WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby today resigned as secretary of welfare effective Aug. 1. President Eisenhower picked Marion B. Folsom, now deputy secretary of the treasury, to succeed her. The President called a special news conference to make the announcement, and in an emotional packed scene, paid a warm tribute to Mrs. Hobby as she sat by his side in the conference room.

On her part, the retiring Cabinet officer told Eisenhower that as he prepares to go to the Big Four conference at Geneva "everyone of us will be praying" the sessions will lead to a "truly universal peace."

The President and Mrs. Hobby entered the conference room together.

Mrs. Hobby's resignation had long been expected, and the President apparently took it for granted that everyone knew that was the purpose of the conference. Without ever formally announcing her resignation, Eisenhower turned to Mrs. Hobby and remarked solemnly:

"Oveta, this is a very sad day."

The President said his mind at the moment went back to a day in 1942 when Mrs. Hobby arrived in London to take command of the Women's Army Corps.

Eisenhower, at that time, was preparing to lead the Allied forces against Hitler's armies.

Mrs. Hobby led the WAC splendidly and it turned out to be one of the finest organizations "the Army ever had," Eisenhower said.

After the conference room ceremony, the White House made public an exchange of correspondence between Eisenhower and Mrs. Hobby.

"Personal reasons of a high order compel me to take leave of my post as secretary of health, education and welfare," Mrs. Hobby wrote.

While she did not specify those reasons, friends said Mrs.

Hobby is leaving because of illness of her husband, former Gov. William P. Hobby of Texas.

"Only such reasons could persuade me to leave your administration or the responsibilities of the department, and if agreeable, I would like to make Aug. 1 the effective date of my resignation," she wrote.

Folsom's selection as Mrs. Hobby's successor had been widely forecast. The shift was agreed on weeks ago, and the only real question was the timing.

Folsom, 61, is a native of McRae, Ga., and came into the Eisenhower administration from the Eastman Kodak Co., where he was treasurer.

Employment Rises in Artesia Region, State Survey Shows

Employment in the Artesia-Carlsbad area has decreased last year despite an increase in the number of persons seeking work, the State Employment Commission reported today.

But while the job situation has shown slight improvement, the area is still below the midway point on a statewide basis of employment figures.

At the same time, Carl C. Foster, state officer manager for the employment service reported that more than 100 workers were placed in jobs in Artesia during the first half of this year.

Expansion of potash mining was the reason for an upsurge in coal miners migrating to the area. On a county-wide basis, there were 1550 out of 16,800 workless in April of this year, a 9.2 percentage figure. This compares with 9.8 for the same month of 1954.

Employment in and around Artesia has varied from month to month between agriculture and industrial employment, following the seasonal trends in both fields. Agricultural employment is expected to show a sharp increase within the next 60 days as cotton nears the harvesting period.

According to Foster 621 new jobs were placed during the first half of this year. (Continued on page four)

Taxpayers Visit New and Modern Governor's Home

SANTA FE (AP)—New Mexicans oohed and aahed their way through the brand-spanking-new governor's mansion today at an open house.

The visitors were escorted through the striking new 10-room mansion by a group of women recruited by Mrs. John F. Simms to act as assistant hostesses.

Beginning at 1 p.m. the doors to the mansion, which sits high on a hill north of Santa Fe, were thrown open.

Elaborate traffic details to handle the crowd were worked out in advance. State and local police collaborated to work traffic up the winding, asphalt-paved driveway and back down again.

Gov. Simms invited the whole state—an estimated 750,000 people but only a fraction of that figure showed up, to the relief of everybody.

The new mansion is furnished in a combination of modern and antique.

Rancher Reports Bodies 'All Over The Field' As Plane Plunges To Earth

MERCED, Calif. (AP)—Eleven men died today as a four-engine "tanker" plane crashed after leaving Castle Air Force Base near here. There were no survivors.

Fire broke out on the plane as it reached an altitude of about 1,500 feet. It crashed within a moment or two, exploded as it hit the ground, and was demolished.

The flames fired the grain field into which the plane fell.

The tanker, a KC97G military version of the Stratocruiser, was on a routine refueling mission from Castle AFB near Merced.

The crash occurred about 15 miles northwest of Merced, near the community of Cressey.

The refueler was to have intercepted a flight of bombers on a fueling test.

The first report on the crash was a telephone call to the Sheriff's Office from the rancher on whose property the plane fell.

"Bodies were strewn all over the field," he said.

The tankers are used to refuel jet bombers and interceptors, and can carry more than 6,000 gallons of jet fuel.

The bureau has announced it for about half the unimproved stretch, bringing that part up to blacktop status. The forest highway funds are expected to include (Continued on page four.)

State To Delay Salk Shot Program Until End of Current Polio Season

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A committee of the State Medical Society and the State Board of Health decided last night it would be inadvisable to start a polio vaccination program in the state until after the polio season.

State Health Director Stanley Leland told the group that many other states have decided to wait until fall before administering additional anti-polio shots.

The committee agreed that no new shots would be given in the face of a rising polio incidence rate in New Mexico, which now stands at 32. There was discussion of a possibility that administration of the vaccine could lower resistance if the virus should already be present.

Leland said several states have set Sept. 15 for re-starting the inoculation program, but no date was set at the Albuquerque meeting. The state official said practically all first, second, third and fourth graders in the state already have received two shots of Salk vaccine. He said second shots have been 85 per cent completed for those age groups, and that the state still has 1,400 shots on hand. (Continued on page four.)

Simms Declares Road Emergency

SANTA FE (AP)—Gov. John F. Simms today declared an emergency on New Mexico highways. He said that from now until Labor Day the state will adopt the slogan "Don't Drive Yourself to Death." Simms said he was concerned over the attitude of some of the state's drivers.

He said he was calling on the state police to make every effort to get the reckless driver off the road.

State Police Chief Joe Roach said that use of radar and unmarked cars will be intensified during the next two months.

Hobbs Teacher Appeals Second Dismissal By School Board for Alleged Negligence

SANTA FE (AP)—A teacher, who three years ago was fired by the Hobbs School Board for alleged smoking after school on school grounds and other incidents, today awaited the outcome of an appeal to the State Board of Education on a second firing.

Mrs. Pauline McCormick was discharged at the end of the school term this year for alleged insubordination and negligence in not keeping up-to-date lesson plans. This, Hobbs officials said, is a must in Hobbs schools.

Mrs. McCormick was reinstated from the first firing last October after a battle which lasted two years and went to the Hobbs District and Supreme Courts. The high court upheld a District Court verdict that her alleged smoking, lateness and other incidents were not grounds for firing. The school board had fired her at that time for failure to abide by school rules.

The State Board of Education took under advisement her appeal last Tuesday after a three-hour hearing and a parade of witnesses.

Don G. McCormick of Carlsbad, Mrs. McCormick's attorney, attempted to show that the school board and school administrators were biased in their firing of Mrs. McCormick this year. He asked each witness connected with the first discharge whether the outcome of the case had prejudiced them.

All said they based this year's decision on alleged insubordination of Mrs. McCormick.

Mrs. McCormick's discharge this year came on the recommendation of Superintendent Charles Mills, Director of Instruction Arthur Pruett, and Willis S. Moss, principal of the Houston Junior High School, where Mrs. McCormick was teaching.

Moss and Pruett testified under oath that they had warned Mrs. McCormick about lesson plans and on three occasions had found that she had not complied with the regulations.

Mrs. McCormick testified that she had complied although she had had prejudiced them.

Laughing Couples Shot To Death Byirate Drinker

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A drinking truck driver, irritated by the "laughing and giggling" of fellow patrons, shot two couples in the head in a neighborhood tavern last night, state police reported.

Two women and a man were killed. Another man was near death today.

Kenneth Kuzner, 30, of Detroit, was seized in his truck a short time later near Pontiac, 25 miles from the scene. Police said he readily admitted the shootings and could give no explanation except the irritation other patrons caused him. They said he had been drinking but was not drunk.

1955 Version of Hobble Skirt Is Sensation Of New York's Current Fall Fashion Shows

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK, (AP)—A 1955 version of the hobble skirt, designed by Ceil Chapman and named the Castle Walk, is the sensation of New York's current week of fall fashion showings.

The astute Ceil, known for strictly fabulous cocktail and evening gowns beloved by all female television stars, dramatizes this return to the modes of World War I in spectacular tuchsia, lemon, mauve and gold lame satins and brocades. The skirt is draped, peg-top fashion about the hips, hugs the ankles in back and is slit to the knee in front. This makes it possible to walk or dance with ease, and yet preserves the hobble skirt look.

Gasps and applause greeted these sensational styles when they were presented to members of the visiting fashion press, plunging into a week of hectic fall showings by New York designers.

Similar but less spectacular is Mrs. Chapman's Juliet silhouette, consisting of a curving petal-like overskirt on a lush satin or lame sheath—this street length.

In the mood of new formality, this designer also shows a group of long, slinky sheath evening gowns, sometimes accompanied by elegant fur-trimmed matching coats.

But the gowns dedicated to Irene Castle steal the show, and are slated for wide distribution this fall. You'll be seeing the Castle Walk hobble skirts all over the country this fall, since these were the pets of buyers who already have placed their orders, figuring American women are yearning for a change from the multi-peticoat evening silhouette. It's doubtful if you wear any petticoat at all with the New Castle Walk gowns.

Another star of the opening day of showings was Claire McCardell, who always can be depended upon to make fashion headlines.

In direct contrast to the polished and sophisticated gowns shown by Ceil Chapman, the casual Claire outdoes even herself in immortalizing the fashionably careless link with a costume that might have been designed for space travel and certainly should provide insulation at subzero temperatures.

In bulky black, beige and brown checked tweed, it consists of a loose fingertip-length coat lined in fur and fastened with leather straps, plus a matching jumper dress. The coat has a huge cape collar which can be worn as a parka, and the whole should have wide appeal for college girls and Eskimos.

Cereal 'n Soup Casserole Lightens Summer Cooking

Summer is often one big headache for Mrs. Homemaker and the reason boils down to the simple fact that no matter the weather, she's still responsible for the preparation of daily meals for her family.

While there is actually no 100% solution for this, it's helpful to use familiar pantry shelf products in quickly prepared dishes. Combining the right foods is also important, and what could be more inspired than a cereal 'n soup combination.

Although there are many ways to go about this, here's one that beats all—and beats the heat, too. Called "Meal In A Casserole" it means exactly what it says; it has everything... soup, fish, vegetables and topped with crunchy toasted corn flakes.

Meal In A Casserole

- 1 box (12 ounces) quick-frozen green peas, thawed
- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup (7 1/2-ounce can) tuna fish, flaked
- 2 cups Post Toasties Corn Flakes
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted

Combine peas and mushroom soup in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring once or twice. Then add tuna fish and mix lightly. Turn into greased 1-quart baking dish. Crush cereal slightly, toss with melted butter, and use to cover tuna fish mixture. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Circuit Clouts Feature Split Bill For NuMexers

Sluggfest Yields Hefty Clouts As Artesia Takes Second Game

CARLSBAD (AP)—The Carlsbad slugs and the Artesia NuMexers split a doubleheader here Tuesday night, with the Potashers taking first 2-1, and the Artesians coming through in the second 4-3.

In the first game Don Fornall led a brilliant four-hitter, striking out nine and walking none to win for Carlsbad. Eddie Ke was charged with the loss.

All runs were scored on homers. Artesia Manager Tom Jordan hitting one over the right field fence in the fourth to put the NuMexers in front.

Manager Thurman Tucker of the slugs slugged one in almost the spot, 350 feet from home plate the fifth to tie the game and he stayed until the bottom of eighth.

Carlsbad's Jackson, catcher, off. He took one ball and one ending strike and then dumped next pitch over the left field fence to win the game.

In the second contest Artesia led first in the third inning on successive passes by Potasher Angel Oliva, forcing in one run.

In the fifth the NuMexers added five runs on three hits after two to tie, and Oliva gave way to left fielder Sakewitz who came through to get the side.

In the fifth the Potashers scored on three hits and a sacrifice there it stood.

Harry Young picked up the win on Oliva took the loss.

Lack of Dough Is Sad, Sad Song Being Warbled by All the Minor League Clubs in Southwest

By ROBERT GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Same song second verse. Or maybe it's the third verse. Anyhow, it's the same song.

It's the sad melody arising from minor leagues. Money, attendance, folding. Same song.

Teams throughout New Mexico, West Texas, members of the Longhorn and WT-NM are still making noises about "not finishing the season" and "let's stop baseball in Peville," and "In many cases it is understandable. Take Artesia, for example. It's the smallest town in the league. And if the loop doesn't enforce the salary limits—so that well-heeled clubs can pay under the table to buy the hot players—little Artesia has to compete and spend more money than it can afford.

Also, there is just the matter of the size of the town. And they've had some bad weather. So that about the biggest crowd this season has been around 600.

On the other hand, there's Hobbs. Brand new in the league—and plodding along near the bottom of the loop. But their attendance has been about as good as any in the league. And, too, they have an ultra-sharp baseball man in Pat Stacey running the show.

But there is only one Hobbs—and apparently, from the voices joining

Kramer Seeks Trabert for Pro Opponent

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Kramer says he may come out of semi-retirement and play Tony Trabert, a professional tennis swing next to the deal can be arranged.

"Frankly, I'm very much interested in signing Trabert to a pro contract, granting he has a big name," the young Los Angeles promoter, one of the game's greatest promoters, added today. "I can offer as good a contract as I did Frank Sedgman—$75,000."

Kramer, whose tour has suffered during the last two years for need of new blood, said he had discussed the idea with various promoters around the country.

"They all insist that I would be better drawing card against Trabert than Pancho Gonzales," said Kramer. "This seems to be the setup they want and so I can't help but be modest about it."

Kramer has been on the sidelines during the past several months while Gonzales fattened tennis reputation at the expense of Sedgman, Pancho Segura and others. Sedgman, who underwent appendectomy yesterday, can't figure in future plans.

"Trabert's Wimbledon victory gave him a tremendous boost," Kramer said. "Now if he can win the Nationals at Forest Hills and help us keep the Davis Cup, he'll really be ripe. He can make a good pile of dough in two years."

Trabert has announced his desire to go into professional tennis, when his record warrants.

AROUND THE LONGHORN—Artesia Now Just Gasp Behind Front Runners

Big Spring split a doubleheader with San Angelo, Longhorn leader, last night, taking the first 11-2 and losing the second 4-0.

In the other games, Artesia and Carlsbad divided honors in another twin bill, Carlsbad winning the opener 2-1 and Artesia taking the nightcap 4-3; Roswell beat Hobbs 10-8, and Odessa beat Midland twice, 5-3 in the first and 7-3 in the second.

Marcus Job won the first game at Big Spring. He set the league leaders down with five hits. Elias Osorio homered for San Angelo in the opening inning. In the nightcap, Marshall Epperson threw a two-hitter for the winners, and it wasn't until the sixth that he yielded a blow.

Don Fornall gave up four hits, struck out nine and walked none for Carlsbad's opening win on the home field. All three runs were homers, by Artesia Manager Tom Jordan, Carlsbad Manager Thurman Tucker and Carlsbad Catcher Ike Jackson. Harry Young won the second game for Artesia. In the fifth, Artesia scored three times.

At Hobbs, Roswell Manager Stubb Greer doubled with the bases loaded to gain the victory for his charges. Hobbs knotted the score 7-7 in the seventh, and each team added a run in the tenth. Al Chester hurled 10 innings for Roswell and was relieved in the eleventh by George Payne.

In Midland, Dick Strombach and Audie Malone pitched the Odessa Eagles to a double victory over the hometowners. Strombach gave up four hits in the opener, but he was a two-run homer hit by Jesse Priest in the third. Malone whiffed 10 to take the second game. He gave up five hits.

Ezzard Charles 3-1 Favorite

CHICAGO (AP)—Ezzard Charles, 34-year-old former heavyweight boxing champion with hopes for another title match, was a 3-1 favorite over young Paul Andrews in their scheduled 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The bout will be televised nationally at 9:00 p.m. EST.

It's a must bout for both the fading Charles and the 25-year-old Andrews.

Charles cannot well afford to lose if he expects to continue as a drawing card and maintain or improve his No. 6 ranking among heavyweights.

Andrews, winner of 30 of his 35 bouts, needs a victory to establish himself among the heavyweights.

Charles has won three of his last four bouts after losing twice to Rocky Marciano. His loss was to Jon Holman, Chicago heavyweight. Charles later avenged this defeat with a one-sided decision.

Charles, who has an over-all record of 89 triumphs, 13 losses and 1 draw, is hoping to get another crack at Marciano's crown.

Bums' Campanella Back in Action

BROOKLYN (AP)—The "slump" may be over for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who lead the National League by only 1 1/2 games. Roy Campanella says he's fit again.

Club physicians gave the free-swinging catcher the okay to play again yesterday after examining the injured knee which has kept him sidelined since June 29.

Campy, beaming, after hearing the report, said he plans to be behind the plate when the Brooks resume their pennant chase tomorrow night against the St. Louis Cardinals.

The club doctors fitted Campanella with a special foam rubber insert for his shin guard to protect the injured area.

"Now I can stoop down for the first time since I got injured in St. Louis, June 19 and it doesn't hurt," said Campanella. "That's a great feeling."

Brooklyn club officials should be feeling great too. Since a spur on Campanella's knee was aggravated by a foul tip, the Dodgers have had only a 9-10 record.

Other injuries contributed to the slump, but with Roy's league leading batting average (.335) on the shelf and his home run output (19) at a standstill, Campanella's absence was a big factor.

The annual coaching school will be held in about a month. Wonder if they are going to have a special class for the AA coaches to explain the new division of conferences set up by the NMSAA. Or maybe they can't find anyone who understands it well enough to teach.

Defending USGA Champ to Face Tough Opponent

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Defending champion Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., was playing the sharpest golf in the USGA Public Links Tournament going into today's 64-man third round but he faces potential trouble in Foster Bradley of Los Angeles, 1954 National Junior champion.

The 18-year-old Bradley, Southern California sophomore, led a strong contingent of teen-agers through the second round yesterday defeating David Leon of Tucson, Ariz., 4 and 3.

While Andrews was walloping businessman Charles Alfong of Honolulu, 6 and 5, three youngsters won as handily as Bradley. Bobby Nichols of Louisville, Ky., Texas A&M student, defeated M. E. Garret Sr., of New Orleans, 6 and 5, and will play Bob Daniel, San Francisco artist-golfer.

Musial Slugs Homer to Break All-Star Hassle in Twelfth

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Stan The Man Musial, toast of the National League for the past 14 years, is the new darling of baseball-mad Milwaukee today even if he doesn't wear a Braves uniform.

The majority of the capacity crowd of 45,314 paying customers, not to mention the countless television viewers who saw the great St. Louis Cardinal star smash a 12th-inning home run yesterday to give the National League an up-hill 6-5 victory over the American in the 22nd annual All-Star spectacle, were convinced he's the greatest.

The storybook finish was a fitting climax to a wonderful day for Milwaukeeans, who were treated to perfect weather for their first All-Star home game in their three years in the National League. Not only did they see their heroes overcome what at one time seemed an insurmountable 5-0 deficit, but a trio of their own Braves had key roles in the thrilling comeback drive.

It was Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, who singled in the first National League run in the seventh. It was Henry Aaron, Milwaukee right fielder, who singled in the run that made it 5-4 in the eighth and set the stage for Al Rosen's error that permitted the tying run to cross the plate. And it was Milwaukee pitcher Gene Conley's spectacular feat in striking out Al Kaline, Mickey Vernon and Al Rosen in the top of the 12th that preceded Musial's game-winning blow.

There were other National League heroes too. Willie Mays of the New York Giants contributed greatly with two rally-igniting singles and a leaping back-to-the-fence catch of a towering drive by Ted Williams that had the home run label torn off it at the last instant.

There was St. Louis' Harvey Haddix, who pitched a fine three innings after the American League sluggers had blasted into an early 4-0 lead at the expense of Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's great righthander. There was Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati's slugging first baseman, who had a double and single and contributed a fielding gem on a sizzler by Yogi Berra that resulted in a rally-killing double play.

Last but not least was the gritty clutch pitching of young Joe Nuxhall, the Redleg southpaw, who fanned five in 3 1/3 innings of ruthless pitching after relieving Chicago's Sam Jones. Nuxhall struck out Whitey Ford with two out and the bases full in the eighth. There were heroes on the losing side too. Billy Pierce was brilliant in his opening three-inning stint. The little Chicago White Sox left-hander faced only nine as he struck out three, did not give up a run and allowed only a leadoff single to Red Schoendienst.

Mickey Mantle struck the games longest blow, a tremendous 425-foot home run over the center field fence into the distant trees with two men on base in the first inning.

Early Wynn, Cleveland right-hander, picked up where Pierce left off, holding the Nationals scoreless with two harmless hits in the middle three innings. Sullivan, the tall Boston right-hander, also did well, hurling 3 1/3 scoreless relief innings until that fatal blow by Musial.

But it was the 34-year-old Musial, the oldest National League player in the game, who received the biggest ovation and who was nearly hugged to death by his joyous teammates when he lit into Frank Sullivan's first pitch to break up the second extra-inning game in All-Star history. The first occurred in 1950 when Schoendienst, another Cardinal star, homered in the 14th to give the Nationals a 4-3 triumph.

Engine Wear Reduced 40% with Trop-Artic Motor Oil

(THE DIFFERENCE IN WEIGHT IS A DIFFERENCE IN WEAR!)

In an engine test equal to 2500 miles of driving, piston rings lubricated with ordinary oil lost weight, showing extensive wear.

In an identical test piston rings lubricated with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic Oil showed scarcely any wear at all.

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

The difference in piston ring wear illustrated above proves an important point about the performance of motor oils:

Most engine wear occurs when you first start your car or under stop-and-go driving conditions with an engine that hasn't warmed up. It takes a very special kind of oil to flow quickly and protect your motor when you start, and then to protect moving parts from sludge and varnish as the engine heats up. TROP-ARTIC All-Weather Motor Oil gives you this double protection. Compared to older types of oils, it can even double engine life.

In a motor oil it's performance that counts. And TROP-ARTIC gives super performance! You'll get easier starting... save gasoline... and you can save 15% to 45% on oil consumption. Get TROP-ARTIC from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

Aussies Odds-On to Hit Finals in Davis Cup Play

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Not to give away any secrets, but the fierce competition to decide whether Australia or the man in the moon is to face our tennis players in the Davis Cup Challenge Round, Aug. 26-28 broils into action Friday in Chicago.

The antagonists will be Australia and Mexico, and the winner of the three-day struggle will be called upon to fight it out either with Cuba or Brazil next week at Louisville. And so it will go well on into August, one titanic tussle after the other, until the issue has been decided.

Under the Davis Cup setup, there is no way this preliminary slaughter can be avoided. Every country in the world, such is entitled to its chance at the gleaming urn, even though it might possess only three tennis players who serve overhand.

The odds are the Aussies will not lose an individual match en route to the final test at Forest Hills if they drop even a set before they tackle the European zone winner at Philadelphia Aug. 12-14 it will be surprising. But the proprietaries will have been overhauled.

The Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. of Detroit has laid down the law that its members may not play in skimpy skirts and halters, no matter how high the mercury soars. Any who show up for a tournament so attired will be disqualified on the spot. Said an official of the association, as quoted by the Detroit Times:

"We're for cool, sensible clothing, especially in this heat. But

Destroys Our Investment

SOME months ago the State of New Mexico went to the expense of bringing experts from Northwestern University to train six men in the field of safety. They had special training to qualify them as driving improvement analysts.

Two of these men were Republicans, three were Democrats, and one was an Independent. Two of them are now located in Santa Fe; one in Albuquerque, one in Roswell, Clovis and Las Cruces.

Here they check the records of drivers; counsel with them; check the safety records and seek to bring about improvement in the driving of those who have a record of accidents or traffic violations. They have authority to recommend that the driver's license be suspended or revoked.

Seemingly an effort was made to replace these trained men with political appointees. When this didn't work and couldn't be done then other way to get rid of them had to be found so all have been ordered to move to Santa Fe.

There they are to be paid expenses and so much per mile—more cost to the state than if they are in the field. It is also true they are not to come out to check cases until some 20 have been accumulated.

Now we are going to lose these employees because some of them do not feel they can do the job in Santa Fe. They likewise feel that they are being moved in so a closer watch can be kept on them to be sure they do not offend some of the 'chosen few.'

It all looks and smells of politics. We don't like politics in our safety program. We likewise don't like to see us try to centralize our government in Santa Fe. These men are needed in the field just as we need to have State Highway police and game department wardens in the field.

But since those seeking to remove those now serving seemingly could not get the approval of the administration to fire them and replace them, they are now figuring they would quit if they moved them to Santa Fe.

So instead of having trained men to do this job we will see these places filled by untrained and inexperienced political appointees.

Not only do we dislike seeking the concentrating of our state employees in Santa Fe when they are to serve in the field but we likewise dislike to see politics destroy a program that has been well started.

We don't see how the governor or the president can ask citizens to do much on safety programs when politics comes along to wreck programs set up to help bring about greater safety.

State—

As the government released another 720,000 shots of Salk vaccine, the state group decided New Mexico's allotment of 455 per cent of production would be apportioned in the 32 counties on the basis of population, through the State Health Department. The department would divide each county's share into an amount for indigents and an amount for those who can pay. A committee in each county would apportion the amount to be used for those who can pay.

Two polio cases from Walker AFB, Roswell, pushed the state's polio total for the year to 32.

Both cases were of non-paralytic polio. One was a 26-year-old airman, the other a civilian woman living on the base. It was the third case of polio for Chaves County, all from the air base.

Curry County, with 10 cases, led all other counties in the number of polio cases this year. There have been two deaths. An eight-year-old Las Vegas boy and a 41-year-old Quay County man have been killed by polio.

about 300 to 500 thousand dollars hopes to let a contract in the fall for improvement of this stretch.

"The following year, we are hoping that Congress will provide sufficient forest roads funds to permit us to finish the job," bureau spokesmen said. "That will mean blackout all the way from Alamogordo to Artesia."

A survey crew is to go over the area this month.

About 40 per cent of the American Red Cross funds are spent for U. S. troops and veterans.

that lashed the mountain before rescue parties reached them the next day.

The dead were: Richard and James Balis, 13-year-old twins, Philadelphia; William Wise, 15, Souderton, Pa.; William Watts, 16, Whitmarsh, Pa.; Miles Marble, 12, Collegeville, Pa.; David Chapin, 15, Stamford, Conn.; and Luther Seddon, 13, St. Louis.

Dick Ballard, 13, and Jerry Clatrenburg, 14, both of Philadelphia, were hospitalized here with serious injuries.

Peter Smith, 13, Paoli, Pa., and Tony Woodfield, 16, Rye, N. Y., escaped with minor hurts and made their way back to their base to give the alarm.

They had been here four days with two adult leaders, W. H. Oesner and O. D. Dickenson, both of Philadelphia.

Mt. Temple is regarded as one of the toughest climbs in the Canadian Rockies. Four Mexican climbers were killed in the same area last fall.

Of the 11 boys, only Woodfield had had much climbing experience. The others during their trip had made one climb on a mountain in Yellowstone Park and a brief trip on a peak near here.

Oesner took 24 of the boys to a supply camp 3,000 feet up Mt. Temple Monday and the group of 11 wanted to climb higher. With Oesner's permission and warnings to be careful, they moved on up the peak.

Woodfield said they turned back at the 10,000-foot level after seeing a number of small avalanches.

"I heard and saw the avalanche," he said. "On the way up we had seen several snowfalls and we turned back because of that. I yelled 'avalanche' and dug my ax into the ice and hung on."

Woodfield said he "heard Watts crying under the snow. I used my shoe to dig him out and got everything but one leg."

The boys wore only ordinary boots or spiked baseball or track shoes.

Park Supt. B. I. M. Strong said they had started the climb without notifying the park staff.

Dickinson, a leader of summer traveling camps for nine years, said "every practical precaution" was taken.

she said she made her lesson plans on occasions the same day of the classes.

She said she had thought her work satisfactory until she was notified of her discharge.

"I was hurt. I was bitterly hurt," she declared. "I was bitterly, bitterly disappointed."

Moss, Pruett, Mills, and C. R. Rudolph, a member of the board, all testified they were connected with the first firing and admitted they were disappointed with the outcome. Rudolph said:

"It would be difficult to divorce my feelings in this case. But I acted in good faith."

Mrs. McCormick, a graduate of West Texas State Teachers College who has been with the Hobbs school system since 1946 with a break for the first litigation, said she followed the instructions of both Moss and Pruett in setting up her lesson plans—the crux of the case.

She said at one time she was checked she did not have lesson plans prepared entirely because she had been sick two days the previous week and her textbooks were in the school over the weekend. That check came on a Monday.

Concerning her absence the last three days of the school year, Mrs. McCormick said she had planned on being absent one day to see her daughter graduate in Albuquerque, but did not return after being notified of her firing.

Moss testified the three days absence had caused inconvenience and extra work to the rest of the staff.

Culberson said if brucellosis can be eliminated it "would not only be a fine thing for all New Mexicans, but would bring New Mexico cattle into high demand in the channels of trade."

Meeting with the board were Dr. F. L. Schneider, veteran of 50 years in the state's veterinary service, and Dr. F. A. Sharpe of the federal Bureau of Animal Industry.

They told the board that New Mexico cattlemen have succeeded in killing off cases of tuberculosis in cattle to a point where a case of cattle TB now is a rarity.

The state extension service and federal government will cooperate in fighting the campaign against brucellosis, Culberson said. He said that, with cooperation, brucellosis should be eradicated within a few years.

Employment—

initial applications for employment were taken during the period Jan. 1 thru June 30, 1318 applications were active and these resulted in 1076 placements. 518 of the workers were placed in non-agricultural jobs while the other 558 were placed in agricultural employment.

In addition to this the office provided 98 occupational counseling interviews to new entrants into the labor market, to workers seeking a job change, to handicapped applicants and other with special employment problems. Closely related to the counseling program is that of occupational testing. Beginning in April of this year employment service tests were made available in the Artesia Office. Thru June 30 a total of 23 tests were administered. These tests are used to measure aptitudes for a large variety of occupations. The office also administers typing and dictation tests to measure applicant proficiency for work where these skills are required.

To bring the services of the local office to employers in the Artesia area a visiting program is maintained. During the 6 month period 601 employer visits were made. 396 of these were to non-agricultural employers such as retail trade, service establishments, oil field supply houses, refineries and local businesses. 205 Field visits were made to local farms and agricultural industries.

Californian Dies in Portales Highway Mishap

PORTALES (AP)—The 1955 New Mexico highway toll jumped to 153 last night with the death of a 30-year-old California woman. State Police identified the woman as Mrs. Felix Gomez, Richmond, Calif. They said she died of a crushed skull when her car apparently went out of control and overturned on U. S. 70, 12 miles south of Portales.

There were three other women in the car. One, Miss Betty McCaulliffe, Portales, suffered a fractured pelvis and cuts. The other two women, who escaped injury, were listed as Ruth Jerinjan, 31, Portales, and Mrs. Gwen Burns, 23, Arch.

Last year on this date 180 persons had died on New Mexico highways.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY: Here's a Contrast

Chamber Reduces Jubilee Booth Fees By $15

Civic Pride—not profit—was the slogan adopted by the executive committee of the Golden Jubilee celebration, meeting Monday for a luncheon session. "We don't necessarily want to make money on the Jubilee," said Bill Bennett, coordinator. "but we do want to break even financially if possible, at the same time putting on the best celebration possible." In line with the slogan, licensing fees for booths were reduced from $25 per booth to only $10 per booth plus 5 per cent of gross receipts, which would give even the most modest retailer a chance to participate. Paul Scott, Executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that booth rentals would be even more attractive now, for arrangements have been made to have booths built at a cost of only ten dollars. Normal costs could run as high as $100. All prospective booth occupants are urged to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce or Bill Bennett at once, as booth space is dwindling rapidly. Following is the official program for the Jubilee: Tuesday, Aug. 9—8:00 p.m.—Square Dance Jamboree WEDNESDAY, OLD TIMERS' DAY, AUG. 10—9:30 a.m.—Kick-off Parade; 12:00 p.m.—Old Settlers Picnic & Old Timers' Contest; 3:00 p.m.—Old Fiddlers' Contest; 5:00 p.m.—Bar-B-Que; 7:30 p.m.—Rodeo; Jubilee Queen Crowning; 10:00 p.m.—Dance. ### Down Memory Lane

By BEATRICE BLOCKER

BEATRICE BLOCKER

Mrs. Beatrice Blocker whose family came to the Pecos Valley when she was a small girl she does not remember hearing much about the Chisum Trail and certainly had never heard of a Chisum Trail Roundup, but does remember the tarantulas roundups which she and her small sister and older brother staged. There were hundreds and hundreds of the tarantulas, and the largest ever seen, on the prairies. We gathered tall beargrass sticks of which there was an abundance on a land which had hardly been trampled by man and made a stockade for the tarantulas. We drove them into our stockade with long beargrass sticks on which we left just a bit of the dried blossoms on the end. We were told to watch for the rattle snakes and tarantulas for if either bit us we would surely die. We called our dad or older brother to kill the snakes which were seen almost every day, but for a period of months and months we played with the tarantulas, always trying to see if they would jump as far as we had been told they could. Our mother was ill and our father was busy getting settled and no doubt trying to figure out when food for the children was coming from and they really did not know that their offsprings were holding the tarantula roundups.

Finally a herd of cattle which was being driven across the country stampeded as they neared a water hole and destroyed our stockade which was never rebuilt. Mrs. Blocker also remembers seeing more than one brought in with their boots on, dead, the result of range feuds.

Mrs. R. L. Collins, the former Frances White, whose parents were among the earliest settlers in Artesia, is dusting off her grandmother's little hat which she expects to wear on Old Timer's Day.

Bill Horner reports that he recalls where there was a different kind of feed store at the location of Cliff's Cafeteria, a stock feed store. He also recalls that his parents settled at the location East of the City known as the Oasis Ranch. His father planted cottonwood sticks which he cut from the cottonwood tree on Lovers' Lane in Roswell which grew into the large cottonwood trees which are standing today. Bill also mentioned that Miss Alma Givens, now Mrs. Francis Hite a former high school teacher and superintendent of Artesia Schools is expected to visit here this summer. While she is here Bill and James Stagner of Carlsbad expect to roundup as many of the class of 1929 as possible. He is sending Mrs. Hite an invitation asking her to make her visit during the Artesia Golden Jubilee Celebration.

MRS. A. C. CROZIER

Mrs. A. C. Crozier came to the Lakewood community in 1910. Earlier she was sent West for her health and came to live with a sister at Nogal, New Mexico, where she met Mr. Crozier. They were married in old Lincoln in 1905.

They moved to Lakewood just before the Fairchild Land Drawing and Mr. Crozier spent the next few years helping folks find their land winnings, which were just as apt to have been located in the middle of Lake McMillan, in the boggs, sand dunes, or more so than a tillable piece of land.

O. M. Fairchild, Dr. Fisher of Roswell and a number of others whom Mrs. Crozier does not remember, bought up tracts of land in the Lakewood area and sold chances for the drawing in practically every state in the union. The drawing was held in the first day of January 1910, bringing throngs of people into the valley. Never will I forget the disappointed people she said.

Mr. Crozier operated the tomato canning factory in Lakewood for eleven years. He also developed the large farm on Seven Rivers which he later sold to the Moutray Brothers, after which the family moved to Artesia where he dealt in oil and gas leases. They had two sons, Oliver who now lives in Oakland, Calif., and Harold who lived at Franklin, Ind. Mr. Crozier passed away four years ago, Mrs. Crozier still makes her home in Artesia.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Government Labor Experts Worried Over Copper Strike Even Short Tie-up in Mines Could Spell Serious Trouble

WASHINGTON—Government labor experts, elated because major auto and steel strikes have been averted, are casting a worried look at the nationwide copper walkout. The strike by the mine, mill and smelter workers union has halted mining in the west at a time when there already is a critical copper shortage. Even a comparatively short strike in the mines could spell serious trouble for the economy for a long time to come because thousands of small businesses must rely on copper for their operations.

An allocation system which already carefully allots supplies of copper to users may have to be sharply tightened and rigid price controls may have to be imposed to meet the situation.

INFLATION—The cost of living, which has remained relatively stable over the past two years, seems likely to rise in the coming months. The question is how much of an upward movement in consumer prices can be expected. Generally, economic experts feel that living costs may inch up in slight spurts during the remainder of this year because of rising costs for basic materials and new wage agreements.

The steel industry already has served notice it will boost prices to cover the wage boost granted its workers. This means higher consumer prices for almost all products using steel. The wage agreements in the auto industry also mean higher prices for cars, and consumers can expect to pay more for other items made in industries where wage increases have been negotiated. Stiff competition is expected to prevent any major price jumps for consumers but prices will go up some and dealers won't be so anxious to give their customers fat discounts in the future.

HST'S PREFERENCE—Former President Harry S. Truman has frequently made it clear he would have preferred remaining in the Senate rather than going to the White House but now it turns out that the government job he really had his heart set on was to be librarian of Congress.

This came to light recently in a speech delivered in Cleveland by Dr. Louis B. Wright, director of the Folger Shakespeare library in Washington. Wright told his audience: "From a little private inquiry in Washington, I have discovered that Mr. Truman, during all these years, has actually been a frustrated librarian. The chairman of a committee who once conferred with him about the appointment of a librarian of Congress told me that Mr. Truman declared that if he were not President, he would rather be librarian than hold any other office."

According to Wright, the ex-President "would have made an excellent librarian" because of his knowledge of books and genuine interest in literature.

SALK SHOCKER—Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby was genuinely shocked when she learned she had put her foot in her mouth recently in discussing the responsibilities of United States Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele.

The incident arose when Mrs. Hobby was interviewed on a radio program. In response to a question, the woman Cabinet member emphasized that Dr. Scheele and the Public Health service were primarily responsible from a legal standpoint for any negligence in the handling of the Salk polio vaccine program.

The question-and-answer program had been recorded in advance and Mrs. Hobby left the session without realizing the full implications her remarks would have on a listener. However, when phone calls started flooding in from newsmen and even editors inquiring about her statement, she quickly had her public relations staff issue a special statement making it clear she did not imply that Dr. Scheele was at fault in any manner.
