City To Be Dusted From Air Sunday

VOLUME FORTY-SEVEN

ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1950

NUMBER 58

POT POURRI

The action of members of the Artesia Eagles baseball team in financing and building their own field—Eagle Field—should be an example to members of many other organizations.

These Spanish-Americans wanted to be independent of the other teams, rather than taking their turn at Artesia Municipal Park, so they could play when they wished, at the same time having a feeling of independence.

They kicked in up to $100 apiece and raised $2000 with which they bought a tract of about five acres east and north of Artesia Municipal Park. Then they went to the bank and borrowed an additional $2000, which is going into improvements.

And what improvements! The entire park is being fenced. That job will be done soon. And the Eagles are building their own grandstand, the original section of which will seat about 500 persons. There's nothing shoddy about the grandstand either. The standards are of masonry, concrete blocks laid by the boys themselves. They will support the seats. And they should last almost forever.

The Eagles asked for the land and received water. But they pitched in and dug the ditches for laying the pipe.

About the only thing they need, which they can't supply themselves, is the paving of 10th Street to Eagle Field, which they are asking of the city.

When the park is finished, the Eagles will have a splendid ball field, measuring 340 feet to left and right fields, and 420 feet to center field.

As we said, these Spanish-American fellows, wishing to be independent, but at the same time wanting something of which they can be proud, have given of their own money and time to accomplish something mighty fine.

While the city is developing Artesia Municipal Park of 40 acres and the ball field at the northwest corner with money received from Morris Field from the school system, these boys are doing it on their own, even to the labor end.

We seriously doubt if enough enthusiastic Anglos in the entire community could be found to do the same amount of work as is being done by the Spanish-Americans.

That's nothing against the Anglos. But it is to the credit of the Eagles that they are doing the job, and we compliment them and wish them well in their undertaking and in their ball playing.

The Amarillo News on Tuesday printed a cartoon by J. R. Williams, which originally appeared in February, 1942, titled "A-lookin' Back for Help," which is apropos today.

Williams is the cartoonist who draws "Out Our Way," a homely series of daily smiles and human nature pictures. But in this one he left the beaten path and pictured some early-day cavalymen fighting an overwhelming number of Indians, at the same time looking over their shoulders for the help which presumably did not come.

The News, commenting on the reprinting of the cartoon, called attention to the fact it first appeared just after the tragedy of Bataan, which shocked all of America. The News continued: "In its bitter reminder that even in the old Indian-fighting days, U.S. troops died 'lookin' back for help," it had deep meaning for Americans. It has just as deep a meaning today."

Williams had penned on the face of the cartoon a poem, "My Country," which read: "You can take back all you've saved me And you'll never hear a yelp. For we've let too many heroes die A-lookin' back for help."

G. Ward Fenley, in his column, "Assignment New Mexico," appearing elsewhere in this issue, takes us to task today because we recently referred to him as "the old bald-headed professor," which, if we remember correctly, he has dubbed himself in the past.

Guess we owe him an apology, though. After all, we're both about the same age.

We see by an Associated Press dispatch from Washington dated July 17 where our old friend Senator Clint Anderson put in a plug for Artesia at a hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Board on a petition of Pioneer Air Lines, Inc., asking that the company's permits

New Police Station To Have Open House Saturday, Sunday

City police, workmen, and prisoners were hard at it this morning, putting finishing touches on the new Police Department headquarters, making ready for open house Saturday morning and afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

Chief Earl D. Westfall has extended an invitation to the public to visit the new headquarters at 104 North Fifth Street, the former fire station, from 10 to 7 o'clock Saturday and from 2 to 6 o'clock Sunday during open house.

Operations of the department were moved Friday of last week from the basement of the city hall to the new station, but work has continued since to complete the job. In fact, there is still considerable work to be done, but the chief and his patrolmen are in their new quarters and are anxious for the public to come see what Chief Westfall declares is the finest police headquarters in the state.

Plans are to haul in dirt in front of the building, from where the former fire truck driveway has been removed and to sod and landscape it. That and some other things will all take time, the chief said.

The partitions of the original building, which had two fire truck stalls and an apartment, were removed, and new ones were installed, designed for the use of the police.

The north part of the building, which was originally designed for a city jail and jail office at the time the combination structure was constructed, remains as it was. However, a door has been cut through from the old jail office to a corridor in the former fire station portion.

Likewise a door has been cut in the rear of the building, for the use of patrolmen, whose patrol cars will be kept in the rear when a drive and ramp have been poured. The chief said it is planned to bring prisoners in through the rear door.

In remodeling the building, the two large fire truck doors were closed, except for a window in each, and the entire building was given a trim coat of stucco.

The door at the south end of the building on Fifth, which was commonly used by firemen except when the big doors were open, was retained as the front door for police headquarters.

As one enters through it he is in the main office, in which is a quarter-circular desk of two heights, the outside high, for use of the public and the inside of conventional desks.

Land for the location of a second possible elementary school has been purchased in a deal concluded this week, in which Artesia schools acquired six acres on North 13th, adjacent to Artesia Municipal Park, from B. R. Vaughn.

This is a sequel to a deal early this summer in which the schools acquired six and one-half acres on Hermosa Drive.

Mayor Stuns First Calf Butchered

Corporation Is Formed Here for Semi-Pro Ball

Stemming from the REA basketball tourney of last season, five local men have founded Artesia Sports Enterprise, Inc.

Primary object is to foster semi-pro baseball in Artesia although not limited to that solely. Purpose, as explained in the certificate of incorporation:

"To maintain, operate, and control a baseball club, conduct baseball games, athletic sports, exhibitions, and places of amusement and recreation to the public."

G. C. Goodwin is named as agent. Other incorporators are Mayor Oren C. Roberts, Paul L. Frost, manager of Central Valley Electric; William M. Siegenthaler, attorney, and J. L. Taylor.

The corporation begins business with $1000 capital stock and a total of $10,000 is authorized. Certificate was filed with the state on June 23; in the office of Mrs. R. A. Wilcox, county clerk, Carlsbad, July 7.

Captain Wycoff appealed directly to the many friends of the Salvation Army in the Artesia community to aid Blackie in raising the funds this year.

He pointed out that the Salvation Home and Hospital for the first six months of 1950 served twice as many unweaned mothers from New Mexico as for the same period last year and that it shows a deficit of several hundred dollars.

The hospital serves the Artesia and Eddy County area, from where several girls were admitted last year.

Captain Wycoff said other activities of the Salvation Army here include the local welfare services (Continued on Page Eight)

Ed Mechem To Be Here On Aug. 10 For V-J Day Celebration

Ed Mechem of Las Cruces, 38-year-old attorney and Republican candidate for governor, will be in Artesia for the United Veterans fourth annual V-J celebration, according to a letter received here by Bob Koonce, manager of Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

"Thank you for your invitation to attend the rodeo on Aug. 10," Mechem wrote. "I have no conflicting date and unless something unforeseen arises will certainly be there."

"In the event that anything interferes I will try to notify you as far in advance as possible."

At the two-week training camp at Fort Bliss, Artesia guardsmen will compete with other units for the gold cup to be awarded by Lt. Col. James McMinn, Carlsbad, commanding officer of the 69th (Continued on Page Eight)

V-J Reserved Seat Sale To Start Aug. 1

Sale of reserved seat tickets for the United Veterans fourth annual V-J celebration rodeo is scheduled to start Aug. 1, with Artesia Pharmacy, 402 West Main, Mid-Valley Investment, 310 West Main, and Keys Men's Wear, 116 West Main, as places where tickets can be obtained.

Cost will be $2, including tax, for each of the three performances to be staged in Artesia Municipal Park, Aug. 10, 11, and 12.

Don Bush, publicity chairman of the celebration, said John Lemley and Howard Whitson would make a business-to-business canvass in an effort to sell blocks of seats.

Any firm buying a block of six or more seats will be entitled to put its advertisement on that block, Bush said.

J. L. Long is chairman of the ticket committee.

Oleta Johnson Wins County Dress Revue

An Artesia High School graduate, Oleta Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Johnson of Cottonwood, won the Eddy County senior 4-H dress revue contest held from 2 to 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Artesia High School auditorium.

Her twin sister, Oneta, won both the county and state contests in 1949 and by virtue of championship in the latter attended the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, held the first week of December.

The 1950 winner, who graduated from Artesia High School this spring, won on modeling a wool suit she had made.

She will represent Eddy County in the state contest Aug. 7-12 at State College.

There were 64 girls competing in the contest held yesterday, representing all parts of the county. Eddy has 16 4-H Clubs, most of them being mixed and including both boys and girls.

There were 200 attending the contest.

Farmers First On Cowboy '50 Grid Schedule

New Mexico Aggies will be the first opponent, and only New Mexico team, to play Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in the 1950 football season.

The game a Border Conference contest, is scheduled for 8 o'clock Mountain Standard Time, Saturday night, Sept. 16, in Las Cruces.

Four times the Aggies have played the team from Abilene, Texas, winning twice, tying once, and losing once.

Last game was in 1939, 11 years ago, when the Cowboys beat the Aggies 28 to 13. First was in 1922 when the New Mexico eleven blanked the Pokes 6 to 0. The next year the Ags repeated 13-6.

In 1935 the levens broke even in a 14-14 tie.

Vaughn Corley, head mentor at Aggeland, had this to say about the Farmers prospects: "We're small, shallow and inexperienced but I think we'll be better than last year. Our backfield material is better and most of the line positions are improved."

Artesia will be dusted by airplane starting at dawn Sunday for the eradication of flies and mosquitoes and other insects, weather permitting.

The program, sponsored by the Artesia 20-30 Club, is similar to a project of the club last year, in which the city was dusted twice.

Oscar Bayer, chairman of the project, said the club has raised more than half of the $1600 goal planned for two dustings, which will permit the first program on Sunday.

He said that should the weather be unsuitable, the first dusting will be done on the earliest possible day.

The campaign for funds, which lagged at first, picked up this week partly because of the great increase in mosquitoes the last few days, caused by the recent rains, and partly through the efforts of 20-30 Club members who toured the city with a public address system on their car and made appeals for money.

Bayer said that although the first dusting has been made possible, more funds are desired both for a second dusting, if it is needed, and for the purchase of a fog machine, which the club hopes to present to the city for use street by street and alley by alley from the ground.

Should the second dusting not be needed, or there are not enough funds for it, the club plans to turn the remainder of the money collected over to the city for the machine.

A stunt is to be staged Saturday by the 20-30 Club to help raise the desired funds through small donations.

On the south side of Main Street between Roselawn Avenue and Fourth Street the 20-30 Club is to start a "block of coins," a row of coins edge to edge in a line, which members hope will reach from one end of the block to the other by evening.

It has been figured out by club members that if a line of coins that long, all consisting of quarters, were formed, it would contain approximately $900, every cent of which can be put to good use.

Bayer suggested that house holders, as well as store managers, cooperate in the pest eradication program by spraying their premises late Saturday or early Sunday, for as thorough as the aerial dusting is, the likelihood of dust getting under thick bushes—a typical lurking place for mosquitoes—or in storerooms is slim.

Bee keepers were warned to take precautionary measures for their bees, so they will not be killed by the dust. And it was pointed out that hives should not be plugged tightly, or the bees will suffocate.

Instead, pieces of screen wire should be tacked over the holes to keep the bees in, at the same time providing ample ventilation.

The dusting will be done with Hazel Flying Service planes, which are especially equipped, at cost of operation. The duster pilots are giving their services.

Members of the 20-30 Club are to go to Roswell Saturday to bring the dust for the program. And they will be on hand before sunup Sunday at the municipal airport to load the dust into the planes' hoppers.

City And County Budgets Are Approved At Hearings Tuesday

The budget for the city of Artesia for the fiscal year 1950-51 was approved Tuesday morning at a hearing here before members of the State Tax Commission, with the general fund set at $153,000, which is $23,420 less than the $176,420 set a year ago.

Later the same day approval was given at Carlsbad of the Eddy County budget of $450,039, an increase of $73,000 over the county budget of the last fiscal year.

Included in the county budget increase was the road fund, which was raised from $122,000 to $181,160, including $40,000 earmarked for the badly needed oil field-potash loop road, which has been the subject of much controversy throughout the county in recent months.

At the hearing County Commissioner Bob James said that with the $40,000 provided in the road fund, the oil field-potash road will be bladed and a caliche surface will be laid on the sand hill portions.

James said he had learned from County Commissioner W. T. (Doc) Haldeman of Artesia that it is understood the state will pave the road after the county's work on it is completed.

Correct Address Is Required On All Local Mail

Attention has again been called by Jess Truett, Artesia postmaster, that local mail not properly addressed cannot be given directory service, by order of a Post Office Department directive.

Postmaster Truett said a form letter was addressed to Artesia businessmen about a year ago, asking them that they obtain and use the proper mailing addresses for their local mail, such as monthly statements.

The postal employees dislike not giving the best service possible and throw all of the mail they can to the proper boxes or carriers, but those clients whose addresses they do not know offhand will not receive the mail.

On the other hand, in such cases, the postal employees can only return the mail to the senders without benefit of directory service, if there is a return address. If there is no return address, such mail will go to the dead-letter office, the postmaster said.

Postmasters said stores or offices or others having mailing lists (Continued on Page 8)

Wyoming Weather Wonderful, Prexy's Message Mournful, Paper Stated in 1885

"The President's annual message receives very favorable comment from the press generally. It sounds like the reading of epitaphs in a country grave yard."

That is not current comment on Harry S. Truman, but on Stephen Grover Cleveland, President from 1885 to 1889 and again from 1893 to 1897.

The statement is contained in a souvenir copy of No. 1 of Volume 1 of Wind River Mountaineer, Lander, Wyo., reprinted on the occasion of Lander's annual celebration.

Name of the fete requires a lot of type:

Annual Pioneer Days Celebration and Historical Street Pageant of the Old West.

The copy was reproduced by the Wyoming State Journal at Lander in conjunction with the 54th celebration held July 4, 1949. Copies left over were issued the following year.

Date of the newspaper is Jan. 1, 1885. A souvenir copy was obtained by Byron "Speedy" Warren, employee of The Artesia Advocate, while on a vacation trip this year in Wyoming.

The Mountaineer was a four-page paper, two columns to the page, measured eight inches wide by 11 inches long. W. B. McKenzie was the proprietor, I. C. Wynn, editor.

Lack of confidence in its future was not a drawback for the Mountaineer. It fairly sizzled with optimism in its initial issue.

The newspaper listed its subscription rate as 75 cents for six months with "no subscriptions taken for a longer time as we intend at that time or before to enlarge our paper."

Editorials Throughout

There is an editorial column on Page 2 in which Wynn says "we launch our little Bark upon the waves" as "we make our obnoxious as a journalist," assuring the citizens of Lander "we do not come among you to stir up political strife."

"Our publication will be non-partisan, striving to build such institutions of learning and religion, to wield our pen in favor of right as against might."

Editorials are not limited to that page, however, the editor adds his chatty comment to brief bits of news. There are no stories of the present day type in the paper. All are similar to personals.

No Dixiecrat today would cheer Wynn's comment on a Reagan of Texas of that day. No lover of the Bonnie Blue Flag, Wynn comments:

"Reagan of Texas is spoken of as possible Postmaster General under the coming administration. It will be remembered that he had experience in that line under the late Southern Confederacy."

No Paper Money

There are two items on crime. One tells of a hanging, the fourth "legal" hanging in the territory; the other of a local burglary in which was taken "$400 in gold some 40 dollars in silver." Apparently currency was not in use in Wyoming at that time.

Wonderful Wyoming

That staple of conversation, the weather, was the basis of frequent items. With a California-like booster technique Wynn comments on a cold snap:

"The mercury registered 30 degrees below on Wednesday morning and yet no one seemed to suffer any great inconvenience from the cold. Verily this is a remarkable climate."

"Major Baldwin's teams came in from Rawlins on Tuesday having made the trip in 15 days."

The rugged weather inspired comment after telling about a heavy earth shock at Laconia, N. H.:

"It is suggested that the jar may have been caused by the herculean efforts of Superintendent Stewart to release his coaches from the terrible snowdrifts between here and South Pass. But we take no stock in this."

The remarkable climate however interfered with the Mountaineer getting in a supply of newspaper, (he calls it paper) from Omaha.

Woes of Publisher

Nor was that all of Wynn's woes.

Besides stories being "crowded out" ads likewise were omitted, a fact that must have caused gray hairs in the head of the publisher as he started his paper.

"Several advertisements are crowded out of this issue but will appear next week in good shape. Be patient, friends, we are doing the best we can under the circumstances."

"Our new type will surely be here soon and then we will be OK. We do not mean to say the type we have is old but we have not enough of it."

"We have received a very interesting letter in regard to the discovery of rich quartz leads in the Rattle Snake region which is unavoidably crowded out this week but will appear in our next."

How subscriptions were obtained was not explained but there is an item:

"Our thanks are due to Messrs. Will Frederick, M. Spooner and J. Worlen for efforts in procuring subscriptions to our paper."

Pays to Advertise

The editor doesn't fail to show appreciation to his advertisers any more than he fails to preach the virtue of advertising:

"W. B. Trosper knows the value of printer's ink and Mrs. Trosper knows how to get a good meal. Do not take our word for this but call and be convinced."

Advertising salesmen would stand up and cheer if Trosper's ad buying practice was in vogue today:

"This space belongs to W. B. Trosper of the Dickinson Hotel. He was too busy to write an advertisement so he slipped in and bought this space."

As applicable today as in 1885: "Don't play freeze-out because you'll freeze yourself out every time. Advertise and let the world know what you are and what you have."

"The best place to buy goods is where they are advertised. There you are sure to find what you need and at fair prices. Stick a pin there."

Advertisers in the issue included the Lone Star Harness Shop, Lander Livestock Stable, Charley Wise Boarding House and the Lander Drug.

The latter place had a line that was the 1885 counterpart to the variety handled by present day drug stores. In addition to prescriptions, it dealt in clothing, "furnishing goods notions and fancy articles," offered service of a notary and had real estate for sale.

Society gets scant attention in the issue: There is one item of that kind:

"Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Frank Brandt and Miss Mary Clark. The wedding takes place this eve at the residence of the bride's mother on Little Popoagie. The contracting parties have our best wishes for a happy journey over life's hilly sea."

Page 1 contains a church directory and listing of secret societies, the latter listed as Masons, Odd Fellows and another mysteriously tagged as "G.A."

REDS ADVANCE ON 50-MILE FRONT

U. S. INFANTRY and artillery reinforcements are being rushed from Taejon area to stem the tide of a three-pronged push (open arrows) by tank-led North Korean forces. One prong is pushing southward in the Chungju area, another east of Osan, and the third at Pyongtaek, thus presenting a 50-mile co-ordinated offensive front. Other Red forces are pushing inland from the Samchok beachhead to junction with Reds at Wonju. The Kum river is the current American defense line.

Cowboy Squad Includes Las Vegas, Lordsburg Players

Three New Mexicans are on the 1950 Cowboy football roster at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas.

There are 44 on the squad. Oklahoma ties New Mexico with having three on the roster, two of them from Altus, the other from Oklahoma City. All others are from Texas.

New Mexicans on the squad are Gene McDonald and Harold Taylor, both of Lordsburg, and Bill Rapp of Las Vegas.

McDonald, 6 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, is the tallest man on the squad. He is rangy, rugged, earned a frosh letter last year, weighs 210 pounds, plays at tackle position. He is 21 years old.

A former New Mexico All-Stater is Taylor, who led Cowboy ground attack for a net of 672 yards in 143 tries last year, scored six touchdowns.

The one-year letterman, 19 years old, is a great runner with straight-away power and piston-like legs, can circle ends or go through the middle. He runs dashes on the track team. Taylor, left halfback, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds.

Rapp, 5 feet 11, 160 pounds, also a left halfback, is considered a salient prospect both on basketball court and gridiron. He is up from the 1949 frosh team, a speed merchant, won numeral as basketball and football player. Like Taylor, he is 19.

McDonald and Rapp are sophomores, Taylor, a junior.

The sale, sponsored jointly by the New Mexico Quarter Horse Association and the New Mexico Palomino Association will be held at the fair grounds on Thursday, Sept. 28.

State Fair Manager Leon H. Harms said that only bona fide members of either association will be eligible to consign horses to the sale.

"The sale will be limited to a number not to exceed 40 head," Harms said, "and any number in excess of that figure will be sifted to give us the best animals possible."

According to rules set forth in the New Mexico State Fair premium book, soon to be released, all horses must be entered in halter classes during the regular fair showings and must be sold with no removals permitted.

The sale committee will include, W. R. Thompson, Santa Rosa; Warren Shoemaker, Watrous; C. J. Fisher, Los Lunas and Parley Jensen, Albuquerque, secretary.

Children should normally have their first dental examination between the age of two and three.

Fish Hatchery At Dexter Is Being Improved

Work is now under way at the U.S. Fish Cultural Station at Dexter on the construction of a series of nine new fish rearing ponds. The contract for this work has been awarded to Easley & Betts Construction Company of Artesia.

A new water well was recently completed near the site of the new ponds for supplying water for fish cultural purposes after the completion of the ponds.

The new ponds will range from one acre to two acres in size and will include the most modern features known to fish cultural practices. The water supply pipes will deliver fresh water into the outlet ditches of each pond so that fresh water will always be available when drawing the ponds and rearing the crop of fish. A concrete stairway will lead into the outlet of each pond to facilitate the handling of the fish. The water supply pipes will all be underground with proper valves to control the amount of water to each pond.

With the new well and nine new small rearing and spawning ponds the Dexter station will be much improved for the production of fish, and the annual output of fish for public waters in the Western states should be greatly increased over past years. The present fish ponds at Dexter are natural lakes improved for fish production, and mostly too large for the most efficient fish cultural practices. With the new small ponds in combination with the old larger ponds, Dexter will have a hatchery equal to the growing needs for planting game fish for stocking the many waters under the jurisdiction of the station.

Electric Co-Ops Boost Appliance Sales, Says Ellis

For every dollar invested in rural electrification a farmer spends $4.50 in house wiring, plumbing, and electrical appliances.

That was the statement contained in a speech Thursday, July 13, by Clyde T. Ellis, Washington, D. C., executive manager of National Rural Electric Co-operative Association.

He was one of the two main speakers at the Texas Electric Reserve Co-operative that held its annual meeting Thursday and Friday in Driscoll Hotel, Corpus Christi.

Attending from Artesia were Paul L. Frost, manager, and Don Heathington, of Central Valley Electric. The Artesia men returned Sunday night.

Attendance at the meeting totaled 900, representative of 90 per cent of the 80 Texas electric co-operative associations.

Manager Ellis, in another part of his speech, said two billion dollars was invested in rural electrification, spent in two-thirds of the counties in the United States, mostly for material and labor.

Other chief speaker was George Haggard, also of Washington, Rural Electrification Administration deputy administrator, who reviewed progress in putting electricity on the farm.

He said the ultimate objective was to give electrical service to everyone desiring it.

Jamboree Trip Told in Diary Of Scoutmaster

When you get back home, everybody will ask you, "What did you do? Where did you go? Tell us about it!"

So you must be prepared. At least you will tell mother and dad and most of you will tell your troop or post. But that isn't all.

Thousands of you will be making jamboree talks at churches, schools, clubs. Some of you will have your stories printed in papers back home.

Those three paragraphs are from the Jamboree Diary, booklet issued in conjunction with the Boy Scouts of America camp at Valley Forge Park, Pa., June 29-July 6.

Putting the words of the diary into action, Scoutmaster John Rogers today told the story in the penciled entries he made in the diary.

Under "We're On Our Way." The 10 scouts and Scoutmaster Rogers loaded the Sunshine Special all-Scout train at Artesia about 8:22 the night of June 23. The remainder of the 37 scouts and Scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop 1 boarded the train in Roswell and Clovis.

From Clovis the train proceeded through Amarillo, Newton, Kas., Chicago and then to Washington, D. C., where we spent the day. We started with a guided tour by bus from which we saw the following:

Commerce department, Capitol, White House, Smithsonian Institute, Library of Congress, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, Pentagon, Arlington Cemetery, Mount Vernon.

After the tour the boys divided into small groups and saw all the Washington sights they wished to see on their own.

At Valley Forge Big opening with Washington trials in Valley Forge Regions I and II. President Truman's speech. Big convocation with 47,000 candles—spectacular.

The diary then tells of a trip to Philadelphia to see the Boston and Philadelphia National League baseball game, returns to narrating about camp with this entry:

Big building of West show in arena by Region IX. General Eisenhower's speech.

Return Trip We broke camp at the jamboree at 1:30 in the morning of July 7 and at 4 a. m. we boarded the train and headed for New York. We arrived in New York at 6:35 a. m.

After breakfast, we toured New York seeing Bowery, Fifth Avenue, Empire State Building, Radio City, Chrysler Building, Central Park, Columbia University.

After lunch went as a troop on the subway and toured the Museum of National History. Walked across Central Park to Metropolitan Museum of Art and from there to the Statue of Liberty, where we climbed to the top.

After supper several of the Scouts went to the top of the Empire State and saw New York at night. We left New York for Niagara Falls at 8 p. m. We arrived at the falls at 9 a. m. the next day.

We toured the falls on foot, several going to the foot of the falls and across the International Rainbow bridge to Canada.

We left Niagara at 1 p. m. and returned through Chicago and Newton, Kan., to arrive in Artesia at 8 a. m., July 10.

Names of the Artesia Scouts making the trip to the Jamboree, with age and name of parents, as listed in the Scoutmaster's diary:

Ronald Holmes, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex G. Holmes.

Leon Darst, 15 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Darst.

Billy Cox, 13, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Cox.

Tommy Thomas, 15, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Thomas.

Donald Kiddy, 13, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Kiddy.

John Easley, 15, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Easley.

Donald Lewis, 12, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis.

Charles Johns, 13, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johns.

Jay N. Mitchell, 13, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mitchell.

Marshall Martin, 12, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Martin.

Mr. Fashion had a small dress shop. In one day he sold nine dresses more than two-fifths of his entire stock. He had left nine dresses more than three-eighths of his original stock.

How large was his stock to begin with?

Answer—He had 80 dresses in stock.

Indianan Is Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks

JOSEPH B. KYLE

Joseph B. Kyle of Gary, Ind., was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the U.S.A., at the order's 86th Grand Lodge convention in Miami, Fla., according to J. L. Walker, exalted ruler of the Artesia Elks Lodge, who attended the convention with Mrs. Walker.

Kyle is the third Indianan to head the 82-year-old fraternity.

The widely-known public relations counselor and civic leader is one of the group who developed northern Indiana's famed Calumet industrial region. He is a native of Duncanville, Pa., and a graduate of Valparaiso University.

Kyle succeeds Emmett T. Anderson of Tacoma, Wash., who reported to the Grand Lodge that the order's membership had increased 59,000 last year to a record high of 1,024,000, making it the largest as well as the oldest strictly American order.

War in Korea Adds Salient Emphasis To Booklet Article

The celebration is scheduled for Aug. 10, 11, and 12.

20-30 Club Lists Committees

Marking the start of a new club year—eight committees were named and a secretary-treasurer appointed as Artesia 20-30 Club met Monday night in the Artesia Hotel basement club room.

Most of the routine was effected at a directors meeting held at 6:30 o'clock, one hour before the supper. Discussion of the club's current aerial dusting project, designed to kill mosquitoes and flies, was the main talk at the latter session.

Attendance at the meeting was 14. Jack Frost, formerly a member of the club, now of Carlsbad, was a guest. Received as a new member was Warren Kesselring, owner of Warren's Radio Shop.

Showing of two motion pictures, "Niagara on Wheels," and "It's Your Money," by Rooster Durbin, was another part of the program.

'Reformer and Redhead' Is Rollicking Film

Anyone in the mood for uninhibited laughter will have the time of his life at MGM's ingratiating romantic comedy, "The Reformer and the Redhead," which brings June Allyson and Dick Powell (Mr. and Mrs. in private life) to the Land-sun screen Sunday through Tuesday.

With Miss Allyson cast as a zoo-keeper's daughter with spirit and aggressiveness to match her red hair, and Powell playing a crusading mayorality candidate who routs both a crooked political machine and the zoo's most ferocious lion, this happy-go-lucky story romps along at a fast-and-furious pace to provide some of the longest and loudest laughs of the year.

The excitement and fun start at the very beginning when Kathleen Maquire, devoted to the animals in her father's zoo, slaps down a feminine big-game hunter who turns out to be the daughter of the town's political boss. Faced with a jail sentence for disorderly conduct, Kathleen turns to lawyer Andrew Hale for advice. It is an association ripe with hilarious consequences.

Before she ends up in Andrew's arms, Kathleen has enlisted the aid of every orphan in town to help elect him mayor and in the unforgettable funny final sequence makes him a hero in spite of himself when he captures a man-eating lion which he thinks to be tame.

The Powells, appearing together on the screen for the first time since their marriage, are delightfully cast as the respective Kathleen and Andrew, and are given excellent support in the work of such performers as David Wayne, remembered for his hit as the songwriter of "Adam's Rib," and now cast as Andrew's imperturbable campaign manager; Cecil Kellaway as Kathleen's zookeeper father, Ray Collins as the political boss and Robert Keith as a prying news-hound. Moreover, should the Academy Award committee ever pass out trophies to the screen's four-footed actors, the lions, baby llamas and sandwich-snitching chimpanzee seen in this hilarious comedy will be near the top of the list of nominees!

The screen play of "The Reformer and the Redhead" is the work of Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, who also produced and directed the picture. This is the team responsible for such past hits as "My Favorite Blonde" and "Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House." In their latest collaborative effort they have come up with the greatest rib-tickler of them all.

Your State Government

By Thomas J. Mabry GOVERNOR

"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

—George Washington.

A few years ago but few Americans would have favored our stepping boldly into the Asiatic or Far Eastern world to challenge an aggressor nation. But as we do it today scarcely a voice at home is raised in opposition, and the whole free world applauds. It shows how far we have come in our one-world way of thinking, and how tied up we are with the hopes and aspirations of free peoples everywhere.

Let us not think of this effort to preserve the independence of the people of South Korea as a certain step toward war. There is, of course, no guarantee that it will not lead to war; but there is good reason to believe that it will not. And there is much reason to support the theory that if we did not take this strong stand now war would be inevitable anyway, and soon.

The reassuring thing for us here in America is the spontaneity of acclaim for the step taken by American political thought regardless of political party lines.

One thing, however, which rightly distresses us all is that our top military leaders knew so little about the preparation the North Korean forces under Russian tutelage had made for this war.

The leadership at the national level, through the State Department and the military, are getting it, and must be prepared for some more scathing criticisms and embarrassing questions from all of us in the common walks of life.

New Mexico is particularly sensitive to military mistakes which we cannot but feel were unnecessary. There are too many fathers and mothers, wives, brothers and sisters, and other relatives of our brave boys of the last war who were left unprotected in the Philippine Islands with too little to last.

New Mexico had some 1500 boys in the 200th Coast Artillery who paid a tragic price when the Philippine Islands were left unprotected. Some 21,000 men constituted the entire American strength in the islands at the time of the outbreak of World War II. We all know that only one-half of our own boys came back, and other states shared no better.

There was perhaps no more tragic example of lack of military foresight, preparation for defense and supply than this experience which wound up with the last stand on Bataan and Corregidor and the "Death March" which took such a heavy toll of lives and inflicted such depraved practices of cruelty.

This is to point up nothing more than the fact that our national leadership, military and all, must expect some searching questions and scorching criticisms of the way the Korean affair started off, and that we ourselves must preserve our calm balance—and our

Eagles to Fly Against Veterans In Third Scramble

Artesia Eagles, winners of two previous games over the Artesia Veterans, will tackle their traditional foe for the third time this season in a doubleheader at Eagle field on Sunday afternoon.

First game, a seven-inning contest, will start at 1:30 o'clock. The second will go the full route. Ollie will start on the mound for the Eagles in the opener while the curtain dropper will see the Eagles new "secret weapon" pitcher in action.

The Eagles have a wide margin over the Vets, winning each game by a four-run margin. Scores in the two games:

Eagles 9, Veterans 5.
Eagles 7, Veterans 3.

faith. We know that our cause is just and we shall prevail in the end. I am in hopes the situation has improved before this is published. It is not too good as it is written.

And, it is a healthy sign of national unity that Republicans and Democrats alike fully support the decision of the president to carry out our promise as a member of the United Nations to oppose aggression.

And now with all the free world joining in protest over the communist action and in coming to the aid of the forces fighting the aggressor, we can take courage that the decision which we ourselves feel was right, now has the approval of free countries the world over. There is nothing left for us here at home to do but to back up our country's leadership 100 per cent with all we have to give.

But we must be pardoned if we want to ask a lot of questions about what happened to our highly prized State Department and military intelligence.

Two Local Young People Are Honored At Christian Camp

Among the 22 young people from Artesia who attended a Christian Church camp and conference in the Sandia Mountains last week, two were honored by the camp group of boys and girls of junior high school age.

Linda Siegenthaler, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. William M. Siegenthaler, was elected general chairman of the entire group, which is comparable to president.

Robert Painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Painter, was elected to preach the sermon last Sunday at morning worship at the camp.

There were three conversions at that time.

Rev. A. G. Bell, pastor of the First Christian Church of Artesia, who served on the faculty at the camp, said the group from Artesia was the largest in the state.

National Guard—

(Continued from Page One) Anti-Aircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion. The cup is to be awarded the battery rating highest on such factors as firing on the range at radio controlled planes, neatness and cleanliness of quarters, military courtesy, and discipline.

To obtain permanent possession of the trophy, a battery must win it three times. Announcement of the award was made at a meeting of battery and battalion officers held Sunday afternoon in the community room of Southern Union Gas Company in Carlsbad. Attendance totaled 20.

Capt. Marshall H. Belshe, commanding officer of Artesia's Battery C, said the 1950 camp would also see the revival of the practice of awarding medals to guardsmen who had a 100 percent attendance record.

This means that men who have a perfect record of attendance at drills of their unit from Sept. 1, 1949, through the training camp period, ending Aug. 27, will receive medals.

Service medals will also go to men for length of service in the national guard based on five-year periods ranging from five to 30 years.

The medals are for service in the guard of one state alone. Schedule for Camp Captain Belshe made known the itinerary of Artesia guardsmen on the trip to Fort Bliss.

The local unit will have roll call at 3:45 o'clock Sunday morning, Aug. 13, at the armory. Roswell guardsmen will move into Artesia, join the local unit, and the two proceed at 4:30 o'clock for Carlsbad, where the men will eat breakfast at 6 o'clock.

One hour later the tracks will roll again, augmented by the contingents from Carlsbad and Hobbs, and the men will eat box lunches at Salt Flats.

They are due to arrive in Fort Bliss about 3 o'clock. An advance echelon will have the unit's quarters marked off and will guide the commanding officers' jeep to the location.

The 697th is composed of Battery A, Roswell; Battery B and Headquarters Battery, Carlsbad; Battery C and Medical Detachment, Artesia; and Battery D, Hobbs.

Attending the staff conference, regularly held preliminary to the summer camp, at Carlsbad last Sunday, were the following men from Artesia:

Major W. C. Thompson, Jr., battalion executive officer; Lt. L. J. Bunch, commanding officer of the medical detachment; Capt. Marshall H. Belshe, commanding officer of Battery C.

Capt. James Monroe, assistant S-2, 200th Group; Lt. Clifton N. Perkins, battery executive officer; Lt. Allen Mills, platoon leader.

James Heald, warrant officer junior grade, battery administrative assistant; Garland Stuart, warrant officer junior grade, assistant battalion supply officer.

Annual Appeal— (Continued from page one) under the direction of the local committee, composed of E. B. Bullock, Landis B. Feather, and Harvey Yates.

The captain said this committee has had more appeals than previously and that demands all around are much heavier this year than at any time since World War II.

Kiwanis Softball Team Evens Count As Elks Lose 9-6

Kiwanis got its revenge over Elks as the second half series of games started in the service league of Artesia Recreation program. Turning the tables the Kiwanis softball team whipped the Elks 9-6. That nine runs was the same as the number scored by the Elks in their first encounter, won by the Elks 9 to 8.

A coincidence was the game Monday night opened the second half as the Kiwanis-Elks prior game had opened all play in all softball leagues this season.

Another oddity was the fact that the game last Monday night was the first service club contest in which the 16-inch circumference ball was used.

George Dungan pitched the whole game for the Elks. Out of three games played to date, the Elks have lost two, won one and have four more games scheduled.

Wayne Truett, Elk manager listed the scores: Elks 9, Kiwanis 8. Elks 8, Lions 13. Elks 6, Kiwanis 9. Games remaining on the Elk schedule:

July 27—Jaycees. Aug. 16—20-30 Club. Aug. 21—Rotary. Aug. 23—Lions.

City Aid—

Correct Address— (Continued from Page One) may have them corrected at the postoffice at the cost of a penny a name, with a minimum charge of 25 cents.

He suggested that persons having mailing lists which include a number of incorrect mailing addresses avail themselves of this service.

Frequently, the postmaster added, an account will be opened and the mailing address is not obtained. Then a bookkeeper will look the party up in a directory and find the house address. However, many postal partons do not have house mail boxes and do not receive their mail at home, but rather in a postoffice box, the number of which is the correct mailing address.

New Police— (Continued from Page 1) tional desk height, for the use of the desk sergeant on duty. Conveniently located on the desk are the police radio, microphone, and typewriter. At the desk sergeant's elbow are filing cabinets, in which police files are kept.

North of the main office is the private office of the chief. And immediately east of the main office is the courtroom, where city cases are being tried.

Other rooms in the former fire station portion of the building are a parking meter maintenance room, a storeroom, and restroom. All are connected by the corridor leading from the new rear door to the jail office, in which prisoners are fingerprinted and "mugged."

The floor of the new station has been laid in asphalt tile. Police Judge Jerry Losee is preparing over police cases in his new courtroom, which is small, but ample for most city cases. He said that should a larger room be needed on special occasions, or in jury trials, court will be held in the basement of the city hall, as heretofore.

The headquarters of Justice of the Peace J. D. Josey and Deputy Sheriff Irvin (Puss) Martin remain in the basement of the city hall.

Joining with Chief Westfall and Judge Losee in inviting the public to the open house Saturday and Sunday were all members of the police force.

They are, in the order of seniority, Lt. Dick Corbett, Lt. M. E. Smith, and Patrolmen H. C. Allen, Manuel Rodriguez, John Lemley, Robert Jurney, Luther Daniels, J. H. (Rocky) Smith, Bill Kruse, Jack Enos, Richard Peek, and Bill Grimlan.

The dispatch quoted Clint as saying the "Pioneer line between Lubbock and Albuquerque should be given a 'decent' extension. He (Anderson) said Tucumcari and Clovis want service for a long period and that the line also should stop at Artesia."

The modern touch: We saw a cowboy the other day—the McCoy, not the drug store variety—on the range in conventional garb, except for one thing. He was wearing one of those sports caps which are so popular for everything from flying to golf and fishing and mowing lawns. Guess the Old West is about gone. —A.L.B.

Artesia Eagles Amass Run An Inning Record in 13 Games Played This Season

Eight games won out of 13 played, four losses and one tie in a disputed contest is the record of the Artesia Eagles, local baseball team this season.

The tie was in a 11-inning game with the Roswell Tigers in which the score was 10-10 when the Artesia nine walked off the field in protest to various decision of the umpire.

The Eagles have a steady flow of victories over the Hagerman Blues and Artesia Veterans. They whipped the Hagerman nine three times and the Veterans twice, split with the Carlsbad Skulls, soundly trounced the potent Mesalero Indians 19-5, defeated Weed 13-6.

In their last game they gave the Carlsbad Lions plenty of battle, but were edged out by one run, 7-6. Greatest number of runs the Eagles have amassed in any game this season was against Mesalero, 18; smallest, 4, in games with Walker base and again with Barstow, Texas.

Total runs scored by the Eagles is 129 as compared with their opponents 99. Biggest defeat the Eagles took was their 20-4 licking from Walker base.

The number of runs scored per game by the Eagles is nearly 10, or an average of a little better than one run an inning. For their opponents it figures about eight runs a game.

No, the eye does not tell everything—not in this instance. True, it tells you ROADMASTER is smart. It tells you it's big. It shows, if you watch closely, that this braveny beauty rides level and unperturbed even when road-roughness has its wheels fairly dancing.

A glance may even indicate how much lolling comfort there is here—what wide-open freedom passengers and driver know in this gay traveler.

But how can the eye tell you how you feel touching off the great power that's under this broad bonnet?

How can it reveal the silken, swift-mounting surge of oil-cushioned take-off—smooth, silky, unbroken, as Dynaflo Drive works its magic?

Even when you watch a ROADMASTER settle down to a long steep pull and crest the top going away, how can it tell you what thrill your spirits get from such ability? And what can it say of the lift that's yours traveling in a beauty that catches all eyes, swivels passing heads, marks you by its very lines as traveling in as fine a car as any man can ask for?

No, these things you have to feel for yourself, and we're delighted to help you do so.

Artesia Eagles Amass Run An Inning Record in 13 Games Played This Season

Eight games won out of 13 played, four losses and one tie in a disputed contest is the record of the Artesia Eagles, local baseball team this season.

The tie was in a 11-inning game with the Roswell Tigers in which the score was 10-10 when the Artesia nine walked off the field in protest to various decision of the umpire.

The Eagles have a steady flow of victories over the Hagerman Blues and Artesia Veterans. They whipped the Hagerman nine three times and the Veterans twice, split with the Carlsbad Skulls, soundly trounced the potent Mesalero Indians 19-5, defeated Weed 13-6.

In their last game they gave the Carlsbad Lions plenty of battle, but were edged out by one run, 7-6. Greatest number of runs the Eagles have amassed in any game this season was against Mesalero, 18; smallest, 4, in games with Walker base and again with Barstow, Texas.

Total runs scored by the Eagles is 129 as compared with their opponents 99. Biggest defeat the Eagles took was their 20-4 licking from Walker base.

The number of runs scored per game by the Eagles is nearly 10, or an average of a little better than one run an inning. For their opponents it figures about eight runs a game.

Doctor Opens Artesia Office

DR. RALPH EARHART

New citizen of Artesia is Dr. Ralph Earhart who has opened an office in a remodeled and redecorated residence he purchased at 111 South Roselawn.

He plans to add another room for X-ray and to hold open house next month. Dr. Earhart will be associated with Artesia Osteopathic Hospital.

Sunshine Future Farmer, the official publication is an eight page magazine, measuring 9 x 12 inches, has three columns to the page.

secretary, Dick Shoemaker, publicity director.

Three Eddy County boys hold offices in the state setup. They are Jim Taylor, third vice president; Don West, executive committee; Paul Johnson, representing southeast district on advisory council. All are of Carlsbad.

Stamp Salutes Hoosier State

Residents of Artesia who originally came from the Hoosier state rate a salute in a new stamp series on sale at Artesia post office.

The blue stamp was issued in observance of the sesquicentennial of Indiana territory, 1800-1950. Also on the stamp is a picture of the first capitol and of William Henry Harrison.

Discovered by La Salle in 1671, it was part of New France until ceded by France to Great Britain in 1763. Twenty years later it became a part of the United States, as part of the Northwest Territory, comprised of Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana, the latter admitted as a state in 1816.

Harrison, the ninth president of the United States, was Northwest Territory governor in 1800. He defeated Tecumseh in the Battle of Tippecanoe, Nov. 7, 1811; was in chief command of the army in the Northwest in the War of 1812; became a U.S. Senator in 1824.

His was the shortest term of all the presidents. Harrison died a month after his inauguration. He had been elected in 1840.

Besides the Indiana stamp the post office also has a supply of the brown stamp honoring the Boy Scouts of America on the occasion of the recent jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Shown on the stamp are a Cub, two Scouts, the Scout badge, name of organization, and "On my honor I will do my best," first eight words of the Scout oath.

Stronger Carlsbad Grid Team Forecast

There'll be new faces in the Carlsbad High School football squad this season and "it is believed this year's group will put the Cavemen back in the winning group," according to a story in the current issue of the Eddy County News.

The story lists Ronnie Smith who, "played fast football with the Dawgs last season has returned from Kentucky and ready to join the Cavemen squad.

"Billy Henry, another new lad with experience in the line, has moved here from Longview, Texas, and will join the Cavemen group.

"This season will see the Cavemen coming out of the losing column as the lineup will be much stronger than for the past two seasons."

Artesia High School does not play Carlsbad until Nov. 16, late in the season. The contest will be in Carlsbad.

First game of the Cavemen will be against Bowie High in El Paso on Sept. 15.

Doesn't Matter

IT HAS ALL BEEN A LITTLE AMUSING this complaining over this state as well as many other states because census figures are not as large as the residents and citizens of the respective towns, villages, and cities expected.

But the howl has gone up whether the city showed 150 per cent increase or only 6 to 10 per cent increase. The cry has been universal that the count was not complete, not accurate, and too many people were missed.

We have no doubt that people were missed in every community. We expect there are more people in every city, town and village than will be shown in the census.

We know that regardless of how many calls would have been made that folks would have been missed, overlooked or not enumerated. And we believe that would prove to be the case if we started all over and took the census a second time.

Our complaining, of course, comes from the fact that we have been taught to be loyal and interested in our city. That is the work of our Chamber of Commerce. We are always interested in seeing our growth and expansion better than others. We always hope that we are growing a little more rapidly than we have grown in the past. We let our enthusiasm run away with us and as a result we are a little disappointed when the population figures do not come up to our expectations.

And as we said above, this is true of every community in our nation.

But the fact remains that it doesn't matter a great deal in Artesia whether we have 10,000, 12,000 or only the 8115 that the census takers reported.

We haven't lost a thing—fact is our population has doubled in the past 10 years and that is pretty good. But because we haven't reached the 10,000 to 12,000 doesn't mean we have lost. We still have everything we had before. The only thing we have lost is something imaginary we thought we had—more people than the count shows.

We still have one of the finest little cities in the state and one of the fastest growing communities in New Mexico. We still have our fine and modern and progressive merchants and stores; we have our fine, wide streets; we have our splendid parks and schools; we have our churches and public buildings; we have our splendid people with a genuine and sincere interest in our community and all of the worthwhile things which help a community.

We have our splendid farms with their good production of agriculture and livestock. We have our oil wells and the prospects of more oil wells.

Yes, we still have everything we had a few weeks ago when we thought and perhaps hoped that our population figure would exceed the 10,000 mark.

And we have an incentive to help build and to expand our city so that perhaps within another 10 years has rolled by we will have increased our population another 100 per cent.

And what is true about Artesia is true about every other city, town, and village in New Mexico which has been disappointed because its population figures did not reach its expectation. All of the cities and communities have everything they had before and a great opportunity to continue to grow, to develop and to expand.

It really doesn't matter whether we are as large as we thought we were—the thing that matters is that we still have plenty of room for growth, development and expansion.—O.E.P.

Always Interesting

IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN EXTREMELY INTERESTING to us to watch business people, merchants and professional people go about developing and increasing their business.

It always has been just as interesting to watch and observe those individuals who wait for business to come to them—sit and wait—and then complain when business gets a little slow.

The fact does remain that most of us do some type and kind of advertising even when we deny this is true. We deny it and contend that we do not believe in advertising. Yet the very individual who refuses to advertise and is confident that it doesn't pay, erects signs to designate his or her place of business; they employ their windows to display merchandise to try to catch the shopper's eye as he or she goes walking by; they will encourage their shoppers or their buyers to tell others about their store.

They do employ advertising. And when they argue they don't or that it doesn't pay they are not very consistent. Then, too, it is usually the non-advertiser insofar as regular mediums are concerned who claims to know more about advertising and what it does or doesn't do. Yet they haven't tested it; aren't experienced; and for the most part are merely arguing because they are seeking ways and means to keep from spending their money.

It also is always very noticeable that it is the non-advertiser who starts complaining first about business being poor or off.

The time that we need advertising, which is recognized today as a need of all businesses—those offering merchandise or service for sale—is when business is slow. The time to offer inducements to attract the shopper and to invite patronage is when we need the business.

And there are too many firms and concerns employing and spending their money for newspaper advertising for us to sit around and lose business and argue that advertising doesn't pay. And the merchants outside Artesia are inviting this business through the metropolitan papers while mail order houses are seeking this business via their catalogs.

We may be entitled to the business because we are in business in the home community but we still have to go after it, invite it and tell the buying public we want their business besides keeping them posted on all merchandise news.

Are you helping to get your share of the business in Artesia?—O.E.P.

Voters ought to have sense enough not to be influenced by false issues raised by candidates who are afraid of real facts.

The lack of morals among the youngsters, if it exists, is a reflection of a greater lack of morals among their elders.

Some case-hardened spring gardeners are now thinking about fall crops—this shows that you can't do anything for these people.

WILL HE RELEASE IT?

ROTTEN APPLES

It's high time we had a good look into the "rotten apples" of the state of New Mexico.

With the recent indictment of several state officials and former officials, the "investigation" episodes of last year are again brought into the news. At that time, it will be recalled, several inquiries were made concerning corruption in public offices in this state. No concrete results were publicized; the "investigations," for all worthy purposes, came to nothing.

The present rekindling of charges can hardly fail to rearouse the belief by the people of our state that something—somewhere—is rottenly wrong. Specifically what is wrong and exactly who is wrong is a problem which is presently unanswerable. But when sore spots appear through the tough skin of the apple, it is more than a fair guess that something is afoot in the core.

This is not to avow, of course, that the recently indicted persons are in any way guilty of the charges leveled against them; nor is it to imply that anyone yet apprehended is sore in our state—those decisions are best left to the courts of law. It is to declare, however, that the unfortunate Coogler case and connected issues may well lead to deeper roots of crime and corruption in the state.

Last week's action based on pitiful fact or political mumbo jumbo? That is a question the courts alone must determine. But whatever else be said, this newspaper believes all will welcome a good and thorough look at the "rotten apples" of our state.—Portales Tribune.

ANOTHER CASUALTY

The drive for changing the electoral college, that fictitious institution in which the President of the United States is elected, seems to have fallen by the wayside. More momentous developments are in the making, and the hot issue of a couple of years ago apparently isn't even warm at the present time.

According to the plan most widely approved, electors of the future would be named to represent the actual votes each candidate received, rather than the tradition method of one candidate winning all of a state's electors, even though his popular majority or plurality, in some cases, was only one vote.

As badly needed as the reform is, now evidently is not the time to press for it. The security of the nation comes first, and only after that may we continue with efforts to improve the social and political approaches to our multitude of domestic problems.—Amarillo News.

Consider the auto tire and the tack and don't go around blowing yourself up.

WASTE OF TIME

An action by the State Economic Development Commission which was criticized by one state agency as a "waste of time" has brought about the promise of important savings for shippers in Eastern New Mexico.

The EDC entered the 11-year-old Interstate Commerce Commission case which would place Eastern New Mexico in the mountain rate zone and immediately the two principal railroads serving the area joined the action. It means that Eastern New Mexico in all likelihood will have the lower rates through voluntary action of the railroads regardless of ICC action.

Thus a victory was pulled out of a situation that had been conceded a defeat for years. The State Corporation Commission, an agency entrusted with the handling of freight rates, joined the EDC petition with misgivings that the whole thing was a "waste of time." An officer of the agency read communications from nine Western states agreeing that the action was futile.

It wasn't futile, but worked out as predicted by the EDC through voluntary action of the railroads. You don't throw in the towel when fighting for the public until the last bell has sounded.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

WATCH TAX RATES

Just how much the controversial Dee Donnell reassessment of property will increase valuations in New Mexico still is unknown, but it is likely to be a large amount.

The tendency on the part of the various subdivisions of government, unless checked, will be to budget larger amounts for state, county and municipal purposes.

The purpose of the reassessment was to place all property on the tax rolls, to equalize values and get the values on a basis of present day prices. It was not primarily to increase the tax burden or to provide more funds for the "tax spenders."

It is, therefore, well that the state Taxpayers' Assn., is watching the situation and is advising its members to urge state, county and city officials to reduce tax rates by the same percentage that the valuations are increased.

There may be a few instances where more revenues can be wisely expended for public benefit, but in the main the tax rates should be held down. No tax-fixing bodies should be allowed to "run wild" in increasing expenditures.—Albuquerque Journal.

Handwriting is a key to character, says a professor. Especially when found on that little piece of paper marked "insufficient funds."

We've been in this newspaper game for about 20 years and until this week we were laboring under the impression that you could please at least part of the people some of the time.

Gigs and Buzz-Saws Some guy—named Raymond Dow from Flushing, N. Y.—writes us an epistle taking us apart for our own brand of humor.

Who is this Raymond Dow, anyhow? And how did a copy of The Santa Fe News ever get to New York?

Here, we thought we were writing inoffensive, home-town stuff for home-town New Mexicans who were sympathetic with corny, home-town filofosy. Guess we'll have to polish our style and be more careful if you New Mexican editors are going to line up subscribers all over the world.

New Mexican Critics Closer to home, one "Jawn" Kirkwood of Santa Fe is always ripping into me with fish hooks and double-bit axes.

The latest word from Jawn: "I have been quietly minding my own business here in the most beautiful city in the world, but your last 'Assignment New Mexico' is bringing me out of my hiding."

"While you're helping Bill Harrison and Jack Sitton worry about how to pronounce rode-o (or ro-day-o) you might help me cogitate about whether your use of 'tender-feet' is correct."

"I always thought it was tenderfoots following the rule of 'mongoooses—mongoooses.' The related question of whether the plural of house-mouse is hicc-mice, we'll leave for another lesson."

"Tell Gordon Greaves that doing square dances on horseback was common 40 years ago in St. Louis County long before I left there."

"One more item: All this glamorization of Billy the Kid almost reverses my peristalsis. How about a monument to Pat Garrett, the man who put Billy the Kid, another Dillinger, out of circulation?"

The Worst Dig But the worst cut yet came from one who supposedly is my best friend in Artesia. Editor A. L. (Pot) Bert—the nickname is significant—referred to me in his Potpourri koin last week as the "Old bald-headed Professor."

And just to think that here I was congratulating myself on my youthful vigor (being runner-up for the state tennis championship in the veterans' class—those over 45—to Charlie Berninghaus of Taos) and Pot Bert makes that snide remark.

It's worse than the case of the Pot's calling the kettle black. What would I do to the Artesia scribe if I could get him to face me across the tennis net?

Another New Mexican editor whom I'm dying to face with a tennis racket as the sole offensive weapon is Jimmy Barber of The Raton Range. Jimmy fancies himself quite an artist with the inflated balls and, I'm afraid, underestimates his falling legs.

Rhubarb and Thumbtacks Running a weekly newspaper column in New Mexico is like the pome in The Hatch Reporter's last week entitled "The Fallen Thumbtack."

You hunt it high; You hunt it low; Does the naked eye Espy it?—no. The naked toe It's spotted by ... Hitting Back Knowing no better way to get even with New Mexico editors we'll just pass on to you a batch of their juiciest typo errors. Jack Sitton says The Artesia Advocate reported that "Mrs. Anna Mary Meers played the Portales chimes decently."

The gremlins got Jimmy Barber and he had Mrs. Minnie Pym listed as 179 years old. The El Paso Times was begging pet owners to buy log licenses and Sarah Ulmer in the Tucumcari News was threatening to quit if the proofreaders mixed her tos and toos any more.

Wayne Winters of The Grants Beacon says typos heppen all the time even when he thanks publicly his fiends. The Albuquerque Journal made one of those dillies in the sassiety news when the photographer caught a popular young lady and her finance talking over the time when he her hobby and become her hubby.

And that's all except to remind you that after shaking our fists at editors, we'll be wise and shake a leg.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Bold Stroke Is Indicated With Marines Korea-Bound Amphibious Blow in North May Split Communist Army

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The dispatch of a powerful Marine striking force to Korea has military observers speculating that a bold stroke is planned to shorten the conflict.

This would be an amphibious invasion of Northern Korea to split the Communist army, bulk of which is assumed to be in South Korea, from its arsenal in Manchuria and Russia.

Marines are specialists at invading from the sea and, as commander of the Task Force heading for the Orient, the Corps selected a master at the technique, Brig. Gen. Edward A. Craig. He took leathernecks ashore under fire at Bougainville, Guam, Iwo Jima and the Marianas during the last war.

A thrust at the narrowest point of the Korean Peninsula, where it is only 120 miles wide, might with strong air support pierce to the opposite coast, severing the vital rail and road arteries bearing the supply stream to the powerful Red war machine.

Then the Communist forces would be whittled down from front and rear with air and ground strikes.

THE REAL DANGER—The Defense department believes that the real danger in Korea can be described as political rather than military, if it is accepted that guerrilla warfare is primarily a political phenomenon.

There is little doubt that enough United States troops can handle anything the Korean Communists can put up in the way of an organized army. Barring intervention by Russia or China, the Communist armored force should be quickly crushed.

Guerrilla warfare is another matter. The French have had 150,000 troops in Indo-China now for two years, but they can't wipe out the guerrillas and can't control the population.

The Korean Communists are believed capable of shifting to guerrilla tactics and will no doubt accompany this move with an attempt to arouse mass sentiment against the United States.

The job of preparing an adequate civil defense organization is a tremendous one with a lot of red tape to be cut. Some of the difficulties seem almost absurd but they exist nonetheless. For example, in many areas doctors can't practice in another state; fire department equipment in one town couldn't be used in a neighboring city; the insurance protection of police and firemen would be void if they went to the aid of another bombed community.

Washington officials are pushing ahead full speed with civil defense planning and are urging local communities to wipe out existing obstacles to mutual aid in case of emergency.

GUIDED MISSILES—Basic research and development of guided missiles has reached the point where the Joint Chiefs of Staff have decided to turn over to each of the Services three services responsibility for one of the missile test centers.

It is at these centers that short and long range guided missiles are being developed—including the No. 1 problem of devising atomic warheads for the weapons.

The Air Force will control the enormous joint long range proving ground at Banana River, Fla., the Navy will continue operation of the test center at Point Mugu, Cal., and the Army, already in control at White Sands, N. M., will take over at Holloman, N. M.

Watching Won't Hurt A RESULT OF THE SURVEY made by Dee Donnell throughout the state will undoubtedly result in an increase in property assessments in a number of counties.

And this, Rupert F. Asplund, director of the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico, points out, will result in increased taxes for property owners, unless there is a corresponding decrease in property tax rates.

The survey was made not to increase the amount of property taxes assessed and collected, but to bring about a uniformity in assessments among the counties of the state and among property owners within each county.

Asplund points out that the necessity for lower tax rates has been called to the attention of all taxing officials throughout the state, the State Tax Commission, and governing bodies of counties, municipalities, and schools, with the result it is expected every effort will be made to hold property taxes at a minimum.

We hardly think governing bodies will permit the matter to get out of hand, but we, the people, must watch and insist that adjustments are made if and where indicated.—A.L.B.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

By HOYT KING Central Press Writer

A LOT of United Nations members are now indicating willingness to send troops to Korea. If things keep on as they have, there won't even be room for ours.

The American forces call the North Koreans "Gooks." Naturally too many Gooks spoil the soup.

Labor Secretary Tobin says our Korean action has committed this country "to frustrating Communist aggression wherever it may show itself." But one at a time, please.

The Soviet collected 96,000,000 names on a petition to outlaw the atom bomb. That looks suspiciously like quite an aggressive undertaking.

Fashion dictators have designed fall clothes for the willowy woman. Perhaps to complement the weeping husband, who pays.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman George says there will be a tax bill, war or no war. But with a war on, it likely will get little attention, being only money.

The president of Columbia university, General Eisenhower, asked students to say hello to him on the street. No other salute required, yet.

Try and Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

LEON SHIMKIN, one of the heads of an important publishing firm, once signed up for a course in Cultivating Human Relationships and Developing Personality. The man who gave the course was named Dale Carnegie.

Mr. Carnegie's siren song lulled Shimkin into a state of blissful intoxication. "You ought to write a book for us," he declared. "I already have written two," said Carnegie sharply, "and they turned both of them down." "You couldn't have used the material of this lecture course," averred Shimkin, undaunted. "All you have to write about is how to make friends—" "And influence people," added Carnegie. The two men fell into each other's arms and rushed out for a beaker of buttermilk. History was made that night.

In its various editions the book that resulted has sold over three and a half million copies, and put Dale Carnegie into the same bracket with Andrew.

Verbal Tour of Video Studio Given at Rotary

Dave Button, manager of radio station KSPV, took members of the Artesia Rotary Club on a verbal tour behind the scenes of television, as he told of his experiences recently at WW-TV, Omaha, Neb., which he visited on his vacation.

Prior to Button's talk, George E. Currier, program chairman for the coming year, announced the standing committees selected by Charlie Bullock, president, who was attending the annual district assembly, held at Alamogordo Monday and Tuesday. Also attending the assembly were Bill McGinty, a director, and Bert Muncy, Jr., secretary.

Thad Cox, immediate past president, presided in the absence of President Bullock.

In his talk, Button told of seeing the $600,000 worth of equipment at the Omaha television station, which has been operating since last September and has still shown no profit.

Button had the pleasure of being televised and interviewed on a program, "Coffee Counter" during which he was served and drank coffee.

He said he was asked about New Mexico, which he "plugged," telling the video audience that Artesia is the hub of scenic wonders and general activities in the state. There is only one large studio at the Omaha station, but it is enormous, Button said. The use of only one is possible, as they "fly scenery," as in theaters, which is carried on during station breaks.

Button said television is still quite costly and that to televise one show requires the services of 28 men. But those at Omaha were versatile and performed various duties.

At the conclusion of his talk, Button was asked as to when television might be expected at Artesia. He answered this with an unfathomable grin, said, "Thank you," and sat down.
