POTASH

Loop Road Serving SW Potash To Cost $80,000

An agreement for the construction of the oil field-potash loop road which will serve Southwest Potash Corporation, was reached at a meeting Thursday at the home southeast of Artesia of County Commissioner W. T. (Doc) Haldeman, to be built at a cost unofficially estimated by State Highway Engineer at $80,000.

Based on Dwyre's unofficial estimate, from 12 to 15 miles of permanent, all-weather road could be constructed for the $80,000, of which the Eddy County Board of Commissioners has set up in its 1950-51 budget a sum of $40,000.

At the meeting Thursday the three Eddy County Commissioners passed a resolution, whereby the $40,000 of county funds would be allocated to the building of a road from the Potash Company of America property to State Highway 83 about 12 miles east of Artesia, amounting to approximately 20 miles of construction, provided the State Highway Department matches the $40,000 dollar for dollar, making $80,000 available for the construction.

This was based on Dwyre's unofficial probable estimate of construction at a cost of $5000 to $6000 a mile.

Passing the resolution were Commissioners Haldeman of Artesia; Bob James of Malaga and Joe Lusk of Carlsbad.

On Monday, Commissioner Haldeman, Mayor Oren C. Roberts, representing the city of Artesia, and William M. Siegenthaler, president of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, representing that body, all of whom were at the meeting, said it was understood by all present on Thursday that a minimum of 12 miles of road would be constructed for the $80,000, based on Dwyre's unofficial estimate.

Collectors Club Plan Exhibition Is Being Revived

Revival of the Artesia Collectors Club, an organization of stamp fans, was made known today by C. Gottfried Finke, who said plans had been started for a stamp exhibition here in conjunction with "National Stamp Week," Nov. 13-18.

Stamps from all parts of the country are to be shown and awards given in junior and senior divisions.

The Artesia club was organized in the spring of 1948 and in the following year was affiliated with the Society of Philatelic Americans.

Affiliation of the Artesia unit with the national association followed individual affiliation by John Rogers, Warren Neill, Hugh Kiddy, Roy Jones, Marshall Rowley, and C. G. Finke.

Purpose of the club is to combine in one group all collectors of stamps in this vicinity.

Meetings are not haphazard but are conducted according to parliamentary law.

Open exchange is a part of the sessions with members trading stamps and also purchasing material offered for sale.

To assist collectors in getting wanted items auctions are conducted at intervals. Door awards, question boxes, and grab bags are features of meetings.

The club has a junior division also to foster stamp collecting among those not in senior age range.

Finke Prime Booster

If you think stamps are dull and can't arouse any spark you should see the enthusiasm Finke, secretary of the club, has for this hobby.

He is a member of Albuquerque Philatelic Society, Carlsbad Stamp Club, a director of the New Mexico Philatelic Society, regional vice president of both the Society

COUNTER-ATTACKS HALTING REDS

COUNTER-HITTING U. S. and South Korean troops, aided by constant air barrages, halt incessant Communist lunges five miles north of Taegu (1). In the northeast sector North Koreans surge forward northeast of Yongchon (2), 50 miles north of Pusan. Along the 50-mile upper rim of the United Nations defense rectangle two American-aided South Korean divisions slowly push 80,000 North Koreans back (3) to remove the threat to the key U. S. air field six miles southeast of Pohang. A heavy Red infantry onslaught is loosed against the north flank of the U. S. Second Infantry division 22 miles below the pivotal northwest cornerstone base of Taegu (4). Units of two Red divisions spring two artillery-supported assaults on the south wing of the 120-mile battle perimeter, 30 to 35 miles west of Pusan (5) and at the opposite end of the front (6) the South Korean Third Division launches a fresh northward counter-push to recapture the strategic road running eight miles inland and southwest from Pohang to Angangni.

Roswellites to Boost Fair Here On Wednesday

A good will delegation of about 45 Roswell businessmen is scheduled to make a 45-minute stop at the city hall in Artesia at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by way of advertising the Eastern New Mexico State Fair at Roswell.

The Roswellites will arrive in Artesia in two chartered buses from Carlsbad, where they are scheduled to eat lunch with the Rotary Club.

They are to leave Roswell early tomorrow morning and make a swing through Tatum, Lovington, and Hobbs, before stopping at Carlsbad at noon.

The good-willers are to stop at Lake Arthur, Hagerman, and Dexter on their way home from Artesia.

Hilton Ray is the chairman of the committee in charge.

Two more good-will trips are planned by the Roswell boosters, one on Friday, when they will visit Vaughn, Fort Sumner, Melrose, Clovis, the Roosevelt County Fair at Portales, Elida, and Kenna, and the other Wednesday of next week, when the trip will take in Ruidoso, Lincoln, Capitan, Carrizo, and Fort Stanton.

Entertainment on all of the trips will be furnished by Lou Fink and His High School Hillbilly Band, which is remembered here as putting on top performances on similar good-will trips in recent years.

Rehearsing Move For Pioneer Is Scheduled Today

A move to start a rehearsing on Pioneer Airlines' application for a certificate on the El Paso-Roswell-Clovis segment in this state, will be started at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in a meeting at Roswell Chamber of Commerce.

The Civil Aeronautics Board recently suspended the airlines' certificate for this route.

Affected are Amarillo, Clovis, Roswell, Artesia, Pecos, and El Paso.

Going from Artesia to the El Paso meeting will be either of both Mayor Oren Roberts, Bill Siegenthaler, president and Bob Koonce, manager, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Dennis Chavez has backed up the movement for the route. In a letter to the chamber manager the senator says:

"Suspension of this service to Eastern New Mexico will be a severe blow to its economic development. We simply cannot compete with other states that have an advanced transportation system in certain markets if we must use the slower types of transportation and communication.

"From Washington I will do everything within my power to have the members of the Civil Aeronautics Board change their decision.

"Kindly assure the leaders of your community that I am doing my very best towards the continuation of this vital air transportation for Eastern New Mexico."

Wrote CAB Members

With the letter the senator attached a copy of a communication addressed to Hon. Oswald Ryan, vice chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington 25, D. C., copies of which were also sent to Josh Lee, Harold A. Jones and Russell Adams, members.

The senator lists the topic as "matter of renewal of the certificate of Pioneer Airlines Docket 3719," and says:

"I was quite disappointed to learn that in this decision you have tentatively concluded to suspend Pioneer Airlines services between Amarillo and El Paso via Clovis and Roswell on Oct. 31, 1950.

"I was also disappointed to learn that you have also failed to authorize Pioneer to serve Artesia as a result of this proposed suspension of the service between Amarillo and El Paso.

"The board's examiner, Mr. Walter Bryan, who heard the evidence in October, 1948, in support of the need for air service to Artesia,

Cost Will Be Penny Per Gallon, By Action of Council Last Night

The Artesia City Council early last evening took final action on a gasoline tax of a cent a gallon, to become effective Oct. 1.

General purpose of the tax is to provide funds for the continuous maintenance of the approximately 26 miles of paving in the city, for which there are no other funds available.

In the final action, the council passed resolutions to take in two additions to the city, at the edge of each of which is a service station.

The matter has been discussed at some length with various interested parties over the last few weeks, with the idea in mind that for the tax to be fair to all, the two areas should be brought into the city limits.

At the meeting last evening the council also passed a defense ordinance, as has been recommended for all cities in New Mexico by Edward H. Oakley, assistant director of the Department of Civilian Defense.

Reasons for the passing of the gasoline tax are more fully explained in the preamble of the resolution, which reads:

U. S. M-26 TANKS THUNDER INTO NAKTONG BATTLE

AMERICAN M-26 TANKS blast their way over a hill along the Naktong river in South Korea to stop the big Red offensive. (International)

We're mad!
And if we owned this newspaper we would tell you how mad and what of mad, regardless of postal rates.
We don't know exactly at whom we are angry, but we know he is one of a handful of North and South Eddy County men who met Thursday at the home southeast of Artesia of W. T. (Doc) Haldeman, Eddy County commissioner. We weren't there, hadn't been invited to the meeting or invited, but we were properly informed of the record in utmost confidence after it was over, with the understanding an agreement had been reached among those present at no facts would be passed on a publication.
And when we are taken into a confidence, we keep it, as should a newspaperman worthy of the name.
In actuality, we presume, it was a meeting of the Eddy County Board of Commissioners, which cannot be held behind closed doors. Nor can the public be excluded, newspapermen or others. We are not beefing about the meeting being held without anyone forming us of it. And we do not believe in public records being held from the public. We agree with the recent ruling by the attorney general that a meeting of any body politic is public. And we will go along with the theory that a meeting was public, for it was attended by a number of men who are not county commissioners.
But we likewise do know that there are times when for good cause certain things are just as well not publicized for the present. Such things may be news, it is true, but may not be expected to publish immediately as news, but rather to hold them until the time is ripe.
So it was with this meeting. The story was not complete and it possibly would have been just as well to have had nothing said for the present.
By general consent of those present, nothing for publication was to come from that meeting. And we were told the entire story, which had to do with the oil field-potash loop road. We presumed The Current-Argus and The Eddy County News would likewise be taken into confidence.
But instead, The Current-Argus in its Friday issue headlined: "Agreement Is Reached on Constructing Road to Southwest Potash." And the entire story followed. We have the list of those present, our local sources. And The Current-Argus published the same list. We are certain no one from North Eddy County told the story for publication. But here is the entire list: George Reese, attorney for the Southwest Potash Corporation, who made the request for no publicity; Fred Stewart of Carlsbad, manager for Southwest Potash; John Jayne of New York, in charge of explorations for American Metal parent company of Southwest Potash.
County Commissioners W. T. (Doc) Haldeman, at whose home the meeting was held; Joe Lusk of Carlsbad and Bob James of Malaga.
R. H. Westaway of Carlsbad, county assessor and county Democratic chairman; R. A. Wilcox, deputy county clerk; Gene Lusk of Carlsbad, assistant district attorney; Frank Kindel, manager of Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce.
Burton Dwyre, state highway engineer; Mayor Oren C. Roberts of Artesia; Bill Siegenthaler, president of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce; Bob Koonce, manager of the Artesia chamber and J. B. (Buster) Mulcox, Artesia precinct Democratic chairman.
Now you can take your pick. And you can just guess what we think of the person who broke a confidence. And we likewise feel that The Current-Argus were informed of the meeting in the same manner as we were, that newspaper should have gone along, in spite of the natural desire for any newsman to uncover something which being hidden.
If it had been something which we felt, that might have been something else. But as it was chiefly a matter of courtesy to the Southwest Potash Corporation, which is planning to sink two mines which will be served by the road. Southwest Potash has asked at as little as possible be said out several matters the last year until such time as company officials are ready to make an announcement.

YOU... an Interior Decorator
By BOYD BARNETT

ROCKING-CHAIR RALLY

One reason for the increasing popularity of platform rockers is their adaptability. They combine gracefully with provincial and traditional furnishings, and are at home in almost any type in formal room... living room, den or bedroom. And they are unsurpassed for comfort.

Contemporary designers have simplified the lines of some of the old favorites. Others they have cut down in size and scale to meet the space limitations of our new smaller homes. There are also many authentic reproductions available, true copies that follow the lines and proportions of the originals. Interesting upholstery fabrics in a variety of patterns and colors give them eye-appeal that contributes immeasurably to the room's decorative success.

In a platform rocker, as with any chair, comfort is dependent upon the angle of repose, height of seat from floor and depth of seat.

A pair of platform rockers have been used in the illustration above to balance the sofa and form fireside conversation group. The room's color scheme was inspired by cotton print on chairs, dark green walls and rosy red sofa. Carpet in warm, honey-beige matches background of print. Black and gold Boston rocker adds homey touch.

We've never had so many interesting chairs as we have now... lounge chairs, platform rockers, occasional chairs. Come in and see them, won't you?

Snarling, Indian-Slashed Coyotes Poised For Leap At Bulldogs

Revamped Artesia Team Pours On Coal to Nip Rattlers 19-0

With two victories to their string, the Artesia High School Bulldogs face a crucial test when they tackle the Roswell High School Coyotes at 8 o'clock Friday night on Morris Field here.

Two victories do not make a season and the record of the Jal debacle is too recent to say that the Bulldogs are rolling in high gear.

The Coyotes, one of the Bulldogs' traditional foes, will be snapping for this game. They would perhaps rather beat the Bulldogs than any other team.

Even though Roswell was blanked by Yselta 27 to 0 Friday night in Hutchins Stadium in the Texas town, the Coyotes are potent. Fired by their mistakes in that contest, they are liable to take out their chagrin over their walloping with redoubled effort against the Bulldogs.

Yselta may have been Roswell's counterpart of the Artesia opener against Jal. The Bulldogs have no monopoly on staging a comeback. That attack from the Yselta Indians may prove to be the spark that will ignite the Coyotes for their game against the Bulldogs.

All this does not discredit the superb playing the Bulldogs did Friday night when they toppled the Tucumcari Rattlers from the undefeated throne of the northeastern New Mexico team has occupied for two years.

Only those fans who saw both the Jal and Tucumcari games can appreciate the improvement in one week's time of the Bulldogs. At Jal they were a bunch of individualists, disorganized, nervous, fumbling, with poor blocking, no coordination.

Against the Rattlers the Bulldogs were a well-oiled, dynamic team with power in every step. The line was a mighty bulwark, interference was excellent, tackling was hard and fast.

The Artesia team was slow to get rolling to pay dirt, not scoring until the third and fourth periods. The half ended in a 0-0 deadlock. That slowness in getting started could prove disastrous for it often happens that the team that scores the initial touchdown wins the game.

Perfect Premiere
The Bulldogs had a red-letter debut on their home gridiron. Before 3500 fans the Artesia eleven defeated the Tucumcari team 19-0.

There was a story book 76-yard dash by Vernon Haldeman, right halfback, for a touchdown in the fourth period to add the proper spice of color and there was the touchdown scored later in the same quarter by Yump Barker, inexperienced but energetic quarterback, who drew the post because of Joe Harbert's injury in the Jal game.

Barker's touchdown came when the game was within two minutes of conclusion.

First Bulldog marker came after nine minutes had elapsed in the third quarter, A. L. Terpening, right halfback, paving the victory path.

Two out of three of the point after touchdowns by Sonny Garner failed. The first try was good; second, twisted low and to the right; third, partially blocked, also went low, twisting and to the right.

Failure to quickly capitalize on a Battler hoble late in the game may have cost the Bulldogs an additional touchdown. After the hard working Artesia line had backed the Tucumcari team deep into Artesia territory, with fourth down coming up, a poor pass from center sent the ball rolling wildly toward the Artesia goal.

The Rattler back, Bill Birch, scooted far back to pick up the ball and raced around the Artesia right for 15 yards, a first down.

Again Those Penalties
That old debbel penalties cropped up again to rob the Bulldogs. They were penalized eight times for a loss of 90 yards whereas the Rattlers drew only three penalties for 35.

Artesia led in ground gaining, 245 yards to Tucumcari's 96; in first downs, 14 to six; and shone extra brightly in punting.

There were five Bulldog punts for a total of 255 yards, an average of 51; an equal number of Rattler punts for a total of 171 yards, average of 34.1.

Turning back now to Haldeman's storybook 76-yard run for a touchdown, it is salient that Haldeman once in the clear, had two angry Rattlers nearly breathing down his neck as the Artesia back sprinted to the pay-off zone.

Band in Bloom

The game was also the occasion of the 1950 premiere of the 50-member Artesia High School band, directed by Russell Lewis, with Billy Moreland as drum major; Travis Zelency, flagbearer; the Ellinger sister trio of baton twirlers. The chore of pulling the big dolly-mounted bass drum was that of Wayne Westerman. Behind the

ON THE HOME FRONT

By BROWNIE EMERSON

All Not Quiet on Eastern Front As Press Box Sings Boiler Lyric

Friday night was the first time I had been in the Morris Field press box in my life. It is a long narrow structure perched high above the east stands reached by climbing a steep set of stairs.

Arriving early, Tommy Bryan, who plays on the Artesia B squad and who assisted me in spotting and I staked out claims on two chairs.

It was well that we arrived early, for if we had not done so we would have been crowded out of an observation spot.

It wasn't long until the place was jammed. There was no time during the game to tally those present nor time for introductions, so one worked without knowing whether some there were from Tucumcari, Toledo, Ohio or Timbuctoo.

Built by the Lions Club, who certainly rate a bow for the contribution, the press box is admirably suited for being a press box. There is ample room for the working press.

But there isn't room for all the rest. Now, to get the record straight: The local radio station and the local newspaper should have use of such a facility.

As donors of the structure, the Lions Club has a definite right to its use.

The school most certainly has the right to have its needed officials, such as a timekeeper, in the box.

But, put all this crowd together and what do you have? A cramped, crowded space, as jammed as a New York subway, and as noisy as a boiler factory.

Added to the locals in the box, where do you put the visiting radio men and newspapermen? As a matter of courtesy they should have space, too.

The present press box is inadequate. The housing shortage lingers on at Morris Field.

Its work covering a football game, nerve and eye straining. Add to that the radio program, public address system, calls here and there, the blast of the timekeeper's pistol in your ear, and you have a giant size bedlam.

Try to ask a question of your spotter and you have to shout like a coyote yelping in a sandstorm.

The place is cluttered up with gadgets, boxes, and Buck Rogers like equipment of the radio men, necessary gadgets for their work but still they cramp the space.

And, although it did not happen Friday night, a situation could easily arise wherein the Artesia Advocate as represented by its writer, could be pushed clear off the map.

There was no argument or trouble, we repeat, but the situation could arise.

As the hometown newspaper, the Advocate intends to give full coverage to the Bulldog games.

The whole problem could be solved by doubling the length of the box and dividing it into two compartments, one for radio and public address, one for newspaper and timekeeper.

Note of Thanks
I have received, and am grateful for, the fine cooperation of Supt. Tom Mayfield, Principal T. Stovall, Principal Don Riddle, Coaches Jack Tinson, Cal and Ray Hall, and Paul Kerley.

Also, for the friendly, cooperative spirit of Bill Key, whom I rate the best friend and booster of the Bulldogs among the townspeople, a man who knows football from A to Z, and who has a jet-fast mind when it comes to oral description of a game.

I mention also Coach Reese Smith, although I have not seen him as much as the others.

I have accorded these gentlemen respect and courtesy and have been treated with courtesy and respect on the same level.

That is only a natural, civilized action in both cases. But until you've been a newspaper man for 25 years, and run up against smart-two, not one, points after touchdown that failed to click.

Right now I'm ready to trade in the crystal ball for a good used ouija board.

Bulldog Briefing
Yselta 27, Roswell 0—Artesia vs. Roswell here Friday night, Sept. 22.

Alamogordo 18, Deming 0—Artesia vs. Alamogordo here Oct. 13. Las Cruces 25, St. Michael 6—Artesia vs. Las Cruces here Oct. 20.

Carlsbad 20, Bowie of El Paso 0—Artesia vs. Carlsbad in Carlsbad, Nov. 17.

Pampa, Texas 26, Hobbs 6—Artesia vs. Hobbs here Nov. 23.

Harvesters
And that last score reminds me that the Pampa, Texas, Harvesters are always one of the strongest teams in the Panhandle. The spirit of that team and town is tops. They play a brand of football on the North Plains that is hard to top.

Charles O. Criswell, coach of Tucumcari, was at one time assistant coach at Pampa.

Doña Ana Bulldogs
Artesia gridsters should be on the lookout again another pack of Bulldogs, those of Las Cruces. Indications from the Las Cruces Sun-News are that the Las Cruces team is gunning for Artesia. The game is to be Las Cruces homecoming on Oct. 20, that and adds extra fire to Coach Rudy Camuney boys.

What does Las Cruces have? There's Artie Robertson, 143-pound right halfback, and Jimmy Bradley, 140-pound left halfback, who are reported as "wing-footed," and who are fast around the ends.

They can take the center of the line too if the opening is made rapidly.

Skipper Corley, quarterback, 166 pounds, is good at deception, and is showing skill at heaving passes.

Here is a cuseop of the Las Cruces Bulldogs as revealed by their starting lineup in the game against St. Michael last Friday night:

Here are the names, weights, and positions:

- Russell Parsons 161 LE
- Harold Cole 180 LT
- Don Alexander 153 LG
- Alfred Diaz 167 C
- Ab Aguirre 170 RG
- Jon Aderhold 165 RT
- Cipi Fierro 168 RE
- Skipper Corley 160 QB
- Jimmy Bradley 140 LH
- Artie Robertson 143 RH
- Windy Holmes 175 FB

Spelling Lesson
If one has lived in Artesia for 25 or more years, knowing the correct spelling of Bulldog players names should be as easy as taking an afternoon nap.

For a newcomer, however, the task isn't easy, a chore complicated by the variations in spelling in lists, programs, and other material.

For example, one list shows Don Mullinix as Don Mullinicks. One name is on a typed list, the other on a program. Which is correct?

Vernon Haldeman's last name has sometimes been heard as "Halderman," but I've since been told the insertion of the R is wrong.

First names that are upper and low case in one also cause slight wrinkles. Not doubting the program but it shows one player as "LeRoy Rutledge." Sometimes even programs err.

So, is it "LeRoy" or "Le Roy" or "Leroy"?

Then, too, there's Campanella. Is his first name "Louis" or "Lewis." Seems I've heard the former is correct, but one old timer has it as "Lewis."

Barry Hagar has a name that sometimes comes out "Barry Hager." The program of the Tucumcari game lists it as "Hagar," so I am inclined to believe that spelling correct.

I've seen it "Douglas Whitefield" on the program, "White Field" on a typed list, and heard it pronounced "Whitfield."

It isn't difficult to learn that Bobby Loyd has only L in his last name—a spelling I like—since two L's always seem like doing it the hard way.

Most distinctive nickname on the Bulldog roster is that of "Yumpy." There should be some sort of story connected with that. "Campanella" trips off the tongue like a folk tune.

"Merwyn" in Merwyn Morgan's name is certainly distinctive. But one more question before this topic ends: Does Connor spell his name that way or "Conner"?

Answer to Rebuttal
"Just ask someone who knows," "look it up in the directory." Those would be stock answers on these questions. That would be okay if time permitted and if all typed lists and programs corresponded. But when even these lists do not correspond, and there is no city directory current, how is one to know immediately what is correct?

That is the main reason I have asked Coach Ray Hall of the junior high school (you're no longer C team in my designations, boys) to kindly supply me with a roster showing number, full name, age, grade, height, and weight.

I know Coach Jack Tinson is a busy man but if he can find time to supply a similar list of the varsity, to settle this spelling question and the other data once and for all, I'd sure appreciate it.

And, for future reference—similar rosters of baseball, track, basketball, tennis, golf and all other sports will be gratefully received.

From Old Siwash, Mehbe
I would like to see officials at Artesia High School games identified further than by last name and whether they are referee, umpire, headlinesman, or field judge.

The standard newspaper form: Officials — Bill Jones, (New Mexico A. & M.), referee; Sam Hill, (Colorado), umpire; John White, (Utah), head linesman; Glen Barton, (Texas Western), field judge.

But I have yet to see officials identified in this manner. Maybe Morris W. Ward, executive secretary of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association can do something about this.

To list only the last name and not state the college leaves the reader, unless he happens to know the officials personally, pretty much in the dark as to from where crops up this quartet of black and white stripe blazered man.

Jones, Smith, et al may be and doubtless are good officials, but calling them by last name only is like trying to find out "who" is John Smith in New York City.

Also, I like to know their colleges. As now listed you can't tell whether the officials went to Slippery Rock Teachers, Kenyon, Walla Walla, Edgewood, or Sunflower Junior.

All-State
It's all business when Bobby Morgan, 6 foot 1 inch, left end on the Artesia High School team takes the field. The quiet, serious-minded player is good in both offensive and defensive departments.

Bobby is a senior and is playing his third year of varsity football. The 175-pound linesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morgan, looks like a cinch for all-state honors this year, if he continues to improve.

Chapeau Capers
"The Hat" is the moniker for Coach Jack Tinson. You can gauge the way the game is going by watching his 16-year-old battered gray headgear.

Start of the game the hat brim is pushed up ala Anzac. As the contest progresses the hat takes on more shapes than a bevy of Petty girls.

The Bulldogs take the hat as an amulet. Each player wants to put his hand on the hat as a good luck charm before the game starts.

Mail Call
From H. W. James, president of New Mexico Western College, Silver City, letter dated Sept. 11, enclosing a complimentary ticket to the college games this season.

Thank you, President James, for your hospitable letter, as well as for the ticket. It is not likely that I shall have the chance to get to Silver City but your courtesy is appreciated.

Jerry Brown, sports editor of The Daily Current-Argus, Carlsbad, must think I am a churlish soul for I have not yet had time to answer his letter of Sept. 7, asking for a 350-400 word yarn on grid prospects at Artesia High.

If my schedule will allow, hope to clean up this deal by tomorrow. I had a similar request from Tucumcari prior to the game here but never had time to furnish them the information although I did acknowledge the letter.

Roswell Sings Blues Over Mauled Coyotes
There was moaning a-plenty over in Roswell about their 27 to 0 licking the Roswell Coyotes took from the Yselta Indians, judging from Rusty's Ayers column, "What's the Score?" in the Sunday issue of the Roswell Daily Record.

He says Roswell has good material, but lacks "depth," and plays "some schools completely out of our class."

And to Texans now living in New Mexico, it's sweet music to hear.

"We hate to say this again but it all adds up to Texas high school football being superior to New Mexico and many other states.

"Look at little Muleshoe drubbing Portales 39-0." To which he could have added

Pampa, Texas, triumph over Hobbs Eagles, 26-6, the Eagles first loss since 1948.

Artesia B, Junior Teams Lose Opener

Artesia B and the Artesia junior-sized edition of the Bulldogs played their season openers in a twin-bill Saturday night in Morris Field. Artesia Junior High played Roswell Junior; Artesia B battled Hobbs B.

It was a double win for the visitors, Roswell defeating Artesia 29 to 0, and Hobbs B victor by a one-touchdown margin, 13-6, over Artesia B.

Artesia Junior High plays Eisenhower of Carlsbad here next Saturday night while another Carlsbad eleven, their B squad, will tangle with Artesia B in a game in the county capital, according to the schedule released before the season opener.

Heavy Opposition
In the junior tilt, first of the twin-card, Frankie Horton, Fuller, and Watson were salient in Roswell scoring.

Both Artesia teams appeared heavily outweighed by their opponents. A majority of the junior high gridgers are from the seventh and eighth grades.

Officials were Luke Toyeb (Southwest Oklahoma) and Hope

TAKING IT EASY MAKES IT EASY FOR ROSWELL!
coach, referee; Bryan White (New Mexico Military), headlinesman; Ferris Bynum (Southeast Oklahoma) umpire.

In both contests substitutes were in and out of the games like planes on Tempelhof during the Berlin airlift as coaches made a test run of their elevens.

In the B contest, the Merrill-Williamson passing combination

ROSWELL IS ROUGH — GET SET, BULLDOGS!
was salient. For Artesia, its lone touchdown was scored by LeRoy Rutledge who maneuvered his way through the center of the Hobbs line, got clear, with a fast-breaking twisting run for 40 yards and a touchdown.

Don Spoonermore, Hobbs B back whose greyhound speed and pretzel-twisting runs were standouts here Saturday night, was taken back to Hobbs in an ambulance after he had been knocked out of the game in the first half.

GOOD WORK, BULLDOGS — BUT KEEP WORKING!

He suffered neck and head injuries but was not badly hurt. Before his injury he had done the major part of lugging the pigskin for the Hobbs team consistently making good gains.

PMA Announces

Support Prices For 1950 Peanuts

Specific support prices for 1950-crop farmers' stock quota peanuts based upon 90 per cent of parity have been announced by the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These prices, which provide a basic support level of 10.8
cents per pound or about $216 per ton, apply to farmers' stock quota peanuts which are eligible for price support under the 1950-crop marketing quota program.

To be eligible for price support at 90 per cent of parity, a producer must not harvest peanuts in excess of the 1947 picked and threshed acreage for his farm.

The base grade support prices per ton of quota peanuts containing less than 2 per cent damage and less than 4 per cent foreign matterial are: $214 for Spanish and Valencia east of the Mississippi River, $209 for Spanish and Valencia west of the Mississippi River, $207 for Virginias and $190 for Runners.

The 1950 base grade support prices are for peanuts having a sound mature kernel content of 65

Miscellaneous

per cent in Runners, 65 per cent in Virginias with not more than 15 per cent extra large peanuts and 70 per cent in Spanish and Valencias. Premiums and discounts this year are similar to those applicable to the 1949 crop.

Price support will be implemented by producer loans available on farm stored peanuts through Production and Marketing Administration committees in each county, purchases of farmers' stock peanuts, loans to shellers and agreements with shellers to pay producers not less than the support prices for eligible peanuts. The corporation will agree to purchase at support prices any of the inventories of the peanuts that shellers are not able to sell commercially. Also under the sheller contracts CCC will purchase specified quantities of No. 2 shelled peanuts produced from eligible farmers stock peanuts at 15 1/2 cents a pound for Spanish 15 1/2 cents a pound for Runners and Virginias.

Branch Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.

Gasoline—

(Continued from page one) exactly by survey. The final action of the gasoline tax has provisions that requires local distributors to make reports when they make sales to retailers for resale, and for retailers to make reports when they make purchases from distributors out of the city. The council likewise authorized the issuance of $40,000 of water and sewer bonds, previously voted, for the continuation of the water and sewer program. This will leave $20,000 in the fund voted by the citizens of Artesia.

The action was taken when it was brought out that about $22,000 in materials for extension of the system will soon be delivered. The defense ordinance sets up a defense commission, headed by the mayor, with a vice chairman to be actively in charge.

Under it the mayor has the authority to make appointments. Verbage of the ordinance was not complete last night.

Potpourri—

(Continued from Page One) body at that meeting didn't, and he wasn't from Artesia! So you see why we're mad—mightily mad!

That's not the first time we've been crossed up. But we'll bet it's the last.

We have a little more about Pinocchio—Pinocchio roses, that is—which was sent to us. It is a clipping from a 1951 nursery catalog, and has this to say: "Pinocchio—Throughout the season it is literally covered with immense clusters of perfect little roses in the brightest, cheeriest, and daintiest shade of salmon flushed with gold that you can imagine. Each little bud in the cluster is a perfect garden rose in miniature and possesses a delightful fruity fragrance. The plant grows 24 to 30 inches tall and requires no special care for splendid results."

We might have had much to say about the football game last Friday, if we hadn't had to get that mad off our chest.

We could have raved about beating a team which had not lost a game in more than two seasons—glorious as it were, by way of celebration.

Such as the celebration Jack Spratt put on at the Pharmacy after the game, when everyone was in holiday spirit, and Jack took charge of the coffee makers, going the rounds and pouring everyone a second cup of coffee on the house.

At least, Jack thinks it was on the house. But we will just have to wait until the first of next month to find out for sure. It may be that Ralph Petty will send him a bill. It should be worth it, however.

Another sidelight of the game—and perhaps a gentle hint to the school authorities:

Some of the fans, on the way to the field, cut around that old Army building which is used as a locker and dressing room for teams, and came along just in time to see the Tucumcari Battlers putting on a strip tease, by way of getting ready to don their uniforms.

We saw somewhere that when you have your tonsils removed it's a tonsillectomy, when you have your appendix removed it's an appendectomy, but when you have a growth removed from your head it's just a hair cut. We don't agree. With hair cuts at a buck a throw, we believe that "just" has no business being in there. —A.L.B.

Electrical Items Are Reported Stolen Thursday Night

Two thefts of quite different items but both having to do with electricity, were reported to officers Friday morning.

One was by Lowell Davis of the Hope highway west of the Circle-B Theater, who reported someone had removed the electric motor from his water well Thursday night.

The other theft was reported by O. S. Bixby, manager of the City Gas & Electric Company of Fort Sumner, which is working on the new Central Valley Electric Co-op, Inc., extension to the east.

He said 1658 pounds of wire, about a mile and a quarter long and valued at $200, was stolen.

current developments in the life insurance business at the educational conference.

Yes Artesia-Jal Game Was Covered

Bob Morris provided a perfect foil for the use of that cartoon title, "The Urge to Kill," or "They'll Do It Every Time," when he asked the sports editor of this newspaper following the Jal game: "You know, I wondered why there wasn't anything in the paper about the game."

There was something—nearly a full page, complete with sidelights on the trip, the result of a 14-hour period making the trip and watching the game and another 12-hour period assembling, writing and editing the material.

Provided with a copy of the paper, turned to the sports page, Bob found the Artesia-Jal game had not been by-passed.

Bob asked the question in good faith. Since the story was not on Page 1 he assumed there was no yarn about the game, and went no further.

GAME NOT HELD ON COMPRESS PROPERTY

The crap game Saturday night, Sept. 9, as a result of which nine Negroes were assessed fines by Justice of the Peace J. D. Josey, was not at the cotton compress north of city, but on property adjacent to the compress.

The arrest reports in the various cases identified the game as at the compress, using it as a sort of landmark, as reported by state, county, and city officers who arrested the

Prevention of Cotton-Gin Fires Is Advanced in 10-Point Program

A 10-point program for preventing cotton gin fires has been advanced by the National Cotton Council, as ginners in some cotton areas are already busy processing the 1950 crop.

The council stresses these points: Urge customers and their workers in the fields to keep matches, metals and other foreign materials out of seed cotton. These objects cause sparks during ginning, thus igniting lint.

Strictly enforce the "no smoking" rule, not only in the gin, on the yard, in warehouses and sheds, but anywhere else in the vicinity of seed cotton or lint.

Be sure machinery is adjusted properly to safeguard against sparks. Be sure electrical equipment and wiring are safe.

Be prepared to act swiftly in an emergency, providing adequate fire fighting equipment and personnel trained to use it.

Set up a traffic system for quickly moving wagons and trailers from the gin yard should an emergency arise.

Don't gamble with "firepacked" bales. Isolate suspicious bales immediately, tagging them "Fire-packed."

Gin fires during the early part of the season are particularly costly, the council emphasizes, since they not only destroy equipment valued at thousands of dollars but also deprive the ginner of an income for the season and inconvenience his farm customers to such an extent that many may be lost to him for the following year.

Growers should be instructed to grow seedless watermelons, but they wonder whether its practical to do so.

Consumer acceptance of seedless watermelons would not be great enough to make commercial growing a good venture, according to specialists at the University of California.

"Cost of seed is the biggest item restricting the growing of seedless melons," the California scientists say. "Since the seedless variety is sterile, growers must also raise both parent varieties of seed to produce the new melon."

"Seed production requires twice as much land and three times as much time and labor. If growers were to produce seedless melons commercially, the cost per melon would be at least five times as much as regular watermelons."

The interior of Knowles Grocery at 710 West Dallas, phone 1010, is shown here, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Knowles, owners, on the left, and Mrs. R. L. Gill, checker, Jimmie Williams, who recently leased the meat department, didn't get into the picture. He calls his department Jimmie's Market and it is just as modern and up-to-the-minute as the grocery side. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles handle a number of lines of nationally-advertised food products, while Jimmie handles only the finest of meats.

Nugent Concrete Is Ready Where And When Wanted

Concrete when you want it and where you want it, ready to pour, was something unheard of just a few years ago. But today in the Artesia community such service is enjoyed every day on big and little jobs, furnished by Walter Nugent, general contractor, 210 East Mosley, phone 718-W.

In fact, Nugent's men haul concrete anywhere, any time you want it, in one of the big mixing trucks, in which the mix is put, only to be thoroughly mixed in transit to the customer.

Concrete can be furnished for any job with as little as two hours of notice.

Among jobs for which Nugent furnished concrete are the National Guard armory, the new permanent addition to North Side School, Hagerman School, and Atoka School. This is in addition to pouring concrete bases for well-pumping units and public service sub-stations, as well as work in connection with the State Highway Department on highway bridges.

Nugent's concrete complies with the state builder's code in formula. Aggregate in the concrete is crushed rock and Roswell sand.

The contractor, who has lived here 25 years, feels his outfit is fully equipped to take care of any of Artesia's building projects. But he is ready to enlarge his plant and equipment when the demand for it develops.

In the meantime, there is no restricted area for delivery, for the big Nugent trucks have hauled, delivered, and poured concrete as far away as 70 miles.

No matter what the job, big or little, if concrete is required, call on Walter Nugent, 210 East Mosley, 718-W.

Neon Company Serves Entire Pecos Valley

One of the key men working for The Neon Company, 409 West Greene in Carlsbad, phone 689-J, is Lester Brown, glass man, whose work is very important in putting out the top neon signs for which the company is noted.

Brown graduated from the Egani School of Neon in New York City in 1946. He worked in San Francisco putting in neon signs until Tony Carter put in his new shop in 1948.

Tony Carter, the owner, has been in business in Carlsbad since 1927 and for a long time was the only sign shop there. He bought the present property and built the new building at 409 West Greene in 1948, in order to be able to manufacture all kinds of signs. Neon signs were added about a year ago.

Carter says The Neon Company is the only complete sign shop for all kinds of signs—in the Pecos Valley.

The shop employs seven men. Tony Carter, besides being the manager is the gold leaf man.

The others are Lester Brown, glass man; Leroy Prine, letter man and sign writer; Clarence Biekerstaff, who is studying sign work under the GI Bill; Virgil Stewart, who does the sheet metal and spray painting for the shop; Albert Rascon, repair man, and Tommy Lowe, who helps with the erection of signs. The Neon Company has trained several men under the GI Bill.

Among signs in Artesia made by The Neon Company are those for Artesia Floral, Artesia Building & Loan Company, Gulf Oil agency, North Side Bar, the neon work on the Ranch House, and the gold leaf window sign at Heffley's Shoe Shop. The Neon Company, 409 West

Greene in Carlsbad, phone 689-J, will be glad to furnish plans, designs, and estimates free of charge.

Evans Hardware, Tin Shop Here Is Long Established

Evans Hardware & Tin Shop at 118 West Main Street is one of the older Artesia business establishments, which was founded in 1910 by the late L. P. Evans. It was then an implement, hardware and tin shop. Later Mr. Evans went into the plumbing business, which is a department today.

A. C. Sadler is the manager and a partner in the business. The sheet metal shop, which serves customers over a wide area, is under the supervision of Ralph Quinn, foreman.

In it tanks, drinking tubs, duct work for heating and air-conditioning units, and many other things in the sheet metal line are manufactured. Air conditioners are sold and installed.

And then there are special sheet metal jobs which are carefully manufactured according to specifications.

The hardware store department of Evans Hardware & Tin Shop carries a general line of hardware, plumbing supplies and pipe fittings, sporting goods, both for the hunter and fisherman; Delta Homecraft Power tools, Ka-Bar pocket and kitchen knives, Dempster windmills and domestic pumps. There is also a gift department.

in charge of Mrs. L. P. Evans, with a complete line of finer gifts, about which more will be said in a later article.

But in the meantime don't forget Evans Hardware & Tin Shop at 118 West Main, phone 180, for your hardware, plumbing, metal work, or gift needs.

Dorine and Bill Welcome You to The Laundromat

Mr and Mrs. W. A. Hawthorne, who like to be known as Bill and Dorine, have been the friendly owners of the Laundromat, which they reopened last March 27, about a month after they came here from Waukegan, Ill.

The Laundromat is quite newly built and is newly equipped. It has 20 Westinghouse fully automatic washers, a large Simplex dryer made by Barlow-Seelig Manufacturing Company, that dries the average washing in about 30 minutes.

And Dorine and Bill Hawthorne furnish soap free of charge with each washing done at the Laundromat.

Services offered at the Laundromat include wet wash service, dry wash service, flat work, finished work, and family ironing.

Mrs. George Boggs does all the ironing. She is well known to the people of the Artesia community as being outstanding in her expert ironing.

The Laundromat is handily located at 106 South Sixth Street, only a half block from the Main Street shopping center. It being completely automatic, women can take their laundry to the Laundromat, put it in a machine, and then go shopping for 30 minutes and return for their laundry and take it home.

The whole process is easy and tireless. There is no changing of water, no heavy lifting, no strain from wringing clothes.

Brucellosis In Cattle Is Being Reduced

During the last four years, the percentage of brucellosis among cattle in the United States has been declining until this year it is down to 3.5 per cent, according to the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. During the war years there were some set-backs, largely because of the shortage of veterinarians, which hampered the progress of the work in many states. In fact, the shortage of veterinary personnel for this work continues.

However, nearly six million cattle (5,974,721) were tested for brucellosis in all states during the year ended June 30. This is a considerable increase over the previous 12-month period, when the percent of infection was 4.3 per cent.

Commenting on the work for the year, Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the bureau, said the year's showing was encouraging. Livestock producers are showing an increased interest in the eradication work, he said, because they realize it is by far the most serious disease affecting cattle in this country. They also realize that brucellosis is a serious health hazard and should be wiped out.

As the tempo of the work has increased during recent years, so has the vaccination of calves been stepped up. This phase of the campaign has shown a constant gain since it was begun in 1940. Heifer calves vaccinated with strain 19 vaccine before they are 8 months old, develop into good milk cows with a fair degree of resistance to brucellosis. During the year just ended, more than two million calves were vaccinated.

The Place Is Dangerous

THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT, so we read, is making a traffic and parking study in Roswell and plans to do the same thing in Carlsbad.

Perhaps we do not need as extensive a survey in Artesia as do the other cities in the Pecos Valley, but we certainly need a little attention from the State Highway Department by way of a survey on West Main Street.

The corner of 13th and Main Streets has practically no traffic control. But dozens of school children cross Highway 83—which is Main Street—at that corner.

Cars not only whiz into town from the west and are well within the city limits before the drivers realize they are in a municipality, but vehicles in north-south traffic are frequently seen to cross Main Street without being brought to a stop.

The city dads some time ago, realizing the hazards at that corner, and looking ahead to the opening again of schools, had stop signs erected on all four approaches to the intersection.

Quite promptly the State Highway Department caused those on Main—the highway—to be removed. The others—those on 13th—were hard to see and have been up and down a half dozen times. Frankly, we don't know if they are in place at this moment or not.

The city dads have likewise brought up the proposition of a traffic light signal system at the corner. But once again the State Highway Department turned thumbs down on that.

Recently a committee of parents called on the council and the suggestion was made that the city go ahead and erect such a light system, state or no state. Of course, the city administration could not take that action, because you simply cannot go over the heads of those in state government.

But we firmly believe that if a proper survey were made and the right persons were truly aware of the traffic conditions at 13th and Main something would be done.

For years we raved and ranted about the old so-called Hope dip several hundred yards west of the place we are talking about. At one time perhaps by way of making us shut up for a few weeks, a State Highway Department man called on us and we both drove over the S. turn dip several times in the state car (which was on official business) and we observed the ball-bank indicator on the dashboard, from which the ball nearly jumped from the car if we took the curve at more than 10 miles an hour.

Something needed to be done, the department representative said. But nothing was.

Then one day, when Gov. Thomas J. Mabry was in town, we prevailed upon him to have a look. And we rode with him in state car No. 1 over the place.

"Good heavens," Governor Mabry declared, "this place is dangerous."

We told him that was just what we had been saying for many months—yes, even years.

And he assured us something would be done—pronto—and it was!

We just wish we could sit in state car No. 1 with Governor Mabry at 13th and Main Streets for an hour or two, both when the youngsters are crossing and when they are not.

If we could, we'll bet he'd put his stamp of approval on all the traffic lights in the world, if we needed them, and he'd probably say, "Good heavens, this place is dangerous."—A.L.B.

It Takes Us All

THE BEST COMMUNITY IN THE NATION is that community which has a greater percentage of civic workers and civic boosters.

There are those communities which have from 75 to 90 per cent boosters—people who believe in their community and who believe in doing everything they can do to help improve and develop their home town and the community around that home town.

And these communities do seem to get things done faster; get more things done; and can tackle new problems while others are still working to get things done they should have accomplished years before.

But the answer is simply the fact that the greater percentage of the citizens of the community co-operate to the fullest in all of their programs worthwhile for the community. They not only give of their money but they realize that it takes work and effort and talent and they give freely of their time to the civic and community projects.

Most communities could have anything they really and truly want if they are willing to put out the work and the effort that is required to have that particular thing.

But far too often too many individuals in a community are only interested in what they can get out of the community and they are not interested in putting anything back. For years all communities have had not only citizens and individuals but business firms and concerns which liked to enjoy the business of a community and the money they could make there but they haven't been interested in putting anything back.

Experience has taught us that we have to put something back into the soil if we expect to continue to take out of the soil. The same thing is true about the communities. Just as we have to fertilize the soil we also have to give our share and our part of the cost of the community activities, movements and projects if we want the community to grow and to prosper.

Artesia will grow in direct proportion and increase the activities and projects in the community in direct proportion to our participation in them.

Our city needs the aid and help of everyone of us to help continue to improve our community and to hold its place as one of the outstanding cities in the state.—O.E.P.

Americans spend more money for gum than for religion. Well, gum is used every day.

Some states are still waiting for the tax on meals to be removed—that blow below the belt.

Look out for the advice you get for nothing—that may be just what it's worth.

'REPORTERS' ROUNDUP

What Other Editors Are Saying

THE SHIRT OFF YOUR BACK

For months newspapers, political organizations, individuals and various groups have urged every citizen to get out and vote in the primaries and help choose candidates who believe in American ideals of government.

This is a crucial election year. All 435 seats in the House of Representatives and one-third of the Senate are to be filled. Governors and other state and county officials will be elected. If you failed to vote in the primary, don't be so negligent at the coming general election in November.

We kick about high taxes and we kick about more and more restrictions clamped on us by government and government bureaus. But the only place we can do anything about infringements on our liberties and opportunities is at the polls. No man or woman is too busy to vote. Most voting places are open 12 hours.

You are not too busy earning a living to vote because nothing else you can do is more important than choosing the public servants who are assessing and spending at least 20 per cent of your income. Don't think you are not interested in politics, because if you are not, professional politicians will literally take the shirt off your back. Don't make the excuse that you are not acquainted with the candidates—you can find out about them and their past records, and remember, you are the one who pays them, and you will get only as good service as you demand.

The great majority of people in the United States don't want socialism, which means government in business taking away the opportunity of the individual and his chances to get ahead in the world as an individual. Congress is flooded with socialistic schemes under such alluring titles as public housing, social welfare, farm subsidies, federal health insurance, government money lending, government gifts of money to public agencies and other projects too numerous to mention, which put the government into business and the individual out. And it is all done with money taken out of the individual's pocket by taxation.

A PRACTICAL AGREEMENT

Agreement has been reached whereby Belen shall truly have a general hospital.

This agreement, that all doctors of Belen may have access to the facilities of the Belen hospital at 520 North Main, will, in our opinion, offer better facilities for the care of the sick, and by so doing, better the entire community.

It is understood that the medical doctors and the doctors of osteopathy will not consult or in any way be responsible for the care of any other patient than their own.

The American Medical Association has ruled that it is permissible for both groups of doctors to use the same facilities in a community like Belen where two hospitals are not practical. This ruling has been substantiated by both the state and county medical associations.

The Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons has issued a similar ruling.

We feel that this is a definite step in resolving the difficulties of obtaining facilities for proper and adequate medical care. At the same time, it should assure a better and more successful hospital for our community. The difficulty local doctors have encountered in obtaining hospital beds in crowded Albuquerque institutions will be eliminated.—Belen News-Bulletin.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM?

We have a number of officeholders in federal and state governments who are actively spending their time and the taxpayers' money to promote government ownership of some of the nation's basic businesses such as electric power production and medicine. They use public funds taken from private enterprise in the form of taxes, to propagandize and lobby for government-owned business which pays no taxes.

They object to private enterprise fighting to keep from having its throat cut by subsidizing government competition.

They become highly indignant at having their own plans to put government into business called socialistic.

Government has taken over the basic lines of business in England and there is no argument about that being socialism.

Why try to fool the people of our country into thinking our government can go into commercial business at public expense, to the ultimate exclusion of private citizens, and still not have socialism here?

It would be well for proponents of government electric power monopolies and compulsory federal medical plans to look up the definition of socialism in the dictionary before they object too strenuously to having their projects called "socialistic."—Curry County Times.

The greatest movement now on foot in America is that of the pedestrians trying to get out of the way of speeding automobiles.

Personally, we are for an improved world and for better people but just how this is to be accomplished remains a problem.

NEW YORK—Just east of the Chrysler building, where there used to be an excellent saloon with probably the best hard-boiled eggs in town, a construction company has begun the year-long project of putting up a new, minor league skyscraper. By Oct. 1, 1951 it will be completed—32 stories of completely air-conditioned edifice to be known as the Chrysler Building East.

This in itself is hardly national news, although it is true the erection of skyscrapers is a diminishing pastime in this island. Today, however, I wandered over to the Chrysler Building East to be just to see if the sidewalk superintendents were plying their trade. They were and for a half hour under the burning noonday sun I stood and always they were the best show in town—wistful actors who in a way made the tragedy of Death of a Salesman seem like a happy little burlesque turn.

The sidewalk superintendent is a big-city phenomenon that has arisen to its full stature in the last 10 years or so. Since the Cromagnon man hacked out a duplex cave with his little axe, the male animal has enjoyed watching other men build.

Until 10 or 15 years ago, however, it was a difficult job here in New York. Always the company flung up a huge board fence around the construction, and men were forced to stand on garbage cans, peek around corners and otherwise un-dignify themselves just so they could watch extroverts in the pit below touching off their dynamite or maneuvering their cranes.

SOME BRIGHT BUILDER, HOWEVER—and it may have been when the steel and concrete forest of Radio City was going up—thought of the bright idea of putting porches in the big fence, so that the bystander could watch. For the wistful sidewalk superintendent it was the biggest thing in his life.

Now there isn't a building that goes up in New York without assorted holes in the fence—high and low. Since God makes man in strange and eerie sizes—for the onlooker.

Today they were out in full force, in spite of the heat. All the holes were taken, some with two to a hole, and even up on the bridge of a nearby elevated station the customers were crowded along the rail.

Executives drifted out of the Schrafft restaurant in the Chrysler building, headed for their luncheon constitutional, only to stop and spend the rest of their hour superintending. A half-dozen pumpers of some kind—I am not a technical man—made an unholy racket along the Third avenue side, but nobody paid no never mind. A barber still in his white jacket was at one fence hole; a couple of young souls headed perhaps for Army induction, stood at another.

Most of the sidewalk superintendents were what you would call white-collar workers. They are the kind of men of whom laborers are supposed to be jealous with all their hearts—starched, clean, prosperous ones who sit in air-cooled offices, do their business by telephone and collect big paychecks.

No mud, no noise, no occupational squalor for them—and yet they stood there in the hot city noontime their starched collars melting slowly and the dreams and envy were strong in their faces. They had cut themselves a comfortable niche in life but you could see they felt that the overworked, muddied sweating workers in that deep pit inside the fence were the real men.

THERE WERE NO WOMEN. No, I take that back; there was one middle-aged woman standing near a cluster of men, but she was only there because her small daughter was watching with fascination. No others of the delicate sex.

I suppose if one of the sidewalk superintendents had tried to impress his wife with the wonderfulness of the work the builders were doing she would have looked at him as if he were crazy—him a man with a good job, three lovely children and a house in Bronxville.

In the pit, a crane picked up pliable metal mats, like a toy sifting out candy prizes. A bulldozer munched slowly along the side of a hill. Men slid a huge piece of timber down a wooden ramp, and in its path unconcernedly another man sawed a board. It stopped in time.

In the sea of mud, the long arms of derricks wheeled and lurched, like dinosaurs in battle. And always dreamily enviously the sidewalk superintendents watched.

Down the street was the huge glass and steel UN building rising to the sky—but there were no eyes for it. That dream had been dreamed. This one was still going strong in their hearts and eyes.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE of Heywood Broun's pet hates was ghost-written political speeches—particularly when they failed utterly to reflect either the convictions or the personalities of the big shots who were delivering them. Warren G. Harding pulled one of these phony orations at a newsmen's banquet shortly after he had assumed the presidency—a pompous, cliché-laden address that sounded more like a circus press-agent than a president of the United States. There was some polite applause as Harding resumed his seat. Then Broun jumped up and cried, "Author! Author!"

Bob Considine and his popular wife Mildred were off for one of the innumerable parties they attend. At the door Mrs. C. embraced one of her young hopefuls and said, "Do you want to play with your electric trains tonight or just stay with Nurse?" The boy answered without hesitation, "What would Daddy do?"

It's Never Too Early to Apply Safety Rules

"It is never too early in the season to begin applying the rules of hunting safety," State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker said recently.

Barker's word of caution followed the recent fatal wounding of Benny Cotinola, 26, of Albuquerque, who died as a result of a gunshot wound in the leg while dove hunting.

"Cotinola's death was a tragedy and many more people may be hurt this year unless extreme caution is taken with firearms," Barker said.

Some of the principal rules of safety to follow, according to the state game warden, are:

Never carry a loaded gun in an automobile, never point the muzzle at another person even if it is certain that the gun is not loaded, always either unload the gun or hand it to another person when climbing through fences or over obstacles, never hunt while after drinking and, most important of all, be sure it's legal game before you shoot.

"We have had our most tragic accidents in the state because hunters fired before being sure that the target was legal game," Barker said. "It is not too early to begin taking these precautions. By doing so many lives may be saved this year."

Keep Accurate Laying Records

Knowing where you stand is an important consideration in any business, but in poultry and egg production it is particularly important, since the trends of a flock frequently influence your profits suddenly—and decidedly.

To help stay on the profitable side of poultry raising, most raisers keep up-to-date feed consumption and egg production records on their birds. This means keeping figures on a flock right from the start, or as soon as they go into the laying house, and continuing as long as birds remain productive.

Accurate records help you in a number of ways. In the first place, they help you compute your production costs. In addition, they help you spot the weak points in your poultry raising program.

Records give you a continuous control over your poultry raising operation. That is, they give you an accurate picture of your profits—or losses—at all times. By maintaining a record of feed costs and all miscellaneous costs, such as investment, labor, lights, heat and fuel, you can control operating costs and keep them at an efficient level.

These figures, together with income data derived from the sale of eggs, enable you to quickly determine your poultry profits.

Daily and monthly records also point out the weak spots in your management program. When there is a sudden shift in egg production, many times records help you find the trouble, pointing out various flock irregularities. This enables you to take immediate steps to improve conditions, thereby heading off what may be a serious disease outbreak or a decided drop in egg production.

Records also help you maintain high egg quality. By noting production records of your birds each day, you can more readily determine the non-layers and poor layers in the flock. By eliminating such birds, you not only increase flock efficiency, but you also insure good quality in your eggs. And quality eggs bring the highest prices.

When you set up your records, be sure you establish a complete record system. Itemize your costs and operating expenses and keep all information up to date. Your record-keeping will then begin to pay!

Extra Profits With Fall Chicks

In the past, practically all pullets were hatched at one time of the year—in the spring. Now, under modern conditions, many poultrymen find it profitable to hatch pullets during other seasons. By doing this, raisers find they can maintain a steadier rate of egg production, with one flock taking over the egg-laying chores when the other drops off.

The first consideration under this plan is the time of year the pullets will mature and begin to lay. A brood of fall chicks will be ready for production in five or six months. Started now, these chicks would be laying eggs by February or March. In this way, poultrymen get in on some of the higher egg prices which usually prevail during winter months.

Chicks hatched at this time increase the efficiency of your business by making it possible to replace birds that die or are culled during the year. In addition, less brooding equipment is needed and more efficient use is made of it. Other advantages are: Egg production is more uniform through the year, there is better yearly distribution of labor, livability is more likely to be better in the fall (more chicks are usually lost when they are hatched in hot weather) and more chicks are produced from the same breeders.

To make fall hatching pay, you should also keep in mind some of its disadvantages. For one thing, the cost of growing pullets will probably be somewhat higher, as they require a longer period of artificial heat in brooding. Also, pasture cannot be utilized fully. And, although it isn't always the case, it may be difficult to maintain production through the following fall and winter.

But in view of the many advantages to be derived from a fall brood of chicks, it can easily be seen that you can raise a flock of fall pullets. With proper attention to chick management, sanitation and medication, you—like many other raisers—can make fall-hatched chicks earn extra profits for you next year.

Cow-and-Calf Plan Is Opportunity To Grow Into Beef Business

The cow-and-calf plan, or production of milk-fat calves, is a practical, simple way for many Cotton Belt farmers to grow into the business of producing beef.

Livestock authorities point out that it efficiently uses available feeds, produces a type of beef in demand at local markets in the South and Southwest and requires a minimum of capital.

You can start this program with native cows, a good beef bull, good pastures and a reserve of roughage. Feed cows plenty of protein for good milk flow and crop-feed calves for extra weight, bloom and finish at weaning. The calves are usually sold as milk-fat slaughter beef at weaning time. However, calves of good beef quality may be given additional fattening in the dry lot if market and feed conditions justify.

Select cows for health, uniformity, and ability to produce enough milk to raise a milk-fat calf. They may be beef cows or native cows with some dairy breeding. A well-bred beef bull will get calves which have desirable beef characteristics at weaning time even though the mother cows may have some dairy breeding. Breeding to calves in the fall or winter usually makes best use of good pastures at the time calves need the most milk.

Cows obtain most of their feed from good pastures and stalk fields. Additional roughage such as hay, silage or cottonseed hulls should be fed when pastures do not supply a good fill. Also, some dry roughage, such as cottonseed hulls, should be fed when pastures do not supply a good fill. Also, some dry roughage, such as cottonseed hulls, should be fed when pastures are young and "washy" to provide needed dry matter and prevent bloat and scours. Minerals should always be available to cows and calves.

Because good milk production for the calves is necessary to produce milkfat at weaning time, the cows must have sufficient protein. Excellent green pastures provide plenty of protein but one to three pounds of cottonseed meal, cake, pellets or cubes should be fed when pastures begin to mature and become dry.

Crop-feeding calves supplements milk in producing bloom and finish with a small amount of grain. Locate creep-feeders conveniently so calves will have an opportunity to eat as often as they desire. A good mixture for crop-feeding until calves are 4 months old is 200 pounds of cracked corn or sorghum grain chops, 100 pounds of oats, coarsely ground barley or wheat and 50 pounds of cottonseed meal. After calves are 4 months old, change the mixture to 500 to 600 pounds of coarsely-ground farm grains and 100 pounds of cottonseed meal.

Good quality calves kept for additional feeding in the drylot after weaning should be started on feed carefully. During the first part of the feeding period, provide plenty of roughage and the same concentration.
