

City Council Requested To Name Park

Mayor Asks Citizens To Approve; Disapprove

Saying, "We need the consensus of the people, it's the people's park, not the council's park." The Muleshoe City Council declined to re-name the city park on West Avenue D. as "Lee Horsley Park."

This decision was handed down following a request made by Nancy Kidd, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Mrs. Kidd said she was not speaking for the CofC, but had been asked by some local citizens to make the request to rename, or name, the city park.

"Several citizens and different organizations expressed the desire to name the new city park the 'Lee Horsley Park' and we have permission from Lee Horsley to name the park for him," said Mrs. Kidd. "We do need a name for our park, and we would like, if possible, to make the presentation on the 4th of July."

School Trustees Will Consider New Personnel

Next Monday, June 25, the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. in the school administration building.

After the regular opening of the session, business items will include:

Visit with school architect and engineer; tentatively approve career ladder committee's recommendations; approve new computers for administrative uses; and review the district health policy.

Financial reports will include bank balances; fund balances and approval of payment of current bills.

Following the tax collection report, informational reports will be given by the board president; superintendent; assistant superintendent for business and assistant superintendent for instruction.

To be considered in executive session will be resignations and to hire new personnel.

Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner said, "Some people think it (the park) should be named for someone local. People I have talked to have been both ways. Some have been for the change, and some have been against it."

"I realize it's not costing tax dollars, but we don't want to start a precedent by naming everything we own."

In response to a question by Councilman James Roy Jones, "Would it help Muleshoe?" the CofC manager replied, "It won't hurt us."

Paul Wilbanks, councilman, said, "we need to conduct a poll to see what the people want."

Councilman A. V. Wood commented, "Not one person has spoken to me in a positive manner about renaming the park."

A suggestion was made by Councilman Wilbanks for the park to be named for a group instead of an individual, such as "Veteran's Park," or some similar name.

Councilman Jones also said all his comments about renaming the park had been 'negative.'

It was decided to take one week, and take the decision to the people. On Page 1 of this week's Muleshoe Journal, is a form you may fill out and take to the CofC offices at the Muleshoe City Hall. If not signed, the form will not be valid. Or, you may call the CofC at 272-4248, or the City Hall at 272-4528 and give your views. You must give your name at the time you call, or your vote will not be counted.

This is for the entire Muleshoe area, according to Mayor Turner, and is not limited to the people living in the city limits of Muleshoe.

Deadline for indicating your choice for the name to be changed, or not to be changed at this time, is 5 p.m. on Wednesday, June 27.

The council reiterated that this is nothing against Lee Horsley, but the very negative comments about naming the park for someone who did not grow up in Muleshoe. "After all," commented one of the council members, Wayland Jennings did grow up in Littlefield, Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Men of America awards program announced that the men named on the enclosed list have been selected for inclusion in the 1989 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

Those names are Jay C. Messenger and Mark Heidel.

L D J Angus, Muleshoe, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Association, with over 24,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world.

The Texas Tech University chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta, the national academic honor society for freshman college students, has initiated 150 new members selected for superior classroom performance during the 1989-90 school year.

Chosen from Texas Tech's freshman class of more than 6,000 full-time students, the new freshman honorary initiates included:

Jonessa Gay Jennings, management information systems major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Jennings, Lazbudie; and Lisa A. Noble, math major, daughter of Sandy and Deborah Noble, Muleshoe.

More than 2,000 Texas Tech University students qualified for the academic honors lists at the end of the 1990 spring semester.

Students on the President's Honor List earned a perfect 4.0 (A) grade-point average while enrolled in 12 or more semester hours of class work. Students finishing 12 or more hours with a grade-point average of 3.5 to 3.9 qualified for the Dean's Honor List.

Students making the honor rolls included the following: Guy Lynn Brockman, Landscape Architecture, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brockman; Sherri Lynn Stovall Jones, senior Secondary Education, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stovall; and Brandon Richard Wilson, sophomore Business Economics, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Wilson, all on

Rotary Finalizes July 4 Plans; Committee Leaders Are Chosen

Tuesday was a day for 'classification' talks for the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

Rotarian Abel Arguello could not attend the meeting and had been in charge of the program.

Giving classification talks for fellow Rotarians were Ed Cox and Barry Cowart.

Ed Cox said he had lived in Muleshoe all his life except for two days when he was born. He said he was born in a Clovis hospital because Muleshoe had no hospital at the time.

He also talked about the family business, Fry & Cox, Inc. and gave the background of the business, including the fact that it was started in 1921 by his father's stepfather, and joined later by his father, Jim Cox, and Jim Cox's brother, who is now deceased.

Cox said he and his wife, Carol, have been married for 20 years and are the parents of two children.

"I have traveled a good part of the free world," said Cox, "but feel there is no place else to live but Muleshoe."

Also giving a classification talk was Barry Cowart. Dr. Cowart said he was born at Amherst and grew up at Olton, and formerly played football against Muleshoe.

Following graduation from Olton High School, he attended college in Lubbock, and at Texas A&M before completing his veterinarian degree at the University of Missouri.

He and his wife, Jo Ellen are the parents of four children.

He commented, "My family and I are proud to be residents of Muleshoe. Muleshoe has a totally different business philosophy."

Rotary President Terry Hutto said the next four programs would be by Lonnie Adrian, Abel Arguello, Nick Bamert, then Ted Barnhill.

Songleader Curtis Shelburne introduced the new Rotary Sweetheart, Michelle Dent, who will be taking over when Staci McElroy leaves in August for college.

Jerry Hicks was winner of the Polio Plus drawing.

President Hutto went into detail working out plans for Rotary involvement in the July 4th activities.

He said Rotarians need to fill three categories, including the food; baseball throw and Hawaiian Trip ticket sales.

He named as committee chairmen, Bret McCasland, for the baseball throw; Randy Field for the hamburger sales and onion cutting; and Bruce Purdy the Hawaiian Trip ticket sales.

Each Rotarian was asked to become involved in the projects.

Also, the president reminded that July 3 would be installation of officers for Rotary, as well as Lee Horsley for the program that day.

Hutto said the board had met and that because so many people had requested to attend the meeting, because of time and space, it was decided to limit those attending to Rotary members and their Rotary Anns.

Bruce Purdy asked that the Rotary Club turn out in full force to help sell tickets for the Hawaiian Trip. "We could make a lot of money for Rotary for the next year," he said.

"A lot of work has gone into the preparations for July 4. This is your chance to show what Rotary's for and get involved."

President Hutto reminded that the whole purpose for Rotary is to donate to things.

Visiting Rotarians included Henry Ford Jr. of Ralls and Doris Reding from Levelland. Other visitors were Jay Cage, Ernest Cadenhead, Don Carter, Benny Clifton, James Cox, Christopher Shelburne, Douglass Field, Troy Watson, and Rotary Anns Carol Cox and Judy Watson.

Jumbo Grasshoppers Threaten Cotton Crops

Jumbo grasshoppers, those big flightless rascals that make highways slick and farmers sick, are starting to emerge and head for West Texas cotton fields.

Tom Fuchs San Angelo-based Extension Service entomologist, said there are many theories concerning the intermittent onslaughts of grasshoppers, but none have been tied to just one reason.

"Moisture probably has something to do with it," he said. "Many old timers say that a wet February means jumbos in the spring. Last year, we had a real wet February but no grasshoppers, so who can say?"

The jumbo grasshopper, a native of the Southwest, is a large, brown, clumsy species with wings reduced to mere pads. Sometimes it is called a buffalo grasshopper because of its slightly humped appearance. It is strong and has greatly enlarged hind legs, but it can not fly.

Fuchs said problems occur because the jumbos, or "lubbers" as they are often called, emerge about the same time as cotton.

"A jumbo on an emerging cotton plant spells death. One bite and the seedling is gone. A few hoppers can do a heck of a lot of damage. In a two-day period, a single hopper will take out three or four plants. High populations of the pests can reduce a stand very quickly."

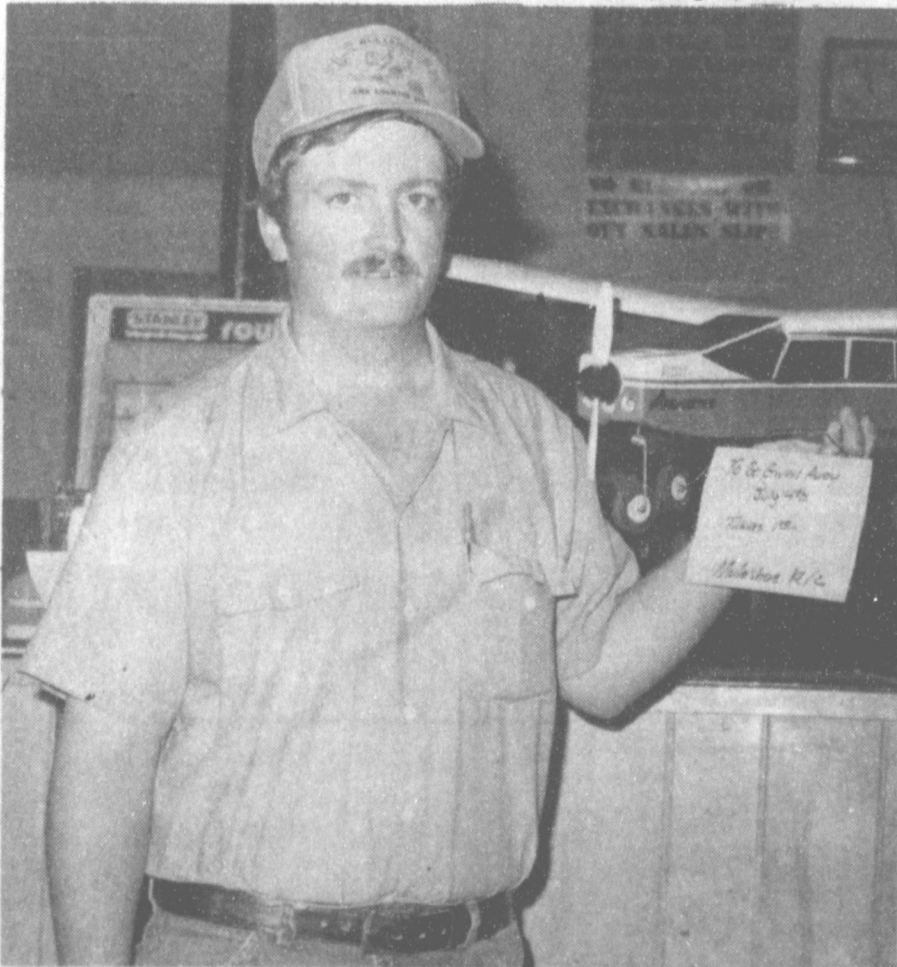

The entomologist said the counties normally affected are from Tom Green north of Scurry and Mitchell and west to Glasscock and Reagan. But the grasshopper can overtake larger areas and move north to the High Plains.

Fuchs said the grasshopper's voracious appetite is not limited to cotton. Grain sorghum, corn, fruit trees and even gardens also may be hit. Cotton suffers the worst because unlike the other crops, it is a dicot, meaning the growing point of the plant is above the ground.

A grasshopper kills the cotton plant with a single bite to the center of this growing point, he explained. The critical time occurs when the young plant is less than two weeks old. After that, the plant has more leaves and can take some grasshopper pressure.

Sorghum plants also can be heavily damaged by the pests, but because their growing points are below the ground, Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

Lifelong Learning To Offer

First Aid, CPR Course

The Lifelong Learning Center at Wayland Baptist University and the Hale County Chapter of the American Red Cross will combine to present a pair of first aid-related courses in the coming month.

The first course, scheduled from 6:30-9:45 p.m. June 26 and 28, will teach students methods of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) for infants and children. The course is designed to teach childcare workers to help save the life of a child whose heart and/or breathing has stopped.

Both lecture and hands-on practice with manikins will be employed in teaching the course. Upon completion, each participant will be a certified basic rescuer.

Pre-registration is required in room 101-C of the Lifelong Learning Center at 708 Yonkers by 3 p.m. June 22. Cost of the course is $12, and enrollment is limited to seven participants.

The second course, standard first aid, will be taught from 6-10 p.m. July 10 and 12. The course will prepare participants to recognize the signs and symptoms of a heart attack, help someone who is choking, do the work of an unconscious person's heart and lungs until medical help arrives, and keep an injured person safe until help arrives.

Cost of the course is $17.50, and participants must pre-register no later than 3 p.m. July 6 in room 101-C of the LLC. Enrollment is limited to seven students.

CLEP Exam Set

Summer testing dates for the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) at South Plains College have been announced by Renee Hester, coordinator of testing and assessment.

The CLEP program awards college credit by examination. Both general and subject exams are available.

The next series of CLEP exams will be administered June 18, July 18 and Aug. 15. Test times are 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. all days in the SPC Student Assistance Center, located on the third floor of the library.

Fee is $37.

Computer Course Scheduled At Wayland

Billed as being especially for those who know nothing about computers, a 12-hour introduction to Computers workshop sponsored by the Lifelong Learning Center at Wayland Baptist University is scheduled to begin June 25 at Van Howling Memorial Library.

The course meets from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. on June 25, July 2, 9, and 16. Cost of the course, which is taught by WBU Assistant Registrar Don Dyess, is $60. Pre-registration is required by noon on June 22 in room 101-C of the Lifelong Learning Center, 708 Yonkers.

The workshop will deal with what a computer can and can't do, putting information into and extracting it from a computer, simple commands, operation of disk programs, and a basic introduction to word processing, electronic filing and spread-sheets.

Enrollment is limited to 12 participants, and each student will be provided an individual computer. Registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Classic Set At SPC TAC/USA Texas

The South Plains College Track Officials Association is looking for a few good athletes as it prepares for the 1990 Texas Athletic Congress Texas Classic held at South Plains College Saturday, June 23.

The Texas Classic is an invitational championship and Junior Olympic qualifiers meet. According to W.A. Wise, TAC director, the top six qualifiers in each event will advance to the Region 12 TAC meet at Butler Stadium in Houston. The top five qualifiers at the regional meet will go the national meet held in Lincoln, Nebraska.

"We would like to extend an invitation to area athletes and parents to attend this outstanding meet," said Wise. "This will be the only opportunity to qualify for the Junior Olympics."

The meet will include six divisions for men and women that are based on date of birth. The divisions include Bantam division for entrants born in 1978 or later, Midget, 1976-77; Youth, 1974-75; Intermediate, 1972-73; Young Men/Women, 1970-71 and an Open division for participants who were born in 1969 or before. All divisions will include relay and field events and medals will be awarded for the first three finishers in each event.

The meet is open to any athlete that is registered with the Texas Athletic Congress. TAC forms should be filled out prior to June 23, however entrants may register at the meet where TAC forms will be available.

"We are expecting more than 500 young men and women for the meet," Wise said. "As a result we are in need of officials. Individuals who would like to volunteer to serve as officials for the one-day meet can contact the College."

For more information or to acquire a TAC registration form, contact the South Plains College athletic department at (806)894-9611, ext. 229 or write: The Texas Classic, South Plains College, Levelland, Texas, 79336, in care of W.A. Wise, Box 104.

Rally Round

The American Flag

The American flag has been our rallying point: when soldiers on the battlefield find courage by its sight, when Americans remember its significance and symbolism of sacrifice, and when it is draped in honor over the casket of our war dead. This week we rally around the flag after the U.S. Supreme Court's narrow 5 to 4 decision that it is unconstitutional to make a law against burning the American flag. It is now time that we seek the collective opinion of Americans about preventing desecration of our flag through a constitutional amendment. The authors of the U.S. Constitution knew there would be times when succeeding generations would have to clarify the will of the American people through constitutional amendments: voted by two-thirds of the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate and ratified by the legislatures of 38 states. I supported the law against flag burning.

Blood has been shed to protect all of our dearly held freedoms, including freedom of speech. Few things anger me as much as the cowardly action of those who choose to burn the flag rather than to express freedom of speech through reasoned argument. It seems to me that they may only be capable of the crudest expression of their opinions. They have nothing to say, nor the ability to say it. Just try to recall WHY a demonstrator burned the flag and I believe you will only be able to remember the flag in flames and your own feelings of anger and hurt. Flag-burners do not seek to convince or persuade through free speech expression; they seek only to assault your deepest-held feelings.

the amount of cholesterol in the bloodstream. And research suggests that a high blood cholesterol level is considered a risk factor for heart disease. Therefore, high fat diets and heart disease are closely linked.

There are three kinds of fat--saturated, mono-unsaturated and polyunsaturated. While most saturated fatty acids raise blood cholesterol levels, the mono- and polyunsaturated varieties either have no effect on or reduce blood cholesterol.

The saturation levels of all fats vary. While animal fats are the only that contain cholesterol, the saturated tropical oils are equally or more saturated than animal fats. For example, coconut oil is 92 percent saturated, palm kernel oil is 86 percent and palm oil is 51 percent saturated, while butter-fat is 66 percent saturated, beef tallow is 52 percent saturated and lard is 41 percent saturated. In contrast, soybean oil is 15 percent saturated and Snowdrift All Vegetable Shortening made from soybean and cottonseed oils is 25 percent saturated.

People who talk fast often outrun their facts.

CELEBRATES FIFTY YEARS--Mr. and Mrs. John Smith will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception Saturday, June 23, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Bailey County Coliseum. Hosting the event will be their family, Cindi Smith and Gary and Celeste Smith, Sam and Elaine Damron, Jane and Jim Reese, and Robbie Damron. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Smith and the former Billie Joan Damron were married on June 23, 1940, in Tucumcari, N.M. and have lived in Muleshoe the majority of their married life. Smith is a real estate broker. (Guest Photo)

Cocktail Party Honors Mr and Mrs Michael Isaac

The patio of Tim and Lynn Campbell was the scene of a cocktail party and wedding shower honoring Michael and Brenda Isaac, Saturday, June 16. The honorees and Charlie and Georgette Isaac, parents of the groom, greeted the guests between the hours of 7:30 and 9 p.m.

A yellow floral arrangement accented the serving table. Copper and crystal appointments were used.

The hostesses gift was a large mirror. Hostesses for the event included: Jim and Terry Young, Scott and Tricia Campbell, Chester and Elinor Yerby, Larry and Sammie Hall, Sydna Flowers, Cliff and Jo Timberlake, Jay and Mert Feagley, Joe and Melba King, Sherry Embry and Tim and Lynn Campbell.

1930 THREE CHARGED WITH CHICKEN THEFT

Three men were arrested here last Friday, charged with chicken stealing. One is still in jail while two are out on bond awaiting action of the grand jury.

It is said that 41 chickens were sold to a local produce house here, some of them being identified later by a lady south of Muleshoe who had her chickens marked.

1940 CENSUS CHECK-UP GIVES MULESHOE POPULATION 779 PRELIMINARY REPORT

According to figures received here this week from the supervisor of the census for this district, Muleshoe has a population of 779. These figures are preliminary and subject to correction.

The population of Muleshoe was not shown in 1920 and there were no farms enumerated in that year. No report has been made of the population of the county. Records at the tax collectors office shows that there were 103 poll tax receipts issued in the county in 1920. Practically all of the town of Muleshoe has been built in the past four years.

1950 SOUTH WESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE CO. IN ITS NEW MULESHOE OFFICE

Southwestern Public Service Co. of Muleshoe Monday morning occupied their ultra-modern new office located on Main Street in the Taylor building which has been remodeled by the company at a cost of several thousand dollars.

Jeff Peeler, manager and members of the staff breathed easily again after having been cramped in their small quarters for several weeks.

The office contains a manager's office, spacious front lobby which has comfortable seats here and there, a ladies' lounge, rest rooms, servicemen's work rooms, storage rooms. A two way radio system provides quick communication with crews in the field or with other offices of the company.

Mr. Peeler said the company plans a formal opening of their Muleshoe office at a later date.

1960 LOVERS OF TRAVEL TO SEE U.S.A.

Two adventurous youngsters are Joan and Tommy Lemons, children of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Lemons of Muleshoe.

Joan, 12, will leave Sunday on the train for a two month tour of the East by herself. Her first stop will be Chicago, where she will be met by a cousin of the family and shown the sights of that city.

From there she will travel to Pittsburg to visit Mr. Lemon's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood and daughter.

The Woods' and Joan plan a tour of New York, Niagara Falls, and Canada.

Tommy, 8, will fly to Rupert, Idaho, July 3 by himself. He will spend several weeks with another sister of Mr. Lemons.

The children are thrilled about their trips. "I don't think Joan has touched the ground for several weeks" Mr. Lemons said.

1970 SERVICE PERSONNEL APPRECIATION BANQUET TUESDAY

On Tuesday at 8 p.m. service station, restaurant and motel personnel will be honored at a banquet at the Corral Restaurant, according to Chamber of Commerce manager, Jerry Hutton.

The banquet is to be slated by the Chamber of Commerce as a special 'Thank You' for these unsung ambassadors of Muleshoe, said the CofC manager.

"When tourists first come into Muleshoe, the persons they meet first, such as the service station operator or the waitress in the restaurant, often leaves a lasting impression about the area," said Hutton. "If the person who serves them is friendly and polite, then they have a good feeling about Muleshoe, and if they are abrupt and withdrawn, then the tourist usually has a 'bad taste' in his mouth about our town."

All station owners and their employees, and all restaurants and their employees, including drive-in restaurants and motel personnel are invited to attend the special banquet in their honor.

WEDDING VOWS EXCHANGED--Cleta Williams and Norman Jacobson exchanged wedding vows at 7 p.m. on Saturday, June 16, 1990, in the Gwyn Room at the Old Santa Fe Depot. Friends and relatives were present with Todd Ellis, Justice of the Peace, performing the single ring ceremony. Matron of honor was Pauline Clifton and Benny Clifton served as best man. A reception followed at the Depot, with the bride's sisters, Carolyn Herrington and Monnie McBride, serving. Mrs. Jacobson is a longtime employee of The Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals. The bridegroom is self-employed as a computer programmer/analyst and works part time for KSEL Radio in Portales, N.M.

but they named no park after him.

"We need to get the opinion of the people before we make a final decision."

Jack Dunham, from the Muleshoe Fire Department met with the council to request consideration for the city to approve the fire department for a Texas Volunteer Fire Department pension fund.

He and the city manager said this was first discussed in 1977, but no action was ever taken.

City Manager Dave Marr explained the options available for the city to consider, and the cost for each option.

"If this plan had been adopted several years ago, we have three widows in town, who would be a lot happier. Their husbands had a combined 80 year total with the fire department before they died," explained Dunham.

After a lengthy discussion, the city made a motion for a committee to be named from the fire department, to include Jack Dunham, and other fire department members, to pursue the options, and go back to the city with a proposal.

The committee will be working on the proposal for 90 days, then present it to the city council.

In another discussion, the city council approved Muleshoe joining Hockley, Cochran and Lamb counties in a project to check into the cost of a landfill operation required by the State of Texas. Muleshoe's portion of the study, or survey, to be made, will be from $4,000-$7,000 said the city manager.

Senator Asks Flag Burning Be Banned

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm is co-sponsoring a constitutional amendment to prohibit flag burning.

While many Senate Democrats applauded or defended the Supreme Court's decision to allow flag-burning as "free speech," Republican Senators promised to bring a ban to a vote as rapidly as possible.

"Great!" responded one Democrat to the news that the court had overturned the ban on flag burning for the second time.

He was echoed by a defendant in the case, 23-year-old Jennifer Campbell of Seattle who joined other flag burners to celebrate her victory. "I feel great," she told reporters, adding that Flag Day should become "Flag Desecration Day."

President Bush, Sen. Gramm, leading veterans organizations and others, however, immediately outlined plans to push for protection for the American flag which cannot be voided by hostile judges, attorneys or demonstrators.

Passage of an amendment to ban flag burning requires support from 67 of the 100 senators and 290 of the 435 representatives, Gramm noted. Thirty-eight state legislatures then would have to ratify the amendment, he said.

The latest court decision grew out of a so-called "festival of defiance" in Seattle and protest in Washington, both of which were designed to challenge the federal anti-flag burning statute. It followed a case in which young leftists wearing Palestinian garb burned and spat on an American flag in Dallas, in violation of a Texas law which the court then overturned.

Gramm was among those senators to express strong doubt that the Supreme Court would uphold the new federal law. The constitutional amendment, he predicted, is the only legislation certain to protect the American flag.

"I reject the ridiculous notion that burning the American flag is somehow protected by the Constitution," Gramm said.

"We may not be able to stop lunatics in the Middle East from attacking the American flag, but we will not be compelled to grant our own homegrown radicals approval to mutilate the symbol of our country," said the senator.

Marr said the counties need someone with expertise to come up with cost figures. "We don't have the staff or the expertise to come up with the proper figures," he said. "And, we must come up with some real good, and some real accurate figures."

The city approved joining with the other counties for the study.

In other city council action, Marr said the telephone booth has been installed at the new airport, and said he had been meeting with Walter Schmidt and Dick Clikeman from Almeria Corp. and Duane Castleberry about the proposed greenhouse operation.

He will be meeting with the Bailey County Commissioners Court on Friday reference the Almeria Corp. proposal.

He also discussed the city clean-up and talked about the city providing trucks for many years free of charge overnight to residents on a first come, first serve basis.

He told the council that the city had been spraying weeds along American Blvd. during the past week, as well as at other locations throughout the city.

Fuchs said, they simply send up another shoot once one is bitten off.

Fuchs said jumbos are generally most damaging around a field's perimeter. Because they don't fly, jumbos jump or walk, eating as they go. Their grazing patters are similar to deer; they start at a field's edge and work toward the middle. The entomologist said four or five days of heavy pressure by the insects is often all that is needed to take out 20 percent or more of a crop.

"If a farmer has more than one jumbo hopper per row-foot of cotton, he's got problems," said Fuchs. "Unfortunately, any estimation is hard to determine, because the pests are transient. They don't just go into a field and stay. They tend to move into the fields early in the morning and out again later in the morning, then it's in again in the afternoon and out again at night."

Fuchs said this constant movement can be used to help control the pest.

"One of the things that has been very successful for us to the use of a baited ditch," said Fuchs.

Fuchs said once in the ditch which is dug around the field, most of the critters will move along the bottom rather than try to climb out. He said it's then a relatively simple task to drop a handful of bait every three to five feet along the bottom of the ditch. Hoppers moving down the ditch will eat the bait and die.

The entomologist said the bait is very cost-effective. In many instances, only one or two sides of a field must be treated, often at a cost of less than $1 per acre.

The technique is also environmentally sound. Fuchs said the baiting is done only every two to five days over a relatively short time period. At the completion of the baiting, the crop is cultivated which closes the ditch thus converting any remaining bait. Fuchs said the pesticide used, Sevin, is also quite safe.

Luckily, the jumbo annually is way down the list of economically damaging pests of West Texas cotton.

Conference To Point Way To Financing Farms, Businesses

A conference which will help farmers, operators of small businesses and rural communities learn where and how to find financing will be held in Amarillo June 22 by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Federal and state officials, bankers and representatives of several agencies will address the question, "Where's the money?" for business and agricultural financing.

The program will be from 9 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd., West. It is sponsored by the Extension Service and the Potter County Extension agricultural committees.

Many agricultural producers, business persons and leaders in smaller communities throughout the Texas Panhandle and surrounding areas aren't sure of what help is available, or what steps to take to obtain financial help, said Jim Smith, Potter County extension agent.

Financing holds the key to development of our rural communities, as well as to the survival of farms and small businesses, said Dr. Steve Amosson, Extension Service economist and management specialist.

Following a welcome by Amarillo Mayor Keith Adams, U.S. Rep. Bill Sarpalus, D-Texas, will discuss work of the House Small Business Committee. U.S. Rep. Glenn English D-Okla., will explain activities in the House Rural Development Committee.

Sources of financing will be outlined by Terry Harman, state director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service. Loan programs available through the Small Business Administration will be covered by G. Till Phillips, deputy regional administrator of SBA.

Work of the state's Rural Economic Development Commission will be reported by Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and chairman of the commission.

Loan programs available through the Farmers Home Administration will be explained by John Kirchoff, assistant state director. Those available through the Texas Department of Agriculture will be outlined by Richard Salmon, TDA business development specialist.

The state legislature's perspective on business and agriculture financing will be presented by State Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, and Rep. John Smithee, R-Amarillo.

HANDLING STRESS

More than half of all Americans report regularly experiencing one or more symptoms of stress. Job, family and personal life can all be contributors. Even though some stress is desirable, leading to creative tension and motivation to overcome obstacles, too much stress impairs performance and can even lead to illness.

According to the American Hospital Association, some estimates cite stress as a factor in as many as 75 percent of all medical complaints, from the obvious stomach problems and sleeplessness to the less obvious heart disease and skin problems.

Most people are unable to alter the conditions under which they live; however, it is possible for individuals to change the way they react to stressful situations.

"Breathing exercises, meditation and sports activities can help in relieving life's pressures," said Katie Goar, community education coordinator at Methodist Hospital.

Following are a few of the tips Goar teaches in her stress management classes at Methodist Hospital.

1. Excercise. When pressures from the home or office cause anxiety, burn that nervous energy by getting some exercise.

2. Talk about it. Sharing worries with loved ones can help put stress into perspective.

3. Set limits. Know when to say "no" to extra work.

4. Make time for fun. Recreation can be very important to a person's frame of mind. Work time can be more effective after play.

5. Check off accomplishments. Making lists of tasks and checking them off as they are finished can bring a sense of accomplishment.

6. Eat a well-balanced diet. Nutritional needs increase under stress because the body uses food faster. Beware the tendency to overeat!

Methodist Hospital's next stress management course, called "Managing Stress and Making Time Work For You," will take place from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. July 17.

Court Decisions Seen As Teacher Career Ladder Victory

The state's largest education association today hailed the school reform legislation finally enacted as "an important step toward equity" and said the hard-fought new law "holds more promise for fundamental improvement" in Texas schools than most other school reforms of the past ten years.

Olivia "Ollie" Besteiro, president of the 95,000-member Texas State Teachers Association, said, "Aside from the major funding provisions that have received most of the attention, Senate Bill 1 puts Texas public schools in the forefront of deregulating basic educational decision making."

Provisions in the law enacted by the legislature and Gov. Bill Clements this week will pave the way for more parental involvement in setting the goals and standards for their own schools than any reform measure in the state's history.

Besteiro said SB 1 provides for the involvement of classroom teachers in educational decisions at the individual campus and school district levels and for parent involvement in setting campus "academic objectives."

TSTA will be working closely with the State Board of Education and Texas Education Agency in developing guidelines and rules to determine exactly how the decision making requirements will be implemented.

In addition, the TSTA president noted that lawmakers have also directed the Commissioner of Education, State Board of Education, and Teacher Retirement System (TRS) to develop a recommended plan for creation of a statewide health insurance program for school employees.

She said TSTA has "pushed hard" for many years to provide health insurance relief to local school districts and their employees through a statewide plan.

"Texas school employees find themselves in a health care crisis of catastrophic proportions," Besteiro said. Seventy-nine school districts do not even offer insurance plans to which employees can subscribe. Another 183 districts offer 14,000 employees an optional plan but pay nothing toward the premiums. This lack of employer participation causes the rates to be exorbitant and the benefits minimal.

"On the other hand, many districts are making a maximum effort to offer and pay for a quality health care package, but because of the small number of employees within the district, the coverage provided is minimal and expensive."

Besteiro said TSTA leaders are also pleased with the funding provisions in the bill, saying that the additional funds appropriated -- approximately $520 million in 1990-91 -- "represent a significant step toward the goal we all share of providing each and every child with the same chance at a top-notch education."

Annie Chester Services Held At Sudan

Funeral services for Annie Towns Chester, 98, of Sudan were held at 11 a.m. Monday, June 18, in The Sudan First Baptist Church with the Rev. Cliff Hargrove, officiating.

Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park at Littlefield under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Mrs. Chester died at 2:12 p.m. Saturday at her residence.

Born Sept. 6, 1891, in Veinville, Louisiana, she had been a resident of Sudan since 1929, moving there from Chillicothe. She was a homemaker, a member of the Sudan First Baptist Church, member of the Eastern Star and was Past Matron of the Sudan Eastern Star. She married John David Chester on November 25, 1906, in Verda, Louisiana. He died in 1964.

Survivors include a son, Dorman Chester of Sudan; three sisters, Beulah Neeley of Dill City, OK, Viola Core of Pueblo, CO, and Lottie Galloway of Sudan, Billy Chester of Sudan, Glen Chester of Sudan, and Dorma Ann Prokop of Dallas; nine great grandchildren; and 14 great great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a son, Earl W. Chester in June 1977.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Sudan Ambulance Fund.

Celestino Rojas Funeral Services Held Monday

Funeral services for Celestino Rojas, Sr., 54, were held at 11 a.m. Monday, June 18 in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church with Father Pat Maher, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Muleshoe Memorial Park Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Celestino died at 4:14 a.m. Saturday in the West Camp community.

Born April 6, 1936, in Bertram, TX, he had been a resident of Muleshoe since 1951, moving here from Bertram. He was a farmer and a member of the Muleshoe Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. He married Lily Rojas Dominguez on Oct 6, 1956, in Pep, TX.

Survivors include his wife, Lily; three sons, Celestino Rojas, Jr. of Muleshoe, Leroy Rojas of Clovis, N.M., and Arthur Rojas of Ruidoso, N.M.; a daughter, Nora Ogas of Muleshoe; five sisters, Rita Solis and Concha Solis, both of Bertram TX Sara Jimenez of Georgetown, Petra Salazar of Lampasses, and Emilia Marez of Dimmitt; three brothers, Ambrosio Rojas of Wichita Falls, George Rojas of Bertram, and Pete Rojas of Santa Maria, CA; and 11 grandchildren.

Veterans Q&A

Q--My ex-husband and I were married for 33 years before we were divorced in 1989. He recently passed away. Am I eligible for VA benefits as his survivor?
 A--No. "Surviving spouse" means the lawful spouse of a veteran at the time of his or her death. He or she must have lived with the veteran continuously until the date of death except when there was a separation caused by the veteran without fault of the spouse.

Q--I am an honorably discharged veteran of the Korean Conflict. I plan to retire shortly and I would like to buy a new home. I know that I was entitled to a VA-guaranteed home loan when I got out of the service but I believe the time limit on this benefit has expired. Is this correct?
 A--Loan eligibility is not subject to an expiration date.

Q--What is a Presidential Memorial Certificate?
 A--A Presidential Memorial Certificate expresses the country's grateful recognition of an individual's service in the armed forces and bears the signature of the President. These certificates are available to next of kin of deceased eligible veterans or persons who were on active military duty at time of death. Next of kin need not apply for a certificate.

Q--My first husband died of service-connected causes and I received VA Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) until I remarried. My second husband recently died. Can I regain my eligibility for DIC payments?
 A--Yes. DIC benefits may be restored if the subsequent marriage ends through death, divorce or annulment.
