Artesia Advocate To Become

Semi-Weekly In September The Artesia Advocate will become a semi-weekly newspaper in September.

Orville E. Priestly, publisher, in making the announcement, said that after many months of planning, it appears the mechanical difficulties and assurance of sufficient newsprint for the move have been ironed out. Publisher Priestley announced more than a year ago that The Advocate, a weekly newspaper since its establishment more than 45 years ago, would be changed to a semi-weekly at such time as difficulties could be overcome . It is contemplated, he said, to announce the exact date for starting publication twice a week about Aug 1. By that time advertising and news deadlines will have been worked out and announced for the two publications each week, the days of which also will have been decided upon. Many other problems still must be met before the changeover from one a week to twice a week can be made, Publisher Priestley said. In anticipation of doubling the number of publications, the editorial and advertising staff has been increased. However, the mechanical department will likewise require more It was pointed out that under the semi-weekly plan, it will ing the personal neighborliness of the weekly newspaper and at the same time to serve the advertisers better, both local and national, by giving them a choice of the first or latter part of the week-or both-in which to tell their messages. A. L. Bert, editor, said the editorial staff will attempt to keep The Advocate as newsy and informative as heretofore, or even more so and that it will continue to be the policy to support and publicize all community endeavors which are worthwhile. At the time of the change-over, he said, this will require the co-operation of the public, especially until such time as the new routine has become habit both to the staff and the public.

That is usually the case in all communities. It is the case in Artesia. There are always those be- ers shouldn't trouble us by observing them. coming excited and concerned about some matter which isn't so very important. Yet they will overlook a score of things which are important.

Some way or other they never see these things that can be accomplished and can be carried out. And there are scores of them here in Artesia and in every other community in the state.

We recently watched a group of people become rather excited about a situation which would only cause misunderstanding in that community. They were under the impression that a certain group was not receiving all the advantages that they could and should receive. The bringing up of the issue was only going to cause trouble and confusion.

And despite the fact they were told not once, but many times they were making a serious mistake, they were still just a little stubborn on the matter.

Yet this same group of people weren't conirritating them.—O.E.P.

cerned about a summer recreation program for the youths of that community. They weren't concerned about the establishment of a playground for the boys and girls. They don't bother to take a stand against the granting of more licenses for more saloons, bars and cocktail bars in their community. They are not concerned about the slot machines or the gambling that had been in progress or the fact that this might hurt the enrollment in their

They aren't willing to employ their energy and their efforts on some of the many opportunities afforded them to render a genuine service. Instead they want to stir up some strife; cause some conusion and misunderstanding.

But every community has people like this. Every community has those who seemingly can't place the important ahead of the non-important. Every community has those, who seemingly always want to promote those projects which cause misunderstanding in the community instead of create understanding and building a united community.

It is unfortunate, however, that such groups exist. But it is more unfortunate that all the fine opportunities to render some needed and unselfish service are being overlooked .- O.E.P.

Renewed loans will mature next April 30. Arrangements for renewng loans may be made at county agricultural conservation offices. Grain under loan in public warehouses matured last April 30 and is not eligible for loan renewel.

New Mexico wheat farmers taking part in the program will receive an immediate storage payment of 7 cents a bushel for the 1948-49 storage period and 111/2 cents a bushel for the 1949-50 period on wheat delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation at maturity of the loans

For oats and barley no storage payments will be made for the 1948-49 storage period, but payments amounting to 8 cents a bushel for oats and 10 cents for barley will be made for the 1949-50 storage period on oats and barley delivered to CCC at maturity of the loans.

The program is designed to slow down the flow of loan and purchase agreement grain off the farms in excess of market requirements. It is also a part of the department's over-all objective of encouraging farm storage of grains for orderly marketing and effective price sup-

Department compilations show that farm-storage loans had been made on approximately 60 millio bushels of 1948-crop wheat, 13 million bushels of oats and 22 millio bushels of barley. Quantities under purchase agreements totaled abo 113 million bushels of wheat, 81/2 million bushels of oats, and 18 mil-shifting to acreage allotments, lion bushels of barley. Figures are marketing quotas, price supports not available as to how much of and what to do with surplus farm them roughly. Heavy Drain On Land Is Leading To Its Depletion

"Are you burning down a part of your farm plant each year?" In asking this question, Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Commit tee, said he was not referring to the buildings on the farm but the farm itself. Too often too many farmers are doing what amounts to the same thing as burning down a part of the farm plant each year During the war and since, there has been a heavy drain on the land. Growing conditions have been favorable and prices have encouraged increased production of wheat, cot-

New Plastic Foam Used in Insulation Material Is Called Lightest of Solids

The world's lightest solid an amazing plastic foam that swells times its original volume-has been developed by Westinghouse scientist for use as a new insulating mag terial.

The new product is expected to find its way into many uses in appliances used in farm homes and about the farm.

Even lighter than some gases, the new material weighs from 10 to 20 times less than the fluffy meringue on a well-baked pie. Robert F. Sterling, 29-year-old chemist, and the man chiefly responsible for the new product, said it is the result of a three-year search for an effective insulating material that will fill large areas, yet weigh "next to nothing."

The foam is made by heating a molasses-like synthetic resin at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit until it expands to 100 times its original me, then solidifies. Thousands of gas bubbles entrapped in the foam "buoy" it up and give the plastic its lightness.

Foamed into pre-fabricated metal vall sections, a two-inch thick layer weighing only 300 pounds would

Cover That Cough

'Cover that cough, smother that sneeze" is not only good advice for people in public places. It has practical meaning in the cowbarn, too. Danger that coughing cattle may spread respiratory infections to their stablemates is highlighted in a research report from the American Veterinary Medical associa-

The report describes an unusual case of tuberculosis of the eye in a heifer. A tuberculosis cow with a bad cough, stanchioned next to the heifer, is believed to have spread

AVMA points out that this case occurred in England, where bovine tuberculosis is widespread. Although tuberculosis has been reduced to a minimum in United States herds, coughers and sneezers are nevertheless a menace because they may spread all kinds of respiratory infections. Isolation of any animal showing respiratory symptoms is urged, therefore, to protect the rest of the herd.

field Mice Destructive To Melon Crops, Seed

Untold damage is done each year to cucumber, cantaloupe and watermelon fields by mice destroying the seed which are planted and also the plants which are up and bearing fruit. H.
