Artesia Goat Ropers Club, Artesia fire trucks.

When the parade breaks up in the west end of town the anti-aircraft battery will proceed west on Highway 83 to the airport, where it will be on exhibit, along with a B-29 Superbomber. No charge will be made for inspection of the exhibit.

At noon, in order to relieve the overflow from the commercial eating places, members of the Rebekah Lodge will serve a chuck-wagon lunch at the I.O.O.F. Hall.

The big afternoon attraction will be the "hot-rod" races on the new veterans' track at the municipal airport for $425 in prize money, with more than a dozen racing cars expected for the seven events, two of them local cars.

The qualifying trials of two laps each are to start promptly at 2 o'clock. Each car is to run two laps, with the faster lap setting the car's qualifying time.

The second event will be a four-lap trophy dash between the two fastest qualifying cars.

The next two races will be six laps each, the first by the fastest qualifying cars and the second for the slowest qualifying cars, to be lined up in inverted order from their qualifying times.

The Australian pursuit race will be the fifth event, with the six fastest cars starting in single file in inverted order to their qualifying times. The race will run six laps.

The sixth event will be the consolation, a race of eight laps for all cars which have not been in the money up to that time.

The main and final event will be for all qualifying cars and will run 20 laps, or 10 miles.

Among the cars expected and their owners and drivers, the driver the same as owner unless otherwise given:

No. 515, Barron & Killingsworth, Hugh Barron, Artesia; No. 774, Ralph Barr, Artesia; No. 13, Bill Graham, Belen; No. 14, T. C. Noe, Gallup; No. 299, Ullrich Brothers & Adams, Gayle Knapp, Roswell; No. 31, Kenny Brothers, Henry Wagoner, Roswell; No. 2, RAAF Service Station, Wesley Dible, Roswell; No. 33, Davis Brothers, Jack Davis, Roswell; No. 10, Ronald Hayes, Duffy Fravender, Roswell; "Acy Ducey," Ace of the Hi-Way Garage, Gordon Woolly, Carlsbad; No. 111, Ace of the Hi-Way, Bud Othlis, Carlsbad.

The track, built by the UVC, is one of the best and fastest in this area. It was oiled last week, then broken up, dragged, and tamped, and oiled again Monday.

The road at the airport along the east fence leads directly to the race track, whereas the road spurring off and leading in a northwesterly direction leads to the airport ramp and administration building.

The one affair of the day to which the public is not invited will be a banquet for veterans and their ladies at the Veterans Memorial Building from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Overlapping the banquet will be two public events, one of them old fiddlers' and square dance contests at The Patio, Roselawn and Quay avenues, with prizes offered in each. After the contests there will be square dancing for those wishing. The contests are to start at 7 o'clock.

Starting at the same hour and lasting until 8:30 o'clock will be a band concert by the Artesia municipal band on the park in front of the Veterans Memorial Building.

In that building, starting at 9 o'clock will be the big VJ-Day dance and carnival, with members of the UVC in charge of bingo and other games and concessions.

Artesia was in holiday mood Tuesday, as preparations were completed for the big community-wide celebration of the anniversary of VJ-Day on Friday, the theme of which is "Preparedness for Peace."

The city was gay and colorful, with welcome and patriotic banners decorating nearly every building in the downtown area as well as some of the outlying neighborhoods—and banners strung across the streets. Buses were to fly the flag from their places on VJ-Day.

The day has been proclaimed a holiday by Mayor A. P. Mahone, and last week asked the co-operation of the people of the community with the sponsoring organization, the United Veterans of Foreign Wars, members of the Artesia Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans.

In the parade will be members of the veterans' organizations, a number of floats, three bands, a composite anti-aircraft battery from Fort Bliss, cowboys and cowgirls, racing cars, and others.

The bands will include an Army band from Tucson Army Air Field, to be flown here Thursday morning in a C-47 or C-54; the Artesia High School summer band, and the Artesia municipal band.

The anti-aircraft battery, with which are to be an officer and 14 enlisted men, is to consist of a 90-millimeter anti-aircraft gun, a radar-controlled searchlight with millimeter and power equipment, a 37-millimeter gun, and a jeep.

The parade will form at 13th and Main Streets, with the various sections lining up in different streets in that neighborhood, to fall in as designated, and proceed down Main Street.

At Second Street the line of march will turn to the south to Quay Avenue and then will go west.

They said leading will be a city police car, immediately behind will be the national colors, and then the colors of the various organizations.

The first section, which will assemble on 13th Street north of Main, will be headed by the municipal band. Behind the band, in this order will be Mayor A. P. Mahone and George Deans of Roswell, New Mexico department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Reed Mulkey of Roswell, immediate past commander of the American Legion; members of the Artesia City Council, commanders of the service organizations comprising the United Veterans Club, members of the United Spanish War Veterans in a car, disabled veterans in cars, the high school summer band, and then marching veterans.

Floats and decorated vehicles will comprise the second section. These are to assemble in 11th, 12th, and 13th Streets south of Main.

The third section is to line up in this order in 12th Street north of Main: Eddy County Mounted Sheriff's Posse, Army band from Tucson, Ariz., Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, anti-aircraft equipment from Fort Bliss, members of the

Garbage Cans Without Lids Bring 12 Fines

A number of persons were cited in municipal court this week for sanitary code violations, having open garbage cans. This is a direct city sanitary ordinance violation and brings a minimum fine of $5 to individuals arraigned in court on this charge.

Judge J. D. Josey, in citing 12 different persons in court for this violation, commented that the inspections of cans and arrangements are efforts to get garbage cans flyproof and to protect the health of all citizens in the community. He again stressed that it was for the safety of every individual and asked for the cooperation of all in clearing the city of uncovered garbage disposal containers.

Those cited for the sanitary violations were Salvador Alnaiz, C. L. Kinsworth, Kenneth Ragsdale, Chester Miller, V. Plator, C. C. Plator, J. T. Joplin, Paul Stevenson, Ralph Burnsworth, O. W.

Parking Meter Standards Are Being Set; Ready By Aug. 25

Work started Monday on the setting of standards for the installation of the parking meters in the downtown area of Artesia, which were authorized April 14 by action of the City Council.

Walter E. Greenebaum, a representative of the Karpark Corporation of Cincinnati, Ohio, from whom the meters are being purchased by the city, is here supervising the work, which, he said, will be completed by Aug. 25 and the meters ready for operation. Installation of the meters themselves on the standards should start about Aug. 22, according to Greenebaum.

The City Council contracted on April 18 for 350 meters from the Karpark Corporation.

At that time it was announced the meters, according to the contract, will cost $25,711, none of which the city must pay out by way of purchase. On the contrary, the city will retain 50 per cent of the revenue from the parking meters until they are paid for, while the manufacturer will receive 50 per cent until that time.

The contract recites that the city has the right to rescind the purchase any time during the first six months, by giving written notice in the form prescribed. If the city has not rescinded the contract within that period, the city is then obligated to retain the meters.

Of the 350 meters, eight are to be installed at the postoffice so adjusted as to be restricted to one parking period of 12 minutes for a penny, with no multiple penny privilege.

Greenebaum said the remaining meters will take pennies or nickels. They will be so geared that a motorist may insert a penny for 12 minutes, or up to five pennies for multiples thereof up to an

The presentation talk was made by J. D. Smith of Artesia, chairman of the Gateway district. Eagle Scout Unangst's mother pinned his badge on him.

Besides his Eagle Scout badge, young Unangst received Merit Badges in life saving, bird study, civics, and camping.

Other Merit Badges and advancements awarded: James H. Briscoe, swimming, rabbit raising, and life saving; Carroll Cochran, athletics; Ozell Roberts, first aid and safety; Duane Tucker, Order of the Arrow; Gayle Richardson, First-Class Scout; Douglas Whitefield, Second-Class Scout, and Connie Snow and Billy Matthews, Tenderfoot Scouts.

VJ-Day Uniform Is Whatever Individual Has

The uniform of the day on VJ-Day is quite flexible, members of the United Veterans Club announced.

However, it was asked that insofar as possible all veterans wear some sort of identifying garb, from that old dress uniform or overseas cap to the cap of one of the veterans' organizations.

Many veterans, who do not have uniforms, are planning to wear khaki trousers and shirts, along with overseas caps or organization caps.

But members of the celebration and parade committees said, parade, whether you have identifying garb or not. The fact a man — or woman — is marching or riding in sections of the parade set aside for veterans will be sufficient to show that he or she served. Just plain civvies will do — but march or ride. And a veteran does not have to belong to any organization to be welcome.

Rev. Paul Brown Of Presbyterian Church Resigns

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Artesia concurred at a congregational meeting Sunday after the regular morning services in the resignation of Rev. Paul L. Brown, pastor here the last two years.

He previously had announced his intentions to the church session the night of July 27, but his resignation was not official until concurred in by the congregation.

The resignation of Rev. Brown is to be effective Sept. 1.

The pastor said he resigned in order to attend Emmanuel College at the University of Toronto at Toronto, Canada, where he plans to take a course of study leading to a doctor of theology degree.

He will leave Artesia the first (continued last page this section)

Grid Schedule Of 10 Games Is Announced

A 10-game football schedule for the Artesia High School Bulldogs was announced this week by F. L. Green, principal and athletic director. Half of the games are to be at home and half away.

At the same time Chief Coach Claude (Jiggs) Whittington and Coach M. Duane Sams issued a call for the first football practice, to be held Monday, Aug. 25.

The varsity coaches also asked all candidates for the varsity squad to meet at the high school at 7 o'clock Friday evening, Aug. 15, to talk over the schedule and practice plans. Those wishing to order football shoes may do so at that time, they said.

Principal Green said the "B" squad, composed of players who do not make the varsity, will be coached by Kenneth Lance. For them a five-game schedule has been completed, two at home, with the prospects more games may be booked.

Don Riddle will coach the "C" squad, composed of junior high school boys. No schedule for them was announced.

The varsity schedule: Sept. 19, Capitan here; Sept. 26, Jal here; Oct. 3, Eunice there; Oct. 10, homecoming, Hobbs here; Oct. 17, Cloudford here; Oct. 24, Tucuman

Junior-Senior High Registration To Be Held Friday, Saturday, Aug. 29-30

A schedule for enrollments for students of Artesia Junior-Senior High School for the coming semester, as well as dates on which new students in the fourth through sixth grades are asked to register, was announced this week by Sam Mayfield, superintendent of schools.

The advance enrollment of students of the junior and senior high schools, to be Friday and Saturday, Aug. 29-30, is in pursuance of an agreement of the Administrative Council of Eddy County, the superintendent said.

The schedule: Seventh and eighth grades, Friday morning, Aug. 29; ninth grade, Friday afternoon; 10th and 11th grades, Saturday morning; 12th grade, Saturday afternoon.

All students of those grades requested by Superintendent Mayfield to report at the high school on the designated days, in order to expedite enrollment and have it out of the way for the opening of school on Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Buses will run on Aug. 29 and 30 to bring in students who will be enrolling. The regular school schedule of bus runs will start Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Superintendent Mayfield requested

Lions Install Playground Equipment, Which Kids Will Dedicate Aug. 22

A number of pieces of playground equipment, ordered a year ago, has been installed in Central Park during the last week by members of the Artesia Lions Club, the sponsoring organization.

The equipment is to be dedicated Friday afternoon, Aug. 22, when the Lions stage a parade and party for boys and girls of the community.

The parade is to form on South Second Street just off of Main Street, and go from there to Central Park for the dedication.

Ulas Golden, chairman of the Lions Club boys' and girls' committee, said the parade will be for all children up to 12 years old, and that prizes will be offered for the best decorated bicycle, tricycle, wagon, or pet, or costume.

Golden said this week, "Come on children and fix up those toys or costumes, and let's have a big parade and lots of fun."

Shortly after the Lions Club announced the playground project about a year ago, two merry-go-rounds, which were made locally, were installed in the park. But other pieces which were ordered from manufacturers did not arrive until recently.

And two more pieces are yet to arrive. The five new pieces which have been set up under the direction of a committee headed by Earl Zeigler include a large swing set, on which there are a horizontal bar, a trapeze, and rings.

Another merry-go-round and two small swing sets, as well as an acting bar, on which are horizontal bars at various heights, are included.

Members of the Lions Club said one of the merry-go-rounds installed a year ago is to be moved to La Loma for the use of Spanish-American children.

Upland Cotton Program Details Given By USDA

The following details of the loan program covering upland cotton for the 1947 season were announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

The average loan rate for 1/8-inch middling cotton, gross weight, will be 26.49 cents per pound, which is 92 1/2 per cent of the parity price of cotton as of August 1. The parity price on August 1 was 28.64 cents a pound. Last year the average loan rate, 92 1/2 per cent of parity, for 1/8-inch middling cotton, gross weight, was 22.83 cents a pound.

The average rate for 16/16-inch middling cotton will be 145 cents, 1.45 cents, a pound above the average rate for 1/8-inch middling cotton. The loan rate will apply to the gross weight of the cotton and the average rate for 16/16-inch middling cotton, gross weight, will be 27.94 cents a pound.

Premiums and discounts for grade and staple in the 1947 loan program will be calculated in relation to the loan rate on 15/16-inch middling cotton. The schedule of premiums and discounts for grade and staple applicable in the 1947 loan program was issued June 2, when an interim loan program was also announced.

The loan rates will vary according to location. The rate for 1/8-inch middling cotton, gross weight, will vary from a high of 33 cents a pound in the concentrated mill area of the Carolina and California.

Location differentials for each warehouse point will be based on the freight rate to the mill area of the Carolinas, except in eastern Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida, where a zone system will be in effect.

Loans will be made on cotton represented by warehouse receipts issued by warehouses approved by Commodity Credit Corporation. Cotton to be eligible for the loan must be classed by a board of cotton examiners of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cotton producers' notes will bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent and will mature July 31, 1948, but will be callable on demand. Loans will be available until May 1, 1948.

Producer eligibility requirements are defined in Cotton Loan instructions issued by CCC. Loan terms are being made available through approved cotton warehouses, approved lending agencies, and county agricultural conservation association committees.

rate being about 50 per cent of those who got it. During 1802 half of Santo Domingo's population of 40,000 died of it; six years later, two-thirds of the people of Guadeloupe perished during a single year.

Yellow fever has been and is an important factor in the history of the Americas. It accounted for some regions of the continent and yet was at the same time in some sort of a defensive force against encroaching Europeans who were even less immune to it than the natives or the creoles.

Besides giving his attention to cholera, tuberculosis, and several other scourges of mankind, young Dr. Finlay undertook the study of yellow fever. He started his research in the historical field and from there worked on the different possibilities for the propagation of the disease. In 1872, after 13 years of study, the summary of his investigation, presented by him at the Havana Academy of Sciences, was still "a trail leading nowhere."

In February, 1881, however, he was able to state, in his address at the Washington International Sanitary Conference, that his studies had led him to believe that three requisites were necessary for the propagation of yellow fever: The presence of a previous case, the presence of a person liable to contract the disease, and, finally, an independent agent to carry the malady from a sick to a healthy individual.

Only a few months later, in August, 1881, Finlay discovered that the "Aedes aegypti" species of the mosquito family was the transmission agent in question. How he reached this conclusion was not a matter of accident or of hasty research. Some time before it had occurred to him that the disease might spread from a sort of inoculation by some outward agent; none was more perfectly suited to this than the mosquito. Finlay, decided therefore to give all his energies to the study of the mosquito. However, few were those who believed him when he finally had the proof that the "Aedes aegypti" was the culprit! he was laughed at, called a maniac, referred to as "the mosquito doctor."

In humble silence he worked on through 18 unbelieving years. Finally, in 1900, two British doctors who had visited him in Havana, Drs. Durham and Myers, published in the British Medical Journal an article expressing confidence in his work.

But it was not until a few months later, when Dr. Walter Reed and Drs. Carroll, Agramonte, and Lazear had been appointed on the Army Yellow Fever Board in a newly liberated Cuba, that Finlay's theory was awarded public recognition. After the board had given up all other possibilities—and only then—it turned towards Dr. Finlay's "strange ideas."

Carroll and Lazear let themselves be bit by infected mosquitoes. Both fell ill from the disease and Dr. Lazear died in the experiment which proved how true Finlay's theory was.

The latter years of Carlos J. Finlay's simple and dignified life were full and happy. He was honored by his own and other countries. He became chief sanitary officer of Cuba, founded the National Sanitary Board. He had only been retired six years when he died in August, 1915, in Havana.

YELLOW FEVER'S FOE

It is sometimes surprising to find how little is generally known about Dr. Finlay, how few people realize what he stands for, and what humanity has gained because of him. One of the great figures of science, he is unknown to the average well-informed public, and lies forgotten in the shadow of two other great men, Gorgas and Walter Reed.

Carlos J. Finlay was born more than a hundred years ago on Dec. 3, 1883 in the Cuban city of Puer to Principe, now Camaguey. Of Scotch and French ancestry, he combined the best European qualities with those of his native soil, being, in spite of his cosmopolitan background, a true son—and today one of the glories—of the Pearl of the Antilles.

Part of Carlos' childhood and early youth were spent in European youth were spent in Europe several times to return to his native land. In 1855 he graduated from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia and, after a number of trips to South America, settled finally in Havana where he was to live most of the rest of his life.

The year was 1857 and yellow fever—the plague that had been terrorizing humanity for centuries—was still raging in most tropical and some temperate countries. The deadly "yellow jack" or "black vomit," as it is sometimes called, assailed the south of the United States and the Caribbean region with special intensity, while in some sections it had become an endemic disease. Yellow fever cost thousands of lives in each epidemic, the mortality

Do you hope he gets away with it?

Suppose it were an automobile he was taking; would you still want him to get away with it? What the boy is doing is very human, isn't it? But is it right or wrong?

All through our lives we have to think whether it is right or wrong to undersell a competitor, to use power politics, to hold back some of the truth, to . . . well, to do a thousand different things. Those who want to build a better world are constantly concerned with the problem of right and wrong.

The Church, too, is vitally concerned with that problem. Its leaders and its followers have spent long hours studying, praying, living, to find the best and truest answers. The Church has good, realistic answers to the questions of right and wrong, answers all men need, answers that, if followed, will build a better world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Landsun Theater Has Grand Opening VJ-Day

CONGRATULATIONS To Artesia's New LANDSUN THEATER

It was an honor to have done the electrical work on this beautiful new theater that is such a credit to our city.

RICHARDS ELECTRIC

Albert Richards—Electrical Contractor

Artesia's new Landsun Theater, one of the finest in the Southwest, will have its opening afternoon of VJ-Day, Thursday, it has been announced by Ray Bartlett.

Built under extreme difficulties because of shortages of materials and consequent delays, the Landsun, originally estimated to cost about $100,000, actually cost $150,000 for building and equipment, Bartlett said. Construction started in February of last year.

The building is of steel and brick construction, with the front covered by tiers of stucco, crossed vertically by extensions from top to bottom, giving the appearance of stone with pillars.

Setting off the front is an enormous vertical sign, bearing the words, "Land of the Sun," and extending down from the roof to the marquee, which is triangular and has on the easterly and westerly slopes illuminated attraction boards.

The under side of the marquee, and extending into the spacious lobby, is decorated in a pattern representing the setting sun and illuminated by neon lights. In the center of the lobby is a circular box office, which is equipped with automatic ticket and change-making machines. It and the lobby are tiled in buff, while there is a terrazzo floor.

As one enters the foyer, he finds a large, comfortable-looking room, which has indirect lighting and tile floors and walls. From the foyer are two entrances to the main floor of the theater, as well as entrances to two "cry rooms," a smoker, and the restrooms.

Also leading from the foyer are two stairways to the mezzanine, which is carpeted and is appointed with royal chrome furniture consisting of settees, chairs, and tables. Restrooms are also found off the mezzanine, as well as the main office.

From the mezzanine two stairways continue upward to the balcony, which is not being equipped at this time, but which has a future capacity of 350 seats.

And high above, at the rear of the balcony is the projection booth, which has the latest Simplex sound and motion picture equipment.

But the average person entering the theater would not make the trip to the mezzanine, balcony, and booth. Rather, he would continue into the auditorium at the ground-floor level.

The theater proper, although it is quite large, derives an appearance of even greater size from a modernistic scheme of decorating. Along each side wall is a series of six panels, seeming to overlap one another, an illusion made by sloping each inward and then rounding off several inches, as the next panel starts. And the panels are all of different color in pastel shades.

The stage, beyond the proscenium, which frames a golden curtain 30 feet high and 40 feet wide, has on it a 17x23-foot movie screen, one of the largest in the Southwest. The borders and wing drapes are a rich, deep turquoise.

Carpeting from the foyer continues down the two aisles of the theater to the front of the house. In two side sections and a center section, the main floor has 824 bodyform seats. Besides these there are five each in the two "cry rooms" and 20 in the smoker. The seats have airfoam cushions, which raise automatically when not in use, and upholstered backs.

The "cry rooms" and the smoker are all equipped with speakers and have glass fronts, so the picture can be seen and heard. Each also has a ventilating system. The auditorium will be heated in winter and cooled in summer by means of automatic systems. Through air conditioners, washed air enters the theater from either side of the stage. The furnace is of the blower type.

All in all, the Landsun Theater is a magnificent place, comfortable and appealing, second to few in the nation, and far surpassing the majority.

Four Circulars Tell How To Can Foods Tastily

Your home-canned food, to be worth all the trouble you take to prepare it, ought to be as tasty as you remember your Mom's to be. And your home-canning will be "up-to-date" tasty if you follow instructions in the four new circulars by Edith Woodard, state extension nutritionist.

Three of the circulars — "Canning Meat," "Canning Vegetables," and "Canning Fruits" — give new, tested, processing time-tables for canning various foods in all sizes and types of containers.

Also featured in the circulars are the altitude tables which list the elevations of the principal towns and cities of the state and the amount of canner pressure needed for each locality. For example, Mrs. Alamogordo at 4350 feet altitude would process her canned foods at 12-pound pressure, while Mrs. Cloudford, just 18 miles away, but 5000 feet higher, would process here at 15 pounds.

The fourth of Miss Woodard's new circulars, "Food Spoilage and Its Causes," is a leaflet which describes the symptoms of spoilage for each of the various kinds of canned foods. Methods of preventing this spoilage are also listed in the folder. "For safety, always boil all home-canned meats and vegetables 15 to 20 minutes before tasting," Miss Woodard advises.

All four booklets are yours for the asking. Just drop a line to your county agent's office in Carlsbad. But don't forget to give your name and address.

Increase Of Conservation Is Need Of Nation

Calling for a speed-up of conservation work, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson says that otherwise the erosion and flood destruction of our productive topsoil may well lead to a lower living standards.

"Flood control is a job that starts where run-off begins," the secretary said. "It includes treating the land in whatever way will maintain maximum infiltration of rainfall into soil consistent with the capability of the land for the production of crops, pasture, and forests. "It includes the safe and useful disposal of run-off from fields and slopes through stable waterways and the temporary detention of part of the run-off in upland storage basins where necessary and practicable.

"Flood control measures fit in well with other conservation and forestry practices designed to retain and build up soil fertility, make farming operations easier, increase production and maintain farm and forest lands in stable condition.

"These measures are good business for farm, ranch, and forest owners and for the urban populations downstream who depend upon the land for food, clothing, and shelter, and whose investments are protected by more stable stream-flow in the waterways that serve them.

"The over-all job of improving the nation's watersheds to reduce flood and sedimentation damage is just begun. It must be expanded and speeded up if our soil resources are to be protected and maintained."

Eastern New Mexico College Gets Surplus Buildings

Above are pictured three structures which are being moved by Eastern New Mexico College at Portales to the campus from the Fort Sumner airbase. By converting these buildings for educational purposes, the college will save the state many hundred thousands of dollars, according to President Floyd D. Golden.

The building at the top — a steel-frame hangar — will be remade into a field house and gymnasium. To be 128x150 feet, the building will contain three playing floors, dressing rooms, shower facilities, office space, and classrooms. Using portable bleachers, the gym will seat from four to five thousand spectators for athletic contests.

When used as an auditorium, the building can accommodate more than seven thousand people. The second building shown is the base theater and will be reconstructed on the ENMC campus for student use. It will be 50x108 feet.

The third building, the base gymnasium, will be used on the college campus as a vocational education center. Containing 14,000 square feet of floor space, it will house the many thousands of dollars worth of machinery secured by the college through war surplus. Training in industrial arts—woodwork, carpentry, and related fields—automobile mechanics, power machinery, lathe work, sheet metal, welding, and electrical work will be conducted in this building. Classrooms will be located on the second floor.

The buildings are now being prepared for moving, and construction on the campus will go forward as rapidly as possible, reported President Golden. These buildings are all in excellent condition and the facilities of the college will be greatly improved by their addition.

Besides these three major structures to be moved, already on the campus are a number of buildings which have been secured from the Fort Sumner base. These include a large quadrangular building containing 11 classrooms, 24 offices, two faculty lounges, and lavatory facilities, and an infirmary with seven bedrooms, an apartment for the nurse, and offices.

A WAC dormitory from the base is on the campus and will be ready for the opening of college on Sept. 3. It has 50 bedrooms and will house 100 men. It is complete with heating plant, lounge, and lavatory facilities.

Six small buildings have been placed on the campus for storage and maintenance and three more buildings will come from the Hobbs Army Air Field to be converted into a vocational agriculture laboratory.

Outstanding 4-H Leader Will Get Trip To Chicago

In order to promote 4-H Club work and give recognition to 4-H leaders in the state, then New Mexico Association of Home Extension Clubs will contribute $100 for traveling expenses to send an outstanding woman 4-H Club leader to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December.

The award was selected by delegates to the association's annual convention in Raton early this month. The 4-H leader will be chosen by a state scoring committee.

According to Mrs. T. W. Coleman, president of the association, each county may submit the name and record of one candidate who has served as a leader of a 4-H Club five years or more.

Records of candidates must be reported on standard forms, which may be obtained at county extension offices, and must be received at the state 4-H Club office not later than Oct. 15, Mrs. Coleman said.

The state scoring committee will consist of representatives from the New Mexico Farm Bureau, New Mexico A. & M. College, and the New Mexico Association of Home Extension Clubs. Other members of the scoring committee are Elsie Cunningham, state home agent; L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H Club leader, and one county agent to be selected.

Nation's Farmers Safeguard Productive Land

In a congratulatory letter to E. C. McArthur, president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said, "The conservation being accomplished by farmers within soil conservation districts is one of the most promising assurances we could have of the permanency of American agriculture."

Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, said in a formal statement, "This action by American farmers marks the beginning of a movement that can insure the permanency of our nation. It provides for the permanent security of a basic resource of our nation — productive soil — without which it cannot survive."

It is interesting to note how soil conservation minded the farmers and ranchers of this com-

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICTS BIRTHDAY

On the 10th anniversary of the first farmer-voted and farmer-managed soil conservation district—organized Aug. 4, 1937—there were a billion acres and 4½ million United States farms in 1,900 districts. The first district established under state soil conservation district enabling law was the Brown Creek District in Anson County, North Carolina (Inset).

community are becoming. They are putting into practice, as rapidly as possible, many conservation measures on their farms and ranches.

One glance at this soil conservation map of the United States shows how it would be possible to leave Artesia and travel continuously in soil conservation districts all the way to Washington, D. C. It is also easy to see that New Mexico comes in with its share of these districts, having a total of 52, with five more in the process of organization.

In less than 10 years, about 1900 districts have been formed by farmers and ranchers of the 48 states and Puerto Rico, totaling more than a billion acres. Truly, the rapidity with which they have, within a single decade, made use of this remarkable grassroots device for safeguarding their productive land, improving their farm economy and attaining a better and more satisfying living, has been a phenomenon in American agriculture.

have from three to five fingers' space between the tip of the pubic bones and the rear end of the keel.

So, if all one does now is take out the non-layers along with those out of condition, he won't be doing a bad job of culling. And this is the easiest time of year to cull.

New Selling System Is Used This Year At Annual State Ram Sale

A new system of order of sale was tried out at the 10th annual New Mexico ram sale in Albuquerque Aug. 12-13, Ivan Watson, manager of the ram sale committee, announced. Instead of the past method of selling all the consignments of one breed before starting another, this year's system was an alternating one, whereby a percentage — about a third—of each breed was used in making up the order of sale.

That is, Watson explained, a third of the Rambouillets or a third of the Corriedales, were sold first, then the second third of each breed, and the last third of each.

"We're trying out this system this year in order to be fair to all consignors," Watson said. "The percentage system does not indicate a judging of the pens. The last pens through the sale have just as desirable rams as those at the beginning."

Move Is On To Form Cerebral Palsy Division For Crippled Children

Cerebral palsy, the dreadcrippler, which, like polio, strikes innocent young children and leaves them twisted for life, will soon face a new and determined enemy in New Mexico, if plans do not go astray.

A move is on to form a cerebral palsy division of the State Society for Crippled Children. Preliminary plans call for the establishment of a hospital to rehabilitate and train victims of this indiscriminatecrippler.

At present, New Mexico has no facilities to treat such cases and the need is urgent.

'Green Manure' Crops

"Green manure" is vital to soil rebuilding and higher crop yields that come from a crop of legumes, as shown by accompanying chart.

To compare the organic matter and nitrogen various legumes produce through their tops and roots, tests were made at Joliet soil experiment field. Plots of white blossom sweet clover, alfalfa and red clover were seeded in oats May 1. Samples of tops and roots were collected November 1. Results showed that white blossom sweet clover produced considerably more organic matter and nitrogen in the fall of the first year than the other legumes. Sweet clover is a superior green manure crop because of its growth in the fall and its high percentage of nitrogen in the spring of the second year. This greater fall growth the first year is due to the fact that sweet clover does not bloom, but continues growth until freezing weather. Alfalfa and red clover frequently will bloom in the fall of the first year. Vegetative growth stops with the blooming.

Limed Litter Helps Improve Hens' Health

Built-Up System Also Benefits Baby Chicks

By W. J. DRYDEN

Not only as a means of saving on the cost of litter material as well as on labor, but also as a coccidiosis control measure, authorities now recommend that litter be left in the brooder and laying house for a year or more.

When the litter is treated with hydrated lime little danger from disease will result. By using the built-up litter method, the poultry house receives additional insulation, resulting in drier litter and more uniform temperature. Extensive tests at Ohio and Washington State colleges have proven the value of this system of litter management. When the built-up method is employed, the litter is first put in at two to three inches deep, to which one pound of hydrated lime is added to each five square feet of floor space. When the litter begins to pack, another layer of litter as well as an application of lime is added. This may be repeated as needed. When the litter is stirred with a fork and sticks together in clumps, or if the hens can't move it when scratching, more lime should be added. Less liming will be needed if feed hoppers and other equipment is moved occasionally.

When deep litter is used, a greater amount of lime may be advisable. This system, in fact no system, will be satisfactory in damp weather, unless the house is well built and land well drained.

Practical Control of Brucellosis in Swine

The following program for control of brucellosis in swine should prove effective. Blood test breeding stock, segregation of infected breeding stock, blood test the prospective gilts and boars frequently and up to and during the first pregnancy, removing reactors and breed only negative gilts to clean boars.

Ammate or 2,4-D will Knock Out Poison Ivy

Poison ivy now can be killed with either of the two new chemicals, ammate or 2,4-D. If ammate is used as a spray, dissolve it in water at the rate of one pound to the gallon. Spray when the ivy is in full leaf so that the largest possible amount of surface will be covered, but spray on a cool, cloudy day when there is little chance of rain for 10 hours. Cover plants well so that they are soaked.

Crop, Livestock Advises Corn In Cotton States

Increased planting of hybrid corn in cotton states is helping to improve the relatively low corn yields per acre, advises the NCPA crop and livestock round-up. The need for higher yields is indicated by the fact that the cost of producing a bushel of corn in Southwestern states averages about 60 cents per bushel higher than in the Corn Belt states, although the Corn Belt has higher costs per acre.

Early lambs were one of the best-paying farm enterprises in Arkansas this year, and M. W. Muldrow, extension animal husbandman, advises the planting of small grain in August or September to provide grazing for 1948 lambs.

Flowing under cotton stalks as soon as possible after picking is two-way insurance for next year's crop. It improves soil condition and fertility, and reduces insects.

Wider use of fertilizers in liquid form seems likely from recent developments. Some advantages of liquid fertilizers include: More uniform applications, quicker results, less danger of burning, and the use of highly concentrated fertilizers at any desired rates.

Supplemental feeding of cottonseed meal to offset reduced grazing from pastures during August and September is usually profitable to dairymen and other livestock producers.

Dehydrated sweet potato meal compared favorably with corn meal in dairy rations in Georgia tests, and the butter from cows fed sweet potato meal had a richer color and was higher in Vitamin A content.

Louisiana Experiment Station studies show that the increase in the calf crop alone, will usually pay the cost of improving pastures, to say nothing of weight gains or milk increases.

A Great Oil Company introduces a Great NEW Oil!

Phillips Research brings you the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear Phillips 66 trade-mark!

When a great oil company brings out a completely new, different motor oil—that's news!

And when that oil company is willing to stake its reputation—to come right out and say, "This is the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear the Phillips 66 trade-mark!"—

That's food for thought for every man who owns a car!

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is the result of extensive research, conducted over a number of years by Phillips research scientists. It is of the modern detergent (self-cleaning), oxidation-resistant type. Lessons learned in developing heavy duty lubricants for Army tanks and trucks, the experiences of others who have developed detergent-type oils, and demands of engine manufacturers for their higher-speed, higher-pressure engines, have all been taken into consideration.

The base stocks from the Oklahoma fields, which oil men now recognize as among the finest in the world, are another contributing feature of this great new oil.

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is now on sale at all Phillips 66 Dealers. We urge you to provide your car with our finer, newer automotive lubricant.

Social Workers Favor County Bond Issues For General Hospital

A group of New Mexico social workers having pre-chapter status with the American Association of Social Workers have gone on record as favoring county bond issues for building general hospitals throughout the state. Mrs. Helen Ellis, director of the social work training program at the University of New Mexico, announced. "It is to be hoped," the statement said, "that the federal government will match state and local funds for this purpose in the near future, and that the which is in a more favorable position, will assist the counties in these much-needed medical facilities." The group, which has 21 members from all over Mexico, expects to attain chapter status in the American Association of Social Workers by 1948 if it can meet the national requirements by that time, Ellis said.

No Giacobinid Is Believed To Have Struck Earth

Of the bright Giacobinid meteors which people saw flash through the sky last Oct. 9, not one is believed to have struck the earth as a meteorite. Dr. Lincoln LaPaz, director of the University of New Mexico Institute of Meteoritics, said. Although he has made more than a dozen investigations of reported meteorite falls, no Giacobinid specimens have been found, he said. Extensive observations from photographs taken during the shower revealed that about 15 per cent of the meteors vaporized in a sudden, intense burst of light at the very end of their atmospheric path, he reported, adding that this is the first time any meteor shower has exhibited such phenomena. Last October, 20 university scientists, some flying in a B-29 at an altitude of 20,000 feet and other-

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that mortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of Life to man,—even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality."—(Page 311.) VICTORY

Today is VJ-Day, the second anniversary of the end of fighting in the last World War. It is a day of rejoicing because of the carnage and destruction that was brought to an end, and it is well to pause in tribute to those who made the sacrifice necessary to achieve this victory. However, victory has not ushered in the era that most of us expected, in that most of us are somewhat disappointed by conditions that have existed the last two years and that still exist.

Why is this true? Why did not victory bring an era of peace? These questions cannot be answered dogmatically or definitely, but I believe some thoughts along this line will be in order. One thought is this: Victory within itself does not develop within either the victor or the vanquished characteristics that make for peace. This preparation must have been begun previous to the actual conflict.

Were we as Americans prepared to assume the responsibilities that of necessity evolve upon the victor? I think there is no doubt but what the answer is no. Most of us had the idea that the end of the war would solve all of our problems; that our responsibilities would end then; that we could step back and that things would assume a normal and proper course; that our worries would be over. Such is never the case; therefore, it has not been so in this instance. The proper course for men to follow is not the course of least resistance; instead it is a course of preparedness, of thoughtfulness, of unselfishness. Each of these is the result of deliberate planning and action. Neither the victor nor the vanquished had done enough of the right kind of thinking; nor made the right kind of preparation; nor rid themselves of unselfish motives enough to pave the way for peace. Certainly some individuals and some nations had done more along this line than others, but not enough of us had done enough to make our desires come true.

Another thought is that peace and orderly living are not brought about by external circumstances or conditions. Rather they are the result of the mental or spiritual condition of a person. The Apostle Paul said of himself, "I have learned whatsoever state I am in therewith to be content." Contentment is necessary to peace and orderly living and contentment requires victory, not over some person, but over self; over false pride; over selfish ambition.

We need to follow our victory on the fields of battle with victory over self, and we need to invade the world with an example and message of humility and unselfish service; to instill within the hearts of men the desire for and characteristics necessary for peace. It is only by this development within mankind in general that peace and orderly living can ever characterize the world as a whole.

VICTORY

Today is VJ-Day, the second anniversary of the end of fighting in the last World War. It is a day of rejoicing because of the courage and destruction that was brought to an end, and it is well to pause in tribute to those who made the sacrifice necessary to achieve this victory. However, victory has not ushered in the era that most of us expected, and most of us are somewhat disappointed by conditions that have existed the last two years and that still exist.

Why is this true? Why did not victory bring an era of peace? These questions cannot be answered dogmatically or definitely, but I believe some thoughts along this line will be in order.

One thought is this: Victory within itself does not develop within either the victor or the vanquished characteristics that make for peace. This preparation must have been begun previous to the actual conflict.

Were we as Americans prepared to assume the responsibilities that of necessity evolve upon the victor? I think there is no doubt but that the answer is no. Most of us had the idea that the end of the war would solve all of our problems; that our responsibilities would end then; that we could step back and that things would assume a normal and proper course; that our worries would be over. Such is never the case; therefore, it has not been so in this instance. The proper course for men to follow is not the course of least resistance; instead it is a course of preparedness, of thoughtfulness, of unselfishness. Each of these is the result of deliberate planning and action. Neither the victor nor the vanquished had done enough of the right kind of thinking; nor made the right kind of preparation; nor rid themselves of unselfish motives enough to pave the way for peace. Certainly some individuals and some nations had done more along this line than others, but not enough of us had done enough to make our desires come true.

Another thought is that peace and orderly living are not brought about by external circumstances or conditions. Rather they are the result of the mental or spiritual condition of a person. The Apostle Paul said of himself, "I have learned whatsoever state I am in therewith to be content." Contentment is necessary to peace and orderly living and contentment requires victory, not over some person, but over self; over false pride; over selfish ambition.

We need to follow our victory on the fields of battle with victory over self, and we need to invade the world with an example and message of humility and unselfish service; to instill within the hearts of men the desire for and characteristics necessary for peace. It is only by this development within mankind in general that peace and orderly living can ever characterize the world as a whole.
