Hunters Swarm Hills, But Are Successful; Man Killed

A number of deer hunters swarmed the mountains of New Mexico last week end, started the hunt on Monday and returned to the lowlands that day with their kills, but up to this time it appears the percentage of successful hunters is lower than in previous years.

One hunter lost his life, however, 28, of Lovings, who was accidentally shot while he was about 5 miles from the mountains, where he was hunting with his uncle, L. M. Fort Stanton, Tex., and Mrs. Lovings.

Some false reports have been made of accidental shooting and the death of a man, but the only one the facts have been authenticated.

The heaviest deer weighed in up to 160 pounds on Wednesday at the L. P. Store was a 10-point, 164-pound buck killed Monday morning in the Chimney Lake area of the Sacramento Mountains by Key of Artesia. Observers reported that heavier deer have been seen on and in the mountains, but that Key was the one that killed by Key was the heaviest weighed in.

There were offered a sleeping bag and a deer, who registered at the business prior to going to the mountains, and then weighed in at 160 pounds.

Advocate Crew Goes Hunting, But Office Is Open

The boys are going hunting deer hunting.

The job department of The Advocate will be practically at a standstill not only the rest of Thursday but Friday and Saturday.

The only commercial printing turned out this week will be that which was printed prior to Thursday and which is ready for delivery. Other work, of course, will be under way again on Monday morning after those four members of The Advocate staff have returned from their hunt.

The Advocate office, of course, will be open on Friday and Saturday. Office supply business will be carried on; news articles and advertisements will be accepted and even new jobs accepted. But most of the members of the back shop as well as one member of the front office will be gone.

The crew usually works on holidays and the deer season is the one time they take a little time off. They have earned it and it is hoped it does not cause anyone any inconvenience and that all will understand the situation.

Russian Problem Is Debated At Rotary Luncheon

The international problem, as it concerns the United States and Russia, was hotly debated Tuesday noon by Dr. C. Pardue Bunch and Howard Whitson, respectively representing the American and Soviet sides, at the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Rotary Club.

As nearly as the Rotarians could tell from the arguments set forth by the two, Whitson, local laundry proprietor, would like to lauder the entire "Iron Curtain" of Russia, whereas Dr. Bunch feels the task should be shared with others.

Chuck Aston, Rotary president, announced the club will have a ladies' night on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, Nov. 19. It is planned to have a dinner and program.

Many Awards, Including Eagle Scout Badge, Presented At Court Of Honor

One Eagle Boy Scout badge, one Life badge, three Star rank badges, three First-Class badges, seven Second-Class badges and a number of Merit badges were presented at the Court of Honor held in the library of the high school here last Thursday night.

Gateway District Chairman J. D. Smith presided at the Court of Honor in the absence of Neil B. Watson, chairman of the Court of Honor.

Chairman Smith also made the presentation of the Eagle badge to Scout Phil Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Perry. Scout Perry earned his Eagle badge in a little under two years after he became active in the scouting program and is one of the youngest ever to be presented his Eagle badge here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Perry participated in the ceremonies with Mrs. Perry pinning the Eagle badge on her son. She will be presented the miniature Eagle badge, which failed to arrive, in the near future.

Glenn Caskey, member of the Court of Honor, made the presentation of the Life Badge to Doyle Pounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Pounds. This, of course, is the last step prior to becoming an Eagle Scout.

The presentation of the Star badges was made by C. D. Hopkins. Those receiving their Star badges were Doyle Pounds, Jimmy Tipples, and Norvil Howell.

J. L. Briscoe made the presentation of the First-Class badges during the ceremonies to Scouts David Dillard, Leon Smith, and Gene Priestley.

Second-Class badges were presented to Donald Schulze, Gene Priestley, Leon Smith, Kirk Jordan, John Mauer, Hildreth Barker, and Billie McHugh by Orville E. Priestley. Through error, Billie McHugh's card and badge were not received, but they will be given.

Miller, Former Publisher, Joins Advocate Staff

J. B. Miller, owner and publisher of a number of newspapers and who recently sold his newspaper at Thomas, Okla., has joined the advertising and news staff of The Artesia Advocate.

Mr. Miller has had many years of experience in the newspaper field and is qualified to write advertising copy, solicit advertising, handle news stories, as well as write editorials and conduct newspaper columns. He also is familiar with job work and commercial printing.

He also expects to familiarize himself with the office supply business and aid in serving Artesia with these. He is familiar with typewriters and has been distributor for the Woodstock, which is handled by The Advocate.

The Advocate hopes through the addition of Mr. Miller to their staff to be better able to service their subscribers, advertisers and all of their customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller plan to make their home in Artesia and to become interested and active in the civic and community affairs.

Girl Scouts Will Have 'Play Day' Here Saturday

The Artesia Girls Scouts "Play Day," which will be held from 2 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Nov. 16, at the high school will begin with a flag ceremony and close with a campfire and retreat.

Girls from the several Intermediate troops will form the color guard under the direction of Mrs. V. P. Sheldon.

All girls are to meet on the steps of the high school building promptly at 2 o'clock. The girls are asked to bear in mind the fact that being on time will count toward winning the troop prize which is being offered. It was called to special attention the change in time of the opening and closing of the day's activities.

It was planned to start at 2:30 o'clock and close at 6:30 o'clock, but because of the early setting of the sun and subsequent darkness, the time was moved up half an hour.

Games, relays, and special events will be featured in the activities of the day. Awards and prizes will be given in many of these and other rewards will be collective and given to the winning team. This is in addition to the troop award, which will be judged on the basis of percentage of troop present, prompt arrival, and dexterity of the best skit. This last event will count for more points than any of the other parts, as it is to be the thing which will take advance preparation by the troops.

The games committee has selected games which will take up an hour of the entire time. The plan to use girls for program aides is in line with the general policy of the Girl Scout organization of having programs worked out and conducted by the Scouts themselves, thus developing leadership in the girls. It is felt that there is a definite need for this.

Business For Yule Season Is Under Way

Christmas business is now under way in Artesia.

Some Christmas items, of course, such as greeting cards and decorations have been offered here for some weeks while the wrapping and lay away of Christmas gifts has been in progress for the past two months.

Supplies of Christmas gifts promises to be greater than last year but many items will still be lacking this second Christmas after the Second World War came to an end, merchants report.

These items include bicycles, automobiles, guns, many electrical appliances, refrigerators, and other articles along these lines.

Many articles of clothing will continue to be scarce this year with supplies insufficient to take care of the demand. However, the buying public apparently is well aware of this fact and they have been having articles laid aside for some weeks now.

Many of the smaller gifts and many articles and items in jewelry lines will be offered this year and will be available in quantities, which the dealers hope will prove adequate to take care of customers.

Artesia apparently is planning for a big Christmas, not only in the way of business, but in its observance as well.

Christmas decorations have been moving out rapidly and many are convinced the present supply will not last and additional decorations for the tree and the home are not expected to be available.

One of the big events always held prior to Christmas, the Rotary Club's Christmas party, is already being planned and the exact date will be announced in the near future.

Artesia Cub Dens Will Participate In Exposition

Artesia Cub dens will participate in the Boy Scout exposition to be held on Dec. 6 and 7. It was decided at the regular Cub Pack meeting held in the First Baptist Church on Friday night, Cubmaster Walter Short stated that the Cub dens plan to have two booths at the exposition. One of the booths will display Cub hobbies while the second booth is to be used for the Cub dens to present various demonstrations of Cub work.

The theme for the month of November, which is "Knighthood," was discussed at the Cub meeting, which was opened with the "Salute to the Flag" and the "Pledge of Allegiance." New Cub dens as well as new den chiefs were presented during the ceremonies.

Awards were presented to nine Cub dens. Jimmie Dew received the largest number of these awards, being presented a Gold and Silver Bear Arrow, a Lion Badge, and a Gold Lion Arrow. Dwayne Zeleny, Neil Howell, and Billy Cox were presented their Bob Cat Pins. Silver Gold Arrows were given to Ray Schildneck and to Phil Kranz. Wendell Fischbeck was given his Gold Bear Arrow. Sammy Joe Golden was presented his Silver Bear Arrow, while Barry Hager was presented his Lion Badge.

Assures Cooperation In Sale Tickets For Activity Bus Dance

Full cooperation in the sale of tickets for the dance tickets for the Youth Activity Bus Dance was assured by the Artesia Boosters Club by the Central Parent-Teacher Association at their regular meeting Friday afternoon.

The mothers voted unanimously the proposal was submitted every bit of assistance possible and committees have been formed to cooperate with the Club in the sale of their tickets. A Tudor 1946 Ford to be given away free at the dance to be held on the night of Nov. 30.

Members of committees at the dance held on Friday showed the Parent-Teacher Association some $365.15 at their meeting for the fund to be used for the purchase of the bus. The dance was held at the Hall on Saturday night.

Parent-Teacher Association carrying out its milk project of the school and the report that some 45 bottles of milk are now being provided daily for the students, who are able to get milk. Milk is sold or given away by the organization in the neighborhood.

It also was announced that the Ladies Auxiliary of the Catholic Church is taking care of one child and providing milk for the full year for the one student.

Dr. C. Pardue Bunch was the principal speaker for the regular monthly meeting of the group and he discussed "Family Relations." Doctor Bunch, in his very interesting discussion, emphasized the need of parents to build confidence in their children and to win the confidence of these children. He pointed out various traits of children and stressed the best manner for cultivating these.

He also reminded the mothers and teachers that the youngsters not only need the relationships in their home but they need relationships and contacts outside their home and he urged that these be cultivated. He reminded the parents there is much educating, which can be done in the home, and stated that far too often this is neglected. All of the training in and out of school, as well as in and out of the home, works together to result in a fuller and more rounded out education, he stated.

Doctor Bunch also discussed briefly many fine health points to be employed in the home for the benefit of the children.

Mrs. Donald Bush offered two vocal solos, which were well received. Mrs. Glenn Caskey played her accompaniment.

Bill Of Artesia Artists Is Down In Business Windows

Observance of "National Art Week" this year brought forth new canvases and several new artists were added to the list of contributors to the showing, which was made in the windows of various business houses in Artesia last week.

The whole it is said that the art this year was much more interesting than on previous occasions, and interest in the work of Artesia's artists attested the vitality of their skill.

Bill B. Wilkerson had four pictures on display in the window of Russell Auto Company, one a game, another a bird dog, a group of bird dogs, still another a flock of wild geese. An interesting feature in this showing was a hand-carved so naturally shaped and colored that it drew unusual attention.

J. B. Atkeson, whose canvases have thrilled local art lovers for several years, showed three pictures in the window of the Russell Auto Company, a Spanish landscape, a Spanish scene, and a Spanish scene. A number of creations from her brush appeared in different displays over the city.

James L. Elliott and Charlotte Blass shared the window at the McClay Furniture Store, Mr. Elliott contributing a character study and Charlotte Blass a Western scene and an original scene, and in the same window appeared a canvas depicting a bowl of flowers, by Emily Flint.

The spacious showroom of the Southern Union Gas Company was an art exhibit within itself, as the canvasses of a number of artists being exhibited. The work of Mrs. William T. Haldeman predominated in this display, her offering being a painting of Isleta Mission, and a building of Spanish type in Taos. Mrs. Haldeman also showed a canvas by Claire Campbell, which she now owns. This was a mountain stream and woodland scene in this display. Also shown in this display was a canvas depicting a Spanish church in Cristo Rey, a flower picture, and a colorful Western scene by Mrs. Elsie Campbell.

Personal Items In Advocate Have Been Slipped

The Advocate has slipped on its personals.

The Advocate subscribers and readers have slipped in turning or phoning in these personals.

The result has been only a half column of personals for the past two weeks instead of the three to four columns, which it had been hoped might appear in The Advocate each week.

The Advocate still wants those personal items about you, your friends, your neighbors, your relatives, your visitors and everything else that is of interest.

The earlier these items are phoned in, brought in, mailed in or given to some member of the staff, the better it is. But The Advocate needs your aid and help in securing as many of these items as possible.

John P. Lowry, Early Pioneer, Dies Aged 80

The death of Artesia Memorial Hospital of John Power Lowry at 12:15 o'clock Saturday morning at the age of 80 years brought an end to the colorful life of one of Artesia's earliest citizens.

He was born in East Texas, where his parents passed on their way to the West, after a smallpox epidemic in Georgia resulted in the death of two sons.

The family settled in Comanche, Tex., where the father, a graduate in law at the University of Virginia, helped to build the community and became a judge.

John Lowry's father died when the son was 13 years old, the oldest of four children, and he became the "man of the family." As he was an excellent rider, he took employment as a regular hand on a ranch near Comanche. He spent about three years of each year driving Texas cattle north to market.

At the age of 29 years, Mr. Lowry married Rosa Talbot, and to them was born a son, who died at the age of about 2 years. Mrs. Lowry died two years ago.

From Texas Mr. and Mrs. Lowry migrated to New Mexico by way of Colorado and settled at Artesia 43 years ago. Here Mrs. Lowry was quite active in civic life of the community and helped found the Woodbine Cemetery Association, the Artesia Woman's Club, and the Women's State Democratic Association.

For many years "Uncle Johnnie" Lowry, as he was affectionately known, was connected with the Texas Oil Company, but he

Hopes Held Remaining $500 In Drive Raised This Week

With some $700 raised during the past week only $500 more is needed to reach the goal of $5000 in the campaign here for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Community Chest, and USO, it was announced by Hollis Watson, chairman.

Due to lack of sufficient workers some individuals, it was stated, have not as yet been contacted but they are urged to make and send in their gifts or contributions to the cause so that the full amount needed for the various causes can be secured. The belief was voiced if all who have always contributed in the past, and who have not as yet been contacted in this drive, would make their gifts that the $5000 sought would be exceeded.

During the first week of the campaign some $3500 was reported. During the following week the amount was increased to $3800 while this past week some $700 has been raised to bring the total to $4500.

Leaders, of course, hope and expect to complete their campaign during this week and make the distribution of the funds to the various causes.

Funds for the Boy Scouts go into the total of $36,616 being raised in Eastern New Mexico for the Eastern New Mexico Area Council. This money is employed to operate the council and council offices and to provide for improvements in the Boy Scout Camp, Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay, in the Sacramento Mountains.

The funds for the Girl Scouts goes to carry on their activities and their program.

Funds for the Community Chest are held in Artesia and provide money for emergency cases and for those less fortunate individuals, who need aid and help during the year. The funds for the USO are used to continue the program, which the USO has carried out for the boys in service in America and around the world.

Anyone, it was stated, who has not made his or her contribution and desires to help raise the remaining $500, which is needed to reach the quota, is requested to mail or send their check to Hollis Watson, general chairman, Artesia.

The funds in the drive were collected in Artesia, Hope, Cottonwood, Atoka, and in Loco Hills.

Deer Season Causes Postponement Of Chamber Luncheon To Next Week

The monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon, which was scheduled to have been held on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel at noon today, has been postponed to next Thursday noon, Nov. 21, it was announced by Artie McAnally, president.

He said so many of the members have gone deer hunting it was feared the attendance would be too small to warrant having the luncheon today. A large attendance is expected for the luncheon-meeting a week hence.

President Artie McAnally has sounded a plea for a full attendance of the membership of the civic organization then, as Dave Moore, new secretary-manager, is to be present for his first meeting and to meet the members.

Manager Moore succeeds Tom Watson, who recently resigned in order to accept a position with the United States Chamber of Commerce. Moore comes to Artesia from Fordyce, Ark. He has had many months of experience in Chamber of Commerce work there and with the Little Rock, Ark., organization. He also did public relations work during his approximately 44 months in the Air Corps.

Officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce have expressed the belief that he can carry on the program, which was inaugurated here under the direction of Manager Watson. The Chamber has adopted several projects for this year, including housing, and they hope to carry these out during the year.

Besides presenting the new manager at the monthly luncheon, it is expected that several reports will be made by committee chairmen and that other civic matters will be discussed.

Among the items to be discussed will be the sale of tickets for the Boosters' Club dance scheduled to be held here on the night of Nov. 30. At this time a Tudor 1946 Ford is to be given away free. The Chamber of Commerce initiated the organization

Boosters Will Intensify Drive To Pay For Activities Bus

With the aid and help of various organizations here now assured, the Artesia Bulldog Boosters' Club is planning to intensify their campaign for the sale of tickets to their dance slated to be held on Saturday night, Nov. 30 here. At the same time the dance is held a new 1946 Tudor Ford is to be given away absolutely free.

The sale of tickets for the dance was launched here a few weeks ago with the hope and expectation that sufficient funds could be secured through the sale of dance tickets and the giving away of the Ford to pay for the Youth Activity Bus, which the club has ordered and is giving to the school and to various youth movements here.

However, the sale of tickets slowed down with a number of other events under way and now must be resumed, it has been pointed out, if sufficient money is raised to pay for the bus. The present sale of tickets, it has been explained, is only sufficient to pay the expenses and about one-third of the cost of the bus.

The Central School Parent-Teacher Association recently voted to cooperate to the fullest in the sale of these tickets and has named a committee to work with the Boosters' Club on their sales. It is hoped and expected that not only tickets will be made available at most of the business houses here but that considerable sales effort would be put behind the ticket drive.

The largest sales up to the present time were made at the fair at Roswell.

Confidence has been voiced, however, that now the bus is ordered and delivery is expected here in the near future a greater interest will be displayed.

Leaders feel confidence that if sufficient effort is made that more than enough funds can be raised to pay for the bus and possibly have money left to carry on other objects of the Boosters' Club.

The bus, which is expected to carry 36 passengers, is not only to be used by the school to take their band, musical organizations, athletic teams and others to various events.

Legion Hopes To Complete Building, Close VAC Office By First Of Year

The probable completion of the main hall of the new American Legion building by the first of the year and the closing of the Veterans' Advisory Council office in the city hall at the same time were discussed last Thursday evening at the November meeting of Clarence Kepple Post No. 41.

The meeting, which was held at Central School, had been postponed from Tuesday of last week, because of election day.

Bill Dunnam, who has been manager and in charge of the advisory office the 25 months it has operated, said he estimates the community has benefitted from 200 to 250 thousand dollars in benefits which the office has secured for veterans. But, he added, he believes the office has nearly served its purpose.

Niven Baird, chairman of the Veterans' Advisory Council, was a guest of the post and spoke highly of the work which has been done for veterans during the more than two years Dunnam has operated the office. He said he also feels the need for such an office here has greatly diminished and that it might be well to close it Jan. 1.

Don Bush, acting commander, after Dr. L. F. Hamilton, commander, was called away, appointed Howard Whitson, chairman, and Herbert Mathis, and R. A. Broomfield, Jr., a committee to ascertain the needs, if any, for continuation of the office, and to draw up a resolution of thanks to the council and Dunnam for the good it has done for veterans during its existence.

The same committee also was charged with meeting with groups from the other local veterans' organizations in Artesia for the purpose of establishing a central clearinghouse for functions, meetings, and other affairs of the groups, so they will not conflict. The need for such a group was brought out at the October meeting of the Veterans of Foreign

Coyotes Steam Roller To Smash Artesia Bulldogs

The badly-crippled Artesia Bulldogs took the worst beating of the season Friday evening, when the Roswell Coyotes stomped them 51-0 at DeBremont Stadium in Roswell.

In an offensive game, the Coyotes cross the goal line twice in the opening period, once in the second, twice in the third, and three times in the final quarter.

Coach M. Duane Sams' squad was handicapped by the loss of eight of the original first-string men, crippled in earlier encounters and practices, or otherwise out of play for the season.

As the Coyotes piled up score after score, Coach Poe Corn used practically every substitute on the Roswell squad.

Early in the first period Artesia, held for downs, was forced to punt and Willis ran the ball back to the Artesia 24. Bell put it on the one-yard line around left end. Then Painter crashed over. The second score came late in the period when Willis ran the ball back 23 yards to his own 38. Bell shot around left end and went the whole distance for the touchdown.

Artesia braced in the second quarter and made a couple of first downs, but near the end of the half, standing on the Artesia 32-yard line, Willis shot a pass to McDougall, who raced over for the score.

Willis went through his right tackle from the Artesia 29 to the 15 where he lateraled to Painter and the big fullback went on to score early in the third period. In the same quarter, Willis passed to McDougall, who took the ball in the end zone.

As the fourth period opened, Willis, after having a couple of passes knocked down, shot straight through the line, cut to the right, and ran 33 yards for the sixth

Yule Decorations For Park Are Being Discussed

Interest has been shown in various circles in Artesia for a community-wide project for the annual decoration of Central Park in keeping with the Christmas season, using set pieces around which the entire scheme would be built.

It has been suggested that a single set piece, or scene depicting part of the Christmas Story, be constructed for the coming Christmas season and that additional pieces be built each succeeding year, until the project has been completed.

The initial piece and succeeding pieces would be carefully stored, to be repaired or repainted as needed the next fall as Christmas approaches and then re-erected for the pleasure of the community.

By means of the method of building only one set piece each year, the cost would be held down and would not tax anyone greatly, it was stressed. And after the entire project has been completed, the only cost would be the repairing and repainting of those portions needing it and the setting up.

Eddy 4-Hers Are Among Winners In Club Contests

State winners in this year's 4-H Club contests have been announced by Travis Hughes, assistant 4-H Club leader for the New Mexico Extension Service.

The rewards for the winning 4-Hers vary from $25 to $50 U.S. Savings Bonds to free trips to Chicago to attend the National 4-H Club Congress in December. Records of all winners have been sent to Chicago to be judged for national or sectional consideration. Members from 15 counties took first places in the state contests. There were 38 awards made, and records of four of the state winners have been sent to Chicago for national consideration along with those of 4-H clubbers from the other states and territories.

Bernalillo County led in the number of awards with 10. Roosevelt 4-Hers were second with seven. There were four winners from both Dona Ana and Chaves Counties; three from Eddy; two each from Curry, Lea, Guadalupe, and Quay, and one each from Torrance, De Baca, San Juan, Socorro, Valencia, and Union Counties.

Eleven 4-H club members were awarded the Chicago trip. The winners, together with the contests in which they excelled, are: Ruby Lois Franklin, girl's record, and Darrell Pool, agricultural achievements, both of Roosevelt County; Nelson McFell, field crops, and Bob Lee, tractor maintenance, both of Bernalillo County; Joyce Black, food preparation, and Wayne Watkins, poultry, both of Lea County; Alyene Waldrop, clothing achievement, Curry County; June Pirtle, canning, Chaves County; Evelyn Hinton, dress revue, Torrance County; Brady Bill Porter, agricultural achievement, Dona Ana County, and Earl Roy Forehand, of Eddy County, "agricultural achievement."

Bobby Jack Porter, of Dona Ana County and Patsy Stone of Roosevelt County won gold watches and sectional consideration of their records. Young Porter was winner in the meat animal project, and Miss Stone the successful contestant in home beautification.

Three of the winners received government bonds and sectional consideration: Clifford Franklin of Roosevelt County, a successful

Record Legume Seed Crop Is Being Predicted

A large seed harvest is good news to farmers who are hoping to put more land in legume crops next year, says C. V. Hemphill, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration. Many farmers plan to put back into grass some of the land that was plowed up during the war years for the production of intertilled crops. So it looks as if this year's harvest of alfalfa, alsike, and red clover seed will be put to good use.

U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates of those legume seed crops are:

Alfalfa, 36 per cent more being harvested this year than last, the biggest alfalfa seed harvest of all time; alsike clover, 9 per cent more seed than last year's production; red clover seed, 6 per cent larger than last year's crop, the third largest crop ever harvested.

Hemphill said that per acre yields of seed this year are expected to run about the same as in 1945. Most of the increase in the seed crop is the result of a greater acreage being harvested for seed. Higher prices—plus the legume seed payments offered through the Agricultural Conservation Program—made it profitable for more farmers to cut some of their crop for seed.

Mexico Planning Conservation As In This Nation

Mexico's government is this year beginning a soil and water conservation program, similar to the agricultural conservation program for 10 years in this country.

Goal of the Mexican program is to reseed eroded land to productivity, and to prevent future waste of soil and water. Mexican authorities say that a national soil conservation program is needed to build an agricultural foundation to support a much higher standard of living for its people.

The Mexican conservation program will include such practices as contouring, terracing, gully control, grass waterways, stock ponds, and range and pasture improvements. Ranchers will be encouraged to grow hay and forage to carry livestock through dry periods.

An education program, to be extended into every school and home, is provided for by the Mexican conservation law. American farmers will be interested to see how much of their farm program will be used by Mexican authorities as an uplift to their agricultural foundation.

A minimum of five years is likely to be needed for full restoration of European agricultural production to its prewar level, the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations predicts.

The saving of grain, grain products, fats, and oils for shipment to famine areas is a major objective of the food emergency program.

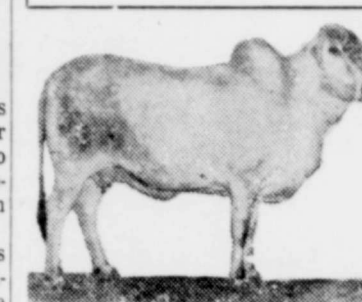

Maintain Health of Cattle During Fall

Seven Recommendations Given by Authorities

Severe losses of cattle may be suffered if proper methods of control are not maintained. American Foundation for Animal Health lists the following points as important:

1. Select good heifer calves for herd replacements now.
2. Inspect herd frequently for screw-worms. Losses may be prevented by prompt treatment of wounds.
3. Maintain ample clean water supply, an average of about 12 gallons daily.
4. Watch for outbreaks of black-leg or anthrax, vaccinating when diseases are prevalent.
5. Check pastures and fence rows for poisonous plants. Now is the danger period.
6. Be sure stock has adequate feed for milk production and to build themselves up for the winter ahead.
7. Handle stock carefully, both in driving and hauling to market.

Know Your Breed Brahmins

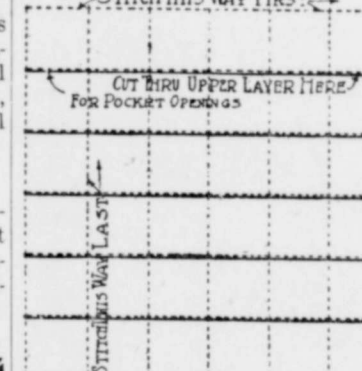

Brahmins, the name given to the native humped cattle breed of India, were first imported into America because of their resistance to cattle fever tick, ability to forage for food on poor land and capacity to stand extreme hot weather.

As Brahmins were used for milk and as work animals and not for beef, the original stock imported into southern states did not prove very suitable for beef. Rapid strides in breeding improvement has made Brahmins of demand on the market.

The modern Brahman is a bulky, blocky animal, built along beef lines, although he retains his hump, dewlap, lapping ears and his ability to thrive in warm weather.

Hens won't lay their maximum number of eggs unless they are comfortable. Give them plenty of shade and ventilation, says the State Extension Service poultry specialist.

Use Seed Corn Tester

Seed Corn Tester Made of Cloth, with Pockets for the Kernels.

Ear seed corn tester shown in illustration, may be made any size. By taking two yards of muslin cloth, doubling it and stitching across every 1 1/2 inches, cutting just below the lines of stitches, then stitching it the other way, pockets in which to place the corn to be tested can be made. This will provide 570 pockets.

To fill, start at the lower left-hand corner, putting two or three kernels from an ear in each pocket, keeping record. When filled, double and roll the tester and soak in water a few minutes daily. Roll in a dry cloth and keep in a warm room. In four or five days the kernels will be well sprouted if fertile.

Farm Ponds Aid to Proper Flood Control

Where possible, a farm pond should have a relatively small drainage area, points out Clemens station authorities. If the entire water supply can be had from one or two large springs, the location is excellent.

If a small stream must be used, it is very necessary to construct a large emergency spillway to care for excess water during flood periods. All of the spillway should be screened to prevent loss of fish during high water.

Sterilamp Use in the Poultry Shed Advised

Invisible bullets of light, sprayed by the sterilamp ultra-violet tube has given the poultry raiser a new weapon to combat air-borne cross-infections which are responsible for causing a high rate of mortality among chicks. In tests made it was found that chick mortality could be cut in half and that hatching losses were greatly reduced when the ultraviolet tube was installed.

Forehand Tells How To Obtain Loans On Cotton

Roy Forehand, Chairman of the Eddy County ACA Committee, has explained how farmers in this area can obtain loans on their cotton through the county ACA office or approved lending agencies.

The loan rate for 1 1/2-inch middling cotton for Eddy County is 26.87 per pound. Premiums and discounts for other grades and staples in the 1946 Loan Program are calculated in relation to the loan rate on 15/16-inch middling cotton, which is 24.07 cents per pound here.

Forehand's announcement was made after a telegram was received by the state PMA office from the Department of Agriculture calling attention to the favorable statistical position of cotton and also calling the attention of producers to availability of 92 1/2 per cent parity loan to assist producers in the orderly marketing of their crop.

Forehand pointed out that producers who take advantage of the 92 1/2 per cent parity loan on their cotton would retain title to the cotton and be able to make such disposition of it later as they wish.

The Department of Agriculture expects the lowest carryover of cotton on Aug. 1, 1947, in 17 years.

Coordinator For Pecos Basin Is Named By Bureau

Harry P. Burleigh will head the recently established Pecos River Basin coordination office, with headquarters in Carlsbad, it was announced by Wesley R. Nelson, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation.

The Pecos River Basin coordination office was established primarily to coordinate the work of the bureau planning engineers in New Mexico and Texas.

The foremost problem confronting Burleigh in his new position will be immediate studies calling for the rehabilitation of the irrigation works of the Carlsbad project.

Prior to recent employment by the bureau, Burleigh was employed as a geologist by the Soil Conservation Service in Washington, D. C. He formerly served in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Department of Agriculture, from 1935 through 1943.

Although total United States population increased 47,000,000 from 1910 to 1945, farm population decreased almost 7 million in that period.

ALFALFA, CLOVER SEED PRICES DECONTROLLED

All legume seed — alfalfa, red clover, and sweet clover — have been included in the growing list of farm commodities removed from price control.

OPA said it has been able to act more speedily than anticipated in removing ceilings because of reports from the Department of Agriculture that indicated supply of the legume seeds would be adequate.

A good way to help to produce more food and to have fresh vegetables for use late in the season is to construct a frame garden.

Cotton Farmer Faces Decision At Crossroads

The American cotton farmer today stands at a crossroads with one road leading to larger cotton acreage and one-crop farming, and the other road heading toward diversified farming and the hope of a higher standard of living. This is the opinion of P. K. Norris, marketing specialist of the Department of Agriculture's Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations, as set forth in a recent talk in New York.

"If farmers choose to revert to a one-crop system and plant an expanding acreage of cotton, they will be compelled to find a foreign market for an increasing part of their production," Norris said.

One of the largest single displays was that in the windows of the Peoples Mercantile Company, where a number of artists had offerings. A recent canvas, "Mountain Falls," by Charlotte Blass; "Peace in October," by Mrs. Stella Glasscock; "Lake Cristobal," a Colorado scene, by Mrs. B. E. Spencer; an Indian character study by Mrs. Hattie Merchant; and a nature study by Mrs. L. D. Richardson; bird dogs at work, a splendid portrayal by Mrs. Joe Bill Ballard, and a freehand drawing, "The Sky Hawk," by Bill Cortes made up this interesting exhibit.

The Modern Shop displayed a number of offerings by one of the newer artists of Artesia, Ruth Naaden Ross, consisting of pencil drawings of prominent characters, as well as an exceptional drawing of a horse. Miss Ross, a student in Artesia High School, shows unusual talent and her sketches won much favorable comment. In the same window was shown a painting by Mary Glasscock, an art student at Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Tex. Miss Glasscock calls the canvas "The Atomic Age," and the theme is a skeleton, standing amid flames, holding in his hand the earth. The canvas is clever as to detail and while not to be classed among the beautiful, as are flowers and mountains, it shows much thought and an understanding of one of today's greatest problems.

"The Meadows," a classical scene on the Chama River in New Mexico, by Elsie M. Spencer; a desert scene and a violin and music by Mrs. S. W. Gilbert; a canvas portraying a deer on a mountain trail, by Mrs. Hattie Merchant; a river scene by Mrs. J. B. Atkeson made up a very interesting display in the window of the Mann Drug Company.

Baldwin's window contained a number of canvases, among them a cowboy watering his horse in a mountain stream, a beautiful scenic study on the Upper Pecos River, and a Western cattle scene by Mrs. B. E. Spencer; "Ranch Life" and a portrait of her grandson, Randolph Scott, by Mrs. Stella Glasscock, were among the exhibits here, as were a silhouette, a giant cactus at sunset, by Mrs. Mae Montgomery, and also contributions by Mrs. J. B. Atkeson and Mrs. L. D. Richardson.

In the window of The Hub appeared two very beautiful hand-colored photographs, one showing a turbulent mountain stream, with peaks in the distance, another a gnarled tree on the desert, with wonderful cloud effects, the contribution of Mrs. Lewis Story. In this window also appeared a splendid canvas by Charlotte Blass.

A large canvas showing a cactus true to life, painted without a brush, was among the offerings of Wayne Hornbaker to the art exhibit, but Hornbaker proved his versatility by entering several pencil sketches, of scenes in the various islands of the Southwest Pacific. Among these were sketches of unusual tree trunks on Guadalupe, a peculiar tree on Bougainville, a tree lizard in the Southwest Pacific area, as well as several studies in oil, his exhibit appearing in the window of the First National Bank.

Four artists contributed to the display in Penney's window. An original scene by Charlotte Blass; a desert and mountain view by Mrs. J. B. Atkeson; a canvas entitled "Autumn in the Mountains" by Mrs. Stella Glasscock, and a very lifelike study of an Indian in regalia by James L. Elliott, made up this clever exhibit.

Jack Drake made an especially interesting contribution to "National Art Week" with his collection of carvings. Birds on twigs, a plate of fruit, a duck, and other subjects were carved from wood and hand-painted, with perfection in every detail. This unusual display appeared in the windows of the J. C. Penney Company store, along with a collection of fancy pottery pieces by the Artesia Pottery Company.

The artistic effort of Fred Brainard appeared in the window WHY NOT BUY? A bushel of those delicious apples for school lunches and home use. A. G. Bailey, 110 W. Richardson. 38-tfc of the Toggery Shop and received much favorable comment. Brainard is an artist who uses neither pencil nor paint in demonstrating his artistic vein, but creates scenes with bits of wood inlays of various colors which compete favorably with those of the brush artist. One of his creations is a woodland scene, but to show his versatility he fashions those bits of wood into a splendid flower subject. True artistic instinct plus patience and craftsmanship combine to make his "pictures" things of beauty.

Yetta Fauntleroy had three nature studies in oil in the window of the Western Auto Supply, which showed much talent as to detail and coloring.

An original desert scene by Charlotte Blass and a meadow scene featuring the bluebonnet by Mrs. J. B. Atkeson graced the window of The Advocate office, as did a watercolor scene, "Fishing in the Mountains," by W. E. Brady and owned by M. E. Baish. Cecil B. Wilkerson also contributed two very cleverly executed scenic pictures to this collection.

The members of the committee in charge for the Art Division of the Woman's Club were Mrs. J. B. Atkeson, chairman; Mrs. Lewis Story, Mrs. L. P. Glasscock, Miss Violet Robinson, Mrs. S. W. Gilbert, and Mrs. B. A. DeMars.

BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

day she broke three eggs and all three had double yolks.

Wilbur Dunnington of Chillicothe, Mo., knew there was a shortage of white shirts, but he didn't know it had come to this: Wearing one, a prewar model, he walked into a clothing store. A clerk eyed the garment, offered to buy it, explaining: "I'm all out of shirts myself." Dunnington didn't sell.

The quietest Halloween in years was the report by Chicago police and fire departments—but some store owners were hoping there'll be enough soap for youngsters to use on their windows next year. The shortage of soap resulted in some store windows being dabbed with paint.

Kappa Sigma Epsilon fraternity at Emporia (Kan.) State College received a letter postmarked Alcatraz Prison, expressing regret of the writer that he would be unable to attend the fraternity's annual reunion. Fraternity men hastened to explain that the alumnus was the prison chaplain, Byron E. Eshelman, an Emporia State graduate.

The prize winner in the homecoming decorations contest at Millikin University, Decatur, Ill., was a Kentucky mountain still—but that won't happen again. President J. Walter Malone said townspeople had complained, and fraternity and sorority houses using liquor themes in their decorations would be disqualified automatically in future contests.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Schultz and their two children were on a 100-mile trip from their Springfield, Ill., home to St. Louis when their 10-year-old car broke down, stranding them on a highway. A stranger, Albert Cassens, who operates an automobile agency in Edwardsville, Ill., stopped his shiny 1946 model car to offer Schultz assistance, but he couldn't help. Then he spotted a trailer truck carrying three new cars to his agency. Cassens halted the truck. He loaned his own car—for free—to Schultz to complete his outing, and he drove home in a new one off the truck.

The Navy is moving in to reinforce the Army for guided missiles research at the White Sands proving ground. Quonset huts are being erected to house the 50 sailors who already have arrived, and by the year's end Cmdr. Robert B. McLaughlin, commandant at the new naval installation, says the contingent probably will be four times that size.

At Monmouth, Ill., hens on Miss Jewell Payne's farm aren't comedians, but they're cackling over some of their own yolks. The other day Miss Payne broke three eggs and found she had seven. Two had double yolks and the third had a triple yolk. The next der stem, its top of large green leaves, often man-size, and its dense clusters of tight-packed fruit. Of these there are more than thirty varieties that may be roughly divided into bananas, those that are eaten raw, and plantains, a larger variety that requires cooking.

No other class of tropical fruit is more widely known than the banana, with only the coconut ranking higher as far as economic value is concerned. Yet the days when bananas were wrapped in cotton and sold for large sums as a rare delicacy, in cold and temperate climates, are not so very far back. Only since the end of the 19th century has the culture of bananas been greatly expanded in the West Indies, Central America, Mexico, and Colombia, principally by a well-known fruit company which assured the highly perishable product a proper handling and a well-organized transportation service. Banana bunches were loaded on specially constructed ships, heated in winter and refrigerated in summer, and upon arrival at the port of destination they were put on the market without delay.

Before the war, the value of bananas shipped from tropical American countries to the United States and Europe used to be about $50,000,000 yearly, but wartime lack of shipping severely restricted the banana trade, and expedients were adopted to bring temporary relief to the banana growers of the Western Hemisphere. Particularly affected were the leading Caribbean exporters of bananas, Jamaica, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Cuba, Guatemala, Guadeloupe, and Nicaragua and of these, more especially Guatemala, Honduras, Panama, Costa Rica and Nicaragua, who count bananas among their three principal exports.

During World War I, when a somewhat similar transportation problem produced a drastic curtailing of the banana trade, most banana plantations just stopped cultivation and had no crops available when the situation returned to normal. With such an experience in mind, the banana growers, in spite of difficulties, kept up their plantation cultivation and retained as many laborers as possible.

and ranchers who have 1946 practices under this Agricultural Conservation should make their return to the county ACA office as early as possible, so that the job of preparing applications for payments may be speeded, according to Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County ACA Committee.
He said that the reverse side of the farm plan sheet, signed last spring, may be filled out to report completed ACP practices, and taken to the county ACA office at Carlsbad.
Evidence as to the amount and quality used is required in the case of application of phosphate or gypsum, and use of chemical weed killer. Evidence of the quantity and cost of the seed must be furnished in the case of the practice of seeding or reseeded permanent pastures. Such evidence may include purchase receipts or invoices.

OUT OF AMERICA'S CORNUCOPIA—BANANAS

Absence makes the heart grow fonder—and the absence of bananas from most American fruit stands during the war made most of us think longingly of that delicious tropical fruit of yellowish color spotted with brown, whose skin strips to reveal a nutritious flesh-colored pulp. Considered, of later years, the commonest of fruit, the banana's rarity made it once more an unusual delicacy.

Most authorities on the matter agree that the banana is not a native of the Western Hemisphere. Although the plant probably originated in Asia, it thrives in tropical America, to which it was brought in 1516 from the Canaries by a Spanish missionary priest. It has become one of the principal products of the tropical countries of this continent, as important to their inhabitants as grain plants are to those living in cooler regions.

The banana tree, a perennial gigantic herbaceous plant, has a singular appearance with its slen-officers for the past year have been re-elected for the coming year. The officers are: President, Mrs. James Thigpen; vice president, Mrs. Orval Gray, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ray Zumwalt. The election was one of the business matters at the club meeting last Thursday, when Mrs. Charlie Buck was hostess to the group. As the club members answered roll-call, they told of projects which they were interested in seeing used as the club activity for the coming year. The club members presented Mrs. Buck a nice selection of gifts during the social hour. This was in accordance with the hostess-gift plan of the club. Mrs. I. P. Johnson assisted the hostess in serving refreshments to Mmes. Jess Funk, B. E. Green, Jack McCaw, Orval Gray, Watson McNeal, James Thigpen, Robert McCaw, Ray Zumwalt, and Harry Simmons. The next club meeting will be the club Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Tom Terry, sometime in December. A definite date has not been set.

It has justly been said that this section of Western Texas has the most beautiful sunsets of any place on earth, yet, how often do you even so much as hear a casual remark about a sunset? Is beauty truly in the eye of the beholder? I have seen a cowboy stand up in his stirrups and lean forward into the sunset, as if to get a little nearer the thing that fascinates him. I have seen a lone wolf stand on a high and distant hill and look in the sunset. The trouble with Texans is that we have too much beauty. We have ceased to look for it.

Carrara covered an Artesia fumble on the Artesia 23. McDougall hit left tackle for eight, Jerry Heine then circled right end to the one, and McDougall smashed through for the final touchdown. The Bulldogs will meet their traditional enemies, the Carlsbad Cavemen, here at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening in the final Artesia home game for the season. The Cavemen have a perfect record to date in state play, while the Bulldogs have won but one game.

Marshall Named Contact Man In Naval Program

C. D. Marshall, principal of Artesia High School, has been appointed by the Navy the local civilian representative to provide information to young men interested in the first nationwide competitive examination for its officer college training program, which is to be held next Jan. 18. The examination will be open to high school seniors or graduates. The successful candidates will be given a four-year college education in any of 52 colleges and universities, during which time they will receive from the government their tuition, books, normal fees, and $50 a month. Upon their graduation they may be commissioned in the Regular Navy and required to serve two years on active duty. An alternate program is naval aviation training, in which the candidates will attend college two years, during which they will receive the same government benefits as those studying for the Regular Navy. At the end of the college training, they will enter flight training and a program of flight duty as midshipmen, after which they may be commissioned. Young men interested in either of the programs may see Marshall for further information concerning the competitive examination to be held in January.

 type of development so that the girls are able to take a substantial place in the community as they grow older. A "nosebag lunch," which is a popular form of supplying food for outings, is to be held around a campfire and the girls feel they will have no need for these things in view of the contents of their own lunch sacks, it might be well to hint that those not bringing their equipment may find themselves particularly handicapped, "and a word to the wise should be sufficient," says Mrs. George Beadle. A surprise is definitely in store for the girls who come prepared.

Legion Hopes—

 Wars, when it was requested that the Legion, Disabled American Veterans, and United Spanish War Veterans cooperate in the movement. Howard Whitson, a member of the building committee, reported good progress on the new Legion building up to now, but he said there are not available at this time a sufficient number of workmen to speed the work. It is still hoped, Whitson said, that the main hall of the building will be far enough along to have some social activities in it during the Christmas season. Whitson pointed out also that the American Legion must look forward to the hiring of a responsible veteran to be custodian of the building when it is completed, someone who will see that it is run properly as well as helping to keep up sources of revenue for the expenses.

Bush appointed P. V. Morris and J. B. (Buster) Mulcock a committee to contact and work with the American Legion Auxiliary in the annual "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" project, in which gifts are provided through the efforts of the two organizations for veterans who are hospitalized or incapacitated. The committee members are to work out with the Auxiliary plans for the project this year and make announcement as soon as possible the types of gifts desired, where they will be assembled for shipment to hospitals, and the deadline day. Harry Gilmore, adjutant, reported that renewals for membership in the post are coming in too slow, that membership for 1947 should be up to 1946 strength by Nov. 15, when a report must be made to department headquarters. He urged that all members pay their dues for the coming year and prevail upon other veterans to join the Legion.

FINDS NEW PENICILLIUM STRAIN— Wayne Simmonds (right), 29, war veteran and graduate assistant in the University of Wichita's department of botany and bacteriology, has discovered a new strain of penicillium (similar to penicillin) and here shows a plate with the mold to Dr. C. C. McDonald, department head. Simmonds, an arthritic case, is attending the Kansas school under provisions of Public Law 16. Professors report the mold unique in its pigmentation and unlike any similar strain yet recorded in bacteriological literature. The new strain is now undergoing varied tests.

Dr. Quimbey Is Guest Speaker At Institute

Dr. Karl Quimbey of New York City was the guest speaker Monday at a meeting here of the Pecos Valley District Missionary Institute. "World-wide Missions of the Church" was his topic and he spoke on this in an interesting manner. The institute opened at 10 o'clock Monday morning with Rev. A. C. Douglas of Pecos, Tex., district superintendent of the Methodist Church, presiding. Representatives were present from 10 other churches, the First and Trinity Methodist of Roswell, Dexter, Hagerman, Lake Arthur, Cottonwood, Hope, First and West Methodist of Carlsbad, and Loving, as well as Artesia. About 100 persons were present for a delicious covered-dish luncheon served at noon. Rev. Orbin Turner, newly appointed pastor of the Roswell First Methodist Church, led devotional services for the occasion.

Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery by the grave of Mrs. Lowry. Pallbearers were Harold Dunn, Andy Corbin, Clyde Jones, A. C. Sadler, Ivan Rogers, and Bill Horner. Mr. Lowry is survived by two sisters, Miss Eva Lowry of Independence, Mo., and Mrs. G. A. McNutt of Los Angeles, Calif. He is also survived by two nieces, Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. C. K. Those, of course, who have taken the lead in the movement have assumed full responsibility for payment of the bus and they are urging all to aid and assist in the movement. Every effort has been made not to accept outright donations for the bus and hope has been expressed that sufficient funds can be raised through the sale of the dance tickets to pay all of the cost of the bus and to provide additional funds for the school's athletic program.

First Airing Of KSVP Is Delayed To Noon Today

Opening and first airing of radio station KSVP, Artesia, is to be at noon today, 24 hours later than was announced in an advertisement and the news columns of The Advocate last week. In announcing the postponement, W. L. Delbridge, program director of the new station, said it was made necessary to complete the engineering tests required by the Federal Communications Commission. Bad weather delayed the first part of last week delayed the completion of the erection of the broadcasting tower, Delbridge said. The tower was in position and first tests were made over the week end, but not in time to clear reports with the FCC so as to go on the air for the first broadcast Wednesday. Delbridge said he and other members of the staff regretted the delay and the inability to inform the public of it, for he expected many to be tuned to 1450 at noon Wednesday for the initial broadcast.

However, he said, the delay was unavoidable, and that the first airing of the station would be at noon today, with a number of local people appearing on the program. The station is planning to broadcast the Carlsbad-Artesia football game Friday evening.

'B' Squad From Roswell Defeats Artesia Team

The Roswell "B" football team defeated a combination of Coach F. L. Green's "B" squad Bullpups and Coach Don Riddle's "C" squad here Tuesday evening on Morris Field 13-0. The Coyote Whelps scored in the second quarter on a line play and again in the last minutes of the final quarter on a completed pass.

Coaches Green and Riddle were especially pleased with the playing of Boyce Cobble and Kenneth Malone in the backfield. Allen White at center, and Frank Saiz, an eighth-grade boy, who played on the line. The crowd was estimated to be the largest during the entire season at football games here, except varsity games. The Bullpups are to meet the "B" squad from Carlsbad here at 7:45 o'clock next Tuesday evening, but the "C" squad has completed its schedule for the season.

Lloyd Simon, president of the Boosters' Club, is expected to make this report and to emphasize the fact that the ticket sale is now lagging and that plenty of help is needed. It is hoped and expected that sufficient funds can be realized from the sale of the tickets not only to pay for the Ford, the dance, and all expenses, but also to pay for the bus. A housing committee report also is expected to be made as well as a report on the present membership of the organization. Not only are the members urged and requested to be present for the luncheon but an invitation is

Although it had been planned to award the practice bomb, which had been donated by T. Sgt. Preston Triplet of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station at Carlsbad, the final decision had to be delayed pending the determining of the actual number of Scouts enrolled from the two competing troops. The bomb is to be awarded on the basis of percentage of attendance of the registered number of Scouts in the troops.
