City Signs Agreement With Industrial Group

Duane Castleberry, chairman, and Bob Stovall, member of the board of directors, of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation, met with the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning to ask approval for a memorandum of agreement.

The duo had previously met with the County Commissioners Court and with the Board of Trustees for the Muleshoe Independent School District. Both governmental groups agreed to sign the Memorandum of Agreement.

According to the memorandum "The City of Muleshoe, Texas; the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture; the Muleshoe Independent School District and Bailey County affirm their support of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation as the responsible agency for the economic development of Muleshoe and the Muleshoe area.

The memorandum further stated: "The parties to this agreement recognize that the development of new jobs and the expansion of a tax base through working with new and existing business will contribute to the quality of life offered by the community of Muleshoe to its citizens. The participating entities in the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation will support the program of work established by the foundation."

They explained that as the newly reorganized MAIF goes along, a lot of questions arise that the MAIF Board of Directors must address.

They also said that according to the charter for the Muleshoe CofC, the CofC cannot buy, purchase or lease lands because it is a non-profit organization.

Although MAIF works closely with the CofC, there is much that cannot be done, according to the letter of the law, through the CofC, so the support of the other governmental entities is being sought.

"We will need city approval for a lot of matters that come up," explained Castleberry. "An acknowledgement of support from you is very important."

Again emphasizing that MAIF is "not a secret organization," Stovall and Castleberry said many prospects ask for confidentiality as they check into this area as a possible industrial location.

MAIF will maintain that confidentiality when it is requested said the duo.

They also expressed their appreciation for the support they have received while in the re-organizational process.

"It is wonderful to feel the community is behind us," they concluded.

The city council made a unanimous decision to sign the memorandum of agreement.

In other action, the City Manager, Dave Marr told councilmen the final inspection was to be made at 10:30 a.m. by the FAA on the new airport. The 'X's' on the runways were removed on Monday afternoon, as the airport was expected to meet the final approval for use.

At 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, bids were to be opened for new hangars at the airport. After tabulation, a special meeting of the city council is expected to be held next week to decide on the bids proposed.

A change is possible in one location for the upcoming paving project, according to the city manager.

Pasadena Street, originally placed in the project is expected to be removed and East Gum will be the replacement.

It Takes Will Power To Travel This Way!

In a relaxed atmosphere in the lobby of the Heritage Inn on Monday night, John and Vicki Enright related some of their adventures since leaving Santa Monica Pier, in California, on December 10, 1988.

After five weeks on the road (or highway) the duo had made it to Muleshoe to spend the night.

At Muleshoe, they had traveled some 1,300 miles, but by a completely unorthodox manner.

As John Enright travels slowly and steadily each day in a wheelchair, his wife, Vicki is right behind him, traveling approximately four miles per hour in a van.

They are on their way to Atlantic City, NJ, a location they expect to reach late in April.

But, that's not all, they will turn around and travel back to California, utilizing the same method.

Enright, who has been wheelchair bound since 1982 is calling attention to the Will Power Foundation.

Their purpose, he said, is to draw attention to spinal cord injuries and paralysis by starting college scholarships.

"People in wheelchairs need to be able to get around and enjoy life," said the smiling young man with steady, calm eyes.

In speaking of his own problems that eventually cost him the use of his legs, he said a tumor was found on his spinal cord in 1967.

At that time, Enright said the only treatment for such a tumor was cobalt radiation therapy, which he had.

However, from that time until 1982, he noted a gradual loss of the use of his legs. Despite a 'last ditch' exploratory surgery, scar tissue finally forced him into a wheelchair.

He had several months of rehabilitation, then went back to work. He said he is a component engineer in an aerospace company.

He said he quickly found limitations for an individual in a wheelchair, and in 1983 decided to call attention to the plight of the wheelchair bound person.

This prompted his first trip across the U.S. in a wheelchair. He left Wildwood, NJ and ended his trip at the Santa Monica Pier 97 days later.

He elected to stay in California, and later met his future wife, Vicki, who he says offers him so much encouragement.

On his first trip across the U.S., he was accompanied by a fellow church member, who drove the support van.

This time, Vicki, who became his wife on March 4, 1988, provides both physical and emotional support as he slowly rolls himself along the highways.

"One of the main things I am trying to emphasize," said Enright, "is that people who are in wheelchairs are no different than people who are not in wheelchairs."

He said most restaurants are not accessible to someone in a wheelchair, and about half of the hotels and motels cannot adequately accommodate a wheelchair patient.

Sitting in the motel lobby during the interviews on Monday night were Clint and Evelyn Peat, owners and operators of the Heritage House Inn in Muleshoe. They do have a handicapped room, specially equipped with wider doors and other devices to help make it easier for the handicapped person.

The Peats said they try to do

Because you cared, $2160 was received in 1988, which will enable the purchase of two six-position chairs to help make life easier for the Muleshoe Nursing Home residents.

The annual Brownfield Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held Saturday, February 4, at 7 p.m. in the Brownfield High School Dining Commons located at 701 North Fir.

Theme of the banquet is "Hats Off to Brownfield...We Love You."

Guest speaker will be Jerry Kunkel. His unique approach, utilizing a powerful message spiced with humor, entertains and at the same time inspires and motivates those who hear him.

The Outstanding Citizen for 1988 will be recognized and new officers and directors introduced.

Busy Lifestyles Prevent Scratch Cooking

Our busy lifestyles may prevent us from scratch cooking as often as we'd like, but special occasions still merit homemade baking. If you like to bake from scratch, but find it difficult to make time and keep the ingredients on hand, the home economists at the Martha White Kitchen can help.

Take the following quiz to familiarize yourself with common problems contemporary bakers have:

Which ingredient is the most trouble to measure when baking from scratch?

•Flour •Eggs •Sugar
Which ingredient is hardest to store?

•Shortening •Flour •Eggs
Which ingredient is most difficult to keep fresh?

•Sugar •Shortening •Flour
Which ingredient do you have to purchase in larger quantities than you need?

•Flour •Shortening
Eggs

If you answered FLOUR to any or all of the above questions, you will be interested in new Two-Cup Flour contains just the right amount of flour for many recipes, including cookies, cakes, pies and quick bread recipes. If a recipe calls for two cups of flour, just use one premeasured package--no need to measure at all.

The Martha White Two-Cup package is also convenient for those times when a smaller amount of flour is needed. When coating chicken, pork chops and other meats and making gravies or sauces, less than two cups of flour is generally used. Keeping a package of Martha White Two-Cup Flour on hand for these recipes and unanticipated needs is more convenient than a large bag and easier to store. The package is small and sealed for freshness.

Valentine Party

The Firemen's Auxiliary of the Sudan Volunteer Fire Department held their January meeting Monday, Jan. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank.

Mike McDonald presented a program on the Children Protective Service.

The meeting was called to order by LaRhonda Hill, president. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and a treasurer's report given.

Plans were made for the annual Auxiliary Valentine party, which is scheduled for Feb. 11.

When storing Martha White Two-Cup Flour for long periods after opening put the package in a zip-top plastic bag and keep in the refrigerator or freezer.

Oatmeal Chocolate Chip Cookies and Strawberry Bars are examples of recipes calling for two cups of flour. The first is a combination of two traditional homemade favorites--oatmeal and chocolate, and the second is a bar cookie made with strawberry jam.

Senior Citizens

The Muleshoe Senior Citizens met Monday, Jan. 23 in the Old Depot for their regular covered dish luncheon. The invocation was given by Duard Head. It was reported that twenty-nine were present to enjoy the meal. A spokesperson from the group stated that they were glad to have Ray Edwards with them.

After the meal, Mae Wilterding had charge of the program. She ask Mildred Head to read a poem. She read "Heaven's Grocery Store" and she found plenty of everything needed in life; Love, Patience, Peace, Prayer, Joy, plenty of Grace, the Holy Ghost was every where. Opal Robinson played two numbers on the piano: "He Did It All For Me" and "Its No Wonder".

It was also reported that the ones who were to bring the program could not be there, so they had an old fashioned sing song; with many of the old songs they all love so well, accompanied by Odessa Shanks and Velma Guinn at the piano.

Opal Robison played another special on the piano, "It's Jesus and Me".

A short business meeting was conducted by J.C. Shanks. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The birthday song was sung for Duard Head and Ray Edwards.

Get well cards were sent to Mrs. Minnie Kelly, Mrs. M.T. Hukill and Guy Kindell.

A lady from Lubbock has been calling wanting the Senior Citizens to print a Cook Book, but since Senior Citizens is a non profit organization, it can not be done.

Floyd Grimsley dismissed the group with a prayer.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS
CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME
A homestead Exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.
You qualify for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.
Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.
Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown
Bailey County Appraisal District
104 E. Ave C 272-5501

below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this office.
If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1988, you won't need to apply again for 1989 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.
However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive the additional exemptions.
If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you've moved to a new home, make a new application for 1989.
The deadline for applications is April 30, 1989. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.
For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Plans were made for the annual Auxiliary Valentine party, which is scheduled for Feb. 11.

When storing Martha White Two-Cup Flour for long periods after opening put the package in a zip-top plastic bag and keep in the refrigerator or freezer.

Oatmeal Chocolate Chip Cookies and Strawberry Bars are examples of recipes calling for two cups of flour. The first is a combination of two traditional homemade favorites--oatmeal and chocolate, and the second is a bar cookie made with strawberry jam.

Senior Citizens

The Muleshoe Senior Citizens met Monday, Jan. 23 in the Old Depot for their regular covered dish luncheon. The invocation was given by Duard Head. It was reported that twenty-nine were present to enjoy the meal. A spokesperson from the group stated that they were glad to have Ray Edwards with them.

After the meal, Mac Wilterding had charge of the program. She ask Mildred Head to read a poem. She read "Heaven's Grocery Store" and she found plenty of everything needed in life: Love, Patience, Peace, Prayer, Joy, plenty of Grace, the Holy Ghost was every where. Opal Robinson played two numbers on the piano: "He Did It All For Me" and "Its No Wonder".

It was also reported that the ones who were to bring the program could not be there, so they had an old fashioned sing song; with many of the old songs they all love so well, accompanied by Odessa Shanks and Velma Guinn at the piano.

Opal Robison played another special on the piano, "It's Jesus and Me".

A short business meeting was conducted by J.C. Shanks. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The birthday song was sung for Duard Head and Ray Edwards.

Get well cards were sent to Mrs. Minnie Kelly, Mrs. M.T. Hukill and Guy Kindell.

A lady from Lubbock has been calling wanting the Senior Citizens to print a Cook Book, but since Senior Citizens is a non profit organization, it can not be done.

Floyd Grimsley dismissed the group with a prayer.

- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup vegetable shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups quick cooking oats
- 1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chips
- 1 cup chopped nuts

cream shortening and sugars. Beat in eggs, one at a time; add vanilla. Stir in flour mixture, oats, chocolate chips and nuts. Drop by heaping tablespoons onto greased baking sheet about three inches apart. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. Transfer to wire rack to cool. Makes about 6 dozen.

Someone should invent a dry-cleaning process for some jokes and some joke-tellers.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A homestead Exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You qualify for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this office. If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1988, you won't need to apply again for 1989 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.

However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive the additional exemptions. If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you've moved to a new home, make a new application for 1989.

The deadline for applications is April 30, 1989. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

IRRIGATION IN BAILEY COUNTY

Irrigation in Bailey County is becoming one of the most important things of the future. It depends upon the size of the pump and the power of the motor as to how much land can be watered. A ten-inch pump and a twenty-five horse power engine will take care of about one hundred sixty acres of land. A ten inch pump with the proper amount of power will produce about fifteen hundred gallons of water per minute. This can be kept up for an unlimited time. People are trying to get the electricity run out in the country and if they succeed in this the power can be produced much cheaper and will also be a great help to the farmers.

Most any kind of row crop can be raised here. The most important ones being keffir, corn, maize, ear corn, sudan seed, hegar, wheat, oats, alfalfa and sweet corn.

Cotton has been produced in Bailey County for the last four or five years and it makes as high as three quarters of a bale per acre.

Especially does the irrigation seem to be of use to the truck farmers. Any kind of vegetable can be raised here abundantly. The grape crop is becoming one of the most profitable crops of this section of the country. There is hardly a year but what the grape crop is a success. They can be sold at from four to ten cents per pound.

JUDGE WILTERDING REALIZES $1,818 FROM 1/2 COWS

Anyone who thinks good milk cows of the South Plains area don't pay should talk with Judge W.E. Wilterding who during the past year kept careful records of 12 milk cows, and during those 12 months they returned to him a total of $778.34 in cream sold besides all the cream, milk and butter used by two families composed of eight people.

In addition the Judge says he fed 5,500 gallons of skim milk to pigs and calves which, placed at the common market value of three cents per gallon, was easily worth $165.15.

From these 12 cows he sold five bull calves at an age of three months for $55.00 each, keeping six heifer calves, some of which he refused $100 each. One calf died.

Five Lazbuddie Students Take SAT Tests

Five seventh grade students from Lazbuddie Junior High will take the SAT college entrance exam Saturday, January 28. They have been named to participate in the Talent Identification Program (TIP) at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina.

The students include Jody Copp, son of Rick and Lana Copp; Troy McBroom, son of Orin and Darla McBroom; Jessica Burch, daughter of Kirby and Vicki Burch; Jarah Redwine, daughter of Bobby and Debra Redwine; and Dawanda Magby, daughter of Skip and Debbie Magby. The objectives of the Duke University program are to identify the very bright at an early age and to follow their talents through high school" said Mrs. Anne Farris, Principal and Counselor. "The program was founded on the promise that the future of this nation depends upon the fullest development of our best intellectual resources. The TIP program seeks out the gifted and talented individuals in seventh grade classes across the nation and works toward placement of those students in colleges and universities that have programs of a quality that matches the student's potential. "The SAT college entrance exam, designed for college bound high school students, measures verbal, mathematical and general reasoning ability of highly capable seventh graders who are selected to participate in the program.

"While far too difficult for the average seventh grader, these tests have shown to be helpful in discriminating the abilities of very bright seventh graders scoring at or above the 97th percentile on other standardized achievement or aptitude tests."

Mrs. Farris expressed her congratulations to these students, and praised their academic achievements which assured their selection for inclusion in this very prestigious program.

everything possible to help make it a more comfortable stay at the Heritage Inn for the handicapped and those who accompany them. They said with their years in the motel business, they easily recognize the need for such facilities.

The Enrights seek out motels in each town or city with the ability to adequately take care of their needs, as they travel some 35-40 miles per day.

When they arrive in Lubbock they will be staying a couple of days where he is scheduled to speak to Veterans groups and a couple of other groups about the spinal cord injuries received by so many people each year.

He said the discrimination he finds is with people who "do not understand the handicapped person, and just don't want to get involved."

On the highway, Enright, who appears to be very muscular from his waist up, especially in his arms, says he wears an all leather glove as he manually rolls his wheelchair along -- no motorized wheelchair for him. When it's raining, or snowing, he carries a couple of ponchos in the van. High wind and sand, such as accompanied the couple to Muleshoe on Monday, sometimes forces a stop so small pebbles can be removed from his eyes.

Enright says his special wheelchair, which was made especially to fit him, from chrome alloy, will last for the entire trip across the U.S. and back, but they have already replaced one set of tires, after about 500 miles of travel, and expect to get some 1,000 miles on the current set of tires. They have had one flat so far on the tires.

The couple hope to be in New Orleans on March 4, to celebrate their first anniversary there.

They say truckers are very helpful, warning each other of a 'slow moving vehicle ahead' and telling them of any special road conditions before them.

However, Mrs. Enright said she has been momentarily frightened when traffic would go around her too fast, and she was very much afraid they might pull back in too fast and strike her husband in his wheelchair.

Bouncy, bubbly, and obviously in total agreement with her husband's trek across the U. S. in his wheelchair, Vicki Enright takes care of the luggage, motel rooms and press packages.

John Enright grinned as he said, "She sees that I eat and take my vitamins. She's my driver, doctor, secretary and masseuse. She's great!"

They think they may be the first husband and wife team to completely cross the U. S. in this manner.

Enright says his wheelchair trip across the country and back will raise money which will be donated to the Will Power Foundation. He says the Will Power Foundation will sponsor medical research centers that are dedicated to finding cures to paralysis, spinal cord injuries and amputations, as well as to provide scholarships to persons who are confined to wheelchairs.

He says, "I need to tell people that we are all handicapped. We all have some difficulty that we have to overcome."

"We would also like to raise the consciousness of the communities regarding wheelchair access. Sidewalk corners need to have ramped corners. Restaurants, hotels and buildings in general need to provide larger stalls in the restrooms to provide access and privacy for those people who are in wheelchairs.

"And, finally, by wheeling across country, I'm not trying to set a record of any kind. I'm just trying to show people that no matter who you are, or what you look like, you can do anything you put your mind to."

Donations can be sent to The Will Power Foundation at 13652 Wyandotte St., Van Nuys, CA 91405.

Texas A&M sociologist says social life of elderly can affect dietary habits

COLLEGE STATION — Elderly people with strong attachments to relatives and friends may often have poorer dietary habits than elderly people who are married or who have a close attachment to neighbors or members of their religious group, reveals a Texas A&M University study.

Sociologist Dr. William McIntosh, who examines the influences of social support systems on elderly diet, speculated that the surprising findings may stem from senior citizens resenting any feeling of dependence on relatives and friends. Poor diet may be a consequence, he said.

Strong attachment to relatives and friends and living alone are significantly associated with lower intakes of calories, iron, thiamine, fat and magnesium. People living alone consume significantly less magnesium and fat, explained McIntosh.

Married respondents had higher intake of calories, phosphorus, calcium, thiamine, vitamin A, fat and food quantity overall. Elderly people with social support from neighbors had significantly higher amounts of phosphorus, iron, protein, niacin, riboflavin, thiamine and magnesium in their diets.

Marr said Pasadena Street has five residents and Gum Street had 21 residents. He also said several major problems will have to be overcome if the Pasadena Street paving is left in the project.

Also, the city manager said city workmen are helping with the renovation of the old Babe Ruth Park. It will be used as a practice field and for home games for the new MHS varsity baseball team.

Dear Cleta,

As the legislative session in Austin gets underway, I want to keep my constituents -- and your readers -- up to date on the issues we are dealing with in Austin. I thought the best way to do this would be to write a weekly column.

I have enclosed the first

January 23, 1989

Muleshoe-Bailey County Journal
304 West Section, Box 449
Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Dear Sirs:

On behalf of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, I would like to thank you for your assistance in promoting the recent Statewide Center Pivot Irrigation conference in Lubbock.

As a result of your efforts, more than 350 persons attended the meeting. Many were agricultural producers considering the addition of center pivot irrigation systems to their farm management programs.

Producers and local economies both benefit as a result of this educational process. Producers learn new techniques, such as center pivot irrigation, which can improve their crop production. As a result, the higher crop yields help boost local economies.

Again, thank you for your help in promoting our water conservation messages.

Sincerely,

column and will mail an additional one each Wednesday. I know this first publication is a bit personal, but in the future I hope to deal with legislative issues that affect this region and your readers. The purpose will be two fold: your readers will be informed of the issues as they unfold, and they will then be motivated to keep me apprised of how those issues affect their lives.

I see this as a service to your readers, and I hope you will make it available to them.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me in Amarillo at 374-8994 or in Austin at (512) 463-0131.

Sincerely,
Teel Bivins

THE BIVINS FAMILY GOES TO AUSTIN

It's a magnificent room.

The rich blue carpet sets the tone as you enter. Your eyes are immediately pulled toward the great oak dais at the front of the hall and then drawn upward to the ornate ceiling some six stories above. The carpet supports 31 walnut wood desks and 31 leather chairs -- some new and some old, worn until the leather has taken on a soft luster.

Each chair has a small brass nameplate on the back. Though I knew from the seating chart where my chair was, I let my son, Andrew, search it out. Nancy, Katie, Andrew and I, along with thousands of supporters, had worked for more than a year and a half to see that my name was attached to a seat on the floor of the Texas Senate.

This day -- the swearing-in ceremony of January 10 -- the chamber was filled with more than 31 chairs. Folding chairs crowded the aisle allowing friends and family to share the experience as each newly elected Senator took the oath of office.

My family was with me. Nancy, Andrew and my mother at my side; Katie and her teddy bear in my lap. A few feet away, outside the polished brass rail and overhead in the gallery, sat my brothers, in-laws and close friends.

Except for the constant sound of the motor-driven cameras, I almost felt like I was in church. Everyone was certainly dressed in their Sunday best. And, just like in church, Katie had a hard time sitting still. She entrusted me with her bear while she played with Sen. Don Henderson's son, seated behind us.

The day is mostly ceremonial routine with few surprises. But when Katie grabbed the back of my swivel chair, and pulled with all her might, I was surprised.

I instinctively thrust my foot out to offset the force of her pull. Only when my foot banged loudly against the underside of my desk was I able to save myself from falling over backwards. The disruption only drew a quick glance from Lt. Gov. Hobby, presiding over the Senate. My nearby colleagues responded with warm chuckles; I was close to a coronary, strangling the bear.

And Katie was giggling.

The swearing in itself was an intensely emotional moment. With my right hand raised I repeated the oath, but not without an occasional crack in my voice. It was particularly special that Supreme Court Justice Jack Hightower administered the oath of office. He is an old friend who has served this state as the Senator from the 30th District and in the 13th Congressional District in the U. S. House of Representatives. My brother, Levi, worked for him 10 years in Washington.

After adjourning a few hours later, my staff and I joined Representatives Rick Crawford and John Smith at a luncheon at the Four Seasons Hotel. Sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, the luncheon honored the Amarillo legislative delegation. We were reminded of the high expectations they have for us.

Nancy and I ended the day at a reception given by Governor and Mrs. Clements at the Governor's mansion. The reception honored all 181 members of the 71st Legislature -- a time to get acquainted before the work begins.

As we returned to our apartment, Nancy was quiet. I knew she was thinking about the exciting events of the day, but I also sensed she was contemplating the many changes all of this brought for our family. Change is never easy.

Katie had not slept well since arriving in Austin. I'm sure this was due in part to her sensing the feelings of uncertainty, newness and even the anxiety that her parents were experiencing. Serving in the Texas Senate will be a great family adventure filled with lots of exciting challenges.

Yet whenever one faces a challenge there are the inevitable questions -- "What if I don't measure up?"

Well, Nancy and I have met many challenges in the past and I believe we have a pretty good means of dealing with them. First, you must believe in yourself, second you've gotta trust in God. Then you must work like the dickens. That's what we intend to do.

Three Way Students Like To Write!

Did you ever notice how hard it is to get a youngster to write a letter? Well, the students in Mrs. Nancy Ridgley's class at Three Way School are all busy writing letters--and not grumbling one bit about it.

The class is participating in the Weekly Reader Writing Pals program. The children are writing to pen pals in a third grade class at Sodus Primary in Sodus, New York, and they're finding out that writing assignments can be fun.

The Three Way kids have written about all kinds of things to their Writing Pals in New York. They made a booklet of Three Way School, the community, and the area, telling about raising cotton and maize, the harvesting of both crops, about the local football and basketball games, etc.

In return, the New York kids have told local youngsters what they do in the winter time. They build ice forts, ice skate, and like water sports. They live near Lake Ontario, and they raise lots of fruit--mostly apples and cherries.

The Writing Pals program, which is sponsored by the editors of Weekly Reader, has matched more than five million children in this nationwide letter-exchange program during the past ten years. Students exchange letters with children of similar ages, but different backgrounds who are located many miles away.

Mrs. Nancy Ridgley's class writes to children who live in an area that has lots of snow. They may get 12 inches at one time as it comes off the lake.

In February, Mrs. Ridgley will receive a complimentary kit from Polaroid Education Program, which this year is cooperating with Weekly Reader to expand the Writing Pals program. In the kit, Polaroid is providing a full-color classroom poster designed to look like a page in a photo album which will encourage the students to exchange letters with each other.

Writing Pals program is not just fun--it is also very worthwhile. The program builds friendships across the miles. It teaches kids about other parts of their country. And -- it gets them writing!!

"It's dry out there, folks," he told the group. "We need 4-6 inches of water right now."

He talked about monitoring soil moisture through the use of a neutron moisture meter and the water quality program, with water being tested for nitrate concentrations.

No dangerous concentrations have been found in Bailey County. The government says anything above 44 per liter could be dangerous. The highest count found in Bailey County was 5.33 millimeters per liter.

McCain touched on the pesticide-herbicide testing program. According to the speaker 90 district wells were tested from Deaf Smith County south to Lynn County and from Bailey County to Floyd County on the east.

to help with the March 18 district track meet as they did last year.

Frank Ellis (a Lion in disguise as his brother, Jess Winn) won the Polio Plus drawing.

Visitors at the meeting included Charles Aycock, Johnnie Actkinson, Frank Ellis, Duane Castleberry and student guest, Norma Jean Del Toro.

Only 15 wells showed up with pesticides, and these were only trace amounts. In re-sampling five of the wells, no traces of pesticides were found.

He cautioned producers to be careful and not contaminate the aquifer.

He exhibited a hydrologic atlas, which has maps showing available water supplies and a water quality report.

McCain said Bailey County has 581 center pivot systems, and can be considered a leader in the installation and use of center pivots. This also represents quite an investment, with each center pivot system costing approximately $30,000.

In other business, Rotary president George Nieman said Nick Bamert is a new member of Rotary.

Bill Liles reported on a new location for the used newspapers and cans. It will be east of King

'Hank, The Cowdog' Author To Visit Here

Nationally known author and humorist, John Erickson, will be in the Muleshoe Schools on Thursday, February 2 to speak to students. He will talk to students about writing books and about his most famous subject, Hank, the cow dog.

Students at Dillman will hear the presentation at 9 a.m., while DeShazo students will hear it at 1 p.m. Watson Junior High will host the speaker in an assembly at 2:45 p.m.

During the presentation, Erickson will read excerpts from some of the books using a variety of voices to characterize Hank and his colleagues. Coming with Erickson will be Trev Tevis, who accompanies as Erickson sings some of the Hank songs.

John R. Erickson grew up in Perryton, graduated from the University of Texas in 1966, and spent two years studying at Harvard Divinity School. He decided he needed to return to his roots and write about the things he knew as a fifth-generation Texan.

He began writing in a disciplined way while working full-time as a carpenter, handyman, farm hand, cowboy, and ranch manager. He worked on ranches in the panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma for almost eight years.

In 1982, after fifteen years of trying without success to place his work with New York publishers, he started his own publishing company in his garage in Perryton. Maverick Books, Inc., now ships books all over the United States. In 1988, Texas Monthly Press began publishing the books.

Erickson has written more than 500 articles and 23 books, including the biography of cartoonist Ace Reid and several books about Hank the Cowdog. He has produced all the Hank books on cassette tape, performing all the voices himself and composing music for the stories.

Erickson's work has appeared in the Dallas Morning News, the Dallas Times Herald, Texas Highways Magazine, Western Horseman and the Cattleman. On May 4, 1985, Hank the Cowdog made his debut on national television as the star of a 30 minute animated cartoon called "CBS Storybreak."

In addition to his duties as author and publisher, Erickson has spoken to groups all over the western United States and Canada. He has spoken at the Library of Congress, the Institute of Texan Cultures and a number of universities.

He has been elected to the Texas Institute of Letters and the Philosophical Society of Texas and has received the West Texas Cultural Achievement Award from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Oppenheimer Award for the best humor book of 1987.

Sudan Varsity Basketball Teams Remain Undefeated

Both Varsity teams remain undefeated in district play as the basketball season continues. The Hornets clipped the Three Way team Tuesday night 68-53 in what was not an easy victory but probably gave the fans the highlight of the week as Justin Holley's last second throw from mid-court swished the nets for three points as the buzzer sounded. The Hornets came out strong and led 23-7 at the end of the first period but became complacent in the second quarter to let Three Way draw to within nine points, 32-23 by halftime. The Hornets seemed somewhat cool to begin the third quarter but maintained an eight point margin going into the final stanza.

Ronnie Freeman hit for nine points in the final eight minutes to aid in the Hornets 23 point fourth quarter scoring. Elliot King led the scoring with 17 points, mostly from inside shots. Freeman had a total of 13 points. Kyle Maxfield hit for 12 including two 3 pointers; Holley added 11, including four baskets from the floor in the first quarter; Gorge Salinas and Gary Boyles came off the bench to score six points each with Joe Gonzales adding two points and Donnie Freeman one.

The Varsity Girls had an easy time with Three Way taking an impressive 23-9 first quarter lead and extending that to 45-18 by halftime. They scored 28 points in the final quarter while Three Way could only manage a single point, giving Sudan their second district win of 96-24. Three Way scored 17 of their 24 points from the free throw line. The Sudan girls had four players in double figures with Nicole Maxfield leading the scoring with 21, followed closely by Kristi Hargrove with 20. Teena Newman hit for 17 and Kendra Fisher added 14. Stacy Williams had eight points, Star Tennyson hit for six, Tanya Fisher and Melonie Peck each had four points and Tracey Williams had a single basket for two points.

Last Friday night, when the Hornets opened district play, they defeated Whiteface 72-54, but it was not as easy as the score indicates. Sudan did take a first quarter lead 15-8 with Whiteface pulling to 30-26 by the half and then taking the lead 35-42 by the third quarter. The lead changed hands several times with Whiteface giving the Hornets a close game. The score was tied at 50 with four minutes left in the game when the momentum shifted to Sudan with the boys scoring 20 points in two minutes to take the impressive lead. The Hornets scored 30 points in the last quarter. Kyle Maxfield had the game high scoring with 28 points with King hitting eight from the floor and three of six from the line for 19 points. Gonzales had nine points including a three pointer while Holley added eight points, R. Freeman had six and Donnie two.

In Junior Varsity play, Whiteface defeated the Sudan boys 62-58 in a close game. Whiteface led at the end of each period by three or points but managed to hold on to win the game. Shannon Fisher led the scoring for Sudan with 18 points including five three pointers. Brain Baker scored 15 points and Monte Edwards added 12. Doug Provence hit three FG and one of three free shots for seven points, Quentin Lee had four and Quincy Lee two.

The Sudan boys played Sunday in Amherst Saturday and defeated them 38-31, taking a 15-7 first quarter lead and hanging on even though Sunday came close at times. Provence led the scoring with eight FG for 16 points. Edwards added 10, Fisher seven, Collins three and Gatewood two. Then they played Plains winning 42-19. Edwards and Provence each scored four points with Collins, Fisher and Smith (a three point shot) each adding three points. Gatewood had two points.

In their game against Anton Tuesday night Sudan held on and really pounded the boards the last quarter to pull within three points before the buzzer sounded. Baker led the scoring for Sudan with 11 points. Edwards was close behind with 10 points and then came the Lee brothers with eight points each and Fisher added a free shot for three points.

The Sudan Junior Varsity Girls lost to Anton in Sudan Friday night 34-29. After getting a slow start and trailing 18-10 at the half, they played a good third quarter and were only one point down 22-21, going into the final period. McKillip led the scoring for Sudan with eight points with Griggs hitting for six points. Reid and Adams each had four points with Davis, Carr and Narramore each getting a basket for two and Martin added a free shot.

Sudan girls played Anton Tuesday night with Anton winning 41-35. Anton led 11-8 at the end of the first quarter and hit the boards for 10 points to take a 21-13 halftime lead. Sudan out scored them in the second half but ended up short at the final buzzer. McKillip and Davis shared scoring honors with nine points. Carr had seven, Martin five, Adams three and Apadaca two.

Sudan again came up on the short end of the score 44-41 in a close game again at Frenship. The score was tied 16-16 going into the second period but Sudan trailed 23-19 at halftime and although they scored 16 points in the final period could not overcome the deficit. Narramore led the scoring with 11 points with four FG and three of three from the line. Griggs scored 10 points and Reid had seven points. Gordon had eight points including a three pointer, Rasco had three and Williams two.

The Junior High teams played Whiteface Monday night with both Sudan teams being defeated. The Sudan boys took a 18-11 lead at the half but came out cold, scoring only two points in the third quarter while Whiteface hit for 16 to take the lead going into the final period. Damron had eight points for Sudan with Roberts and Narramore each scoring six points. Bellar, King and Fisher each added two to round out the local scoring.

The Sudan girls had a lid on their basket during the first quarter to stop their scoring while Whiteface hit for nine points to take the lead. Each team scored 10 during the second period but Whiteface still led 19-10 at halftime. Weaver had six FG for 12 points to lead the scoring for Sudan. Rickard had eight, Martin four, and Williams, Gunn and Baker each hit for two.

Texas A&M psychologist says "forget it" to remember information

COLLEGE STATION — Sometimes, the best way to solve a frustrating problem is to forget about it, says a Texas A&M University cognitive psychologist who studies human memory.

"I call it 'stuck thinking,'" said Dr. Steven Smith. "When mental blocks stop us from solving problems, continuing with the same old approach is about as useful as banging your head against the wall."

The answer to finding key information tucked away in memory is to stop thinking about it. It's called "incubation" and Smith has found that if incorrect information is too accessible, we need to take time-out from thinking about it.

During experiments, clues were initially presented with some of the problems to artificially induce fixation — the frustrating part of trying to solve a problem, said Smith.

Previous explanations have suggested that problem-solving continues at some unconscious level when attention is diverted from the problem.

KNOW THE WEATHER

The days are already getting longer, and will continue to do so until late in June. Why, then, is there no warming trend?
The cold of January, often the most extreme of the winter, or February, is a result of the heat loss by the earth's surface since fall. It's also the result of jet stream patterns and other factors.
By January (after December's shortest-of-the-year days) most of the heat stored by the earth from last summer is gone.
Though the sun is closer to us in winter, its angle is less direct and it doesn't shine as long. Not until March 21st will daylight again equal night. From that time on heat will build faster.
The much-talked greenhouse effect, allowing the sun's rays to get through our atmosphere to a greater degree, is the concern of most of today's scientists. But the weakening of the protective screen (the layer of gases around the earth) may also allow more heat to escape.
This possibility, though not taken as seriously as the heating-up problem, might help offset the greenhouse heating effect, but not enough to eliminate all concern.
