

Bulldogs Face Tough Schedule With Only Three Lettermen

Will Meet Roswell and Carlsbad Twice, Hobbs and Clovis Once, and Possibly Military Institute, Eunice, and Portales

Three Bulldog lettermen, plus five other former members of the Artesia High School football squad, and a group of ambitious boys will learn of the tough ahead of them this season, as they tackle one of the hardest schedules in a number of years. The news will be their coach, F. L. Green, who comes from Missouri schools, Marshall, principal and athletic director, said this morning, as he announced the schedule, as incomplete.

Definitely scheduled are six games, three each at home and away, while three other home games are pending, Marshall said.

The Bulldogs will meet both of the old Pecos Valley rivals twice, Carlsbad Cavemen and the Ros-Coyotes, will journey to Hobbs to meet the Eagles, and will play Clovis Wildcats on Morris Field.

The first game for the Artesia will be at Roswell Sept. 15, the next two definitely scheduled games also will be away from home, at Hobbs Oct. 13 and at Carlsbad Oct. 20.

Certain home games will be at Clovis Nov. 3, Carlsbad Nov. 17, and Roswell Nov. 23 or 24, if possible, however, Marshall said that the New Mexico Military Institute Colts will come to Artesia for the Bulldogs' first game Sept. 29. The date has been made with NMMI, which is the game there. But the Bulldogs met the Colts at Roswell last year and the athletic director has definitely given Artesia a game, and Marshall has said Sept. 22 and Oct. 6 and has a choice of dates, but the schools have not as yet gotten together. Marshall said Eunice has dates and that a game will be played.

The Portales Rams possibly will be the Bulldogs here Nov. 10, more likely on Nov. 10, as a practice day is observed in Artesia on Friday instead of Saturday, of which there has been speculation.

Marshall said a return game was planned with Ysleta, for some time that school played here because of transportation difficulties.

Regarding transportation, Marshall said the school will have to depend on the community in getting the Bulldogs to Roswell, Hobbs, and Carlsbad.

Only lettermen expected out of the Bulldogs are: Everett Juarez, end; and Bill Phillips, center. There will be no practice at Carlsbad, but equipment will be ready. The first practice will be at Carlsbad.

Marshall said he expects five former members of the Bulldogs to go to work on a Saturday, by way of preparing for the try-outs and looks for outfitting three squads.

Green, who met several of the squad members early in the week, said they were likely to play and will make a foundation for the team. But, he said, in the face of a tough schedule, it will be necessary for more potential Bulldogs to go out for the team.

Large Signature On Miller Ad Is Through Oversight

Through an oversight in shop orders, the signature of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller on a full-page advertisement in last week's issue of The Advocate appeared in display type, rather in more modest type, which Mr. Miller has asked be explained.

"I think every man, if he stands for the truth, should not be ashamed to use his name, even if it costs him business," he said.

But Mr. Miller went on to explain that he and his wife, although anxious that their names appear, did not feel that they were advertising themselves, rather that they were affixing their signatures to statements they had made.

The advertisement was a sincere argument by Mr. and Mrs. Miller in support of local option and the cause of the "drys" at the election Saturday.

Rainfall Last Night Is Total Of 1.55 Inches

In a steady, penetrating rain, apparently somewhat general in nature, 1.55 inches fell in Artesia between 11 o'clock last night and 7:30 o'clock this morning, when the daily reading of the gauge of the Southern Union Gas Company was made.

An estimated additional half of an inch of precipitation had fallen up to 11 o'clock this morning.

The rainfall starting last night was the first of any consequence this month. The only previous precipitation recorded was .05 inch for the twenty-four hours ending at 7:30 o'clock last Thursday morning.

That with the precipitation last night, up to 7:30 o'clock this morning, makes the total for August to date 1.60 inches.

Previously this year the precipitation was 5.10 inches, of which a total of 3.30 inches fell in July, the wet month so far this year. Total for the year up to 7:30 o'clock this morning was 6.70 inches.

School at Lake Arthur Unique; Same Faculty

Lake Arthur Public School, which will open Tuesday, Sept. 5, probably is unique among municipal schools in New Mexico. R. R. Lewis, superintendent, believes, in that the same teachers, same bus drivers and same janitor who were there when school closed in May will be back on the job.

Lewis said the building is in good condition and a new water system has just been installed. He is looking forward to another successful school year.

The faculty: R. R. Lewis, superintendent, social studies, science; A. R. Bostick, principal, mathematics, coach; Mrs. E. C. Jackson, English, commerce, librarian; Miss Rita Fincannon, home economics, junior high studies; Miss Ruby McClanahan, grades 5 and 6; Miss Halley Mae McClanahan, grades 3 and 4; Mrs. Nollie Halpert, grades 1 and 2.

Bus drivers: Mrs. J. B. Crook, Mrs. J. K. Funk, Mrs. E. H. Hill, and Mrs. R. L. Merritt. Janitor: Miss Dorotha Nihart.

Lewis announced there will be a faculty meeting at 9 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 4.

Base Loan Rate on Cotton at Artesia Is 21.1 Cents Pound

The base loan rates for New Mexico cotton are 21.1 cents a pound in Artesia, Carlsbad, and Hagerman, and 21.09 cents in Las Cruces and Roswell, C. V. Hemp-hill, chairman of the State AAA Committee, announced. These base rates apply to 15-16 inch middling cotton, net weight.

Cotton ginned in Harding, Quay, and Roosevelt Counties will be classed in the Smith-Coxy classing office in Lubbock. Cotton ginned in other New Mexico counties will be classed in El Paso.

Independent Petroleum Official Visits Artesia

L. Dee Campbell of Wichita Falls, Tex., manager of the Southern division of the Independent Petroleum Association, is in Artesia contacting members and making new contacts for membership.

He was accompanied here by Mrs. Campbell and their small son.

Miss Elizabeth Morgan of Gallup, sister of the Rev. S. M. Morgan, visited her mother and his family from Sunday to Wednesday.

'Static' Collier And Lt. Denton Buy Supply Store

R. D. (Static) Collier and Lt. Charles A. Denton have bought out the Artesia store of the General Supply Company from V. L. Hobbs of Pampa, Tex., who retained his other store at Pampa in the deal.

The new owners will operate under the name of Allied Supply Company.

Collier, manager of the General Supply Company store here since it opened in 1939, came here from Pampa May 10 of that year. He will be manager of the new partnership until his partner returns home.

Lieutenant Denton, pilot on a B-24 Liberator, completed fifty-one missions in the European theater and returned to the United States last month with his entire crew.

He expects to take an active part in the business after the war.

Hopkins Looks Ahead to the Post-War World

Community in the United States should go to work on a program, by way of preparing for the post-war world, he said today as he said they will be busy and forget the things they have experienced, members of the Artesia Rotary Club were told Tuesday weekly luncheon.

Hopkins, looking ahead to the post-war world, Hopkins said high prices must go. If other nations produce certain products more than can be used in the United States, they should find other products to produce for export, he said. "And we must be tops," he added.

As to the war, the United States made a mistake, in that it did not export certain products to the foreign shores returned to the United States, Hopkins declared. "We will have to be more lenient and ship in as well as ship out," he said.

Dope Has It That Girls Will Win Ball Game Even With Men as Battery, That's Way It Would Appear

With the humiliation of defeat in the recent softball games at the hands of the Artesia Lions Club still smarting—if that is not mixing metaphors—Rotarians who tasted the bitterness are laying their bets on the Artesia Business and Professional Woman's Club, when the women meet the men on the softball diamond at Morris Field at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Sept. 7.

Boone Barnett, who managed the defeated and crestfallen Rotarians, said he was certain it was just a matter of the Lions playing over their heads in the recent game and that he was certain the women players would have no trouble knocking them off in the coming fracas, which will be for the championship of the oil center of Southeast New Mexico—Artesia.

He was astonished when informed this week that the haughty Lions—perhaps thinking themselves chivalrous—have condescended to permit the battery for the girls to be composed of men. "They won't need 'em," Barnett said. "But," he added, "it will serve the Lions right."

The BPWC reports that Emil Bach will pitch and Garland (Scratchy) Rideout will catch, which, of course, will make it even tougher on the Lions. And the Lions have agreed that Bach and Rideout will not have to wear dresses.

Miss Maxine Bunting, speaking for her teammates, said, "I don't see how we can lose. After all, none of us has ever been placed in 4-F."

Furthermore, the girls are determined to win, as well as to help along another benefit game, the proceeds of which will go into charitable funds of the contending organizations. And they are going even further; they will have a refreshment concession at the game.

Applications for New Gas Ration Books Available

Applications for the new "A" gasoline books, which will run out Sept. 21, may be obtained at service stations. Their distribution began last week, moved up from the previously announced date of Sept. 1, to provide more time for motorists to make application and for boards to issue the new books.

They will contain coupons five each from A-13 through A-17, to be used the next five rationing periods.

Every coupon bears a serial number and places for the operator to inscribe his license number and state.

The blanks should be filled out and mailed to the county board. Vehicle owners should not call at the board office. Attached to an application should be the back of the old book, endorsed by the owner.

As the job of issuing new ration books is quite a large one, the Eddy County Board members will appreciate it if application is made promptly by everyone.

Privates Adams And House, Both Interned, Write

At least two more cards from North Eddy County boys in Japanese prisoner of war camps have been received recently, one each from Pvt. Don H. Adams to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Adams, and Pvt. Jess C. (Man) House, to his mother, Mrs. Cora House.

Both were on one of the new forms of cards, partly printed, with places to indicate the message, and partly typewritten.

Private Adams indicated on the printed portion that he was interned at Philippine Military Prison Camp No. 1 and that his health was good, and he wrote: "Hello Folks: I am well. Hope you are the same. Received your radiogram. Please write. Give my love and best wishes to everyone. Don H. Adams."

The radiogram to which he referred was sent by his parents and was released from the United States June 10, 1943. He was last previously heard from in December. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have had six communications from their son since he was interned after the fall of the Philippines.

Private House indicated he is at the same prison camp. His written portion of the card read: "Dear Mother: Am getting along fine and in good health. I am being well taken care of and receiving good treatment. Have not received any mail from you yet. Take care of everything. Give my regards to the rest of the family. Jess C. House."

All-Time Record Enrollment Is Expected for Artesia Schools

Kerr Contemplates Acute Classroom Shortage, at Least Until Completion of Park Elementary School First of Year

An all-time record enrollment in the Artesia public schools is expected when they open next week, placing an additional burden on the classroom situation, W. E. Kerr, superintendent, said this morning, when he again called attention to the registration schedule, which is to start Monday.

Although the classroom pressure will be relieved somewhat when the new elementary school—which has been named Park School—is completed, Kerr does not believe it will be ready for occupancy before the first of the year.

He said the name, Park School, was selected by the Artesia Board of Education at a meeting last week, after the members had considered a number of names. The name was selected because it is adjacent to the football park, Morris Field.

When completed, Park School will house classes for the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, in part, with the overflow classes in the high school building.

Bourland Makes Hole-in-One for the Second Time

Bob Bourland has achieved what is next to impossible; he has made a second hole-in-one!

The feat was accomplished Sunday afternoon on the course of the Artesia Golf Club, where he also made the previous hole-in-one.

Playing with him in a five-some, to attest to his prowess, were Bill Bullock, Bill Linell, Virgil Millsaps, and Guy (Whitey) Roberts.

The hole completed from teeoff Sunday by Bourland was No. 7, a distance of 144 yards. The former hole-in-one made by him, which was several years ago, was on No. 3, which is 154 yards.

New Faces to Be Seen on Artesia Faculty This Year

Thirteen new faces will be seen on the faculty of the Artesia schools this year, three at the high school, four each at Central and Park Schools, a band and orchestra director for grades and high school, and a director or physical education in the elementary schools.

Brief sketches, by way of introduction, were available for all except Mrs. G. J. Osborne of the high school faculty, who was out of the city.

The other new teachers in Artesia Junior-Senior High School: Miss Sara Seitz, who comes from Cattlesburg, Ky., will have charge of the library and teach English. She received her bachelor of arts degree at the University of Kentucky and her bachelor of science in library science at the University of Illinois. She has taught in various high schools in Kentucky and Illinois. Her last assignment was at Roxana, Ill.

Forest L. Green comes from Edina, Mo., where he was superintendent of schools the last ten years. His education was obtained at Kirksville (Mo.) State Teachers College, with graduate work at the University of Missouri. He is married and has two children. Green will have charge of physical education and coaching athletics.

Sketches of the four new faculty members at Central School: Mrs. Ruth Joss is a graduate of McMurray College, Abilene, Tex., where she majored in primary education. She has had a wide range of experience in primary work, which will be her department in the Artesia schools.

Miss Theodosia Killough, who will instruct pre-first work, has received her education at the University of Missouri and has taught primary work in various schools of New Mexico and in the Indian Service.

Miss Florence Morrison, who is substituting for Miss Mary Woods during her illness, has attended Marymont College, Salina, Kan., and taught in the rural schools of Kansas.

Mrs. W. G. Short, who has taught in the Clovis schools the last two years, is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico College at Portales. She will replace in the second grade Mrs. Cathryn Stone, who resigned.

Heading the faculty of the newly-created Park School for grades 4 to 6 will be Walter G. Short. (Turn to last page, please)

Brown Tells How Railways Have Met Crisis

At the weekly meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday noon, C. O. Brown, Artesia agent for the Santa Fe Railway, gave an enlightening talk on the success of the American railways in handling the enormous volume of passenger and freight traffic during the war.

For a number of years previous to the outbreak of hostilities, he said, the railways had been repairing their equipment and improving their roadbeds.

Brown said that just before the entry of the United States into the war, the Santa Fe alone bought 100 large-type freight locomotives. This foresight in preparing for any crisis which might arrive has largely responsible for the railway systems of the nation being able to handle the unprecedented business which was forced upon them.

Previous to the war, Brown said, the Santa Fe, as well as other railways, experimented with diesel-type locomotives, and it is anticipated this type will be in much more general use after the war. It is also expected that passenger cars will be made of aluminum, or other light metals, Brown said.

Dave Runyan, Fifty Years a Mason, Will Be Honored Tonight

A charter member of the Artesia Masonic Lodge, Dave Runyan, who already had been a member of the Carlsbad lodge ten years when the local lodge was formed in October, 1904, will be honored at a party at 7:30 o'clock this evening for being fifty years a Mason.

He is the oldest Mason in point of years of membership of the Artesia lodge, with the exception of S. S. Ward, whose lodge service for fifty years was observed last year.

Runyan is an old-time rancher of this vicinity and is known over a wide territory to citizens in general and to Masons in particular.

All first, second, and third-degree Masons are invited to share the occasion this evening at the lodge hall with Runyan. Refreshments will be served.

Will Start Foundation On New Locker Plant Within Ten Days

Mort B. Aldridge of Carlsbad said this morning all equipment for the freezer locker plant in Artesia has been purchased and that work excavating and building the foundation for the building will start within the next ten days.

Delivery on the equipment has been promised in from 30 to 90 days, Aldridge said.

Equipment ordered includes the refrigerating machinery, all-steel lockers, sharp freezers and coils, installation, grinders, choppers and electric saws.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Shugart and children left Monday for Denver.

Cargill, Mistaken For Nazi, Nearly Shot in Italy

Mistaken for a Nazi in the Fifth Army drive to Rome, S/Sgt. Jesse Cargill of Artesia was almost shot by otherwise friendly Italians, headquarters in Italy reported.

The Italians heard that the Americans had entered Rome and they, too, wanted to help drive out the invader. Armed with whatever weapons they could find, the Italians went out to get some Germans.

Mistaking the 88th Infantry Division sergeant for a Jerry, the Italians surrounded him and approached with cocked rifles.

"I didn't know what to do when they came at me," explained Cargill. "I thought they were friendly, but they did not know that the Americans had advanced so far. I tried to tell them I was an American but they wouldn't believe me. When I called for help one of the boys who could speak Italian came up and told them I was okay."

Holder of the Combat Infantryman Badge, Sergeant Cargill leads a section in a rifle company of the 88th.

School at Lake Arthur Unique; Same Faculty

Lake Arthur Public School, which will open Tuesday, Sept. 5, probably is unique among municipal schools in New Mexico. R. R. Lewis, superintendent, believes, in that the same teachers, same bus drivers and same janitor who were there when school closed in May will be back on the job.

Lewis said the building is in good condition and a new water system has just been installed. He is looking forward to another successful school year.

The faculty: R. R. Lewis, superintendent, social studies, science; A. R. Bostick, principal, mathematics, coach; Mrs. E. C. Bus drivers: Mrs. J. B. Crook, Mrs. J. K. Funk, Mrs. E. H. Hill, and Mrs. R. L. Merritt. Janitor: Miss Dorotha Nihart.

Lewis announced there will be a faculty meeting at 9 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 4.

Library Has More Books and Longer Hours

In announcing this week the names of a number of new books now on the shelves of the Artesia Public Library, Mrs. Nellie Hartell, librarian, called attention to the new hours, extending the time the library is open from afternoons only to include evenings.

When the board extended the hours from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon to 8:30 o'clock in the evening, Mrs. Effie Wingfield was named assistant librarian.

Mrs. Hartell serves from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Wingfield takes over until closing time.

The new arrangement is working out nicely, Mrs. Hartell said. But as yet the library is experiencing no great number of callers in the evening. This, she feels sure, will increase as times goes on.

The librarians and members of the board are anxious for more people to avail themselves of the splendid library facilities.

Mrs. Hartell listed among late books received at the library: "Treasury of American Folklore," B. A. Botkin; "Plovers Folly," Faulkner; "Presidential Agent," Upton Sinclair; "Strange Fruit," Lillian Smith; "Paris Underground," Shiber; "The Proud People," Crichton; "Helmet and Lipstick," "A Bell for Adano," Hersey; "Wilderness Trek," Zane Gray; "Razor's Edge," W. Somerset Maugham; "Blackbirds on the Lawn," Jane Morton; "Shore Leave," Wakeman; "Night Shift," N. Wolf; "Dr. Whitney's Secretary," Walker; "The Spirit and the Flesh," Pearl Buck.

"Pollyanna" series for girls. Books for tots: "Story of Jesus," Burgess; Bedtime Story Books: "Little Red Hen," "Three Little Pigs," "Story of Johnny Chuck," "Missouri Canary," Phil Stong, and many others.

EVERY ELECTOR SHOULD VOTE SATURDAY

CITIZENS of Eddy County are to vote Saturday on the local option issue, which has attracted more attention and provoked more comment and argument than any other election in a number of years, even including general elections.

Now it remains to be seen whether everyone who has taken an interest and been talking is really concerned, for street talk, discussions, and campaigns amount to nothing unless those who have the privilege do not exercise their right.

There is only one way to settle an issue, and that is for all legal voters to go to the polls to express their beliefs and desires. It is too bad all the legal voters are not here to cast ballots, for many men in uniform cannot express their views pro or con.

But everyone who can vote should do so in the American way, by casting his ballot for which ever side of the issue he believes to be right and in the best interests of the community.

THERE'S NO ISSUE INVOLVED HERE

AFTER MUCH discussion as to the teen-age members of the Artesia community and their need for some place for wholesome recreation, they have taken the lead themselves in heading a campaign to make their desires come true.

That is far better than had the initiative in the movement come from some club or group, for the youngsters themselves are fighting for what they wish, rather than leaving it to others to take the lead.

Of course, it is proper and necessary that various groups in the community get behind the boys and girls, giving them moral and financial support in their campaign. The teen-agers cannot do the job themselves, but they are showing the way.

They are asking the citizens to contribute coins in boxes placed on the counters of various stores. Splendid! But that alone will not get the job done. We know, because we have seen the idea used before, with discouraging results.

But it is a good starter, one which shows that the youngsters are interested in their own affairs. They have taken a method of raising funds which to them seems the best way. And in a way it is, in that they are not passing the hat from store to store in their own behalf, but are leaving it to free-will contributions.

And now that the boys and girls have gone that far it is time for every organization in Artesia and every individual to step forward in some sort of coordinated financial campaign which will help keep the youngsters happy today and make of them better citizens tomorrow.

Training, education, recreation, and leadership in the right direction are far better and more potent in the behavior of boys and girls when they grow up than legislated "control" ever could do.

"As the twig is bent . . ." you know!

Don't drop a nickel or dime in one of the boxes and take on a feeling of righteous satisfaction that you have done your part.

The boys and girls of the Artesia community are worth far more than that.

If hundreds of dollars can be spent on an issue on which the citizens are divided, the community can spend hundreds of dollars on an issue on which they are not divided—future America!

WHY NOT DREDGE THE LAKE NOW?

THE OFFICIALS in charge of the irrigation project at Carlsbad probably know what they are doing and are thinking the same thing, but it seems to us that now that Lake McMillan is dry it would be a good time to dredge it, taking out the thousands of tons of sediment which has accumulated for many years.

That would serve a twofold purpose: It would provide a far greater number of acre feet of water for irrigation purposes, possibly making future drainings unnecessary, and it would help make future fishing better for sportsmen.

The primary reason for the lake is to provide and control water for irrigating of fields. But the recreation angle should not be overlooked. Nearly everyone likes to indulge in the wholesome recreation of wading a hook once in a while, but in this desert country the places for carrying out those likes are few and far between.

Should the lake be dredged at this time, we could look forward to better fishing than ever before within a few years, with our fears diminished that every decade there might come a time when the farmers, in their need for water, drain the lake.

POISONOUS MUSHROOM IS REMOVED

REMOVAL OF the traffic mushroom in the center of the intersection at Fourth and Main Streets meets with our approval.

The thing served no purpose other than to cause some motorists to sashay in dangerous three-quarter-circle turns around it, instead of going on left turns, as traffic authorities are agreed is the better and safer method.

We have noticed since the elimination of the mushroom that the tendency is to make left turns at that corner more nearly as they should be made.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 27.

The Golden Text is: "Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength." (Isaiah 49:5)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And there was a cloud that overshadowed them; and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him." (Mark 9:7)
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in ever hour, divine Love supplies all good." Farm Income In New Mexico Shows Big Jump

The total cash farm income for New Mexico in 1943 was $106,877,000, according to Arthur M. Hauke, economist of the New Mexico Extension Service. This was an increase of 119 per cent since 1939—the first year of the European war—and an increase of 13 per cent over the 1942 income of $94,398,000.

The cash income from the sale of all crops produced in the state amounted to $41,201,000—an increase of 203 per cent over 1939. The sale of livestock and livestock products brought New Mexico $65,676,000. This represents an increase of 86 per cent over the 1939 income from livestock. "These figures do not represent the net income," Hauke said. "The totals would be quite different if the production costs were deducted."

REASONS FOR ORDERING FERTILIZER EARLY

Farmers are being urged by WFA to order and accept delivery of fertilizer during the July-December period so that a record amount of fertilizer may be available. The goal is to move 4,500,000 tons of fertilizer during the period, compared with 3,500,000 tons delivered in the same months of 1943 and 2,000,000 during this period in 1942.

WFA points out that the potential supply will probably not meet the demand again and not more than 8,000,000 tons of an apparent supply of 12,500,000 tons can be delivered from January to June.

News Shorts

At Putney, Vt., while Leon O. Wood was milking a cow, he dropped his wallet containing $100 in cash. A calf promptly guzzled it. Wood killed the calf and brought the evidence to a bank which identified the remnants of $75, which he received. He also recovered a darning needle, two fish hooks, a driver's license and his "A" gasoline book from the voracious calf.

The question is, did Miss Nancy Williams ever get to Chicago? En route there from Cincinnati her automobile was damaged in a collision near Lebanon, Ind. So she took a Lebanon-to-Chicago bus. The bus chugged for blocks, and broke down. So she took a train.

Australia needs 2,000,000 American and British-made corsets and a like number of brassieres, the minister of customs indicated in relaxing import restrictions on these items.

If a Flying Fortress needs any more authority than its bombs and .50-caliber machine guns, one of the big bombers in England now has it. Capt. George W. Warren of Anaconda, Mont., wrote Sheriff Al McLeod of Butte that his ship needed a good luck piece. It has one now, pinned on its nose. The Sheriff sent his silver badge.

There was a question as to which was the bigger nuisance, the sparrows that used to inhabit the Perryville, Ind., postoffice, or their exterminators. Ralph Ping and his dad contracted to rid the postoffice of the sparrows, and proceeded to destroy the nests in the eaves trough with a blow torch. Ralph and his dad did all right, but the fire department had to finish the job, and the postoffice was a bit charred.

Church Women Hear Speaker Discuss Lepers

Mrs. Rex Wheatley, first vice president of the Council of Church Women in Artesia, presided at a meeting held last Thursday at the Methodist Church, which was well attended by church women in the city and also from the nearby communities of Hope, Cottonwood, Lake Arthur, and Loco Hills.

Mrs. Jessie Miller, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, conducted a beautiful devotional hour. Miss Patsy Gormley was soloist at the morning program.

Mrs. J. H. Walker, state president of the Council of Church Women, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Dora Jane Armstrong of Dallas, Tex. Miss Armstrong spoke Thursday morning of the value of the Council of Church women, the organization which is sponsoring the interdenominational American Missions to Lepers, of which she is a representative. In the afternoon she spoke of her seventeen years in Africa, ministering to lepers.

Miss Armstrong, a splendid speaker, spoke again Thursday afternoon to the Cottonwood women and on Thursday evening to the young people of the city at the Methodist Church.

She was accompanied to Hagerman Friday by Mrs. Walker and left Saturday for Roswell, where she was scheduled to speak on seven occasions before going to Tucson, Ariz., and expected to return to Albuquerque, Tucumcari, and Amarillo, Tex., before returning to her home in Dallas.

Mrs. R. E. Stewart volunteered, offering her services for key woman for the Artesia Council of Church Women in this city, in the interest of missions to lepers.

Miss Joan Wheatley of New York City was soloist on the afternoon program. She sang "I shall Not Pass This Way Again," accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Caskey at the piano.

A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at the church at the noon hour.

Teen-Age Meeting Has Large Attendance On Tuesday Evening

About seventy-five teen-age boys and girls of the city attended a canteen meeting Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church. Joe Watson, president, presided. There were also a few adults present.

A recent bake sale was reported to have netted $16.95, which makes a total of more than $33 the boys and girls have raised toward a teen-age canteen.

The boys and girls are awaiting the action of a number of civic clubs in the city, which are considering the project at this time, and they feel that responses will be favorable.

It has been mentioned by a number of adults who are really interested in the movement and who believe that money spent to help boys and girls to grow into better men and women or better citizens is money well invested, that if a hundred or more teen-age boys and girls honestly want a canteen it is possible for them to begin the movement by each earning $10 or more, which would set up a fund of about $3,000. It would also relieve the labor situation and at the same time by their example interest the citizens of Artesia in sponsoring the project.

This is possible, said one citizen, whether they pick cotton, care for children, mow lawns, do housework, or the many other jobs which are available. They are of one opinion; they want a canteen. But how badly do they want this? asked another citizen.

The next meeting is to be held at the Methodist Church at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Save by Sewing to Buy War Bonds

Black and white for summer, seeming fresh and new every year, are combined here in crisp plaid cotton. The bias cut ascot tie, sleeves and pocket slashes are fashion points worthy of note. In addition to the pleasure of creating your own clothes, there is another reason for sewing these days. It is patriotic, for by making your own you release manpower and machinery for the war effort, and you can buy more War Bonds with the money you save. This or a similar pattern is available at your local stores. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

WANT TO QUEEN IT IN A COOL KITCHEN?

There's a "cool million" of menu-ideas in nutritious cold cuts for the woman who wants to keep summer meat nutrition up while she keeps the kitchen temperature down.

Containing the same important B vitamins, complete high quality protein and the essential minerals of the meats you cook at home, cold cuts are the cool cue to nutritious variety in summer meat meals. Old favorites like boiled or baked ham, tongue, liverwurst and bologna can be put through clever paces to make the summer meat course as satisfying as the cold weather meat meal.

This season, try some cold cuts that may be less familiar to your table. Ever serve mortadella, thuringer, cervelat or capocola? They're delicious variations of summer sausage that testify the simplest summer meal.

Cold cuts have their food affinities just as hot meats do. Ham and potato salad is the most famous happy couple of the cold cut family but there are scores of other equally apt combinations like bologna cubes sauteed with corn kernels, grilled liverwurst and tomato slices, and salami slices wrapped round cold asparagus spears.

Have you tried the trick of serving cold cuts hot? Quick heaters, uppers, they don't heat up the kitchen but they do add a soothing "hot dish" to the summer meal with a minimum of cooking concern. Good example is creaming cubed cold cuts. Buy your cold cuts in one piece instead of sliced, cut into cubes, heat with any favorite vegetable in a white sauce. Cubed cold cuts are a quick trick for the salad bowl, too?

You'll find "glad to be together" combinations in these time-saving, cooling cold cut meat meals:

HAM SLICES AND DILL PICKLES—Spread boiled ham slices with seasoned cream cheese and roll up around thin slices of dill pickle.

FRANKS AND MACARONI—Cut frankfurters in cubes and layer in casserole when making baked macaroni.

BOLOGNA AND GREEN PEPPERS—Cut unsliced bologna in cubes and combine with bread stuffing to fill green pepper halves for baking.

SPICED HAM AND SPANISH SAUCE—Simmer thick slices of spiced ham in Spanish sauce and serve with spaghetti.

TONGUE AND HORSERADISH—Sandwich sliced tongue spread generously with horseradish between bread slices. Dip sandwiches in beaten egg and saute until brown on both sides. Serve hot.

LIVER SAUSAGE AND COLE SLAW—Mound cole slaw in center of large serving plate and arrange slices of liver sausage around slaw.

HAM AND EGGS—Top toast with slices of boiled ham and deviled egg halves. Place in casserole, cover with mustard white sauce and bake until heated in moderate oven.

MEAT LOAF AND POTATOES—Scoop out hot baked potatoes; mash and add cubed meat loaf and seasonings. Refill potato shells and reheat in oven.

SPICED PORK AND BAKED BEANS—Saute slices of spiced pork. Arrange in layers with baked beans in shallow casserole. Bake in moderate oven until heated.

LIVER SAUSAGE AND ONION SLICES—Cut liver sausage and large red onions in slices 1/4-in. thick. Saute on both sides in butter 'til lightly browned. Serve onion slices and liver sausage slices between toasted bun halves.

STUFFED PEPPERS O'BRIEN—2 cups finely cubed spiced pork, 3 cups shredded raw potatoes, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 3 tbsps. chopped parsley, 1/4 teasp. salt, 2 tbsps. butter, 4 large green peppers, parboiled.

Combine spiced ham, potatoes, onion, parsley and salt. Saute, stirring often, 15 minutes or 'til lightly browned. Halve green peppers; fill halves with mixture. Cover; bake 1/2 hr. in moderate oven (350 degrees F.), removing cover last 10 mins.

HAM AND EGG PIE—3 tbsps. butter, 1/4 cup minced onion, 1/4 cup minced celery, 4 tbsps. flour, 2 cups milk, 2 cups cubed, cooked ham, 4 hard-cooked eggs, salt and pepper, 2 cups hot seasoned mashed potatoes, 2 tbsps. minced parsley.

Melt butter; add onion and celery. Saute until tender. Blend in flour; gradually add milk. Cook stirring constantly 'til thickened. Add ham; slice eggs; add. Season. Pour into casserole. Combine potatoes and parsley; spread over mixture in casserole. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 to 15 mins. Serves 4 to 6.

D. D. Archer, local attorney, transacted business in Albuquerque and Santa Fe the first of the week.

Mayor Clyde Tingley of Albuquerque, who finished his term as governor of New Mexico six years ago, appreciates the compliment. A Carlsbad restaurant sent to "Governor Clyde Tingley" bills for meals of inductees traveling to Fort Bliss to enter the Army. The bills are payable by the state. Tingley said he would forward them to Gov. J. J. Dempsey.

When L. L. Mauldin of Albuquerque returned from a West Coast war job, he found his house had been stolen. He sought to file a complaint, but the district attorney informed him New Mexico has no statute covering the offense. Lacking such a statute, the prosecutor said, common law holds that a house is real estate, hence it is not considered among things that can be carried away, hence the carrying away cannot be considered theft.

Laundry facilities have been secured for New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, and there is no question that the school will open this fall in the regular manner, State Purchasing Agent R. L. Ormsbee said. The matter has been straightened out satisfactorily with the signing of a contract with a Roswell laundry. He gave no details.

There was a run at the First National Bank — and a tearful holiday. About 100 customers and employees made the run for exits when the bank's tear gas protective system accidentally went off. There was one happy customer, State Sen. Don Dickson grinned, "Maybe it's good for hay fever."

Gertrude Stephenson is the official Indian pin-up girl. The Gallup Navajo maid, who now is working in a war plant near Los Angeles, was chosen from more than a score of aspirants during the Gallup Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial. Marian Bennett, another Navajo, and Felipita, San Ildefonso Pueblo girl, were second and third. The selection was made at suggestion of Indians in the armed forces.

New Mexico's 1945 wheat acreage goal is 373,000, compared to a 1944 seeded acreage of 431,000, the war food administration reports. The 1945 goal for Texas is 4,600,000 acres, compared to 4,628,000 acres seeded this year. Combined 1945 state goals of 68,500,000 acres, or 1,900,000 acres more than were planted for harvest this year, indicated an increase of 13,500,000 over the 1943 seeded acreage.

Gov. John J. Dempsey was installed as a member of the Quay County Sheriff's Posse at a ceremony held at the third and final day of the Tucumcari Posse's rodeo. Sheriff H. W. Beasley and Arch Hurley officiated at the ceremony. Standing room was at a premium as a record crowd turned out for the "Governor's Day" rodeo performance. Dempsey, State Police Chief Frank Young, and other state notables were in attendance. Members of the Quay County Junior Cattle Growers Association staged a specialty event consisting of a square dance on horse-back. Horses and riders were trained by E. W. Plummer, local rancher.

The greatest woman's role ever written comes to the screen with Irene Dunne its heroine in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's presentation of "The White Cliffs of Dover," based on Alice Duer Miller's poem, "The White Cliffs," coming to the Ocotillo Theater four days, starting Sunday, Sept. 3.

Romance, courage, laughter, heartache and adventure blend into one in this story of an American girl whose first glimpse of England's white cliffs of Dover bring to her the one love of her life plus the faith and heart to understand a people other than her own.

Miss Dunne, Alan Marshall, Frank Morgan, Clarence Brown and Sidney Franklin—five names of note in Hollywood—combine talents to bring to life an acclaimed poem of today's headlines—a poem which so captured the imagination of the public that 650,000 copies of it have been published.

Once again, Miss Dunne is the principal in an unforgettable screen love story. Reminiscent of her portrayal in such memorable screen classics as "Cimarron," "Back Street," "Love Affair" and "A Guy Named Joe," is this story of a woman's love for husband, son and country. A cavalcade of emotion, the role is one ideally suited to the star and her ability to portray poignant romance.

As her partner, Alan Marshall wins his most important screen role to date. He is seen as the young English baronet, whose whirlwind courtship of an American girl brings the couple an unforgettable love which surmounts separation, war and even death. One of the screen's handsomest actors, Marshall will be remembered for ro-

Tomorrow's Homes Will Depend Upon What Is Behind The Walls

The time is ripe to begin laying plans for your home in that great Tomorrow when all is peace again and wonders of the post-war world begin to unfold. Every day we hear predictions of new things—devices created by the necessities of war—that will be applied to create comfort and conveniences in the days of peace. Many of these developments are electrical.

Full enjoyment of your home in the coming days will depend to a great extent on the capacity of the electric wiring behind the walls. Inadequate wiring is like inadequate water piping—lowered pressures deny most efficient use and greatest enjoyment of appliances.

BEFORE YOU BUILD — BEFORE YOU REMODEL—be sure to consult an electrical contractor. Let him show you why adequate wiring is important.

SPECIAL ELECTION

Saturday, August 26

On Saturday, August 26, the citizens of Eddy County will go to the polls to decide an issue of vital interest to all of us.

WHAT IS THIS ISSUE ?

Simply this . . .

Shall we retain LEGALIZED sale of alcoholic beverages, taxed, controlled and regulated by our City, County and State authorities?

Or . . .

- Shall we turn Our County back once more to the Bootlegger, Gangster and Racketeer?
- Shall we again injure the cause of True Temperance as was admittedly done during the era of National Prohibition, when the American people rose in arms against the horrible conditions brought about by "alleged" prohibition.
- Shall we, by vote, deprive our City and County (ourselves) of the Tax Revenues they now receive, and put this money, which belongs rightfully to us, into the hands of Bootleggers and Racketeers?
- Shall we retain the free-born American way of living or shall we import the Dictatorship method, regimenting and regulating the lives of Americans?

The Issue Is NOT Alcohol vs. Prohibition
The Issue IS Legal Beverages vs. Illegal Liquor

War or No War, Inventors Are Still on Job

The hurly-burly of a war-torn world has failed to distract some inventors from making a try for the "better mousetrap"—the thing that'll make the world beat a path to their door.

A check of the "invent-ory" discloses that patents for two mousetraps have been issued in recent weeks by the U. S. Patent Office. Both are of the "walk-on-nibble-the-cheese-and-get-your-neck-caught" type.

Here are some other inventions for which patents have been granted:

Pinless diapers, held in place with snap fasteners.

A submarine designed to duck right under ships and shoot its torpedoes vertically instead of horizontally.

A shock-absorber for parachute jumpers, consisting of springs to be attached to boots and legs.

A fishpole mounting an electric light bulb which illuminates when there's a nibble.

A combination finger guard and nail holder—a thimble-like device to protect your pinkies if you aim wild with the hammer.

Wetproof cigaret paper, coated with aluminum stearate.

A combination beach robe, towel, cushion and general utility bag.

Several nursing bottle holders designed to give junior an uninterrupted feed.

Dice are said to have been used in Greece about 1244 B. C.

There are 500 islands in the Aegean sea.

America's oldest cow is the Holstein.

GERMAN WEST WALL CRUMBLES—Here is a Nazi concrete gun emplacement after it was finished off by the artillery of the Allied navy. This huge long-range piece was put out of action while the Germans tried to stem the landing on D-Day. American Infantrymen took over the trophy and its users.

Mother Is Too Smart to Fall For False Clubs

The reaction is beginning to set in to the various phoney "mothers' clubs," which sprang up in the early months of this war. One is now able to distinguish between the bona fide, honest, patriotic, usually long-established mothers' organizations and these sudden, vague and trouble-making groups, which use the shield of motherhood to disseminate a propaganda line which, not by coincidence, systematically favors enemies.

It is very easy to recognize a phoney mothers' club. Just look for these traits: Recent establishment; advocacy of an easy peace for Germany; attacks upon the Allies, but never upon enemies. And remember this: The German shortwave radio hammers one idea day after day, their great need and overwhelming desire for a negotiated peace. Unconditional surrender gives the German high command goose pimples. They are worried about not being able to reorganize to start another world war in another twenty or thirty years. Hence they keep playing on their radio the American song, "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off."

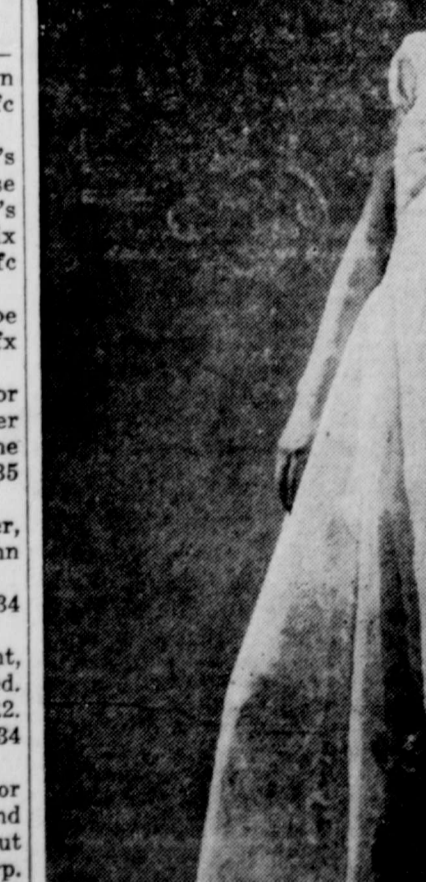

The patriotic mothers' clubs of America will not fall for such nonsense. The other kind of mothers' clubs is being increasingly spotted for what they are—pro-Nazi.

Passenger traffic on American railroads was almost four times as great in 1943 as in 1939.

The United States makes about 3,300 tons, or 82 carloads, of stamps every year.

Local Option Election in Eddy County to Be Held on Important Issue Saturday

Comes at Conclusion of Heated Campaign Staged by Both Factions—Polling Places, Which Will Be Open From 9 to 6 o'Clock, Are Listed by Commissioners

Eddy County voters will go to the polls Saturday to cast their ballots in a local option election, called by the county commissioners, after a petition bearing about 1,500 names had been presented. Coming at the end of a heated campaign, in which both the "dry" and the "wet" forces have presented their arguments, the election will determine whether alcoholic beverages may be sold legally in Eddy County.

The election had been unofficially announced for Aug. 26 previously, but the county commissioners by proclamation Aug. 7 officially set that day and caused to be published the location of polling places and other election information.

The polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening.

In Artesia the polling places will be: Precinct 6-A, Church of the Nazarene; 6-B, city hall; 6-C, Central School; 6-D, First Christian Church.

ODT Warns as To Improper Use School Busses

With the scarcity of large size bus and truck tires becoming a greater transportation problem, Owen O. Wheelless of El Paso, district manager of the Highway Transport Department of the Office of Defense Transportation, has called attention to operators of school busses to the limitations on use of such vehicles.

Some operators of school busses apparently have winked at the ODT regulation against their use to transport athletes or others to games or assemblies of various kinds. This regulation, it was pointed out, is even more important now than in the past, as every effort must be made to conserve tires and other material and equipment to keep busses and all other motor transportation moving until those things again are available after victory.

Bus operators, in doubt about any proposed trip, are advised to get in touch with the ODT district office.

Advocate Will Compile Election Returns Saturday

Results of the local option election Saturday will be compiled at The Advocate office that evening and made available to the public as rapidly as they can be obtained.

It is not contemplated that it will take election tally judges and clerks long to complete their work, so results should be known early.

The Advocate will exchange information with The Carlsbad Current-Argus, which will furnish information for the southern part of the county.

It is requested that judges at each polling place in North Eddy County appoint one of their number to call the unofficial results in to The Advocate office, phone 7, as soon as the counting is completed. In that way, if all cooperate, it will be possible to give complete unofficial returns Saturday evening.

Other polling places in North Eddy County: Precinct 3, Hope School; 4, Lakewood School; 7, Atoka School; 10, Cottonwood School gymnasium; 11-A, Oilfield School; 11-B, Sherman Memorial Church, Loco Hills.

The campaign for the election was launched early in May, when the pastors of a number of churches in Artesia and Carlsbad presented petitions to their congregations for signatures.

Based on the votes cast for governor at the last general election, a total of 740 names was necessary to require the county commissioners to call a local option election. However, petitions bearing about 1,500 names were presented.

Should the county be voted dry under the local option enabling act, enforcement will become effective ninety days later.

FBI Conference At Carlsbad to Be Wednesday

D. A. Bryce, special agent in charge, El Paso field office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has announced that the FBI law enforcement conferences for the second series of 1944, are being held, with one each at Roswell Tuesday and Carlsbad Wednesday of next week.

Each will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock in the evening at the county courthouse.

These conferences are held under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover, director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, in compliance with the president's proclamation of Sept. 6, 1939, requesting the cooperation and assistance of all law enforcement agencies in the preservation of the internal security of our nation.

The program for the conferences will consist of a lecture on the subject "Scientific Aids in Police Cases" by T. F. Baughman, consulting specialist in firearms identification, in charge of ballistics and firearms work in the FBI laboratory at Washington, D. C. Baughman is considered one of the country's foremost authorities in firearms identification.

After the discussion by Baughman, F. T. McIntyre will lecture on the subject, "The Law Enforcement Officer's Viewpoint on Evidence." McIntyre is a member of the staff of the training division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the FBI National Police Academy at Washington, D. C., and has lectured and served as a consultant in police training matters throughout the United States. After McIntyre's lecture, there will be a question and answer forum for the benefit of all officers in attendance. Problems of local law enforcement will be discussed and photographic slides of badly wanted fugitives will be exhibited.

These conferences are open to all duly constituted law enforcement officers, auxiliary police, mounted patrolmen, sheriff's posse members, railway police, and honorary deputy sheriffs. All law enforcement officers are urged to attend.

Travel Facilities Are Essential For Service Men and War Workers

American railroads today are doing more than two and a half times the passenger business they did before the war. American busses are carrying half again as many passengers as they did a year ago. In normal times this would be good business. Actually it's a crisis.

Here's why: The railroads must carry 1,500,000 a month on regular troop movements. That takes half the Pullman sleeping cars and almost a third of the day coaches. Furlough travel, which means boys seeing their folks before they go overseas, takes more cars. Necessary war activities, including movements of war workers, require cars.

In Europe and in the Pacific fighting is going on. The wounded are being brought home. They need railway cars and will have them— whoever else, his uncle, or his aunt, or his friend with a pull, has to get off.

Busses get a good many of the short hauls, some of the long hauls, and the overflow. On busses as on trains it is at a point where if a man who doesn't have to travel gets on a man who has to travel is crowded off. Little new equipment can be provided. The old is wearing out.

So what to do? The answer is simple if not sweet: Stay at home if possible. If one must insist on travelling when he does not have to, expect to be delayed, expect to stand in aisles of crowded cars, expect to miss meals, expect to carry one's own baggage, expect to be dumped off if the railroad needs the space—be prepared, in short, for a mild little hell on wheels.

The man or woman who stays home this summer is serving the country. The man or woman who goes gadding in public conveyances on needless errands isn't.

Miss Mary McCaw and Miss Linna McCaw and other members of the McCaw family have as their guests or have had as their guests a nephew, Billy Wilson, son of Mrs. Joe Wilmoth of Scottsdale, Ariz., who is here for a three-week visit; an aunt, Mrs. Jo Lynch of Roswell, who spent last week here; a sister and her husband, Mrs. T. E. May and Mr. May of Lubbock, Tex., and a cousin, Mrs. "Whitie" McCutchen, and her family, Mr. McCutchen and three children, of Denver City, Tex., who were weekend guests.

Price Program on Cattle Establishes High-Low Packer Pay

The price stabilization program for cattle establishes high and low limits on the average price which packers must pay for live cattle if they wish to qualify for government subsidy payments, but the program does not fix price ceilings on live cattle.

Under the program, maximum and minimum prices have been established for each of the six principal grades of beef, and subsidies ranging from 50 cents to $1.45 a 100 pounds are payable on each of these grades.

However, a packer may pay below the minimum prices on one or more grades of cattle, then offset this deficit by paying above the maximum prices set for other grades, and still qualify for the full subsidy payments on all cattle slaughtered. To do this, the average cost of all the cattle he buys must be somewhere within the high and low limits, or deductions will be made from his subsidy payments. The cattle stabilization program is entirely independent of the price support program for hogs under which subsidies are paid to packers who meet the support prices.

County 4-Hers Plan Picnic at Carlsbad Friday

The Eddy County 4-H Club, composed of members from Artesia, Atoka, Carlsbad, Otis, Loving, and Malaga will gather at the Carlsbad Municipal Beach for a picnic of fun and relaxation from 10 to 12 o'clock Friday.

In these busy days it is impossible to have an annual 4-H Club picnic, as was held before the war. Therefore the picnic is being held as an annual affair, so that the boys and girls can get together and become acquainted with their friends and neighbors, as well as to compare notes on club work being done in other communities.

The county extension agents are especially anxious to have all club members and their families gather at Carlsbad with basket lunches for a little fun. Swimming, baseball, and other outdoor sports are on the entertainment list for that day.

Mrs. Flora Thompson and her son, Jimmie, are visiting at the former home, the Dunlap ranch near Fort Sumner, this week. Mrs. Thompson is a teacher in the city schools and conducted playground activities this summer.

ly About Oil

that the federal government launched a program of payments to wells of small size, classified by the oil industries as "stripper" wells, the government will be interested in adding details concerning these wells.

about 72 per cent of the oil produced in the United States at the end of 1943 were in this class, an exact definition of an oil well has not been set.

Some say a stripper well is a "dry" well. That is, a well which once a flush producer has been abandoned, the cost of producing oil from it equals the price of the oil. This situation can also be brought about by the cotton industry. When the cotton field is picked, the grower leaves the cotton in the field. However, the first picking is finished and some cotton left in the field. The hot summer sun opens a few additional bolls.
 The grower, at high cost, again picks the cotton. The grower does this to the last remaining locks of cotton. The grower does this to get all the cotton possible and to get a very little profit.

Sanford, Jr., of Breckenridge, president of the National Stripper Well Association and member of the executive committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, says there are three things: "We must die, taxes will always be levied, every oil gusher will someday be a stripper."

Some estimate there are four barrels of oil in the ground for every barrel of oil produced.
 It is important to the welfare of the nation that these so-called stripper wells produce every possible drop of oil just as it is important to the cotton grower to strip his field to the last lock of cotton.

 oil inventories, that is, oil produced and stored above ground in tanks and pipe lines, has fallen to a twenty-year low in the United States during the period July 1.

Some show that crude oil marketing and refining companies now are compelled to draw upon their working stocks, which are at a minimum, to meet their current needs. This heavy withdrawal will be continued indefinitely.
 Some records reveal that the high rate of oil production has led to a steady withdrawal of already produced crude oil.

Some oil stocks as of July 1 were 228,860,000 barrels and 249,927,000 barrels
 ago. Withdrawals from above ground have been at the rate of about 100,000 barrels per day since we entered the war. Imports are about 100, 000 barrels a day, although exact figures are not available.

Some general public, as well as some operators, are concerned about these trends in the oil industry. Some continued downward trend means less and less soil and oil reserves, such as gasoline and kerosene, for the consuming public and can well mean an abrupt end in our economic and social life. Some already gasoline for car users has been reduced 57 per cent.

Some men who built the great oil industry say there is a solution for this problem and that is to remove the shackles from the oil industry and let it be free to solve its own problems.

 Questions and Answers
 How many gallons of gasoline can be recovered from a barrel of crude oil?
 The number of gallons of gaso-line recovered per barrel of crude oil would depend upon the method used in refining the crude oil. Refiners say using the straight method the recovery would be from 20 to 40 per cent per barrel. Using the cracked method recovery would be from zero to 100 per cent.

Will royalty owners receive some benefits from the subsidy granted to the producer?
 According to regulations issued by the OPA the royalty owners will receive the same payments as the producer.

Some, desert cowtown could produce a pair of sailor pants as man Dale P. Farnsworth is a Field adjutant there to his commander and any of the shore patrol or MPs who want to know
 he's out of uniform. It says Farnsworth hitched a ride on a truck while en route to his San Antonio base from a furlough at his post in Chihuahua, Mexico. He was in civvies in the truck to keep his blues clean, and lost the trousers.

Some announcement that the Indiana-na Fire Department had ordered 1500 worth of nylon hose necessary quick action on the part of the fire fighters. Department officials were forced to issue a statement assuring the public it was nylon fire hose in 10-foot lengths.

When L. L. Mauldin of Albuquerque returned from a West Coast war job, he found his house had been stolen. He sought to file a complaint, but the district attorney informed him New Mexico has no statute covering the offense. Lacking such a statute, the prosecutor said, common law holds that a house is real estate, hence it is not considered among things that can be carried away, hence the carrying away cannot be considered theft.

A total of $4,733,079 was distributed to the income and permanent funds of the common schools and institutions in the last fiscal year, the office of State Land Commissioner H. R. Rodgers reported. Laundry facilities have been secured for New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, and there is no question that the school will open this fall in the regular manner, State Purchasing Agent R. L. There was a run at the First National Bank — and a tearful holiday. About 100 customers and employees made the run for exits when the bank's tear gas protective system accidentally went off. There was one happy customer, State Sen. Don Dickason grinned, "Maybe it's good for hay fever."

Gertrude Stephenson is the official Indian pin-up girl. The Gallup Navajo maid, who now is working in a war plant near Los Angeles, was chosen from more than a score of aspirants during the Gallup Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial. Marian Bennett, another Navajo, and Felipita, San Ildefonso Pueblo girl, were second and third. The selection was made at suggestion of Indians in the armed forces.

New Mexico's 1945 wheat acreage goal is 373,000, compared to a 1944 seeded acreage of 431,000, the war food administration reports. The 1945 goal for Texas is 4,600,000 acres, compared to 4,628,000 acres seeded this year. Combined 1945 state goals of 68,500,000 acres, or 1,900,000 acres more than were planted for harvest this year, indicated an increase of 13,500,000 over the 1943 seeded acreage.

Gov. John J. Dempsey was installed as a member of the Quay County Sheriff's Posse at a ceremony held at the third and final day of the Tucumcari Posse's rodeo Sheriff H. W. Dempsey, State Police Chief Frank Young, and other state notables were in attendance. Members of the Quay County Junior Cattle Growers Association staged a specialty event consisting of a square dance on horse-back. Horses and riders were trained by E. W. Plummer, local rancher.

The Gallup Independent and The Silver City Enterprise have recently added AP state leased wire service. Ability and Responsibility

WHEN a particularly tough and important job comes along, it usually lands in the lap of someone who is already doing a lot of other jobs well.

People like this—who are used to getting results—are not too plentiful. They need to have both ability and a sense of responsibility. One alone won't do—for ability can sometimes be misdirected, and a sense of responsibility without ability can lead to troublesome meddling.

It's men with this combination of talents who have been carrying a heavy load on the home front these past few years. On the farm and in industry they've been meeting—and solving—the difficult wartime problems of production.

After the war is won, somebody must shoulder the equally big job of getting this nation back into peacetime production, of laying the groundwork for the better and more prosperous America we all want. This is a challenge, and an opportunity, for the producers of America—for the men and women who have a sense of responsibility and have shown their ability to get things done. Dere Folks:

(Pvt. Clayton Tuggle, who has been through the terrific action at Saipan, has written his aunt, Mrs. Jim Hughes, an interesting letter.)

Dear Folks:
Well, I guess you know by now that I am on Saipan Island, at least I sent Bernell a letter three or four days ago containing that information. Probably won't get there before this one, since mail service can't be depended upon very strongly. We have had maybe half dozen mail calls since we got here and mail has a very, very low priority out here and that is as it should be.

Just among us, I think we should punish the Japs by giving them back this island after the war. I've never seen so many flies in so small a place in all my life. They really raise Cain too, then about dark the mosquitos take over. It isn't so bad with a mosquito-bar though.

Living conditions could be worse, we are living about fifty yards from the ocean and are practically assured of a bath every day, salt water of course, and that is not exactly the best cleansing agent known, but we manage fairly well. Laundry service is not very good either. I have eaten so much dehydrated food that I'm beginning to get dehydrated myself, and we have to walk about one-half mile to chow hall, and no ice. I could think of nothing better than a wash tub full of ice cream right now and a drum of cold coke, and I might even be able to down a little fried chicken. Plenty of cigarettes and hard candy, but no real candy. Plenty of water to drink with chlorine and such flavorings, but it could be worse.

In case you are wondering, I was in the assault wave. The first wave of troops to land here were brought in by us, and I really felt for those poor boys. It was about 8:30 in the morning when we landed, and it was literally raining mortars. Those guys had to start out under that. We took them about 300 or 400 yards inland and dumped them. There they had machine guns and snipers in front of them and behind them and mortars among them. They really were hurting. These behind were soon wiped out by the following waves. Ours was the only company to go inland and drop our troops as I understand it.

When we started in, I was neither excited, nervous, nor scared. Not knowing what was coming, I was calm, and rather anxious to see what it was like. No trouble coming with battleships, destroyers, and everything else shelling for all they were worth, and the Navy planes bombing and strafing. Then about 300 yards out those mortars started falling, not thick, but annoying. While we were still coming in, about 100 yards off shore, one landed just about five yards from our left rear fender. A slug of shrapnel hit my tractor commander in the arm and made the most beautiful crease in my steel helmet. Then I had to get out and take my tank commander's place. That was had to do. We came on inland firing at everything and all of it firing back. Those bullets would bounce off that tractor and sing. It sounded like dried peas in a pie pan. A sniper picked off one of the kids manning a machine gun; went in his jaw and came out through his shoulder crawled on while we were unloading. We were about 15 or 20 minutes getting all the stuff out of our tractor, and all the time while those mortars were bouncing all around us. I did plenty of praying then, too. Only a few shots were taken at us while going out, since the most of them were directed at the troops on the ground.

The next ten days were spent hauling supplies. The beach was still under mortar and artillery fire and going in there with a load of ammunition was not much fun, but we came out lucky and very light. Some of those poor infantry boys really stayed in there. My hat is off to them, but never the Infantry for me.

Guess that is enough for now, except that we lost our tractor the first day in the breakers. That was much worse than the morning. I figured I had really reached the end of my rope then, but God was with me again and I am still feeling fine, so your worries are over now. Gotta quit.

All my love,
Clayton.

(Here is a letter to Mrs. Bill Dunnam from Pfc. John W. R. Engholm, from Saipan.)

Dear Mrs. Dunnam:
Replying with usual promptness. I wish to state that I received your letter of April 8 and enclosed material, as well as other mail you sent on. I believe in fighting one war at a time, and at present the war here on Saipan has priority. The other mail was in regard to my car insurance.

LOCK TO DEALERS FOR PROTEIN PELLETS

Ranchers and farmers who are anxious to obtain a supply of protein pellets for winter's feed emergencies should seek them through their regular trade channels, the state AAA office advises. Results from recent action taken by WPA to encourage increased production of pellets to meet the current heavy demand from ranchers will be evidenced by an increased supply available through regular trade channels and not through the government set-aside allocation to the state.

Navajo Indians have counted mineral and timber products totaling $1,625,000 to the war effort since Pearl Harbor, James Stewart reported. The figures taken from a report just made by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, distributions included low grade uranium ore, oil, gas, helium, lumber. Indian royalties on oil and gas minerals amounted to $140,000. "In addition," Stewart said, "the war has awakened interest among oil companies in testing of probable production fields, with a result that negotiations are now under way for leasing of four different areas entered throughout the reservation."

A VOTE FOR LOCAL OPTION IN ARTESIA Saturday, August 26

IS A

Vote to protect our homes; to protect our young people; to rid Artesia and Eddy County of crime and vice brought about by the open saloons.

LIQUOR DESTROYS

1--The Individual 2--The Home 3--The Nation

The Use of Alcoholic Liquors Will Not:

Inspire you.
Clothe your children.
Feed you when hungry.
Befriend you when lonesome.
Build you a happy home.
Strengthen your body physically or mentally.
Build good manhood and womanhood.
Make you friends.
Lower your taxes or bring prosperity.
Win the war and the peace.
Build a nation's honor.

The Use of Alcoholic Liquors Will:

Wreck your body physically and mentally.
Debase your soul.
Sadden or destroy your home.
Impoverish your children.
Make you lose your self respect.
Lose you friends by the scores.
Lose you your job.
Dig you an early grave.
Prepare you for a devil's hell.
Destroy everything in life that is worthwhile.
Bring disgrace upon you and your family.

THINK IT OVER BEFORE CASTING YOUR VOTE SATURDAY, AUGUST 26

THREE STOCK OBJECTIONS ANSWERED

1. LOSS OF REVENUE.

A conservative estimate of the aggregate gross income of the seven retail liquor distributors in Artesia for the past twelve months is well over $500,000. They paid unto the city of Artesia last year some $7,000. The citizenry of Artesia paid into the saloons $500,000 in order that they might receive $7,000 in revenue from them. A mighty poor way to raise revenue.

The liquor interest in general pays back in some form of revenue to the City, County, State and Federal Government approximately one dollar for every eight it wastes of the people's money. Think it over. What about this waste when our Nation needs every available dollar from us to fight the war.

2. WILL NOT PROHIBIT.

The purpose of law is to protect. Most laws are occasionally violated. The laws against murder, theft, rape, etc., are also occasionally violated.

Now, regarding the question of "Prohibition." The average person whom you meet says that if "Prohibition" would "Out-law" liquor that they would be one hundred per cent for it. Friends —repeal hasn't done away with "bootlegging." It hasn't cured corruption in office; It hasn't outlawed "gangsterism"; It hasn't brought about the cause of true temperance; It hasn't returned our people to sanity of which the "wets" so sanctimoniously speak. Why require more of the Liquor Law than any other law? Support the law and the law will protect you.

3. SOLDIERS ABSENT.

LET US LOOK AT SOME SANE FACTS:

1. Approximately one half of the men and women in the Armed Services from this community are under 21 years of age and would not be entitled to a vote if they were here for the election.

2. Everybody knows that the majority of those young men and women in the Armed Services would vote like their Dads and Mothers, so their absence would not change the final result.

Let us call the roll of some of the Artesia boys and girls we know who are in the Armed Services and ask ourselves how they would vote if they were here for the election.

This list could be continued indefinitely with almost the same results. One Artesia boy wrote his Dad saying, "During this war there has been an excessive amount of drinking. People would be better off physically, morally and financially if they could not avail themselves of alcoholic drinks. Dad, I hope the "wets" lose the election."

Gigantic tropical turtles are helping Costa Ricans solve the problem of high living costs. Three months ago two railway workers vacationing at the Atlantic port of Limon saw gigantic turtles, weighing 200 to 400 pounds, as abundant as bananas. They got a small loan and began shipping turtles from Limon. Turtle meat began to be sold in meat markets and soon became an acceptable substitute for beef—at 9 cents a pound. Turtle meat sales also have brought down the prices of eggs and beef nearly 25 per cent.

Those three bears popped in again. A Stewartstown, N. H., farmer started missing some sheep and lambs from his flock of fifteen. So he set some traps and soon came up with a catch of three bears averaging more than 350 pounds each. But by that time he had only three sheep left.

The Farmer and War Bonds

by Mr. A. S. Goss
Master of the National Grange

WE FREQUENTLY hear farmers raise the question as to whether or not they should buy War Bonds as long as they are in debt. The answer to this question should depend in large measure upon the nature of the debt and whether or not it is current. If part of it is past due, and the borrower expects to experience difficulty in meeting past due payments, he probably should bring his debt into current position before investing in Bonds. If, however, his payments are current, there seems to be no reason why farmers should not buy as many Bonds as they are able. Most individual investors in government Bonds are carrying debt in one form or another, at rates higher than the Bonds will yield. This is as it should be if the purchaser is in an earning position which permits the accumulation of some surplus, for we all owe it to our government to do our utmost in the financing of the war, even though the transaction may result in our paying some extra interest on outstanding debts.

When a farmer owes money, he is always concerned as to whether his crops will sell at prices which will enable him to repay his debt. When prices are high it is good business and conservative finance to reduce the debt as rapidly as possible because when prices are low, it takes more crops and more efforts to make the payments.

We should not forget, however, that a government Bond will pay off an equal amount of dollars of debt, no matter whether prices are high or whether prices are low. It is, therefore, a sound and conservative practice to buy government Bonds and lay them aside to make payments on existing debts when they fall due. In fact, quite aside from the patriotic appeal, it is good business to buy Bonds rather than make pre-payments on debt, because the time may come when the ready cash is needed and the money tied up in pre-payments cannot be returned. If this money is invested in Bonds, it can be converted into cash to meet any needs which may arise.

If everyone followed the policy of buying no War Bonds until their debts were paid, few Bonds would be sold to the public. We have an obligation to help finance this war which is vastly more important than the income we may receive on the investment of money in War Bonds.

Farmers are finding it impossible to maintain their machinery and buildings in a satisfactory state of repair. They are finding that they cannot replace worn-out equipment except at excessively high cost.

It would seem to be sound and conservative business practice to lay aside money to make the repairs and replace worn-out equipment when material and machines are again available. No safer place can be found to lay aside money for such purposes than in government Bonds.

Every time we buy a Bond we are not only assisting in financing the war, but we are also doing our bit to prevent that most dreaded economic disaster called inflation. If each one of us would invest as much as we could in government Bonds, the danger of inflation would be greatly reduced.

(2) It is most lasting because it is composed of the most durable minerals known.
(3) Inscriptions on it are clearly legible because of the marked contrast between cut and polished surfaces.
There are many granites which have a surface resemblance to Winnsboro Blue Granite, but they do not possess its durable qualities and lasting beauty. Write for Free descriptive literature.

Maybe there is and maybe there isn't sixty other ways that would have kept engine acids from raising Ned with this pre-Pearl Harbor limousine. But one thing I know is this: it's still running swell on nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil. You needn't be a scientist to know that acids from every explosion are forever trying to spoil an engine. Looks like the proper idea is to try blockading those acids by getting your engine OIL-PLATED. I learned there's a modern synthetic in Conoco Nth oil that reminds you of magnetism, because it makes inside surfaces attract a shield of OIL-PLATING. Acids can't so easily tear right into this. Then your OIL-PLATED engine has an extra chance to last you. When new cars arrive, hurry! But a real advanced improvement right now is to switch to Conoco Nth motor oil, see.

THE PINEAPPLE, AN AMERICAN FRUIT

More than a mere product, the pineapple—whose gay topset of leaves crowns most baskets of tropical fruit—has become in a way a symbol of the fertility of America's Equatorial zone. Indigenous to the Western Hemisphere, this no longer unusual table delicacy is now a familiar fruit the world over. However, although it has become naturalized in the tropical regions of the Old World, Hawaii and the West Indies still retain the privilege of being the principal centers of production.

The fact that the species was never mentioned before the discovery of America and that, immediately after, early authorities on the New World made constant allusions to it would indicate with certainty that the pineapple is a truly American fruit. Samples of it were taken to Europe by Christopher Columbus, according to certain writers of the period, and it is said that Louis XV placed on the banquet table at his Versailles palace the first two pineapples cultivated in France. The first record of the fruit in English literature is found in Evelyn's "Diary" where he mentions tasting a pineapple from Barbados at the table of Charles II.

The pineapple gets its English name from the fact that it looks somewhat like a pine cone; the Spanish appellation of "pina" has the same origin. The scientific designation, Ananah, is said to come from "nana," the native Brazilian name, which the Portuguese altered slightly. The fruit, however, is today called "abacaxi" in Brazil. This variety of names refers to the same plant, one which is described as: "Agave-like, with rigid, spiny, margined, recurved leaves, whose fruit consists of a succulent, fleshy inflorescence, which ripens into a solid mass with tough, persistent floral bracts and topped with tuft of small leaves." Because the ripening process takes place on the stump where the starch is turned into sugar, the pineapple does not ripen properly when cut off too early. On the other hand, it is a very delicate fruit which has to be handled with utmost care and rapidity once it has matured. The product for distant markets is, therefore, mostly canned—as in Hawaii—while only from nearby regions—such as the West Indies—can the fresh pineapples be shipped to the United States.

Pineapple-growing is said to have been attempted for the first time in the United States in 1850, when some fruit were grown near St. Augustine, Fla. Later, production was started on the keys but "the want of facilities at the time for rapid transportation and the most favored Cuban and Porto Rican plantations made the development slow." Today, with shipments of the canned product from the Pacific area being naturally irregular, the imports of the fruit—either fresh or canned—from different regions of the Americas has assumed more importance. Grown in almost every one of the countries situated within the tropical and sub-tropical zone, the pineapple is only imported commercially from Cuba, Puerto Rico and, to a certain extent, from Mexico. When fresh they are sold by the crate with the fruit graded as to size and usually at fruit auctions. As a canned product the pineapple ranks with peaches at the head of the list of quantity of fruits canned in the world. In 1940-41, 30,000 cases were packed in Cuba and 85,000 in Puerto Rico,

Conservation Methods Have Been Effective in Saving Transportation

Figures, showing that conservation methods have been very effective in saving transportation equipment during the war have been released by the Office of Defense Transportation. The conservation methods, says the ODT, include issuance of ODT orders, service curtailments, substitution of rail for bus routes, staggered hours, turn-back service, diversion of bus passengers to rail routes, restoration of old vehicles, use of second-hand equipment, and multiple use of vehicles on several lines.

ODT general and special orders are conserving more than 77,000,000 rubber-tired vehicle miles annually and 1,544 vehicles among local mail and bus companies and intercity bus operators reporting as of last Feb. 15.

Savings of more than 63,000,000 vehicle miles annually and 1,241 vehicles through service curtailments are reported in the same types of transportation service. Use of rail in place of bus routes is conserving 37,000,000 vehicle miles annually and 537 vehicles.

Staggered hours are conserving transportation in these operations to the extent of 24,000,000 vehicle miles annually and 2,868 pieces of equipment the report shows. More than 2,600 old vehicles have been restored, while 1,600 second-hand vehicles have been returned to service.

Multiple use of equipment on several lines added the equivalent of 2,500 vehicles to local rail and bus and intercity bus operations. Diversion of bus passengers to rail routes is saving 22,000,000 vehicle miles annually and 533 vehicles, while turn-back service is conserving 23,000,000 vehicle miles and 1,120 pieces of equipment.

Revenue passengers per vehicle mile in intercity bus operations increased 69 per cent in December, 1943, over the corresponding month in 1941. Gains of 30 per cent in local bus operations and 16 per cent in rail operations are shown in the report.

Savings in local and intercity bus operations amounting to average daily reductions of 1,972 in number of busses operated, 431,000 vehicle miles and 11,000 gallons of gasoline were made by general order ODT 39, motor fuel conservation order affecting 13 eastern

Other producers of pineapple on a rather large scale are Trinidad and Brazil, while the coast lands of Venezuela and Colombia are also well suited to the cultivation of this fruit.

Many consider the pineapple the best of fruit and bring out the fact that it has no outright substitute. It has been said that "it was fitting that the Americas which gave to the world the greatest of all the grains, Indian corn, should give it the queen of all the fruit, the pineapple."

seaboard states from May 27 to Aug. 15, 1943.

While many of these accomplishments came as the result of general and special orders of ODT, the greater portion of them resulted from voluntary efforts of the operators in adopting the conservation measures recommended in the various statements of policy issued by this office, the ODT said.

The cooperation of the operators in achieving this result, while maintaining essential transportation services in the face of many difficulties, is worthy of every commendation it was stressed.

Pretty Young Wife: "Who was that?"

Husband: "Some sailor, I guess. He asked if the coast was clear."

Nation Needs Boys and Girls in High School

This coming year Uncle Sam will need boys and girls of high school age for the most important job in the world—important both for themselves and for their country. He will need them to prepare to serve in a thousand ways anywhere from a year or two to eight or ten years from now. He needs them to go to high school.

Just before the war the high school population of the United States reached an all-time high of 7,244,000. Since then it has dropped by a round million. If this decline continues education in this country is going into a tailspin just when educated young people are needed most.

All sorts of reasons, good, bad and middling, are given for the falling off. Young folks want to feel their oats by earning money; they want to be of service; they are lured by thoughtless employers; they want to contribute to the family upkeep; they are afraid they can't get jobs later if they don't take them now; they aren't sure that education is what it is cracked up to be.

It's hard to blame them. Youth is experimental. It finds it hard to take the long view. But their elders ought to labor with them. They ought to be made to see that time invested in study now will pay the richest sort of dividends in usefulness to their country, in helpfulness to their families, in the happiness that comes from possessing knowledge and skill.

Maybe there are cases where the money a boy or girl can earn is really needed by parents. Even in such cases it is possible to keep a little study going, an evening course or two, anything to keep the eager young mind from stagnating at the very age when it learns most easily.

When the school bells ring this fall they ought to sound like bugles.

OPA Urges Firms To File Applications For Inspecting Tires

The district OPA office is urging all business concerns, desiring to be authorized tire inspection stations to speed their applications to their local War Price and Rationing Boards.

Authorizations of all current tire inspection stations expired Aug. 15 and boards now can accept inspections only from stations which have had filed applications approved by the district office.

James L. Harper, district OPA mileage rationing officer, said that many tire inspection stations have failed to renew applications and that there are at present several counties without an authorized inspection station. He urged haste in filing applications so citizens may not be handicapped by being unable to find authorized tire inspection dealers.

Germans Are Planning Now for Soldiers of The Third World War

Summer Welles in his new book, "Time for Decision," is the latest of many authoritative voices to warn easy-going Americans that even now on the brink of defeat Germany is laying plans for fighting a third world war in another twenty years.

Evidence of this comes from many telltale omens. Suddenly, for example, all pregnant German women, mothers of the prospective soldiers of 1964, are the objects of extraordinary solicitude by the state.

The Netherlands underground reports that thousands of expectant mothers have not only been evacuated to the comparative safety of small Dutch towns, but in order to insure the perfect health of the future fighters each German mother-to-be enjoys besides her regular ration card, an extra ration card, six extra butter, extra meat, twelve extra these rations demands deductions from the supplies of the Dutch people.
