Mountain States Outlines Plan for City Phone Improvement

arrangement
City Office scheduled

movements long-scheduled Artesia telephone service were held here this week in a meeting. Mountain States Telephone Telegraph Co. officials with the Chamber of Commerce representatives.

Meeting was asked by the company as an opportunity to charge against it re-made by the chamber when Mountain States sought a $250,000 increase, subsequently denied by state corporation commission.

Mountain States officials said Dec. 27 this year, six new switchboard positions will be installed in Artesia and all company offices housed in a larger downtown office.

Also included are three more long-distance positions and three additional local switchboard positions.

Circuits

November the company will be in operation five additional lines to Roswell and two more distance lines to Midland.

Present the company has 11
switchboard positions in the Artesia office, including two long-distance, eight local and one communications position. There are now 11 circuits to Roswell.

Mountain States officials revealed they had leased a larger building for the Artesia telephone office October, and had expected to have installation of equipment by end of November.

However, this equipment still has not arrived. The company is still negotiating its lease on the building and will have the new equipment in its new location by Dec. 27, officials said.

Officials

Representing the phone company at the meeting with C of C officials Tuesday were C. F. Halverson of Roswell, district manager; T. C.
Schlau, Roswell, district traffic superintendent and W. F.
W. Artesia manager.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce were Pres. Ralph Hayes;
W. C. Carpenter, vice president;
John Paulin, treasurer; W. M.
Benthaler, director; J. D. Josey, city supervisor and Bob Boyle, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Company officials pointed out that beyond their control had been manufacture of equipment.

The company also pointed out that chamber erred in an early attack against the $250,000 increase asked by the company in the chamber computed and pared toll costs, installation of equipment, and other items.

Replying citing the Artesia chambers and the company's point is expected to be issued by the company, Mountain States officials said.

Swimming Pool

ext week will be the last week swimming pool west of the high school building on Carlson street, according to Daugherty, pool manager.

For the first four weeks in September, Daugherty noted, the pool will be used by Junior and Senior high school physical education classes.

The pool is slated to open at 1 p.m. on Labor Day for public use, Daugherty said.

In addition, the pool will be open for the public on Sundays in September, including Sept. 7, 14,
21. Opening time is 1 p.m.
Workmen this week are continuing a protective fence around the pool which will prevent dangerous out-of-hours use.

Artesian Held

Archie McDonald of Artesia has been ordered bound over to discretion of the court on charge of indecent exposure of a female minor. He was ordered bound over by Justice Peace J. D. Josey following a preliminary hearing in Artesia on Sept. 1.

McDonald was set at $1,000 and postponed to trial. He is accused of recently handling an 11-year-old boy.

Locomotive Smashes Truck, Driver Escapes Injuries

Collision of a passenger train and a one-ton truck on railroad tracks through the east part of Artesia at 7:21 a.m. Thursday destroyed the truck but resulted in no injuries, Artesia police reported.

Police said Iva Jones of box 170, Artesia, stopped at the railroad crossing on E. Richy street. Jones was driving a truck owned by Carl Arnall of 318 W. Adams.

Jones told police he saw the train down the tracks, but believed he could cross the tracks before it came dangerously near to him.

The truck, however, stalled. Jones attempted to start it, then jumped out to push it when the starter failed to work. He was unsuccessful in clearing it from the tracks.

Dunnam Is Named State Veterans' Service Officer

Bill Dunnam has succeeded Harold "Dutch" Naylor as service officer in Artesia for the New Mexico veterans service commission, according to an announcement by John A. Lowe, state director of veterans affairs.

Naylor recently resigned the position due to press of business.

Dunnam announced office hours will be 8 to 10 a.m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Telephone to Dunnam's office in the Veterans Memorial building on W. Texas is 559-J.

The Artesia office will serve North Eddy county primarily, Dunnam said, and will assist with cases from other areas.

The office is designed by state officials to assist veterans with their claims for the veterans' administration through cooperation with veterans organizations and the state veteran service commission.

City Council Is Slated to Meet On Wednesday

Artesia city council will hold its second regular meeting in August next Wednesday, Aug. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall building. The council will again meet in its new quarters in the former library room.

Matters on next Wednesday's agenda will probably include further discussion of re-paving scheduled for both north and south Thirteenth street. A two-mile repaving program on Thirteenth street, extending from Hermosa drive to the Hope by-pass, is being contemplated. State, county and city budgets will share the cost equally.

Discussion of proposed improvements to Artesia airport may also come before the city council, despite adverse steps against Artesia's brief to secure Pioneer airline service.

Discussion centering around two proposed plumbing codes for the city may also be brought up before next Wednesday's session. One proposal has been set forth by T. E. Brown, Artesia businessman, and a second by Milton Losse, building contractor.

Mayor J. L. Briscoe has stated that whether or not Pioneer airlines is granted a franchise to operate into Artesia on a proposed Amarillo to El Paso flight, the city will sooner or later be faced with an expense of about $15,000 to improve the airport.

The civil aeronautics board has granted about $8,400 to improve airports in Artesia, and Mayor Briscoe has urged that the city take advantage of the offer while it can.

The council is also expected to renew discussion on possibility of hiring former Mayor Oren C. Roberts as either city construction engineer or city supervisor. Although a discussion was slated in the last meeting, Roberts was unable to attend.

He will oppose Gov. Edwin L. Mulcock as vice chairman of the Democratic State Central committee was announced Tuesday by Waldo Spiess, chairman.

Spiess wrote Mulcock that "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to appoint you as vice chairman of the Democratic party. It is our plan to call the vice chairman to meet with every meeting of the executive committee. That committee will meet, from time to time, until election day, to determine policies."

"I am personally confident that the Democratic ticket will win this fall," Spiess continued in announcing the appointment.

Mulcock is now serving his second consecutive term as Democratic precinct chairman of the Artesia precinct. He has long been active in state, county, and local politics.

He is the second Artesia resident to receive appointment to a major Democratic party office this year. Earlier this summer Charles K. Johnson of Artesia was appointed vice chairman of the Democratic county central committee in Eddy county.

Linda Kay was born Aug. 14. In addition to her parents, she is survived by four sisters and two brothers. They are Martha Nell, Addie Leona, Pauline Marie, Patricia Sue, Van Tim, and Kenneth Wayne.

Funeral services for Linda Kay Doughty, the saddle of Moon Mullins, both of Artesia. The two were sold together for $30.

Shaw was charged with the thefts after being arrested in Roswell on a bad check charge through a warrant issued by Texas authorities.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard Robinson said preference will be given to the Texas charge.

The convention is slated for Ruidoso Sept. 20 and 21, Harrison announced. Crowded conditions make early reservations necessary, he added.

Thursday's Kiwanis meeting was three-game series with Big Spring Tuesday night by edging the Broncs 6-2 in Driller Park behind the nine-hitter of Mike Rodriguez.

Bulldog Quarterback Club Slates First Fall Meeting Monday, to Sell Tickets

Artesia Quarterback club will hold its first meeting of the fall at 6:30 Monday night, Aug. 25, in the high school cafeteria, according to Fritz Crawford, president.

The meeting will be organizational, Crawford pointed out, and reserved tickets for Quarterback club members will be sold during the meeting. This will be the only Quarterback club sale of reserved tickets, Crawford pointed out.

The sale of reserved tickets to members will precede the sale of reserved tickets to the general public, which is scheduled to begin Tuesday morning in the high school gym.

Reserved tickets to be sold next Monday night are the same as those reserved for Quarterback club members in 1951, Crawford pointed out.

Crawford urged both old and prospective members to attend Monday night's organizational meeting of the club.

Membership in the group is $3 per year, Crawford said. Proceeds from dues and other club activities will be devoted to purchase of a movie camera and film to make action films of all Bulldog football games.

This will prove beneficial to the coaching staff and football players, Crawford pointed out, in studying games, and will be especially interesting to the general public after the Bulldogs have played an out-of-town game.

Eventually the organization will seek to purchase a second camera for better coverage, the president added.

Although no food will be served at the first meeting, coffee and doughnuts are scheduled for future sessions. Members of the football team will be guests of the club three or four times during the season, Crawford added. The organization will also seek to bring an out-of-state speaker to Artesia for the annual post-season football dinner.

day, Aug. 25, at 8:30 a. m., Coach Bud Wilburn announces.

Boys are to turn out for practice in T-shirts, shorts, and foot-ball shoes, Wilburn said.

On the team are boys who will be in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades this coming school year.

The practice session is slated for the Junior high football field.

The Hornets' first game is scheduled Sept. 12 at Roswell. First home game will be Friday, Sept. 19, under the lights in Artesia.

Having a "B" team would cut deeply into first team reserves, Hall pointed out, and would not allow the coaching staff to do justice for either varsity or "B" squads.

Junior High Grid Practice Starts Monday

Artesia's Hornets, the Junior high football team, will begin fall practice session next Monday.

Saturday, the Drillers go on to Artesia Drillers tonight will face Odessa at the Oliers' home park in the last of a three-game series with the league-leading team.

Artesia opened the stand Wednesday night by downing Odessa 7-2.

Artesia then is to return home next Tuesday, Aug. 26, for the first of a three-game series here against Odessa. On Aug. 29 the Drillers go to Roswell for the first of two games.

Hall trimmed 45 aspirants down to the 35-man roster headed for the mountains, and said this cut is the major step toward building the Bulldog working crew.

Following their return to Artesia next Wednesday, the boys will go home for a few hours, then return for a workout under the Morris field lights from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

This is the 35-man squad chosen to go to camp:

Gary Akins, Leo Barker, Yumpy

Fifteen-Hour Daily Schedule Planned By Hall

Artesia's Bulldogs, eyed as one of the Teams in the running for New Mexico high school football honors in pre-season forecasts, departed early Thursday morning for a week-long training session at Camp Mary White in the Sacramento mountains.

The 35-man squad will be headed by Cal Hall, acting head football coach in the absence of Reese Smith, who has returned to Dallas for treatment of an injured back. With Hall will be John Daugherty as backfield coach and Bud Wilburn, Junior high school coach.

Coach Hall and the 35-man squad left Artesia at 6 a. m. Thursday. They will be at Camp Mary White until 1 p. m. next Wednesday, Aug. 27, when they break camp for Artesia.

Hall trimmed 45 aspirants down to the 35-man roster headed for the mountains, and said this cut is the major step toward building the Bulldog working crew.

Artesia will have six runs in the sixth, starting with a double by Jim Ackers. Pete Pichan and John Alonzo were walked, and Vice Subribi singled. A bases-loaded homer by Joe Bauman counted four of the stanza's six runs.

Artesia rallied with six runs in the ninth to tie the game.

In the tenth Big Spring scored two runs when Stacey singled and Vistuer was walked. Grimes knocked a single to bring in the two winning runs.

Artesia managed one run when Briner singled, was walked in with free passes issued to Ackers, Pichan and Wally Hanna.

Artesia used LaVerne Herrman

Ahead of the Bulldogs is a busy week of practice, work about the camp, and "skull practice." The training schedule calls for boys to be up and ready for breakfast at 5:30. The day ends early, with reveille at 8:30 every night.

In those 15-hour days of work and play together, Hall hopes to weld the football boys into a team with great spirit, cooperation, and mutual respect.

"We are going to work hard, very hard, but we are also going to have good times together," he told football men before leaving. "I want you to get to know one another better, to meet the guys you may not know too well."

After breakfast and clean-up, the Bulldogs will have grid practice from 7 to 9 a. m. From 10 to 12 noon each day is a work session when boys will clean up and make repairs to the camp. A second practice session is slated from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

From 7 to 8 p. m. each night, Hall has slated "skull practice"—discussion of plays and strategy, brain work behind winning games. There'll also be a recreation session after supper; some boys are taking musical instruments for impromptu get-togethers, others will sing.

Artesia came from behind to score six runs in the sixth, three more in the eighth, gaining a small edge over Big Spring that was smashed by two home runs in the ninth, tying the ball game. Two Big Spring runs in the overtime

Nelson Moore, Howard Price, Bonnie Price, Johnny Riddle, Freddie Sanders, Jerry Simmons, Donald Sperry, and Doug Whitefield.

Ronald Nelson, who has sustained a bruised shoulder in practice, and Jim Shipp, who hurt his ankle, may join the team at Camp Mary White Sunday.

Of the 35, there are 11 returning lettermen. They are Yumpy Barker, Beadle, Brown, Campanella, Dew, Golden, Hager, Johnson, Loyd, Howard Price, and Whitefield.

Walk-In Run Down Drillers 12-11 Monday

Big Spring edged Artesia 12-11 in a Longhorn league game Monday night in Artesia, but only after a 10th-inning run was walked across by weary Drillers hurlers.

Artesia came from behind to score six runs in the sixth, three more in the eighth, gaining a small edge over Big Spring that was smashed by two home runs in the ninth, tying the ball game.

Artesia came back with two in the ninth to tie the game.

In the tenth Big Spring scored two runs when Stacey singled Artesia managed one run when

Camp Farthest Out Attended By 167 People

The first New Mexico Camp Farthest Out, held last week, registered 167 men, women and children in addition to the staff of six national leaders. It is believed that this is probably the largest such first years camp ever held.

Location of the New Mexico camp, one of 32 such in the nation this year, was at Scott Able 4-H camp in a beautiful hollow surrounded by the majestic peaks of the Sacramento.

The camp was exceptionally successful, with several of the leaders saying that this camp seemed to begin where many of the others stopped.

The program of the camp is in reality a school of prayer. The solitude of the retreat far back in the mountains is ideal for such a school.

Directing the camp was H. Parr Armstrong of Fort Worth, well-known to many here in Artesia. The secretary for the first year was Arthur G. Bell, of the First Christian church of Artesia. The new council ring includes Rev. and Mrs. H. Parr Armstrong, the Rev. and Mrs. William B. Holmes of Ruidoso, Dr. H. J. Lathrop of Carlsbad, Dr. Jeffie Halsted and Mrs. George Hogan of El Paso, Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Bell of Artesia, Rev. Ralph Slotten of Las Cruces, Rev. Don Davidson of Levelland, Texas, and Mrs. Daniel Leisher of Santa Fe.

Miss Eunice Britt of Warrensburg conducted a "Cihu" CFO for the children with 21 enrolled. "Cihu" is a word coined by Frank Laubach, standing for "Can I Help You?" A group of some 32 youth kept a lively and optimistic spirit about the place. They held special youth sessions after their oldsters and the small children had gone to bed.

Among these youth was Marya "Tex" Hooten of Lubbock who led the group and young Theodore McElroy who returns next month to Vienna for the second year of study under a Fulbright scholarship. In every way, the camp was most excellent.

Presbyterian Church Picnic Slated Sunday

A cavalcade of cars carrying Presbyterian church members and friends for a day-long Sunday school and church family picnic will leave the church at 7:30 Sunday morning for the Sacramento mountains, Rev. Ralph O'Dell, pastor, has announced.

The annual picnic will be held in Bear Canyon. To reach the site, autoists will go to Mayhill, take the west fork to the Bear canyon store, and then follow special markers to the picnic site.

Regular Sunday school classes and the Sunday morning worship service will be held in the mountains, Reverend O'Dell stated. They will be followed by the family picnic.

For church members unable to make the trip, 10:15 morning worship will also be held in the church in Artesia under direction of a lay minister, the pastor said.

First Christian Church Bible School Continues

Vacation Bible school of the Assembly of God church is now in progress, according to Rev. J. H. McClendon, pastor.

Enrollment through Wednesday of this school was 90.

Children of all denominations will find a welcome at the school, Reverend McClendon stated.

The school will continue through Friday, Aug. 29, and commencement exercises are scheduled for Aug. 29, with the public invited to attend.

Lions Outline Family Picnic, Barbecue Plans

Discussion of a proposed Lions club family picnic and barbecue started for 6:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 29, occupied the organization during its weekly meeting Wednesday.

Chairman of the picnic committee is Dr. G. P. Ruppert. Taylor Cole heads the barbecue committee and Clarence Key and Ed Shockley are in charge of soft drink supply. Dr. J. J. Clarke, Jr., and Jack Frost will head the grounds and cleanup committee, and W. F. "Pat" Patterson, Dr. Ralph Earhart, and Elwood Kaiser are in charge of entertainment. D. D. Archer and club Pres. Jack Fauntleroy will arrange for Lions club ceremonies.

Deadline for placing reservations to attend the family picnic and barbecue is next Wednesday, Aug. 27. Doctor Ruppert announced.

Visiting Lions included two former Artesians, Grady Wright, now of Fort Worth, and Ulas Golden, now employed with Southern Union Gas Co. at Kingman, Ariz.

Guests included Dallas Golden of Artesia, H. E. Rich of Artesia, Gene Wofford of Las Cruces, and Don Mulkey, Albuquerque.

President Fauntleroy announced an examination of financial records by the board of directors show the club is in "excellent" financial condition and will be allowed to continue its program of community betterment.

Camp Farthest Out Attended By 167 People

The first New Mexico Camp Farthest Out, held last week, registered 167 men, women and children in addition to the staff of six national leaders. It is believed that this is probably the largest such first years camp ever held.

Location of the New Mexico camp, one of 32 such in the nation this year, was at Scott Able 4-H camp in a beautiful hollow surrounded by the majestic peaks of the Sacramento's.

The camp was exceptionally successful, with several of the leaders saying that this camp seemed to begin where many of the others stopped.

The program of the camp is in reality a school of prayer. The solitude of the retreat far back in the mountains is ideal for such a school.

Directing the camp was H. Parr Armstrong of Fort Worth, well-known to many here in Artesia. The secretary for the first year was Arthur G. Bell, of the First Christian church of Artesia. The new council ring includes Rev. and Mrs. H. Parr Armstrong, the Rev. and Mrs. William B. Holmes of Ruidoso, Dr. H. J. Lathrop of Carlsbad, Dr. Jeffie Halsted and Mrs. George Hogan of El Paso, Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Bell of Artesia, Rev. Ralph Slotten of Las Cruces, Rev. Don Davidson of Levelland, Texas, and Mrs. Daniel Leisher of Santa Fe.

Miss Eunice Britt of Warrensburg conducted a "Cihu" CFO for the children with 21 enrolled. "Cihu" is a word coined by Frank Laubach, standing for "Can I Help You?" A group of some 32 youth kept a lively and optimistic spirit about the place. They held special youth sessions after their oldsters and the small children had gone to bed.

Among these youth was Mary "Tex" Hooten of Lubbock who led the group and young Theodore McElroy who returns next month to Vienna for the second year of study under a Fulbright scholarship. In every way, the camp was most excellent.

Presbyterian Church Picnic Slated Sunday

A cavalcade of cars carrying Presbyterian church members and friends for a day-long Sunday school and church family picnic will leave the church at 7:30 Sunday morning for the Sacramento mountains, Rev. Ralph O'Dell, pastor, has announced.

The annual picnic will be held in Bear Canyon. To reach the site, autoists will go to Mayhill, take the west fork to the Bear canyon store, and then follow special markers to the picnic site.

Regular Sunday school classes and the Sunday morning worship service will be held in the mountains, Reverend O'Dell stated. They will be followed by the family picnic.

For church members unable to make the trip, 10:15 morning worship will also be held in the church in Artesia under direction of a lay minister, the pastor said.

First Christian Church Bible School Continues

The daily vacation Bible school of the First Christian church opened Aug. 18 and will run for the remaining two weeks of the month.

The corps of teachers for the school includes Mrs. A. G. Bell, superintendent of the Junior department, with Mrs. L. C. Kidd, assisting; Miss Mario Storm, superintendent of the primary department, assisted by Margaret Amstutz and Mittie Fry; Mrs. N. T. Kelly, superintendent of the kindergarten, assisted by Mrs. Grant Ivers and Mrs. W. B. Chenoweth.

A. G. Bell is general superintendent. Mrs. Bennie Juarez is to assist with music. All children ages 4 through 12, will be made welcome.

Lions Outline Family Picnic, Barbecue Plans

Discussion of a proposed Lions club family picnic and barbecue slated for 6:30 p. m. Friday, Aug. 29, occupied the organization during its weekly meeting Wednesday.

Chairman of the picnic committee is Dr. G. P. Ruppert. Taylor Cole heads the barbecue committee and Clarence Key and Ed Shockley are in charge of soft drink supply. Dr. J. J. Clarke, Jr., and Jack Frost will head the grounds and cleanup committee, and W. F.

"Pat" Patterson, Dr. Ralph Ehart, and Elwood Kaiser are in charge of entertainment. D. D. Archer and club Pres. Jack Fauntleroy will arrange for Lions club ceremonies.

Deadline for placing reservations to attend the family picnic and barbecue is next Wednesday, Aug. 27. Doctor Ruppert announced.

Visiting Lions included two former Artesians, Grady Wright, now of Fort Worth, and Ulas Golden, now employed with Southern Union Gas Co. at Kingman, Ariz.

Guests included Dallas Golden of Artesia, H. E. Rich of Artesia, Gene Wofford of Las Cruces, and Don Mulkey, Albuquerque.

President Fauntleroy announced an examination of financial records by the board of directors show the club is in "excellent" financial condition and will be allowed to continue its program of community betterment.

Doctor Ehart, club representative to the Council of Social Agencies, urged membership cooperation with the organization it is in its annual Community Chest drive. It was pointed out that contributions to the community chest may be paid on an annual basis rather than in a lump sum.

A short board of directors meeting followed the regular session Wednesday.

Assembly of God Vacation Bible School Enrolls 90

Vacation Bible school of the Assembly of God church is now in progress, according to Rev. J. H. McClendon, pastor.

Children of all denominations will find a welcome at the school, Reverend McClendon said.

The school will continue through Friday, Aug. 29, and commencement exercises are scheduled for Aug. 29, with the public invited to attend.

The Ranch Hands' Rodeo

WE HAD A LOT of favorable compliments and a smaller than expected number of gripes after the rodeo," Artesia Roping club Pres. Walter Solt told the Advocate at the conclusion of the four-day Ranch Hands' Rodeo last Sunday.

North Eddy county residents showed by their attendance like they rodeos in general and the Ranch Hands' Rodeo in particular. Just under 10,000 rodeo fans paid admission during the four nights to see the 2 hour 15 minute show.

Rodeo action was continually kept moving—the show seldom dragged, thanks to careful planning by Producer Bob Chipman, who also capably handled microphone chores. There was a first night snafu on parking and admissions, and we suspect more care in checking the gate would have netted the club extra money. But by and large the show was skillfully handled despite its being an amateur event.

The rodeo was a community event. Unknown numbers of farmers and ranchers contributed alfalfa to feed rodeo stock—the roping club did not have to buy a single bale for feed. Countless merchants contributed prizes and money. The show was effectively publicized by large donations of news-paper and radio space and time.

Countless people in the community donated their labor to fixing electric lights, pens, and other equipment at the arena. One newcomer to Artesia even went out with a post hole digger and dug away for a night or two without anyone knowing who he was. He later became a fast friend of the rodeo group.

Ranch Hands' Rodeo received much favorable comment; a good many people remarked over the sparkle it had compared to the professional type rodeos. With a good many of the more than 150 contestants known by large groups of friends, interest in the rodeo is high.

We are pleased with the announcement by rodeo officials that the show, in one form or another, will be carried on next year.

Once continuity is assured, a rodeo such as was produced in Artesia this year becomes a powerful drawing card. Over the years its traditions are built up, its contestants become more experienced, the local sense of showmanship is developed, until such a show becomes an attraction for people from across the Southwest, who will travel hundreds of miles to see a good rodeo—the kind of rodeo produced in Artesia.

Conservation Awards

RECEPTION OF CONSERVATION awards by 14 Artesia area ranchers and farmers was announced earlier this week by Charles K. Johnson of the First National bank, chairman of the state banking association committee on agriculture, and G. L. Beene, director of the soil conservation district here.

We believe the awards and recognition attached to their presentation are the positive type promotion needed to encourage such water and soil conservation programs as have been making headway in North Eddy county over the last few years.

City-dwellers are often amazed with some of the refinements employed by farmers and ranchers in the area to better conduct their operations. Underground concrete pipes speed irrigation water to fields with a minimum of water loss due to evaporation and seepage. Bench leveling, which makes for flatter fields more easily and efficiently irrigated, is seen on many farms in the area. There are dozens and dozens of other techniques, undertaken by farmers and ranchers in cooperation with the local conservation office.

Water and soil conservation have become almost one and the same thing in the Artesia area, such being the problems of semi-desert farming. Any steps which are taken to save water and precious topsoil here deserve the greatest commendation.

These are the award winners: T. E. Brown, Sr., R. L. Paris, Hugh and Jim B. Moutray, C. R. and Dale Yoder, Russ and Johnnie Gooden, R. C. Horner, Lynn F. Chumbley, Frank Clowe, H. H. Mills—R. T. Spencer farm, H. H. Mills, Harvey E. Yates, Yates estate, and H. V. Parker.

Some of these men have accomplished amazing transformations on run-down farms within the course of a few years—transformations that mean savings in water usage and top soil wastage.

School Housing in Artesia

AN ESTIMATED 2,942 students will enroll in Artesia's school system this fall, and will be housed in some of the finest buildings in New Mexico. Despite a struggle with legal limits on bonding power, the school district by December, when the new Hermosa school is completed, will be able to house all regular classes in permanent buildings.

The new Roselawn school will be used for the first time Sept. 2 as 500 pupils transfer from dingy Army barrack buildings to the new building. It is an outstanding example of contemporary school design, which calls for a building to be functional and serviceable, attractive without frills, and comfortable.

For instance, concrete block walls in the Roselawn school are not plastered over or otherwise concealed—they're painted attractive colors. Movable classroom chairs permit flexible room arrangements to the best advantage. Ceilings are sloped to better reflect natural light, providing better working conditions. Teachers are given more storage space.

Other Artesia schools, although older, are nevertheless carefully maintained to provide the best possible surroundings for students. As many proven innovations are incorporated as possible without major expenditures of money.

Artesia school administrators are doing a capable job of providing comfortable and attractive school housing, despite difficult circumstances.

What Other Editors Are Saying

THANKS TO WALKER

The whole community will extend its thanks to Walker Air Force Base for its offer of needed facilities in case polio strikes at civilian personnel.

While polio has not reached epidemic proportions in Roswell and Chaves county, enough cases have developed to make every precaution a necessity and Walker has added its resources to those offered by the civilian organization in the county.

The base has a flight crew on stand-by orders, ready to transport either military personnel or civilians to hospitals if iron lung treatment is demanded. Furthermore, it has a medical crew also on the alert to augment the flight facilities.

This matter of putting military facilities at the command of the people is one that will receive the approval of every person in the community. However, the military is the servant of the people, as one representative of the base remarked, and it is not out of line with previous acts of mercy that have been staged by the Air Force, and other military organizations.

That angle of the situation does not detract any from the generosity and the thoughtfulness of the air base officers, and it is a matter that might be of vital importance to some sufferer today, tomorrow or next week—Roswell Record.

HOOVER REPORT

The Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report for the reorganization of the executive branch of the federal government ceased its activities last month. This committee was organized April 1949, and during the period of its existence, about 3000 state, county, and local committees were formed, to cooperate with it. In New Mexico, the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico, the Junior Chambers of Commerce, a state Hoover committee, and many other groups united and carried on an aggressive campaign. These organizations have also suspended their activities, in order not to involve the cause in political conflict.

The above announcement is made by Rupert F. Asplund, director of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico, and secretary of the New Mexico state committee for the Hoover Commission reports.

In reviewing the results of the campaign, Asplund points out that an estimated 70 per cent of the more than 300 recommendations have been, in whole or in part, enacted into law, which will eventually make economies in federal government administration of as much as $4 billion. "Preliminary estimates," says Asplund, "show identifiable economies of approximately one and a quarter billion dollars, which are now being realized, and that amounts to about $30 per family in the nation."

"The effort was certainly worth while, and the money spent by the commission, led by former President Herbert Hoover, as insignificant compared with the amount saved. With an appropriation of $2 million, the savings accomplished are more than 655 times the cost. For every dollar invested in the Hoover commission, the taxpayers save $655."

As a further, far-reaching result, Asplund calls attention to the fact that 30 States, at least, set up "Little Hoover Commissions," similar in purpose to the commission so organized and directed by Hoover. In New Mexico, such a state committee, under the chairmanship of E. L. Moulton, has completed its report, and bills in line with its recommendations are being drafted for presentation at the session of our state legislature, which meets next January.

Asplund refrains from making any estimate of possible saving, but notes that the New Mexico committee expects that taxes will be held at present levels. If its recommendations are accepted even in part, efficiency will be increased and better service rendered. This will result, in Asplund's opinion, only if an effective personnel administration system is enacted, which will base appointments to public service on qualifications as to honest and capability.

RUIDOSO GROWS

The resort town of Ruidoso is one of the fastest developing smaller communities in the state. Hardly a week passes that it does not come up with some new project. The latest proposal is for the establishment of a "Girl's Town" there patterned after Father Flanagan's famous "Boy's Town" in Nebraska. The suggestion was made by Bernie Williams, a song writer, who believes that some woman's organization with a national affiliation could be induced to sponsor the project.

Among the actual accomplishments this year was the promotion of a bank. A building is now being erected for its occupancy. A sky ride was put into operation recently, an aerial tramway that takes passengers to the summit of Moon Mountain.

And to show that the town does not depend entirely upon summer tourists, it's reported the lumber industry presents the largest industrial payroll. Timber sales from the Mescalero reservation for the year ended June 30 amounted to $245,153. All logs cut were manufactured in three mills at Hollywood and Green Tree—Albuquerque Journal.
