Keep 285 Where It Belongs

IN SOME QUARTERS pressure is still being brought to bear to reroute State Highway 285 north out of Carlsbad through La Huerta and then practically straight up the east side of the Pecos River to Dexter, from where it would go on into Roswell.

Scuttlebutt has it that another route is being proposed, to come out of La Huerta and then cross the Pecos again just south of Lake McMillan. In either case, it would be necessary to erect two bridges, one at La Huerta and the other either near Dexter or near McMillan.

And either new route would do great damage to many farmers and ranchers, those in the Lower Seven Rivers country and those on Rocky Arroyo. We know something must be done about the highway from Seven Rivers to Carlsbad and we have in these columns from time to time demanded that that dangerous stretch of highway be replaced with a new, safer route.

But there is no reason that we can see for tampering with the present right-of-way on the north half of the distance between Artesia and Carlsbad. It does not meander too much. In fact, there is but one slight offset to the west a short distance adjacent to McMillan.

Bridges cost big money. Military authorities frown upon the building of bridges, when they can be eliminated. And a bridge carries with it a certain amount of hazard, even though wide and properly engineered.

On the other hand, we in Artesia have a self-ish disapproval for the route on the east side of the river. We do not wish to be bypassed, shuttling traffic through on a straight line from Dexter to Carlsbad, which would milk from us all of the tourist traffic on Highway 285 and that traffic on Highway 33 headed for the Carlsbad Caverns, which would turn off about six miles east of Artesia.

Again we are selfish when we say we wish to protect our friends on Lower Seven Rivers and Rocky Arroyo, for we get a certain amount of their trade in Artesia.

It seems that rather than route a highway through an exclusive residential section such as La Huerta, necessitating the building of two bridges, it would be far better to find a new and more direct route out of the northwest part of Carlsbad over the Guadalupe foothills and to the present right-of-way on Seven Rivers.

Probably it would still be necessary to have some curves and certainly there would need to be included, but certainly engineers could work that out for construction for safety and the continued convenience of the people of Artesia, Seven Rivers, and Rocky Arroyo.

If need be, the people of Artesia should send a delegation to Santa Fe to protest any radical changes in the present route of 285, except that portion from Lower Seven Rivers to Carlsbad.—A.L.B.

Take Precautions

FROM ALL INDICATIONS robberies are going to be on the increase.

This not only applies to the breaking and entering of places of business, but homes as well. Automobile thefts have been increasing for some weeks now.

This is a situation, which always follows wars. We know that.

But everyone in this community is not only anxious to avoid being robbed or having their home or place of business robbed, but they are also interested in aiding the police arrest those, who may rob others.

For our own protection it is wise always to use every precaution possible. It is always wise to check and then double check our place of business when we leave it to see that it is locked. That may not prevent those seeking to break in from getting in but it makes it more difficult.

We should always be sure to lock our homes not only when we leave in the daytime, but when we retire at night. And we should double check to see that all doors are locked.

When we park our car downtown we should lock it regardless of where it may be. And we should always be sure if we are not going to lock it to see that we at least have taken the key out of our car.

The breaking and entering is becoming so bad in some communities there will probably be some shootings on the part of citizens. They are a little disturbed and a little annoyed. And when they reach this point they shoot and then make inquiries later when they see or hear someone prowling around their homes.

The same thing, of course, can happen in Artesia. But for years this community has had a fine reputation. Homes could be left unlocked and nothing was ever disturbed. But today that doesn't seem to be a very safe practice. And we can help eliminate some of the robberies, which occur, if we will employ every precaution possible.

Let's do this and then aid our police force in halting these robberies in our community.—O.E.P.

Deserve Air Service

IF THERE IS ANY CITY in the state with adequate air field facilities and which doubtless has as much if not more airfield than other cities in the state much larger, that city is Artesia.

The air field here is one of the best to be found in the state not only from the standpoint of the air strips, but because of the location of the field within a few minutes of the business district.

Yet the fact remains that feeder services are being established here and there in the state, but Artesia does not have a regular airline service and present indications are that it will not receive this service from the new companies, which are coming into the state.

Some months ago certain applications were made by airlines for permits to land at Artesia, but the proposals never did go through and as a result Artesia did not get that service.

But Artesia does deserve this service and in our opinion probably a stop here by some regular airline would prove far more profitable than in some of the other communities of the state.

There is, of course, room here for the service because of the poor train service and because of improved and faster mail service. We know that the oil interests here travel fast. We know that those connected with this industry not only want fast service on the mail they dispatch but on the mail they receive. We also know that if an air feeder line served Artesia making direct or close connections with some of the regional air services there would be considerable more air travel than there is today.

We are predicting that sooner or later the service will be provided. But the fact remains that Artesia needs and could use this service now.

We can't keep from feeling that some of the companies have failed really to acquaint themselves with Artesia, the field available here, its nearness to the city, and the possibilities, which it offers for a stop for some of the airlines.

We are convinced that Artesia would justify an airline stop for both passenger and mail service.—O.E.P.

Who Did What?

IT IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING the season of the year when you will hear a lot of comment from the politicians on what they have done for you.

You will hear them say, "I have done this and I have done that for you." We say, don't let them kid you. Whatever has been done was not done for you by them but rather whatever was done was accomplished with your money—the taxpayers' money.

We always shy away from those individuals, who constantly want to remind you of what they have done for you. To hear some of them talk you would think they had paid for whatever has been done out of their own pockets. That, of course, isn't the case.

Whatever the office holder has done, if he has done anything, he did with your money and he did it because nine times out of 10 he promised you he would do it when he was elected to office. And he was only doing what he was supposed to do when he took over the office.

Individuals elected to public office have tasks, duties, and jobs to perform. They are being paid to perform those tasks and those duties and in every case they use the taxpayers money to do whatever is done.

They didn't do or haven't done anything but what they were supposed to do. And in every case they used the money which belongs to the public. They didn't take it out of their own pockets and they didn't lose anything by doing whatever was done.

But you would be led to believe, if you listen, they have done all of these things for you and that you are deeply obligated to them for it.

We have always felt that a good, efficient, and economical public official should be re-elected to office if he has done a good job. And we believe that the final decision should rest with the voters and the taxpayers.

But don't let them kid you about what they have done for you—they have used your money to do whatever was done and the chances are they could and should have done even more than they did.—O.E.P.

People Should Know

OUR GOVERNMENT carefully kept us in the dark in the years when the storm clouds were gathering in Europe before World War II, for the simple reason it was known the cry, "Warmonger," would go up.

But after we were in it, the same people shouted, "Why didn't they let us know?" and "Why weren't we prepared?"

Now that a serious situation confronts the world again, the government is trying to keep us better informed.

But we hear the same old crowd crying that we are "creating a crisis" and "warmonger."

The fact remains that there is a crisis brewing—or perhaps has brewed—and that we should realize it.

We do not believe the American people should be deprived of the knowledge the government has — with the possible exception of top secrets—and it should be given to us honestly. And then we should not shout, "Warmonger," but should help guide the government in a very serious matter.—A.L.B.

'Safety For The Household' Tells Of Hazards In American Homes

Tragic newspaper headlines and grave-voiced radio newscasters almost daily bring to Americans shocking news of sensational airplane, automobile, and train crashes, which are taking a tremendous toll in human life every day, but headlines and newscasters rarely point an accusing finger at the deadliest killer of them all—the American home—which, according to a report just released by the Department of Commerce, accounts for more deaths from accidental causes than any other medium.

T. U. Purcell, district manager of the El Paso office of the Department of Commerce, in releasing the report, "Safety for the Household," pointed out that a study of it revealed that one out of every 14 people in the nation suffered some kind of a disabling injury during 1947, with a total cost in wages, medical expense, and property of nearly seven billion dollars, with deaths from home injuries leading all other types.

The Department of Commerce, recognizing that accidents in the home are taking such a huge toll in life and property and that preventative measures should be outlined to the population as a whole, has, through its National Bureau of Standards, undertaken an exhaustive study of the main dangers to safety in the average home, Purcell said. The result of this study is the current report, which is designed to emphasize the seriousness of certain risks and to give simple methods of care and caution against such hazards.

In the reduction of home accidents "caution alone is not enough," the report says. Some knowledge of the more common hazards in the home is essential in their removal, and proper care along the lines suggested will reduce greatly the dangers incidental to those hazards.

"Safety for the Household" is a 200-page illustrated booklet which discusses the common hazards under the chapter headings on chemical, electrical, fire, gas, lightning, mechanical, machinery, yard and garden, and miscellaneous hazards. A supplementary chapter gives suggestions for building a home that takes into account safety factors which can be built in at the time of construction. New hazards, such as those involved in television, are also included.

"Safety for the Household" is suitable as a reference volume for the home and as a text for group safety instructions, Purcell said.

Facts About New Mexico

By Dexter H. Reynolds

(This is the first of a series of articles by Dexter H. Reynolds of the Division of Research and Development, University of New Mexico, concerned wholly with natural resources and industrial possibilities in New Mexico, the purpose of which will be to encourage development of the natural resources.)

The recent announcement that New Mexico has a considerable fraction of the undeveloped coal reserves of the United States appears to have been a surprise to many if not most of the people of this state.

It will be the purpose of this column to call attention to other important facts about the tremendous resources of New Mexico, with an indication of New Mexico's rapidly growing importance in national and world economy.

It will not hurt to recall the coal figures. The United States has an estimated reserve of three and a half trillion tons of coal. New Mexico has a quarter trillion tons, about a 14th of the U. S. total. At our present rate of mining, one and a half million tons annually, New Mexico will have a fuel shortage in about 150,000 years.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines and shown New Mexico coal to be well suited to production of liquid fuel by a hydrogenation process. A survey of the San Juan Basin is now being made to learn its suitability for location of a liquid-fuel-from-coal installation.

No one knows the extent of New Mexico's petroleum and natural gas reserves. They are just being explored. The state's production during the last 20 years has been more than 500,000,000 barrels of petroleum valued at $750,000,000.

We are now producing at the rate of 50,000,000 barrels annually. About 10,000 of New Mexico's people are employed producing petroleum and natural gas, with an annual payroll of more than $25,000,000. New exploration is under way in practically every part of New Mexico.

It is to be regretted that New Mexico is not converting more of its coal, petroleum, and natural gas into finished articles of commerce. An extremely small fraction of our natural gas production converted to ethylene glycol (Prestone) would save off next winter's antifreeze shortage, which it is predicted will be as bad or worse than for the winter just past.

Some of the great chemical factories of the United States are located on the Texas Gulf Coast and are using natural gas as their basic raw material. Why not some small ones here to supply at least our own needs for some of the expensive products we have to buy?

RAY LEWIS ATTENDS CULLIGAN CONVENTION

Ray Lewis, owner and operator of the Culligan Soft Water Service, has just returned from a two-day district convention of Culligan Soft Water Service Operators, held in Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

This annual convention of operators from Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, was of particular importance this year as it was an occasion for the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the founding of the first Culligan service. While at the convention, Lewis talked with E. C. Culligan, its inventor and developer.

Lewis had the opportunity to discuss and plan methods for improving and enlarging his service in this community. He is now planning to offer Culligan run control service. With this service, the old problem of "red water" in many homes can be eliminated, he said. This he will do on a service basis, just like his water softening service.

Everyone Should VOTE

In the City Election

Tuesday, April 6

All elections are IMPORTANT, and it is the privilege as well as the duty of all qualified voters to exercise this right and express their will in the issues to be voted upon.

I am not telling you to vote for J. D. Josey for re-election to the office of POLICE JUDGE, Artesia, New Mexico, because I know it is none of my business how you vote, but I can, and do request you to consider my record as your POLICE JUDGE for the last several years and if you think I have fulfilled the duties of my office to the best of my ability, I would not only appreciate your vote but would doubly appreciate your support and influence for re-election for another term as your POLICE JUDGE.

We all know that no one is perfect, we all make mistakes and I am certainly no exception to this great truth. I am sure I have made mistakes, but I have tried to temper Justice with mercy in the performance of my duties and give a touch of personal consideration for those who enter my COURT, regardless of race, Color or creed. I know this is my duty as POLICE JUDGE, I know it is my life and I know it is the burning desire of my heart.

As there seems to be some misunderstanding among some voters regarding the salary of the Police Judge, I will state that I receive a salary of $150.00 per month, with no other fees or compensation of any kind from the City.

It will be impossible for me to make an active campaign and solicit your support in the City Election April 6, 1948, on account of the many and varied duties of my office, so you can readily see it is up to my supporters to support me, not only with their vote but also with their word and influence if I am re-elected.

If, after due consideration of my candidacy for Police Judge, Artesia, New Mexico, for the ensuing term of office, it is your desire to vote for me, JUST MARK  OPPOSITE MY NAME and if I am re-elected, I will, to the best of my ability, serve you with a feeling of deep responsibility and with a desire to keep Artesia, New Mexico the best place in the Pecos Valley in which to live.

As I said in the beginning, ALL ELECTIONS ARE IMPORTANT, so make your plans to vote in your city election April 6, 1948.

If You Need Transportation to the Polls to Vote,

Mrs. R. L. Paris Is Hostess At Shugart Shower

Mrs. R. L. Paris was hostess Friday evening at a shower honoring Miss Jane Shugart, bride-to-be of Bernard Johnston, with miscellaneous gifts. Mrs. M. C. Ross was cohostess.

The honoree was seated under a yellow and white parasol while opening the many gifts. The dominating color in the decorations was yellow, which was quite evident in the bouquets of flowers about the room.

The hostesses served yellow brick ice cream, each portion topped with a miniature rabbit eating a carrot, and yellow cakes topped with miniature chickens. Coffee and nuts served as the beverage and appetizers. Napkins with the inscription, "Jane," were given as favors.

'Swordsman' Is Great Romantic Adventure Film

The great tradition for romantic adventure on the screen has seldom, if ever, hit such a peak of excellence as in Columbia's "The Swordsman," which opens Sunday at the Landsun Theater.

Directed in all the glory of Technicolor and boasting an exuberant performance by Larry Parks in the dashing title role, "The Swordsman" is a captivating film fare.

Sweeping action and tender romance feature this swashbuckler of a picture. Its swiftly-moving story of two feuding Scottish clans is replete with duels to the death, galloping horses, fiery love, and colorful background.

Parks, as the young scion of one warring clan, falls violently in love with Ellen Drew of the opposite faction. He longs to bring the eternal clashes to an end but circumstances dictate that he himself come in violent conflict with his enemies.

Parks kills one opponent in a thrilling exhibition of swordsmanship but is eventually trapped and taken prisoner. His kinsmen, however, prevent any harm to him when they arrange for an exchange of prisoners. Parks almost smooths the troubled situation but violence once more erupts in a vicious hand-to-hand mass sword fight climaxed by his own triumph over the villain.

Striking fire with the sheer vigor of his performance, Parks will win new adherents by the thousands. Miss Drew makes a satisfying heroine and also has a way with a costume. Assorted Scottish stalwarts include George Macready, Edgar Buchanan, Ray Collins and Marc Platt.

ON ARMY DAY, APRIL 6, there's something you can do for WORLD PEACE

Army Day is the day every American can set aside to salute the men in uniform. And this year, particularly, it is a day for every young man in the nation to consider the contribution he can make to World Peace.

Right now you have the finest 100% volunteer Army of any nation in the history of the world. But it is still below the strength authorized by Congress. Able men are needed for the Infantry, Artillery and Armored Cavalry.

You can make a contribution to World Peace by joining the National Guard or the Organized Reserve Corps. These splendid civilian components have been credited by top military leaders for much of the success in quick mobilization and actual winning of the last war. Today they are important factors in backing up the strength of the Regular Army.

Both Veterans and non-Veterans who meet requirements are eligible to enlist in the Organized Reserve Corps. Veterans retain the grade and rating earned in the Army.

In many high schools and most colleges, you can join the R.O.T.C. and get your military training and credit toward a Reserve commission along with your education.

Any one of these steps that you can take on Army Day will help toward making America strong. And it has never been truer than right now that A STRONG AMERICA IS A PEACEFUL AMERICA.

Make a point, on April 6, of stopping in at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station and getting the information about the part you can play toward World Peace.

ON ARMY DAY

CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates — scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps — and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring — and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you — if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

This spring, first thing...

... you've got a date that just can't wait!

So, clear out! Get down the street, where a Conoco Mileage Merchant can drain out dirty, contaminated winter oil and refill with Spring-time Conoco Nth... the oil that OIL-PLATES as it lubricates!

It's like this: When Nth Oil (Patented)* enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens extra lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!

Because this extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down to your crankcase, even overnight... a Spring change to Conoco Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!

That's why, for extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles you'd better...

How HOT is HOT?

Don't look it up, Lady! We just want to make a point. Of course, there are different degrees of heat, and your many household tasks and the varying weather temperatures require water that's sometimes extra hot, sometimes hot, then again warm, and sometimes just lukewarm. Automatic gas water heaters provide the most practical means of supplying hot water for household use. Thermostatic control enables you to select the exact water temperature which is suitable for the circumstances at hand.

Natural gas heats water quickly, safely and economically. Depend on an automatic gas water heater for plenty of hot water whenever you need it.

Firestone said a landlord shall file a report with the rent control office of the termination of any lease entered into since July 1, 1947. Such report must be filed within 15 days after such termination or 15 days after the effective date of the new act, whichever is the later date.

Decontrolled are non-housing rooms or rooms without kitchen privileges located within a single dwelling and not used as a rooming or boarding house, but only if there are no more than two paying tenants and the remaining portion of such dwelling is occupied by the landlord and his immediate family, Firestone said.

And he pointed out that no person may be evicted from any rental unit in less than 60 days except in cases of non-payment of rent, committing a nuisance, using the accommodations for illegal or immoral purposes, or for other than living or dwelling purposes.

A tenant who has been overcharged may sue for three times the amount of overcharge plus reasonable attorney fees and costs under the new act, Firestone said. The suit must be filed in federal or state courts within a year after the violation.

The housing expediter is empowered to secure injunctions in federal or state courts against persons who offer, demand, or receive rents in excess of the maximum permitted, according to provisions of the act.

bricks, or concrete. Insulate all burnable material subject to heat radiated from stoves, furnaces, and pipes. Empty hot ashes into metal containers. Clean chimney and check for cracks, loose bricks and mortar. Place metal screens in front of fireplace. Place portable heaters so they can't be knocked over.

Distribute enough ash trays in convenient places for smokers. See that matches are out of reach of young children and place in safe containers.

Check gas connections on portable heaters. Shut-off valves should be located on pipes before rubber tubing.

Never use gasoline, benzene, or naphtha for cleaning. Don't quench a sluggish fire by pouring on kerosene. It may easily flame out of control.

Destroy paint rags and oily cleaning cloths or put them in a metal container with a cover. Hang up oily mops so that air can circulate through them.

Inspect all electric service cords and connections on lamps and appliances. Use only 15-ampere fuses for household circuits. Never permit "bridging" of burned-out fuses with wires or coins. Such practices remove all protection against shorts or overloading of circuits.

Self-inspection guides prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters are ready now at Fire Department headquarters.

Hopkins Firestone Is Not Affected By Dumm Fire Distributorship

Recent mention in the news columns that H. D. (Dude) Dumm, consignee here for The Texas Company, has been appointed distributor in this area for Firestone tires, was somewhat misleading.

Dumm has been appointed distributor, but that distributorship in no way affects the Hopkins Firestone Dealer Store, wholesale-retail outlet for Firestone tires, as well as other Firestone products.

Hopkins Firestone Dealer Store may still place Firestone tires with other retail outlets. Texaco stations are designated as Firestone outlets, and Dumm through his distributorship will supply the Texaco stations in this area.

Farm Briefs

By Dallas Rierson
Eddy County Farm Agent

Two common causes of scours in young pigs are chilling and fifth infection. To get rid of the fifth threat, scrub the farrowing pens with scalding-hot lye water made by mixing a pound of lye with 15 to 20 gallons of water. The lye cleanses the pen of dirt and dried manure, and the scalding-hot water kills worm eggs.

Almost half of all farm accidents happen in the barn. Such things as ladders in need of repair, careless use of pitchforks, weak haymow floors, and trash accumulations are the cause of most of these accidents, says the National Safety Council, which recommends that farmers turn more attention to accident prevention. "Clean out the hazards around the farmstead," the council advises. "Have a place for everything and have everything in its place."

It's almost spring clean-up time—time for cleaning up the safety hazards around the barn. A few hours spent now in cleaning up and tidying up the place may save days or weeks of lost time during the busy season.

No septic tank should have less than 500 gallons capacity. A tank with inside dimensions six feet long, three feet wide, and five feet deep will hold 500 gallons, with one foot of air space at the top. Such a tank is suitable for a family of five. For larger families, add a 100-gallon capacity for each person. But never install a tank of smaller capacity than 500 gallons.

In 1947, the U.S. imported 35,229 purebred domestic animals for breeding purposes. This number, the greatest ever imported, included 27,624 cattle, 4246 sheep, 2199 swine, 895 dogs, 258 horses, and seven cats.

On Jan. 1, livestock numbers in the U. S. were at the lowest level since 1939 and far below the peak of Jan. 1, 1944.

The better the quality, the more roughage milk cows will eat, says E. E. Anderson, extension dairy specialist. And the more roughage they eat, he adds, the less grain and other concentrates they need for high milk production.

Water makes up 60 per cent of meat, 87 per cent of milk, 55 per cent of poultry flesh, and 65 per cent of eggs. The moral is, "Make sure that all livestock and chickens have plenty of water."

Farm wage rates in the U.S. rose 7 per cent during 1947. Farm employment was a little less than a year ago.

Selection, inbreeding, and crossing are the three basic tools that the livestock breeder uses to bring about the genetic improvement of animals, according to Ivan Watson, state extension animal husbandman.

For safety, farm water systems should be checked every two or three years. Best time to check is during the rainy season.

The cost of feeding one rat on the farm amounts to about $5 a year.

Gardens will do much to reduce the world food shortage, says Chet Gibbs, state extension horticulturist. And they also reduce the cost of living, raise nutritional standards, and furnish recreation for the entire family.

Homemade Weighing Bin Speeds Work

Device Aids Automatic Feed Handling Setup

It is an old saying that all farm equipment was first thought of by a farmer. Whether that saying holds true may be questioned. But it is certain that much of it did come into being as the result of ideas which some farmer had concerning ways to improve and speed up the performance of his various chores.

A pertinent example of this fact is shown in the accompanying illustration. It shows a homemade weighing bin, which was conceived by a Midwestern farmer for use with his automatic feed handling setup. It holds several tons of feed and is fixed to the ceiling by a series of heavy springs and turnbuckles, one spring being located at each corner of the bin in the center of two turnbuckles. Tension on the springs moves a pointer across a scale at the bottom of the bin to indicate weight up to 3,200 pounds.

A slide gate at the bottom of the bin permits feed to spill out into a cart in desired quantities. The bin

Don't Neglect Laying Flock At Baby Chick Time

Preparing for the arrival of baby chicks and getting them started right requires a poultry raiser's careful attention to detail. He should not, however, overlook the importance of exercising good care of his laying flock.

This is the time of year when many laying flocks suddenly hit a production slump. In many of these cases, it is possible that good management methods might keep the hens in full production stride. So consider some of the things to do to keep those layers laying.

First of all, there certainly will be a small number of poor producers in almost every flock. Cull them right now. No measure will increase profits quicker or reduce labor more than culling the unthrifty birds. Admit errors in culling judgment now and eliminate all those hens thought earlier would meet production expectations. The ones that are left will make up the difference.

Hens won't lay unless they eat—and they must eat a well-balanced ration to produce the most eggs. The average mash and scratch feed, consumption of a good laying flock will be around six pounds per bird each month, supplemented by a good quantity of greens and chopped vegetables, if these are available. A minimum of 36 feet of hopper space per 100 hens should be allowed.

When appetites lag, try feeding moist mash. Or use a dependable tonic to supply digestive stimulants. Often commercial tonics will restore jaded appetites where other measures fail.

Keep the litter dry, clean, and loose. A deep litter is excellent insulation against the cold. Stir it frequently, remove wet litter as soon as it is noticed, and add new litter every two weeks or so.

the disqualifying defects could have been prevented or remedied.

Early road laws in the United States required that an automobile driver who met a horse-drawn vehicle must stop, shut off his motor, get out, and lead the horse past the car.

is placed below a chute leading from a two-ton mixer in the barn mow. The entire setup operates as follows: Whole grain is blown into an overhead bin, from which it flows into a blower-equipped hammermill on the first floor. Ground grain is blown back into the mixer and then drops into the weighing bin. The mixer and grinder are operated by five-horsepower motors, whereas the whole grain is blown into the storage bin by tractor power.

Poultry Tips

By E. E. Anderson
Extension Poultry Specialist

If there's a strong smell of ammonia when you enter the brooder house, your chicks need more ventilation.

The crop production value of hen manure is three times that of an equal weight in stable manure.

If you want to know how much your hens are costing you for every dozen eggs they lay, multiply the average number of pounds of feed the stock is eating a day by the price of the feed a pound and divide by the number of dozens of eggs laid daily.

The average U.S. farmer earns a fourth of his cash income from poultry and dairy products.

Half of the annual egg crop in the U.S. is produced from March to June. Lowest production occurs from September to December.

Early hatched chicks grow faster and mature quicker than later-hatched ones.

A hen takes 23 to 30 hours to produce an egg.

For good management, cull the laying flock closely and start replacement chicks early.

The average American eats about 360 eggs a year. The U.S. laying flock population on Jan. 1 was 428 million hens and pullets, nine million less than a year before.

Automatic Egg Washer

Prof. F. B. Wright demonstrating the new egg washing machine developed at Cornell university. The device makes it possible for two persons to wash, dry and pack five cases of eggs an hour, five times as fast as the same jobs could be done by hand. As most poultrymen and their wives spend from two to four evenings a week cleaning eggs by hand, this machine will result in a big saving in time.

Formula Computes Feed Required for One Hen

High egg production clearly takes more feed, but just as clearly the feed brings a greater return in terms of eggs than the same amount fed to low-producing hens. Dr. L. E. Card of the Illinois experiment station explains how to compute the total feed required for one hen for a year:

Multiply the live weight of the bird, in pounds, by 8.
Add 25.
Divide the total number of eggs the hen lays by 7 (e. g. 105 divided by 7 equals 15) and add this figure to the total obtained by the first two steps. An example:
Weight of hen—5 pounds.
Five times 8 equals 40; plus 25 equals 65.
Hen lays 105 eggs per year. Divide this figure by 7. Result 15.
Total feed required—80 pounds (65 plus 15).

Plowing Is Major Step In Garden Pest Control

It's smart gardening to double cross garden insect pests by late fall spading or plowing in preparation for spring planting. Plowing is one of the most important steps in insect control because it interferes with the natural and normal activities of the insects for living through the winter. Insects wintering above the ground can stand severe cold but not burying in moist cold soil and those below cannot live.

Moutray of Artesia, County of Eddy, State of New Mexico, made application to the State Engineer of New Mexico for a permit to change place of use of 30 acre feet per annum of the Artesian waters of the Roswell Artesian Basin by abandoning the irrigation of 10 acres of land described as the SE 1/4, SE 1/4, NE 1/4 of Township 20 South, Range 26 East, N.M.P.M., and commencing the irrigation of 10 acres of land described as the NW 1/4, NW 1/4, SW 1/4 of Section 5, Township 20 South, Range 26 East, N.M.P.M.

Said protest and proof of service must be filed with the State Engineer within ten (10) days after the date of the last publication of this notice. Unless protested, the application will be taken up for consideration by the State Engineer on that date, being on or about the 3rd day of May, 1948.

WHAT YOU THINK, IS IMPORTANT

Your good will, and the continued patronage of other New Yorkers (substitute name of your city here) . . . is the real core of our business.

That's why we conduct our business to merit respect and confidence.

That's why we're trying to distribute new cars as fairly as possible and why we're working with other responsible franchised dealers to stamp out the unwholesome black market practices that hurt us even though we refuse to participate in them. That's why we're interested in what you think—and interested in talking with you about automobiles . . . today, tomorrow and again next year. That's why we urge you to have your car safety-checked regularly—for your own protection, for the protection of the community.

One Good Term Deserves Another

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE REASONS WHY

We Urge You to Vote for the Re-election of

A. P. "Doc" MAHONE

For Mayor of Artesia

During his administration Artesia has experienced a phenomenal growth. Although city income has lagged behind the rapid increase in population, city services and facilities have been maintained at a high standard.

When his administration took office, plans called for a $210,000 hospital addition, with expectations federal funds would be available. They were not. A committee of prominent businessmen urged immediate action. Despite the fact only $90,000 had been voted in bonds and the lowest bid for construction was $139,000 plus, he was able to persuade the state comptroller to allow construction to begin.

In addition to the construction, he has plans completed for furnishing the new hospital addition without use of tax money, which will mean thousands in savings for Artesia taxpayers. During his administration nearly all blacktopped streets have been treated with a seal coat.

In co-operation with various civic-minded groups and individuals, his administration has embarked upon a Safety Campaign, which includes traffic lights, "STOP" signs on all through streets, an enlarged police department so more police protection can be given school children.

Following a survey of sewer and water systems in 1946, his administration ordered sewer tile and water pipe for extension of those systems. Due to postwar shortages these materials are just now arriving. Upon the arrival of the new ditching machine, promised by April 15, 1948, work will begin on sewer and water systems and it is hoped that every section of the city will be served by the end of 1948.

His administration has co-operated with the Southwestern Public Service Company and a new and improved lighting system is under way.

During his administration a police car has been equipped with radio and is in almost instant touch with the Sheriff's Office and other law enforcement agencies. It has also made application to the FCC for a license to operate a station in the office of the city jail, when all police cars will be radio equipped, which will make it an integral part of the law enforcement machinery of the state.

His administration has co-operated wholeheartedly with the Lions Club and others in improvements at Morris Field, where a baseball diamond is now under construction. Co-operation was also extended in securing the track meet and to the Lions in installation of playground equipment in the park.

Although there were only $9000 available in the firemen's fund for construction of a new fire station, plans have been completed for a structure to cost $20,000, construction to start soon.

There has been some criticism concerning parking meters. When they were in the discussion stage, a petition was left in the city hall, requesting all who came there to sign "FOR or AGAINST" them. An overwhelming number wanted them. They were installed on six months' trial. At the end of that period, not one person appeared before the council to protest. They are producing some sorely needed revenue, partially solving the parking problem, and preventing some from making of the public street a private parking lot, all of which has helped local business establishments.

He has made some mistakes, as has every man who accomplishes anything worth while. On the whole, we feel he has made an excellent Mayor and is therefore entitled to a second term. We urge you to vote for him in the name of continued good and efficient government.
