U. S. Labor Service To Have Full Time Man

Two Names Submitted For Full Time Manager—Forty Men Given Employment On Two Projects—Registration 375.

The National Re-employment Service for Eddy county will soon have a full time manager. The county committee which started this work is preparing to turn the duties of this department over to a full time salaried manager as soon as some adjustments are made and the recommendation of the committee is acted on. All members of the board or committee were present Monday at a county meeting held in the office of William Dooley, chairman. Present were: Mrs. M. A. Corbin, of Artesia, Caswell Neal and Mrs. Lillian Robinson of Carlsbad and William Dooley, Artesia.

It was agreed the manager should be selected from the north end of the county and the names of Office Brown and F. G. Hartell were submitted for the consideration of the state director and the relief director. The committee felt the county seat at Carlsbad was the logical place for a permanent office, but offices will be maintained both here and at Carlsbad until the work is adjusted to better meet the demand. After the establishment of a permanent office, the manager will spend part time here. Registration here has reached approximately 375 to date, while about 500 unemployed have been enrolled at Carlsbad. The committee has succeeded thus far in placing forty men in employment. Ten have been placed in the Guadalupe mountain project and thirty on the construction of the Santa Fe extension to the potash fields.

Linell's Store Is Burglarized On Saturday Night

Burglars entered the Linell Second Hand Store on West Main street at a late hour Saturday night and took eleven guns and a quantity of ammunition. One gun was recovered. It was found near the Kemp Lumber Co., yard and the place where it was located was evidently used as a cache to hide the stolen fire arms. Officers believe the burglars left the one gun when probably frightened away.

Entrance into the store was made through a window in the northeast portion of the building. The thieves broke a panel out of a door in the repair shop to get from the repair shop to the front part of the building where the guns were displayed.

Evidence points to the fact that the person entering the store was of small stature.

YELLOWSTONE SHOWS COMING OCTOBER 9-14

The Yellowstone shows are coming to Artesia, October 9th to 14th inclusive, under the auspices of the American Legion to present a fall festival of attractions. A merry go round, ferris wheel, boxing and wrestling and twenty special attractions including "Bunney's Special Revue," can be seen at the show grounds. The management promises six big nights. "Fun for all and all for fun."

NEW SURVEY IS MADE ON TEXAS HIGHWAY

Carlsbad chamber of commerce has been advised that a new survey for grading and drainage structures on Texas highway No. 83 in Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Scurry counties has been taken under advisement by the highway commission and that surveyors have been busy for several days mapping a new route through the Borden county ranch country, just west of Snyder.—Carlsbad Morning Sun.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GOV. SELIGMAN TODAY AT CAPITOL

With only minor details lacking funeral arrangements for the late Governor Seligman were completed yesterday.

The public services will be held in Santa Fe at the house of representatives chamber at the statehouse, with the Rev. W. S. Trowbridge officiating. These services of the Episcopal church will be followed by interment ceremonies at Fairview cemetery to be conducted by the Masonic lodge.

Private services for the family will be held this morning when the capitol will be closed to visitors.

Active pallbearers will be: Dr. W. R. Lovelace and Clinton P. Anderson, both of Albuquerque; Juan N. Vigil of Taos and Paul A. F. Walter, E. B. Swope, Martin Gardsky, John Bingham, F. J. Horn, Jesus M. Baca and Geo. Bloom, all of Santa Fe.

HOCKENHULL TAKES GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

Soft spoken, mild mannered A. W. (Andy) Hockenhull, 56 year old Clovis banker and lawyer is New Mexico's ninth governor since statehood and the 128th since the state had its original founding in 1598 under Spanish rule.

Shocked and grieved over the sudden death of Gov. Arthur Seligman the new chief executive went from Albuquerque to Santa Fe after taking his oath of office from District Judge Milton J. Helmick at Albuquerque Monday afternoon.

Governor Hockenhull was attending the meeting of the State Bankers association at which the late Governor Seligman also was present.

He is the second lieutenant governor to step into the governor's chair because of the death of a governor in the state. The first was Gov. W. E. Lindsey who succeeded Gov. William C. McDonald in 1917.

Born in Polk, Missouri and a graduate of the law school of the University of Texas, Governor Hockenhull came to New Mexico from Texas in 1904. He settled on the eastern side of the state and has made his home at Clovis ever since. He practiced law there until six years ago when he became president of the Clovis National bank.

He was first elected lieutenant governor of the state in 1930 and was again re-elected in November 1932.

As presiding officer of the New Mexico state senate in his capacity as lieutenant governor, the new chief executive rapidly won the reputation of being an extremely mild mannered unassuming presiding officer. To his fellow legislators and throughout the state he is always referred to as "Andy." This name clings to him wherever he goes.

He is prominent in Boy Scout activities on the eastern side of the state and active in the Central Baptist church of which he is a member. He also has served as assistant district attorney, as a member of the Clovis city park commission and as a director of the Clovis chamber of commerce.

He is married and has two daughters, one now attending school in Denver the other married and living in Clovis.

FIRST COTTON GRADE AND STAPLE REPORT ISSUED YESTERDAY

The United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Economics at El Paso, has sent the results on grading the first fifty bales of cotton from samples furnished by the Artesia Farmers Gin. The report is very gratifying, considering the fact that a great deal of the cotton ginned early was green. Chas. Rogers, manager of the Farmers Gin stated this morning, forty-six out of the fifty bales graded good middling and four strict middling. In classing the staple, thirty-two bales measured 1-16; seventeen bales 1-32 and one bale 1-32.

By way of explanation, the Artesia Farmers Gin, has been designated by the department to furnish a weekly sample from this section to obtain the grade and staple classification on cotton grown this year.

J. T. Berry of Hope was shopping in town Tuesday.

May Launch 50 Block Paving

FOUR MEXICANS ARE ROUNDED UP--FINED SATURDAY EVENING

There was a general round up of the Mexican population here Saturday night, mostly on disorderly conduct. Pete Gonzales was given a fine of $5.00 and costs on charge of drunkenness. Andres Oroscio was charged with being drunk and disorderly and resisting an officer and was given a fine of $15.00 and costs. Oroscio who persisted in displaying his bottle and drinking in public was sobered up a bit when he resisted Nightwatchman Roy Vermillion and in the shuffle hit a stairway and rolled to the bottom. Jose Flores was charged with petty larceny after officers found a belt stolen from J. C. Penney in his possession. He was given a fine of $5.00 and costs.

Reuben Najira of Carlsbad was caught in the attempt to steal the City Bakery truck. He was bound over to the action of the Eddy county grand jury on charge of grand larceny under $500.00 bond and lodged in the county jail at Carlsbad Monday.

ANNOUNCE LOCATION OIL TEST IN GAINES COUNTY

R. H. Gill, of San Angelo, and associates, who have been negotiating for an oil test well south of Seminole, Texas for some time past have announced that they expect to spud in a test in the immediate future, says the Seminole, (Texas) Sentinel.

The location as announced will be in the middle of the southwest quarter of Section 9, Block A-20, Gaines county, 12 miles south of Seminole.

This location is on land belonging to E. R. Crews, and is about one mile north and one-quarter miles east of his ranch home. The water well was completed on this location the latter part of this week.

C. R. Whiting, service station supervisor for the Phillips Petroleum Co., was a visitor here Sunday.

GINNING CHARGES MAY ADVANCE TEN CENTS

Ginnings charges this season will be ten cents a hundred pounds more than last, if the code, which has been sent to NRA officials in Washington, stands.

The new charge specified is 30 cents for ginning and an additional five cents for sterilization. The charge last year was 25 cents. There was no segregation.

A report on the code was made to some 35 members of the New Mexico Irrigated Cotton Ginner's association at El Paso Monday by John Tweedy, Roswell, who represented this section at the code session which was held in Memphis, Tennessee, September 11 by those interested in the cotton industry.

The New Mexico association was recently formed. C. W. Beeman of Carlsbad, is president.

90,000 LIQUOR CASES U. S. COURT DOCKET

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In view of the numerous recent predictions by administration officials that prohibition repeal is imminent plans have been made for a review of the thousands of liquor cases pending in federal courts to determine which shall be brought to trial.

It was estimated at the justice department Saturday that in some federal courts there were as many as 1,000 criminal cases pending. Altogether, one official said, there probably were 90,000 cases on the docket.

In additions there are several hundred cases in the supreme court. During the summer recess of the 425 appeals to the supreme court, more than 300 were prohibition cases.

MAY MOVE FORT STANTON

It was announced at Roswell yesterday that Fort Stanton will be abandoned and the patients there will be moved to Ft. Bayard. No official announcement, however has been made of the contemplated move.

Survey To Determine The Feasibility Of Paving With Santa Rosa Asphalt Under U. S. Program.

The Artesia City Council will investigate the possibilities of launching a fifty block paving program in the residential district with Santa Rosa asphalt, under the public works program. M. H. Hunter, Roswell engineer is expected to start a preliminary estimate of the cost this morning. Paving with Santa Rosa asphalt can be done at a considerable less cost than with concrete and in addition the federal government will pay for thirty per cent of the cost if the project is approved by the state public works commissioner. If approved the Artesia City Council will ask for the pavement of fifty blocks and six blocks of alleys back of Main street. It is estimated that paving of this sort will cost the property owner not to exceed $10.00 per year over a fifteen year period for a fifty foot lot. The cost may be cheaper. The districts must be bonded and the bonds will be purchased by the federal government at four per cent interest, as we understand it.

First Street To Be Paved

First street paralleling state highway 2 will be paved and gutted by the state highway department, M. W. Evans, council member announced yesterday. A highway engineer is expected here next week to survey the project.

Stop Signs Changed

One of the requirements to get the paving was to change the stop signs on highway 2 at the intersection of Main and First and place them on Main. Motorists coming down Main will be required to stop at First street, otherwise a collision may result.

COLLECTIONS START FEDERAL CROP LOAN

Charles W. Sherrill, of Dallas, credit production manager of the southwestern district of federal crop loans and J. Edwin Brown, of Amarillo, Texas state supervisor of district three in Texas were here Monday conferring with Col. A. T. Woods member of the Eddy county committee and G. V. Clayton, federal crop loan supervisor for this district relative to matters pertaining to the federal crop loans and the collections of the loans. Mr. Sherrill informs us collections have been very satisfactory the past ten days. One county in this region has already paid the 1933 loans one hundred per cent.

Crop proceeds should be applied by the borrower as the crop is gathered and sold. Payments may be sent directly to the Crop Production Loan Office at Dallas, Texas and should be made payable to the Governor of Farm Credit Administration. Loans may also be paid at the office of Col. A. T. Woods or to G. V. Clayton, field supervisor of this district. Last year New Mexico made a very creditable record in repayments of loans but a much better record is expected this year. Full repayment this year will mean a better credit rating for the individuals, the community, county, and state in which they live.

The regional office at Dallas is leading the nation in collections, which is very gratifying. Collections here are expected to experience a decided pick up as soon as the cotton crop gathering operations gets a little further underway.

N. M. BANKER'S ASS'N ELECTS OFFICERS

ALBUQUERQUE—Endorsement of the home owners loan corporation in New Mexico was voted Monday by the New Mexico Bankers association.

The convention was concluded Monday afternoon despite the sudden death of Gov. Arthur Seligman, a member of the association. It was explained only routine business matters were to come up and inasmuch as bankers from all over the state had gathered it would be necessary to complete the meeting Monday.

The association also discussed plans for an NRA banking code for the state but later referred it to a committee representing the clearing house districts in the state for recommendation for final action by ballot of the individual banks.

James B. Read of Taos was elected president to succeed Arthur Jones of Portales. Other officers elected were Floyd Childress of Roswell, vice-president; A. E. Huntsinger, Vaughn, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Barnes, Albuquerque, secretary; Arthur Jones, Portales.

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO THE STATE'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Gov. Arthur Seligman of New Mexico died suddenly in an Albuquerque hotel Monday morning of what physicians described as an attack of angina pectoris.

The governor had come from Santa Fe to attend a meeting of the New Mexico State Bankers Association of which he was a member.

A physician who was called to examine the governor when he complained of a pain in his chest said heart trouble had apparently caused his death.

The governor had just addressed a meeting of the bankers at the Franciscan hotel and apparently was in good health when he left the room on the sixth floor of the building.

Walking from the meeting room to his own room nearby he suddenly remarked to Oscar Love, of Albuquerque, who accompanied him: "My chest hurts."

He lay down on the bed and Love summoned Dr. W. R. Lovelace. The governor died shortly after Dr. Lovelace reached the room.

He died at 11:55 a. m., and it was several minutes before word of his death reached outside his room.

Word of the governor's death did not reach the bankers meeting and it adjourned at noon with many of the members still uninformed of the death of the state's chief executive.

OIL COMMISSION

The oil control committee announced for New Mexico at Washington last week is composed of Van S. Welch and William Dooley of Artesia, A. C. Brown, Hobbs and George H. McIntyre of Fort Worth, Texas.

M. E. Baish of Artesia was made a member of the refining committee from district No. 4.

TWO MORE CLUBS 100% NRA

Two more local clubs have signed the NRA one hundred per cent. Mrs. W. E. Flint, reports. These clubs are the Idlewiles Bridge club and the Rotary club.

MOHAIR MARKET IS LOOKING UP—TOPS 55¢ POUND IN TEXAS

The mohair market points to the fact that mohair growers of the Pinon-Avis section and other areas in the hills are in luck. Mohair sales in Texas last week were reported at 40¢ for adult hair and 55¢ a pound for kid hair. Texas growers believe the price will go still higher. A year ago goats sold for twenty-five to fifty cents a head and buyers did not want them. Today goats are selling in some districts at $3.50 to $4.00 and not many animals are offered for sale.

The Pinon-Avis mohair association has in storage two clips representing well over 200,000 pounds.

FEDERAL COURT ADJOURNED

Judge Colin Neblett adjourned the federal district court at Roswell yesterday after a two weeks session.

MRS. JNO. SHEARMAN DIES YESTERDAY

The death of Mrs. John Shearman at the St. Mary's hospital in Roswell early yesterday morning was a distinct shock to members and friends of the family. Mrs. Shearman, who underwent a major operation last week was apparently recovering very satisfactorily until an infection set in. In fact Mr. Shearman had arranged to move her home last Thursday, but it was decided to wait until she grew a little stronger.

Mr. and Mrs. Shearman came to Artesia nine years ago from Potwin, Kansas. During this time she had made many friends. She was an active member of the First Christian church and a faithful church worker. Mrs. Shearman was thirty-nine years of age at the time of her death.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the First Methodist church with The Rev. W. B. McCrory, officiating. The body will lie in state to friends of the family from 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. at the Shearman home on Washington street.

A husband, two sons, five brothers and four sisters are left to mourn the untimely passing of Mrs. Shearman. The sons are John, Jr., and Lee. The brothers: Eugene Richardson, New Salem, Oregon; Lee Richardson of Garden City, Kansas; Lemuel Richardson, Larned, Kansas; Reuben Richardson, Hugoton, Kansas and Clemmett Richardson, Fitch, Texas. The sisters are: Mrs. L. L. Morgan and Mrs. C. B. Combs of Hugoton, Kansas; Mrs. Ira D. Mahuron, Amarillo, Texas and Mrs. Roy Hagans of Healy, Kansas.

Highway Engineers Expected Here Soon

A crew of highway engineers are expected to start working on Highway 83, probably this week or the early part of next with a view to making some needed repairs. Highway 83, both east and west of Artesia will be resurveyed and the rough spots rebuilt.

Cotton Pickers Still at 60¢—More Wanted

Some confusion has resulted among the cotton pickers over a sign on Main street stating that cotton pickers were wanted at 75¢ per hundred. Farmers this morning said this sign was not authorized and that they were still paying 60¢ per hundred, the price set by the committee, based on ten cent cotton. The Alfalfa Association has advertised for pickers at 60¢, stating that several hundred extra pickers were needed on account of the cotton opening so rapidly. So far as known no cheap labor has been imported recently from El Paso, although rumors were to the effect that Mexican families were brought in in some sections of the valley at 40¢ per hundred during the early part of the season.

LOVING MAN DIES

William Narramore, 74, of Loving died Tuesday morning at a Carlsbad hospital. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at Carlsbad. The Rev. J. E. Black of Loving officiated. Burial was made in the Carlsbad cemetery.

Welch Well May Open A New Oil Territory

Possibilities of a profitable northeast extension to the Artesia field are seen in the State No. 1 of Van Welch, Sr., sec. 22-17-28, which developed an oil pay at 1935-47 feet. Seventeen hundred feet of oil is standing in the hole drilled to 2,027 feet. Workmen are running tubing to give the State No. 1 a pumping test. Early estimates say the well will do 50 barrels daily. It is located two miles north of production.

Two other wells in eastern Eddy county are reaching an interesting depth. The Green No. 2 of the Western Drilling Co., sec. 29-17-29, is drilling at 2405 feet. The Grayburg Oil Co., Burch No. 4, sec. 19-17-30, is drilling below 2975 feet. Lockhart, et al., Root No. 2, sec. 7-17-30, has drilled cement at 2840 feet. Leonard, State No. 9, sec. 22-17-29, is drilling below 520 feet. R. Spearow et al., McClelland No. 1, sec. 22-22-23 in the Rocky Arroyo section is drilling below 3878 feet. Compton Oil Co., State No. 6, sec. 15-16-23, drilling below 400 feet.

In Lea county, a deep test in the southeastern portion of the county has been abandoned and a new location rigging to start in the Hobbs district. Carter-Continental, State No. 1, sec. 28-22-35, has been plugged and abandoned as dry at 4474 feet. The Shell Petroleum Corp., is rigging to start on its Grimes No. 1, SW sec. 28-18-38. The Continental McCallister, A-24 No. 2, sec. 24-26-36, is drilling at 2260 feet.

Cranfill and Reynolds, State No. 4-B, sec. 2-21-33, in the Eunice district is pumping 165 barrels daily after a treatment of 600 gallons of acid last week.

Estimates On Van Welch Test Say Well Good For Fifty Barrels—A Lea Deep Well Abandoned—New Hobbs Location.

Prospects are imminent that Governor Hockenhull will call a special session of the state legislature before many weeks have passed. Those close to state affairs say several pressing matters may bring an early decision from the governor to convene a special session. Governor Hockenhull, they say may want the legislature's aid in carrying out some of the policies of the late Governor Seligman. Again a special session of the legislature is needed to devise new revenue since the passage of the 20 mill levy, which will cut more than two million dollars from the valuation of the state tax roll. Many predicted that the late Governor Seligman would have called a special session of the legislature to adjust the tax situation although no preparations had been made for this event so far as known.

Equally important is the fact that the legislature must provide revenue to purchase state land on which some of the proposed state parks are to be located. The federal government will supply $1,000,000 for the state parks project under the public works program, but the state must furnish the land. In most instances land suitable for the parks is owned by the state penitentiary, some state schools or the common schools and in each instance the institution must be paid for the land granted it.

Special Session Of the Legislature Seems Likely Now

Mr. and Mrs. Looney Jones and family of Santa Rosa have moved here to spend the winter, entering their sons, Raymond and Odie Jones in school here.

OUR FUTURE PROBLEMS

Now that it's settled we are to have a lower tax rate under the twenty mill limit amendment, there is another worry just ahead of us, if we expect to have a nine months school term and keep the municipal, county and state government functioning. Proponents of the twenty-mill limit amendment said "Let's vote a sales tax," and take the burden from our property, which sounded good at the time it was uttered, but we wonder if the twenty mill advocates were really sincere and would vote for a sales tax if they had the opportunity? Now we have the processing tax imposed on most of the farmer's raw products and the merchants and the manufacturers have the NRA, which has increased the cost of goods. The farmer says his purchasing power isn't any greater with ten cent cotton under the present condition that it was last year with six cent cotton and the cost of everything else in proportion. Do you think we could really stand a sales tax now? We doubt it.

If the twenty mill limit is placed into effect this year, there will be enough state money available for a three months' school and other tax money will be available to operate the schools another two and a half months. The above revenue of course is in addition to the prospective revenue from liquor, which is yet an unknown quantity. Under the Lane liquor law, from what we know of it, there is plenty of trouble ahead for the retail liquor dealer. He will have to sell a good quantity of beer and liquors to pay his taxes, not counting the quantity he must sell to secure a profit. If it is too high the bootlegger must still be reckoned with, because the bootlegger can buy malt and make his own at a small cost per case.

There is also the possibility of doubling valuations on tax renditions, because unless we are misinformed the county commissioners are still empowered to do this if they see fit. If this is the way chosen to keep the schools open and the government functioning, then tax authorities say the little taxpayer will pay even a greater proportion of taxes and the corporations less.

One solution to the problem as we see it, is to provide a way to get more of the delinquent property back on the tax rolls. Now in Artesia as well as the rural districts, there is a surprising amount of property delinquent in taxes for a period of ten, fifteen and twenty years. This condition wasn't brought about by the depression, but it is one which has made a higher rate for those who do pay the taxes. In years past much of the delinquencies were made purposely to secure a compromise and many compromises were made at fifty cents on the dollar, all to the detriment of the man who pays his taxes.

FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT

Lots of people never had to reach middle age to find out there are two things there are no use to argue about, prohibition and religion, whereas there are lots of gray headed men and women who can put in a full day arguing on either question. We have observed in former days, and the recent election only served to strengthen this observation that one prone to "argufy," starts the argument with the determination not to admit defeat at any hazard. One easily convinced on the pro question might form the conclusion we are either on the road to prosperity or else the road to ruin, depending on which side he heard last.

There are some who believe that nobody will get to heaven except members of their own church. And this is something to look forward to, for the more fortunate can be assured of at least one thing, namely that they will never get in a traffic jam in the better place.

Rumors are that cheap labor has been imported from El Paso and other Texas points into the valley to help gather the cotton crop. We hope these rumors are unfounded and if true that this practice will be held to a minimum. There is no such thing as cheap labor as some will find before the winter has passed. This class of labor usually can not move when the crop gathering season has ended, which means that they have to be fed and clothed. If conditions do not improve and food and clothing are not furnished voluntarily, we shudder to think of the results. Either the farmer with provisions or the merchants must suffer. Reports say that several Mexican families are picking for 40¢ per hundred.

A report emanating from the Harvard School of Business points out something that is generally unknown: During depression consumption of goods by the ultimate consumer remained at a very high level. Use of meat, butter, clothes, tobacco, etc., fell very little. The great decline was solely in producers' goods—steel, lumber and similar products which are not bought by the individual consumer. The way out of the depression therefore, is to work to increase producer and not consumer consumption, according to this survey. This is in somewhat striking disagreement with the principles of recovery shown in the emergency legislation.

And the latest one we have heard against the NRA is that a certain religious denomination originated the movement. And that reminds us of another unholly rumor that is sometimes poisonous to certain individuals. A resident of Artesia told us that he was reliably informed a religious denomination had bought The Advocate during the political campaign not long passed. The rumor sounded pretty good to us except we never saw any money in the deal and were never approached.

And what has become of the old fashioned belief that to attain a speed of fifty miles an hour would mean certain death to any human?

It will be a smart duck that will know which way to move up in the Clovis section, on account of the split duck season. Up there the Santa Fe railroad is the dividing line for several miles.

LANE LIQUOR LAW IN SANTA FE

Concern is beginning to be expressed among state authorities as to whether repeal of the 18th amendment will put an end to bootlegging in New Mexico.

They advance two reasons. One is the high prices being quoted for whiskey and the harder variety of drinks because distillers, having been restricted in their manufacture during the Volstead regime, have but a small supply on hand. The other is the high rates of licenses required by the Lane act.

Santa Fe druggists have been quoted $60 a case (24 pints) on Four Roses and other whiskeys that have been aged as long as 16 years. In addition to this they will have to pay transportation costs, put up $1,000 bond and pay a federal license fee and take out a license under the Lane law. The government fee is only $25; the Lane law fee much more. Since they are in business for business reasons it is to be expected that they will add a retailer's profit.

A prominent Santa Fe druggist estimated that it would cost the ultimate consumer from $3.50 to $4.50 a pint of bonded liquor. Up to the time the 18th amendment is repealed the price of a doctor's prescription has to be included in the cost.

In view of these prices, the general belief is that the bootlegger will continue to do a brisk business, it is believed. Four yucca projoaque liquor can be bought at approximately these prices per gallon.

There is another side to the picture, however. It has been pointed out that the city, the county and the state all expect to get more revenue out of the Lane law; that bootlegging will interfere with legitimate businesses who are paying this revenue and that, therefore, the civil authorities, from the city on up, may be counted upon to show more activity in enforcing the Lane law than they have been in the past in enforcing prohibition.

The answer to this appears to be that liquor, whether aged or bootleg, will be more expensive.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

VACCINATION

At this time most county health officers are helping the school teachers to keep within the vaccination law of this state by seeing that all the children attending school for the first time have been vaccinated.

The compulsory vaccination law does protect a large part of our population from small pox. But there are some who came here since they left school and there are quite a number of children too young to go to school who have never been vaccinated. In the last four years there have been 58 cases of smallpox among children in the first six years of life and 44 cases among the children in the nine years of school age. Of these 44 cases 32 are known never to have been vaccinated and only 4 are known to have been vaccinated. It is clear that the school children are protected by our present laws and only in danger so far as the school teachers neglect their legal obligations. With the splendid co-operation of the department of education unvaccinated school children are becoming increasingly rare in this state.

But the children under seven years of age are unprotected. Parents should be far from satisfied with this situation. A highly fatal type of smallpox is endemic on the other side of the national frontier; most of the epidemics of virulent smallpox have come into this country from Mexico. The right time to have children vaccinated is at nine months of age. The child should first be immunized against diphtheria and then against smallpox; both before the first birthday.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. See at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

CURRY COUNTY VOTED WET

CLOVIS—Curry County Saturday night was wet by reason of votes cast by absentee voters last Tuesday.

Some fifty or more absentee ballots counted Saturday by the county commissioners in the official canvass swung the county from dry to wet on the local option feature of last week's election and likewise swung it from a dry majority of four votes to a wet lead of 36 votes for the repeal of the state dry law.

The change in votes left Roosevelt county the only dry spot in the state. That county on the basis of unofficial returns showed dry majorities on the national and state repeal questions.

CAN THE RESTAURANTS IN ARTESIA QUALIFY?

Who can qualify among the local cafes and restaurants to sell beer under the Lane liquor law? This is a question which is being asked here now and one which the cafe and restaurant proprietors would like to know more about. According to the popular interpretation of the new law, a cafe or restaurant dispensing beer must have been operated by the same management for the past three years. If this provision is rigidly adhered to, none can qualify here because no eating establishment has been operated for three consecutive years without a change in management.

HOPE SCHOOL NEWS

The current issue of Nation's Schools, a prominent educational journal, commends the recent progress made by the Hope Public Schools in the matter of placing all teachers upon the same basis (years of college training and years of experience, plus a few other features which may be rated objectively) for determining salary. The most drastic change so far as the local system is concerned is that grade teachers may receive as much as high school teachers providing their qualifications are equal.

Black leg in the herd of Newt Teel is being treated this week by boys in the agricultural class of the Hope schools. All day Tuesday was spent in vaccinating.

THE COTTON GRADE AND STAPLE REPORT

The first weekly report on the grade and staple of Arizona cotton was released Saturday by the division of cotton marketing. The other states served by the El Paso office, New Mexico, California and Texas, District 1 (the irrigated valleys of Texas, west of the Pecos river) have not ginned sufficient cotton as yet to warrant a report this week.

The report for Arizona which was issued is based on the classification of cotton coming largely from the southwestern part of the state. Ginnings in other sections of the state have been very light.

The grade of cotton classed from Arizona to September 21 shows all of it to be good middling and strict middling, the percentages being 48 and 52 respectively.

The staple lengths ranged from 3/8 inch to 1 1/8 inches, with the shorter lengths predominating. Approximately 24 per cent was 3/8 and 29/32 inch; 49 per cent 15/16 and 31/32 inch; 9 per cent 1 and 1 1/32 inches; 17 per cent 1 1/16 and 1 3/32 inches; and about one per cent 1 1/2 inches.

All of the cotton classed to date is tenderable for future contracts. This report does not include American-Egyptian cotton.

The weekly reports were released at Washington, last year, but are being released at El Paso this season. This change is being made in order to make available as quickly as possible current information on the quality of cotton for the use of the growers, the cotton industry and others.

MEMPHIS, Tennessee—Secretly arraigned under the cover of machine guns at the Shelby county jail, George "Machine Gun" Kelly Tuesday night served formal notice of his intention to fight removal to Oklahoma City.

Kelly and his auburn-haired wife, Kathryn, with whom he was arrested here by department of justice agents and police Tuesday morning, pleaded not guilty when Lester H. Brenner, United States commissioner, visited their cells with officers.

The warrants on which they were arraigned charged the husband and wife jointly with kidnaping Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, and taking him to Paradise, Texas where he was held prior to the payment of $200,000 ransom.

The removal action was delayed at the request of federal authorities in Oklahoma, who said they believed the witnesses in the kidnaping cases now on trial there will speak more freely if Kelly is not in Oklahoma City.

"Unreality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday, October 1st. The golden text is from Psalms: "The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought; he maketh the devices of the people of none effect."
Among the Bible citations in the lesson-sermon is the following from Luke, 4th chapter, 8th verse: "And Jesus answered and said unto him, get thee behind me Satan; for it is written thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook states: "The five material senses testify to truth and error as united in a mind both good and evil. Their false evidence will finally yield to truth—the recognition of spirit and of the spiritual creation."
"Truth cannot be contaminated by error. The statement that truth is real necessarily includes the correlated statement, that error, truth's unlikeness, is unreal."

RECORD BAT FLIGHTS

Superintendent Thomas Boles of the Carlsbad Caverns and his colony on the hill, have been getting a great thrill the past several nights because of unprecedented "flights" of bats from the great grottoes, says the Carlsbad Current-Argus.

Col. Boles declares that the flight of Sunday night was the greatest since he came from far off Hawaii to be chief gnome, and truly believes that the number was well past the 1,500,000 attained in the historic outpourings of last summer, which have scarcely been equaled this summer.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM CASWELL NEAL

The following letter from Caswell Neal of Carlsbad addressed to J. L. Truett, democratic county chairman may serve to clear up the rumors that there has been a misunderstanding between Mr. Neal and the democratic county organization. The letter is self explanatory and is being published by request:

Carlsbad, New Mexico, September 25, 1933
Hon. Jess Truett,
Democratic County Chairman
Artesia, N. Mex.

Dear Jess:
It has been called to my attention that there is a feeling among the democrats of this county that I feel the present officers of the democratic central committee of this county have not fully carried out what they believed to be the wishes of the democrats of Eddy county.

May I state that I have no such feeling. I feel that what the committee officers, including yourself, have done, has represented the desires of a majority of the central committee and the democrats of this county. I have no feeling of personal animosity toward you whatever.

I know you have devoted your time and efforts toward a united democracy, as no former chairman has done, and that you have done what you felt was right.

Of course, I have opposed some legislation passed by a democratic legislature, not a part of the democratic platform but I did this as an individual citizen and not because of any unkind feeling toward the democrats of the state or county, or any act of yourself as county chairman.

Respectfully,
CASWELL S. NEAL.

TRIBUTE

The passing of our late Governor Arthur Seligman is a tremendous shock and a great loss to the people of this state. His business methods applied to state affairs, his loyalty to the people and his office can not be questioned. He leaves behind him a record of which we are proud and his activities will be missed much more in later years than appreciation was shown during his presence and no action for which his friends need apologize.

While he was a democrat, he dealt considerably with all political beliefs and never was he too busy to hear the pleas of all people regardless of political affiliation; and while the Democratic Central Committee of Eddy County realize we have lost a friend and a leader in Governor Seligman, we pledge our hearty support and urge the utmost co-operation to the undertakings in carrying on most successfully, all state affairs under the guidance of Governor A. W. Hockenull, in whom we place our confidence to carry on with the duties assigned him by the passing of our beloved Governor Arthur Seligman.

Eddy County Democratic Central Committee.

KELLY CONFESSES TO KIDNAPING OF RICH OKLAHOMA OIL MAN

MEMPHIS, Tennessee—The notorious George (Machine Gun) Kelly crumpled under government questioning last night and admitted the kidnaping of Charles F. Urchel of Oklahoma City.

The confession was announced by W. A. Rorer of the department of justice.

"You got me right on the Urchel kidnaping, but not on the Chicago robbery or the Kansas City Union Station job," Rorer said Kelly told him.

Beyond that Rorer would not amplify his statement. The confession was confirmed by John M. Keith of the department of justice from Chicago.

Immediately after the announcement the government started its last move to get final warrants to remove the Kellys to Oklahoma City to stand trial in the kidnaping.

FUN AND FACTS

A homestead in the Pecos valley separated John E. Quinlan from a professional music career, rather the homestead parted Mr. Quinlan from his career. Years ago he was a member of the famous Imperial Bell Band Ringers and the mandolin, banjo and harp club. The mandolin at that time was a novelty and much in demand and Mr. Quinlan laid aside his violin to take up his part as a mandolin player in the string quartette. The bell ringers and string quartette were much in demand and not only appeared in many concerts over the United States, but were called on to fill many engagements before the so-called "blue bloods of New England." Previously Mr. Quinlan was a violin teacher in the Harvard prep school. He came with the bell ringers to appear in a concert at Roswell and Carlsbad and later decided to homestead a piece of land near here. This was when Artesia was known as Stagman. Later three fingers on his hand were cut off in a well rig accident. The accident ended his violin and mandolin playing.

Oil Worth Millions To State . . .

The oil industry not only supplies a substantial pay roll to the community in which it may be found, but it has furnished millions of dollars in revenue in the past few years to New Mexico for its common schools and state institutions. Since the beginning of the Artesia field to June 30, 1929, the state collected $657,216.56 in royalties. This amount was derived principally from the Artesia field, since there was only three producing wells in the Hobbs pool. The total permanent income from oil and minerals from April 1, 1923 to June 30, 1930 was $1,539,127.35, the other income, not in the permanent fund derived from state lands during the period was $8,036,387.93. Out of a total area of 78,402,000 acres in the state, which includes both federal and state land there was during this period 5,956,689.83 acres of state land leased for oil and gas.

In addition to the revenue derived from leases and royalties, with one-eighth royalty paid to the state on state land and five per cent paid on federal class A leases, which is returned to the state, the producing companies, and the Malco Refineries pay to the state a gross production tax of 2 1/2 to 3 per cent, a property tax on improvements outside of the wells, a property tax on the refinery plant, an occupation tax on the refinery to the city, a gasoline tax of 1 1/2¢ per gallon to the federal government, a 5¢ per gallon state tax and there is pending a state severance tax of 4¢ per barrel for every barrel of oil produced by the operating companies. In addition the pipe line company transporting oil to the Malco refineries pays a four per cent tax.

From the above facts you can readily see the advantage of buying a home made product.

STATE FINANCES ARE IN BLACK FOR FIRST TIME IN THREE YEARS

The state of New Mexico during the 1932-33 fiscal year, for the first time in three years, operated within its revenue, according to the financial statement of the state treasurer made public at Albuquerque.

During the two preceding fiscal years deficits were shown.

For the 1932-33 fiscal year the state's receipts were $12,400,972.61 and disbursements were $12,109,453.53. For the previous year receipts amounted to $12,416,992.21 and the state spent $13,564,441.28. The year before that the state collected $15,115,940.99 and spent $16,023,790.40.

Of the $12,400,972.61 collected by the state only $1,991,275.15 was raised by property taxes. Business license taxes alone exceeded the property tax by $505,250. Earnings of boards and departments amounted to $92,206.53. During the year the state raised nearly $1,000,000 by the sale of debentures, sale of certificates of indebtedness and by accrued interest on debentures.

While the state's bonded debt is $2,343,193.16 the indebtedness on highway debentures is $7,361,912.55.

On the basis of the state's debt on highway debentures, it was estimated that the amount needed monthly to retire debentures and make interest payments totals about $130,000, while collections from the gasoline tax vary from about $140,000 to $175,000 per month.

The debentures run until 1941. The state also has on hand $2,000,000 in unsold debentures.

FARM NEWS

MAKE SAUERKRAUT FROM CABBAGE

One healthful way of serving cabbage is in the form of sauerkraut, and it also offers variety in the family menu. Some sauerkraut should be included in every family's food preservation budget, according to W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent, as sauerkraut is easily made. It is usually made from cabbage but turnips may be used.

For making sauerkraut in the home, 4 to 6 gallon stone jars are considered the best containers, unless large quantities are desired, in which case kegs or barrels may be used.

Select only mature, sound heads of cabbage. After removing all decayed or dirty leaves, quarter the heads and slice off the core portion. For shredding, one of the hand shredding machines which can be obtained on the market is much the best, although an ordinary slaw cutter or a large knife will do.

In making sauerkraut the fermentation is carried out in a brine made from the juice of cabbage which is drawn out by the salt. Two ounces, or four level tablespoons, of salt to each five pounds of cabbage makes the proper strength of brine to produce the best results. The salt may be distributed as the cabbage is packed in the jar, or it may be mixed with the shredded cabbage before being packed.

Pack the cabbage firmly, but not too tightly, in the jar or keg. When full, cover with a clean cloth and a board or plate. On the cover, place a weight heavy enough to cause the brine to come up to the cover.

If the jar is kept in a warm, but not hot place, fermentation will start promptly. A scum soon forms on the surface of the brine. As this scum tends to destroy the acidity and may affect the cabbage, it should be skimmed off from time to time.

If kept in this way, the fermentation should be completed within ten days. After fermentation is complete, set the sauerkraut in a cool place. If the cabbage is fermented late in the fall, or if it can be stored in a very cool place, it may not be necessary to do more than keep the surface skimmed and protected from insects; otherwise, it will be necessary to can it.

To can sauerkraut, after the fermentation is complete bring the sauerkraut to the boiling point, pack in glass jars or tin cans, adding enough of the "kraut" brine, or a weak brine made by adding an ounce, or two tablespoons of salt to a quart of water, to completely fill the jars. Seal and store in cool place.

Raw cabbage may be canned, and fermentation will take place to only a slight extent so the product, when opened, is similar to slaw if only stored a few months. Select firm heads of cabbage. Discard green outer leaves. Shred cabbage as for sauerkraut. Pack it in sterilized glass jars with screw tops. Add salt to alternate layers at the rate of one teaspoon of salt to each quart of shredded cabbage. Pour a cup of boiling water over the cabbage to completely fill the jar, some of the water overflowing. Screw the lids on the jars tight. The product will ferment some and liquid will ooze out under the lid. Screw the lid tighter when this happens. Serve this very slightly wilted cabbage with cream and salad dressing. The slightly acid taste is similar to sour cream dressing. Raisins may be added if desired.

TOMATO JAM

5 pounds ripe tomatoes
5 cups brown sugar
2 1/2 cups vinegar

SCHOOL LUNCHESES

What subject could possibly be of more interest to mothers or this or any other community at this time?

The importance of planning good, well balanced, wholesome meals for a family cannot be over emphasized; nor, can the monotony of such an occupation be realized by anyone who has never had to be actually responsible for the meals of a family for one year. When children have to take their lunches to school it becomes even a greater problem, as the noon meal is the most important to growing children. During these times of depression it is not always possible for the parents to give the children money to purchase a hot lunch at noon, but it is necessary that the child have a substantial lunch. Following are a few suggestions. Further information can be obtained from W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent, Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Many times when children take their lunch to school they are so interested in playing that they fail to eat properly, therefore, the following points must be taken into consideration when preparing the lunch:

It must be appealing to the eye; have an appetizing odor; and contain foods which are high in calories and yet properly balanced in regard to protein, carbohydrates and starches. It must also be easy to carry. Satisfactory containers can be obtained at a very moderate cost, articles which are satisfactory are tin bucket, with holes in the lid for ventilation; tin folding boxes; or the more expensive type containing a vacuum bottle. Paper sacks, cardboard boxes and baskets are very unsatisfactory, because they permit the food to dry out, are difficult to keep clean and allow dust to sift through into the food. A small thermos bottle can be purchased for a very small sum and it will be of value to both the mother and child, as it will make the work of planning meals easier and the child will probably receive extra food value. However if no thermos bottle is available, screw top jars may be used with satisfaction as milk can always be carried in them, and if heat is available at school soups may be carried and heated at the noon hour.

A week's menu might be as follows:

Monday—Cocoa, nut bread sandwiches, stuffed egg, apple.
Tuesday—Cream of tomato soup, date and cheese sandwich, sugar cookies.

Wednesday—Milk, raisin sandwich, ginger cake.
Thursday—Tomato chowder, a cheese sandwich and orange.

Friday—Malted milk, graham bread sandwiches, potato salad in glass, baked apple.

In packing the food all sandwiches, cake, etc., should be wrapped in wax paper. Liquid and

NEW YORK WORLD'S BEST SILVER MARKET

NEW YORK — New York has definitely taken the lead away from London as the world's leading market for silver.

Active speculation in this metal has within the past few days boosted the price to within the highest level in more than three years. Buying here has been so insistent that New York prices have recently gone to a substantial premium over London.

Were this premium to widen somewhat, it would undoubtedly swell the already large imports of the metal, although thus far it has not been large enough to leave a profit after payment of freight and insurance across the Atlantic.

Having touched 40 1/2 cents an ounce at the end of last week (with futures nominally quoted as high as 43 cents, the long agitated restoration in price of silver bullion has made marked progress since last December when it touched 24 1/2 cents, the lowest in history.

On factor in the buying of silver has been the quest for investors for a medium to protect themselves against depreciation of the dollar. With gold no longer available to the public in the United States, there has been some tendency to convert funds into silver. Probably more important, however, has been bullish speculation, based on agitation for inflation and the demands of various political interests that "something must be done for silver."

COLO. FARMERS PROTEST

Colorado farmers are also protesting against the attitude of the federal land bank in discriminating against sections not previously eligible for the federal farm loans. They declare the administration has discriminated against eastern Colorado in the granting of federal farm loans. The same complaint has been made here. Colorado farmers set up an organization at Denver recently to determine what steps would be necessary to obtain emergency loans in many of the irrigated districts. Five Denver attorneys have volunteered their services and the case will be placed directly before the federal farm loan administration in Washington. If relief is not obtained, the facts will be presented to President Roosevelt.

RURAL SCHOOL TERM MAY BE CUT SHORT

There is a possibility that the Eddy county rural term may be cut this year, since the 20 mill limit was successful in the election of the 19th. John Shearman, member of the county board of education said the length of the term of the rural schools this year would depend on when the 20 mill law went into effect. As we understand the law, the time of beginning is not specified and a test case will be asked for to determine when the 20 mill levy will apply on the collection of taxes.

The county board has not signed contracts with the rural teachers because the state tax commission has not returned the budget.

CORRECT FOOD MAY LENGTHEN LIVES PAN

The eighty-sixth meeting of the American Chemical Society recently ended a week of sessions at Chicago. Among those attending were 42 pioneers in American chemical science who had attended the Columbian exposition in 1893. During their lifetime these men have seen the rise of chemistry to an industry representing an investment of billions and exerting a profound influence on practically every aspect of civilized life.

Among the most important of these developments is the chemistry of nutrition. The food chemist, according to Professor H. C. Sherman of Columbia University, in a report to a Century of Progress symposium of the agricultural and food division of the society now predicts a seven year advance all along the frontier of age.

Through further knowledge of the chemistry of foods, Professor Sherman said, the normal expectation of life will be extended from 70 to 77. Man will be at the height of his powers at 65 instead of 58. The age at which it is difficult to get new jobs in a field, now commonly put at 45, will be extended to 52.

Adults nearing 60 should learn as readily as the young, for psychology has determined that the capacity for learning is unimpaired at middle age. Professor Sherman holds. It is noteworthy, he added that farmers of more than 50 are just as willing to take up new methods as young men, as shown by "the readiness with which they are adopting the suggestions of county agents in the national recovery movement."

Men and women, as evidenced by the student body at Harvard and Vassar, are taller than their ancestors, Professor Sherman further asserted, adding that "chemistry holding the key to the understanding of the nutritional processes in plant and animal life, relating both to the formation and utilization of our foodstuffs, promises to make them stronger."

The advances which are just now being made in our knowledge of the chemistry of nutrition, according to Professor Sherman, will increase the proportions of older people rendering useful service. The services of people of mature years and judgment as Charles W. Elliott, Harvard president, once pointed out, are of added value because the community recognizes them as both experienced and disinterested. This longer lease on useful life for the individual may thus exert a profound influence on society as a whole.

The new science of nutrition will result, he explained, in an improved internal environment, which passed on to succeeding genera-

$2,000,000 DROP VALUATIONS

Tax experts at Santa Fe estimated that ratification of the 20 mill levy limitation amendment last week will mean a drop of $2,000,000 in property taxes.

Pointing to the Albuquerque tax rate, the experts said, the rate was $49.40 in 1932. Of this amount $13.21 was for the interest and sinking funds of state, county, city and school bonds. Interest and sinking fund levies are exempt from the limitation. Had the limitation been in force it would have been possible to levy only $20 more for all purposes, state, county and so on instead of $36.19 actually charged.

It also was pointed out that the amendment would mean a saving of $16.95 a thousand of assessed valuation in Albuquerque; $8.85 in Santa Fe; $9.68 in Las Vegas; $9.46 in Raton and 14.07 in Clovis.

FIRST IN SALES

CHEVROLET America buys more Chevrolets than any other two cars combined. That is America's way of saying—"Chevrolet is the most economical car we can buy." It stands to reason that, in times like these, only the most economical car could earn such overwhelming popularity. Motorists want cars that stretch the mileage in a gallon of gas and a quart of oil. They want cars that are smooth, fast and powerful—without the cost and upkeep of needless extra cylinders, extra rings and pistons, extra valves. They want cars that run for thousands of miles with scarcely a cent for upkeep or repairs. And that's the kind of car they get in the new Chevrolet Six.

Companies that own big fleets of cars report that Chevrolets cost less to run than any other cars on their list. Owners everywhere have discovered the same thing—and they don't hesitate to spread the good word. That's why more and more people go straight to a Chevrolet dealer when they want, without question, the most popular and economical car in the world.

CROP IMPROVEMENT ASSN. MEET AT ROSWELL OCT. 18

The New Mexico Crop Improvement Association will hold its sixth annual meeting on October 18th at Roswell. This meeting will feature largely the certified Irish potato and cotton work which it has been fostering for a number of years. A large attendance is expected as farmers in the Pecos valley and southern part of New Mexico at the present time are very much interested in problems that will be discussed.

The meeting will be opened at 1:00 p. m. by Fred Nelson, president of the association. It is expected that crops displays and exhibits will come from at least one-half of the counties of the state. The potato seed growers from the north central part of the state have indicated they will send in a rather elaborate display of seed and cotton seed growers are also very enthusiastic.

Among the prominent speakers on these subjects at this meeting will be Dr. Fabian Garcia and R. F. Crawford of State College; A. R. Leding and O. S. Fisher of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Diseases have been creeping into cotton fields in the past few years in southern New Mexico; control measures will be discussed at this time.

Few potatoes are grown for home use in southern New Mexico; yet some farmers grow them every year. Dr. Garcia and Professor Crawford will tell how this may be done.

A crops show will be held at Roswell on the same date in connection with the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, at which place some of the principal crops being grown by members of the Crop Improvement Association will be featured, showing some of the outstanding work that has been accomplished by crops growers with cotton, corn, the sorghums, potatoes, alfalfa and similar crops.

HOPE RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Katherine Wimberly, age 79, resident of the Hope community for some thirteen years passed away Sunday night. Death was said to be the result of old age. Funeral services were held at Hope Monday afternoon.

$100.00 TO SELECT QUEEN OF STATE FAIR

Some community, or organization will be paid $100 in cash for selecting the queen of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair which will be held in Roswell October 18, 19, 20, 21. The parade on the opening morning will be composed largely of queens' floats. Communities, organizations and individuals throughout eastern New Mexico will vie with each other in putting up the winning float on which will be riding the queen of the fair. The winner will receive $100 and the lady on the float will be the queen, the one placing second will receive $50 and the third $25. The ladies on the latter two floats will be princesses to the queen.

That's just one of the many new features of this year's fair, which has come to be an annual institution in which all New Mexico has a part. The rodeo this year, each afternoon, will be for amateurs only which means a much larger entry list and more laughs and thrills for spectators. There will be another huge exhibit of the department of agriculture, shipped direct from Washington in a special car, but it will be entirely different from last year. More cattle, sheep, hogs and horses are indicated in the agricultural department. The domestic arts department, the flower show, and the general exhibits promise much more than ever before.

Old timers—those who have been in New Mexico thirty years or more—will hold forth on Friday October 20th and as usual this will be unusual according to the old timers themselves. They want every man and woman who qualifies for thirty years or more residence in the state to participate.

FED. LOAN TO SHEEPMEN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Governor Henry Morgenthau, farm credit administrator, announced Thursday that loans of a maximum to $100,000 would be made to the National Livestock Marketing association for moving lambs and feeder cattle from western ranges to the feeding areas of the middle west.

The loans are to be made at 4 per cent interest. The loans to be made by the association are to be advanced to the members of the sales agencies. They in turn make loans to the individual farmers. The loans are to be used to pay freight charges and for the feeding of the stock in transit on movements to feed areas.

The loans are to be paid within six months at which time the cattle are to be marketed.

LANE LIQUOR LAW EFFECTIVE OCT. 16

SANTA FE — Its office and field force appointed, the state liquor control board turned its attention to putting the finishing touches on machinery to enforce the Lane liquor control bill which will go into full effect after the state canvassing board meets October 16th.

E. K. Neumann, secretary of the board, said everything was in readiness for the operation of the law and the assessing of taxes under the law. Forms for the licenses to be used are already being drawn up and will be in the hands of the county commissioners in plenty of time.

All licenses will be issued by the county commissioners in counties adopting local option and by city commissioners in any town over 10,000 population in which local option has been adopted. The commissions will set up their own machinery for issuing the licenses and collecting the taxes, Neumann said. All the state board will do will be to approve the licenses issued and supervise the operation of the Lane law.

In counties or cities not adopting local option the sale of intoxicating liquor under the terms of the Lane law will not be held. Counties which have not held local option elections as yet may do so by following the procedure set forth in the Lane bill which requires the filing of a petition signed by ten per cent of the legal voters in the county at the last general election. Until local option has been adopted, however, the counties are dry and there is no machinery for taxation of the liquor traffic.

PROTEST FENCE ORDER

Protest against the Ickes fence removal order has been made directly to President Roosevelt in a lengthy communication signed by the Eddy county commissioners, the Carlsbad city council and the Carlsbad chamber of commerce according to information from Carlsbad.

The signers relate at length the probable results of the execution of the order, declaring "it is so fraught with peril as to threaten with overnight destruction the pioneer industry of these states"—Arizona and New Mexico.

Signers state they are appealing directly to the president in the hope he will intercede with the secretary of the interior "in behalf of an industry in this section which has experienced bank failures and droughts, operating costs beyond our control and low market prices for their products.

"Hovertown," Vacated, Is Burned

"Hovertown," a collection of miscellaneous shacks, tents and dirty little houses on the outskirts of Los Angeles, built during the depression to house hundreds of unemployed, is no more. The uprising in employment brought about by the blue eagle emptied the sordid little tin-roofed shacks until a police survey showed not a person left living in the poverty-stricken community. The picture above shows police burning down the abodes of depression familiar to Los Angeles residents for more than three years.

There is considerable feeling that the NRA program is not working as it should and Washington makes no secret of it. But believe that given time it will work out. Inflation as such is not meeting approval of Roosevelt in spite of loud clamor for it among owners of staple products which it is supposed to raise in price. Unquestionably the 18th amendment will be repealed, its final date to go out is December 6th if all present plans work correctly. A move will be made about that time to send prices up but not until then as it is very much desired that a raise in prices accompany the actual date of repeal. Of course, within itself repeal could not do that very desirable thing therefore the actual ammunition which the administration means to fire to raise prices will be saved until that date; other temporary means, such as announcements and threats will be used to keep prices within the present range until that time. After the middle of December we confidently expect much higher prices, until then a very active trading market.

NEW YORK—Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, returned Tuesday from a vacation trip to Europe.

BUYING DRIVE FOR NRA

He will call for a gigantic buying campaign under the blue eagle to support employees in their efforts to raise wages and increase employment.

NO INFLATION AT PRESENT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt and government financial leaders mapped out their program for credit expansion Sunday night in a lengthy White House conference that centered on release of funds in closed banks. It was emphasized both by the president and the conferees that "no new moves" other than reinforcing the nation's credit structure were in contemplation.

This was accepted generally as definitely eliminating at this time any inflation of the currency. It means the government is going to use every power to put into circulation money now lying idle in bank tills and funds locked up in closed banks.
