Coronado Cuarto Centennial Club Formed Here As Celebration Pageant Is Assured

Fred Cole Is Elected President at Meeting Here Friday — Historic Affair to be Staged During May, 1940.

Definitely Artesia will be one of two dozen New Mexico cities to have a pageant of the coming of Coronado in 1940 as part of the Coronado Cuarto Centennial, it was decided at a meeting here Friday afternoon, when a Coronado Club was formed.

Fred Cole was named president of the organization, which will sponsor Artesia's part in 1940, which will be a national celebration.

Elected to work with Mr. Cole were: Vice president, W. E. Kerr; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. R. Blocker; financial chairman, C. J. Dexter; publicity chairman, Pot Bert.

An executive committee, it was decided, will be selected from the various civic organizations and churches in Artesia. Each group in the city is to be represented, except secret-fraternal organizations, those present at the meeting Friday in the Chamber of Commerce rooms decided.

Each of the several groups is to name its member of the board before Thursday, Dec. 8, when a meeting has been called by Mr. Cole for 7 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The meeting was in charge of Jack Vandermeyer, assistant director of the Coronado Cuarto Centennial, who told the Coronado Club organizers President Roosevelt, in conference a few days ago with Dr. James F. Zimmerman and Director Herbert O. Brayer of the centennial, expressed fullest support of the plans for the 1940 celebration in New Mexico and said he was thoroughly in accord with a federal appropriation of $200,000 to support the program.

The program, Vandermeyer explained, has been made and put on its feet by the support expressed by the president.

The national program, Vandermeyer said, is to improve the national monuments within the borders of New Mexico and to improve approach roads to them, in order to make the monuments more readily accessible to tourists.

The aid of the Forest Service, WPA and CCC were seen following the conference, Vandermeyer said.

In connection with perfecting of the local group, it took upon its shoulders the task of obtaining local funds by means of memberships in the Coronado Cuarto Centennial.

Membership to the Coronado Club, Vandermeyer explained, was extended to all who wished to join, through moral, physical or financial aid.

But, he pointed out, the organization must strive to sell memberships in the state-wide organization: $100 for sustaining, $10 to $69 for contributing and $5 for booster memberships.

The funds raised, Vandermeyer said, will be used, in part, in placing before the next legislature the proposition of an appropriation of $200,000 for the 1940 celebration. (continued on page 5, column 1)

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS HAVE BEEN STRUNG
After Thanksgiving comes Christmas. And Artesia has taken on the appearance of Christmas, with the light strings in place across Main Street and First Street.
About 2,700 colored lights were used on more than a mile of wires.
Work began Monday stringing them up and they probably will be lighted Thanksgiving evening for the first time, to remain on every evening until after Christmas.
The next step will be for the merchants to decorate their stores and place on display their Christmas merchandise, which probably will be done within the next few days.
And the last step by way of making Artesia a well-decorated Christmas city will be for individuals to decorate their homes and yards.

Spanish-American Youths Held on Forgery Charges

Two Bound to District Court—Third Booked as Juvenile Case

Three Spanish-American youths were held last Thursday by Judge W. H. Ballard, justice of the peace, on charges of forgery.

Two Jesus Navaretta and Frank Benavidez, entered pleas of guilty and were bound over to the District Court. Both were taken to the county jail in Carlsbad by Babe Campbell, deputy sheriff, to await trial, in default of bonds of $750.

The third, Sotero Fierro, a minor, was held in jail here to await arraignment in juvenile court before Judge J. B. McGhee.

Navaretta was arrested Nov. 13 by J. C. Floore, constable, at his home on Mexican Hill, on charges of forging checks on Ensevio Soso. Benavidez, also arrested by Mr. Floore, was charged with forgery, it being alleged he cashed a check for $19.97 at the Joyce Fruit Stores bearing the forged name of James Norris.

Fierro, it is alleged, cashed a forged check for $22.45 bearing the name of Mr. Norris, at the J. C. Penney Company store here Nov. 12.

Ripley, Believe It Or Not, Terms the Caves Wonder No. 1

Famous Cartoonist Makes Underground Trip on Saturday

The man who probably has run down, seen and catalogued, as well as pictured, more oddities than any other who ever lived—Robert L. (Believe It or Not) Ripley—Saturday termed the Carlsbad Caverns "the most remarkable thing I have ever seen."

After a trip through the underground wonderland, Ripley wrote in a book of Col. Thomas Boles, superintendent: "Carlsbad Caverns—which makes dying futile—certainly the heavens above are not more beautiful than the heavens below."

"I have been in 198 lands," said Ripley, "and I have drawn one cartoon a day for 20 years about strange facts and unusual scenes, and I can truly say the Carlsbad Cavern is the most awesome sight I have ever seen."

"I have always named the Grand Canyon of Arizona as the greatest sight I have ever witnessed, but from today on I will name the Carlsbad Cavern."

"The Giant Dome of Carlsbad Cavern, a masterpiece of delicate carving done in total darkness, will always stand out in my mind as a real wonder of the world."

"I have witnessed and participated in many ceremonies throughout the world, but until today I had never experienced anything so profoundly impressive as the simple ceremony held daily at the base of the Rock of Ages."

Purdy Buys Everett Stock; To Close Out

Will Purdy of Roswell, former owner of the Purdy Furniture Store in Artesia which he sold to Everett Brothers in November, 1937, has repurchased the store and intends to close out the stock and fixtures.

As the building in which the store is located has been rented, Everett Brothers decided to sell and Mr. Purdy must close out by Jan. 10.

A big sale has been announced by Mr. Purdy, an ad for which appears elsewhere in this issue. Eugene and William Everetts, former owners, both intend to move to California.

Ray Bartlett Kills Biggest Six-Point Buck, Weighing 180

Raymond Bartlett reported the largest buck of six points or less killed during the hunting season to Brainard-Corbin Hardware Company, which offered as a prize a 7x7-foot floored range tent. Mr. Bartlett's buck, a 6-point, weighed 180 pounds drawn.

The second largest eligible buck, weighing 167 pounds, was killed by Paul Whitted.

About forty bucks were weighed in at the hardware store, but many others were taken there. However, hunters who realized their deer weighed less than the 180-pounder did not bother to record the weight.

Bucks having more than six points were not eligible under the terms laid down by Brainard-Corbin.

Roswell Defeats Bulldogs 13 to 0 Here Last Friday

Coyotes Fight Way Through Swirling Mass of Wind and Gridders

The Roswell Coyotes fought their way through a swirling mass of wind the Bulldog gridders last Thursday night here to score at two intervals to win over the local Bulldogs 13-0. This marked the last home game of the season for Artesia.

In the initial stanza, Roswell took the kick-off from Artesia and, after fighting their way to the Bulldog 20-yard line, fumbled and Artesia recovered.

Unable to make any headway, Artesia punted against the wind, the ball going out of bounds on their own 32. Taking possession of the ball at this point of vantage and with the wind to their backs, the Coyotes drove over the goal line for a touchdown. Bryant kicked the pigskin between the uprights for the extra point.

The first quarter ended as Artesia kicked off to the Roswell 30-yard line. From this point, the Coyotes staged a series of spectacular runs which put the ball on Artesia's 15-yard line before the Bulldog line could hold. Here Artesia took the ball on downs but made only small gains and the Bulldogs were soon forced to punt, the ball going out on their own 45. The Coyotes then advanced down the field to the Bulldog 5-yard line (continued on last page, column 2)

Old Pecos Valley Stagecoach Driver Found Easy Time, Roswell to Carlsbad, in 1890's

It's not every day nowadays that an old-time stagecoach driver drops into a modern newspaper office. In fact, it's a rarity. But such was the experience the other day of The Advocate, when George Needham, who directed his horses over part of the old Chisum Trail, and the whole Pecos Valley from Roswell to Carlsbad, in the early 1890's, called to "pay up."

George—that's what a fellow gets to calling Mr. Needham after about five minutes—had no idea when he called that he was potential "fodder" for printers' ink.

In fact, he was somewhat reluctant to pose for the accompanying photograph, but the fact he cracked a blacksnake over his horses' those many years ago prompted a brace of staff members to stay with him.

Mr. Needham, it was learned, drove the old mail hack from Roswell to Carlsbad, beginning in 1892 and winding up New Year's Day, 1894.

He employed five changes of horses for the trip, using only a team of two at a time.

His dinner station, "goin' and comin'," was at the old Stagman ranch at what is now the north edge of Artesia, the ranch house of which still stands. At that time, George said, that was all there was here; there was no town of Artesia. There was an old spring at the Stagman place, which still flows.

Mail was not the only thing Needham carried. He also was responsible for passengers and ex-

Bill Anderson Is Injured in Car Accident

Bill Anderson of Artesia was injured, not seriously, and the automobile he was driving for the Artesia Auto Company was demolished about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning between White's City and Carlsbad, when a tire blew out and the car overturned several times.

He was taken to Dr. Austin's Clinic in Carlsbad, where he remained Wednesday morning.

Mr. Anderson, taken Monday to El Paso by C. M. Houk and J. R. Attebery of the Artesia Auto Company to get some new Fords, was making the return trip in a 1938 standard. Mr. Houk and Mr. Attebery were driving the new cars.

It was erroneously reported about town Tuesday that Mr. Attebery was in the accident. However, he did not start for Artesia until later in the day and did not know of the wreck until he arrived home.

Annual Red Cross Roll Call Is Going Well Over the Top

Artesia's Response So Far Surpasses Entire North Eddy Last Year

With midnight Thursday as the deadline and outlying districts yet to be heard from, the 1938 Red Cross roll call for North Eddy County is going over the top, both as to memberships and total funds raised, it was reported Wednesday morning by C. J. Dexter, roll call chairman.

So far, Mr. Dexter said, both memberships and funds in Artesia surpass the totals for the whole area last year during the entire drive.

Mr. Dexter highly complimented the Woman's Club and American Legion Auxiliary, members of which made a house-to-house canvass in Artesia with gratifying success.

As to the outlying districts, Mr. Dexter said he understands the committees are doing splendid work. He wishes them to take advantage of the full allotted roll call period in order to complete their drive.

Anyone who has not been contacted by roll call workers, still may sign up throughout the rest of this week, Mr. Dexter said, even though the national roll call period, which began on Armistice Day, ends on Thanksgiving.

Van S. Welch left Tuesday for Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the Red River Refining Company. Mr. Welch expects to return about the first of December.

Mrs. M. Corbin, Noted Musician Dies Nov. 23

Death of Prominent Artesia Woman of Heart Disease — Services Are to be Here at 2 O'clock Friday.

Mrs. Mark A. Corbin, Sr., a resident of Artesia the last thirty-one years and one of the leaders in music circles and music culture in the Pecos Valley, as well as a prominent club woman, died at her home at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Her death was from heart disease. Mrs. Corbin suffered a heart attack about six weeks ago, since when she was in critical condition.

Funeral services will be from the Episcopal Church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. F. B. Howden, Jr., rector. Burial will be in Woodbine Cemetery.

There survive Mrs. Corbin her husband, their son, Andy Corbin, Jr., at home, and a sister, Mrs. G. R. Brainard of Artesia.

As Lu Eyck, a daughter of Austin and Emily Maria Eyck, Mrs. Corbin was born at Cokesberry, N. J. She married Mr. Corbin June 7, 1905, at Galesburg, Ill., and to them was born the son mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Corbin came in the fall of 1907 to Artesia, where Andy Corbin, Jr., was born and where they have made their home since.

Mrs. Corbin, who was identified with every public movement of any importance in Artesia and the Pecos Valley for many years, was especially prominent as a musician and vocal teacher, as which she was very successful.

She graduated from Knox Conservatory of Music, Galesburg, Ill., after which she taught music at Salida, Colo., where she met Mr. Corbin. Later Mrs. Corbin returned to Galesburg for graduate work in music and studied in Chicago under private teachers.

Her "pet" musical activity was direction of the Artesia Choral Club, which, for a number of years until recent years, each Christmas presented an annual concert as a musical offering to the community.

In her club work Mrs. Corbin was identified with music also, for she served several years as state chairman of music of the New Mexico Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Mrs. Corbin was a past president of the third district of the same organization. She was one of the first presidents of the Artesia Woman's Club, which was organized thirty-four years ago.

She was particularly active in the Episcopal Church and the Guild. Mrs. Corbin was quite active in the P. E. O.

Official Election Returns Are Given

The complete official election returns for Eddy County are published elsewhere in this issue in tabulated form.

They are substantially as given unofficially two weeks ago, except that independent candidates also are listed.

Throughout New Mexico the returns likewise were found officially to be about as originally announced.

The constitutional amendment No. 5 proposition passed both in Eddy County and the state.

Survey Shows Weekly Payroll Here $30,000

Green, Chamber Secretary, Reports to Rotary — Incomplete Figures Give Total Number of Employees About 1,000.

The weekly payroll in Artesia is about $30,000, according to an incomplete survey being made by Arba Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, he reported at the weekly Rotary luncheon-meeting Tuesday noon.

With a few businesses yet to be contacted, including several oil companies, Mr. Green's total was $27,468. "The figure will pass the thirty-thousand mark, with more than 1,000 employees," he said.

A break-down of the figures, as far as carried Tuesday by Mr. Green, showed the following numbers of employees and payrolls, by classifications:

Oil companies, 185 employees, $7,866.55; refining companies, 95 employees, $3,635; garages and service stations, 127 employees, $3,319; groceries and markets, 46 employees, $1,095.

Laundries (including help-yourself) and cleaners, 29 employees, $485; barber and beauty shops, 18 employees, $372; restaurants, 47 employees, $512; public schools, 42 employees, $1,100; WPA, 116 employees, $1,800; miscellaneous, $7,284.

The Rotary Club, it was voted, will furnish a room at the new City Hospital. W. Leslie Martin, president, appointed the following committee to find ways and means: C. J. Dexter, chairman; A. P. Mahone, Lewis Story, V. D. Bolton and Arba Green.

Ed West, scoutmaster of troop 8, reported the need of more troops in Artesia. Although neither troop 8 nor troop 28 has a full enrollment, Mr. West said, there are many eligible boys not being reached.

He cited the rural boys and Spanish-Americans, who are in need of scouting. Many phases of Boy Scout work apply to the rural boy, who is being deprived of the advantages offered.

The president appointed a committee, the same group which served last year, to take care of Christmas candies for the boys and girls and to provide a tree for Main Street, as follows: Don Marshall, Boone Barnett, Eugene Everetts, V. D. Bolton and Charles Gaskin.

An invitation was received from the El Paso Rotary Club for an inter-city meeting there Thursday evening, Dec. 15.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS CLUB CONTINUES TO FUNCTION

The Young Democrats Club of Artesia is continuing to function since the election, nearly doubling its membership since election day. It is planned to call a general club meeting in the near future to discuss plans for a social function.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frisch will have as their Thanksgiving guests their daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Chunn of White Deer, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Johnson of Groom, Tex.

ENDORSEMENT BY ARTESIA'S MAYOR

Artesia is a community of homes and any campaign which has as its theme, "Protect the Home," is assured the whole-hearted support of all.

To protect homes from the shattering tragedy caused by tuberculosis is the aim of the Christmas seal campaign.

It, therefore, gives me great pleasure to endorse Christmas seals as a method of raising funds for the fight against tuberculosis and I urge everyone to cooperate in this campaign. I hope everybody will buy as many seals as possible and that every greeting card going forth from our community will carry the double-barred cross Christmas seal, showing that Artesia, New Mexico, is doing its part to eradicate tuberculosis.

H. G. Watson, Mayor.

"No Indian trouble," George said. But, he added, Old Seven Rivers, before he came to Eddy County from Coleman County, Texas, in 1891, was a "mighty rowdy place." A number of men, George admitted, were buried there with their boots on—before his advent.

"Yes," he said, "Seven Rivers was a rip-roaring town, the worst of its day. But," he added, "that was in the old days, before I came."

SHOULD PERMIT USE OF SHALLOW WELLS

Ignorance of the law is no excuse, according to the old saying, but there are times when the person overstepping the law deserves consideration. Such is the case in regard to valley farmers and ranchers who have been enjoined from using their water wells which were drilled after a restraining law was passed in 1931.

Under the law, no one was permitted to drill a shallow well without a permit from the state engineer. But many farmers and ranchers, knowing nothing of the law, or thinking it applied only to Artesian wells, went ahead with their drilling in order to improve their places, and then were restrained last year from using them.

Those fellows are not deliberate law breakers. They are good citizens, who paid good money for their ranches or farms and who are interested only in improving them to the benefit of themselves and the community. They drilled the wells in good faith.

It seems that they should be allowed to use those wells. We understand the shallow water did not decrease with the use of the additional wells prior to the restraining order.

The state legislature should pass a bill when it convenes in January making legal all water wells, where needed, which were drilled after the passage of the bill in 1931 and before the restraining order.

Such a bill will be given careful consideration if all ranchers and farmers interested speak up, individually and as a body, making their voices heard in Santa Fe. Lay the facts before the legislators, write letters, send telegrams and lobby if necessary, but get together.

The new bill, of course, should prohibit further drilling without permission, but those affected probably will know better in the future, for they now are conscious of the present law.

THE CHRISTMAS CANDLE OF HEALTH

"How far that little candle throws its beams." This well known speech of Portia's in "The Merchant of Venice" well applies to the theme on the 1938 Christmas seal. And the second line may be changed to read: "So shines this little symbol for a healthier world."

The pleasant custom of lighting a candle in the window on Christmas Eve has come down through the ages and the mother with her two children on this year's seal links that seasonal ritual with the idea of family and home. The message of the seal is "Protect your home from tuberculosis." To carry out the suggestion of earlier days the three characters are costumed in the formal style of the Victorian era, the period when "Home" was idealized and holiday customs meant much to old and young alike.

The health situation in those days, however, was in a sorry state. That is why it is well to realize, as we buy and use our 1938 Christmas seals, that we are living in an age when modern methods and intelligent cooperation have completely revolutionized health conditions in our country. In the middle nineteenth century, for example, people did not even know that tuberculosis was contagious. Although Dr. Robert Koch, a German physician, had discovered the germ that causes the disease in 1882, it was many years before the public learned the way infection spreads. In homes of those days any one who had consumption was considered doomed to death—he was kept indoors and watched over resignedly by his sorrowing family. When other members broke down with the "wasting sickness" they never realized they had been infected by the coughing victim—they believed tuberculosis was inherited. The treatment prescribed then by the best physicians was exercise or an ocean voyage, plus many tonics.

In 1885 Dr. Edward L. Trudeau established modern sanatorium treatment of tuberculosis in this country and rest became recognized as all-important. Today we have advanced still further and through the tuberculin test and X-ray are able to detect tuberculosis in its early stages, when cure in most cases may be effected.

We are privileged indeed to be living in this healthier world. The death rate from tuberculosis, for years the leading cause of death, has been cut more than two-thirds since the turn of the century. Each year finds the public better informed in the need for prevention. Yet tuberculosis still takes more lives than any other sickness during the ages between 15 and 45 years. Until that important group of people have been protected, the educational work of the Christmas seal must be continued.

The little candle on the 1938 Christmas seal throws its beams far out into the world. To those who are ill from tuberculosis it offers hope, encouragement. To others, it stands as the beacon of happy healthful homes—homes free of tuberculosis.

HOW ONE WEEKLY EDITOR FEELS

What is a newspaper man? Has that question ever been put up to you? If it has, have you been able to answer it? The other night I was introduced to some folks and in the course of the ensuing conversation the fact that I was a newspaper man was mentioned. "Yes," said one of my party, "he's one of the nuts."

Just what is a newspaper man? He's the kind of fellow who will take abuse from a man all his life and then write in his obituary that nothing but friends were numbered among the acquaintances of the deceased, who was never known to utter a disparaging remark nor make a single enemy.

He is the kind of fellow who will tell how lovely the bride looked when she walked up the aisle and wish her a lifetime of happiness and success in spite of the fact that her wedding invitations were sold to her by a city printer.

He is the kind of fellow who will meekly say "Yes, ma'am," and "I'm sorry" for not mentioning this and that to an irate subscriber who has been getting the paper for years without making any payments for the subscription.

A newspaper man is the kind of a fellow who goes around in shabby clothes, drives an outmoded car, and tips his hat to the smartly dressed person, who owes him enough to buy a new suit of clothes for himself.

He is the kind of fellow who pushes every community enterprise, who puts the baseball team and basketball team on the map, but is called a chiseler if he expects any complimentary tickets.

He is the kind of fellow you run to first for help and think of last when he needs help. If he's not "nuts" what is he?—John F. Tischler in The Delano (Minn.) Eagle.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all societies and churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 27.

The Golden Text is: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"—(Rom. 8:31.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."—(Rom. 12:21.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

"Machine Age" Hits Mexican Adobe Worker

Former Mud-Brick Methods May Be Replaced, as Science Makes Inroads

The age-old heritage of the Southwest, the making of adobe bricks by hand, is at last about to give in to the inroads of machinery.

At least a special story from State College, Las Cruces, says this picturesque practice is likely to be replaced by newer methods.

By the old method, Mexican workmen, barefooted, mix the adobe mass with their feet and handled instruments. The bricks are then molded by hand, in metal-lined frame forms.

Now it is thought that a machine for mixing the mortar will be perfected. In fact, a young man by the name of James Field, graduate of New Mexico State College, has drawn up the plans for such a machine.

A mechanical engineering student, Mr. Field saw the possibility of mechanical mixing and moulding of the bricks. He has received many inquiries from commercially interested parties since publication of his plan, according to Professor D. B. Jett, dean of the School of Engineering.

It is estimated that 80 per cent of the buildings in the vicinity of Las Cruces, home of State College, are of this construction.

A home 14x24 feet may be constructed for an initial outlay of $150 if the owner does the work. The material is also used extensively for walls and outbuildings. An average of 600 to 700 bricks can be produced by three workmen. Architectural experts say buildings made of adobe are durable, fire-resistant and comfortable.

The Casa Grande ruins in Arizona present an example of early craftsmanship unrivaled by any technique now in existence. They have defied the elements for centuries, and portions of the buildings are still in good condition. The only parallel in the world lies in the Chan Chan ruins in Peru, thought by geologists to be contemporaneous with Mesopotamian construction.

LOCAL BOY IS CAST IN BAYLOR PRODUCTION

Bert Muncy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert N. Muncy of Artesia, Baylor University student at Waco, Texas, has been cast in the role of "Pindarus" in the play "Julius Caesar," to be presented by the Baylor Little Theater as its winter production, it has been announced. The play, which was a tremendous success on the Broadway stage last season, will go into production immediately for presentation in February.

Mrs. W. C. Gray returned the latter part of the week from Hachita, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Reed, Mr. Reed and children for the last two weeks.

WHERE QUALITY and ACCURACY PREVAIL

The Religious Day From Hour to Hour

The World's Darkest Hours As Portrayed in Sermon by Pastor

(The local pastors have been invited to have published in brief form, as space permits, their sermons, as delivered from their pulpits, provided, of course, they do not stress the dogma of one creed as against another, directing their remarks in non-sectarian channels.)

The Rev. Allen E. Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ, on Sunday, Nov. 13, taking his text from John 19:23-30, brought the following message:

Endeavored to portray the scenes of Christ's crucifixion in order to stir us to do more spiritually. When we contemplate the dying Lord upon the cross, it makes us feel insignificant and unworthy, for we play at religion in comparison to the Lord's sufferings.

From Six Till Nine
Portrayed the trial before the Jewish high priest: The three stages of the Roman trial—mocked, scourged, condemned and led away to Golgotha.

From Nine Till Twelve
Marked the culmination of the world's sin and shame—the slaying of the Son of God.

The spectators of the dread scene were Roman soldiers, the mocking crowd, the two robbers and a few friends.

First statement from the cross: "Father forgive them, they know not what they do." How many of us forgive our enemies even when we suffer no physical hurt? Think of the Son of God praying for the very ones who shamed, mocked, scourged and crucified him!

Second word from the cross: "Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise." Jesus had power on earth to forgive sins on condition or not on condition—just as he saw fit. We cannot be saved in the same way for we live after the new will or testament of our Lord was put into effect.

Third saying from the cross: "Woman, behold thy son." Behold thy mother." When we are sick, we demand the attention of the whole household. We want attention and forget the other members. Jesus, even in this dying hour, was wholly unselfish as he looked down upon his widowed mother, and made provision for her care and comfort by telling John to look after her.

From Twelve Till Three
There was darkness and silence over the earth. The sun refused to shine on the awful scene of the Son of God dying for the sins of the world. Fourth word from the cross: "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Think of the awful agony of the Christ as his Father turned his face from his dying Son.

Fifth word from the cross: "I thirst." A potion was kept handy for the relief somewhat from the pain by drinking this potion, much as we would administer a drug to alleviate the pain of the dying. Jesus refused. He drank the cup of death of the way that we human beings must tread.

Sixth word from the cross: "It is finished." He had accomplished all things the Father had sent him to do. He had made the supreme sacrifice for mortal man; he had made the atonement for the sins of the world.

Seventh word from the cross:

"Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." We read of where the angels came and carried the spirit of Lazarus to Abraham's bosom or Paradise. We sing the song, "Will the Angels Come For Me?" Are you so living that the angels will carry your spirit to eternal rest when you die?

From Three Till Six
A great earthquake, the rocks rent, and the graves of many of the saints were opened and they appeared in the city to many. The veil of the temple was rent from top to bottom. The Most Holy place in the temple, separated from the Holy Place by the veil, was a type of heaven. This rending of the veil typifies Jesus opening the way into heaven for us. He was buried by two men who followed him secretly; Joseph and Nicodemus. Many today, because of fear of ridicule do not follow him openly. They made the tomb as secure as the powers of earth could make it—set the Roman guard and placed upon it the seal of Rome. But even this did not hold him—he came forth from the dead.

Conclusion
The power of the cross: "And if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me."—Jno. 12:32-33. "For the word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us who are saved it is the power of God."—I Cor. 1:18.

Thanksgiving When all is said, our country and its peoples truly have much for which to be thankful. While other nations are rattling swords, and a man's home is hardly his own, we of America yet enjoy a peace and contentment that our forefathers builded firmly... a security and prosperity which is the envy of the entire world... therefore, let us give thanks... not born of tradition... but rather born of reality, for the actual blessings which we enjoy month after month, day after day and year after year. Advances New Variations for an Old Institution, Thanksgiving Dinner

The approach of the holiday season brings recollections of bountiful Thanksgiving dinners to mind, says Veda Strong of the New Mexico Extension Service. Thanksgiving menus are often handed down from great-grandmothers, and are used today, with very little change, except, perhaps, to vary the meal with new vegetables and salads. As far as the meat is concerned, the family usually expects something in the nature of roast turkey, duck, chicken, or perhaps ham. For the other good things, Mother often scurries around in search of something new, says Miss Strong. Of course, no menu is complete without a heaping dish of fluffy, creamy white mashed potatoes, served with rich giblet gravy and sparkling red cranberry sauce. Baked squash and creamed onions are favorite vegetables, and the onions can be made especially delicious with a sprinkling of bread crumbs toasted golden-brown in butter. A simple salad, celery, and some of Mother's best pickles will be a welcome addition to the meal.

After such a bountiful meal, the family should be satisfied with only one dessert, but pumpkin pie and hot mince pies are as much a part of the Thanksgiving dinner as the turkey itself. Other delicious desserts might include steamed holiday pudding, ice cream, gelatin, fruit sauce with cake or just a piece of the all-time favorite fruit cake.

The table should be made as attractive as possible and yet different. For a centerpiece, try one made of vegetables, using those as varied in shape and color as possible. These should be placed on a tray or platter lest the cloth be stained. Rosy cheeked apples, grapes, oranges and nuts may also be used effectively in the table decoration.

WORLD NEWS BRIEF FORM

Queen Maud of Norway, 68, aunt of King George VI of Great Britain and the last surviving child of King Edward VII, died in London early Sunday of a heart attack, four days after an abdominal operation. Her death came so suddenly that King Haakon of Norway, who hurried to London when the queen became ill and was staying at Buckingham Palace, remaining almost constantly with his queen, was not at her bedside.

Clarence Paschal and Gene Pearson of Bowling Green, Ky., knew no one would believe them. So they brought an exhibit to town for verification after finding that their trout line hook baited with a large minnow had captured two large fish. They said an 11-inch bass swallowed the minnow and an eleven-pound muskie in turn swallowed the bass.

Col. Henry D. Lindsey, 66 years old, first national commander of the American Legion, died at Dallas, Tex., Friday after a career as banker, insurance company president, real estate man, army officer and public official. He presided over the American Legion caucus in St. Louis in May, 1919, and over the first convention in Minneapolis in November, 1919.

A 50 per cent increase in quail in the Mangum, Okla., area can be attributed, believes Sam Byars, federal nurseryman, to the government's "shelter belt" program of tree planting. Quail are massing in the tree strips, Byars said.

"It would be funny if the fire was at my house," Jordan Williams of Amarillo remarked to a friend as firefighting equipment from Central Fire Station sped past. It was—but it wasn't. His garage was practically destroyed by the blaze. And he doesn't think it was funny.

The name of Mrs. Richard Whitney of New York was in the 1939 edition of the social register published last week, but that of her husband was missing. Since the last edition was printed, Whitney, former president of the New York Stock Exchange, has gone to Sing Sing to serve a term for fraud.

Cecil Cunningham of Ogden, Utah, subscribes to that old saw, "they get coming and going." His car collided with a south-bound freight train. Uninjured, he pushed his slightly damaged automobile back a short distance and went for a tow car. Upon his return he discovered a northbound freight had demolished the automobile.

Scouters Attend Meeting at Hobbs

C. K. Eisler of Hobbs, field scout executive of this area, was in Artesia Friday conferring with district leaders and promoting an area executive board meeting at Hobbs Monday evening.
The meeting was attended from here by E. B. Bullock, M. G. Schulze, the Rev. Henry S. Stout and Frank Smith, local scouters.
Mr. Bullock, at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday, reported a budget for the Eastern New Mexico area was set at $12,000 Monday night.
When in Artesia last week, Mr. Eisler reported new Scout troops at Lakewood and Lake Arthur.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

Carlsbad is looking forward to having a first-class postoffice shortly after the first of the year. Postmaster Ray Soladay figures the total revenue for 1938 will be $44,000, sufficient to put the postoffice over the top as first class. An extension of the carrier service is also contemplated.

Bids for construction of 122 miles of electric power lines in Roosevelt County are expected to be made within the next month, it was announced last week. Loan contracts for notes and mortgages for construction of the lines, under the Roosevelt County REA were approved at a meeting of members of the county cooperative. Lines have been mapped for the communities of Floyd, Arch, Dora and Rogers. It was reported that 1 1/2 million dollars was available for the REA project in the county, but that extension of the service waited on additional users per mile under federal regulations.

The state canvassing board will meet Dec. 5, Secretary of State Elizabeth Gonzales announced, to canvass the returns of the Nov. 8 election. The board consists of Mrs. Gonzales, Governor Tingley and chief Justice A. H. Hudspeth.

Bill Cutter, Albuquerque private pilot, last week made his second "mercy flight" within ten days. He brought Marion McDonald, 25, to the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Albuquerque for treatment of a broken back the young man suffered in a fall from a water tank tower at Ft. Stanton in Southern New Mexico. McDonald was reported "resting comfortably." He will be kept under observation several days before a course of treatment is determined. The week previous Cutter flew surgical instruments to the Navajo Service Hospital at Ft. Defiance, Ariz., in an unsuccessful effort to save the life of an Indian boy who had inhaled a pinon nut.

New Mexico's public schools have a total maintenance budget allowance of $7,444,648 for the 1938-39 school year, it was announced in a report issued by R. H. Grissom, educational budget auditor. Teachers' salaries accounted for $5,048,895 of the budget, which also listed $907,221 for transportation and $343,632 for administration. A breakdown of the budget showed the Chaves County budget totalled $342,891, teachers' salaries budgeted at $241,361.

Reduction in the rates for private automobile public liability and property damage insurance by member companies in New Mexico of the National Bureau of casualty and surety underwriters, was announced by George M. Biel, state superintendent of insurance. Biel said the new rates, effective Nov. 16, were $16 for public liability compared with $25 and $20 before, and $5 for property damage, compared with a previous rate of $11 and $7.

Revenue from state oil lands, mostly in Southeastern New Mexico, dropped $40,036 in October, to a total of $218,457, State Land Commissioner Frank Worden reported. Total collections from oil and gas rentals and royalties for October, 1937, were $258,484. Revenue of the land office from all sources last month was $395,578, compared with $434,662 in the same month last year.

The cattle industry has started on a period of moderate expansion which may continue for some years, G. F. Ellis, New Mexico extension service, said in connection with the long-time outlook for beef cattle just reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics. Based on a cycle production, the high point in cattle numbers was reached in 1934 and declined to bottom in January, 1938, he pointed out. By Jan. 1, 1939, cattle production may increase about 1 per cent.

Requisition papers were signed by Gov. Tingley last week to bring John A. Houchin, who escaped from the state penitentiary at Santa Fe eighteen years ago, back to the institution from California. Houchin was arrested in San Francisco recently for robbing the mails and sentenced to serve a 15-month sentence. He had married and is the father of four children.

The port of entry division of the State Revenue Bureau disbursed $140,539 during the past fiscal year, says an audit report given out at the state comptroller's office, an increase of $15,398 over expenditures for the previous year. Of this $8,729 was capital expenditures, being for land, buildings and furniture. Receipts for the last year amounted to $143,430, an increase of $10,642 over those for the previous year. The audit covers only the administrative fund and does not show the collections made by the ports.

A constitutional amendment which would permit justices of the State Supreme Court to serve as district judges, if needed, was believed ratified by New Mexico voters in the general election. Court attaches said it was learned no counties had turned in precincts with a vote against the proposal and that many had voted in its favor. The proposal was introduced to speed up handling of cases when no district judge is available.

The per capita sales tax collected during October, representing September business, was 66 cents—close to the average for the previous nine months—State Revenue Commissioner John D. Bingaman reported.

317 YEAR OLD HOLIDAY

The first Thanksgiving feast was given after the Puritan's first harvest in 1621. It had no special religious significance. In 1623 an abundant rain followed a protracted drought "for which mercie . . . they . . . set apart a day of thanksgiving." The first Thanksgiving proclamation was issued in 1668 by the Plymouth authorities. The observance of thanksgiving days was common from then on . . . George Washington issued the first presidential Thanksgiving proclamation. In 1864, President Lincoln proclaimed "the last Thursday in November" as Thanksgiving Day; this date has been similarly proclaimed by all succeeding presidents.

AGAIN . . . WE WANT TO THANK YOU AND YOU AND YOU FOR YOUR CONTINUED PATRONAGE. WE HOPE TO CONTINUE TO MERIT YOUR BUSINESS IN THE FUTURE AS IN THE PAST.

MAY YOUR THANKSGIVING DAY BE THE BEST EVER

Weatherboarding Against Winter

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Cold weather calls for heavier feeding to generate body heat in all kinds of livestock. Feed alone of course will not offset the effects of cold, and shelter is essential at some times every winter, even in the milder parts of the Southwest. On the other hand, shelter alone is not enough, especially with milk cows, laying hens, and animals in the fattening pen. There must be extra feed to burn in the body or else fat already acquired will be burned in keeping the body temperature normal.

The sudden changes of weather to which the Southwest is subject makes it hard to avoid some shrinkage, even with good shelter and additional feed, but every pound of avoidable shrinkage costs more to regain than to hold. It is poor economy to permit animals to burn up fat already accumulated and which must be restored before additional gains are made.

Range cattle or sheep permitted to struggle through without sufficient feed to hold the weight with which they entered the winter lose several weeks in spring and summer getting back the weight lost. They will be that much behind in getting into marketable condition next summer or fall, and will weigh just that much less when they go to market. It is therefore important that they also have extra feed in cold weather, to offset as much of the winter shrink as possible.

Everyone knows how slowly cows regain their normal milk flow after a cold snap, and if it is late in the lactation period they often never come back to full normal production. The same thing holds true of laying hens, though they respond more quickly to favorable conditions and the loss is less from the reduced production. This is a case in which the proverbial ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and extra feed which helps prevent these losses is about the most valuable feed in the barnyard.

It often happens that stock get "all the feed they will eat" and eat little or no more in cold than in warm weather, falling off accordingly. If the water is icy cold they will not drink as freely as they should, and if they don't drink freely they will neither eat as freely nor digest as well as they should. The same thing happens when their quarters are so cold they stand huddled up for warmth, so the effort to induce them to take the extra feed necessary in cold weather may fail, not for lack of feed, but for lack of comfort. Water and shelter of the right sort play an important part both in getting sufficient feed into the animals and in the effects of the feed.

"Contented cows" is much more than an advertising slogan, for only when comfortable and contented do cows function their best. Contentment is dependent on comfort, and on both adequate shelter and feed. Water, plenty of it, at a drinkable temperature, is as necessary as palatable feed, and helps to make any dry feed more palatable, whether grain or forage. If we keep these things in mind a good deal of the usual winter losses of weight and production can be forestalled.

No matter with what kind of livestock or poultry we are dealing, an extra feed supply is mighty good weatherboarding against winter shrinkage in weight or slowed up production. The carbonaceous feeds of course play the larger part in supplying fuel for heat, but this does not mean that the protein elements should be omitted if the carbohydrates are to do an efficient job. A balanced ration is to be assumed under any and all conditions, winter or summer, for growth or production, for fattening or mere maintenance.

Visits the St. Louis Plant and Qualifies As Grinding Station

Wilson & Anderson Feed Store have just been made an approved Purina custom mixing station, according to announcement just received by the store from the Purina Mills, St. Louis, Mo.

"We are fully qualified," F. L. Wilson of the company said, "to render the type of custom grinding and mixing service that Purina Mills authorizes in the announcement. We are completely equipped to grind the farmer's own grains and mix with them a balancer that the Purina laboratories and experimental farm have found to be practical and economical. By grinding the farmer's own grains and blending them with the proper balancer, it is possible to increase the return the farmer gets for his grains when he markets them through his livestock and poultry in the form of pork, beef, eggs, or milk."

Certain definite standards had to be met before they could become a Purina custom mixing station, according to Mr. Wilson, who went to St. Louis recently to study the process and take the required examination.

"As specified by the contract," he said, "we have inspected the Purina experimental farm and laboratories where the proteins in Purina balancers are synchronized and blended. And we have consulted with the research authorities on the particular application of these balancers to farm conditions in New Mexico. Too, we have subscribed to the Purina ration service, which entitles us to the help of the Purina laboratories and farm on any special needs of our customers, in addition to having these laboratories provide a complete set of rations made of corn, oats, wheat, barley and rye for Purina balancers."

"Finally, before getting definite approval as a Purina custom mixing station, samples of the mix of several of these rations as made by our grinders and mixers had to be sent to the Purina analytical laboratories so they could check the efficiency of our machinery. Our receiving final approval speaks well for the quality of work our grinders and mixers do."

Interesting Facts Of Forests Told

New Mexico and Arizona Receive Prominent Mention in New Book

Forest areas of New Mexico and Arizona receive prominent mention in a new book by William Atherton DuPuy, veteran writer in the popular science field.

The practically continuous forest of ponderous pine which runs for 700 miles, beginning in Utah and crossing Arizona into New Mexico, is cited in a discussion of forest resources. A section dealing with wilderness areas devotes more than a page to the Gila wilderness area, in the heart of the Gila National Forest in New Mexico.

That 40 per cent of the nation's area is still range land; that wild-life in the forests had doubled in the last decade, and that each person in the United States is owner of an acre and a third of land as his part of the National Forests, are some of the many interesting facts presented.

In contrast with the early-day slaughter of forests, and the present-day drain which is still a matter of alarm, DuPuy points out cases of logging companies which have profitably changed to methods enabling a sustained yield of timber. His explanation of proper land-use methods is admirably simple and interesting.

He declares the problem of cut-over land allowed to remain idle is one that "calls loudly for immediate solution."

DuPuy, who formerly lived in Arizona, visited the Southwest and other forest regions to gather facts at first-hand.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

New Mexico Cattle In Good Condition For a Hard Winter

A long period of mild weather, along with heavy rains, has brought New Mexico range livestock into the best condition for beginning a hard winter in many years, state agricultural officials said.

Agricultural Statistician Fred Daniels revealed that the rated condition of cattle jumped two points this year to 91 per cent normal, and sheep and lambs were recorded at 92 per cent, as a promise of ample range feed brought happy looks to the face of ranchers.

Daniels said range conditions were improved throughout the state, with the exception of the extreme southwest, where moisture was scarce through the summer and fall.

Mrs. I. L. Spratt and her mother, Mrs. P. P. Turner, and Mrs. Margaret Bildstone and her mother, Mrs. T. E. McIntyre, expect to go to El Paso Thanksgiving day for a week end visit in the city.

Local civic groups are to be asked to take out sustaining memberships if possible, otherwise memberships in one of the other classes. Already two $100 sustaining memberships have been subscribed, Vandermeyer reported.

The Sante Fe Railroad has subscribed $5,000, he said, and has promised as much more.

A finance committee to assist Mr. Dexter is to be selected by the board of directors, a member each from every civic group and church, in conference with Mr. Cole, the president, and Mr. Dexter.

The Coronado Cuarto Centennial pageants in Artesia and Carlsbad, Vandermeyer said, will be during the first week in May, 1940. This is especially advantageous, he pointed out, as they will be the first week following the Eucharistic Congress, which will be on a mesa near Bernalillo, which is expected to attract 100,000 visitors to this state.

With Mr. Vandermeyer was Edward Slockbower, director of art at Eastern New Mexico Junior College, Portales, who is showing teachers in this part of the state how to work the Coronado Centennial into art studies. Mr. Slockbower is aiding teachers in getting data, so as to be authentic in the art work.

Schedules did not permit Mr. Slockbower to have a conference with Artesia art teachers, but he expects to return here at a later date, as does Mr. Vandermeyer.

Besides the centennial memberships, the sale of Coronado Centennial tags, to be used in connection with license plates, is expected to help underwrite the celebration expenses, at least until the state legislature, convening in January, has passed the expected $200,000 appropriation.

in two first downs, but were robbed of perhaps another touchdown as the whistle blew, ending the first half.

In the opening minutes of the second half, Roswell, after taking a punt from the Bulldogs on their own 39, smashed their way down to Artesia's 15, where they were checked momentarily. However, the ball finally reached the 1-yard line and Brennen went over for the tally. Bryant failed to convert.

The Coyotes again worked their way down to the Artesia 1-yard line in the fourth quarter. The Bulldog line held here, however, and Artesia took the ball on downs. Seemingly taking a new lease on life, the Bulldogs swung into action and passed and ran their way down the gridiron into enemy territory, invading it for the first time. But they were cheated out of their only chance to score as the game ended, Roswell 13, Artesia 0.

The Bulldogs will invade Carlsbad Thanksgiving Day for the annual "Turkey Day" tilt between the two schools. The game is scheduled for 2 o'clock. The Cavemen Friday defeated Jal 14 to 0.

Unemployment Compensation Law Explained

Goes Into Effect in New Mexico Dec. 1 — Office for This District Is in Carlsbad, with B. W. Smith in Charge.

It is suggested the following be clipped by employers and employees for future reference, at least that portion devoted to questions and answers.

Roy L. Cook, chairman-director of the New Mexico Unemployment Commission, has announced rapid plans are now being made throughout the state by the state employment offices in cooperation with the commission for the beginning of the payment of "out-of-work" benefits after Dec. 1.

Twelve offices have been established throughout the state. The one for this district is at Carlsbad and is in charge of B. W. Smith.

It is conservatively estimated deposits of the New Mexico unemployment trust fund will appropriate 2½ million dollars when the law goes into effect a week from today.

Following are questions and answers compiled by the commission designed to make the law better understood and to clear up certain points which are not generally clear, such as who will be eligible for unemployment compensation:

Q: My employer deducts a social security tax from my pay check. Does this make me eligible for unemployment compensation if I lose my job?

A: The tax your employer deducts from your pay check is to pay your federal old age insurance tax. That tax is paid by both you and your employer and is collected by the federal government. The unemployment compensation tax is paid only by the employer and is collected by both the federal and state governments. Unless your employer pays his tax, you are not eligible for unemployment benefits if you lose your job.

Q: What is meant by "covered" employment?

A: That employment in which the employer is liable for unemployment compensation taxes and the employee eligible for unemployment benefits is called "covered" employment.

Q: Do all employers pay an unemployment compensation tax?

A: No. Only employers who have four or more employees during portions of each twenty weeks in a calendar year have to pay this tax. Also, certain occupations such as domestic labor, agricultural labor, and other classes are exempt.

Additional questions and answers will be given next week.
