

Artesia Is Poised For Annual V-J Celebration

Early all plans have been completed for the second annual V-J celebration in Artesia, sponsored by the United Veterans Club, a three-day rodeo one of the highlights and with a full day of activities on Saturday.

The second year the theme of the day is "Preparedness for the future."

Famous Howard Brown Rodeo from Dublin, Texas, will stage performances on Morris Field, Friday evening, 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday, V-J Day, and on Sunday afternoon, with a total of $2500 offered per day.

The day itself will be packed with activities from the start of the big parade at 10 o'clock morning to a dance at the Veterans Memorial Building at 9 in the evening, with the famous Santa Fe Indian Winslow, Ariz., the two rodeo performances, a dinner at the building at noon, and other events crowded in between.

Artesia started taking on a holiday air Monday with the first of decorations starting to appear.

Nearly every business place in the city has been decorated by a professional Texas decorator with uniform bunting and banners.

The arena fencing and chutes at Morris Field are all constructed in readiness for the big rodeo, which is expected to attract thousands of visitors, especially for the Saturday performances.

Brown has been here this week making final arrangements for the rodeo, which is attracting many top hands from a wide territory for the various events.

Entries are being received at the Veterans Memorial Building with the entry fee for the riding events set at $15, for bulldogging $20, and for calf roping $25. All local rodeo performers are invited to enter or all of the events.

In the specialty acts Marvin Ramsey will be seen with Smoky, one of the finest high school horses in the world. Ramsey also will ride Roman style on two of his horses and will take a four-foot hurdle on them standing. He is also a top hand at fancy and trick roping and will perform with his lariets, both on the ground and on horseback.

One of the top rodeo specialties will be Bill Spivey of Graham, Texas, world-famous rodeo clown, who has one of the best trained mule acts in the rodeo business.

Dorothy Cash, who is well known throughout the Southwest as a trick and fancy rider, will also be seen in the specialty acts.

And New Mexico favorite trick and fancy rider, Paul Bond of Carlsbad, has been booked also.

Weldon McConnell of Dublin, Texas, one of the best known of the rodeo announcers, will be on the mike throughout the rodeo performances.

A limited number of reserved seats will be available for the rodeo. These may be obtained from Howard Whitson. He may be reached by calling 11.

Artesia, Hope Contribute $2100 To Annual Drive

The annual campaign of the Salvation Army for funds in the Artesia and Hope communities was closed Friday by Adjutant J. James Wycoff, service extension director, who reported about $2100 contributed.

He said that figure probably will be increased somewhat when checks are received from certain firms, which had to refer the matter to officials in other cities.

Likewise, Adjutant Wycoff said, there probably will be donations mailed in by persons whom he was unable to contact. Such donations may be mailed to L. B. Feather, local treasurer for the Salvation Army, in care of the First National Bank.

In expressing his personal thanks and the thanks of the Salvation Army for the liberal response of the people in the Hope and Artesia communities, Adjutant Wycoff pointed out that the cost of the work of the organization has gone up along with everything else (continued last page this section)

Smith Calls Attention To Draft Registration Dates For Young Men

Frank Smith of Artesia, a member of the draft board under the new Selective Service Act of 1948, called attention this week to the registration days from Monday Aug. 30, through Saturday, Sept. 18, on which young men must register for possible military service.

He said several possibilities are being considered as a place of registration and that a decision will be made within the next few days. Smith said he hopes to be able to announce the place next week.

Of an estimated 41,490 young men who will register in New Mexico, it has been figured about 2095 will be from Eddy County. And of them probably less than 1000 will register in North Eddy County.

During the three-week registration period, all men born between Aug. 30, 1922, and Sept. 19, 1930, are to register on specified days, according to the years in which they were born.

Men born after Sept. 19, 1930, will be required to report to their local board on the day they reach their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

The schedule for registration: Monday, Aug. 30, for men born in the year 1922 after Aug. 30. Tuesday, Aug. 31, or Wednesday, Sept. 1, for men born in the year 1923. Thursday, Sept. 2, or Friday, Sept. 3, for men born in the year 1924. Saturday, Sept. 4, or Tuesday, Sept. 7, for men born in the year 1925. Wednesday, Sept. 8, or Thursday, Sept. 9, for men born in the year 1926. Friday, Sept. 10, or Saturday, Sept. 11, for men born in the year 1927. Monday, Sept. 13, or Tuesday, Sept. 14, for men born in the year 1928. Wednesday, Sept. 15, or Thursday, Sept. 16, for men born in the year 1929. Friday, Sept. 17, or Saturday, Sept. 18, for men born in the year 1930 before Sept. 19.

Sprout Does Work For 'Old Man' On This Week's Advocate

Leon Bert, a senior in the University of Oklahoma at Norman and older son of A. L. Bert, editor of The Advocate, has been serving this week as rewrite man and headline writer on this week's issue, while here with his wife visiting his parents.

He was assigned to rewrite the greater number of live news stories which had been turned in from various sources, and he was instructed by the editor to write many of the heads in certain type faces and length.

Young Bert was managing editor of The Oklahoma Daily at the university last spring and did considerable of the same work, except that he was "in the slot" or "on the desk" there and on his own, which gave him more freedom, as he did not have to follow instructions from the "Old Man." But it kinds pepped it up, didn't it?

Hastie Awarded Savings Bond For Top Work

Jack Hastie, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, was awarded a $25 Savings Bond Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for having enrolled the greatest number of members in the organization, 17, in a recent contest.

He likewise was appointed by Commander Preston Triplett the third member of the VFW on the central committee of the United Veterans Club, which is being increased to three members each instead of two representing the VFW, American Legion, and Disabled American Veterans.

In the membership contest John Rogers was second with eight signed up and received $10. Glenn Farmer was third.

The veterans voted to include the remainder of 1948 for new members signed up for 1949 and paying the regular annual dues of $5. With this arrangement, Hastie said, he believed the VFW can raise the membership to 200.

Aside from the contest, Creighton Gilchrist was awarded the VFW "horse collar" for signing up five new members.

The post voted to donate $75 for cigarettes and other smokes to psychopathic veteran patients at Fort Lyons, Colo., and decided to request that the VFW Auxiliary assist in the donation.

The post likewise voted to assist in paying for the services of a helper for O. A. Kennison, who was laid up three weeks as the result of an ankle injury while playing on the VFW softball team.

Plans were started for a social for the members of the post's softball team two weeks hence.

George Frisch, a Spanish-American War veteran, harked back 50 years and said that the American forces in that war, all volunteers, were the first to serve on foreign soil. More losses were sustained in that war, he said, because of lack of sanitary conditions than through battle.

Freedom Train Display Given To High School

Parts of the famed Freedom Train have come to Artesia and although temporarily on display in The Advocate office window will remain here permanently as a gift of the Mountain States Telegraph and Telephone Company to Artesia High School.

The Freedom Train display include authentic photographs reproductions of the following famous documents in United States history: Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, Lincoln's draft of the Gettysburg Address, Francis Scott Key's original copy of the Star Spangled Banner, Paul Revere's commission as official messenger, and extracts from a letter of George Washington.

The display will remain in The Advocate window throughout the V-J Day celebration after which it will be moved to the high school.

Face Lifting Is Under Way Building Program Progresses

(Here is one of the first stories written by Bert Shipp, who is working in the advertising department of The Advocate, with hopes of doing a bit of news and feature work in Artesia High School, from which he graduated last May. He wrote for The Artesia Hi Beacon. This his initial effort, was written on assignment, and with no effort made to direct his approach of the subject.)

Unlimited progress is now under way as Artesia's business section undergoes a face lifting. New stores and buildings arise from the once vacant lots and old buildings are being rejuvenated by more modern and elaborate fronts. This process not only makes a more attractive business district, but is keeping Artesia in step with the larger cities in South New Mexico.

The newest addition to West Main is the Keinath-Richards building occupied by Richards Electric Shop and soon La Vaughn Beauty Shop. This building has one of the most colorful arrangements ever, which adds an effect to the elaborate structure.

Cops Toot Happy As Drivers Pass Up Traffic Lights

The Artesia city cops have been having more fun this week tooting their whistles, since the turning on for the first time Monday morning of the traffic stop-and-go light at the intersection of First and Main Street.

Local residents, accustomed to stopping when entering First Street, have been continuing that habit, while those on First Street have been assuming they have the right of way and have been going merrily on their way—until rudely whistled down by a cop.

On the other hand, motorists from other communities, on the alert for stop signs, have been obeying the new light and wondering what is wrong with all the crazy Artesia drivers.

However, the local motorists are learning fast—especially after a warning or two by an officer.

It was indicated the officers will be lenient for the present, giving drivers a chance to become accustomed to the stop light.

Fire Chief Albert Richards, who is installing the lights here, said cables for the remaining ones on Main Street have been shipped and that upon their arrival it will take only two or three days to have them all in operation.

Then the cops will have to do some more tootling for a few days.

Armed Services Color Guard Will Lead V-J Day Parade

Commanders Don Bush and Preston Triplett of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars announced this morning the order and line of march for the 12 sections in the big V-J Day celebration parade at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

All individuals, groups, and floats were requested to be at 12th and Main Street no later than 9:30 o'clock for assignment to positions in the side streets.

The parade is to start promptly at 10 o'clock, advancing east on Main Street from 12th Street to Second, where the line of march will turn south to Richardson Avenue. It is to break up at Second and Richardson.

Leading the parade will be the colors and color guards representing the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps.

Next will be a section of automobiles in which will be Mayor Oren C. Roberts and members of the City Council and dignitaries. In this section it is expected some of the members of the Disabled American Veterans will ride. There also is to be a car for members of the United Spanish War Veterans.

The Artesia municipal band will be next in line, followed by all who will walk in the parade, with the exception of those in the other bands. Included in this group will be members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, and other veterans, Boy and Girl Scouts, nurses and any other groups or individuals.

The rodeo performers on horseback, with flags and pennants, and some of the performing rodeo stock will be next in line.

Then will come the Carlsbad High School band followed by half of the floats entered in the parade.

The next two sections will be members of the Eddy County Sheriffs Posse and the Artesia Roping Club, behind whom other riders will fall in.

Ahead of the final section, which will be composed of the second half of the floats, will be the Santa Fe Indian Band and Indian dancers.

Commanders Triplett and Bush asked that all groups and individuals wishing to take part in (continued last page this section)

Baird Moved. Put In Charge Of Entire Area

Niven Baird, a representative here the last 22 years of what is today American Republics Corporation, who has been superintendent of the Western division the last few years, has been transferred to the division office at San Angelo, Texas, as superintendent of West Texas and New Mexico.

His office will be in the San Angelo National Bank Building, from where he will still be in charge of the office in Artesia and the operations in this area.

When Baird came to Artesia in August, 1926, he was a tool dresser for the company, which then was known as the Pueblo Oil Company, on the Yates No. 1, located near Twelve-Mile Hill, the well which was the first step-out from the old (continued last page this section)

The Old West Lives Again Means' Display Here For V-J Day

The old West lives again—in the window of a display on the vacant lot at Second and Main Street.

A. L. Means, for many years a resident of Artesia, decided eight years ago, with the help of his trusty old pocket knife, to reproduce the West as he and countless old-timers of this area knew it as it blossomed forth in the never to be forgotten, robust, rough-and-ready Gay Nineties.

This old-timer Means accomplished between three and four hundred pieces combined into one of the most remarkable displays of its kind, all hand-carved from white pine.

In a remote corner, a casual observer will note an Indian seated on his paint pony—atop a hill looking down on the deer and buffalo. He looks to the East and sees the white man crowding him off his last domain.

Next one sees the old log ranch-house and the little "Chic Sales,"

Rogers, Myers State Children's Injuries Are Not Permanent

Parents of two of the Artesia children who were injured in the school bus accident last Nov. 14 have called attention to the fact the news story in last week's issue about suit for damages being brought was erroneous in one respect.

The story said that Marjorie Rogers and Tom Myers were permanently injured, as other news stories coming out of Carlsbad, where the suits were filed, reported.

However, their respective parents, Ivan Rogers and Tom Myers, who brought the suits, say claim is not made the children were permanently injured and the story should not have so stated.

J. W. Blivens, father of George A. Blivens, alleges his son is totally injured for life, and Mrs. J. E. Short, mother of Peggy A. Short, says her daughter is permanently injured.

To Help Community

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS are voiced and expressed with the thought, hope, and intention of aiding the community in which that newspaper is published.

It oftentimes would be far easier for the newspaper not to have or voice an opinion. There is less chance to make readers, subscribers, and especially advertisers angry when opinions are not voiced. It is always far wiser from a monetary standpoint and a business standpoint not to get into a controversy or to remain silent on some issue.

But we have always felt that the newspaper, which does not have an opinion and does not voice an opinion, hasn't much backbone. We have also always felt that the newspaper, which discusses those topics far away or which purchases what are known as "canned editorials" hasn't much personality.

The personality of the newspaper is shown in the editorial columns. There the editor and publisher show what they are thinking along various lines.

And although it is perfectly possible now and then that some personal and selfish ideas may creep into these columns nine times out of 10 the newspaper is promoting some movement or opposing some project because they honestly and sincerely feel that this is for the best interest of the community.

And newspapers in Artesia and in other communities can render a splendid service. They can help build the communities and they can promote worthy movements, projects, and undertakings if they are willing to voice these opinions.

Newspapers are no more right every time they voice an opinion than individuals. Both people and newspapers can be wrong and yet they may even accomplish some good and promote some thinking when they voice their opinions or they publish them. In many instances the editorial is written solely with the hope and the intent of getting the people to think.

The suggestions made can be and sometimes are exaggerated solely for the purpose of making people think. They are overplayed to get the people's attention. Because even if the opinion voiced is not altogether right, it still results in some straight thinking and perhaps a better solution to the problem at hand.

We know that this newspaper and all other newspapers are accused at times of wanting to run the city or run this or that. We can assure everyone this is never true. Most newspapers have more than they can run now. They have no ambitions or desires to run something else. But they are hopeful and with the thought of helping their community, they can encourage the running of the business to the best interest of the greatest number and not the few.

And opinions voiced whether they meet popular approval or not are voiced first because the paper has something to say on the subject and secondly because they are seeking to aid and help their community.

That is The Artesia Advocate's position and it will continue to be its position in the weeks and months ahead.—O.E.P.

A. & M. Needs Stadium

NEW MEXICO A. & M. COLLEGE needs a number of new buildings and included among those needed is a football stadium.

The state, of course, never provides this particular need of the institutions of higher learning. It is always necessary for the gridiron stadium either to be built with donations and gifts of friends of the college or former students and graduates.

More than a year ago a campaign was launched to raise funds for the construction of a memorial stadium at New Mexico A. & M. College. The campaign didn't spread out very far over the state but a total of some $33,000 in pledges and cash was raised. There is approximately $17,000 of this in cash.

Now seemingly the campaign is to be revived with an effort to spread the drive out over the state and to invite all former students and graduates of the college as well as friends of the school to aid and assist in building the memorial stadium.

It is planned eventually to erect in connection with the stadium a memorial tower and a memorial room to honor former students and alumni members from A. & M. who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Present plans call for the raising of a total of $30,000 in cash, issuing bonds to the extent of $60,000 and with this $90,000 start building the stadium. Eventually the structure will probably cost as much as $200,000.

It is believed it will cost that much to provide the 15,000 seating capacity, which it is hoped and expected the college will need in time.

It also is believed that the providing of an adequate stadium there will result in better crowds and attendance for the Aggie games. This is expected to result in better games for the home fans.

Former graduates as well as former friends and students of A. & M. College in Artesia and North Eddy County doubtless will be invited at sometime during the next six months to assist in the construction of the new stadium at State College by making a substantial cash contribution.—O.E.P.

Helps Local Firms

EVERY NEW BUSINESS FIRM, which comes to Artesia, just makes our city that much better trading center and tends to attract more business to our city.

Far too often we do not realize this fact. Oftentimes we are convinced that another competitor hurts our business. That, of course, can prove to be the case when business is limited or when there is no opportunity to attract more trade to our community.

But the fact does remain the more firms and stores we have serving the customers and meeting their demands the better trading center we become. And the better trading center we become then the more customers we attract to Artesia.

And when these customers come to our city and shop in one store they always visit other stores. Oftentimes they cannot find what they want at the store, which attracted them, and that means, they visit the other stores.

We know a community where one department store endeavors to hold a dollar day or some other sale feature at least once a month. They attract the customers to their store. The other stores in the community have come to count on that and they enjoy extra business because this particular firm attracts the customers to their community.

No one knows just how much business could be enjoyed by the stores in that community or how many customers they could attract if all of them or several of them would join in offering specials on the same Monday the other store seeks to attract buyers.

The fact is that considerable more could be accomplished if we all worked hard in hand to attract buyers to our community. We could all profit from the buying, which prevails, and we all share in the benefits.

But the fact does remain that every new business in our city just means that we can serve the people in our trade territory a little better. And the better we can serve these customers not only the more often they come to trade with us but it results in others making our community their trade center, too.

And the more business we enjoy as a city the more we can grow and expand and the better we can serve our customers.—O.E.P.

Midseason Gripe

WE KNOW IT'S MIDSEASON, but it's about time to talk about tree limbs again.

This is not the ideal time to cut limbs, but that doesn't alter the facts in the least: There are too many limbs hanging too far down in this little city. And furthermore, they are not just hanging down over the sidewalks to pester those who have to walk, but in some places they have grown so long and settled so low they actually scrape along the tops of cars.

You can't hurt the paint on the top of our jalopy very much, but if we had one of those new up-town jobs, we'd raise Cain.—A.L.B.

It's Harvest Time

THE JOHNSON GRASS is certainly making a good stand this year, the rain having come just at the right time for a bumper crop.

But what gets us is why the farmers don't harvest it now, instead of letting it go to seed. Seriously, although it is extremely hard to kill out Johnson grass, once it gets a start, the cutting of it before the seed gets ripe will help prevent its spread.

We have noticed what we believe to be more Johnson grass along fences and ditches than ever before. That which is along irrigation ditches merely drinks up lots of valuable water. But anywhere it is of no good except to provide cover for game birds. And it seems to us the cutting of the heads at this time would still provide the cover for the birds.

It surely is a bumper crop. But if something isn't done this year's record production will be surpassed in future years.—A.L.B.

Scratch A Little

WHENCE THE SUNFLOWERS? It is a mystery to us how and why they appear in this part of the country where they have not been seen before, if only the surface of the soil is scratched.

Drive along any highway and you will see sunflowers growing in the barrow ditches. You will note them in fence rows and along dry drainage ditches.

We have been told that on the plains of Kansas and Eastern Colorado in the early days, one could take a plow and plow a furrow anywhere, go off and forget it, and then find the furrow lined with sunflowers the next growing season.

All of which gets us nowhere, other than to observe that you never can tell what may develop or grow until you do a little scratching.—A.L.B.

The average man speaks about 12,000,000 words a year, says a scientist. There must be more words than we thought.

Why all the bother to build smooth-running, silent motors when there's so much noise in the back seat?

Heaven must be a place where you can wear a suit of clothes as long as the vest lasts.

The more you string your friends along, the quicker you get to the end of your rope.

As Artesia Grows

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate files for Aug. 9, 1928)

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Burrows are the parents of a son born Aug. 7.

The United States captured track and field team honors in the Olympiad for the ninth successive time.

Mrs. Albert Richards was elected vice president of the American Legion Auxiliary at a recent convention held in Santa Fe.

Betty Jo Brainard celebrated her eighth birthday with a party on the Brainard farm southeast of town.

Although hay shipments were behind the 1927 shipments, 200 cars of alfalfa had been shipped out.

C. C. Tebbets, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced C. E. Mann, mayor, who in turn introduced Gov. R. C. Dillon as speaker, at a banquet in his honor at the Bullock Banquet Hall.

The Artesia Fire Department received a bonus of $1147 from the state comptroller in Santa Fe. Artesia had the distinction of having the lowest fire rates in the state.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate files for Aug. 11, 1938)

Miss Margaret Nellis, who was working in Roswell, spent the week end with her parents.

The Cottonwood auditorium-gymnasium was nearing completion. With its completion, Eddy County would have an almost entirely rebuilt county school building system.

Lower Penasco news was being prepared and sent to The Advocate by Mary Sunbeam.

Mrs. W. S. Medcalf of Hope visited on the Penasco during the week.

Joe Bill Ballard, the only son of Judge and Mrs. W. H. Ballard, sent word home from Washington, D. C., that he was the father of a son, whom he named after the boy's grandfathers.

Mrs. Raymond Bartlett was installed president of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit by Mrs. Albert Richards, past department president.

Care of Lawns Means Fine Turf Whole Summer

Good care of established lawns will mean a fine green turf for the remainder of the summer.

First of all, lawns should be well watered about once a week to a depth of six inches. Frequent light sprinklings with the hose do more harm than good, as they cause shallow rooting.

Mowing should be done frequently, and the grass should be cut to a height of one or one and a half inches. Too close cutting during hot weather may injure grass.

Fancy Roper Will Perform At Celebration

Marvin Ramsay, left-handed trick and fancy roper from Tulsa is shown doing one of his many difficult tricks, jumping through a lopp while standing on his horse.

He will be seen in this and other rope tricks, as well as in his trick riding act at the V-J Day celebration rodeo at Morris Field Friday through Sunday, Aug. 13-15. Performances will be given Friday night, Saturday matinee and night, and Sunday matinee, as Howard Brown presents his famous rodeo, for which $2500 in purses will be paid.

The rodeo and V-J Day celebration are being sponsored by the United Veterans Club of Artesia.

It is not necessary to rake up the grass clippings if the lawn is mowed often enough, for these clippings will make a protective mulch for the lawn. Bare spots should be reseeded with a good grass seed.

Lawn weeds should be no problem at all if the grass is growing on good soil. Use fertilizer to keep a high soil fertility in the lawn area. Applications of six or eight bushels of well-rotted manure per 1000 square feet will help add organic matter to the soil. Even though fertilizer was applied last spring, be sure to make another application about September.

Commercial fertilizers which are high in nitrogen, such as ammonium sulphate, should be applied throughout the summer, three pounds at a time. Mixing the fertilizer with a little dry soil will help to give a more even application of plant food. Broadcast the fertilizer when the grass is dry and soak the area well afterwards. If a complete fertilizer like 4-12-4 is used, apply it at the rate of 10 pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn.

The many 2, 4-D preparations on the market will help get rid of weeds. But follow the manufacturer's directions on the container. Avoid getting any 2, 4-D spray drift on valuable shrubs, trees, or flowers. Don't use the 2, 4-D sprayer for spraying garden crops or ornamentals unless the sprayer is cleaned thoroughly.

Compare the Values!... Compare the Prices!... —see why

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

COMPARE the values; compare the prices!... Do this and you'll know that now more than ever before CHEVROLET AND ONLY CHEVROLET IS FIRST in Big-Car quality at lowest prices, just as it is first in nationwide demand for the total 17-year period; 1931 to date!

To compare the values is to know that only Chevrolet brings you the Big-Car riding-smoothness of the original and outstanding Unitized Knee-Action Ride... the Big-Car performance and dependability of a world's champion Valve-in-Head engine... the Big-Car beauty and luxury of the enviable Body by Fisher... the Big-Car safety of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes... plus many another major quality advantage still not available in any other motor car in its field.

And to compare the prices is to know that Chevrolet prices are the lowest in the field... and that Chevrolet value continues to be the highest in its field!

That is why more and more people in all parts of the country are deciding, more and more enthusiastically, that only one is Number One, only Chevrolet is first.

That is why we believe you, too, will make this same decision when you compare the values and compare the prices... for you win in every way with Chevrolet!

FIRST in Riding-Smoothness! You just can't beat the genuine Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride for real riding smoothness—real travel—over any and all kinds of roads, from boulevard to byway; and, remember, this famous "Knee-Action" ride is exclusive to Chevrolet and more expensive cars.

FIRST in Thrills with Thrift! There's nothing like Chevrolet's world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for thrills and thrift. It holds all records for miles served, owners satisfied, and years tested and proved. It embodies that extra-sound, extra-dependable Valve-in-Head design found elsewhere only in costlier cars.

FIRST in Tasteful Beauty! You will be perfectly sure of your car's beauty-leadership when you own a car with the world-famous Body by Fisher; this most desired and desirable of all car bodies—supremely beautiful from every angle, inside and out—is available only on Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

FIRST in All-Round Safety! You and your family will enjoy extra safety, too, the triple safety protection of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction, the Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes—another combination of features found only in Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

CHEVROLET — and Only CHEVROLET — IS FIRST!

Pretty Expensive! 13 Artesians Pay $5 To See Trash Fire

Thirteen Artesians paid $5 Wednesday night to go to a trash fire Tuesday night.

In spite of fines invoked a week ago on five persons for following fire equipment and warnings from Police Judge Arba Green, Police Chief O. T. Lindsey, and Fire Chief Albert Richards through these columns, city police cited 13 violators to court for the same infraction shortly at 7:10 o'clock Tuesday evening, when firemen were called to the Negro section.

All 13 were fined $5 when they appeared before Judge Green Wednesday.

The fire amounted to nothing—just trash!

Band will arrive in a special car on the train Saturday morning and will play shortly thereafter in a short concert somewhere in the business district. The Indians will make their first official appearance in the big parade, with Roy Rodriguez, colorful strutting drum major, out in front.

With the band will be the Indian dance team, the members of which likewise will be seen in the parade and will perform, doing their famous hoop dance, at other appearances during the day.

The complete schedule for the appearances of the band had not been worked out this morning, but members of the veterans' committee said there will be several appearances.

Felix Coin, talented Hopi Indian, is conductor of the band and will direct when not on parade. Pictures of Coin and Rodriguez, as well as the entire band and dancers, will be found on various pages in this issue.

Also scheduled to appear in the parade are the Carlsbad High School band and the Artesia municipal band, augmented with members of the Artesia school bands.

It was pointed out the Santa Fe Indian Band would have cost the veterans about $1000 had they been required to pay all expenses. However, the railway pays all of their expenses, including transportation, whereas the United Veterans Club is paying only $400 for salaries of the performers while away from their work at Winslow for the railway.

The $400 was underwritten for the veterans by the First National Bank, Guy Chevrolet Company, Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association, and Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce likewise has offered $100 in prize money for the best floats in the V-J Day parade, to be divided $50, $30, and $20. Members of the committee said many floats are expected, a number more than were seen in the celebration parade a year ago.

Besides the floats and three bands, the parade will be made colorful by the appearance of members of the Eddy County Sheriff's Posse and the Artesia Roping Club, as well as many individual cowboys and cowgirls, both adults and youngsters.

Some of the boys will also be seen at the rodeo in a barrel race around barriers of barrels while riding their ponies, as an added feature.

The American Legion Auxiliary, which will serve the celebration dinner at noon Saturday at the air-cooled Veterans Memorial Building, is making plans to serve upwards of 500 persons.

Bill Walton and his Eight-Piece Dance Band of Carlsbad will play for the celebration dance there in the evening.

Another added attraction for the celebration will be Dee Sprayberry's miniature train, which will carry passengers in the park east of Morris Field, with a share of the profits going to the United Veterans Club.

the parade be at 12th and Main Streets by 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning and that they report immediately to one of them for assignment on the side streets to their proper sections and positions for the parade.

They pointed out that there are no restrictions to those who may parade, that boys and girls with ponies, or those wishing to clown, are welcome. Likewise, costumed "pioneers," or old-time vehicles which will add more color to the parade are invited.

Ramsey Talks World Serenity To Kiwanians

Rev. Mabane Ramsey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hagerman and formerly of Staten Island, N. Y., pointed out that the way of life of yesterday is gone forever and the only way to acquire world wisdom is first to achieve world serenity, as the principal speaker of the Artesia Kiwanians' weekly luncheon last Thursday noon.

The church man, who lost his hearing in England during the recent war as the result of a bomb explosion, told local Kiwanians that "We must close the gates of yesterday against the cares of today. The one way to get serenity is to forget yesterday entirely, forget yourself, your failures, and all your troubles. The thing the world needs to be taught the worst is serenity."

Harry Boggs, principal of Hagerman schools, introduced Rev. Ramsey. Vice governor of Southwest district Kiwanis International, Allen Bruce of El Paso, offered praise and encouragement to the local club, which is one of the youngest in the district, and commended its interclub visitation scheme through the travels of "Jamborette," the pig.

Bruce stressed that luncheon clubs are strictly an American institution and a vital part of our way of life. He extended a blanket invitation for the Artesia club to visit Kiwanis in El Paso.

Club guests other than Rev. Ramsey, Boggs, and Bruce were Homer Alred, Clyde Roberts, Ben Caudie, Jr., Clarence McAnally, Robert Spiegel, and Warren Richey.

Up in Denver. The donors of these contests are the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association and New Mexico Wool Growers Association.

One more judging contest in which Eddy County has an entry is the crop judging. This is a junior team and J. H. Jones, Neil Howell, and Albert Bach are the team members. The New Mexico Crop Improvement Association is the sponsor of the contest.

While at the 4-H club state camp the state dress revue will be held. Ann Forehand of the Carlsbad Club, who is the sweepstakes winner in the senior division, and Jo Ann White of the Carlsbad Club, who is the sweepstakes winner in the junior division, are the county's entries in the dress revue.

A percentage of the funds raised remain here for use in Salvation Army work, while a portion will be used in the maintenance of the Salvation Army home and hospital at El Paso for unwed mothers of this area.

There is one more contest in which Eddy County has an entry and that is the drama contest. The Cottonwood 4-H Club was decided the county winner and the name of the play is "Be Home by Midnight." The cast includes Ralph Parnell, Jack Donaghue, W. L. Gray, Mary Lou House, and Mildred House. Since 1941 Eddy County has taken first place in this contest.

Mrs. Earl Gray and Mrs. E. L. Parnell, and Mrs. A. E. Stephens of the Cottonwood area; Mrs. Emmet Barron, and the extension agents are also attending the state camp. The Eddy County Extension Council is contributing toward the expenses of the boys and girls attending the camp.

Delegates, contestants, local leaders and county agents were expected from every county in New Mexico where extension work is being conducted. Early estimates indicated there would be 500 present.

Howard Brown, whose rodeo will be one of the top events of the V-J Day celebration here this week end, and Don Bush, chairman of the event, were guests and gave the Lions highlights of what to expect at the rodeo and in the other attractions.

Other guests included F. Thompson of Abilene, W. Chapman of Clovis, and Tony La Duca of Carlsbad.

Special features of the program include the annual candle lighting ceremony, a "krazy track meet," a chuck wagon supper, and a barn dance.

T. T. Martin, state 4-H Club leader from Missouri, nationally known as a discussion leader, has charge of group discussions in which 4-H members participate.

The visitors are staying in the college dormitories and eat at the college cafeteria in Milton Hall. The farm boys and girls have other college facilities at their disposal which enable them to have an enjoyable and educational visit to the college.

Artesia field. Prior to that he had roughnecked on a rotary rig in the Gulf Coast country, and then was in the company's Houston office three years before coming to Eddy County.

Baird said Tuesday when leaving for San Angelo that at the time the Yates No. 1 was drilled it was believed there probably was no oil east of there. However, hundreds of producing wells have been drilled to the east, with American Republics quite active in the development.

He had been married in Houston before coming to Eddy County in 1926, and the family lived at first on the Yates lease in the house later occupied by Allen Williams, who died about a year ago. Baird and family have lived in Artesia a number of years since moving off the lease. He plans to move his family to San Angelo as soon as possible.

During his years as a resident of Artesia Baird was quite active in civic and community affairs. He served in the New Mexico Legislature as a representative from Eddy and Lea Counties in 1943-45 and during the war was the local coordinator of civilian defense, as which he was one of the co-authors of the spectacle, "It Can Happen Here," written locally and presented on Morris Field before hundreds of persons.

The adjutant also expressed gratitude for the manner in which he was accepted in this, his first campaign in the territory, especially as he was continuing the work done for more than a score of years by the late Baron J. V. Auriemma, and he had to make the acquaintance of the people.

Defeat Must Never Come To This Nation

Defeat must never come to this nation, Howard Whitson said Tuesday noon in a V-J Day talk at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club, declaring the United States must maintain a strong military at least the next 20 or 30 years.

He recalled the remarks of those who saw the defeat of the Philippine Islands in World War II and the privations and horrors which went with that defeat.

Whitson pointed out that "history repeats itself" and added, "We cannot wave a golden wand and thus keep the peace in Europe," where nations have always fought.

It was three years ago on V-J Day when American resources and manpower decided a war, Whitson said. Then there was talk of peace, but "all we have done is to stumble and fumble, not a case of give and take, but we have given," he said.

Today, the speaker pointed out, there are but two strong nations in the world, and the strength of United Nations is no greater than America's power.

At one time the Monroe Doctrine served as a foreign policy. Whitson said, but today the world has crumpled and there is no foreign policy, for which neither principle party is to blame.

Whitson suggested that a new machine be set up to handle the foreign policy of the United States which would not change with the whims of the then president, and the world should know what it is.

"We must establish a power which the world respects, or back down," he said, adding that it might be a good thing to admit "the good ones" in Europe who are scrambling to come to America and leave the bad ones over there to fight it out. In the meantime, stressed, America's military must be maintained strong for the next 20 to 30 years.

Posters Warn Minors Of Possible Fines If Ages Misrepresented

Tavern and package store operators in Artesia have received orders notifying minors of a possible $300 fine if they purchase alcoholic beverages when not accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

The poster, prepared by the New Mexico division U. S. Brewers Foundation, stresses that part of the New Mexico Liquor Control Act which provides:

"It shall be a violation of the act for any minor to buy, receive, permit himself to be served with any alcoholic beverage except when accompanied by his parent or legal guardian."

The poster also states that an adult who "by misrepresentation" secures service for a minor is subject to a similar fine.

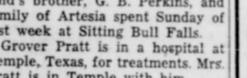

Penalties for such violations according to Charles J. Huff, director of the foundation division office, included under that section relating to misdemeanors involving the than license holders.

"We have received reports of minors making fraudulent claims or producing fictitious evidence" of eligible age," Huff said. Statement of age blanks to be signed by persons whose age is in doubt, are being supplied to discourage this attempted violation, Huff added.

Costello, employees of the Speedy Window Washing Company, are mistaken for Speedy Service messengers and are hired by bookie Joseph Calleia to collect $50,000 owed him.
What happens when the client retains two thugs to get back the money and Joseph Calleia threatens the comedians with life unless they recover the money—which has been misplaced in a sample envelope of face powder—starts the tumult, the sound, and the fury, and the laughs in Abbott and Costello's latest fun-free-for-all, "The Noose Hangs High," which begins an extended laugh engagement on Sunday at the Landsun Theater.
Abbott and Costello's latest 90-minute laughing jag really gets going when they discover that statuette Cathy Downs, a former secretary, found the money in her face powder, gave up her job and tore through the money to buy herself a new wardrobe. Chased by the two thugs and menaced by Calleia, Abbott, Costello, and Cathy fall in with Leon Errol, an eccentric millionaire who tries to help them recover the money at the races.

The final chase sequence, hitting a new high in hilarity, according to advance reviewers, ends up with a cement mixer stirring up the laugh-filled climax with customers holding their sides, Abbott and Costello holding their heads—and Calleia holding the cement.

Members Of 4-H Are Keeping Eyes Open To Avoid Farm Accidents

With a busy harvest season coming up, hundreds of 4-H Club members in New Mexico are keeping their eyes open to avoid farm accidents which tend to zoom at this time of year.

Special attention to the elimination of farm hazards and the prevention of accidents has been given in connection with 4-H Club activities for the last six years, in programs developed and put into effect by the New Mexico Extension Service.

These safety measures include such things as nailing down loose boards in homes and barns, covering open wells and water tanks, storing tools properly, and using care in the operation of machinery on farms and automobiles on highways. Safety work done by the members is summarized in each member's report.

An extra encouragement to farm safety work by the 4-Hers is a variety of awards. These include medals for individuals, a plaque to the county with the best record and a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago for a representative club member who can also compete with other state representatives for a scholarship.

Disability Compensation, Pensions Are Increased By Three New Laws

The first of three laws increasing disability compensation and pensions for more than 25,000 veterans and their dependents and survivors in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, and New Mexico went into effect Aug. 1.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities incurred in peacetime service receive increased rates of compensation — 80 per cent instead of 75 per cent of wartime rates — under Public Law 876, the Veterans Administration announced. Increases will be reflected in the checks for August, which will be received Sept. 1.

On Sept. 1, Public Laws 868 and 877, which were signed by the President in July, will become effective. Under Public Law 868, approximately 20,000 widows, orphans, and dependent parents of this area's deceased veterans will receive increased compensation ranging from $75 (instead of $60) for a widow and child, plus $15 monthly for each additional child. An orphan with neither father nor mother will receive $58 monthly instead of $30. A dependent parent will receive $60 monthly instead of $54, and two dependent parents will receive $35 each instead of $30.

Widows, orphans and parents receiving peacetime rate pensions will also get increases, equal to 80 per cent of the wartime rates listed above.

All peacetime and pension increases will be automatic, VA announced, and beneficiaries are advised that it is not necessary to write regarding them.

Upwards of 3000 disabled veterans in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, and Wyoming with service-connected disabilities rated 60 per cent or more will receive additional compensation in the form of allowances for dependents under the terms of Public Law 877, which also goes into effect Sept. 1, VA said.

Eligible for the increases are veterans of any war or peacetime service in the armed forces, who have service-connected disabilities of 60 per cent or more, and who have one or more dependents. While it will be necessary for veterans to establish their dependencies before this increase may be applied, VA urges veterans not to make inquiries at this time. Instructions will be issued before the first checks are due Oct. 1.

Under previously existing law, disability compensation was based upon the degree and type of disability, with no account being taken of dependents. Under the new law, the following dependency allowances are authorized for a totally disabled veteran: Wife, $21; wife and child, $35; wife and three or more children, $56; no wife but one child, $14; no wife but two children, $24.50; no wife but three or more children, $35; plus $17.50 for each dependent parent.

Veterans with 60 per cent or more ratings will receive proportionate amounts. Veterans with peacetime service-connected disabilities will receive 80 per cent of the wartime rates.

Veterans in training under Public Law 16 or the GI Bill are permitted to receive dependency allowances from only one source, but may elect to receive whichever is the higher amount.

Men May Enlist In Regular Army For 21 Months

Authority for young men without previous military service, 19 to 26 years of age, to enlist in the Regular Army for a 21-month period has just been given by the Department of the Army, M/Sgt. Preston Triplett, in charge of the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force recruiting station at Artesia, announced. Applicants must furnish written proof of age and be physically and mentally qualified for enlistment.

Upon completion of the 1-month period, each man will incur a reserve obligation to serve in the Enlisted Reserve Corps for five years or to serve 36 months in any organized unit of any reserve of any of the armed forces if offered enlistment therein. However, young men may discharge their reserve obligation by extending their enlistment for a year or by re-enlisting in the Regular Army for a period which will make his total active federal service equal to 33 months or more under such terms of enlistment as are authorized by the Army.

"This authority is in addition to current Regular Army enlistment opportunities, all of which remain in effect," Sergeant Triplett said. "Even though we now have a draft law, both the Army and Air Force will continue a voluntary enlistment program, for it is from these volunteers that we get our career men. The Selective Service Act will be used only to make up the difference between authorized strength and the number of volunteers."

Interested young men may contact U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force recruiting station at the Veterans Memorial Building for full details.

About Third Of Farms In State Have Electricity

When the approved lights all go on in New Mexico, 16,712 of the 29,695 farm homes in the state will have electricity, according to a recent report from the Rural Electrification Administration. And, to use REA terminology, 7042 miles will be energized.

As of June 30, a total of 3379 miles of the line was in operation serving 9456 farm homes. That is about a third of the total farm homes in the state.

Over the nation, the REA closed the 1948 fiscal year with its borrowers reporting operations far in excess of any previous year, the USDA announced recently.

During the year, according to REA estimates based on operating reports for the first 10 months of the year, REA borrowers placed in service 112,000 miles of lines and brought electricity to 396,000 additional rural consumers. The previous high year was 1947 and 294,294 consumers were connected.

Power distributed by the REA-financed systems during the year increased 40 per cent over fiscal 1947 and the problem of the year for REA co-operatives was the growing shortage of power, measured against the farmers' needs, REA reported. In almost every case REA borrowers have found it necessary to increase the capacity of their lines and substations in order to provide more adequate service, the agency said.

By the end of the fiscal year, REA borrowers were operating 658,000 miles of line, serving 2,240,000 consumers. Loans had been obligated at the end of the fiscal year for the construction of an additional 281,000 miles of line taking service for the first time to 600,000 additional consumers.

More than 65 per cent of the farms of America had electric service at the end of the year, compared with about 10 per cent in 1935, but REA Administrator Claude R. Wickard reported "there are more than 2,000,000 unserved farms and several hundred thousand other rural establishments without service."

Still Have Plenty Of Time To Grow And Harvest Some Crops

New Mexico gardeners still have plenty of time to grow and harvest a few of the less hardy crops—such as beans, peas, cucumbers, spinach, and sweet corn—before the first killing frost sets in, County Agent Dallas Rierson said.

And there's still time to grow root crops for winter storage; beets, carrots, turnips, rutabagas, and other hardy crops such as cabbage, broccoli, and kale.

"Plant your fall garden now," Rierson said, "so you will be able to enjoy fresh vegetables until frost comes, and after that have a supply of stored vegetables for winter use."

Conservation Program For Agriculture Next Year Is Shaping Up

Plans and provisions of the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program are shaping up, so that farmers of New Mexico will not be delayed in making their conservation plans for the coming year.

According to C. V. Hemphill, chairman of the State PMA Committee, the 1949 national outline, approved by the secretary of agricultural, has been received. The outline is made up of practices recommended by state PMA and county agricultural conservation committees after the advice and assistance of soil and crop specialists of State and Federal Agricultural Agencies.

The State Agricultural Conservation Program for 1949 will be developed within the framework of the national outline.

District Warden L. W. Simmons Of Artesia Takes Top Place In July

Top place in respect to picking up the worst game law violations during July went to District Warden L. W. Simmons of Artesia, according to State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker.

"On July 11," Warden Barker said, "Deputy Warden Simmons picked up Hollister L. Amerson, Donald Smith, Virgil T. Clark, and Clarence D. Cagle, all of Kermit, Texas, fishing in Eddy County waters without licenses. The four men had 106 channel catfish, 75 of which were under legal size, five to eight inches in length, whereas nine inches is the legal minimum for channel catfish. The men were fined $50 each and $3 costs in the court of Justice of the Peace Jack Elliott at Loving.

"Then on July 25, Simmons picked up Tom G. Rubio and Dave Y. Torres of Carlsbad and Artesia with three freshly killed deer in their truck. The men were coming out of the Guadalupe Mountains, where they had obtained horses from Pilar Ardunez to use on their hunting trip. Rubio, who killed two of the deer, was fined $300 and $350 costs. Torres, who killed the other, was fined $200 and $350 costs, while Ardunez, who furnished the horses, was fined $25 and $350 costs. Simmons was assisted by Bill Lewis of the State Police."

The warden said these were some of the most flagrant cases the Game Department has handled in a long time.

While on the subject, Barker gave some statistics on the prosecutions made during the fiscal year ended June 30 for game law violations.

"During the year a total of 591 Game law violations were prosecuted," he said. "Convictions were obtained in 583 cases, in five the defendants were found not guilty and three cases were dismissed, leaving 98 1/2 per cent successfully prosecuted. In addition, many hundreds more persons were warned for minor and technical violations, where the offense was not deemed serious enough to justify prosecution."

Barker said the fines amounted to a total of $18,500 and costs to $2,988 a total of $21,487. The fines all go to the school fund and not to the Game Department.

Fishing without licenses with 129 cases headed the list. Next was fraud in procuring resident licenses by non-residents not entitled to them with 83 cases, illegal methods of fishing 61, falsely witnessing license applications to enable non-residents to buy resident licenses 57, illegal possession of game 44, hunting in closed season 40, carry-firearms and hunting on game refuges 26, and so on, ending with one case each for illegal transportation of game, selling game, and making false claim for predator bounty.

The warden deplored the fact that so many people do violate the game laws, but praised his field men for their good work in apprehending such a large number of the violators. He suggested that much more severe penalties might help to improve the situation.

Disc-Looking Objects Lead To False Cries

"Too many people are giving false cries of 'wolf' at the mere sight of any strange, bright, silvery, disc-looking object in the skies," thinks Dr. Lincoln LaPaz, University of New Mexico meteorologist.

A case in point is the planet, Venus, which appears to move slowly from East to West because of the rotation of the earth, and can be seen easily with the naked eye, even at noonday. Venus, now just past its greatest brilliancy, which was July 31, has, to the untrained eye, all the appearance of a man-made disc. Incidentally, the best time to view Venus is just before sunrise and immediately above the sunrise point, says Dr. LaPaz.

Other objects that amateur observers may well mistake for discs are the innumerable balls of down from cottonwood trees which may be caught in the bright sunlight. "It is most desirable," concludes LaPaz, "That the rash wild stories about strange heavenly visitors be checked carefully. In the not too distant future, it may be extremely important to have a widespread net of voluntary observers who have not been soured on the job of watching the skies by repeated false alarms."

Commodities Are Distributed By Welfare Agency

Various types of commodities, valued at approximately $431,000, were distributed during the last fiscal year, primarily to the state school lunch projects, by the Department of Public Welfare, Gov.

Thomas J. Mabry announced. The school lunch projects are conducted by the State Department of Education.

The commodities, which include potatoes, dried eggs, various dried fruits, and fruit juices, were made available to the state by the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture, Governor Mabry said.

Eligible state institutions, the governor said, received some of the commodities. These institutions included the State Hospital, School for the Blind, School for the Deaf, Intensive Treatment Center, School for Mental Defectives at Los Lunas, State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carrie Tingley Hospital, and various orphanages.

Faster Curing Accomplished By Crushing Hay

Crushing the stems of grasses and legumes right after they are mowed reports Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Program, may be the way to conserve more of their feeding value when they are made into hay, current experiments indicate. At the present time it is estimated that because of faulty harvesting methods about 25 per cent of the feed value of hay is lost.

Farmers who are co-operating in the ACP program are concerned with these hay-curing experiments because under the program they are growing more grasses and legumes.

One of the faults with the present hay-curing methods are that it takes so long to dry the coarse stems of hay plants that the leaves get too dry, fall off, and are lost. Though the leaves of legumes make up only 50 per cent of the weight of the plants, they contain 75 per cent of the protein.

The principal parts of a machine which does the crushing of hay plants are two rollers. The plants go through the rollers immediately after they are cut by the mower.

A comparison of how fast Johnson grass, Sudan grass, and soybeans cured when crushed and when uncrushed was made in Mississippi. Johnson grass cut at 6 o'clock in the morning was down to 17 per cent moisture content and ready to be baled at 6 o'clock that evening. Uncrushed Johnson grass required 45 hours of curing.

In another experiment Johnson grass was cut at 10 o'clock in the morning. The crushed plants were down to 20 per cent moisture and ready to be baled by 1 o'clock the next afternoon. In contrast, the uncrushed Johnson grass was not ready to bale until the second day after cutting.

Crushed Sudan grass required 27 hours to cure and 72 hours when uncrushed.

Soybeans cut and cured for 25 hours were ready for baling. Uncrushed soybeans required 29 hours to cure, and there was less loss of beans in the crushed hay than in the uncrushed.
