Love to Form Country Club Here Takes Root This Week

Private Talk of Individuals Develops Into Two Meetings - Committees on Plans and Temporary Chairman Named

Plans for a country club for Artesia, which have been "mulled around" over coffee the last few weeks among a relatively small number of Artesia men, came out into the open this week, when two meetings were held and a temporary organization was made, with Mayor Emery Carper elected chairman pro tem Tuesday evening.

At that meeting and one on Monday everyone attending was enthusiastic over the prospects of a country club, at which diversified activities would be planned for every member of the family.

Some of the men looked forward to a first-class golf course with grass greens, while others frankly admitted they cared nothing about golf, but definitely were interested in other sports and events a country club would have to offer.

Three committees were appointed by Mayor Carper at the meeting Tuesday evening, one each to seek a suitable location, get an estimate of the cost of a suitable clubhouse and other buildings, and to investigate the cost and needs of a golf course. They were:

Land-Bill Bullock, J. S. Ward, and Neil B. Watson.

Building-Niven Baird, Grady Hooker, and S. P. Yates.

Greens-Clarence E. Fischbeck, J. Dexter, and Bob Bourland.

The committees are to report back at a meeting to be held at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening Feb. 16.

Until some estimate is made as to the probable cost of land and desirable installations and the cost of maintenance, no tentative membership fee should be set, it is generally decided.

In the meantime, although no membership drive can be put on, the men at the meetings felt that members should be felt out as to becoming members.

At the meeting Tuesday evening, the Artesia Golf Club was presented by all five of its directors. Speaking for themselves, they were quite pleased with the idea of a country club and said they believed the majority of the members would be interested in a new club.

Others agreed that the Artesia Golf Club, the pioneer in golfing in Artesia, should be given every consideration in the formation of a new organization.

It was tentatively decided that the property of the Artesia Golf Club would be taken over and would be maintained until such time as the country club golf course is ready for use.

It is hoped to perfect the organization in the near future, so land will be acquired, a well drilled, installed, and the preliminary work started on a golf course. It was agreed, perhaps by the time the golf course would be ready, it would be possible to have the clubhouse and laid out other sports facilities.

Survivors of Dead Servicemen Should Contact Field Office

Survivors of dead servicemen who worked in employment covered by the Social Security Act prior to their entrance into the armed services were urged to contact the nearest Social Security Board field office by E. Glen McNatt.

In addition to any benefits payable from war-risk insurance, there also is some payment from old-age survivors insurance. McNatt said. These payments can be made if the worker (serviceman or woman) was insured under the Social Security Act, particularly if he is survived by minor children, as monthly payments continue until the youngest child reaches 18 years.

Delay in filing the claim after notice is received may result in some loss of benefit by the survivor, McNatt added.

Grass and Brush Hazards Keep Fire Fighters on Hump

Artesia firemen made three runs Tuesday because of grass and brush fires, two of which threatened buildings, one at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at Ninth Richardson and one at 5:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon west of lawn beyond the south city.

At Ninth and Richardson the firemen caught the shingle roof on a building and ran back to that building and one adjacent. The damage, however, was slight.

The brush fire Tuesday afternoon, a brisk northwest wind and flames over several acres approached some outbuildings. Water from the auxiliary tank on the No. 1 truck stopped the spread.

Remen were called at noon Tuesday to Ninth and Texas, where a brush and grass on a vacant lot was burning. Under their program, the entire lot was permitted to burn off.

Chief Albert Richards said this week that the fire season is increasing, now that the winter season is here, and he warned everyone to be extremely careful about fires.

Bulldogs Are Ceded Third in District Tourney

The Artesia Bulldogs, who last defeated the Roswell Coyotes at Roswell Friday 28 to 24, but lost to the Carlsbad Cavemen there Tuesday 45 to 23, were ceded third in the annual district tournament, which will be played at Roswell Thursday through Saturday of next week.

In the pairings, Artesia will be the odd, or seventeenth, team in a 16-team schedule and will not be eligible to drop off to the consolation brackets, so must win every game to stay in the tournament.

Carrizozo and Hondo will meet Thursday afternoon and the Bulldogs will meet the winner of that clash at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Should they win that game, they will play the winners of the Hobbs-Lovington game, which will be Friday morning, at 9:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Captain, the only undefeated team in the district, was ceded first, while Carlsbad was ceded second. Artesia and Dexter, the 1944 champion team, were tied for third and fourth, which was broken by a flip of a coin, which gave Artesia third and the strange place on the schedule. That third Dexter into the top part of the bracket, matched against Lake Arthur in Dexter's first game.

The Bulldogs, who recently lost Izzy Juarez to the Army, on Wednesday of this week lost Lyle Terpening to the Navy.

Artesia has one more game in the regular schedule, against Portales there Saturday evening.

Boy Scouts Do Good Deed for Artesia Rotary

The Artesia Rotary Club was presented a splendid plaque of copper on wood, bearing the Rotary emblem, at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon by Stanley Salkin, in behalf of the Boy Scouts of troop No. 8, which the Rotary Club sponsors. It was made by the boys and was their own idea.

The presentation was part of a program given by Boy Scouts of the troop, as a good deed to the sponsoring group during "Boy Scout Week."

Prior to the presentation Louis Juarez, Thomas Boyd, and Bobby Stuart, members of the troop, gave short talks, disclosing respectively that a Boy Scout does not accept tips for being helpful, that the aim and purpose of scouting are character building and citizenship training, and that sponsoring institutions benefit through the Boy Scout activities.

Besides the four boys, their scoutmaster, Floyd Springer, was a guest of the club and was in charge of the program presented by the boys.

The troop is to have a court of honor at the gymnasium of Central School this evening.

Boys Ranch Is Not State Institution

New Mexico Boys Ranch has no connection with the State Industrial School at Springer, it was explained by Albert E. Buck, president of the organization, in an attempt to clear up the confusion resulting from recent news reports emanating from Santa Fe when the Industrial School submitted its budget to the Legislature. One of the budget items was for a proposed "ranch unit" at the institution, Buck added, and the press accounts erroneously said Boys Ranch had submitted a budget to the Legislature.

Buck said that inquiries had been received asking whether Boys Ranch had departed from its announced policy of privately operating a boys' ranch home for boys who were in trouble but who had not been sent to Springer. "Our Boys Ranch program is solely preventive and not correctional," he asserted. "Boys will come voluntarily and not by court commitment. It will be a real ranch home and not an institution. Boys Ranch will be supported entirely by private gifts until it becomes self-sustaining, and will have no political affiliation or connection whatever." (Turn to last page, please)

Deputies Are Assisting With Income Taxes

Two deputy collectors of internal revenue started this morning assisting persons in the Artesia area in making out their income tax returns. They are located at the Artesia Hotel, where they will be each business day through next Tuesday.

Their services are available for all who must file 1944 final returns and 1945 declarations of estimated income tax.

W. J. McAulay, deputy collector, Roswell office, said those wishing assistance should bring with them all information concerning their 1944 incomes, as well as Form W-2 withholding tax receipts for 1944, if any.

Mrs. William Foster of Loco Hills, 68, died at 3:45 o'clock Sunday morning in a Carlsbad hospital.

Honor 119 at Methodist in Candle Service

In one of the most impressive ceremonies ever held at an Artesia church, 119 servicemen and servicewomen were honored at a candlelight service at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening, when a candle was lighted for each, as well as a candle for each one's sponsor, 238 in all.

Of the men and women represented, six, having given their lives, were especially honored. They were Lloyd Evans, Alexander St. Clair Emmons, Avery Terry Gray, Osborn Keller, Bennie Howard, and Charles Mitchell.

Candles for the six were arranged at the altar in two candelabra, one each of four and two candles. For the others they were in seven-point candelabra.

As the name of each of the 119 was called, a candle for him was lighted at the altar, while another candle, also in a seven-point candelabra, was lighted in the church auditorium close to a relative or sponsor.

Many of those honored are members of the Methodist Church, but others are non-members, but are husbands or sons of members, who include them on the church honor roll, according to the Rev. C. A. Clark, pastor.

The 113 living men and women honored:

E. C. Abston, Dwight Lee Arnall, Charles Baldwin, Noel Baker, G. R. Brainard, Jr., Donald Bush, Charles Bullock, Roy (Sonny) Busby, Lawrence Bryan.

Scouts Net $131 Saturday for Traffic Arrests

Boy Scouts of the Artesia area had a great time Saturday, when they ran the city, sitting in all official capacities, but those who served as police officers seemed to have the greater slice, as they made "arrests" for traffic violations and cited the violators to the "police judge."

It was all in fun, although some people thought the boys tooted their whistles a little too much, and the Boy Scouts took in about $131 in "fines," to be divided equally among the five troops participating.

One of the outstanding features of "Boy Scout Week," of which the activities Saturday were a part, was the decorating of store windows by three of the troops. Three of them took part in that activity and put on splendid displays, showing features of their work and handicraft.

Troop No. 8 displayed in the P. Evans Store window, No. 69 of Loco Hills in Baldwin's window, and No. 79 in the Brainard-Corbin Hardware Company window.

Scout leaders met Wednesday afternoon to make plans for camping next summer, and Don Jensen, commissioner, met in the evening with his staff for a dinner at the Carper Grill and to discuss problems which have come up during "Boy Scout Week," with a view to making corrections in future activities.

Scouts at Loco To Plant Trees For Servicemen

Boy Scouts of troop No. 69, Loco Hills, are planning a dedicating ceremony at Sherman Memorial Church at Loco Hills at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, at which they will set out trees around the church in honor of boys of the community who are serving in the armed forces.

The Rev. C. A. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Artesia, will be the chief speaker.

The final event of the evening will be a court of honor for the troop. J. Strother Moore of Carlsbad, field executive, will be in charge and will be assisted by members of the sponsoring committee.

Everyone is invited to attend and to bring something for a "potluck" supper. Parents of boys of Cub Scout age, 9 to 12 years, are especially invited, as are parents and relatives of boys in the service, who will be honored at the ceremony.

Are Rendering Taxes This Week At City Hall

Richard H. Westaway, Eddy County assessor, is assisting taxpayers of North Eddy County this week in rendering their taxes. He has set up a temporary office in the council room of the Artesia city hall.

His annual visit to Artesia for this purpose will terminate Saturday.

Westaway asked that taxpayers bring with them their tax schedules for a year ago, if possible, in order to facilitate the rendering of taxes.

Mrs. A. C. Bush Dies Monday At Age of 68

Mrs. A. C. Bush, 68, the widow of a former editor of The Hagerman Messenger, died at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at Artesia Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient since Tuesday of last week.

Her body was shipped Monday night to Fulton, Mo., her former home, where funeral services and burial were to be this afternoon. The body was accompanied by Mrs. Bush's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald S. Bush, who established a home in one of the Yates apartments last December, awaiting the return of their son and husband, Lt. Donald S. Bush, who is serving in Europe with General Patton's Third Army.

Besides the son, Donald, Mrs. Bush is survived by another son, Lt. Col. Hilary Bush, who is in the Southwest Pacific, and two sisters, Mrs. William Hickerson, Chicago, and Mrs. Charles Tutt, Bunceton, Mo.

As Claire Grantham, a daughter of Samuel and Mary Ford Grantham, Mrs. Bush was born at St. Louis, Mo., April 8, 1875. Many years ago she and Mr. Bush were married and to them were born the two sons mentioned as surviving and another son, Aubrey Charles Bush, Jr., who died at the age of 4 years. Mrs. Martin Yates, Jr., of Artesia is a niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush came to New Mexico in 1938, shortly after which Mr. Bush became editor of The Hagerman Messenger. After almost a lifetime in newspaper work, he and Mrs. Bush moved in April, 1940, to become associated with Martin Yates, Jr., and moved to Loco Hills. There he died July 5, 1941. Mrs. Bush is to be buried by his grave at Fulton, Mo.

After the death of Mr. Bush, Mrs. Bush remained in Missouri, for a while, then joined her daughter-in-law in California, but returned here in December with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald S. Bush, to make her home.

After the funeral at Fulton, Mrs. Donald Bush will return to Artesia to live.

Bayless Funeral Home was in charge of the body here and shipping it to Missouri.

TO SPEAK ON FUTURE OF OIL AND GAS IN STATE

A number of the local members of the oil fraternity in its various branches are planning to attend a meeting in Carlsbad this evening, at which Dr. R. L. Bates, a geologist with the Bureau of Mines, Socorro, will give a paper on the future oil and gas possibilities in New Mexico.

Dr. Bates will speak at a session of the local chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, which will be at La Caverna Hotel at 7:30.

Grand Master of Odd Fellow Lodge Makes Official Visit

S. C. Saunders of Fort Sumner, grand master of the Odd Fellow Lodge, made his official visit to the Artesia lodge in a surprise call Wednesday evening of last week.

After a good meeting, attended by a large number of Odd Fellows he met informally with them.

Saunders said we were quite pleased that the Artesia lodge now has its own home and complimented them on it.

From Artesia, he went to Carlsbad, to meet with the lodge there.

Feather and Jacobs Win School Election

Lead Field of Six in Biennial Voting Tuesday

Mrs. Landis B. Feather and Fred L. Jacobs led a field of six for election as members of the Artesia Board of Education in the biennial election in the district Tuesday, according to a canvass of tally sheets from the two voting boxes that evening. Each received a total of 162 votes.

The defeated candidates were Fletcher Collins, who polled 147 votes, Mrs. Della Sheldon, 81; Curtis A. Baker, 70, and Shirley Hager, 41.

Cole received a complimentary vote at the box at the city hall in Artesia. The other polling place was at Sherman Memorial Church, Loco Hills, where Leroy Cranford received 33 write-in votes.

The results of the election, listing in order the votes of each candidate at the city hall, votes at Sherman Memorial Church, and the total:

Feather—158, 4, 162.
Jacobs—157, 5, 162.
Hager—35, 6, 41.
Baker—64, 6, 70.
Sheldon—79, 2, 81.
Collins—129, 18, 147.

Although the vote was quite tight Tuesday, it was much greater than two years ago at the school election, when only 74 votes were cast.

The carry-over members of the board are M. G. Schulze, president the last year; Glenn Booker, and Robert O. Anderson.

Martin Will Attend Dallas Conference on Crop Insurance

W. Leslie Martin of Artesia, a member of the State AAA Committee, will represent that group at a meeting in Dallas, Tex., Monday through Wednesday with a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, at which it is hoped to get a program in shape so crop insurance may be had this season.

A representative of the AAA from each of the Southern cotton states is expected to attend, in order to become acquainted with and administer the program.

ROY GILL IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS FROM BLOW

Roy Gill, tool dresser for S. P. Yates, who was critically injured Jan. 31 in the oil field, is still unconscious at Artesia Memorial Hospital, where he has been a patient since the accident.

He was working on the Dale Resler, State No. 1, in SW NE 14-18-27, backing slack. It is presumed he was hit by a 24-inch wrench, which fractured his skull.

Is Probable Artesia Will Get Armory

The possibility that Artesia will receive an armory after the war was brought out Wednesday evening by Lt. Col. Walter B. Lewis, plans and training officer for the New Mexico State Guard, and Capt. Rex Rankin, Regular Army, assigned to the State Guard, at an inspection of Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion.

Artesia was named along with Carlsbad, Farmington, Hobbs, Portales, and Albuquerque in a bill introduced last week in the State Legislature to appropriate $40,000 for armory facilities.

Colonel Lewis and Captain Rankin complimented Capt. J. Clark Bruce, commanding officer, and his men after the inspection, which was on both line and headquarters at the Artesia High School building.

The officers said it is probable they will alternate in the future in making trips here, one coming about every six weeks for inspection and check-up.

A report on the inspection last evening will be sent to Maj. Oren C. Roberts, commander of the battalion.

SHOWS JUST HOW A FELLOW CAN RAMBLE

WE THOUGHT that Carey Holbrook, el hombre who owns, publishes, edits, and manages—and, as far as we know, sets and prints—the Health City Sun of Albuquerque, would have overcome the ill effects of the annual state press convention in mid-January by this time, but it seems we thought wrong. Witness what he had to say in his Feb. 2 issue and how the poor fellow's mind wanders from hither to yon—mostly you:

This timid and slightly tongue-tied tract is probably the most obliging member of the newspaper fraternity in New Mexico. Last week Ed Guthmann of The Springer Tribune wanted us to do a poem in true literary style and we wasted over five minutes of our budgeted time to produce a masterpiece. This week we are going to sweat out a request made by Governor Dempsey at the recent press convention in Santa Fe, in which the governor expressed a desire to see more editorials in New Mexico papers praising the sunshine of the state, and less diatribes built around the human weakness of the governor, the inhuman weakness of the OPA, and the superhuman weakness of the candidate whose name will go down in history as author of the inspiring words, "I'd rather be wrong than ex-president!"

Hi-de-ho for the sunshine of New Mexico! Those brilliant rays pouring out of a quote, turquoise sky, have only recently inspired a brand new brigadier general to name his air-minded dog, "Blaze," which flaming name it now appears might set someone's pants on fire. Henry Wallace made a trip through the state, and under the spell of our magic sunshine, he upped his figures on the amount of lend-lease milk he advocated furnishing the Hottentots, from a quart to a gallon.

In battling out an editorial praising the assets of New Mexico we would hate to confine ourselves to sunshine alone. New Mexico also has a super abundance of those sandy bits of nature's handiwork called arroyos. An arroyo is a Kansas crick handicapped by local option. It is an Oklahoma draw with a Spanish accent. It is the only stream in the world where a tourist can drive his car down the left bank into a pile of blow sand, and come up on the right bank with catfish in his carburetor. New Mexico arroyos are equally as lovely, and exactly the same thing as Louisiana bayous, except they lack water, moss, and alligators. The only thing a bayou lacks to become an arroyo is plenty of postwar planning and an act of God.

Sunshine and arroyos are not the only things in New Mexico that deserve to be brought to the attention of the cock-eyed world. We also have a flourishing livestock industry made up of yearlings, yeaus, and yodelers. A yearling is a hairy animal with a lazy S branded on his left hip, who is turned loose on the mesa and turns into a doggie. He is not to be confused with the common or domestic doggie, who, if turned loose on the mesa turns into the King of the Canines who would be willing to trade his kingdom for a tree.

The New Mexico yearling is a very fortunate animal indeed. All day long he is bathed in the wonderful sunshine of the West, as per the request of the governor. Above him floats the bluest sky in the world, along with an OPA ceiling price that is causing the livestock industry to froth at the mouth.

A yeau is a she sheep with a sad face. New Mexico is the only state in the union where the wool growers have developed a triple purpose yeau. She produces lambs in the spring, wool in the fall, and a governor on election day. We might also add that New Mexico is the only state in the union where a candidate can drop a few quarters into Rio Arriba County, and hit the jackpot in Santa Fe! The yodeler is the only branch of the livestock industry in the state that has received national attention. Originally the yodeler came from Switzerland, where he donned a dinky hat with a feather in it, tied himself to a rope, and climbed the Alps, yodeling as he went. In New Mexico he wiggles into a set of hair pants, ties himself to a contract, and climbs on a radio program, leaving the livestock industry flat on its recorded brand on the left hip.

We hope the governor is pleased with our efforts to extole the virtues of New Mexico, and are waiting with bated breath for Hub Kane of The Las Vegas Optic to bring a little sunshine into the governor's life. Of course it is too much to expect of Col. Ely down in Silver City, or Bill Harrison in Santa Fe, but Hub might be able to turn out a few cheerful adjectives without raising his blood pressure to the boiling point.

SOON WILL BE FLY TIME AGAIN

THE WARM DAYS last week made a number of local people start thinking about the fly hatcheries, which always are with us in hot weather, through the negligence of some citizens.

A friend took us to his place to point out some dandies within a stone's throw of his back door. As he lives close to the city limits, outside the restricted district, there is little he can do about several open toilets, but he was especially concerned with a pig pen and the untidy habits of some of his neighbors.

He is not the only one who has called attention to this hazard to health, which seems to be with us every year.

It might be well for everyone to take stock of his premises at this time, looking forward to his own health.

If everyone would do that, no neighbor ever would have any cause to complain to the editor, the city, or the State Health Department.

HERE'S THAT EDITORIAL AGAIN

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of things to do at this time of the year, we had better dig down in the bag and pull out our old stand-by editorial about the low limbs along many of the residence streets in Artesia.

They are getting bad again—just as though all were remedied the last time we spouted off.

We like to walk erect, as much of us as there is, and that's not too much. But even at that, we have to stoop on many streets, or suffer having our hat roll in the dirt. And we don't like that.

It should be required that every citizen have to walk to and from his work once in a while, instead of burning up his gasoline all the time. Were that possible, we believe each would learn firsthand about the low limbs and then would look after his own posthaste.

EVERY MAN TO HIS INCOMPREHENSIBILITY

RECENTLY SOMEONE who disagreed with something we had written informed us that as an editorial writer we are not so hot. Well, we knew that all along, but we sure can write some dandy

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 18.
The Golden Text is: "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from Him cometh my salvation." (Ps. 62:1)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness." (Isa. 26:9)
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The suppositional antipode of divine infinite Spirit is the so-called human soul or spirit, in other words the five senses, the flesh that warreth against Spirit. These so-called material senses must yield to the infinite Spirit, named God." Visitors always welcome.

GIRL SCOUTS—IT'S THEIR WORLD TOO

More than a million girls and women in green uniforms remind America that Girl Scouting builds world friendship. Always world minded, the Girl Scouts of Artesia are celebrating March 12, the 33rd birthday of Girl Scouting in the United States, by showing how girls can prepare for the responsibilities of world citizenship.

Nations have not yet found a way to live together in peace. Tomorrow's citizens must do more than express a pious hope for peace. They must know something of the attitudes and problems of other countries—the hazards that lie in the path of international friendship.

The Girl Scouts of the United States are members of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts. Wherever the armies of liberation go, scouting, which went underground with other democratic movements during enemy occupation, is springing up again. Through the news and personal correspondence of this worldwide sisterhood, through world meetings and hemisphere meetings, through day-by-day awareness of the international significance of all they do, Girl Scouts build a background of and understanding for the day when their votes will decide issues of peace and war.

Every thoughtful American will wish the Girl Scouts success in their program of building international friendship. A tangible way to help is to make Girl Scouting available to all the girls who want to be scouts, but who lack leaders, sponsorship, or meeting places.

Does your club or church sponsor or find leaders for potential Girl Scouts? If not any member of the Girl Scout Association can explain how you can begin building better citizens through Girl Scouting—NOW.

Prophetic Bible Lecture Series Starts Sunday

The first in a series of prophetic Bible lectures will be given Sunday evening at the Artesia Woman's Club. J. L. Dittberner, evangelist and radio lecturer, recently of Dallas, Tex., will present the subject, "The Other Side of Death." Many questions regarding the future life and home will be answered from the Bible in this lecture.

These prophetic Bible studies are being conducted for the purpose of uplifting the Bible and its mighty messages for the present day. During the series, some of the greatest prophecies in the Bible will be discussed.

Evangelist Dittberner says the Bible and the Bible alone has a message of peace and hope for the distressed world. "In these days of death and destruction we need to study again the promises found in God's Word," he said.

The Bible lyceum is for the general public. Church members and non-church members are alike invited to attend. There will be something of great interest for everyone, and it is hoped that all who attend will be definitely benefited, the evangelist said.

Wherever Dittberner has held these prophetic lectures, people have shown a great interest and many have said that his presentation of Bible truth was the plainest they have ever heard.

These Bible lectures are free and will be held every Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday night at the Artesia Woman's Club, 320 Dallas Avenue. There will be a good song service at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of H. M. Williams of Clovis. Everyone is urged to attend.

Miss Henry and S-Sgt. Dugas Are Married in Carlsbad Saturday; Honeymoon in El Paso This Week

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Henry of Artesia have announced the marriage of their only daughter and child, Ruby, and S/Sgt. Louis Booth Dugas, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dugas of Baton Rouge, La. The wedding was at the chapel of the Carlsbad Army Air Field at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with the Rev. C. A. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Artesia, officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Accessories and a corsage of white carnations, and Mr. Deemer were attendants of the bridal couple.

Mrs. Henry chose for her daughter's wedding a black street dress, with which she wore a new spring hat of fuschia color, with matching gloves and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attractively attired in a dark green wool, tailored suit, with which she wore brown accessories and a single orchid corsage. For something old she wore an opal ring, which had belonged to her maternal grandmother; something new, a penny in her shoe; something borrowed, a small Bible belonging to Mrs. Pauline Harrell, which she carried, and for something blue, a tiny, blue compact tucked into a pocket.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry were hosts at a wedding dinner at the Crawford Hotel in Carlsbad after the ceremony. Guests were Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Dugas, the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. William Deemer, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Caskey, Mrs. Pauline Harrell, and Miss Jean Goodrich of Pecos, Tex.

Others who were in Carlsbad for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whelan and their daughters, Luella and Marsha; Misses Ethel and Edna Cave, John A. Mathis, and Mrs. Oliver Wicks.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in El Paso this week. They are expected to return here Saturday, and Sergeant Dugas is to report Sunday to Alamogordo, where he is stationed. Mrs. Dugas expects to continue with her position at the office of Mark Whelan for the present.

Chambers-Pack Wedding Rites Are Held Sunday

Miss Rita Pack, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Pack of Des Plaines, Ill., and Orval Chambers, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers of the Cottonwood community, were married Sunday at the Cottonwood Methodist Church. It is the first wedding ever to have been held at the "Little White Church on the Hill."

Vows were said at the church chancel rail, which was decorated with sweetpeas, snapdragons, and greenery. The Rev. Chester Rogers read the double-ring ceremony in the presence of about 40 relatives and friends.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Clyde Night of Lake Arthur. The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white cashmere, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of red carnations. For the traditional something old she wore a bracelet of the bridegroom's mother, for something borrowed a pearl comb in her hair, and for something blue a tiny blue ribbon tucked underneath her flowers.

She graduated from high school in Des Plaines, Ill., last June and came to Artesia last September with her cousin, Mrs. Gene Chambers, and has since been employed in the city, doing secretarial work. She was a popular young woman in her home town and was active in church activities there and also has been in Artesia since living here.

Mr. Chambers is a graduate of Artesia High School, class of '40, and has since been associated with his father, a well-known farmer in the Cottonwood community.

Mrs. Edgar Havens of Maljamar, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a pink wool suit, her accessories were white, and she wore a corsage of white carnations. Mr. Havens was best man.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Pack, who was here for the wedding of her daughter, wore a black crepe model with white accessories and a small hat, which was a creation of pink flowers with veil, and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Chambers, mother of the bridegroom, wore blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at a wedding dinner after the wedding ceremony. A beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers expect to make their home in the Cottonwood community.

Large Membership Is Reported By Legion Auxiliary

One of the largest paid-up membership lists in the history of the American Legion Auxiliary was reported at the February meeting Monday at the Service Club. New Mexico now has the largest membership in the history of the organization, it was reported by Mrs. Alex McGonagill, department president.

A sketch of the proposed American Legion building was presented by the building committee, Mrs. John Runyan, Mrs. Creighton Gilchrist, and Mrs. Oren Roberts. Plans for the building were approved and members of the unit pledged themselves to assist in every possible manner in the erection of the proposed building.

Mrs. J. B. Muncy, program chairman for "National Defense and Americanism Month," presented Mrs. Fred Jacobs, Mrs. Earl Darst, and Mrs. Frank Smith in a splendid program. Mrs. Alex McGonagill, New Mexico department president, gave an interesting report of her visit to the southwestern part of the state, the Veterans' Hospital at Fort Bayard, and also of the conference of the Eighth Service Command, held at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex., Tuesday of last week, which she attended.

Hostesses, Mrs. Muncy, Mrs. Earl Darst, Mrs. Dave Bunting, and Mrs. Leon Smith, served dainty Valentine cakes with coffee after the program.

Rose Culture Discussed By Mrs. Glenn Sharp At Garden Club Meeting

Mrs. Glenn Sharp, who grows a large variety of roses in her flower garden, discussed rose culture at the February meeting of the Garden Club held at the city hall Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Sharp pointed out that it is now time to prune roses. However, she did not recommend heavy pruning. She also added that it is now time to add fertilizer, unless fertilizing was done at the proper time last fall. Club members agreed that barnyard fertilizer is the best for roses. Mrs. Sharp also gave a list of what she thought to be the best varieties of roses, classified in colors, in our vicinity.

The March program on trees and shrubs is to be given by Mrs. Otice Brown.

Fun Lovers Club Has Valentine Dinner Wednesday Evening

The Fun Lovers Club, a high school social club, which was organized 10 years ago, celebrated the anniversary of the club with a Valentine dinner party at the Fred Cole home Wednesday evening, with Miss Hattie Ruth Cole, a past president, hostess.

Miss Lela Bess Mann, now Mrs. David Barnette of Los Angeles, Calif., was the first president. The club has been very active in the social affairs of the high school group since the date of organization.

These colors were used in table decorations and also in the menu served at the anniversary dinner Wednesday, when a centerpiece was arranged of white sweetpeas in a red crystal bowl and red hearts attractively strewn on the white linen of the long table, where guests were served. The table was lighted by white tapers in crystal holders.

Miss Helen Heber is president of the club now and members are Juanita Russell, Betty Del Washburn, Virginia Lover, Betty Barnett, Joan Livingston, Nadine Ross, Emaree Hightower, Dorris Exum, Patricia Nugent, Mary Lou Cunningham, Betty Montgomery, Betty Blue, Dorothy Dunham, Hattie Ruth Cole, and Irma Lea Beaty.

The young ladies enjoyed a line party to a theater after dinner.

Hatchery at Dexter Receives Fish Bulletins

L. Q. Carman, superintendent of the Federal Fish Hatchery, Fish and Wildlife Service, at Dexter, has just received a number of interesting and instructive bulletins from the Fish and Wildlife Service.

It is the plan of the service to set up a complete library of information at each hatchery for use by the personnel. These bulletins cover a wide field in fish culture, and might contain much information that would be of interest to the general public.

German Trophies Are Exhibited in Windows At Advocate Office

(Crowded out last week) Two interesting exhibits have been brought to The Advocate office the last week from boys in the service and have been placed on display in the west window.

One is a German paratrooper's camouflaged parachute, which was sent by Sgt. Henry F. Worthington to his wife. Identification, through a logbook, which shows only one jump—probably the Jerry's last—shows his name is or was Luff. The chute is made of the finest silk—Jap, no doubt.

The other exhibit is a German armband with swastika and a number of pieces of currency issued by the Germans. It was sent by Pfc. Abel L. Nunez to his mother, Mrs. Carolina H. Nunez.

Lions Enjoy Music And Movies at Meet Wednesday at Noon

(Crowded out last week) Dallas Rierson, Eddy County agent, and Earnest Hill presented an interesting movie on soil conservation at the weekly Lions Club luncheon Wednesday noon, with E. J. Foster in charge of the program.

A musical program also was presented by Mrs. I. L. Spratt and Mrs. Stanley Carper. Mrs. Spratt sang two Russian songs and gave a brief history of Russian music. She said it reflects the loves and hates of the Russian people. She was accompanied by Mrs. Carper, who also played a piano solo.

The Lions will have a ladies' night program at the Woman's Club at 7:45 o'clock this evening. New members of the club will be initiated. After the dinner, dancing and refreshments are planned.

Brainard Again Elected Credit Group Director

(Crowded out last week) G. R. Brainard of Artesia was re-elected a member of the board of directors of the Roswell Production Credit Association for three years at the annual stockholders' meeting in Roswell last Thursday, attended by 149 members and guests from the four counties of the area.

Also elected was James P. Hall of Ancho. The other directors are E. O. Moore, president, and W. M. Snyder, and C. F. Beeman.

In making his annual report at the meeting T. H. Boswell, Jr., secretary-treasurer, said that since Pearl Harbor the association has loaned $4,863,878 to farmers and stockmen for production of food and feed to meet the war production needs of the United Nations. Due to favorable farm prices, more operators are financing themselves, but a good many others have expanded their farming business to produce additional crops and livestock and are using more money to finance this expansion. Loans made by the association during 1944 were $1,213,909, Boswell said.

"Farmers and stockmen with the assistance of their families, have turned in the best record for war production of any group in the country," Zenas R. Brush, acting secretary of the Production Credit Corporation of Wichita, told those in attendance during his address. "Since Pearl Harbor they have been working long hours, seven days a week, to raise the food needed for our valiant fighting men who are striving day and night on the battle fronts to lick the Axis. There will be no question of reconversion for agriculture until the war in Germany is over. Then we will still have the Japanese to conquer. In the meantime we must have plenty of food for our armed forces, for civilians, for the allies and for relief needs in the now occupied countries.

"In the postwar period, cooperative credit will have another big job to do. Returning veterans who want to get back into agriculture will need advice and assistance to get started again. Association members who keep their business on a sound basis and retain their interest in the Production Credit Association are doing the best kind of postwar planning for themselves and for the veterans of World War II who will return to the farms and ranches when the country is again at peace."

The manufacture of paper from wood pulp, which has revolutionized the publishing industry, was begun in Herkimer, N. Y., in 1866.

Nininger Gives Interesting Talk On Meteorites

(Crowded out last week) H. H. Nininger of Artesia, one of the ranking authorities on meteorites in the United States, gave an interesting talk on that subject at the weekly Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon, when he told of the growth of interest in meteorites and many astonishing things about their behavior.

The tremendous speed with which they enter the atmosphere creates such friction that a large part of them is likely to become dissipated before they reach the surface, he said. But the larger they are when they reach the atmosphere, the smaller the percentage likely to be lost.

Nininger said meteorites travel through space at an estimated 26 miles a second. He showed a number of samples, which he has gathered during the years when he made a business of meteorites and described some in a Mexico City museum weighing many tons. Nininger likewise told of Meteor Crater in Arizona, where an enormous body struck the earth 20 to 50 thousand years ago and from around which many fragments have been recovered, although the main body never has been found.

Over the ages, every acre on the surface of the earth has been bombarded by meteorites, it has been figured, Nininger said, but the bombardment has been so gradual few people ever have seen a meteorite fall.

Dr. C. C. Clarke, a charter member of the Artesia Rotary Club and its third president, who belonged at Hobbs a number of years since, was welcomed back as an active member here.

Pfc. and Mrs. Curtis Bolton left Tuesday to return to Courtland Field, Ala., where Private Bolton is stationed and Mrs. Bolton is working on the post. They had been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Bolton and Mr. and Mrs. John Lanning.

United States Army Medical Service Calls for Help From Women to Care for Hospitalized Personnel

In Gov. John J. Dempsey's office in Santa Fe, Feb. 1, Brig. Gen. Larry B. McAfee, commanding general of Bruns Army General Hospital; WAC Capt. Juanita F. Biddle, commanding officer of the New Mexico WAC recruiting district, and Mrs. Fred E. Dennis, state civilian chairwoman, witnessed the signing of a proclamation asking for eligible women to enlist in the New Mexico Women's Army Corps Hospital Unit before the first of March.

The United States Army Medical Department is calling for help—the help of women—to supplement the services of Army hospital staffs whose numbers are too few to cope with the increasing flow of sick and wounded soldiers from overseas. Many New Mexico soldiers are returning from the front, placing a heavy burden on the Army hospitals and it is imperative that the overworked doctors and nurses receive help—at once.

In the proclamation, the governor called upon the State Health Department, Medical Association, the State Defense Council of New Mexico, and the county, area and local defense councils to make their facilities available in aid of this campaign; the officers and members of public and private agencies and associations to render every encouragement and cooperation; the citizens of the state, individually, to do all in their power to help, the qualified women of New Mexico, to respond patriotically to this call to duty.

On Feb. 1 a national drive will be launched to enlist 8,000 medical and surgical technicians in the Women's Army Corps to serve in the nation's 60 Army general hospitals. New Mexico women enlisting now will become a part of the state unit and will train as a part of that unit for assignment to Bruns Army General Hospital. The age limit is between 20 and 50 years, with two years of high school education, and each must meet Army physical requirements. At the completion of their medical training they will receive rank of technician fifth grade.

Local committees are now being formed throughout the state, which will be announced later, but in the meantime any inquiries will be answered at Women's Army Corps Headquarters, Room 205, Federal Building, Albuquerque. Mrs. C. R. Blocker is chairman of the local committee. Members are Mrs. Tom Sivilly, Mrs. D. A. Miller, and Mrs. Oscar Pearson, and a member is to be added from the Hope community. Mrs. Fred E. Dennis of Clovis, past president of the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs, is head of the civilian committee in the state.

New Mexico women are to be returned to New Mexico to care for New Mexico men and women after their training. The sick and wounded must be cared for. Those eligible for service are requested to contact any of the committee for an application blank or for more information. A quota of 30 has been set for the state of New Mexico in this drive.

Girl Scouts

A majority of the members were present at a meeting of the executive board of the Artesia Girl Scout Association held at the city hall Monday evening.

Plans for a summer camp for Girl Scouts were discussed and a committee of Hollis Watson, Vilas Sheldon, and Mrs. Raymond Bartlett was appointed to make contacts regarding the camp.

It was announced that there is some talk of a summer camp for Girl Scouts of Southeast New Mexico, which might be held in the Sacramento Mountains, but it is not definite at this time.

A Juliet Low program is being planned for the 33rd birthday of Girl Scouting March 12, which is to be an important day in Girl Scouting in the city.

A new Brownie troop has been organized. Mrs. Robert Fuller is the leader and Mrs. L. A. Hanson, assistant leader.

The board voted to have all money making projects placed before the board before being put into action. The annual cookie sale to be held this spring was approved.

Members of Brownie Troop No. 2 entertained their mothers at a lovely Valentine tea held at their place of meeting at the city hall Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mark A. Corbin and Mrs. Raymond Bartlett, president and vice president of the association, presided at the pretty tea table. Each Brownie introduced her mother and presented her a little floral Valentine, which she herself had made. Mrs. R. A. Thomas and Mrs. C. V. Miller are troop leaders.

Guests besides the fifteen mothers were Mrs. Joe Nunn, Mrs. Marshall Rowley and Mrs. J. D. Smith, committeewomen and Mrs. Andy Corbin and Mrs. J. W. Thomas of the Christian Church group, sponsors of the troop.

Brownie Troop No. 5 has issued invitations for a tea to be held at the Methodist Church Monday, Feb. 19.

Mrs. C. C. Harris has been appointed publicity chairman of the Leader's Club.

Scouts Need Tables

A call is being made for folding tables and cupboards to be used by Brownies and Girl Scouts at their place of meeting at the city hall. These are needed badly and anyone who has something of this kind to contribute is requested to call Mrs. Mark A. Corbin.

To Collect Fats Intermediate Girl Scouts are to make a house-to-house canvass on

Urges Farmers To Order Their Fertilizer Now

Farmers who have not already done so should order their fertilizer now from their usual suppliers, according to Dallas Rierison, Eddy County agent. He said the labor shortage in fertilizer plants is severe and it will be impossible to mix and handle as much fertilizer as farmers need, unless it can be kept moving from plant to farm or local warehouse.

The War Food Administration estimates there may be a 10 per cent shortage of nitrogen, largely for use in mixed fertilizers, and a 15 per cent shortage of superphosphate, principally for direct use, but that there is 20 per cent more potash than last year.

Sulphuric acid is necessary both for making superphosphate and explosives and all explosives contain nitrogen, Rierison said. For many months superphosphate producers were getting a large quantity of sulphuric acid from government ordnance plants, but this supply was cut off when the munitions program was speeded up several months ago. That means that less superphosphate can be made and there is no alternative, for munitions come first in war.

For the same reason the supply of nitrogen available for use as fertilizer has been curtailed. Fixed nitrogen produced in government war plants was until recently being converted into nitrogen solutions for use in mixed fertilizers and into ammonium nitrate, but this nitrogen is now being used in munitions, Rierison said. Hence supplies of these materials will be considerably less than last year. The shortage will be made up in part by larger imports of Chilean nitrate.

The supply of potash will be adequate for making the grades recommended by state experiment stations.

Unemployment Compensation Payments Small

Collections for the unemployment compensation fund in New Mexico during 1944 amounted to $1,783,054, while benefits paid were only $11,008.

Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman of the Employment Security Commission of New Mexico, made the figures public in a review of the year which noted that payments represented only six-tenths of a per cent of collections.

The percentage, he pointed out, compared with benefits amounting to 93 per cent of collections which were paid in 1940.

"During 1944," he said, "unemployment compensation in New Mexico operated on the smallest scale since benefits became payable. Few were out of work, and most of these for only brief periods between jobs."

Initial claims for compensation were filed by 295 persons in the year, but of these only 123 established rights to receive benefits.

The average weekly benefit amount in 1944 was $11.50 and the average duration eight weeks. The greatest amount of unemployment was in Bernalillo and Roosevelt Counties which together had 28 per cent of the claims.

Luchini reported at the beginning of 1944 a total of 5,557 covered employers reported wages of 53,242 employees. By the end of the year, the number of employers reached 5,914 and the number of employees 54,750, a gain of 6.42 per cent in employers and 2.83 per cent in employees covered by unemployment insurance.

E. F. Foreman, Portales farmer, was assessed a $1.00 fine in Federal District Court after pleading guilty to a charge of selling 13,819 pounds of peanuts to buyers who lacked purchasing authorization from the government or designated agencies. "I didn't know it was against the law," Foreman told Judge Colin Neblett. "I didn't intend to break the law. I've got a son overseas and I didn't want to break any laws."

Six years of cooperative wool improvement work by the New Mexico Wool Growers Association has put another million dollars a year into the pockets of the state's sheepmen. P. E. Neale, associate animal husbandman at New Mexico A. & M. declared. One of six staff members of the college experiment station to address a session of the Extension Service conference, Neale told the farm leaders that the average staple length is a quarter-inch longer, that the average fleece has increased .6 of a pound in weight, and that there is .3 per cent less shrinkage as a result of the program. He said the average sheep "is producing about a quarter pound more clean wool. At present wool prices that means an increase of 30 cents a head or $600,000 increased profit from the 2,000,000 sheep in the state. Heavier lambs and longer wool staples account for the rest of the profit."

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

James N. Foster, Jr., seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Foster, has entered the Parachute Riggers School at Lakehurst (N. J.) Naval Air Station (lighter-than-air) to begin three months of special training. The class includes both sailors and marines. Rigger trainees learn to pack and repair all types of Navy parachutes and are assigned to duty after completing training. A jump from a Navy blimp with a parachute packed personally by each trainee is one of the graduation prerequisites. Seaman Foster, who enlisted in the Navy Feb. 10, 1944, has a brother, Carl, at present a prisoner of war.

Howard L. Terpening, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Terpening, enlisted in the Navy at the recruiting station in Santa Fe. He volunteered for Navy service at the Roswell office. Young Terpening attended Artesia High School, where he was an enthusiastic athlete and played basketball and baseball. He won his letter in the former sport during the seasons of 1943 and 1944. He has a brother, John H. Terpening, Jr., now serving as fireman first class in the Navy. Howard returned home upon being sworn into the Navy as an apprentice seaman, to await orders for transfer to a naval training center.

AAA, Extension Service Plan to Meet Food Goals

AAA and Extension Service workers are making plans for meeting New Mexico's 1945 war food and fiber goals. A joint opening and individual sessions laid the groundwork.

Highlighting the meetings were these views: A. D. Brownfield of Deming, president of the American National Livestock Association, suggested that price control be removed as soon as the supply of a product equals the demand. He urged the idea as a way of returning gradually to peacetime economy.

G. F. Geissler, director of the Western region of the AAA, questioned whether farmers could afford not to join in county and state agricultural service with the observation: "Farmers take care of the production angle only; their profit is determined in the marketing places, in the processing plants, in groceries."

State Extension Director A. B. Fite declared that the German counteroffensive in Europe "may mean that we'll have the tightest food situation that we've ever faced since Pearl Harbor," and counseled the only safe thing is to get all the food and fiber possible.

Geissler described the 1945 war farm goals as 125 per cent of the 1935-39 average production, compared with 136 per cent actually produced last year.

The AAA meeting of 125 county committeemen and secretaries was concluded after breaking down the 1945 state program into county quotas and making plans to meet them.

You can always depend on a streetcar having seats vacant, when it's coming back from where you are going.

It looks now as if the biggest golf handicap of 1945 will be getting enough gas to drive to the links.

Grazing Fees Not to Be Hiked Before May 1

Grazing fees on federal lands in New Mexico and nine other Western states will not be boosted before May 1, Interior Secretary Ickes declares.

Present rates charged by the Grazing Service for livestock on the federal range in grazing districts are 5 cents a head a month for cattle and a cent a head for sheep.

The new rates, proposed last November at Salt Lake City by Director C. L. Forsling of the Grazing Service, would have increased the fee on the basis of present livestock market prices to an average of 11 cents a month for cattle and 3 cents for sheep.

By states, such new fees for cattle would be: New Mexico 11 cents; Arizona 12 cents, Nevada and Utah 14 cents, California and Oregon 11 cents, Idaho and Montana 17 cents, Wyoming 16 cents, and Colorado 18 cents.

Fees for sheep would be approximately a fifth the amount for cattle.

A PARTNERSHIP PROVED IN WAR FOR GREATER PEACETIME PROGRESS

Gas and the Glass Industry have always been close partners but the war has shown Glass, as well as many other industries, how to use Gas to even better advantage. As the Glass Industry was called on for more and more of the products it normally turns out and then was recruited to fill gaps left by many metals, the importance of fuel in the glass plant was emphasized. And Gas won new laurels.

fuel for glass and other ceramic firing. Accurately controllable, Gas is also extremely flexible and adaptable to any production system and time schedule. It will help you competitively and, from the production standpoint, to look into Gas.

Akins and Cobble Open 'The Westerner,' Unique Sporting Goods Store

A new and unique store opened in Artesia this week, "The Westerner," a sporting goods establishment run by George Akins and Paul Cobble at 518 West Main. The store is unique in its rustic interior, built largely of bark-covered lumber, especially for the display of sporting goods of many kinds for the sportsman of whatever turn.

The partners said this morning they are expecting much more merchandise and will add from time to time—as it is released again for the public—many more items not now available.

Boys Ranch—

Since it is entirely a preventive program, we have announced that we would not take boys who had been in a corrective institution."

Buck declared that "while all who are interested in the welfare of the boys at Springer hope there will be a ranch unit at the institution, there will not be the remotest connection between Boys Ranch and the Industrial School, and we hope the news sources in the state will help us clear up the misunderstanding that exists in the minds of some of their readers."

He said that several sites had been inspected, but so far none had been found that was suitable for immediate or early operation. "We still hope to find the right location with a necessary minimum of buildings on it," Buck said "so we can get started. The need is very great and we want to get the job done."
