HOW ABOUT ONE MORE BOND?

After having written all of the palaver which appears below in this column and then read it back to see if any of it made sense, we decided we should have at least one serious thought, so we are starting out with an addenda on a matter, which is plenty serious.

North Eddy County is having a hard time meeting its quota in the Third War Loan drive, which was supposed to end today, but which is extended unofficially until the end of the week.

Perhaps a boy has been into battle all he cares to. But he goes back in again, because it has to be done.

Perhaps you have invested all you care to in War Bonds. You do have a choice in the matter; the boy doesn't.

Don't you think you can manage to buy one more bond this week?

LITTLE OBSERVATIONS ON NATURE

One of the best signs of approaching winter is the unusual activities among swallows, which started here the latter part of last week, as they began to gather into flocks and nervously dive and zoom around buildings and over the streets.

Dove migrations were observed nearly a month ago and thousands of the early ducks have arrived in or passed through the valley.

One of these days we will learn that many of the bats in the Carlsbad Caverns have started their annual odyssey, while the remaining ones have hibernated deep in Bat Cave for the duration—of the winter.

The migration of animals is one of the strange things of Nature, something which cannot be understood entirely. How the birds and bats—yes, and even some species of butterflies—know when to move and in what direction is a mystery.

In a locality where we used to live there were many martins, first cousins to the swallows so common in Artesia. We knew that they would arrive on or about the same date every year. They never missed it more than a day and some of the fellows used to bet on the arrival. One, studying the sky and the wind would bet two bits that they would, and the other fellow would bet that they wouldn't arrive on April 24. Year in and year out the fellow who stuck to that date would be ahead.

It might be interesting to watch next year to see whether the swallows start on Sept. 24 to gather in flocks and increase their flying exhibitions, which would be the envy of any pilot. We'll bet they do.

RUMOR DIDN'T HURT, ANYWAY

An old saw relates that coming events cast their shadows before them.

Not that we are an event, but we evidently cast a shadow in a certain neighborhood, into which it was rumored we were planning to move.

Some of our potential neighbors, realizing that one of our pet ravens has to do with cutting limbs along the sidewalks, and fearing that we might move on to the same street, hastened to trim up their trees, for fear our ire might otherwise be raised.

So that's accomplished. But we wish to allay their fears; we are moving, all right, but to another neighborhood.

IT SEEMS TO BE UNPARDONABLE

Perhaps if we had nothing on the front page it would cause considerable comment, but surely it could not be greater than that heard last week when the Glamour Gal's "Snappy Shots" department was crowded out.

Some last-minute ads forced us to weed out about three columns of type, including the Upper Cottonwood items and the Glamour Gal. Had we anticipated the rush, we could have made up the early runs in a slightly different manner, thus being able to get in those departments and stories which failed to appear.

And we hope that won't happen again—especially as to the Glamour Gal's scribbles—for the repercussions are terrible to behold.

IT'S THE LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT

A sticker for style, both in the body of stories and headlines, we seldom break a rule.

Never in our life have we started a headline with a figure or a dollar sign and we avoid abbreviations in heads the same as we would in the body of a story. For that reason we even taboo the percentage mark in a headline. It has no business, of course, in any news story, although it may be used in a tabulation or an advertisement. Ergo, it does not belong in a headline.

So it is with bowed head that we admit we used "P. I." for Philippine Islands in the second deck of a headline last week.

It is merely by way of letting you know that we do not agree with the slipshod methods of some editors and headline writers who make a habit of that sort of thing, and to stress that The Advocate is not slipping.

But in the whirl of trying to meet the deadline, we simply could not make the words fit in, so we had to break one of our ironclad rules.

SO WE HAVE OUR COMPASS, THANKEE

Who says our editorials don't get results?

Two weeks ago we started a campaign to find our pocket compass, in hopes that it would turn up in time for the big game season.

We related that we believed we had loaned it to someone last fall after we came back from the mountains.

And we have it back!

It seems that the red shirt we looked at some time ago in the storage box at the house belongs to the Missus.

When we dug all of our duffle out Sunday, there was our own red shirt and attached to it by a leather thong was our compass.

Yep, our editorials get results!

Cotton Program Of Improvement Will Continue

The cotton improvement program, to encourage the planting of one variety and to improve cotton, will be continued next year, Fred A. Barham, Eddy County farm agent, said he has been informed.

Under the program, an improved variety is selected for each area. In the Pecos Valley 1064 cotton has been selected, he said.

During the current season, if a farmer bought either registered or certified 1064 seed for planting purposes, he was paid the purchase price of $1.10 per 100 pounds on seed bought.

If he bought registered seed or received Elite (foundation) seed for the production of seed from the Crop Improvement Association, the program paid him $2.25 per 100 pounds on the seed bought.

Barham said the program paid to farmers in Eddy County $1,221 in 1943.

The design of the White House is said to have been modeled on that of the Duke of Leinster's palace in Dublin.

S. A. Lanning, Sr., brought to the First National Bank Monday a stalk of cotton containing sixty-five bolls. This sample, however, was not an average stand. If it were, cotton farmers could reduce their acreage by half and still produce more cotton than with the present acreage.

Several hundred bats found at Dunn's Garage almost rival the Carlsbad Caverns bats in number. Saturday was bat killing day at the garage and about 300 were slain. They had found a hiding place under a tin sign at the side of the adobe building. Driven out by means of fly spray, they were dispatched with a broom as they tried to escape. About half of the bats were killed.

Lewis Story, who was in St. Louis buying for the Christmas trade, arrived home yesterday.

Completion of the Hobbs municipal airport has been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which also authorized construction of two additional runways. Sealed bids for the runways—both to be 150 feet wide and one 5,000 feet long and the other 4,930 feet long—were to be opened at noon Sept. 28 in the Fort Worth, Tex., CAA office.

Information on how greatly grants to old age assistance clients will be increased in November will probably be available soon, State Welfare Director Gordon Herkenhoff said. Revenues from the state tobacco tax, which the Supreme Court recently held was not subject to a referendum, are earmarked entirely for old-age assistance.

The olden days, when the college "frosh" trembled at sight of a lordly sophomore, are gone at New Mexico Highlands University—at least for the duration. Registration figures show that at the beginning of the second week of the fall quarter, with students still arriving, freshmen comprised approximately 50 per cent of the total enrollment. Last year the percentage was 43, as compared with 39 in 1941 and 44 in 1940.

Ceiling of $14.45 and $14.75 become effective Oct. 4 for live hogs in New Mexico. Clem W. Collins, regional OPA administrator, announced that a $14.45 ceiling would be effective in Colfax, Union, Mora, Harding, San Miguel, Guadalupe, Quay, Curry, De Baca, Chavez, Roosevelt, Lea and Eddy Counties. This ceiling is the same as that set for Wyoming. In other New Mexico counties, the ceiling is $14.75 and is the same as that set for sales within Idaho, Utah and Montana.

EIGHT GOOD TOMATOES GROW ON ONE STEM

The latest addition to the vegetable exhibits from Victory gardens is one from A. M. Peden, an unusual cluster of tomatoes on a single stem, eight well developed ones and a ninth, which did not appear to be getting nourishment.

He brought them in a few days ago when he moved, after having nursed them along in hopes that they would develop into a cluster of ripe tomatoes. Well, they did—at The Advocate office.

Strong Ysleta Indians Smother Artesia Bulldogs 37 to 0 on Morris Field Friday

Ysleta Indians, said by local sports fans to be the football team ever to play on Morris Field, swamped the Artesia Bulldogs here Friday evening, 37 to 0, when they crossed the line two times in each of the first three quarters and once each in the fourth and fifth periods.

Wayne Riddle and the Bulldogs took the beating in good spirits, feeling that it had been a good experience to meet the strong Indians. Riddle said might be the championship contenders. Indians first scored early in the opening period, when the quarterback, went over the one-yard line, after a down the field from the 47-yard line, in which first-and-ten were made.

A few minutes later, after an arrow down the field, that from the Indians' 22-yard line, fullback, received a pass from Stinson, fullback, and ran across for the second down.

They were again carrying the ball in the second period, Indians made their third down. On a double spinner the Bulldogs' 31-yard line, Barrett through the left side of the end and across.

The Indians were in scoring position after covering the ball on a Bulldog punt on kickoff, and a series of plays to the five from the 20-yard line. Ploving center, Carnes crossed the line.

Break pass, Stinson to Barry, juggled the pigskin, and a try in the air by Harris, put all across in the third quarter the fifth touchdown from 23-yard line.

Place kick gave the Indians extra point.

Final touchdown was in the quarter, when Harris went through the line on a double spin on the 11-yard line.

Despite the uneven score and splendid exhibition given by the Indians, they only made nine and-ten, while the Bulldogs three. Two of them were in opening minutes of the third quarter, when Artesia penetrated Ysleta territory deeper than any other time, reaching the 20-yard line before losing the ball to visitors.

War Part of Natives Is Told in Book

The contributions of the Spanish-speaking people of the Southwest to America's war effort are dramatically portrayed in a recently issued publication, "Spanish-Speaking Americans in the War," sponsored by the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs and the Office of War Information.

Telling its story largely through thirty excellent pictures and containing an accompanying text printed in both English and Spanish, the attractive twenty-four-page booklet shows vividly the activities of Spanish-speaking Americans in the armed forces, on the farms, and in war industries.

"On the United States side of the Rio Grande," the booklet says, "one out of every two Spanish-speaking males between the ages of 15 and 65 is either in the armed forces or has left his home to farm, to mine, to build ships and planes."

A considerable number of copies of the booklet have been made available for free distribution to individuals and organizations in New Mexico through the School of Inter-American Affairs of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque. The school is now making plans for the widest possible distribution of the booklet throughout the state. Individuals who wish copies, or organizations wishing a number to distribute in their communities, are invited to write the School of Inter-American Affairs.

W. L. Vandever left Tuesday for San Jose, Calif., to join Mrs. Vandever and their son, Warren, who have been with Mrs. Vandever's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spivey, for the last two months. Mr. Vandever, who has been employed in the Artesia oil fields for the last ten years, and at the present is employed by the Danciger Oil & Refining Company, has been granted an indefinite leave. If Mrs. Vandever's health continues to improve, they expect to remain on the coast. If not they probably will return here.

Mrs. H. A. Stroup left by train for Kansas points last Thursday evening. Mrs. Stroup is now visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lydia Jones, in Osage, Kan., and writes that she made the trip fine. She expects to visit other relatives at different points in Kansas during the next three weeks.

Worldwide Communion Will Be Observed at Methodist on Sunday

Worldwide communion will be observed, morning and evening, at the First Methodist Church Sunday. A brief communion meditation will be delivered by the Rev. C. A. Clark, pastor, at the morning service, which begins at 10:50 o'clock. At this service organ and anthem music will be rendered.

Work is progressing on the organ chimes, being installed, and it is expected that the chimes will be ready for the Christmas carols. These chimes are from a great $30,000 pipe organ recently dismantled at Oklahoma City. They will be for both outside and inside work.

The work of outside decoration of the church building is nearing completion, and inside decoration will begin as soon as proper material can be had.

The pastor will preach and administer the Holy Communion at Lake Arthur at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning, and will preach and preside at the Fourth quarterly conference of the Sacramento Circuit at Lower Penasco Church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

OPA AMENDMENT MADE ON POSTING CEILING

A recent amendment of OPA regulations has relieved retailers of the requirement that they file ceiling prices on new cost-of-living items handled by them each month, with the exception of dealers in solid fuels. For solid fuels there still must be initial and monthly filings as previously. New stores must still file their lists of ceiling prices on all cost-of-living items, but like others, need not make supplementary filings. Requirements covering men's and boys' tailored clothing are similar to those on cost-of-living items, calling for initial but not supplementary filings. Dealers handling insecticides and fungicides need not make any filings either initial or supplementary, on these items.

"Jeep Nerves"—that's what Dan O'Neill calls the jumpy way some folks react to the strain of wartime living.

Not that Dan blames 'em. When you work 12 hours a day and travel in crowded busses—live in trailers and put up with inconveniences—it's only natural to get tense and irritable. "Folks must learn to relax," says Dan, "and take it easy."

And Dan thinks he has the formula. Soon as he's through at the shop he comes straight home, picks out the comfortablest chair and pours himself a tall, cool glass of beer.

Then he sips it—slowly and appreciatively—like good beer should be enjoyed.

And by the time that glass of beer is gone, Dan says his disposition is as good as new... and the day's work seems well worth tackling again tomorrow.

It's a real effective formula. I know; I've tried it!

WHY IN ADVERTISING

Few years back, there was a man who had an open-front stand, he sold soft drinks. When before the magistrate for adulterated syrups, he said he didn't know what to do, because his patrons liked the stuff. He was instructed to tell the truth about the ingredients.

When an agent investigated the man's compliance, he was to his amazement, the man enthusiastic. He was complying with the law, and his business increased. He pointed to a sign which he claimed was visible. It read: "All of our drinks guaranteed to be high-alternated."

Mr. and Mrs. Linell to Celebrate Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

Engagement Of Ann Crouch Is Announced Here

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Crouch this week announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their only daughter, Alda Ann, to Lt. Michael P. Stefanko of Pittsburg, Pa.

The wedding will be at the chapel of the Carlsbad Army Air Field at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 9. Miss Mary Jo Mathis, Artesia, and Lt. Fred Sickles, stationed at the Carlsbad Army Air Field, will be bridesmaid and best man.

Miss Crouch, who came to Artesia with her parents about three years ago, is a gifted baton twirler. She was the popular drum major during her last two years of high school at Artesia High School, and also at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, last year. She was also the University of New Mexico "Sun Princess" at the Sun Carnival held in El Paso last New Year's Day. Miss Crouch has won in majorette contests in Kansas City, in several Texas cities and in the state of Kansas, Colorado, California, and New Mexico.

Lieutenant Stefanko, who has been in the Army the last four years, is an instructor at the Sperry Bomb Sight School at the Carlsbad Army Air Field, and expects to be located there indefinitely.

Mrs. Ralph Hayes and Mrs. Ethel McGuire are entertaining at the Hayes home at 409 Richardson Avenue this evening, complimenting Miss Crouch, bride-elect.

MRS. HOLCOMB HONORS SON ON THIRTEENTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Jack Holcomb entertained at a dinner Tuesday evening, honoring her young son, Jackie, on his thirteenth birthday anniversary. Eight of Jackie's young friends were guests and each presented the honoree a birthday gift.

The birthday cake was baked and presented by Jackie's two aunts, Miss Ruby and Miss Halley Mae McClanahan of Lake Arthur, who were also dinner guests.

Mrs. Lewis Story is expected home today from Denver, where she spent the last ten days with her daughter, Wanda, and her son, Lewis W. Mrs. Story accompanied her son back to Denver after a visit here with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Linell will hold open house Saturday evening at their home at 405 West Missouri Avenue, entertaining informally, to celebrate the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. Linell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linell. Friends are invited to call during the hours of 8 to 10:30 o'clock. No formal invitations are being issued.

Frank Linell and Clara Edwards were married, Oct. 2, 1883, at Pontiac, Ill. Shortly after they were married they moved to South Dakota, where they lived for eighteen years. Mr. and Mrs. Linell and their four living children—two had died in infancy—came to Lake Arthur forty years ago. They resided on a farm near Lake Arthur for about a year, then moved to Artesia, where they have since resided. Mr. Linell operated a furniture and paint store here until about five years ago, when he retired from business life.

"Dad" and "Mother" Linell, as they are known by their many friends, have helped build Artesia and watched this little city grow and develop from a crossroads station to the Artesia of today. They recall only one block of sidewalk when they came to Artesia, in front of what is now the L. P. Evans Store.

Only two of their six children survive, William, the youngest son, at whose home the celebration will be held, and Loretta, Mrs. Jack Clady, of Hermosa Beach, Calif., the youngest of the children. Two sons, Albert and Fay, were victims of accidents, which took them when they were young men.

Mr. and Mrs. Linell have four grandchildren, Albert, Peggy, Mrs. Kenneth Brodt; and Dorothy, son and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Linell, and Jackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clady. Only Dorothy and Mrs. Brodt will be here for the celebration, Saturday, Albert, the elder grandson, is in the Army Air Corps, stationed at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. Jackie is with his parents on the West Coast.

Mrs. Clady has notified her parents that she expects to send an anniversary greeting over the air from Hollywood, Calif., Saturday morning.

The Junior AWVS president expressed the thanks of the organization for the cooperation of the women of this area in the campaign. A few months ago a large shipment of old hose was made, the material to be used for parachutes and other items in the war effort. It is not anticipated the current collection will be as large, but every bit of silk or nylon will be put to good use, Miss Everts said.

Miss Barnett Is Wedded Monday To K. Williams

Miss Billie Sue Barnett, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boone Barnett, was married to Kenneth Williams, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Williams, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening.

The Barnett home was the setting for the pretty home wedding which was witnessed by members of the two immediate families, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett and their daughter, Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their son, Harold. Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar before the fireplace, which was massed with twining ivy and decorated with dahlias. Two large floor baskets of dahlias were also placed on either side.

The Rev. S. M. Morgan read the ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Guinivere Ellis, bridesmaid, wore a pink crepe suit with black accessories and a corsage of orchid gladioli. James Nellis was best man.

Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Williams, mothers of the bridal pair, both chose for the wedding black afternoon frocks, with which they wore corsages of red rosebuds.

The bride was attired in a tailored, fall suit of soldier blue wool, her accessories were black and her flowers a shoulder corsage of pink gladioli. Both the bride and bridegroom were reared in the Artesia community, graduating from the Artesia High School, he with the class of '42 and she with the class of '43. The marriage was the culmination of a romance beginning in high school three years ago.

After the ceremony a beautifully decorated wedding cake was served from a lace-covered table, centered with a bowl of pink and white roses and lighted by tall, white tapers.

Mr. Williams, who was inducted into the Army last May and has since been stationed at San Diego, Calif., arrived last Friday on an eleven-day furlough. He and his bride left immediately after the informal reception on an unannounced honeymoon trip. Young Williams expects to leave Saturday, reporting to San Francisco. Mrs. Williams expects to remain here with her parents for the duration of the war.

Ambitious War Stamp Campaign Launched By Junior AWVS

The Junior AWVS girls launched an ambitious War Saving Stamp program at a meeting at the city hall Tuesday evening, when every member pledged to buy some stamps every week and a committee of five girls was named to be in charge of War Stamp sales at Artesia High School.

Whereas all members took part in the sales of stamps at the school last school year, it was decided more could be accomplished with five of them concentrating on the task, which will be pushed one period each week.

Named were Misses Barbara Lynch, Patti Runyan, Helen Hebert, Ditty Del Washburn, and Kathryn McDermott. In charge will be Miss Betty Everts, the organization's president.

At the meeting there were seventeen of the old members and five girls who wish to join. They will be fingerprinted and start their required course in Red Cross first aid as soon as the two can be arranged.

Miss Geneva Bentley, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Bentley Shockley and niece of Mrs. John Lively, was married to Eldon Marcell Fox Sept. 21. The wedding was in a Baptist church in San Francisco with a small group of relatives and friends in attendance.

Miss Bentley wore for her wedding a tailored, mannish, blue, pin-striped suit, with pink blouse and off-the-face blue hat and other blue accessories, and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Shockley was gowned for her daughter's wedding in a blue street frock. She wore black accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The bride, who has made her home here with her aunt, Mrs. Lively, for many years, attended Artesia High School and was a member of the class of '43. She and her mother, Mrs. Shockley, went to San Francisco at the close of school last May and have since been employed in the Richmond Ship Yards, where she expects to continue for the duration of the war.

Mr. Fox, the bridegroom, is a gunner on a ship, which transports troops to points in the Pacific, operating to and from San Francisco. He comes from the state of Washington and expects to return to the farm there when the war is over.

AWVS Will Study Chemical Warfare

A study of Chemical Warfare will begin Monday by members of the AWVS, conducted by Miss Florence Dooley. Books are here and every member who expects to take the course should be present for the first period of the twenty-hour course. Classes will meet at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock.

efficient, as well as attractive.

I could hardly believe it myself, but it really happened, so I pass it on to you. Berta Foster was told to get to El Paso as soon as she could the other day for a major operation. Well she wasn't feeling any too well at the time, so she was given a hypo to help her along. On the spur of the moment what woman is ready for such a thing? Berta was no exception; she had to go to the beauty parlor before such a thing could be thought of. The poor girl who fixed her up was seriously considering joining her in the hospital by the time she got away. Would be a little hard of your nerves, wouldn't it? Last I heard Berta is doing fine and looking very pretty at the same time.

How can any one manage to always look as happy as Ray Bartlett does? He must just live right. However, I would like to have his formula.

It always tickles me to see a father playing nursemaid and taking it seriously. And Clare Meisinger was doing just that the other day. I sometimes wonder if possibly they don't do a more thorough job than the mothers. One thing sure, they don't let them out of their sight. Of course, the little Meisinger boy is old enough that he isn't much trouble, and Clare didn't have to worry about little matters. But the Kenneth Williams little boy is still in his infancy, and it was quite comical to see Kenney showing him off proudly, but at arm's length. Regardless, I'm sure they both deserve a medal for being such a help to their wives.

The housing situation in Artesia is getting to be a little beyond the funny stage. If one is lucky enough to find a place, he doesn't dare tell his best friend about it. I truly feel sorry for some people though, such as J. C. Vandevanter. He is seriously considering moving his family into his office. That is all right too, if you are lucky enough to find an office.

Alfred C. Wright, brother of Mrs. M. E. Billingslea, who has been chief clerk in the quartermaster's office at Fort Sumner and La Junta, Colo., and more recently at the Apache Indian reservation, San Carlos, Ariz., has accepted a similar position with the supply division of an air field in Salt Lake City, Utah.

 By Mary Jane *****
"Kings Row," the eagerly-awaited film version of the Henry Bellamann novel, has been scheduled by the Valley Theater for Oct. 13-14. Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field are started and the featured cast is headed by Charles Coburn, Judith Anderson, Claude Rains, Nancy Coleman, Maria Ouspenskaya, Harry Davenport and Kaaren Verne.
The apparently humdrum small city of the American midlands, wherein all human passions and prejudices are encompassed in small space, has not often been used by the novelists or the movie makers as the locale for their product.
"Kings Row" dared to be different. It represents a frank unmasking of such a town, with the resultant high drama and the comedy, pathos and excitement that always are to be found there.
"Kings Row" is the story of a comparatively small community where the tangled lives and loves of young and old present a pattern of fascinating variety. Towns, like individuals, are never either all good or all bad. Kings Row was such a town. The story that comes from this town makes ample use of all the tragedy and drabness that is found in such a place but it also focuses attention on the high notes of happiness for the human beings who struggle there to make their lives better and their loves more enduring.

MUST POST MANIFEST IDENTIFYING PRODUCTS

All shippers of beef and veal must post within the freight car, trucks or other means of transport a manifest identifying these products while they are in transit.
This is to insure compliance with the beef and veal regulation by sales of meat items which do not meet the specifications set forth in the invoice; in other words, charging for one grade and shipping a lower grade. Inspectors will be able to examine trucks and other transportation vehicles and readily determine whether the contents comply with the posted manifest and whether prices ceilings for the grade shipped are being observed.

Care of Farm Machinery by New Mexico Farmers Helps Food Program

The excellent care farmers are giving their farm machinery and equipment in New Mexico is one of the major contributions to the war food program, says J. T. Stovall, acting extension conservationist in charge of agricultural engineering.
During 1942 and 1943, agricultural equipment went to the fields in a better state of repair than ever before, he said. "This situation must continue for the duration of the war, as we know that farmers are going to be asked to produce more and more food with less and less new machinery," Stovall continued.
The 1944 machinery production looks good now. A considerable increase is contemplated. However, there will not be enough new machines to meet all demands, worn out, or where there is an only enough to replace machines absolute necessity for new machinery. Old machines will be called upon to do most of the work again next year and adequate care must be given these old machines if they are to do the job.

Adequate care means two things: First, keeping in good repair ready for use; second, careful maintenance while in use to assure long life.
In order to get spare parts, farmers know that orders must be placed months ahead of needs. By placing orders early, experience has taught that dealers have time to make orders and get the needed parts. Careful maintenance of machinery gives satisfactory service, saves wear on parts, increases efficiency of machines, and prevents breakdowns, thereby saving labor and money.
These and many other things farmers have learned during the last two seasons, which makes them more anxious in 1944 than ever before that a good repair job is done earlier in the year.

Word has been received by Paul W. Ball, local Farm Security Administrator, that the government-owned farm project near Fort Sumner is being sold to individual farm operators.
The project, consisting of twenty well-improved irrigated farms, which have been operated by the FSA since 1937, is being sold at this time in accordance with the requirements of Congress and that FSA would continue to furnish supervision to the purchasers of the farms.
Selected purchasers will be given deeds to their farms and will have forty years to pay at 3 percent interest on a variable payment plan, according to D. W. Laughter, FSA representative at Fort Sumner, who is handling all applications for farms.
It is reported that the farms will all be sold to eligible farmers not now owning farms who desire to make permanent farm homes in the valley and that FSA officials hope to complete sales on all of the farms to eligible applicants by the latter part of October.

Smashed Spuds Surely Should Smack Smoothly

Dorothy Ames Carter of New York City, who writes "Food Advertisements" for The Advocate, also can sling a mean essay, when the occasion presents itself, and Miss Carter is the gal who can see that an occasion comes along.
Paraphrasing Falstaff of the radio, "Precisely why she is here; she has written an essay"—about mashed potatoes. So put on a napkin and give Dottie an ear:
"Mashed potatoes are like arithmetic problems, they are either right or they are wrong and don't give us any of your lip. Good mashed potatoes should be like Frank Sinatra's singing—very warm and smooth and tender. They should also be lumpless as a pin-up girl's gams and white as snow—snow back home, not snow in New York City.
"People who mash potatoes with cold water should be smacked with a wet towel while cringing, but people who mash them with hot milk rate triple genuflections daily.
"Some low minds regard mashed potatoes as simply a windward anchor for peas and unfeeling oafs have been known to insinuate foreign objects like parsley into mashed potatoes. Crime annals indicate that some cafeteria frequenters believe that mashed potatoes' only function is to serve as a convenient cover into which to secrete olives, pickles, and other such items so that the checker will not see or charge for them.
"Of course, anybody with half an ear for mashed potatoes will, upon being served with as many as can be flung on to the plate without flicking the spoon over three times, promptly make a deep, round hole in the middle of the mound and then pour in gravy until it runs over the rim. This is sometimes called "making a volcano" but it is also known as making away with the most gravy.
"Potatoes have been scarce in some sections of late, but probably if we are all very good and do our Victory garden work, we will again have the opportunity to boil, drain, and beat like hell."

Frank Lutinacci, a visitor from Homestead, Pa., at Cleveland, ran out of money while fleeing three would-be burglars. He told police he was accosted by the robbers in an alley and ran so fast he lost his right shoe—in which he had secreted an envelope containing $60.

Representatives of Business Will Advise On Price Controls

The first move of Reagan P. Connally, former New Mexico business man, in taking over as one of the OPA chiefs in Washington, has been to call in representatives of retail business to advise him on price controls, it was learned by the state Office of Price Administration.

Connally formerly was a merchant in Roosevelt County, who rose to president of Interstate Department Stores. He resigned from that post to become director of the consumer goods division of OPA recently.

In order to get views of those most vitally affected by price programs he has invited fifty-five retailers and six representatives of consumers and organized labor to serve with him as an advisory council.

In addition to this national advisory group, Connally will set up similar smaller groups in each region of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeal moved down recently from Roswell and are living in a nice trailer house on the Worley Brothers farm. Mr. McNeal will supervise this farm after the first of the year, which Dr. Boggs of Roswell bought recently.

Mrs. Glenn O'Bannon and daughter, Mary Frances, accompanied Mrs. B. E. Green of Artesia to Roswell last Thursday.

Miss Oneta Worley of Arizona, former resident of this community, is visiting a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Worley of Roswell, and will also visit her brother, Orval Worley, of this community. Oneta is cashier in a grocery store in a mining town in Arizona.

Mrs. Virginia Briscoe of Artesia sold her farm on Upper Cottonwood last week to Oscar Slease of South Eddy County. Mr. and Mrs. Huston Felton have lived on the Briscoe farm for the last ten years.

Kindly Intentioned Public Is Hazard To John Gates and His Dog, Dodie

The helpful and kindly intentioned public is a greater hazard to "Seeing-Eye Dogs" than the traffic of Times Square in New York, according to an interesting article to John Gates, Artesia man, who recently received a trained dog to guide him, from The Seeing Eye, Inc., at Morristown, N. J., where he was trained for a month in the use of his "Seeing-Eye Dog," Dodie.

The information came from reactions received from graduates of the school, which educates dogs as guides for blind people, and it applies to the case of John Gates and Dodie. The public is asked to heed the points brought out and allow them to work out their own problems. The article continues:

The public, even though realizing that the dog is capably and efficiently taught, interferes constantly with its efficiency by attempting to lead blind graduates of the school across streets and intersections, and even around obstructions on sidewalks.

"While the intention of the public is only to be kindly and helpful," Mrs. Harrison Eustis, honorary president and founder of The Seeing Eye, said, "the result produced is similar to that which would occur if you grabbed the arm of a man who was driving an automobile rapidly in heavy traffic. 'Seeing-Eye Dogs' are perfectly competent to guide blind people, who have been educated to use them, in all kinds of traffic wherever they would go. However, 'Seeing-Eye Dogs' cannot be expected to watch for speeding automobiles and at the same time to cope with the interference of some person who may have taken their masters' arms and be pushing or pulling in an opposite direction, or who may be shouting words of warning.

"The public shows also a perfectly natural, but a very harmful, tendency to pet 'Seeing-Eye Dogs,' who are busily engaged in guiding their blind charges among pedestrians on the sidewalks. While 'Seeing-Eye Dogs' normally ignore pedestrians, they cannot be distracted when as many as fifty affectionate pats or caresses are received in one block. The public can be most helpful by allowing a 'Seeing-Eye Dog' and

BROTHER OF LATE SID COX DIES IN ALABAMA

The Rev. Tommie Cox of Shawmut, Ala., brother of the late Sid Cox of Artesia, died Sunday morning, Sept. 19, only a month after being here in regard to business in regard to his brothers estate.

News of his death came in a telegram from the widow of the Rev. Mr. Cox to Calvin Dunn of Artesia and Carlsbad.

He was here for some time after the death of Sid Cox Dec. 16, 1941, and had visited in Artesia a number of times prior to that.

At present, there are approximately 750 blind men and women using "Seeing-Eye Dogs" in forty-eight states and the District of Columbia. The dog learns its job through an intensive three-month course at The Seeing Eye school in Morristown. After the dog has been thoroughly educated, a selected blind person spends one month learning how to follow the dog's guiding and how to direct the dog by means of spoken commands, the spirit of which, if not always the letter, the dog follows.

The Seeing Eye is a philanthropic organization, established in 1929, supported by memberships. Back of the system of educating the dogs which it uses, are ten years of research and experimental breeding work for dog intelligence conducted in Europe by its honorary president and the vice-president of the division of training. The organization will this year educate 150 dogs and as many blind men and women. It is in a position to care adequately for the steadily increasing demand at the fifty-three-acre estate at Morristown.

Women at Work for a Railroad at War

America needs millions of women to take over war jobs... to stay with those jobs... to help speed the day when our fighting men will return victorious!

Santa Fe women are answering this call all along the line.

Right now thousands of Santa Fe women are doing war-vital work to "keep 'em rolling." Many are pitching into "unglamorous" jobs... greasing engines, operating turntables, welding shovels, working in blacksmith shops, and cleaning roller bearings. They take pride in their work, too!

Many of these women have husbands, sweethearts, brothers or sons in the armed forces. Many came to work to replace a Santa Fe relative who had been called into service. Others took jobs because they knew womanpower must step in when manpower goes to war.

☆ We of the Santa Fe salute these women who know that what they are doing is vital to Victory!

SMART?

Any Girl Who Earmarks Her WAR BONDS for an ALL ELECTRIC Kitchen Is Smart!

We play a kind of make-believe game at our house every pay day! Tom adds up the War Bonds we've saved—and I figure out how close I'm coming to getting that electric kitchen I've had my heart set on for years! You see, Tom and I decided to go without all the unnecessary things and put the money in War Bonds. That means we'll not only help win the war sooner—but we'll be able to enjoy more electrical appliances when manufacturers turn from war materials to home equipment again.

Golf Qualifying Is Extended to Next Sunday

The time for playing qualifying rounds in the Artesia Golf Club 1943 city tournament has been continued a week, through next Sunday, because of the bad weather last week end, it was announced by Paul Bugg, tournament chairman. This likewise postpones the start of the tournament to Sunday, Oct. 10.

A number of the players, planning to have qualified Sunday, either found the course too wet and slow, or did not venture out in the inclement weather.

B. E. Spencer, city champion in 1941, has made the lowest qualifying rounds to date, shooting eighty-one for the eighteen holes. Bugg said pairings will be made next week.

He asked that all members of the club qualify, so as to make the tournament a success. Bugg pointed out that the membership is very low at this time because so many of the former active players are in the armed forces. For this reason, he said, it is up to some of the others who might not wish to compete in normal years to qualify and go through the whole tourney.

WIFE OF METHODIST PASTOR WILL PREACH

Mrs. C. A. Clark, wife of the pastor, will fill the pulpit at the First Methodist Church in his absence at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. "Until That Day" or "Christian Fortitude" will be Mrs. Clark's topic.

Before her marriage to the Reverend Mr. Clark, Mrs. Clark was for many years a missionary under the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, and long before the Methodist Church authorized women as regular ministers, the Rev. Mr. Clark said his wife had been "bootlegging the gospel." Hear her at the church auditorium Sunday evening, he advised.

Twenty-Five Is Word Limit in Writing Prisoners

The North Eddy County chapter of the American Red Cross has received new regulations of the Japanese government in regard to correspondence to prisoners of war and civilian internees, which put a minimum of twenty-five words on each letter.

The regulations also point out that letters must be typewritten or printed in capital letters, clearly legible.

Letters must contain only personal or family news and must not contain military or political information or opinions.

Any letters which do not comply with these regulations, or which are not correctly addressed, will not be forwarded by the Japanese authorities. International Red Cross committee is making an effort for a liberation of these regulations. Strict observance of the ruling in the meantime will be necessary.

As all letters pass through the Japanese censors, letters should not contain remarks which might be construed as discourteous to the Japanese. This would likely prevent the letter reaching the prisoners.
