Roselawn Well Is Shut Down; Council May Sink Another

Broken Pump, Dipping Water Cause Shutdown

Shutdown of Artesia's oldest water well was announced today night in city council session by Harry B. Gilmore, chairman for the council. He said break-down of the plus draw-down of water in the well put the Roselawn owner Richardson and Rose-out of commission, perhaps permanently. Making his report Gilmore stated that the city now investigating possibilities of sinking another artesian well or a new well for the 1953 season, when an all-time water consumption is predicted.

Through the summer Artesia was hit by recurring water breaks of which the Roselawn break-down is the latest. The water tables have left in at least two wells high in this summer.

Pointment—A new city well near the base was a disappointment, though it climbed to 475 gallons minute after being put in use. It has been cut back to however, because of heavy air.

Workmen described the Roselawn difficulties this way: Eight-inch pipe does down to below ground level. At 68 the eight-inch ends and a six-inch pipe goes down to the bottom well, between 900 and 1,100 below the surface, pumping Artesian strata.

Workmen pulled the pump from the well when it stopped being a piece which had been resting on top of the six-inch pipe, and city workmen were to retrieve it. In addition, water level was 23 below the top of the six-inch well.

Producer Flows 76 Barrels Day, Three Staked

Two wells were completed and three locations staked in North Eddy county oil this week. One of the completions is a producer, flowing 76 barrels per day after acid.

Completions are E. L. Wilson No. 2 Skinner in SW NW 18-24-29, flowing 76 barrels a day from 2,722 feet, and Metner & Pipes No. 1 McBride in SW NE 28-20-27, plugged and abandoned after reaching 752 feet.

New locations are Donnelly Drilling Co. No. 1 Welch & Yates in SE NW 25-17-28; Martin Yates III No. 1 McCord, SW NW 22-23-26; and DeKalb Agricultural association No. 1 Hannah et al, SE SE 13-24-28.

Meanwhile, drilling at Gulf Oil Co. No. 1 General American, located 26 miles east of Artesia, is reported at 7,492 feet. The test is slated to go to 14,000 feet, and is being closely watched by oil operators as a deep test.

Drilling report is as follows: C. L. East et al, State 2, NW SE 33-17-29.

Total depth 3100, shut down Phillips & Ramsey No. 3 Carpenter-Levers SE SW 34-17-28.

Total depth 2633, shut down for orders. George Atkins No. 4 Iles, NW SE 17-16-29.

Spot Where He Killed His Niece

JOHN CHAUNCEY LAWRENCE, 37, is shown (right) at the roadside scene in California where he told authorities he bashed in the head of his niece, Kathryn Knodel, 16, Redlands, Calif., with a rock. Behind him is Redlands Police Chief Slaughter. Lawrence said he stopped at the Knodel home, found Kathryn alone, "made a pass," then took her joy riding. He said they engaged in intimacies, and that she was badly injured by a tire tool while he was fixing a flat. He said he became frightened, pushed her down an embankment and killed her to try to make it appear she had been attacked.

CONSTRUCTION PLANS
Plans for a $93,000 re-construction program at city sewage disposal plant are near completion, according to word received this week by J. D. Josey, city engineer, from Herkenhoff & Turney, Santa Fe engineering firm. Plans may be completed within the next 10 days, the engineers said.

Thirteenth Street Rebuilding Plans Progress
Rebuilding of Thirteenth street is possible in the near future, according to plans discussed before city council Wednesday evening. A program of city, county, and state cooperation will be used to rebuild the two miles of paving from Hermosa drive to the Hope by-pass.

James Byrd, state highway department district engineer, told Mayor J. L. Briscoe the state will be able to share one-third of work on re-building the street.

W. T. "Doc" Haldeman, county commissioner, expressed the belief the commission will be able to provide materials which will make about one-third of the cost.

Councilmen decided they will appear before the county commission to outline the Thirteenth street re-building when the county officers next meet Monday, Sept. 8.

Haldeman said he contemplated a road which will take about 8,000 gallons of oil per mile and 350 yards of base material. Total cost will be about $2,200, Haldeman estimated.

Haldeman was accompanied by Glenn Danford, county road superintendent. Danford, however, did not speak before the council.

Mayor J. L. Briscoe told Haldeman he and City Supervisor J. D. Josey, Jr., would prepare figures and plans for submission to county commissioners.

Artesia Soldier Wounded in Korea

Advocate Special Conservation Issue To Be Published Wednesday

Soil and water conservation in North Eddy county will be featured in a special 40-page issue of the Artesia Advocate to be issued next Wednesday, Sept. 3. Labor Day vacations for the entire staff will hold up delivery of next Tuesday's paper until Wednesday morning. The Artesia Advocate office will join other businesses in observing Labor Day next Monday, Sept. 1. The special conservation sections will be included in the regular edition. It will be placed on newsstands and mailed to subscribers without extra charges.

The special edition not only features award-winning conservation practices in North Eddy county, but will also include an authoritative article on the Roswell artesian basin. This special article contains recommendations for improving our water supply, a description of where and how we get artesian water, and other vital information.

More than 30 local pictures and articles have been prepared by the soil conservation service in Artesia, which is cooperating with the Advocate to bring forth this special issue.

Grantham's Whirlwind Visit Features Blast At Mechem

A whirlwind day of political fence mending, speech-making, and shaking hands was Wednesday's schedule in Artesia for Everett Grantham, Democratic gubernatorial nominee who will oppose Governor Edwin L. Mechem in November.

Grantham began with a pep-talk before 30 Democrat leaders Wednesday morning in a breakfast session at Artesia hotel. He conferred with local backers through the morning, made a brief non-political speech before Lions club at noon, and turned in a 15-minute radio talk at 6:30 p. m.

Again and again Wednesday reconciliation talk and all-out rallying behind the Grantham banner were voiced by Artesia Democratic leaders, who had supported Grantham's primary opponent, Lake J. Frazier of Roswell.

Grantham said he and Frazier "are now good friends. We have conferred on a number of mutually interesting problems, and are in agreement."

Reared Here—
The candidate opened his breakfast talk by recalling he had been reared in the Pecos Valley and "saw the dirt roads here before the paved roads. I realize the great development of southeastern New Mexico, and especially of Eddy county."

Grantham, while disclaiming ill-will toward Governor Mechem, threw a number of barbs at the Republican administration. He struck out at: —Public school administrators having to lobby against one another for money collected under the two per cent sales tax. "There should not be this competition," he said.

—Republican bureau of revenue management. He stated Governor Mechem had pledged "to remove 100 deadheads" from that bureau. At the peak of the Democratic administration, Grantham said, there were 379 on the payroll, who drew $41,900 pay for a two-week period. Under the GOP, employment has reached 429 with a payroll in excess of $55,000, Grantham said.

Second Term—
—A second term for Governor Mechem. "If you hire a business manager and at the end of two years he doesn't deliver, you fire him," Grantham said. "Governor Mechem has not delivered his promises, and is not entitled to a second term," he added.

—Out-of-state personnel hired, especially Melvin Drake, state tourist bureau director. Grantham (Continued on Page Eight)

No-Down-Payment Sale Units To Draw Potash Workers

Construction of 72 houses for defense workers began in Artesia Tuesday when workmen for American Builders, Inc., of Albuquerque poured the first foundation on the firm's large tract of land in the southwest corner of Artesia.

The homes will be made available to defense workers who are also veterans. No down payment is required for the 72 houses—all sale units—and would-be owners have only to pay closing costs, according to Fred Sproule of Albuquerque, president of American Builders.

The community's long-awaited drive to provide defense housing for potash and oil workers is expected to receive added impetus following Labor Day next week, when 49 rental units will be placed under construction.

Eligible to buy the 72 sale units under construction here by the Albuquerque firm are workers in the potash and oil industries in Eddy county. The workers in these two defense industries must also be veterans, Sproule pointed out, to be eligible for this housing.

Oil workers eligible for the housing include those connected with refining, exploration, and production. Potash miners and production workers come under the eligibility rules, Sproule stated.

The 72 homes will be built on the same land where American Builders started construction of two- and three-bedroom homes. The land is south of Junior high school and is bounded by Thirteenth street on the west, Sears avenue on the south, and Centre avenue on the north.

American Builders also have built 18 other homes on the tract and are completing 11 others. Sproule said the 72 units will be completed "as soon as we possibly can."

The firm's defense housing will be similar in design to the units already constructed in southwest Artesia. Pueblo style architecture has been followed in exterior design.

Both two and three bedroom units will be constructed by American Builders. The Albuquerque firm Tuesday received long-awaited authorization to proceed with construction of the housing, which is being built under federal housing regulations.

First Allocation—
An initial allocation of 49 defense housing units in December is expected to be placed under (Continued on Page Four)

City Returns Bill For Labor At $7.44 Hour

The case of a bill which turned out to be twice the original estimate was presented to city council Wednesday night and promptly turned back for "reconsideration" and investigation.

F. F. "Doc" Elvin presented a bill for $765 to city council for systematizing the city's water and sewer tax assessments. Elvin had originally told the council several weeks ago the work would cost between $250 and $300, although this might not be the exact figure.

Elvin's bill included $645 for 86 3/4 hours of his labor on the rolls, and $120 to pay for 60 hours of typing. Council figured Elvin's hourly rate at $7.44.

The intensive drive will be about 10 days long, Stovall pointed out, and because of enthusiastic reception in the community, seems assured of success.

The Artesia FFA last spring won district sweepstakes honors in a contest at Texas Tech, Lubbock. A week later the local chapter took state sweepstakes honors in contests at Las Cruces.

Scheduled to attend the national dairy and dairy products judging contest late in September are Travis Zeleny, Franklin McAnally, Hunt Zumwalt, and Jeff Floyd. They will be accompanied by Truman Short.

"This is the first time New Mexico has had the honor of having a team to represent the state in two national contests," Stovall has stated.

Artesia Guidance Clinic Urged To Be 'Positive' In Teaching
Positive attitudes by teachers in public schools was urged in an address given by Charles Mills, Hobbs superintendent of schools, before the opening day child guidance clinic Thursday.

Teachers should not emphasize the negative, he declared. "They should stress the positive, both in their teaching and with folks out of school. School people need to better understand the daily living and philosophy of the people with whom they deal."

School Outlines Accident, Injury Insurance for Athletes

An athletic benefit plan for the athletes of Artesia high school has been adopted for the year 1952-53 with the Security Life and Accident Co. of Denver.

The coverage of insurance for the Artesia high school football players is:

1—While engaged in inter-scholastic athletics, sponsored by the school and approved by the association, under the supervision of a regularly employed coach or director, is scheduled contests or in practice sessions, or

2—By accidental means during transportation to or from scheduled athletic contests in vehicles furnished by and under the direct supervision of the school.

This is the same policy Artesia schools have carried during the past two years on athletes. Attention should be called to the parents on the above mentioned coverage that the athletes are covered only during school hours while under the direct supervision of the coaching staff or by transportation to and from scheduled athletic contests which are under the direct supervision of the school.

Athletes attending a game under their own transportation would not be covered in case of an accident and the school thus requires all athletes to go to and from the games under the direct sponsorship of the school rather than going with other means of transportation.

The policy does not cover sprains and bruises or such items as boils, warts, blisters, ingrown nails, athletes foot and other skin ailments.

The company has increased benefits as follows for the coming years:

1—Dental maximums increased from $25 to $50 if bridgework not involved and from $75 to $100 if bridgework is involved.

2—Injury to cervical spine (other than fracture or dislocation) covered on per treatment basis up to a maximum of $24.

3—Ambulance charges (games away from home) covered at rate of 50 cents per mile to a maximum of $10.

The policy does not cover everything nor does it try to apply to every injury as a total health, life and accident policy that covers all items is beyond the finances of the athletic department, but the Security Life and Accident is one that the school can maintain in order that it might reach as far as possible the serious injuries of the athletes of our high school.

Grid Officials To Meet Tuesday, Discuss Rules

Football officiating will be discussed in Artesia during a meeting with U. G. "Monty" Montgomery, state athletic association executive secretary, next Tuesday night.

Travis Stovall, high school principal, said the meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the audio-visual education room at the high school.

Montgomery will be in charge of the meeting, which has been called to discuss rules and other topics relative to football officiating.

Artesia men interested in football officiating, as well as school administrators are to attend the meeting.

construction in the near future by Casa Bonita, Inc. headed by Edgar Snow of Albuquerque. The units will all be rentals, and are expected to be built southeast of Junior high school.

Construction of the 72 sale units by American Builders is being done under a second defense housing allocation given Artesia this spring.

Lack of housing has slowed an Artesia move to attract defense workers in oil and potash industries into the community. The housing problems has been attacked by Artesia Chamber of Commerce, Artesia Multiple Listing Bureau and Board of Realtors, and other civic organizations.

Drillers Polish Off Oilers 10-2 Tuesday Night

Artesia Drillers polished off a careful 10-2 win over league-leading Odessa Tuesday night to take the first of three games slated with the Oilers at Driller Park this week.

Driller batters shoved Artesia into an early lead, bringing in two in the first and five in the second. Artesia was able to score once more in the fifth and twice in the sixth to sew up the game.

Odessa shoved over single tallies in the third and eighth. LaVerne Herrmann went all the way for the Drillers, yielding five scattered hits for Odessa's two runs. Herrmann walked three, struck out eight.

Quintana and Perez handled Oiler mound chores, with Quintana starting and Perez relieving in the second with one out and two on. Both yielded five hits apiece, but Quintana was credited with seven runs, Perez three. Quintana walked four, Perez seven. Quintana struck out none, Perez one.

Artesia drew first blood in the opening stanza with two runs when Paul Halter and Joe Bauman both walked and both scored on Rudy Briner's single.

In the five-run Artesia second, lead-off man Jim Ackers singled, Pete Pichan was walked, and Herrmann was safe on an error, loading the sacks. Vince Sarubbi's single brought in two, and Paul Halter's single scored Herrmann and Sarubbi.

Halter came in when Joe Bauman doubled.

Odessa sent one runner across in the third after Herrmann had struck out the first two up. Dieppa was on by an error, scored when Ortega knocked a hard single.

Bill Haley stepped over the plate for Artesia in the fifth after hitting a double. Pete Pichan's double scored Haley.

Artesia finished scoring in the sixth with Bauman and Briner coming across on Briner's home run.

Oilers managed one more in the eighth when Ortega singled and came home on Loyko's hard double just left of second base.

Both teams were credited with two errors.

Hermosa School Entry Into City Is Scheduled

Tentative approval to bring the new Hermosa school property into the city limits was given Wednesday night by the city council, which at the same time discussed sever problems concerning the school.

A committee including Councilmen Harry Gilmore, Marshall Rowley, and Homer Campbell were appointed by Mayor J. L. Briscoe to meet with the school board.

Councilmen also discussed possibility of providing sewer service to the Zia addition, a step which would take only a small added amount of money, according to J. D. Josey, city supervisor.

Portugal has been an independent country since the Twelfth century.

Roberts Hiring Proposal Again Is Postponed

Discussion over hiring of former mayor Oren C. Roberts as either city construction engineer or city supervisor was again postponed at Wednesday night's city council meeting, due to recent surgery undergone by Roberts.

Mayor J. L. Briscoe announced Roberts would "probably" be able to attend the Sept. 10 meeting of the council. The mayor also said several other applications have been received for the new job under consideration by the council.

Soundproofing Volunteered By City Councilman

An exasperated city councilman, unable to hear discussion in Wednesday night's session, told the council he will "at cost" put up an acoustical tile ceiling in the city dad's new meeting room.

Removal of library furniture has left the large room "an acoustical nightmare."

Councilman Homer Campbell said "we can't go through two years of this." He volunteered to have the work done at or below cost for an estimated $150, which Campbell said was a considerable saving over the $700 estimate given by an Artesia building contractor.

more advised the council. "We may be able to buy for about $2,000 the Denton well, which produced 1,200 to 1,500 gallons per minute." (The well is located directly west of the new city well at the ball park and is owned by Charles Denton.)
"If we cannot do that," Gilmore continued, "we better investigate our available water rights and see what can be done about drilling another artesian well. If it takes as long to put our application through as for this last well, we haven't much time."

Gilmore was referring to shallow well permits secured by the city for new ball park well after two years of negotiation with the state engineer's office.

Hospital—
collection has been slow at the hospital, city and doctors' subsidies have enabled it to remain in good financial condition.
A doctor who did not wish to be quoted said Thursday members of his profession have been "very well satisfied" with hospital operations and will "very likely" wish to continue with their support.

Indian Advertising—
—Over-advertising of state Indian attractions and not enough diversity in state advertising. "South-eastern New Mexico has been virtually ignored."
—Liquor board legislation asked by Governor Mechem, passed by the legislature, then vetoed by the governor.
Grantham said he believed the Democratic party had an excellent ticket, "top to bottom."

Brown is owner of Brown Pipe & Supply Co. with headquarters in Artesia and other southeastern New Mexico stores.
Brown explained that an inspector cannot force his way into a home without a search warrant by court order.
Have Not Read—
"Objections to the proposal come mainly from people who have not read the code I proposed. They have just 'heard' so-and-so, and have misconceptions.

"Public discussion is all right for it will bring out all sides to this proposal. We certainly do not want it to restrict legitimate operators nor create monopolies," Brown said.
The plumbing codes proposed by Brown and Losee are under consideration of the city water sewer committee, headed by city cilman H. B. Gilmore.
MEAT INSPECTOR
Dr. C. R. Covington was appointed city meat inspector Wednesday night by city council. Doctor Covington held the position prior to closing of the Packing Co. in April, and will turn to his duties as soon as slaughtering is resumed by firm next Tuesday.
