Is Discouraging

MANY THINGS IN THIS LIFE are discouraging. The fact that all, who endeavor to undertake and carry out the good things of life, meet discouragements.

Those things for which we are rewarded, of course, usually see us more willing to strive and seek to overcome the discouragements.

But when we are rendering service for service's sake or when we are endeavoring to make our contribution to our community and meet discouragements—well, it is easy to drop it all quit, and walk off.

Those, who have sought in years gone by to help build Artesia, have encountered many discouraging things.

Only recently we discussed the growth of our city with a local business man, who stated he had worked for 18 years, trying to do all he could for the city.

He recalled some of his experiences. He pointed out that for 18 years he had given all the time and energy and ability he could to the community tasks.

He pointed out that for many years Artesia has sought to secure a good highway west of the city across the Sacramento Mountains. No reward as yet, he stated.

And he emphasized the fact that these things are not done in a day, a week, a year or even in a few years. They take constant work and constant plugging.

He especially stressed the fact that in building highways that politicians have a role to play and that local politicians must lay stress on promises made to see that the promises are kept. In the final analysis the real interest this community has in a man elected to high state office is what it means to the community.

That is the real test of value of this individual—what he can and will do for our community.

Far too often, however, we accept personal rewards; or we settle for something of no value to the community and we forget that not only does the individual owe our part of the state, our county, our part of the county and our city something but we fail to demand and see that we receive that to which we are rightly entitled.

It does not matter a great deal to the average individual of this community who is governor of this state as long as he is a respected, honest, and sincere individual with sufficient ability to be the chief executive of this state.

Some few may seek personal business or personal favors but the vast majority of the citizens never ask or seek any more than an honest administration of the affairs of the state.

But if the vast majority of the citizens of Artesia and Eddy County were to unite before an election or after an election and make their demands, things to which they are entitled, they could secure them.

Many political campaigns are made on promises—empty promises. To see that a political officeholder keeps faith and keeps promises requires constant contacts; constant reminders to that individual.

Seemingly we have never done this here. Only recently we feel this was well illustrated when members of congress back in the state did not even bother to visit in Artesia.

But to keep and maintain their places they need help and support. They have favors to give to cities and communities. We as citizens and taxpayers and voters must demand them.

And above all else we must not become discouraged. When we unite and band ourselves together; go after those things to which we are entitled; and are willing to go back just as many times as it takes to get them—then we will receive our just share of the highway construction programs; public buildings; and other public building programs.—O. E. P.

Starts Nationwide Idea

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE the importance of data on meteors and meteorites to science, so experts on them frequently have a hard time getting information when they are seen, because observers do not take the trouble to analyze what they have seen and to make a record of their findings.

An Artesia citizen, Dr. H. H. Nininger, is one of the recognized authorities in the United States on meteorites and he is hoping to attract the attention of observers throughout the nation to the importance of science of knowledge about the heavenly bodies entering our atmosphere, perhaps falling to the ground.

The presence of the brilliant meteor Nov. 17 which is believed to have fallen as a meteorite near Chihuahua City, Mexico, and the conflicting reports given by local observers has proved that one's analysis in retrospect frequently if highly faulty.

Dr. Nininger proposes that key observers throughout the nation, especially at colleges, gather local data and immediately contact gathering centers. If such had been done Saturday evening, Nov. 17, the idea of many that a plane had burned near Artesia, or near Las Cruces, or El Paso, or Pecos, or any of the other places where searches were made, could have been dispelled soon and the searches called off, avoiding anxiety on the part of civilians and service personnel alike.

It is a good idea, one which may become nationwide, and one which is originating in Artesia—A. L. B.

You Halt Them

WE FREQUENTLY HEAR complaints registered that certain things are happening in certain places in this community that are not good for the community.

They tell us these things are not wholesome; do not create a wholesome atmosphere in the community; and they should not be tolerated or permitted to exist.

These same things prevail in all communities—that is all communities where they are permitted to exist and to flourish.

And whether we like to admit it or not or whether we do admit such conditions and such situations prevail in any community because the citizens in that community permit them to exist.

That is also true about Artesia. Any shortcomings of this community; any unwholesome situations or conditions; any unpleasant things, which occur, occur because we as citizens permit and tolerate them.

Every citizen of this community has his or her rights—rights given to them by the citizenship, which they hold.

When the good citizens of this community or of any community speak out united for the good of that community, they can remove and eliminate those conditions, which are described as unwholesome and undesirable for the community.

Far too often we expect others to do this for us. Far too often those charged with the responsibility and even paid to perform this service fail. When they do—then it becomes our duty and our obligation to speak out and to see that the unwholesome conditions are removed.

We can eliminate and remove them if we really and truly want that done.—O. E. P.

Looking Ahead

WITHIN THE NEAR future Artesia is going to have to more completely organize its Chamber of Commerce; raise an operating budget; name committees with definite jobs to do and then check to see these jobs are done.

Today we are operating more or less as a hit or miss proposition.

On the whole we feel a rather fine job is being done considering funds available and work of committees being done.

But we want a live, wide awakes active city, which is making the most of its opportunities but we are not providing funds or an organization for this purpose.

Even after we raised a $6000 to $10,000 operating budget we would still have to have active committees, working at tasks, following up these tasks and on their toes all the time.

Many communities have done much through their Chambers of Commerce toward the post war programs. They have made surveys to determine the possibilities they have to offer industries and then have sent out hundreds of letters to prospective industries.

They have conducted surveys regarding the home building and business dwelling building programs. They have checked on the kinds and types of new businesses they need and have invited these businesses to their communities.

None of these things have been done here. They have not been done because we haven't raised the budget; haven't provided the funds and aren't doing our job, which must be done and which is being done by the active and alert members in similar organizations in those cities, which are building and planning for the future.

We, too, need to swing into action. We need from 250 to 500 active workers—men interested and working for the advancement of our city. We need a chamber of commerce with funds and working capital and with active members and committees. Those filled with interest, enthusiasm and those willing to see that the jobs we need to do are done.

After all it is the business and professional men and citizens of a community, who build that community. No one person or half dozen persons, hired and employed, can do the job for that community.

The community, which moves ahead, seems to progress, expands, grows and develops is the community where the entire citizenship engages and works at building that community.—O. E. P.

Petty Thievery

MAYBE IT'S A CASE OF "kids will be kids," but stealing by any other name is still stealing, and that is exactly what we term the present fad of "snitching" spoons from drug stores and restaurants and having them engraved and then bending them into bracelets.

By and large we think a lot of the boys and girls of Artesia, but we must confess that we are disappointed in those of their number who are stealing spoons, which, though not expensive, cost the store owners good money to buy—if and when they can find them to buy.

There are hundreds of hobbies which can be pursued, none of which costs others. The spoon-bracelet hobby is not one of them, but it is something which could lead to more serious things.

If we are to regain faith in all of the youth of Artesia, they must stop this petty theft stuff.—A. L. B.

Up and Down Main Street

FREE ENTERPRISE
UP AND DOWN MAIN
RIGHTS, LIBERTIES

We have heard considerable in the past 10 years about liberty, freedom, personal rights and especially free enterprise. The federal government has devoted much time, thought and attention according to our leaders to this thing called free enterprise. And we have been led to believe that free enterprise means the freedom in all branches of business, in all phases of professional work, in all activities of life. We have been told it means freedom to engage in business, industry and our profession without interference. We have been told that free enterprise has brought America to the point it occupies today. Free enterprise, so we are told, has brought American medical science to its present high plane. The American Medical Society is emphasizing that over and over again in its fight against Socialized medicine. Science has gone forward, so we are told, because of free enterprise. But we wonder whether free enterprise does exist; we wonder whether we actually enjoy it; whether we possess it; and whether it is a reality. We know that government restrictions, red tape and reports have handicapped both business and professional men. We know that both business and professional men are limited in their activities. We know that one profession interferes with another; we know that we encounter opposition here and there, often times unfair and unjust opposition, in highly competitive fields. We wonder, we say, whether we enjoy free enterprise. And we all know that one of the world's greatest scientific discoveries, the Atomic bomb, was done under government regulations and rules, under government supervision with government money. We talk a great deal about free enterprise but, we say, we sometimes wonder.

Bert Muncy wondering about some printing he needed on a visit to The Advocate office. . . Andrew Corbin says he needs a good tall stool. . . Mrs. Jack Spratt getting ready for the opera to be given here Friday night, November 30. . . Much interest is being displayed. . . W. E. Rood in from Hope on business matters. . . J. L. Truett talking over the phone from the postoffice. . . J. D. Smith returning to his office during the morning. . . Dale Fischbeck very anxious to have published the fact that the Oklahoma Aggies defeated the Oklahoma University Sooners some 47 to 0 Saturday. . . Chuck Aston saw no reason for that being published. . . Waldo Ports extremely busy. . . "Bts" Yates discussing the saving of an oil well after it was shot. . . R. L. Paris visiting briefly with friends. . . Ray Bartlett and "Bun" Muncy engaged in a conference. . . Al Woelk waiting on customers down at the Western Union office. . . W. F. Hinde headed up the street and looking as though he was going after the cup of coffee. . . Erma Williams wondering when she was going to get those checks she ordered. . . J. Bud Farrar making a suggestion about an appropriate gift. . . Taylor Cole taking in the money at Carter's Cafe. . . Charles Seltzer going toward the Artesia Pharmacy and telling about two of his sons having Thanksgiving dinner together on Saipan. . . Judge J. D. Josey declaring the Vesper services at the Methodist church were very enjoyable. . . Rev. C. A. Clarke reminding the Methodists of their Pledge Day set for Sunday afternoon, December 2. . . Fred Brainard headed toward the Carper Building and his office. . . Don Jensen pushing Christmas sales at the store. . . Shirley Hager enjoying the cup of coffee. . . Jules Chandler trimming the windows at King's Jewelry store. . . That was Up and Down Main this week.

Certainly the boys, who fought, who suffered, who were wounded and who have returned home wonder as to whether there is such a thing as free enterprise, personal freedom and liberty. They are wondering whether a man can engage in free enterprise; they are wondering whether a man can enjoy freedom, rights and liberties in this so called land of the free. The striker, who shouts about his liberty and freedom; his right to have a good home; a higher salary and other privileges provided under the American way of life talks loud about his rights yet he joins with others in denying the man, who does not see and believe as he does, the right to work and earn a living without paying out of what he earns to some union. He even joins in picket lines to fight and prevent that boy from working, who has fought and bled that he might have this privilege. The man, who endeavors to engage in business and encounters unfair and unethical competition in his business or profession, begins to wonder about free enterprise and personal freedom, rights and liberties. He finds he is treated unfairly and unjustly and finds others clamoring for rights, which they argue are theirs, yet at the same time they join in movements to deny him the same privileges they claim for themselves. It is happening everywhere all over the nation. Individuals are perfectly willing to deny other people their rights and privileges in order to enjoy their own. They forget that their liberties and freedoms and rights and privileges only extend to the point of where the other fellow's begin. They are perfectly willing to let theirs extend right over onto the other fellow's. It does not matter to them whether the other person has any rights or not—they are bound and determined to have their own. But in spite of these things we continue to grow and expand. Wonder how far we really could grow and expand if free enterprise was a reality; if we could engage in free business practices and professional practices and if we would let others have the same rights and privileges, which we want to claim for ourselves?

THE OLD FEMMY
A smile is better for
Than forced hilarity;
Its memory
Lasts much longer.—A. L. B.

A bunch of the boys in an Artesia barber shop were discussing the relative size of feet, especially of those reposing on the footrests of the barber chairs.

About that time Bert Muncy, Jr., one of the men undergoing tonsorial beautification, decided to shift. Wham—one of the steel members holding the footrest broke. And the argument was ended.

We were somewhat startled to receive a card on which was a picture of two bears playing with a little girl and the printed message: "We are sorry to hear you have been sick. Hope you are soon up and playing like the bears in the picture. Hope you can come to Sunday school next Sunday, because we missed you." But at the bottom was written: "This is the only card we have got on hand. We ain't rec'd no Advkate this week. How come?"

Not a Tale, but an interesting example of how we get around. One of our readers in Norman, Okla., liking the regular feature we have been running, captioned, "They Also Wear This Emblem," under which we weekly present the discharge button emblem and short squibs about the men and women who are home from the wars, honorably discharged or released, showed it to The Transcript.

Now that newspaper uses a similar department, "These Have Served," discharge insignia, as a daily feature.

One of our operatives reports that she overheard a woman school teacher sigh the other day and remark that she is anxious for the summer vacation to come, next year.

Come summer, sez she, she plans to clean out her dresser drawers. Don't know where this originated, but a friend was telling about the young man who sought and was given an audition for a vaudeville contract—which looks as though that old standby may be on the way back—we hope.

He stepped on to the stage, flapped his arms, flew up to the balcony and then, spreading his arms, floated back to the stage. "Oh bird imitations, eh?" the booking agent remarked. "Pretty good. And what else can you do?"

ALB, Jr., should be home within the next two weeks, also wearing

A big box is on the way—it hasn't arrived as yet—and she is not to open it until he gets here. What has us puzzled is what to feed it until he comes!

"Tis sed that at a bridge game the other evening a novice was gaily playing, with no regard to rules or custom—because she knew neither.

After looking at her hand, which contain a king, a queen, and several small ones of one suit, and one other face card, a king. Without hesitation, she bid, "Four no-trump."

That put an end to the bidding and no one looked startled, except her partner, who, when the time came, lay down a beautiful four or five-bid no-trump. And of course, the bidder made it—couldn't help it.

Circulars on Clothing Are Now Available

4-H girls who want to do advanced clothing work now have nothing to stop them. In fact, according to Doris Mardis, Eddy County home demonstration agent, they'll get excellent help from two new circulars written by Mrs. Pearl Chapman Gehl, clothing specialist of the New Mexico Extension Service.

The sixth and seventh-year clothing bulletins, which are now ready for release, tell members what to do to do it. Fully illustrated, they offer suggestions on robe plans, suitable coloring, and clothing care. A picture of Miss Mardis, of the White Signet in Grant County appears on the cover of the sixth-year circular.

The seventh-year bulletins feature a picture of M. Hixon of the Aztec 4-H Club in Grant County.

Though primarily intended for 4-H girls and their volunteers, the new circulars are anyone on request. On the home demonstration write the New Mexico Extension Service at State College.

Order Those Circulars at Advocate now to Save appointed.

Fire Destroys Small House in Negro Section on Tuesday

A small, two-room succo house in the Negro section in the north end of town was destroyed by fire, discovered about 5:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The fire, far beyond the water mains, could be fought only with the small stream from the truck's auxiliary tank, but so hot was the flame that the water seemed to strike to steam before it could strike any place ablate. Residents of the community, led by the Rev. Billy Johnson, whose church is across the street from the scene of the fire, expressed the hope it will not be too long before the Negro section will be served with city water.

Guy Has New Buick on Floor Of Showroom

Production of 1946 Buicks was rapidly accelerated and during the month of November, 10,000 of the new models, or 500 a day, rolled off the assembly line, according to Clyde Guy of Guy Chevrolet Company, local dealer, who has a Buick on the floor. Plans call for a schedule of 14,600 in December, 25,000 in January, 30,000 in February, and reaching the prewar schedule of more than 1800 daily next March. Guy said. This daily schedule will mean a production of approximately 39,000 cars per month for a total in excess of 300,000 cars for the 1946 model year. Buick plant expansion, with 1,325,000 square feet of new floor space being added, will establish facilities for the production of 550,000 cars for the next model. Construction of the new buildings is being carried on simultaneously with the step-up of current production. During October production reached a rate of 100 Buicks daily, though anticipated schedules were held up to some extent by a shortage of wiring harnesses, rear axle housings and certain sheet metal stampings. Strikes in factories supplying the first two items delayed deliveries. The number of hourly-paid employees is steadily being increased and eventually will reach an estimated total of 22,000. At the end of October approximately 10,000 were on the Buick payroll. Former employees just discharged from military service are being rehired as fast as they check in with the Buick employment office.

Anderson Names Three Steps for Workable Parity

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, who believes the present parity formula is outgrown, outlines three steps for constructing an "up-to-date and workable" one. Define a "fair share of the national income," taking into account changes in agriculture and industry. Devise a parity formula to yield that fair share under full employment, while encouraging the most efficient use of our agricultural resources. Such goals should encourage adjustments toward the kind of crops, livestock, and fiber America must have to live on a high level. Work out methods of reaching parity goals. Such methods, Secretary Anderson said, could include government payments necessary to guarantee a fair share of the national income, programs to increase consumption of agricultural products, temporary incentive prices on commodities that otherwise might fall short of demand, maintenance of the ever-normal granary with commodity loans, and acreage adjustments if necessary.

Odd Fellows to Have Hospital Bed Available

The Artesia Odd Fellow Lodge has agreed to purchase a regular hospital bed, which will be available to those who may need it in their homes, it has been announced here. The lodge took this action following a visit and an address of Past Grand Master C. A. Doty of Albuquerque on last Thursday night. Past Grand Master Doty discussed community service in his talk and explained how many lodges over the state were purchasing one or more beds to be loaned to those in the community, who might need them for ill members of their families. The Roswell degree team was down for the Thursday night meeting to put on the special work for the occasion. Rev. W. T. (Bill) Truett, Evangelist and brother of Postmaster J. L. Truett, is recovering from a slight stroke, which he suffered Friday of last week in Roswell. Reverend Truett, who recently conducted a revival meeting at the Assembly of God church here, was conducting a revival in Roswell. He suffered a slight stroke due to overwork but was rushed to the hospital and was given immediate treatment. He is slowly recovering and doctors have stated that with proper rest he will completely recover. He plans to return to his home in Michigan in the near future. S/Sgt. and Mrs. Ernest Morgan, Jr., came home Saturday night and are enjoying a 14-day furlough the sergeant has from Camp Hood, Tex.,

Lutherans to Have Services Each Sunday

Members of the Lutheran Church in Artesia, who have been having church services in Artesia only twice monthly at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will have the services of a resident pastor at least the next three months, members announced this week. The Rev. H. T. Ramelow, who comes from Denver, Colo., will hold his first services here at the Episcopal Church at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning and will continue for three months each Sunday. Sunday school will be an hour prior, at 9:45 o'clock. It was explained by local Lutherans, who are welcoming the new resident pastor, that it is hoped the congregation may be built up so as to warrant his continued services at the expiration of the three months. For the present the Rev. Mr. Ramelow is living at 412 Garst, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clemmen Weindorf. The last year, when Lutheran services were held here only twice a month, the pastors from Roswell and Carlsbad had been conducting them.

Will Withdraw Food Subsidies By June 1946

Most wartime food subsidies will be withdrawn by next June 30, the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has announced. The announcement said price ceilings on some commodities may be raised. Before a particular subsidy is removed, notice will be given producers as far in advance as possible. Subsidies on dairy production, regional fluid milk, feeder cattle, beef, sheep and lambs, and flour are among those slated to go by June 30, 1946. Subsidies on canned and frozen vegetables, dry edible beans, prunes, and raisins will end not later than the close of the 1945 crop season. The pork subsidy of $1.30 a live hundredweight will end not later than March 31, with the 40-cent subsidy scheduled to end not later than June 30. The vegetable shortening subsidy is to end not later than Dec. 31, 1945; the cheese subsidy not later than Feb. 28, 1946. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McDonald have gone to California to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Demus Sanders of Los Angeles. Mrs. McDonald is a sister of the Sanders brothers. They spent two weeks in Artesia visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald's folks, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McDonald. Upon their return from the west coast they will make their home at Clovis, New Mexico where Mr. McDonald is employed by the Santa Fe Railway lines.

Are to Discuss Civic Matters at Chamber Luncheon

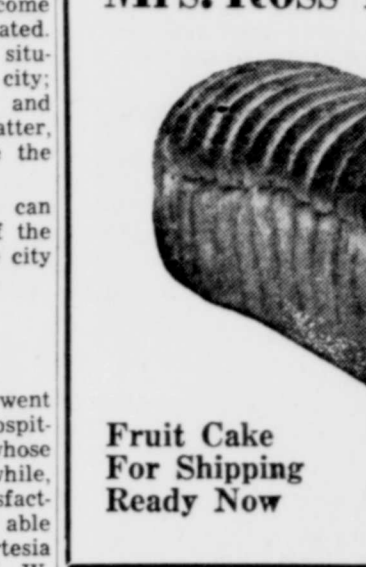

Only civic and community matters will come up for discussion at the regular monthly luncheon of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon, Dec. 13, at the First Christian Church. President Ralph W. Petty announced following the November meeting that an effort would be made to hold a meeting in December to discuss civic and community matters, which have been neglected for some months now. The ladies of the Christian Church agreed to serve a luncheon here on Thursday noon, Dec. 13. President Petty is urging that at least 40 be present for the meeting, since the ladies have been guaranteed some 40 plates for the luncheon. There are many matters to come before the organization, he stated. These include the housing situation; future plans for the city; projects contemplated here; and discussions of any other matter, which needs to come before the civic body. Tickets for the luncheon can be purchased at the office of the Chamber of Commerce in the city hall building. Buster Kinder, who underwent an operation at St. Mary's hospital in Roswell on Nov. 19 and whose condition was critical for a while, is now reported making satisfactory progress. He hopes to be able to return to his home in Artesia Friday. His mother, Mrs. J. W. Kinder and two brothers, Homer of Lamesa, Tex., and Gene, were all called to his bedside during his illness. AAA Committee Elections to Be On Dec. 5 and 6

The annual elections for the selection of AAA committeemen will be held in North Eddy County Wednesday, Dec. 5 and Thursday, Dec. 6, in South Eddy County, it was announced by Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County AAA Committee.

The election for committeemen of the Cottonwood and Hope communities will be at the Cottonwood School gymnasium at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and for the Artesia community at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the basement of the city hall on Dec. 5.

The range and South Eddy County elections will be at the Courthouse in Carlsbad at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Dec. 6.

In each community, farmers will elect three regular committeemen and two alternates. Elected at the same time will be delegates to a county convention to be held later, at which a county committee will be elected for the coming year.

Discussing the role of community committeemen, Forehand pointed out that soil and water conservation will continue to loom large among AAA program objectives. Under next year's program, funds will be allocated to each county, and committeemen will have more responsibility in helping their neighbors to round out soil-building plans for individual farms within the scope of approved practices. This is only one of the programs for which committeemen have a great responsibility, he said.

The AAA chairman said approximately 700 farmers and ranchers are eligible to cast ballots in community elections. The number includes all farmers who are cooperating in the agricultural conservation, sugar, or crop insurance program.

Lt. J. D. Roberts Snags Big Saifish In Florida Waters

First Lt. J. D. Roberts went deep sea fishing at Palm Beach, Fla., for a B-24 and caught a saifish seven feet ten inches long and weighing 50½ pounds, according to word, which has been received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Roberts.

No mention was made as to whether the fishing for the plane proved a success or not, but Lieutenant Roberts seemingly received a real thrill from the capture of the saifish.

Lieutenant Roberts is still in the Air Transport Command and is stationed at Romulus, Mich.

Only twice in 42 years has farm income exceeded the charges of marketing farm products. It happened in 1918, and again in 1943. AAA Committee Elections to Be On Dec. 5 and 6

The annual elections for the selection of AAA committeemen will be held in North Eddy County Wednesday, Dec. 5 and Thursday, Dec. 6, in South Eddy County, it was announced by Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County AAA Committee.

The election for committeemen of the Cottonwood and Hope communities will be at the Cottonwood School gymnasium at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and for the Artesia community at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the basement of the city hall on Dec. 5.

The range and South Eddy County elections will be at the Courthouse in Carlsbad at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Dec. 6.

In each community, farmers will elect three regular committeemen and two alternates. Elected at the same time will be delegates to a county convention to be held later, at which a county committee will be elected for the coming year.

Discussing the role of community committeemen, Forehand pointed out that soil and water conservation will continue to loom large among AAA program objectives. Under next year's program, funds will be allocated to each county, and committeemen will have more responsibility in helping their neighbors to round out soil-building plans for individual farms within the scope of approved practices. This is only one of the programs for which committeemen have a great responsibility, he said.

The AAA chairman said approximately 700 farmers and ranchers are eligible to cast ballots in community elections. The number includes all farmers who are cooperating in the agricultural conservation, sugar, or crop insurance program.

Lt. J. D. Roberts Snags Big Saifish In Florida Waters

First Lt. J. D. Roberts went deep sea fishing at Palm Beach, Fla., for a B-24 and caught a saifish seven feet ten inches long and weighing 50½ pounds, according to word, which has been received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Roberts.

No mention was made as to whether the fishing for the plane proved a success or not, but Lieutenant Roberts seemingly received a real thrill from the capture of the saifish.

Lieutenant Roberts is still in the Air Transport Command and is stationed at Romulus, Mich.

Approximately 30,000,000 Americans have been injured in home-front accidents since the start of the war.

HOW DO YOU SLICE YOUR DOLLAR?

Only twice in 42 years has farm income exceeded the charges of marketing farm products. It happened in 1918, and again in 1943. Farmers received about 40 cents of the consumer's food dollar from 1935 till 1939. The farmer's share rose to 54 cents by December, 1943, with a 52-cent average for the year.

It's Big-It's Beautiful-It's BUICK

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting. It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built — it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best. So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes. We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today. We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production. And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's 12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little. The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised. It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all — in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942. The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks. In fact — the best Buicks yet!

Installation for the new officers will be held during the December meeting at the home of Mrs. H. V. Parker. Prior to the election of officers, Miss Mary Frances O'Bannon, devotional leader, conducted the devotionals, which started with a song, "Faith of Our Fathers." Mrs. Ralph Pearson had charge of the program on "Techniques." Those who assisted her were Mrs. Lorene Lambert, Mrs. Arch Horton, Mrs. Harold Green, Mrs. Douglas O'Bannon, Mrs. Melvin Mayberry, Mrs. O. A. Pearson, and Mrs. Carl Manda. Mrs. James Buck was elected president and Mrs. Douglas O'Bannon, vice president, of the Cottonwood Community Extension Club, when an election of officers was held after members and several guests enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. H. V. Parker Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Lora King was elected secretary and treasurer. Mrs. D. A. Bradley, a long-time resident of Cottonwood and retiring president of the club was showered with many lovely gifts. The meeting was closed with a song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," after which the group retired to the lawn, where group pictures were taken. About 30 members and guests were present.

Mrs. Bernice M. Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Millard of Colorado Springs, Colo., became the bride of First Lt. Herbert M. Whitley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Whitley of Lake Arthur Friday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, with relatives and close friends in attendance. The Rev. Chester Rogers, pastor of the Lake Arthur Methodist Church, performed the single-ring ceremony. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Miss Wanda Funk and W. F. Whitley, brother of the bridegroom. The bride was lovely in a navy blue street-length dress, with a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Miss Funk wore an attractive pink dress with a corsage of gardenias. Bridal music was furnished by Mrs. Cecil E. Board. A reception was held after the wedding, at which time the bride cut, in traditional manner, the beautiful tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Whitley, bridegroom's mother, presided at the punch bowl. The couple left immediately after the wedding to visit relatives at Baton Rouge, La. Mr. Whitley has recently returned from Germany.

Conservation Of Soil in North Eddy

A hearing was held in the city hall in Artesia Friday afternoon to determine the advisability of adding range lands lying east of the Pecos River to the Central Valley Soil Conservation District. Discussion for this addition was heard. Fifteen out of 24 landowners in this area had petitioned the state committee to come into this district. No opposition was voiced to this addition at the hearing.

The supervisors of the district held a regular meeting Monday night to transact soil conservation business. Vick Parker and John Lanning decided to attend "Ranch Day" at the State College, Las Cruces, on Nov. 30 and to look at different types of equipment used in land leveling in the Mesilla Valley. Plans are to buy equipment suitable for land leveling, which can be pulled behind farm tractors.

W. Leslie Martin's term of office as supervisor of the Central Valley district has expired. His position will be filled by appointment by the State Soil Conservation Committee. Martin is eligible for reappointment or others within the district may be nominated for the position. The district is governed by five supervisors, of whom three are elected and two are appointed by the state committee. Other supervisors' terms do not expire at this time.

Applications received for soil conservation assistance within the last week were from McNeal Brothers and James Norris from the Cottonwood community and Clyde Parrish from east of Artesia.

HANGAR FLYING
 Gene Sherwood passed the flight check for his private pilot license last week. Gene began his flying career more than a year ago. He has worked for the past year as hangar boy at the airport. Gene passed his written test some time back, so he is a full fledged pilot now, which makes him one of the youngest pilots in the entire U. S. since 17 is the minimum age limit for private licenses and Gene was 17 last Saturday.

Miss Garrett, employe of the postoffice, was flown to Wellington, Tex., Wednesday of last week to the bedside of her mother, who is critically ill.

There are changes and improvements being made at the Artesia municipal airport. A mechanical shop is being built by Sug Hazel. This shop faces north, using one side of the present Hazel hangar as its south wall. Sug plans on its completion to obtain a capable A&E (aircraft and engine) licensed mechanic and give service to all aircraft owners in this vicinity. Other changes being made by Sug are the remodeling of the two back rooms in the administration building. Sug is building a partition and cabinets and painting this in order that he and Mrs. Hazel may be at the airport 24 hours a day.

Lil, the airport cat, has been missing. Lil was last seen at the gate where the airport road enters the Hope highway. He had been inside a car and had jumped off there and when seen he was reported slightly stunned by the fall. He is a large yellow striped cat and came to the old airport when he was a tiny kitten. He was half starved and the tips of his hind toes were cut off. Everyone who flew brought Lil things to eat and adopted him and he soon made himself completely at home. Sleeping in the airplanes and catching birds and mice which are pilots' enemies in the hangar. When the Hazel Flying Service was moved to the municipal airport, Lil moved right along and made himself instantly at home, bedding down in the Ramp Rat and immediately catching a mouse in the administration building. True to the way of cats, Lil dragged himself in after four days and nights, badly banged up, but happy to be home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fuchs and family spent the week end at Lovington with Mrs. Fuch's family.

Gene Sherwood flew to Roswell Friday to see a dentist.

Ramon Davidson has passed the written examination for his private pilot license.

Sunday the pilots all spent the day looking at the duck haunts. Roney Miller and Pot Bert spent Sunday morning looking for ducks and Sunday afternoon shooting them, in the morning from planes and in the afternoon from the ground.

CATTLE MARKETINGS HAVE PASSED PEAK
 With cattle marketings now past the peak, the third week of October may have set an alltime record. During that week, more than 276,000 head of cattle were received at the 32 principal markets, as compared with 263,000 head for the previous record week in 1944 and 271,000 head for the first week in November, 1945.

The peak in hog slaughter may be expected about the second week in December or early in January. Only about half as many hogs are being marketed this year as last. Slaughter of sheep and lambs has been running about 16 per cent under that of a year ago.

Whether BUNSEN
OR
"INFRA-RED" Burner

GAS is the SUPERIOR SOURCE of HEAT

For decades the Bunsen Burner has been unsurpassed for use in the laboratory, wherever quick heat is required.
Today, in thousands of industrial plants, the "Infra-Red"
Ceramic Burner and other modern gas equipment developed through continuous research are supplying intense, flexible, accurately controllable heat for all types of industrial heating operations. Large savings in time, floor space and other values accrue.

Tirelessly, Gas scientists and equipment manufacturers strive to design new methods of Gas heat application that will do the best job for a specific purpose. The results are seen in industrial Gas heating equipment which not only made a significant contribution to the war effort but is destined to play an increasingly important role in peacetime production.

Let our Industrial Gas Engineer study your industrial heating requirements. From his own wide experience and the data made available to him by Gas equipment manufacturers and the research laboratories of the American Gas Association, he will make sound, economical recommendations.

School Plant—

which will again become available as a gymnasium and auditorium, when Carver School is completed.

And while that gymnasium cannot be used as such at this time, the small gym at the high school has been divided into classrooms. Eight rooms of the high school plant are being used by elementary pupils, as compared with nine before Park School was built, showing the new school did not alleviate the situation much.

The superintendent showed the great increase in enrollment and average daily attendance by quoting comparative figures. The enrollment and average daily attendance in 1940 were respectively 1606 and 1147, whereas a year ago they were 2092 and 1667, increases of 30 and 33 per cent, he said.

This year, at the end of the second month, the enrollment was 1997, an increase of about 150 over the same time a year ago, whereas the average daily attendance was up 100 over a year ago.

Kerr said there are unpaid balances against four bond issues made by the Artesia district, but pointed out that a total bonded indebtedness of $239,000 incurred in the four issues, the balance which will still be owed on Dec. 1 will be only $94,000, which he said reflects a very good record in liquidation.

The earliest bond issue, made in 1927, was for $50,000 for the construction of Central School. It has been reduced to $8000, Kerr said.

The second, in 1937, was for $85,000 issued for the construction of Artesia Junior-Senior High School and two new rooms at Central School. Of that $85,000 indebtedness, all will have been liquidated on Dec. 1 except $6000, Kerr said. This is possible for the second issue, as it was sold to the state treasurer with the understanding it could be paid off at any time.

The same maintains as to the third bond issue, made in 1939 for the construction of the new gymnasium and library building for the high school plant and two rooms at Central School. Of that issue of $42,000, there remains unpaid $30,000, the superintendent pointed out.

The most recent issue was made in 1941 for the erection of Park School and a music room at the high school. It was for $62,000 and has been reduced to $50,000.

The superintendent pointed out that the construction carried on under the second and third bond issues had the assistance of the Public Works Administration and that the values for the plant additions and improvements would be greater than reflected in the bond issue figures.

In a recent audit, Kerr said, the auditor valued the physical school plant for Artesia at $432,000, but the superintendent believes the estimated values of the sites were low.

He said that the estimated real and property assessment and oil production taxes for the school district in 1945 is about six million dollars and that bonded indebtedness is limited to 6 per cent, which for the district has been figured at about $375,000. With a present bonded indebtedness of $94,000, this gives the Artesia school district a leeway of $277,000, Kerr said.

The superintendent told his listeners that the board is also considering an elementary school at Loco Hills, badly needed because of the distance involved. He said some children have to ride 49 miles twice a day in the school bus, which is bad for the health of the smaller children.

An administration and storage building is also needed for the system, Kerr said. He pointed out that today there is no place for the janitors to do repair work and that there is little storage space in the plant. At Central School today, because of the shortage of classroom space, the janitor equipment is having to be kept in the shower rooms.

And shower rooms, Kerr added, should be added to the several plants. There are hundreds of children attending the Artesia schools who have no bathing facilities at home, which should be made available to them at school.

Seltzer Sons Have Thanksgiving Dinner Together on Saipan

Mike and Bill Seltzer, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seltzer of Artesia, met for the first time in seven years for a Thanksgiving dinner on Saipan, according to word received here by their parents.

Mike is a senior lieutenant in the United States Navy, while Bill is a first class private in the Air Corps. Lieutenant Mike heard that Brother Bill was on a nearby island so he sent after him and they enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner together.

Lieutenant Seltzer lives in Kansas City, while Private Seltzer is from Fort Worth, Tex. They are brothers of Mrs. Ralph Petty.

AAA Elections In County to Be Next Week

A final appeal to get out and vote has been directed by Chairman Roy Forehand of the County AAA Committee to Eddy County farmers in five communities, who will ballot next week on the AAA committee members who will represent them the coming year.

A big turnout of voters will demonstrate that Eddy County farmers believe in the elected committee system, which enables farmers to run their own farm programs, Forehand said. On the other hand, a small turnout might be interpreted to mean that farmers are not interested in having their programs run by farmers.

With many reconversion problems ahead, the AAA committee will have heavy responsibilities in 1946; they will be handling details of government programs and also voicing the opinions of local farmers on recommendations for new or improved programs, Forehand said.

Committee elections will be held in Eddy County according to the following schedule: Cottonwood and Hope communities, at Cottonwood School gymnasium, 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5.

Artesia community, at Artesia city hall, 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, Dec. 5.

Range election, at Eddy County courthouse, Carlsbad, 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Dec. 6.

Forehand pointed out that approximately 700 farmers and ranchers are eligible to vote in the elections this year. Any farmers and ranchers who participate in the agricultural conservation, or federal crop insurance program may vote.

Five farmers will be chosen as committeemen in each community—three as regular committee members and two as alternates. Also elected will be a delegate to the county convention to be held later, at which the county committee of three members will be elected.

brother, John W. Brown, Fort Sumner; two sisters, Eva, Mrs. N. J. Tosh, Moran, Tex., and Cora S., Mrs. R. P. Harvey, Phoenix, Ariz., and four nephews and a niece.

Otice H. Brown, a son of Dr. I. Z. and Mary Jane Brown, was born May 16, 1892, at Rucker, Tenn., and was reared in Texas. With his parents he came to New Mexico in 1911, when they settled at Hope.

Mr. Brown came then in 1913 to Artesia, where he worked for the Santa Fe Railway.

In 1915, in which year on June 1 he married Mollie Smith, he went to Lueders, Tex., where for five years he was interested in a drug store with his brother-in-law, N. J. Tosh. Mr. Brown and Miss Smith were married at the home in Artesia of her mother, Mrs. D. L. Smith, by A. J. Cox. To Mr. and Mrs. Brown were born the three children mentioned as surviving.

While in Texas, Mr. Brown took extension work and passed the Pharmacy Board examination in 1918 and later in New Mexico.

The family moved back to Artesia in 1920 and Mr. Brown then was employed about 12 years by Mann Drug Company. He worked several years for the Artesia Auto Company and more recently and until his recent illness was employed as a pharmacist by the Palace Drug Store and was also the local representative for the Zenith hearing aid.

Mr. Brown was a member of the Church of Christ many years and served as a deacon since 1920, and he was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Here from a distance to attend the services yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Tosh, Moran, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Fort Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, Amarillo, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Matt Mitchell and Mrs. Hazel Freilinger, Roswell, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hall, Tucumcari.

Bulldogs Drop Turkey Day Game to Lovington Wildcats

The fast Lovington Wildcats were slowed up somewhat here Thursday afternoon by the Artesia Bulldogs in the final grid game of the season for both teams, but they came out victorious 20 to 0, after having to battle hard for every inch and every point gained.

When the first half ended with the visitors leading only 6 to 0 on a touchdown made in the final minutes, it appeared that the Bulldogs might have a chance to win or at least tie it up in the second half. But the Wildcats became just that in the third period, made another touchdown, and scored again in the fourth, as both teams staged a roughing-up match, hardly a sport football, but exciting from a spectator standpoint.

The Wildcats made their first touchdown on a fast series of three plays, starting from their own 26-yard line, when W. Camp completed two passes to C. Black, with only a single line play between, the first taking the ball to the Lovington 45 and the second to the Artesia 25, from where E. Hart crossed the goal line standing after plunging through the left line.

In the third period a series of line plays set the Wildcats up on the Artesia 9-yard line, from where A. Webber went through the line for the second touchdown. J. Anderson executed another line play for the extra point.

Early in the final period, as players on both teams were fighting hard, disregarding football rules, Camp passed across the goal line to Webber for the final score.

Between halves, the Artesia band and majorettes, under the direction of J. Bud Farrar, executed a number of pretty and impressive maneuvers.

Local War Fund Campaign Still Is Lagging Badly

Some $11,275 has now been raised in the War Fund campaign here, it was announced by Hollis Watson Tuesday. This leaves the committee still short of its goal some $1500 or less, it was explained. The goal for Artesia and North Eddy County was set at $12,700.

Of this total some $3200 goes into the Boy and Girl Scout fund. Some $7500 of this money goes into the War Fund to be used in the USO in providing entertainment for the boys in camp and overseas for the war relief agencies.

The balance of the fund is to be used locally in helping to work out a youth's program here.

With the goal only $1500 away, hopes are still entertained that it might be reached. However, no active campaigning is underway, but all who may have neglected to make their donations or those, who might desire to increase their contributions, are invited to send in or mail their gifts. Their check can be sent to Chairman Watson or to co-chairmen A. P. Mahone or J. D. Smith.

Discovery of First Gasser in 1923 Opens Series of Articles by Dr. Ray E. Colton

RAY E. COLTON, Sc. D., Petroleum Geologist

A series of eight articles has been written exclusively for this newspaper by Dr. Ray E. Colton, petroleum geologist, who has been writing on geological subjects for many years. In the first of the articles, Dr. Colton tells of the discovery of the Artesia gas field in August, 1923, when he, with the late Mr. W. H. Flynn, Welch, and the late Mr. W. H. Flynn, Welch, discovered the No. 1 well, which produced 1,500,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

range 28 east of NMPM, Eddy County.

This well was completed with an initial production of natural gas at a depth of 1930 feet of 1,500,000 cubic feet. Some oil was encountered. Well No. 2, located in section 25, township 18, range 27, was completed in 1924 for an initial production daily of 2,500,000 cubic feet of natural gas, at a depth of 2085 feet.

Well No. 3, located down the dip and east of the earlier wells, in section 32, township 18, range 28, was completed on April 9, 1924, at a depth of 1947 feet for a 15-barrel production of crude oil.

In August, 1924, the Picher Oil Company completed their well in section 12, township 18, range 27, at a depth of 1957 feet, which made a natural flow of oil and after being shot with nitro produced 10 barrels of oil daily.

The Twin Lakes No. 2 well, located in section 28, township 18, range 28, was completed in 1924 at a depth of 2070 feet. Several natural flows of oil appeared and, after being shot, this well had an initial production of 250 barrels of crude daily.

surface. In the Grayburg area of Eddy County, in section 24, township 17, range 29, and adjoining sections in the township to the depths of 3000 feet, some 300 feet below the top of the limestone series.

The main Artesia field is located in townships 16-19 ranges 27-29 and it is located from a geographical viewpoint in an area of low relief, the altitudes ranging from 3550 to 3660 feet. Many sink holes are present in the area.

A San Diego, Calif., police car was dispatched to a local theater to watch "two men in a green sedan with motor running." Other police cars also sped to the scene and found the car under suspicion. The automobile turned out to be a police car with two detectives who were watching a suspicious character in front of the theater where ticket receipts were being counted.

School Lunches Are Big Business In the Nation

American farmers have a stake in a hundred-million dollar business with a growing patronage already numbering more than six and a half million customers, C. V. Hemphill, state director of USDA's Production and Marketing Administration points out. The new business is the school lunch program.

More than 40,000 schools, half of them rural, maintain lunch facilities with federal assistance. Thus about a fourth of America's 25,000,000 school children are eating food they might not otherwise get. In New Mexico alone, more than 20,000 boys and girls are eating hot lunches every day under the program.

Approximately half of the food cost is paid by the government as its share in the operation of the lunchroom, with federal costs totalling more than $46,000,000 last year. Federal assistance varies with the type of meal served, beginning with 9 cents for type "A" meals, and lesser amount for "B" and "C" meals.

Type "A" lunches, different from day to day, provide a third to a half of a child's daily nutritional requirements. A typical menu includes meat loaf, mashed potatoes, cole slaw, cornbread, butter or margarine, milk, and a cookie. Type "B" lunches, also well balanced offer slightly less of the day's nutritional requirements. The "C" lunch is only a glass of milk.

Children may buy additional food if they wish, or they may bring their own lunch to school. Responsibility for the lunchroom's operation lies with local sponsoring groups, which plan the program to fit the school's facilities.

During the 1944-45 school year, about a billion pounds of food moved through the nation's school lunchrooms. The total included vast quantities of milk, eggs, meat, fruits, vegetables, cereals, sugar, and fats and oils. Much of the food provided by the government came from supplies bought to support prices.

PARITY INDEX HIGHEST IN 25 YEARS

The index of prices paid by farmers for commodities, interest and taxes has advanced two points since September, after standing still for the previous six months. This index, the basis for figuring parity prices for farm products, reached a peak of 175 points in October.

This means that prices farmers pay for commodities, interest, and taxes are about 75 per cent higher than they were during the commodities sold by farmers averaged 114 per cent of the parity price level.

The Mt. Morris High School football team used as its practice and playing field a lot also used for pasturing a cow. One night players forgot to close the gate. The cow got out. The owner said "No more football." Mt. Morris High has cancelled its two remaining games of the season.

The Phillips Petroleum Company installed a casing-head plant in the field for the extraction of gasoline from the gas and a twin-welded gasoline line carried the product from the plant to the railroad at Artesia.

The New Mexico Pipeline Company, a subsidiary of the Continental Oil Company, operates a four-inch pipeline to the refinery at Artesia, and the Illinois Pipeline Company formerly had a six-inch line to Dayton, which collected oil from the fields at Grayburg, Jackson, and Maljamar to the east of the main Artesia field.

In 1925 gas was discovered in the Vandergriff area of Eddy County in section 5, township 17, range 28, and gas from this area and from the Texas Robinson well in the Maljamar area is piped to Roswell, Carlsbad, and other Pecos Valley towns.

The Leonard and Levers gas producing areas of Eddy county, located in sections 20, 21, 28 and 29, township 17, range 29 were discovered in 1929. The average daily consumption of natural gas from these areas is approximately 2,000,000 cubic feet.

The oil from the Artesia oil field has a gravity of 32-37 degrees, API Baume test, and a sulphur content of .85 to 1.02 per cent.

The oil from the Maljamar field has a specific gravity of 30.0 to 37.4 degrees, API Baume test.

The natural gas recovered from the wells in the Leonard-Levers areas of Eddy County is of the sweet gas type and it has a heating value of 1050 BTU.

The production of oil from the wells in the main Artesia field comes from a zone of irregular porosity about 300 feet in thickness in the upper part of the limestone series, which occurs at depths of 2000-2400 feet below the

Preparing for the winter quarter, which opens Nov. 26 at New Mexico State Teachers College.

Silver City, Dr. H. W. James, president, recently issued a statement calling attention to the benefits of attending a standard college.

"It is obvious that students at colleges that are not fully accredited work under the handicap of not having their achievements recognized," said Dr. James. "It is also obvious that an accredited college can offer a wider variety of courses and better equipment to back them up."

"New Mexico State Teachers College is fully accredited by the North Central Association, a top-ranking college rating bureau. College work of NMSTC students is accepted by colleges and universities all over the country." In making this statement, Dr.

James especially invited GI's to consider New Mexico State Teachers College in their plans for the future. NMSTC offers not only degrees in both academic and vocational subjects but also two-year pre-professional courses, Dr. James pointed out. Vocational courses covering business training, printing, machine shop, mechanics, photography, textiles, jewelry-making, and stone-cutting should be particularly valuable to the GI who wishes to specialize in fields which can be made remunerative immediately upon graduation.

Principal Source Of DDT Danger Is Absorption

Principal source of danger for man in the use of DDT is by absorption through the skin, but occasional brief contacts do not appear to be dangerous, says Dr. Roy A. Bowers, dean of the College of Pharmacy at the University of New Mexico, in a bulletin mailed to all New Mexico pharmacists.

There are no definite data on the toxic dose in man, but in insects DDT acts as both contact and stomach poison and is ordinarily absorbed through the feet, antenna, and mouth, he said.

Precautions to be observed in handling DDT, said Dr. Bowers, are that large-scale users should wear respirators, rubber gloves should be worn when mixing or handling solutions in oil or organic solvents, and all food and kitchen utensils should be removed or covered when spraying kitchens.

When DDT has been taken orally, the antidote should be to wash the stomach with water or saline and give 30 grams of magnesium sulfate through a stomach tube and allow to remain.

Although DDT is remarkably effective against a wide range of insect pests, says Dr. Bowers, it is not effective against all insects. It has been found superior for body lice, bedbugs, flies and mosquitoes, but offers little or no protection against screwworm, heel fly or cattle grub, and chigger. Fleas, ants, cockroaches, and insect pests on trees can also be killed with DDT.

Dr. Bowers warns that DDT is an explosion hazard in tightly

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

RICARDO PALMA'S PERU

Someone once called Ricardo Palma "the grandfather of the Americas," maybe because one usually associates story-telling with old age, or, perhaps, because the great Peruvian writer possessed an extraordinary degree of the art of reminiscing and reaching back into the past, the way old people do. Thanks to that "grandfather's" tales—his Tradiciones (traditions)—which have today become part of the Western Hemisphere's literary heritage, there is a Peru of yesterday that is still very much alive to contemporary readers.

Ricardo Palma was born in Lima on Feb. 7, 1833, and died there on Oct. 6, 1919. In 1860, when still a young man, he was forced into exile for political reasons and while abroad devoted himself to journalism. Launched on his career as a man of letters, he returned to Lima several years later to take an active part in political and literary activities. He had written light verse and historical essays when, in 1872, he hit upon the style that was to make him famous—the Tradiciones, short prose sketches, mingled fact and fancy, of the colonial days of Peru. The immediate success of the little custom sketches spurred Palma on to follow his first book by several others of the same type and today the best of these Tradiciones have been collected in a volume which has become a classic and one of the most popular books in Spanish-American literature. His subject practically exhausted, Palma turned during the last years to the study of philology, to which he made an important contribution. Peru may be grateful to its great man-of-letters, who was also a powerful personality, for founding the Peruvian Academy and reorganizing the famous National Library which was, unfortunately, almost destroyed by fire a couple of years ago.

Palma started out to write his Tradiciones from the historian's angle, but as the number of series lengthened, any sort of anecdote afforded him material. The imaginative, the novelist's streak in him, appeared side by side with the purely scientific and he mixed fact and fiction freely. His deep knowledge of history and philology, however, provided him with such a carefully documented background that every one of his sketches is a vivid evocation—even to the turn of expression—of colonial times in Peru.

With Palma and through him we meet the too ardent lover of beautiful Marquita Martinez who, after cutting off one of her breasts, fled with it to a convent where he retired and became one of the great sculptors of the 18th century.

Palma introduces us to Father Abregu, the little padre who, when robbed of his horse by bandits, asked to have it loaned back to him, then returned it as he had promised and thus became a protégé of the dangerous clan.

It is Palma who brings back to life the rich heiress, Marguerita, whose dowry, it had been arranged, would consist only of a wedding gown and she wore one so precisely that it was worth a fortune. From the thrill of horror to the broad laugh, the father of the Tradiciones employs on a great diversity of emotion and introduces members of every class of society from the viceroys to the slave. Being somewhat skeptical himself, he delighted in stories referring to religious superstitions, belief in ghosts, or tales dealing with loose living friars. At the same time he paid willing tribute to heroism, as in the story of Fray Pedro Marieluz, who died rather than reveal the secrets of the confessional, even when his political sympathies would have persuaded him to do so.

With his dressed up gossip Palma takes us by the hand and leads us into the Peru of yesterday where noblemen sometimes killed mysteriously the humble barbers who came to shave them, where one could be accused of being a heretic at the slightest provocation, where "tapadas" (women whose faces were covered by a shawl except for one eye) met their lovers at the corner of cobble streets, in the shadow of old convents. Gleaned from the historical chronicles of Peru, these Tradiciones are nothing more than historical anecdotes frequently only a bit of scandal, a sensational or unusual crime, a practical joke, just such things as appear in the newspapers every day. Though he vouched for their accuracy, they were written in such a vein of humor with the striking points so skillfully brought out that his critics accused him of falsifying history without succeeding in producing a novel.

None of his imitators ever quite caught the trick of style which made his work popular in all the periodicals of Spanish America for 30 years. The inimitable was probably a dash of Peruvian wit. Besides he ransacked so thoroughly both the oral and written traditions of his country that he left little in that field for anybody else. The French writer Anatole France once said that "history is not a science but an art and a man succeeds in it only by imagination." If such is the case, Ricardo Palma is undoubtedly, not only one of the great writers of the Americas, but also one of its great historians.

Lt. Byron E. Norman, Lincoln Army Air Field's man in charge of talking the boys into re-enlisting, received his discharge the other day. Lieutenant Norman, who recruited upwards of 100 men, was last seen clutching a one-way ticket home to Seattle, as he headed toward the gate. He didn't stop to comment on the new recruiting policy for Lincoln Army Air Field. Frankly, he was in a hell of a hurry.

How War Vets May Obtain Surplus Cars

War veterans desiring to purchase a passenger car should take two steps in getting ready to make their selection, said John F. Hough, regional director of the RFC Office of Surplus Property, Consumer Goods Division. The first step is to establish his priority preference, then learn if the type of car he seeks is available on the surplus property lists.

Considerable misunderstanding has developed either through rumor or misinformation and caused veterans some inconvenience, he disclosed. One is a report that a large quantity of Army staff cars are available for purchase. Hough pointed out that even though the Army has such cars, until they are declared surplus property no agency has authority to dispose of them.

He emphasized that the veteran's priority to purchase a passenger car is based on the portion of the law stating he must need it in order to earn his livelihood, for example, in sales work, insurance, or other vocation where it is necessary to have transportation.

In order to obtain the necessary certification of veteran's priority, he must obtain it from the Small War Plants Corporation before applying at the RFC Office of Surplus Property, Consumer Goods Division. Having obtained this certification, his application for purchase will be accepted at the Office of Surplus Property and in the event the agency is unable to fill his requirement, his application will be accepted and held until the type of car he desires is made available. Such applications will be filled in the order in which they are presented to the Office of Surplus Property, Consumer Goods Division, at 728 Fifteenth Street, Denver, Colo.

LOWER PRICES AHEAD FOR EGGS AND POULTRY

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicts material price declines for eggs and moderate declines for chickens and turkeys for 1946.

Under the Steagall amendment to the price stabilization act, eggs, chickens, except broilers, and turkeys must be supported at not less than 90 per cent of parity at least during 1946 and 1947.

More Used Fat Needed To Speed Return Of Essential Items

More used fat from every Eddy County kitchen is needed now to speed the return of many essential items which were scarce during the war, Ted Tenorio of Production and Marketing Administration said.

Soaps and soap powders, electrical appliances, and dozens of other household items require the use of fats and oils at some stage in their manufacture, he said.

The speed with which they return to peacetime home depends on fats and oils. Tenorio said that as the supply of industrial fats and oils still is not sufficient to meet consumer demand, used kitchen fats are needed to replenish the national stockpile.

Stock to Win Must Have Had Careful Selection

Increasing competition in junior livestock shows means that New Mexico 4-H Club boys and girls who hope to win ribbons must select beef calves more carefully. That's the opinion of Ivan Watson, extension animal husbandman, who has prepared tips for junior stockmen who want to do well in the show ring.

"A good feeder has a good head," he said. "Look for a strong head with a short face, good width between the eyes, and well-muscled jaws. The neck should be fairly short, blending smoothly into the shoulders. It's important that the width of shoulders conform with the spring of rib and width at hip—fairly wide, yes, but not coarse or open."

"The tail-head setting should be smooth or slightly protruding. Don't select a calf with a droopy rump or a low tail head."

The animal husbandman pointed out that calves with good capacity for handling feed are usually good feeders. A comparatively short body, good depth in the chest, and full forelegs are desirable. So is a loose hide.

Legs should be short, with forelegs set well apart. Hind legs should be straight from a side view and not cow hocked from the rear.

"Other things being equal," he concluded, "the calf with the most thickness, width and depth will be the best feeder."

CROP PRODUCTION FALLS BELOW RECORD

Crop production this year will be a little below the all-time records of 1942 and 1944, the USDA forecasts, after slight declines in prospects for most major crops during October.

The biggest decline was in cotton, where the forecast fell off by 411,000 bales during the month. The 1945 cotton crop is now estimated at 9,368,000 bales—the lowest production since 1899, with the exception of 1921.

The combined yields per acre for 28 principal crops were 31 per cent above the 1923-32 pre-drought average.

Methodists to Observe 'Pledge Day' Sunday

"Pledge Day," when all members will be offered an opportunity to make their pledge to the church for the next year, will be held at the First Methodist Church from 3 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Dec. 2.

The date was set by the board of stewards of the church here, when they planned the program for the new year, elected officers, and discussed their plans.

The "Pledge Day" program is to be a part of an "every member canvass," which is to be held this year. The plan calls for every member of the First Methodist Church to be contacted and invited to participate in the church program during the year.

Members of the church are invited and urged to call at the church between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon to sign their pledge cards, enjoy a period of fellowship, and to participate in light refreshments to be served.

It will require only a few minutes for the member or the members to drop by the church, sign their pledge cards, and make their arrangements to participate in the program for the coming year.

Members of the board of stewards at their annual meeting here pointed out that only approximately 50 per cent of the church membership is participating in the financial program of the church. The fact was emphasized it was not a movement or effort to raise money since the church has an outstanding record in this respect. The belief was voiced, however, if a member or members participate in the financial program they will also become more active and more interested in the church and will participate in other phases of the church program.

There will be an effort made during the coming year, of course, not only to increase church and Sunday School attendance but to win more individuals to church membership.

A. P. Mahone was elected chairman of the board of stewards of the church at the election of officers. He succeeds E. J. Foster, who has served in that capacity for the past four or five years. Clarence Fischbeck was named as vice chairman. Landis Feather was re-elected as treasurer; Glenn Caskey, as secretary; and Mrs. Ira Dixon, as financial secretary.

The Rev. C. A. Clark, who has been returned for another year as pastor of the local church, was extended a cordial welcome by Chairman Foster before the election of officers was held.

Board members expressed the hope that a program of visitation and contacting all members of the Methodist Church moving to Artesia to make their home could be carried out this year.

Most of the committees who have served during the past year, will continue during the coming year. The Rev. Mr. Clark announced that the first quarterly conference of the new church year will be held on Monday night, Dec. 3.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 2, 1945.

The Golden Text is: "How hath the oppressor ceased! . . . The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers." (Isaiah 14:4,5.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "When thou art come unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer." (Deuteronomy 18: 9,10,11.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The mild forms of animal magnetism are disappearing, and its aggressive features are coming to the front. The looms of crime, hidden in the dark recesses of mortal thought, are every hour weaving webs more complicated and subtle. So secret are the present methods of animal magnetism that they ensnare the age into indolence, and produce the very apathy on the subject which the criminal desires." Visitors always welcome.

Carlsbad Boy Wins Railway's Ag Contest

Morris Roberson, Carlsbad 4-H Club boy, was declared winner in the Santa Fe Railway's agricultural contest, announced Dallas Rierson, county agent.

Winning is no new thing for Morris, as he was winner of the meat animal contest last year and has been showing fat calves and hogs in the state and county competition for the last four years. Morris has won many prizes for showmanship as well as for high-class stock.

This year Morris farmed their 80 acre farm near Otis and kept a complete set of records on all enterprises carried on. Morris will receive a trip to the

State Gains Eleven Million Acres Farmland

New Mexico has gained 11,893,775 acres in farms and ranches since 1940, according to preliminary figures compiled by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

On the other hand, although farm acreage increased from 30,860,427 acres in 1940 to 50,754,202 acres in 1945, the number of farms decreased from 34,105 in 1940 to 29,919 in 1945.

According to the Bureau of the Census, much of the acreage increase is probably due to the inclusion of grazing lands not previously reported as farmland. When public domain is leased or bought, it is counted as farm acreage. The 1945 census also includes more Indian grazing land than ever before.

Bernalillo County quadrupled its farm acreage to 552,155 acres in 1945; Otero County tripled its acreage to 2,758,964 acres.

More than doubling their 1940 farm acreage, Dona Ana County grew to 852,906 farm acres, Valencia to 2,385,864, Sandoval to 931,520, and Taos to 450,730.

However, each of these counties, except Bernalillo, lost more than a tenth of its 1940 farms. Bernalillo County gained 182.

Here's one veteran a year's compulsory military training would be good. Pvt. John M. Holan, 2 Lake, Ind., says: "I would teach the youth reliable and teach him work, besides giving him additional protection in emergency." Holan, 18, is about to be discharged from the Army because he is age.
