Ora Morrison Becomes Bride Of Adan Salgado

Miss Ora Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duran of 1213 Washington Avenue, became the bride of Adan Salgado, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blas Salgado of Cottonwood community at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Our Lady of Grace Church, with Rev. Stephen Bono, pastor, officiating at the double-ring service.

The bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, and the bridegroom was given in marriage by his father.

The bride was lovely in a white satin gown over laid with lace with a long train. She wore full-length veil. She carried a corsage of white carnations.

For the old tradition something new was a white prayer book, and something old and borrowed was the white satin pillow the couple knelt on, and belonged to the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Alison Ramies.

Miss Florence Dooley played the music for the mass; also the wedding marches. Mrs. Horace Perkins sang "Mother at Your Feet A Kneeling," and "Ave Maria," and was accompanied at the organ by Miss Dooley.

The maid of honor, Miss Floria Rodriguez was gown in a formal pink satin slipper gown, and carried a corsage of pink carnations.

Miss Cecelia Alaniz, bridesmaid, was gown in a yellow dress overlaid with net, and carried a corsage of yellow carnations.

Other attendants, Miss Anita Martinez, was gown in a blue dress with net. Her corsage was white and blue carnations.

Miss Pina Marquez was gown in a lilac dress and her corsage was carnations and sweet peas.

The flower girls were Sally Salgado, sister of the bridegroom, wore a light green dress; Virginia Morrison, cousin of the bride, wore a light blue dress; Ursula Gomez wore a light green, and Rita Gaozobos wore a light blue dress.

The train-bearers, Mary Ann Duran wore a white and pink dress, and Socorro Garcia was dressed in gray.

The bridegroom's attendants were Adolph Gomez, Jr., Conrado Gomez, Jr., George Montes, and Albino Gomez, all wore dark suits.

Mrs. Duran, mother of the bride wore a green dress, and her corsage was white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Salgado, wore a brown crepe dress, and her corsage was red carnations.

At noon a dinner was served to 100 guests. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and had nine candles.

That evening, a dance was held with 200 guests present.

Methodist Pastor D.A.R. Speaker

Rev. R. L. Willingham, pastor of the First Methodist Church spoke on "Nation Founded Upon Religion by Our Forefathers," at a meeting of the Mary Griggs Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Cecil Waldrep, 811 West Clayton, with Miss Alma Sue Felix as co-hostess.

The meeting was opened in ritualistic form by Mrs. R. L. Collins, regent. Mrs. Harold Kersey read the president's general message. Reports of officers and standing committees were given.

It was voted to send Christmas boxes of clothing to the two DAR approved schools, Lamasee in South Carolina, and Kate Duncan School at Guntersville, Ala.

Miss Alma Sue Felix, chairman of good citizenship pilgrimage, reported that Marije Sigmund was elected representative from Artesia High School.

Reverend Willingham cited a statement that George Washington had made to a friend when he was urged to become first president of the United States. He said, "There are four things necessary to have good government."

"First harmony which indicates an element of oneness and unity in spite of differences. There must be a singleness of spirit and heart."

"Second, honesty.—In the 17th and 18th centuries 'honesty is the best policy' was considered right because it was the way of truth because one had essential ethical character and ideals.

"One must be honest with oneself and if we cannot be honest with ourselves then we cannot be honest with others."

"Now in the 20th century 'honesty is the best policy' seems to pay off because if we are caught we can always say we were honest but it doesn't mean truthfully honest," the minister said.

Third—industry—men worked and were proud of working for themselves and of helping others. It was not a giving hand but a helping hand.

Fourth—thrift or frugality of economy—men were independent and free to determine their destinies, there was a freedom and a responsibility of the individual.

"Our nation was founded on a religion akin, to the attributes in which George Washington believes."

At the close of the meeting, the hostesses served refreshments to Mrs. John Cochran, Jr., R. L. Collins, T. H. Donnelly, Paul Francis, J. D. Josey, Harold Kersey and K. J. Williams.

Child Welfare Conclave Pushes Narcotics Fight

How to prevent the peddling of narcotics to children was the theme of the Western Child Welfare conference of the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, 40-B and 8-40, recently held in Las Vegas, Nev.

Delegates pledged themselves to make organized drives in the 11 states plus Hawaii and Alaska, which comprise Area E, designed to obtain enactment of uniform laws which would prohibit the sale of narcotics to juveniles.

The delegates also sought enactment of ordinances which would classify illegal use of narcotics as a contagious disease, subject to quarantine, so that city health authorities would have the power of mandatory treatment of addicts.

Mrs. H. R. Paton, 712 West Mann who is national executive committee woman of the American Legion Auxiliary was a delegate from Area E at the convention held Dec. 6-8 at the Last Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas.

Area E includes New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, Montana.

Commenting on the convention preceding following her return to Artesia, Monday, Mrs. Paton said:

"If the American Legion can accomplish these objectives, it will put a real crimp in the activities of drug peddlers and earn the unending gratitude of the entire nation."

"Everyone should support this new American Legion program, which was adopted by its 33rd national convention held recently in Miami."

"The American Legion's new program to combat juvenile addiction to narcotics is receiving widespread editorial comment in the American press."

From coast to coast the newspapers of America are rallying to support this new American Legion program.

While the narcotics problem was the chief item on the agenda of child welfare conference, other matters were also brought out at it and the annual rehabilitation conference which preceded it.

Among these was reinstatement of emergency maternity and infant care programs for families of servicemen, similar to those in effect during World War II.

The program which provided medical and hospital benefits helped to alleviate hardships of servicemen, particularly those in the lower pay grade.

Carlsbad Studies Plan for Bigger Stadium and Inventories Grid Cash

That's gold in them thar stadiums.
Carlsbad High School, richer by $4,384.48 of the stuff that wins social position, salams, and apple polishing, is looking toward a new football stadium to seat 20,000 paying customers.

At a recent meeting of the county seat educational board, that group authorized the drawing up of what they called an "experimental" budget to see whether the cash could be obtainable for the project.

G. T. Harley, chief of the board, said that the budget would be patterned "after the system which Hobbs school system used in erecting its $75,000 stadium two years ago."

$20,000 in Season

Football is paying off for the state champs. K. C. Lea, business manager of the Carlsbad schools reported receipts during the grid season as $18,279.98, expenses, $13,895.50, net profit $4,384.48.

What were the biggest items of expense? Oddly, uniforms took the list with $4,835.36. Runner-up was admissions tax, $2,976.42, food and lodging in the show spot at $1,449.87, while travel and scouting cost $1,074.92, guarantees to opponents $1,000.

Stadia Blues

While Carlsbad could realize even more cash with a bigger stadium and while other schools too are eager to bigger accommodations for spectators, I still think big stadiums are an economic waste unless used the year around.

This holds true for Artesia as well. It costs a whale of a lot of cash to put up a stadium. Then to use it only three months of the year seems a lot of waste effort and money to me.

True $5,000 a year profit is $5,000 a year profit, but how many people get the benefit for how long? If stadiums could be used the year around, not only as the place for football games, but also for all sorts of community affairs, meetings, all kinds of sports.

I'm glad to see Morris Field as the location for the Rotary Club's Christmas party. That's right in line with what I'm favoring—more use by more people of the "facilities"—to use a choice bit of officialese—that we possess.

Hot Stove League

J. D. Smith, Southwestern Public Service manager and one of Artesia's top baseball fans, in to see me yesterday morning and convey the news that Artesia Baseball Club, Inc., has a scheme whereby Carlsbad would share in the Drillers.

The deal, if it goes thru, would work this way:

The Artesia Drillers would play half their home games in Artesia, half in Carlsbad. This would give the folks from the Caveman City a chance to see pro baseball right in their own back yard.

Under that kind of setup, the cash receipts of the Drillers would likely be increased. Carlsbad likes our Drillers and likes to see them in action.

Handing them pro baseball right at home would triple interest, ease the load of the local fans, increase the flow of cash needed to keep life going in the professional baseball team.

It's a mighty ambitious undertaking for a town the size of Artesia to have pro baseball. If Carlsbad will share in the scheme, the Driller directors will have some of their headaches eased.

One bottleneck may be that Carlsbad has no baseball diamond that measures up to Longhorn League standards, but Smith believes this difficulty can be overcome.

The pow wow at which the Artesia baseball booster and the folks from south of the border got together was held Dec. 12 at the Carlsbad CC.

Present from Artesia were Clyde Guy, president; Fred Brainard, vice president of Artesia Baseball Club, Inc. and E. B. Bullock; from Carlsbad, Monty Montgomery, Jess Rose, Jack V. White, W. W. McAdoo, Zane Smith, Lual Willis and Joe Sinton, the latter editor of the Carlsbad Current-Argus.

REA Travelers 'Loaded for Bear' In National Loop

DENVER, Dec. 14 — Even during the first two weeks of the 1951-52 National Industrial Basketball League season, some definite conclusions can be reached about the long season ahead. With nine of the eleven league teams already in action by Dec. 15 it appears that the coming season will be the closest, most hotly contested since the NIBL's inception five years ago. All but Denver and Phillips have tasted league battles and no team rates much above the other.

The West Coast entrants have hit the travel lanes eastward and the California aggregations have given each eastern five plenty of edgy moments.

From early results it would appear that both Dayton Air-Gems and Akron Goodyears are about a standoff, and both improved over past years. Big Bob Ambler, 6-2 leads the Dayton attack, while Coach Chuck Bloedorn's tireman Hawk Vaughan appears to have the early basket range.

Milwaukee's Allen-Bradley entry is a better team than has represented the beer capital in the past, and Peoria is loaded with talent, but has been very hard pressed by both Los Angeles and Oakland.

Oakland appears to be capable again even without the great negro stars, Don Barksdale and Davage Minor. Fibber McGee and Molly's Los Angeles squad are competing in the loop for the first time as is Santa Maria, Calif., and both are capable. Fibber lost two heart-breaking overtime frays to Milwaukee and Peoria. Artesia, New Mexico's REA five, another newcomer, is loaded for bear and may well prove to be the darkhorse team.

Unbeaten Phillips apparently has less defense shown in practice games this year than ever in the past which will mean the Bartlesville, Okla., team will be more vulnerable. Denver's Clivics have played only one game and won that handily over Lowry Airbase and won't be tested until the Coloradans meet Santa Maria Dec. 27. Phillips opens at Peoria Dec. 19.

Sophomore Chosen Mustang Grid Chief

SILVER CITY, Dec. 14. — Robert (Moose) White of Silver City has been elected by the New Mexico Western College football team as its 1952 captain. Frank Dooley of Deming was named co-captain. White, who is a sophomore this year, was named to the second team of the Associated Press Little All-American selection. Moose is the top runner among small college football teams in the national season statistics revealed.

In addition to being the top rusher, White led the Mustang into the number one team spot in rushing gains in the nation.

Lobo Mentor Attends U. S. Coaches Parley

ALBUQUERQUE, Dec. 14. — University of New Mexico football coaches are getting little rest these days even though the Lobos' 1951 grid season has come to an end.

Immediately following the Lobos' 17-14 conquest of the Utah State Aggies in the season's finale last week, head coach Dudley DeGroot caught a TWA airliner for Philadelphia where he is working as chairman of the Ethics Committee of the American Football Coaches' Association.

DeGroot's committee will recommend action on such disturbing elements in the national grid scene as the Bright incident, the rising charges of professionalism in college football, charges of partisan officials, and other incidents that have brought unfavorable publicity to the sport.

And the other coaches on the staff are not relaxing much either. Both assistant coaches Reeves Baysinger and Bob Titchenal are hitting the "potatoes and gravy" circuit speaking at annual football banquets around the state.

Last week, Baysinger spoke to gatherings in both Tucumcari and Carlsbad and this week he spoke at the annual Santa Fe grid feast Titchenal inaugurated his tour with a talk at the Taos banquet last week.

The tours and speeches will continue until the coaches have had a chance to meet with most of the athletes and coaches in the state. DeGroot will join the fun shortly after he returns from his work in Philadelphia.

The program is part of the University policy of trying to interest New Mexico athletes in the University of New Mexico. So far, the coaches report, the results of the policy have been very good with the fine group of freshmen that enrolled in UNM this fall working out as well or better than expected.

School Is in Session For Grown-ups at A.H.S.

By Nadell Stewart
School bells are ringing at night these days—but this time they're ringing for the adults of our fair city. The adult education program got off to a start Monday, November 5, at the high school, with Miss Harston teaching an advanced typing class, with 10 enrolled, and Mr. Witcher teaching eight pupils in leatherworking and silversmithing. On Tuesday night, Mr. Witcher has an oil painting class of five at junior high, while Mr. Hanson has an advanced shorthand course at senior high with three enrolled.

Mr. Schrader teaches a course-in bookkeeping with nine pupils on Thursday night. This class is advancing rapidly.

The courses will run 10 weeks, with classes from 7-9 p. m. This program of adult education is becoming more and more popular throughout the United States.

Floyd Springer, P. A. system engineers.

Bill Meacham, 408 West Washington, local sign painter, generously donated time and effort to ward making a replica of the Santa Claus sleigh and reindeer.

Artesia Laundry & Cleaners, 115 North Fourth, keep and store Santa's suit each year, so it is ready for the Rotary party.

Materials for building a picket fence to enclose the party area were furnished by Bowman Lumber Company, 310 West Texas Avenue.

The Lions Club donated the public address system to be used by Santa and his assistants.

Girls physical education classes of Artesia High School, under the direction of Lillian McCormick, put candy for Santa Claus to distribute into 3545 sacks.

Travis Stovall, general chairman, stressed the party was a community project, rather than a Rotary project alone and again expressed his thanks to the business firms who made financial contributions.

Next on the list of Yuletide observances is the Christmas Cantata entitled "The Nativity" to be presented at 4:30 p. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church. Fourth and Grand, by the Presbyterian choir, under the direction of Mrs. M. C. Ross.

Narrator will be Dr. D. M. Schenberg, organist will be Shirley O'Dell, violinist, Mrs. Howard Whitson.

Starting off the week before Christmas will be the Yule party sponsored by Artesia's three Veterans organizations, which will be held Wednesday, Dec. 19 at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The party will begin with a dinner at 6:30 p. m., followed by card games and dancing.

The planners of the party are also trying to obtain children's movies, such as Donald Duck or Mickey Mouse if they can be obtained.

The date of the party also coincides with the end of the toy drive which the Veterans organizations have been sponsoring and money raised at the party will be used to repair defective toys and buy new ones.

One in a series of Christmas parties to be staged by the Girl Scouts is slated for 5:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. W. F. Hinde.

This party which is for the intermediate Girl Scouts is one of several troops in this area will put on in the near future.

In addition to the rounds of parties there are two Christmas exhibits, one put on by the Central Valley Electric Cooperative (REA) 115 West Quay and the other by the Continental Colony, 800 Block North Freeman Street.

In the center of the REA display is a huge star, outlined in blue, mounted on a pole. The framework of the star is boards 16 feet long.

A Christmas tree 25 feet high, trimmed with strings of red, white and blue lights, has a silver star on top.

On the right of the tree is a white house with a green roof, four feet high and five feet long, having a lighted candle in the window.

Parked on top of the house is Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer. On the left of the tree is a six foot Santa Claus dressed in a conventional red suit with white trim and black boots, black belt and carrying a white sack.

Converging on the 16 foot star are two strings of colored lights from which are suspended two streamers, one of which says, "Merry Christmas," the other "Happy New Year."

Lettering on the streamers is aluminum colored. True Yule Spirit. The Continental Colony has a display of pictorial decorations, telling the story of Christmas.

First picture shows Mary a Joseph going to Bethlehem to register. Then comes a group on their trek to Bethlehem. The third picture depicts the angel of the Lord visiting the shepherds and the flock.

Mary and Joseph gathered around the manger with the Child in it is shown next, followed by a living room scene. Three wise men bringing gifts complete the story of the Nativity.

Also included in the display a picture of Santa Claus sliding down the chimney and streamers saying "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year."

This year marks the sixth time the display has been shown, it is not put up last year, but brought out again this year popular request.

Parties and exhibits are not only signs of the imminent coming of Christmas.

The perennial Christmas favorites such as "White Christmas," "Winter Wonderland," and "Christmas Island," have made their appearance on the juke boxes.

The increased flow of Christmas mail has necessitated the purchase of an extra baggage car on the mail train of the Clovis-Carlsbad route of the Santa Fe Railway to handle the numerous letters and packages, according to Earl Dars, local agent.

The extra car was put on Monday and will be kept on until after the holidays, according to Dars.

Other collateral activities of the season include a clothes and food collection staged by the Artesia chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club, under the direction of Dr. Kathryn Behnke, club president.

The collection was brought to a close last night at the organization's dinner meeting in the Elks Lodge.

Swelling School

"This shows that our school increase is not only from an increase in the birthrate in Artesia, but that many pupils are added because a larger number of families have moved to Artesia."

Money Situation. Present valuation of Artesia School District is $13,244,019. The maximum legal bonding rate is 6 per cent. This would allow bonds up to $794,641.

Outstanding bonds Jan. 1, 1952 will be $656,000. With the cash balance in the sinking fund this will permit bonding for "about" $150,000 more.

ents where eligible workers are employed, and the desirability of a site with respect to transportation, commercial and community utilities and service, utilities, set improvements, and similar event factors.

1.—The rents or sales prices proposed to be charged, the size of units in terms of the number of rooms and bedrooms proposed to be provided, and the relationship between the accommodations proposed and the proposed rent or sales prices.

1.—The capacity of the applicant to perform the undertaking for which he is applying for assistance.

December 29 Deadline.—Applications will be received by the FHA office located at Albuquerque, New Mexico, during a 15-day period ending Dec. 29, 1951, for which all applications received will be considered and selective approvals will be made.

Whenever, additional applications will be approved only as necessary to make up any deficit in the program.

When a builder's application is approved, he will receive a certificate of inclusion in the defense housing program for the number and types of housing units allotted to him.

This certificate carries with it the privilege of relaxed credit controls, eligibility — subject to requirements of the National Housing Act — for Title IX FHA mortgage insurance, and eligibility for participation in the Federal National Mortgage Association purchase set aside for the FHA-insured or VA-guaranteed mortgages on programmed defense housing.

Start in 60 Days.—The builder of either rental or sales housing for which a certificate has been issued will be allowed 60 days in which to start construction, a period which can be extended by the FHA office if justifiable reason is given for failure to proceed.

If a builder's approval becomes void because of failure to start construction, the units may be approved by the FHA for construction by another builder.

Under the terms of the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Service Act, if within 90 days after this announcement private builders or eligible mortgagees have not, through bona fide applications for Federal assistance provided for defense housing, indicated that they will provide the housing programmed for the area, the Federal Government may proceed to provide permanent housing as necessary to meet the unfilled needs of defense workers and military personnel.

Gas for Gallup To Be Supplied By Southern Union

Southern Union Gas Company of Gallup has been granted a franchise to install a gas system in the city, it was announced this week by the Gallup City Council.

The Gallup Company is an affiliate of the firm of the same name which serves Artesia. Exact terms of the franchise granted to the Gallup Company were not settled but it is understood unofficially that Southern Union had agreed to pay $10,000 toward liquidating engineering costs and other obligations incurred when Gallup was trying to get a municipal gas system. The $10,000 represents half city's obligations. The ordinance giving Southern Union the franchise does not come final until after it has been published for two consecutive weeks, and after a 30-day referendum period has elapsed. Southern Union officials indicated it will take 60 to 90 days to install the system once work has started.

Carlsbad Cleans Town to Remove Threat of Polio

A clean-up campaign designed to eliminate outdoor toilets and remove livestock out of the city of Carlsbad has been going on for several months and will continue into next year, Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer, announced this week.

Aid of civic organizations, schools, churches, and Ceven City officials will be enlisted in conducting a community-wide disease preventive clean-up program.

So far the drive has served to eliminate 136 outdoor toilets from West Carlsbad with 66 yet to go.

Vacant houses in the area with improper plumbing have been tagged red indicating they are not to be rented until proper plumbing has been installed.

The clean-up campaign is designed to remove health hazards which are instrumental in producing epidemics like the polio outbreak currently sweeping Odessa, according to Puckett.

"Kon-Tiki" Telescopes Time and Space

More than four thousand miles in space and approximately fifteen hundred years in time were traversed by Thor Heyerdahl's fantastic expedition, basis of the amazing adventure film, "Kon-Tiki," now enjoying an extended run at the Landsun Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Setting out with five other scientists, only one of whom had had any seaman's experience, Heyerdahl's object was to prove that the Polynesian Islands had been visited by and probably were settled in some places by a primitive people who traveled halfway across the world from the western shore of South America.

His theory was disputed because of the problems of the great distance to be traversed and his ideas were scoffed at because modern science declared that such a nautical trip would be impossible for ancient travel. Heyerdahl decided that the only thing to do was to build a balsa raft similar to one he believed must have been used used about 500 A.D., and make the trip himself!

As a result "Kon-Tiki" is an adventure film in a unique category. Presented by Sol Lesser, and distributed by RKO Radio Pictures, it was produced by Olle Nordemar, with music by Sune Waldimir. It was processed by Artfilm, from film made by the crew, an on-the-spot pictorial record. The film story is also narrated by Heyerdahl, author of the best-selling book of the same title, with a clarifying introduction by Ben Grauer, gifted radio commentator.

From their blood-curdling experiences with a monster whale to the tragicomic troubles with Lolita, the South American parrot who began to talk with a Norwegian accent, "Kon-Tiki" is an amazing record of a fantastic voyage.

Just Another Instance

WE HAVE POINTED out before we find it just a little difficult to find how they are running this "man's army" this time and how they manage to hand out some of the assignments they hand out and do some of the things they do.

One of the latest matters to come to our attention is that of transportation for a Las Cruces Korean veteran. The lad was returned to the United States on rotation after he spent time battling in Korea.

He, of course, was entitled to leave at home. He was provided transportation money from the state of Washington to Las Cruces and from Las Cruces to a post in Oklahoma.

The providing of transportation home, of course, from Washington wasn't expected. He did expect and under all army rules and regulations was entitled to transportation from the point where his boat landed to his new assignment.

But when he returned to active duty he not only had the transportation cost from Washington to his home and then to the new post, but the cost from Washington to the new post deducted from his pay.

He has registered his complaint, but has received no satisfaction.

It is perfectly logical that he would have to pay his transportation home. But it appears to us that this would be from a point en route to his new assignment to Las Cruces and from Las Cruces back to this point.

Uncle Sam was transferring him to his new post. The cost of transportation should have been Uncle Sam's for this. Certainly the federal government doesn't expect the Korean veterans or any other of the servicemen to pay for this transportation from one post of duty to that of another.

It appears to us that this Korean veteran is entitled to a refund of the actual cost from the state of Washington to his post of duty in Oklahoma.

We don't know just where he goes to register his complaint and to make demand for a refund of this money, but we do feel he is entitled to it and he should receive it. His complaint to his sergeant and to his captain haven't done any good up to the present time.

And certainly he should make his complaint a little louder and continue to fight for that refund.

But this is just another one of those things which happens and no one is able to explain why. When Bataan veterans are sent to Korea, no one seems to know why it happened, how it happened, or what can be done about it.

When soldiers and members of the armed forces who have not received sufficient and adequate training are sent into combat, Americans have a right to wonder why this occurs. No one, of course, likes to see any of their sons, brothers, fathers or relatives sent into combat. However, when this becomes necessary and is done, they have a right to know these men have been fitted for this experience.

And Americans have a right to know why this is not done. Congress and members of congress should be making these inquiries and learning why these mistakes are made.

We also believe that some of the New Mexico Congressional delegation should do a little inquiring to learn why one of its sons pays for his own transportation from the state of Washington to a post in Oklahoma when he is re-assigned after returning from combat duty in Korea.

Those Tax Payments

THE BUSINESS OF checking taxes, determining our own tax bills or what they are going to be and looking over increased budgets has become so complicated that about all the average citizen can do is pay the taxes and complain.

The federal government figures have gotten so large that most individuals can even begin to visualize what 50 billion dollars would look like and they just forget it.

We are told, however, that a recent estimate of federal receipts and expenditures shows that for the three fiscal years ending respectively June 30, 1950, 1951 and 1952, the budget of $153.2 billions. During this three-year period it is estimated that the receipts will be $148.8 billion, indicating a deficit of $4.4 billion on June 30, 1952. However, expenditure authorizations (appropriations) for the fiscal years 1950, 1951 and 1952, to date are estimated at approximately $223 billion. This means that $70 billion can be carried forward into the fiscal year of 1952 by the administration for military and other purposes, before a single dollar in new appropriations is approved by congress for that.

Looks like a little saving could be effected there if we should have an economical congress and if we would manage to dig up some efficiency in the spending of our money.

The chances are, however, that will not save any of this and we will be voting new appropriations, additional appropriations and new taxes even before they are needed.

It could be possible, of course, that with the members of congress spending a little time at home and hearing that the folks at home have to say about high taxes and high costs that congress might decide it is time to stop being stampeded into voting more and more money for every purpose.

We are still of the opinion if we would stop our worldwide WPA program; halt the "pork barrel" programs and the unnecessary non-defense spending that we would get along, have plenty of money for defense and reduce instead of raising the tax bill.

At least most of us would be very happy to see congress try it out and see just what would happen.

What we need to do is learn to live on our income instead of seeing how much money we can spend.

The U. S. isn't the only country that makes automobiles, but it is the only nation in which the workers who make the cars can afford them.—Chicago Tribune.

SPORTSMAN'S DILEMMA

What Other Editors Are Saying

DRIVE SCARED

There is little hope of postponing the millionth traffic death, a National Safety Council spokesman said the other day, unless motorists "start driving scared."

Driving scared—not a bad idea! Now that doesn't mean we recommend putting your car in storage, or quaking with fear to the extent that you become hesitant and indecisive at the wheel. A too-fearful driver may easily contribute to an accident by his erratic behavior.

We mean the kind of "scared" that makes you realize the life-and-death responsibility of driving in modern traffic, the tremendous physical forces involved, the consequences of careless or heedless behavior.

Driving scared would keep motorists from going too fast. They wouldn't pass unless there was plenty of room, nor drive after drinking, nor follow other cars too closely. They would keep a sharp lookout at intersections and grade crossings. They might even stay home if the weather or traffic conditions made motoring extra hazardous.

However, there is no indication that the approach of the millionth fatality has scared anyone yet. Mr. Million still is going toward his doom right on schedule—probably the third week in December predicted by the council many months ago. It is bitterly ironic that the gaiety and festivity of the Christmas season should provide the backdrop for one of the most tragic events in modern history. To prevent this mockery of all that Christmas stands for will not be easy. The holiday rush always adds to the normal hazards of bad weather and more hours of darkness.

So perhaps the only remedy is to start driving scared—scared enough to realize that an accident can happen to you, but that it won't if you devote to your driving all the skill and common sense you have at your command.

Simple Rules for Christmas Safety

1. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards.
 2. Put the Christmas spirit of "good will" into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians.
 3. Don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking.
 4. Don't drink if you drink—and vice versa.
 5. Start in time and take it easy. Allow for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.
- Home:
1. Check your home for anything that might cause an accident.

CENSORSHIP BY APATHY

Who is Tito? Who is Chiang Kaishek? Who is Dean Acheson? A recent Gallup poll disclosed that almost a fifth of the American citizens questioned did not know the answer to any of these questions or to such further queries as: What is the Atlantic Pact? The 38th parallel?

Democracy rests on an informed public. Police-state tyranny must necessarily surround itself by iron curtains, for men who have free access to facts will not long be content to remain slaves of the state. But the Gallup poll reminds us that censorship by apathy may be only less stultifying than censorship by decree—that individuals may be surrounded by little iron curtains of sheer indifference.

A further refinement of this danger can be found in what might be called censorship by prejudice. There are citizens who could identify Chiang or the Atlantic Pact with ease but who are willing to read or listen to only one side of the disputes on these and other issues. By denying themselves the opportunity to learn both sides they are limiting the independence of their judgment by a sort of voluntary censorship.

Yet there is no need to indulge in hand-wringing because ignorance, apathy, and prejudice are still to be found in some measure among a democratic people. So long as such thinking is not crystallized in the institutions of society, education is free to combat it vigorously at its source. The very air of freedom, swept by the winds of controversy, carries winged seeds of truth to fallow ground. And the appetite for truth grows, the more it is nourished.—Christian Science Monitor.

"How," ask a reader, "should pie be eaten—with a fork or by hand?" How did it taste better when you were a kid? Right!

"Set a good example," says a philosopher, "and the rest will follow." Not so, October does—and November and December don't.

2. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames.
3. Use electric tree and window lights — no lighted candles ever. Don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time.
4. Check your electrical connections for shorts and worn out wires.
5. Keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

Assignment

New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

Some weeks we get the idea (as Dizzy Dean would say) he should stand in bed. Everything comes up tippy tippy.

And New Mexico newspapers only add to the confusion.

Here's a sample. A cruising police-car squadman at Carlsbad had his hands full of a stray porcupine in the city limits when a radio report came through that kids had made off with construction flares and were setting fire to grass on vacant lots.

The squadman was in a quandary and asked the police chief for advice.

The answer came over the radio: "Pick up the flares and give the kids the porcupine to play with instead." That's from the Current-Argus.

Then Pete Giannettino who, with his wife Marguerite, has taken over editorship of the two Deming papers has this enlightening announcement about the date for the Luna County Fair:

"If that Tuesday (following the first Monday in November) shall fall on a legal holiday or a Sunday such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day." That, we gotta see, Pete.

And this year, according to the Lovington Press, old Santa is going to drive reindeer. Just to show that it was no typo error, the editor made sure we had his spelling correct—in two places.

About the Johnson-Dunick wedding, Calla Hay (New Mexican—not Santa Fe New Mexican any more) says the couple is in Mexico on a honeymoon.

Miss Hay also advises camera fans (in a heading) that they can hear Hiss Laura Gilpin speak. Sounds like she meant that Miss Gilpin had a slight impediment in her speech.

By leaving in a line-o-type that should have been removed, the New Mexican said the little girl who died was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. bedclothes.

But what I liked in the New Mexican was that misplaced OBITUARY head. Under obituary were listed a lost wallet and an apartment for rent.

The Farmington Times lays all the blame for the confusion on the Linotype machine—not on the operator.

Through generosity of the Linotype machine, Farmington now has a building of 112 rooms (shoulda been 12) for a mere 300 school kids.

And each year, says the Grants Beacon, brings fourth a marvelous array of Christmas gifts. We suppose the editor meant that the race for first prize was lost by Xmas gifts this year.

The Clovis News Journal was probably right about a table in the midst of the members of Las Amigas Club meeting. They sat around a gaily-decorated dining table.

Ed Guthmann (Springer Tribune) said that the new son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow, Jr., was born in the Minors Hospital. Wasn't he a minor?

New Mexico typo howlers were no better or worse than over the nation. For instance: "Reports Millions Carry TV Germs"—Chicago Daily News; "Hair Style Show Will Aid Ghost"—Fairhaven (Mass.) Star; and "Brassiere Producer Trapped in Cave-In"—Greensboro (N.C.) Daily News.

And that's all this week except the blurb in NANA: "Some day, we pray, there will be a Christmas that the politicians won't have to promise to bring the boys home by." Them's our sentiments also.

For good measure, another. Some Vanderbilt University guy said that the University of Tennessee had three platoons on its football team: one offense, one defense, and one to go to classes.

Anson Sets Stage Again for Classic Cowboys Yule Ball

A traditional Christmas festival, founded was back in 1885, will be in progress again this season in Anson, Jones County, Texas.

It is the Texas Cowboys Christmas Ball, commemorative of Larry Chittenden's ballad of a square dance at the Star Hotel in Anson in 1885.

The 1951 version will be staged in Pioneer Hall at 8 p. m. on Dec. 20, 21, and 22.

With its literary and historical background the ball is a folk festival. Chittenden's ballad was "folksey" and set in a "folksey" time.

Decorations, costumes, the fiddler and orchestra, the party composed of the aged, men women, youth and children all together, the grand march led by descendants of pioneers are all old-timey and go with the ball.

A decorated reprint of Chittenden's "The Cowboy Christmas Ball" made in Greenville, Hunt County, Texas, has been recently distributed over the nation. The time was when the National Association of Postmasters convened in St. Louis.

H. O. Rowland is president of the association this year. A regulation of the 1951 ball is that participants wear the cos-

'Won't Run' Predictions To Force Truman Hand? Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—As President Truman continues to maintain silence on his 1952 plans, you can look for more and more Democratic party leaders to "predict" that he won't seek re-election.

These party officials believe that such "predictions" will force Mr. Truman to announce sooner than he would otherwise what he intends to do, thus clearing the air for other Democratic big-wigs.

Such an announcement is very much desired by these leaders, some of whom have at least vice presidential ambitions of their own. They can't say anything about them until the President makes the situation clear.

The "predictions" will be couched in very careful terms, however. The Democratic leaders are well aware of the 1948 situation when some of them found themselves on the wrong side of the tracks in the revolt against Mr. Truman's nomination.

Some of these forthcoming predictions will be products of wishful thinking. However, even those who would like to see Mr. Truman run again are afraid that if he stays quiet too long he'll hurt the party's chances.

President Truman

NO INFLATION—Economists now feel that the inflation which the government has been warning about may not come to pass after all unless there is some big unforeseen development in the next few months.

These experts say that as far as 1952 is concerned, it looks like the rise in the cost of living will not exceed two or three per cent. That is about the increase since controls went into effect and doesn't add up to anything very frightening.

However, the economists warn that their forecast isn't foolproof. They say that such developments as a steel wage increase or a new wave of panic buying could completely upset the picture.

Incidentally, these experts actually feel that there would not be much inflation even without controls. However, they say it would be better to keep them on because decontrol might touch off a buying binge by the public.

SAWYER NEXT?—Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer is the subject of the latest speculation in Washington on what government official will be the next to leave his post.

Actually, there isn't much concrete basis for a report that Sawyer may quit, but the rumor mongers say they could see such a possibility in a recent Sawyer speech delivered in Cleveland.

In that address, Sawyer demanded cuts in non-essentials, blasted away at loose government spending and then went on to ridicule the "mania for new agencies, commissions and study groups."

The rumor boys point out that this talk came while President Truman's angry denunciation of his budget critics was still ringing in the public's ears. And, they add significantly, disagreement with the President doesn't enhance a cabinet member's position.

ANGLO-AMERICAN COUNCIL—One of the things Prime Minister Winston Churchill is expected to bring up during his Washington visit in January will be a proposal for revival of the Anglo-American Council of Strategy.

This council worked with great success during World War II when France and the rest of continental Europe was down and all but out.

Churchill and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden are said to believe that putting the council back into operation would necessarily strengthen Britain's waning position in world affairs.

However, such a move faces the strongest possible opposition from France. French officials already have let it be known, according to reports, that revival of the Anglo-American setup would jeopardize France's membership in the Atlantic Alliance.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PRESIDENTS come and go, but shenanigans designed to charm the voters remain about the same. A delegation from the west, come to visit Teddy Roosevelt in Oyster Bay, for example, found him striding out of the house in a pair of levis, with a pitchfork in his hand. "You can talk to me while I work, gentlemen. I've raised some bully hay this season. James, where's that hay of mine?"

Back came the voice of James: "Sorry, Mr. President, but I just ain't had time to replace it since you forked it up for yesterday's contingent!"

The New York Yankees are generally regarded as aristocrats in major league baseball hierarchy, but their star catcher, Yogi Berra, travels around the country with a valise that looks as though it saw service in the Mexican War in the 1840s. A baseball newshawk asked Yogi: "don't you treat yourself to a new suitcase?" "What for?" asked Yogi. "The only time I ever use it is when I travel."

Tegua Indians Make 420th Guadalupe Pilgrimage

Members of the Tegua Indian tribe inhabiting the pueblo of Toros, near Las Cruces, made their 420th consecutive pilgrimage up the mountain on December 11 with luminaries lighting the way. The trek is staged in observance of the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe today and tomorrow.

The feast is celebrated in many pueblos of the Southwest, and commemorates the appearance of the Virgin of Guadalupe 100 years ago today.

Legend has it that Juan Diego, an Indian convert, saw the vision of the Virgin in 1531, and was instructed by it to gather roses in his "tilma" and take them to the village.

When he opened the "tilma," the roses of the apparition, instead of the roses, a portrait of the Virgin appeared on the tilma.

A replica of the tilma portrait is carried on the pilgrimage to the mountain of the tiny village. The celebration is of both religious and social nature, and marks the end of the term for the village serfdoms.

Largest number to make the pilgrimage was 440 in 1949; last year 68 persons took part.

Ocotillo Theater Offers Unique Noel Presents

An unusual Christmas gift is offered by the Ocotillo Theater. It has fittingly been called "The Book of Happiness." It is not a novel, nor a biography—in fact it is of diminutive size and very unimportant looking.

But when one opens it, it is soon apparent that in reality, it is a "Book of Happiness." A beautiful holiday design and it fairly breathes the Christmas spirit. Within are pages and pages of coupons of varying denominations which may be exchanged for theatre tickets.

These Christmas Coupon Books, or "Books of Happiness," come in three convenient sizes and are very suitable for Christmas Gifts for children and grown-ups alike. Few gifts are more appreciated than these Coupon Books. They allow the recipient to spread the gift over many enjoyable weeks and bring the thoughtful donor to mind each time the coupons are exchanged at the theatre—for entertainment!

cluded hearing on nine traffic cases in which fines totaling $190 was assessed.

Artesian Attends Forum on Cancer In Kansas City

Dr. Ralph Earhart returned on Monday from a post-graduate conference on the theme, "Early Diagnosis of Cancer," conducted Thursday, Dec. 6 at the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

This conference and other cancer study at the college was made possible by a $25,000 grant from the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Similar intensive courses will be presented at monthly intervals according to an announcement by Joseph M. Peach, president of the college.

A cancer detection center has also been established at osteopathic hospital, the college's 125-bed teaching unit. This center is staffed by a panel of specialists and will serve not only the five osteopathic hospitals in Kansas City but will also provide consultation for osteopathic physicians in all parts of the country.

Eastern New Mexico University Given 3000 Theatrical Costumes

PORTALES, Dec. 14—Yes, there is a Santa Claus—just ask the drama division of Eastern New Mexico University. A gift of 33 large trunks of costumes has just been presented to the University by the Plymouth Drama Festival, Dr. Clifford Hamar, drama director, announced yesterday.

"Although we have not received a complete inventory of the trunks, we estimate conservatively that we are getting around 3,000 complete theatrical costumes," Dr. Hamar said. "A value of $10,000 would be very low for the collection."

The story behind this fabulous gift to ENMU goes something like this: Through the Theater Arts magazine, Dr. Hamar discovered that the Plymouth Drama Festival, Plymouth, Mass., was offering its wardrobe, collected over a period of 17 years, to an organization which could best utilize it to further the dramatic arts. Dr. Hamar with President Floyd D. Golden wrote to the festival directors requesting the wardrobe for ENMU,

The director of the festival responded that from nearly a hundred requests, the ENMU application appeared to justify that the costumes be presented to the University.

Available to Groups—So—Eastern New Mexico University will soon receive this collection of approximately 3000 costumes. And naturally, the University will make them available to drama groups of public schools, other universities and colleges, and amateur theatrical groups.

The only expense connected with the gift to the University is the cost of packing and shipping the collection. Vital statistics of interest concerning the collection include the following:

1.—Thirty-three trunks weighing more than 6000 pounds.
2.—Two men have spent a month packing the collection.
3.—The contents of one trunk, if purchased from a New York theatrical costume house, would cost more than the total shipping cost.

4.—Costumes represent all periods in history and nationalities. Also included is a complete set of armor, a trunk of men's silk top hats, a trunk of wigs, complete chorus wardrobes, and accessories for all costumes.

"This huge collection of costumes, available for drama groups, should provide a wonderful stimulus to theatre arts in schools of the Southwest," Dr. Hamar stressed.

On his recent visit to Washington, Ike Eisenhower looked over the remodeling job on that little piece of property on Pennsylvania avenue. However, he didn't say whether he'd take the place.

This firm has made quite an extensive study of the roofing problems of the day and have looked over the entire field of roofing as represented by the various manufacturers. They have selected most artistic lines of roofing and will be glad to go over any property you have in mind and aid you in selection of a de-

Their employees are men who most thoroughly understand the work in hand and who are carefully to see that all roofing is correctly and accurately put on. The right amount of space is left everywhere and there is no stinting on materials to thoroughly cover the place so there will be no leaks or trouble after the job is completed. They do not make a lot of dirt about the place which must be cleaned up after they are gone, but when finished clean everything away. Pride of craftsmanship is the incentive that is moving this popular house to success. The fame of their attractive roofs is spread all over this part of the state and business is coming to them from many miles around.

purities as well as being delicious and wholesome.

Many pure food experts have ruled that carbonated beverages when properly made are a food product containing life-giving energizing substances essential in building bodies of children and grown-ups alike. Its friendly atmosphere which predominates at all times, has placed this store in an individual class and is headquarters for people of the surrounding territory.

This popular institution was founded many years ago and has grown with hardly a pause in its rapid development.

That much discussed word "service" finds its true expression in the friendly atmosphere that envelops every customer of this popular store, because "service" is interpreted in so many ways that it may be said to be the sign manual of the entire organization. It has maintained an air of calm, friendly dignity which can only be associated with institutions of standing and sure position. CARLSBAD ELECTRIC COMPANY

Roy Hanson and Jim Coleman, Mgrs. Electric Fixtures, Commercial, Industrial and Residential Contractors.

Located 305 South Halaguena in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Telephone 5-4636. Carlsbad can boast of a leading electric establishment which is helping in no small part in the commercial and industrial progress of the community and surrounding territory.

The personnel of Carlsbad Electric Company consists of men high in the community. It is under able direction and enjoys an ever increasing patronage throughout this section.

Service is a much overworked and misused selling expression, but it is fundamentally true that the seller must survive. By cooperation with their customers, by forthright planning to meet their needs, in the employment of the most modern facilities this establishment is striving earnestly to give realization to a new and better service.

Quality is one of the guiding influences of this firm. The home owners and builders alike have learned superior quality in everything they provide.

There are no more public spirited citizens in the community than the management of the Carlsbad Electric Company.

This establishment is not only a well equipped and expertly managed concern, but is also a commercial and industrial organization rendering a service that is necessary to the onward progress of the community.

SKINNER & SKINNER GARAGE

Authorized Agents for Harrison Radiators, Sales and Service. Motor Repairing, Radiators, Record, Rodded and Complete Cleaning Service.

Located 112 West Greene in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Telephone 5-2517. Skinner and Skinner Garage has come into more prominence with the increasing number of cars and trucks, their high prices and the determination of the public to get the fullest mileage from their units. It is in accord with the transportation of the country and the desire of the people to utilize every available unit.

Leaking radiators are the cause of many serious troubles to which a car can fall heir. Scored cylinders, burned up cars are some of the results of leaking radiators. So call on them for service as soon as a leak appears.

Sediment and foreign particles are bound to find their way into any radiator. Corrosion eats a hole and the regrettable part is that many times conceals leaks until they are so big they are beyond repair. Do not endanger your motor from overheating and guard against the inroads of corrosion. Bring your car into this most up-to-date radiator shop and have your radiator attended to before trouble starts, without the slightest bit of inconvenience to you.

Skinner and Skinner Garage deserves fully our praise as they are offering an honest and efficient service doing a good job at a reasonable price. We take pleasure in complimenting them in this business review of Carlsbad and vicinity.

ANN'S SHOPPE

The Friendly Little Shop, for Ladies Ready-to-Wear in Style, Quality and Price.

They carry a most comprehensive line of fashions, latest note in qualities and styles of nationally advertised clothing. In soliciting the patronage of the smart women of Carlsbad and surrounding territory Ann's Shoppe respectfully suggests a comparison after a shopping tour of other shops. You seldom find such lovely styles or qualities as those of this establishment. Their style experts are always alert to every new fashion trend and in constant touch with the mode of the moment.

Here each season brings its novelties as well as conservative garments for every occasion. Here the service is individual. Their salesladies are familiar with correct styles and their suitability to the customers. They know the value of a satisfied patron, and would much prefer not to make a good sale than not have their customer satisfied with their purchase.

We are more than pleased in this review to call the attention of the people to this very popular service and to say they are civic leaders and up-to-date in their methods and are deserving of the support of the people in this section of the state.

The amazing saga of six men who deliberately risked their lives to prove a theory! On a primitive type raft of balsam logs they drifted over uncharted seas from Peru to the isles where the hula girls wait! 101 days and 4,300 miles of storm, sunshine, peril and peace. Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking. Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one. And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over. You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out. But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time. From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for. Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know. He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive® is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way? He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble. It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right. Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that. Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve. To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty. Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be. Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

Thieves Take Goat, Clothing, Car Parts, Cash

A brown milk goat, $100 in cash, three skirts, and two hub caps, was among the loot taken by thieves in Artesia and vicinity in the period Dec. 7-11, according to complaints filed with Artesia Department of Police. Mrs. J. R. Maney, who resides 40 miles east of Loco Hills reported the loss of the goat. At the Northside Bar, thieves entered, took $70 from a shuffleboard device, $30 from a juke box. Pedro Samora, an employe, discovered the loss on opening up the place, and reported the case to the police. Mrs. Pauline Cortez, 804 North 10th, told police of the theft of clothing from the Cortez home. The list included three skirts—black, grey and navy blue—some size 9 dresses, and a black suit case. Del Smith, Studebaker agent, who resides at 1111 Bullock, told police of someone apparently with a key getting into the automobile necessary business. Taken from Smith's 1949 Studebaker convertible was two hub caps, two chrome rims, two fog lights, and one floor mat. Likewise, automobiles had an appeal for the thief who prowled the Artesia Wrecking Company, 1008 North First. John Savoie reported the loss of two 1939 Dodge wheels and tires. A Shelby bicycle, license 449, belonging to Billy Lorang and reported stolen on Dec. 1, was recovered Dec. 5.

The USAF Daedalian Trophy for Air Safety was recently presented to the Military Air Transport Service at Andrews AFB, Md., for achieving the lowest aircraft accident rate in the AF during 1950.

Vets Offered Special Type Of Insurance

A special type of Government life insurance is available to veterans of the U. S. Armed Forces who were disabled in active military service anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950, the start of the Korean campaign. These veterans must meet two requirements (under Section 620 of the National Service Life Insurance Act).

1.—They must have been released or separated from active service on or after April 25, 1951, under other than dishonorable conditions; and,

2.—They must be found by Veterans Administration to be suffering from a service-connected disability or disabilities for which VA compensation would be payable, if 10 per cent or more in degree. Further, they must not be suffering from a non-service-connected disability or disabilities that make them uninsurable.

These veterans must apply for the special NSLI to Veterans Administration within one year from the date that VA finds their disability or disabilities to be service-connected. Applications, with medical examinations and the required premium, should be mailed to Veterans Administration, Washington, 25, D. C.

If the necessary requirements are met, totally disabled veterans may apply for a waiver of premium at the time they file application for the insurance.

However, all such applicants should include the required premium with their applications and continue to pay this premium on time until they are notified by VA that waiver has been granted. Premiums paid under waiver will be refunded.

Form of National
This special insurance for the disabled is a form of National Service Life Insurance, and several types of policies are available—term, ordinary life, 20-pay life, 30-pay life, and endowments.

For the totally disabled, no endowment plans may be issued; however, all others may be issued. The amount of any policy may range from $1,000 to $10,000, less any other Government life insurance in force at the time of application.

These policies, in general, are the same as regular NSLI policies, except that the premium rates are on a different basis and the policies do not earn dividends. There are other differences, but most of the conditions are the same.

One-Year Limit—
Although eligible disabled veterans must apply for this special insurance within one year from the date that VA finds their disabilities to be service-connected, they may make application immediately after separation or release from active service and thus set the machinery in motion for a ruling on the service-connected of their disability or disabilities.

Another group of persons may be eligible for this special NSLI for the disabled. This group includes: (1) persons provisional accepted on or after June 27, 1950 for military service who suffer disability while en route under orders to a place for final acceptance or for entry upon active duty and (2) draftees who, on or after June 27, 1950, suffer a disability while en route under orders from their draft boards to a designated induction station.

These two groups must apply for the special insurance within one year from the date they suffered their disability or disability.

For further information, veterans should contact their nearest VA office immediately after separation or release from active service.
