Hope, Artesia Flood Control Meet Scheduled Next Week

City Council Study Both Area Problems

With Eddy County's dream flood control-water conservation program that would solve the two-edged problem of flood and drought will be discussed here next week.

The request of Mrs. Ethel ... mayor of Hope, speaking in a delegation from her town, ... flood control committee of the ... Chamber of Commerce ... host at a discussion meeting ... chamber offices at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Canny Canines Claim Colossal Chicken Calumny

By RAY BLACK

Barking the jailhouse blues in the city lockup today were two prisoners who insist they are the victims of a frameup.

"It was those red-headed chickens that led to our down-fall," said one prisoner.

"Yeh," whined his jailmate, "never trust chickens from Rhode Island."

Names of the accused do not appear on the police blotter, but their offense does. As far as The Advocate could learn, one prisoner is known as Spot and the other as Curly, although both could be aliases. They are charged with chasing chickens.

It seems the two dogs were romping down W. Missouri ave. in today's adventuresome dawn. When they came opposite 711 W. Missouri, the two ... called to them from the yard of Mrs. Martha Croft.

Spot looked at Curly. Curly wagged a tail. Enough said. Over the fence they went to strike up

Roaring Floods Cut Swath Of Death And Destruction In East

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rain-swollen rivers and creeks boiled over into torrential floods that cut a swath of death and destruction today through nine states and the District of Columbia.

The deaths continued to mount as reports were assembled. They had reached 22 this morning with 14 in Pennsylvania, 1 in Virginia, 3 in Vermont, 1 in Rhode Island and 3 in Massachusetts.

The rains, measuring as much as nine inches in some areas, overflowed rivers and isolated thousands in their homes, on the highways, in camping resorts, even on trains.

Damage was estimated in the millions.

Hardest hit were eastern Pennsylvania, southeastern New York and New Jersey.

But flood waters swept also wide areas of Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, Rhode Island and the District of Columbia.

The Air Force, Coast Guard and the Navy pressed helicopters and amphibious "ducks" into rescue service.

The major rivers involved were

Sleeping Car Smashes Into Freight Train

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP) — Four cars of a fast passenger train jumped the track near here today, killing five persons and critically injuring two others.

A physician, the first at the scene of the wreck of the Frisco's Kansas City-Florida Special, said five or more were seriously hurt and 12 others were treated for relatively minor injuries.

Four were killed in the crash. The fifth, an unidentified woman, perished a few hours later in a Memphis hospital.

The identified dead: Mrs. Edith Randal Rinker, 25, of Macon, Ga., and her child, 12; Patricia Jane Crawford, Kansas City, Kan., and the dining car chef, William Richards, 50, Bonner Springs, Kan.

Taken to Memphis

The critically hurt were taken to Memphis hospitals. Most other injured were moved to Jonesboro, Ark., or nearby towns. Some were treated at an emergency hospital here.

The accident occurred when the next to the last car of the train, a sleeping car, jumped the track and struck two freight cars on a siding.

An adjoining dining car also was pulled off the track. The front end of the dining car and the back end of the sleeping car were caved in.

The standing freight cars were

1,000 Bluegills Distributed to Artesia Farmers

Distribution to Artesia area farmers today of 40,000 bluegill fingerlings from a federal fish hatchery tank parked at Jack's Radiator Shop, 311 S. First st., worth to 1,500,000 the number of fingerlings in the state this year.

Of these, 50 per cent have been distributed to farmers, Staggs said.

The fish planting project is under sponsorship of the G.P.A. Noel is president of the Eddy County association.

Safety Roadblocks Due To 'Trap' City Drivers

Roadblocks in the interest of safe driving will be set up in Artesia streets tomorrow and as many motorists as possible will be "trapped."

Each motorist stopped by a roadblock will be handed a notice that reads as follows:

"DON'T DRIVE YOURSELF TO DEATH

"1. New Mexico has one of the highest highway fatality rates in the nation.

"2. One-half of our recent fatalities were the result of illegal passing. Don't cross the yellow line when it is in your lane.

"3. A great number of our serious accidents are one-car accidents.

"4. Fatigue and inattention are two of our greatest highway enemies. Be prepared for the unexpected.

"5. Speed limits — reasonable and prudent, with a 60 mph day, 55 mph night maximum, unless otherwise posted.

"6. The speed limit is enforced by radar, marked and unmarked police cars, and airplane spotters.

"PLEASE HELP MAKE NEW MEXICO TRAFFIC SAFE

"The New Mexico Traffic Safety Commission."

The roadblock will be set up across First st., and other city thoroughfares by the Artesia police department, cooperating with the Eddy County Traffic Safety council and the New Mexico Traffic Safety Commission to further Gov. John F. Simms' drive for safer streets and highways.

A total of 500 of the warning notices were prepared for roadblock distribution through efforts of George E. Kaiser, past president of the county safety council, and Elmo Naylor, council co-chairman.

Fresh Showers Due Over Most Of State Today

By The Associated Press

More cloudy weather and showers and thunderstorms were forecast for the state today, a continuation of those which added more soaking rain to New Mexico range and cropland yesterday.

Heavy showers drenched the central mountain ranges of New Mexico yesterday, but most stations in the flatland received only light amounts.

Socorro received the most, .54 inch, and State Police said they kept a sharp watch on that area last night after reports were received that much heavier showers were falling over the mountains to the west of that community. But this morning, State Police said no damage occurred from arroyos swollen with runoff nearby.

Carlsbad and Artesia both had .31 inches of rain. Truth or Consequences and Las Vegas .09, Columbus .08, Roswell .07, Grants .05, Albuquerque .03, and Alamogordo and Zuni .01.

Bonn, Moscow Plan German Uniting Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said today it saw "no obstacle" to discussing the reunification of Germany and the return of German war prisoners with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer while he visits Moscow.

A note delivered by the Soviet ambassador in Paris to the German ambassador in Paris agreed to Adenauer's suggestion that he should arrive in Moscow around Sept. 9.

The note, read to newsmen at a hastily summoned news conference in the Soviet foreign ministry, did not raise many hopes, however, that the key issues of reunification and prisoner-return would be solved during Adenauer's visit.

Press chief Leonid Ilyichev recalled to newsmen that West German sent a note to Russia Aug. 12 in which it was stated that Adenauer wanted to talk about

Cop-Killer Is Captured After Terrorizing Chicago Family

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's greatest manhunt since the days of gangster John Dillinger ended last night with a 26-year-old cop killer being captured.

"Don't shoot. Don't shoot." Despite the plea, ex-convict Richard Carpenter fought his captors to the end, though unarmed. He wrestled with policemen who dragged him out of a tear-gas-filled third-floor apartment.

"No doubt about it. He was driven out by tear gas. The apartment was just loaded with it," said Detective Elwood, Zuley, 40, one of the first policemen to grab Carpenter.

Killed Officer

Zuley said the fugitive who within a 72-hour period killed one policeman, critically wounded another and terrorized a family for 23 hours, made an apparent guess.

At Least Seven Perish in USAF Transport Crash

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — At least seven men perished today in the fiery crash of an Air Force transport plane into a barren mountain 13 miles northeast of here.

Marine Lt. Col. George Stallings of Hawthorne Naval Ammunition Depot reported seven bodies were found when rescuers were able to enter the charred wreckage five hours after the crash.

He said search parties were combing the mountainous area on the chance that others may have parachuted.

Stead Air Force Base at Reno, the nearest Air Force installation, said the plane didn't come from there but refused to say whether it had a flight plan for the craft.

The big, two-motored plane swooped low over Walker Lake shortly before the crash.

There was no indication it was in trouble, however. A commercial landing field was only two miles to the north.

Carlsbad Radio Station on Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — A broker reports negotiations are nearing completion for sale of Radio Station KAVE, Carlsbad, N. M., to a Washington engineering consultant for $150,000.

Edwin Tornberg, partner in the radio, newspaper and television brokerage firm of Allen Kander & Co., said the transaction is expected to be complete within a week.

Simms Won't Say If Special Call Sure for Solons

SANTA FE, (AP) — Gov. John F. Simms didn't pin himself down on whether he would call a special session of the Legislature. But he says if he does call one, "an educated guess" would be that it might convene around Sept. 21.

The special election on constitutional amendments is the day before that, Sept. 20.

Simms said it probably wouldn't be wise to take members of the Legislature away from home in the week before a special election. And the state fair in Albuquerque, opening later in the month, would conflict with any later date for a session.

Simms sent a questionnaire to legislators in July and indicated then that it was his "present intention" to call a session within two months to handle the Welfare Department's financial plight.

Traffic Toll of 209 Equals 1954's Deaths

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Mexico's traffic death toll fell all even with last year to 209 after the death of a 23-year-old Santa Fe man early this morning. The toll now is 209.

Earlier, the state recorded an annual fatality when a Baltimore, Md. man died in his overturned car near Albuquerque.

Near Mesas of Mesilla Park killed 4 1/2 miles south of Las Vegas when his car crossed U.S. 66 and smashed into a tree.

The Baltimore man was Aubrey Craig, 48, who died yesterday afternoon after his car flipped several times on U.S. 66.

State Report

The overall summation of the year celebration and a financial report on the various observance activities will be given at a meeting Monday noon of the executive committee of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be in the Hotel Artesia.

UN Command Aroused Over Plane Incident

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP) — The U. N. Command tonight called an urgent Commission to demand the return of the pilot and passenger of a U. S. training plane shot down by the Communists Wednesday.

The meeting was called for 10 a. m. Saturday (5 p. m. Friday MST).

The Communists did not immediately reply.

There was still no information on whether the pilot and passenger in the T6 trainer survived the crash.

The wording of the U. N. request for the commission session seemed to indicate official belief the pair may be alive. They are officially listed as missing. Names have been withheld.

The small, unarmed craft was caught in a barrage of heavy Communist anti-aircraft fire when it inadvertently flew into the United Nations side of the demilitarized zone Wednesday.

Teachers to Tour City Wednesday

The tour of Artesia next Wednesday morning at 10:30 for new teachers in the city's schools will be a complete journey past all points of interest and importance, Manager Paul W. Scott of the Chamber of Commerce said today.

Starting from the Hermosa school, teachers will be driven by car past all the schools, the refineries and industrial district, the country club and municipal park and through most residential districts. The tour is part of the program of welcome and orientation for the 24 new teachers entering the system.

Road Planners To Meet Aug. 26

President Vexed by Nixon Last-Chance-to-Avoid-War Comment on Big Four Meet Viewpoint Disavowed by Ike

Special to Central Press Association WASHINGTON—Did President Eisenhower rap Vice President Richard Nixon for his recent Chicago speech about the forthcoming Big Four conference? The President is known to have disapproved of Nixon's views that the meeting will be the "world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war."

Vice President Nixon

In the first place, such comment from the vice president might tend to make the task of Mr. Eisenhower and the British and French heads of state that much harder at the Geneva talks, starting July 18.

The President has said that the talks are not expected to settle any immediate issues or problems, but will attempt to explore areas where some agreements might be reached. All this will take time. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles echoed Mr. Eisenhower's views.

However, what probably aroused the chief executive more than anything else is that Nixon, who has been put to use as a "goodwill ambassador" on his trips to various parts of the world, showed a complete lack of diplomacy in his choice of words.

In a later talk on the same subject Nixon switched from the "this is the showdown" approach to the idea that it was up to the Soviets to make the talks a "success or failure."

SOCIALIZED VACCINE—Republicans are privately dismayed over the whole picture of the administration and the Salk polio vaccine.

Now that Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby has termed the Democratic plan to supply free vaccine to all children "socialized medicine," puzzled politicians are wondering what the administration had in mind in the first place when it took over any responsibility for the vaccine.

The administration, they say privately, has given the impression that it is more important to cater to the wishes of the American Medical Association than to look out for the nation's children. Democrats point out that in Canada the vaccine was tested and administered solely by the government and there has not been a single case of polio among children given the vaccine.

In addition to the volunteer workers almost everyone on the church staff gets in on the work. This summer the following have helped in the schools: Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor; Bill Shearin, Educational Director; Milburn Moore, Music Director; Miss Mand Brasfield, Youth Director; Joe Kennison, Maintenance; and Miss Yvonne Dew, Office Secretary.

The type program offered to the boys and girls consists of a worship period in which they learn Scripture verses and hymns and listen to a character story each day, a period of class work in which they draw and color various things and pictures relating to the Bible, then comes a recess and refreshment period each day, and a period of handwork in which they make small articles for household use or for personal use.

The purpose of the program is to teach the boys and girls about Jesus Christ and what he can mean to their lives.

Children from 2 years old to 15 attending the schools, although the majority range from 5 to 13.

The church has held schools this summer at the First Baptist itself, at Elk, Bethel Baptist Church, Morningside Baptist Mission, Atoka, Cottonwood, Illinois Oilfield Camp, and the Spanish Baptist Mission. The summer total on all the schools is 759 enrolled with an average attendance of approximately 600.

Although the church furnished a large number of workers, some of the residents of the various communities helped in the schools also.

All the circles of the Christian Church met Thursday morning. The programs follow.

Circle one of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met on Thursday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. H. O. Miller, west of town with Mrs. Reese Smith as co-hostess. As the group arrived they were served coffee and doughnuts.

Mrs. M. G. Goodwin, chairman opened the meeting with prayer and presided over the business meeting. Work was done on the year books and it was announced the Sept. 15th meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Robert Yeates, 404 Centre with Mrs. Owen Haynes as co-hostess. Miss Doris Johnson would have charge of the program. Also it was announced each member was to bring a prospective member or guest.

Mrs. George Thalman gave the program on "The Purpose of the Emblem."

Those present were Mesdames Clem Ratliff, J. P. Menefee, Robert Yeates, Owen Haynes, Ray Fagan, C. P. Bunch, George Thalman, C. H. Johns, M. G. Goodwin, Gertrude Chimm, H. O. Miller, Reese Smith, H. L. McAlester, Roger Durand and Miss Doris Johnson.

Circle two met at the home of Mrs. Thad Cox, 802 West Missouri, Thursday morning at 9:30. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Wayne Dougherty. Mrs. Reed Brainard presented the program on the WSCS "emblem." Mrs. George Frisch accompanied the group in singing two songs for the devotional service. Mrs. P. V. Morris, vice-chairman, turned in her resignation due to illness in the family.

A new chairman will be appointed next meeting. The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Brainard, southeast of town.

Mrs. Cox served homemade rolls and coffee to the following members present: Mesdames Edward Stone, Jean Stone, George Frisch, Robert Birch, Wayne Dougherty, Reed Brainard, and Floyd Davis.

Circle three met with Mrs. H. L. Green, east of town at 9:30 Thursday morning for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Ed Thompson, chairman, presented Mrs. E. L. Bays. Mrs. Bays took as her theme "The Limits of Forgiveness." Mrs. George Dixon gave an inspirational devotional along the same line and both Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Bays completed the program with a little skit.

During the business meeting various items were discussed; the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. Mrs. J. H. Walker was appointed courtesy chairman. It was announced the September meeting will be with Mrs. F. L. Bays, 210 W. Grand at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Green served tea, coffee, Cokes and small rolls to the following members present, Mesdames F. L. Bays, Robert Cole, George Dixon, H. G. Ellis, J. R. Miller, Ed Thompson, Curtis Sharp, M. L. Wise and J. H. Walker.

The Training Circle met with its chairman, Mrs. Van Everett, 1502 James. Business items were discussed and then Mrs. Virgil Jake-way and Mrs. R. T. Williams presented.

A Royal Service program on Thailand was presented by the members. Refreshments were served to nine members.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wallace Allison, 406 James st.

Many Cafe Operators Unaware Of Liquor Law Violations

By JULIUS GOLDEN Associated Press Staff Writer

If you're a restaurant owner and you allow customers to bring some wine to go with an exotic dish, you'd better keep an ear cocked for sirens.

Because, unless you've got a liquor license, you and the customer have broken the law.

If your restaurant has a private room and you rent it for a private party with members of the party bringing their own liquor, you're within the law. But let one of those members wander into the public portion of your restaurant or even into the corridors taking a drink as he goes, mister, you and that customer had better cock that ear again.

Unawares These types of violations—with restaurant operators not even aware in some cases that they are violating the law—is not a rare thing in New Mexico, especially in Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

"We try to keep down that sort of thing," said Roy F. Wells, assistant state liquor director. "We don't check every private party that goes on in the state, however. It would be an impossible job as you can see."

Wells said that as far as he knows, prosecution of such violations is extremely rare. The attorney general's office, which has held that private parties in private rooms with liquor supplied by the members are legal backed the contention that once the private party overlaps into corridors or the public section, it becomes illegal.

Law Specific The law itself is specific. It is not enough for a man without a license to refrain from selling. He must not permit the consumption of alcoholic beverages on any portion of his public premises. The law says: "It shall be unlawful to drink or consume alcoholic liquors or for any person who is the owner or proprietor to sell, serve, furnish or PERMIT the drinking or consumption . . . in any public place, hall, pool room, bowling alley, street, state or federal building, or in any other public place except establishments having a license."

The violations are wide open. Recently, in Albuquerque, a much-publicized event was being held in a private room of a restaurant with a license. A reporter entered the restaurant and saw celebrants lined up against the walls and walking through corridors drinking highballs, talking and laughing.

At one point, the proprietor walked through the corridor and accidentally brushed against a drinker. "Excuse me," the proprietor said, steadying the man. He smiled and then continued on his way.

In another restaurant, specializing in foreign dishes, a customer was asked whether he knew that drinking the wine on his table with his food was against the law. "No, I didn't know it was against the law and as far as I'm concerned no one's told me."

Optimists Hear District Governor Laud Activities

Walter Haut, district governor of the Optimist club was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the local organization held in the Artesia dining room yesterday. Carl Foster, president of the club here, presided.

The district governor gave the Optimists a booster talk on the outstanding results of what has been done and what can be done with more activities and additional clubs.

An interview with the local president revealed that the Artesia Optimist Club has made outstanding contributions to the life of the boys here in a few months time. This club is quite young, having been organized March 22 of this year.

Baseball is an Optimist-sponsored activity that for which the club is best known, but constitutes only one of a number of projects. Among others were the intermural track meet, the soap box derby at Roswell with seven entries from Artesia, and more recently the Kids' parade in the Golden Jubilee celebration.

Foster stated, however, that the surface has not been scratched and the potential for work with boys here is great. Optimists do not work with boys because the organization feels that they may be juvenile delinquents. They use the energy that is in the boys to give them better recreation.

Fresh Bedding Induces Sleep

Statistics show that more than three billion sleeping pills are sold annually. An investment in good bedding will pay better sleep dividends in many cases, according to the National Cotton Council.

A good mattress that gives the proper support is essential to relaxing sleep. Many families are using old, worn bedding long after its useful life should be considered over.

Sleep equipment, contrary to what many people think, does not last a lifetime. The estimated life of a mattress in normal use is around 10 years.

When bedding is worn out, it should be replaced immediately with a new cotton innerspring mattress that does offer adequate support.

To test a mattress, place a yardstick across it at several intervals. If the mattress touches the yardstick at every point, it is no doubt still level. If it dips down in spots, however, it is worn out and needs replacing.

Handkerchief Can Dress Up Window

Here's a handkerchief trick — any smallish window can be outfitted with cafe or tier curtains made out of gay printed handkerchiefs. Get large cotton handkerchiefs — they come in 14 to 19 inch squares — and use two or three tiers with two, three, or four handkerchiefs to a tier, according to the size of the window.

Put them up with rings or ornamental clips. These are designed to go on and off like clothespins — making it easy to take hankie curtains down for laundering.

In kitchen or dinette try a lively red and white lobster pattern. For recreation rooms there are horoscopes with zany verses, bottles of Italian chianti, wistful poodles. For a girl's room there are lacy styles; for a boy's room, woven plaids.

Amateur Rodeo Roper Practices With Wooden Calf in Pressroom

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Carl Dahl is pretty sharp on his roping, but he figures he needs to speed up on tying calves, so he's got a dummy calf to practice with.

Now he's boning up on the fine points, getting ready for the Los Alamos Rodeo Aug. 27-28 and the Socorro Rodeo Sept. 3-5. His fastest time so far is 11.4 seconds with a Brahma calf last Tuesday, and he figures he can do better, soon, after practicing on this dummy calf in the pressroom—that is, if his 2-year-old daughter, Sharon, doesn't get too lone-some for her favorite toy.

Is It Discrimination?

A good many Americans do not exactly understand some of the affairs of our nation and how in one case we try individuals for crimes and in other instances we only require individuals to resign.

For instance we have a good many trials of youths held prisoners in Korea. They have been charged with collaborating with the enemy, aiding the enemy and revealing secrets. Only recently a board reviewing the case of Cpl. Claude J. Bachelor confirmed his 20 years sentence on such charges.

Corporal Bachelor can now appeal to a civilian board to review his case to determine whether he should have further consideration. Incidentally the board, which confirmed his sentence and ruled sufficient evidence had been submitted to convict him and which ruled he had a fair trial was composed of three full colonels in the United States Army.

But Bachelor is sentenced to 20 years in prison. Other prisoners from the Korean situation have been found guilty of so-called giving aid to the enemy and they have been sentenced.

But when those in high position can use their government office to throw business to their firm and to their company and enjoy a profit from this, we merely tap them on the wrist and tell them to go forth and sin 'no more'.

Harold E. Talbott, Air Force Secretary, has admitted he did just that. He admitted it before a committee and he has now resigned his position with the Air Force. We are told it was bad ethics—nothing wrong with it except it was not wise.

We are sure that Secretary Talbott knew it was wrong when he did it. He knew that those in high government positions should not use their influence to gain business for their firm and to help that firm make a profit in which they would share.

He knew that when he accepted the appointment and he should have declined the appointment or he should have been willing to completely disassociate himself with his company.

Had he been just an ordinary person or a private in the army or a corporal in the army and had done this—he would have been tried and given a heavy sentence.

Seems to us we are getting a little far removed from that old idea of ours that everyone in America has an equal chance and that we are all equal. We call this discrimination.

ture of surrender by sticking both hands out through an open door.

The detective said he grabbed one outstretched hand. Patrolman John Kennedy, 54, grabbed the other. Together they yanked Carpenter into a narrow hallway.

The two policemen, aided by several other officers, wrestled Carpenter to the floor to escape a steady stream of gunfire and tear gas shells pouring into the apartment. No gun of Carpenter's was found in the apartment.

Battled Cops

Kennedy said the slightly built gunman, described by his mother as harboring a passionate hatred for policemen, battled fiercely when handcuffed. Carpenter was not wounded by police bullets.

But, said Zuley, Carpenter kept pleading: "Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

"Of course," Zuley added, "no one shot."

Carpenter was quickly hustled into a squad car under heavy guard and taken to the nearby North Avenue police station. Milling crowds shouted "Kill him" as he was taken to the lockup.

He was captured just a block north of the Biltmore Theater, where, on Wednesday night, he had critically wounded policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, in a gun duel. Kerr suffered a lung wound while Carpenter suffered a bullet wound in his right thigh.

Tried to Arrest

Kerr had tried to arrest him for the slaying, some 50 hours earlier, of Detective William Murphy, 34, in a subway station. Police said Carpenter admitted slaying Murphy, who had arrested him on a subway train. The young gunman was wanted in connection with a series of robberies.

After shooting Kerr, Carpenter fled the theater safely and ran a block to 2040 Potomac Ave. There, he forced himself into the second-

Tax Refund Check Hazard to Life Of Former Wife

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.—Of the some 565 income tax refund checks waiting for New Mexico residents, there's one the tax people aren't sure what to do with.

The check, for $197.47, was made out to a woman and her husband and was sent back to the Internal Revenue Service by the Albuquerque woman with this explanation:

"It is impossible for me to contact my ex-husband for his signature on the check. We have been separated for several years and he has remarried. His present wife has issued threats that if I ever spoke to him she would cut my throat. In fact when she visits any relations who have my picture she pulls her hair and creates a scene."

"Therefore under the circumstances I am returning the check to you unsigned as I prefer to leave the account as is rather than take a chance of getting my throat cut for the money involved."

For the rest of the 565, presumably no such touchy problem exists.

floor apartment of Leonard Powell 31, a truck driver. Powell's wife Stella, 30, and their children, Robert, 7, and Diane, 3, were present.

Powell quoted the intruder as saying: "I'm Carpenter. I just shot a policeman in the Biltmore Theater. You've got to hide me."

From Wednesday night until his capture 23 hours later, Powell said Carpenter kept his family virtual prisoners. He permitted Powell to go to work yesterday so as not to arouse suspicion.

"Little God"

"He acted like a little God," said Mrs. Powell, recalling the experience. "He was nervous at first. But when he calmed down he began to brag of how he killed one policeman and wounded another. He said he was smarter than they were."

Carpenter's determination not to arouse neighbors' suspicions proved to be his eventual undoing. Their captor, Powell said, allowed the children to go out and play last night and he also permitted Mrs. Powell to sit on the front steps of the apartment building, as was her custom. Once his wife was outside, Powell continued, he asked Carpenter if he might join her. He said it might arouse neighbors' suspicions otherwise.

Once outside, Powell huddled with his wife momentarily and decided on a plan. She took the children and moved out of gun range from the apartment window Powell scouted out of range also. He ran to a cigar store and called police.

It was only a few minutes later that Carpenter finally was captured, bringing to an end the biggest manhunt since police trapped Dillinger 21 years ago as he emerged from a movie theater. Nearly 500 policemen had been hunting the fugitive.

strike on a plan of action that we could later discuss with Rep. John J. Dempsey.

Storage Dam Needed

"One proposal that has been discussed at Hope is for a storage dam across Eagle creek about 10 miles from Hope. We don't know whether that plan is feasible. But we'd like to get started on some way to solve the problem."

Mrs. Altman cited the plight of the Hope area, alternately drenched with too much water, then dried out and without water for irrigation. She said that in past years the irrigated orchards of the region yielded marvelous crops of apples, plums, cherries and peaches.

Siegenthaler pointed out another obvious advantage to slowing down the movement of water on the drainage plateau to the west of the city.

"The retarding of water would insure more of it getting underground to replenish the wells in the cattle country," he said. "That would mean more grazing and more cattle to add to the wealth of the whole region."

At present, the only pending activity in the matter is a survey contemplated by U.S. Army engineers to determine possibilities of erecting a diversion levee from the approximate point of the splitting of Eagle creek in its north and south draws to a point northeast of Atoka. The purpose of the levee would be to shunt high waters around the city and to the Pecos by way of Tumbleweed draw. That plan has met opposition from residents and landowners in the path of the proposed diversion water.

The last session of Congress appropriated $25,000 for the survey. There has been no public announcement of when it will be made.

Knocked from Seat
Mrs. Nellie Toelzsch of Denver, a passenger, said the crash knocked her from her seat and "a soldier came flying over on top of me."

She was not injured. Aside from the diner and the one passenger car, remainder of the train remained on the track.

The two involved did not turn over. The Rev. H. J. Couchman, pastor of a Methodist church near the scene, heard the crash while he was at his church.

Called for Aid
With the aid of his wife and the church janitor, he started summoning all available aid, including women parishioners of the church, who helped in establishing an emergency hospital in a church building.

The Rev. Couchman estimated that besides those injured seriously enough to require hospitalization, perhaps 50 persons were treated at the improvised hospital for minor injuries and shock.

The wreck occurred at 9:30 a. m. CST. The Diesel-powered train of 13 cars had left Kansas City at 11:25 last night and was due in Memphis, Tenn., 50 miles southeast of here, at 10 a. m.

At the time the train was moving along a 20 foot embankment southeast of the Marked Tree depot.

Ambulances and doctors were called from Memphis and from nearby Arkansas cities.

churned over its banks for the first time in 52 years in that area and dumped tons of muddy water into the city. Tamaqua was without power and telephone service until dawn. Details of State Police still stood guard around the region.

Other Pennsylvania cities were isolated as streams in the Pocono mountains poured water into the Schuylkill and washed out most of the roads. These included Scranton, Pottstown, Allentown, Reading and Bethlehem.

Two Lackawanna trains carrying more than 300 persons were stranded in the Poconos by wash-outs. Army helicopters rushed to evacuate them.

Boats sped to two island camps in the Delaware River to take off 650 boys and girls marooned by rising waters.

Campers Rescued

Helicopter airlifts worked swiftly to rescue campers and summer resort patrons caught by the floods that inundated a wide area of southeastern New York, around Port Jervis and Sparrowbush.

Air Force helicopters evacuated 75 children from Jubilee Beach, a summer camp at Godfrey, N. Y., while Coast Guard rescue units airlifted 300 guests at Eddy Farm, outside Sparrowbush.

Hundreds fled their homes in New Jersey. Hardest hit sector was in the western section where the Delaware was reported 28 feet above normal around Phillipsburg.

The Potomac overflowed and for a time threatened historic monuments in Washington and along the Virginia shore.

Nearly 30 persons were injured, none seriously, when two diesels and four cars of a Chicago-to-Boston New York Central train jumped the tracks at a washout near Russell, Mass., and plunged 60 feet to the flood-swollen Westfield River.

Three Killed

Three persons were killed in a landslide in Bolton, Vt. They were trapped under tons of earth as a 200-foot cliff, loosened by the rain, collapsed.

Flood waters in western Massachusetts and Connecticut isolated at least two communities. Many roads and bridges were washed out, threatening the safety of thousands.

Rain continued in the New England area but was expected to end before noon. It was generally clear in other portions of the flooded Middle Atlantic state region.

The eight-man court announced its verdict at 12:15 p. m. after most five hours of deliberation. Unpremeditated murder is equivalent of second degree murder. The maximum penalty is imprisonment at hard labor.

Gallagher was not sentenced immediately. The court returned verdicts innocent on two specifications.

It found him innocent in death of one of the three soldiers, an American prisoner of war, 1951 in Korea.

It also found him innocent in an allegation that he had told Chinese Red captors, in connection with Sgt. Lloyd W. Pate, Augusta, Ga., "If I was in your place, I'd shoot him."

SAFETY PLAN SUGGESTED

SANTA FE, N.M.—A plan to authorize traveling state employees stop motorists who violate traffic rules has been put forth by D. Pino, director of the Tourist Information Division. Pino said plan would not be for employment to give citations, just warnings. He said the hundreds of state employees who travel a great deal would help officers keep roads clear.

SAFETY PLAN SUGGESTED

SANTA FE, N.M.—One criminal and three civil cases in Rio Arriba County have been scheduled for next term. Judge David Carmody said it necessary to close court this because funds had been depleted. He said a $2,500 emergency fund had been used up.

INVOLVED IN SATELLITE PROJECT

BEHIND the announcement by President Eisenhower that he has approved construction of an earth satellite (unmanned) to circle the globe as an "artificial moon" for peaceful purposes, are some of the experts on outer space and ways it can be reached. Among them are Professor Hermann Oberth (left), who is credited with inventing the V-2 rocket, and Dr. Werner Von Braun (bottom), famous rocket expert. He is shown checking a model of his four-stage rocket at Anaheim, Calif. He heads the Guided Missile Development Center at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

Scary Message Panics Mailmen CHICAGO (AP)—The package ticked ominously and rang at nerve-shattering intervals, so the railroad mail clerk summoned a post office inspector who sent for the police bomb squad.

Truth or Consequences Name Brings Free Publicity Worth Millions to Health City

By SANKY TRIMBLE TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, Aug. 13 (AP)—Smirks and simoleans go hand in hand at this southern New Mexico resort town with the unlikely name.

A national network radio program of the same name early in 1950 looked around for a new stunt. It arrived at the idea of having some United States community rename itself after the program. Truth or Consequences—in those days it was Hot Springs, N. M.—accepted and after some local tussle made the change.

What Shall We Write?

You In The Church The Church In You
 Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be Faithful! Be a Churchman.

The pen is yours! The Light has been kindled for your eyes! The clean white page awaits your writing! Every day comes to us from God just like that. This is your day; write in it and make whatever record you will. Perhaps no one will read it but you, that is, today. But every day's writing becomes a permanent record of our living for that day. Shall we write a sentence of praise to God for the many blessings He has sent with the twenty-four hours? Shall we write some words of cheer and of comfort and of inspiration for a weary or discouraged soul? Shall we write a good story of our own life as it moves with integrity and trust and genuine goodness? What shall we write today?

But God makes you new every day. Your life starts the day as unspoiled as the sky above you. How wonderful that the Creator, ever at work in kindness and wisdom, makes us over every night! He takes us at the end of the day, worn and exhausted and perhaps discouraged. But the morning brings a rested body, a refreshed mind, and a courageous spirit... a clean sheet upon which to write. This is the miracle of the night... the miracle of God. On this personality that I call myself some others will also write. Into whose hands will I pass the pen this day, as I invite them to write in my autograph book of character and of memory? We should allow only the trustworthy and the reverent and the wise and good to take the pen from our hand, to write upon our mind and soul what may abide there forever? Attend your church and write as you will.
