Improvement Of Pastures Tends To Permanency

Improving pastures is one of the best ways to build a permanent agriculture, says Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Committee. To balance farm production to market needs, more land in pastures and better care of these pastures is needed. Forehand emphasized that pastures should mean more than a piece of "waste land" surrounded by a few posts and couple of stands of barbed wire. Grass and legumes are crops from which a good income can be obtained if

EX-GI FACES CHARGES OF TREASON

ESCORTED by an agent of the F.B.I., John D. Provo (right) walks up the steps of the Federal Court Building in New York where he was arraigned on a charge of treasonably dealing with the Japanese in time of war. Ordered held without bail, the 33-year-old former Army sergeant stands accused of actually assisting the Japanese in subduing Corregidor in May, 1942. Provo joined the U.S. Army in 1941. (International) they are given the attention usually given to the so-called cash crops. Pasture improvement and grass and legume seeding practices are in the Agricultural Conservation Program because of their importance in conserving soil and water, the chairman explains. Grass and legumes send out a network of roots that hold the soil in place. Old roots die and new ones take their place. Dead roots are acted upon by bacteria and other agents of decomposition, which release the plant food. And this decayed and decaying material acts as a sponge to absorb and hold rain water.

Forehand pointed out that the establishment and improvement of pastures is being especially emphasized as a means of making the best use of the land taken out of tilled crops. Not only will the additional pasture help balance production but it will be building up reserves for future production. Properly handled, pastures build up the land instead of wearing it out. In most instances this will mean the use of lime, phosphate and often potash and boron. It will mean the use of improved strains of seed and proper grazing management. As the chairman explained it, "Soil that is protected and improved by grass and legumes will continue to produce the food and fiber needed by consumers. That is why the government provides assistance to farmers in establishing and improving pastures."

Tardy Filing For Old-Age Benefits Costs Many Money

According to information released by J. Hasser Strickland, manager of the Roswell office of the Social Security Administration, one person out of every 15 filing claims for old-age insurance benefits at the Roswell office lost money because they did not file a claim on time. "Under present regulations," Strickland said, "back payments can be made only for three months before the time of filing a claim. Loss of money which is rightfully yours may be avoided with the proper information. If you are 65, you may be entitled to payments and not know it. If you are a survivor of a deceased wage earner who has worked in covered employment, you may also be entitled to payments. If there is any doubt, you should check up immediately." A representative of the Roswell office visits Artesia twice each month. He may be contacted at the New Mexico State Employment Service in the Ward Building from 11 o'clock to noon each second and fourth Tuesday.

BARN AND HAY DESTROYED BY FIRE

A barn belonging to Arnel Gray on the Tom Terry place on the Cottonwood and its contents of about 100 tons of hay were destroyed by fire from lightning during a severe storm about 10 o'clock last Thursday night. During the same storm, the Cottonwood Church was struck and set on fire, but the extent of the damage was not learned.

tended Artesia High School last year and was a member of the football squad.

Miss Mary Catherine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Martin, has enrolled in Texas Western at El Paso as a freshman. Miss Martin left Wednesday of last week. She was accompanied to El Paso by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Weedon and their daughter Palma of St. Joseph, Mo. Dr. and Mrs. Weedon and daughter returned to Artesia Friday and left Sunday for their home. Miss Martin spent part of the summer at St. Joseph.

'The Younger Brothers' Is Action Packed

Plenty of action accents Warner Brothers' Technicolor film, "The Younger Brothers," starring Wayne Morris, Janis Paige, Bruce Bennett, Geraldine Brooks and Robert Hutton. It opens at the Lansun Theater Sunday for a three-day run.

This action-filled tale of the old West is a unique combination of fact and fiction. The Younger Brothers were determined to regain their lost ranch land which had been pillaged and they wanted most of all to return to their homes.

The setting for "The Younger Brothers" is laid against that section of the old West, which included certain portions of Minnesota near the Missouri border. Law and order were in a constant state of clashing and in the midst of this atmosphere moved the rugged Youngers.

Morris, Bennett and James Brown play the older boys and Bob Hutton is cast as the youngest one of the four. Morris, who played the former Army officer turned usher in "John Loves Mary," leads off the bright cast. Bennett, at home in rugged roles such as "Silver River" and in the prize-winning "Treasure of Sierra Madre," is on familiar ground here in "The Younger Brothers."

Feminine honors are divided between Janis and Gerry Brooks as the fiancée of one of the brothers. Janis plays the leader of a tough band of outlaws.

Lea said this is one of the major prizes in the contest, rules of which appear in the local store's advertisement each Friday.

The store manager said presentation of the prize is to be made to Mrs. Longacre in the near future.

Girl Scout Notes

Artesia Girl Scouts met in their regular meeting for the first time of the year and made plans for badge work and service activities and for cooking for the coming year. There are several new troops which will begin meeting soon.

Troop 2 made plans for a hike and picnic lunch at their meeting Monday. The girls plan to meet at Mae West Curve after school and after their lunch will hike to the top of the hill during the coming year. These Scouts meet folk dances, played games and sang songs.

Troop 8 elected officers at their meeting Monday. The girls elected Frances Fuchs president; Joan Atkins, vice president; Arlene Galt, secretary; Florence Worley, treasurer; and Lynn Burns, treasurer. They decided to elect alternate officers, in case some could not present each time. The alternates were: President, Yvonne Nalley; secretary, Sue Carolyn; treasurer, Florence Worley; reporter, Annette Conner. The girls held their meeting in the back yard at Herman Fuchs home and discussed their second class plans.

Troop 10 met to find out how many old members of the troop had joined again this year and to perfect attendance. They discussed their second class badges and announced that among their community services for the coming year Judy Sams and Sandra Butts have been chosen to help in the C.A. nursery. The group will also discuss Christmas Seals for the National Tuberculosis Association. The girls plan to meet Tuesdays and will have an election of officers at the next meeting.

Troop 11 will have their first meeting at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The Scout reporter, Mrs. Raymond Lamb, requests each troop leader or troop scribe to call her at each meeting with any troop news. The phone number is 157-W.

Hunting, Fishing Without Licenses

A hunter and a fisherman this week were fined $25 plus costs of $30 each by Justice of the Peace D. Josey, after being found purring their sports without licenses.

Boyes Hurford of Roswell entered a plea of guilty Tuesday on a charge of hunting doves without a license and W. C. Clark of Cottonwood made a similar plea Wednesday on a charge of fishing without a license.

Both men were apprehended by an Duck, special game warden.

ARENT CITED UNDER ATTENDANCE LAW

Justice of the Peace J. D. Josey this week parents of two children of school age have been brought to the last few days for failing to comply with the compulsory attendance law on charges filed by M. A. Sams, attendance officer.

The law requires that all children 6 to 16 years old must attend school, unless school permits have been obtained from the authorities.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike
There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.
The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:
"... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."
Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded
There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:
1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
3—Decision by arbitration.
4—Decision by neutral referee.
5—Decision by courts.
The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.
Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships
There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.
The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.
If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

SEE and HEAR OLSEN and JOHNSON'S FIREBALL FUN-FOR-ALL every Thursday on Television

Guess who's losing sleep over this one?

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business. For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced.
But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself:
How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features?
How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes?
Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match.
This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic, yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.
The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflo Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.
So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit?
Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices.
You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.

TEN-STRIKE! Only Buick SPECIAL has all these Features! TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE • MORE ROOM FOR THE MONEY • DYNAFLO DRIVE optional at extra cost • JET-LINE STYLING • NON-LOCKING BUMPER-GUARD GRILLES • HIGH-PRESSURE FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE • COIL SPRINGING ALL AROUND • LOW-PRESSURE TIRES ON SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • GREATER VISIBILITY FORE AND AFT • SELF-LOCKING LUGGAGE LIDS • STEADY-RIDING TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE • THREE SMART MODELS WITH BODY BY FISHER

WANTS TO SHARE HOME WITH MATE

LOOKING OVER SOME of her $1,000 collection of ceramic treasures, Mrs. Elsie G. Schutte of Demarest, N. J., is shown in the dining room of the $15,000 home she wants to share with the "right man." She tried matrimonial agencies but "they sent me a lot of old refugees." Mrs. Schutte's ideal is a man who can "get me a maid," pay the $600 yearly taxes on the property and maybe pay off the $6,000 mortgage. (International)

MAGDALENA ANTELOPE DATES ARE CHANGED

The dates for the antelope season in the Silver City-Madalenia area which had been tentatively set as Oct. 18-20, have been amended to Oct. 21-23, according to an announcement from the Department of Game and Fish. The dates were changed, the releases said, because the department had received many requests to move the season up to include the week end.

In addition to amending the season dates for the Silver City-Madalenia area, the department has closed the season for antelope in the Fort Union district and those sportsmen who are planning to apply for a permit in that district should pick another area, according to the release.

Overhauling the Land

Ten years' work in rebuilding the soil-depleted 300-acre Rio Grande College farm at Rio Grande, Ohio, were compressed into 13 1/2 hours recently by 600 workers and hundreds of pieces of mechanized farm equipment. In this hilly Ohio valley country, chief problem was removal of excess water which had been carrying away top soil. Diversion ditches and sod water outlets were prepared. Two ponds were built. The course of a stream was altered. Years of cultivation had taken much of the life from the farm's soil, so the horde of workers also attacked the problem of soil rejuvenation. Great areas were tilled, limed, fertilized and seeded and overgrown pasture land was reclaimed and prepared for seeding. In the picture, a jeep, equipped with bush and bog harrow, is engaged in mulching as part of the work done on the farm.

2, 4-D Winter Spraying Destroys Stumps, Weeds

Successful winter spraying with an ester of 2, 4-D is the newest twist to the ever-broadening field of chemical weed control.

At East Lansing, Mich., agronomists Keith Barrons and L. L. Coulter of the Dow Chemical company announced that stumps sprayed in near zero weather during the past three winters have responded to treatment in the same manner as stumps sprayed during the summer season. The chemical used was Esteron 44 which contains 44 per cent of the isopropyl ester of 2, 4-D.

Weak Egg Shells Mean Hens Require Calcium

Feeding oyster shell to laying hens to furnish the calcium needed for making strong egg shells is suggested by Irving J. Mork, agent of the North Dakota Agricultural college extension service.

"Hens that lay steadily will, as time goes on, lay eggs with weak shells," he said. "Usually this is due to a lack of calcium in the ration. It can also be due to a lack of vitamin D, however."

year ago, a reliable monthly survey of "real income" reveals. "Real income" is the relationship of revenue to living costs.

The national figures indicate that the average home has 2 per cent more buying power than last year. Wage-earners, salaried people and those with investment income are equally well off, while the farmer is now about 3 per cent below his status of a year ago.

It should be remembered, however, that such status a year ago was at a then all-time high.

Besides the recent drop in farm prices, the survey said, it is expected that there may be further tapering off during the next six months, but farm income will continue at a high level. In the same way, although surpluses are beginning to appear in the clothing industry, there are no signs yet that sharp price breaks are likely.

New Mexico's 1949 State Fair, Opening On Sunday, Expected To Draw Largest Crowd

With thousands of dollars in improvements completed and ready for what is expected to be the largest crowd ever assembled in the state, the 1949 New Mexico State Fair gates will open Sunday noon for a full week of day and night action. Things never before seen at the New Mexico show will be on display this year. And all the old popular features will be back in a show that offers something for everyone.

As Joe G. Heaston, recently elected chairman of the State Fair Commission, said in a radio broadcast reviewing the progress of the exposition, "During the relatively brief 12-year period in which the New Mexico State Fair has been in operation, remarkable growth and development has been made. This annual affair already stands out as one of the foremost events of its kind in this country."

Heaston pointed to the many additions that have been made for the comfort, convenience and entertainment of the state's population. He especially praised the considerable progress that has been made since the 1948 show—completion of the huge Youth Hall, completion of a new dairy barn and showroom, expansion of drinking water facilities, new isolation unit for sick animals, new horse barns and the partially completed new $30,000 administration building. These new additions do not include the thousands of dollars and thousands of hours that have gone into painting, remodeling and renovating of the entire plant.

From the time the gates swing open Sunday there will be something going on every moment until the final visitor departs eight days later. The sport of kings—horse racing—as always will be one of the big attractions for the thousands who daily pack the grandstand to capacity. Eight races will be run each day, featuring some of the best horseflesh ever to run on New Mexico soil. Several big feature races, including the state fair derby, the New Mexico futurity for thoroughbreds and the New Mexico quarter horse futurity, will match top racers for the richest purses paid in New Mexico tracks. For the lovers of the fast quarter-mile sprinters, at least one quarter horse race a day is scheduled.

The championship rodeo each night of the eight-day fair will again pit the best rodeo hands of the nation against each other for the more than $7000 in prize money. On top of all the feature attractions of the rodeo, several special acts by trick riders, ropers and daredevils will be presented each night to thrill the rodeo fans.

Coming from the biggest shows of the nation, Maryln Rich, the helicopter girl, will risk her neck twice each day in a thrilling performance of acrobatics on ropes suspended from a flying helicopter.

There will be a huge carnival, with side shows and rides for children and adults alike. Every night will be topped off with the most elaborate display of fireworks ever presented in the Southwest. Bands, including the famous Indian band and several New Mexico high school bands, will present daily concerts.

But the state fair doesn't stop at mere thrilling entertainment. The livestock agricultural, industrial, art, home and science exhibits this year will be more numerous than ever before. The horse shows alone, with more than 200 top quarter horses and Palominos will be the most outstanding horse event ever held in the state. The best bloodlines of the registered quarter horse and Palomino stock will be represented.

Beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and swine will be represented by the largest entry lists ever known at the fair. The most prominent breeders of the Southwest will bring their show livestock to compete for more than $50,000 in premiums.

Then there are the wool show, the poultry, rabbits, Indian exhibits, needlework, flowers, farm crops, hobby show, paintings, sculpturing and photography. The women's division of the fair alone will offer exhibits in every type of home art and science.

The youth program for 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America will be one of the top features of the entire fair. Every type of club project will be represented in exhibits and in competition. Highlight of the week for the youths of the state who have spent a full year feeding and caring for their calves, lambs and swine, will be the annual auction of the prize animals. It is here that the boys and girls receive their reward for the work that is preparing them for a future in the state's predominating industry—agriculture.

Task Force Moors to Polar Ice

Two ships of a Naval expedition to the Antarctic, the USS Edisto and the USS Burton Island, tie up to bay ice in the course of exploration work in the South Polar regions. The above photo was taken in the Bay of Whales. Sled and skis used in surface exploration are in the left foreground. The Navy's role in carrying the flag of the United States to the ends of the earth is exemplified in its frequent sallies into the south and north polar fastnesses. (Official U.S. Navy Photograph)

New Legislation Affects Cotton

Important changes affecting cotton, wheat and peanuts are provided in the amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 approved by the president on Aug. 30, according to W. Leslie Martin of Artesia, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

In general, the new legislation modernizes and makes more flexible the acreage allotment and marketing quota provisions of the 1938 act which affect the three crops, pending into consideration recent trends in farm production and practices.

Here are major provisions of the new amendment, as it affects cotton.

Marketing quotas must be proclaimed by Oct. 15, when the total supply merely exceeds the normal supply instead of by more than 7 per cent, as under the old law. The national acreage allotment in 1950 may not be less than 21 million acres, but after that the allotment may be adjusted to produce a national quota as low as the smaller of 10 million bales or a million bales less than the previous year's domestic consumption plus exports. Under the old law, the allotment could not fall below about 27 million acres, because of minimum county and farm allotments. The only diversion from cotton acreage recognized under the new law is cotton reduction because of increased plantings of war crops during 1945, 1946 and 1947.

The new legislation also provides for adjustment for trends in acreage, for basing allotments on yearly averages and for increasing acreage reserves for states and setting up reserves for counties; makes no provision to take care of unused county allotments; gives the secretary of agriculture authority to put long-staple cotton under quotas whenever the total supply will exceed the normal supply by more than 8 per cent; redefines a "farm marketing quota" to be the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm less the farm marketing excess and changes the penalty rate on excess marketings to 50 per cent of the cotton parity price as of June 15.

Generally, the "farm marketing excess" will be the amount by which the total production on the farm exceeds the normal production of the farm's acreage allotment.

Visitor: "Why do they call this town the Villa of Flowers?"
Native: "Every summer it's full of blooming idiots."

FARM SHARE OF FOOD DOLLAR DECLINES

The farmer's income share from each dollar spent for food is still following a declining trend. Most recent compiled figures for the nation show that in April of this year the farmer's share of the food dollar dipped to the lowest point since May, 1943. On May 1, this year, farmers were receiving 49 cents for each dollar spent for farm food products.

Farmers To Harvest
Second Largest Crop In History

U.S. farmers this year will harvest their second largest crop in history, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture report based on conditions on Aug. 1. Total production will be second only to that of 1948. July weather did take a toll of several important crops, however, cutting prospects somewhat for wheat, oats, barley, rye and flaxseed production. But those same hot July days were good for the corn. Corn prospects picked up slightly and are now estimated at three and a half billion bushels. Hay prospects also improved during July.

In the North Central states, the department says, corn borer infestation appears heavier and more widespread than in recent years, but grasshopper control measures in heavily infested areas have been effective in limiting 'hopper damage.

Total wheat production for this year is now estimated at the fourth largest on record. Oats prospects indicate a crop about 183 million bushels under last year's. This year's soybean production appears second largest on record.

Charleston, S. C. (APPS)—The last shot of the Civil War has been fired.

G. L. Buist Rivers, 17-year-old great great grandson of four Confederate soldiers who fought in the famous battle of Fort Sumter, anchoring the War Between the States, recently touched off a live hell remaining from the famous action.

Using methods unknown in the

reported by eight wheat producing counties out of the possible 20 counties in the state where producers will avail themselves of wheat loans.

When all counties have reported the Aug. 31 total for wheat, loans will probably exceed six million dollars. Loans on farm and warehouse-stored wheat is a method used by Commodity Credit Corporation for assuring price support to eligible growers. A few of the other commodities produced in New Mexico for which loan programs are available are cotton, cotton seed, grain sorghums, pinto beans, barley, rye, oats and alfalfa seed.

Producers should contact the county ACA office located at the court house for details concerning these programs.

Producers not needing a loan can assure themselves of price support by signing a purchase agreement with Commodity Credit Corporation.

Ten Thousand War II Veterans Take Courses

More than 10,000 World War II veterans of New Mexico have taken courses in schools below the college level under training programs made available by the GI Bill and Public Law 16 for the disabled.

This fact was disclosed in a report by Gene A. Robens, manager of the VA regional office in Albuquerque, showing that more than 30,380 veterans, an estimated 60 per cent of all veterans eligible in this state, have availed themselves of training benefits. This percentage is somewhat above the national average in which 6,600,000 veterans—or 44 per cent of the nation's

World War II veteran population—have taken some form of education, job training or combined institutional on-farm training.

In this state, 10,131 veterans had attended high schools, vocational or trade schools, business schools and other similar types of educational institutions, prior to the beginning of the farm school term. Colleges and university courses ran a close second with 8737 veterans enrolled at one time or another since the end of the war.

More than 8285 veterans have, at some time during the training programs, taken on-the-job training, while 3268 have enrolled in institutional on-farm training, a program combining classroom training with actual farm experience. Farm training is far more popular in New Mexico than in most states.

While thousands of veterans have gone into training, Robens' report indicates that only a comparative handful no longer are eligible for further training. Only 299 New Mexico veterans thus far have exhausted their entitled to GI training. Nearly 870 veterans, former Public Law trainees, have been declared rehabilitated.

Robens' report revealed that even during the summer months, when many trainees were on summer vacations, this state showed an average of 8000 veterans remaining in classrooms, at work benches and on farms as trainees.

Included were 2000 in colleges, 2800 in schools below the college level, 1850 in institutional on-farm training courses and 1400 in on-job training programs.

State Fair Art Show Judges Announced
 Fred Schuyler, superintendent of New Mexico State Fair art show, has announced the award jury for all divisions of the art department.

 Peter Hurd of San Patricio; Sam Smith of Albuquerque and Hans

Werner of Santa Fe, will judge all paintings, both water colors and oils. John Tatschl of Albuquerque will judge sculpture, Margaret Runyon of Albuquerque will judge ceramics and Laura Gilpin of Santa Fe will judge photography.
 Meanwhile sifting of all entries by three-man juries in Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Taos has started. Only about 200 pieces of art will be accepted for the final show, Schuyler said.

Schuyler also announced that an art lecture and conducted tour of the entire art show will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock each day in the gallery. Work of each artist and various techniques of the artists will be discussed on the tour.

Well-Planned Rations May Make Difference Between Profit And Loss

With many dairymen walking a "tight wire" along the narrow margin between profits and losses, balance is as important to them as to the trapeze artist in a circus.

Livestock authorities say that good feeding is the most important single job on the dairy farm and it takes careful planning and skill to keep milk production high and feed costs low.

They recommend productive pastures and good roughage as the foundation for all good dairy rations. However, high producing cows cannot obtain all of the nutrients they need from good pastures and roughages. A good concentrate mixture, balanced in protein and minerals, is needed by any cow capable of producing two gallons of milk or more. Such a mixture enables the cow to maintain production and corrects deficiencies in pastures and roughages.

Mixing home-grown grains with protein concentrates, such as cottonseed meal, provides low-cost, efficient rations. Home-grown or locally-bought grains usually cost less than carbohydrates that must be shipped in and local supplies of cottonseed meal provide economical protein of good quality.

Home mixing also enables dairymen to regulate closely the amount of protein in the grain mixture. This is important because pasture forage often drops 50 per cent or more in protein content as pastures begin to play out or grasses mature.

Experiment stations have proved that simple mixtures of grain and protein concentrates are frequently more economical and promote milk production as well as more complicated mixtures.

Dairymen should guard against home-mixed rations or commercial feeds which are "bargains" only because they do not contain enough protein, total digestible nutrients or minerals. Dairymen who mix their concentrates from home-grown grains and cottonseed meal know that they are putting quality feeds into their rations.

A good, simple concentrate mixture to feed with poor pasture, grass hay, bundles or cottonseed hulls is 700 pounds of ground grains, 350 pounds of cottonseed meal, 75 pounds of ground legume hay, 20 pounds of calcium supplement and 10 pounds of salt.

When pastures are fair to good or mixtures of legume hay and non-legume roughage are fed, a good mixture is 700 pounds of ground grains, 250 pounds of cottonseed meal, 10 pounds of calcium supplement and 10 pounds of salt.

For use with excellent pasture or an abundance of legume hay, a practical home mixture is 900 pounds of ground grains, 200 pounds of cottonseed meal and 10 pounds of salt.

For each gallon of milk produced by Jerseys or Guernseys, feed 3½ pounds of concentrates while on poor pasture or non-legume roughage, and 2½ pounds while on excellent pasture or ample legume roughage.

Holsteins and other larger dairy breeds need three pounds of concentrates if the pasture is excellent or ample legume hay is fed.

Zulus Play Host to U. S. Sailors

Natives in Africa give crew members of the cruiser USS Huntington and the destroyer USS Douglas H. Fox a lesson in basket weaving. With but a short four-day sojourn in Durban, South Africa, thirty U. S. Navy camera enthusiasts and adventurers made a tour into the interior to visit African tribes. Even the depths of the Dark Continent are no stranger to the contact of America established through the calls of U. S. Naval vessels to African ports. (Official U.S. Navy Photograph)

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

RADIOS "I'LL BE LATE," THEN PLUNKS IN DRINK

Los Angeles (AFPS)—Always the gentleman is Marine Reserve pilot Don Clark. While flying over the ocean near here recently he radioed his base:

"Call my wife. Tell her I'll be late for chow."

Minutes later the engine of his Corsair fighter plane conked out and he crashed into the ocean. He was picked up by a fishing boat, wet but unharmed.

Defendant: "Your Honor, this case is all wrong. I wasn't going 60 miles an hour; I wasn't going 50; I wasn't going 30. . . ."
Judge: "Stop! I don't want you to back up and hurt someone. Fine $10."

Plants are stronger than animals. Mushrooms, for example can lift an entire concrete floor.

In 1834, a self-lighting cigar was invented. Worked, but never became popular.
