Caravan Will Extend Artesia's Friendship on Trip

Good Willers to Visit Neighbors June 15 and 16

Band, Ranchers, Farmers and Hope Citizens Will Join In on Feeds at Pinon and Elk - Two Ball Games Planned.

LEAVE 7 WEDNESDAY

Wrecker Will Tail Parade On Whole Trip of More Than 200 Miles.

As the time for Artesia's annual "Good Will Trip" approaches, enthusiasm for the two-day outing next Wednesday and Thursday is growing and an increasing number of business and professional men and other citizens of Artesia, and ranchers and farmers from this territory are planning on being with the caravan when it heads west to visit neighboring communities. The trip will cover more than 200 miles.

The "good willers" are to line up on West Main Street east of Third at 6:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning behind the automobile of Arba Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and the band bus, and expect to leave before 7 o'clock. Mr. Green's car will head the caravan on its two-day trek into the Sacramento Mountains and the last vehicle will be a wrecker, carrying a mechanic, furnished by the Sears Motor Company, to assist those having motor or tire trouble.

Mr. Green pointed out it will be as much a good roads trip as a trip of good will, with hopes of obtaining in the near future a good road from Artesia to the mountains.

About forty members of the Artesia High School Band will accompany the other "good willers," and the band will be augmented by several musicians from Carlsbad, (continued on last page, column 2)

First Softball League Games to Be Monday Night

The first scheduled games of the newly-formed Artesia softball league will be played Monday evening on the temporarily lighted field on South Roselawn opposite the new hospital site. The opening clash will be at 7 o'clock between the Barbers and the Merchants. In the second game of the evening, the Oilers and Mann's will clash at 8 o'clock.

The playing schedule calls for regularly booked games to be played each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening, leaving Wednesdays and Fridays open. There will be no play on Saturday or Sunday evenings.

All of next week's schedule has been worked out, but the pairings could not be learned, as the Rev. Henry S. Stout, president of the league, is out of the city and he has the only schedule so far as could be ascertained.

The sixty-foot poles for lights on the field have arrived and were set yesterday. Lights should be up by tonight, so as to provide practice for players of the various teams.

Thomas Comes Out For Superintendent of Eddy County Schools

R. N. THOMAS

R. N. Thomas of Otis, a staunch Eddy County Democrat, has announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent of rural schools.

A teacher of more than twenty years experience, the last sixteen in Chaves and Eddy Counties, Mr. Thomas has a background in education which well qualifies him for the office he is seeking. He had three years at N. T. S. N. Texas, residence work and courses from Silver City Normal College, Greeley and Las Vegas.

The candidate was principal of the grammar schools at Dexter and Hagerman for nine years. An Eddy County educator the last seven years, Mr. Thomas has been at Otis four years and has been re-elected for 1939-40. His experience and work have been consecutive except for time out for World War service.

Mr. Thomas, who has made a study of the rural schools, school buses and routes in Eddy County, and how to serve the most people impartially, is running entirely upon his merits and welcomes investigation of his work and courtesy towards people in all former positions.

When in Artesia Saturday, Mr. Thomas said he realizes people's money can be wasted without a man of mature judgment and experience. If elected, he said, it will be his duty to counsel with local boards, as well as to assemble a wise and interested county board.

"I earnestly solicit the support of every voter in Eddy County," he said, "and if elected I shall attempt to serve all under my jurisdiction most economically and impartially."

Mr. Thomas is a married man and has two children. He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

FALSE ALARM FRIDAY

Artesia firemen responded to an alarm at 1:40 o'clock Friday afternoon on Mexican Hill, but no sign of a blaze could be found. The source of the telephone call could not be learned.

GETTING AIRPORT CONSCIOUS

Interest in building a class "A" airport near Artesia is increasing among both local business men and oil men having connections with the fields near here.

Investigation has disclosed several oil men from Tulsa, Oklahoma City and other oil centers use airplanes regularly in coming here on business. But most of them, because there are no hangar accommodations at Artesia, fly to Roswell and use other means of transportation for the remainder of the trip, rather than have to stake down their ships and leave them in the wind and dust.

And there is the possibility a regular air mail route will come up the Pecos Valley, which interests local enthusiasts.

Tentative plans call for purchase of a field, construction of properly built and ample runways and building of a hangar to accommodate 5 or 6 planes.

Given 15 to 20 Year Pen Sentence in $50,000 Burglary of Oil Company Office

M. J. VanderMolen Pleads Guilty Before Judge McGhee Tuesday of Job At Malco Office Here—Securities, Safe Found.

M. J. VanderMolen was sentenced to 15 to 20 years in the state penitentiary Tuesday by District Judge James G. McGhee, at Carlsbad on his plea of guilty to a charge of burglarizing the office in Artesia of the Malco Refineries, Inc., Jan. 5. VanderMolen admitted he broke into the office here and looted the safe.

The burglary, in which VanderMolen and probable accomplices carried off the office safe, netted only $156, but meant a loss to the company of more than $50,000 in bonds and notes, until recovery of the safe from the Pecos River March 4 after a reward of $500 had been posted.

The burglars entered the company office through a rear room, cutting a hole in a door panel and unlocking another inside door leading to the main Malco office. The safe was probably opened after being hauled away on a truck. After rifling it of cash, although $6 was overlooked, it was dumped into the Pecos off of the bridge east of Artesia.

R. A. Shugart, secretary-treasurer of the refineries company, said the safe contained $20,000 par value bonds, $32,000 in notes, $162 in cash, and books, leases and option agreements of the Malco Refineries, Inc., and the Maljamar Oil & Gas Corp.

Replacement of the books was a costly and hard job and was accomplished before recovery of the safe. However, the old books were ruined by water. The bonds and notes were undamaged and the leases and option agreements were saved.

Recovery of the safe was accomplished by three men diving, after the office of Dwight Lee, sheriff of Eddy County, received a tip as to its probable location in the river.

VanderMolen was arrested about six weeks ago at El Paso and was held for Eddy County officers. A confession by him of his part in the burglary led to him entering a plea of guilty Tuesday before Judge McGhee.

In Judge McGhee's court the same day sentences of 2 and 3 years were given Perry Barnett, Jr., and William Latton, who pleaded guilty to thefts from an automobile at Artesia.

Clifford Lanning, charged with theft of clothing from the Glenn Thornberry home in La Huerta, pleaded guilty and was meted a suspended sentence of 2 to 3 years.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Olen G. Bass, charged with burglarizing the Durranne refrigerator agency at Carlsbad. Six dollars were taken in the theft on May 14.

Oliver Dennis Brown pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and drew a sentence of 2 to 3 years. Complaint alleged he forged the name of J. L. Anderson to a $14.75 check.

ARE BUILDING HANGAR AT ARTESIA AIRPORT

Work began last week on a hangar at the Artesia airport, being built by James Graham and Albert Ditto. The hangar, the first one at the port, is a one ship affair and is designed so it can be moved in the event a municipal airport is built near here at some location other than the present one.

Accident Fatal To Mrs. Lee Last Thursday

Dies That Night of Injuries in Crash on Felix Bridge Seven Hours Previous - Mrs. W. T. Albert Is Slightly Hurt.

Mrs. Robert E. Lee of Oil Field, 31 years old, died in St. Francis Hospital, Carlsbad, at 11:30 o'clock last Thursday evening of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the Felix bridge north of Hagerman about 4 o'clock that afternoon, in which her neck was broken.

Mrs. W. T. Albert, also of Oil Field, who was driving Mrs. Lee's automobile, sustained a slight scalp wound and concussion, but suffered more from shock. V. L. Scott of Hagerman, driver of the other car, was uninjured.

Following the accident, Mrs. Lee was rushed to Artesia and examined by Dr. E. A. Metzger, who ascertained her neck was broken. She was ordered taken to the hospital, where she died.

Mrs. Albert was brought to the home in Artesia of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Ballard, and then removed Friday by Mr. Arthur to the home of her mother at Clayton.

The bridge on which the automobiles collided is quite narrow. The right front wheel of Mrs. Lee's car, which was coming south towards Artesia from Roswell, where the women had been, was driven into the bridge curb in order to avoid an accident, but Mr. Scott's car struck the rear end.

It is believed the sudden jerk broke Mrs. Lee's neck, which had been injured previously in an accident.

Funeral services were from the Artesia Methodist Church at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon by the Rev. John S. Rice, pastor. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery here.

Surviving Mrs. Lee are her husband; a son, Eugene, 9 years old; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carmen, Hope, and two sisters, Mrs. Ed Payne, Hope, and Ada Belle Carmen, at home with her parents at Hope.

As Cecil Carmen, Mrs. Lee was born Jan. 1, 1907, at Sherwood, Texas. With her parents she lived a number of years at Hope.

She married Mr. Lee Nov. 27, 1925. Mr. and Mrs. Lee formerly lived at Tularosa until moving more than a year ago to Oil Field, where they lived at the Carper camp.

Forty Miles Line Done on REA Job

Will Start Stringing Wire on South End of Project Within Few Days

J. E. Morgan & Sons, the contractors for the Rural Electrification Administration, have completed about forty miles of line for the Central Valley Electric Membership Corporation on the north end of the project and will start stringing wire on the south end within a few days.

The contractors have hired nearly all their man power locally and their payroll runs several hundred dollars a week.

The superintendent for Morgan & Sons, a Mr. Lomax, advises that several transformers have been set under the supervision of R. B. Moore, resident engineer with E. A. Archer & Company, consulting engineers of Kansas City.

R. E. Coleman, project superintendent, is out on the line every day reporting the progress to the board of directors. He hopes to have the entire project ready for "juice" by July 1, provided the big transformer gets here by that time.

Misses Kate and Ruth Womack left Sunday for a visit of a week at Texarkana, Texas.

Elmer Perry Is Seeking Office of Eddy County Clerk

Elmer Perry of Carlsbad has announced as a candidate for the office of Eddy County clerk on the Democratic ticket, subject to the will of the voters at the coming primary in August.

Perry has been field auditor for the school tax division of the bureau of revenue the last four years. He organized the Young Democratic Clubs in Eddy County and was the first county chairman.

The greatest amount of efficiency and courtesy to patrons, should be the two most important requirements for the office, and Perry said he seeks it purely on the merits of his qualifications.

"I invite every voter who is not acquainted with my record," said Perry, "to check with Artesia and Eddy County business leaders and officials as to my ability and qualifications."

Besides continued service for the Democratic party, Perry has served as chairman of the President's Birthday Ball for the last two years, and has been identified with the American Legion in its various activities.

Will Speak About Taxes At Meeting

Arnold, Nebraska, to Address Mass Gathering at Roswell Tuesday Night

Frank G. Arnold, president of the Federated Taxpayers Association of Nebraska, and a national authority on taxation, will address a mass meeting of Eddy, Lea and Chaves County taxpayers in Roswell at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, June 14, at the Junior High School auditorium.

This meeting is being sponsored by the Chaves County Taxpayers' Association and every effort is being made to have representative taxpayers in attendance from the three southeastern New Mexico counties. Mr. Arnold has just returned from a speaking trip to New York state and other Eastern points.

"We feel that the rapidly mounting costs of taxation, local and national, are matters of deep concern just now to all thinking persons," C. N. Moore of Dexter, president of the Chaves County group, said. "The Chaves County Taxpayers' Association is not advocating a reduction in expenditures where efficiency will be involved, but the association is going to make a determined effort to eliminate in so far as possible all useless spending."

Mr. Arnold is an outstanding authority on taxes. As president of the Nebraska Federation he has made a remarkable record. He is a forceful and entertaining speaker and all taxpayers from Eddy and Lea Counties who may be interested are cordially invited to hear him.

Arnold will make but three addresses in New Mexico, one at Roswell June 14, another at Las Cruces June 15 and another at Albuquerque June 16.

The men, traveling in a large Greyhound bus, were here a quarter hour, meeting and exchanging best wishes with local business men.

The El Paso representatives arrived here from Roswell, where they spent Tuesday night, and were to eat dinner at Hobbs, after stopping at Carlsbad and other places on the way.

The trip started Tuesday from El Paso and will be completed Friday with 1,100 miles covered. It is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce here and the slogan of the men is: "El Paso—Boosting the Southwest."

Security Act Official Has Conferences Here

Conferences in Artesia from Tuesday to Thursday of last week with employees in regard to different phases of the Social Security Act were gratifying to Lyman Brewer, assistant manager of the Federal Social Security Board office in Albuquerque, who met with both employers and employees.

Prior to coming to Artesia, all employers were notified by letter Mr. Brewer would be here to confer with them. "I found employers interested in learning about the act," Mr. Brewer said.

The security official while in Artesia also assisted two claimants under the law to develop their claims.

Mr. Brewer said the objective of the Albuquerque office is to be represented here at least once every three months, so as to bring the Social Security Act closer to the people.

Body of Cash Boy Found Last Night

The body of Jimmy Cash, 5-year-old Princeton, Fla., boy, who was kidnapped from his home May 28, was recovered early today, it was announced by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A suspect, Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, of Princeton, is being held, Mr. Hoover said.

McCall, Hoover, said, has confessed writing a ransom note and collection $10,000 ransom money. However, he made no admissions as to whether he actually kidnapped the boy.

The body was found last night a half mile west of Princeton in a dense clump of underbrush that posses had thoroughly covered last week.

The ransom, which the boy's father, James Bailey Cash, Sr., paid May 31, was recovered at dawn yesterday in a corner of an orchard owned by Charles Chambers of Princeton.

Beecher Rowan left Sunday for Hot Springs, where he will take a course of hot baths.

COURTESY WHEN THE SIREN SOUNDS

The false alarm Friday afternoon, calling firemen to Mexican Hill, brought several things to mind.

In the first place an alarm, just to see the firemen step about, is not only thoughtless and expensive to the city, but it subjects to unnecessary perils those who are willing to risk their lives when necessary in the protection of property.

The safety of the public is at stake as well, as the fire truck, because of the time factor involved in many cases, is driven at a rapid pace.

Sometimes a false alarm cannot be helped. Someone seeing smoke or a blaze which seems to come from a building does the one proper thing; he turns in an alarm. In such a case his mistake is excusable. Even should there be a mishap in connection with the run, the person calling the fire department is absolved of blame, for he was trying to protect and save another's property.

On the other hand, there are laws, and stringent too, which are devised to take care of thrill seekers who turn in fire alarms just for the "fun of it." It is no fun to be called from your business on a hot afternoon, risk your neck and get hot and dirty, whether there is a fire or not. If there is a fire, one doesn't mind so much.

Just as dangerous to life and property is a habit which seems to prevail in Artesia—really there are two habits, both involving traffic: One is failing to clear the street in order to give fire apparatus the right of way; the other is racing to the fire in the wake of the truck.

The laws everywhere provide that all vehicles be pulled over as close to the curb as possible and then stopped until the apparatus or firemen's automobiles have passed. In Artesia, because of the volunteer department, firemen must first rush to the fire station and then head for the scene of the fire.

A moment after the siren sounded Friday, the sirens on the automobiles of Calvin Dunn of the department and Irvin Martin, marshal and deputy sheriff, were heard coming from the east. Traffic continued with little interruption and practically no respect to those who were heading for the fire house as a public duty. A moment later when the truck roared back down Main Street with Dunn at the helm, traffic continued to move in both directions.

And before the truck headed north on the highway and was out of sight, there was a stream of cars spread all over the street like the tail of a comet, hell-bent on getting to the fire—if any—as soon as the firemen.

It happened that some automobiles following the truck carried firemen. They had every right to push on. And the others should have given them a clear street. Surely 100 to 200 yards behind the firemen would get anyone to the scene in ample time to see everything.

A little more thoughtfulness and courtesy will make it easier on the volunteer fire department and help make Artesia a safer town in which to live.

TODAY'S LITTLE PREACHMENT

It looks as though we have let ourselves in for it, but we don't care. One of our first editorials in Artesia, written at the suggestion of a subscriber, mentioned a needed civic improvement. Since then others have made suggestions and we, agreeing, have editorialized.

All this preamble is by way of letting our readers know we are not a chronic squawker or constant fault-finder. But we do believe that cooperation in matters of civic pride and public comfort and safety should be brought to the attention of the public from time to time. That's what this column is for, among other things. We have no desire to revamp Artesia to our liking; we like it as it is. But these little friendly chats are merely about matters of which the average reader is conscious, but does nothing, unless called to his attention.

In this case the suggestion is that citizens of Artesia be more careful about littering up the streets with waste paper. It is unsightly in the first place. And when the wind whirls down the street, as it frequently does here, the paper sometimes accumulates in the doorways of places of business so deep one can hardly wade through. Just like the good old Northern blizzard.

Waste paper should be placed in waste cans or burned—when the wind is not sharp—and then in screened containers.

GUIDE TO TRAFFIC SAFETY

Police departments undertaking the vitally important problem of traffic engineering, now have a guide to standard procedure. A new handbook, entitled "Traffic Engineering and the Police," has been published jointly by the National Conservation Bureau and the Safety Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Its publication rounds out another section of the Bureau's comprehensive traffic control program undertaken on behalf of the nation's leading stock casualty insurance companies.

Much of the handbook is devoted to the use of traffic engineering methods to reduce hazard at accident-prone locations—those spots in a community where accidents occur most frequently. An exhaustive system for analyzing danger spots is explained, and the correct use of traffic engineering devices and methods to remove hazards is detailed.

Other sections of the handbook deal with stop signs of various types, the proper control on business streets and residential streets, etc. An appendix explains in detail how to make traffic engineering field studies. The materials and illustrations presented have never before appeared in print.

Single copies of "Traffic Engineering and the Police" will be sent free to municipal and state officials, upon request to the National Conservation Bureau, 60 John Street, New York City. It is believed that the widespread use of the handbook will be reflected in a substantial decline in accidents, injuries and deaths.

Maybe the newspaper game in Oklahoma isn't quite as soft as some of the members of the craft would like it, the New Mexico State Record comments. The Publishers' Auxiliary reports that when the state election board recently closed its books, forty-four newspaper men and former newspaper men had filed for nomination for various offices. There are several important offices to which the newspaper boys aspire.

It is a mistake to fancy ourselves greater than we are, or to value ourselves at less than we are worth.—Goethe.

A hustler doesn't care whether opportunity knocks at his door or not, as he is always out on the front porch waiting for it.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT!

By IROQUOIS DAHL

IT'S a mighty lucky thing that some cowboys go in for deer hunting. An Associated Press dispatch from Santa Rosa, Calif., tells of a unique experience enjoyed by one John H. Mays. He shot and wounded a buck, which later charged him. Mays, instead of running away, stood his ground, grabbed the deer by the antlers and swung himself on the animal's back. Deer and rider galloped away through the brush. Things were beginning to look rather uncomfortable for dare-devil Mays, when an antler broke. The gallant rider fell off and the deer was later found dead, a short distance away. Try it some time. It's great sport!

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Terry entertained with a birthday dinner Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. B. Cleve and son, Dave Bernard, Miss Gertrude Runyan and Irwin Martin were the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Doebuck, who have been living in Texas for some time past, were in Artesia this week en route to California. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wheatley. Mr. Doebuck was formerly manager of the hardware department of the Joyce Fruit stores.

Miss Ethel Bullock has returned from the University of Texas to spend the vacation months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bullock.

The Misses Shirley Feather and Dora Russell receive their degrees from the University at Albuquerque this week. Miss Dora has been elected teacher of Spanish in our high school for the coming year.

Evangelists Have Splendid Response

The Fife Brothers, nationally known evangelists and "Radio Log Cabin Boys," opened with power a revival Sunday in the First Christian Church, where the Rev. J. Vernon Wheeler is the pastor.

At all services in the opening days, the crowds have been nightly and the interest deepening nightly. The Rev. Henry S. Stout of the First Presbyterian Church attended Sunday night and took part in the meeting and brought some of his congregation.

There were seven confessions of faith at the opening service of the Fife Brothers revival. The services are short and to the point and once the opening song is announced the service moves rapidly until the final "Amen."

Dr. Clyde Lee Fife said: "I had no idea that Artesia was such a beautiful city. All the buildings are new and strictly up-to-date, the business people are courteous and the pastors and church people have received up with open arms. This wide valley, irrigated by Artesian water, is a paradise dotted everywhere by fine cattle and lovely ranch homes. Many of the people are artistic and highly educated and the churches are set to go with power. If I were looking for a home, I don't think that I would ever pass Artesia by. I notice that back East it is hot all day and all night like a bake oven, but here as soon as the sun is down, it is delightfully cool."

The Fife Brothers and Rev. Mr. Wheeler were guests Tuesday noon of the Artesia Rotary Club at the roof garden of the Artesia Hotel. Dr. Fife delivered a fine

Baptist Church To Have Bible School

Faculty of Thirty Members Will Have Charge—Sessions Start June 13

The First Baptist Church of Artesia will conduct a vacation Bible school for all children of the church and community, beginning at 8 o'clock Monday morning, June 13, and continuing for three weeks, five days a week, and three hours a day, the Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor, has announced.

A competent faculty of thirty members will have charge of the school, Mr. Morgan said, and the program will consist of many interesting stories, supervised play periods, helpful music and recreation, salutes to the American and Christian flags, and a fine closing period of handwork for everyone. The Bible will occupy a prominent place throughout the school.

"The purpose of the school," the Rev. Mr. Morgan said, "is to provide for the boys and girls in vacation time; to furnish clean, wholesome recreation and delightful social relationships; to help them overcome bad and form good habits; to gather them off the streets and furnish them a good time under good moral conditions, and to make a spiritual contribution to their lives."

The school will be free to those participating. There will be no tuition and no books except in the hands of the teachers. Boys and girls may attend a school once in their lives where the teachers will have to do the work.

Everything needed by the pupils will be furnished by the church. A free will offering will be taken at the close of the school to cover expenses.

It is not the purpose to try to enlist boys and girls who are going to other Sunday schools in the community, but those who are not attending any school will find a welcome, the Rev. Mr. Morgan said. The ages are from 4 to 17 years.

Boys and girls will register for this happy vacation school at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 12.

address on "Why I Belong to Rotary International" and Bob Fife, world's premier hand saw soloist, played beautifully on the hand saw and trombone.

Special nights in the revival are to be: Friday, June 10, will be "Mother's Night." A Bible will be given to the oldest and another to the youngest mother present. Saturday night, June 11, will be "Farmer's Night." Sunday, June 12, there will be a grand rally day in the Sunday school. Dr. Fife's sermon at 11 a. m., "Our Heavenly Home;" 8 p. m., "Except Ye Forgive." Monday night, June 13, will be "Family Night" with a Bible to the largest family present. Tuesday night, June 14, will be "Appreciation Night." Bring flowers to pin on those who have loved, helped or befriended you. Wednesday, June 15, is "Sunday School Night." Thursday, June 16, "Woman's Christian Association Night."

Everyone is invited every night. No one is excluded on any night. A beautiful Bible is given away every night during the meeting to the one who brings the most people to the revival services. Anyone of any church can work for a Bible. Dr. Fife said: "Before we can do much for any one church in Artesia, we must do something for all of them. The general systematic condition of all our churches must be improved and brought up before we can do much lasting good for anyone. Therefore we must have the help of all."

Mrs. E. A. Paton and daughter, Mary, accompanied by Mrs. Paton's mother, Mrs. Moore, who spent the last nine months with her daughter and family, and her niece, Mrs. Stewart, who has been a guest in the Paton home for the last two months, and Miss Bertha Askins left last week for Ohio, where they will visit at different points for the next two months.

"THE OLD FERRET"

A smile is better far than forced hilarity; its memory lasts much longer.—A. L. B.

Foreword—

This department is no new departure for the conductor hereof, for he "hewed to the line and let the quips fall where they might" for a number of years on another newspaper, to paraphrase the late B. L. T. of the Chicago Tribune, founder of the modern newspaper column. But to the readers of The Advocate it is something to approach with caution, so they may think.

However, to allay all fears, understand one and all, right now at the beginning of things, this kol is not of the overworked "key-hole" variety, nor is it to shock, scandalize or make anyone indignant. Such stories as might be construed a bit juicy or gossipy will be told for the humor they contain, without identifying the characters. Occasionally something too funny to keep will happen to someone in the public eye. In such cases, provided there is no chance of defamation of character or misconstruction of the details, names may be used.

But let no one fear or quake when he picks up his Advocate and turns to "Tales out of School." It's all in fun and let's keep it that way.

Incidentally, no conductor, even the "Old Ferret," as this one has been known in the past, can be everywhere and see everything, so a little help will be welcome always. Any mailed contributions must be signed by the true names of the correspondents, but their names will by no means be disclosed. And the parties about whom such contributions are written must be identified to the "Old Ferret." Aside from that, it's catch-as-catch-can, so let's have some fun.

Just Skip This One—

As a starter, something could be said about a gal up the street who, having heard there might be a column started, remarked: "If you put anything in about me, I'll get in your eyes like onions, and I won't roll out of them like tears." But of course, it might be better not to mention it, agreeable with her wishes, so we won't.

It's Worth Millions—

A visitor to Artesia the other day, who had just come from Carlsbad and the Caverns, was commenting on the number of places here which are air conditioned, and which are quite comfortable in the hottest of weather. He evidently was greatly impressed by the constant temperature of 56 degrees within the Carlsbad Caverns, for, said he, "I don't see why they don't pipe the atmosphere from there to the Carlsbad stores."

Old Saw, New Set—

They tried to get us years ago on the gags about the left-handed monkey wrench and other fictitious objects. In the navy they tried to send us for a swab comb, but we merely retorted with a merry horse laugh—or maybe a raspberry, if they were being used in those days. And we thought all such skulduggery had ceased, until we learned the plight of a young chap in Artesia the other day who was sent from place to place for a "stovepipe stretcher" in order that a stove might be taken down. We know some other good ones in that line, but won't disclose them, for we may have a change to be just a little bit mean too sometime.

But We Hope Not—

Here's one the Old Ferret used in this same department in another newspaper some years back. It was good then, we thought, and probably still is. At least it may give the readers, if any, some sort of impression of the conductor, not bad, we hope. But before reciting it, be notified this department will appear only if and when the spirit moves, and if and when we have something to pass on for no particular reason. In the meantime, a little help, please. And here 'tix:

Oh, see the happy moron;
He doesn't give a damn.
I wish I were a moron.
My God—perhaps I am.

CARBON PAPER—The Advocate.

Carlsbad Caverns Are "Underground Fairyland Wonder"

The "Travel and Resorts" section of the Detroit News contains several pages of information for travelers who plan to visit the West or the Southwest during the present season.

Carlsbad Caverns National Park is mentioned not only in the rail trip section, but also in the auto trip section.

S. L. A. Marshall, staff travel writer for the News, believes that a traveler's mood should dictate his decision as to which of the Western national parks he should visit.

"If I wanted a place where I could burn up my store of nervous energy, I'd track for Bryce Canyon in Utah. If I were on the verge of a nervous breakdown, Zion National Park would be good for what ailed me; or else I might go to the Sequoia National Park, where the California big trees are the most restful environment that I have found anywhere on earth. Glacier and Rocky Mountain National Parks are places for living, and should not be seen in a rush. Their scenery is eloquent, but not overpowering. They flatter the eye without bewildering the brain. The same is true of the Great Smoky National Park in North Carolina.

"For contrast, I give you the Carlsbad Caverns National Park. The wonder of that underground fairyland is in diametrical opposition to the drabness of the tableland above it. The world's most extraordinary hole-in-the-ground has nothing to offer itself, and after one has spent part of a day exploring it, there's nothing else to be seen, except the evening bat flight.

"I may start an argument by putting Grand Canyon in the same category, though it remains, and ever will be, the greatest thrill that I have ever had in travel. One can ride the canyon's trails for days, go down to the Colorado, or up to Kiabab, see it from an airplane, or ride along its rim for miles in a motorbus without ever adding much to that first look. The Canyon says it in one word, and tourists who linger there for more than two days—in my opinion—are old lily gliders. Better leave it and come back a second time.

"There is only one fault in all our national parks, and that is that their popularity is approaching a stage where their facilities cannot keep up with it. In Yellowstone, it's a question of finding room to sleep the grizzlies."

Lower Penasco

Some of the lumber that was already sawed was saved. Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson intend to rebuild in the near future, it is understood. Mr. French, checker and timekeeper at the mill, was slightly burned about the face and one arm.

Stunt For Old Men When Wife's Away

"Don't try this while your wife is at home," says Dr. J. V. Osterhout, famous Rockefeller biologist. But when there is no cream, you can make some out of the butter. At least, he says, in principle it ought to work.

The trick is all due to emulsions. These are mixtures of two substances that don't mix. Drops of one substance become coated with films of the other.

Butter, Dr. Osterhout explains, is an emulsion in which the oil is on the outside of the drops. The inside of the butter drops is water. Cream is just the opposite. Water coats the outside of drops of oil. This explains why cream, poured into coffee, will mix, for the water around the oil drops spreads them uniformly. Butter in coffee melts, but never mixes, because its water is all inside the oil films.

To change butter into cream, says Dr. Osterhout, it is only necessary to get the water on the outside of the oil drops. Recipe to be tried for this when the wife is away—

Put some butter and a lot of water in a cocktail shaker and shake well. Along with the butter and water must be some casein—

the hard substance in milk. To obtain this throw in a little cheese. Maybe you could produce some "limburger cream."

Seek Laboratory For New Uses of Cotton

In an effort to discover new uses for cotton and to promote its increased use, the Texas Planning Board urged Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace to locate one of four proposed research laboratories in Texas.

In its brief to Wallace, the planning board pointed out that Texas, because of its size, population, livestock and agricultural background, diversity of products, variety of climate, transportation facilities, power development, fuel supplies, water conservation plans, and more especially on account of its immense production of cotton and other agricultural products, presents an unusual opportunity for agricultural research.

The board also called Wallace's attention to the fact that Texas exports nine out of every 10 bales of cotton produced within its borders and that loss of foreign outlets imposes hardships upon every cotton farmer.

Low Down From Hickory Grove

A congressman, he may be lacking in some ways, but when it comes to listening, he takes no back seat—he is a super-champion—he knows listening.

And voters who have been sitting around and letting the government take the roof off their house, they are waking up and sending messages and letters—and talking turkey.

And if congress will now get up same steam and start in and do away with some of the comedy already on the book, and omit any more new laws, we can stop wondering every night about what tomorrow will bring forth.

And if we just had the 10 commandments to go by, and nothing else, it would be great. And to study law, you would just read Deuteronomy. And partner, you don't need a lawyer to explain it, like with the 3 A, where even a Philadelphia lawyer cannot figure it out.

And Deuteronomy, it is a book in the bible, and is not some country in Africa or something to do with your appendix.

Things look a lot better.

Miss Beulah Strang Becomes Bride Of Edwin Olson Saturday Evening

Miss Beulah Strang of Artesia became the bride of Mr. Edwin Olson of Hobbs in a quiet church ceremony at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the Presbyterian Church here, in the presence of relatives and close friends. The beautiful double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Henry S. Stout before an altar banked with floor baskets of larkspur and dimly lighted by an arch of white tapers in candleabra. The groom was met at the altar by the bride on the arm of her father, E. J. Strang, who gave her in marriage.

The bridal party entered as Mrs. I. L. Spratt sang "Until," by Sanderson, with Miss Ruth Collier at the piano. Miss Collier played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the recessional following the ceremony. "Love's Old Sweet Song" was played very softly during the ceremony.

The bride was attractively gowned in smart afternoon tailored white crepe with bolero jacket, trimmed with light green chiffon. She wore a white hat, her accessories were green and she carried an arm bouquet of pink rose buds and morning glories.

Miss Mary Woods, her only bridesmaid, wore an attractive sheer print. Her accessories were of matching blue and she carried a bouquet of Shasta daisies and morning glories.

Mrs. Strang, the bride's mother, was attractive in a blue lace net embroidered in white. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of morning glories. Mrs. Spratt wore a tailored afternoon gown of dusty pink, a pink hat and matching accessories. Miss Collier wore a powder blue chiffon with blue accessories.

Edwin Franzen of Hobbs was best man. He and the bridegroom each wore a rosebud in his coat lapel.

The wedding party and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Strang, Mr. and Mrs. Spratt, Miss Woods, Miss Collier and Mr. Franzen, retired to the Artesia Hotel where the bride's parents were host and hostess at a wedding dinner. Pink roses and lighted white tapers in crystal candlesticks formed the attractive centerpiece at the nicely laid tables where the wedding dinner was served in three courses.

Preceding the wedding on Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Spratt entertained the wedding party with a luncheon at their home. A lace cloth adorned the lovely table which was centered with a crystal bowl of pink roses and white carnations, with tall white tapers in crystal chandeliers tied with white satin bows, shedding a soft light and adding to the beauty of the arrangement. The pink and white colors were carried out in the ice cream menu which was served in four courses. Bride's place cards marked the places of the ladies and wedding bells those of the men.

Mrs. Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Strang of New England, North Dakota, has been one of the popular teachers in the public school system of Artesia for several years, teaching fourth grade at Central building. Mr. Olson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Olson of Hettinger, North Dakota. He came to New Mexico last fall, locating at Hobbs, where he is associated with Irvin & Watson, distributors of Malco products.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson left for Hobbs Sunday and are at home to friends in their newly purchased home at 506 East Park Street there.

Mr. and Mrs. Strang left by train Sunday morning for their home after spending the winter here with their daughter. They expect to stop en route at Mystic, North Dakota, to visit another daughter, Mrs. Albert Nesja, and her family.

Tested Recipe

FROSTED cake at the picnic is an elegant gesture no doubt—but it's a bit of a headache as well, what with getting it to the picnic safe and then keeping the children from getting the frosting liberally smeared over them. The first of these problems is happily solved by making a frosting which you can take in a jar to the picnic, to be applied to the cake cafeteria fashion, as it is served. As for the children and their propensity to spread frosting liberally on themselves—you'll have to take that in a spirit of fortitude or else produce threats dire enough to prevent that catastrophe.

Chocolate Wonder Frosting

3 ounces (1 package) cream cheese; 2 to 3 tablespoons milk; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; dash of salt.

Soften cream cheese with milk. Add sugar, 1 cup at a time, blending after each addition. Add chocolate and salt and beat until smooth. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of two 8-inch (or 9-inch) layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake, or about 2 dozen cup cakes. Double the recipe to cover tops and sides of two 10-inch layers.

Note: This frosting, when tightly covered, may be kept in refrigerator several days before using.

Our Farmer Friends

Farming is not a "fly-by-night" business. The average farmer is not one to "close up shop" the moment the going becomes rough or the profits get slim. Given reasonable cooperation, he can be depended upon to keep on to the end of his furrow.

We have faith in the agricultural future of this community because we have faith in the solid character of the men and women on the land.

This bank is working in every possible way for permanently improved farm conditions, and we are glad to cooperate with our farmer friends in their financial problems.

Depredations of Piscatorial Monster, "Scar Mouth," Are Horrifying to Relate

Fishermen, anglers, sportsmen, gather around, for this is the story of "Scar Mouth, the Pest of the Pecos," the giant tom cat fish of the rocky arroyo rapids, the destroyer of tackle, truth and reputations, the famous fish celebrated in these parts in folk lore and tradition.

"Scar Mouth" has been used as the "Boogie Man" to make children of the Pecos Valley behave; he has kept many a "Caspar Milquetoast" from angling for the wily bass, for fear the pest might take his lure; he has so instilled fear in the hearts of the weaker sex that women pull down curtains and remain in strict seclusion when their menfolk leave on fishing expeditions; he has—well, everybody knows about "Scar Mouth," but until now there has never been an authentic document of his depredations publicized to this extent.

But at last the general public may learn about this famous fish, for such a document, previously drawn up, has been brought up to date and entrusted into the hands of Mark A. Corbin, who is noted for his honesty, integrity and probity, especially in matters piscatorial. In fact, it is understood Mr. Corbin was one of the authors thereof, having given unstintingly of his time and energies in research, that the true facts about "Scar Mouth" might be chronicled.

In order to more clearly bring home the frightfulness of the fabled fish, an artist has reproduced what he believes to be a true copy of "Scar Mouth." But whereas the fish is said to measure at least twenty feet in length, the copy is a mere five feet. Carefully painted on the miniature are numerous scars of battle from bullets, gigs and the like, and hanging from the fearful mouth are a dozen or more hooks.

And here is the document, just as it appeared with the replica of "Scar Mouth" in the window of Mr. Corbin's store:

"Scar Mouth was first seen by G. U. McCrary in 1902, who, in company with Joe Richards, sighted this fish feeding on a sheep which it had attacked and killed about a mile back from the river bank. Being unarmed, they left the sheep with him.

"On June 16, 1904, he was seen by D. E. Buckles and Roscoe Knowles digging a hole in the bed of the Pecos near the mouth of Seven Rivers. This hole became a spring and is there today.

"The following year Colonel Albert T. Woods fired a shot or two from a 30-30, which took but slight effect. This was witnessed by Jimmy Nellis.

"During the high water of 1909, 'Scar Mouth' was hooked by a lone tourist who, little realizing his danger, allowed himself to be dragged into the water and was instantly devoured. This incident was witnessed by Tom Heflin and Ray Bartlett.

"During the month of August, 1912, 'Scar Mouth' was again hooked by Dave and Will Gray on a trot line, but broke the hook and showed his revenge by returning later and eating the entire line and the tree it was tied to.

"On July 4, 1914, Sam and Fred Beckwith succeeded in getting 'Scar Mouth' on land at their camp at the 'Willow Hole,' but in a final desperate struggle, the water monster, discovering his captors had no arms in camp, tread them in a willow tree and ate a Dutch oven and a bean pot.

"Realizing the necessity of action by fearless men, the noted frontiersmen, John Rowland and A. P. Malone spent the spring and summer of 1916 along the haunts of this ferocious fish and on Sept. 2 succeeded in hooking him, and after tying him securely to the rear wheel of a Ford car, went into Lakewood for reinforcements. These men positively state that upon their return they saw 'Scar Mouth' driving the car down the middle of the stream at high speed. The veracity of these gentlemen is unquestioned.

"Another attempt to rid the river of this menace was made in July, 1920, by Preston, Rube, Calvin, Ben and Dude Dunn, who dipped the water out of the rock hole and left 'Scar Mouth' exposed to their attack. In the battle which followed for the ensuing twenty minutes, they barely evaded the rushes of 'Scar Mouth' and the party safely reached home afoot. Members of this party are very reticent concerning this adventure.

"It is a regrettable fact that 'Scar Mouth' is still alive and at large in the Pecos River, despite the efforts during several seasons by Paul Terry, Athol Martin, Alf Coll, Dick and John Vandagriff, Rodney Baldwin and Sammy Higgins. But the danger of attack upon travelers and fishermen continues to be really serious. The depredations of this monster have continued and he has been seen on various occasions by reputable parties. During the time Lake McMillan was practically dry three years ago, 'Scar Mouth' was seen by Rufe Wallingford, carrying a canteen of water and a fan.

"During the flood conditions of the early summer of 1937, 'Scar Mouth' evidently took advantage of the current and went down stream and is reported to have been sighted near Pecos, Texas, where he, during the Christmas holidays, is known to have eaten a No. 3 steel trap with a twelve-pound coon in it. Paul Shelton is the authority for this statement, which is further vouched for by Joe Nunn.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that to better safeguard the peace and safety of the Pecos Valley and exterminate this dangerous monster, that a suitable prize of two pairs of nickel-plated car mufflers is awarded for the capture, dead or alive, and the surrender of this pest to the proper authorities.

"Committee on Public Safety, Hollis G. Watson, chairman, George Nixon, associate, T. E. (Dutch) Miller, associate." (Seal)

Sequoia Trees Are Oldest Life Known

If the big trees in Sequoia National Park—the oldest living things in the world—could speak, they could tell what was happening on this continent when Christ and Moses walked the earth.

Several of the trees now growing in their prime were vigorous youngsters before the pyramids were built in Egypt and before Babylon was at its zenith. Hundreds were thriving before the heroic ages of ancient Greece. Thousands were flourishing when Christ was born in Bethlehem.

The General Sherman tree, king of the Sequoias, is believed to be the oldest and largest living thing on earth. Its estimated age is between 3,000 and 4,000 years. It is 272 feet high, thirty-six feet at its greatest diameter and contains more than a half million board feet of lumber. It has withstood the ravages of countless forest fires.

There are scores of trees in the park almost as large, and hundreds that are more than ten feet in diameter. A trail leads through one charred living giant, the Black Arch tree. There are thirty-two distinct groves or areas of the big trees, or Sequoias.

Mount Whitney, whose elevation of 14,494 feet is the highest point in continental United States, is in the Sequoia National Park. Foot and horse trails lead to the summit, from where one can "go over the top" of the mainland. Of the approximately sixty peaks in the United States of more than 14,000 feet, six of them are in this park. There are more than seventy-five peaks there with elevations above 11,000 feet.

Established as a national park in 1890, the area was named for the Cherokee Indian, Sequoyah, who perfected a phonetic alphabet sometimes characterized as one of the greatest ever invented.

Sequoia National Park and the area surrounding it includes a region of great diversity and wild grandeur as any area of equal size in America. There are 200 high mountain lakes and more than 300 miles of fishing streams. The famous golden trout inhabit these streams. Moro Rock is there, one of the great monoliths of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. It is 6,719 feet above sea level. From its summit there is almost a sheer drop of more than 4,000 feet. Marble Falls is a 2,000-foot cascade in seven distinct waterfalls. There are a number of naturalistic swimming pools. Good mountain trails—700 of them—traverse all of this area.

Wildlife includes the black bears that gather daily to feed at Bear Hill, and the big-eared mule deer. Many of the latter are comparatively tame.

FORMER ARTESIA TEACHER HAS POSITION AT CAPITAL

Miss Margaret Williams, a former Artesia teacher and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Williams of Hope, will be connected with the La Fonda Curio Bureau at Santa Fe this summer, a position which takes special training and a thorough knowledge of the Santa Fe vicinity and New Mexico in general.

She received her A. B. degree from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque at commencement exercises Monday. However, Miss Williams completed her work here last summer.

Attending the graduation of their daughter and sister were Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Miss Ruth Williams, who teaches at Gallup. At Albuquerque they were guests of another daughter and sister, Mrs. Albert J. Black, and her family.

Miss Juanita Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Denton, returned Tuesday morning from Las Cruces, where she completed her sophomore year's work at State College. Miss Denton will spend the summer with her parents here.

Seek Change in Duck Hunting Season

At a meeting of the Chaves County Game Protective Association held at the Chamber of Commerce in Roswell last Friday evening, it was announced by the sportsmen that they would carry their fight for a December duck hunting season direct to the United States Biological Survey.

The Chaves County sportsmen recommended to the state game commission the December season for New Mexico. However, it was the opinion of the majority present at the meeting that this recommendation will not be approved by Elliot S. Barker, state game warden, and the state game commission, so they were determined to go direct to the United States Biological Survey.

The 1938 shooting season on ducks and geese will be set at a meeting of the U. S. Biological Survey on June 20.

Local hunters say that the Pecos Valley and all of Eastern New Mexico is the natural duck area of New Mexico. November, the season that will probably be recommended by the state game warden for this year, is too early for good shooting and the December season has been requested.

Chaves County sportsmen also contend that northern New Mexico has many and varied hunting and fishing advantages which are not enjoyed in the eastern section of the state. The northern counties, they say, have many miles of excellent trout streams, thousands of acres of excellent deer hunting area, while this section has duck hunting as its chief sport in the winter time.

In this effort to secure a later season for the state, Chaves County sportsmen are to have the assistance of sportsmen in all parts of the Pecos Valley and in southern and central New Mexico, representing the majority of the duck hunters in New Mexico, it was said.

Says Prepare Now For Farm Comfort

During the season between garden planting and canning, while waiting for needed rains, farm women have an opportunity to finish their spring house cleaning work and prepare their homes for a more healthful and comfortable life during the summer months, according to Mrs. Marie Bishop, home economist for the Farm Security Administration, Roswell, for Eddy, Lea and Chaves Counties.

Mrs. Bishop is encouraging the farm women with whom she is working in Eddy County to begin making definite plans for taking care of winter clothing and bedding during the warm weather months. She notes the savings to be effected if winter bedding and clothing are cleaned and wrapped and put away until needed next fall.

With the season of flies and mosquitoes near at hand, Mrs. Bishop is also encouraging her farm women to make sure their homes are well screened, and damaged screens repaired. She is asking each farm wife to check drainage and garbage disposal facilities, noting that dampness near the back doors is a great drawing card for filth-bearing flies. Elimination of breeding places near the farm home is another matter of great importance. She is especially anxious that farm women see that weeds are kept at a minimum and that outdoor toilets be kept as sanitary as possible.

"Although screens are an important factor in health and sanitation," Mrs. Bishop said, "we should not stop there. Every farm home can now have one or more inexpensive, home-made fly traps as an added precaution against serious disease outbreaks during the hot summer months."

Mrs. Bishop is striving to help her farm women in raising and keeping high health standards and has numerous suggestions which she will gladly give upon request.

Harold Hannah, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hannah, is expected home soon from Albuquerque, where he was a student at the University of New Mexico the last year. Ernest, another son, will remain at the university this summer, where he will continue to be employed in the library and also take more work toward his degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole accompanied by Mrs. Buford Gray left Sunday for El Paso, where they visited Herman Cole of Clovis, a patient at the Southwestern General Hospital, who underwent a major operation the first of last week. Fred Cole also underwent a tonsillectomy at Providence Hospital while in the city.

FARMING IT . . . BY WILLARD BOLTE

A farm power contractor dug this trench silo—40 feet long by 6 feet wide by 8 feet deep—in 3 1/2 hours—using a tractor and rotary scraper. His cost was $2.57 for fuel and labor—and the farmer was glad to pay him $10 for a job that would have required 40 hours with team, scoop and shovels.

When his dairy barn burned, Herman Jaekel of Manitowoc County, Wisconsin, saved $1,000 by building a one-story fireproof stable for the cows—and a separate 40 x 70 foot metal silo-type "hay tower" which holds over 100 tons of chopped hay.

When You're ROLLING ALONG Think About ROLLING OVER!

An interesting pictorial conception of speed is offered by The Travelers Insurance Company in its latest highway safety booklet entitled "Death Begins at 40." Speed is pictured in terms of "rollability."

For instance, at 25 miles an hour, a moving car has developed about enough energy to roll over once. Your body probably could "take" this.

At 50 miles an hour, however, a moving car has developed not twice, but four times the energy—enough to roll over four times.

You'd have to be lucky to come out of this one alive.

And at 75 miles per hour, the car has developed not three times, but nine times the energy—enough to roll over nine times. Of course, it probably would hit a tree or a culvert long before it did its ninth somersault and then the unused portion of energy would be spent in ripping the culvert, the car, and its occupants to pieces.

The moral: When you are rolling along at a pretty fast clip, think what would happen if you should roll over.

Stockmen Warned Of Screwworm Fly

Serious trouble from screwworms this summer—worse probably than in 1935—in many parts of the Southwest, is the forecast by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, recently received by W. H. Tolbert of the New Mexico Extension Service.

The screwworm fly is starting earlier than ever before and many more are expected as the weather grows warmer. The weather and other conditions, the deciding factors in any insect-pest outbreak, favor the rapid development of the screwworm in the Southwest, as well as its spread to the north and northeast.

The only way to protect livestock from screwworms, Mr. Tolbert points out, is to examine the animals frequently so that wounds may be treated before becoming infested or to doctor infested animals before the maggots have had time to cause serious injury. Wounded or infested animals should be held in small hospital pastures located on a high, open part of the range where they can be readily examined and treated until their wounds have healed. Flies are less abundant in such places and there is less danger of animals becoming infested.

The maggots can be killed by spraying benzol (90% commercial) into the infested wound and covering it with a plug of clean cotton saturated with benzol. Reinfestation of the wound is prevented by covering the cotton plug with pine-tar oil (dehydrated with a specific gravity of 1.065), which repels the flies seeking good egg-laying places. Infestation of any wounds is prevented by pine-tar oil applications. Repeated examination of all wounded animals and repeated pine-tar applications are necessary throughout the screwworm fly season, which begins with the first warm weather and lasts until cold weather.

Mrs. Frank Irby of Carlsbad visited home folks the first of the week and was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Bullock, for a visit of a few days.

Common Fly Is A Menace to Health

The common housefly possesses two deceiving characteristics. As insects go, it is not offensive in appearance and it is so common that its presence is to a large degree accepted, says Dr. George W. Cox, a health authority. Nevertheless, the fly is a very real threat to good health. It is estimated the fly is responsible for 40,000 deaths annually in America. Its efficiency as a spreader of typhoid fever, infant diarrheal infections and tuberculosis is well recognized by the medical profession, Dr. Cox declares and says:

"We have, even so, made much progress against the disease-spreading fly. The screening of homes and a sanitary consciousness both in urban and rural communities have reduced the fly's disease-spreading ability. We all must realize, however, that in many areas there are still properties lacking sanitary pit privies and adequate screenings and garbage and filth are permitted incalculably to exist as breeding spots for flies.

"It is such carelessness that still makes possible widespread fly havoc. There is no reason to tolerate fly-breeding conditions. In the rural sections, adequate sanitary protection, household screening and fly-swatting will greatly neutralize the damaging potentialities of barnyards and cowlots.

"The fly must be recognized for what it is, despite its innocent appearance and lack of sting. It will then be appreciated that no effort is too great to help destroy it. And this effort, when well directed, will not be so much against the fly itself, however commendable that may be, as against its breeding places," Doctor Cox continues.

"Filth is the fly's great and only ally; cleanliness its powerful enemy. If typhoid deaths and infant mortality from diarrheal conditions are to be reduced, as well as eventual deaths from tuberculosis, now is the time to wage effective warfare against one of their most powerful agents—the fly."

JIM FERGUSON SAYS FISH BITE TOO FAST

Jim Ferguson, who fished at Elephant Butte Dam over the weekend, came back with a warning to other anglers. "If you don't want to get your limit within an hour or less, you'd better stay away from there. Why, it was awful. After this I'm going to fish on the Pecos above Roswell where there's no water, so I can fish from dawn to dusk and be sure I don't get my limit and have to quit." However, Mr. Ferguson said, the outboard regatta on the lake Saturday and Sunday was the best he has ever seen. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and children left for the dam Friday morning and returned home Monday night. They had all the fish they could eat and brought home quite a few.

who will take the place of students who are away on vacation trips. George Price, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Calvin Dunn, chairman of the "Good Will Trip" committee, and Mr. Green all emphasize the fact that the trip is not for Artesia business and professional men alone, but that everyone in this territory is invited to go along. Farmers and cattlemen are especially invited. And, the chamber officials said, they are planning on the caravan being joined at Hope by some of the citizens there, all of whom are invited. Plenty of fun and good things to eat are promised. The first day, Wednesday, will be marked at the noon hour by a barbecue at Pinon, followed by a softball game at Weed between Weed and Artesia girls' teams. The full itinerary that day will include stops at Hope, Duncan, Pinon, Weed and Cloudercroft, where the night will be spent.

Another big feed will be served the "good willers" on Thursday at Elk. A ball game will also be played there. Thursday stops, in their order, will be: Whimsett Store, May Hill, Crockett Store and Elk.

The caravan will probably break up at Elk, but Mr. Green asks that everyone stay in line both days up to that point.

Baldwin Named—

P. V. Morris a committee to look into the possibility of obtaining a new hut through money obtained from the Federal Housing Administration, following a motion in which it was pointed out that other posts have taken similar action.

The post went on record as commending the city administration for the past paving program, the present action for a grade "A" airport and their efforts in seeking to obtain a $28,000 WPA grant for sidewalk improvements; and the school board for the good work done in obtaining a new school and swimming pool.

Action was taken by the post, by way of a motion, to try to have the Department of Commerce preserve the fish in Lake McMillan and not allow them to die when the water is drained out every several years. This motion followed passage of a resolution, coming from the Department of Agriculture, which calls for the protection of natural resources, especially in this case the preservation of forest fires. The resolution will be considered at the state convention, to be carried to the national convention in Los Angeles in September.

Flag Day, it was called to the attention of the Legionnaires, will be next Tuesday, June 14, at which time an effort will be made to have all flags in Artesia flown. The Boy Scouts are to be enlisted in this effort.

Five Hundred Jack Rabbits Killed
In Drive on the Cottonwood Sunday

Farmers on the Cottonwood should suffer less crop loss the rest of the year because of jack rabbits, following a drive, or series of drives there Sunday, in which an estimated 500 or more jacks were killed.

The day's sport was filled with thrills and spills for the seventy-five or more persons including about thirty men with guns, who attended and who enjoyed a barbecue at noon, the beef a gift of Tom Terry, who "got up" the round-up.

The drive was the first in this section of the state this year, but will probably be followed by more in other localities, as the rabbits are playing havoc with crops because of the shortage of grass caused by drought.

Most of the spills were furnished by the jack rabbits, as they "bit the dust," some tumbling end over end a half dozen times or more when shot.

Other spills were from pick-up trucks, which carried the hunters from field to field and then entered in the round-ups. One of the young women, during an exciting moment, stepped off the rear of a truck backwards, "did a Broady," jumped up and laughingly climbed back on. Another spill was from a truck which was being driven after a fleeing jack at a sixty-mile clip. When the jack shifted his course, so did the driver, but one of the men continued in the same direction. However, he landed running.

Casualties, besides the 500 jacks were two men, who were "dusted" by shotgun pellets, but not injured badly, a rattler, a couple of hawks and a huge supply of good things to eat.

Unlike many drives in the past, in which rabbits were herded by men with clubs into a corral skirted by wing fences, the hunters Sunday used guns, two lines of men walking towards each other from opposite directions and then circling and closing in. During the last few minutes of the most profitable drive about fifty rabbits were put out of the way with a barrage which sounded like a battle.

The most fun was for those who rode the fenders or in the bodies of trucks, chasing the fast-running jacks in the fashion many ranchers and sportsmen have employed in the past.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Russell and daughter, Miss Dora Russell, left the latter part of last week for Albuquerque to visit their son and brother, Chester Russell, and family and the doctor's sister, Miss Ruth Russell. Miss Dora Russell expects to remain in Albuquerque for a session of summer school at the university.

Enrollment of 300
At M. E. Assembly

At the Methodist assembly for intermediates and adults, held this week at the assembly grounds in the Sacramento Mountains near Cloudercroft, 300 persons have enrolled. This is the largest attendance in the history of the Sacramento Assembly, and is a 34 percent increase over the attendance of last year. There are forty-five churches represented this year.

Another record breaking attendance is expected next week when young people from Methodist Churches of Colorado, New Mexico and West Texas gather at Sacramento for the Young People's Assembly, which begins June 13.

Howard Pitts of El Paso is president of the Young People's Assembly and the Rev. E. W. Parker, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Denver, Colo., is the dean. The Rev. A. P. Gaines, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Santa Fe, will be at Sacramento, to serve as assistant dean.

Among other outstanding leaders of youth, there will be on the assembly faculty: Dr. H. C. Brown, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. C. W. Hall of the University of Texas at Austin; Dr. W. H. Mansfield, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, El Paso, who will be the platform speaker for the assembly and will speak each evening from Tuesday through Friday on the assembly theme, "Be Ye Steadfast."

Grass Protects
Dirt Dams

North Dakota farmers have a simple, inexpensive method of protecting earthen dams—built for soil and water conservation—from erosion, according to the Soil Conservation Service. Where rock or other material is not available for riprapping, they plant prairie cord, or "well diggers" grass, on the dam and spillway. The grass grows profusely wherever there is abundant moisture, and provides excellent protection against washing.
