OIL RIGHTS MOVED UP TO AUGUST 1

Extension From May 1st To August 1st Made by Order of Ickes, Which Halts Study of Greever Bill.

WASHINGTON—The issuance of an order by Secretary Ickes extending the time for expiration of outstanding oil and gas prospecting permits from May 1 to August 1 temporarily halted consideration by the house public lands committee of the Greever bill amending the oil and gas leasing act.

At the same time R. G. Poole, assistant solicitor for the Interior Department, submitted a report by the secretary asking that the bill by Representative Ayers, Montana democrat, to extend the time for compliance with drilling requirements of oil and gas prospecting permits be defeated.

Ayers' bill provides that all oil and gas prospecting permits of record January 1, 1935, covering areas on which no discovery of oil or gas has been made prior to the approval of his bill be extended to July 1, 1937, within which to commence drilling with corresponding extensions under the existing act.

Ickes said it was necessary to examine all permits in order to protect earned equities in permits now outstanding. He proposed that since some regulation was necessary in regard to extensions that an amendment be placed in the Greever bill that "all permits outstanding on the date of this act be not subject to cancellation," and suggested permits outstanding be extended to December 1, 1936, subject to conditions of prior extensions not be made beyond December 1, 1937.

Former Representative William Eaton of Denver appeared before the committee to urge an extension of outstanding permits in good order.

The committee adjourned without taking action on either the Ayers or the Greever bills pending hearings by the senate on the bill by Senator O'Mahoney, Wyoming democrat, a companion to the Greever measure.

Mr. & Mrs. Brooks Robbed of $300.00 In Cash At Hobbs

HOBBS—Two armed and masked men forced their way into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brooks in the rear of their restaurant at Hobbs early Monday morning, bound them with wire, covered their eyes with tape and escaped with $300 in cash and diamond rings and other jewelry valued at $2,000, sheriff's deputies reported. The robbers forced Mrs. Brooks to attempt to open an unused safe, but she was unable to work the combination.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, former residents of Artesia, had recently moved to Hobbs from Roswell where they operated a cafe for several months.

Saturday night a Hobbs service station attendant was robbed of over $65 in cash by two armed men who forced him to accompany them a short distance from the city before he was released.

Missing Woman Is Found Dead Near Carrizozo on Wed.

Mrs. Parks, Missing Since 18th, Is Found Dead By Highway Beside Auto Which Plunged Over Embankment.

The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. W. C. Parks, aged 39, wife of W. C. Parks, a Carlsbad geologist, who dropped from sight last Thursday while en route from Albuquerque to Carrizozo, was solved yesterday when she was found dead near her wrecked car, twenty miles west of Carrizozo. The body was found by Mr. Parks and Albert Roberts, deputy sheriff of Carrizozo, who were making an intensive search of that section. The car of Mrs. Parks had apparently gotten out of control and plunged over a rocky embankment which skirts the road in that section. She was thrown through the top of the car and probably died instantly, the officer said. A pet dog was found beside her body, also dead.

Mrs. Parks had lived in Albuquerque for a number of years. Her husband recently found employment at Carlsbad.

Mann Drug Co. To Hold Open House On Kelvinator Showing

Plans have been completed for the Kelvinator open house party which starts tomorrow in the show room of the Mann Drug Co., according to officials of the local sales agency who have prepared this special showing in response to a great amount of interest in the 1935 Kelvinator household models.

Newspaper advertising, signs and telephone requests, all have been used to insure a large attendance at the event, it was said, and response so far indicates that the open house will be the most successful event of its kind ever held here.

The new Kelvinator electric refrigerator will be on display and visitors will be able to inspect at first hand the actual operation of the various distinguishing features which help make the 1935 Kelvinators outstanding in the field of home refrigeration. Special demonstrations of some of these features have been planned to give a more accurate picture of the great strides which have been taken in the design and manufacture of electric refrigerators.

While the open house party was planned for the benefit of the many local people who have visited the show room and indicated their desire to have a chance to know the whole story of the sensational new Kelvinators, every effort has been made to plan the event so that those who come will have a good time as well, it was emphasized today. Favors and prizes will be distributed.

Morgenthau Warns Payment of Bonus Will Require More Taxes

WASHINGTON—Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury department told the senate finance committee Tuesday that any of the bonus plans now pending would require additional taxes.

He also warned "that a material decline in the market price of government securities" would result from any large expenditure outside of the budget.

He said if the bonus is passed the treasury is prepared to recommend a federal inheritance tax that would raise from $200,000,000 per year.

Rejecting compromise proposals, the American Legion Tuesday demanded the full cash payment of the veterans' bonus, urging the enactment of the Vinson bill.

PLAN TO HAVE CCC FORCE OF 600,000 BY JULY FIRST

WASHINGTON—A desire to start many work relief projects at one time in order to give the "pump priming" theory of business recovery a thorough test was attributed to the Roosevelt administration in informed circles Tuesday.

Plans disclosed for bringing the Civilian Conservation Corps to a peak of 600,000 men on July 1st were believed to be an indication of the timing contemplated in the $4,000,000,000 works drive.

O. W. McIlhenny underwent an operation for rupture yesterday at the St. Francis hospital in Carlsbad.

N. M. Oil Assn. Favors Regulation To Promote Equalization Supply-Demand

The executive commission of the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association in a meeting here Tuesday afternoon went on record as favoring federal regulation that would promote the equalization of supply and demand in the oil industry. A copy of the resolution was forwarded to Senator Elbert Thomas, chairman of the senate mines subcommittee. Executive committee members present were: A. C. Brown and D. D. Bodie, Hobbs; Harry Leonard, Roswell, and V. S. Welch, M. E. Baish and C. J. Dexter, all of Artesia.

The substance of the resolution relative to equalizing the supply and demand was as follows: "We are convinced that the conservation of our natural petroleum resources and the stabilization of the petroleum industry can only be accomplished by a permanent, assured and effective balance of supply and demand. To accomplish such a balance the federal government must assist the states. We favor federal legislation providing for a federal agency to scientifically determine the total demand consisting of exports and domestic consumptive demand; providing for the restriction of imports to a definite fixed percentage of the allowable domestic production; providing for restriction of withdrawals from storage; providing for the federal agency to make impartial production allocations to the states, each state to have exclusive control within its borders so long as they keep their production down to the federal allocation but with authority for the federal government to act if the state's production exceeds the allocation; and authorizing an interstate compact under which the compact states would be excluded from the federal legislation so long as their combined production did not exceed their combined federal allocations."

CITY SCHOOLS GET TWO MORE TEACHERS 35-36

New Budget To Provide A New Transportation Route North of Town; Ten Percent Increase in Maintenance Fund.

County and municipal school boards met with State Budget Auditor R. H. Grissom Monday at Carlsbad where budgets for the county and municipal schools were fixed for the coming year. In going over the various budgets a ten percent increase was allowed in the maintenance fund to care for some additional expenses the schools will have to meet another year. The Artesia schools were given another transportation route to serve the patrons north of town. The new route will be approximately fourteen miles long. The budget of the local schools also permitted the employment of two additional teachers for another year for the city schools. Supt. W. E. Kerr, with R. L. Paris and Chas. Morgan, members of the board of education, attended Monday's meeting.

Rural School Budget Increased

The budgets of all rural schools were increased. The largest increase was made in the teacher's fund, which was increased ten percent. John Shearman, board member, said. All teachers in the rural schools another year will draw at least $100.00 per month, he said, which will be more than a ten percent increase in the salary of some teachers, while the increase in the salary of other teachers will not amount to ten percent. Owing to the fact that practically no building repairs have been made during the last four or five years, the building fund was also increased to care for needed repairs.

In addition to the new transportation route north of town to serve the Artesia schools, a new route was also created for south Eddy county to be used to transport pupils from the U. S. Potash refinery to the Loving school. Operation of the bus lines next year will be taken out of the direct charge of the district up to the 20 mill levy, instead of out of the maintenance fund.

The Lakewood school district had the biggest boost in taxable valuations the past year, due to the operations of the Potash Company of America in this district. Valuations were boosted $850,000 in the district due to potash operations. The Lakewood school district also operates the largest number of transportation or bus lines. Three lines operate in this district, two to Lakewood and one to Carlsbad.

Word received from George R. Spencer, county superintendent, this morning, advises that school matters were arranged so that the transportation charges come out of the maintenance fund instead of the direct charge as provided by law. Mr. Spencer says the county rural schools will have five more teachers another year. Arrangements were also made to remodel or build on to five different school buildings during the coming year.

Mrs. Anna Davidson spent Easter Sunday in Carlsbad with her sister, Mrs. O. E. Puckett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Baird and son Nevin drove over to El Paso Tuesday to consult a specialist for Nevin who has been suffering with ear trouble.

Machinery Set To Make Jobs In Work Relief

Frank C. Walker of New York Will Pass On the Program to Create New Jobs Out of the Four Billion Dollar Fund.

WASHINGTON—Setting up the machinery through which will be fed all plans for creating jobs out of the four billion dollar work relief fund, President Roosevelt Tuesday moved a step nearer the big-spending stage of his program.

The White House, in a statement, delegated the task of passing on all plans to Frank C. Walker, a New York lawyer who for years has been a close friend of the president.

To handle the job, Walker yesterday returned to the past he formerly held as head of the national emergency council. A new division of the council was set up to deal with the plans. Donald R. Richberg, who has been executive director of the council since Walker left a few months ago, will devote his full time to directing NRA.

Almost coincidentally with the announcement, word came from Secretary Ickes that he would begin conferences with labor leaders soon looking to a division downward of the public works wage scale.

The secretary said recently that all work projects would have a uniform wage scale. Administration spokesmen had suggested that workers under the relief program be paid a security wage which would average about $50 a month with lower rates for unskilled labor. As outlined by the White House statement, all suggested plans for using work relief funds will flow through the new division of the emergency council. There they will be sorted and checked.

Those that are deemed meritorious will be passed on to the proper government department for any engineering study that may be needed. The division will study the plans not only from the standpoint of their feasibility, but also with an eye to their capacity for giving jobs to the unemployed in the relief area in which they are located.

H. B. Fell Talks To Oil Men Thursday

H. B. Fell of Tulsa, Oklahoma, executive vice-president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, addressed a representative crowd of oil men and business men at the Artesia hotel roof garden last Thursday evening. The speaker was introduced by C. J. Dexter.

Discussing the subject of "The Oil Industry From A National Standpoint," the speaker brought his hearers many interesting facts regarding the operation of the oil industry and its problems to be faced in the future. Reviewing a history of the business from 1929, Mr. Fell told of the fight to get a tariff on oil and after securing protection from foreign produced crude how the industry had batted to control the domestic output to keep from demoralizing the price structure. "The greatest problem of the industry today is to balance supply and demand," the speaker said. He told of the efforts to pass the Thomas Disney bill, framed to correct some of the existing evils.

Mr. Fell called attention to the fact that the Connolly oil bill would be the only national oil legislation after June 1935, at which time the national recovery act expires and this bill only seeks to regulate interstate oil shipments. "After that date unless more legislation is passed, we will have no tariff on oil and will be facing the same old problem," he said.

Mr. Fell closed with a plea for equal opportunity for all.

"And this can only be accomplished through some sort of regulation," he said.

LAST PRE-SCHOOL CONFERENCE HELD

The last pre-school conference of the present school term was held Tuesday afternoon at the Central school by Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer, and Mrs. G. C. Kinder, school nurse. A number of children were present for toxoid immunization and small pox vaccinations. This will be the last clinic held until late this summer.

Principals Have Last Meet Until Next September

The Eddy county elementary principals' association held the last meeting of the year at Carlsbad Saturday evening, with nine principals in attendance. Miss Linna McCaw of the Junior high school, I. H. Burgess and Ray Zumwalt of the Upper and Lower Cottonwood schools, attended from north Eddy county.

After a dinner at the La Caverna Hotel Coffee Shop, an interesting program was given. Two viewpoints of an important subject were discussed. Miss Linna McCaw discussed the subject, "What the Principal Expects from the Teacher," and Miss Thorne of Carlsbad discussed another phase of the subject, "What the Teacher Expects from the Principal."

The next meeting of the association will be held in September. Miss McCaw was accompanied by Misses Mary McCaw and Merrill Bradley, who drove to Malaga for a visit with Mrs. Sadie Wilson, sister of Misses Linna and Mary McCaw.

CO. COTTON ASSN. HOLDS MEET WED.

Session Called at Carlsbad Studies Bankhead Act and Proposed Amendments Which Affect the Growers in the County.

A meeting of the officers of the Eddy County Cotton Control Association was called by W. D. Bales, chairman, in Carlsbad yesterday morning. The subjects for discussion and settlement were the bills in control dealing with the agricultural work in cotton and other commodities, and the use of the rented acreage under the cotton contracts.

Two bills of particular interest at the present time are the House Bill 6424, which has passed the house and amends the Bankhead act and provides for a three-bale minimum exemption to all farmers whose history will justify such exemption. The officers of the association felt that such exemptions might cause the producers on minimum size cotton farms to lose interest in the general value of the program, and went on record as not favoring the amendment.

Much time was spent in discussing the bill in congress, 7088. The purpose of this bill is to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act and involves matters of vital interest to farmers. As there is much opposition by outside interests against the amendments and the general activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, the officers wish to call the attention of farmers to the various sections of the act.

Section 1. Adds interest and taxes, but not labor costs to the parity yardstick which is interpreted by some as being the gesture toward the cost of production advocates.

Section 2 and Section 3. Change the word "reduction" to adjustment and Section 3 also begins the so-called McNary-Haugen principle of export debentures.

Section 4. Authorizes licensing of processors, etc., under certain conditions for certain purposes. Licensing is mostly confined to those who handle non-basic commodities. No farmer as a producer is to be licensed. A farmer who is a distributor is subject to license as a distributor.

Section 5. Provides that information may be assembled from licensees and signers for marketing agreements to ascertain if the anti-trust laws have been violated.

Section 6. Provides that quotas or allotments for marketing agreements on licensees are to be determined by 2/3 in number of the farmers who produce a commodity or volume of the product. It also provides that the secretary shall terminate such marketing agreements or license if it violates the policy of the act. This section also terminates such agreements on licensees when such action is favored by 50 percent in volume of the farmers who produce a commodity.

Section 7. Provides for hearings in case of violation.

Section 8. Contains certain so-called McNary-Haugen principles based upon processing taxes to get the money.

Mrs. Burke Rites Spoken Saturday

Mrs. Anna Juanita Burke, aged 37, wife of W. W. Burke, and former resident of the Cottonwood community, died at the family home on west Dallas street early Friday morning after a long illness. Mrs. Burke was taken to the Carlsbad hospital about four weeks ago and was believed to be on the road to recovery when complications set in, causing her condition to become critical after the severe dust storm of about a week previous.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke and family had lived in Artesia only a few weeks, moving here from their farm on the Cottonwood. Mrs. Burke is survived by a husband, four daughters, Lucille, Ida Mae, Evanelle and Loan Burke, all of Artesia; three sons, John, Raymond and Robert Burke, all of Artesia; a mother, Mrs. J. E. Hogan of Coleman, Texas; a sister, Mrs. Bowen of Coleman, Texas; three brothers, Ernest, Frank and Julian Hogan, all of Coleman, Texas, and a half brother, John Fogue of Comanche, Texas.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church with the Rev. P. G. Woodruff, pastor, officiating. Pall bearers were former neighbors of the Burke family on the Cottonwood and included: Messrs. Tom Terry, Ray Zumwalt, Jesse Funk, J. H. Felton, G. G. Golden and Frank Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Collins accompanied their son Fletcher and wife to Carrizozo Sunday for a visit at the Johnson home.

County Corn-Hog Committee Meets Here on Saturday

The county committee of the corn-hog program met here Saturday to arrange preliminaries connected with starting the season with all committee members present, including Oliver Scoggins and Virgil Craig of Hope and R. L. Paris of Artesia. The supplemental evidence sheets were completed with a few contracts outstanding and an expense budget was made for the year. Also the adjusted yield per acre on corn was fixed, which was based on the county's average yield of 27.8 bushels of corn per acre.

1934 Oil Output Is 16,592,631 Bbls.

New Mexico produced 16,592,631 barrels of oil during the year 1934, these figures represent the actual pipe line runs, tabulations compiled from an authentic source revealed here recently. Of this amount the Artesia area produced 848,942 barrels. Figures on the production of the Hobbs pool are not available, but Hobbs is still the biggest producing field in the state by far. During the first quarter of 1935 a total of 4,619,770 barrels were produced in the state and in the same period the Artesia area produced 238,332 barrels. Both the state and local runs show an increase in production over the corresponding period of 1934.

It will be interesting to note practically all of the production outside of the Eddy county district or the Artesia and Maljamar areas, is run out of the state, while the pipe line runs in the local section has been taken by the local refineries.

ASK FOR 1936 ROTARY CONVENTION HERE

Three members of the Artesia Rotary club left early this morning for Santa Fe to attend the annual Rotary conference of the 42nd district to be held at the La Fonda hotel April 25th and 26th. The Artesians went with the intention of making a strong bid for the 1936 convention. The district convention usually attracts about 300 people. The local party is composed of J. K. Wallingford, W. B. McCrory and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Morgan.

RIOTS AND REDS

It is unfortunate that in a number of industrial centers communism and the red agitator has gained a foothold which has seriously interfered with normal recovery. The red agitator has found a fertile field in the Gallup district, a section of the country largely dependent on mining. Along with the critical financial conditions, this section has seen a lot of its industrial activity stopped because a change has been wrought in our economic and industrial life. Coal, a major mining industry in this region, has met a substitute in oil and gas as a fuel and power source and the substitute for the time being at least partly paralyzed the coal mining with hundreds of mines shut down, probably never to reopen, and thousands of miners out of work. These miners are stranded so to speak. They know nothing but mining. They do not seem to be able to rehabilitate themselves and find other employment.

The Gallup picture is not different from that viewed in other mining areas. For in these mining districts we have the miners, largely of foreign origin, with no employment and with large families to support. They know only one occupation and have never made a serious effort to Americanize themselves, even to learning the English language.

Industry seeking cheap labor is responsible in a large degree for this condition and should be made to help solve it. With respect to the red problem and the foreign-born industrial worker, we are no different from the pre-Civil war period, a time when the wealthy ship owner transported thousands of slaves into the southland and created the greatest modern economic tragedy, the Civil war; all for a little profit.

In the greed of a few to make millions, a social problem is brought about that reacts unfavorably and the public must suffer however innocent we may be.

EMPTYING THE MOTORISTS' POCKETBOOK

That vast army of politicians which is always on the hunt for a new way or raising money to spend for this purpose or that, is again turning its attention to the gasoline tax.

Agitation is underway in California and several other states to boost existing gas tax rates. And the chances are that still more states will be invited to get in the parade. When the tax gatherers see their fellows across a border preparing to cut a nice juicy melon at public expense, they want a slice too.

It might be well to keep in mind the fact that the automobile owner already bears the largest burden of class, special taxation of any group in the country. In California alone he must pay out $30,000,000 a year—and if the gas tax is raised he will pay $12,000,000 more per year in the future. This would be bad enough if the money were used exclusively for road building and other purposes directly benefitting the motorist. But a rising percentage of tax revenues from gas and other automobile levies is going into general state funds, to be used for any and all governmental functions—functions that should be paid for by taxes contributed by all the people, and not by a single class.

The gas tax shouldn't be increased—instead, it should be reduced. And the public should let the politicians know how it feels about it.

PRICE WARS

Wars are destructive regardless of their nature, even price wars. The consumer and the public pays the bills, but some people are selfish enough to foster and encourage such tactics. We even have lots of fairly well-to-do people who have adopted as their hobby various methods of beating down the price. But somehow financial gains obtained in this manner are like the ill-gotten gains, the perpetrator never appears to reap permanent benefit from his efforts.

Prices are rising now, but for the past five years we have had enough cheap prices to satisfy even the glutton for cheap things. Two years ago one could have bought most anything at half its normal value but did you profit? If you did, you are probably one in a hundred.

The United States still controls one-third of the world's monetary gold. Great Britain controls 80% of the world's tin. Gold will buy bullets and hire soldiers, if need be, in time of war, but tin is absolutely necessary in making certain high explosives.

It is told of a local mother that since she smelled tobacco on her son's breath the other evening she won't let him go out with the girls any more.

The white man's burden is trying to adjust a 1926 scale of living to a 1935 income.

They say short skirts and prosperity are synonymous and that the women are now shortening their skirts. Maybe they are but up until recently the dust has been so bad we had not noticed.

Beauty shops are numerous. Looks like the men will have to start getting permanents, in fact, three young men are said to have gotten permanents the past week.

Here's a poem from a Texas Panhandle dust victim:
Now I lay me down to snore,
With lots of dust in every pore.
And if the dawn I fail to see
They won't have to bury me.

A poetic young man proposed this way:
Your eyes are as bright as diamonds;
Your teeth are as white as pearls;
Your lips are like rubies . . .

But here the girl broke in and said, "Oh, go on home. You're as green as an emerald."

They tell us the politicians will have to change their stories during the next political campaign. They can't promise a new heaven and earth, because Kingfish Huey Long has already done that.

The best laugh at the 10-state AAA meeting held at Kansas City recently was a yarn told by Arthur Robinson of the Colorado Agriculture College. Over in De Baca county he says no gasoline or oil is needed for strip listing. They just tie a lister to a post and list the land as it blows by.

Fads change. It used to be necessary to start some kind of an endurance contest such as sitting on a flag pole for twenty hours without coming down, to get notoriety. Now it's thinking up a new theory on high finances or some darn fool idea of how to run the government.

A neighbor of our's has a new pup that is starting a new movement like the New Mexico Farm Holiday association. At least this is the pup owner's impression because the dog spends most of his time howling about something.

Condition of N. M. Winter Wheat Is Lowest on Record

WINTER WHEAT: The condition of winter wheat on April 1 was only 29 percent of normal and the lowest condition of winter wheat recorded for New Mexico according to a report issued by Fred Daniels, agricultural statistician, for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The condition of winter wheat on April 1, 1934, was 49 and April 1, 1933, 59, and the 10-year average 1923-32, 75 percent. Based upon conditions prevailing about April 1, a 1935 crop of 540,000 bushels is forecast compared with 561,000 bushels in 1934 and a 5-year average production of 3,712,000 bushels. There will be very little or no wheat harvested in Harding and Union counties owing to drought conditions and inability to sow the desired acreage last fall. The bulk of the state's production this year will be in Quay and Curry counties but immediate rains are needed.

WHEAT STOCKS: Stocks of wheat on New Mexico farms on April 1 were estimated at 78,000 bushels compared with 74,000 bushels a year ago and 365,000 bushels on April 1, 1933. Corn stocks on New Mexico farms April 1 were 184,000 bushels; on April 1, 1934, 859,000 bushels and April 1, 1933, 961,000 bushels.

PASTURES: The condition of New Mexico pastures on April 1 was 36 percent of normal compared with 64 last year and 79 for the 10-year average, 1923-32.

United States Condition of winter wheat on April 1 was reported at 69.8 percent of normal, compared with 74.3 percent on the same date in 1934 and the 10-year average (1923-32) April 1 condition of 78.9 percent.

PASTURES: The condition of pastures on April 1 was 68.7 percent or 1.6 percent above that of a year ago. The prospects for the great plains states are exceedingly poor and show possibly the poorest condition in ten years.

PLEASANT DAYS AHEAD
A story from Clovis says: Veteran plainmen of this panhandle section of New Mexico see signs in the skies which forecast more pleasant days and fewer dust storms.
George Anderson, pioneer cowman of this section, is responsible for one of the predictions. Less florid sunsets, he claims, and the receding heavy blue rim in the west at daybreak foretell the coming change to calm days.
Anderson also translates the deeper blue skies as an indication of fewer strong air currents at higher altitudes, and the sprouting of spring-time vegetation from the earth as forecasts of mild weather.

SUCCESSFUL MOUNTAIN FLOWERS ARE LISTED

Mrs. W. W. Buckner of Weed has sent a list of flowers that can be successfully grown in the mountains. The letter of Mrs. Buckner was addressed to E. B. Bullock and for the information it contains we are passing it on.

Among the hardy perennials are: Iris, Pinks, Painted Daisy (Pyrethrum) Shasta Daisy, Violets, Yellow Lily (also probably known as Japanese Lily), Columbine, Oriental Poppy, Sweet Williams, Anemone, Japanese Fern (ornamental bush), Hollyhocks, Wild Hops, Canterbury Bells and Native Vines. Annuals that will re-seed easily: California Poppy, Shirley Poppy, Sleepy Hollow Poppy, Phlox, Pansy, Bachelor Buttons, Sweet Alyssum, Calendulas, Wild Cucumber Vine, Prince's Feathers.

Mrs. Buckner, who is a very successful gardener, states that wild flowers do well when transplanted and cultivated and thrive especially well when placed on the west and north sides of buildings. Ferns, Columbine and Violets are among the hardy wild flowers that respond to cultivation.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL
By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

The Recitation
It would be interesting, if not tragic, to know how much of one's self that is called character or personality or querness is due to a situation in child life like the school recitation. We don't often think of it, but although it is too late for us it isn't too late for thinking about the children of today and tomorrow.

In the formative years of childhood, the individual is being shaped by every experience of daily life. And if you can recall feelings, you'll know that the recitation is a real experience. It is pleasant for the bright pupil who is prepared and knows it. His name is called. He is elated. "I know that answer," speaks an inner knowledge. While the ego gloats, "I'll show these other kids." Another kindling is added to what may become a dangerous trait if we're not wise enough to guide it. Self-confidence is desirable, but self-assurance of one's superiority over "common stuff" is bad.

I'm more worried, however, about the unpleasant experience. Perhaps you know the stifling sensation that comes when you're expected to make a speech or give a report before the club. Think how the child must feel before his play-mates, particularly if he isn't prepared or flounders in a sea of errors. The stunt itself is bad enough, but the little gripping fears that creep in are terrifying. Horrid, disturbing thoughts that haunt and hurt 'way into the night.

A few repetitions and the child begins to expect failure. He feels inadequate to the task, and he sits there atremble waiting for his name to be called. Other pupils, more confident and brighter, overshadow him. "They're good; I'm not." And "I hate them; I hate school; I hate the teacher." School is discouraging. "Aw, what's the use; I want to leave." In such instances the school equips the child for life with a horrible monster in his soul, a burden too heavy to carry, a fear that holds back. It is the inferiority complex.

Social Activities

ROTARY ANN BANQUET

One of the outstanding social functions of the Artesia Rotary club was the Rotary Ann banquet at the Roof Garden for Rotary Anns and visitors on Tuesday evening. The regular weekly club luncheon Tuesday noon was omitted in order that all members might take part in a banquet for the ladies. The program for the evening, in charge of C. J. Dexter, included the unveiling of a mysterious statue known as the "New Deal," which when unveiled proved to be a new Rotary bell and gavel. Briefness was exemplified by Mr. Dexter in a short talk on the "Hoover Dam." Musical numbers enjoyed by those present were a violin solo with encore by Shirley Bartlett, a vocal solo with encore by Mrs. Frank Smith and a vocal solo with encore by Mrs. J. K. Wallingford. Both the banquet course and the program was interspersed with club singing. Mrs. Martin Yates, Jr., led in singing several songs and both the Rotarians and Rotary Anns rendered special numbers. A request number for the Rotary Anns to sing, "The Old Gray Mare Ain't What She Used To Be," was refused by the leader, Mrs. Yates, on personal grounds, probably because of the implication of the name of the song.

The banqueters refused to hear the famous song of Eph Bullock, "The Bear Went Over the Mountain," after Mrs. Landis Feather, his daughter, said she used to beg him to stop singing when she wanted to go to sleep. Rotarians and guests present were: Messrs. and Mmes. Ray Bartlett, C. L. Womack, Chas. Morgan, Jack Clady, J. H. Myers, J. S. Ward, J. K. Wallingford, H. S. Williams, C. J. Dexter, E. B. Bullock, H. G. Watson, Boone Barnett, S. W. Gilbert, W. B. McCrory, Martin Yates, Jr., D. I. Clowe, W. C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pior, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Turkey Raisers Can Pool Sales Cooperative marketing facilities for turkeys will be available for New Mexico turkey growers next fall and winter, says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College.

The Plains Cooperative Association, Inc., with headquarters at Plainview, Texas, has completed plans for marketing thru the Northwestern Turkey Growers' Association of Salt Lake City. This is one of the most efficient and best known cooperative organizations in the country; they are 100 percent cooperative. The turkeys are received, sold on a graded basis and, after deducting the cost of marketing, the grower gets what is left. The grower who puts No. 1 turkeys in the pool gets a better price than the grower who puts in No. 2's or No. 3's.

Those who wish to take advantage of this opportunity to sell cooperatively and on a graded basis should prepare now to produce quality turkeys. To produce No. 1 quality turkeys, one must start with good breeding stock, hatch properly, feed a balanced diet, and do many other chores of turkey raising in the proper manner. Literature on this may be secured from the Extension Service.

In Curry and Roosevelt counties, where a carload at a time can be shipped, marketing will be a simple matter. Growers in other areas will need to make arrangements to get their turkeys to more concentrated areas.

The cost of marketing through the Northwestern Turkey Growers' Association is usually about one-half cent a pound; the cost to the local unit which grades, packs and ships the turkeys may go as high as five cents a pound, depending on the cost of boxes, volume, etc.

Marketing by grades is an improvement over the old method. When the price is the same for all grades, there is not much inducement for growers to produce quality turkeys, consequently lower quality and lower prices result. Also, the set prices for all grades was too often based on the poorest quality, thereby penalizing the few who had quality turkeys.

CARLSBAD-MALAGA ROAD LET

The state highway commission, meeting in Santa Fe Thursday, awarded the Carlsbad-Malaga road contract to Skousen Brothers of Albuquerque at a cost of $128,694. The road project is slightly over fifteen miles in length and closes the last unpaved gap between Carlsbad and Pecos, giving the Pecos valley a southern and eastern outlet of surfaced roads.

Hudson Motor Co. Contest To End On April the 27th

Residents of Artesia appear determined that one or more of the twenty-five new automobiles, offered by the Hudson Motor Car Company in a nation-wide letter contest, will be added to the local registration records, if the number of local contestants can be taken as a criterion, according to the Hannah-Cox Motor Co., Hudson and Terraplane dealer here.

The contest is unique, state Mr. Hannah, in that all of the prize cars will be given at one time, rather than in a series of weekly or bi-weekly awards. Further, it is said to be the largest number of automobiles ever offered in a single contest. These factors appear to be attracting an unusual number of people from this vicinity to join in the nation-wide competition. The contest ends April 27, and Mr. Hannah expects to be advised of the names of the winners about May 13. The judging will be done in Detroit by a committee of nationally known people.

100 OCTANE FOR GASOLINE SEEN

NEW YORK—A process for making 100 octane gasoline, expected to jump auto and plane speeds, was reported to the American Chemical Society Monday by Dr. Vladimir N. Ipatieff of Chicago.

Octane means anti-knock, and 75 to 80 is the highest quality commercially available. The sensational performances expected from the new fuel are based on reports made here recently by U. S. army aviators to the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

They disclosed the army had 1,000 gallons of a specially prepared, experimental 100 octane gasoline. It added 35 miles an hour to flying speed, with no other changes than draining and re-filling.

Dr. Ipatieff said the new process for making 100 octane is by polymerization. This chemical term means that the molecules of a substance begin sticking together. Polymerization is widely employed to convert liquids into solids or semi-solids.

FARMERS TO VOTE ON AAA PROGRAM

KANSAS CITY—Ballots cast at cross-roads stores and country school houses next month will give Uncle Sam the information on just what his farming nephews think of the AAA wheat adjustment program. A ninety-five per cent turnout of wheat farmers in the nation is the goal of federal officials now in the field preparing for the referendum which will determine whether the domestic production control program of 1933-35 is to be continued for the next four years.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

Suggestible Children are highly suggestible. They absorb nearly everything that goes on or that is said. To some extent therefore every adult is influential in the forming of a child's habits and attitudes. Can you imagine the child in this situation, which I actually witnessed? The teacher was having the class name the different fruits, each pupil answering according to his preference. One little fellow said sincerely enough "prunes." To which the teacher replied "Oh, you're a prune." It was just one of those times when a person sees a chance to be funny or smart. Though she said it with a smile, I could see that it hurt the boy. He tried to grin, but his face betrayed the real emotion caused by the raucous laughter of the class.

He had given his best, an honest answer. He meant it, so what was so funny? Why do we do such things without thinking of the child's fine, sensitive nature? What did that mean to a child in front of his own playmates? Can't you hear him labelled "prune" after school and perhaps for years afterward? If he ever eats another prune, the humiliation of that moment will return for a long time to come. Though the emotional effect is less serious, the influence upon choice of food is just as great when an adult says, often with a wry face, "Oh, I don't like milk. It upsets me," or "I don't like the taste of milk." To the child, something queer about milk is suggested. He's not sure what it is, but when a grownup says it, there surely is something wrong. Right there in a thoughtless moment we tear down months or years of careful teaching and persuasion. If we have to refuse milk, let's say "milk is good, but I don't care for any right now." Remember! Little ears hear a lot to wonder about.

The Houston Press recently received a letter from Mrs. Clara Bowers of Tenaha, Texas, asking for help in figuring out her family relationships. But for once the newspaper fell down. Here is her problem: "My father's brother married my husband's sister. They had ten children. "My husband had seven children when I married him. We have five. "My father's brother's oldest son married my husband's second daughter. They had five children. "Now four of those children are married and have children. Three of my children also have children. "What relation are these children? "We cannot figure out how we are related." "Neither," the Press replied, "can we."

County Cotton—

Section 9. Contains technical provisions relating mostly to the processing taxes, credits, refunds, etc.

Section 10. Partially re-defines parity.

Section 11. Recognizes cooperative associations and continues state and county community control committees with provisions for financing these control committees out of fees paid by licensee.

Sections 12 and 13. Refer again to the so-called McNary-Haughen principle of exporting farm products.

Section 14. Is the debenture plan of segregating 50 percent of customs duties for exporting crops.

Section 15. Provides that all funds raised from whatever source are to be spent.

According to information received by the cotton association, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration is supporting this measure and its entirety, also certain other farm organizations are supported. If the farmers want to retain the present program and retain machinery for developing better methods of cooperative action on agricultural problems, they should contact their representative in congress and express their views.

In interpreting the rules of the secretary in regard to the rental acreage, the following has been adopted and will be enforced during the present year to be followed by producers having signed a cotton contract in Eddy county:

The government shall permit the use of rented acres for the growing of gardens for home use by any contract signer; and also will permit the use of rented acres for the production of growing feed stuff to be fed to domestic animals on the farm, provided that the producer does not have sufficient free acres to produce the necessary feed for such livestock. The term "free acres" means those cultivated acres in the farm which are not included in the cotton base.

In case any producer desires to use the rented acres for production of any feed stuff except gardens he must make application to the Cotton Allotment committee who will grant him a permit to raise the necessary produce to be fed on the farm.

A letter will be mailed by the county committee in the near future to every contract signer giving them detailed instructions regarding the use of rented acres; and also a form to be filled out by the producer who desires to use the rented acres. These forms should be filled out and returned immediately to County Agent W. A. Wunsch's office.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—COSTS LESS

Production Up—Prices Down

Discriminating American housewives bought these increasing numbers of electric refrigerators in these "depression" and "recovery" years:

1929—630,000	1932—1,000,000
1930—775,000	1933—1,000,000
1931—965,000	1934—1,300,000

In the meantime, aggressive manufacturing and sales organizations have improved efficiencies and reduced prices. You can now actually operate a new electric refrigerator from three to six years on the difference.

But you still want plenty of ice cubes frozen between meals. You want certainty about dessert making. You want SAFE food preservation . . . The new electric refrigerator supplies these demands, no matter how hot the weather.

C. R. Bernard, Clarence Pearson, G. R. Pate, Tom Derrick and Mr. and Mrs. John Haven attended a budget hearing representing the Lake Arthur schools on Tuesday.

On Friday, April 26th, the eighth grade graduating class will present "A Prairie Rose." This is a very good three-act comedy. A small charge will be made and your patronage is solicited.

Junior-Senior Banquet

At the first of the affairs held for the coming graduates the Lake Arthur Juniors were the hosts to the traditional Junior-Senior banquet held in the Roof Garden of the Artesia hotel on Thursday, April 18th. The colors of blue and gold were carried out effectively in the decorations and the menu. The guests were seated at a lovely T-shaped table which was centered by a bouquet of cadendulas and lighted by six lovely gold tapers. The favors were Mexican blue grass baskets tied with gold ribbons and filled with cashew, almonds and gold mint patties. The room was lighted by a large gold bulb and a bowl of rose buds were the only decorations on the piano. A large bouquet of pinks were in one corner of the room. Florence Evans, the Junior class president, was the toastmistress. Ted Parker read the class history. Ruby Burrows read the will, and Nadean Taylor read the prophecy. George Nihart gave the welcoming address and John Flowers the response. Mr. Bernard gave a toast to the Seniors and Tressie Huff responded. Juanita Tice gave a humorous number. Lee Chandler and Nadean Taylor sang "Walking in Winter Wonder Land," with Miss Perce at the piano. The last number was the entire group singing the school song. The girls were very lovely dressed in informal dresses with practically every color of the rainbow represented. Covers were laid for: Tressie Huff, Ruby Burrows, Florence Evans, Veldean Edington, Laura Derrick, Joyce Alexander, Lee Chandler, Nadean Taylor, Lena Boy Merritt, John Flowers, Ted Parker, Billy Bradley, George Nihart and the Messrs. and Mmes. C. R. Bernard, L. E. Dohner and Don Riddle. Mr. Riddle is the Junior class sponsor.
