For Friends — Roamers — Countrymen —

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive — what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all — what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything...

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drive! too — and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

In New Mexico 800 Disabled Vets Are Rehabilitated

Eight hundred New Mexico veterans disabled in World War II have been fully trained under the Veterans Administration Rehabilitation program to earn their living. Gene A. Robens, VA regional manager in New Mexico, gave this figure in a report showing that the number of New Mexico veterans rated as rehabilitated represents 30 per cent of all handicapped veterans who have entered training with government aid. This New Mexico percentage is almost 10 points higher than the national rehabilitation percentage of 20 per cent.

Since the program under Public Law 16 went into effect, Robens said, 2863 disabled veterans have entered training, representing a fourth of all veterans with disability ratings of 10 per cent or more. Of these 700 have completed their courses as follows: 342 have finished school training; 418 have completed on-job training and 39 have finished their institutional on-farm courses. At the present time 922 handicapped veterans remain in training and 940 have interrupted their courses, although it was pointed out that many of this latter group will resume.

Health and finances are chief cause of interruptions, it was said. Under Public Law 16 the VA is charged with responsibility for advising the disabled veteran as to the training most suited to his physical and mental capabilities. VA training officers then supervise the entire course of training.

Nationwide, VA reports that 218,957 disabled veterans are in training and that 94,000 have been rated as rehabilitated.

Indian Ceremonials At Mescalero Over July Fourth Are Interesting

(Mrs. Kenneth Shields, Malmajar correspondent for The Advocate and Mr. Shields spent Sunday, July 3, at Mescalero and attended the annual Fourth of July Mescalero Indian tribal ceremonies, about which Mrs. Shields has written.)

As you enter the valley, you can see their many tipis, tents and shelters made of branches from the trees nearby, with the leaves on the branches for privacy. This is what their kitchen was made of, it was built about 16 feet across and approximately 60 feet long. There were three groups of Indian women down the center of the kitchen, over the wood fires built on the floor of the shelter. Several 100-pound lard cans were pulled into the coals, filled with coffee, boiling on one side of the fire, while on the other side an Indian woman was busy cooking Indian bread.

The making of the bread was quite interesting. They used bushel baskets for containers for the prepared dough and others to hold the piping hot bread, which was cooked in two methods. One method was to fry it in hot grease, the other was to grill it on a rack over hot coals.

A small amount of dough, about the size of a baseball, was pulled from the basket and rolled and pulled into a thin flat circle, about the size of an 10-inch pie plate. This was dropped into the iron pot, or put on the wire rack, to cook. The bread was browned to a golden brown on one side and turned over in the boiling hot grease and browned on the other side. It looked very appetizing. During the afternoon this was given to any visitor that wanted it.

The kitchen was on one side of the dance pavilion, concessions, a large native tepee and benches were on the other. The parking area was behind the benches.

The two princesses made their first appearance of the afternoon, coming from their shelter into the large kitchen. They were kept busy posing for pictures and some of the visitors posed with them. They were dressed in yellow beaded buckskin with leg dress and moccasins to match. They wore two large gray feathers in their hair, which hung down, touching their right shoulders in the back. The feathers were caught by the quills with a ribbon and were fastened just behind and above the right ear. A large silk scarf of beautiful colors was caught by two corners at their shoulders, covering their entire backs and hanging below the calves of their legs. It was a silk scarf like we women wear over our heads.

The first dance started at 5:30 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours. Those dancing were the visiting Indians from Oklahoma. There was a small boy, about 3 years old, who danced part of the time, dressed in native dress. There were two other boys, about 5 years old, who were the best dancers and danced during the entire time. In fact, they led the other Indians onto the pavilion after the short intermissions. Tom toms were placed on a low table in front of the native tepee and were played for this dance. One real old Indian woman became so carried away with her people's dance and songs she joined them in one song unexpectedly in the audience, which gave everyone a start.

After this dance, supper was served at the kitchen door. During this hour it was permissible to eat with the Indians, which several of the white visitors did. They were served the hot pieces of bread, which served as plates and huge pieces of beef were placed on the bread. Coffee was carried away in containers, from cups to three-pound coffee cans. Several commented how good the food was. Their richly buttered popcorn, sold during the dances, was delicious.

A fee is charged to enter the grounds, which it was reported, went back to the reservation for the Indians. There was plenty of entertainment during the day, a rodeo and an Indian baseball game during the afternoon. Tom-toms were heard all during the day in the village on the side of the hill.

They placed benches around the pavilion on three sides for the people to sit on. These were filled in a short time after supper, so the remainder of the people sat in front of the benches on the ground. Indian police kept watching the crowd during the afternoon and in the evening for cameras. You can take pictures only if you get a written permit. The second dance started at 8:30 o'clock after which a huge fire was built in the center of the pavilion. This dance lasted until 10:30 o'clock.

The last day of the ceremonials, which was July 5, the marriage able Indian maidens were to be placed in pens and at sunrise, the tepees were all to come down at the same time and the buck Indians were to grab themselves brides.

Farmers Reminded To Furnish Data To ACA Office

The county ACA office in Carlsbad again urges all farmers in Eddy County to come into the office in the court house at the earliest possible moment and furnish information as to crops planted in 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1949.

"It appears almost certain that we will have cotton allotments in 1950 and individual farm allotments cannot be established until we have the information mentioned above," committee members said. They stressed that it is of the utmost importance that all farmers realize that it is their responsibility to furnish the information needed by the ACA office so that they will be sure to receive their share of the cotton acreage allotted to Eddy County. This applies to farms that have never been signed up under the program, as well as those who have co-operated from year to year.

"You are again urged not to delay in attending to this, as to do so could result in no cotton allotment being set up for your farm and your county ACA committee is anxious to see that no farm eligible for a cotton allotment be overlooked," members said.

"Mama," asked the little girl, "do all fairy tales begin with 'Once upon a time'?"

"No, my dear," replied Mama, "sometimes they begin with 'Honey, I'm on duty tonight!'"

M.D.: "I'm afraid I have had news for you. Your husband will never work again."

Wife: "What's news about that?"

Girl Scout Area Council Receives Charter For Year

The Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Area Council has received its 1949-1950 charter from the Girl Scout national headquarters in New York City.

This is the first charter granted to the Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Area Council under a new plan whereby charters are issued in recognition of yearly achievement.

According to Mrs. Roy Norton, a member of the Girl Scout regional committee from New Mexico, the total volume of membership, the number of volunteer leaders and the number of troops, as well as the quality of the program for the girls, comprise the basis on which charters are granted.

In a letter accompanying the charter, Mrs. C. Vaughan Ferguson, Girl Scout national president, congratulated the Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Council for its work of the previous year and said the charter had been granted on the basis of the area's annual report and its accomplishments during the year.

Mrs. Ferguson pointed out that Girl Scouting is a nation-wide and worldwide youth movement with great potential power for the strengthening of democracy. She said the good work done locally by councils determines the national and international value of scouting and said she hoped before long it would be possible for any girl, in any part of the country, to be a Girl Scout if she so desired.

The total registered enrollment in the Southeast Area as of July 1 is 360 adults and 1174 Girl Scouts. The area plan of Girl Scouting has been in operation in the Southeast New Mexico three years and includes Eddy, Chaves, Lea, Otero and Lincoln Counties.

Prevention Best With Newcastle Disease Control

With Newcastle disease, no experience is by far the best experience, says County Agent Dallas Rierson.

Poultrymen who have not yet had trouble will be wise to go to considerable pains to keep it off the premises, the county agent adds. Block off as completely as possible every channel by which the virus can get to a healthy flock, say U.S. Department of Agriculture specialists. Experience has shown that the disease can be spread both directly and indirectly. The virus is long lived and durable.

Rierson points out the following precautions, which have always been in line with good poultry management, but are more important than ever in controlling Newcastle disease:

The virus can be carried on shoes, clothing, crates and trucks. Keep visitors out and tell the poultry huckster to stop in the road. Carry out birds and eggs and sell them away from the yard. Shipment of exposed birds should be avoided.

Require dealers to sell feed in new bags or show that they are re-using old bags only after thorough steam sterilization.

Crates returned from market should be thoroughly sterilized before they are allowed on the premises.

Poison rats and keep cats and dogs out of yards and feed rooms. They may act as mechanical carriers of the disease.

New stock should be added only after a quarantine period of several weeks to insure that they are free from disease.

Buy chicks only from hatcheries that apply rigid sanitary control. Attend strictly to prompt disposal of all birds dying from any cause by deep burial or burning.

Bimonthly Publication Of Carlsbad Elks Pats Artesia Lodge On Back

(The current issue of "Hello Bill," bimonthly publication of the Carlsbad Elk Lodge, published the following concerning the Artesia Elks Lodge.)

Carlsbad's "Baby" Lodge, Artesia Lodge No. 1717, has left its cradle and is taking its initial step in building a new home for the "Bills" who have been so loyal in the first two years of its existence. Artesia Lodge No. 1717 was chartered Jan. 21, 1947, with 45 names on the charter and has grown to a strength of 256. Meetings were first held on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel and then moved to the present site at 322 Quay Avenue.

With all members using hammers and saws, a lodge room and club rooms were finished in a building 25x80 feet. New furniture was purchased and placed in the lodge so that the members would have a comfortable place to bring their families and enjoy a pleasant evening of fraternal activities.

During the two years of existence Artesia Lodge No. 1717 has given the Artesia Memorial Hospital an oxygen tent and furnished a room in the new wing of the hospital. The members have been the first to rally to assist all charity and community welfare organizations in making life a bit more pleasant for those who are less fortunate. Recently, during the polio spread in the community, a broadcast was made by the local health authorities on educating the citizens concerning polio. On the completion of the broadcast the members of Artesia Lodge No. 1717 had donated $285 to help pay for dusting the city to stop the spread of the dreaded epidemic.

These and many more cases have made the Artesia Elks the strongest fraternal organization in the community.

Due to the increase of membership and need for larger club rooms and lodge hall, the trustees voted to build a larger home. Under construction at the present time is a building 50x60 feet with a full basement. The basement will house the recreation room, dining room, with seating capacity for 104 people, a kitchen and storage room. The top floor will be all lodge room with a beautiful oak floor, sound equipment and the latest in air-conditioning and heating.

The old home is to be completely remodeled and will provide for a secretary's office, ladies' lounge, reception and reading rooms.

Artesia Lodge No. 1717 is definitely building for the community and will continue to strive to aid and assist all local and community organizations in making Artesia the greatest little city in the Southwest.

New Orleans (AFPS) — The sixth annual Sugar Bowl football classic will be held Monday, January 2, 1950, instead of New Year's Day as has been the custom in the past. The grid game will conclude a full week of sports activities.

IT'S A PAIN IN THE NECK

Montreal — (AFPS) — Some people worry with their necks. When their necks worry, here's what happens. They suffer pains in the neck, stiff necks and just plain headaches caused by a pain in the neck.

Authority for this information is the Memorial Institute of Psychiatry, McGill University, whose researchers studied many a pain in the neck to amass their finds.

The researchers explained that when the neck muscles tighten, their electrical qualities change and their is an increase in potential (a higher voltage).

The worrier scientists used in their studies were furnished by a hot beam of light, focused to a narrow point on the subject's forehead.

An artist's model is a girl who works only when the boss is looking.

ISLAND DISAPPEARS

Honolulu — (AFPS) — Falcon island, a small volcanic member of the Tonga group, 2900 miles southwest of Hawaii, has disappeared for the fourth time in its recorded history.

A New Zealand Navy frigate reported recently that the island had sunk beneath the waves, leaving only a strong sulphur smell in the vicinity.

Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, American volcanologist of the National Park Service, predicts that the island will rise again and will eventually grow to considerable size. Right now, he says, Falcon island is in process of piling up lava under the sea.

1st Sgt. (throwing sandwich out into waste can): "Peanut butter! All three sandwiches are peanut butter again today. Yesterday and last week they were peanut butter. I'm telling you, I'm tired of peanut butter!"

Company Clerk: "Won't your wife fix the things you like for lunch?"

1st Sgt.: "Leave my wife out of this, I fix my own lunch!"

HOMESTATE

Millington, Tenn. (AFPS)—The residents of this town were happy when with a shiny new $2250 engine for the volunteer fire department.

The fire bell clanged. The volunteers raced to the garage but all for nothing. Someone had forgotten the key.

Jackson, Mich. (AFPS)—More than a thousand jailbirds will be released from the Southern Michigan Prison here.

The inmates have been keeping exercises in their cells. Each prisoner, in the past, has been allowed five birds. Prison officials have just reduced the quota.

Lincoln, Neb. (AFPS) — Sally Monia is going to have two front teeth extracted but the case is slightly different.

The dentist decided two teeth were too many for Sally. Sally is 10 days old.

Wenatchee, Wash. (AFPS) — There is something fishy about this story.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parker were fishing and Mr. Parker lost his billfold overboard in the murky water.

A few minutes later, Mrs. Parker felt a nibble on her line. She pulled in the billfold. Mr. Parker said the contents, $90, were intact.

Chicago, Ill. (AFPS) — Money can be maddening.

Henry Sidenfaden, 73, a dishwasher, inherited $13,000. The news moved around and he lost his job. Now he can't get another dishwasher job because prospective employers claim he is in the public eye and people would be coming in trying to sell him things.

East Hampton, L. I. (AFPS) — Among other items, Allan V. Bass, 24, had stolen 79 pairs of women's shoes.

He told police he started stealing shoes because his wife liked them. Police stopped him 15 burglaries later.

Small boy: "Mama, what was the name of that last station we passed?"

Mama: "Don't bother me, Egbert, can't you see I'm reading?"

S. B.: "Well, it's too bad you don't know, because Little Brother got off there."

Insurance NCO: "Now, that amounts to a premium of $6.90 per month for straight life. That's what you wanted wasn't it, ordinary life?"

WAC Recruit: "Well, I'd like a little excitement now and then."

WAF Mess Sgt.: "Listen, if you will peel those onions under water, they won't affect your eyes that way."

WAF KP: "Oh, I can't do that. There's a hole in my bathing cap and I just had my hair waved."

Wife: "George, put down that paper. Ever since the baseball season started, we've had 11 people here for breakfast."

CPO: "Eleven?"

Wife: "Yes, you and me and the Brooklyn Dodgers."

Sleek-domed 1st Sgt.: "Is that hair grower any good?"

PX Clerk: "Well, I can tell you that we're selling it at cost because of the comb and brush business it brings us."

Mac: "I think women make too much fuss about clothes. After all, they're all sisters under the skin."

Joe: "True and by the looks of my wife lately, I think they're holding a convention under hers."

AIR CADETS PLAN NAVIGATION SCHOOL

Houston, Tex. (AFPS)—The Air Force Aviation Cadet training program will expand this fall with the opening of a new Aviation Cadet Navigators School at Ellington Air Force Base, Texas.

The Air Force recently announced that the school, designed to train navigators for the latest types of transports and bombers, will be patterned after the aviation cadet pilot program in eligibility requirements and training.

The first class will begin on November 1, with new classes following each month thereafter. Approximately 100 students will be enrolled in each class.

During the year of intense training in the latest methods of navigation, the aviation cadet navigators will receive 184 hours of navigation instruction in "flying classrooms."

Chicago (AFPS)—The Chicago Cubs' new manager Frankie Frisch was fined $100 and suspended for five days by National League President Ford Frick as the result of a row with umpire Art Gore in a recent game with the Boston Braves.

East Lansing, Mich. (AFPS)—The Michigan State-Notre Dame football game, a new rivalry between the schools, became the first 1949 football sell-out in the country when the ducks were snapped up in just eight days after sale began on June 1.

Esther Williams Sings, Dances In Landsun Showing

Esther Williams has made good all those forecasts made when she seemed only a beautiful swimming star. In her latest film, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," MGM Technicolor musical showing at the Landsun Theater Sunday through Tuesday, she proves her versatility by dancing with Gene Kelly and singing with Frank Sinatra.

Esther was born in Los Angeles and her love of swimming came to her naturally. When she was 8, a public playground pool was built near her home, largely through the efforts of her mother's PTA activities. Esther earned her swimming time by counting towels. She received one hour's free swimming for every hundred towels.

She attended public schools, Los Angeles City College and the University of Southern California.

When she was 15, the Los Angeles Athletic Club coaches saw her swim and suggested that if she would work very hard they thought she could become a champion in four years.

"I can't wait that long," replied Esther. "I'll do in two or not at all." And she did, winning the women's Outdoor Nationals at Des Moines in the 100-meter free style and was a member of the champion 200 and 400-meter Medlan relay teams. She also set a record for the 100-meter breast stroke that year.

The nationals were the tryouts for the Olympics to be held in Helsinki, Finland and Esther was in training to carry the U.S. colors in the greatest of all sports events when the war came along and the meet was canceled.

She decided she couldn't eat medals and promptly got a job modeling at Magnin's. Soon thereafter Billy Rose, planning the Aquacade at the San Francisco World's Fair, heard about the lovely champion swimmer. He made her such an attractive offer that she decided to turn professional and for the entire run of the fair was star of the show.

Esther soon had movie offers galore. But she felt that she was a swimmer and not an actress and for almost a year after she returned home and went back to her job of modeling, she shied away from the studios.

But one day a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer representative offered her a contract which assured her a chance to study and prepare herself before facing the cameras. It was a challenge and she decided to accept it.

GREMLINS IN TV

New York — (AFPS) — The hot, dry weather that has tortured the nation recently uncovered a new category to victimize—the television fan.

The unusual atmospheric conditions distorted the television signals causing many set owners to receive stations hundreds of miles away, while unable to pick up local stations.

NEW MOON TO CROON TO New York — (AFPS) — There's a new moon to croon a tune to! Spotted by the McDonald Observatory, this new moon takes its place along with the 29 other moons known to exist.

It's 3 billion miles from earth and 250,000 times fainter than the faintest star.

He didn't want to marry her for her money, but he didn't know how else to get it.

There was a young airman named Syd, Who kissed her upon the eyelid.

She said to the lad, "Your aim is so bad You should practice awhile" So he dyd.

"We were happy for more than a year," the tearful wife told the judge. "and then the baby came." "Boy or girl?" asked his honor. "Girl—a blonde; she moved in next door."

Landlady: "That new boarder is either a married man or a widower."

Daughter: "Why, Ma, he says he is a bachelor."

Landlady: "Well, I don't believe it. When he opens his pocketbook to pay his board, he always turns his back on me."

The kid came in from a football game, tugged at his mother's apron strings and said, "Ma, didn't I hear you tell Aunt Mary you was proud of me because I had your eyes and daddy's nose?"

"Yes, Dear, you did." "Well, look at me now, Ma," replied the kid; "I got no teeth like grandpa."

Ethel: "Mamma, it's dark in here and I'm afraid." Mother: "Hush, Ethel. The angels are in there with you. Be quiet and go to sleep."

Ethel (pause): "Mamma! One of the angels just bit me!"

WAVE: "Do you read movie magazines? WAF: Only when I go to the dental clinic. You know, I had 6 teeth pulled in the last two weeks. WAVE: I didn't know you were having trouble with your teeth!" WAF: I wasn't, but I wanted to finish an article I was reading."

With a screech of brakes, the officer stopped his motorcycle and called to a small boy playing in a field: "Say, sonny, did you see an airplane come down near here?" Boy (trying to hide sling shot): "But, mister! I was just aiming at a bottle, honest!"

VA Tells How To Secure Earliest Dividend Payment

World War II veterans have been told by the Veterans Administration how to co-operate in order to secure earliest possible payment of their National Service Life Insurance dividends.

These blanks are now being prepared and should be ready for distribution through every post office veterans' service organization and VA office in the country. The form is a three-fold card upon which the veteran will write his full name, service number, insurance policy numbers and address. He will retain the third of the card which contains the instructions and mail the other two parts to the VA, where the application part of the card will be separated and the return acknowledgment portion mailed back to the veteran to inform him that VA has received the application.

of the policy during 1948, additional dividends will compensate veterans whose policy anniversary dates are early in the year. Future dividend distribution also will consider policies issued after Jan. 1, 1948. These policies will not participate in the present dividend. Nearly 20,000,000 policies were issued to more than 16,500,000 members of the armed forces. Some veterans have two or more policies. More than 7,215,000 policies are now in force.

A Swing and a Miss

It was a wild swing Joe Wolcott let fly in this first round picture taken at Comiskey Park, Chicago. This type of 'mixing it up' proved to be characteristic of the entire 14-round bout. Both Wolcott and Charles engaged in a wary, cautious battle, dubbed by sports writers as "no fight."

1949 New Mexico State Fair Sept 25-Oct. 2, Leon H. Harms, secretary-manager, announced. These include awards in beef cattle, dairy cattle, horse, sheep, swine, poultry and small stock divisions. While New Mexico's fair is among the youngest of the state fairs, premiums offered to livestock producers rank with some of the major shows of the nation, Harms said. Because New Mexico is one of the most important livestock producing regions of the southwest, the fair annually attracts some of the top breeders of registered animals, he added. In urging livestock producers to exhibit at this year's fair, Harms pointed out that more than 10,000 livestock men attended the 1948 fair. "There is no better method of advertising livestock and showing other producers the quality our New Mexico breeders are producing," he said. Full details on closing dates and entries are included in the premium book, copy of which can be secured by writing to New Mexico State Fair, P. O. Box 1693, Albuquerque.

ACCIDENTS IN U. S. TOP ERP'S BUDGET

Chicago, Ill. (AFPS)—America is spending more money on accidents than on the entire European Recovery Program, according to Norman Damon, vice president of the Automotive Safety Foundation. Damon said the total economic loss from accidents in 1947 was about $7,100,000,000 or an average of $200 for each American family.

PILOTS, CREWS FOUND GOOD INSURANCE RISK

New York (AFPS)—It's getting safer in the "wild blue yonder" all the time.

Proof of this statement is evidenced in statistics recently revealed by the Institute of Life Insurance. They found that 93 out of 100 insurance companies surveyed are now willing to insure pilots and crews on scheduled U.S. airlines.

Eighty companies, the Institute said, are willing to insure pilots and crews on non-scheduled commercial flights in the United States.

Seventy-four companies of the 100 surveyed will now insure pilots and crews on Western Hemisphere flights, and 52 companies grant policies on world-wide flights.

REFLECTION ON A COP

Columbus, Ohio (AFPS)—Recreation Centers maintained for personnel of the Armed Forces constitute a definite hazard to Policemen, according to Patrolman W. H. Adkins.

Recently pounding his downtown beat in the predawn darkness, Adkins checked the alley door of the Armed Forces YMCA and found it open, and staring at him from within, he said, was a

"big burly man, ready to jump me."

Adkins drew his gun. The prowler drew his. Both fired. A full length mirror and the prowler—Patrolman Adkins' reflection—crashed to the floor.

"Is that blonde married?" "Well, if not she's in a terrible fix." "How's that?" "I'm her husband."

SNAKE TUNES OUT RADIO

Russellville, Ala. (AFPS)—Radio station WWR, located near here, was shut down recently by a rattlesnake. The reptile crawled into a tuning unit, shorting a circuit.

TAN METER

Swampscott, Mass. (AFPS)—A sunburn meter to tell you when you have the right shade of tan was recently exhibited for the first time by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers here.

ODD BUS STOP

Fort Worth, Tex. (AFPS)—Arrested while leaning on the doors of a grocery store here, two men said they were "waiting for a bus to Dallas." Cops thought it odd, though, that one man was leaning on the front door and the other on the rear door.

Farm Brigade Is First Defense Against Fires

Summer is a good time to organize a farm fire brigade, County Agent Dallas Rierson said. "A well-organized brigade can be a farmer's first line of defense against fire. Each member of the family, as well as the hired hand, should have a job to do," he added.

He also recommended that the farmer himself be the fire chief. It will be up to him to see that the brigade removes hazards, keeps fire extinguishers in good shape and is taught fire-fighting techniques.

When a fire is discovered, rapid action is more important, he continued. For that reason, the nearest fire company should be summoned immediately. Next, the family should be gotten to safety. If the fire has not made too much headway, the animals should then be rescued. Next, a member of the family should see that the driveway or lane is opened. Someone next should be posted at the entrance to direct the fire trucks.

Rierson said the following fire-fighting equipment should be standing by at all times:

Underwriters' approved fire extinguishers, especially in barns, kitchen, basement and around gasoline-driven equipment.

Ladders long enough to reach eaves and upper windows.

Ropes to reach parts of burning buildings for rescue work and raising axes, water pails or extinguishers.

Axes, to get at those "stubborn" blazes.

Sand pails.

Hose 100 feet long to connect with faucet or other water outlet. While waiting for the engines to arrive, the brigade can go into action with whatever of those fire-fighting weapons is needed, the agent said. A farm fire brigade can mean the difference between total loss and small damage.

Poultry Tips

By E.E. Anderson,

Extension Poultry Specialist
Keep on the lookout for lice. Lice multiply rapidly in hot weather. Kill them before they become too thick.

Cull the hens that stop laying. They won't be back in production for two or three months. Sell them, can them or freeze them in your locker.

Sell the roosters. It costs money to keep them around. They are a problem when it comes to producing quality eggs.

Start gathering eggs three times a day. Cool them in the cellar overnight before you pack them into cases. Sell eggs at least twice a week.

Clean and store your brooding equipment. Also order new parts to replace all broken or worn parts. Then you'll be ready for next season.

Keeping the poultry flock on full feed during the summer is important in good poultry production. Feed the layers all the laying mash they will consume.

You often hear a man bragging about the woman who taught him about women, but you can't remember ever hearing of any woman who raved over the man who taught her about men!

"The time will come," thundered the lady orator, "when women will get men's wages."

"Yeah," muttered the little man in a rear seat, "next Saturday night."

Because a girl is lovesick is no sign she will take any pill that comes along.

Crop Rotation

Crop rotation with deep-rooted legumes, plant food and good management methods are the "gas, oil and lubricants" that keep your soil's crop producing machine going on high.

Each of these has a job to do. Each needs help from the others. They all have to work like a team.

Valuable as a good rotation is in balancing soil-building legume crops against soil-robbing row crops, it has to be backed up by wise land management methods. Cropping in even the best rotation drains the soil's supply of phosphate and potash.

And even if your good management program puts back every scrap of barnyard manure, plows under the legumes and returns straw, corn stalks and crop aftermath to the soil, you still ship away hundreds of pounds of plant food in the grain, beef and milk you sell every year.

Good Pasture Increases Dairy Herd Production

With 2.5 million fewer cows or farms now than in 1945, possibilities for profit in dairying are greater if labor-saving, high value pasture is the center of the production program. Good pasture can increase milk output and cut production costs. That means a bigger profit margin. Getting bigger pasture yields is a matter of feeding the soil plant nutrients so it can feed legume grass mixtures.
