Births Stands In Story, Fires His Lawyer

WENOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A German who told of prowling at the Woodward estate the night Mrs. Woodward, 39, was killed, signed a statement repeating the story and has dropped the law suit.

At the Nassau County Jail yesterday, Paul W. Wirths, 22, signed a statement repeating the story and has dropped the law suit.

The petitions were signed by 151 people, mostly residents of the south side, Lamb said.

Roy Allen, operator of the coffee shop at the Artesia Hotel, yesterday was placed under a $250 peace bond for a period of six months on a complaint signed by Raymond Johnson, an employee at the hotel, John Elliott, justice of the peace, said here today.

The hearing came about as the result of a series of altercations between Allen and Johnson over a two-day period leading up to Johnson's request that Allen be placed under bond yesterday.

Three former American soldiers, freed by sudden freedom, today announced plans to fight the Communism they once embraced.

Griggs said the three are looking forward to the "broadcasts because of the connection between Christianity and anti-Communism—they go together perfectly."

The three were released after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that civilians are not subject to military trials for crimes allegedly committed while in service.

Griggs was asked if he thought the 17 turncoats still with the Communists would come home now that it has been ruled the Army has no jurisdiction over them.

"They'll all come eventually," he declared. "But don't forget—the Communies are very cunning, they're nobody's fools. They'll announce it as a grand victory for the masses, for the peace movement in the United States." They do everything backwards over there.

PHOTO-DIAGRAM illustrates a new and reversed story from prowler Paul Wirths (shown). At first he told police he was not near the William Woodward, Jr., Oyster Bay, Long Island, home the night Mrs. Woodward shot her husband to death with a shotgun. But now he says he was on the roof, over her bedroom, and that he heard the shotgun blast. Diagram traces his movements from tree to roof, and escape on hearing the gunshot which killed Woodward. Russia Clamps Down Hard On Four Top Architects

MOSCOW (AP)—Charging there has been too much stress on the "flashy side of construction," the Soviet government has cracked down on four of its top architects.

An official statement last night said chief architects Vlasov and Chechulin were deprived of their government decorations and fired. It said two other nationally known architects, Polykov and Beetsky, were deprived of their Stalin prize laureates.

The Times quoted Vlasov as saying "I cannot comment on the report as I am not acquainted with it."

The Herald Tribune said Vlasov was picked up at the New York hotel, where the delegation is staying, yesterday morning by Victor Zegal, second secretary of the Soviet embassy in Washington.

The primary purpose of the special meeting will be to open bids on a backhoe trencher for the city. The bids were to have been opened at last night's meeting.

Other bids to have been opened last night were for valves and fittings for the entire new water project and bids for traffic signal lights.

State officials yesterday welcomed word from Sen. Chavez, quoting a letter from Secretary of the Army Brucker, that Maj. Gen. P. W. Rutledge had "with concurrence of the Department of Defense... suspended authority to hunt in the firing range. This action has been taken to avoid any possibility of violation of New Mexico law by military personnel."

A telegram from Brucker to Rutledge said the general "was requested to continue to prohibit hunting... on the range until further advice from this office."

Both Rutledge and the state of New Mexico have asked U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell for an opinion on the legality of Rutledge's proposed hunt.

A "follow-up" is scheduled in a week or 10 days, with Dr. W. E. Toney in charge. A new committee will be appointed to handle that phase of the drive.

Four Of Five Airmen Are Rescued In Miracle Feat

HONOLULU (AP)—Four of five airmen who bailed out last night from a stricken Flying Boxcar into the stormy Pacific have been rescued, two of them early today, the Navy announced.

Snatched from the wind-whipped seas early today were: Lt. D. O. Nelson, the pilot, and Lt. D. M. Hubbard, the copilot.

The seaplane tender Floyds Bay, which made a miracle rescue of two of the five in 10-foot swells last night, radioed early today that it had picked up two more survivors about 605 miles east of Honolulu where the huge plane went down on a flight to Hawaii from the mainland.

The Floyds Bay had made a 75-mile dash through the rain and winds to the scene and spotted the survivors in the darkness by the tiny flashlights attached to their lifejackets.

The two men rescued earlier were identified by the Air Force as 2nd Lt. Kenneth E. Whitney, navigator, stationed with the 1708th Ferry Group Detachment at McClellan AFB, near Sacramento, Calif., and 1st Lt. Harry W. Bringer, flight engineer, of the 1739th Ferry Sqdn. based at Amarillo, Tex.

The captain of the Floyds Bay reported to the Air Force that both are in good condition. The little flashlights which guided rescuers to the men bobbing in the chilly waters of the Pacific are standard equipment on the Mae West life jackets. Air force men said they are no bigger than a package of cigarettes and carry only one cell in a waterproof case capped by a cone-shaped lens.

Fear Total Disagreement By Big Four

GENEVA (AP)—Total East-West disagreement over unification of Germany threatened today to paralyze progress on every issue of the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Two of these issues are disarmament to be taken up today—and proposals to lift some Iron Curtain barriers to trade, travel and information.

But Western diplomats said only a radical twist in Soviet policy restoring the friendly atmosphere of last July's summit conference could brighten prospects of accomplishing anything on these questions.

The world's hopes for ending the atomic arms race greatly depend upon a spirit of confidence among the great powers. Such a spirit, encouraged at the summit meeting, led some Western officials to believe new impetus to disarmament could be given here.

In words that sometimes crackled with anger, and at other times seemed sorrowful, the Western ministers yesterday told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that loss of confidence was one of the most serious results of the Soviet policy on Germany.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles said bluntly: "I am wondering again whether an agreement with the Soviet Union is worth much."

This was after British Foreign Secretary Macmillan charged Russia had "repudiated" the summit conference agreement to negotiate on reunification of Germany through a free vote.

"With one blow he struck down all high hopes that had been (Continued on page four)

City Council Lacks Quorum

A special meeting of the City Council was called for Nov. 18 at 7:30 p. m. after not enough council members showed up at last night's regularly scheduled meeting to constitute a quorum.

The primary purpose of the special meeting will be to open bids on a backhoe trencher for the city. The bids were to have been opened at last night's meeting.

Other bids to have been opened last night were for valves and fittings for the entire new water project and bids for traffic signal lights.

Hunting Ruling Still Awaited

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A decision as to whether the law allows Ft. Bliss personnel to hunt on their 400,000 acre firing range in New Mexico without state permits still hangs on an interpretation of the law being studied in Washington.

State officials yesterday welcomed word from Sen. Chavez, quoting a letter from Secretary of the Army Brucker, that Maj. Gen. P. W. Rutledge had "with concurrence of the Department of Defense... suspended authority to hunt in the firing range. This action has been taken to avoid any possibility of violation of New Mexico law by military personnel."

Many To Receive Veterans' Day Off

Most Artesians will take the day off tomorrow. Some will leave on hunting trips and others will drive up to Roswell for the football game tomorrow night.

Banks, schools, public offices, the city library and most business places will be closed here for Veterans Day, Paul Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager, said today.

With the exception of drug stores, service stations and some food markets, most Artesia stores will remain closed Friday, Scott said.

State officials, including Gov. John Simms, saw this as a victory for the state over Rutledge, who had insisted on his sole authority over the big southern New Mexico range.

However, close reading of both communications show that the Pentagon has left itself an out in case it decides the law is on the side of Gen. Rutledge.

Both Rutledge and the state of New Mexico have asked U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell for an opinion on the legality of Rutledge's proposed hunt.

A "follow-up" is scheduled in a week or 10 days, with Dr. W. E. Toney in charge. A new committee will be appointed to handle that phase of the drive.

Rock Hudson Elopes With Brunette Phyllis Gates

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Film star Rock Hudson, who often said he'd never marry until he was 30, is honeymooning with his agent's secretary today—a week before he reaches that age.

Rugged Rock, a 6-foot-4 Navy veteran and one of the screen's handsomest bachelors, eloped yesterday with brunette Phyllis Gates, 25. They drove to Santa Barbara, 90 miles north of here and were married by the Rev. N. B. Thorpe, pastor of Santa Barbara's Trinity Lutheran Church. They proceeded in Hudson's car to an unannounced destination.

He telephoned Universal-International Studio, which gave him a honeymoon leave until Nov. 28, when he starts a picture with Lauren Bacall.

Miss Gates is secretary to agent Henry Willson, who arranged Hudson's first screen test in 1948 when the aspiring actor was working as a letter carrier. Rock delivered his own special delivery letter requesting a chance in movies. Willson, coming to the door to sign for it, took an interest in the handsome youth.

The elopement was no surprise to studio associates. Hudson had dated Miss Gates frequently since they met a year ago in Willson's office. It is the first marriage for each.

Rock has seldom dated movie stars. Occasionally he has accompanied actresses to premieres—chiefly at the urging of publicists. For a time he was an escort to script girl Betty Abbott, niece of comedian Bud Abbott, partner of

Shrimp Found In Lea County

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fresh water shellfish commonly called desert shrimp have been found in a pond about six miles south of Lovington in Lea County. Similar creatures were found several weeks ago in a pond in Death Valley, and that find was reported by Associated Press and further described in a national picture magazine.

The Lea County shrimp vary in length from a small fraction of an inch to about an inch and half in length.

They resemble the trilobite, an extinct creature whose fossils remains often are found in stone oilfield geologists. Trilobites existed in great number in the Cambrian period which ended about 450 million years ago. They lived in the Permian system which came to a close 185 million years ago.

Randall Montgomery, geologist for the state Oil Conservation Commission, describes the desert shrimp as a crustacean—animal with a shell—with the general name of Apus and being a member of the branchiopoda which means "lung feet."

The shrimp found in the Lovington pool has a tiny head resembling that of a catfish. It has many frog like legs which really are gills. It has a forked tail which extends back in two antennal appendages. It is gray with bright red markings on its underside.

Lower Meat Prices Found In Nation's Stores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lower prices on a wide selection of meats will be offered by the nation's food stores this weekend. Generally, beef and pork prices continue at recent levels. A number of stores will be offering her of hams at marked down prices, and there will be specials on loins of pork, a favorite Sunday dinner item.

Chuck roast will be cheaper in many markets and some will trim price tags on round steak or roast prime ribs and porterhouse steak. Frying chickens will be a popular feature, with unusually low prices posted in some areas. Legs of lamb will be widely advertised for the weekend. Here and there, you'll find lower prices on veal chops, pork chops and veal legs and shoulders.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture passed the word along this week that your Thanksgiving turkey will cost two to six cents a pound more this year than in 1954. The reasons: A smaller crop and later marketing. However, the USDA looks for a strong demand for the birds because of high incomes and growing population.

Foods in plentiful supply are usually reasonably priced. Here's the Department of Agriculture's list of such foods for this month: Pork, beef, broilers and fryers, turkeys, potatoes, cauliflower, rice, canned tuna, milk and dairy products, apples, dates, cranberries, grapes, winter pears, raisins, lard and vegetable fats and oils.

Egg prices generally will be lower this weekend, with reductions ranging from one to four cents a dozen. Butter shows little price change.

From the produce men comes word that beets, potatoes, onions, ramps, radishes and cabbage are the 24 staple buys this week. Bated good buys are cauliflower, red cabbage, peppers, iceberg lettuce, spinach, sweet potatoes and artichokes.

Some vegetables are higher than a week ago, including cucumbers, carrots and tomatoes. Worthwhile buys in fruits include oranges and grapefruit, avocados, apples, although they're a little higher, limes and Emperor grapes. Honeydew melons are up a price this week.

Funeral Services Held For Father Of Mrs. Ellicott

Mrs. John Ellicott returned home Tuesday afternoon from Spiro, Okla., where she was called due to the death of her father, Joe L. Votaw.

Mr. Votaw died suddenly at his home in Spiro Friday night, Nov. 4, at the age of 79. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Votaw had been a frequent visitor in Artesia.

Quarterback John Caruso, who ranked ninth among the nation's punters in 1954 with a 40.3-yard average for 33 punts, is back to do some more kicking for Tulane.

Kefauver Expected To Enter Race For Demo Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of Sen. Kefauver's friends said today they expect him to announce in the next two or three weeks a candid didate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee was reported to be trying to wind up a number of committee hearings and to get caught up with other work before issuing a statement about his political plans.

At the 1952 Democratic convention, Kefauver was the front-runner on the first two ballots but then lost out to Adlai Stevenson in the battle for the nomination.

Stevenson is expected to announce soon, probably next Tuesday, that he will seek nomination as the party's standard bearer again next year.

Roger Tubby, his press secretary, said in Chicago yesterday Stevenson will make a statement at that time on "the Democratic presidential nomination."

Reports from Kefauver's friends indicate that a statement from him can be looked for soon thereafter.

Kefauver, who became nationally known as chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in 1950-51, said after his return in mid-October from a trip around the world that he did not then know whether he would enter the race again.

RURAL DECREASE NOTED

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—The Business Research Bureau at New Mexico University says New Mexico farmers and ranchers decreased from 29,695 in 1945 to 21,070 last year. Vicente Nimeres of the bureau reported "the drop in subsistence farms was largely caused by the attractions of cash wages in Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Los Alamos and other cities."

Injuries Slow 'Dogs As Roswell Tilt Nears

Four Key Men Hurt, Fifth Has Strep Throat

Four key Bulldog players will go into their toughest game of the season, against Roswell tomorrow night, under the handicap of minor injuries, provided that all of them are able to play. Coach Reese Smith said here yesterday.

Clyde Bratcher, fullback; Charles Saverance, end; Larry Haney, end; and Jimmy Campanella, guard, all have minor injuries of varying degrees, and Bill Mayes, tackle, has been suffering from a "strep" throat all week, the coach said.

Smith had not picked his starting line-up as of last night.

The coach kept the team running scrimmage play until dark last night trying to determine who was going to be able to play against Roswell.

"You can say that this game will be one of the toughest games we've had this year," Coach Smith said.

The biggest obstacle in the Roswell game will be the opponent's fast offense, Smith added.

The game might well be a preview of the state class AA championship battle.

Roswell goes against Farmington on Nov. 18 in a semi-final clash at Albuquerque and Artesia invades Las Cruces on Thanksgiving Day for the other semi tilt. The winners then will flip a coin to decide the site of the championship game.

The home field and comparative performances against Clovis tend to make Roswell the favorite tomorrow night. Clovis tied Artesia while Roswell handled them with comparative ease last Friday 28-0.

Roswell is undefeated in New Mexico competition this year while Artesia is sporting a 6-1-1 record.

Ruidoso, Kirtland Clash For State Class C Title Tonight

By The Associated Press

New Mexico's first state high school football title of 1955 will be decided today and two giant steps will be taken toward another in a couple of other games this weekend.

Favored Ruidoso and Central of Kirtland will meet in Kirtland today for the Class C title vacated by Tularosa when the Lions advanced to Class B this year.

At the same time, Santa Rosa and Lordsburg will be meeting in Lordsburg in one Class B semi-final. Tomorrow, Cathedral of Gallup and El Riso meet in El Rito in the other Class B round-of-fours playoff.

Ruidoso, unbeaten and scored on only once this season, is a one touchdown favorite to take its first state title in match at Kirtland.

Sammy Baugh Claims Graham 'Way Off Base'

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Sam Baugh, who was in professional football longer than any other man, says Otto Graham, the Cleveland Browns quarterback, "is way off base" in his complaint of dirty playing in the National Football League.

Graham, injured in the first half of last Saturday's game with the New York Giants, said football was getting "rougher and rougher" and unless something is done "it will get out of hand."

Baugh, who was quarterback of the Washington Redskins for 16 years but retired two years ago and now is head coach at Hardin-Simmons University, commented:

"The quarterback doesn't take the beating that the other guys do up there." If Graham thinks he's got it rough let him play fullback where he'll carry the ball more. He'll find out that he's got a pretty good deal. Besides, the pros have given him a pretty good living, haven't they?"

Baugh told Don Oliver, sports writer for the Abilene Reporter-News, that the opposing line is "supposed" to rack the passer. "Nobody likes to get the thunder knocked out of him but that's part of pro football and you've got to expect it."

He said he never felt like anybody up there was trying to hit him "although I got slugged lots of times. They were supposed to knock me down and I felt like I ought to pat them on the back—they were just doing what they were supposed to do."

"I always made out like they did it accidentally when they really rack me although at times I knew differently. If you get up and give them a lot of talk they'll just come back harder next time and really 'clothes line' you. I knew darn well those guards and tackles were bigger and meaner than I was. If they set their cap to get you they'd darn sure do it."

Baugh said in his opinion the pro league officials protect the passers better than college officials do. "I noticed they'd try to watch it but in college ranks they don't call it as close after a thrown ball," he explained. "The people who support pro football by buying tickets expect to see the best football played anywhere. They should see the most vicious blocking and hardest tackling. If they don't they're not getting their money's worth."

Cy Leland's team swept through an unbeaten eight-game season to the 3C title, then last week whipped Melrose 24-6 in a bi-district playoff. The Melrose touchdown was the first scored against Ruidoso this year.

Kirtland lost its first game of the season, 7-6, to Cathedral, then came along with a seven-game regular season winning string, annexed the 1C crown and last week edged out Mountainair 21-13 in its semifinal match.

Lordsburg breezed through its 4B district without trouble. It ran up a total score of 137-25 against four district opponents and was never pressed. Santa Rosa had a different row to hoe. Santa Rosa emerged from a rough three-team race for the crown by taking Eunice 14-13 in the last district game of the year. It has a 6-1 overall mark.

Only Aztec spoiled El Rito's bid for a perfect season, 33-13, in the final game of the season, knocking down El Rito's seven game winning string. El Rito, the 2B title holder, had four shutouts on its way to the playoffs.

Cathedral, though it has lost two games this year, holds a favorites' edge over El Rito. The Gallup team has recorded a 13-7 victory over Aztec.

Coaches Coming In For Special Treatment Now

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. The Associated Press

The football version of an old saying is: "Where there's smoke there's fire—and usually the coach is the one fired."

And this season there's a new way of raising the smoke clouds that indicate that the fans are burned up about losing. An effigy of the coach turns up dangling in some prominent place around the campus.

So far this fall Lynn Waldorf of California, Jess Hall of Southern California, Al Kirecher of Washington State, John Cherberg of Washington and Warren Woodson of Arizona, plus pro Coach Red Strader of the San Francisco '49ers, have been singled out for this strange kind of attention. They're all substantially built citizens and the macontents probably thought it easier to hoist a dummy on a rope than to tackle them personally.

In addition there have been definite indications of some discontent with the coaching of Missouri's Don Faurot, North Carolina's George Barclay, Baylor's George Sauer, Northwestern's Lon Saban and Florida's Bob Woodruff. In most cases it has been a petition of some sort asking for a change of coaches.

All this doesn't mean that the coaches so attacked are about to be fired. Most of them received encouraging words and promises of support from college presidents and athletic directors. Nor do these assurances always mean their jobs are safe. Football history shows a certain definite association between protests and coaching changes just like the one between smoke and fire.

Perhaps it's an indication of the difference between West Coast and East Coast football fans, but the losing-estimator college coach of all doesn't seem a bit worried about his job. That's Penn's Steve Sebo, whose teams have lost 16 straight games since he took over last year. Of course a few alumni and fans have begun to wonder out loud if it isn't about time for Steve to win a game, but most of them are strongly on his side.

Basketball Coach May Sue Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—The coach of a Negro amateur basketball team said yesterday he may go to court if the City of Houston does not permit his team to compete in a league with white teams.

The Negro, Lloyd C. A. Wells, said Arnold Moser, city parks and recreation director, turned down his request. He said Moser's refusal was contrary to a Monday Supreme Court ruling banning segregation in public parks.

Moser said that Houston still has a city ordinance calling for segregation in public parks.

"The Supreme Court ruling will have no effect until the proper authorities tell us to change our method," he said, adding that the proper authorities are the mayor and city council.

Los Angeles Baseball Club Has Decided

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles baseball club has decided that the Angels will play all their home games next season by daylight except the Friday contests, which will start at 8:15 p. m. President John Holland cited a survey that showed fans want afternoon games.

Eddie Waitkus, veteran first baseman, batted 259 for Baltimore this season. After being released he signed for a second hitch with the Phillies.

Southwest Conference To Poll Members

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK Associated Press Staff

While Southwest Conference officials were mulling the legal technicalities of picking its Cotton Bowl representative, most of the loop's teams Wednesday concentrated on trying to snag second place which they figure will be good enough to get the bid.

The Texas Aggies appear to be rolling toward the titular crown but because of recruiting infractions, they were made ineligible before the season started to play in the Cotton Bowl even if they won the championship. Hence, all other teams have been going on the assumption that second place would automatically bring the bowl bid.

But conference officials, in placing A&M on probation last spring, did not at the same time set a rule on how the Cotton Bowl representative would be selected should A&M win the loop crown. At that time such a ruling probably didn't seem important since the Aggies, who have surprised most sports dopsters with their performance this fall, weren't considered much of a contender for the crown.

Wednesday the conference announced it was taking a poll of its members to determine who will represent the loop in the New Year's classic should A&M win the crown. The results of the poll are not expected to be announced until the champion has been determined.

The right of the conference to take such a poll has been challenged by Paschall Price, sports editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, who says the conference constitution states the conference champion becomes the host team in the bowl and that this was never amended following probationary action against A&M.

The president of the conference, Dr. E. D. Mouzon, says the conference can amend its rules by two-thirds vote anytime it sees fit and when it barred A&M from playing in the Cotton Bowl that superseded anything in the rules.

In the meantime, the loop squads that have a chance for second place and even those that don't went ahead with their workouts Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's games.

The Texas Longhorns, which could sew up second place by beating Texas Christian at Austin Saturday, kept three valuable players—left halfback Walt Fontana who is their chief yardage guard, Ed Kelley—out of contact with all three have been nursing injuries.

The Christians Wednesday emphasized defense against Fontana and other Longhorn players. Left guard Joe Williams is not expected to see action but trainer Mer Brown said barring any practice mishaps the squad would near full strength for Saturday game.
