Red Cross Roll Call Begins on Armistice Day

Workers for North Eddy County Are Organized By C. J. Dexter, Chairman — Most Stays at Home.

The 1939 roll call of the Red Cross opens tomorrow, Armistice Day, with workers in the North Eddy County area ready to put on an active drive which should carry the membership well over last year's total of 231 contributors before Thanksgiving.

C. J. Dexter, roll call chairman for the area, has divided it into four districts, Artesia, Hope, Cottonwood and Oil Field.

In Artesia the drive will be under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary. Workers will be stationed at the postoffice and the First National Bank, as well as others making personal contact.

Mr. Dexter has appointed committee chairmen for the other districts, each to appoint workers, as follows: Hope, Mrs. B. Altman; Cottonwood, Tom Terry; Oil Field, Mrs. J. L. Briscoe.

The roll call chairman said persons in the outlying districts should join the Red Cross with their local committees, in order to swell the totals there, although it is for a common fund.

Mr. Dexter stressed that 50 cents of every membership up to and including a $25 supporting membership remains in the North Eddy County fund for needy and emergency cases. The 50 cents in each case goes to the national Red Cross to be used in case of disaster in any part of the nation.

Explaining it further, Mr. Dexter said the money collected remains at home as follows: $1 annual membership, 50 cents at home; $5 contributing membership, $4.50 at home; $10 sustaining membership, $9.50 at home; $25 supporting membership, $24.50 at home.

Already, the chairman said, there has been a good pre-roll call response.

The local Red Cross funds are handled by a committee of four, which passes on cases and takes immediate action when necessary.

The committee: H. G. Watson, mayor of Artesia; Fred Cole, Mrs. Irvin Martin, representing the American Legion Auxiliary, and Mr. Dexter.

Fourteen Births In North Eddy During October

Fourteen births and five deaths were recorded by Pete L. Loving, sub-register for the Artesia, Cottonwood and Atoka districts, for the month of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Torres, son; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Hammond, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Rainwater, son; Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Delgado, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Omer G. Godberry, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Hernandez, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Marquez, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. White, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Marquez, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales Gomez, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Witherspoon, son; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Skinner, son; Mr. and Mrs. Ben O'Rosco, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Ila David Walker, daughter.

For the benefit of those who do not know and wonder why their child's birth is not reported here, Mr. Loving pointed out that if the child was born at some other town, the birth is recorded at the place of birth and not at the place of residence, unless the birth was at the residence or postoffice address.

Mrs. Owen McClay is spending this week as guest of Mrs. Carl Martin at the Martin farm, while Mr. Martin is in Nebraska.

Stone and Rideout Are Building on Main

Work began this week on two new business buildings on adjoining lots, belonging to Dr. Edward Stone and L. A. Rideout, respectively, at 415 and 417 East Main Street.

The Rideout building is to be on the same lot and in front of Mr. Rideout's present plumbing shop. Dr. Stone's building is going up on the lot to the east.

Both buildings are to have brick fronts and will have a common center wall. They will be 25x42 feet.

Dr. Stone plans to use half of his frontage for his optical office, renting the other half, and hopes to move by the first of the year.

Compensation Act Will Be Explained On Next Thursday

Commission Representatives Plan Artesia Meeting at C. of C.

Representatives of the New Mexico Unemployment Compensation Commission, in cooperation with the State Employment Service, will be in Artesia, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 17, for the purpose of holding a meeting and explaining the obligations and requirements of employers and employees who are covered by the Unemployment Compensation Act of 1936.

In announcing the meeting, Roy L. Cook, chairman-director of the New Mexico commission in Albuquerque, said:

"Payments of benefits under the compensation law will start with the filing of applications for benefits on Dec. 1. There are certain requirements on the part of both employer and employee for a successful operation of the law and the purpose of the Artesia meeting is to better acquaint the public in general, and more especially em-

Captain F. G. Irwin, World War Vet, Dies On Saturday Night

Capt. F. G. Irwin of Hobbs, formerly of Elk, died in the Veterans' Hospital at Albuquerque from a brain tumor Saturday night. He was taken to the hospital a week prior to his death. He was a veteran of the World War.

Mrs. Irwin flew from Washington, D. C., shortly after he arrived at the hospital and was with him several days before Mr. Irwin died.

She was in Artesia Monday and went from here to Hobbs to straighten up business matters before leaving with Mr. Irwin's body for Washington, where burial will be in Arlington Cemetery.

Mr. Irwin was for five years connected with Elk Store and the last year was a partner in the wholesale oil and gas business with Finn Watson, a former Artesia man.

WILL SHOW FINE PRINTS AT SCHOOL

An exhibit of fine art prints will be on display next Monday through Friday in the auditorium of Artesia Junior-Senior High School. Included are 150 large colored reproductions of old and modern masters.

Grade school students will present a pageant in connection with the exhibit at 7:30 o'clock Friday of next week. A small admission charge will be made to view the pictures, as well as to the pageant, to be used towards buying worthwhile pictures for the schools. Pageant tickets likewise entitle the holders to the exhibit.

MODEL T GIVES UP A WHEEL, SCATTERS YOUTHS

Five young men of Artesia were scattered and injured, none seriously, when a Model T Ford, in which they were riding on Highway 285 south of town Sunday afternoon lost a wheel and overturned.

Jack Reed sustained a fractured collarbone. The others were Victor Haldeman, Lynn Cobble, Billie Felton and Bob Pistole, whose injuries were superficial.

Fewer Oil Well Locations Made As Pace Slows

Only Five in Two Counties — Eddy and Lea Wildcats Strike Salt Water and Are Being Plugged to Abandon.

Location of new wells in Southeast New Mexico fields, which has been going on at a merry pace, slowed down somewhat the last week, only two being made in Eddy County and three in Lea County.

Eight wells were completed, six of which are producing. The other two, both wildcats, struck salt water and are being plugged to abandon.

Martin & Lyette, Pardue & Guitart 1, NW 29-24-26, in South Eddy County, struck salt water at a total depth of 1,875 feet. The other wildcat, Texas, Lodewick 1, SE 34-18-33, is 4 1/2 miles south of Texas, Corbin 1, the nearest production, which is pumping 40 barrels of oil a day. At a total depth of 4,250 feet Lodewick 1 had 500 feet of salt water in hole.

The new completions, which are producing, all in Lea County: Italo, Carlson A-22-1, SE 22-25-37; total depth 3,327 feet; flowed 950 barrels oil per day. Magnolia, Bridges 14, NE 25-17-34; total depth 4,720 feet; flowed 65 barrels a day.

Louis Burchfield Dies Here Sunday

Louis Burchfield, 46-year-old WPA worker, died at his home in Morningside Addition Sunday following a heart attack. He was stricken after arising Sunday morning.

Funeral services were at the McClay Chapel at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon by the Rev. Allen E. Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Mr. Burchfield, who was born in Texas Aug. 21, 1892, came with Mrs. Burchfield and their children to Artesia about five years ago.

Bulldogs Lose to Lovington in Game There Last Friday

Wildcats March Down Field from Kick-off to Make the Only Goal

A driving march down the field on the opening kick-off resulted in a touchdown for the Lovington Wildcats in a football game there Friday afternoon against Artesia High School. Lovington stubbornly held this lead throughout the rest of the game to win 7 to 0.

The Wildcats took the ball on the kick-off on their own 44-yard line and pounded their way down the field to Artesia's 6-yard line, where Chambers of Lovington took the ball over the goal for the only touchdown of the game. Wooten came through with the extra point.

During the remainder of the game, both teams, determined to win, used all of the strength and strategy that they could command to score. It seemed, at two intervals, that the Wildcats would increase their lead. At one time they smashed their way down the gridiron to the Bulldogs' 1-yard line. There, however, they were held by the Bulldogs four downs with no gain. And once more Lovington was approaching pay territory in swift strides as the game ended.

On the other hand, the Bulldogs met with much the same fate as all attempts to score were blotted out when the enemy goal line nearly was reached.

An outstanding player of the game was Burns, Lovington captain, who literally hurled himself through the line for large gains.

Cook, Wildcat center, suffered a broken leg on the opening kick-off in the second half, but outside of a few scratches and bruises no

First Icy Winter Blasts Come With Norther on Sunday

Mercury Here Drops to Thirteen Degrees Early Monday— Snow Over State

The first icy blasts of winter struck New Mexico Sunday and Sunday night, with sub-zero temperatures in some parts of the state. The lowest in Artesia was 13 degrees above zero at 6:15 o'clock Monday morning by the recording thermometer of the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company.

A norther which struck in this section Sunday morning, followed by the drop in temperature, caused as severe a condition as was felt all of last winter. But, although it froze hard again Monday night, moderation was rapid.

Mercury readings as low as 8 degrees below zero were reported from the Estancia region. At Las Cruces it was 2 below zero. El Paso's temperature was 24 degrees above, the lowest for early fall in fifty-eight years.

Although the snowfall in Artesia was negligible Sunday, some sections reported snow a foot or more deep. The Sacramento and Guadalupe Mountains were covered to varying depths, in some places a foot and a half, sending the less hardy deer hunters to the plains country or to cabins where they "holed in."

As was the case a few years ago when a freak of temperature plummeted the mercury to 37 degrees below zero in Artesia as compared with much higher readings in other parts of the Pecos Valley, it was colder here Monday than either north or south of Artesia. Compared with 13 degrees here, Roswell reported 16 and Carlsbad 20 degrees.

The norther and cold temperature put a stop to cotton growth and all garden vegetables and flowers were nipped.

COL. PISTOLE VERY LOW

Mrs. William B. Pistole, who is at William Beaumont Hospital, Ft. Bliss, El Paso, writes that Col. Pistole is very low.

Doctors and nurses are doing all that is humanly possible, she says.

Pat the Pooch Is Matriculated at State College

Pat, long-haired white and brown colie belonging to Mrs. A. B. Sage of State College, Las Cruces, has been a regularly enrolled student of State College since the beginning of school. Round-up, college publication, relates.

Although he seldom makes a class, Pat appears on the campus at exactly 8 a. m. and leaves at 5 p. m. unless some extra-curricular activity such as pep club drill or football practice requires him to stay later.

Students at the college recognize him and hail him as regularly as any other fellow student. No one dares pass without speaking to him or giving him a friendly pat on the head.

Although students may not feel that they are financially able to purchase cigarettes, and chewing gum for Pat, they are always more than glad to give him the remainder of an ice cream cone or a scrap of candy.

This year the freshmen decided to make Pat a bona-fide member of their class so one freshman donated his green and white cap, thus making the adoption legal.

When questioned as to his ambitions and decisions regarding his college curriculum, Pat looked away and pawed lazily.

He is an ardent lover of sports and makes his appearance regularly at football games. He resents the presence of any other dog on the campus and will not hesitate to show his resentment if the stranger happens to trespass on any of his private loafing places.

As was the case a few years ago when the student body adopted a pet aligator, Pat will probably graduate with a degree in music.

Sole Sponsorship Troop 28, Scouts, Taken by Legion

Vets Oppose Third Group Here at Present—Will Buy Boys Equipment

Sole sponsorship of troop 28, Boy Scouts, is to be assumed by Clarence Kepple post, American Legion, and adequate equipment for the boys will be purchased, it was decided Monday at the regular monthly meeting of the Legion post at the hut.

Co-sponsorship with the Baptist Church was assumed a number of months ago, but the arrangement did not work out well, according to a report read at the meeting of the Scout committee, Howard Whitson, Jesse L. Truett, M. G. Schulze, G. D. Woodside and Alex McGonagill.

The report said the church was willing to withdraw in favor of the Legion, which now takes full sponsorship responsibilities.

The action followed a move to organize another troop here, possibly with the Baptist Church and the Legion, or some other organizations sponsoring troop 28 and the new one. However, the Legion committee's report showed, neither troop 28 nor troop 8 has a full membership.

Carl Everetts is to continue as scoutmaster and Olin Woodside and L. C. Reynolds were named as assistants.

The Scouts, in a letter to the post, requested that twelve pup tents, a water tank, cooking utensils and other equipment be furnished. It was voted to comply.

The post asked that all flags be flown on Armistice Day.

Oscar Samelson, adjutant and membership chairman, reported the post's membership quota of ninety-seven will have been reached by Armistice Day, for which a certificate will be issued from national headquarters.

Party's Candidates on Eddy County Ticket Poll Three to One for Republican Opponents, Figures Show.

NO RACES ARE CLOSE

Montgomery, Caviness, Funk Comprise New Commissioners' Court.

The election returns for Eddy County will be found in tabulated form on another page in this issue.

The Democrats made a clean sweep of it at the polls in New Mexico, Tuesday, taking all state offices, as well as those in Eddy County.

A scattered few Republican office seekers in some sections won. Nationally the G. O. P. polled a heavier vote than at any general election since 1930 and won some important posts throughout the nation.

Congressman John J. Dempsey was re-elected over Pearce Rodey, his Republican opponent, and E. W. Fawkes, independent, by a large plurality. In Eddy County Dempsey led the state ticket with an unofficial vote of 3,211, with the El Paso Gap box unheard of. Rodey polled 990 votes.

John E. Miles, Democrat, was elected governor over Albert K. Mitchell, Republican, and John D. Schuster, independent. Miles' plurality ran behind that of most state candidates on the ticket. He polled 2,819 in Eddy County to 1,394 for Mitchell, a plurality of 1,525, as compared with the plurality of 2,221 rolled up by Dempsey.

Milton Smith, incumbent, and Margaret Neal, Democrats, were elected state representatives over their Republican opponents, Alvin Harroun and J. S. Eaves.

Unofficial returns for county offices from all except El Paso Gap and Lakewood show Charles F. Montgomery, Jesse I. Funk and Troy Caviness, all Democrats, elected county commissioners, each by a plurality of more than 2,300 votes.

Montgomery defeated A. W. Dallman, Republican, for commissioner of district 1. Funk, incumbent from district 2, won over B. E. Spencer, and Caviness, district 3, over L. A. Breashears.

Howell Gage, former deputy sheriff, was elected sheriff of Eddy County. He polled 3,296 votes to 888 for Loren E. Neeley, a plurality of 2,408, incomplete returns show.

Mrs. Rude A. Wilcox, wife of the county clerk, was elected to succeed him, defeating E. A. Weaver, Republican candidate, by 2,480 votes.

H. F. Christian polled 3,170 votes to win over E. A. Hannah, who had 846, for county treasurer.

Mrs. R. H. Westaway was re-elected assessor. Polling 3,216 votes, she had a plurality over J. L. Williams, Republican, of 2,400.

Likewise re-elected was Judge B. F. Montgomery of the Probate Court. He received 3,284 votes in 22 out of 24 precincts to 777 for William H. Pfeifer.

R. N. Thomas, school superintendent at Otis, defeated his Republican opponent, Miss Florence M. Dooley of Artesia, by 2,405 votes for county superintendent of schools.

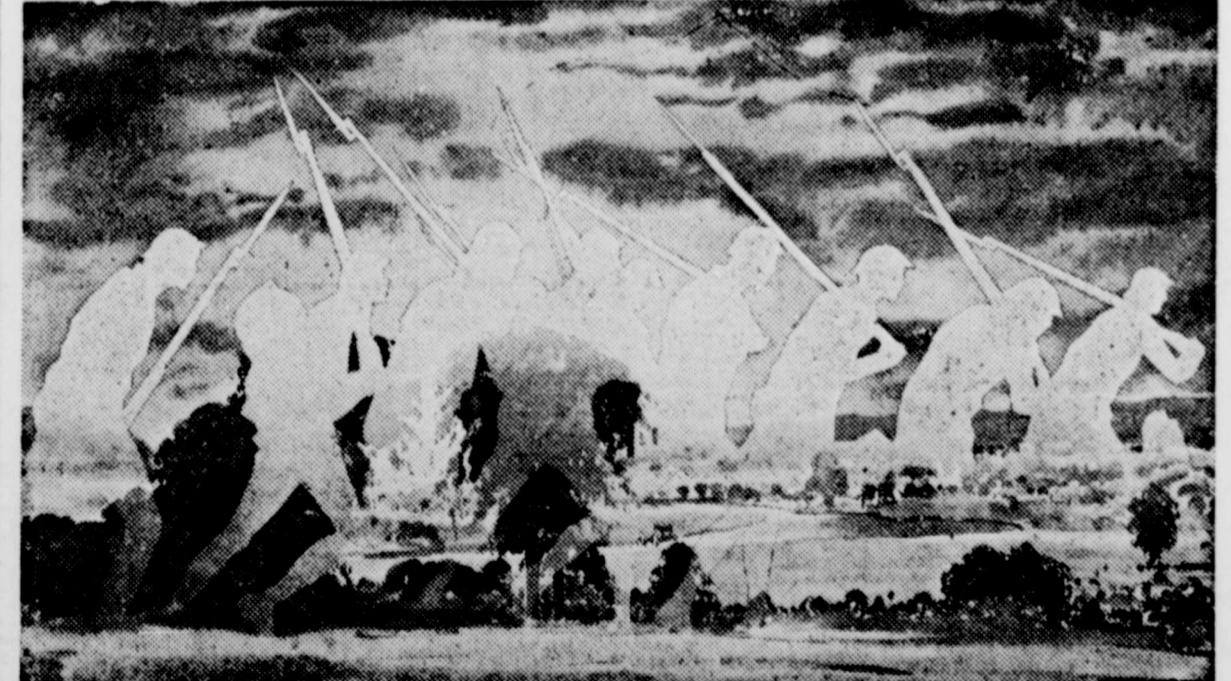

W. H. Ballard and J. C. Floore, justice of the peace and constable of precinct 6, Artesia, were re-elected. Judge Ballard defeated O. M. Trotter and Floore won over J. K. Hastie.

STORES WILL CLOSE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Stores in Artesia will close on Armistice Day, it was decided after managers of a number had been contacted by the Chamber of Commerce through Arba Green, secretary.

The day has been declared a holiday this year by proclamation of Gov. Clyde Tingley.

Twenty Years After! I Wonder, I Wonder!

Twenty years after! I wonder, I wonder
If they sleeping deep 'neath the poppies o'er there
Are peaceful, content, in the war's ceasing thunder,
And think all is tranquil in lands everywhere.

Armistice sounds at the stroke of eleven,
As fighting all stops on the vast Western front;
And many brave souls in their new home in Heaven
Have found peace on Earth at the end of the hunt.

They fought and they died for Democracy's sake;
They gave up their lives in the name of advance,
Yet they sleep within earshot of strife, nor awake
From their slumber in peace 'neath the poppies in France.

Twenty years after! I wonder, I wonder
If they sleeping deep, in the battlefields there,
Are peaceful, content, in the war's ceasing thunder,
With Mars hov'ring o'er us and war in the air.

IT'S EVERYBODY'S OBLIGATION

There is one obligation on the budget of almost everybody about which few need be reminded. The majority of citizens who possibly can afford to join the Red Cross look forward to the annual roll call. They consider it not only a humanitarian obligation, but as a sort of insurance—for no one knows where or when disaster will strike.

The 1938 roll call begins tomorrow, Armistice Day, and continues until Thanksgiving, during which time workers in North Eddy County, as elsewhere, will attempt to contact everyone.

The job of the workers, who receive nothing, can be made easier by everyone planning to pay up promptly, so they can go on to the next home or place of business.

An reminder—a large percentage of Red Cross funds remains at home. In case of disaster, more will be available than was ever paid in here.

MEMO TO SCHOOL BOYS WITH CARS

Hey, fellows, do you remember when you attended Central School? And how you had to cross the streets in order to get home? And if you remember far enough back, do you recall that you didn't pay much attention to Mother's warnings to be careful crossing the streets?

Well, there are a lot of other youngsters going to Central School now and probably more automobiles for the kiddies to watch out for. And they are just like you used to be. They don't pay much attention to traffic.

That's why you should be more careful, especially at the noon hour, when both high school and grade classes are dismissed about the same time.

We saw several carloads of you coming down Quay the other noon at too great a clip. Our heart jumped into our mouth when we saw one too run across in front of a school boy's car. It missed him, it is true, but that same tot, or some other, might run in front of you sometime and—

Let's slow down a little, fellows.

HOSPITAL WILL NEED EQUIPMENT

At least four organizations in Artesia have taken steps in the right direction, that of planning to furnish a room each in City Hospital. And a number of church organizations, it is understood, have the idea in mind.

It will take the cooperation of everybody in order to have a properly equipped hospital. Probably the organizations and clubs of Artesia will see that all rooms are equipped, but a hospital needs a great deal more than that. There is the operating ward, for instance, as well as the obstetrics room, the kitchen and laboratories.

All departments will need good equipment in order that the hospital may function properly, and there are not funds available to buy everything needed.

It is none too early to think about such things. In fact, come to think of it, it is none too early to begin to act.

The American Legion Auxiliary, P. E. O., Past Presidents' Parley and the Woman's Club are planning to equip a room each.

Who will be next?

MUST NOT FORGET RACIAL ORIGINS

If Americans were shocked and saddened by the dissection of Czechoslovakia, they ought to be almighty careful not to let the principle on which that dissection was based become established in their own land.

The principle is simple. It is that the ties of "race" are both permanent and all-important; that a man is, for all time, what his ancestors were, no matter where he may go or what he may do, and that no right of society or claim of economics can prevail against that racial tie.

That is about as dangerous a piece of dynamite as could well be introduced into American life. For if there is one spot on earth where the whole structure of society rests on the exact opposite of that theory, the United States is it.

So it is extremely discouraging to read of the little brush which Gov. Lehman of New York has been having with the Ukrainians of that state.

The Ukrainian-American Democratic Club recently bolted the state ticket—on the ground that although the Ukrainians cast 125,000 votes in New York elections, only five persons of Ukrainian extraction hold political office. The president of the organization declared that in addition to patronage his people want representation in party councils in proportion to their voting strength.

Now it is no great jump from that position to the position of the Sudeten Germans in Mr. Benes' Czechoslovakia. The original complaint of the Sudetens—that they were not given state offices in proportion to their strength—is almost precisely like this complaint. And although it is a little hard to imagine Messrs. Hitler and Chamberlain hot-footing it across the Atlantic to see that the downtrodden Ukrainians get justice from brutal Uncle Sam, the parallel is an ominous thing just the same.

That insistence on the importance of racial origins wrecked Czechoslovakia. It could wreck America just as neatly, if it were carried far enough. And before it is carried any further, all who believe that the unity of the nation is worth saving ought to express themselves in unmistakable terms.

We have in America people from every nation on earth. The only possible way for us even to come close to order and progress is to insist that our diverse racial origins are of sentimental meaning, to be sure—but absolutely nothing beyond that.

That is a lesson that we thought we had learned a century ago. Apparently it needs to be learned again. For this emphasis on the importance of race is the subtlest and most dangerous thing that could possibly arise in American life. Unless it is stamped out we are in for the worst kind of trouble.—Gallup Independent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES 613 West Main Street

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all societies and churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 13.
The Golden Text is: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."
—(I Cor. 5:17.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you."
—(I Cor. 3:16.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "When mortal man blends his thoughts and existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven."

Movin' Away by Lawrence Hawthorne

The folks nex' door is movin' out t'day;
The movin' van is at the curb right now!
They're goin' to a place three miles away—
But three or thirty seems the same, somehow,
When folks you've come t' know, an' like a lot,
Is leavin' for some other neighborhood;
They might be goin' to a better spot,
An' then, again, perhaps it ain't as good.

There's always somethin' mighty sad t' me
About the fac' that folks has got t' leave
A house where they was plenty glad t' be;
It's tough t' see 'em tryin' t' deceive
The neighbors into thinkin' all is well,
When tears is hidin' right behind their smiles;
It don't take any clever man t' tell
That heartache's goin' with 'em those three miles.

It's hard t' leave a home where joy an' care
Stored up a lot o' memories for you;
An' when you move your furniture somewhere,
You'd like t' take them tender keepsakes, too.
The folks nex' door is movin' out t'day;
An' when it's time t' say a last goodbye,
I'm hopin' that we let 'em get away
Without somebody startin' in t' cry.

The minds of most people will in some way be centered on the Armistice—tomorrow. What real significance does the Armistice have for the people of the nation and the world on this, another anniversary? In many countries, if not in all of the major powers, it would seem that the Armistice is beginning to wane in its true significance. As with the poet we ask:

Is it but armistice?
A momentary pause,
A fleeting interstice
When red and gory claws
Are hid beneath a cloak
Of simulated peace?

Is it but armistice?
Shall pride and profits urge,
Shall blinding prejudice,
Shall hatred's cruel scourge
Return that galling yoke
From which we find release?

Is it but armistice?
Or can man's spirit find
Not subtle artifice,
But quality of mind
True justice to invoke,
On earth to 'stablish peace?

No Cotton Pickers Needed in Arizona

No more cotton pickers are needed in Arizona. This information comes from Lewis Irvine, director of the Arizona State Employment Service, who said laborers leaving now for that state will not be able to find sufficient work to justify going.

Mr. Irvine hopes to prevent a situation similar to the one in Arizona last year, when many migratory workers were stranded in the Salt River Basin and it was necessary for the federal government to furnish relief.

Chickens Have Own "Grand Hotel" With Soundproof Walls

Just to check up on the room service, a reporter paid a visit to the "Grand Hotel" of American chicken coops—the new streamliner henhouse at Soldiers' Home, Washington, D. C.

Accommodations include an elevator, a hen getter-upper, running water in the rooms and soundproof walls.
Before one enters, he has to be announced—not to the hens but to General F. W. Coleman, who supervised the hatching out of this super-hatchery.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State." Gleaned from Many Sources

State banks reported a total of $13,023,085 in resources, as of Sept. 28, State Bank Examiner Woodlan P. Sanders' office announced, showing a gain of $256,680 since June 30, date of the latest previous report. Loans had increased, in the same period to $4,715,034. On June 30 they were $254,128 less. Deposits totaled $11,663,757 on Sept. 28, also showing an increase. On June 30, they totaled $11,456,272. Of the $11,663,757, the bank examiner's office said $2,357,385 was in savings and time accounts, showing a decrease of $68,349 in this item.

The newest incorporated municipality in New Mexico is Bayard in Grant County. The corporation was formed primarily for securing $80,000 in federal grants and loans for installing water and sewer improvements. The mayor of the village is Ransom Caldeburgh.

Governor Tingley has issued a proclamation calling upon citizens of New Mexico to observe Armistice Day, Nov. 11, and to celebrate the day in every community with patriotic programs under the sponsorship of organized veterans' groups. The proclamation also designates the current week of Nov. 11-18 as "Veterans' Week."

Receipts equalled disbursements in the motor transportation division of the State Bureau of Revenue during the last fiscal year, an audit showed last week. The report, released by State Comptroller C. R. Sebastian, listed receipts at $12,698. Operating expenses of the department were listed at $8,865, of which $4,415 was in salaries.

A grizzly bear has been killed on the Ladder ranch on the eastern slope of the Black Range, Elliott Barker, state game warden, learned. The name of the killer was not disclosed. The grizzly was the first killed in New Mexico in 5 or 6 years, Barker said. Many bear were taken during the bear season, which closed Oct. 26 insofar as hunting with dogs is permitted, but all the rest were of the black or brown species, common to New Mexico. During the big game season, now on, bears may be killed, but hunters are not allowed to take dogs into the field.

New Mexico ranks among the highest states in illiteracy rate, according to Dr. L. R. Alderman of Washington, WPA's educational director, who left after traveling more than 1,000 miles in the state. In the United States, he said, more than a million adults have been taught to read and write by the WPA, but three and a half million remain illiterate. Right now, he said, the educational division is pushing a drive to reduce illiteracy before the 1940 census and in New Mexico it is planned to speed up the work to lower the rate before the time of the decennial census. Tom Popejoy, director of education, under the WPA, and V. Calkins, assistant director, discussed this plan with Alderman during his visit in the state but, he said, the details would have to be given out by them. "A man can read a newspaper in 100 lessons under our system," said Alderman. There are one and a half million adults in WPA classes at this time, he said, being taught by 35,000 teachers. The educational division's biggest difficulty, he added, is not in getting enrollment in classes, but in getting teachers.

Payroll, or Dole?

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

It makes a whale of a difference whether people are on the payroll or on the dole, and it makes just as much difference with livestock. It may be necessary, sometimes, to go on a "drouth" ration, doling out just enough food or feed to keep life in the animal, but neither man, beast nor fowl goes along on a bare "maintenance ration" without losing something that cannot be regained. If the ration is unbalanced the body must draw on its reserves for the deficiency elements, resulting in depleted vigor. If the ration is balanced—that is if it contains all the essentials—and is yet too skimpy, the result is worse, for it takes more to regain the loss than to hold normal growth in the first place.

Feed has only one purpose—to be fed. The worst possible disposition to make of it is to peddle it on a cash market for less than cost of production; the next most wasteful use of feed is to dole it out stingily or to feed it in the wrong way to the wrong kind of stock. It takes a certain amount of feed to keep up normal body functions, and unless more is fed and digested there will be no gains in weight, no eggs, or no milk.

It is especially important at this time to keep turkeys on a full balanced ration until they go to market, and laying hens must have what it takes to produce eggs during the next few months, when the price is best. If all the elements of a good ration are not produced on the farm—and it is seldom that they are—whatever is lacking must be purchased. The primary purpose of course is to sell home-grown feed to the best advantage, and the ration should be built around the feeds that are available. But it is not possible to get the best returns from any one kind of grain alone, from carbohydrate feeds alone, or from any other unbalanced combination.

There is no excuse for haphazard feeding methods when the information can be had from county agents or from bulletins of the agricultural colleges which enable the feeder to work out a ration which uses as much as practicable of home grown feeds, and yet get the best results from their use. Everyone now knows that a protein supplement makes corn or other carbohydrate grain go farther in pork production, and it is therefore economy to buy whatever is necessary rather than fatten hogs alone.

The same principle applies in every kind of livestock and poultry. Growing and laying mashers are used by every good turkey raiser and egg producer, according to the needs of the fowls. To withhold either quality or quantity in feed is to reduce the profits in the long run, even if at the moment it saves cash outlay.

In these short sketches it is impractical to discuss details, or to lay out rations for general use. Such a variety of feeds is grown in the Southwest that it would take a book to explain their uses with various types of animals and fowls, and for the several purposes of breeding, growing, fattening, and egg or milk production, for which livestock is kept. Every farmer must decide for himself how to best use his feed, and if he has not already learned how to figure a ration based on what he grows and the kind of livestock he has, he can secure the information by going to the right sources.

The F. F. A. boys and the 4-H Club boys are learning these things in their daily work under vocational agriculture teachers and county agents, and they have made proud records in livestock and poultry production, which their fathers may well emulate.

Rattlesnakes of New Mexico Are Hardy Customers

These New Mexico rattlesnakes are hardy customers, so Wayne Truett and David Clowe, Artesia youths, have concluded. Hunting Tuesday of last week, the opening day of the deer season, on the west side of the Carrizo Mountains, northeast of Carrizozo, they became lost in a snow storm.

The following day, back in the same territory, with snow patches still on the ground, they encountered a 7-foot rattlesnake, which they killed. However, it was rather sluggish.

Both of the boys killed spike bucks Saturday and young Clowe sprained his knee carrying his buck to the car, three miles away.

Sees Changes Both Here and at His Boyhood Home in the East

Emery Carper still likes to reminisce about a trip he and his sisters, Mrs. W. H. Ballard of Artesia and Mrs. Nelle Albert of Roswell, accompanied by Mrs. Carper, made back East last summer to the place of their birth and childhood, especially pointing out the contrasts both here and at Grand View, W. Va., today with the day forty-two years ago when they came West.

Those twelve miles when Emery Carper was a boy were over mountain trails and long. Today Rawley Court House has become the thriving little city of Beckley, with a population of 12,000. And from there to Grand View it is but a short drive over a paved scenic highway.

In these columns was related a few weeks ago about a rifle built by Mr. Carper's grandfather, Joseph Carper, in 1862, which the grandson managed to locate and purchase on the recent trip. Although he is proud of the gun, and he will demonstrate it to a visitor, Mr. Carper seems to prefer to point out on pictures the progress which has been made over the years. And he brought back a number of interesting photographs.

Enlarging on the question of highways, Mr. Carper mentioned the fact he and the party, in covering 5,800 miles, were on a dirt road for only ten miles on the entire trip, that in Texas. All the other roads were hard surfaced.

When the family left Grand View in 1888, tarrying at Iron Gate, W. Va., until 1896, when they came to the Pecos Valley, settling at Roswell, they came from backwoods to backwoods, Mr. Carper relates.

The trip East was made to attend a family reunion at Grand View, at which there were about 400 people, mostly relatives and many from West Virginia and Virginia. They met a number of relatives they had not seen since they were children and some they had never seen before.

Roswell at that time was the end of the railroad. Unknown to many persons, the Santa Fe was built from the south, not the north. The completion of the line to Clovis came later.

Charles Mac Knoedler, Joe Collier and Clyde Dungan, students at State College in Las Cruces, visited their home folks over the week end. Charles Mac and Joe returned to Las Cruces Sunday with Lamar, George and Herman Johnson, who were making the trip over to the Rio Grande Valley. Clyde returned by bus.

Mr. Carper drilled a water well twenty miles north of Roswell, ahead of the teams, when the railroad was extended.

Engineer's Job Too Dangerous, So He Becomes a Speed Flyer

Once upon a time there was a little boy in Corinth, Miss., who wanted to become a railroad engineer. But his parents said, no, railroading was too dangerous. So the boy decided to look for a career where he wouldn't have to risk his neck.

To dinner and they brought twenty other guys with them.

"And two were managing editors," Turner boasts.

Which only goes to show. That little boy was Roscoe Turner. He's just turned 43 and he's been following the profession of speed flying, probably as neck-risking a job as can be found, longer than any other human.

Turner's tightest squeeze came during the Thompson race of 1935. Here's how he tells it:

"I had a hunch something was going to go wrong. And I fly on hunches. On the day before the race I took my ship apart. It looked all right. But I couldn't sleep that night. I kept thinking that if I shed a wing, the braiding wires might fly back and take my head off."

Just a few weeks ago, Eddie Rickenbacker, who was America's ace aviator in the World War, declared that Turner had contributed more to the development of speed in aviation than any other man in the United States.

"In the morning I chased out to the airport and looked the ship over again. I could see that the wires couldn't hurt me. I could go over the side with my chute, all right. I found a spot and took a nap. Pretty soon my mechanic woke me up."

From his needle-pointed mustache to the lion he keeps as a pet, Turner is a showman. But he has a perfect right to his showmanship. He has seen speed merchants of the air come and go. Some have been killed at the dangerous game, some have retired to safer jobs.

"We took off. In a little while I was fifteen miles ahead of the field. I began telling myself that maybe my hunch was wrong. I had been loafing along. Now I opened the throttle. Fire flew from under the cowling. I pulled for altitude to jump."

He is the only man ever to have twice won aviation's richest award in competitive racing, the $22,000 Thompson trophy. Two other times he came within an ace of winning it. The judges, in those instances, ruled he had "cut" a pylon and cheated himself out of first money.

"Then I got to thinking. That airplane cost a lot of money. I'd land it. I kept watching for the flames to come through the fire wall behind the motor. But they didn't, and I got down all right, right in front of the grandstand."

He has been in the chips. He has been broke. Besides brushing with death a dozen times, he has spent $200,000 on speed planes in the last ten years.

Commander of the only American crew to finish the grueling London-to-Melbourne race in 1934, Turner also is one of the three men living who have won the Thompson classic. Five have died in crashes.

A year ago he was well nigh broke again. For a year, every dollar he could get his hands on seemed to fly right on to creditors. Turner was on the gloomy side. Then came a Thompson trophy with its $22,000; the Turner smile returned.

"Know what I'd like to do?" Turner asks wistfully. "I'd like to ride with the engineer of the Twentieth Century limited from New York to Chicago."

Essentially, Turner is one of those simple souls who loves to sit around the cracker barrel and spin yarns. He is unhappy when he can't get a dozen other people to eat with him. He beams like a small boy when someone asks him for an autograph.

Miss Ward Bride Of Harold Randle At Home Wedding

Miss Jacqueline Virginia Ward became the bride of Mr. James Harold Randle at a beautiful, quiet, home wedding at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Nov. 4. The nuptial vows were exchanged in the presence of the immediate members of the families and nearest friends. The Rev. W. B. McCrory, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, officiated at the lovely ring ceremony.

Tall white "mums" and colorful fall yucca berries were used in decorating the spacious home. White cathedral candles, burning in candleabra, shed forth a soft, mellow light. The bride was met at an improvised altar before the fireplace by the bridegroom, who was attended by his brother-in-law, T. Frank Murchison. Preceding the ceremony, Oldham Moore of Dexter sang "At Dawning," by Charles Wakefield Cadman, with Miss Ruth Bigler at the piano. During the ceremony, Miss Bigler played softly "To A Wild Rose," by MacDowell, and as the recessional, "The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin."

The bride was attractive in a smart copper colored costume suit with squirrel trim; her accessories were rust colored and she wore a corsage of tallsman roses.

Mrs. Randle is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Ward, one of the pioneer families of New Mexico. She received her high school education here, graduated from Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo., and spent two years at the University of Colorado at Boulder, where she was affiliated with the Phi Pi sorority. Mrs. Randle spent the summer of 1937 in Europe studying "Art and Folk Dancing" of the different European countries.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Randle of McAllen, Tex. He completed his high school work in Oklahoma City, attended the University of Oklahoma at Norman and graduated in engineering at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Tex. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity. Mr. Randle spent more than a year in Artesia and was connected with the Murchison & Clossitt Oil Corporation, returning to his home in McAllen last December.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, a well appointed reception was held. Mrs. Robert B. Rehn, sister of the bride, presided at the lace covered table from which the beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake was served with coffee and fruit cups.

Mr. and Mrs. Randle left for a motor honeymoon trip after the reception, going first to Oklahoma City and from there to points in Mexico. They will be at home in McAllen, Tex., where Mr. Randle is connected with the Murchison & Clossitt Oil Corporation.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mrs. Guy Reed Brainard, Jr., and small son, Stephen Ward, of Nome, Tex.; Mrs. Robert B. Rehn of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Whitcomb of Groesbeck, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Murchison of San Antonio, Tex., Mrs. Wendell Welch, who is spending the winter in San Antonio, Tex., and Oldham Moore of Dexter.

MRS. STORY HOSTESS AT THANKSGIVING LUNCHEON

One of the loveliest affairs of the fall season was a Thanksgiving luncheon and bridge with Mrs. J. M. Story hostess Wednesday afternoon. Miniature turkey place cards marked the places for five members of the Miercoles Bridge Club and seven club guests: Mmes. Jeff Hightower, Beecher Rowan, J. Hisie Myers, J. J. Clarke, Walter Nugent, Howard Williams, J. R. Attebery, Wallace Anderson, Hollis Watson, Lewis Story and C. R. Blocker, and Mrs. Stanley Blocker of Malaga. PAUL OTTS IN HOSPITAL

For no particular reason, maybe because it hasn't been done for a couple of months, the Old Ferret is prompted to peek out another kolum. Possibly it is because of the chuckle every time he thinks about the Spanish-American woman in Artesia, somewhat past middle age, and the wish to pass it on. The woman was being questioned in regard to a government loan on the property of the Senator, who "no sabe Anglaise."

"What," she was asked, "is the legal description of that land?"

She looked puzzled for a moment and then replied, "I don't know. I've only been living with that old man a few months?"

O, well skip it; it sounded funny at the time. This next one was filed from the classified column of an exchange:

FOR SALE — What was once a beautiful residence. Has been occupied for the past two years by a large family of destructive children. Will sell what is left for practically nothing — just $5,600. Hurry while the walls are still standing. Small down payment. Call 1600.

Here's another one which happened in Artesia. One of the newer social functions—one with a purpose—is the "Kidnapped Breakfast." The idea is for members of a committee to kidnap a designated number of women "as is" and transport, drag or drive them to the home of another, where breakfast is being served—for a consideration and to raise funds to furnish a room in the new hospital.

One of the committee members was having a bit of difficulty in rounding up enough of the gals, so she ups and kidnaps a man who, not to be outdone, went along, enjoyed the grub and provided plenty of early morning merriment.

Credit for this one goes to Al Droopsnot, conductor of "The Tower of Babbie" in The El Paso Times:

The week's worst joke, an old one:
A lady who had employed a Chinaman as cook asked him his name.

"Me name San Toy Lee," he said.
"As your name is too long," the lady replied, "I will call you John."
"All right," responded John.
"What's your name?"
"Mrs. Charlotte Anne Hemmaway," she told him.
"Your name too long," remarked John. "I call you Cholly."

Putting the scissors to work again, here is one credited to The Northwest Farmer:

Recently a would-be chicken fancier had some difficulty with her flock and wrote the following letter to the department of agriculture.

"Something is wrong with my chickens. Every morning when I come out I find two or three lying on the ground cold and stiff with their feet in the air. Can you tell me what is the matter?"

After a little while she received this answer from the department: "Dear Madam. Your chickens are dead."

Voice of Religion In Current News

Rev. Wheeler Declares All Faiths Have Common Enemy in World Today

(Talks and sermons on religion or of a religious nature, whether by clergymen or laymen, especially when they deal with the world today, are of common interest, provided they are non-sectarian and do not preach dogma of one faith as against another.

When such a talk or sermon is delivered in Artesia and contains a timely message as was given Sunday by the Rev. J. Vernon Wheeler, pastor of the Christian Church, it may be construed as news.

Following are excerpts from the Rev. Mr. Wheeler's sermon:)

All religious faiths have a common enemy today. Regardless of the titles they bear or the beliefs fostered, all religious life is challenged by a common foe which it must meet and conquer to maintain its life. If religion is to remain, it can be no longer a fight of one form of religion against another. Already Russia has excluded God from her borders, thus driving from that country all forms of religion. The time has already come in Germany when Roman Catholic, Jewish or Protestant religions are all challenged and not any single one, but all are threatened with extermination of life. All religion is gradually being forced out of these lands.

Do we want religion outlawed in our country? Some of the same forces and powers are at work in our fair land that have been and still are undermining the religious life of other lands.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones of the Methodist faith and who is well known in all of the religious world, said just a few days ago, "In view of conditions today, it is time for us to think together."

We may interpret Dr. Jones according to our individual thought, but it is already an established fact that whether they be of Roman Catholic, Jewish or Protestant belief, all are facing the danger of being driven from some countries or have already been excluded.

What of America? Surely it is time for the world to listen to the three momentous words of Jesus: "Come—Tarry—Go." Jesus said, "Come unto me . . . and I will give you rest. Tarry ye" in order that we might learn of Him, and receive strength, power, wisdom from Him. Then He said, "Go, go into all the world and tell others about me, not about anyone else or anything else, but about me."

Roger W. Babson, the great American statistician says: "The need of America is not more legislation, or better economics or new inventions, but greater adherence to religion."

Trees Shed, Re-leaf In Only 3 Days at Ragsdale Place

The erratic action of cold, coupled with the strange action of nature at times, caused a peculiar phenomenon last week at the home south of Artesia of W. E. Ragsdale, which he believes worthy of Ripley's "Believe It or Not."

Five of his sixty Chinese elms were affected by the cold Sunday night of last week, when there was a slight freeze, by Monday night practically all leaves were off, one tree began to bud again on Tuesday and by Wednesday night all five had new leaves. The growth by Sunday equaled a normal two-week growth in the spring. Not another tree was affected.

Several theories have been advanced as to the first step in the phenomenon, among which is the fact that cold, which frequently comes over at quite a height, but settles because warm air is lighter, will come to earth in a column in a very limited area.

It is quite possible this is what happened at the Ragsdale place, the more severe cold striking only the five trees, which are in a row, while it did not freeze severely enough in other parts of the yard to affect the other trees.

Not infrequently do trees re-bud, or even blossom, a second time in a season, but usually that comes about after several weeks of cold, during which they sleep as though the winter has passed, then come to life when unseasonable warm weather comes.

But the Chinese elms of Mr. Ragsdale lost no time in re-leafing. The trees may be seen, in full leaf, and rather somewhat smaller and richer green than the others, in a straight row just east of the drive at the Ragsdale home.

Uncle Sam Has Scruples About Christmas Mail

Uncle Sam has scruples that, violated, might cost an offender a century, or in the venacular, "100 berries." This is brought to the attention of the millions of people in this country as Christmas again approaches, for postmasters are warning that while the postal service will gladly carry a Christmas greeting anywhere within the country for 1/2 cents, inclusion of written messages in a parcel post package makes the sender liable to a substantial penalty.

Written cards in parcel post packages makes the package first class mail and any person doing this is liable to a fine of $100, a postal authority said.

"Under the postal regulations there may be inclosed with parcel post or fourth class matter a written invoice or bill, but the bill or invoice must not bear a reference to articles not enclosed or other extraneous matter."

"It is also permitted to enclose a card bearing a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not in the nature of personal correspondence."

Modern Display

Offering A Distinctive Neon Sign Service

This firm has developed and patented a new type of neon sign that has many advantages over the ordinary type seen throughout the country.

One of the greatest problems in constructing neon signs is to secure adequate insulation against the high voltage necessary to illuminate the neon vapor. In order to secure the proper insulation it was necessary in the ordinary type of neon sign to place the tubing away from the base of the sign for several inches. This detracted from the appearance of the sign and during the day time it was practically useless for these signs are usually invisible during daylight hours.

Mr. D. N. Estes, proprietor of the former Estes Neon Sign Co., and originator of this new sign, devised the idea of making the base of the sign of glass, thus offering perfect insulation and giving longer life to his signs. Also the letters of the sign are stamped into this glass base and painted. The glass neon tubing is then moulded and fitted into these letters.

The advantages of this new type of sign are many. They last longer. Most of us have noticed the flickering that sets up in the ordinary type of neon sign soon after its installation. This is due solely to insufficient insulation and in these new type signs this is entirely eliminated. Next they make more attractive displays during the day, since the letters in the glass base are painted. Then they are cheaper to operate.

These are only a few of the advantages offered by these signs, but sufficient even at that to cause any sensible buyer to prefer one.

For further details we suggest that you contact any of the members of Modern Display, located in Carlsbad at 310 South Canyon, Phone 96.

With store located in Carlsbad at 104-6 South Canyon and in Artesia at 121 West Main, with grocery department under the management of Mr. J. C. Jesse and dry goods department under Mr. W. Johnson, Jr., both of whom have many friends in this vicinity.

These stores long ago struck a popular chord of public approval by means of their ability to supply the finest in quality staple and fancy groceries, fruits, vegetables, fresh and cured meats, etc., at prices far below the average. The stock is well selected and at all times very complete.

In establishing these convenient stores, the management believed that the best possible way to gain the patronage of the people was to provide nothing less than high grade merchandise at the lowest possible prices. This policy has been followed consistently.

The management of the Joyce Fruit Stores is in the hands of competent and public spirited men, thoroughly familiar with all the complicated details of the business and we deem it proper that we commend this house of service upon the prominent position in the business world which it has attained as one of Eddy County's most valued assets.

New Kitchens Feature Modernized Lighting

By Jean Prentice

A modernized kitchen is one of the things many a woman yearns for, now that pumpkin pies and roast turkeys and all the trimmings are just around the corner. And one of the earliest ways to begin this modernizing is with an additional side light fixture or two.

In all but the tiniest of kitchens a single ceiling fixture is insufficient for good working light. Chances are that if you have only a ceiling light, you stand at your sink, table or range with the concentration of good light behind you, with your shadow falling on your work and slowing up your vision. Hence the need for side lights.

There are a number of ways to provide these, depending upon the condition of your pocketbook. One of the easiest and cheapest is the portable wall lamp. This can be hung as quickly as a picture, and its socket plugged in at the nearest electric outlet. In a breakfast nook, too, such a lamp can be used with nice effect, and there are many types of shades provided with these units.

Frequently in new kitchens the wiring has been planned so that permanent side fixtures can be installed above all the working areas. The shades of these fixtures should be dense enough to sift out glare and to distribute an abundance of smooth light.

Peek beneath the upper cupboards in some new kitchens and you will see another source of local work-light. Hugging the wall close beneath the cupboard are strung the new tubular bulbs. These are not visible to the eye when one is standing and working, but the light is there when it is needed.

In still other kitchens there's a lighted glass panel in the ceiling above the sink. This gives good lighting if the built-in box above the glass is large enough to accommodate bulbs of adequate size.

Purely for beauty and decoration is the use of a glass or plastic wall between the upper cupboard and the top of the lower one, with colored lights shining through. The colors are easily changed at the flip of a switch.

Two from Eddy to Attend 4-H Club Congress, Chicago

Enid Porter and Harold Bradshaw Among Seven in State Going Nov. 25

Eddy County will be represented, as well as other New Mexico counties at the National Club Congress held in Chicago Nov. 25 through Dec. 4. Seven 4-H Club boys and girls from the state are to attend.

Enid Porter of Eddy County will appear in the National 4-H dress revue. She won first place in the state style revue at the state 4-H Club encampment at State College in August.

Two boys and one girl will go to Chicago as winners of the three trips sponsored by the Santa Fe Railroad. These club members have done outstanding work in poultry and livestock projects. Harold Bradshaw of Eddy County, Alta Lou McDaniel of Curry County and Charles Schmid of Chaves County are to make the trip.

The state winner of the national 4-H canning contest is Nitha Fisher of Colfax County, who has been a very active 4-H Club member since 1932. She has completed fourteen projects, four of which have been canning.

Evelyn Pate of Roosevelt County will make the trip to Chicago as state winner of the national 4-H food preparation contest. She has completed eleven projects in the last five years.

Frances McCan of Luna County will represent New Mexico as state winner of the national 4-H Club record contest. Miss McCan has been a leading club member in her community since 1933 and has completed eight projects, including a gardening and dairy calf project.

War Preparation Is Costing World Twenty Billions

The Rev. Henry S. Stout, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as guest speaker at the weekly meeting of Rotary Tuesday noon, said the world, twenty years after the armistice, is preparing for war at a cost which may reach twenty billion dollars this year and even more in 1939.

Speaking on "International Friction Is Economically Costly to

All," the Rev. Mr. Stout asked, "What are Rotarians, youth and others doing to relieve the situation?"

The speaker, referring to the recent war scare in Europe, said that in totalitarian and democratic countries alike the economic structure is burdened by the staggering cost of the arms race, which has blotted out the bright hopes and expectations of Nov. 11, 1918, when the World War ended twenty years ago. Many foreign nations are devoting nearly 50 per cent of their national budgets to the arms bill out of current revenue, he declared.

During the strife of late September and early October, the Rev. Mr. Stout pointed out, stocks in this country reflected every move in Europe, going down when war seemed certain, up when peace loomed.

GUARDING YOUR LOVED ONES

A marvelous contribution by Medical Science, to the happiness of the average household, has been made in modern Health Education.

Fathers take more systematic care of their own health, and check up periodically, either with the family physician or through the Life Insurance Examiner.

Happier Mothers, whose physical well-being is looked after with understanding before, during and after the coming of the children.

Children who are fed, clothed, exercised and generally reared with an adequate appreciation of the value of good health.

Have you been keeping up with what this kind of "guarding" is doing for the nation? Years of activity and health are being added to human life.

From every standpoint it is well worth your while to guard your health.

WORLD NEWS BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Texas may still carry pistols and use them if they are being chased by wild Indians, says Judge Grover Adams of the Dallas County Criminal District Court, Dallas. Judge Adams explained this ancient statute, written in the '60's, really did no harm as there were no wild Indians in Texas, but the fact the ancient law remained in force illustrated the oddities of Texas' criminal regulations. He said this and scores of other worn-out codes should be repealed and the statutes modernized to relieve Texas law books of acts long out of date.

Two pretty young waitresses in a Carlyle, Ill., restaurant—Beulah Hoggman and Ione Fink—banked $180 each the other day after a "tipping duel" between two wealthy Texas oil operators. After eating meals costing less than one dollar each, one of the men offered to double any tip his friend left. The "pot" opened at $50 and ended with $360 on the table.

Texas pensioners will receive in November 113,836 checks totaling $1,573,555 and averaging $13.80, the old age commission announced. Officials said all checks will have been mailed by Nov. 15. The November roll includes 44 fewer persons than that of October.

At the very moment you read this, fire engines are dashing with screaming sirens to someone's burning home. Every two minutes somewhere in America, this dramatic tragedy will be reenacted. So it goes, twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year. Every two minutes a home catches fire.

Enroute by rail, Detective John Abrams walked through a special train in Pennsylvania carrying 1,400 returning high school football fans when it stopped at a station. "If any of you took anything which didn't belong to you from any place in Harrisburg," he announced, "just lay it beside you on the seat and I'll be back in about five minutes." When Abrams returned he picked up beer mugs, salt and pepper shakers, false faces, women's underwear, glue and red ink.

Police at Richmond, Va., are looking for a suspect in three-cornered pants on whom to pin the guilt as an accessory in their latest puzzle—the "diaper case." Wesley L. Underhill of Petersburg reported the theft. He said 16 pairs of diapers and three baby dresses were taken from his automobile.

Tax collectors are going to collect this fall, especially on Saturdays. Because of the recent Supreme Court ruling that football is not an essential educational activity, football games are pouring thousands of dollars into the federal treasury each Saturday from the 10 per cent tax on each ticket of more than 40 cents. Experts estimate the government will collect $50,000 on a good Saturday—and a "good Saturday" is one of which approximately 500,000 spectators pass through the stadium turnstiles.

Sometimes coppers are "fall guys," as witness recent situations at such widely separated places as Austin, Tex., and Baltimore, Md. At Austin, Traffic Officer A. E. Garrison drove the traffic patrol car cruising for traffic violators. "Move over to the curb," he was commanded sternly by Tom Beasley and Brian Coyne, employees of the Austin American-Statesman. "What do you mean by riding around without a tail light?" the reporters demanded of the embarrassed traffic officer. He looked at the police car and found its tail light burned out. They filed a traffic court complaint against Garrison. A Baltimore officer didn't have any assistance from smart reporters. But when Traffic Court Magistrate John Rutherford, handed a charge slip by a policeman, called out the name, "Ernest D. Dunnigan." "That's me," said the officer. "You?" asked the magistrate. "Where's the complaining witness?" "That's me, too," said Dunnigan, explaining he smacked into the rear of an automobile when it stopped suddenly in front of him. "Well," said the magistrate, "I think the accident was unavoidable and I'll dismiss the reckless driving charge." While at Cincinnati, Harriet Brown, 26, a Negress, disagreed with police when she was charged with shooting with intent to kill Bud Brown, a bartender. "I wasn't shooting with intent to kill," she said. "I was shooting with intent to scare."

LITTLE DAMAGE IN TWO BLAZES HERE

The fire department responded to alarms last Thursday afternoon and Friday morning, but neither fire did much damage.

An outbuilding of the Chic Sale variety burned at the Fuller home in the north part of town shortly before 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The fire Friday morning was confined to a woodpile on East Grand Avenue at the Dougan Traylor home.

Legend Attributes Spiraling Choir Stairs at Santa Fe to St. Joseph

Colorful legend touches the mechanically unique stairway that reaches in five spiraling turns to the high loft in Our Lady of Light Chapel at Loretto Academy in Santa Fe.

Tourist artisans who have the rare chance of seeing the stairway's intricate construction—without nails and without support—pronounce it a marvel of combined beauty and strength.

The legend attributes the work to St. Joseph, who is the wonder worker of all convents and religious houses.

Several of the sisters, who as girls, were attending school at the academy when the chapel was being built, tell of the work being discontinued because of the difficulty encountered in the great height of the choir loft and in placing the stairway so that it would not take up so much space, which was very limited.

The sisters had prayed for divine guidance, and after many months an elderly man, with gray hair and a white beard, dressed as a workman, came to the convent and inquired about the delay. The difficulty was explained to him. Immediately he drew up the plans for the staircase, and after getting the work well under way, but without receiving any compensation or making himself known to the sisters, the carpenter disappeared. To this day, after sixty-five years, the sisters explain, no one has ever received or denied the honor paid St. Joseph.

Fake Injuries May Fool Docs, Not Geometry

An industrial malingeringer who fakes stiff joints in order to collect compensation, can fool doctors, but he can't fool geometry.

The geometry snare is explained to the American Medical Association by Charles Murray Gratz, M. D., of Columbia University. The only tools are a yardstick, paper, pencil and grammar school skill in measuring angles.

In comes a patient alleging one leg shortened by industrial injury. It is not too difficult, Dr. Gratz says, for a person to limp realistically.

He has the patient lie down, both legs stiff, one flat on the table, the other lifted in the air. In this position the legs form a triangle. The distance between the two feet, while one is above the other, is the base.

The angles the legs respectively form with this base give the length of each leg.

What the malingeringer can't do, under this test, is to shorten his leg twice in succession to exactly the same length. The angles are more accurate than his powers of deception.

Likewise a stiff elbow or shoulder is found by measuring the angle which a person is able to make drawing his hand upward behind his back. If he is faking he fails to repeat exactly, but the real stiffened joint repeats.

At this hotel "Guest is King," meaning that when you register your name as a guest here, they are at your service as long as you wish to stay—be it just over night or for months. They have in connection a modern Coffee Shop where you will find foods well cooked, wholesome and deliciously appetizing. The prices are very reasonable. Waterfowl Back on Production

More ducks than sportsmen have seen since 1929 are now southbound. Top, a pair of blacks, or black mallard, the rarest of all. This is one of the most popular species east of the Mississippi. Middle, a baldpate, or American widgeon, coming back in large numbers from along the Pacific Flyway. Bottom, broadbill or big bluebill, a favorite of open water. Plentiful again as the duck depression ends.

The ducks are coming! Winged proof that wildlife restoration pays is right now ready to move southward and eastward over the great air highways of North America. The prospects are for a bigger flight than any year since 1929 along all of the four main routes of migration, Pacific, Central, Mississippi and Atlantic, declares Jay N. (Ding) Darling, former chief of the Bureau of the Biological Survey. A special story by Mr. Darling continues:

A million sportsmen, and more millions to whom the pattern of hurrying flocks against the autumn sky is of greater import any day than roast canvasback and burgundy, are bearing testimony to the rightness of the Biological Survey's wildfowl program.

In 1933, extinction of the ducks, geese and brant of North America was a dire likelihood. Wildlife goes swiftly through the last stages of doom. Within ten years, the passenger pigeon went from millions to zero. In 1871, buffalo spread over the Western plains in dense herds for thousands of miles, their numbers beyond the ken of man. In 1883, the last band was wiped out.

For years, legal protection for the buffalo was demanded, and denied. Hunters, the wise old-timers, said: "There's still plenty of buffalo; they've just taken another route."

The route they took was to oblivion. To those of us who had the facts, gathered by hard-working technicians of the Bureau of Biological Survey, it seemed to be folly to adopt the advice of either one of the two courses which were chiefly advocated. We might have given the over-optimistic gunners their way, and by continuing the liberal shooting seasons and bag limit put an end to all duck hunting in a very short time. Or the urgent appeal of extremists might have been heeded, and all waterfowl hunting prohibited. Neither proposal seemed either practical or necessary.

To prohibit all shooting would leave the grounds open to the outlaw, with no duck stamp funds for patrol, and would alienate the sportsman who, once blind instinct is overcome by practical methods, can be a valuable conservation ally.

The hunting season was restricted by regulations which left a margin of surplus from the season's breeding production, and the critical job of preserving seed stock began. At the same time, was launched, in the face of staggering political obstructionism, the program of breeding ground restoration that is now yielding returns.

Rules Relaxed Improved water conditions in most of the breeding areas in the United States greatly helped in turning out the 1938 crop of wildfowl. From practically all observers in the north and west have come enthusiastic reports. That these were based on actualities was demonstrated when the Bureau of Biological Survey announced the wildfowl hunting regulations—an extension of from 30 to 45 days in the most prominent in this part of New Mexico. Its plant is modern and up-to-date in every particular; clean and sanitary throughout. The business is conducted along progressive lines and we are proud to say that it is a credit to the Pecos Valley.

Their brands of excellent meats are known not only in Roswell, but throughout this part of the country. The dealer has come to know that when he sells their "Valley Brand" products patrons come back for more of the same kind and the high quality of their meats has served to increase many dealers' trade. Once the customer uses this brand no other will satisfy them.

The public thus is assured of wholesale packing house products right here at home and of the very highest grade. Thus, the Pecos Valley Packing Co. merits your consideration and the liberal support both of the farmers and the public.

The management has been closely allied with the large business state for some time and has been instrumental in the upbuilding of this section of the country and the Pecos Valley Packing Co. should receive patronage of the entire people.

Roswell Cotton Oil Co.

Roswell's Most Popular Trading Center

This mammoth family of department stores keeps a staff of buyers constantly in the biggest markets of production, buying and paying cash for their goods which the business of their hundreds of stores must have.

When you have made comparisons you will have been impressed that quality-for-quality, and dollar-for-dollar, the values at Sears-Roebuck and Co. are indisputably superior, and that this is not occasionally, but every day of the year.

Sears-Roebuck and Co.'s store in Roswell is located at 118 West Third St., under the management of Mr. J. H. Hazeltine, who has made many friends in this vicinity. You will always find him and his personnel friendly and accommodating and doing their utmost to please.

Sears-Roebuck and Co. safeguard the interests of their customers in five ways: They buy right in the beginning, eliminate middleman's profit, frequently taking the entire output of a factory; They demand reliable standards and materials, and last, but not least, bring the producer and consumer in closer touch with each other and give the benefit of this contact to both.

Here is no high selling costs, no larger dealer's profits, no salesman's commissions. They distribute from the factory and guarantee unconditionally all merchandise sold by them against defects in material and workmanship. Due to the tremendous buying power, special concessions by the manufacturer make it possible for them to put before you values that you cannot afford to overlook.

Rural residents find it particularly convenient to shop here since their stock embraces such a large number of complete lines, and we wish to call the attention of our readers to this great store where savings are greatest every day, and commend the manager, Mr. Hazeltine, for his untiring efforts to provide the people with the most efficient and courteous service possible.

other injuries resulted from the game.

While Lovington excelled the local gridders in first downs and yardage gained, the Bulldogs hurled them backwards many times for large losses. Artesia also completed more passes than the Wildcats and averaged higher in punt yardage.

The seven points made by Lovington in this game are the most any team has scored against the Bulldogs this season. Coach Joe Greco has been drilling the team in blocking and tackling the last week in readiness for the Armistice clash with the Portales eleven. This game will be at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening on City Park field. The Portales team beat New Mexico Military Institute last week 19 to 6. And last year the Rams beat the Artesia Bulldogs 42 to 0.

Plan Eucharistic Congress in State During Centennial

To Be Near Bernalillo May 21-23, 1940, at Coronado Monument

Archbishop Rudolph A. Gerger, spiritual leader of New Mexico's thousands of Catholics, after a conference with Coronado Cuarto Centennial officials announced New Mexico will be the scene of a major Eucharistic Congress in 1940.

The Coronado State Monument, located across the Rio Grande from Bernalillo, has been chosen as the site for the high church ceremony, which will be held on May 21-23. The last day of the congress will be of added significance to the many attending the solemn ceremonies, being Corpus Christi Day. "High church dignitaries will attend the Eucharistic ceremonies," said Archbishop Gerger. The co-operation of Catholic leaders throughout the area traversed by the Coronado expedition in 1540-42 insured a large attendance from Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, as well as many pilgrims from the entire nation.

Coronado Centennial leaders announced that plans are being drawn to provide housing accommodations for those attending the congress. Facilities in nearby cities as well as an especially erected city are to be provided, it was said. The broad expanse of mesa surrounding the Coronado monument at Bernalillo will provide ample space for the ceremony, as well as camping facilities for the many hundreds of Indians who will attend such an occasion.
