Mex Plans Asphalt Plant Installation

Manufacture of asphalt road oils will be undertaken by New Mexico Asphalt & Refining Co. early in September, 1952, announced this week by the general manager.

Realizing the need for a New Mexico-produced asphalt, the company is now in the process of installing facilities for manufacture of asphalt and asphalt oils at the general manager's plant.

Equipment being installed is of the most modern design, and quality of the products should be of the highest quality," he added.

The project is scheduled for completion during the early part of 1953. Upon completion of this project the company will be back in the asphalt and road oil market, anticipating to supply the requirements for the products through the state of New Mexico," he concluded.

Mex began its Artesia operations in September 1941 and installed facilities for manufacturing asphalt and road oil early in 1942. It became a major sales outlet and was supplied by Numex construction of military bases throughout the area.

Production increases and increased military activity in the West brought about greater demands for gasoline and other petroleum products and asphalt was added to the company's list of products in order to meet increased demands.

Numex is now producing 11 million gallons of gasoline every week, according to figures released this week by R. A. Wilcox, county clerk.

Al Woelk Resigns After 20 Years At Western Union

Al Woelk, manager of the Artesia Western Union office for the past 20 years, has announced his resignation, effective at once.

He has been with Western Union for 27 years, having been employed at the firm's Denver office for seven years before choosing Artesia as location for his home.

"I came here because of the climate and the opportunity I found here," Woelk says.

No announcement of a successor for the Artesia office management has been announced by the company.

In making his resignation Woelk said "I believe I owe it to myself to rest a while. For 20 years I have worked seven days one week, six the next. It's been very confining."

In the future Woelk plans to enter private business.

He will also study land leveling, water conservation, and cattle breeding.

Woelk now owns an irrigated stock and cotton farm two miles east of Artesia and takes pride in Hereford cattle he has brought to his land.

The farm has for several years been operated by Orval Bratcher, who will continue his management of the farm, Woelk stated.

Jury Hangs In Police Officer's Calf-Buying Trial

Chavez, Dempsey Defend Washington

Dempsey Defends Administration, Blames Congress

Opponents to Democratic administration have called for a change, "but what change are they talking about," Rep. John J. Dempsey asked in a luncheon appearance Tuesday in Artesia.

"You can't simply say 'we need a change,'" Dempsey declared. "Those who cry that should present a program. If they can show a program, I might go along with them."

"Past history shows it won't make much difference whose in office if there is no program," Dempsey concluded.

Dempsey was one of three Democratic candidates visiting here on Tuesday. Appearing with him at a noon luncheon attended by about 50 Artesia Democratic leaders, was Supt. of Public Instruction Tom Wiley. Senator Dennis Chavez joined the group in Artesia later in the day.

Also attending Tuesday's lunch were R. L. Westaway, county Democratic chairman; Joe Gant, county delegate to the Democratic national convention; Gene Lusk, candidate for state senator; Xury White; and Gil Archuleta, state Disabled American Veterans commander.

Dempsey defended the Democratic administration by declaring only 1/4 of one per cent of those in Washington are wrong-doers. "I think those wrong-doers should go to the penitentiary wherever they are found, Washington or otherwise," the congressman declared.

"We are smearing a group when we say all Washington is dishonest, his reflects on honest public officials who have given their lives to public service and now find themselves smeared because of that dedication," he said.

The administration is doing a good job of weeding out poor government employees, Dempsey advanced to making "best dress" clothing from more difficult materials such as silks and rayons, and other materials. Third year of the program centers around workshops in tailoring.

Mrs. Mary B. Nelson, Chavez county extension agent, outlined her cotton workshops, the first to be held in New Mexico under the three-year clothing program.

Mrs. C. W. Russell of Artesia, who with Mrs. Floyd Hickson of Cottonwood served as co-chairman of the dress revue, introduced women as they modeled clothing made in cotton workshops.

Leaders who led instruction making dresses were Mrs. Paul Zeleny and Mrs. Russell, Artesia; Mrs. James Thigpen and Mrs. Floyd Hickson, Cottonwood; Mrs. R. L. House, Lakewood; and Mrs. F. W. Jordan, Mrs. Holmes Smith, and Mrs. Walter Porter, Carlsbad.

Modeling clothes in the dress revue were Mrs. W. T. Cranford, Mrs. A. L. Jackson, Artesia; Mrs. H. T. Gissler, Atoka; Mrs. J. W. McNeil, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, Mrs. Ray Zumwalt, Cottonwood; Mrs. Wicher Angell, Lakewood; and from Carlsbad, Mrs. Sam Cox, Mrs. Tillman Taylor, Mrs. Leroy Hotman, Mrs. E. W. Hodnett, Mrs. Green London, and Mrs. O. L. Wood.

Committees serving with Mrs. Cranford as general chairman were Mrs. Gissler and Mrs. Jack McCaw of Artesia, refreshments; Mrs. W. T. Haldeman and Mrs. B. E. Green of Artesia, decorations; Mrs. R. L. House of Atoka and Mrs. Orval Gray, Cottonwood, house arrangements; and Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Hickson, dress revue.

Following the dress revue, those attending the afternoon session view exhibits set up in the church building by several clubs and joined in refreshments.

Businesses using water cooled motors and located in the area described are urged to keep a very close check on these motors to see they are receiving proper amount of water, Josey stated.

Because valves now in the ground are so old, workmen cannot cut off parts of the city where they are working block-by-block, Josey said. After installation of the new valves, however, workmen will be able to cut off a small segment of residential and business areas at a time as they clean water lines, thus reducing inconvenience.

Josey said workmen must make "wet connections" of the new valves. Water pressure will drop throughout the area described, although because of the system's age, exact amount of the drop is not known.

Eighty Extension Club Women Attend Dress Revue, Tea

More than 80 members of Eddy county extension clubs gathered in Artesia Tuesday for the Eddy county dress revue and tea with North Eddy county clubs as hostesses.

Amid colorful autumn decorations in Parish Hall of First Presbyterian church, 23 women modeled cotton dresses made under a new workshop program developed at New Mexico A&M college.

Mrs. W. T. Cranford, general dress revue chairman, introduced Miss Rhea Boyles, state extension clothing specialist, New Mexico A&M college, who outlined the clothing workshop program being developed.

First year in the three-year workshop program is devoted to making cotton dresses, Miss Boyles advanced. Second year workshops advanced to making "best dress" clothing from more difficult materials such as silks and rayons, and other materials. Third year of the program centers around workshops in tailoring.

Mrs. Mary B. Nelson, Chavez county extension agent, outlined her cotton workshops, the first to be held in New Mexico under the three-year clothing program.

West's Seniority Aids Reclamation, Senator Declares

The power of the Western states and the fight rural electrification and reclamation has had against Republicans were detailed here Tuesday night in a radio broadcast by Senator Dennis Chavez and Rep. J. J. Dempsey.

"The West has never before held such power in the Senate, in that six of the 15 committee chairmanships are held by Western state senators," Senator Chavez declared.

The two appeared on a question-and-answer program here. The radio program was straddled with meetings with local people, including the REA and alfalfa and cotton growers in this section of the Pecos Valley.

Congressman Dempsey asserted the REA had been fought as "socialistic" when the program was begun in 1935 and that it "was a hard fight" to get it going. Today, he said, there are 2,700 REA users in Eddy county, and he called REA the biggest thing for the rural areas in history.

Senators Chavez pointed out, in reply to questions about seniority and Democratic control of the Congress, that committee chairmanships are held by senators from Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming, Nevada, Montana, and New Mexico. He is chairman of the Senate committee on public works, which handles all laws pertaining to highways, rivers and harbors, flood control and public buildings.

"These six states have, together, only 11 Congressmen out of more than 400, but they have one senator each who is chairman of a committee in the Senate," he said. "The power of the Western states in influencing legislation in the Senate for the progress of the

Cotton Gins Produce 15,924 Bales to Date

Six Artesia cotton gins have turned out 15,924 bales to date, according to a weekly survey on Wednesday by Carl Foster, manager of the Artesia New Mexico employment security commission office.

Foster noted 3,398 Mexican Nationals were contracted during September to work in the cotton harvest, bringing total number of Nationals under contract at the end of September to 4,106.

Contracts have been extended for an additional six months on 119 of these workers, the first to be extended beyond the previous one-year limitation, Foster stated.

Nationals are subject to replacement when domestic workers become available.

Total bales ginned to date this season are as follows:

Association	Bales
Atoka	1,521
Espuella	2,834
Farmers	3,437
Cottonwood	2,499
Mill	3,225

Walker said the county "is using city money for little-used roads" and charge it "has become the practice for some county commissioners, upon their election to office, to build roads to their outlying property."

Spurlin in his counter-attack pointed out that the "farm-to-market road which serves the property of County Commissioner Haldeman of Artesia, among others, was completed three years before he became a county commissioner."

Spurlin last Sunday loosed his counter-charge on Carlsbad Mayor Walker Bryan and City Atty. Mor-

Date for New Trial Not Set; Grimlan Remains Suspended

Trial of Billy Grimlan, suspended Artesia police officer charged with illegal purchase of a calf, resulted in a hung jury Wednesday in district court in Carlsbad. Jurors deliberated nearly seven hours in the case before reporting to District Judge C. Roy Anderson they were hopelessly deadlocked.

Division of the jury on the case has not been learned. Dist. Atty. N. R. Reese attempted to show Grimlan bought the calf knowing they had been stolen. Defense attorneys D. D. Archer of Artesia and Caswell Neal, Carlsbad, sought to show Grimlan had no knowledge the calf was stolen and was an innocent purchaser.

Chief of Police Earl D. Westfall said Thursday Grimlan would remain under suspension until the case is "definitely cleared."

Grimlan was suspended two days after being charged June 6 with illegal purchase of a calf. Similar charges against E. C. Hair of Artesia, Andy Roy Teel of Hope, and Clint Myers of Artesia have been dropped.

Defense attorneys called seven Artesians to testify to Grimlan's character. They were Aldwyer Mills, Ray Bartlett, Earl D. Westfall, E. B. Bullock, Dwight Lee, Albert Lee, and A. C. Sadler.

Called by the prosecution were Will Malone, cattle inspector; Dwayne White, youth under sentence for cattle stealing; Raleigh Newbill of Hope, given a deferred sentence on cattle stealing; Fred Savoie, Artesia rancher from whom White and Newbill admittedly stole calves; C. C. "Coke" Fluore, inspector; and L. L. Prude.

Defense witnesses testified as to length of their acquaintance with Grimlan and his excellent reputation in the community.

Prude testified White used to "follow Grimlan around" when the officer was assigned to parking meter duty with the Artesia police department.

Savoie testified calves taken from his ranch were taken without his permission or knowledge. Fluore and Malone testified to circumstances surrounding Grimlan's arrest on the calf-buying charge. Newbill and White described sale of the calf to Grimlan.

Much of the testimony for the state had previously been brought out in a June preliminary hearing in Artesia when Grimlan was arraigned before Justice of Peace J. D. Josey, who ordered him bound over to district court.

Jurors left the courtroom to deliberate at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday and were summoned by Judge Anderson (Continued on Page Six)

Chamber Seeks Federal Ruling On GI Housing

Broadened interpretation of government regulations covering GI housing in Artesia will be sought by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce housing committee, Chairman Clyde Gilman has announced.

Aim of the committee is to qualify all Artesia GIs for housing now being constructed in the city, Gilman added.

Committee members agreed many more houses are needed in Artesia. Chairman Gilman repeated a previous plea for prompt listing of housing vacancies, either with the chamber or local realtors.

Those attending the session of the chamber held last Friday included Glen Clem, Lowe Wickersham, Chile E. Currier, T. E. Brown Sr., and Fred Croule of American Builders.

Only once since 1947 has GI financing been available in Artesia, and that was very short of demand, Gilman has pointed out.

Request for the broadened interpretation was sent to the regional representative, housing and home finance agency, Kansas City.

County FFA, 4-H Stock Sale, Show Opens October 31

Ninth annual Eddy county 4-H and FFA livestock show and sale will be held Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 at the Carlsbad armory, under sponsorship of the Carlsbad Farm and Ranch Improvement Association and Artesia Kiwanis club.

An additional day has been added to the fair, formerly a one-day event, because of growth of the sale and show into a leading agriculture event.

Young people wishing to enter the show must be a regular member of an Eddy county Future Farmers of America chapter of 4-H club. Entry blanks must be in the supervisor's or county agent's office by Oct. 25, and calves to be shown must have been owned by the exhibitor six months, sheep three months, and hogs three months.

Livestock and poultry should be on the grounds and ready for judging at 9 a. m. Oct. 31 Friday, Oct. 31, and will be shown by the owner—adults aren't allowed to assist.

Calves will be divided into two eight classes, fat weathers into mutton and fine wool classes, fat bar classes.

Entries for the clothing division must be handed to the local leader or the county agent's office at 10 a. m. Monday, Oct. 27, in Artesia, Lakewood, Cottonwood, Atoka, Hope, and Oilfield districts. Entries in food preparation and baking must be at the fair grounds by 9 a. m., Oct. 31.

Severe injury to Artesia Bulldog football player Howard Price will put the standout gridster out of action for perhaps a year, his parents have learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Price have learned their son's left arm must remain in a heavy cast for six weeks, a lighter cast for another six weeks and will probably be stiff for at least a year.

Howard will be 17 on Oct. 31.

City Water Cut-Offs Scheduled From First To Twelfth Streets, Texas to Washington

Water system repairs, first steps in a thorough overhaul of Artesia water facilities, will necessitate cut-offs of water service to a large segment of downtown users, City Engineer J. D. Josey, Jr., announced Thursday.

Beginning today, installation of water valves in downtown area water pipes may reduce pressure so low now water can be drawn, Josey said.

The area affected begins at First street and extends across the city to Twelfth, and on Texas street through Washington.

Thus residents living on or between First and Twelfth streets, and on Texas, Main, Quay, Richardson, Grand, Missouri, Dallas, and Washington are cautioned to store enough water in their homes to serve them through the morning.

possibly through the noon hour. This will be necessary for the next three weeks, Josey said.

"We regret very much the inconvenience and in some cases, hardship, this will cause to residents," Josey said. "However, the system is about 20 years old in much of the section we are going into, and we cannot longer defer this action."

Josey said installation of the water valves is the first step in an overhaul of the water system which will eventually see water lines thoroughly cleaned, replaced where necessary, and greater control over water service made possible.

Because valves now in the ground are so old, workmen cannot cut off parts of the city where they are working block-by-block, Josey said. After installation of the new valves, however, workmen will be able to cut off a small segment of residential and business areas at a time as they clean water lines, thus reducing inconvenience.

Josey said workmen must make "wet connections" of the new valves. Water pressure will drop throughout the area described, although because of the system's age, exact amount of the drop is not known.

Alma Ann Berry Becomes Bride of Earl Burnam in Service Saturday

Miss Alma Ann Berry became the bride of Earl H. Burnam at 2 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 11, at the home of her parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Berry, 709 Clayton street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Burnam of French, Texas.

The couple stood between two flower baskets filled with white and pink flowers. Rev. S. M. Morrison, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue acetate and rayon suit with navy blue accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with pink rosebuds.

Something New—For something new was her bridal suit; something old and borrowed was a handkerchief belonging to her aunt, and in her Bible she carried a silver dollar that was given to her by her father when she was born.

Dewana Berry, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a pink suit with black accessories, and her corsage was of white asters.

Buddy Dillard of Wichita Falls, Texas, was best man.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise dress with brown accessories and her corsage was golden asters.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnam left that evening on a honeymoon trip to Albuquerque, and upon their return they will be located at 1203 W. Grand.

Artesia Graduate—The bride is a graduate of Artesia high school and attended Texas State College for Women in Denton. She is now employed in the office of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The bridegroom attended West Texas State college in Canyon, and is employed by Geophysical Exploration, Inc.

Out-of-town guests present were J. H. Gilbert of Lovington, grandfather of the bride; Mrs. Buddy Gilbert of Lovington and Mrs. Cecil Nickell of Tatum, aunts of the bride, and Ronnie Nickell of Tatum, cousin of the bride.

Legion Auxiliary Past Presidents Complete Toys

Forty-seven toys and gifts were completed by the Past Presidents Puzley at an all-day meeting Monday at the Veterans Memorial building.

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Earl Darst, membership chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary reported past presidents had collected dues from 75 members.

These gifts will be sent to the veterans Christmas gift shop at Fort Bayard and Albuquerque.

At noon a covered-dish luncheon was served with Mrs. C. R. Vandagriff as hostess and Mrs. J. L. Briscoe as co-hostess.

Those present were Meses Earl Darst, H. R. Paton, H. B. Gilmore, Raymond Bartlett, Ralph Rogers, P. V. Morris, Charles Dungan, C. R. Vandagriff, and J. L. Briscoe, members, and John A. Mathis, Jr., a guest.

Lake Arthur

The Lake Arthur fire department personnel and families were feted Thursday evening with an antelope barbecue on the lawn of the Kersey Funk home. Mr. Funk just returned from a successful hunt north of Roswell making this treat possible. Games of canasta and 42 were present after the barbecue. Those present were Messrs. and Mrs. John Haven, O. E. Smith, William Opfer and children, E. L. Cummins, Luke Ray, Jud Taylor, Jimmie Funk, John Havener Jr. and children, Ray Pate and Bob, Mayor and Mrs. A. K. Ripley and Paula; Mmes. W. F. Whately and children, Bill Grassie; Misses Betty Jane Ray, Betty Carolyn and Barbara Funk, Larry Ray, J. K. and Freddie Funk and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Kersey Funk.

Members from the Lake Arthur Methodist church attending the quarterly conference in Artesia recently were Messrs. and Mmes. E. I. Cummins, John Lane and Viola, O. E. Smith, Mrs. May McDonald and Clyde Nihart. District Supt. E. Trone conducted the services.

The Lake Arthur 4-H club will meet Oct. 15 in the Home Ec room at the high school at 3:45 p. m. or immediately after school. The new leader is Mrs. Hodges of the C&M ranch, west of town. There are about a dozen girls who have enrolled for the coming year and they have expressed themselves as looking forward to a successful year under the leadership of the new Chaves county 4-H club leader Mrs. Billie Sue Abernombie of Roswell, who replaces Tiny Faye Jones who has accepted a promotion in the state office at Las Cruces.

High Powered Survey Queries Into Tourist Spending, Can't Conclude

Is the value of New Mexico's tourist trade in keeping with the expenditures made for it?

That's one of the major questions taken up by Vincent T. Ximenes, research assistant of the University's Bureau of Business Research, in a sharp and analytical appraisal in Tourist Bureau appropriations since 1935, when it was set at $50,000.

The 1952 tentative budget of the Tourist Bureau is set at $291,000, he reports.

The money for these appropriations comes from gasoline tax revenue. Ximenes says that most of this money will go for advertising and publicity.

"The New Mexico budget was the largest reported," he says, "in the mountain area states, and may be the highest in the nation, in proportion to the population and revenue of the state."

In many states, the legislatures have shown unwillingness to spend the taxpayer's money on tourist advertising. Texas cannot do so under its constitution.

What Success?— But just how successful has been the campaign to advertise the tourist attractions of New Mexico?

Ximenes says there is no adequate information at the present time to give a full answer to that question. We do not have any complete census of travelers.

But we do know that the mountain states probably has the largest volume of out-of-state travel over any other region in the country.

And yet, only 6.7 per cent of these travelers are vacationing in

In a table Ximenes has drawn up he tells us how the non-resident of New Mexico spent his dollar last year.

Thirty cents for food and refreshments; 25 cents for transportation, 24 cents for lodging, 13 cents for retail sales except the above; five cents for recreation, and three cents for services.

Ximenes tells of a plan many mountain states have adopted to avoid spending the taxpayers' money on advertising. By cutting the appropriations of the tourist bureaus, the legislatures have thrown the responsibility of advertising on individual communities. They are the ones who benefit most from tourist trade.

Ximenes estimates the non-resident expenditures in the state during 1951 ranged from $73 million to $122 million. Yet the indicated volume of tourist expenditures is near $50 million.

Through Travelers— The difference is due to the large number of through travelers. He points out these are the type of travelers who are not attracted by advertising. They are just passing through.

"No expense on anyone's part is necessary in order to get them to travel through New Mexico," he says.

But the summing up on the problem of whether or not the advertising money spent is justifiable, Ximenes says:

"Just what proportion of these tourists come to New Mexico as the result of advertising is problematical."

Show Your Colors Sunday Planned By First Baptist

This coming Sunday is to be "Show Your Colors Day" in the First Baptist church in Artesia. Sunday School Superintendent J. T. Halle and other teachers and officers of the Sunday school are planning to have 701 for the Bible study hour at 9:30.

Each of these 701 is to be given a red ribbon with "SS" written on it in gold letters. Each one is to pin that ribbon their lapel, then wear it to the morning service. The church expects to have the 701 from Sunday school and 200 or 300 more present for this Sunday morning worship service. And each of these 800 or 900 people will be given a white ribbon with "Church" written on it. Everyone will be asked to wear this white ribbon along with the red ribbon received in Sunday school.

Sunday evening at 6:30 congregation will be asked to wear their red and white ribbons and to come back to the church for training union. Everyone will be given a blue ribbon with "TU" for training union written on it. They will wear this blue ribbon along with the red one received in Sunday school and the white one received at church that morning.

And following the Training Union everyone will be coming to the evening service, which will be the last of these revival services under the leadership of Dr. Louis Wunneburger.

Everyone in that service will be given a gold ribbon to wear.

Robert Young, Janis Carter Star at Laundsun

Bringing to the screen a thrill-laden Technicolor drama of Indian trouble in the early days of Arizona, "The Half-Breed," stars Robert Young, Janis Carter and Jack Buetel in one of the season's most interesting presentations at the Laundsun Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Buetel has the title role of an untamed youth, half Apache, and half white, whose efforts to find a and understanding between the common meeting-ground for peace two races lead to stark drama. Young portrays a frontier gambler and former Confederate officer, and Miss Carter is cast as a singer with a traveling show.

Underlying the story are the sinister actions of a local politician who has found indications of gold ore on the Apache lands, and is secretly fomenting trouble with the Indians in the hope that the Army will drive them elsewhere and he can claim the property.

With the angry Apaches about to go on the warpath, Young proves himself a friend of Buetel, and the pair endeavor to stave off the threatened uprising. But the politician's schemes and Young's stormy romance with Miss Carter complicate matters, resulting in a fast-moving and vivid piece of film fare.

Barton MacLane heads the supporting cast as a town marshal, with Nedda Hailey as the villain. Other cast members include Connie Glenister, Sammie White and Damian O'Flynn. The exciting story of a little-known chapter in western annals.

Stuart Whitmore directed the new radio offering, which was produced by Herman Schum. The outdoor sequences were filmed in and around the natural wonderland country of Oak Creek Canyon near Sedona, Arizona, where the color cameras could capture the amazingly tinted rock formations as a background for the stirring action.

Emmanuel Baptist Church Plans Day-Long Service

Emmanuel Baptist church revival services in Artesia have attracted visitors from Roswell to south of Carlsbad to hear Rev. Scott New, pastor Rev. V. E. McGuffin has reported.

"Our revival meeting has gained momentum since the opening services, and there have been several new members join," the pastor stated. "The soul-stirring messages that Evangelist Scott has preached have stirred the membership into realization of the importance of the hours."

A full day of activity is planned Sunday, Oct. 19 at the church. Following the morning service a dinner will be served by the church, and an hour of fellowship is to follow.

Ordinance of baptism will be observed following the evening service.

Reverend McGuffin has announced he will attend Giorietta Baptist Assembly for a meeting of the assembly's executive committee, the following week.

"If we could clean up the waste in government we could cut taxes five to eight billion dollars," the congressman declared. "And 95 per cent of government waste is in the armed services."

"West Point and Annapolis turn out officers and when those officers are too old, they retire them to some office like procurement, in which those men aren't trained. Ninety-five per cent of materiel purchased by the armed services is common to all of them, yet we find the Navy paying $8 for the same shoes the Army pays $6.85."

Dempsey said he is also critical about:

Toastmasters Reveal Liking For Occupations

"Why are you in the business you're in, and why do you like it?" was the topic put to members of Artesia Toastmasters club Tuesday evening at the organization's weekly meeting.

Vice-president Clarence Key served as chairman and topicmaster, and Jerry Cole toastmaster.

Two-minute table discussions on the topic presented were given by all members attending.

Speakers of the evening were Vernon Bryan on "It's My Business"; Bob Siegel, "Getting a Loan from the RFC"; and Wallace Beck, "The Well That Wouldn't Quit."

Critics were Waldo Ports, Dr. Ralph Earhart and Bob Jones.

Bob McAnally acted as over-all evaluator for the evening. Toastmaster Siegel commended the club, especially members who took part

Working Baseball

PRICE OF BASEBALL in Artesia now has a definite price tag on it: $73,000. That's the 1953 operating budget adopted by unanimous vote of Artesia Baseball Club, Inc., stockholders at a special meeting held Monday night. It is $10,000 more than the 1952 operating budget.

Is baseball worth that much to Artesia? We believe it has provided wholesome recreation for youngsters and adults alike, has spurred recreation programs for youngsters as one by-product, has brought favorable publicity to the community and attracted interest in the city, being a drawing card for new residents who are sports-minded as the majority of citizens already in the community.

Baseball has allowed us to exercise all our hometown partisanship, has provided endless coffee table talk, has channeled the energies of scores of Artesians into creative lines, has brought us into contact with an exciting and highly interested professional athletic group.

Few are the men and women in Artesia who are not concerned over Joe Bauman's 1953 arrangements; few are those who won't admit they can umpire a ball game better than any league umpire and are kept from it only from the tiredness of a long day's work. Baseball on its highest plane is absorbing, exciting, wholesome, and sometimes downright thought-provoking.

Can you put a price tag on that kind of institution? We have a goal before us, nevertheless—300 season tickets to be sold, 140 box seats to be reserved. That's the tangible, readily understandable price.

Legislation Changes

THERE IS NEED FOR changing a number of state laws. In many instances insufficient thought was given before the legislation proposed was adopted. In other cases the situation has changed since the bill was passed into a law.

The twentieth legislature adopted a law regarding payment of tuition by resident and non-resident students. That law calls for resident students in New Mexico's institutions of higher learning to pay $50 per semester and non-residents to pay $100 per semester.

That, we feel, is perfectly all right as far as it goes. The law then designates a resident student as one who has resided in the state for a year or whose parents have resided in New Mexico for one year.

Perhaps the intent is to halt those from moving into the state for the sole purpose of attending our colleges. We can appreciate the fact this can and does happen.

However, this designating a resident as one who has resided in the state for a year or whose parents have resided here for a year definitely isn't fair to newcomers to our state.

Individuals can move into New Mexico, buy a home, buy a business and become taxpayers citizens of our state yet for a full year their sons and daughters are not permitted to attend our colleges without paying non-resident tuition or without waiting a year to attend school.

We do not believe that the legislature

THIS LAND OF ENCHANTMENT—

Roswell Merchant's Business Thrives Even After Incident Over Ladies' Dressing Room

A ROSWELL MERCHANT takes great delight in piling gay insults and downright freshness on his customers, according to Kathryn Morris, correspondent for the Amarillo Daily News.

The merchant, a Tode Brenne-man, who once assured an air of injured dignity when a lady customer asked for the dressing room to try on a Western shirt. He drew her admission she was wearing a slip and unmentionables, then commented, "You've got on more clothes than you had on last night at the swimming pool. What do you want a dressing room for?"

The startled girl is said to have finally smiled "Guess your right," at which Brenne-man hastily motioned her to the dressing room. On another occasion a female deco contestant was notified she had won seat covers to be provided by Frenne-man's store. She asked for some to fit a 1941 Chevrolet. He gleefully informed her "seat covers" referred to mutant undies with a western scene on the sitting expanse.

Brenne-man once told actor Joel McCrea, who had just bought a Western hat for his NMMI son, to "be sure and bring the box back—I'm about to run out." When McCrea returned the box, Brenne-man sold him another hat. So far, Brenne-man has avoided law suits, even when a cowgirl trying on a shirt and skirt and complaining of wrinkles at the waistline was shocked to have Brenne-man reach up under the skirt and yank down the shirttail. "I guess," she said as she bought the outfit, "you're the only man in town who could do that and not get slapped."

A PERSON MUST BE AT least 70 years old before he can claim exemption from federal jury duty service because of age, Judge Carl A. Hatch ruled in federal court in Albuquerque last Wednesday. He remarked that he found that in these modern times, the age limit is increasing. Nowadays in the 60s, the average man in full vigor physically and mentally, the judge proclaimed. Previously a person could claim exemption from federal jury duty if he were 65 or over. That was also under ruling by Judge Hatch, made some time ago. He said he upped the age when he witnessed the jury actions of a 66-year-old man of "robust appearance."

Judge Hatch later added his new ruling was just an experiment to see how 70-year-old jurors would work out.

intended to penalize the newcomers and we do not think it was their intention to send students out of the state to attend college. The fact is that too many of our students are leaving our state to go to college now.

We also feel that those connected with the military who come into our communities and who are moved about by Uncle Sam should have the same consideration regarding our colleges.

We believe it is time for the state legislature to amend their present law regarding description of resident and non-resident students to protect those now penalized under the law.

The colleges must follow the law—it is up to the legislature.

Your Opinion Worthwhile?

HOW STRONG ARE your opinions? A matter arises which stirs your thoughts or emotions with vigor. Especially when a local matter concerns you, you are unable to drop a train of thought, a line of feeling.

What do you do about it? Do you spout off to the next door neighbor, liberally interlarding your tirade with "I think" and "I feel" instead of presenting your reaction to the parties chiefly concerned with the matter?

Do you call up a newspaper and identify yourself only as "a reader," "a taxpayer," or "a parent," then start to volubly express your opinions? Why should the newspaper or anyone else listen to your opinion if you're not confident enough, proud enough, convinced enough to stand up and be identified with it?

Do you send anonymous letters to newspapers, city officials, school authorities, business houses? Just what is the opinion expressed in an unsigned letter worth? Are you ashamed of it?

We admire the person who arrives at an opinion on a sound intellectual or emotional basis, then is convinced enough of that opinion's worth to be identified with it by name. We admire him even though his ideas may differ from ours.

Anonymous opinions, like other cowardly devices, accomplish nothing.

New Mexico Magazine

ONE OF NEW MEXICO'S greatest public relations and advertising potentials, the state-supported New Mexico Magazine, seems to fall short of its promise every month by an uncomfortable margin.

Perhaps a quarter or third of the magazine has good, meaty reader content every month. The magazine's printing quality has steadily improved, as has quality of its writing and subjects.

But mid-way through the magazine one runs into game and highway department publicity written as such bureaucratic publicity usually is. While the material undoubtedly appeals to some readers, it does little to boost general reader interest in the magazine.

We are told the magazine is subsidized by the highway department, which perhaps accounts for domination of some reading material by that department. Format of the sections pertaining to the game and highway departments does little to spur general reader interest.

We believe such material, if necessary in a magazine of general circulation, could be greatly enlivened and broadened and reflect not unfavorably upon the departments interested. Perhaps such work under the direction of persons separated from the departments might prove to contain greater perspective.

Inevitably in discussions of New Mexico Magazine, the beautiful work done in Arizona Highways is discussed. But we believe there are the people of imagination and intelligence in New Mexico to create a state magazine format and editorial policy on illustrations and content unique to this state's many unique offerings.

Perhaps the sights of New Mexico Magazine might well be lifted from articles of interest largely to readers now residents of the state. Interest in the magazine outside New Mexico is potentially tremendous.

We presume to venture such an opinion of the state's magazine only because enough good work has been done on it to lift the curtain on its potential, were imagination, talent, and artistry given a free rein to produce even more favorably reflecting on this enchanted land.

NEW MEXICO EDITORS ARE SAYING—

Mechem Praised for Halting Campaign Fund Collections From Revenue Bureau Workers

TWO PER CENT BAN
 Governor Mechem has repudiated—and emphatically so—a move in the Revenue Bureau to collect campaign funds for the Republicans.

A Revenue Bureau employee passed the word along that contributions were welcome. Facilities were set up in the office to make the collections.

Even a schedule of payments were set up, ranging from $5 to $10 per pay period. Three pay summaries stopping the collections remain until the Nov. 4 election meaning that the political contributions would total from $15 to $30 per employee.

Early in his administration Governor Mechem announced that departments under his control would tolerate no system calling for a 2 per cent levy on state employees—a system that had been in operation under Democratic governors.

He said state employees would not be required to donate any part of their salaries to party finances. The governor's office, after the announcement that any employee wishing to make a contribution should take it to party headquarters.

That, of course, would be the proper procedure. The governor is to be commended for forthwith ruling out party contributions by state employees solicited in the offices where they work. It is a striking and unusual performance during a heated campaign when funds are so badly needed to carry on.—Albuquerque Journal.

DIRTY POLITICS
 The decision of Lilburn Homan to withdraw from the race for state representative from Torrance county has some ugly overtones that cause us real anxiety. We knew Lilburn 20 years ago when we trotted over the gravel hills of the Sandia Mesa each afternoon after classes at the University of New Mexico, and we have followed his career carefully ever since.

Nearly all who knew his work in the New Mexico legislature recognized him as one of the most conscientious, and hard working men in Santa Fe.

He served 12 years in the House, and every bit of that service was at a personal sacrifice that he was not financially able to bear.

His announcement of his withdrawal from the race mentioned only his need to give more attention to his farm.

Yet behind that was very probably one of the most vicious campaigns of racial and religious intolerance in the history of the state.

Lilburn was never one to hide his personal acts. As a resident of a county predominately Spanish-American, he voted against the state Fair Employment Practices Commission.

He was also attacked for his position in supporting the consolidation of small schools when their resources were insufficient to maintain separate schools.

And he was attacked, most unfairly of all, we think, for his vote against a measure which would permit students in Catholic schools to ride public school buses, a stand that has ample justification, and is recognized even by many Catholics as necessary to prevent a breakdown of our traditional separation of church and state.

But Homan's political opponents, led by Paul Davis, have so smeared his motive in these matters that he probably decided that a career in politics was too great a strain on an idealist, so he will go back to farming.

New Mexico's loss will be greater than Homan's. He was due for greater things than the job of representing Torrance county. The Republican party can ill afford to lose a man like Homan, who was more responsible than anyone else in their partial triumph at the polls two years ago.—Portales News.

CITY CLERK TOM RAGSDALE somehow secured a notice sent out to water users in Oil City, La., informing them of a rate increase. Three dollars is the minimum charge for 2,000 gallons. Price of water from 2,001 through 5,000 gallons is 67 cents a thousand, and from 5,001 to 10,000 is 53 cents a gallon. For all water over 10,000 gallons, the tag is 40 cents per thousand. Calculations by our figure-handy city clerk show a user of 17,000 gallons a month would pay $11.65 in that Louisiana town, as against $3.70 in Artesia. The price in Artesia under the old rate would have been $2.47. Mr. Ragsdale picked the 17,000 figure as an average used by homes here with lawns of any size.

Louisiana has more water than New Mexico, too.

WHEN THE CHAMBER OF Commerce board of directors held its last meeting, lack of funds barred it from supporting an agriculture exhibit at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, and Maid of Cotton entry. The chamber seemingly is operating on a hand-to-mouth basis, but budget studies for 1953 have already been opened by Pres. Ralph Hayes.

THOUGHTS IN PRINT—
Supreme Court Rules Motion Pictures Entitled to Speech, Press Provision

In striking down the action of New York State in barring Roberto Rossellini's "The Miracle" on grounds in the film is sacrilegious, the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled movies are entitled to constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press.

According to a Christian Science Monitor report, Associate Justice Tom C. Clark in writing the court's main opinion, said: "In seeking to apply the broad and all-inclusive definition of 'sacrilegious' given by the New York courts, the censor is set adrift upon a boundless sea amid a myriad of conflicting currents of religious views, with no charts but those provided by the most local and powerful orthodoxies. New York cannot vest such unlimited restraining control over motion pictures in a censor."

Mr. Justice Clark observed the court was striking down a 1915 decision in an Ohio film censorship case. At that time, the tribunal said, movies were not a publication medium entitled to the constitutional protections of free speech and press, but were primarily a form of entertainment.

Supreme Court justices saw a special showing of the Italian-made film while it was considering the case. "The Miracle" had been barred by the New York State Board of Regents because in the regents' opinion the film associated sacred belief with "drunkenness, seduction, mockery, and lewdness."

The Monitor reports the film tells the story of a mentally unbalanced peasant girl who is seduced by a stranger whom she believes is St. Joseph.

In filing suit, the American distributor of the film asked the Supreme Court to strike down New York's censorship law, contending it violates constitutional guarantees of freedom of press and religion.

The distributor said "We do not say there should be no censorship. We believe censorship is proper, but let it be done by criminal prosecution and not by prior restraint or licensing. Let there be prosecution after showing—the same as newspapers and magazines are held responsible for what they print."

Mr. Justice Clark said the court's decision in "The Miracle" case "is not the end of our problem." He added: "It does not follow that the constitution requires absolute freedom to exhibit every motion picture of every kind at all times and all places. That much is evident from the series of decisions of this court (in the past) with respect to other media of communication of ideas."

"Nor does it follow that motion pictures are necessarily subject to the precise rule governing any other particular method of expressions. Each method tends to present its own peculiar problems. But the basic principles of freedom of speech and press, like the First Amendment's command, do not vary."

COFFEE TALK—

Sickness, Friends, Shadow Play Disrupt Democratic Cavalcade

DESPITE CAREFUL PLANS in advance, appearance of a second cavalcade of Democratic candidates in Artesia Tuesday was riddled with absences that cut into the effectiveness of a formidable campaign technique. Of the six-man line-up of candidates, only one was present for the entire luncheon Tuesday noon.

This is what happened: E. S. "Johnny" Walker suffered a flu attack and was returned to his Silver City home by Bob Castner, thereby eliminating two members of the party. R. H. Grissom suffered the death of his wife. Senator Dennis Chavez was de-toured by Roswell friends to make a noon to 1 radio talk. And C of C Mgr. Bob Koopce spirited Rep. John J. Dempsey off towards Hope shortly before the luncheon. Tom Wiley was left to face alone about 40 Demos gathered at the Elks club, and Wiley is well-known for his reticence as an off-the-cuff public speaker.

Dempsey saved the day with his appearance mid-way through the affair, giving a rallying talk after hurriedly inhaling a couple bites of his then-cold lunch.

"LITTLE ARGUS" REPORTS:
 "Carlsbad stands to lose a $7,000,000 construction project because of a lack of water. Several months ago the Southwestern Public Service Company announced in its annual report tentative plans to construct a $7,000,000 power plant in Carlsbad. This would be the biggest single construction project in the city's history, and would mean a big addition to the city and county tax rolls. But it now looks as if the company won't be able to build the big plant because there isn't enough city water for cooling purposes."

"It is to be hoped the city can come up with an answer, but it doesn't look too promising. Can anything be done?"

POSSIBILITY OF A LARGE, scale housing project in Artesia under which about 100 houses of the San Angelo type would be built is being quietly but steadily leaders. These houses sell in the worked on by some community $4,500 to $4,700 price range, with down payments of about $50, and at that price include two rooms. The San Angelo home is an economically priced home using material standard sizes and other cutting measures, and small, offer to many families cape from rent-paying and haps lower cost-per-month living.

ARTESIA HOPES FOR improved highway westward Hope hinge on that communit being able to get together right-of-way through or across the community. The generally favored route by-passes a road court there, and a road past tourist court would by-pass rest of the community and involve far more right-of-way negotiation than one also mapped by engineers.

OUR READERS WRITE—

Readers Concerned Over Vitriolic Nixon Attack, Those Hope Petticoat

(The Artesia Advocate welcomes letters from its readers, and will be better able to print letters not more than 300 words in length. Letters must be signed by the writer so requests, his signature will be omitted.)
 To the Editor,
 Artesia Advocate:

The Article in Tuesday's issue of the Advocate our readers write was too vitriolic and nauseating to deserve any reply. However, if the attack on Senator Nixon, vice-presidential candidate, was made because of his persistent attack on Communism and his successful prosecution of Alger Hiss, then the article should have been written with red ink in keeping with the content.

The money paid the committee for Nixon and his Communist exposures did not come from undesirable sources and was not tainted as a large part of the money paid to Stevenson.

All the mud in the singing against the Republican candidate is being dug up from the polluted yards of the slingers. Truman's give 'em hell, S.O.B., and "nose punching" proclivities has dragged the dignity of the office of president of the U. S. down to an all-time low level. However, "water only rises as high as its source" and that goes for the Pendergast and Jake Arvey-type of political training. There's a moral issue in the campaign that is wholly ignored by the Democratic candidate.

 To the Editor,
 Artesia Advocate:
 Well, I see in the Hope where the Old Hen is cross again seems as if she just to have publicity.
 It was nice that the Seal of servation could have a nice because like they did, had a crowd and nice supper. I smiled on his teeth chattered from a laugh to know that Mayor had nothing to do with supper as far as he could. She has been trying to treat her nest for some time.
 The telephone was first to tell to the Government old Phone Office if could get Phone line on the REA so egg spoiled. Now got fresh on the water well and believe will spoil too.
 Just the idea of 60 or 65 sand for water works such that is false, it is less than place 400 the Petty Coats population I say.
 One of the Hope citizens on the mayor for using the Truck for private use. I want public to know there are still again the Petty Coats.
