U. S. Goes Off The Gold Standard Yesterday

Sudden Decision Of Pres. Roosevelt To Abandon Yellow Metal — Prices Respond—Commodities Are Active.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In a day of historic financial action, President Roosevelt moved boldly forward last night for controlled inflation on an international scale.

He swung the United States off the gold standard in world trade as an opening shot and sanctioned legislation giving him broad authority to carry thru his program to lift American prices, stabilize the world exchanges on a revised gold basis and expand the use of currency.

Withdrawal of gold support for the American dollar in foreign exchanges by the president was interpreted by his secretary of the treasury William E. Woodin, as meaning temporary suspension of the traditional gold standard base of currency.

The swiftly executed maneuvers by the confident president brot turbulent reaction thruout the world. American stock and commodity prices shot upward. The dollar fell off in the world exchanges. Wall Street quotations on foreign currency rose spectacularly.

Quietly pointing for his next plays in the complicated field of international finance, Mr. Roosevelt called in advisers to outline procedure.

From capitol hill came a bill by Senator Thomas, (D., Okla.) extending to the president authority to issue new currency, to modify the gold ratios and content of the dollar and to establish a dollar stabilization board.

It was understood Mr. Roosevelt gave his sanction to the measure although further details are being worked out.

To speed action, the proposal probably will be submitted as an amendment today to the pending farm commodity bill.

For an hour and a half last night, the president went over the general program, including the forthcoming economic parleys, with Secretary Woodin, Undersecretary Phillips and Assistant Secretary Moley of the state department, Director Douglas of the budget, Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee and Senator Byrns of South Carolina.

Woodin said after conferring during much of the day with the governors of the 12 federal reserve banks that an improvement in almost every line was being felt. He said this had been reported to him by the governors of the banks and that the rise in price of commodities had brot real hope to the farm communities.

The secretary also said that the prohibiting of gold exports had been made with the idea it would increase the commodity prices. He added that while no boom was in sight a start upward had been made.

The whole attack is planned by President Roosevelt as one leading to a controlled price level—a level higher than that now existing but restricted from rising to inordinate heights.

BUYS HALF INTEREST IN LAS ANIMAS MINE

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Ranger Mines, Inc., at the Yates and Dooley office Monday, the board authorized the purchase of a half interest in the Bonanza Extension Mine, located in the heart of the Las Animas mining district of Sierra county. The property equipped for mining consists of about 100 acres.

FISHING CLOSED 45 DAYS

Fishing in the public waters of southeastern New Meico was closed Saturday for a period of forty-five days until June 1st, except on the river from the Dayton bridge north to Fort Sumner. This period is the duration of the spawning season.

AN EASTER FREEZE DAMAGED FLOWERS AND GARDEN PLANTS

An Easter freeze Thursday and Friday brot destruction to practically all of the remaining fruit left, orchardists said Saturday. All of the early spring flowers and gardens were also killed back except the hardiest plants. Cotton farmers were fortunate in that they did not have cotton up, except in rare instances. Replanting may be necessary where the cotton seeds were in the process of germination.

The lowest temperature registered here was Thursday night when the thermometer dropped to 21 degrees.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERVICES ATTRACT A CAPACITY CROWD

The First Methodist church was filled to capacity Sunday evening to witness the Baccalaureate services of the Artesia high school. The Senior class appeared for the first time in the graduating regalia, caps and gowns.

The Rev. W. B. McCrory, who delivered the Baccalaureate sermon spoke on the subject of "Roads of Success." It was pronounced one of the shortest and best sermons ever heard in Artesia on an occasion of this kind. It was delivered in sixteen minutes.

Taking his text from the 8th verse of the first chapter of Joshua, the speaker called attention to the fact that we are today living in a world of law. This condition is just as true of the spiritual world as it is of the material world. The Rev. McCrory laid down four principles to be followed if the student of today is to succeed in life: First, the student must start right. The importance of the right start in life was illustrated by the story of Nicodemus. "Water won't run uphill," the speaker said. "You would consider it foolish to run a ditch from the hills to the river and expect to run water from the river. The starting plan of some young people is just as foolish."

The second important principle essential to success is to remember that service must be rendered in accordance with a divine plan. The third essential element is to have a high objective—one that beckons you on, but one that probably cannot be reached and the fourth is "perseverance." The Rev. McCrory emphasized the fact that one must have the quality of perseverance, if the aim of life is to be attained.

The program as rendered follows: Processional—High school orchestra. Hymn Number 31—Congregation. Invocation—The Rev. F. B. Howden. Scripture, Psalms 119: 1-16—The Rev. A. C. Douglas. Offertory—Doris Welborne. "When Through the Night," Liszt—High School Chorus. Baccalaureate Sermon—The Rev. W. B. McCrory. Alma Mater, Selected—High School Chorus.

Hymn Number 105—Congregation Benediction—The Rev. A. S. Dowd. Recessional—High School Orchestra.

COMPANIES START SURRENDERING OIL LEASES TO STATE

Estimate Over 100,000 Acres To Be Turned Back To State Within Next Twelve Months—Locals Release 2,000 A.

With the gloomiest outlook facing the oil industry since development started here in the early twenties, oil men freely predicted that there would be a wholesale abandonment of state leases within the next twelve months, unless conditions changed or unless the burden of taxation is lifted from the industry. An independent company here reports that it has turned back to the state 2,000 acres of leases. A portion of these leases are located near the Hobbs field and all drew an annual rental of fifty cents per acre per year. One conservative source estimates that more than 100,000 acres of state leases will be released in the next twelve months, others figure that the leases turned back will be much greater. It is understood that major companies, independents and individuals are carefully selecting the acreage they hold and are preparing to turn back all except choice leases.

Backers of the severance tax estimate that new revenue created will amount to $40,000 a year. At the present rate the state leases are being abandoned losses in revenue from the sale of leases will be more than twice the amount estimated from the severance tax, not to say anything about the decreased revenue anticipated from royalties.

POSSIBILITIES GOOD FOR DEVELOPMENT OIL IN WESTERN EDDY

J. D. Josey of Rankin, Texas, former resident of Hope, sees a future to the development of western Eddy county for oil. Mr. Josey, a resident of Hope for twelve years prior to 1929, has spent some time in the study of the geological formations of Hope, and gave some logical ideas as to the possibilities of oil development in this section, at much shallower depths than is found in either eastern Eddy county or western Lea county.

According to Mr. Josey, the logs of the wells studied from the Hobbs field west to the western edge of the Artesia field, reveals that the oil formation rises at the rate of about sixty feet per mile. This would indicate the possibility of developing shallow oil, where structural conditions are favorable. In Mr. Josey's opinion, the water table in the western part of the county indicate a decided dip westward.

He is blocking acreage in township 20-S., range 23-E., with a drilling contract in view and expects to have a geological report on this area within the next ten days.

NUMBER ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS ARE ON DISPLAY HERE

Warm weather isn't just around the corner, it's here and with it comes the need of food preservation through some sort of refrigeration. Three local dealers are displaying electric refrigerators, refrigerators that have passed the experimental stage and are guaranteed to give positive performance. These refrigerators like many other modern household necessities in daily use have been improved in quality, but reduced in price.

There is no longer any doubt about the savings affected by the modern electric refrigerator if one considers the spoilage of food any item, and it is, but an electric refrigerator offers you an additional saving in the health of the family. There are numerous models in the display that is being shown locally—models to fit the income of the average family.

YOUTH ARRESTED ON A ROBBERY CHARGE

A local youth was arrested here Tuesday night by officers Carl Gordon and Roy Vermillion and charged with robbery. The youth was arrested after it was alleged that he entered Joyce Fruit Co., building through a rear window and took a rifle, ammunition, candy and other merchandise amounting to about $50.00 in value. The boy established a cache near the railroad tracks and was taken into custody by the officers when he returned to the hidden goods about 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning. It was said the boy "fixed" a rear window in the Joyce Fruit store and made his entrance into the building about 10:00 o'clock.

He was lodged in the City jail and today will be taken before Judge J. B. McGhee at Roswell.

IMPROVEMENTS NEARING ASSEMBLY GROUNDS

Highway improvement to the Sacramento Methodist Assembly grounds has progressed to a point about three miles west of Weed, it was learned here last week. This leaves only a mile to be improved if the road work is stopped at the assembly site. The highway crew has been cut in half on this project and the working days cut to four. The principal work on the Denny hill six miles southwest of Mayhill, has been delayed during the winter months on account of frozen ground, but additional improvements will be made on the hill if funds last.

THREE LOCATIONS ARE MADE IN EDDY CO.

While drilling wells over the southeastern oil area continued to make good time, new activity around Hobbs and other important producing areas in Lea county has experienced a slack period. Three new locations were announced recently for Eddy county, two being by the Pool Oil and Gas Co., in the south part of the county. These are: The Pool Oil and Gas Co., State No. 2, 2240 feet from the north and east lines sec. 15-24-27 and the Pool Oil and Gas Co., State No. 3, 2240 feet from the north line and 920 feet from the west line sec. 32-24-27. The F. W. and Y. Oil Co., has staked a location for its State No. 66, 970 feet from the south line and 1120 feet from the north line sec. 30-18-28.

The State No. 3 of the Pool Oil and Gas Co., will start at a depth of 1,320 feet in an old hole formerly drilled by this company.

TROUT PLANTED IN PENASCO

Fifteen hundred trout have been planted in the Penasco river above Hope according to word received here from T. F. Nelson, superintendent of the Federal Hatchery at Dexter. So far as known this is the first time any fish have been planted in the Penasco.

FORTY-TWO SNAKES SLAUGHTERED ON THE TURKEY TRACK RANCH

Many Reptiles Meet Their Death As They Come From Winter Hibernation—Few Measure Six Feet In Length.

Snake stories are like fish stories, you can believe them or not and here's the best snake story of the year. Tuesday Dick Vandagriff and K. Lydia went out east of the Turkey Track ranch house in search of rattlesnakes. It seems the rattlers are emerging from the winter hibernation in great numbers since the coming of spring weather. Messrs. Vandagriff and Lydia armed with .22 rifles managed to put in a fair day. They accounted for the slaughter of forty-two rattlers. Probably half as many wounded fatally escaped in dog holes according to the tabulations made. They found upward of fifty rattlers denned in one hole. Sixteen of these were killed. Locally these men are the champion snake killers. Sunday they headed a party up Dog canyon and helped to kill eighteen rattlers.

Some of the rattlers killed on Tuesday measured six feet in length.

COUNTERFEIT QUARTERS

Last week Carlsbad was showered with counterfeit twenty-five cent pieces and a few coins of this nature were reported here, but so far as known no arrests were made, although a department of justice representative spent some time in Carlsbad last week.

FRANK DAVIS TRIAL STARTS TODAY IN CHAVES CO. COURT

Frank Davis, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of James Elliott at Carlsbad November 3, 1930, which case has been transferred to Chaves county on a change of venue from Eddy county, will go to trial before a jury in the Chaves county district court at Roswell today.

Davis, who for a number of months occupied the death cell in the state penitentiary at Santa Fe following his conviction of murder in the first degree by an Eddy county jury will be defended by Attorney O. O. Askren, appointed by the court.

Davis has been in the Chaves county jail since his return from the state penitentiary where he was placed in the death row to await the outcome of an appeal to the state supreme court. Attorney Caswell S. Neal, of Carlsbad will assist District Attorney George L. Reese, Jr., in the prosecution of this case.

HIGH WINDS SWEEP VALLEY YESTERDAY AND DAMAGE CROPS

A high wind swept over the Pecos valley yesterday as snow fell in the north and west part of the state. It was the most uncomfortable day experienced here this spring and filled houses full of New Mexico dust.

Cotton farmers who planted early cotton anticipate that another planting will be necessary. The winds the past few days have baked the ground so that the young plants can not come thru. W. T. Haldeman was one of the few farmers who had cotton up and says his cotton withstood the freeze. Young cotton in other places was reported to have blown out yesterday.

Watson Is Named As Conservator First Nat'l

Appointment Is Announced Here Tuesday Evening—Still Hope To Get A Favorable Reply On Last Proposal.

The appointment of Hollis Watson, Artesia druggist and former Loving and Ft. Stockton, Texas banker, as a conservator of the First National Bank here came with surprising suddenness. Mr. Watson was notified Tuesday evening in a telegram from the assistant comptroller at Washington, as bank officials were endeavoring to get an answer on the last proposition submitted to Washington via El Paso. In the light of development, it is evident that the assistant comptroller was not familiar with the local situation or else the last proposal to apply for $50,000 preferred stock thru the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had not reached Washington. According to officials the appointment of a conservator here surprised El Paso federal reserve officials as much as local people. Mr. Watson as conservator will be permitted to receive holiday accounts and conduct such other business as the bank has been permitted to do since the close of the national moratorium on March 15th, in addition to making any releases necessary for farmers to secure crop loans.

Under the new set up a conservator represents the treasury department and has authority to go directly to Washington with any proposal looking toward the reopening of the bank and eliminates the necessity of going thru El Paso or Dallas, Texas. Any action taken henceforth will be expedited. In commenting on his appointment, Mr. Watson said this morning, "The appointment of a conservator is probably a necessary step in the proceedings. I have notified the authorities that I have accepted the appointment in order to help the situation and be of assistance in speeding necessary action. I have also notified the authorities that I consider the proposal for reopening as has been worked out here between the depositors, stockholders and directors and which was formally acted upon here April 11th, a feasible plan and I know of no reason why it should not be accepted."

Mr. Watson completed a detailed report of the bank's condition, showing what had been accomplished since the close of the national moratorium on March 15th. Depositors have dubbed the title of the report, "Six weeks of kidding under the new deal." It was sent yesterday by air mail and officials said they hoped that the report would give the treasury department a true picture of the local situation.

A contemplated visit to Dallas, Texas yesterday by Mr. Watson was postponed after it was learned that the twelve federal reserve governors had been called to Washington for a conference with the treasury department to devise means of releasing five billion dollars worth of credit tied up in closed banks.

It is hoped that the last proposal made thru the federal reserve relative to the issuance of $50,000 preferred stock to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will be successfully negotiated. W. A. Losey, Hagerman banker has been mentioned as the direct-

Orders have been received to cease work on the Sacramento Methodist Assembly highway west of Weed it was learned here Monday. Orders were received by the district highway engineer's office at Roswell Sunday after officials had inspected the highway work the previous day. Part of the road crew, returning here said they did not know how long the road work would be suspended.

NO TIME TO QUIT NOW

The fellow who shirks from a task before it is begun or halts in the line of march before reaching the battle field, is whipped before he starts. He will drop out and quit at the first opportunity. In the conduct of our daily business, regardless of what the occupation is, this temptation exists at the present time. But if we quit now, we will be dependent on the other fellow for our existence but possibly the other fellow has all he can carry. Why overload a good neighbor or some governmental agency, when we are still capable of making an effort, with the chances that this effort will at least count for something.

Do you suppose the pioneer had any such thoughts when he landed here and viewed a vast undeveloped empire? Would not it have been much easier to have gone back to civilization to relatives and friends? Here was a fertile territory, but untouched. To develop it meant that the western frontiersmen were willing to undergo hardships and forego many of the pleasures civilization afforded. It was not an easy task to face the responsibilities of creating a new country, a hundred miles from nowhere, with an ox cart and other antiquated methods of transportation. There were no schools, no churches and no society and yet the pioneer accepted the situation and made the best of it and in making the best of it he paved the way for the good things we enjoy today.

How would we, softened by the use of so many labor saving devices and the many intricacies of modern civilization feel if the clock were turned back fifty years and we faced a similar situation today? A west Texas pioneer in telling of some of the early day experiences incidental to the westward push of the pioneer says in the days when vast herds of buffalo roamed the staked plains that salt pork was a real delicacy. If the neighbors pooled all of their kitchen resources they could not muster a meal as appetizing as that made from groceries furnished by the community chest. And the community chest only furnishes what we term "common every day grub."

A good many people will have to get a little closer to earth. The time to lay plans for a comeback is now, not thirty days hence, just as in peace times, prepare for war.

Everybody has heard about the present financial situation, so why mention it.

THE FARM BOARD

The Federal Farm Board will die officially on May 27th, unless there is some unexpected change in the attitude of congress. Death-knell was the signing of the president's farm credit reorganization order. The board started in June 1929, with $500,000,000 of government money called a revolving fund. Its speculations in farm commodities attracted international notice. Two-thirds or more of the original fund has been lost.

The board will be replaced by a different kind of government farm relief body. It is held doubtful, however, if the administration's farm bill will apply extensively to 1933 crops, due to delay in its becoming law. The bill is frankly an experiment, and if it does not succeed it is promised the plan will be abandoned and another tried.

SALT OF THE EARTH

No truer words were ever spoken than these once said by former Gov. John M. Slaton of Georgia: "No country ever lasts long without a country people. They afford the strength of the church; they maintain the sacredness of the family tie; they maintain the reverence for eternal principles not to be found in congested communities. They think for themselves and no temporary fad sweeps them from the lasting paths of truth. From them, comes the strong fresh blood that dominates and enriches commerce, industry and the professions."—Donley County Leader, Clarendon, Texas.

ANOTHER FOOL MOVEMENT

State papers have had a great deal of comment recently on the proposed march of the unemployed to Washington. A thing of this sort would benefit no one except probably the unscrupulous politician. Such moves have without exception been designed to intimidate the government. This is no time for any special class of legislation. The masses not the classes need help.

The Santa Fe New Mexican in an editorial last week urged Governor Seligman to return from Washington D. C., at once so he could help straighten out the state's financial mess and make it possible for the state employees to buy beans. Don't you fellows up at the capital know that politics always comes before business.

This is no secret. The most approved manner of making business even more rotten than it is at the present time is to cut out your advertising.

Men must expect to work and sacrifice for their work if they are to accumulate enough of this world's goods to live with any degree of comfort.

THE MIDDLE AGED HEART

If you live to be fifty the chances are 25 per cent (one in four) that you will die eventually of heart disease. This was true in the year 1930, according to a table worked out by a large insurance company. The same table shows that in the year 1920 the chance of a person aged fifty dying of heart disease was only 20 per cent (one in five). The risk of heart disease to middle aged persons is rapidly increasing. The risk is somewhat greater in women than in men.

TWO POSTMASTERS NAMED IN VALLEY

Two valley postmasters were named the first of the week, according to word received from Roswell Monday. Mrs. Mary McCullough of Roswell was named postmistress at Roswell by Postmaster General Farley, succeeding Elza White, Jr., who was named acting postmaster several months ago. The same information says that Ray Soladay of Carlsbad has been named postmaster at Carlsbad succeeding W. F. McIlvan, also appointed acting postmaster. No mention was made as to when the new appointments will become effective.

E. A. Hannah of Artesia and C. G. Mason of Hagerman were the only two postmasters in the valley whose commission had been confirmed. Under a previous ruling by Postmaster General Farley, these positions will not be disturbed and the postmasters will be allowed to serve out their terms.

is a feeling of fatigue. Exertion is not so well tolerated, as it used to be. A two mile walk is no longer a pleasure but something to be avoided if possible.

The next sign is shortness of breath. It is noticed when climbing stairs or walking uphill or hurrying on the level. These two signs, fatigue and breathlessness, are a serious warning to anyone in middle age. They should lead at once to medical consultation. Better still is the plan to have a medical examination every year so that trouble may be detected before the signs appear.

Swelling of the ankles and legs is a late sign of heart trouble. Back pressure from a failing pump is the cause of this—also of the congestion in the stomach and liver which gives rise to symptoms that are often mistaken for "indigestion" though really due to a failing heart.

The middle aged heart needs exercise but never violent exercise. The worst thing for it is to subject to a sudden strain when it is all flabby from want of regular exercise. Walking and golf are good exercises. Even when a heart shows signs of failure it may often last for many years if the doctor's orders are carefully obeyed.

TERRACES INCREASE SOIL'S PRODUCTION

Terracing and contouring have gained more momentum and spread over a wider area during the present year than in any previous season, says G. R. Quesenberry, of the New Mexico State College. This results largely from a better knowledge of this work by farmers in general and their desire to reduce their production costs, maintain soil fertility and conserve moisture. It has given farmers an opportunity to farm a smaller area of land at less cost and increase the acre production, oftentimes more than 50 per cent.

County agents in the eastern part of the state report a larger number of requests for this type of work than previously, but indicate they have been seriously handicapped by the heavy winds of March and early April which have prevented many farmers from completing their work, especially terracing.

Terracing and contouring are adapted to all parts of the plains area of eastern New Mexico and to the flatter valleys and other agricultural lands adjoining the mountain section where non-irrigated farming is practiced. The latter areas offer excellent opportunities for the control and distribution of flood waters from the higher elevations. In the Rencona section of San Miguel county several farmers have begun terracing their lands this spring in preparation for seeding alfalfa. One farmer is distributing water over twelve acres of alfalfa at the present time and contemplates increasing this by means of terraces to 20 or more acres. His brother is preparing an adjacent field for 40 acres of terraced hay. These together with many others, are planning on growing alfalfa with the aid of terraces in sections where previously they have not been able to grow this crop.

Tuesday	6.63	6.73

Market sagged early this week due to the belief that the president would be opposed to re-monetizing silver. Later it became known that Speaker Rainey favored such a move and that the administration was not opposed but wished the question handled separately from the Farm Relief measure. The market took on sudden life as this phase of the inflation move became apparent. All markets rose rapidly Wednesday closing at the highest for six months. Sterling silver advanced rapidly. Wheat took another jump into new highs.

Our real physical wealth is higher than it was four years ago, the real change is in the measuring stick, we are using (money). It can be safely said that wheat and cotton are more valuable than money.

EDDY FARM NEWS

R. L. Kile, field inspector and W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent, spent Tuesday morning checking fields on which crop production loan applications have been made. Eight applications were approved by the county committee, amounting to $1,585, and were forwarded to the Dallas office. This makes a total of 207 loans amounting to $46,070.00 having been approved by the county committee, each loan averaging $222.00. 192 checks have been received by various farmers in the county, these checks would equal approximately $30,000.00.

The county crop production loan committee wishes to emphasize that all loans must be in the hands of the committee on Saturday, April 29th. Applications are being received at the First National Bank, under the supervision of C. E. Mann, and at the county extension office in Carlsbad. It also wishes to call the attention of the farmers that there has been an increase in the maximum amount that may be loaned to any one land owner from $1,200 to $2,000; however, the maximum of $300.00 to one tenant remains the same.

H. C. Stewart, extension horticulturist, will work in the county three days. Most of the work will be in connection with pecan grafting. A number of demonstrations will be held at the homes of various farmers this morning there will be one at the homes of J. D. Terry and T. H. Flint; this afternoon at the homes of Charlie Powell and Monroe Howard. In addition Mr. Stewart will make a check on the orchards and will make recommendations according to proper methods in handling of the trees, and also recommendations in regard to budding and grafting fruit trees, which work will come on later in the season. It is noted that the trees grafted last season were not killed even by the heavy frost. The trees on the T. H. Flint farm where the grafts were not given any extra protection have budded out.

A number of the farmers have asked for information in regard to the use of chemicals in treating seed corn, and from reports secured from the various experiment stations and other investigators the agent finds that no certain elimination of diseases can be guaranteed by the use of seed treatment, however, the report from the Iowa experiment station shows that where the seed was dusted with Merko, Semesan Jr., and Barback an increased yield and a better stand resulted. The Illinois experiment station reports that they also noted less ear rot and had an early growth and an increased yield of three bushels per acre.

The U. S. Potash Co., has given the agent a number of bags of both the refined potash and the manure salt and tests will be made on various crops during the season. George O'Annun has secured some of the potash fertilizer and will make tests on alfalfa and corn. The agent has also received information from various factories that the formaldehyde recommended for the treatment of sorghum seed against smut can now be secured in sealed tins, which makes it more convenient for use.

The Ohio experiment station reports that the barium fluosulfate, trade name Dutox, was successfully used in the control of the Mexican bean beetle. The state etymologist, of Tennessee also reports that this was used successfully as a dust in controlling the Mexican bean beetle.

Cedars Insect Proof

There are three species of cedar, the cedar of Lebanon, the cedar of the Himalayas and the Atlas cedar of North Africa. The timber is very durable, and has a pleasant odor which seems to keep away insects, so that this wood is immune from their attacks.

WATCH TALKS BY OTTS

Watches, unlike humans can't complain when receiving improper care. You wouldn't thing of calling in a doctor who had not passed rigid requirements of education and practice and who had not been licensed by the state to practice. Unfortunately repairing of watches isn't supervised by the state. Consequently, you must choose and judge the repairing of time pieces by your own standards.

THE COTTON FARMER

Here is the honest opinion of the cotton farmer, by one of them and as it takes in many of the rest of humanity it may be accepted as pretty accurate:

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot and when at last the task is finished, lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another.

He planteth cotton in the earth and tilleth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses and when the harvest is gathered and garnered into the barns he oweth the landlord $8.50 more than the crop is worth.

He borroweth of the lenders to buy molasses and gasoline, and the interest eateth up all that he hath.

He begets sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar and lo, they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere else under the sun.

His children are onery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof.

The wife of his bosom wasteth his money and when he rebukes her, lo! she shooteth him in the final.

He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project thru his epidermis.

He drinketh a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and burneth out the lining from his liver.

All the days of his life he findeth no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until his coming back.

An enemy stealth his car, physicians remove his inner parts and his teeth and his bank roll; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of life; and when he is gathered to his fathers, his neighbors sayeth:

How much did he leave? Lo! He hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young sheik that sliketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of poker.

Woe is man! From the day of his birth to the time when the earth knoweth him no more he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning and now his name is mud.

For a moment let's forget all the glorious fun there is in owning an electric refrigerator. Forget, if you can, all the marvelous frosty salads, frozen puddings, chilly bouillons, icy drinks it helps to make. And forget its conveniences, and the protection it offers by keeping food and milk so fresh and wholesome. Let's just look at an electric refrigerator from a strictly business standpoint, size it up purely as a wise investment.

Count up the vegetables, the fruit, the meat, the butter that adequate refrigeration keeps from being wasted. That is THRIFT! Count up the many intriguing delicacies you can make from little bits of this and that left from yesterday's dinner. The lettuce, celery—all the leafy green things that it keeps from wilting. FEDERAL RESERVE EMBARGO ON GOLD HEADS SUMMONED DECLARED IN U. S.

The following news item under a Washington, D. C. date line may be of interest to our readers:

The governors of the 12 federal reserve banks were summoned Tuesday by Secretary Woodin to meet at Washington yesterday to discuss ways and means of stimulating the exchange of currency and the freeing of money in closed banks.

This is the opening step in a new administration drive to counteract deflation. Methods of controlled inflation are under study but it is felt in the administration command that the first step is to put the banks to work using the currency which now is available to them.

Also considerable attention is being focused on the liberation of the four or five billion dollars locked up in closed banks.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt is talking over the situation with congress leaders who Tuesday withdrew currency inflation proposals to await the White House conferences.

H. G. WATSON IS NAMED CONSERVATOR

(Continued from first page) ing head of the First National in the event it is reopened under the latter plan. While Mr. Losey is known to consider the proposition favorably, he has said that he will not accept it unless officials outline the requirements to him. This has not been done as yet.

What further steps that will be taken to reopen solvent banks in this district will not be known until Mr. McKinney of Dallas, district governor returns from Washington. Only one federal reserve member bank in New Mexico has been reopened since the close of the national moratorium, the First National Bank of Lordsburg, ordered open on March 20th. Three federal reserve members have conservators, The First National of Albuquerque, The First National of Gallup and the First National of Artesia. The status of the First National of Las Cruces is the same as the day it was closed.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt announced yesterday a restoration of the gold embargo as a move to improve domestic commodity prices.

This is the first step in a campaign he has undertaken to establish a controlled price level and a controlled credit to counteract deflation. The word "inflation" is not particularly in the Roosevelt vocabulary, as he maps his campaign to improve the domestic situation. Rather he prefers to speak of "controlled new price levels."

Additional steps are in prospect. The president is awaiting the effect of the move on gold, however, to determine the extent of his next step.

However, if the government is as slow about sending out the garden seed as it is about opening the First National bank, gardeners will be fortunate if they receive seed in time to plant a fall garden.

ALBUQUERQUE — Governor Seligman in a resolution passed Monday at a meeting of the federation of taxpayers associations was requested to call a special session of the legislature to enact tax legislation.

After an all day session, the 50 representatives from various taxpayers association over the county decided they would: (1) support passage of the proposed constitutional amendment limiting property tax rate to 20 mills; (2) support passage of a special legislative session at a general sales tax of two per cent; (3) support the farm holiday association referendum on the governor's $2,000,000 highway debture bill.

Byron O. Beall, chief tax commissioner, told the taxpayers he was conducting a drive to collect delinquent taxes and hold down budget expenditures in an effort to relieve the tax burden. He added that savings on budgets this year probably would be less than 10 per cent.

Resolutions adopted favored the following: A commission to study state and local government re-organization to make a report to the next regular session of the legislature.

Revision of the income tax law passed by the last legislature. Changes proposed would eliminate some of the exemptions.

Repeal of the four-cent a gallon lubricating oil tax.

Repeal of the governor's severance tax on oil and revision of the present ad valorem tax on oil and gas.

Passage of a county salary reduction bill and reduction of fees for mileage of county officers and feeding prisoners.

Amendment of delinquent tax law passed by the last legislature with reference to the sale of property on June 12 for delinquent taxes—would eliminate this.

A new appropriation bill for the next biennium involving reduction lower than those made by the last legislature.

Revision of school laws providing for administrative organization with special reference to the county school board election law.

Repeal of the governor's central purchasing board law.

Repeal of the so-called chain store tax law.

Enactment of a comprehensive gross receipts or sales tax of at least two per cent.

Complete revision of the present system of taxation.

A committee will be named shortly by Clarence Iden of Las Vegas, president of the federation, to reorganize the federation to create more unity of action between the county associations and the state organization.

Cross Ancient Emblem

The cross, as a Christian religious symbol, is probably the most modern adaptation. For thousands of years before the Christian era the cross was of religious significance among widely separated peoples and in different ages. Its origin is lost in antiquity.

Nests of Flamingoes

The flamingoes build strange looking nests in low, marshy areas. To avoid rising water they mold cones of mud a foot or more in height. These are hollowed at the apex to accommodate one or two eggs.

ONE POLE TO A FISHERMAN

Three negroes at Carlsbad were arrested Friday by M. Stevenson deputy game warden charged with fishing with more than one pole each. When arraigned before Judge Frank Richards, Carlsbad justice of the peace one of the men admitted that he had two poles while another said he fished with five, the woman did not have a license. The men were given a fine of $25.00 and costs and the woman was given a ten day jail sentence on failure to pay her fine.

EASTER AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

The special Easter services at the Methodist church Sunday morning was attended by a large congregation. The special music was an attractive feature. The young peoples' division of the church rendered a beautiful anthem, "Cavalry" and Mrs. Martin Yates, Jr., sang an inspiring solo. At the close of the special sermon by the pastor, The Rev. A. C. Douglas, several Sunday school boys were received into the church by baptism.

BACON STOLEN

The Rev. J. D. Terry of Dayton reports that some one entered his smokehouse Thursday night and removed 100 pounds of home cured bacon. The loss to the Rev. Terry is unfortunate. Viewing the loss from another angle, the depression has evidently been overated as up to this time, we did not know any farmer who had as much as 100 pounds of bacon stored.

The loss of a five pound bucket of lard was also reported. The Rev. Terry stated the theft was not the work of any Mexican tenant or farmers.
