This Is Artesia

When they finally get First Street paved again it sure would be nice if the city could eliminate some of the "ripples" that mark other thoroughfares. They keep traffic slowed down, however.

Annual Police Reports Shows Artesians Getting Increased And Better Police Protection

The annual police department report, issued yesterday by Chief Frank Powell, indicates that Artesians are getting better service and protection than ever before.

During the year, patrol cars drove a distance of 94,290 miles protecting property and lives. Routine checks disclosed in the complaint department, there were 2153 made which required police service. 24,300 telephone calls were handled during the year.

A whopping $43,677.27 was collected by police, consisting of fines of $20,872.02 and $22,805.25 revenue from parking meters.

Escorts for funerals, parades, etc., were furnished 280 times. Twelve missing persons were found, the total reported from this area. Of six stolen cars reported, all were recovered.

In the jail department, 2884 meals were served prisoners at a cost of $1297.

Police Judge Balks At Vagrancy Charge On Suspected Ex-Con

An admitted ex-convict that Police Judge John Ellicott refused to hold on vagrancy charges here last week was being sought today by the police of at least three states on grand larceny and car theft.

Wanted is Carbett Anderson, 21, sought on warrants by the Dayton, Ohio police.

Anderson, who also uses the alias of Christopher K. Dancer, wandered into the Artesia police station on July 4 and asked for a bunk for the night. This is a customary practice in many police departments to aid needy individuals by allowing them to sleep in jail overnight and release them without charge next morning.

Other Names But like all jail inmates, they must check their belongings with the desk sergeant. When the officer on duty noticed that the "Dancer" also had other names in his wallet identification, he questioned the man. Dancer-Anderson gave vague answers. (Continued on page four)

B-47 Stratojet Explodes in Air Killing 4

Helicopter Crashes, Burns Atop Big New York Building

NEW YORK. — A helicopter crashed and burst into flames yesterday while taking off from the 7th floor heliport of the Port of New York Authority Building in downtown Manhattan.

The pilot and the only passenger were injured as they tumbled out of the burning craft seconds after it crashed on the 16th floor. The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 30, suffered a concussion and scalp laceration. He was reported in fair condition.

The passenger, Arthur Truss, 33, a Port Authority photographer, suffered a concussion, fractures and multiple abrasions. His condition was listed as critical. The heliport is a table-like structure 10 feet above the 16th floor of the building.

Susan Ball Wages New Battle With Malignant Cancer

HOLLYWOOD. — Suzan Ball, a 22-year-old young actress who came back to a film career and marriage after losing her right leg to cancer, is waging a fresh battle against the disease today.

The City of Hope medical center at nearby Duarte disclosed that the pretty brunette, 21, has been a patient there since July 5. Her condition is serious.

Little more than two years ago Susan fell on a dance floor. She had just been signed to a movie contract. Nobody thought the injury would keep her from work for long. But she had trouble with her leg, and doctors now think she aggravated a dormant condition.

La Senorita Con Sombrero Hombre Sought By Police

The police of two cities are on the look-out for a young woman wearing a man's summer hat.

The hat belongs to Frank A. Melton of Artesia, who told officers here that the woman stole it from his pickup truck last night and dashed down the street with it in her hand. He identified the woman to police and this morning signed a petty theft complaint.

Now both Artesia and Carlsbad officers have their eyes peeled for a senorita con sombrero hombre.

State Board Says Hobbs Teacher Illegally Fired

SANTA FE. — Hobbs school teacher Mrs. Pauline McCormick today was upheld by the State Board of Education on an appeal from her second firing by the Hobbs School Board.

Mrs. Georgia Lusk, state school superintendent, in announcing the state board's decision said "the state board felt that the Hobbs School Board had submitted insufficient evidence to warrant Mrs. McCormick's dismissal."

The Hobbs board had cited alleged faults in Mrs. McCormick's lesson plans for her classes and said that on two occasions she had not made lesson plans—a must in Hobbs schools. They said this amounted to insubordination and dismissed her at the end of the past school term.

Mrs. McCormick said she followed instructions in setting up her lesson plans. She said at one time she was checked she did not have lesson plans prepared entirely because she had been sick for two days the previous week and her text-books were in school over the weekend. That check came on a Monday.

Mrs. McCormick was reinstated in the Hobbs school system last October after the State Supreme Court upheld a District Court decision that her first firing in 1952 was on insufficient grounds.

Thousands of Fingerlings Make Mystery

PORTALES. — The facts of fish life have confounded what seemed to be evidence that the Portales Valley's water supply was hooked up to some surface water source.

Chris Starr, who farms 7 miles northwest of town, was amazed the other day when he found thousands of tiny, silvery fish in the irrigation ditch and catch basin of his well. The fish were all dead when they were first noticed, because the pump had been shut off.

The well is located on a sandy hill and a shallow, crooked ditch leads downhill about a quarter mile to a pond.

Starr says he had four perch, one catfish, and about 30 finger-length fish of unknown species that he caught at Bonita lake in the pond. None had been there more than three months and he had never seen any baby fish at all.

Catholic Church Urges Peron to Abolish Controls

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. — Argentina's Roman Catholic episcopate has urged that the Peron government grant complete freedom of press, radio and public meetings as the first step toward establishing a real public opinion in this country.

A pastoral letter calling for such action was published yesterday in response to President Juan D. Peron's July 5 appeal for political truce.

The letter reviewed events it said figured in the "state of religious precaution in Argentina its 24 signers included two cardinals and five archbishops.

Peron brought the government-church feud into the open last November when he accused some members of the clergy of working against his regime. The church denied the accusation. Since the June 16 revolt against Peron was put down, the government has dropped its open anti-church campaign.

Roman Catholic church sources reported yesterday the government has decided to resume salary payments to some clergymen. Salary contributions had been paid by the government to top Catholic prelates and their assistants but were cut off last month.

29 Feared Lost in Sinking Of Mexican Coastal Ship

VERACRUZ, Mexico. — The crowded coastal passenger boat La Flecha sank last night in the storm-tossed Gulf of Campeche, 40 minutes after sailing from Veracruz. Twenty-nine persons were feared lost.

Twenty-six persons were reported missing. Three bodies—of an adult passenger and two children—were recovered and 37 persons were reported rescued.

All those aboard the 145-ton vessel were believed to be Mexicans.

The La Flecha sinking was the second marine disaster of the day in the Caribbean area. Early yesterday a Liberian ore carrier, the Sun Princess, rammed and sank the 6,155-ton British freighter Geologist off Trinidad. Nineteen crewmen of the Geologist were missing and the body of another was recovered.

The La Flecha went down about four miles off Veracruz. She was bound across the gulf for the port of Progreso, on the Yucatan Peninsula. Coast guard vessels and fishing boats searched throughout the night for survivors.

A rescued crewman said the La Flecha was carrying at least 66 persons. Her sailing list showed 32 passengers and a crew of 14 aboard, but many of those rescued were not on the list.

The cause of the sinking was not immediately determined. Heavy (Continued on page four)

Republicans Seek Compromise Plan On Ike Road Plan

Lack of Rain Hurts Growths

State Crops Below Par

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS New Mexico farmers will probably produce below-normal crops on the whole this year, but the crops will generally be ahead of last year.

That is shown by the Agricultural Marketing Service's crop report.

The report came out as needed, rain fell in all parts of the state at a time when rain was badly needed to give row crops continued growth.

The service said rains in May permitted most farmers in the east part of New Mexico to plant their row crops early. The crops came up to a good stand but needed additional moisture to promote growth.

The cotton crop, which was set back by cool weather early in the season, has been making satisfactory growth with the coming of warm weather.

The marketing service gave these crop predictions: Corn—An estimated 1,408,000 bushels off 88,000 acres in cultivation. This compares with 1,318,000 bushels off 85,000 acres last year and the 1944-53 average of 1,550,000 bushels off 106,000 acres.

Wheat—The winter wheat crop is estimated at an average yield of 6 bushels per acre off 160,000 acres. This compares with 80,000 acres last year with an average of 5 bushels per acre. Spring wheat production was forecast at 266,000 bushels, compared with last year's 243,000 and the 10-year average of 286,000 bushels.

Hay — 502,000 tons, compared with 512,000 tons last year and 10-year average of 436,000 tons.

Beans—194,000 bags, which is 22,000 bags less than last year and compares with a 10-year average of 323,000 bags.

Sorghums—638,000 acres, compared with 532,000 acres last year and a 10-year average of 454,000 acres.

Fruits — Apple production estimated at 600,000 bushels, compared with 760,000 bushels last year and a 10-year average of 592,000 bushels. Peaches estimated at 120,000 bushels compared with 300,000 last year and a 10-year average of 176,000.

The weather bureau said showers have fallen this week at every one of its reporting stations in the state.

New Mexico Gets $10 Million OK On Flood Works

WASHINGTON. — Reclamation and flood control projects including more than 10 million dollars for New Mexico have been approved by the House and sent to the President for final action.

The amounts, in some cases, represented compromises reached on differing Senate-House versions. New Mexico reclamation project and amounts are Carlsbad, $900,000; Rio Grande, N. M., $6,256,000; and Rio Grande, N. M., Tex., $40,000.

Five New Mexico flood control projects were listed for planning funds and two for construction (Continued on page four.)

Bond Issues May Be Asked To Get Funds

Due to rapid population gains and some worn-out piping and valves in the city water and sewage system, the city council last night tussled with the problem of extending and repairing the present system without raising existing rates.

A cost survey was presented to the council by H. B. Gilmore, chairman of the water committee. He estimated that it would require a total of $31,850 for sewer improvement and renovation, and a total of $116,201 for water line replacement and extension.

The problem, said Mr. Gilmore, is to do the necessary work without raising water rates.

This could be accomplished, the council believes, by the use of revenue bonds. The council will probe the possibility of using revenue bonds, and it was a consensus that it could be worked out so that no increase in rates would be necessary.

Outlying districts would be serviced by the water extensions proposed, and additional revenue from that source would help to underwrite the job.

Also on the agenda was a black-top vs. concrete discussion in regard to paving local alleys.

The main question on the ally problem was: Is 4" concrete suitable for alleys, in lieu of 6" called for by city specifications? The 4" concrete would be cheaper than blacktopping, the 6" higher in (Continued on page four)

Top Communists To Attend Meet Of World Powers

MOSCOW. — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told reporters tonight at a French embassy Bastille Day party that the make-up of the Soviet delegation for Geneva — which includes Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and defense head Georgiy Zhukov as well as himself—means "that this will be a parity at the very summit."

Answering questions from Associated Press reporter Richard Kasichke and U. S. Charge D'Affaires Walter Wamsley, the Soviet premier said: "The composition of our delegation is the very summit."

The goateed Soviet premier added: "For instance, how could we discuss disarmament at Geneva unless Defense Minister Zhukov came along?"

Asked to make a general statement on the Geneva conference, Bulganin replied: "We will do so tomorrow at a press conference in the Kremlin to which I invite you."

Woman Convicted of Urging Young Men to Avoid Draft

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Mrs. Lucille S. Miller, 45, stood convicted today on 18 counts of advising young men to evade military service.

Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson said he will sentence her Aug. 8. However, Mrs. Miller's lawyers have announced they will appeal.

The jury returned its verdict yesterday after deliberating a little more than an hour, after a three-day trial.

Mrs. Miller, the only defense witness, took the stand following five unsuccessful attempts by her counsel for a dismissal of the indictments. One of the arguments for dismissal was an assertion that the draft law is a violation of the 13th Amendment against involuntary servitude.

A high point in Mrs. Miller's testimony came when she replied too a question asked her by U. S. Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb. He asked her if she "deliberately intended" to violate the law when she wrote to the nine young men, advising them to evade the draft. Her answer was, "I certainly did."

Mrs. Miller and her husband Manuel, 47, a justice of the peace at Bethel, gained national attention when they withstood efforts of a U. S. marshal and police to serve Mrs. Miller with a court order committing her to a mental hospital.

As a result of Matusow's accusation the conspiracy convictions of two of the Communists were upset and they were granted new trials.

NASHUA SETS RECORD

CHICAGO (AP)—Nashua gave Eddie Arcara the fastest five furlong ride of his life in a workout at Arlington Park yesterday but failed to scare away any rival out of Saturday's $155,000 classic. The Belair stud's champion, seeking his fifth $100,000 payoff victory of the year, was timed in 56.35 hands, the swiftest trial at five furlongs ever recorded at Arlington Park. It bettered the world mark of .57 for the five-eighths of a mile route set in 1951 by En cantador.

TALK SEAL SALE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oscar Salenger, Los Angeles industrialist, will be here this weekend to talk terms on buying the San Francisco Seals, limping at the gate and in the Pacific Coast League cellar. If a deal is made, Salenger said, Rogers Hornsby would be a co-owner and general manager.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

Word Greene, Mr. Disney liked his story.

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks about:

The Persian room of the Plaza, which came of age this past April, may well be as elegant a supper club as there is in America. It is, however, no more elegant than its maitre d', the celebrated Fred, and the dark news today is that when the room reopens in September, Fred no longer will be greeting the cash customers at the door. He's retiring.

A one-time footman for the Baroness Alice de Rothschild at her palatial villa on the French Riviera, Fred—last name Barbero—looks more like an ambassador than, say, Eden or Lord Halifax. Incidentally, the stars of that first bill at the Persian room, on April 2, 1954, were the dancing De Marcos, Renee and Tony. Tony, looking perhaps a day or two younger than then, is still at the grind, with the red-haired Sally having replaced the dark-haired Renee, professionally and matrimonially.

A Peruvian coati-mundi, which you can't hardly get no more, has been on display of late in the lobby of the Hotel New Yorker. I was fascinated by the beast, which seems a cross between a raccoon and anteater, is two feet long, eats candy and raw eggs and is insured for $1,000—but more fascinated by the reason he was there.

Frank Wangeman, the inn's manager, said, "hotels must use more showmanship in order to provide guests with something memorable as fodder for word-of-mouth publicity." This kind of reasoning may lead, say, to Gypsy Rose Lee doing her specialty in a lobby before a picked audience of guests and drama critics. I'll keep you posted.

THAT RECENT MAGAZINE STORY on Sam Kramer, Greenwich Village's mad jeweler, exaggerated a trifle; the ring he made for this department weighs three-eighths, not half a pound. Incidentally, a fresh folder has arrived from Sam, quoting the old Alsatian proverb, "You're not really married without a Sam Kramer ring." . . . These are days when lots of people, including me, are smiling tolerantly and saying, stop criticizing the kids. You and I were just as bad when we were young. Well, today comes this dour word from Dr. Frank J. O'Brien, retiring director of the New York Board of Education's child welfare division: "The kids of today are worse now than ever."

One of Manhattan's most vigorous citizens is a lawyer-press agent-cum-television interviewer named Richard Hoffman, and it is pleasant to report that he is energetically setting up a local chapter of a national organization of bald-headed men who are leaders in their fields, such as former Postmaster General Jim Farley. "I," Hoffman reports modestly, "have lately become more eligible." . . . These days, the St. George Hotel pool in Brooklyn is an amiably noisy place. Professor Enrico Danicis, head of a local music school, has been conducting singing and breathing classes there of late, to beat the summer heat.

THE COLD TRUTH is that the outlanders who are seduced into the sightseeing buses in Times Square currently are not really getting value received when they trundle through Chinatown. The old order has passed. Not a knife is thrown from a dark hallway, not a long is warred. The other day they had a baby parade involving 300 Chinese kids—and almost all of them were dressed, not in mandarin outfits or coolie hats, but in American overalls or dainty little dresses.

Some of you, on seeing Walt Disney's Lady and the Tramp, may be startled on learning it was written by the eminent novelist, Wm. J. Greene. This is the same gent who wrote the stirring novel, Death in the Deep South, from which came the lynching movie, They Won't Forget. You may remember the busty young girl who played the victim in that film. Name of Turner, Lana Turner. She done anything lately?

Michael Melton Is Honored With Party on 3rd Birthday

Michael Melton was honored on his third birthday Wednesday afternoon with a party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Melton, 205 N. Second St.

Refreshments of birthday cake, ices cream and punch were served. The birthday cake was chocolate with pale green icing with three red candles and decorated with candy scatters. Favors were paper hats, balloons and gum.

Children present were the honoree and his brother, Arby Lyn, Kathy and Karen Chase, Terry Lynne Chase, Freddie Karr, Gary McDaniels, Dolores and Doris Prentice, Dale Taylor, Linda, Larry, Gary, Randy and Stenshaw Taylor, Connie Taylor, Sue Revshaw, Lovington and Jimmy, Ed, Terry and Melissa Taylor of Lovington.

'News and Views'

For the first time in the 40 years since the inception of the Federal-Aid Highway Program the Congress will have before it a proposal, being developed by the House Public Works Committee, which the committee believes will provide the nation the most adequate system of roads it has ever possessed. The legislation is the result of four months of almost constant hearings on several different plans, most of which are based upon studies and surveys begun as far back as 1944 when the Congress authorized an Interstate Highway System—a defense road network—to comprise 40,000 miles of the main traffic arteries covering the entire country.

The principal objectives are these three hitherto unattainable goals:

1. A pay-as-you-go financial plan that will at last devote 100 percent of government income from actual road-user taxes to highway development, without resorting to a costly interest-bearing bond issue.

2. A 12 to 14-year construction program which will bring all of the Interstate System and the majority of the primary, secondary, farm-to-market—and urban highways up to at least the required standards in keeping with our security and defense needs and our great strides in economic progress.

3.—An equitable and just distribution of the tax levies necessary to finance the program among all affected groups in ratio to the benefits derived and ability to pay without undue hardships.

In view of the request—practically the insistent demand—of the President, the Secretary of Defense and of the needs shown by virtually every survey made in recent years, the committee, of which I am a member, recognized that it is imperative that our highways, particularly the Interstate Systems, be developed adequately under one complete, over-all program. Our roads must be made ready for efficient evacuation of people from congested areas in event of attack. They must be adequate to transport all of the essentials to a defense effort. Our entire economy depends upon replacement of our present deteriorated traffic arteries with roads of at least minimum requirement to handle the constantly increasing burden imposed upon them by our nation's economic upsurge. There is no one in disagreement as to this need. It is critical and immediate.

The financing plan developed by the committee is acceptable to the President as an alternative to the proposal for a corporate bond issue, which would cost about $11.5 billion interest in thirty years. He has made that position clear in recent conferences with Congressional leaders. Additional revenue to be raised over a period of 15 years under the proposed legislation would be approximately $12.5 billion dollars, an average yearly yield from 1956 to 1970 of $835 million. This entire amount, which is barely $1 billion more than the interest alone on the proposed bond issue, would be devoted entirely to building roads. In other words, the pay-as-you-go plan would result in saving the nation's taxpayers that $11.5 billion.

The pay-as-you-go financing plan before the committee increases the present federal gasoline tax from 2c to 3c a gallon. During the entire time that this proposal has been under consideration no member of our committee has received one protest. The great majority of the people have registered no objections to paying the 1c additional on their gasoline when they know their money is to be expended entirely for better roads. This is the only tax increase which directly affects the owners of passenger cars and other small vehicles.

The committee has trimmed back sharply the original proposal for tax increases on tire equipment for large trucks and buses. Instead of 50c per pound tax on large tires (9.00x20 and larger) it is agreed that a 10c increase over the present 5-cent per pound tax, making a total of 15c, would be more equitable. A 6c per pound increase, making a total of 15c per pound is deemed fair for inner tubes for large tires and a tax of 7½c per pound on so-called camelback rubber for retreading the large tires was agreed upon. None of these tax increases affect tires used on smaller vehicles or on farm equipment.

The Committee, after careful study is contemplating an increase in the tax on diesel fuel, which most of heavier vehicles use. The manufacturers' excise tax on trucks, buses and trailers would be made the same as on passenger cars, 10 percent. Further hearings are being held this week so that those affected by these proposed tax increases, particularly with regard to the large and heavy vehicles may be given opportunity to present their views.

The committee unanimously recognizes that the nation's critically serious highway problems, including the terrible toll of human lives and property taken annually, must be solved and feels this can be done only by a program with every phase worked out. Only in that way, we believe, can the American people know what they are going to get and what it will cost them. Uncertainty is eliminated and long-range planning, with resultant economy, is made possible. The Bureau of Public Roads has documented evidence that this program will result in saving one cent mile on passenger car operation and four cents on heavy trucks and buses. The estimated resultant saving of lives in traffic is 4,000 to 5,000 annually.

THE COLORADO RIVER BILL Far from being the "raid on the U. S. Treasury" its opponents have characterized it, the Upper Colorado River Development Project will pay for itself and eventually bring a direct net return to the Treasury of $15 million to $20 million annually in perpetuity from power revenues alone, aside from other economic benefits. That is the conclusion reached by the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in its report approved by 20 to 6 vote. The committee's favorable report upholds the contention made by Congressional delegations from New Mexico and the other Upper Basin States that the project is in actuality a sound investment of benefit, not only for the Upper Basin States but to the entire nation. The committee's conclusions were reached after many weeks of hearings and careful analysis of the legislation. They are most gratifying.

Here is the committee's financial analysis of the measure.

"The entire amount for power and municipal water supply of about $463.7 million on the basis of the committee's figure would be returned to the United States Treasury with interest, not only on the investment but also with interest accruing during the construction period. While the amount for irrigation in the bill amount for irrigation in the bill amount for irrigation in the bill does not bear interest, pursuant to the 50-year-old principle of reclamation law, this amount would be returned under the provisions of the bill in equal annual installments in 50 years, plus any development period authorized. In recognition of the many indirect benefits that accrue to those living in the vicinity or on the irrigation projects, the indirect beneficiaries in the immediate area would aid in the repayment of irrigation cost through an ad valorem tax.

"In a 50 year period following the last power installation, net power revenues from the power facilities herein authorized are estimated at $1,075 million. Irrigation revenues in 50 years from the irrigation project herein authorized are estimated at $36.6 million. The $1,075 million from power revenues would be sufficient to pay the power investment of $422.7 million, interest on the power investment of about $320 million to the Federal Treasury, the necessary financial assistance to irrigation of $246.2 million ($282.8 million minus $36.6 million) and leaving a surplus of about $86 million.

"Municipal water revenues would be sufficient to repay the municipal water allocation including interest during the construction. After the project has been completely repaid, the net power revenues amounting from $15 million to $20 million annually for the units herein authorized will continue to flow into the Treasury. Over the long run, these additional revenues will more than offset the cost to the federal government resulting from interest-free financing for the irrigation investment. It appears that the returns from the units herein authorized, would in the long run be an asset purely from a financial standpoint to say nothing of the tremendous returns to the economic well being of the nation in terms of increased wealth, broadened tax base, new farms and homes, etc."

What must be regarded as one of the most important of the conclusions reached by the committee is the portion which states that Southern California's claims to the water are wholly unfounded. The committee report confirms the charge I made during hearings on the bill, that Southern California power interests have received a virtual "windfall" amounting to $41 million in profits from cheap electricity generated at Hoover Dam from water rightfully belonging to the Upper Basin states. This electricity, known as secondary power, cost the Southern California companies a mere fraction of the price they paid for that generated under primary power contracts. Here is the Committee's conclusion in that regard:

"The Committee recognizes that, as the Upper Basin states put to beneficial consumptive use more and more of their apportioned water, either by actual use for agricultural or municipal purposes or by storage for future use by exchange, the secondary energy, which has been available from the Hoover powerplant in the past, will be reduced. The Committee further recognizes that such reduction in secondary energy will

TRUMAN SAYS U.N. 'BEACON OF HOPE TO WORLD'

FORMER PRESIDENT Harry S. Truman, addressing a tenth anniversary session of the United Nations General Assembly in San Francisco, said that the U.N. is a "beacon of hope to a world that has no choice but to live together or die together." The former U. S. Chief Executive received thunderous ovations both before and after he spoke to some 600 delegates and several thousand spectators. Even Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov (arrow) arose to his feet with all the others and clapped hands. He left immediately after Truman had descended from the rostrum. (International)

Bug Battler Has Chance to Wash Out Defending Publix Champion

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Walter Robyn, a Maplewood, Mo., insect exterminator, today had the sixth chance to stop Gene Andrews' toward a second straight USGA Public Links golf championship.

Andrews, insurance agent from Pacific Palisades, Calif., was over par for 30 holes yesterday, eliminating Foster Bradley of Los Angeles, 1954 USGA junior champion, 5 and 3, and Bill O'Brien of Seattle, 5 and 4.

Two members of Miami's Hating Cup championship team were among the 16 survivors in the Publix tourney, which started last month with 2,007 entries at 39 sectional eliminations.

Marshall Carlson, Miami accountant and former University of Toledo basketball star, and plasterer Ralph Allen of Miami Springs came through the third and fourth rounds Wednesday against strong opposition.

Carlson shot 2-under-par to beat Don Essig of Indianapolis, a 1951 year-old links prodigy, 3 and 2, and was only one over in a match with Lester Kelly of Atlanta, Ga., that went the full 18 holes. Today he met William C. Scarborough, Jacksonville, Fla., Navy chief at 1954 semi-finalist.

ONE WAY TO PREVENT GOVERNMENT ECONOMY

During consideration of the Mutual Security bill, in which the Congress has authorized expenditure of about $3.3 billion more for so-called foreign aid—an authorization which I opposed as I have for the past three years—Senator Mansfield (D-Mont.) brought out into the open one of the methods used to prevent the Congress from exercising proper control of expenditures. Senator Mansfield said:

"Mr. President, here is the record. Between April 20 and June 30 the Department of Defense gave various committees and Members of Congress estimates of the unobligated carryover of military assistance funds running from $100 million to $932 million. Then, during the last 24 hours of the fiscal year, the executive branch managed to go through the motions of reserving more than half a billion dollars."

That statement bears out fully the contention I have made repeatedly that the Congress must have closer control over the actual spending of the money it appropriates. This can be done only by a different budget system and refusal by the Congress to permit the building up of huge holdover balances, which are now in the neighborhood of $100 billion. It will be gratifying to the taxpayers to know, however, that in both the House and the Senate serious consideration is now being given to methods for gaining closer control over federal spending. Only in that way can we eliminate much of the present waste of public dollars.

The House Appropriations committee, prompted in some degree by this attempt to circumvent Congressional control, lopped about $628 million from the Mutual Security Appropriations bill, a considerable part from the same items for which the last-minute, hasty commitments were made by the Defense Department. I feel a still greater cut could be made without injury to our foreign relations and with even greater benefit for our own people.

Pair Of Homers Gives NuMexers 4 to 3 Victory Over Odessa

SPORTS

Artesians Belt Two-Rim Four-Baggers

The Artesia NuMexers were "at home" literally and figuratively here last night when a pair of homers won them a 4-3 ballgame against Odessa in the first of a five-night home stand for the NuMexers.

Trailing 1-0 in the bottom of the second frame, Artesia centerfielder Odessa hurler Mike Gazella, pitched a fast ball from the mitt of left centerfielder for a two-base hit. Then teammate Bob Herron followed him to the plate and drove a homer deep into right field for the first pair of NuMexer scores.

In the next frame, NuMexer centerfielder Jim Bawcom drove a liner into the hole for a base hit but was forced out on a second when Dobkowski made first on a fielder's choice. Then player-manager Tom Jordan belted another four-bagger, driving Dobkowski ahead of him for the other brace of Artesia tallies.

Odessa put together another two runs in the top of the eighth after Kenaga walked both Moe Santomauro and Bob Smith. Smith went out on a fielder's choice when Tom Godwin laced one for a one-bagger and then both Godwin and Santomauro scored on Ed Peacock's single.

Tonight the NuMexers play host to the Big Spring Cosden Cops.

The Yanks will have a three-game "breather" against fifth-place Detroit over the weekend, then start the one-two punch all over again at Chicago. They play the White Sox Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with the Red Sox barging into Comiskey park Friday, Saturday and Sunday in a four-game series.

The National presents a different picture. It hardly seems possible, but the Brooklyn, a league and a half ahead of the pack, are hurtling. The only thing that's kept them away out front is oddly enough, the even-Stephen makeup of the circuit.

There no panic yet, but a team that loses 10 of its last 19 games can't be sleeping too well—even with that 11½-game hedge.

Roy Campanella insists he's ready to go back to work behind the plate tonight when the Dodgers take on the St. Louis Cardinals at Ebbets field, but Manager Walt Alston indicates he has other plans.

That disturbing 9-10 record followed Campy's knee injury, and Alston doesn't want to start his bug boy before the leg is healed completely.

Plodding Ezzard Charles Wins 10-Round Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—A slow-down Ezzard Charles plodded to a split 10-round decision over young Paul Andrews last night to keep grinding away on the comeback treadmill.

He proved he still has the heart of a champion if little else. He was decked by a short right for the eighth count in the second round.

But he weathered Andrews' savage left hooks and right uppercuts and fought back. He earned the decision from Referee Frank Sikora, 94-91, and Judge Frank Mc-

Adams, 96-95. Judge James McManus gave it to the 25-year-old ex-paratrooper from Buffalo, N. Y., 95-89.

Charles, outweighing Andrews 193 pounds to 189, opened a gash under his opponent's right eye in the fourth round and it kept bleeding most of the way. He battered Andrews in a sliding body attack to slow him down from the fifth on. But Charles' only impressive punch of the fight was a long right that staggered his lanky foe in the first round.

The Cincinnati fighter, who outside the ring shows little wear and tear for a 34-year-old veteran of 104 bouts, appeared to have lost all the finesses that once carried him to the heavyweight title.

Asked bluntly why he goes on, he said: "Fighting is my business. I don't have another job. Besides, how can you turn down money?"

Charles' next stop on the comeback treadmill? Probably in Syracuse Aug. 3 against Hurricane Jackson.

Stanford has beaten San Jose State 11 times in 12 football games. They will meet Oct. 29 at Palo Alto, Calif.

TWO BIG QUESTIONS FACE FLAG RACE CONTENDERS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The major league pennant races get back to action tonight with two big questions to be answered: Can Cleveland and Chicago survive the one-two invasion punch of New York and Boston in the American? And, just how secure is Brooklyn's 11½-game lead in the National?

New York's Yankees top the AL by five games as the All-Star Game break comes to an end, while of the other first-division teams—Cleveland, Chicago and Boston. That means the runner-up Indians, who had a half-game lead on the Yanks at this point in '54, and the third-place White Sox have to worry about kicking off the Red Sox as well as catching the New Yorkers.

Baltimore	23	55	295

Manager Al Lopez, naming Bob Lemon (12-6) to face Tommy Byrne (7-2) and the Yanks tonight, claims his pitching staff is back in shape. It better be. After facing the Yanks for two, the Tribe must then take on the "bustlin' Boston, who have lost only six of their last 34, for three games Saturday and Sunday.

KC Ball Park Is Easy Homer Mark for AL

NEW YORK (AP)—American League batters, streaking toward possible home run record, are finding Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest park in which to connect for the circuit.

A total of 107 homers have been hit in baseball's newest major league park, figures compiled by the Associated Press showed today. The Kansas City Stadium has replaced Boston's Fenway Park as the American League "bandbox."

The Red Sox park, in which 139 four-baggers were hit in 1954, has been the scene of 102 this year.

Cincinnati's Crosley Field remains the hitters' paradise in the National League with 125 homers. Brooklyn Dodgers' fans have seen 96 walloped at Ebbets Field while Ash Stadium (St. Louis) has had 90 and the Polo Grounds (New York) 99.

The major league home run race is up to 1,269 with 717 in the National League and 552 in the American. At that clip, the existing records for both circuits—1,197 for the NL and 973 for the AL—will go by the boards.

Ben Hogan Puts On Show for Junior Golfers

SPORTS 1-24 BEN ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A relaxed Ben Hogan put on a show for junior golfers here yesterday.

The four-times winner of the National Open drove from Fort Worth to present trophies to winners of the Abilene Reporter-News Junior Golf Tournament. He also put on an hour's golf clinic.

Then, with Sammy Baugh looking on, Hogan gave an imitation of Baugh at the tee. Baugh, former professional football player and now head football coach at Hardin-Simmons, laugh with the rest as Hogan turned his cap backward, adopted a cowboy swagger and took a cowhand's swing at the ball. Baugh disclosed he took up golf about two months ago.

Outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates was a teammate of the Giants' Willie Mays on the Santurce club of the Puerto Rican League last winter.

Circulation Figures

WE have heard a great deal in Artesia about circulation of the two newspapers for a year now. The advertisers have been given all kinds and types of fantastic figures regarding circulation of the other daily newspaper here. Those figures run from 3100 up to as high as 3900 according to those who were approached concerning advertising.

Then we heard a great deal about ABC figures and the value of the audit of circulation. The Artesia Advocate never did have a circulation of 3000 and never claimed that kind of circulation.

Back in the days when we were a weekly and a member of ABC our top figure was 2400 to 2500 circulation. Then when we went twice a week the circulation dropped down to around the 2000 mark as it always does when the frequency of publication is stepped up.

But it had been pushed back up around the 2400 figure as a twice a week paper.

Today that circulation has varied as the days have gone along but the week of June 27 a total of 65 new subscribers were secured and some 132 were received giving a net gain for that week of some 52 new subscribers. The increases varies from a net gain of 10 to some 15 or 20 a week.

We have never misrepresented our circulation but some others have sought not only to misrepresent their own but ours as well.

The ABC figures as released and published in Standard Rate and Data shows that the other daily newspaper in Artesia doesn't have any 3900 or even 3000 circulation. The fact is the figures, the ABC figures show that the other daily newspaper has 2042 daily circulation and only 2032 on Sunday or some 10 less on Sunday than during the week.

The Advocate has been in Artesia serving this community for over 50 years. We have not misrepresented the circulation during those years. We have not misrepresented it during the past 10 years or the past year.

We have no reason or occasion for doing so. We have been extremely happy and proud of the fine reception accorded our daily paper and especially our Sunday paper.

And you can be sure we are not going to misrepresent our circulation now.

Merchants and business people have been buying a bargain both in the newspaper and the advertising space in The Advocate for over 50 years. They are still buying just that now.

CLAYTON AIRPORT CLEARED
WASHINGTON, (AP)—A Senate committee has approved a bill relieving Clayton, N. M., of costs involved in construction at town's municipal airport. The report from the committee said $17,000 had been spent with Civil Aeronautics Administration approval. The comptroller general had ruled a pool and pilots lounge could not be paid in part from federal aid.

The six-engine jet bomber crashed on the banks of the Red River. Part of the plane was submerged. Wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

The plane crashed about three miles south of Lucas, which is about 10 miles southeast of Shreveport.

Officers at Barksdale said a investigation at the scene was being hampered by a driving rain.

The Barksdale public information officer said two civilian witnesses said the plane burst into flames before it struck the ground.

Bill Bailey said he saw a "bright flash." The whole sky just lighted up. The brightest light I ever saw at night. It looked like the sun in late afternoon. About six or seven seconds later, there was a big rumble."

Joel Brown said he saw the flames from a drive-in theater. He said he saw a "red flash followed by a big red ball and then came a terrific explosion."

Barksdale officials said the plane was attached to the 376th Bomb Wing.

answers to the questions on his hometown but admitted that he had been in Kansas and Wyoming. Acting on a hunch, the desk sergeant requested information on him via radio from both the Kansas State Prison and Wyoming police. He also reported Dancer-Anderson attitude to Police Chief Frank Powell.

Powell, questioning the man, received surly answers and finally the man admitted that he had been an inmate of the Kansas prison.

Booked By Chief

Powell decided to book the man on vagrancy charges which would have allowed time for his fingerprints to be checked with the FBI in Washington. Such a check would have immediately revealed that Anderson was wanted in Ohio.

But when Powell brought the suspect before Ellicott, the police judge ordered the man released despite the fact that he had no means of support, had been uncooperative, and was an admitted ex-convict.

Yesterday, Dayton authorities notified New Mexico State Police of the "want" on the man and learned that Anderson had been held here July 4. But when it was reported that he had been released here, an all-points-bulletin was put out for his arrest with special notice to Arizona and California authorities where it was believed the 6-foot, 150-pound, ex-convict was.

Charity Gyp Crack Downs Put Into Law

CHICAGO, (AP)—Legislatures in four more states cracked down this year on charity rackets, said to be fleecing the public of up to 120 million dollars annually.

Income tax statistics show that an average American family doles out about $88 a year to charities ranging from linely street corner beggars to nationwide drives.

An Associated Press survey shows that Maine, Utah, New Mexico and Oklahoma either adopted new charity laws or made existing laws tighter this year. At least five states already had laws to monitor charity operations. Proposals for charity laws in eight other states were either defeated, killed in committee actions, or are still pending.

Follow New York

Most of this year's legislation followed a pattern set by New York last year. After hearing a committee report on charity abuses, the New York Legislature adopted a law requiring charity organizations to register with the State Department of Welfare.

The Russell Sage Foundation of New York, N. Y., told the New York Legislative Committee that between 100 million and 120 million dollars was taken every year by charity rackets. The foundation arrived at the figure after a study of the nation's philanthropic organizations.

Oklahoma passed a similar law this year requiring charity groups to register with the secretary of state and file financial statements. However, Oklahoma lists a host of exemptions including churches, the American Red Cross, educational and fraternal groups. New York exempts only church groups.

Another law requiring charities to register for the first time was put on the books in New Mexico. The same law also requires professional fund raisers to register.

Maine Tougher

Maine made an existing law tougher. Professional solicitors must now register with the state if they are making collections away from the city where their organization has its home office. They also must list their pay and the purpose of their fund drive.

For violations, the State Health and Welfare Department is empowered to enjoin the activities of a charity organization. A $50 fine and an 11-month jail sentence, or both, also can be imposed on violators.

Utah's Legislature passed a bill prohibiting charity groups from using the names of persons without their consent. This also is a feature of the New York law.

The New York investigation of charities was credited with spurring many legislatures to act against unethical or illegal operations. More than a score of states wrote New York asking for copies of the charity law.

License Revoked

Under the New York Law, the attorney general was given the power to sue for revocation of the violator's registration license, but the main power of the law was in possible exposure. The Department of Welfare makes public the list of accredited charities every year.

In the Legislature's opinion, this feature of the law would force charities to clean themselves up.

Annual-

persons were in jail are as follows: Drunkenness, 351; Disorderly, 82; vag, 12; held for investigation, 69. All other, 32.

Citations issued included: speeding, 129; illegal parking, 31; light violations, 159; improper registration 133; drunken driving, 32; parking meter violations, 12,502.

There were 218 reportable accidents in the city, but a fine record of no fatalities was made.

Artesia has now established a four-year and seven-month record with no fatalities, remarkable for a city in the 12,000 population class, said Chief Powell.

Personal charges included the following: robbery, 1; burglary, 11; larceny, 23; auto theft, 2; forgery, 3; illegal possession of firearms, 4; possession of narcotics, 1; liquor laws violation, 5.

Bond-

It was decided to go along with city specifications, regardless of whether blacktopping or concrete was used.

Other business coming up for discussion: The rather unstable and unsatisfactory operation of some spot lights in the area. It was agreed to investigate thoroughly and adjust the offending lights, especially those on 13th St.

29 Feared-

storms had swept the gulf area and survivors told of struggling against towering waves before being rescued. They said the ship went down so rapidly there was little time for launching lifeboats.

Hope for finding additional survivors from the sinking off Trinidad faded last night after a day-long air and sea search. Twenty-two survivors from the Geologist were picked up by the Sun Princess.

Under the New York Law, the attorney general was given the power to sue for revocation of the violator's registration license, but the main power of the law was in possible exposure. The Department of Welfare makes public the list of accredited charities every year.

In the Legislature's opinion, this feature of the law would force charities to clean themselves up.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC AUCTION OF STATE LANDS CHAVES COUNTY
Sale No. 3029

Office of the Commissioner of Public Lands Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress entitled Enabling Act for New Mexico (36 Stat. 557), approved June 20, 1910, the laws of the State of New Mexico, and the rules and regulations of the State Land Office, the Commissioner of Public Lands, subject to the conditions hereinafter set out, will offer for sale at public auction, to the highest and best bidder at 10:00 o'clock, A. M., on August 19th, 1955, at the front door of the County Court House, in the City of Roswell, New Mexico, subject to existing lease or leases, if any, the following described state institutional lands, to-wit:

ALL of Section 36, Township 15 South, Range 25 East, N.M.P.M., containing 640.00 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof.

The above-described lands are located approximately 2 miles southwest of Lake Arthur, New Mexico. Said above described lands have been appraised at $23.30 per acre and no bids for a less amount will be considered.

Any person desiring to qualify as a bidder, other than the applicant who has requested said lands to be offered for sale and who has complied with the rules for so doing, is required to deposit with the Commissioner of Public Lands, or his agent conducting the sale, the sum of $205.00 to cover the cost of appraisal advertising, filing fee and other expenses connected with such sale. Deposits shall be in cash or in the form of a certified check drawn to the order of the Commissioner of Public Lands. All deposits made by unsuccessful bidders shall be returned.

The purchaser at the time of said sale will be required to pay five (5%) per cent of the amount bid plus $334.850.00 being the appraised value of the improvements on said lands. The balance of the purchase price will be payable in thirty (30) years with interest on all deferred payments at the rate of four (4%) per cent per annum in advance. In addition, the purchaser at the time of sale shall be required to pay for the improvements on the above described lands, in the event the improvements are not owned by the said purchaser. Payment shall be in cash or in the form of a certified check drawn to the order of the Commissioner of Public Lands.

All minerals of whatsoever kind, including oil and gas, are reserved to the State of New Mexico.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved and no sale shall be effective unless and until approved by the Commissioner of Public Lands.

Detailed information concerning this offer of sale, the lands involved, the improvements thereon, if any, and other matters related thereto may be obtained by writing to the Commissioner of Public Lands, State Land Office, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

DATED at Santa Fe, New Mexico, this 2nd day of June A. D. 1955.

Bristow Pump Combines 20 Years Well Work Experience

If you have a pump problem, have no fear. The Bristow Pump Co. can solve it and have water flowing like the Danube in no time at all.

Sam Coats and Slim Bristow, partners in the Bristow Pump Co., have an aggregate experience of twenty years in deep well pumping. They are set up to supply you with one of the efficient new U. S. pumps, or they can repair your old pump and restore it to maximum efficiency.

Bristow started the pump installation business in 1931, and his many efficient installations in the Pecos Valley have attested the savvy and know-how he brings to the business.

In 1955, Bristow, joined with Sam Coats in a partnership, designed to give the expanding business another boost. Sam Coats brings to the valley a lot of down-to-earth solid experience in pumps, and together the boys are making more and more valuable installations.

They have selected the U. S. pump as the best in the field, because of its inherent sturdiness, adaptability, and ease of operation.

Recent installations which the partners point out with justifiable pride, are at the W. M. Jackson place and for Joe Lee. They invite prospective pump users to look these over.

Leone's Offer 24-Hour Roll Film Service

People most often visit Leone studio at 415 W. Main for roll film development.

It's Artesia's only, 24-hour service center for roll film development and printing.

But the studio isn't limited to that service alone. It is equipped to handle nearly all photographic requirements on the premises. Specialties, such as color processing of still and color film, is handled by Leone through special laboratories in the Southwest.

Film brought in to Leone's one day are processed and available in prints just 24 hours later.

The studio also handles portraiture, copying, and commercial photography.

It's owned by Mrs. Lavene Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Thompson and Mrs. Mildred Carroll staff the studio.

Mrs. Smith has been a part-owner of the studio for 14 years. She previously operated a photo shop in Las Vegas, N. M., for a number of years before coming to Artesia.

She guarantees fine photographic words which the most discriminating families can display with pride. Mrs. Smith has engaged in portraiture for more years than she likes to remember, and is adept at getting a subject to achieve a natural pose.

Also handled by the studio are cut film development contact or jumbo size prints by machines, and enlargements clear up to 18 by 24 inch photos.

pair, Staggs also assembles new radiators. He manufactures some 200 a year, sells them locally to auto dealers and operators of large truck and automotive fleets.

"We save most people with radiator trouble an amount of money that surprises them," Staggs declares. "When a radiator can't be put in shape by cleaning and a few simple repairs, a new core is usually needed."

Where many shops sell the customer a whole new radiator, Staggs just sells the core, if that's all that's needed. A new radiator would include a brass water tanks and frames that are expensive and aren't usually needed.

Staggs' lawnmower service sharpens lawnmowers and blades with cutting surfaces from 5 to 39 inches long. It will also sharpen lawn shears.

Staggs has operated his present business nearly 5 years.

Payne Packing Company One Of Largest Local Firms

Since opening its doors five years ago, Payne Packing Co. of Artesia has become one of the largest privately-owned industries in Artesia.

Each year the company spends nearly $1 million buying cattle and hogs in the Pecos Valley. More than 7,000 animals are processed through the clean, well-equipped plant annually.

In the past 12 months the company has sold over 2 1/2 million pounds of beef, pork, and by products in Eddy, Lea, Chaves, and Otero counties.

The firm employs four full-time salesmen maintaining contact with customers throughout the four county area. The plant keeps busy three big tractor-trailer rigs delivering its products.

Payne takes animals on the hoof, slaughters, then prepares the meat for consumption.

Payne's payroll has never been less than $75,000 annually.

It's owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Payne—he's easily recognized by the whip he always carries, frequently, as his trademark.

The Paynes went into business in 1950. For 28 years previously Payne had been a rancher. He has lived in the Pecos Valley 33 years.

On the company's payroll are 15 persons working full time. Payne's offers a ready local market for beef—more than 90 per cent of the meat used in the Artesia plant is raised locally.

Payne, furthermore, is still planning an expansion of his business—he sees no end in sight to the steady customer support based on good value offered in Payne's products.

Jim's Drive-In Is Hamburger Gourmet's Haven

Jim Wallace, genial owner and operator of Jim's Drive In, 1012 S. 1st, is a man who believes in giving his customers just the kind of hamburgers they want.

The Drive-In, the oldest in Artesia, serves a complement of luscious burgers ranging from the tasty 15c bunny burger to more elaborate 50c deluxe type.

"We have a hamburger for every pocketbook and all our burgers are built for a King's taste", explained Wallace.

Besides the mouth-watering burgers served, the drive-in has a complete fountain, all sorts of goodies to soothe the quenched thirst and revive the lagging spirit.

Jim has been in business for four and one-half years, and employs 8 local people to help serve up his delicacies to Mr. and Mrs. Artesia and all the little Artesians.

Although the road is rather torn up around Jim's place at present, it is well worth a trip to the drive in at any time to savor one of their delightful burgers.
