Miles Plans Proper State Department

Two Wildcats Indicate Oil Play South of Artesia, West of Pecos

First Activities in Area Started by Two Outfits Independent of Each Other in the Last Few Days.

GEOLOGIST PREDICTS

Grant Believes District Will Rival the East Texas Field.

Renewed interest in the oil industry in this locality centers around two wildcats which may open up a new field or two fields in the "real West," for both are "west of the Pecos."

Activity at each of the two locations is independent of the other, after separate geological findings by different companies, and the fact both are to be drilled at the same time is a coincidence.

The well closer to Artesia, Talmadge & Farmer, Hubbell 1, SW 4-18-25, southwest of here nine miles by air line, was spudded in Friday, according to William Doolley, Artesia oil man.

It is the first test well for quite a few square miles and a number of miles from the nearest production, all of which in this area heretofore has been east of the Pecos. The other well will be drilled by the Trojan Oil Company west of Lakewood and Highway 285.

Alexander M. Grant of California, of the Trojan Oil Company and a noted geologist, arrived here a few days ago to supervise the start of drilling of the new deep Delaware well test on the company's holdings. He came here from Texas, where he had flown to inspect oil interests of the company, and from here he plans to go to Colorado to prepare for the development of 84,000 acres of holdings.

Mr. Grant, who is one of the world's best known geologists and in the oil fraternity, is a pioneer in the New Mexico fields. Sent to this state in 1923 by the late A. S. Bridges, who owned 47,000 acres of leases in Lea County, geologized, mapped and recommended the districts which are now the Monument, Hobbs and Vacuum pools.

At that time Mr. Grant said, "Some small fields have been brought in west of the Caprock, but some of the greatest fields yet to be discovered in America will be found east of the Caprock, at a greater depth. Several fields will be brought in between Hobbs and the Winkler field, although I have never examined them."

These predictions of Mr. Grant have all become a reality.

And now, in talking about the future oil possibilities of South-eastern New Mexico, Mr. Grant says Eddy and Lea Counties have hardly been scratched. He made a further prediction that this district will soon rival the great East Texas field.

Is Greeted Here

John J. Dempsey Candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket, who was greeted yesterday at rally.

Mrs. Funk Elected President Women's Council of Eddy

Is Cottonwood Woman — Mrs. Buford, Artesia, Is Also Named

Mrs. Jess Funk of Cottonwood was elected president and Mrs. Lynn Buford of Artesia vice president of the Eddy County Women's Council at a conference in Carlsbad Saturday. Mrs. Ralph Thayer of El Paso Gap was named secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Funk replaces Mrs. C. T. Hopkins of Black River, retiring president.

Plans were laid at the meeting for an active year of extension work among the ten clubs of the county. Besides Mrs. Buford, the Artesia Young Woman's Club was represented by Mrs. Ralph Barr and the Cottonwood Extension Club by Mrs. Funk and Mrs. Tom J. Terry. Mrs. William T. Halderman, Mrs. J. O. Garner and Mrs. Paul Terry of Atoka represented the club there.

"The women feel," Miss Vernita Conley, county home agent, said, "that the civic clubs not only can be a great help to the rural women in furthering their programs, but that they can aid the civic clubs in cooperative endeavor."

"Extension work is a comparatively new movement in Eddy County, and it is the desire of the extension club members to acquaint city folk with their program and purposes."

Selection of programs was made from books of states adjoining New Mexico. The women chose cotton dresses as their major project for the ensuing year and named room improvement and yard beautification as their minor projects.

Promises—Promises

The Democratic candidate for governor is making a lot of promises to the people, including roads, schools and lower taxes, and now $30 a month pensions for the aged.

But people were fooled for many long years by promises of primary law legislation.

And what was Mr. John E. Miles' position as Democratic state chairman on this primary legislation? One of opposition.

What assurance is there that his promises as a candidate for governor will be carried out any more faithfully?

Mr. Albert K. Mitchell, Republican candidate for governor, isn't making in this campaign a lot of wild promises. He is pledging honest and efficient government and asking the opportunity to do the most for the state that the revenues will permit. These revenues will be enhanced if he cuts politics out of the state government.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelly and Mrs. Nell Jones of Clovis were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Murphy.

Artesia Bulldogs Schedule Roswell For Nov. 17 Here

Artesia football fans are promised a better schedule for the remainder of the season than was originally announced, Roswell High School having been contracted to play the Bulldogs here Thursday evening, Nov. 17.

Tatum was scheduled to play here Nov. 18, but the game was cancelled when it was learned that team plays six-man football and has no eleven-man team.

It looked for awhile as though the Bulldogs would have a rest all of that week and fans here would be deprived of one game, until the Roswell tilt was arranged.

Artesia goes to Lovington tomorrow night to avenge last year's game when Lovington won 7 to 0.

Two other games remain on the schedule: Portales plays here Armistice Day and Artesia goes to Carlsbad on Thanksgiving.

Portales last year whipped the Bulldogs 42 to 0, whereas the Artesia lads slipped over a field goal last year to nose out the Cavemen 3 to 0.

The second team of Cralsbad and Artesia High Schools met on the field here Saturday in an extra game in which the visitors won 18 to 0.

New Fords Are to Be Shown Friday At Artesia Auto Co.

"The most beautiful line of automobiles ever put out," is the way Dick Attebery of the Artesia Auto Company put it yesterday, after returning from a dealers' pre-showing in Denver. The new cars will be on the floor here Friday.

The 1939 Ford line includes five distinct models: The Lincoln, Lincoln-Zephyr, Mercury, a new car, the De Luxe Ford and the Ford-85. The De Luxe Ford, Mr. Attebery said, is quite different from the Ford heretofore, creating a new body type. The Ford-85 is of the same type as the 1938 De Luxe. He described the 1939 Lincoln as a "painting in steel."

Mr. Attebery, his partner, C. M. Houk, and Leon Barker, salesman, attended the convention and were enthusiastic and said it looks like a "Ford year."

Students To Set Example Election Day To Voters

Will Stage Non-Partisan Parade Tuesday on Artesia Streets

To create more interest in the American's right to use the ballot, the students of Artesia Junior-Senior High School are planning a parade to be sponsored by the citizenship classes, and staged about noon on election day, Nov. 8. There is no political significance to be attached to the demonstration, other than to promote a sense of responsibility among the citizens of the community, who are of voting age, and to create an interest among those boys and girls who will be the citizens of the future.

Today in a world confronted with so many "isms" instead of Americanism, it is deemed imperative that citizens take more interest in the political and civic life of the country. American people, according to statistics, are failing to do this. The following table shows the per cent of voters in the United States casting ballots at presidential election from 1896 to 1920:

In 1896, 90 per cent; 1904, 67.6 per cent; 1912, 62.9 per cent; 1920, 49.3 per cent.

A similar situation is shown in the voting statistics of almost any city. The percentage of people voting in a typical Mid-Western city is as follows: In 1888, 87 per cent; 1892, 86 per cent; 1916, 53 per cent; 1920, 46 per cent; 1924, 40 per cent.

Local data reveals a civic indifference existing even in this community. Only 108 voters, out of a possible 450 proper voters, cast a ballot on the school bond issue, it was pointed out to the

Last Rites Held Friday Afternoon For Van P. Welch

Funeral services for Van P. Welch of Artesia, who died Tuesday of last week in a Rochester, Minn., hospital, were from the McClay Chapel here at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. B. F. Howden, Jr., rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

The body of Mr. Welch, who was 36 years old, arrived last Thursday evening on the Santa Fe.

Honorary pallbearers were W. A. Hudson, James Berry, Jack Clady, George Fox, Oscar Samelson and Bryan Kunyan. The casketbearers were S. A. Lanning, Jr., J. S. Ward, J. K. Wallingford, Pat Lodewick, Perry Hornaday and S. P. Johnson, Jr.

Neil B. Watson and Earl Bigler sang at the services, accompanied by Mrs. V. L. Gates. Ushers were Harry Leonard and Chester Dexter.

Too numerous to list were the many friends of Mr. Welch here for the funeral. Many came from all section of the New Mexico oil fields, as well as from out of state.

Robert Hill Welch, infant son of Mr. Welch, who was mentioned last week as surviving their father with his brother and sister, Phillip, 3, and Marjorie Nell, 2, was 8 weeks old at the time of Mr. Welch's death, rather than 8 months as published.

Will Raise Funds For Christmastime Decoration Prizes

Funds are soon to be raised for prizes for the best decorated house fronts and yards at Christmastime, under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

It is hoped to have a fund of about $100, equal to the prize money given last year.

Arba Green, secretary of the chamber, has hopes many Artesians will begin to plan on decorations, so Artesia will be the best decorated for many miles.

Clever designs and ideas require considerable planning. Mr. Green said, so he advises an early start, pointing out it is none too early now.

City Is Deserted As Hunters Take To Hills for Deer

Season Opens Tuesday for Fifteen Days—Partial List of the Nimrods

Probably it would be easier to tell who did not go deer hunting than those who did, for the town seems deserted this week, the fifteen-day season having opened Tuesday. In fact, there will be few to read The Advocate this week, a casual glance up and down the street would indicate, but postal regulations require publication, so the office remained open and the force on the job, and here it is for all home bodies to read.

Local parties began getting ready last week and red shirts and jackets were seen as early as Friday and Saturday. By Sunday there was a continual stream of automobiles heading west to the mountains, both the Sacramento and the Guadalupe. Added to Artesians and others from this locality were dozens of others from the Hobbs area, as well as out of state deer hunters.

And hunters were out in force early Tuesday morning, when the bombardment began.

A complete list of those from here who have gone or plan to go deer hunting before the season ends is impossible to compile, but the following are known to be in the mountains now or have voiced their intention of going soon, not listed according to parties:

V. D. Bolton, Vick Parker, Clyde Guy, R. N. Russell, Fritz Crawford, Roy Langston, R. M. McDonald, C. R. Baldwin, W. N. Waldrip, Charles Grayson, Bill Waldrip, Owen Haynes, Howard Sant, A. C. Crozier, Clyde Roberts, John Boren, E. A. Paton, D. R. Watson.

Democrats Besmirched

The Democratic party goes before the voters in this campaign besmirched with the hands of the politicians who have steamrollered counties and conventions to get the kind of ticket the politicians wanted, and now strenuous efforts will be made to close up the breaches in the party and present a solid front.

The machine and patronage crowd may get on the bandwagon, but we suspect the rank and file of voters are going to weigh the long line of events that have led up to the present situation and do a lot of thinking before they cast their votes. They and independent voters are going to take into consideration the merit of candidates, their records, their achievements in the state and ask what is the best way to vote to advance the interests of New Mexico and get good government.

A keen analysis of the situation will convince many who do not vote just party labels that the Republicans have stepped forward to meet the situation in the state, while the Democrats have retreated to the dug-out of selfish political group for leadership.

The Republican convention is to be commended for its work. 44-1tc

Speaking Here Yesterday Says Oil and Gas in This Section Make for Concentration of Plants By Cheap Fuel.

REP. DEMPSEY TALKS

He and Murray Join Gubernatorial Candidate at Rally.

Establishment of a proper department of state—probably extension of the state tourist bureau into a state department of commerce—was advocated by John E. Miles, Democratic candidate for governor, speaking at a well-attended rally at the Valley Theater in Artesia Wednesday afternoon.

Rep. John J. Dempsey, also a speaker, said cotton growers on irrigated lands in New Mexico had been discriminated against in the cotton loan schedules and that "unless the Department of Agriculture makes satisfactory adjustments, which I believe it will, the Congress will do so, and curtail those powers of the secretary of agriculture which permits such discrimination."

It was the largest attended rally in Artesia this campaign and the members of the campaign party were highly pleased.

"It augurs well for the Democratic ticket on November 8," said Miles.

Miles declared he would "lend every effort to the encouragement of the establishment of manufacturing and industrial units in New Mexico of a nature that natural resources may be developed steadily and orderly and that working men may be kept busy."

Is Natural Concentration Point He declared oil and gas available in the Southeastern section of New Mexico makes it a natural point for concentration of industrial plants of nature requiring cheap fuel.

"More industrial plants utilizing or processing oil and gas can likely be brought to this section by encouragement of the state government and without making sacrifices to secure them," he declared.

Miles said that "new methods of processing fruits and vegetables and faster marketing facilities should be made available for the farmers and truck growers of the Pecos and Rio Grande Valleys so they can compete in distant markets." He pointed out that South Texas is much farther from those markets than are New Mexico growers.

Maintain Commanding Oil Position "Money is beginning to loosen in the East," he said, "and we must fight for our own progress and development while such a national trend is underway."

"We must fight to maintain a commanding position in the oil world that our producers and oil field workers may not be discriminated against nor imposed upon by outside sources or other interests. At the present rate of de-

BREAKING FAITH WITH THE PUBLIC

If this or any other newspaper were to publish a story as news which would frighten all readers nearly to death, telling as fact fantastic things, which, though improbable, might be possible, its mailing privileges would be taken away; its readers would lose all faith in it if the government should not step in. And that would go, even though there were a note at the end telling the world that it was all bosh.

The newspapers do not as a rule recognize radio, but it must be admitted that both the press and radio have come to be depended on by the public for honest news and wholesome entertainment.

But when the Columbia Broadcasting Corporation broke faith with the public Sunday evening and broadcasted a drama which could have had serious consequences by way of panics, mass suicides and the like, it committed an unpardonable sin.

Only one bit of praise can come of it; the broadcast was realistically presented from a flawless script and in marvelous timing. That timing was what made it so frightful.

We believe we are not panicky and have average intelligence. Nevertheless, we will admit we thought it was all over on Earth. And if we, away out here in the open country were frightened, what of the millions in New York City, which was supposedly being destroyed by forces beyond their perception?

Even though CBS claims four announcements were made during the dramatization, explaining that it was such, and that it was preceded with an explanation, thousands of persons tuned in when the gross breach of faith was under way, and many did not hear a single such announcement, nor did we.

If the Federal Communications Commission does not take action and tighten up so such a thing cannot happen again, we will lose faith in that body, which can be hard boiled when it wishes.

DON'T ENCOURAGE PANHANDLERS

A large crop of panhandlers has been noticed in Artesia of late. A few are worthy; the majority are working some sort of game, appealing to the sympathy of the citizens.

It will be doing everyone a favor—yourself, the city, the Chamber of Commerce—if you will make each person seeking funds for some reason or other produce a letter from the Chamber of Commerce before handing out a penny.

Many "gold bricks" tour the country from place to place seeking funds on some pretext. Some, who could almost be called crooks, use the name of the Lord in so doing. They pull into town, slip on hats which look like those worn by the Salvation Army and solicit money.

Everyone knows the Salvation Army and the work it does. Donate, and be happy about it. But be certain solicitors are authentic. If in doubt, ask for proof.

Others who are worthy will be happy to invite investigation at the Chamber of Commerce office, where they will be given aid or a proper letter.

If you are annoyed by anyone who cannot produce proper credentials, don't hesitate to call city officials. They are anxious to protect your interests.

The same goes for advertising solicitors, who have every right to work in Artesia, but who lie to would be clients by saying they have an OK from the Chamber of Commerce, when they do not, as was done a week or two ago by representatives of a city daily. Don't hesitate to ask for proof!

A LESSON IN PRONUNCIATION

We must take issue with The Tactless Texan in The Amarillo Daily News, but give him credit for trying to correct a common blunder, although he made one himself in so doing.

Says he: "Roosevelt's name is mispronounced by millions of our citizens. It is correctly pronounced 'Ro-ze-velt,' with the 'o' long as in 'so.'"

Old Tack is correct insofar as Teddy's name is concerned, or the name of Roosevelt County, which was named for him. But FDR prefers his name pronounced "Rose-svelt."

Of course Tack was getting at those who rhyme the first syllable with "booze," and we don't blame him.

Few people realize the names of the two presidents, although of the same family, should be pronounced differently.

A man may designate the pronunciation of his name however he pleases, and FDR pleases to be "Rose-svelt," just like the Englishman, Enroughdy, who called himself "Darby."

We advise Tack, if he is interested and wishes to check up on us, to listen to a first-class news commentator on the radio. The better informed of them differentiate in pronunciation between the two Roosevelts.

Hallowe'en Is Fairly Orderly in Artesia

Hallowe'en was a fairly orderly affair in Artesia, with no destruction reported and only one type of prank of a serious nature—turning on water hydrants.

However, none was damaged, P. V. Morris, city manager, said. But he added there is always a danger that threads may be stripped, necessitating a shut-down of the water system, a hazard in case of fire and costly.

Police and special officers were pleased that the younger generation heeded their plea to make it a safe and sane Hallowe'en.

Of course, there were dozens of little "spooks" out and about, soaping windows, ringing doorbells and "scaring" people and in general having a good time.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sixth and Quay

"Services That Are Serviceable"

In Africa, the strength of the church increased in numbers from 14,000 to 48,000 in fourteen years.

How does that rate of increase compare with the strength of the church in our community? A part of the great universal Church of Christ is carrying on an important work in this community. There are many worth-while organizations, each and all doing a noble and splendid work, but the church has something to offer in its message and work that no other organization has to give, and its mission and message extend beyond this life, on forever.

This church is doing a share of that larger work, and if you are not already attending elsewhere, a cordial invitation is extended here to you to have fellowship with us.

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; worship 11 o'clock, with music by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. John Lanning, and sermon by the pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

613 West Main Street

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all societies and churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 6.

The Golden Text is: "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all."—(John 3:31.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward; he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them."—(Prov. 22:5.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Truth guards the gateway to harmony. Error tills its own barren soil and buries itself in the ground, since ground and dust stand for nothingness."

Fifteen Years Ago Today

(From The Advocate Files of Nov. 2, 1923.)

Nine hundred bales of cotton have been ginned by the two Artesia gins up to date.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Story, Saturday, Oct. 27. Lewis is resting well.

Mmes. V. L. Gates and George Welton were in Clovis last week attending the meeting of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. H. A. Stroup was also there, stopping en route home from Kansas to attend the meeting. Mrs. Gates, who represented the Artesia Woman's Club at the state concert, captivated the audience with her beautiful voice.

Suspect the De Autremont Brothers of Train Robbery—Word has reached here this week that three young men, well known in this section, are wanted in connection with train robbery which occurred at Siskiyou, Ore. The boys wanted are Ray and Roy, twins, and Hugh, who attended the local high school last year.

The robbery occurred at the end of a tunnel. The hold up was accomplished by means of dynamiting the tunnel. The fireman, brakeman and engineer were all shot and killed.

Saturday morning a cub and one of the largest black bears killed in this section recently were brought to Artesia by Joe Henderson, a rancher living about 80 miles in the mountains. The meat was contracted for by the Standard Stores at 80 cents a pound, but after dressing and weighing the bears, the management of the stores decided that there was too much bear and both animals were taken to Roswell and disposed of. Mr. Henderson was forced to climb a tree, shooting as he did. The last shot in his rifle killed the bear.

Stanley Utterback, teacher of vocational agriculture and science, is being transferred to a similar position at Cimarron, N. Mex. The department of Cimarron is small, but it has been established for several yeays, and it is considered a promotion for Mr. Utterback from the standpoint of both prestige and salary. It is hoped that a new instructor will be obtained for Artesia High School by the early part of next week.

Miss Alma Cloud of Woodbury's College in Los Angeles, Calif., spoke to the Senior High School at a special assembly Monday afternoon. The subject of her talk was the "Road to Success," the theme of which was to aid high school students in choice of subjects and fields of work open to workers in Artesia.

Harold Brandt of New Mexico Normal University, director of industrial arts, visited our industrial arts department last week. He said of all the schools he had visited we had the most completely equipped and best department he had found.

The annual junior play will be given Dec. 9 in the auditorium of the Junior-Senior High School. The play selected was "Merry Go Round," by Richard Wilkenson. All the cast has not been chosen as yet. Miss Jean Plunkett is coaching this play and Miss Ruth Collie is the business manager.

The first thing on the assembly program this morning was the band's dedication of new banners. The program that followed was: Comments from Mr. Kerr on the Cuarto Centennial, the Senior

Sugar Is Good for Pink-eye In Sheep, Ranchman Has Found

J. C. McCollum, a Western ranchman, says that more than twenty years ago he discovered sugar is the best treatment for pink-eye in sheep.

He had been penning his sheep nightly to protect them from coyotes and each morning bathed their eyes with salt water to relieve pink-eye. The treatment was not proving successful and one morning an old Mexican shepherd said:

"Salt no bueno. Use sugar."

McCollum began treating the sheep with a mixture of sugar and water and within two weeks the flock was free of the eye infection. Sugar dissolved in water is an effective remedy for almost any type of eye irritation in livestock, the ranchman said.

Campus Chatter

By Mamie Belle Terry

Hallowe'en went over with a boom for both Junior and Senior High students. Almost every night last week you could see ghosts running here and there, witches and spooks of all sorts. The explanation given for the spooking is that the guests were on the loose before their arrival at different parties given by Margaret Attebery, Elsa Runyan and Tommie Terry. The Shakespeare Club, sponsored by Mrs. G. U. McCrary, also gave a Hallowe'en party.

If you had driven by the Woman's Club Saturday night you would have seen both Junior and Senior High students dancing in a colorful masquerade given by the Fun Lovers.

Mrs. Grover Kinder, school health nurse, gave a report that there are no new cases of scarlet fever in the schools. It is believed it will spread no further.

Many residents of Artesia woke up Nov. 1 to find it hard to see out of their windows because of the soap marks. They also were flabbergasted to see gargare cans sitting on the front porch and many other things that were not lawn furniture strewn across the grass. O, me! Flats are such a nuisance. There must have been a spook somewhere! But so long as no real harm was done folks, just take it as a joke; after all, Hallowe'en comes but once a year.

Many Projects Planned for CCC Boys in Forests West of Here

If one sees a CCC camp on wheels coming toward him on the Lincoln National Forest west of here in the near future, he need not be alarmed.

Workers at the Dark Canyon Camp in the Guadalupe Mountains are making a portable branch camp by building two trailer houses, each mounted on a truck. One will be used for cooking and eating, the other for sleeping.

Forest Service technicians planned it so a crew can live at work projects distant from the main camp. It is one of the ways employed to carry out an ambitious work program assigned for the six-month period from Oct. 1 to the three large CCC camps and several side camps on the Lincoln Forest. The main camps are at High Rolls, Mayhill and Dark Canyon. Each has 200 enrollees working under a Forest Service superintendent and five foremen.

Considerable mileage will be added to Forest Service telephone lines, roads and trails, not only aiding in administration of the National Forest but enhancing its year-round recreational values.

Improvement of nine fire lookout towers is almost completed, according to Forest Supervisor C. E. Moore. CCC men have already installed stairs in place of outside ladders; sealed the cupolas against the elements, as a protection to lookout men; installed fire finders of superior type, and new telephone set-ups. Living conditions for lookout men were bettered by reconditioning of cabins near the towers and installation of new rain cisterns and toilets.

Grounds around each tower have been cleared for use by visitors, who are always welcome. The stairs will be convenient for the public, as well as the lookout men.

Program for Dark Canyon Camp

At Dark Canyon camp, groups of trucks start out in the morning with crews for a half dozen projects. One is the Bullis Spring road, which will extend ten miles into a mountainous section where the forest ranger now can travel only on horseback. An impressive sight is that of young enrollees handling big bulldozers, road graders and pneumatic drills. An experienced foreman has charge of the blasting.

A way is being cleared to the top of a hill overlooking Dark Canyon, so materials for a new lookout tower can be hauled up there.

Construction of 32 miles of telephone line from Carlsbad to the Guadalupe ranger district has been started by a crew at each end. Sixty miles of telephone line on the same district will be overhauled. Other sizable projects are the building of ten miles of fence on grazing allotments, and maintenance work on 100 miles of truck trails and 10 miles of livestock trails. One spring will be developed and two wells drilled. Clean-up work will be done at Sitting Bull Falls and Dark Canyon recreational areas.

High Rolls Camp Work

Telephone linemen are in the making at High Rolls camp. Its six-month work program includes construction of a telephone line three miles long to Wofford Lookout Tower, betterment of 42 miles of line and maintenance of 60 miles of line.

Twelve miles of range management fence will give the enrollee plenty of post holes to dig and barbed wire to stretch. Three earth dams will be built and four springs developed, for livestock.

Erosion in the Frenal area, where there is a large percentage of privately owned land, will be combatted by treatment of gullies. Men from the High Rolls camp will also better 10 miles of truck trails and maintain 60 miles more. Fire hazard will be reduced by 10 miles of roadside cleanup. Public campground facilities at Ruidoso and La Luz will be augmented.

Building at Mayhill Camp

The Mayhill ranger station, one of the finest in the Southwest since its new buildings were constructed by CCC men at the Mayhill Camp, will receive some maintenance work during the current period. Other projects assigned to this camp include the following:

Building 13 miles of telephone line, bettering 25 miles and maintaining 60 miles.

Building four earthen dams and developing four springs, for livestock water.

Betterment of 23 miles of truck trails and maintenance of 90 miles.

Treatment of gullies in Penasco Canyon, 1,000 man-days of work.

Timber stand improvement, Karr Canyon and 16 Springs Canyon, 640 acres.

Fire hazard reduction along 20 miles of roads.

Cleanup work, James Canyon public campground, 5 acres.

Topographic surveying, 120 man days.

Building two trailer houses for portable side camp, 160 man days.

As great as CCC accomplishment has been in recent years, officials of the Lincoln National Forest report that enough work projects are in sight to keep the CCC busy on this forest for years to come. They and other advocates of conservation hope the life of the Clvilian Conservation Corps will be extended beyond 1940, which is its present authorized limit.

WORLD NEWS —In— BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Roger Graham, a song writer of the blues era who composed the lyric for "I Ain't Got Nobody," died last week in the Cook County Hospital, Chicago, after an illness of several months. Graham, who was 53 years old, had written about 200 other songs, but his most popular was "I Ain't Got Nobody," which he composed more than twenty years ago. Spencer Williams wrote the music.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fosnough, 15-year-old mother of a nineteen-month-old child, was the youngest person ever to get a divorce in Wabash, Ind. She and her husband, Ralph, 19, were married in November, 1936.

Here's a hit-run driver with a conscience. "Lady who ran over pigs, Highway 40, Monday, wishes to communicate with owner," said a newspaper "personal." The woman explained she was rushing her brother to a hospital and couldn't stop when her car killed several small pigs. "I know farmers don't have anything they can afford to lose these days, and I'd like to find the owner," she said.

Minnie, the original singing mouse which started that wave of warbling rodents back in 1936—remember?—is dead, probably of old age. Fame and fan mail no end came to Minnie after her discovery in the basement of the Chicago Industrial School in December, 1936. Imitators were found in virtually every state and England, not to be outdone, discovered a couple, too.

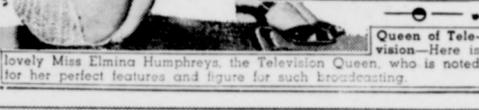

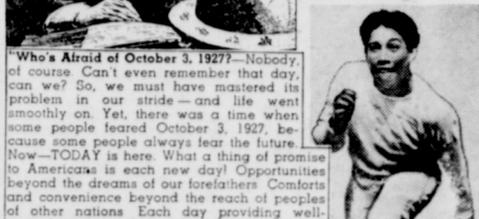

A. L. Kommers hopes that his latest plan will put a stop to the safe blowing at his hardware store in Antigo, Wis. Twice recently robbers looted the store and blew the safe. In a newspaper advertisement, under the heading, "Safe Blowers Attention," Kommers listed the combination of the safe lock "for your information and convenience."

Germany used about 360,000 troops in occupying Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland, it was disclosed by the army high command.

Edward S. McAuliffe, oil development man who has been working out of Artesia the last few months, left Saturday for Houston, Tex., on business and to visit home folks. He expected to return here in about ten days.

Here's how President Roosevelt's telephoneless "dream house" will look. Architectural rendering was completed from plans the President sketched with his own hand. Of Dutch Colonial design, the house is built of brown and grey-gold fieldstones topped with a blue-black asphalt shingle roof.

"Who's Afraid of October 3, 1927?—Nobody, of course. Can't even remember that day, can we? So, we must have mastered its problem in our stride—and life went smoothly on. Yet, there was a time when some people feared October 3, 1927, because some people always fear the future. Now—TODAY is here. What a thing of promise to Americans is each new day! Opportunities beyond the dreams of our forefathers. Comfort and convenience beyond the reach of peoples of other nations. Each day providing well-earned moments of leisure to plan our personal contributions to America's tomorrow." Anheuser-Busch, Inc., in their current drive to "Sell America to Americans" hopes that this message will re-awaken public confidence in the future of this country.

Who doesn't like to "dunk" in his coffee? I've never found anyone myself. And believe me, I like my doughnuts.

Whenever the Missus buys Betsy Ann Bread, she orders something else for me to "dunk" the next morning. Frequently it's doughnuts—but not always, for she's found out (just like we bakers have) that there are other good things to "dunk," like sweet rolls. But right now, my mouth is watering for a cuppa hot Java and a pair of Betsy's Best Doughnuts.

NEW MEXICO newspaper editors, who know their own minds and are not afraid to voice their opinions and to offer timely, unbiased advice to their readers in the interest of community and state, have given much time and effort in giving to the people accurate information that will aid them in finding the way to progressive, economical, efficient government in this state, by wise, informed use of their votes in the election November 8.

These editors are continually seeking better government through the publication of sound material in their columns and in advocating election of more capable men and women to conduct the public business in county and state. They have an almost uncanny insight into the workings of the minds of the people. They have sources of information that reach everywhere. Their opinions are formed and voiced not in the interest of politicians, but of their readers.

The independent thinkers among New Mexico newspaper editors are "fed up" with the tactics employed by the professional politicians and the pie-grabbers. It is not surprising that these editors and their newspapers are supporting Albert Mitchell, Pearce Rodey and the entire Republican ticket, as being the most progressive and efficient group, standing upon the most constructive contract, ever offered to the people of this state by any party.

Football Game Will Be Followed With a "Sadie Hawkins" Hop

Two events of interest are scheduled for Carlsbad Friday evening, a football game between the unbeaten Carlsbad and Hobbs High School teams, to be followed by a "Sadie Hawkins" dance, sponsored by the Young Democrats Club of Eddy County.

The game will be at 8 o'clock on Carlsbad's lighted field. The "Sadie Hawkins" dance idea, a new one, comes from the comic strip "L'il Abner," in which "Sadie Hawkins Day," an annual event at "Dogpatch," is a time when the maidens can get husbands—if they can catch them. The dance will hardly go that far, but that will give a rough idea of what to expect. It's "gals' choice."

Tells What Makes For Attendance in Rotary Meetings

C. D. Marshall, principal of Artesia High School, spoke at Rotary Tuesday noon on the problem of attendance as a means to an end and gave some principles for a good program to stimulate attendance.

He listed four principles toward which to build a program: Relaxation, opportunity for service, programs varied in nature and providing acquaintanceship and fellowship.

Although his remarks were addressed for the benefit of Rotarians as the attendance problem affects the Rotary Club, Mr. Marshall's ideas could be applied to other organizations.

In gist, Mr. Marshall said Rotary does not claim to possess magical charm. Rotarians analyze programs of Rotary with a critical mind and do not accept it without reservation. There is no unreasoning devotion to Rotary by Rotarians, but a respect for a logical program of service.

Since Rotary is not set up as an idol to be worshipped and since business is analytical and critical, there can be no primitive attitude toward the program. Rotarians attend, not out of devotion and duty, but because Rotary has something they desire.

Relaxation being one of the principals upon which a good program is based, one should expect some entertainment features in Rotary to gain relaxation. Rotarians do not expect nor desire all programs to be entertaining. The club must and does provide opportunity for thought and expression on any subject. Hence, people attend because of the opportunities to obtain information on a variety of vital problems.

In summarizing, Mr. Marshall said good attendance will follow if the program provides acquaintanceship, service, knowledge of other people's vocations, mental adventure, varied programs, relaxation and information.

Guests of the club Tuesday were Claude Simpson, Oscar Green and H. A. Poorbaugh of Roswell.

Fletcher Hornbaker, a teacher at Portales, N. Mex., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hornbaker of Artesia, underwent a major operation in a Portales hospital Tuesday afternoon. His parents arrived there shortly after the operation. Mrs. Hornbaker remained with her son, but Mr. Hornbaker has returned home and reports the condition of his son as satisfactory.

Deer, Deer, the Stories They Do Relate About This Time of Year

The deer season in some states opened before it did in New Mexico, where it has been in full swing since Tuesday, so hunting stories have been making the rounds the last few days.

In Montana, where they seem to have a wealth of deer hunting tales, L. C. Johnson hopes opportunity knocks at least twice.

For many years Johnson, who does a lot of traveling, has carried a rifle in his car during deer season in the hope he would get a shot at a buck.

En route to Butte his wife jabbed him in the ribs and pointed to a big buck as it hobbled along the highway with a limp front leg.

Johnson stopped his car hastily, ran to the luggage compartment and—that's right, remembered he had loaned his rifle for the day.

On the contrary, Mrs. Earl Slusher of Huntley, Mont., had a gun, but never had fired it, so the men left her in the cabin while they paced over the mountain stalking big game.

They returned, weary and empty handed, to be greeted by Mrs. Slusher, proudly exhibiting a deer she felled with one shot fired as she stood in the cabin door.

And at Alpine, Utah, Marlowe Bennett, 4, heard the growlups discussing the opening of the deer hunting season. That gave him an idea.

Taking his father's high-powered rifle, he sallied forth into the barnyard and shot his first "big game."

The Bennetts ate porkchops instead of venison.

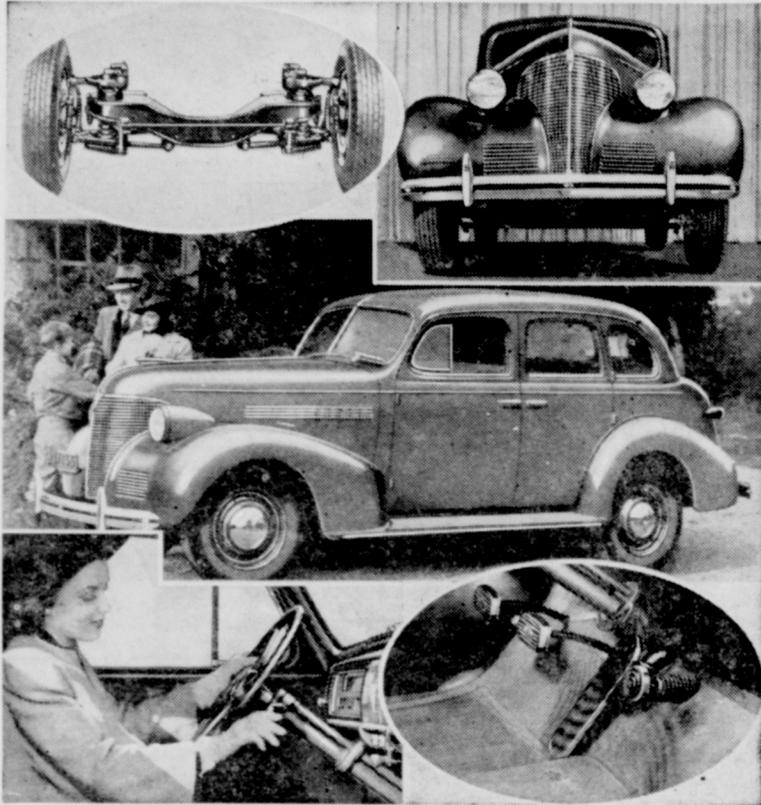

Next in line will be the tales New Mexico deer hunters will have to relate.

Fred J. Misphey, state purchasing agent of California, is off on the strangest shopping expedition he has ever encountered. He must buy a human skull, 100 embalmed cats, 300 live grasshoppers, two dozen sharks, 300 earthworms, 200 preserved crawfish, 300 live frogs and the nerve cord of a honey bee.

The items were requisitioned by the science department of Santa Barbara State College.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mann left Tuesday on a vacation trip into Colorado, to be gone a week and a half.

Ten members of the young people's organization of the Methodist Church, with their sponsor, Mr. Autry, drove to Roswell Sunday afternoon to attend a fifth Sunday meeting.

Mrs. Angie Brewer, who was taken to a hospital in Roswell several days ago, seriously ill, is reported to be in a more critical condition than at that time.

Ranchmen who are shipping lambs this week or who are delivering contracted lambs, are Thomas and Paul Coffin, J. P. Parks, Buck Wilburn, Mr. Menifee, John Pete Cauhope, Mr. Byers on the Schrauber ranch, Ernest and Sy Bunting, Frank Runyan, Hilary White, Jr., Andy, Newt, Maurice and George Teel. The lambs are being delivered for shipment in Artesia, or to Pecos Valley feeders by trucks operated by local men.

They passed the plate in reverse at the First Methodist Church at Walton, N. Y., Sunday. The Rev. Grant Robinson explained that every member of the congregation was to take one dollar from the plate instead of putting something on it.

Edward Reitz, 14, was altogether too good in his cowboy roping. Riding along a fence near Sterling, Colo., Edward practiced tossing his lariat at the posts. He made a catch. The rope tightened around his left hand, fracturing the thumb and four fingers. The thumb was amputated at the hospital.

The guillotine started the bobbed hair fad. A dull blade and the grim humor of the revolutionary Paris populace were contributory factors in giving women the freedom of short hair.

WALTER CRAFT,

Navy Is Building Alaskan Air Bases For Defense of Northern Frontier

The navy is quietly preparing two air bases on Kodiak and Japonski Islands to accommodate at least 200 long-range patrol bombers to defend America's far Northern frontier.

The navy has kept details of the work secret, but sources have disclosed some information regarding the bases. The base on Kodiak Island is being constructed at Women's Bay, five miles from the town of Kodiak. The site of the other base, on Japonski Island, is near Sitka.

Less than a year ago President Roosevelt set aside fifteen square miles for the Kodiak base. His act was described at the time as the most important step toward protection of Alaska from a possible attack from the Far East or Northwest.

Women's Bay was chosen as the site for the principal base after years of study by the navy. The bay is situated in a strategic position from the standpoint of the great circle sea routes. Rugged mountains preclude the possibility of the base's capture by a land force.

Small islands and reefs protect the seaward entrance to the island harbor considerably. A further improvement may be made by building up the sunken reefs with sea walls, thus creating virtually a land-locked anchorage for fleet units.

Navy engineers completed a survey of the base late last summer. It is understood the physical conditions disclosed in the survey proved the site well chosen. No obstacles were found, it was said, that might interfere with the developments planned.

Concrete ramps, hangars, shops and other facilities will be built for the 100 or more planes that could operate from the base. An area in Women's Bay will be dredged so that aircraft carriers can enter the base. A field for land planes also will be cleared.

High land surrounding the base is suitable for anti-aircraft fortifications.

The island is situated in a central geographical position from the tip of the Aleutian Islands to the Canadian border. It has a mild climate that results from the warm Japanese current. The harbors are free of ice virtually the year around.

Forty-eight huge bombers were based at Kodiak temporarily last summer for the most extensive maneuvers ever undertaken in the Far North. In July, Rear Admiral Charles M. Blakely, commander of the aircraft scouting force, spent ten days inspecting the site.

Accommodations for 1,200 officers and men will be provided.

The Japonski Island base, directly across Sitka Sound from the town of Sitka, will have the responsibility of defending Southeastern Alaska. It is considered essential yet subordinate to the Kodiak Island base, and as a result probably will have a smaller force in planes.

Japonski Island formerly was used for a naval radio station. It was commissioned as a permanent air base July 1, 1938, with a permanent personnel of five officers and 110 enlisted men. Six bombers have operated from the base the last year.

So far approximately $200,000 has been spent for improvement of the base, which will be enlarged so that at least 100 planes can be handled without congestion, it is understood. There is a great protecting area available for anchoring of the navy's biggest bombers.

Another base, for use of destroyers and submarines, also reportedly is being built at Dutch Harbor. Little is known about it.

New M. E. Presiding Elder Visits Artesia

The Rev. L. Bowman Craven, new presiding elder of the Methodist Church, Roswell conference, paid his first visit to Artesia and the Methodist Church here Tuesday since his recent appointment. He replaced the Rev. C. C. Hightower as presiding elder here, coming from El Paso, where the former elder was transferred.

He described his mission here Tuesday as a "getting acquainted" visit, saying he was meeting the local church officials and learning how he might be of assistance to the pastor, the Rev. John S. Rice, and the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Craven is a graduate in the class of 1921 of Southern Methodist University, from which he has A. B. and B. D. (bachelor of divinity) degrees.

After his graduation, he served three years in Tennessee and was in the Texas conference since 1926 until his recent transfer to Roswell.

A FRIEND of ours from Missouri told us about a most unusual experience he had while fox hunting. A vixen turned on one of the young hounds. She chased him for all she was worth, biting him in the hind feet several times, and the poor distracted hound never stopped running until it was well past the hunters.

"Texas" Jack Hill climbed down from the broad back of "Scandalous John" at Hugo, Okla., last week and opined he expected to reach the New York World's fairgrounds next May. "Scandalous John" is a 1,350-pound, 3-year-old Hereford bull. Hill and "Scandalous John" began their trip from Old Glory, Stonewall County, Texas, July 28. Their trip is intended to advertise Texas at the fair. Hill carries letters from Gov. James V. Alfred, W. Lee O'Daniel, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and state officials.

Two different types of fires break into the news, one at Sapulpa, Okla., where Fireman John Bixie came whizzing down the brass pole at the firehouse and a moment after his feet touched the floor he yelled loudly—for the fire department. His fellow firemen ran up to find the friction of the slide had ignited matches in Bixie's shirt pocket and the shirt was burning merrily. The other was near Santee, Calif., where it is learned that while G. W. Willis slept, a rubbish fire spread to the turkey brooder of his ranch and threatened other property. But naval aviators sighted it, and dove low with motors roaring. Neighbors rushed out to see the air show, also sighted the fire, and rushed to put it out.

At Sullivan, Ind., Lester Ridge and his family were unable to use their front porch all summer because a swarm of bees had taken it over. But the bees paid rent. They left 100 pounds of honey, in a porch column.

Synthetic Twin Vampire to Mate

Strange Surgical Experiment at Washington Is a Failure

A surgical experiment in skin grafting that made "artificial Siamese twins" of a boy and a girl has failed, it was revealed at Washington, because one of the subjects acted as a "vampire" upon the other.

Dr. Robert Emmet Moran and Dr. Michael P. Devito revealed that the attempt to "fuse" the bodies to supply healthy skin for the girl's burned and scarred body had been abandoned to save the boy's life.

The children were cut apart after the body of the girl persisted in draining blood from her temporary "twin."

The subjects of the experiment were Clara Howard, 15 years old, and her cousin, John Melvin Bonner, 15 years old, both Negroes. The original operation, a radical experiment in "iso-graft" — the transfer of body tissue from one living body to another—attracted national attention.

But Doctors Moran and Devito now have concluded that the practice of "iso-graft" is practical at present only with cartilage and corneal (eye) tissue.

The girl went to Emergency Hospital a year ago with 60 per cent of her skin surface horribly scarred from burns. She was unable to turn her head or use her arms normally because they were partially fused to her side.

Enlisting the help of Bonner, whose blood type corresponded, the doctors slit the skin from his arm pit to waist and formed a tubular-shaped roll of skin and blood vessels 16 inches long. As the strips fused they formed a tube of tissue which was attached to Clara's body.

Doctors had hoped that the tube of flesh, after developing its own system of blood circulation, would join the tissues of the girl's body and supply it with a growth of skin.

The girl's blood pressure jumped. Her cousin, however, had dizzy spells. On one occasion he lapsed into coma.

The physicians severed the tube, then grown to 20 inches, and abandoned the experiment. Bonner gradually recovered from the effects of his Siamese twinship and has since returned to regular attendance at school.

Advertisers See Better Business

Can Stimulate Volume, Which Is Necessary for Improvement

Key men in the nation's advertising industry went home from Del Monte, Calif., after predicting that business improvement is possible and probable.

In conferences and talks at the fourth annual convention of the Pacific council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies the latter part of October, the increasing importance of advertising in the national economy was stressed.

George B. Parker, editor-in-chief of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said: "Advertising, more than any other force in modern life, can stimulate the thing which this country must have if it is to pull out—Volume."

Parker warned against the danger of inflation by government decree, which he said would result as the "easy way out" unless volume business could be increased.

"On that alone," he said, "depends whether we will prosper or go bust; whether our national debt will be paid; our budget balanced; our credit preserved; and our employment problems cured."

Thomas H. Beck, head of the Crowell Publishing Company, broadly satirized the "pseudoscientific" research tests and propaganda adverse to nationally-advertised brands of merchandise.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN J. DEMPSEY
DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR RE-ELECTION

Mr. Dempsey has been instrumental in bringing to New Mexico $70,000,000 of work projects including water conservation, road and school improvements. This, in addition to direct relief and other federal aid for this state. His personal friendship with President Roosevelt has enabled him to accomplish more for his state than any other member of Congress in proportion to population.

Close cooperation between National and State administrations has accomplished much for the good of New Mexico. Let us keep that connection by placing in office men who are in sympathy with the program of our President.

John E. Miles, candidate for Governor, understands the problems of the common citizen of this state, the value of schools, highways and health. He has the reputation, among those who know him, of having a better understanding of governmental administration than any man in New Mexico.

Beating the Frost King

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Late feed crops which need more time to mature their seed are in danger of frost at almost any time now. It is not necessary to lose a large part of their feed value either by premature cutting or from frost, if the crop is made into ensilage. If frost strikes unexpectedly and singes the foliage, cut the crop as quickly as possible and ensile it later. Often the daily weather report will forewarn of killing frost, and give time to cut the crop before it strikes. In either case the bundles can lie as they fall until cutting is completed, with slight damage to its feeding value.

Two years ago the writer saw many fields of grain sorghums hit by premature frost in the Lower Panhandle. Growers started the row binders immediately, and the frost damage did not extend beyond the foliage. Those who had not prepared for it, began digging trench silos, leaving the crop in the field until the silo was ready. Since it only takes a day or two to construct a trench of considerable capacity, the crop dried out very little in the meantime.

It is preferable to permit the seed to mature, since the feeding value of the ensilage is greater than if it is cut in the "dough" stage, which was formerly recommended. On the other hand, the silo will preserve its full value in whatever stage it has to be ensiled, and immature silage is far better than no silage at all. The past summer saw many fields burned up by drouth and useless for feed which would have been well worth saving had the crop been cut and ensiled before it was entirely ruined.

It is strange but true that some people still question the practicability of the trench silo. The point is well illustrated by the reply recently given the writer about sheep on the farms in East Texas. "Well," answered the man asked, "those who have no farm flocks are still saying sheep are no good in East Texas, and those who have them want more." So with the silo—I've never found a man who gave it a fair trial who didn't like it.

It is neither hard nor expensive. While an ensilage cutter, a row binder or even an ensilage harvester which takes the place of both, is a great advantage, ensilage can be made without either. Cut it with a butcher knife on a broom handle, a machete, a sled cutter, if a better implement is not available. Cut it while succulent and the foliage is green if possible; add water according to the degree of dryness; you can even make ensilage from cured fodder by using enough water, but that isn't the way it ought to be done.

It is much easier to feed out if the ensilage is cut into short shreds and it also packs better in the silo. But good ensilage is made by laying the stalks shingle-fashion, closely packing them, and wetting them down to facilitate fermentation. The only real indispenables are to exclude the air and provide moisture enough to insure the fermentation which preserves the material. Keep these two points in mind and anyone can make good ensilage of corn, sweet or grain sorghums, or other highly carbonaceous forage.

Ensilage made of whole stalks, singly or in bundles, must be cut as fed, and a simple implement to do this will cost a dollar or less. A heavy iron bar for a handle with a transverse blade of tempered steel which can be kept sharp will do the job of cutting.

To meet competition, Paul Watson of Pittsburgh, a filling station operator, reduced the price of gasoline 5 cents a gallon. Then he put out a milk bottle and this sign: "Donations received to help pay the light bill." He said customers contributed the amount of the bill in two days.

WHAT'S WHAT —In— NEW MEXICO

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

Regional Forrester Frank C. W. Pooler of Albuquerque said four men from the Southwestern offices left Sunday for Boston to aid in emergency program for fire protection and salvaging timber on New England's hurricane-damaged forests. Pooler said the four had been detailed to New England for an indefinite period. Forest officers have been drawn from many parts of the nation for the work, to be coordinated by F. A. Silcox, chief of the Forest Service. Four billion feet of timber was estimated blown down by the hurricane, Pooler said, and the fire hazard was regarded as serious.

Plans to bring the remains of Adolph F. Bandler for Spain for burial in the Bandler National Monument, near Santa Fe, have been abandoned, it was announced by Dr. Edgar L. Hewitt, president of the School of American Research and director of New Mexico Museum. Dr. Hewitt said the crypt in the Seville Cathedral, where the noted American othologist was buried in 1914, was purchased in perpetuity through cooperation of a group of American scientists, and that the remains will be left there.

The Hagerman schools made a very good showing for the last fiscal year, says an audit report given out at the state comptroller's office. The maintenance fund had a balance of $9,862 at the end of the year. Disbursements totalled $40,220, which is $1,886 less than budget allowance. The year's receipts were $37,434. From the direct fund disbursements were $3,339 reflecting a budgetary saving of $260. During the year the bonded indebtedness was reduced $3,500 bringing it down to $40,000.

More than a fourth of all sales (school) taxes collected in New Mexico for the month of September were paid by Lea County, according to figures just received. While Lea County during that month paid $80,218 into state school coffers, the four counties nearest the amount were: Bernalillo County, $46,863, or 15 per cent; Santa Fe County, $19,123, or 6.4 per cent; and Eddy County, $18,823, or 6.3 per cent.

The New Mexico state penitentiary has a number of vacancies in its band—due to the "graduation" of some of its musically inclined inmates. The prison's monthly publication, "El Boletin," said, "The band has openings for men who can play a saxophone, trombone or guitar." As an added inducement, it continued: "The instruments will be furnished."

The New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission set the daily state oil allowable for November at 105,400 barrels, domestic consumption, and 3,000 barrels export. This represents a 1,600 increase over the October allowable of 103,800 barrels daily. The United States Bureau of Mines had recommended a New Mexico allowable of 111,000 barrels.

Coronado Cuarto Centennial officials have been advised that Kansas intends to hold a major celebration in 1941 in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the trek of Coronado across the plains to "Quivira," near modern Lyons, Kan.

ALBUQUERQUE TRIBUNE

Item: We heard Albert Mitchell Republican candidate for governor, in his first campaign speech last night at Clayton. We think Mr. Mitchell should be the next governor of New Mexico.

We could build up a good rhetorical climax for our conclusion. Maybe we should do that. We've done it before. Have gone about more or less pontifically (we regret to say) at a build-up. We're a little tired of that business. And how tired we are of New Mexico politics.

The Democratic party in this state, sailing blissfully on the Roosevelt coattails with fuel from the public taxroll, has grown insufferably insolent.

***

So it was with considerable relief that we heard Mr. Mitchell. Let us quote you Independent Voter and Mr. Disgusted Democrat:

Said Mr. Mitchell:
"I have made no pledges, no commitments."

"I am not a politician either by training or inclination."

"I have become sick and tired of politics and politicians."

"And I believe the rank and file voter has come to feel the same way."

"I do not know of any reason why public business should not be entitled to the same efficiency as private business."

"I am for the merit system in public business. It won't please the politicians but who cares whether it does or not? This campaign seems to me to be the people vs. the politicians."

"I am for the non-partisan selection of judges. I want to see them elected without the taint of partisanship."

"I shall probably, during this campaign, be accused of being liberal, reactionary, radical and conservative. So far as I can see the words have become meaningless, who thinks as we do."

"Every Republican candidate I think during the campaign we shall designate a liberal as one was drafted. Each one is successful in private life. None is a politician."

"We hope every independent voter will like our platform and our candidates. But whether he does or not we hope he will vote, whether he is for us or against us."

"The threat has been made—that President Roosevelt will punish those on relief if the state should vote Republican, seems to me childish and foolish. After all, our national leaders are big men. I have conferred with them many times in Washington. I have sat for an hour under a tree with the president and talked with him about the problems of the West. After all, he is the President of the United States."

Well, what do you think of it? We think it's grand. This talk about liberal and reactionary is the smoke screen raised by our third rate politicians. They hope to hang to the public payroll on the grounds that they are liberal. They don't know what it means but they've heard it is a vote getting phrase.

The Tribune is supposed to be liberal, has often been accused of being radical. We never quite understood what either phrase meant.

We were usually trying to be merely honest. But we do gag a little at the sight of Dempsey, Chavez and Miles raising the liberal mask. The three of them fought the right of the voter to choose his own nominee. And they're liberal.

We are all the way for Albert Mitchell. And we are unwilling to confuse gang politics with liberalism. Pol. Adv.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our people will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements... a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies... and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs. We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

Miles Plans—

velopment the oil business should bring at least 20,000 new citizens to New Mexico in the next two years and we welcome and need these people in this state.

"As an encouragement to the oil industry and that our oil boys may keep working, I will definitely oppose any discriminatory or burdensome taxation upon the oil business. We must protect our oil industry and I propose to take an active part in this."

Tells of Schools' Growth

Stating that she believes in equal educational opportunity in every sense of the word, Mrs. Grace Corrigan, candidate for superintendent of public instruction, declared that during the last eight years of unbroken Democratic administration the schools of New Mexico have experienced unparalleled growth and development.

"You will agree with me that the way to judge a friend is by his conduct," she said, "and I defy anyone to say that the Democratic administration, state and national, has not been a friend of the schools."

"Further progress along the lines inaugurated by the present administration, in my opinion, can best be continued under Democratic leadership."

She praised Miles as a school patron and school board member and said he is a tried and trusted friend of the schools.

Corrigan Reviews Record

Improvement in teacher training, improvement and additions to buildings and facilities, curriculum revision, better transportation to and from schools and free text books were touched upon by Mrs. Corrigan.

She reviewed briefly her record, pointing out she had been a rural teacher, county superintendent, state supervisor of rural schools and had eight years of experience in the office for which she is now a candidate.

Mrs. Corrigan credited Congressman Dempsey with placing the schools of New Mexico "20 years ahead of time" in building and facilities through his efforts in Washington, and added that "his reelection not only will guarantee further progress for our schools but will also assure, with the election of a Democratic state administration, full realization of the administration's aim of equal educational opportunity in New Mexico."

Dempsey Speaks on Cotton

Converging here for the barbecue and rally were three Democratic speaking parties which have been stamping the state. Besides the group headed by Miles were parties at the head of which were John J. Dempsey, candidate for re-election to Congress, and James M. Murray, Sr., candidate for lieutenant governor.

Rep. Dempsey, after dealing with the cotton situation, said:

"It has been my policy in considering legislation before the Congress to consult with those from my state best informed on that legislation and the needs of the people here. When the recent agricultural control bill was up, I believed the farmers on irrigated lands were being discriminated against, so I voted to recommit the bill."

"The measure narrowly escaped but was improved in conference and I voted for it. I questioned, however, whether the powers given the secretary of agriculture were not greater than necessary."

Confers With Col. Woods

"When the cotton regulations were being considered I asked the advice of the irrigated lands cotton growers. One of our own men, Col. Albert T. Woods, of Artesia, was in Washington and I conferred with him often."

Turning to the campaign in general, Dempsey said:

"The Democratic candidates have questioned themselves to the extent before the people—whether they wish a continuance of the progress we are making in the state and nation, or wish to return to conditions that existed before the Democratic administration took office."

Charges "Political Slumming"

"But we find Republican speakers, because they have no real issues, indulging in personalities and the Republican state organization staff writing speeches for fine men and women, who do not know they are dealing with untruth, to deliver or read. That certainly is a new departure in political slumming."

Dempsey said, "The Democratic candidates will continue, nevertheless, to campaign as they started by pointing out the accomplishments of the Democratic administration and the benefits that have been obtained for the people, despite the constant opposition of the Republican members of Congress."

"The Republican minority voted as a bloc against every progressive, liberal Democratic administration policy," he continued. "Their opposition was particularly directed toward those things which have been of so much direct benefit to our state."

"Now they seek to lead the people to believe that they are liberal and will carry on these beneficial policies which they have fought so hard. The people of our state know that doesn't make sense. They are not being fooled by the Republican party's campaign attempt to mislead them."

"Better off Than 1932?"

"Let any Republican candidate or speaker answer truthfully and fairly the question, 'Are New Mexico and the nation—all of the people—better off now than they were in 1930 to 1932?'"

"If they tell us we are no better off, let them explain why they now write into the platform in New Mexico planks that pledge a continuation of the policies they say they now approve, but only recently bitterly condemned."

Other state Democratic candidates who were here and introduced to the voters were: Frank Worden, for land commissioner, and Henry L. Eager, for corporation commissioner. Also here with the candidates were Frank Patton, attorney general, and H. R. Rodgers, superintendent of schools.

More than 1,000 pounds of beef was served barbecue style at the noon hour to about 1,000 persons in the lot east of the Legion hut, where candidates for state offices met many Eddy County voters. The theater was crowded for the speaking afterwards.

FIRST BUCKS MAY BE FOLLOWED BY MEN

Deer hunters may be coming out of the mountains today, as a sudden drop in temperature here yesterday, accompanied by spitting rain, indicates it may be "tough going" up there. However, some of the nimrods have already returned, about a dozen bucks arriving here yesterday, some accompanied by the shooters and some not.

Honors for the first bucks brought in—not necessarily the first killed—go to Dan Watson and Everett Patton, who weighed in early Wednesday morning on the scales at the Brainard-Corbin Hardware Company store.

Democratic Candidate For Governor On The Primary Election Law

Inasmuch as several political opportunists who have sought, with motives we all know and understand, to seek to create doubt in the public mind as to the stand of the Democratic party and myself, as the Democratic nominee for governor, on the primary law, I feel that it is fitting and proper to set the record straight. Let me say at the outset that I am running for governor on a platform which states specifically that the Democratic party, which has placed a primary election law on the statute books, condemns the so-called "Mob caucus" system and will not return to it. I reiterate my pledge to stand squarely on that commitment by the Democratic party.

I will go further and commit myself to the position that I, as governor of New Mexico, will veto any attempt, if such an attempt should be made, to remove the desirable features from the primary law as it now stands on the statute books of New Mexico.

My position regarding the primary law is simply this: I believe we must have in conjunction with it a permanent registration system that will safe-guard beyond any doubt the integrity of the political parties of this state and the purity of the ballot. The Democratic platform has pledged such a system. I shall do my utmost to see that this pledge is kept. The best method of determining the workability of the law recently passed is to permit it to stand as it is for the 1940 election and I will advocate and urge the legislature to let the law stand as it now does on the statute books.
