduction can be made without doing more harm than good," and the enactment of a "law by which the burden of necessary taxation can be better distributed."

SCOUT NEWS

In a year of financial stringency appeals for public support must be backed by facts. The eastern New Mexico Boy Scout Council serves twelve counties with a population of 117,000. Six hundred and fifty-four boys are enrolled as scouts and one hundred and thirty-nine as cubs. Over two hundred men are serving as volunteers. There is only one professional worker for the entire area. This past summer there were four camps with a total attendance of 225 boys. Scouts active in community service in Roswell alone have given over 500 hours of service.
The aim of scouting is to cooperate with the home, the church and the school in building character. Every president since the inception of scouting has heartily endorsed the movement. Scouting provides a character building and citizenship training program for all boys between the ages of nine and eighteen. Scouting promotes vocational guidance through the merit badge system covering nearly one hundred vocations. The movement deserves and needs the support of every citizen.

Glasses OR Good Lighting
Children's eyes are delicate. They need special consideration. Scientists tell us children's eyes are more susceptible to eyestrain than grown-ups. So give your children's eyes a chance. A little thought on your part about home lighting may save them from wearing glasses later on.
Here are a few general rules to follow: Have light in adequate quantities and correctly diffused. All lights should be shaded so you are unable to see the light bulb. Some general illumination is most desirable in addition to portable lamps. When portable lamps are used for reading or study they should be so placed that there is adequate illumination on the work, with the light coming over the shoulder.

STATE OF NEW MEXICO Office of Secretary of State Santa Fe, New Mexico

Enmienda Constitucional propuesta para ser sometida a la Eleccion General el dia ocho de Noviembre 1932, persiguiendo las provisiones de la Resolucion Conjunta No. 8, Aprobada el dia 18 de Marzo 1931 autorizando el Canje de Tierras del Estado en la Floresta Nacional por Tierras de los Estados Unidos de igual valor segun esta dispuesto por el acta del Congreso aprobada el 15 de Junio de 1926, y la propuesta Enmienda Constitucional No. 2 aprobada el dia 18 de Marzo 1931 para enmendar la seccion Diez y Nueva del Artículo Cuatro de la Constitucion del Estado de Nuevo Mexico, y fijar el tiempo para efectuarse la eleccion sobre la misma.

MRS. M. P. BACA, Secretaria de Estado.

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUM. 1

Una resolucion conjunta proponiendo una enmienda a la constitucion de Nuevo Mexico autorizando el canje de Tierras del Estado en la Floresta Nacional por Tierras de los Estados Unidos de igual valor segun esta dispuesto por el acta del Congreso aprobada el 15 de Junio de 1926.

Aprobada Marzo 18, 1931.

RESUELVASE POR LA LEGISLATURA DEL ESTADO DE NUEVO MEXICO:

POR CUANTO, el Estado de Nuevo Mexico es el dueño de ciertas areas de tierra dentro de la Floresta Nacional en dicho Estado, y dichas tierras estan repartidas en distintos lugares de la Floresta en pequenas porciones y no estan situadas para permitir que el Estado las administre para cortes de madera.

POR CUANTO, que hay grandes areas de tierra dentro del Estado pertenecientes a los Estados Unidos.

POR CUANTO, un canje por el Estado de sus bosques por una area grande de terreno pastoral de igual valor aseguraria al Estado parte del restante dominio publico federal para arrendamientos o ventas a personas particulares y se aumentaria la propiedad sujeta a contribucion en el Estado.

AHORÁ, POR LO TANTO, la siguiente enmienda a la Constitucion del Estado de Nuevo Mexico queda propuesta por la presente al Artículo Vigésimo Primo agregandole la siguiente seccion la cual se debera numerar Seccion 11 del mismo:

Seccion 11. El Estado y su pueblo consenten a las disposiciones del acta del Congreso, aprobada el 15 de junio de 1926, disponiendo tales canjes y el gobernador y otros oficiales del estado ya mencionados en dicha acta quedan por la presente autorizados para ejecutar el instrumento o instrumentos necesarios para efectuar los canjes de tierras señalados en el mismo con el gobierno de los Estados Unidos; siempre que en las determinaciones de valores de las tierras actualmente pertenecientes al Estado de Nuevo Mexico, el valor de las tierras, la madera sobre las mismas, y los derechos minerales en las mismas controlaran la determinacion del valor. La legislatura podra decretar leyes para el cumplimiento de las disposi-ciones de la misma de acuerdo con la presente.

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUM. 2

Una Resolucion conjunta propuesta para enmendar la Seccion Diez y Nueve del Artículo Cuatro de la Constitucion del Estado de Nuevo Mexico; y fijar el tiempo para efectuarse la eleccion sobre la misma.

Aprobada Marzo 18, 1931.

DECRETESE POR LA LEGISLATURA DEL ESTADO DE NUEVO MEXICO:

Section 1. Que por la presente queda propuesta la enmienda diez y nueve del Artículo Cuatro de la Constitucion del Estado de Nuevo Mexico, dicho articulo Siendo titulado, "Departamento Legislativo," para leerse como sigue: "Sec. 19. Ningun proyecto sera presentado en ninguna sesion de la Legislatura subsiguiente al cuadragésimo quinto dia legislativo, excepto el proyecto de apropiacion general, proyectos que prevengan para gastos corrientes del gobierno, y tales proyectos que fueren referidos a la Legislatura por el Gobernador mediante mensaje especial especificamente manifestando la urgencia y necesidad para requerirse tal legislacion."

Sec. 2. En caso de que se apruebe y se adopte la dicha enmienda sera sometida al pueblo en la Eleccion General en Noviembre de 1932; advirtiendose, sin embargo, que en caso de que se efectue alguna eleccion especial antes de 1932 la misma sera sometida al pueblo en tal eleccion.

FEDERAL FUNDS ARE ON TAP FOR FARMERS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Funds were on tap Saturday at four agricultural credit corporations for loans to farmers and stockmen.

The reconstruction corporation, which established these regional agricultural agencies, said that $12,000,000 was in the treasury subject to drafts up to $3,000,000 each by the credit corporations at Sioux City, Salt Lake City, Spokane and Columbus.

This announcement was made Friday shortly after South Trimble, clerk of the house, made public the corporation's August loan report to congress, overruling objections of Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the board. It showed loans aggregating $186,209,310 were authorized during August.

It was learned also that the reconstruction corporation, which has encouraged applications for self-liquidating loans, has encountered legal difficulties in the way of some of the advances and has its legal department at work trying to overcome them.

In announcing that money now was available for the four agricultural agencies, Ford Hovey, who directs this work for the finance corporation, said first loans would be made immediately. He added: "A vast amount of preliminary work and detail has been necessary to establish these agencies and it is hoped that through the credit facilities offered, much necessary relief will be provided to this basic industry."

The reconstruction corporation's report to congress showed that $107,500,000 had been made available to the secretary of agriculture for crop production loans that $64,201,989 had been disbursed up to September 1.

During August the corporation received 1,151 applications for loans and granted 1,110. Of the total authorized loans, banks, other financial institutions and railroads received $122,277,641.

States were authorized to borrow a total of $13,931,669 for relief purposes. The sum of $35,000,000 was made available to the American Cotton Cooperative Association and $15,000,000 to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation. In addition, another $10,000,000 was allocated to the secretary of agriculture for loans for crop production purposes.

THE RECENT RULING LIBERALIZES CROP PRODUCTION LOANS

Further information has been received relative to accepting cotton as collateral for crop loans and the following statement issued by Henry S. Clarke, director of the 1932 crop loan production office may serve to clarify the recent ruling:

At the request of a large number of senators and congressmen, cooperative associations and individuals in the cotton growing states, the secretary of agriculture has agreed to liberalize the terms of the crop production loans in these states for the relief of the distressed cotton farmers. The plan will ease the burden of repayment of such loans and should result in improving the cotton market.

The purpose of this plan is to encourage the storage of cotton, relieving the pressure on the market and assisting the farmers to care for their families during the coming winter. This action is also taken in furtherance of the efforts of the administration to benefit the farmers of the country.

Cotton will be accepted as collateral for crop production loans of 1932 and unpaid balances on loans made prior to 1932 on the basis of 9c per pound middling 7/8 inch. Borrowers who wish to take advantage of the collateral plan will be required to deliver their cotton to the cotton cooperative association or to federal bonded warehouses. When delivered to the latter, cotton must be insured and warehouse receipts will be required to be delivered to authorized field agents of the secretary or to the regional collection office on sufficient cotton to collateralize the loan at the price above mentioned rather than on the quantity required at current market prices. In certain areas the basis will be 9 1/2c per pound on middling 3/4 inch cotton.

Differentials will be prepared to provide premiums for staple longer than 7/8 inch and grades better than middling and likewise discounts for short staple and lower grades. All cotton deposited as collateral must be graded by federal licensed classifiers.

All cotton so collateralized must be accompanied by an agreement signed by the borrower whereby he reserves the right of selling such cotton at any time prior to March 1, 1933 and authorizes the secretary to sell same in his discretion at any time subsequent to that date.

Warehouse receipts will be required on sufficient cotton to cover the amount of the loan together with storage and insurance charges and any advance which may be made for picking and ginning expenses. When the cotton is finally sold the borrower will be credited with the proceeds of the sale. In the event that the proceeds are not sufficient to pay the full amount of the loan the balance will remain as an obligation of the borrower. If the proceeds of the sale are more than sufficient to pay the loan and interest, the balance will be refunded.

The above plan will permit farmers to fully collateralize their loans from the secretary and at the same time permit them to dispose of the balance of their crops for cash.

GOATS KILLED NEAR PINON BY COLD

Several hundred goats in the vicinity of Pinon, were killed by a cold rain which occurred last week shortly after they had been sheared. It was reported the first of the week. W. L. Harbert reported he lost a herd of 800; Robert West 500 and Thomas Fleming several hundred. The goats chilled in the rain and died before they could be taken to shelter.

WARN AGAINST PARROT DISEASE

Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer has issued a warning to all persons against handling parrots recently shipped.

The warning is contained in a statement as follows:

The United States Public Health Service advises all persons to avoid contact with recently shipped or acquired birds of the parrot family. Several cases of psittacosis, or parrot fever, are being reported in various parts of the United States. Reports of five cases and one fatality have recently been reported from Minneapolis, Minnesota, another case has been reported from Boise, Idaho. There have been twelve cases of parrot fever, with six deaths, reported in California between December 1, 1931 and February 10, 1932.

Upon the recommendation of the Public Health Service, the secretary of treasury has recently issued an order amending the interstate quarantine regulations as to limit the interstate transportation of birds of the parrot family by common carriers to those certified by the proper health authorities of the state as coming from aviaries free from infection.

Shopper's Bargains "Disinfected"

Publicity is the great disinfectant. So thoroughly is this understood today that nations have their Publicity Bureaus. Likewise the bargain from afar is "disinfected" with an illuminating description that figuratively speaking it becomes a brilliant star of important value.

Experience and investigation has discredited its claims in so many instances that it is common knowledge to the buyer that many "Things are not What They Seem." The safest plan is to buy at close range from the reputable dealer who is always at your service, interested in your continual welfare and progress to the end that the very best satisfaction shall obtain at all times.

Your merchant is always a friend. He is anxious for your success. As you prosper so does the community at large. A purchase made here needs no disinfectant, or explanations later because you are enabled to see just what you were buying when the article is placed before you.

It is both safe and wise to buy where you can examine the goods.

SIXTY-TWO HUNTERS GET ANTELOPE BUCK

Every one of the 62 hunters who got permits to hunt antelope on the St. Augustine plains got his buck, State Game Warden Elliott Barker reported Thursday. The season closed October 5th.

The state game department planned to issue 300 permits, but there were only 62 applicants. Barker said all of the 300 bucks could have been taken without seriously depleting the herds.

"There is no reason why we cannot have a permit season every year," he said, "permitting about 100 bucks to be taken annually—for a time at least."

There were no hunting accidents. Barker was disappointed in that the hunting failed to scatter the herds, sending the antelope into adjacent areas. The number of bucks slain was so small that there was no alarm and the herds remained on their customary ranges.

DEMO HEADQUARTERS MAY PROVE HELPFUL TO LOCAL VOTERS

The democratic headquarters, which have been established in the building formerly occupied by the First National Bank, on the corner of Roselawn and Main, is proving of unusual interest to many and a great source of information to the voters of Eddy county. A full time secretary is in the office and will gladly give out information to anyone interested in the political questions of the present campaign.

Anyone desiring to read any of the leading speeches of the present democratic campaign, including the keynote speech, delivered by Honorable William Keleher at the state democratic convention, or addresses by the presidential nominee, Franklin Roosevelt, may find copies of these addresses in this office. Various other pamphlets, giving the platform of the democratic party as well as statistics of state and national government may be obtained for comparison purposes.

Roosevelt lapel buttons car stickers and other items of similar nature may be obtained by calling at the headquarters office and asking for them.

Copies of the registration lists of Eddy county, including all precincts, are being made for the democratic leaders in all precincts and other information is being sent to chairmen and committee men and committee women of the county.

This office is also being used as headquarters for the Roosevelt Club and anyone desiring to become a member of this organization, may enroll with the secretary at any time.

County Chairman Jess Truett and County Secretary, J. R. Atterbury state that the interest manifested in the present campaign is very gratifying and from all indications and information obtained the democratic vote in Eddy county will surpass all previous records.

You are welcome to visit the headquarters office at any time and are urged to take advantage of the information offered.

OIL MEN OPTIMISTIC OVER PRICE OUTLOOK

TULSA, Oklahoma — Music to oil-wise ears came Tuesday to the mid-continent area in a promised crude oil price increase that followed as an echo the announcement of Texas and Oklahoma regulatory bodies that crude oil production will be cut sharply.

The Sun Oil Company announced at its Dallas office that effective October 15 it will pay $1.15 per barrel for East Texas oil, an increase of 12 cents and will increase the price paid for Gulf Coast crude 10 cents a barrel.

While the Sun is not a major purchaser in the mid-continent, the announcement had a cheering effect on the entire industry and brought expressions of approval from various industry leaders.

W. G. Skelly, president of Skelley Oil Company of Tulsa, said Sun's announcement was "a fore-runner of others."

E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall Corporation, said he "expected it."

Others commented variously, but exhibited little surprise that the price increase movement had started. Reports that it would follow announcements of production curtailment in the mid-continent had been current here for some time.

Harry F. Sinclair, president of the Consolidated Oil Corporation, messaged his Tulsa offices that cutting output should "turn what promised to be a bad situation into a very encouraging outlook."

Thurman Hill, Kansas public service commissioner, announced in Topeka that Kansas was waiting to learn what action the Oklahoma officials took before announcing additional curtailment of that state's permissible flow.

AUSTIN, Texas—Sharp reduction in oil production from 25 Texas fields were ordered Monday by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Master Seedless Secret
South African planters have mastered the secret of growing seedless grapefruit and bulk supplies are now beginning to be exported. A careless plowman discovered the secret originally. His blade came in contact with a grapefruit root and a small tree, growing from the incision, produced sterile (seedless) grapefruit. South African growers experimented and found that similar fruit could be produced only under special conditions.

Kneading Bread
The bread kneading machine has long been the most familiar mechanical unit in the bakery and dates at least to 1760, when a Frenchman, Saligrac, devised a model in which hollow-shaped arms, mechanically operated, mixed the dough in a trough. The Boland machine, which dates from about the middle of the Eighteenth century, was also of French origin.

POPULATION CHANGES MANY ELECTORIAL VOTES THIS YEAR

One factor in the 1932 election which has largely been lost sight of is the change in the so-called electoral college—a factor which, in the case of a close election, may bear an all-important place.

For instance, states which are normally republican have gained six votes at the expense of states that are democratic normally on the basis of the 1930 reapportionment made by the congress in the electoral college. This reapportionment was based upon the shift in the proportion of population in the states.

There was an actual shift of 27 electoral votes, 21 states having lost one or more votes while 11 have gained.

The distribution of votes in the old and new college is as follows:

DEMO CAMPAIGN STARTED

SANTA FE — W. J. Barker, democratic state chairman, announced Tuesday that the democratic party's statewide campaign for votes will get underway Saturday, October 15 with three parties of candidates in the field. Eleven out of the thirteen candidates, Barker said, will tour the state. The two candidates for the state supreme court will not speak as it is the custom for candidates for this office to refrain from participation in the campaign.

Colonial Buildings

The windows of the earliest houses built by the American Colonists were determined like the rest of the structure by necessity. They were at first hardly more than peep-holes, for the colonists were more concerned about Indian attacks than they were about air and light. Oiled paper and cloth were used, since glass was rare and expensive. The earliest of the windows were of the small casement type, changing to the double-hung sash. The earliest doors were rude constructions replaced by a simple paneled form.

Life of Ocean Denizens Not Without Excitement

Not every creature that lives in the ocean is a fish. Many always think of a whale as a fish, but a whale is a mammal, warm-blooded and an air-breather. He is no more a fish than the family dog is a fish. Most whales are shaped like fish and swim the seas, but this does not make them fish any more than the mouse that has wings is a bird—the bat is a mammal.

We think of the cold, silty swimmers in river, pond, lake, and ocean as living a dull life. It is hard to imagine social relations or many of the pleasures of the warm-blooded animals on land being shared by the inhabitants of the cold, wet, and dark seas. And yet there is now scientific evidence that in the world of fish things are not so very different as had been supposed.

In the fish world there are gluttons, fighters and loafers. In sharks' stomachs have been found lobsters, turtle bones, chicken's feathers, wheat, corn, and coffee grounds, string beans, corn cobs, the horn of a sheep, bones of a cow, and even a wooden bucket and tin cans. The shark is a voracious eater, and he never has indigestion, because he can push his stomach out through his mouth and empty out anything which might trouble him to digest.

Good Story, but Hard to Find the Moral in It

They tell it of James Gordon Bennett. He hated drinkers, and the boys who worked with him were all aware of it. One of the pressmen returned from a bender with a beautiful black eye.

As luck would have it, James Gordon popped into the pressroom that day. The fellow spotted him before Bennett saw him, and rather than explain the "shiner" and "run the risk of being fired chose to rub printer's ink all over his face. On his tour of inspection around the pressroom Bennett came upon the besmudged pressman busily burying his nose in his work. "Who's the fellow?" he asked the foreman. Upon being told, Bennett asked, "what do you pay him?" The foreman quoted the figure. "Double it!" snapped Bennett. "He's the only one in the place who seems to be doing any work." —New York Morning Telegraph.

Rain-Maker's Methods

Because rain is so essential to the proper growth of their crops, the natives of Africa are greatly dependent upon it, and many are the rain-making ceremonies they hold, with whole communities participating in some of them.

Native roots are powdered and mixed together and then put in a bowl of water. After this an eland tail is dipped in the mixture and waved around vigorously. It is shaken to the four quarters of the earth and then shaken over the bowl. Then the tail is installed in the medicine-man's home.

Following this the growing tip of mochangoko, a species of randia, another plant, is bound to the head of the "doctor" with twine of the musalia vine. He then goes to sleep, with his legs tucked up if little rain is desired, or with his legs spread out if much rain is wanted.

Lawnmower's Centenary

It is a hundred years since the lawnmower was invented. It was not invented in the first instance for shaving lawns. The first machine of the kind was produced by Edwin Budding, a textile engineer, to trim off the nap from newly woven cloth, a task formerly done by hand with the aid of shears. This machine was responsible for an outbreak of riots in cloth-weaving districts. Budding saw that the cloth moyer of his time might well be applied to lawns, and he produced an extraordinary contraption about as big as a modern motor car which did the job fairly well. His later machines were smaller.

THE ROOSEVELT AND GARNER CLUB HAS A SECOND MEETING

Additional committees were announced Tuesday night at the second meeting of the Roosevelt-Garner club. The membership committee was appointed last week and other committees named in the meantime include: Executive committee—L. B. Feather, Mrs. J. M. Story, Dr. C. Russell and Mrs. Joe Clayton; finance—H. G. Watson, E. C. Higgins, Mrs. Calvin Dunn, Mrs. C. R. Blocker; speakers committee—C. Bert Smith, S. W. Gilbert, Mrs. G. U. McCrary, Mrs. J. H. Jackson; press committee—W. C. Martin, Mrs. Abe Burnett, Dr. J. J. Clarke and Mrs. Ray Bartlett.

J. H. Jackson gave an address on the subject of government competition with private business. Preliminaries were started for the organization of a Roosevelt-Garner club among the Mexican population. A number of Mexicans assembled to hear what democratic leaders had to say.

Burns Watches a Rescue

The Golden Book Magazine has an amusing way of digging up stories of what great wits have said to make life brighter for their descendants. Here is one about Robert Burns, who arrived one day upon the quay at Greenock just in time to see a wealthy merchant being rescued from drowning in the harbor.

After the merchant had recovered, he thanked the sailor who had saved him and solemnly presented him with a shilling. The crowd which had collected protested loudly at this too-too Scotch parsimony. But Burns stopped them, saying: "Leave him alone. The gentleman is, of course, the best judge of the value of his life."

Houses Simple and Lasting

The early Connecticut houses, like the dwellings in New England, were stout, honest buildings because the conditions required them to be so. They were intimate and domestic because they were the economic and social centers of Colonial life. They were simple and plain. They expressed the principle of truth above all else, for they were concerned only with the fundamentals of life, of existence, without fixings, without extras. It was perhaps the closest alliance of function with design. They lasted to present times because the materials themselves were as stout and true as the conception.

Avoid Wasted Days
