Bodies of Three Murdered Boys Found

Nude, Battered Boy Missing Since Sunday

CHICAGO (AP)—The bodies of three young boys, nude and with their heads bashed in, were found today in a Cook county forest preserve north of Chicago.

Police of the Forest Ranger office said the bodies are believed to be those of three Chicago boys who disappeared Sunday afternoon while returning home to attend school.

The bodies were found in a ditch alongside a road that runs into Robinson Woods, near 100th Ave. and River Rd. The missing youngsters are identified as 14-year-old John Peterson, 14, John Kessler, 13, and his brother, 11. The place where the boys were found is near Schiller St. and several miles from the homes of the missing children.

Dr. Bob Pierce, president of World Vision, Inc., which guided the adoption routine, holds the young Soni, a Korean-American Negro boy, adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin of Benton Harbor, Mich. The others are unidentified.

Attorney General Levels New Fire At Smelter Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell has accused the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union of making "a scurrilous, scandalous and wholly unwarranted attack" on his motives in seeking to require the union to register as a Communist-infiltrated group. The attorney general filed his proceeding with the Subversive Activities Control Board last July 28.

Ft. Bayard VA Hospital Gets Fund Increase

By The Associated Press

The Ft. Bayard Veterans Hospital at Bayard will get an increased annual appropriation of $60,000 under a new Veterans Administration ruling which authorizes the hospital to care for 175 patients.

The authorized load before the increase was 167 patients, although Ft. Bayard has been above that figure and now has 190 patients.

"We have 190 patients now, but we're running rather heavy," said Rex Keeling, assistant manager of the hospital. "It is an inflated figure and just 10 days ago we had 175 patients. We'll probably be back down at that figure soon."

Rep. John J. Dempsey (D-NM) said in Santa Fe last night he had received word from Washington of the increase. Keeling said the hospital was notified several days ago. Dempsey, who was instrumental in having investigators sent from Washington to Ft. Bayard, said at that time the major purpose in the investigation was to fight against a recommended curtailment of services.

The union, headquarters at Denver, subsequently asked for dismissal of the proceeding. It charged among other things that when the Brownell petition was filed the mine workers were engaged in a strike and that the attorney general's action was designed to break that strike and weaken the union's bargaining position.

Attorney General Brownell is now asking the board to strike these allegations from the record, counter-charging that the union is attempting to abuse the processes of the subversive activities board.

The attorney general, in a half-dozen supplemental petitions filed with the board, opposed a series of motions by the union calling for delays, dismissal of the action, or more details on how the government intends to proceed.

The attorney general made only one concession, relating to delay. He noted that the union had asked for postponement of the board proceedings pending a decision by the Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the Internal Security Act of 1950. The Communist party, which the board has ordered to register as a Communist-action group, is challenging the law before the high court. (Continued on Page Four)

Simms Calls Open Meet on State Penitentiary Bids

SANTA FE (AP)—A public meeting was ordered by Gov. John F. Simms tonight for "all bidders or potential bidders who believe themselves discriminated against" on Phase IV of the new penitentiary. Declaring "as long as I am governor, there will be no 'rigged' bids," Simms called the meeting for 8 p.m. He said the meeting was aimed at clearing up "any misunderstandings which may exist with reference to bids scheduled to be opened Wednesday morning on Phase IV of the new state penitentiary."

"If any person, whether a bidder or a potential bidder, or a private citizen has any information that any bids have been 'rigged' in favor of anyone, I hope they will appear at the meeting Tuesday (Continued on Page Four)

Red China Wants Asiatic Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Communist China has formally raised the question of a high level meeting with the United States to discuss outstanding Far East problems.

He told a news conference that Red China's representative at Geneva brought up this question along with Red objections to the Western trade blockade.

Dulles made it clear he opposes any such high level meeting until the present lower-level Geneva talks are exhausted. He said the possibilities at Geneva have not yet been so exhausted.

Queen Faces Problem of Meg's Romance

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II returned to London from a long Scottish holiday today to face a rising uproar over the romance of her lovely sister Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend.

The royal train bringing the monarch and her two children arrived at grimy Euston Station in mid-morning after an overnight trip from Balmoral Castle.

The Queen remained in the station a few minutes and then drove off with Prince Charles and Princess Anne to Buckingham Palace, only a short walk away from Clarence House where Princess Margaret lives with Queen Mother Elizabeth.

High on the monarch's "things to do" was a family confab tonight with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, her mother and her sister.

It will be the first face-to-face discussion between the sisters since Margaret and Townsend met last week after a two-year separation and then spent a weekend together in the English countryside.

A separate government conference on the romance also was on tap.

For some areas it was the second such task in less than two months.

The floods, which left a dead and missing toll of 42, hit hardest at Connecticut. The same state took the brunt of the Aug. 19 floods that rode the tail of Hurricane Diane.

Rains that fed the latest floods stopped or changed to light show-

Reds Propose International Atomic Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today formally proposed an international conference to settle outstanding questions on a projected world atoms-for-peace agency.

The United States meanwhile was reported ready to advance a rival proposal for an international conference that merely would give final approval to a statute for that agency.

It is one of eight atomic powers that have drawn up such a statute and submitted it for the comments of 84 prospective member countries. The statute itself provides for no such conference until after the agency is set up.

The Soviet proposal was made in a revision of a resolution on the peaceful uses of atomic energy previously submitted to the General Assembly's political committee.

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt Comes Out In Full Support of Adlai Stevenson

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who supported Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, favors him again, the newspaper Newsday said today.

In a copyrighted interview with Newsday, she said she believes Stevenson to be "the best trained, best qualified and best prepared."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she did not believe Stevenson's defeat by President Eisenhower would hurt his chances if he should be chosen to run again.

And, she added, she believes the 1956 Democratic candidate has a "good chance to win if the party chooses a good candidate."

She said she was prepared to work for the nomination and election of Stevenson.

Stevenson, reached by the newspaper during a business trip to New York, commented only that "I am honored to have the respect of the world's most beloved woman."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she thought former President Harry S. Truman "went a little further than he intended" in statements to the press during his recent visit with Gov. Averell Harriman in Albany.

November Oil Allowable Hiked To 40 Barrels Top Unit Daily

SANTA FE (AP)—The New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission today set the November oil production allowable at 40 barrels top unit daily, an increase of one barrel above the allowable for October.

This means a total daily production of approximately 229,000 barrels a day, an increase of about 2,500 barrels a day over October, Conservation Commissioner William B. Macey said.

The commission accepted the recommendations of its staff. There was no recommendation from the industry this month.

Macey said the market picture basically is good at the moment, from the production standpoint.

Stocks of crude oil are down approximately 6.7 per cent from a year ago, with a little less than 255 million barrels in storage, or (Continued on Page Four)

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Would You Be Fooled—About Food Faddism?

Everyone prides himself on not being gullible—the sideshow is a fake, the mystic is "pooch-pooched." No one fools him here. What draws us to the carnival? Probably it's the desire for the magic. The same desire leads us to believe exciting claims for some specific food. Without scientific proof, this food or food product is said to make us strong or cure our ills—that is, for a fancy price. Of such, is the beginning of food faddism.

It is this human urge to be healthy or to be slim in "one fell swoop," that opens the way for the promoter of food fads. He often is short on knowledge and long on sales appeal. Some make a fanatical play of "health foods" and "natural foods." They are foods, true enough, but not wonder foods. A good varied diet of foods that are natural foods, and sometimes more, this is not to say that enriched white bread is better than brown bread or vice versa. For all practical purposes, in typical American diets, they are identical in food value. Choose whichever tastes better to you.

Whether or not a food is "natural" is not important. The nutritional value of any food as the source of a specific nutrient, as the B vitamins, depends upon the composition of that food. For example, peanuts and eggs are both natural foods, yet peanuts contain 200 times more niacin (a B vitamin) than eggs. On the other hand, the same size slices of whole wheat and enriched white bread—natural and refined foods, respectively—contain almost identical amounts of niacin and thiamin—the whole wheat containing slightly less riboflavin.

Good nutrition is easy to accomplish when thought of in terms of a wide variety of meats, fish, enriched or whole wheat breads, fruits and vegetables, dairy products and eggs. No "foolin", no one food or group of foods has the "complete magical answer."

Orange Rice Good With Game

When Daddy goes a-hunting these fall days, he's liable to bring home pheasants, partridge, duck or quail, and nothing is better eaten than the game which has been hand-stalked! Just as plentiful (and seasonal) as fresh game, are Florida's thin-skinned oranges, now rolling north to herald the start of the fresh fruit season, and a bumper rice crop. Orange flavor goes wonderfully well with duck or pheasant, its tang and bouquet being a natural complement to the gaminess of the fowl. Use this Florida orange rice as a stuffing or a side dish, and count all the "peasants" you've saved by serving this delicious substitute for more expensive foods.

Florida Orange Rice
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons sliced Florida orange rind
1 cup Florida orange juice
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 cup converted rice
Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add celery and onion; cook until tender, but not brown. Stir in orange rind and juice, water and salt and thyme; bring to a boil. Add rice slowly. Cover; reduce heat and cook 25 minutes.
YIELD: 4 servings

Pet Ocelot 'Watchdog' Sleeps in Dutch Oven Just to Be Different

By HAL BOYLE WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—There are many unusual characters in this community of artists, writers and intellectuals.

But "Mr. Smerdley," the only one in the neighborhood who sleeps in a dutch oven, is perhaps the most unusual.

In an area teeming with watchdogs, Smerdley has the distinction of being the only "watchcat." He is a pet ocelot, a kind of tropical wildcat, owned by Arthur Kennedy, the well known Broadway and Hollywood actor.

Kennedy bought the wildcat, which came from Peru, as a five-week old kitten on the West Coast while completing a starring role in MGM's film, "Traitor." Ocelot raising has become something of a fad on the West Coast, where two clubs devoted to the breed have been organized.

The ocelot, a tree-climbing cousin of the common cat, is known scientifically as felis pardalis, flourishes in Central and South America, and once ranged as far north as Georgia. It is a beautifully spotted and barred animal of a tawny hue that, when full grown is 3 1/2 feet long and weighs 25 to 35 pounds.

These are ominous facts in the Kennedy household, for Smerdley at eight months is growing up fast on his daily diet, of a pound of horse meat, two cans of baby food, and a spoonful each of vitamins, codliver oil and calcium.

Smerdley, who has developed a formidable armory of fang and claw, shows no interest in learning tricks and his main ambition in life seems to be to grow up a normal wildcat.

"We are enjoying a tentative relationship with him right now," said Kennedy, rubbing a deep scratch on the back of his hand. He and his wife are currently wondering if Smerdley wouldn't become more amicable on a diet of strained spinach instead of horse meat.

Smerdley, while resenting adult handling, is quite amicable to the two Kennedy children—Laurie, 10, and Terence, 12. He loves to attend weekly rock 'n roll jam sessions in the studio barn with the neighborhood children, sticks his head against the phonograph and drinks in the music—a real jive cat.

His role as a wildcat hasn't been tested in action against a burglar. But the ocelot, who has radar-like hearing, growls, hisses and spits at the approach of any stranger.

Two 14-year-old Persian cats in the household loftily disdain all friendly overtures in this strange rude country cousin. So does Chipmy, a 12-year-old Cocker-Sealyham

Powerful Gadsden Sews Up District 3A Gridiron Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the high school football season half over, the races in three of the Class A districts start reaching the boiling point this week. "But in the other, District 3-A, the champion has already been decided. It is, of course, the powerful Panthers of Gadsden.

Gadsden wrapped up its third straight district title and 27th consecutive victory last week, romping past Cobre 34-6. They still have another district game, with Western of Silver City this week, but they can't lose the district title even if Western should pull one of the season's major upsets. "But while the Panthers can sit back and think about post season affairs, the teams still in the running in the other three districts will have a long way to go before deciding their champions.

The hottest race is developing in District 1-A. Belen was dethroned as the leader, falling to a tie for third, when it lost its first game of the season 12-7 to Gallup last week. The Eagles will go against non-district Deming this week, but the other three teams still in the running in 1-A—St. Mike's St. Mary's and Gallup—have league games. Both of the Catholic schools are unbeaten in the league. St. Mike's was idle last week, while St. Mary's gained a moral victory by fighting favored Albuquerque to a 26 tie. They'll meet in Albuquerque this week.

Gallup figures to stay in the running at the expense of tail-end scores. Three teams are still very much in the running for the title in Dist. 2A—Los Alamos, Raton and Espanola. Los Alamos, taking a non-state 28-14 victory over Alamosa, backed into the lead when Espanola fell 27-18 to Las Vegas. Los Alamos figures to strengthen its hold on the top spot against last place Taos this week. Espanola and Raton, now tied for the No. 2 position, will clash in an important one in Espanola. Raton whipped Taos 38-6 last week.

In Dist. 4-A, Tucumcari expects to break out of a tie with Portales for the top position. Portales goes out of the league for its competition, while Tucumcari will take on wireless Lovington. In the other games, Las Vegas at Santa Fe, Cobre visits Alamogordo in a 3-A battle, and Portales is at Fort Sumner.

State Gridiron Playoffs Open In Two Weeks

ALBUQUERQUE, (P)—A month-long series of high school football playoffs will begin two weeks from now, according to a schedule announced by U. G. Montgomery, executive secretary of the New Mexico High School Activities Assn.

The Class C schools, in which champions have been decided in all but one district, will start their playoffs the first weekend in November. The long playoff schedule ends in the first weekend in December with the finals of the AA playoffs.

Here's the schedule and the races at a glance:
Class AA: Dist. 1AA and 2AA; Dist. 3AA and 4AA champions play in semifinals third weekend in November. Sites are selected by a flip of a coin. Semifinal winners meet first weekend in December. No teams have been eliminated in any district.

M.; Tony Barbetta of Buenos Aires, Argentina; Reggie Siki of Bombay, India; and Red Kelly of Boston, Mass. There will be four matches in all, with the first event starting at 8 p. m. ter of repairing once again the facilities they had fixed before. Some of the repair work will be new. Of the 48 Connecticut towns hit by the latest floods, 28 had suffered damage from Diane.

The New Haven Railroad, hit so hard it had to suspend operations for a time, restored some service yesterday and had even more trains running today.

The New Haven estimated its most recent flood damage amounted to half a million dollars, compared to a 10-million-dollar loss in the Aug. 19 floods.

Highway washouts snarled traffic throughout the region. Emergency repairs eased the congestion to a degree, but as late as yesterday afternoon cars were backed up for 15 miles by a detour around a damaged section of the Merritt Parkway.

Outside of Connecticut, upstate New York suffered the heaviest damage this time, with 11 persons counted dead because of the rain and floods. Floodwaters from streams and rivers in the Catskill Mountains littered communities along their banks with silt and debris.

Ellenville, N. Y., some 65 miles above New York City, figured damage to public property alone amounted to $400,000.

Seven Dead
In Pennsylvania seven persons were counted dead, all from auto accidents in the pouring rain. Rivers and streams began to recede before inflicting serious damage.

Massachusetts counted five dead and estimated that highway flood damage amounted to $200,000.

In Rhode Island two were dead. The Blackstone River threatened to repeat its August deluge but finally began to recede without causing great damage.

New Jersey's worst damage was along the Ramapo River, where more than 100 persons returned to evacuated homes. Several other rivers had threatened heavy damage but crested before causing serious trouble. The state counted one dead.

Simms made his announcement after meeting for several hours with members of the Board of Penitentiary Commissioners. Also at the meeting were purchasing agent Charles Horne, prison architect, W. C. Kruger and Warden Ed Swope.

Critics were reported in the Santa Fe New Mexican. It said potential suppliers of equipment said they would not bid on the estimated $1,750,000. Phase IV because the bids had been "rigged."

The critics were quoted as saying that equipment and supplies had been divided into 32 lots in such an all-or-none manner that it made bidding impossible. The reports said that a successful license of the bidder for installation purposes.

made to decrease the number of beds at the Bayard hospital, we protested most vigorously," Dempsey said. He added he had received protests from veterans and civic organizations.

Keeling said the increase in authorized patient load will mean an increase in funds of $15,000 a quarter or $60,000 a year. He said the new figure for the patient load was reached at a meeting in Albuquerque Sept. 28-30. Present at the meeting were Washington officials H. V. Higley and Dr. William S. Middleton. They announced at that time that there would be no reduction in services at the hospital.

Brownell opposed such postponement, but said he would not oppose an alternative request that the board proceedings be stayed until Maurice Travis, former president of the Mine workers, has been tried at Denver on charges of making a false non-Communist affidavit to the National Labor Relations Board.

The union said that the same lawyers will defend Travis and also handle the case before the board. The Travis trial is scheduled to open Nov. 28 and Brownell said he did not want to impose undue hardship on the attorneys involved. However, he said that if the Travis case is postponed, he will oppose any further delay. The board hearing is now set for Oct. 27.

The renewed bloodshed in Algeria underscored the shaky position of Faure's government, facing an Assembly vote on its generally vague Algerian policy, which has neither satisfied the Nationalist demands for self-rule nor suppressed the rebel violence.

RECONSIDERATION ASKED

SANTA FE —Morrie Yashvin, chairman of the Carrie Tingley Hospital board, says Dr. W. L. Mincar will be asked to reconsider his announced intention to resign as chief surgeon of the hospital. Yashvin said Mincar "has done a terrific job" and "we would like to see him continue."

as Mrs. Betty Jean Wolf, 18, resident in the upstairs apartment where the plane crashed, and two-month-old Sheryl Camilla Preston, who had just been baptized two hours before.

Parents Downstairs

The baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Preston, who lived in the downstairs apartment, were holding a christening party. They, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marchica of Los Angeles, and Miss Anna Presinzano of Lyndhurst, N. J., were seriously burned or hurt.

In critical condition were the Marchicas' two children, John, 7, and Patricia, 10. All remained at North Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

"I only heard a plane," Mrs. Preston said. "The building shook and then there was a big blast. I ran to the bedroom to get my baby. Then there was another blast and I ran to the street. There was so much smoke we couldn't breathe. My husband, Mike, went back after the baby."

Father Injured

It was then, observers said, Preston came running out of the apartment, his flesh in tatters, screaming, "Oh, my baby My baby!"

Mrs. Ida Kaner, who lives across the street, said she saw two adults run out of Preston's apartment, their clothes afire. Then she carried out young John. "His face looked like it was burned off," she said.

Treated for lesser burns were William Bates, 31, and Ben Storch, other neighbors who helped pull the Preston party from the blazing apartment.

Thorne had been visiting friends in the Los Angeles area, including his reported fiancée, Joe Ann Burdick, an Anaheim, Calif., dancing instructor.

To Be Married

Miss Burdick said she and the 4-foot, 6-inch sportsman had intended to be married next St. Valentine's day.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration planned to investigate the crash this morning.

Thorne, heir to a New York banking fortune, long had been known as a pilot of fast-planes, cars and motorcycles. The Thorne Engineering Special he built in 1946 was driven to victory in the Indianapolis Speedway classic by George Robson.

Before moving to Las Vegas about seven years ago, Thorne was a frequent headline-maker around Hollywood. He was twice injured severely in motorcycle accidents and still walked with a cane.

Got Warning

When his wife Johnnie divorced him in 1946, he was also sentenced to a short jail sentence for failing to pay alimony. A superior judge at the time warned him to stop "wasting your life and fooling around with race cars and night clubs."

Preston, 31, is manager of the Gay Nineties night club in Hollywood. His wife is a television singer known as Shirley Powell. Mrs. Marchica and Miss Presinzano are sisters of Preston.

Only two apartments of the six-unit building were involved. Fifteen adults and three other children escaped injury, although most were at home at the time.

The front of the wrecked building on Magnolia Blvd. looked like a bomb had hit it. The first and second floor front apartments were burned out. Plane wreckage was turned in the debris.

Parts of the plane catapulted over the building into the back yard, to the south. One wing landed atop another apartment building across Magnolia Blvd. to the north, indicating the plane was going south or southwest when it plummeted into the wrecked building.

Escape Injury

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martens, who live in a rear apartment with their 3-week-old son, Mark Daniel, exclaimed: "Thank God we were not hurt!"

Mrs. Martens said: "We were watching television in the front room and the baby was sleeping in the bedroom. After the crash I ran into the bedroom. I saw what must have been a part of the plane poking through the wall. It was on fire. I grabbed the baby and ran outside. Everything was burning."

Parts Fell Off

Ralph Frazier, an off-duty fireman attending a night school class at North Hollywood High School, two blocks away, said he saw the plane circle, then one wing dropped into the street. Other plane parts fell off, he said, then the ship plunged into the apartment building.

The crash scene is 14 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles. Neighborhood hysteria and traffic jams gave police and firemen some hectic moments before the fire was extinguished and the victims were removed.

Heads of Bales' Ruling Dropped From '55 Cotton Loan Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that the provision requiring that heads of cotton bales be completely covered has been eliminated from the 1955 cotton loan program...

The provision was included for the first time in the 1955 program, and the bulletin containing it was issued at a time when a considerable amount of bagging (cotton bale covering) of the same lengths as those used in past years had already been manufactured and distributed...

The Department plans, however, to include the "heads of bales" provision in the 1956 cotton loan program and urges all segments of the cotton industry interested in the size of cotton bagging to take this change into consideration in any plans for the 1956 season.

New State Garden Clubs President Is Named at Las Cruces Meeting

New officers of the New Mexico Garden Clubs, Inc., are Mrs. Louise Denison, Albuquerque, president; Mrs. Horace Bounds, Santa Rita, first vice president; Mrs. Jeff Good, Fort Sumner, second vice president; Mrs. T. C. Brown, Socorro, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas J. Eaton, Santa Fe, treasurer; and Mrs. C. F. McWilliams, Carlsbad, historian.

The officers and Past Club President Mrs. Pamela Edwards, Santa Fe, and Regional Director Mrs. Truman Sanders, Roswell, comprise the new state board.

The new officers were elected at the organization's sixth annual convention held Oct. 12 and 13 in Milton Hall on New Mexico A&M College's campus.

Aim: Speed Mark

Donald Campbell, holder of the world water speed record, is shown aboard the liner United States on arrival in New York. The Briton is in U. S. to try to up his mark.

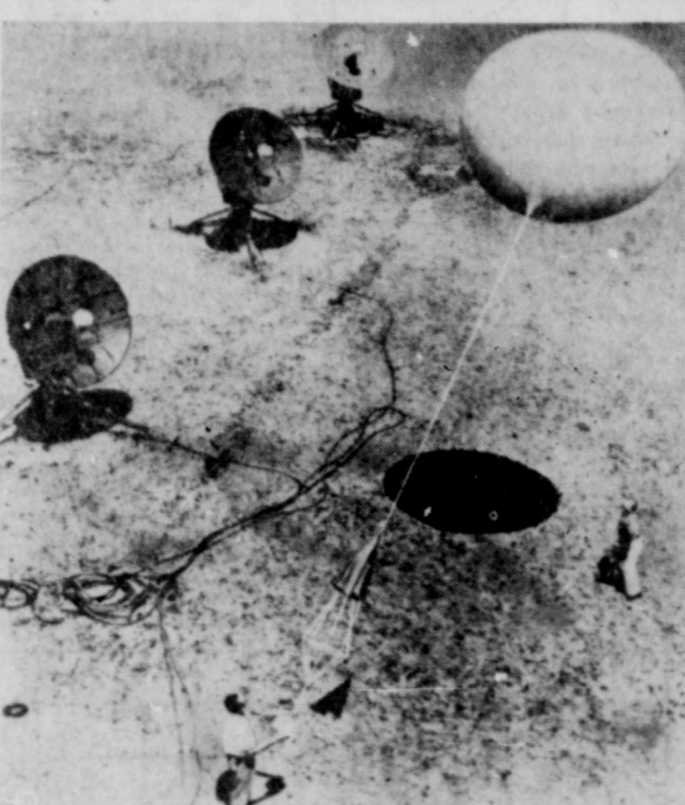

About 200 members from 59 federated clubs in the state attended the conclave and participated in the workshops which were held in conjunction with the convention.

The various segments of the cotton industry — producers, warehousemen, merchants and millers — agree that the provision for covered heads of bales is highly desirable, and representatives of the bagging industry have indicated their willingness to stop manufacturing the short bagging.

Cattlemen's Group President Says Ike Best Beef Salesman

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER IS GREAT BEEF SALESMAN DENVER, Colo. — "President Eisenhower is the greatest beef salesman the world has ever known," was the comment of Jay Taylor, Amarillo, Tex., president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn. in Denver.

"Butchers from coast to coast report they have been deluged with requests for the new beef product 'Breakfast Beef' since President Eisenhower requested it be included in his menu at Fitzsimons Hospital where he is recovering from recent heart attack," said Taylor.

U.S. Cotton Council Head To Be Honored

The unveiling of a bronze plaque bearing the likeness of the late Oscar Johnston, founder and first president of the National Cotton Council, will highlight ceremonies formally dedicating the new council headquarters building here on Oct. 19.

"Unfortunately the flood of requests for the bacon-like beef caught the meat industry totally unprepared and many thousands of people are still waiting to have their first serving of this taste treat."

In announcing the dedication program, A. L. Durand, chairman of the Oscar Johnston Cotton Foundation's Board of Trustees, said ceremonies will commence at 2:30 p. m.

"This new breakfast meat made of the same cut from which that pork bacon is from," said Taylor. "It is a cured and smoked meat; in appearance it resembles bacon and is sold in a similar package. This meat fills a void in the diet of millions of people who are unable to eat pork," according to Taylor.

Durand will preside and the invocation will be given by Dr. W. J. Millard, pastor, Evergreen Presbyterian Church, Memphis.

"First introduced in its present form at the 1954 convention of the American National Cattlemen Assn., in Colorado Springs, Colo., Breakfast Beef has enjoyed a steadily mounting popularity, but still compared to what has developed since the President made known his preference."

At the conclusion of the dedication ceremonies, which will be attended by industry leaders from all parts of the Cotton Belt, visitors will be invited to tour the three story brick and stone structure which houses the Oscar Johnston Cotton Foundation, as well as the Memphis offices of the council.

'my new york' BY MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks about: If you've been in town lately and unable to uncover a red cap to carry your bags at Penn station or Grand Central station, don't get the idea it was merely coincidence.

IT HARDLY seems eight full years since Fiorello H. LaGuardia died but so it is. Meditating on this today, I thought that New York has had no funnier, coarser, more industrious, vile-tempered, civildem'd mayor in its history.

IT IS DULY NOTED that New Canaan, Conn., is aping Greenwich Village's ways; it held its first outdoor art show the other afternoon. There was one difference. The New Canaan exhibits, hung on iron and wire stands, included work by Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb and Sperry Andrews (also by talented amateurs Mary Martin and Pegeen Fitzgerald).

THERE IS the sharp possibility we won't have to wait until next spring to acclaim the bright new young star of the Manhattan theatrical season. The Young and Beautiful, based on several F. Scott Fitzgerald stories, has opened and the cheers are ringing yet in the ears of Lois Smith, who plays a spoiled, nervous, hysterical 17-year-old girl, circa Chicago 1915, who begins a skid into sordid dreaminess when she pets (as we said in my day) with too many boys in too short a time.

NEW YORKERS are being warned to take to the hurricane cellars. Miss Shelley Winters, cast in a new play, is due in town in a few weeks. As a man mildly repelled by the annual autumn spectacle of socialites standing on their heads or hoisting their nylon-stocking legs on tables at Sherry's, I still am looking forward to the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season. It has a macabre fascination, even to a man who considers the operatic form of the drama to be a false and unbelievable one.

Sulphur Mixture Can Speed Growth Of Young Chicks

New knowledge has already shed light on how simple sulphur compounds can increase the growth of young chickens. Other results of these biochemical studies are helping scientists to develop answers for the poultry industry to practical problems of hatchability, growth, feed efficiency, and egg production.

It can replace, to some extent, the sulphur-containing amino acids, cystine and methionine in chick diets. The discovery of this role of sulphate compounds is especially important, since cystine and methionine are the amino acids most often lacking in the diets of both farm animals and man.

FLORISTS HOLD CONVENTION ALBUQUERQUE — About 200 persons from two states have registered for the annual convention of the West Texas-New Mexico Florist Assn. After business sessions and a fiesta dance last night, delegates were to elect officers today who were to be honored at a banquet tonight.
