McCulloh Gets First Judicial District Post

SANTA FE, (AP)—Clyde C. McCulloh, first assistant attorney general and once attorney general of Mexico, today was appointed Gov. John Simms to the new judicial district.

McCulloh, who is 53, will maintain his home and his principal office in San Juan county.

The new seat, making the third of the first district, was created by the 1953 Legislature.

Others who had been recommended for the job by a bar committee were Republican Robert Santa Fe, a former district judge defeated in the 1954 election; Frank Andrews, Santa Fe Democrat; and Johnston Jeffries, San Juan County Democrat.

McCulloh is a Democrat.

The district is composed of San Juan, McKinley, Santa Fe, Rio Arriba and Los Alamos counties.

McCulloh's designation will be of division 3 of the first district. The appointment was announced by Richard Everett, Simms' administrative assistant, shortly before Simms left Santa Fe for a stay of several days in Phoenix, Ariz.

Everett said McCulloh would go to San Juan county as soon as he can wind up his affairs here, wife and younger daughter, eleven, a high school student, join him there after the close school.

McCULLOH was an assistant attorney general during term of office of Atty. Gen. E. P. Chase. He resigned in mid-1944.

McCulloh became attorney general and he successfully sought nomination as attorney general in 1944, 1946, serving until the start of the 1953 term.

McCulloh is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and the University of Southern California.

He was admitted to California bar in 1930 and to New Mexico bar in 1932. In 1933 he served with the federal grand jury.

Machinery Is Set Up for 40 People to Inject Polio Vaccine

At least 40 doctors, nurses, nurses' helpers and clerical workers have enlisted in Artesia's Salk vaccine inoculation program scheduled to start Tuesday at 1 p. m.

Central and Roselawn schools, with 472 first and second graders, top the schedule. Hermosa and Park, with 332 eligible for the shots, will be taken care of on Wednesday.

School nurses will administer the vaccine on these days at Atoka, Cottonwood, Hope and Loco Hills.

Administrators of the program Thursday were holding to the April 19-26 dates pending word from the state health department.

Possibility of a change was brought about by Dr. Salk, who said the vaccine is more effective if shots are given "two to four weeks apart."

Two teams will work at each school. Each team is composed of a doctor, a nurse, nurse's helper and two recorders.

Here are the schools and teams in that order:

Central (1) — Dr. R. W. Harper, Mrs. R. W. Harper, Mrs. Clyde Guy, Mrs. Bill Felton and Mrs. Lynn Chumbley. (2) Dr. G. A. Slusser, Mrs. Regina Terpening, Mrs. Stanley Blocker, Mrs. Huck Kenny and Mrs. Jack Burrows.

Roselawn (1) — Dr. William Toney, Mrs. Julius Heaton, Mrs. Jack Knorr, Mrs. Victor Clark, Mrs. Bill Keys. (2) Dr. Owen Taylor, Mrs. Fred Klereoper, Mrs. Ben Caudle, Mrs. Charles Currier, and Mrs. Bill Hart.

Hermosa (1) — Dr. C. P. Bunch, Mrs. Margaret Worthington, Mrs.

J. N. Hightower, Mrs. Huck Kenny and Mrs. John Daugherty. (2) Dr. F. E. Cressman, Mrs. Rebecca Carlton, Mrs. Louise Bush, Mrs. Cecil Waldrep and Mrs. John Simmons.

Park (1) — Dr. Louis F. Hamilton, Mrs. Margaret Dillard, Mrs. Charles Dinton, Mrs. Troy Harris, Mrs. Ed Wilson. (2) Dr. H. C. Bronnenberg, Mrs. Clarence Copper, Mrs. Glen Farmer, Mrs. Maynard Hall and Mrs. Jack Shaw.

He declined further comment.

City Supervisor Doug Fowler said today the new reservoir will not be placed in service until completion of the Fifth street well and installation of control valves in the old reservoir.

Efforts were made about a week ago to fill the new tank, but were cancelled when the cut-off valve stem on the old tank was broken in an effort to close the valve.

Fowler said his office has ordered a new cut-off valve and a control valve for the old reservoir.

"Because the new tank is at a greater height—we must have a control valve to prevent overflowing the old one," Fowler said.

On the agenda for discussion are:

1—Activity calendar for commissioners this year.

2—Discussion on improvement of Cub and Scout troops.

3—The Camp-o-ree April 29-30 at Jeter Ranch.

The neighborhood commissioners study Scouting problems and assist Scoutmasters in preparing various Scout activities.

Council Votes Vaswood Flood Aid, Plumbing Crack-Down

Plumbers Say Appliances Illegally Set

Strict enforcement of city and state plumbing codes prohibiting unlicensed persons from plumbing was ordered by city council last night.

The informal action was taken after most of the city's plumbers and city-state plumbing inspector Burr Clem alleged the code was being widely abused in Artesia.

Criticism was aimed largely at Southern Union Gas Co., which the plumbers contend, set and remove hot water heaters without master plumbers' license.

They quoted F. M. "Bill" McGinty, local manager, as declaring three of the utility's local personnel held gasfitters' licenses and were qualified to do the work.

Bill McGinty, Artesia manager for Southern Union, said he would comply immediately with the council order that "the whole problem has been referred to higher company authority at the district office in Roswell."

He declined further comment. The plumbers argued both a plumbing and gas license are required to set such appliances as hot water heaters, served both gas and water, although a gasfitter could connect and remove gas lines in appliances.

Council Names 10 to Recreation Planning Group

Ten people to staff a permanent committee which will direct an Artesia city-wide recreation program were appointed last night by city council.

Eight of the Artesians named are representative of the community, two are ex-officio members from the city government.

Named were Rev. Stephen Bono, Vernon Mills, Dr. W. E. Toney, C. F. "Chuck" Brown, Wallace Beck, T. C. Williams, Mrs. Loyd Foulkes, and Mrs. S. P. Yates.

Dr. J. J. Clarke of the city council and Paul W. Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager, were appointed to the ex-officio memberships.

Recommendations for the appointments came from a temporary council committee appointed by Mayor W. H. Yeager in the last city council committee. It was headed by George Ferriman, who presented the recommendations last night.

The 10-man panel is to select its own officers and organize its procedure.

It will supervise the expenditure of an estimated $1,000 a month to be available to the city under a recent state-wide cent-a-pack tax increase passed by the 1953 Legislature. The law becomes effective July 1.

Attempts beginning in February 1954 to have a local cigarette tax adopted by the city had twice failed to pass the council.

Dr. W. E. Toney was installed as president of Central School Parent Teacher Assn. at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the school.

The three first grade rooms instructed by Miss Isabelle Macdonald, Mrs. C. H. Parker, and Mrs. Richard Swartz, sang several songs and gave a short skit on birds.

A high school group under the direction of H. O. Miller sang two songs.

Mrs. S. A. Davis, president, opened the business meeting. Chairmen reported on the work they had done the past year.

The committee recommendations listed their recommendations in order of greatest needs. They were approved by the PTA. They are:

1—That the walls and roof should be repaired on the main building. They suggested ceilings be lowered and acoustical tile used for surfacing it. They suggested rubber tile be used to cover the floors of hall and office.

2—The heating system needs to be repaired, including the repair of the boiler or its replacement.

3—The north part of the playground should be filled and some type of semi-hard surface applied.

4—Rest rooms badly need repairing with new plumbing, fixtures installed and ceramic tile on the walls and floors.

5—A new lighting system for the entire plant is needed.

6—Entire exterior of the building, including the gym, needs to be painted.

7—Complete gym with blackout blinds for visual aid purposes.

8—Complete classrooms with venetian blinds.

9—New locks needed for the doors.

10—Inter-communication system is badly needed.

11—Wall sockets should be installed in teachers rooms.

12—For the curriculum it was recommended a physical education instructor for Central school boys and girls be employed.

Mrs. John Gates introduced Dr. Owen C. Taylor, who spoke on diabetic conditions.

Members voted that Central PTA would have their meetings next year on second Monday nights of each month.

Other officers installed by Mrs. C. P. Bunch were Mrs. Richard

Raising Alleys To Keep Homes Out of Water

Flood protection for Vaswood addition was approved by city council last night.

It will take form of earthen dikes in the south and west sides of the addition, formed by raising the levels of present alleys two feet higher.

The action came as a result of a petition signed by nearly all property owners in the addition. It called for city assistance in protecting the subdivision from such floods as that which struck Oct. 7, 1954.

A three-man committee presented a proposal that free earth being offered by the contractor building the First Street urban project be used to raise the height of alleys on the two sides of the addition menaced by flood.

City equipment would level the dirt after it is placed.

Presenting the petition were three residents of the addition—Clem Weindorf and Tom Yeager, both employed by the soil conservation service, and Ted Welch, businessman.

They argued the city must act promptly or the free earth from First Street would be used by other

THE WORLD TODAY— Polio Vaccine, Atom Bombs Grimly Race for Human Life

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The World rejoices that there is a vaccine for polio but—

One of man's oddities is that while he works overtime to make his life longer he also looks for ways to make it shorter.

While scientists struggled to find a weapon against polio, others were busy making bigger and better hydrogen explosives.

In the end millions of people whose lives now will be prolonged by the new vaccine may have them unduly shortened by the bomb.

A thousands years from now, if there are any humans left in those days and they have formed a way to end war, they may look back on those days and wonder:

"Why couldn't those 20th century people ever find a cure for the most dreaded disease of all, pushing. People were forever pushing people.

"The money they spent looking for a cure for polio, or cancer or heart disease was only a pittance compared with what they spent on defending themselves from one another."

JONAS E. Salk, the young doctor who developed the polio vaccine, may prove over man's long history to have been worth more than a thousand armies.

But that's problematical. Man kind without much trouble may make far more cripples in the next war than Salk ever dreamed of saving from polio paralysis.

It isn't hard to look back, and not far, to find that while mankind was continually seeking ways to save itself it was energetically finding new ways to destroy itself.

In 1784, just as Edward Jenner was on the verge of finding a vaccine against smallpox, British Lt. Henry Sharpel invented a highly effective shot for mowing men down in bunches.

And just about the time Ignaz Semmelweis, a young doctor in a Vienna hospital, in 1847 was inching toward the prevention of childbed fever which destroyed mothers in batches, the military world was producing a rifled cannon that could hurl shot farther than ever before.

All Europe was feverishly building modern armies at the very moment in 1885 when Louis Pasteur was first inoculating a human being against rabies.

PASTEUR, who had lived through the Franco-Prussian war, knew how mankind was tearing self apart in the struggle between life and death. At the opening of the Pasteur Institute in 1888 he said:

"Two opposing laws seem to me now in contest. The one, a law of blood and death, opening out each day new modes of destruction, forces nations to be always ready for battle.

"The other, a law of peace, work and health, whose only aim is to deliver man from the calamities which beset him. The one seeks violent conquests, the other the relief of mankind."

"Which of these two laws will prevail, God only knows..."

ADOLPH HITLER'S "Great Mercedes," the "most valuable used car in the world," is playing a classic joke on the former owner, by being exhibited throughout the United States, raising funds for various worthy causes. The 20-foot long mechanical monster is in Artesia, today, sponsored by the Clarence Kepple Post, 41, American Legion. It is located at the Clem Appliance Store, on West Main Street, and will be on view to the public until Eight p.m. Admission is by donation.

Business Down Only Slightly In January

SANTA FE (AP)—Business was down slightly in New Mexico during January, according to sales tax collections.

A report by the state bureau of revenue today revealed that sales tax collections were down 2.6 per cent in February of 1952 from the same month of 1951. The collections were for January business.

In money the decline was $49,844.03 less sales tax collections.

Bernalillo and Eddy county merchants had the largest gross income with Lea and Chaves right behind them. Bernalillo county merchants grossed $46,797,610. Eddy County had a $16,407,102 gross while Lea showed $15,826,740 and Chaves $10,246,214.

The grocery business, as usual, topped the state's individual business income. Housewives forked over 16 million dollars in purchasing food. Next highest classification, individually, was contracting which grossed 15 million.

Public utilities had an 8 million gross, automotive and accessories a 9 million gross while furniture had 3 1/2 million.

Other counties topping the million dollar mark in gross business income were: Curry, DeBaca, Dona Ana, Guadalupe, Luna, McKinley, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt, San Miguel, Santa Fe and Valencia.

Post Office Lists 1,982 Arrests for Mail Box Pilfering

WASHINGTON (AP)—The post office department says there were 1,982 arrests between last July and February for rifling home and apartment mailboxes.

It was more than in any previous comparable period. The thieves "fools" to think they can get away with it, Postmaster General Summerfield said.

Widow in Slaying Freed on Bond

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. Mary Clark, 46, was free today on $10,000 bond in the 1953 slaying of her wealthy oilman husband William P. Clark, 61.

Three other principals in the case, all ex-convicts, remained in jail in lieu of bond. They are Tincy Eggleston, 48, Cecil Green, 39, and Harry Huggins, 48. Police say the trio took up Mrs. Clark's offer of a $10,000 prize for the murder of her husband during a fake robbery.

Eggleston's bond was set at $50,000 with Green's and Huggins' placed at $15,000 each.

Clarke was shot to death May 19, 1953. His body was found in his 22-room mansion three days later.

Upper Colorado River Project Up to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The billion dollar upper Colorado River project is now before the Senate for consideration after a committee report was completed Tuesday.

Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.) filed majority report, asking that Congress not hold back approving part of it.

Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) called "an unsound measure" in recommending its rejection in his minority report.

The bill calls for 18 power irrigation projects on the Colorado River and its tributaries. They include 12 irrigation projects and storage dams.

Anderson had urged quick passage when the bill was approved by committee last month. Yesterday, he said "it is not the intention of Congress, by authorizing only certain projects at this time, to limit, restrict or interfere with future comprehensive developments involving the consumption of water in the upper Colorado River Basin."

Tax Savers

how to choose your tax form

Here's the long and short of which tax form to choose this year.

The easier form is the short one (1040A) which is printed on a tabulating card. Use it if your total income is not more than $5,000, and is made up of wages reported on your withholding statements (Form W-2) and not more than $100 additional.

The limit also applies to the combined income of husband and wife filing a joint return.

If you qualify for the short form, and if your contributions, taxes, interest, medical expenses, child care costs and losses are less than 10 per cent of your total income, use it. However, if you prefer to work out your own tax rate, you can use the long form (1040).

When using the long form you can itemize your deductions. Generally this is to your advantage if your deductions exceed 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

If you do not itemize deductions, you compute tax from the tax table (provided with the tax forms) if your gross income is $5,000 or less. If it's more, you may use the standard deduction which is $500 for married persons filing separately or 10 per cent of adjusted income up to a maximum of $1,000 for all others.

Big Sacramento Deer Kill Still Leaves Some Overpopulation

double-barreled report by state game department experts on results of the 1954 Salope open deer season was: A 2 1/2-day survey conducted the benefit of southeastern Mexico sportsmen had only sportsmen participate for half day. The Panama allotment in the Salopes shows extremely browse depletion and a high density of deer and deer sign. In present conditions, a large die-off of deer in that area is occurring.

The findings are contained in a detailed report by Allen E. Anderson of Roswell, game department biologist for the Roswell district. It is attached to an overall survey report following the 1954 season by Leon Lee of the state game department. Anderson reports the survey of winter forage conditions was made in the Guadalupe March 7-9. Members of all GPA chapters in southeastern New Mexico were invited to attend. The district biologist says the survey party visited Panama, Irbaine, Broadtree, McCollum, and Solider Springs allotments in the Guadalupe. Anderson reported a total of 48 deer sighted—13 of them in the Panama allotment, 14 in Dark Canyon. Anderson reports "Although the limited observations made on this type of survey are of doubtful value, it was noted that the area of heaviest kill (Broadtree allotment) seemed to show more current annual browse growth than areas of very light kill (Panama allotment). "The Panama allotment," his report declares, "shows heavy overuse and in view of the apparently undiminished population, could be the scene of a large scale deer die-off." Anderson also wrote that "if we are to judge sportsmen's interest in the Guadalupe deer herd by the total of six attending (the March survey) our efforts appear futile. Unfortunately the half day during which the guests numbered as high as five was not productive of deer sight records. Probably a better attendance could have been achieved by holding the survey on a weekend." The survey was a follow-up to the wide open 1954 deer kill in the Guadalupe in which more than 4,000 deer of both sexes were killed. The unrestricted season had been called to kill off what game department officials claimed was excessive population. In his report, Lee said "it seems apparent that the only areas in the Guadalupe where any significant recovery of the browse is showing up is on the area lying between the Panama allotment and Dark Canyon." Lee cited "particularly the vicinity of Queens" as showing "where a heavy deer kill this past fall has perhaps contributed significantly to the partial recovery of the plants from overuse, aided by the beneficial rains of last summer and fall." He continues: "The Guadalupe are still suffering from excessive deer browsing, particularly in the Panama ranch area and south of Dark Canyon." Excessive deer browsing also is reported by Lee on the Guadalupe ridge and to a lesser extent on the western side of the Elmer Hepler allotment. "A close watch," Lee declares, "is going to have to be kept on this deer range or a heavy die-off may occur at any time that further reduction in the food supply or other adversity sets in against the deer herd." It is quite obvious, his report declares, that from the amount of deer sign seen and the actual number of animals sighted that there are still lots of deer on the Guadalupe mountains. In spite of predictions to the contrary the heavy hunting of last year, if anything, was of distinct benefit to the deer herd occupying the ranges between the Panama and Dark Canyon, he says.

"On these two areas, particularly the Panama," Lee declares, "it is believed that a substantial reduction of the deer herd is urgently needed in the interests of good management." Members of the survey party were Lee, Anderson, Roy Jones and Ladd Gordon of the New Mexico game department; Ed Cotnam, district forest ranger; Dallas Golden of the Artesia Game Protective Assn.; Evan Mahaney, Artesia; J. Stokely Ligon, Roy Carey, and Elmer Hepler, all of Carlsbad.

Junior, Senior Teams to Enter Summer Relays

Athletes from Junior and Senior high schools will represent Artesia Saturday at the Fox Relays at Fort Sumner. Top Bulldog on the line up is Freddie Sanders, who holds the district and state record in the pole vault event. His 12'4" leap at Carlsbad this year put him atop the district heap. He set the state record as a freshman in 1952 with a jump at Albuquerque of 11'8".

Sanders won the pole vault at the White Sands meet with a leap of over 10 feet and is expected to turn in a similar performance Saturday at Fort Sumner. Other top athletes scheduled for the trip include Don Lewis, Leo Barker and John Riddle. This fast-moving crew and Sanders topped the 880 yard relay event at White Sands. Individually, they always turn in great performances.

Olson Captures Unanimous Nod Over Maxim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The "new" Bobo Olson, who picked up a crushing right-hand punch with nine pounds extra weight, is ready for a crack at the light heavyweight championship of the world.

The Hawaiian-born middleweight king, departing from his usual damaging body attack and switching to a savage overhand right to the head, floored Joey Maxim twice and was all over him from the opening bell last night as he won a unanimous 10-round decision at the Cow Palace.

Olson was a 3-1 favorite in the nontitle bout. He weighed 169 pounds, nine above his normal figure, but looked faster and bit harder than in any of his previous 20 straight triumphs. Only in the first round, when he concentrated on the body and beat Maxim's torso bright red, did he stick to his normal fighting pattern.

In the second round Maxim, who weighed 175, went down for an eight-count from two smashing rights to the head. In the ninth, Olson repeated the right and caught the tottering former light heavyweight champion with a left to the jaw as he fell. This time Maxim was up at six.

"I was surprised when I knocked him down," Olson told reporters. "I was so excited after I knocked know what punches I threw the him down the first time I didn't rest of the round." Maxim, decked only four times previously in his career covering more than 100 fights, said he was surprised too at Olson's hard punching.

The chances of title fight with light heavy champion Archie Moore are good, according to Sid Flaherty, the middleweight king's manager. "There's nothing definite on it yet, of course," he said "but we'll have a few talks about it very shortly."

was ahead of the hitter with a 0-2 count when the Giants' captain singled on an errant curve.

Before the side was out, Monte Irvin doubled both runners home and Hank Thompson scratched a single.

Ford had a more relaxed afternoon than did Roberts and found time to drive in four runs on three singles. Washington's two singles were by Roy Sievers in the fourth and Pete Runnels in the fifth.

Ford walked five but fanned eight. He would have had a shut-out except for a balk when he slipped from the mound in the sixth with a runner on third.

THE Yanks teed off on starter Maury McDermott and three rookies for their most potent attack since beating Washington 22-1 Aug. 12, 1953. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron homered in the 16-run romp.

Brooklyn's victory was in doubt until the seventh when a five-run rally broke a 1-1 tie. Junior Gilliam led it off with a homer and Carl Furillo capped it with a three-run blast. Max Surkont was the loser while Erskine won his first opening decision in four tries.

Johnson Feels at Home With Texas Buddies

Johnson, who grew up in Worth, feels right at home in Texas. He played high school and college baseball with and "again" other Texas athletes now based among the NuMexers. This is his second season in Texas. Last year he closed out the season with an 8-6 record on the mound and expects to better that this year. In pre-season exhibition games so far he's done "fine, except that I was pretty wild," that first day against Roswell.

"They didn't play baseball," Gil grinned, "so I just decided to quit." He did get in on intramural baseball, "but there's no substitute for baseball, you know." Last year Gil closed out the season with an 8-6 record on the mound and expects to better that this year. In pre-season exhibition games so far he's done "fine, except that I was pretty wild," that first day against Roswell.

Gil's baseball interests started a long time before he ever played a game. His dad, Ernest Johnson, was a pitcher in the minor leagues in the early 30's. And Gil, the second of three sons, took to the game like a second grader does to ice cream. By the time he got to high school he was ready for some action. His coach kept him at short stop during the first three years of play. Then he found out the Johnson boy could pitch. Gil got his letter in his senior year working on the mound. Gil's association with Haney, Wilson and Buford goes back to high school days. All were in different schools. Gil at Tech, Wilson at Poly and Buford at Pascal.

Major League Roundup—Batters Couldn't Have Ordered Worse Day For Pitchers—Except for Roberts, Ford

By ED WILKS The Associated Press couldn't have been a worse day for pitchers if the hitters had ordered it special. But Rob Roberts and Whitey Ford shrugged off weather like a pair of guys for the Florida Chamber Commerce.

And in New York, with temperatures in the 40s and wind lashing a steady mist, Ford allowed Washington just two singles as the old champion New York Giants can league season with a 19-4 rout of the Senators. Despite the numbing cold, the young lefty went nine innings for the first time this spring. THE weather was pretty miserable everywhere on a lean baseball day. The smallest opening day crowd in a quarter of a century at Ebbets Field—6,999—shivered while Brooklyn and Carl Erskine beat Pittsburgh 7-1 in the only other National League game scheduled.

In the American, Detroit's Tigers forgot about welcoming Kansas City into the league graciously and clubbed the Athletics 10-2. Rain postponed the Boston at Baltimore game.

What happened at Connie Mack Stadium was just another chapter in Roberts' frustrating chase. He's been thwarted in fantastic fashion thus far. At Cincinnati last May 13 for instance, he was greeted by a leadoff home run by Bobby Adams—then retired the next 27 men he faced to win 8-1.

Although Roberts' mastery has given him five straight seasons of 20 or more victories, that was only his second one-hit performance. The other came last April 29, when he held Milwaukee to a third-inning double by Del Crandall to win 4-0.

ALVIN Dark faced Roberts yesterday with one out and a man on by error in the ninth. Robin

HE'LL BE FOURTH VETERAN—Popular Charlie Watts Expected to Rejoin NuMexers Soon; Southpaw Pitcher in Today

Charlie Watts, popular Artesia third baseman and outfielder last year, is back in the NuMexer Club. Steve Lanning, club president, announced Thursday.

The returnee batted .361 last year and worked in 98 games. Because of a dirty trick of fate, Watts didn't get in on the playoffs.

He was called back to Dallas when the Eagles had an injury in the outfield. This happened 22 days exactly before the playoffs started.

It was intended that Charlie return to Artesia 15 days prior to the start of the playoffs—but something went wrong and he didn't make it. Consequently, he didn't get in on the pennant-winning games or the championship jackpot.

Naturally he was sizzling mad, having to watch the big games from the bleachers, but he still likes Artesia and proved it by coming back.

They said two gunmen held them up, took $170 cash, herded them into the safe and slammed the door. McNeil was due to arrive in Artesia Wednesday afternoon but was delayed until Thursday. The former Austin hurler ended last season with a .500 average at the mound. Jordan expects the free agent, now under local contract, to be a big help on the mound.

Support Your Own Church

There are religious leaders in the world fully convinced we are approaching a religious awakening in this old world of ours.

They cite the tremendous interest being shown in the campaigns of Billy Graham in this country and abroad. This young minister has aroused great interest and seemingly has a real appeal to those seeking a better and a more satisfactory as well as a more enjoyable way of life.

Most of us will agree that if it takes an evangelist to arouse our people and this young man can do the job — we should be grateful.

Most of us are convinced the world needs a religious awakening and we need a greater interest in our churches, in our religious services, and in our religious programs.

There is little doubt or question but what we have made mistakes in our church programs. We have made the wrong approaches; we have placed the emphasis in the wrong place; we have forgotten or neglected the problems at home and sought to do our saving elsewhere.

Yet it all needs to be done. But in our own community we have those who long ago found that a religious life, affiliation with a local church, attendance at that church's services, and a participation in their program has brought a happier, more satisfactory, and better life.

And because of this we have outstanding church buildings and plants here—plants and buildings built with the funds of those who believe in Christ and His Way of life.

There is a church in this community for every individual. That church needs you and certainly we all need the church. That church will extend a hearty welcome to all seeking or desiring a church of their own and a church of their own choice.

There are those who claim affiliation with some church denomination but they have never become a part of that church here. There are those without church affiliation and perhaps without any particular denomination in mind.

But the church of your choice will welcome you, welcome your membership and welcome your help and your co-operation in their program.

It is also true there are those of us who never help support any church or church program but we would not remain in any community that did not have a church and its influence.

parties and the proposition might become prohibitively expensive if earth fill must be bought.

Mayor W. H. Yeager and City Atty. Neil Wilson led a discussion as to whether diking the addition would divert the normal flow of floodwaters, making the city liable for damages in the event of another flood.

Yeager and Weindorf said before the council aerial photos of the floodwaters' course in October and a record of measurements by Weindorf and Yeager showing land elevations in the Vaswood area. They sought to prove a cotton field to the south of the addition had diverted the waters into the addition originally.

The normal course of the waters, the Vaswood representatives argued, is through the cotton field to the south. They said it originally had contours similar to land across Thirteenth street to the east, but had been leveled for farming operations, thus diverting the water. The representatives said diking the Vaswood alleys would not appreciably increase the volume of water flowing over the cotton field in event of another flood.

Weindorf said the high water mark of 1954 floodwaters in the addition was 1.3 feet above the alley. Raising the alleys two feet, he argued, would give adequate protection to the addition.

"If we should get more water than that," Yeager smiled, "we would just have to take our chances like everyone else."

Weindorf suggested that while the work is in progress it should be carried on to the north to protect the adjacent Charl-Ann addition now under development.

The trio also proposed that the alley-dikes be topped by caliche and asphalt surfacing torn up in the First street construction to give a hard surface to the dike.

Four Corners—

"Nobody seems to know who he is," said Cunningham, grinning. "We get letters from him from time to time, always postmarked 'Durango.' But on one has ever seen him."

"Dewings," an outspoken booster of San Juan River Basin, expressed belief each of the four state corners "is the stepchild of its parent state."

The Herald-News in an eight-column banner headline Monday asked: "Should Four Corners Area become New State?"

Letters and telegrams from representative groups among the 75,000 persons in the 62,500 square mile area indicate the answer is "yes," Cunningham said.

He reported six cities are campaigning for designation of Capital—Farmington, N. M., and Cortez, Durango, Mancos, Pagosa Springs and Telluride, Colo. Cunningham said "general opinion" places the boundaries of the 49th state at angles opposite the intersection of the present state lines, thus forming a rough diamond shape around the Four Corners.

Winds Expected To Return, Bring More Dust Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winds were expected to return to New Mexico tomorrow with more blowing dust following a brief rest period yesterday.

No dust was reported in the state yesterday, with winds in all sections staying below the 15-mile-an-hour mark.

The Clayton area in northeast New Mexico, having dug its way out of most of the snowbanks which isolated it for a time this week, was starting to be thankful for the moisture. The much-needed snow came at a time when cattle were dying of dust pneumonia, and fields were losing more of their irreplaceable topsoil.

Afternoon temperature readings yesterday jumped as much as 20 degrees in some places. Nighttime cold likewise was less intense, although near-or below-freezing temperatures still occurred in most places.

Grants, with 20, was the coolest spot in the state this morning. Generally fair and mild weather is expected to continue, with somewhat stronger afternoon winds. Tomorrow another spring wind storm is predicted.

Ranchers Hail Quick Blizzard As God-Send

CLAYTON (AP)—Ranchers are hailing this week's sudden blizzard as a God-send today as they travel over their grazing land and find the soil wetter and healthier than it has been in years.

This northeastern New Mexico cowtown was paralyzed when a driving blizzard struck Tuesday. Auto traffic and telephone communications were disrupted and some 75 persons were marooned. But a warm sun Wednesday cut into the snow and left the city normal by noon.

Approved a request by the Eagles ballclub to use NuMexer park Sunday afternoons during the summer, on the condition the park be left in good condition.

Czech Students Ask Asylum

REGENSBURG, Germany (AP)—Two Czech students crash-landed a stolen sports plane in a field near here today and asked for political asylum.

Regensburg is in northern Bavaria about 40 miles from the Czech frontier.

German police identified the two as Karel Kucera, 20 and Zdenek Nachmilner, 19.

The tiny, German-made plane which the two told the police they had commandeered in Czechoslovakia, was battered as it plowed up ground in the farm field landing.

U.S. authorities took the pair into custody for interrogation and declined to disclose details of the flight.

Mitchell Opposes Too-High Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell testified today that boosting the statutory minimum wage to $1.25 an hour would be "unsound" and raising it to $1 "would cause very serious adjustments in some industries."

Under questioning by a Senate labor subcommittee, Mitchell stuck tightly to the 90-cent figure recommended by the President Eisenhower earlier this year. It would be a 15-cent rise from the present 75-cent minimum wage.

Mitchell said he knows of "no sound reason" why the maximum wage should not be extended. Employees of interstate chain stores, interstate hotel and motion picture chains, and some other workers—about two million in all.

Dust Storms Hit 5 Million Acres More in March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dust storms struck an additional five million acres last month, the agriculture department reports.

Eastern New Mexico is listed among the areas hard-hit and still threatened because of inadequate cover. Other areas in that condition include southwestern Nebraska, southeastern Wyoming, eastern Colorado, western Texas, western Kansas and western Oklahoma.

Eisenhower Urges Joining World Organization

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to advance "the struggle against Communist domination" by approving United States membership in a new 34-nation organization on world trade.

In a special message to the lawmakers from his vacation headquarters here, the President declared refusal to approve would in the long run "play directly into the hands of the Communists."

House Returns To Natural Gas Pricing

By MARION BURSON
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The House commerce committee buckles down again today to its study of this knotty question: Should the federal government regulate producer prices of natural gas sold to interstate pipelines?
 Resuming hearings it began before the congressional Easter recess, the committee called for testimony today from Randall J. LeBoeuf Jr., counsel for the Consolidated Edison Co. of New York.
 At issue is an effort by a strong bloc in Congress to take from the federal power commission the authority to regulate prices producers can charge for natural gas they sell to pipelines. The commission contended for years it did not have this authority, but the Supreme Court ruled last year that it does and should exercise it.

The question has been a hot one for many years, arraying gas producing states of the Southwest against the consuming East and Midwest industrial areas. Many Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans from rural areas have lined up with the forces opposing regulation on the ground that federal control over the price of gas at the wellhead is an invasion of state's rights.

BEFORE the House committee are several proposals for dealing with the problem but a bill by Rep. Harris (R-Ark.) to take away the FPC's authority has the widest support. Producers and pipelines are lined up behind it. FPC Chairman Jerome Kuykendall, at the start of the hearings, testified that a commission majority favors the Harris bill.
 Producer and pipeline witnesses backing the measure have been heard in the first two weeks of hearings. Consumer representatives get their chance next week.
 The fight has revolved around the question of what Congress has in mind when it passed the Natural Gas Act of 1938.
 Under that law the FPC sets the appropriate rates pipelines may charge the distributing utilities for gas. The utilities' rates to consumers are fixed by state regulatory bodies. But the producer's price has been a regulatory no man's land.

 Whether Congress intended the act to apply to producers as well as to pipelines is a question that rose soon after the law was passed.

IN 1950 Congress passed a bill by Sen. Kerr (D-Okl.) to make it clear that Congress did not so intend. Former President Truman vetoed the Kerr bill.
 A Truman appointee, Mon Wallen, then FPC chairman, cast the deciding vote in a 3-2 decision in which the commission ruled it didn't have authority under the natural gas act to regulate an independent producer of gas.
 Such a producer is one having no financial affiliation with a pipeline company but who sells his gas to the pipeline at a price determined by "arm's length" bargaining.

A TOURIST'S NOTEBOOK—

Desert Parties Wild New Thing for Yankee Tourist

By HAL BOYLE

GIZA, Egypt—The Sphinx did everything but turn on its haunches in surprise.

Behind it under mellow moonlight in the shadow of an ancient pyramid the other night echoed the weird noises of a 20th Century desert party.

Believe me, dear friend of the western world, if you haven't been on a desert party, you don't know what a party is. The mere sounds of one are enough to wake a sleeping pharaoh in his tomb and cause him to grab an oar of his solar boat and row madly toward mars.

The ingredients of this particular desert party were rather complex. They included 100 guests, 50 camels, 15 trained Arabian horses, 22 donkeys, 14-horse drawn sand carts, a troupe of whirling dervishes, 34 musicians, a mutters' chorus of 48 men, 112 donkey and camel boys, an unknown number of cooks and servants, and 14 belly dancers.

Desert Parties of this kind are maybe 5,000 years old here, but they certainly are an eye opener to a guy from out of town. As best as I could figure it out, here is what happened:

At twilight the guests grabbed the nearest mount available and set out across the sand. Turning called "California, here I come," down the hospitable leer of a camel I climbed up on a sorrel horse named "Ginger."

The Egyptian army fired a volley of welcome. Then the vast melange of men, women, and animals began marching across the sands to the accompaniment of flutes, drums and tambourines.

If you saw it in a Hollywood movie, you would swear it was a lie. In the midst of this Bedouin bedlam, camels growled, horses neighed, women screamed, strong men paled—and the stern silent sons of the desert cased the guests, figuring which would be likely to give the best tips.

One camel floundered. No one worried about the guest. The bedsheet-clad natives began fighting among themselves over who would pay for the camel's hospital bill. Finally both camel and guest came back up on their feet, the fight stopped, the march continued.

A Mile farther on we came to a huge tent. It was spread with the finest of oriental carpets and pillows. The guests knelt or sprawled in comfort, some wondering who would peel the next grape, and the party as on.

The dervishes came in and whirled. One native gentleman with hair as long as Lady Godiv's twirled and twirled until he had twisted his head enough times to wind a 400-day clock through the next century, bowed to applause, then went outside the tent to be unwound.

Native lackeys rushed amid the lolling guests with wine.

Then in came the 14 belly dancers in one of the greatest navel operations in Egyptian history.

By and large the chief difference between a pyramid and a belly dancer here is one of movement. The proportions are about the same.

None Of the Egyptian belly dancers at the party had a thing on Gypsy Rose Lee. However, they were here.

Personally, I thought the most interesting was a middle-aged lady who performed her dance wearing atop her head a giant candelabra bearing 15 lit candles. Her dancing was a victory of art over age.

Then everybody rose and piled into the food—freshly-killed lambs

Guaranteed Wage in Hands Of Seven Men

By NORMAN WALKER

DETROIT—The answer to the controversial problem of the guaranteed annual wage is in the hands of seven men.

They are the key negotiators for General Motors, Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers.

Participating are John Bugas and Mel Lindquist for Ford, Harry Anderson and Louis G. Seaton for GM and Walter Reuther, John W. Livingston and Ken Bannon for the UAW-CIO.

These men have a dozen or more aides flanking them in the separate sets of negotiations, but they are the principals who will make the decisions.

Bugas, 46, as Detroit director of the FBI, attracted the eye of Henry Ford II and was brought into the company in 1944. He became industrial relations vice president in 1946 in a fast rise to prominence. Tall and athletic-looking, he once was a star basketball player at the University of Wyoming.

Lindquist, 45, has been Ford's general manager for industrial relations since 1946. Another Westerner, he's from Colorado.

GM's team of Anderson and Seaton have been deep in their company's personnel work since before the UAW was formed. Anderson has been vice president in charge of personnel since 1942. They have piloted GM through serious UAW strikes. Anderson is 63 but looks younger. Seaton, 48, is stocky and blond, methodical and thorough-going.

Reuther, 47, is president of both the UAW and CIO. A tough bargainer, he led many of the auto industry's sitdown strikes. He is often criticized for being left-wing.

Roasted whole on pits, ground mutton broiled on steel spikes, artichokes, a casserole dish of okra rice rolled in grape leaves, sweet thick oriental coffee.

Suddenly a desert wind, the "Khamsin," began to blow, lifting great sand clouds. The party ended. We headed back from the desert.

One guest who got lost showed up later and said: "I went by the Sphinx. Guess what it looked like in the moonlight—Elsa Maxwell!"

Well, it was kind of an Elsa Maxwell evening.

EDWARD J. CORSI talks to reporters in Washington after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles offered him a new job which deals with immigration matters. Corsi, who was ousted as Deputy Administrator of the Refugee Relief Act, said that Dulles expressed complete confidence in him. Corsi came under fire of the House Un-American Activities Committee when chairman Francis Walter (D-Pa.) charged that he once associated with Red-front groups. Corsi emphatically denied the accusations. Corsi added, "Walter is not fighting me, he's fighting the liberal approach which I have to immigration." (International)

Elections Hold Up Britains' Formosa Pact

WASHINGTON—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today he strongly doubts that Great Britain would agree to any declaration on Formosa until after she holds elections, perhaps in late May.

He said the "initiative" in the Formosa Strait "will remain with president and has been director of the union's GM department since 1952. He leads the UAW bargaining team at the GM talks.

Bannon, 40, bespectacled and balding, was active in organizing Ford workers in 1936 as a young man barely out of his teens. He served a hitch in the navy in World War II and has been director of the UAW Ford department since 1947.

the Chinese Communist until that time."

Secretary of State Dulles made a new bid to the Red Chinese yesterday to agree to a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, saying this country would not insist the Peiping renounce her claims to Formosa.

Formosa is the seat of Chiang Kai-see's Nationalist government. The Reds have repeatedly threatened to seize it. Chiang in turn has pledged to return to the mainland.

In a brief talk to a group of church editors, Dulles said the kind of cease-fire arrangement this country favors would not force either Chinese fraction to give up its conflicting claims. He said both would be asked only to renounce the use of force to attain those goals.

The secretary termed the Far East outlook "not to promising," however, and said Red China seems to be motivated by the same type of aggressiveness as Nazi Germany just before World War II.

AAlai E. Stevenson on Monday called for a "declaration" by the United States and her allies—and all "uncommitted states"—to condemn the use of force in the Formosa Strait and to stand together "in the defense of Formosa... pending some final settlement of its status..."

MISSIS MATE

FORT WORTH, Tex.—A 45-year-old man was arrested in a tavern after he asked police to help him "get my wife out of this joint." He was booked on a drunk charge when the woman convinced officers the man was not her husband.

GORDIAN KNOT

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—A Canadian has written to the Great Falls justice of the peace who performed his marriage ceremony in 1944 that he wants the justice to untie the knot.

The man wrote from Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., that his wife is living with another man. Justice A. Isaacson wrote back that he could not untie the marital knot and advised that an attorney be consulted.

Warns Princess

"ONLY SOLUTION" to the romance of Britain's Princess Margaret and Capt. Peter Townsend is for her to give up any plans to marry him, declared Bishop Alfred Blunt (above) of the Church of England. Bishop Blunt made the first official disclosure in 1936 of the romance between the then King Edward VIII and Wallis Simpson. (International)
