Van P. Welch, Oil Man, Dies At Rochester

Son of Pioneer in Fields Here Fails to Withstand Operation—Body Is Due Home This Evening on Santa Fe.

Van P. Welch, 36 years old, prominent young oil man of Artesia and a son of Van S. Welch, a pioneer in development of Southeast New Mexico oil fields, died early Tuesday morning in a hospital at Rochester, Minn.

He underwent an operation last Thursday for an abscess on the brain. Mr. Welch likewise underwent a tonsil operation in El Paso a month ago, since when he remained poorly. He was taken to Rochester Oct. 14 by his father.

Mrs. Welch hurried to Rochester by airplane last Thursday when Mr. Welch's condition was reported as critical. She and the elder Mr. Welch were with him when death came Tuesday.

The body is to arrive in Artesia this evening on the Santa Fe.

Funeral arrangements had not been made up to this morning, awaiting arrival of Mrs. Van P. Welch and Van S. Welch. Mr. Welch, who is driving, is expected in Artesia today. It is presumed the funeral will be Friday afternoon.

There survive Mr. Welch his parents; his widow; three children, Phillip, 3, Marjorie Nell, 2, and Robert Hill, 8 months, and two sisters and two brothers, Marjorie, Mrs. S. J. Iverson, Ft. Worth, and Miss Phoebe, James M. and W. N. Welch, Artesia.

Van Phillip Welch, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Van S. Welch, was born July 15, 1902, at Allentown, N. Y.

As a boy he moved with his parents to Robinson, Ill., in the South Illinois oil fields. He attended New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell three years, from 1919 to 1922, but returned to Robinson for his senior year in high school, graduating there in 1923.

The family moved to Artesia fifteen years ago, since when Mr. Welch, known to his many friends as "Little Van," was identified in the oil business. He was formerly a partner here of his brother, Wendell N. Welch, in the firm of Welch Brothers.

At the time of his death, Van P. Welch was owner of the Red Lake Oil Company, operating in the drilling and production phases of the oil industry.

He married Miss Nell Hill of Roswell there Feb. 15, 1934. To them were born the children mentioned.

Mrs. R. K. De Ford of Midland, Tex., mother of Mrs. Welch, and Mr. De Ford arrived Tuesday to be with the daughter and grandchildren.

The Boy Scouts Get Land Gift In New Mexico

Boy Scouts of this part of the country in particular will profit through a gift of 35,857 acres of land near Cimarron, N. Mex., from Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips of Tulsa, Okla., to the national organization. The tract, valued at $50,000, was accepted last Thursday by the executive board of the national council for the Boy Scouts of America.

Walter W. Head, president, said the property, adjoining the Phillips, ranch, Philmont, in the Kit Carson territory, was all above 7,000 feet elevation.

Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive, said, "There is a demonstrated need for opportunities whereby troops and patrols with experience, training, leadership and proper equipment may secure the benefits of what may be termed wilderness camping."

The Scouts will find some spots at least 11,000 feet above sea level and remnants of the old Santa Fe trail. Nine main canyons and many more smaller ones cut up the tract, all flanked by rock palisades or heavy timber growth.

W. M. Osburn, father of Mrs. I. C. Keller, who makes his home with his daughter and family, suffered a heart attack Monday night, which has kept him confined to his bed this week. Mr. Osburn is considered better this morning, although not free from suffering.

THE GUY ALMOST IS NUTS, HE ADMITS

It started here, so it may as well be admitted—as well as that the guy is probably nuts—and pass it along, as did the Associated Press, which chronicled Sunday:

Who said there was no esprit de corps among newspaper men?

The supreme sacrifice for the fourth estate was made today by A. L. (Pot) Bert, editor of The Artesia Advocate, who offered to run for governor on the New Deal Party ticket which is threatened with extinction unless at least one candidate is found to run on it.

Bert wired Arthur Dowless, of Clovis, secretary of the party:

"I am willing to be a candidate for governor on the New Deal ticket. Although I am a democrat, and I can't help that, I hate to see New Mexico printers cheated out of a fourth column on the official ballots."

"P. S.—I haven't been in the state long enough to vote myself, but I probably won't be elected anyway, and it's all right to run me as I won't have to qualify."

All the nominees on the New Deal ticket have withdrawn, and Secretary of State Gonzales said if no names were forthcoming by next week, the ticket would not appear on the official ballot.

C. W. Rowland, Old Time Rancher and Farmer, Dies at 84

Death From Pneumonia Comes Tuesday Morning at Home in Artesia

Charles W. Rowland, 84 years old, a rancher and farmer who came to the Pecos Valley in 1909, died of pneumonia at 11:15 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home, 103 Grand Avenue, in Artesia. Although poorly more than a year, Mr. Rowland was seriously ill only since Monday.

Funeral services at the Christian Church at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. J. Vernon Wheeler. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Rowland are his widow; four sons, Arthur and John Rowland of Artesia, Lewis Rowland of Cassville, Mo., and Eugene Rowland of Santa Monica, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Emma Davis of Granger, Mo., seventeen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Charles W. Rowland was born near Dillsborough, Ind., June 17, 1854, and moved at the age of 6 years with his parents to Augusta, Ill. Then in 1869 the family moved to Granger, Mo., where he grew to manhood.

There Mr. Rowland married Clara Belle Marquis of Granger in 1877, the sixtieth anniversary of which was observed last year. They lived there until coming to Eddy County in 1909, where Mr. and Mrs. Rowland lived nearly thirty years, twenty of which were near Artesia and the last year and a half in Artesia.

To Mr. and Mrs. Rowland were born seven sons, of whom the four mentioned survive. Of them, all were here for the funeral yesterday except Eugene Rowland, who could not come.

Mr. Rowland united many years ago with the Christian Church, living and dying in the faith.

SPEAKS AT ROTARY ON MEXICAN EXPROPRIATION

J. Hise Myers, who lived three years in Chihuahua, Mexico, where he was connected with the implement business, spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Artesia Rotary Club Tuesday noon on economic conditions in Mexico and the present program of expropriation of property and interests there.

Visitors were Walden Bassett, past president of the Roswell club; a Dr. Allen of Garden City, Kan.; L. F. Roark and W. D. Luke of Scott City, Kan., and Joe Nunn of Artesia.

Eddy Registration Is 9,680 for the November Election

Indications of Gain in State Are Seen from Incomplete Counties' Figures

Of 184,937 persons registered in 25 of 31 counties of New Mexico for the general election Nov. 3, a report of Elizabeth F. Gonzales, secretary of state, shows 9,680 are in Eddy County. The remaining six counties had not reported to the secretary.

A possible slight gain in the total number of voters, as compared with 1936, was indicated. The six missing counties, Chaves, Lea, Grant, McKinley, San Miguel and Socorro, two years ago had an official registration of 53,505.

Of the twenty-five counties from which the secretary of state has heard, thirteen showed gains, although in some it was slight.

The total unofficial registration for the 1936 general election was set at 238,407. Total vote cast was 173,803.

Besides Eddy County, registration figures of the other twenty-four counties already reported as received at the secretary of state's office follows:

Bernalillo 32,438; Catron 2,936; Colfax 9,433; Curry 9,035; Dona Ana 11,879; De Baca 1,822; Guadalupe 4,614; Harding 2,355; Hidalgo 2,619; Lincoln 4,646; Luna 3,351; Mora 5,482; Otero 4,648; Quay 6,482; Rio Arriba 10,767; Roosevelt 5,635; Sandoval 5,210; San Juan 3,705; Santa Fe 16,960; Sierra 3,569; Taos 7,858; Torrance 5,907; Union 5,135; Valencia 8,691.

In a list of voting districts of the entire thirty-one counties from county clerks, compiled in the office of Mrs. Gonzales, Eddy County is shown to have twenty-three.

Bernalillo County, with 80 different divisions, leads the list, with San Miguel second with 47. Rio Arriba has 47, Santa Fe 46, and Colfax 40.

Voting districts in other counties were listed as follows: Catron 22; Chaves 33; Curry 26; De Baca 11; Dona Ana 33; Grant 28; Guadalupe 25; Harding 14; Hidalgo 10; Lea 28; Lincoln 23; Luna 12; McKinley 26; Mora 26; Otero 20; Quay 26; Roosevelt 27; Sandoval 26; San Juan 17; Sierra 15; Socorro 33; Taos 32; Torrance 28; Union 26; Valencia 34.

State Police Begin Drive to Check on Motorists' Licenses

State police headquarters has ordered an intensive drive to see that everyone operating a motor car in the state is properly equipped with a driver's license.

State Police Officer Jack Nichols, stationed at Roswell, announced he would begin a thorough check on all automobiles in this district, to see that their brakes and lights are in proper working order, and to see that all drivers have their licenses to operate their cars.

"The fact that a car is equipped with a brake and light sticker does not always mean that the lights and brakes are working properly," he said. "Often they are damaged after the sticker is issued. It is to find these cars and to find drivers who do not have a license, that the inspection is being made by the state police throughout the area."

"The people of this district have been better, on the average, about cooperating in these laws than most other sections of the state, but there are still many who have not complied, and we ask them to do so at once."

FATHER OF MRS. MARTIN YATES DIES IN MISSOURI

Mrs. Martin Yates left Tuesday morning for Mexico, Mo., called there because of the death Monday morning of her father, S. P. Emmons, nearly 91 years old.

Mr. Emmons was a prominent pioneer of Northwest Missouri and a merchant at Mexico about fifty years.

SCARLET FEVER IN SCHOOLS CHECKED

A scarlet fever outbreak in the local schools about two weeks ago has been checked, according to a report of the school health nurse, Mrs. Ann Kinder. Every precaution was taken in the beginning with the result of no new cases developing.

G. D. Smith of Lubbock was in Artesia on business Tuesday.

Scouter

OSCAR H. BENSON
National Director of Rural Scouting, Boy Scouts of America

Oscar H. Benson of Pennsylvania, national director of Rural Scouting, Boy Scouts of America, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon in Artesia Friday noon for scouters of the Eastern New Mexico Area Council.

His visit to Artesia will be part of a program in the area this week, Tuesday through Saturday, with scheduled stops at seven places. Mr. Benson is attending the New Mexico Educational Association meetings in Roswell Oct. 27-29, at which he is speaking on several programs.

Charles Kullman, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, is also scheduled for the luncheon here tomorrow.

Meningitis Is Fatal Early Tuesday to Mrs. George Gage

Hope Woman, Former Artesian, Dies in Carlsbad Hospital, Aged 43

Mrs. George Gage of west of Hope, for many years a resident of Artesia, died in St. Francis Hospital, Carlsbad, at 3:45 o'clock Tuesday morning of a form of meningitis at the age of 43 years.

Apparently recovering from a cold, she was stricken suddenly last Thursday and sank into a coma from which she never rallied. She was taken to the hospital that night.

As Lillian Voris French, a daughter of W. S. and Betty Elvira Goodwin French, Mrs. Gage was born at Fulton, Ky., May 3, 1895. With her parents she came to Eddy County in 1909, when they settled near Hope.

There she married Mr. Gage in 1913, since when all of their married life was lived in Artesia until a year and a half ago, when they moved near Walnut Grove on the Lower Pecos.

To them were born four children, all of whom survive: Elizabeth, Mrs. William Powell, Jr., Santa Rita, N. Mex.; Elnora, Mrs. Carl Jorren, Artesia, and Wallace Gage, 17 years old, and Thelma, 7, at home.

Also surviving Mrs. Gage are her husband, her mother, Mrs. Betty French, Artesia, and three brothers and three sisters:

C. B. French, Durant, Okla.; C. M. French, Banning, Calif.; Mrs. O. M. Scoggins, Hope; W. T. French, Artesia; Mrs. Henry Young, Mogollon, N. Mex., and Mrs. Charles Home, Santa Fe. Two grandchildren also survive.

Private funeral services were conducted at the McClay Chapel Wednesday by the Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the Artesia Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Gage was a member. Public services were at the grave in Woodbine Cemetery at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Allen E. Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ in Artesia, a former Hope boy.

Mrs. John W. Powell, Jr., and small son of Santa Rita, daughter and grandson of Mrs. Gage arrived soon after the mother was stricken ill. Mr. Powell joined his wife and son here Monday. Mrs. Charles Horne, sister of Mrs. Gage, and Mr. Horne of Santa Fe and Mrs. Roy Spivey, a niece, and Mr. Spivey of Hobbs, were here for the funeral Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Scoggins and children of Hope also were here.

Linell Goes to Semi-Finals in Open Golf Meet

William Linell has gone to the semi-finals in the city open golf tournament here, being played on the Artesia Golf Club course. Who his opponent will be has not been determined, for the eighth finals' deadline is today and a number of matches have not been played or reported.

In reaching the semi-finals, Linell defeated J. Clark Bruce in the quarter-finals, previously, in order, beating Tex Hensen and Earl Bigler.

Bruce won from Oscar Samelson and Dr. Lawrence Clarke before meeting Linell.

A number of golfers, having paired up after playing the eighth-finals, shot their rounds in the quarters, so, with Linell in the semi-final position and others to play today in the eighth-final position, the official chart is quite unbalanced.

Mann Drug Becomes A Walgreen Agency

The Mann Drug Company in Artesia has just added and is featuring the nationally known and advertised Walgreen line of merchandise. C. E. Mann, proprietor, said his business is now known as a "Walgreen Agency Drug Store."

By way of introducing the new line, an opening 1-cent sale is being held today through Saturday. Mr. Mann's business is the oldest continuously operating in Artesia and was founded thirty-two years ago. During the intervening period he has striven to progress with the times, and believes his present move makes his store in line with the most modern angles.

Many local hunters are looking forward to the New Mexico deer season which opens Tuesday for fifteen days.

PLEASE BEHAVE ON HALLOWEEN

H. G. Watson, mayor of Artesia, and J. C. Floore, chief of police, have both expressed their wishes that Halloween this year be safe and sane, although they expect the youngsters to have plenty of fun.

"We want the boys and girls to be reasonable," Mr. Watson said. "Plenty of good, clean fun will bring no official action. But we will have extra police, who will be under orders to maintain law and protect property."

Mr. Floore and Clayton McDonald, night watch, will have ample assistance to cope with any gangs who insist on giving trouble and the chief promised arrests will be made if necessary.

"I especially want to call attention to the blocking of streets and highways," Mr. Floore said. "It not only is unlawful, but is very hazardous. I am sure no boy would want to cause an accident which might injure or kill anyone. Such infractions will be sternly dealt with."

Property must not be destroyed or carried off, Mr. Floore added.

CANDIDATES VISIT ARTESIA

Howell Gage, candidate for sheriff; Charles Montgomery, for county commissioner, and H. F. Christian, for treasurer, were in Artesia from Carlsbad Monday meeting voters. From here they went on to Hope.

Man Is Killed by Blast in Vacuum Oil Area Saturday

"Dock" Price, 46, Odessa, Blown to Bits—Two Others Are Injured

Two boxes of dynamite blasted suddenly and unaccountably on a pipeline job in the Vacuum field Saturday afternoon, and took two men to their death.

Killed instantly, his body blown far and wide into unrecognizable bits, was "Dock" Price, 46-year-old Odessa, Tex., man.

Injured so seriously that he died two hours later in a Lovington hospital was Ted Steen, about 40, and also of Odessa.

W. A. Davidson, about 45, suffered numerous abrasions, contusions and lacerations.

The three men, all employees of the Knickerbocker Construction Company of Odessa, were working on a contract for the Texas Pipeline Company in the Vacuum field not far from Lovington.

One man, working on the job, who escaped uninjured, reported the men had dug a ditch from one tank to another, and said Price was sitting on two boxes of dynamite, working on a dynamite cap. He was not sure whether the victim was "crimping" the cap with his teeth or with a pair of pliers, according to his report.

Steen was about fifteen feet away from the dynamite when the cap in Price's hand exploded, setting off the two boxes. Price's body was blown to bits, and scattered over an area extending 100 yards from the explosion.

State Gins 31,075 Bales Up to Oct. 17

A report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Department of Agriculture, shows New Mexico ginned 31,075 running bales of cotton this year prior to Oct. 17.

New Mexico cotton ginned from Oct. 1 to 17 shows about 26 per cent white good middling, 62 per cent white strict middling, about 6 per cent white middling, with about 5 per cent being graded as spotted. Staple length ranged from 7/8 inch to 1 5/32, with about 6 per cent being 1 1/32 inches, 35.2 per cent 1 1/16 inches, 42 per cent 1 3/32 inches, and 16.4 per cent 1 1/8 inches and longer.

All cotton classed up to the time of the report was tenderable, except in Arizona.

Besides the running bales in New Mexico, the report showed 63,407 for Arizona and 68,960 for California.

Dempsey, Miles Due Here For Rally Nov. 3

Congress and Governor Candidate Parties to Converge With Murray's—Feed at 1 p. m., Followed by Speaking.

The Democratic parties stumping the state will converge in Artesia Wednesday, Nov. 2, for a big rally of Southeast New Mexico voters and a barbecue.

Heading the parties are John J. Dempsey, Democratic candidate for Congress; John E. Miles, candidate for governor, and James M. Murray, Sr., candidate for lieutenant governor.

In the party of each, now taking different speaking tour routes, are numerous other state candidates, all of whom are expected in Artesia Wednesday. All Democratic candidates for county offices also are planning to be here.

The rally is for North Eddy County voters especially and for them and the visiting candidates the central committee is planning the big barbecue, which will be served at 1 o'clock in the lot east of the American Legion hut.

The speaking program will be at the Valley Theater at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Issues of the campaign and party matters will be discussed by the candidates.

The public is invited to both the barbecue and the speaking program to meet and shake hands with the Democratic candidates.

Metro Opera Tenor, Kullman, Will Appear In Roswell Friday

Charles Kullman, tenor with the Metropolitan Opera Company and a radio star, will appear at Cahoon Armory in Roswell at 8 o'clock Friday evening for the first co-operative concert of a series of four during the season, tickets for which were sold last spring.

Only persons who subscribed to the series may attend, for there will be no tickets sold at the door. And, the committee stresses, it will be necessary to show tickets.

Programs later in the season will be presented by a noted violinist, a two-piano team and the Mozarts Boys' Choir.

Young Democrats Re-organize Here Wednesday Night

The Young Democrats Club of Artesia re-organized at party headquarters here for the campaign last evening, when Miss Beth King was elected chairman to serve the next two years.

Mrs. John Williams and James Thigpen were elected vice chairmen and Ted Flint, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to hold a rally at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at The Advocate office to make plans for entertaining state candidates at the big North Eddy County rally and barbecue in Artesia Wednesday, Nov. 2.

Elmer Perry, chairman of the Young Democrats of Eddy County, presided and announced the local organization is now affiliated with the state Young Democrats.

Memberships may be applied for at Democratic campaign headquarters or at the rally Monday.

State Gets Big Slice WPA Melon

Reports compiled by the Public Works Administration in Washington show that the federal government made outright grants through this one agency to the schools of New Mexico totaling $2,505,805.00 the last four years.

In addition to this sum $1,660,454 was loaned to the schools of the state to build comfortable buildings so every child in the state would have an equal opportunity to get an education.

The total cost of all PWA projects in the state, including sewerage systems, new city halls, water systems, parks and the like was $11,658,668.31.

Of this total sum $4,852,257.47 was in the form of an outright grant or gift to the citizens of New Mexico.

WE BELIEVE IN BOYS AND GIRLS

A man is a grown-up boy. By the same token, a boy is a man who has not grown up. That is why men so often understand boys—not always, it's true—and try to see the boys' point of view.

That is why men do not like to deprive boys of fun on Halloween—or any other time, as far as that is concerned. But men, more mature in their judgment, cannot sanction everything boys might wish to do, by way of celebrating. That is because they are men.

These same older fellows, of whom the city dads and law enforcement officers of Artesia are examples, have no desire to keep the younger chaps from having parties and good, wholesome fun on Halloween. But because they are men, they do not approve of destruction of property or pranks which might be hazardous to life or limb.

When a number of Artesia High School boys—and girls too—decided to have a bonfire on the eve of a football game in the business section, objection was made. The students had not stopped to think. But they were not deprived of their fun. On the contrary, the boxes and sticks for the bonfire were moved at city expense to a safer location, where the fire was lighted and the boys and girls formed their snake dance. And further expense was stood by the city in having both fire trucks stand by.

That's the kind of city this is. That's the kind of city dads we have. And the way the boys and girls took the change of bonfire location they are of the same kind of timber, just not quite as quick in their judgment.

But they listened to reason. That is why this editorial is being written, to appeal to the reason and judgment of the youth of Artesia; to ask them, in behalf of the city and its citizens, to confine their pranks to harmless ones; to heed the appeal of officers that they behave; to so conduct themselves that none is arrested, as surely some will be if they do not cooperate.

Students are not the only ones who in the past have destroyed property on Halloween. Older boys, those who should have attained a state of more mature judgment, have been responsible for thoughtless and dangerous deeds in the name of Halloween. This appeal goes to them also.

It is little to ask. And we are sure the citizens of Artesia will make it up to you in some other way. They will be more willing to cooperate the next time you want something.

THE INDIANS ARE COMING!

With a rising population, the American Indians are establishing themselves in our civilization as an asset rather than—as in former years—a liability.

In 1492 when Columbus arrived in the New World, there were 846,000 Indians. In 1888 the Indian population was down to 246,036 but the decline was not due to the Indian wars—more dying of disease in epidemic form, liquor, and tuberculosis than ever were killed. Recent census figures, however, show that the Indian population has risen to 337,366.

The Indians are also establishing themselves as a self-supporting race instead of one dependent on government aid. Take the Jicarillas: in 1920 their individual income averaged $20 a year. Last year through their cooperative farming, the average was $200. The Blackfoot tribe that runs a large art and crafts store in Montana has an even $40 a month income to each family participating. And the Mescalero Apaches of New Mexico have increased their gross earnings from the cattle and sheep business from $18,000 in 1935 to $101,000 in 1937. America's native sons are coming back with a whoop.—Commentator Magazine.

BOOST THE CORONADO CUARTO CENTENNIAL

With the 1939 session of the state legislature less than three months away, the attention of far-sighted New Mexicans is again called to the Coronado Centennial celebration in 1940.

Few states can celebrate a four hundredth anniversary and fewer states are in a more favorable position to capitalize upon such an anniversary as that which New Mexico will be able to undertake in 1940. With the New York and San Francisco expositions extending into 1940, and with thousands of tourists driving east to New York and west to San Francisco, New Mexico, situated as it is on the most scenic transcontinental highways, has a chance to reap a golden harvest from what promises to be a bumper crop of tourists.

What is needed is a program which will keep the tourist in New Mexico for a period longer than his normal stay. The Coronado program, as announced by the Centennial Commission, is just such a program. Built around some forty annual events in New Mexico and with the addition of eighteen colorful pageants, the Centennial is designed to keep the tourist in New Mexico for at least an additional twenty-four hours.—Las Vegas Daily Optic.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

613 West Main Street

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all societies and churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 30.

The Golden Text is: "Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy; when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me."—(Micah 7:8.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; but the Lord pondereth the hearts."—(Prov. 21:2.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "We should examine ourselves and learn what is the affection and purpose of the heart, for in this way only can we learn what we honestly are."

Fifteen Years Ago Today

(From The Advocate Files of Oct. 26, 1923.)

The municipal park has been taken over by the city. Artesia park, like many other great achievements, had an humble beginning. To know the history of this sort of organization makes us appreciate it more. This organization was started about 12 years ago, to be exact, and was fostered by the Woman's Club. Later it was taken over by the W. C. T. U. ladies and was in their charge for several years. Mrs. J. M. Story, who has been chairman of the organization for the last seven years, tells us that the good ladies were almost ready to give up the task on several occasions, but in some way, somehow, they hung on. The trees are in order, the grass pretty well set and the grounds clean in appearance. Now the city dads, we understand, have agreed to take over the park for the city and maintain it with a small tax.

The Artesia Woman's Club began its year's work Wednesday, Oct. 17, at St. Paul's Mission, where the club meetings will be held this year.

Gradually the merchants and business firms on Main Street are extending their concrete sidewalks out to the fifteen-foot curb line established when the street paving was recently put in.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

Income from liquor license fees provides most of the revenue needed by the town of Jal, in Lea County, an audit report showed. Receipts of the town for the last fiscal year were $3,375, of which $2,000 came from liquor licenses, the report said. Expenditures totaled $2,718.

An unprecedented series of electrical storms in the San Juan Basin of Southern Colorado and Northern New Mexico has taken a toll of three lives and caused considerable property damage this fall. At least six persons have been injured, several seriously, by bolts of lightning which have crashed to earth by the scores during the unusual storms.

New Mexico was awarded grants totaling $35,324 for its social security program in October, the Social Security Board announced. The aged received $22,723; blind, $1,342; and children $11,259.

A population increase of more than 6,000 per year is being recorded in New Mexico, figures released by the U. S. Census Bureau indicated. During 1937, figures showed, 13,837 births were recorded, compared with 6,422 deaths. The birth rate was 32.8 per 1,000 population and the death rate 15.2 per 1,000. Of the births, 320 were in Negro, Chinese, Japanese and Indian families. Of the deaths, 470 were of the same nationalities. Eleven births were recorded in which the mother was less than 14 years of age, the report said.

The Masonic Grand Lodge of New Mexico in sessions held at Gallup last week elected William Bickel of Gallup new grand master to succeed A. L. Hamilton of Tucuman. Alpheus A. Keen was re-elected secretary to the lodge for the fifty-fifth consecutive time. Other state officers chosen were Louis Rockett, Santa Fe, deputy grand master; Adolph Walter, Socorro, senior grand warden; James E. Elrod, junior grand warden, and Edward R. Paul, Santa Fe, re-elected grand treasurer.

The State Health Department reported New Mexico's death toll on the highways for the first eight months of this year was 28 less than for the same period in 1937. Total motor vehicle accidents for the period this year, the report said, was 88, compared with 127 in 1937. During August this year 13 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the state. Of the 13, the report continued, eight died in non-collision accidents, and two were pedestrians. The department's August report also showed seven persons died as the result of accidents in the home.

Stone Is Among Optometrists to Learn Of New Technique

Dr. Edward Stone, Artesia optometrist, returned last week from Albuquerque, where he attended an eye clinic at which hope that widespread near-sightedness and far-sightedness might be almost wiped out among the next generation was brought to New Mexico by Chicago optometrists, Dr. Carl Loeb and Dr. William Henning, as they instructed about thirty eye specialists in the chromo-optic method of sight correction.

The specialists were gathered in a three-day session of the New Mexico State Optometrists Association to become acquainted with the color treatments which have been developed by the Chicago visitors during the last seven years.

Dr. Henning said the method is based upon use of light rays to correct functional disturbances believed responsible for almost all cases of near and farsightedness. Earlier theories had treated eye troubles in that class as optical defects, he said, and lenses were relied upon to correct the difficulty.

Young children when treated by the new method frequently regain perfect vision, according to Henning, but marked success has been achieved in even the treatment of adults, Dr. Stone said upon his return. The color treatment was heretofore used in New Mexico and West Texas. "We expect these eye defects to be only occasional thirty years hence," Dr. Henning said. "And we believe lenses will be far less common. We use them now only as a last resort." Dr. Stone is one of the few optometrists in the Southwest who has the instruments necessary for this technique.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Farms' Surpluses Sale Would Help Nation's Farmers

Claim Wallace's Idea to Sell Crops At Bargain to the Needy Would Help

Administration farm leaders believe Secretary Wallace's scheme to sell surplus foodstuffs to the needy at bargain rates would go far toward solving the problem of low farm prices and income.

The unmarketable surpluses, now occupying costly storage space or going to waste while serving to depress prices, would be distributed among millions of relief and low-income families now ill-nourished and poorly clad.

The distribution would be done by what Wallace describes as a "two-price" system. While the underprivileged were buying their food at cut rates, other consumers would pay the regular market price.

The government would act as an intermediary between producers on the one hand and the relief consumers on the other.

Some of the products may be bought by the government from the farmer and sold to the needy, either through regular retail stores or government distribution agencies, or both. In the case of other commodities, the government may merely guide the producer and processor in doing the distributing. Any losses incurred by the reduced prices would be borne by the government.

The products which would be sold at the two prices would include cotton goods, milk, butter, cheese, fruits, vegetables and meat products of which there were surpluses.

Agriculture department officials said there were at least 6,000,000 American families who need larger quantities of these commodities. Nutrition studies, they said, show that most low-income families actually need twice as much milk and twice as much of the leafy, green and yellow vegetables and of citrus fruits as they now get.

Officials estimated these families would need 15 per cent more eggs, 33 per cent more milk and dairy products, and 20 per cent more vegetables. Thus would be opened, they said, a new field for many farmers now producing such surplus crops as cotton and wheat.

A family of six would need an average of $2 more a week to buy the necessary quantities of fruits, vegetables and dairy products. Under the two-price system, it might be possible to sell these additional foods to them for the amount such a family now spends.

Thus the two-price system, officials said, could put products valued at about $840,000,000 in the kitchens of the 6,000,000 underprivileged families annually for little or no additional cost to them.

Officials said such operations need not necessarily cost the government $840,000,000. They said it was quite probable that the bulk of the expense would be borne by other consumers through higher yet "fair and equitable" prices.

This new plan for disposing of agricultural surpluses is the administration's reply to those who would "dump" excessive supplies abroad at cut-rate prices in order to remove them as better price carriers.

Local Episcopal Lads Beat Roswell In 6-Man Football

The six-man football team of the Artesia Episcopal Church beat a team from the Roswell Episcopal Church, 30 to 6 on the municipal field here Saturday morning. Jimmie De Voss, Artesia youth, related the game as follows:

The Artesia boys had them from the start, but the Roswell defense held the Artesians scoreless in the first quarter.

Artesia started turning on the steam in the second quarter, when Dicky Attebery picked up a fumble and ran for a touchdown.

Quite a few passes were attempted and some were completed by Roswell to gain quite a bit of yardage, but Artesia stayed on the ground and got their yardage by end runs mostly. A few line plays were tried, not picking up much because of a fairly strong defense on both sides. There was not much blocking but some stiff-arming helped the runner a lot. Roswell got their touchdown on a nice run from about the 10-yard-line.

Another play was made and ended in a touchdown, run on a fumble from center. Jimmy Haskins picked it up and ran wide around the end. The Roswell halfback downed him over the goal.

The referee was the Rev. F. B. Howden, Jr., rector of the Artesia and Roswell Episcopal Churches.

Round-Up on the Mescalero Going On Full Tilt Now

With round-up operations on the Mescalero reservation west of Artesia going full tilt, it was announced last week 2,000 head of cattle, owned individually by the Indian stockmen, have been contracted for sale for immediate delivery at a contract price of $64,000.

This will leave about 6,500 cattle and about 7,000 sheep and goats on the reservation. Recent sale of 5,000 sheep and lambs netted the Indians $18,000 and 6,000 pounds of mohair brought 35 cents a pound.

The traditional round-up of the old West, with thirty Indian cowboys, a chuck wagon and a string of 150 saddle ponies will be finished about Nov. 15. The Mescalero range covers about 300,000 acres.

System conservation practices are followed on the range and recently a number of wells have been drilled to supplement springs and streams and assure better distribution. The Indian stockmen have formed a cattle growers' association and recently purchased 350 registered Herefords for breeding purposes.

Three thousand acres of grain now are being harvested and most of it will be kept on the reservation for feeding purposes.

WORLD NEWS BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

National Park Service historians say they have spotted "the oldest house in the world to be occupied by white people." The house, in the Wupatki National Monument, north of Flagstaff, Ariz., is the honeymoon cottage of ranger David Jones and his bride, "Corky." The house was occupied almost 1,000 years ago, according to types of pottery that have been recovered, and "tree ring" chronology. "The Wupatki ruin, or in Hopi—'tall house', consists of a number of rooms built in blocks of red sandstone, in typical Pueblo style," one official said. "The Joneses are at home in the restored second story of the building."

A "wooden floor" of logs buried at great depth by ancient glaciers has been giving oil drillers considerable trouble in Fayette County, Ohio. One log 20 inches in diameter was struck at the 55-foot depth between difficult hardpan deposits. The drillers had to resharpen drills repeatedly to get through.

Portable Electric Motor Is Ideal Power for Silo Filling

One of many farm chores done more easily and cheaply with electricity.

By IRA MILLER
Rural Electrification Bureau

TO many farmers silo filling is one of their biggest power jobs as well as one of their most expensive operations. This is true if the ensilage cutter is run at too high a speed and with too large a power unit, as such operation requires a large crew of helpers. Thus, in many localities it is not unusual to find 15 to 30-horsepower tractors and crews of 12 to 20 men filling the silo.

Reducing the speed of the cutter increases its efficiency and permits the use of smaller power equipment and a smaller crew. This is particularly important on those farms where high-line electricity is available, as it is the use of small power units that makes electrical energy so economical and practical in the business of farming.

As a matter of fact, it has been the small-farm operator who has really proved the general, practical and profitable use of the small electric motor—usually portable—for silo filling and numerous other tasks. For, working with limited help in most instances, he must utilize his physical strength to its greatest advantage yet not tire himself so greatly that his mind is not clear for planning his work. With electricity, a silo can be filled by a crew of only two men though the operation is not continuous.

Of course, the owner of a large farm likewise greatly benefits from the application and use of electricity. For, using a portable motor to fill the silo, not only can he keep his tractors in the field but also he can reduce the silage crew to four to eight men depending upon the length of haul.

Numerous tests have shown that, using modern ensilage cutters with 12 to 16-inch throats and operating them at speeds proportional to the height of the silo and the diameter of the cutter fan, a portable five-horsepower, 1,800 r.p.m., motor will cut and elevate an average of five tons of ensilage per hour with a current consumption of about one kw.-hr. per ton.

Naturally, the capacity as well as the power required will vary with the length of the cut, the quality of the fodder, the size of the bundles and method of feeding, height of the silo, sharpness of the cutting knives and several other factors. However, under normal conditions and with modern equipment, a farmer can fill his silo electrically at a power cost of three to five cents per ton, depending upon the rate he pays for current. This is approximately one-third to one-fourth the cost of other sources of power for such service. When to these savings are added those resulting from the smaller crews required, it is apparent that a total saving of 15 to 25 cents per ton can be effected by using a portable electric motor for silo filling.

Rehearsals will probably begin Monday on "Merry Go Round," Artesia High School's 1938 model junior play, to be given Dec. 15. Preliminaries began Tuesday evening, when juniors tried out for the twelve parts. The farce comedy evolves around Daniel Adams, a writer, who has decided human beings are instinctively criminal. To prove his point he sends telegrams to several people whose names he has chosen at random from the phone book. The telegrams discreetly say the writer knows about the receivers' crimes. True to Adams' theory, those who get the telegrams visit him, bringing their guilty con-

Will Study Habits Of Mountain Sheep In the Guadalupe

An extensive survey of the habits of mountain sheep in the Guadalupe mountains, to determine reasons for the lack of increase in the numbers of the sure-footed animals, will be made in a cooperative program by four federal and state agencies, State Game Warden Elliott Barker said.

Representatives of the New Mexico and Texas Game Departments, the U. S. Biological Survey and the U. S. Forest Service met Monday in Albuquerque and decided on the survey, to begin about Nov. 15, and to be made by two representatives of the Texas and New Mexico game commissions.

Mountain sheep in the rugged Southeastern New Mexico and West Texas areas are apparently diminishing, Barker said. The survey proposes to study the habits of the animals, their food supply and its quality and whether contact with domestic sheep is detrimental.

Barker and Texas Game Department officials recently made a preliminary survey of the area.

Many Lambs Bought In the Pecos Valley

With a decided activity in the lamb market, greater than the valley and territory near by can supply, between 5 and 6 thousand head of lambs and ewes were purchased the last week by L. F. Roark and W. D. Luke of Scott City, Kan. E. B. Bullock helped them scour the country and buy the stock. The men paid 6 cents for lambs. The principal consigners were: George Williams, Artesia; W. C. Bates, Carlsbad, who sold 1,404 ewes and lambs, the greatest number; Glad Polk, Carlsbad; Jack Casabonne, Hope; Ben Hill and Haven Brothers, Pinon; Tom Runyan, Elk, and Roy Treat, Roswell.

A novel program was presented at Artesia Junior-Senior High School Friday morning when the sophomore class sponsored an all school program on "School Spirit," which was broadcast from the principal's office to all clubs. Leon Burt, a sophomore, planned and announced this program, with the aid of Mr. Marshall, principal, Mr. Kerr, superintendent and Mr. White, sophomore sponsor. James Everts, the first speaker and a valuable man on the Bulldog team, talked on our chances of winning over Portales here on our home field on Armistice Day. Everts thinks the team shows improvement over last year's squad and that there is a favorable outlook for Armistice Day. Margaret Company, cheer leader of the Pep Club, spoke on "Difficulties and Downfalls of the Pep Club This Year." Dorothy Bob Company, president of the Pep Club, spoke on "School Spirit and Supporting the Team." Charles (Chuck) Baldwin, president of the senior class and manager of the football team, thinks our school is bubbling with spirit and appreciation for our team. The next and last speaker, but not the least, was the Junior high representative Jimmy De Voss. He stood on a dictionary to be able to reach the "mike and told how proud we should be, and are, of our Junior-Senior High. Lynn Cobble, a junior student, played two numbers on the guitar and the French harp: "Gold Mine in the Sky" and "Mama Don't Low No Low Down Hanging Around." There was also a recording of "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Many of the Artesia Junior-Senior High School students stayed until 12:15 o'clock cheering our team to a royal send-off as they left for Jal Friday.

George Sturgis, left guard on the Bulldog squad, received a fracture of his left arm in the last minute of the Jal game Friday as he was tackling one of Jal's Panthers.

Four carloads of Artesia High boosters journeyed to Jal Friday to see a close and exciting game.

A set of rules has been devised to govern behavior in all study halls in the Junior-Senior High School. Penalties for violations of these rules have also been made.

Will Robinson of Roswell, one of the first residents of Artesia, spoke in high school assembly on what the Kiwanis Club of Roswell is doing to aid the undernourished children of the Roswell schools. He told of the success of the milk fund, instituted for that purpose and of the play, "Peter Pan," which was given Wednesday night, the proceeds of which went to this fund.

Lights are being installed in Junior-Senior High auditorium. This will make it possible to hold any night programs which might occur.

Approximately fifty Junior High School girls met last week to organize a junior pep club. Miss Flora Dunlap, girls' physical education teacher, is sponsoring this club.

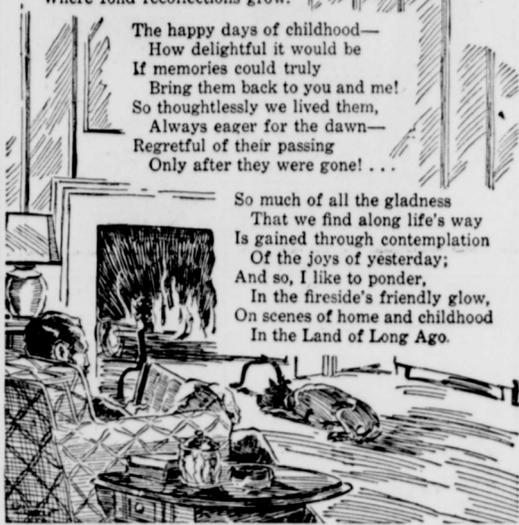

The eighth grade physical education class of the Junior-Senior High School will have a three-mile cross country race Saturday, Oct. 29, before the game between Artesia and Carlsbad second teams. Roderick Watson will have complete charge of the race. Thirteen runners have already registered. The race will start on the corner of Quay and Eleventh Streets and will finish on the 50-yard line of the athletic field. The runners and their trainers are as follows: Allen Mills, Jess Truett; Billie Shelton, Jimmy De Voss; Bob Whitted, Don Morgan; Ben Wake, Billie Terpening; James Sarbey, Jackie Don Woodside; Archie Lewis, Arthur Price; Le Roy Bynum, Clifton Perkins; Ray Castleberry, Donald Ivey; Leo Labodie, Ernest Boyce. The following boys are entering the race without trainers: Lawrence Labodie, Jimmy Nellis, J. E. Lauderdale, Lee Baker, Albert Linell. The officials will be: Starter, Lewis Story; timer, Donald Simons; Judges, Chester Bowman, Val Morgan and Bob Collins. Small trophies will be awarded to the winners. First prize will be a gold track shoe; second, a silver, and third a bronze. There will be

One of the finest educational exhibits ever to be held in Artesia will be given in Central School auditorium during the week of Nov. 14-18, when the Colonial Art Company pictures will be shown. They will later be used by grade school teachers for instruction of art and artists in their classes. There will be approximately 150 pictures on exhibit, the work of both ancient and modern artists. New Mexico Dairy Farmers Stand to Benefit in Butter

Federal Purchase of Thirty Million Pounds Increase Has Been Authorized

New Mexico dairy farmers stand to benefit by a 38-million-pound increase in the amount of butter that the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has been authorized to buy for relief distribution during the year ending June 30, 1939, according to G. R. Quisenberry, director of extension.

The federal government is authorized to buy up to 90 million pounds of butter, that is, the equivalent of 15 pounds or about 7 quarts of milk for every man, woman and child in the United States, under the recently expanded butter-purchase program for low-income families.

Because of large supplies of dairy products on hand and because of heavy milk production, removal of a larger quantity of butter than was earlier anticipated is necessary to help improve dairy products prices and farm prices of milk and butterfat during the 1938-39 season. Consequently, the Triple-A butter program has been revised, raising the total amount that may be bought from 52 to 90 million pounds. For this purpose a $10,000,000 increase in the authorized expenditures of federal funds, bringing the total to $26,730,000, was announced.

The butter-purchase program assists dairymen by removing from regular market channels part of the surplus butter supply caused by record milk production during recent months, and by encouraging greater domestic use of the product through relief distribution.

The federal government purchase program assures dairy farmers and the trade that surplus stocks now held will not prevent a reasonable increase in prices.

BE WISE

Install Adequate Wiring

It is neither convenient nor sensible to have inefficient lights and half speed electrical appliances.

With anequate wiring, all of your appliances will be tireless workers for you. Don't reduce their usefulness by depriving them of energy... by choking off their life blood with wires too small to carry to them enough current.

Remember, you can't expect a wiring system designed for service ten or fifteen years ago to properly serve the many electrical appliances that are in use in the home today.

IT WAS a queer smile; one might have called it no smile at all but a grimace, and it twisted Betty's lips into strange, unlovely curves as she dropped the letter to her desk and, with unseeing eyes, stared out into the morning sunlight.

Spring was in the air, and spring had been in her heart up to a bare few minutes ago. Now, the doctor's letter brought back the chill of winter—bleak, cold freezingly bitter!

She found herself winking, trying desperately not to cry even while the salt flavor of the first tear made her lips smart. She licked it away with a nervous tongue, and reached for the letter. She would read it once more.

Any time! And she had not even suspected that her heart might be at the bottom of the strange lassitude that had sent her, worn and harried, to the doctor's office only yesterday.

From wondering how she might have taken it if he had pronounced the verdict then and there, before that urgent phone call had hurried him away and compelled him to put her off with a promise of a report as soon as might be, she passed to wondering how others would take it—when they knew.

Her mother—no, she would not tell her mother about it, for the poor soul would accept this as she had accepted every event in her colorless life.

"What is to be, will be."
Betty could hear the patient, resigned voice, lacking in even the smallest hint of rebellion against the predestination she had been schooled to believe in.

Smith Wayland—suddenly, Betty caught her breath. Would he care? O, she wanted him to care—how he would.

The door to the outer office opened and closed with a bang, and a singing voice floated in. Hastily Betty gulped and wiped her face. That would be Jimmy Brown, and he mustn't find her crying like a two year old! Again the door opened and Betty knew by the pleasant baritone voice as he exchanged greetings with Jimmy that Smith Wayland had entered the room.

"Listen to the Blue Bird sing—O, come, little Blue Bird of Spring!"

Jimmy Brown, still singing, now in mocking cadence, came slowly toward Betty's desk.

"Loads of work to get outside of, Betty—let's go!"

Further thought of her own concerns was impossible, for Jimmy Brown could keep her hand and brain responding to the day's needs most effectively—and did. But through the stress of work Betty was conscious now and then of a throbbing undercurrent of pain that increased, when, at noon, she went out with the others, aimlessly wandering the streets until she might go back.

The doctor's letter was on the desk when he turned to her. "The wind from that open window blew it around, I suppose. I thought it was office mail; didn't dream it was of a private nature, but I'm glad I read it—"

"I'm glad, too," she told him. "I wanted you to know."

They were alone in the office, her eyes misted, his face still wearing that look of concern. Presently, when Wayland had told her the sweetest story he began ordering her life in a way all his own.

"City hall, first, little girl, for if it is to be any time, we'll borrow all the hours we can, and after that we'll call on that doctor again—just to make sure, you know."

"He's one of the best"—Betty's lips trembled—"and you can see for yourself that he wrote—"

"Nothing of the sort. I never sent you any such letter!" The doctor's denial was swift as he looked from the missive to Betty. "Certainly I remember the examination yesterday, and that I was called away in that hurried fashion. But there wasn't much to report in your case. A month in the country with some one to look after you will set you on your feet." He summoned his stenographer.

She listened to his questions and answered them:

"It was my mistake, doctor. That letter should have gone to Mrs. Stevens. She wanted a written report about her sister, to send to their father. She called up just now and asked about it."

"Mrs. Stevens' sister!" the doctor turned to Betty again. "Nothing left of the poor thing to go on—heart, liver and nerves all shot to pieces; blood gone down the chute! Now, I'll tell you—"

But he wasn't telling Smith Wayland and his wife, Betty, anything right then, for at that moment they were telling each other unutterable things. As they left the office Betty looked up, and on her face was the light of a wonderful gladness, and in her heart was the lilt of a happy song.

Farm Law, Docket Are Discussed at Extension Meeting

Farmers, Ranchers, County Agents Attend Conference at State College

At a meeting Oct. 12 at State College, and sponsored by the Extension Service, changes in the farm law and New Mexico docket were discussed by farmers and ranchers, members of county ACP and program planning committees, from practically all counties of the state. County agents, members of the state AAA committee and members of the state extension staff were also in attendance.

Senator Carl A. Hatch was present at the meeting for the purpose of obtaining first hand information relative to the attitude of producers toward the present AAA program and its administration in New Mexico.

Harold F. Schwartz, field representative, Western division, AAA, also took an active part in discussions and was especially helpful in giving producers information relative to the progress of the preparation of the docket for 1939.

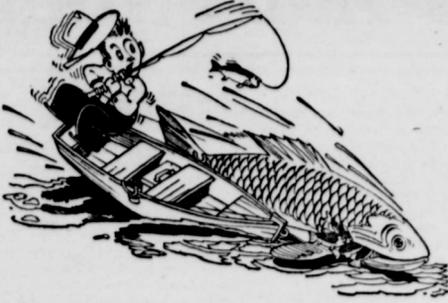

G. R. Quesenberry, director of extension, appointed seven committees composed of representatives from various counties to make recommendations relative to changes in the law and the docket in connection with cotton, wheat grain sorghums, products of high altitude counties, small farm groups, range and county program planning.

These various committees prepared recommendations relative to changes in the law and docket, as well as recommending a number of additions to the 1939 docket. These recommendations were placed before the general meeting. The group, as a whole, were unanimous in their recommendations that the program be simplified. The wheat section recommended that the law be changed so that wheat acreage allotments might be used for marketing quota purposes instead of an allotment in bushels, enabling the farmer to sell all wheat produced on his allotted acreage, as the cotton farmer is now permitted to sell all cotton produced on his allotted acreage without a penalty tax.

It was voted unanimously by the group to retain the present law, with minor amendments, rather than risk any radical changes in the farm program. The group also recommended that more authority be allowed state and county committees, especially to county committees in making adjustment within their counties.

Mrs. Rufus Stinnett and small daughter, Rose Mary, of Magdalena, are visiting Mrs. Stinnett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arba Green, this week. Mr. Stinnett is attending the educational meet in Roswell.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT!

By IROQUOIS DAHL

ONE of our friends, R. E. Walker of Houston, Texas, was good enough to send us a clipping which tells about a fellow who went fishing in Galveston bay. After catching a mess of fish, he strung them on a piece of wire and attached the wire to the stern of his boat. Pretty soon, some big old sock-dogger came along, grabbed the little fish and dragged the boat with him, under the water. The poor fisherman had to swim for his life. He was rescued by a tugboat and it is said that he was just as scared as he was wet—and, boy, he was some wet!

We wonder what the unfortunate angler thinks of the sport of big-game fishing.

Snake Venom May Be Help to Sightless

The venom of snakes most deadly to man soon may prove one of the most effective treatments to save eyesight, a South American physician said.

The deadly fluid of rattlesnakes, water moccasins, cobras and other poisonous reptiles already has been successful in treatment of some eye disorders, Dr. M. E. Alvaro of Sao Paulo, Brazil, told the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

Such conditions as inflammation of the tiny arteries of the eye, blood clots in the eye veins and spasms of the blood vessels have been treated with the venom, previously rendered less active with heat or chemicals.

The action of these toxic venoms is still not clear, Dr. Alvaro said. In some cases it acts as a dissolving solution in the blood to clear away blood clots, while in other cases it coagulates the blood to form clots.

An operation to prevent chronic weeping was discussed before the academy by Dr. William H. Stokes of Omaha, Neb., and Dr. Frank E. Burch of St. Paul, Minn.

When the tear sac at the inside corner of the eye becomes infected or closes up, salty tears are unable to drain through the sac into the nose. Then a person will weep constantly.

Instead of removing the infected tear sac, Dr. Stokes advocated an operation to transplant it slightly and open a new outlet through the bone of the nose to restore its function to normal.

IMPLEMENT CONTRACT TO ELLIS-McCRORY

Joe Ellis and W. B. McCrory, doing business as Ellis-McCrory Implement Company, have been awarded the 1939 contract by the Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement Company, as of Oct. 25. They are handling the business formerly done by the Pecos Valley Implement Company, at the same location.

Mr. McCrory is to leave Saturday for Kansas City to attend the annual dealers' meeting, at which the new implement models will be exhibited. He will return home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ansley are the proud parents of a son, Edwin James, born in a Roswell hospital Friday, Oct. 14. Mrs. Ansley and son returned home Wednesday of last week. Both mother and infant are doing nicely.

Mrs. F. Schulze of Clifton, Tex., is here visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Schulze and three boys. Mrs. Schulze expects to return home some time next week.

HOLLYWOOD—Director W. S. Van Dyke is looking for the prankster who thought it would be funny to set a fox free while 30 hounds were being given screen tests.

Van Dyke had everything set to go and was ready to order the test when suddenly M. Reynard, a movie fox, came bounding along in full view of the dogs. That ended the test.

The last time Van Dyke saw the dogs they were going out the studio gate after the fox. The fox Van Dyke later learned, found refuge beneath a funeral home four blocks away.

It was not explained definitely just how Clark Gable, Robert Taylor and Wallace Beery happened to be watching so closely when the fox came by. Van Dyke said he wouldn't make any accusations until he had more evidence.

DESMOINES, Ia.—Clifford Cox set a new high for the year when he walked into municipal court to answer fifteen traffic summonses, most of them for parking violations. He pleaded guilty and paid a total of $46.40 in fines.

GALLUP, N. Mex.—The Gallup Chamber of Commerce received an appeal from Chicago which read: "Please send me a book on Indians. I am in 4-A (grade). Signed, Charles Lewis, Chicago." (The address was given, also.)

Oddly enough, although the letter was just addressed "Gallup, New Mexico," with no designation of its intended recipient, Chamber Secretary M. L. Woodard said: "He had the right idea. We'll see he gets the 'book on Indians.'"

NEW YORK—Three of a group of WPA workers who balked because they had to use both pick and shovel on a Bronx project have been fired for insubordination, WPA headquarters said today.

The workers objected to use of both tools, arguing that one man ought to use a pick while another used the shovel.

Mademoiselle Magazine recently conducted a contest to discover the "ugliest girl." Miss Kallie Foutz, assistant advertising manager of a Salt Lake City, Utah, firm, won the award, which consisted of a trip to New York and a complete remodeling job on her features.

Upon her arrival the store immediately took her in hand and started work to transform her into a beauty through plastic surgery. After improving her nose, hair and figure, the store will outfit her with the latest fall garments.

Miss Foutz was chosen from about 2,000 women who sent their pictures to the magazine along with a brief essay.

According to word from Salt Lake City, Kallie tries to look homely—but she's not half so bad looking as she is smart. "In fact," some say, "she's a little blonde cutie."

TOPEKA, Kan.—Walter Laundon can make his hens lay yellow, red or even green yolks in their eggs.

Shorting a hen on her grain ration and feeding her green vegetables makes the yolks green. An abundance of carrots in the diet makes yolks more yellow than they should be. Red yolks come from diets of chemically treated grains.

All the yolks taste about the same, said Laundon.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Rain dampened some lime Elwyn Krause was using for plastering, slaked it and the resulting heat ignited a wall. Firemen extinguished the flames — with more water.

ADJUSTMENT CHECKS ARE BEING PAID

Five hundred seventy-seven Eddy County farmers are benefitting this week by payment of $153,636 in cotton price adjustment checks, received by Fred Barham, county agent. Payment is being made to all cotton farmers who complied with the 1938 price adjustment program. The checks represent 3 cents a pound on 30 per cent of the 1937 base production.

Checks were distributed to North Eddy County farmers in Artesia Wednesday.

America Saves 3,670 Lives on Streets And Highways During First Half 1938

Heading at last the plea to drive more carefully, America saved 3,670 lives on its streets and highways in the first half of 1938, writes R. L. Forney of the National Safety Council. He continues: Each of the first six months of this year showed a drastic reduction in traffic deaths from the same month last year.

The six-month period brought a 22 per cent decrease in deaths from the first half of 1937.

Should the same percentage of decline continue through the last six months of the year, 8,700 lives would be saved and the 1938 traffic death toll would be the lowest since 1928.

The unbroken decline in traffic deaths really began last November. November and December showed reductions of from 300 to 490 deaths from the corresponding months of 1936.

The total saving in lives for the eight months therefore can be estimated at 4,460.

The substantial reductions in traffic deaths cannot be charged off to decreased highway travel, since travel increased 2 per cent during the first five months of this year. June travel figures are not yet available.

In the first four months of 1938 highway travel increased month by month over the corresponding period of 1937. In May there was a 1 per cent decline in travel, as compared to a 27 per cent decrease in deaths.

Traffic deaths in June totaled 2,270—24 per cent less than in June, 1937. The June total was slightly below that of May, a favorable trend which had occurred only once in the past five years. In the average year June fatalities are 4 per cent higher than in May.

Officials of the National Safety Council attribute the steady eighth-month decline in traffic deaths to the fact that there has been more safety activity in the United States recently than ever before, with a resultant awakening by drivers and pedestrians to their individual enormity of the human traffic toll.

They list these specific factors as contributing to the sustained reduction in the traffic toll:

Safer cars and highways.

More and better drivers' license laws, and better administration of them.

More and better traffic engineers and traffic police.

More and better school safety work.

More and better information on how and why accidents occur.

More and better organized safety campaigning than ever before in the nation, the states and the cities.

More and better publicity than ever before through newspapers, magazines, radio and many other channels.

A better understanding than ever before of the tragedy and the economics cost of accidents and how to avoid them, on the part of more men, women and children.

Only five of the 42 states reporting to the council failed to improve their records for the first six months of this year.

Pennsylvania led the list with a 42 per cent reduction and a saving of 483 lives as compared to the first half of 1937. Delaware was second in proportionate decline with a drop of 40 per cent, while Michigan was second in lives saved, with 343 fewer deaths this year.

Seventeen states showed a 5 or 6-month reduction of 20 per cent or more.

Eastern states reduced deaths more than any other section of the country with a 28 per cent cut. North Central states were second with a 26 per cent drop.

Cities also came through with fine records. Nearly three-fourths of all reporting cities—287 of 404—had fewer deaths this year than last (or no change) in the first six months.

In June city reductions equalled the national reduction of 24 per cent, whereas for the six months cities declined 23 per cent, as compared with a 22 per cent drop for the entire country.

Cities of every size participated in the general decline. Six-month death totals in each of the six population groups fell 20 per cent or more, with the exception of cities from 10,000 to 25,000. In this group the reduction was 13 per cent.

Outstanding traffic achievements among the larger cities were:

1. Detroit saved 81 lives in the first six months of this year—the greatest saving of any city.

2. Evanston, Ill., was the largest city in the nation (population 67,800) to go through the first six months of the year without a single traffic fatality.

3. Louisville was the largest city in the country to go through June without a traffic death. (Population 317,500.)

4. New Bedford, Mass., had the lowest traffic death rate for the six months among cities with a population of more than 100,000.

Reductions in traffic deaths occurred in 1938 among persons of all ages. The greatest reduction was in the 25-64 year age class, where 23 per cent fewer people were killed this year than last, on the basis of five-month figures.

The smallest reduction—9 per cent—was reported for children under 5 years. In the 5-14 year age class there was a 19 per cent cut, in the 15-24 class a drop of 20 per cent and among persons 65 years old and older, an 18 per cent decrease.

Pedestrian deaths in the first five months of 1938 were 22 per cent below the same period in 1937. Non-pedestrian fatalities showed a decline of 20 per cent in the same period.

"Misses Southwest and El Paso" Have Good Time in East

Miss Dorothy Birdwell of Alamogordo, a niece of Mrs. D. C. Blue of Artesia, who, as "Miss Southwest," just returned from New York City, where she had a "great time," as did "Miss El Paso," Miss Mildred Boyer.

The young women, winners in the respective contests at the El Paso Harvest Festival, visited the Eastern city, traveling by airplane, at festival expense as their awards.

"Miss El Paso," as spokesman for the two, said on their return home, "Miss Southwest and I were treated royally in New York, and one adverse newspaper article was a trivial, unimportant item in the galaxy of thrilling and happy incidents during our visit."

An article which appeared in the New York Journal and American dubbed the El Paso Harvest Festival contest winners as "two Southern honeys with crowns" who "don't like New York, where everybody scowls and no one smiles."

"We were badly misquoted," said Miss Boyer. "We agreed we liked New York, but wouldn't care to live there because we like our home cities best. Miss Birdwell and I noticed that people didn't smile as much and seemed always to be concentrating."

"The other newspapers took our pictures and wrote grand stories about us."

"Mayor LaGuardia was very busy," but he took time to see us and sent his car and chauffeur for our use. Everyone was lovely and we saw everything we wanted to see."

CHROME-ORTHOPTICS

Presenting a new and advanced technique in the care of eyes. It reaches to the real causative factors of eye trouble and corrects it from that source. This will bring about a normal condition, with normal functioning, of the eyes in many cases without lenses, in other cases greatly reducing the lens power now worn, and in many cases taking off entirely. With this technique we can offer you an eye service heretofore unknown. Our office is equipped with instruments for this technique.

Rice Is Returned At Conference as Local M. E. Pastor

Other District Appointments—Craven Replaces Hightower As Elder

The Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Artesia, was returned to his charge here by Bishop Ivan Holt of Dallas, at the annual New Mexico conference in Roswell, which closed Sunday.

The Rev. L. B. Craven replaces as presiding elder of the Roswell district the Rev. C. C. Hightower of Roswell, who assumes the pastorate at Asbury, in the El Paso district. The Rev. Mr. Hightower completed four years as presiding elder in this district. The Rev. Mr. Craven comes from Asbury Church, El Paso.

Other appointments in the Roswell district were as follows: Carlsbad, C. F. York; Crane, H. L. McAllister; Dexter, A. O. Hood; Eunice, J. F. Watson; Fort Stockton, C. A. Rev. S. E. Allison, Former M. E. Elder, Dies at Roswell

The Rev. S. E. Allison, former presiding elder of the Roswell district, Methodist Church, who returned to Roswell last week from El Paso to attend the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died in St. Mary Hospital in Roswell at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, after a heart attack Friday night. He was 70 years old and the oldest minister in point of years in the New Mexico conference.

The Methodist pastor, who was well known in Artesia because of his four years served as presiding elder of the district from 1914 to 1918 and four years as pastor of the First Methodist Church, South, of Roswell apparently was in good health Wednesday of last week when he went to his old home to attend the conference. He accompanied his nephew, Arthur Allison of Roswell, to Las Cruces Friday to perform a wedding and returned that night to Roswell, where he was stricken.

The body was taken to El Paso where funeral services were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Trinity Methodist Church, of which the Rev. Mr. Allison was assistant pastor. The Rev. W. H. Mansfield, pastor of the church, officiated and was assisted by three other Methodist clergymen. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, El Paso.

Samuel Eugene Allison was born June 26, 1868, in White County, Georgia. At the age of 26 years he moved to Corsicana, Tex., where he held his first pastorate for two years.

He moved to the New Mexico conference in 1896, becoming pastor at White Oaks, then a frontier mining town.

During the years of his service in the New Mexico and Texas conferences, the Rev. Mr. Allison was pastor when three churches were built. The Las Cruces, Albuquerque and Roswell churches were all constructed when he was stationed in those cities, and he labored long and well in achieving the extension of the church work. He also served as presiding elder at Albuquerque for four years, and at El Paso for five years.

The Rev. Mr. Allison married Emma Carlton in Roswell in 1904. To them was born one daughter, Mrs. E. L. Page, who survives with the widow. He was the last of a family of nine children.

Democratic Candidate To Vote For Mitchell

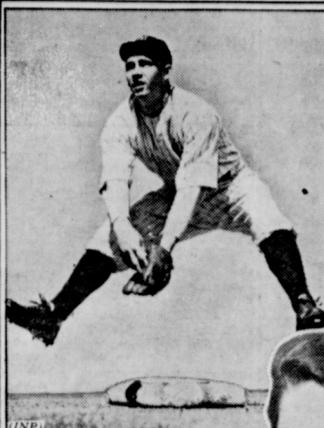

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 22—C. N. Moore, Democratic candidate for re-election as state representative from Chavez County, in a letter to The Record Saturday said he would vote for Albert K. Mitchell, Republican candidate for governor.

Moore, in announcing his purpose, said in so-doing he recognized the fact he had voted the Democratic ticket for 52 years "without a miss."

Artesia Bulldogs Even Up on Games For the Last Week

Defeat Hagerman Last Night 40 to 0—Jal Wins There Friday 6 to 0

Artesia Bulldogs broke even the last week as they defeated the Hagerman Bobcats 40 to 0 here last night and were defeated by the Jal Panthers 6 to 0 Friday night at Jal.

Jal grabbed a 6-point lead in the first quarter Friday and held the edge all through the game. The Bulldogs put up a good scrap in spite of the fact that the Panthers outweighed them fourteen pounds to the man.

Near the end of the first quarter, Jal took a punt from the Bulldogs and advanced down the field to the 10-yard line, where Zahn of Jal took off around end and carried the ball over the goal line for the only touchdown of the game. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

The next two quarters saw both teams see-sawing up and down the field, displaying splendid examples of strategy, blocking, running and punting.

With a minute left to go Artesia, handicapped by the loss of their captain, George Sturgis, who suffered an injury to his left arm three plays before, launched an aerial attack, which caught Jal off guard. Rice heaved the ball for 40 yards from his own 40, where it was caught by Pior, Bulldog halfback. Another pass was incomplete as the game ended.

Western hospitality of the finest type was extended to the Artesia team and boosters at all times in Jal, and good sportsmanship was displayed at all times by Jal's team and rooters.

The starting line-up: Burges, re; Stuart, rt; Morris, rg; Crockett, c; Sturgis, lg, captain; Juarez, lt; Phillips, le; Nelson, qb; Rice, rh; Everts, fb; Pior, lb.

Bulldogs Tromp Bobcats
For the second time this season, the Artesia Bulldogs defeated the Hagerman Bobcats here last night. The Bobcats have improved since the last time that the Bulldogs played them, but so have the Bulldogs, who were out to revenge Friday night's defeat by Jal.

In the opening minute of play, Artesia took a punt from Hagerman on the 40-yard line. Rice took the ball and followed his interference around end for the first score of the game. Burgess booted the pigskin between the uprights for the extra point.

About four minutes later Ferguson, freshman halfback, ran around left end for another touchdown. The kick failed, leaving the score 13 to 0.

In the second quarter the Bobcats punted to the Artesia 10-yard line, where Ansley picked up the ball, shook off three tacklers before he took a step, and ran 90 yards for a touchdown. Burgess converted. About two plays later the first half ended with the score Artesia 20, Hagerman 0.

In the opening minutes of the second half, an intercepted pass put the ball in the Bulldogs' hands on the Hagerman 30-yard line. Artesia then worked the way down to the 18-yard line where Rice took the ball and ran for a touchdown unhampered. Rice made two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, following nice blocking by the Bulldog team all the way, and again Burges came through for two more points making the final tally, 40 to 0.

The Hagerman Bobcats put up a good fight, even in the face of certain defeat and played a good clean game of football from kickoff to finish. This is Hagerman's first year of football and it looks promising the school will have a nice team in the coming years.

The starting line-up for Artesia: Burges, re; Stuart, rt; Garner, rg; Crockett, c; Ward, lg; Crockett, lt; Phillips, le; Ansley, qb; Rice, rh; Connor, fb; Ferguson, lb.

CONSTANTLY IN DANGER

BUT HE RARELY THINKS OF IT

Doctors are so constantly running risk of infection and contagion that they rarely give it a thought. They do the necessary operation, treatment, or make the necessary visit, regardless of risk. That is part of their job, and accepted as such.

Every precaution is taken and every aseptic, sterilizing and preventive measure is employed for the safety of each individual patient, but the Doctor must, in many cases, take a chance on personal safety.

Friends and loved ones may fear and avoid contagion, but the Doctor must carry on—and does as a matter of routine duty.

Waggoner Urges House Cleaning

Asks Democrats to Join in With GOP

Harold O. Waggoner, Albuquerque attorney, exhorted "independent thinkers" and "Jeffersonian Democrats" to join and "clean house in New Mexico" as he spoke at the Republican state candidates in a radio address Friday night.

After attacking John E. Miles, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and the "Chavez-Miles-Dempsey Democrats," Waggoner said: Don't let them cram a ticket down your throat that was conceived in petty ambition and jealousy.

He said the Republican leaders, saying "their ambitions and jealousies aside," had nominated in what probably will be the last convention, an entire ticket of representative business men and women of such caliber that no just criticism can be offered against any of them.

The direct primary, Waggoner said, "is still an issue because all thinking persons believe that the present law is intended to be repealed should they (the Democratic leaders) succeed."

The speaker said Albert K. Mitchell, Republican candidate for governor, had "put his finger on the sorest spot of the Chavez-Dempsey-Miles Democrats" when he asserted in his opening campaign speech the issue apparently had resolved into one of "the people versus the politicians."

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bradley and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bradley of Carlsbad, returned home Tuesday after attending the wedding Friday of their grand-daughter and niece, Miss Juanita Wright, of Las Cruces and Harold Dermody. They left Las Cruces Sunday and came home by way of Santa Fe and Roswell.

GOVERNMENT SUES FOR OIL WELL PLUG COST

The government filed suit in Federal District Court at Albuquerque last Thursday for $1,000 bond from the American Survey Company of New York, alleging the firm had neglected to make good the $1,477 cost of plugging an oil well drilled on Interior Department property near Artesia.

The company had guaranteed Earl Harbaugh, said to have attempted to develop the property, at the time he was granted a government permit.

COMMISSIONERS PROCEEDINGS

BE IT REMEMBERED that the Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County convened in special session at the Court House in said County on the 20th day of October, 1938, at the hour of 3 o'clock, P. M.

Those present: Joe Lusk, Chairman, L. B. James, Jesse I. Funk, Members, R. A. Wilcox, Clerk. Also present: Charles H. Lemcke, Secretary and M. J. Grewe, Vice President of Lemcke Construction Company, a Corporation.

The Chairman announced the purpose of the meeting was to take formal action concerning the entering into a contract between the Board and Lemcke Construction Company for the construction of a Court House and Jail for Eddy County in accordance with P. W. A. Application No. 1097-F.

Commissioner Funk introduced a proposed Resolution awarding a contract which motion was seconded by L. B. James and duly carried. The Resolution is as follows:

RESOLUTION AWARDING CONTRACT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF EDDY COUNTY, NEW MEXICO.

Whereas, proposals were received October 15th, 1938 at ten o'clock A. M., for the construction of a Courthouse and Jail for the County of Eddy, State of New Mexico in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the County Clerk of said County, and

WHEREAS, after consideration of all of the bids received, it appears that the base bid of Lemcke Construction Company, a Corporation, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, in the amount of One Hundred Eighty-four Thousand ($184,000.00) Dollars, for the construction of a Courthouse and Jail for Eddy County, New Mexico, in accordance with such plans and specifications is the lowest and best bid for such construction, and

WHEREAS, a consideration of the various deductible alternates contained in such proposals will in no way affect the status of said lowest and best bid.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the contract for the construction of a Courthouse and Jail for Eddy County, New Mexico, in accordance with plans and specifications on file with the County Clerk of Eddy County, New Mexico, be awarded to Lemcke Construction Company, a Corporation of Albuquerque, New Mexico, at its base proposal of $184,000.00, and that the Chairman and Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners be and are hereby authorized to execute in behalf of the Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County, New Mexico, a contract with said Lemcke Construction Company for the construction of said Courthouse and Jail at such figure.

JOE LUSK, Chairman.

ATTEST: R. A. WILCOX, Clerk.

The Board of County Commissioners and the said Vice-President and Secretary of Lemcke Construction Company thereupon each approved and accepted the final plans for said Project and each executed the contract heretofore approved by the P. W. A. Regional Office at Fort Worth for final approval.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

JOE LUSK, Chairman.

ATTEST: R. A. WILCOX, Clerk.

Some Have Meat and Can Eat

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

"When I get tired of eating chicken I come in and get some steaks and roasts," T. Hall Brown recently told the writer at the Plains Cooperative, where freezer-lockers keep meat fresh until used up. Mr. Brown and a neighbor divided a 1,000-pound fat beef, the Co-Op cut and packaged it according to instructions for a small charge, and the individual locker which rents for $8 a year, held each man's share of the beef.

Another man living twenty miles away came in, opened his locker and took out several packages. "We have a 'bottled gas' refrigerator to keep several days' supply," he said, "and our family eats twice as much meat as we did before locker service was available." He is a dairy farmer and his beef was a fat calf of his own raising.

The Plainview Co-Op. has 132 lockers and they are in such demand that more will soon have to be installed. A number of other freezer-locker plants are in operation in the Southwest, with new ones being built rapidly, and they make it possible for farm families to have their own supply of fresh meat at a very low cash outlay; if a locker is anywhere in a two-hour drive they no longer have to eat only cured meat—and chicken.

Fresh meat is essential to a wholesome diet, and farmers and their families can have it with little cash outlay, while town folks often do without because it costs more than they can afford. Enough feed goes to waste—grass and weeds in fence corners and fields, stalks and grain left in the field, or eaten by rats after it is stored, to raise and fatten all the beef, mutton and pork the average farm family could eat.

Of course the steam pressure canner has made it possible for farm families to eat a great deal more of their own product than formerly, and now the freezer-locker and the home refrigerator offer another method of preserving fresh meat with all its delectable flavors.

The Plainview plant is also being used to store dressed chickens, turkeys and vegetables and fruits as well as beef, lamb and pork. Farmers who raise and fatten their own can say with the Scotch bard, Bobbie Burns:

"Some hae meat and canna eat,
And some wad eat that want it;
But we hae meat and we can eat,
And sae the Lord be thankit."

The Lord, however, provides only the opportunities, not the meat, and before we can truthfully use the famous "Selkirk grace" just quoted, a great many Southwestern farms will have to use their opportunities to hatch, breed, raise and fatten the fowls and animals to supply their own tables.

Hog killing time, with its spare-ribs, back-bones and fresh sausage is entirely too rare a feast nowadays, and the delicious home-cured ham and bacon are unknown to entirely too many farm families. Maybe the crude methods of curing and the superior flavor of packer products had something to do with the abandonment of the farm smokehouse, but the principal excuse offered by many is that "I can buy it cheaper than I can raise it."

If this were ever true, which it wasn't, the fact remains that few farm families who depend on buying all their meat with cotton or wheat money ever have as much meat as their appetite calls for or as often as a good wholesome diet demands. Poor methods of curing, producing a dry, excessively salty product, need no longer be used. For those who do not know the better methods the information is available through their county agent, and the hams and bacon cured by modern processes have a flavor and richness commercial packers cannot match.

Use of Electrical Equipment Eases the Burden of Farming

By IRA MILLER
Rural Electrification Bureau

CONTINUED extension of high lines in all parts of the country—and the resultant use of numerous large and small electrical appliances—has brought undreamt-of comfort and convenience to some 1,300,000 farm homes, and relief from many tiresome and unpleasant chores to at least that number of farm women.

Perhaps even more important savings in labor, time and money result from the use of electrical equipment in the business of farming. In fact, the difference between a real cash income and an actual financial loss from the operation of countless farms is determined by the extent to which electricity is put to work on farm jobs. Electrical "hired hands" have proved that they can and do produce greater profits.

As in the farm home, adequate wiring of all farm buildings is essential to the profitable and enjoyable use of electricity. Also, like the rooms in the home, each building should be amply lighted and provided with a sufficient number of convenience outlets and suitable switches.

Among the electrical "servants" for the dairy barn are milking machines, drinking cups, ventilating fans, animal groomers, fly traps and hay hoists. An ensilage cutter, operated by a portable motor, will fill the silo in short order.

In the milk house, an electric cream separator and churn eliminate much drudgery. The combination of an electric milk cooler, water heater, utensil sterilizer and fly screens will help keep the bacterial count of the milk so low that it will command a premium in many localities.

Poultry houses not only require ordinary lights to increase winter egg profits by lengthening the working day for the hens but also ultra-violet lights to keep them healthy and strong. An electric brooder, incubator, water warmer and burglar alarm add to the profit and surety of "oultry raising."

Many granaries and barns are equipped with a feed grinder and mixer, grain elevator, hay chopper, corn sheller and other machinery, all operated by a portable motor. Some farmers also thresh their own grain, using a portable motor to drive the separator.

A well-equipped machine shop will save money on any farm. An electric drill press or portable drill, lathe, grindstone, forge, air compressor, battery charger, soldering iron and glue pot are among the items that should be included.

The high line is the life line of some 1,300,000 American farms.

Every farm should have an automatic electric water system to provide an ample supply of fresh water for the livestock and for sanitary purposes in the various buildings. Also, each should have an adequate system of yard lighting to prevent thievery as well as for ease and safety in going from one building to another after dark.

The foregoing are only a few of the numerous uses of electrical equipment in general farming. There are many specialized applications—fruit washing and grading, soil sterilization, soil heating, cold storage, and wood sawing, to name but a few. On every farm, the electric "hired hands" can be made to more than pay their way in increased profits and lessened manual labor.

Treatment of Seed For Smut Will Increase Yields

Extension Service Gives Methods Found Effective—Ceresan Is Good

Wheat farmers can increase yields by treating seed for smut and other seed-borne diseases, says Clayborn Wayne of the New Mexico Extension Service. In treating seed, care should be taken to follow directions given on the container of the fungicide used, otherwise the seed may be killed or the treatment ineffective.

The new improved Ceresan dust has been very effective in controlling grain smut in many areas. Ceresan not only controls smut but all other seed-borne diseases commonly controlled by other fungicides. The formaldehyde treatment is almost as effective as the new improved Ceresan in controlling smuts of oats, while copper carbonate is very effective in controlling stinking smut of wheat and grain sorghum smut. Neither of these materials, however, has the wide application of Ceresan.

In using new improved Ceresan, the material should be applied at exactly a half ounce to the bushel. If a heavier application is used, seed injury will often result. A half ounce measuring spoon will be found in each container. The seed must be thoroughly mixed with the Ceresan to obtain best results, the most effective method being to use some type of rotary mixer.

Copper carbonate gives excellent results on stinking smut or bunt smut wheat, kernel smut of sorghums and millet smut, by using 50 per cent copper carbonate at the rate of two ounces to a bushel of seed. If dilute copper carbonate (18 to 20 per cent) is used, it should be applied at the rate of three ounces per bushel of wheat. Shoveling from pile to pile is not very effective when using copper carbonate; therefore, some type of barrel mixture should be used.

Before treating seed for disease, fan it thoroughly to remove smut balls, light diseased kernels and weed seed, Wayne advises.

Treating seed with new improved Ceresan costs about 2 1/3 cents a bushel; with copper carbonate, the cost is from 3 to 4 cents a bushel; and about 1/2 cent a bushel to treat with formaldehyde. The dust treatments, however, seem to give best results.

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant... Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

Is OIL-PLATING just a different name? ...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...pre-lubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippery. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

DEER BECOME TOO TAME

Deer in the bush near Stult Ste. Marie, Mich., are demoralizing hunters. They have become so tame and friendly that the more tenderhearted hunters declare they won't have the heart to shoot when the hunting season opens.

LYLE TALBOT IS HURT IN FIRE

Lyle Talbot, handsome movie leading man, was seriously burned Monday night when trapped on the second floor of his pretentious home. Talbot and his house guest, actor Franklyn Parker, leaped 20 feet to safety. Hair was burned from Talbot's scalp and Parker was burned about the back.

Mrs. C. E. Mann returned from Los Angeles, Calif., Tuesday evening and was met in Pecos by Mr. Mann. Mrs. Mann accompanied her daughter, Miss Leila Bess, to Los Angeles, where she entered Occidental College about six weeks ago.

Wrote "Alice in Wonderland"

Llandudno, Wales, is the Atlantic City of that country and one of the chief seaside resorts of the British isles. It is situated on the north coast, facing the Irish sea. It was on the sand-hills of Llandudno beach that Dr. Charles L. Dodgson (Lewis Carroll) used to stroll with the children of his host, Dean Liddell. A white marble marker was placed there to commemorate those walks. The inscription reads: "On this very shore, during happy rambles with little Alice Liddell, Lewis Carroll was inspired to write that literary treasure, 'Alice in Wonderland,' which has charmed children for generations."

"Go West, Young Man"

According to an authority, the expression, "Go West, young man," was used by John Babson Lane Soule in an article in the Terre Haute (Ind.) Express in 1851. Horace Greeley was attracted by the expression, and used it in an editorial in the New York Tribune. As the saying "Go West, young man, and grow up with the country," gained popularity, Greeley printed Soule's article, to show the source of his inspiration.

Wrote "Hymn of Hate"

Ernst Lissauer, the German poet who wrote the "Hymn of Hate" against England in 1814, was ruined by this work. Throughout the war, about 60,000,000 Germans recited it almost daily, says Collier's Weekly. In 1919 Lissauer's countrymen, ashamed of their past vehemence, exiled him to Austria where, until his death, his works were banned, as in Germany.

The Great Horned Owl

The Great Horned Owl is valuable both to the farmer and to the sportsman. It lives chiefly on rodents, the most destructive pest of the farmer and orchardist. It preys occasionally on birds, weeding out the weak and sickly among game birds and other species, leaving a healthy seed-stock.

No Witches Burned in U. S.

There seems not to be any authentic case of the burning of a witch in the United States. Many, however, were executed by hanging in the Seventeenth century in New England, as witchcraft was a capital crime.

Sunny Puerto Rico

Weather records show that only five days a year on an average are entirely without sunshine in Puerto Rico. The climate of this American island in the West Indies is tropical, but fanned by ocean breezes.

Three Instruments Aid Gypsies

The Gypsy violin, cymbal, and the old Turkish pipe are the three instruments which have made the Gypsies of Hungary the national troubadours. The Tziganes were admitted to Hungary in 1419.

Cooperation Of Parents

By E. J. House, Chief, New Mexico State Police

Three lives of youthful future citizens have been lost in the vicinity of Santa Fe between Sept. 30 and Oct. 22, 1938, in less than a month's time. Death having been caused by the victim himself or another youngster, in the unexperienced and unnecessary handling of firearms. In one instance, two youngsters, four and eight years old, while in the course of their play, found a .22 calibre rifle bullet and one of them suggested that his father owned a rifle of the calibre, so the two started on a sad and dreadful experience that terminated by taking the life of one of the boys, which proved fatal instantly, and leaving the other child's mind a scene which is dark and sad, and that will haunt him for many a day. Again in another instance a bright, intelligent young man seventeen years old lost his life, through the careless handling of a rifle, calibre .22. In this case, the young man picked up the rifle which accidentally was discharged by the victim himself, fatally wounding and causing his death a couple of days later. Again another sacred life was unnecessarily lost.

Just previously to this writing another life was taken. Two young boys, fifteen years old each, met in the woods in the vicinity of their homes, one of the youngsters having a rifle with him, so they decided to do some target shooting, the victim placing the target and was supposed to hide himself behind a tall pine tree but came out of cover just as the shot was fired and striking the victim to cause his death just a very few seconds afterwards. Another unnecessary death.

The incidents here related have taken place, without the slightest desire or thought of taking human life, but nevertheless a life has been taken in each case. These sad instances have left heart-stricken parents, brothers and sisters and a number of friends on both families to mourn the sorrowful and dreadful occurrence. My purpose in relating the history of these cases is because I feel it my duty to humanity and the people of the state of New Mexico to endeavor to enlist the cooperation of parents, to the strict and stern supervision of their children regarding the use and handling of firearms. The parents are the immediate supervisors of their children while at home. Splendid cooperation can be given by parents by keeping firearms they possess hidden and beyond the reach of their children, because if not the toll of death and sorrow will continue. Let us do our share towards safeguarding and proper watching over the lives and welfare of our children, which is a duty we are bound to comply with.

MORAL: DON'T CARRY SHELLS AND MATCHES

W. T. Sherman, Gold Gulch prospector, near Silver City, vowed that he would never—under any circumstances—carry cartridges in his pockets. Sherman required hospitalization for burns received when several .22 calibre shells, apparently set off when friction ignited matches in the hip pockets, exploded. Two of the bullets wounded Sherman in the right leg, but both abrasions were superficial.

IT WOULDN'T HAVE PAID

A. M. Sutton, Tyler, Tex., oil man, was watching southbound traffic as he crossed a street. A northbound car swerved too close to him and brushed his hip. Sutton, turning to look at the disappearing automobile, saw his wallet dangling from the door hinge. Although his trousers were tattered, he ran after the car and recovered the wallet.
