Everybody Is Being Asked to Pledge Part Income to Bonds

Chairman Feather Says Campaign Here This Week Well Under Way

L. B. Feather, chairman of the War Bond and Stamp savings staff for Artesia and other communities in North Eddy County, said the concerted campaign this week is bringing good results...

Feather pointed out that objectives of the campaign are to obtain funds to prosecute the war, to prevent inflation of prices...

The chairman said there is some confusion in cases where persons, or whole organizations, have pledged regular investment in the stamps and bonds...

Guard Dance on April 25 Is for Benefit of Range

The importance of a successful dance by the State Guard Saturday evening, April 25, was increased this week, with the rescinding of a previous order that rifles be taken away from all guard units...

Plans for the dance were made some time ago by the State Guard and it would have gone ahead regardless of the order last week that rifles would be withdrawn...

Gov. John E. Miles and Adj. Gen. Russell C. Charlton have been in communication with Maj. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of supplies, in Washington, D. C., and said that New Mexico being considered a vulnerable spot...

Funds raised from the dance will be used towards the completion of the 1,000-yard rifle range, which will be one of the best in the Southwest...

Officers of the unit said the guard does not seek donations, but that the dance will provide an entertainment by means of which the necessary funds may be raised...

L. C. Newton, 29, Dies on Friday; Buried in Texas

Lawrence C. Newton, 29, oil well driller for the Brewer Drilling Company, died at Artesia Memorial Hospital at 1:25 o'clock Friday afternoon...

The body was shipped Saturday to Cross Cut, Tex., where funeral services were held from the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon...

Mr. Newton is survived by his widow and a little daughter, Barbara Jean, and by three brothers and a sister: Jack Terry Newton, a student at Texas A & M; Austin Newton, May, Tex.; Howard Newton, McCamey, Tex., and Mrs. Newton Anderson, McCamey, Tex.

Lawrence Claude Newton was born Jan. 23, 1913, a son of Oscar and Zetta Terry Newton, both of whom preceded their son in death...

He married Maxine Heyroth in Eastland County, Texas, Aug. 18, 1934, and to them was born the daughter, Barbara Jean.

Prior to his marriage, Mr. Newton farmed with his father. Since his marriage eight years ago he has followed the oil business. He was with Brewer Drilling Company the last six years and was brought here by the company from McCamey, Tex., three years ago.

Mr. Newton was a member of the Methodist Church.

Squirrely Story About Bobby, Who Was Put in Jail

This is a squirrely story! It has to do with Bobby, who went on a rampage and wound up in the city bastle, where he will be kept under observation the next week or ten days.

Bobby, the pet of Miss Alene Poe, who lives at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cunningham, gnawed his way out of his cage and escaped early Monday. He was captured and placed on the screened porch, but again he escaped, and that time he ran wild.

A complete history of his stolen freedom is not available, but it is known that he jumped on some children in the morning and bit or clawed them and that in the afternoon he bit the calves of Mrs. Roy Buck and Mrs. Lonnie Chester and that he ran up the clothing of Mrs. A. M. Tarbet and lacerated her arm from the arm to the elbow.

Bobby also visited Central School, where he was captured in a room by means of a coat, in order to get him out of the building.

But when reports of different persons being bit reached the police, Bobby was really penned up, not only in his cage, but in jail.

It hardly is thought the buck squirrel is rabid, as he has been penned up continuously, until his escape, but he will remain under observation until that point can be established.

Firemen Quite Busy Getting Ready for Ball Friday Evening

Members of the regular and auxiliary fire departments in Artesia are busy with details in regard to the "Firemen's Ball," to be held Friday evening on the Artesia Hotel Roof Garden.

Proceeds from the ball will be used for furthering various phases of civilian defense, as it applies to firemen.

Tickets for the ball may be purchased from members of either the regular or voluntary departments.

APRIL 25 DOG TAX DEADLINE

Dog days are coming in April this year — starting April 25 — when every dog will have his day, if he has a tag!

But no tag, no dog! That is the warning of John Robinson, Artesia night police officer, who has been appointed dog catcher.

Dog taxes are far past due, Robinson said, and the date of April 25 has been set as the deadline.

Owners may pay at the city hall or may pay Robinson, in order to insure longer lives for their dogs. But it must be done by Saturday of next week, after which the elimination of untagged dogs will start.

Chavez, on Visit Here, Is Saddened By Fall of Bataan

Offers Help in Getting Word of Local Boys on Philippine Peninsula

Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, in the southeast part of the state last week, investigating the alleged practice of labor unions of assessing dues as a necessary requirement to employment on war projects, stopped over briefly Friday afternoon in Artesia, where he met a few of the local citizens informally at the Artesia Hotel for the discussion of problems.

While here he issued a statement of sympathy to the citizens of the state who have relatives or friends in the besieged Philippines, especially on Bataan Peninsula, which just had been reported to have fallen.

Addressing himself to the New Mexico people, Senator Chavez said, "I fully appreciate how you feel in the matter, as I have many relatives and close friends there. Under the circumstances, it will be hard to get immediate, definite information regarding our loved ones, but if you will give me their names, I will be glad to check with the War Department and try to get information.

"The only thing the country is thinking about at the moment is the war. Notwithstanding the confusion and lack of knowledge by practically everybody, I find the morale everywhere to be good, with one purpose in mind only, and that is winning the war."

While here Senator Chavez discussed with oil men the curtailment of the well allowable and the possible damage which might be done to low-producing wells, were they to be affected in proportion.

First of Local Boys to Join Battery F

The majority of the men shown here were with Battery F, 200th Coast Artillery, Anti-Aircraft, on Bataan and Corregidor, when the collapse of defense of the former came Friday.

The photograph was taken the morning of Jan. 6, 1941, at the American Legion hut in Artesia, just before the boys left for Carlsbad to join the National Guard troop there, which became Battery F.

"Victory Book Day" Is to Be Here Tomorrow

President Roosevelt at his press conference Tuesday and Gov. John E. Miles by proclamation have designated Friday, April 17, as "Victory Book Day," for the collection of books for the armed forces, in which the Artesia Public Library will participate, it has been announced by Mrs. Nellie Hartell, librarian.

The drive, similar to one several months ago, but this time sponsored by libraries over the nation, is designed to make available for the boys in uniform all books which people are willing to part with.

Libraries are being made collection centers and Mrs. Hartell said the library here will be open all day, in order to receive books.

She has contacted all clubs and churches, asking the general cooperation of organizations, as well as individuals.

Mrs. Hartell said she realizes that many home libraries were cleaned out of available books in the former drive. But, she added, almost everyone can find a book or two which he would be willing to give to help the boys' morale in the camps.

'Vitamins for Victory' Cook School in May

Advocate's Annual Event Announced for Eleventh Through Thirteenth at Ocotillo—Jessie Hogue Again Demonstrator.

"Vitamins for Victory" will be the watchword of the annual Happy Kitchen Cooking School of The Artesia Advocate, which will be at the Ocotillo Theater Monday through Wednesday mornings, May 11-13.

Jessie Hogue, noted cooking school demonstrator and Southern home economist, who conducted the school last year for The Advocate, again will be in charge for the series of lectures and demonstrations in the art of homemaking and the preparation of tasty dishes.

Although Miss Hogue in the past has stressed economy in her lectures and demonstrations, she will stress the "Vitamins for Victory" theme this season and will show the women of the Artesia trade territory how American womanhood in the kitchens of the nation can help win the war, not only through economy, but by way of keeping up the vitality of the people on the home front through the careful planning of daily menus.

N. M. Baird Named Coordinator for Defense Program

Legion Accepts Responsibility of Training Wardens in Chemical War

Developments in the rapidly-progressing civilian defense movement in Artesia the last week included the appointment of N. M. Baird as coordinator by Mayor Emery Carper, local chairman, and the acceptance by the American Legion of the responsibility of training air raid wardens in gas defense and chemical warfare.

Baird, who had been serving as chief air raid warden for the city, in turn appointed Floyd Springer, senior warden of the black zone, and the job of chief, and Springer named Nolan Horton senior warden of the zone.

In connection with the Legion's acceptance of the responsibility of training air raid wardens in the two courses, Artie McNally, post commander, said the organization will send certain individuals to state schools for courses of instruction on the subjects and that when qualified, they will return to Artesia.

Of those named above, the last two listed, Claberon Buckner and Hoyt Keller of Hope, are known not to have been on Luzon, for a cable to J. C. Buckner Tuesday of last week said they were on Cebu and were "fine."

Some of the men listed may be non-commissioned officers, but are not so designated. However, that too was impossible to run down with accuracy. It is hoped none is slighted, but no guarantee of that can be made.

On the honor roll above are the brave men from Artesia and other parts of North Eddy County and the Lake Arthur community, some living, some dead, who are in the Philippine Islands, or are believed to be there, the majority of whom have been fighting on Bataan Peninsula or Corregidor Fortress.

The list is not complete, although a great effort has been made, contacting many persons in order to here name as many as possible. On the other hand, some of the men whose names appear may have been transferred and are not in the danger zones.

But the majority of the fifty-eight whose names appear above either have been on Bataan or Corregidor and no word of them has come since the collapse of the Bataan defenses; probably it will be many weeks before any definite news of them is learned.

Leading the list are the names of George Price, who was killed at Pearl Harbor last Dec. 7, the day of the treacherous Jap attack, and La Vern Ferguson, who died in the Philippines Dec. 24. No definite news of other deaths has been received.

And the name of Capt. Frederick B. Howden might be included in the local list, for the Roswell man, chaplain of the 200th, was rector of Saint Paul's Episcopal Mission here.

Of those named above, the last two listed, Claberon Buckner and Hoyt Keller of Hope, are known not to have been on Luzon, for a cable to J. C. Buckner Tuesday of last week said they were on Cebu and were "fine."

Some of the men listed may be non-commissioned officers, but are not so designated. However, that too was impossible to run down with accuracy. It is hoped none is slighted, but no guarantee of that can be made.

Rodeo, Round-up Of Goat Ropers Will Be Sunday

Postponement of the Artesia Goat Ropers Club's rodeo and round-up was made last Sunday until next Sunday, because of threatening weather and the possibility of a wet arena.

Although the day did not turn out bad and the arena was in splendid condition, it was deemed advisable to make the postponement until 2:30 o'clock next Sunday.

Chief roping event will be a Brahma calf jack pot, which promises to be quite sporty, as the Brahma cattle are much more wild and wiry than the domestic breeds.

Goat roping jack pots and a bell goat roping contest and other events will be on the afternoon's program.

Lack of Food and Rest Wears Down US Troops After Days of Furious Combat, as Nipponese Pour in Fresh Men.

CASTS GLOOMY PALL

But Local People, in Grief, Are Proud of the Heroic Stand by Relatives.

The hell and fury of the war against the Nipponese invaders of the Philippine Islands was brought close to home in North Eddy County with the collapse of the defense of Bataan Peninsula, for the fate of upwards of four dozen boys — maybe as many as five dozen Artesia, Hope, Cottonwood, Lakewood, Dayton and oil field boys — is unknown.

As a pall of gloom has been cast over Artesia and the surrounding community, there has been no hysteria, and life seems to go on as usual, but the grief of the entire locality is ever present, for parents, brothers and sisters and other relatives and friends of the gallant, besieged boys have no way of finding out if they are dead, captured, or are still fighting with guerrilla bands on Luzon.

That some of the boys managed to escape to Corregidor, where the mighty guns still are making the Japs pay dearly, is the ray of hope for the citizens of the community.

Many North Eddy County boys were among the 36,000 who, according to press dispatches, still were alive and fighting at the time of the last reports from Bataan, when disintegration of the defenses was imminent. Among them the proportion from Eddy County and New Mexico in general was large, while Illinois and California had many men in the thick of the fight. About 1,400 were from New Mexico.

Although cheerful messages were received only two weeks ago from a few of the boys by relatives in this community—some dated as recently as Feb. 14—the defenders of Bataan at that time already were beginning to starve and their ammunition was starting to run low. But they did not indicate any such state of affairs in their cards home.

The gallantry of the men was demonstrated by G. D. Ashton, who was severely wounded on Dec. 13, but who was back in the thick of things when, on Feb. 14, he wrote: "Hunting is good here. Don't know when the game will run out."

And now press dispatches indicate that as early as Feb. 5 the soldiers were eating only rice and mule meat, with an occasional wild pig or water buffalo. The mules were their own pack animals, which were slaughtered one by one for food.

THEY WERE OVERCOME, BUT NOT DEFEATED!

"They were overcome, but not defeated."
So declared Governor John E. Miles of New Mexico Saturday evening over a statewide radio hook-up, referring to the gallant defenders of Bataan Peninsula.

Sad as is this day in New Mexico, that thought by Governor Miles is of some consolation to the parents and friends of the four dozen or more Artesia and other North Eddy County boys, whose fate in the Philippine Islands is not known and probably will not be known for months.

That thought will go down in history, as the story of the beleaguered Americans is written for posterity, telling of the grim determination and the heroic stand they took, that this nation and its principles of liberty and democracy might live.

Some of them are dead!
Some of them are prisoners of the Japs!
Some of them are deep in the hills of Luzon, living with the Filipino natives, where, God willing, they will remain free men and alive until Jap invaders have been driven from the Philippines and from power in the Pacific forever. They will continue to fight, as guerrillas with the natives, harassing the yellow devils as long as there is breath in their American bodies.

Of them we will not hear until the whole bloody conflict is ended, and they can come down from the hills.

It is hoped that of the others, the dead and captured, we will have some information ere many weeks have gone, but it all will take time. In the meantime, more than four dozen local families will live in constant worry and confusion and doubt and prayer.

To them we could say nothing as grand as the statement of their leader and beloved general, Douglas MacArthur:

"The Bataan force went out as it would have wished—fighting to the end of its flickering, forlorn hope.

"No army ever has done so much with so little.

"Nothing became it more than its last hour of trial and agony.

"To the weeping mothers of its dead I only say that for their sacrifice the halo of Jesus of Nazareth has descended upon their sons and that God has taken them unto Himself."

And to that we again would add the statement of Governor Miles, as we all proudly sweep aside tears and thrust out our chins proudly in resolute determination that more than ever we will do our utmost as American citizens, that they not only are avenged, but that our sons and daughters of the generations to come may enjoy the fruits of humanity which they have helped insure for us and which God intended should be theirs:

"They were overcome, but not defeated."

AND REMEMBER BATAAN, TOO!

We remember well when the first of them left—a happy, laughing bunch of young fellows—sembling at the American Legion hut early the morning of Jan. 6, 1941, ready to be off for their year of military training and be done with it, rather than wait to be drafted.

We shook hands with many of them, after their picture had been taken for us. And we told them, "So long, fellows, be seen' you soon."

We recall mentioning to some friends—privately—that the photograph just taken might be historical sometime, that some of the boys in it might never come home! And we recall that we wrote an editorial to the effect that it was time for America to wake up.

After that we saw others leave. And we shook hands with them, saying, "Be seen' you again soon." But still we wrote editorials, telling everybody else to wake up, to speed up.

Then last summer in Ruidoso at the American Legion convention we saw many of the same boys, there on maneuvers. When we left them, again we said, "Be seen' you soon." And again we wrote editorials of warning to the people at home, that we must wake up.

Last September the 200th sailed for the Philippines. That time we had no opportunity to tell the boys, "So long, fellows, be seen' you." But we did continue to write our editorials about the dangers ahead and the fact we must speed up.

And then came Pearl Harbor. And again—

And now comes the fall of Bataan!

Now—now will you speed up? We hope so, for few have, up to now, been serious about it.

Now will you buy what we used to call Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps, which have been renamed War Savings Bonds and Stamps?

Remember Pearl Harbor! Yes, and remember Bataan, as about fifty families in this locality always will remember Bataan!

Now will you pledge a part of your weekly earnings—every week—that Pearl Harbor and Bataan may be avenged?

INTRODUCING AN OLD FRIEND

This is an introduction to someone whom you have known for many months, someone with whom you have laughed and been serious, someone whose philosophy so frequently has "hit the nail on the head" and whose homely method of presenting everyday thoughts has been a source of pleasure to readers of The Advocate.

We are referring to "Your Country Cousin," author of the "Meditations" column, which appears regularly in this newspaper and whose paragraphs have been copied by numerous other newspapers.

Some weeks ago we suggested to the authoress that the readers might wish to know her identity, as they already know and admire her work and her thoughts, sometimes "bell ringers."

Although she previously had requested that we do not tell who she is, she now has given her permission.

So allow us to introduce "Your Country Cousin"—Mrs. T. D. Davenport of Hagerman!

And here are her "meditations" for this week:

A heel is always th' vulnerable spot!

It's a good rule to make hay while th' sun shines but a feller'd better be sharpenin' his sickle when it's still cloudy!

Th' young folks of today are invariably impressed with th' fact that in th' good old days every girl was a belle and every man a delightful combination of a knight and a devil!

Knowin' what to discard is as important as knowin' what t' hold.

Bud says some girls can shut a door in seven different languages!

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For what glory is it, if, when ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God." (1 Pet. 2:20.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The 'man of sorrows' best understood the nothingness of material life and intelligence and the mighty actuality of all-inclusive God, good."

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate Files for April 14, 1927)

The financial budget for the Artesia schools will remain practically the same for another year as for the current year, according to a report from the annual budget meeting in Carlsbad. For the various funds it will total about $51,100.

Gov. Dillon and party from Santa Fe were in Artesia Tuesday, on the governor's first official visit to the Lower Valley.

The water supply in the Penasco seems to be normal this year, due to snows and rains in the mountain country.

Chapter "J," New Mexico, of the P.E.O. sisterhood was organized at a meeting at the Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon. Chapter "B" of Roswell was the sponsor. Mrs. G. M. Winans was elected president. Mrs. J. B. Atkeson was named vice president. Mrs. H. A. Stroup, recording secretary, and Mrs. C. E. Mann, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Lloyd Simon was in from Maljamar Wednesday to attend the Woman's Club luncheon.

Mrs. M. C. Lee was in town from Lakewood Saturday.

Mrs. Tex Polk has been a patient in the hospital in Carlsbad the last week.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

COLOMBIA—
AGE-OLD TREASURE CHEST

If the coffee bean has been given place of honor in the matter-of-fact ledgers of commerce where is kept the account of the Republic of Colombia, the emerald is gem serene in the romance of a country whose legend reaches for substance far back of history's record of the New World.

When Columbus, on his fourth and last voyage, sailed along the Colombian coast, but without making any attempt at settlement of the country, on a high plateau in the Andean Cordillera, not far from where the capital city of Bogota now stands, there was prospering the kingdom of the Chibchas. It was a nation of highly civilized aborigines not unlike the Incas of Peru. The Chibchas knew about the emerald, and may have worshipped it.

After Columbus came Alonso de Ojeda, in 1502. Several times he tried to conquer the Chibchas, and failed. In 1536 three expeditions, one led by Belalcazar, first lieutenant of Pizarro himself, and another by the tactful Jimenez de Quesada, converged on the lofty kingdom. Quesada's diplomacy prevailed where force had failed. By agreement with the Chibchas his headquarters, now Bogota, was laid out near the old Indian capital, and explorations were started in all directions.

The opening of mines was begun in 1540. Today, clustered around the emerald in this Andean treasure chest, are platinum, gold, silver and copper. Most of the world's emeralds now come from Colombia. And it is a fact not widely realized that the stone is the most precious of gems. Carat for carat, a flawless emerald may easily bring three times the price of a flawless diamond.

Only Russia, at times, has been able to take first place from Colombia in output of platinum. The extent and wealth of Colombian gold deposits is still largely conjecture. It is thought that her entire Pacific Coast has been formed by gold-bearing alluvial. Great stretches have never been explored except by Indian hunters. As the Pan American highway and tributary roads push on these and other areas can be opened for mining.

Colombian territory covers 439,828 square miles. Within the nation's borders the Andean mountain system splits into three parts, joining again in the extreme south. So the rivers run north and south in the valleys between the mountains. The climate varies as widely as do the altitudes. Tropical along the coasts, it is temperate in the higher regions inland. Bogota, with an elevation of 8,564 feet, is cool and healthful the year around.

There is a corresponding variation in products. Prominent in export trade are coffee, cocoa, sugar cane, tobacco, bananas, hardwoods from the vast forests, and vegetable ivory. These, with its precious stones, its platinum, gold, silver and other minerals, Colombia offers in exchange for much of that which it still needs in the way of foodstuffs, textiles, iron and steel products, railway supplies, machinery, automobiles, agricultural and mining implements.

And not to be ignored in any reckoning is the fact that this republic is the only country in South America with a seacoast on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with good ports on both, open to the trade of the world.

dom. Quesada's diplomacy prevailed where force had failed. By agreement with the Chibchas his headquarters, now Bogota, was laid out near the old Indian capital, and explorations were started in all directions.

Are You Serving Civilian Defense?

This is one of a series of releases from the Office of Civilian Defense explaining the various insignia adopted and the general duties of the wearers.

FIRE WATCHER

Fire Watchers will be identified by a significant red flame in white triangle set in blue circle. The menace of fire bombs calls for unceasing vigilance and prompt, intelligent action. Fighting incendiary bombs is a job for all able bodied citizens. After the municipal fire departments train their Auxiliary Firemen, they will instruct citizens in the method of fighting fire bombs. The most alert and suitable persons will then be selected to act as Fire Watchers and will be assigned to posts on roofs, in doorways, and other vantage points where they can spot and quickly reach fallen bombs during air raids. The wearing of this insignia is limited to workers enrolled with the Fire Watchers in the Artesia Civilian Defense Organization.

Webb, Letterman, and Harrison in Spring Practice at ENMC

George Webb, 175-pound guard, who moved to Artesia from Lake Arthur recently, is among the fourteen lettermen reporting to Coach Al Garten of Eastern New Mexico College for spring football training. And working out for the first time with the 'Hounds, Ray Harrison, freshman from Artesia, is showing possibilities of developing into good reserve material. Webb, who earned a letter in the line last fall, is being counted on by Coach Garten as a mainstay in the forward wall for 1942. From the other side of his mouth, the Greyhound mentor says Webb probably will be doing his drilling on an Army training field instead of a college football field. The ENMC team is scheduled to open the 1942 season against the New Mexico University Lobos.

Employers in New Mexico Realize a Saving of $383,928

Luchini Points Out Provisions Under New Experience Ratings in 1942

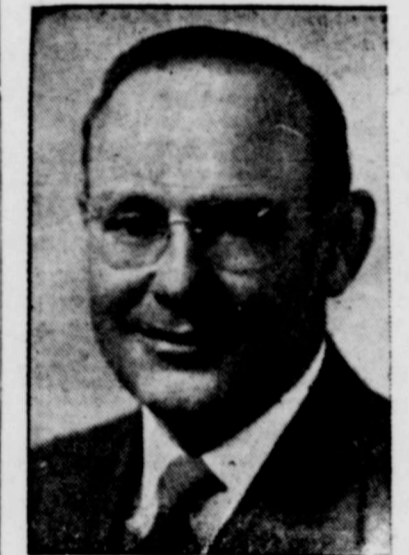

New Mexico employers will realize a saving of approximately $383,928 in contributions paid to the unemployment compensation fund during 1942 under the new experience rating provisions of the law, it was announced by Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman of the commission. A total of 1,022 employers with an aggregate annual payroll of $30,122,324 received the two lowest ratings whereby 671 will pay .9 per cent of their annual payroll into the unemployment compensation fund and 351 will contribute 1.8 per cent of their payroll into the fund, Luchini said. Of the 1,752 employers who received new ratings under the law, which went into effect with payment of first quarter contributions this year, only 227 were placed in the highest bracket whereby they will contribute 3.6 per cent of their payroll to the fund. In addition, Luchini said, 503 employers received new ratings requiring them to pay 2.7 per cent of their payroll into the fund. Until last Jan. 1, the 2.7 rate was standard for all employers. A total of 3,668 employers will maintain the old rate of 2.7, Luchini said, primarily because they have not qualified under the experience rating provisions of the law, which states that they must have three years of benefit experience. Some of these employers, however, were placed in the 2.7 category because their benefit experience relegated them to this division under the new provisions of the law, it was revealed. Luchini estimated that registered employers will pay a total of $1,243,116 into the unemployment compensation fund during 1942, as compared with $1,627,045 during 1941. Inauguration of the experience rating provisions brings the state's employment security program near maturity, Luchini declared.

The local Baptist Church has been making plans for many weeks preparatory to the beginning of this series of evangelistic services. The attendance at the Bible school Sunday was 377, which is a record for Sunday school attendance in any Sunday school in the history of Artesia, the Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor, said. The entire population of Artesia and surrounding area is extended an invitation to attend these services, regardless of church affiliations or beliefs. All non-Christian people are urged to hear this man.

Mrs. Watson Presents American Legion Auxiliary Historical Quilt

Mrs. Anna Mae Watson, age 73 years, mother of Dan Watson, and a Gold Star Mother, has given the American Legion Auxiliary a historical quilt which she made, unusual not only because of Mrs. Watson's advanced age, but because of the workmanship and American chronology from Columbus to Custer's last stand. Mrs. Watson said she made the quilt sitting under the shade trees at the home of her daughter in Silver City and her son in Artesia.

The patriotic colors of red, white and blue were used with different scenes from American history, depicting historical events in each block, dating from 1492, when Columbus discovered America, to 1875, General Custer's last stand. In every other block is an eagle with a shield, olive branch and arrows, and each block is set together with smaller ones in which are stars.

Dates and pictures on the quilt were: 1492, Columbus discovered America; 1607, first colony established in Virginia; 1620, landing of the Pilgrims; 1775, Paul Revere; 1777, Betsy Ross making the first flag; 1789, Washington, president; 1849, gold rush; 1859, "Westward Ho"; 1860, Abraham Lincoln, president; 1861, Civil War; 1863, announcement from the White House of slavery being abolished, and 1875, General Custer's last stand.

Presentation of the quilt was made Monday afternoon at the April meeting of the Auxiliary by Mrs. Dan Watson, for her mother-in-law, who at the present time is in Silver City.

Mrs. Albert Richards accepted the quilt for the Auxiliary and explained each date and picture. Mrs. Richards said although the quilt will be used for raising funds for the rehabilitation of the service men, the Auxiliary would keep the pattern that Mrs. Watson has woven into it. This was the pattern of motherly love, the pattern of service to her country, and the pattern of devotion to the democratic principles and the principles of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

The quilt is being displayed in the window of Baldwin's Store.

Pageant Makes $150 for Junior Red Cross Here

The Junior Red Cross of the Artesia schools now has $149.62 for the purchase of materials for making articles for the comfort and pleasure of soldiers, sailors and marines in the camps and training centers and in hospitals and recreational centers as a result of the presentation Friday evening on the stage of the high school auditorium of "ABC's of America," an original patriotic pageant, in which all grades of the school system took part.

The fund was raised by free-will offering, as girls, dressed as Red Cross nurses, passed through the audience, the largest ever to have been in the auditorium and estimated to have been upwards of 1,200 persons.

At least ten minutes before 8 o'clock, the announced curtain time, every seat was taken, and when the entertainment started, more than thirty people were on the steps leading to the projection booth at the rear of the auditorium and all available standing space was taken. Several dozen people remained in the hall and others left, being unable to hear or see the splendid performance.

The pageant depicted different phases of American life, history or tradition in short acts, the initial letters of which were the letters of the alphabet, hence "ABC's of America."

The pageant was worked out and directed by Mrs. I. L. Spratt and H. O. Miller and Miss Linna McCaw was coordinator for the participation of the high school.

As the various acts unfolded, Miss Barbara Wheatley read descriptions and background continuity over the school's public address system.

Prior to the presentation of the pageant, the school band, under the direction of E. L. Harp, played a patriotic concert.

Oldsters Are to Be Registered on Monday, April 27

The oldest group of men under the Selective Service Act—45 to 64 years inclusive—is to register on Monday, April 27, for possible non-combatant service in the future.

The new registration date proclaimed by President Roosevelt will leave only one group not yet recorded, those of 18 and 19 years. Estimates of the total registration for the 45-64 age group range around 15,000,000.

While none of these comparative oldsters will be taken into the fighting forces, there is the possibility that some or many of them will be assigned eventually to essential war work.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has said that one purpose of the draft law was an "accurate and systematic appraisal" of the supply of manpower.

The April 27 registration will be the second since the United States entered the war. The first registered the 20 to 44 group on Feb. 16.

The story takes place in the living room of the Pringle home, relates the Artesia Hi Beacon, which continues: Penny, the youngest daughter, is parading around with a book on her head. She's just decided that she is God's gift to Hollywood and is preparing herself with the help of her girl friend, Joanna. She strikes a snag in the form of her quick-thinking boy friend, Kerry, and his pal, Greg. In a very short time they must convince Penny she is more interested in tennis tournaments than in Hollywood heroines. The results are "amuzin' but confuzin'," but will provide grand entertainment for just most anyone with even the dullest sense of humor.

Members of the class pointed out that the coincidence of dates with the "Firemen's Ball" should not keep people away, as the play will be over in ample time for anyone to go to the ball also.

Are You Serving Civilian Defense?

This is one of a series of releases from the Office of Civilian Defense explaining the various insignia adopted and the general duties of the wearers.

EMERGENCY FOOD AND HOUSING CREW

The Emergency Food and Housing Crews will be identified by a red coffee cup in white triangle set in blue circle.

Modern warfare necessitates planning and providing emergency feeding and housing for persons whose homes have been damaged or destroyed. Usually public welfare organizations, assisted by enrolled volunteers and private agencies, have the responsibility for conducting such services. Experience in mass feeding, dietetics, and handling large groups of persons is very valuable in this type of work.

The wearing of this insignia is limited to workers enrolled with the Emergency Food and Housing Crews in the Artesia Civilian Defense Organization.

Pix Rhapsody

By Mary Jane

Not so many months ago there was quite a to-do in the nation's newspapers over the disappearance of Paramount stars Madeleine Carroll and Stirling Hayden, whose new Technicolor picture, "Bahama Passage," is due to arrive Sunday at the Ocotillo Theatre.

Miss Carroll and Hayden, the two blonde co-stars, were down on the tiny island of Salt Lake, British West Indies, where filming of their new picture was in progress. When shooting was over, one day they set out in the sloop, "Kathleen," for a little cruise to the island of Turk, twelve miles away.

They were to have telephoned Producer-director Edward H. Griffith on their arrival at Grand Turk and when the call failed to come through, Griffith became alarmed and sent out an amphibian plane to trace the missing pair. They were found the following morning on Cotton Key, an island having a beautiful beach and an equally beautiful cave. They had gone ashore for a swim, found the cave and decided to explore it. In the meantime, the tide had come in and trapped them and the native crew all night.

The adventure was so exciting that a similar scene was incorporated in the picture when it was made.

Thus, when you see "Bahama Passage," you'll see Miss Carroll and Hayden do a scene which takes place in a cave hidden under the blue Bahama waters. It is just one of the many love scenes in the picture, which is one of the season's most exciting romances.

Noblesville, Ind., police asked state troopers and Indianapolis police to help find a stolen automobile. It was black, contained a sawed-off shotgun, and had "Noblesville Police Department" painted on the sides.

Conservative use of range and a large percentage of lamb crop are two important factors that affect the cost of carrying a breeding ewe in Southeast New Mexico, according to H. B. Pingrey, associate economist of the New Mexico Experiment Station at New Mexico State College.

This conclusion is based on data furnished the agricultural economics department of the Experiment Station by eight cooperating sheepmen in the southeastern part of the state and reflects the results of their ranching operations in 1940.

"In general," said Pingrey, "the ranchmen, who secured a large percentage of lamb crop, and who grazed their ranges conservatively, produced lambs weighing sixty-five pounds or more and made the largest profit. However, four of the eight ranchmen failed to make sufficient income to pay them for their labor and 5 per cent on their equity invested."

The gross income for the year was $5.99 a head, and the net profit was 65 cents each. The production of lamb accounted for $3.41 and the sale of wool for $2.58 of the gross income per ewe. Grazing costs varied from $3.86 to $6.56, with an average of $5.34 a head.

Conservative grazing of the range, said Pingrey, provides a sufficient supply of forage to keep the ewe in good flesh for lambing and tends to reduce death loss among the ewes. In addition, it permits the young lamb to get a good start toward the seventy pounds of weight it should have at sale time.

Culling the ewe flock for wool weight, and the selection of ewe lamb replacements, taking into consideration conformation, weight, thriftiness, character of wool and the selection of the proper type of bucks, will increase the income per ewe, he said.

Items of expense based on cost per head included labor 64 cents, food and leases 31 cents, repairs, 25 cents, gas and oil 12 cents, taxes 22 cents, depreciation on improvements 73 cents, interest 22 cents, miscellaneous and livestock charges, 42 cents, operator's labor 21 cents, interest on capital equity invested $1.21, buck costs 21 cents and replacement of ewes 98 cents.

PRESIDENT APPROVES AG IMPROVEMENT AT ENMC

A telegram from Senator Dennis Chavez has confirmed presidential approval for a $17,885 WPA project to improve the farm facilities at Eastern New Mexico College, Dr. H. C. Gossard, director of internal organization of the college at Portales, has announced.

The work will include the erection of a barn, silo, poultry house, drilling of a water well and installation of water lines. The project also provides for moving of the stables and livestock to the south part of the farm.

1. Thousands of employees, only ten days after war declaration, gathered in mass meetings in most major G-E plants to pledge all-out war effort!

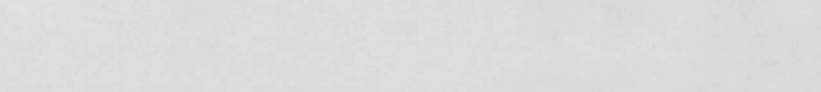

2. Almost 85 per cent of all General Electric employees signed up to buy U. S. Defense Savings Bonds totalling more than $20,000,000 a year!

3. A sign chalked by a G-E workman on a big machine being built for war. The sign carried this challenge to fellow workers: "Remember Wake Island!"

Artesia Racers Take Long End In Paso Meet

Local boat racers brought home four out of seven event trophies Sunday from a regatta on the Rio Grande at El Paso and now they are planning to defend the honors—not the trophies—against the El Pasoans and other racers on Lake McMillan within the next few weeks.

Jim Ferguson took a first in the twenty-two-horse class and second in the thirty-three class, both with his twenty-two-horse motor. In the twenty-two race, he led in both heats and in the second set the five-mile course record for the day, doing it in seven minutes and thirty-seven seconds.

R. N. Russell won first in the 16-18-horse class, while Bobbie Ferguson, Jim's son, took second, entering in that class with his nine-horse engine, when he found there would be no race in that class.

Buford Gray, commodore of the Pecos Valley Boat Club, was leading in the second heat of the 16-18, in which he took the first heat, when his boat struck a buoy and put him out of the running.

Gray has called a meeting of the club for 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the city hall to make plans for the club's first regatta of the season, to be held the latter part of this month or sometime next month, possibly on May 31, the day after Memorial Day.

Orders 100 Per Cent Oil Well Purchasing On Low Take Producers

The state oil conservation commission ordered Saturday that purchasers of New Mexico petroleum take 100 per cent of the production of wells producing ten barrels or less daily.

The order was effective April 16 to 30.

In the past, such wells have had to accept their pro-rated share of the state's oil sales.

The commission found that "ratable purchasing" if strictly applied to small wells, would cause "irreparable injury and make premature abandonment imminent."

Since such abandonment would "in itself be underground waste," the commission found it had authority to issue an emergency order without a hearing or published notice.

tesia as certified instructors to instruct wardens.

The coordinator said that gas and chemical warfare is effective in its demoralizing effect, but that if one has been taught to recognize the several gasses, their effects and the peculiarities of each and how to combat them, their striking power will have been neutralized greatly.

The effect of gas upon a community ignorant as to gas defense is terrible to contemplate, he said, pointing out that gas warfare is intended to demoralize. He quoted Napoleon as saying, "In war, the morale is to the physical as three to one."

In a war in which chemical agents are used, the coordinator continued, the morale factor is even greater. If a man is assured of reasonable protection against gas, he said, he will be far more valuable than if his innate fear of the subtle weapon were allowed full sway.

"Remember," said Baird, "that when a soldier is killed, the enemy has lost one adversary; when a soldier or civilian is seriously wounded or gassed, it requires four persons to care for him. Thus the enemy would rather hurt than kill."

The coordinator suggested that persons in the various zones of the city ask their wardens how they may be in civilian defense, thereby becoming eligible to receive this instruction.

The headquarters in the Artesia Hotel of the American Women's Voluntary Services, Inc., has been assigned as a reference library in national defense. Files there will include all books, pamphlets, reports and letters of instruction. Those interested in the civilian defense effort are invited to use the reference library.

Boys on Bataan

Every day the defenders became more undernourished and exhausted for want of food and then as the Japs started their desperate attack the first of this month, pouring in wave after wave of fresh troops, the men, sick, hungry and worn beyond endurance, collapsed as in a defending force. But until that time, as American history proudly will record, the American and Filipino defenders made the Japs pay ten or more to one for their possession of the mountainous jungles, as they withdrew to the tip of Bataan.

The majority of the local boys in the Philippines were attached to the 200th Coast Artillery, Anti-Aircraft, although there were a number with other outfits. The 200th was made up of the old 111th Cavalry, while the majority of Eddy County boys were enlistees with the old Carlsbad National Guard troop, Battery F—dubbed "First in spite of Hell"—which was pressed into federal service early last year and sent to the Philippines last September as part of the regiment.

T. H. FLINT CONFINED IN CARLSBAD HOSPITAL

T. H. Flint was admitted to a Carlsbad hospital Monday morning, a medical patient. Mr. Flint, who has spent much of the last few months in El Paso on account of health reasons, had been ill at his home here for several days before being removed to Carlsbad.

Although Mr. Flint has been quite ill, he was somewhat better Wednesday. Mrs. Flint and daughter, Miss Kitty Flint, have been spending most of the time in Carlsbad with Mr. Flint.

New High in Ship Production

LIBERTY SHIPS BEING FITTED OUT AT A BETHLEHEM YARD PREPARATORY TO SEA SERVICE. THE YARD IS PRODUCING A CONTINUOUS STREAM OF VESSELS OF THIS TYPE.

Bethlehem ship production this year will represent the greatest all-round shipbuilding output by any company in the history of the country.

Speed, speed and more speed is the constant objective; and always speed with quality, for a jerry-built ship is virtually useless in the grim tasks of maritime war.

The first Liberty ship which recently discharged supplies at a Red Sea port was built in a yard that was virtually non-existent a year ago. A tanker was delivered in 100 days from laying of keel. A battleship will be delivered 14 months ahead of schedule.

Cargo ships are being built in less than one-half the time required in the first World War. Comparable speeding up has been achieved on other types of ships and the schedule is being constantly stepped-up.

Expanding old yards, building new ones, tripling employment in a year's time, training thousands of new men, putting every effective facility to use, adopting pre-assembly and mass production methods—all these speed tonnage and more tonnage, a steadily-mounting output of ships from Bethlehem yards.

All hands are doing their utmost for Victory, working to achieve the maximum for the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Maritime Commission, so that the "bridge of ships" shall be maintained and steadily enlarged.
