CITY COUNCIL ACCEPTS FIVE BIDS ON PIPE, OTHER ITEMS

The Artesia City Council at a regular meeting last night accepted five bids on water and sewer pipe, a swimming pool, circulation, and chlorination system and other items, a total of $27,228. One of the bids went to an Artesia firm.

Bids Charge 'Brink Of War' Policy To U.S.

The Soviet Union has accused the United States of carrying out a "brink of war" policy over Russian air space. A full-scale news conference at the Spiridonovka Palace, Ministry press chief Leonid Brezhnev declared that the balloons carried apparatus which only took meteorological data and reconnaissance as well as declared the balloons constitute a menace to air navigation ground inhabitants and add.

All such attempts by American military organs are an attempt to conduct a policy of "to the brink of war" which has been condemned by peoples.

Farm Bureau Elected Names Terry President

Sanders Terry, Artesia farmer, was elected by acclamation last night to the presidency of the North Eddy County Farm and Livestock Bureau, at a meeting attended by 13 members of the organization at Aloka School.

Johnnie Bowman, whose term as director expired last night, was elected vice president of the Bureau. Bowman was elected secretary-treasurer.

Howard Stroup replaced Bowman as three-year director of the bureau.

Bureau members attending the meeting heard Dr. McGuire, new director of the Southeastern New Mexico Substation, tell of the many problems still facing farmers in the area—problems the experimental station hopes to help them with.

Dr. McGuire reported that the man's house being built at the station has been completed.

That a reservoir is being constructed and land leveling is now in progress. Construction is scheduled to begin on a laboratory building at the farm as soon as the other permits, Dr. McGuire said.

The Bureau last night agreed to sponsor a Boy Scout troop for the Artesia district and appointed Johnnie Bowman, Buddy Taylor, and Joe Bill Funk as a sponsoring committee for the troop. A $75 fund was set aside by the Bureau to be split between the Cottonwood and Atoka troops, the only rural troops in this area, to offset any expenses that may arise.

ALGIERS (AP) — Premier Guy Mollet today named Robert Lacoste, his economic affairs minister, as resident minister in rebel North Africa.

Lacoste replaces Gen. Georges Sarrailh, whose resignation before he took up his post was forced by the rioting of French soldiers when Mollet arrived here last week.

Balance Available In Artesia's Water and Sewer Construction Fund After Last Night's Purchases Was $60,000.

A letter signed by Joseph Howell was read before the Council asking the replacement of Burr Clem as plumbing inspector, on the grounds that he is connected in some way with a plumbing business. Mayor Yeager said that Clem had made a statement at the time he was employed as inspector, that he was not connected with any plumbing business. No action was taken on this matter at last night's meeting.

Councilman Joe Alvarado proposed that a water main be put to the Morningside Addition and the Council took the proposal under investigation.

Fire Chief Albert Richards asked the Council to determine if insurance coverage was available for two additional volunteer firemen to be added to the department later this year, and it was ascertained that insurance was available.

Mayor Yeager reported that a water pipe had burst in one of his houses during the recent cold spell after a cut-off order had been issued and the water had supposedly been cut off. The broken pipe caused considerable damage to the house the Mayor said.

A petition was submitted to the Council for annexation to the city of six lots in blocks nine and 10 of the Barnett Addition, and the petition was granted by the Council.

The Council took under consideration a proposal to send representatives to attend a school for water and sewer plant operators at Las Cruces March 26-28.

One death resulted from an explosion in May, Golden indicated, but no other injuries were reported during the period of the report, which was prepared for the state fire marshal in the insurance department of the State Corporation Commission.

During January, there were nine fire alarms. In four fires, building losses totaled $5,300. In 1955, there were 49 alarms outside the city and 141 in the city. There were 21 grass or brush fires and 27 residential fires.

THE SHEEP which Little Bo Peep lost—a clever dance in Valentine Vanities, planned and taught by Anita Watts. Dancers are Kay Schnaubert, Marnell Raley, Carole Ziegler, Gerene Havins, and Penny Key. The second performance is set for tonight at the High School Auditorium. (Bobbie Haynes Photo)

First-Nighters Are Enthusiastic About Valentine Vanities Of 1956

The Valentine Vanities of 1956, put on by the High School band and chorus, played to a packed house of first-nighters here last night and lived up to the best expectations of the audience. Enthusiastic comments were heard on all sides.

Response of the capacity audience was gratifying to the directors and students who spent many hours of rehearsal on the hour and a half show.

Miss Susan Lee was crowned Valentine Princess with Carolyn Nelson as her maid of honor, in an impressive ceremony during the show.

Other girls in the Court were Gerene Havins, Lillian Chipman, Sallie Scott, and Marilyn Warren. The audience was captivated by two mighty cute little girls in "big girl" formal. Little Lu Ann Smith and Barbara Davis, who served as attendants to the Valentine Princess.

They were the daughters of Coach Reese Smith and Coach Vernon Davis. One of the outstanding features of the show was Marshall Martin's rendition of "The Creation," accompanied by the chorus.

Stirring music by the band and tunes by the Serenaders, with vocals by Albino Baca, highlighted the third act.

Two dance numbers, Little Bo Peep and Her Sheep, as well as a cleverly thought up routine of Humpty Dumpty Dancers, all added to make the show one of the best yet produced by the Music Department of the high school.

The curtain will go up on the second performance of the Vanities tonight at the High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents.

Mrs. McGeachy Added To Staff Of CD Section

Maurice Phillips, Civil Defense director, said today that Mrs. W. A. McGeachy of 1310 W. Hermosa, has been appointed assistant to Mrs. M. G. Goodwin, head of the health and welfare section of the Civil Defense organization here.

Phillips said that in addition to regular CD sections, the following organizations also have men standing in front of the Elk's Club yesterday, police stated.

Two Artesia men, James H. Parker and Son Runyan, were involved in a minor fender-scraping in front of the Elk's Club yesterday, police stated.

A woman from Pinon, 80 miles west of Artesia, was treated at the Wildman Clinic here yesterday for a gun-shot wound in the calf of her left leg.

Flora Navarette, of the T. E. Runyan farm at Pinon, was accidentally wounded at 3 p.m. yesterday when a cat knocked over a loaded 22 calibre rifle which discharged and the bullet ricocheted, striking the woman's leg, police said here.

Suspect Held In Abduction Of 13-Year-Old

A 19-year-old Roswell airman charged here yesterday with the abduction of a 13-year-old Artesia girl, was arrested last night at Tucumcari, after he was traced there. Road blocks had been set up barring all exits from the city, police said here today.

A pick-up order was put out on Henry Harrington, a Walker Air Force Base airman, here yesterday after the girl's mother reported to police that her daughter had been missing since Monday night and that she believed the girl had run away with Harrington.

Harrington was traced to Tucumcari last night through a telephone call from the girl to her mother here. Harrington had abandoned the 13-year-old girl at Tucumcari and picked up the girl's 17-year-old sister, who was staying there with a married sister, police said.

Harrington had been engaged to the 17-year-old girl, her mother told police here.

Road blocks were set up on all roads leaving Tucumcari after the teenage girl's mother received a call from her here last night and Harrington was arrested there about 11 p.m., police said.

Police said that Harrington was on a three-day pass from Walker Air Base and that he would be AWOL today. Harrington is held in jail at Tucumcari where he is to be picked up today by Ike Funk, Eddy County deputy sheriff.

Police Report 2 Auto Mishaps

There were two minor accidents reported in the city last night. A car driven east on Grand by Robert Travis Scott, 918 S. Fifth, skidded 96 feet on ice before colliding with a pickup truck driven by Marshall Morris, 917 S. Sixth, at the intersection of Grand and Fourth about 9 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

About $50 damage was done to Scott's vehicle and $25 damage to Morris' truck, police reported.

Connie Mack, 93, Symbol Of National Baseball, Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Connie Mack, who raised baseball to a new dignity and became a symbol of the national pastime, died yesterday at 93.

This ended the career of the tall, lank, gently humorous man who for millions of fans the world over represented the best in the game during his 50 years as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

He died in midafternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Frank Cunningham, in the Germantown section of Philadelphia. At his bedside too were Mrs. Mack, three other daughters and one of his three sons.

The health of baseball's "Grand Old Gentleman" had declined steadily since he fell out of bed last Oct. 1 and suffered a hip fracture. Surgery seemed to help, but he never walked again.

He wasn't confined indoors. He was taken for a drive every day in good weather. But his son Roy and others in the family had to carry him to and from the car.

The family physician, Dr. Marion Gopadze, said Mack had been "doing very nicely" until yesterday morning.

"Then he went bad," the doctor said. "He just seemed to be going out of the picture. His heart just couldn't stand up at his age."

Tomorrow evening the public will be admitted to a funeral home in downtown Philadelphia to view the body. Solemn Requiem Mass will be sung Saturday morning in St. Bridge's Roman Catholic Church in the city's East Falls section, with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery here.

Sen. Lusk Seeks Renomination

Eddy County State Senator T. E. "Gene" Lusk of Carlsbad will seek renomination in the Democratic primary and re-election for a second term, he announced today.

"I have tried to represent fairly and effectively every person in Eddy County," he stated. "My record made in the State Senate during the 1953 and 1955 regular Sessions of the Legislature and the 1955 Special Session is the basis on which I ask for re-election to a second term."

"My experience and seniority in the State Senate will help me serve Eddy County and the state more effectively if I am re-elected."

A practicing attorney, Sen. Lusk is a member of the law firm of Reese, McCormick, Lusk and Paine. He was born in Lovington and was educated in the public schools there, at NMMI in Roswell, the University of New Mexico and University of Michigan Law School.

During his legislative service, Sen. Lusk has served on the interim Penitentiary Investigating, Community Property and Public Utilities Committees. He is the only first-term Democratic Senator serving on the important Senate Committee on Committees, and has served as Chairman of the Agriculture, Irrigation and Reclamation Committee, Vice-Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and member of the Public and Military Affairs Committee.

He drafted and successfully sponsored the Rules change streamlining and consolidating Senate Committee organization. Sen. Lusk (Continued on Page Four)

Khrushchev Dominates Soviet Party Congress

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party, is expected to dominate the 20th congress of the Soviet party opening here Tuesday.

Delegates from the steppes and from the Siberian tundra, from farm and factory far and near already are arriving for one of Moscow's most important political gatherings since Joseph Stalin died in 1953.

Meeting behind closed doors, in an atmosphere far removed from that of an American political convention, these delegates are certain to give party approval to a new five-year plan and the foreign and domestic policies that will be laid down.

13-Inch Snow Closes Schools In Silver City

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Southern New Mexico shivered today under a new onslaught of winter weather which dumped more than a foot of snow in some places and threatened serious traffic delays.

The storm, according to the Weather Bureau, bore some of the earmarks of last week's raging blizzard—the worst in 50 years.

The bureau said considerable delay, if not complete blocking of traffic is certain in western New Mexico.

The snow belt spread from usually-mild El Paso in the south to Gallup in the northwest, with the western sector taking the brunt.

Temperatures skidded with a thud as the storm moved in. Some northern points were expected to experience zero weather tonight.

All schools were closed in Silver City, except for New Mexico Western College. Streets were deserted and the snowfall by mid-morning had totalled 13 inches and was still coming. Many telephone operators were unable to get to work, curtailing service.

Truth or Consequences reported 6 to 7 inches of snow this morning with more in prospect. It was the heaviest snowfall in T or C since December, 1948. A heavy trailer truck skidded on icy roads in the town early this morning and crashed into a building, but no injury was reported. Highway conditions in the area were hazardous.

At Glenwood, on the western edge north of Silver City, eight inches of snow was on the ground, with more than one inch of precipitation since yesterday.

The Weather Bureau said the southern snow would let up late tonight and end generally by Friday afternoon. Much colder weather was expected in the southwest today.

At Las Cruces the snow started falling about 3 a.m. and exceeded four inches.

Organ Pass on Highway 70 east of Las Cruces was closed to traffic as the storm mounted.

Alamogordo and Roswell received light snow which was expected to increase as the day wore (Continued on Page Four)

Negro Coed Gets No Reply To Ultimatum

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The 48 hours which a Negro coed gave the University of Alabama to readmit her as a student expired without immediate comment from school officials today.

Aatherine Lucy, excluded "until further notice" for safety reasons after Monday's disturbances, threatened legal action if she were not readmitted.

She has expressed determination to return to the campus even though a school official said a mob was "trying to kill her" Monday.

Neither the 26-year-old Birmingham woman nor her attorney had received any communication from the university late last night.

Miss Lucy attended her first classes last Friday after she was enrolled in obedience to a federal court order. Disorders beginning that night flared throughout Monday.

Negro Coed Offered Flagstaff Enrollment

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Aatherine Lucy, Negro student who has been excluded from the University of Alabama, has been invited to enroll at Arizona State College here.

Dr. Lacey Eastburn, president of Arizona State, wrote Miss Lucy's attorney yesterday telling him that Arizona colleges are open to Negro students and saying Miss Lucy would be "treated like anyone else" here.

The Flagstaff college has about one thousand students, of whom about a dozen are Negroes.

my new york

BY MEL HEIMER

Tim Johnson Who DOES he look like?

NEW YORK—The way to keep young, it is said, is to surround yourself with youth—so today I asked Tim Johnson to come by and tell me how it feels to be 22 and on his way up the show business ladder.

"You look like John Barrymore, Jr.," I said. "I knew all the time I was going to be an actor," he said. "You know, my mother committed suicide and I never knew what became of my father, so I was one of seven kids adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bergeron of Ocean Grove, Mass. They had one son of their own but Mr. Bergeron was away during World War II, so they adopted us one by one. I was the second. Greatest people in the world."

"I went into the Army and to Korea," he said, "because I wanted to get that over and done with. The minute I was out, I went to California and got a job selling encyclopedias, while I worked at the Pasadena Playhouse. Then came the Hollywood Playhouse and TV and modeling and bits in the movies—and here I am. Maybe I was a kind of orphan, but nobody ever got more breaks than me."

"I WAS A TERRIBLE encyclopedia salesman," Tim said pensively, "but I got better. The last day I worked for them, I saw five people and sold five sets. My first picture role was in Daddy Long Legs and I've done more than 25 television shows. Marlon Brando's my favorite actor and when I get older, I'd like to be as good as William Holden. I've played a lot of juvenile delinquents. When I'm trying to get a role like that, I wear a leather jacket, you know, and muss my hair before I audition."

LATER MISS SUSAN KOHNER dropped in. Miss Kohner is not even 22—SHE looks like a slim Jayne Meadows—but she told me how an actress manages to cry real tears on stage. Miss K. never has appeared on Broadway but she toured until recently with the Tyrone Power play, A Quiet Place. Her notices were fine, but the critics in the wastelands tore the play to pieces and it shut down in Washington on New Year's Eve, the one night it was easy for her to cry real tears.

Actor Thinks 'Delinquency' Films Are Not For Export

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Ray Milland said today that Hollywood films about juvenile delinquency are doing the United States great harm in Europe.

Milland voiced an opinion that is seldom heard in Hollywood. Most spokesmen here declare that limiting exports would interfere with "freedom of the screen."

Milland said he realizes the problem of juvenile delinquency in this country—"We should make pictures about it, to show ourselves what is going on. But we shouldn't send the pictures abroad to make enemies for us. Can you imagine the Communists making films about their juvenile delinquents and sending them abroad?"

MILLION PEOPLE IN 5 YEARS, GOVERNOR PREDICTS FOR NM

SANTA FE — Gov. John F. Simms says in five years he believes it would be conservative to estimate the population of the state will be about one million.

Simms, speaking to the annual banquet of the Santa Fe Chamber of Commerce, said in the space of five years, New Mexico will be "more strongly entrenched as the heart and soul of atomic research and development."

Simms said New Mexico has two major problems in connection with its development. One is to create a climate which will encourage the growth and prosperity of our present and future sources of livelihood. The other is to spread this growth and prosperity to less favored areas of the state.

Creation Of Lake North Of Clovis Under Study By Game Department

ARTESIA, Feb. 9.—The State Game Department is looking into the possibility of creating a lake north of Clovis which could serve as a migratory waterfowl stop and also as a water fishing lake.

The proposed project would be a 40-mile long water draw, six miles north of Clovis.

Director Homer C. Pickens said that the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and representatives of the state engineer's office are to make an inspection of the site tomorrow and are to contribute federal money for projects which have its own.

The Running Water Draw project has been under study by various agencies at several times in the past.

An engineering report once said the project was not feasible and as a result a $50,000 appropriation which had been made available went back into the general fund. But since then, the department said, other engineering studies have been made with the result that the project was termed feasible.

Deputy State Game Director Fred Thompson said the project is now in such a preliminary stage that no information is available on probable costs. He estimated that probably $90,000 would be available if needed, as a starter.

Any body of water created by throwing a dam across Running Water Draw would make an ideal link Thompson said, in a series of East Side resting places for ducks and other migratory waterfowl coming down the flyway. To the north there already are Clayton Dam, accepted last fall after much controversy, and big Conchas Lake.

The proposed Running Water Draw Lake and one or two more bodies of water to the south would be a boon to waterfowl which always had to depend on more or less unreliable "pools," Thompson said.

Trains, Buses Stalled In New Snow

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Trains and buses were stalled as a new snow dump today on the Plainview area, adding to the record of last week's record snow.

Through the new snow was coming light winds, that ranged from 40 miles an hour whipped up snow and piled up drifts to 10 feet high on highways that had been closed.

Platoon Guard trucks still patrolled the streets and highways in the immediate area. Yesterday a bus with 24 children became stuck in a snow bank two miles north of here, was towed by a National Guard truck, then became stuck again.

Port Worth and Denver freight trains were stalled in a snow bank two miles east of Dimmitt and was freed by the blowing snow. A train sent from Plainview only two miles from the city before it too got stuck in the blowing snow.

Assn. Official Passes Gas Measure

WASH. (AP)—Passage of the National Gas Bill restores the healthy life of the natural gas production industry, the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America president yesterday.

Robert Wood wrote in the organization's magazine: "Bipartisan action is consistent with the philosophy advocated by administration to sustain and encourage the free enterprise system."

The bill abolishes federal control of natural gas prices at the well.

Large Range Of Meats Available Special Prices This Weekend

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'll find a good range of meats available at special prices in food markets this weekend.

Pork appears to offer the best prices. Prices went up rather sharply at wholesale recently, but they've come down again.

Many stores are cutting prices on pork items this week and to reduce others next week.

Large chain, for instance, is selling pork chop prices by four six cents a pound in some areas. And of course you will see deals on that favorite, loins of pork.

Lamb prices don't show any change in trend this week. The word is that reductions are expected next week ranging from two to four cents a pound on various cuts. A number of stores will feature legs of lamb and rib chops this weekend.

The beef line there will be special prices here and there on ribs and sirloin and round steaks. Pot roast will be featured widely.

Trying chickens will sell for about the same as a week ago in all places. Egg and butter prices stable.

The National Assn. of Food Dealers is featuring beef and veal the coming week as "big supply best buy" items. This is a part of the organization's farmer-retailer marketing program to help produce.

Drunk Man Dies Snow, Wife Rings Blanket

GALLUP (AP)—A Navajo Indian, whose wife brought blankets and tried to keep him warm as he intoxicated in the snow, was found dead when she arrived.

The dead man was Clarence M., east of Gallup. He died from exposure, a coroner's jury ruled.

Navajo police said Smith and wife, known as "Shorty," were returning to their home from Gallup when their truck broke down.

Police said the two men were intoxicated and that the younger one fell down repeatedly in eight inches of snow.

The last time he fell was two miles from the Perea Trading Post.

His wife brought blankets and tried for a fire to keep him warm, but he was dead when she arrived.

Man Convicted Of Killing Two Taos Residents

SAGUACHE, Colo. (AP)—A 41-year-old laborer has been convicted of murdering two Taos, N. M., residents with volleys of rifle fire last Oct. 30, at Center, Colo.

Joe Mondragon was accused of slaying Nicholas Struck and Steve Archuleta, his neighbors in a duplex home, as the climax of an argument over the defendant's former common-law wife. Mondragon accused Archuleta of dating her.

A District Court jury of four women and eight men returned the verdict yesterday afternoon, 3 1/2 hours after starting its deliberations.

The panel recommended life imprisonment.

Dist. Judge George H. Blick's deferred sentencing pending filing of defense motions for a new trial. He will hear the motions Feb. 23. Mondragon was ordered held without bond in Saguache County jail.

Youth Clinics Are Opposed By Health Director

SANTA FE (AP)—A proposal to build youth guidance clinics around the state has drawn opposition from State Health Director Staffey Leland.

The proposal came from the State Youth Commission, which stands to gain funds if a bill sponsored by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) passes Congress. The bill would appropriate 50 million dollars for an Office of Children and Youth, with some of the money going to the states.

The commission drew up a plan for spending $300,000. A total of $100,000 would be used to establish child guidance clinics or treatment centers to provide diagnostic, psychiatric and treatment services for juveniles brought before courts.

This doesn't set well with Leland, a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mental Health. He said building such centers would be "putting the horse before the cart." He said the state should have a definite mental health program worked out before building any such centers.

Another $100,000 would be spent by the commission to build more juvenile detention homes. There are two in the state now. The rest would be used for other purposes, including more probation officers.

Passes Up Nelson

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Manager Charley Dresen of the Senators says he turned down Montreal slugger Rocky Nelson in the annual draft because he believes Roy Sievers will be Washington's regular first baseman in 1958.

"Sievers is a better fielder than Mickey Vernon," says Dresen. Vernon has been traded to Boston.

Poor Sports

ESCANABA, Mich. (AP)—Arthur Emblem, 60, of Green Bay, Wis., killed a buck deer with his car three days before hunting season opened.

He told Michigan conservation officials he was getting ready to call them to haul the carcass away when a carload of red packeted hunters came along, dumped the carcass into their car trunk, and sped away.

Witnesses Establish Alibi For Accused Sandia Robbers

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Defense attorneys for Robert Sanders and Joseph Gullahorn, accused of the $47,665 burglary of the Sandia Base branch bank, have tried to establish an alibi for the two men.

U. S. Atty. Paul Larrazolo and Asst. Atty. Melvin Robins pointed out what they said were several contradictions in testimony given by defense witnesses yesterday.

Defense attorneys Harry Claiborne, Richard Greenfield and Oscar Beasley attempted to account for the defendant's activities on Oct. 21, 22 and 23, the three days or nights when the burglary could have been committed.

A Colorado highway patrolman, Raymond L. Pacheco, testified he stopped Sanders and Gullahorn in their car about 8:30 p.m. on Oct. 21 near Pueblo, Colo.

Both Gullahorn's mother Helen, and wife, Peggy, told the court Gullahorn spent Saturday, Oct. 22 at his Phoenix home after returning from a gambling trip to Las Vegas, Nev. He had left Oct. 18, they said.

A Phoenix parking garage operator, Edward H. Glover, said the defendants parked a car at his garage on the night of the 21st or 22nd.

Both women testified Gullahorn was home Sunday, Oct. 23, nursing an injured foot which had been pierced by a rusty nail.

Robins reminded Mrs. Gullahorn that she told a federal grand jury last Dec. 5, her husband left on the gambling trip Oct. 16, but returned in about three days, or Oct. 19.

Mrs. Gullahorn replied "I didn't have time to think about it then."

State Colleges Complimented For Efficiency

SANTA FE (AP)—The State Board of Educational Finance has complimented the seven New Mexico state-controlled colleges for improved efficiency in operating instructional programs.

The report by Dr. John Dale Russell, chancellor of the board, said Eastern New Mexico University at Portales has made a "phenomenal" showing, closely followed by the University of New Mexico.

At three other institutions, there were decreases from the previous year, the report added.

It said these were New Mexico Western College at Silver City, New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro, and New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.

New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces with an average of 451.7, the report says.

In all institutions except NMMI, Russell found "gratifying improvement" in the average size of classes particularly a four-year gain from 8.5 to 13.8 at Highlands University at Las Vegas, and from 12.3 to 19.1 at ENMU.

Three colleges now maintain average class size at well over the 15 level-UNM at Albuquerque with 19.9, A&M with 17.6 and ENMU at 19.1, the report said.

Man Convicted Of Killing Two Taos Residents

SANTA FE (AP)—A proposal to build youth guidance clinics around the state has drawn opposition from State Health Director Staffey Leland.

The proposal came from the State Youth Commission, which stands to gain funds if a bill sponsored by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) passes Congress. The bill would appropriate 50 million dollars for an Office of Children and Youth, with some of the money going to the states.

The commission drew up a plan for spending $300,000. A total of $100,000 would be used to establish child guidance clinics or treatment centers to provide diagnostic, psychiatric and treatment services for juveniles brought before courts.

This doesn't set well with Leland, a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mental Health. He said building such centers would be "putting the horse before the cart." He said the state should have a definite mental health program worked out before building any such centers.

Another $100,000 would be spent by the commission to build more juvenile detention homes. There are two in the state now. The rest would be used for other purposes, including more probation officers.

Now They Award Prizes

THERE always was a promise involved that the ham or the basket of groceries would be provided through the payroll or the welfare department or out of some of the taxpayers' monies in the Louisiana election but during the most recent campaign they gave away baskets of groceries, hams and other items as prizes in order to get the crowds to attend the political rallies.

Earl Long, governor elect, adopted the practice of giving away many prizes at the various political rallies held over the state in order to get attendance. It seems that the promise of a "blistering" political speech or of hillbilly music no longer charmed the people to the political candidates' meetings.

In order to get the crowds out to the rallies they handed out these 10 to 15 prizes at each of the meetings.

This was just a case of the provisions being provided before the candidate was elected because in the past 20 years a good many of those present got their groceries in some manner or other from the politicians.

The fact that prizes had to be offered to get people out to political meetings, of course, is a reflection on us. But it is also true the fact that the political meetings were not intelligent discussions of the issues but rather "tirades", is even a greater reflection on us as American citizens.

We, the people, the voters and the taxpayers, are the ones who have set such a low price on our vote that we will sell it for a few prizes or we will sell it in order to get some branch of the government to provide our living for us. We will do most anything to just work out the old idea that the world owes us a living.

Maybe the day and time will come when we will have dignified candidates seeking public office who discuss the issues of the campaign in an intelligent manner. And maybe when we do we will assume our roles as citizens and taxpayers and attend these meetings to inform ourselves regarding the candidates and the platforms on which they are seeking public office.

After all we elect public officials to administer the affairs of government and not for the purpose of taking care of us; providing political patronage; or providing jobs for the "chosen few".

Sen. Henning Locks Horns With 2 Best Political Pros

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has displayed no unusual enthusiasm—in fact, almost none—for the move by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) to find out if senators got political contributions in the natural gas dispute.

But the performance of the 52-year-old Hennings was unusual. It isn't clear why, with his eyes wide open, he walked into a buzz-saw.

In trying to get his investigation started he chose to lock horns with two of the best political pros in Congress, both Democrats: Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the floor leader, and George of Georgia, the Senate's dean.

In this encounter Hennings came off second best.

For days senators on both sides of the natural gas bill—designed to take direct federal controls off gas producers' prices—complained big corporations were using tremendous pressure to influence their vote.

On one side, they said, were big oil companies which produce gas; on the other, big utility companies whose costs would rise if gas prices went up. Both sides were accused of spending a fortune to get the vote they wanted.

But no one said he had been offered money until Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) reported a stranger interested in his vote had thrown $2,500 into his re-election campaign money.

The stranger later identified himself as John M. Neff, a Nebraska attorney who last year was registered with the State Legislature as an oil company lobbyist.

Neff said he had given the money with no strings attached.

As long as the charges about lobbies had been vague the Senate showed no interest. It couldn't ignore Case's specific statements. This is what happened then:

now is one of 5 Senate members on the Legislative Council, a body which supervises work of the Legislative Council Service between sessions.

Sen. Lusk has been active in the Democratic Party at State and local levels. He was unanimously elected Permanent Chairman of the 1954 State Democratic pre-primary nominating convention, and later served as Co-Chairman of the Resolutions Committee which drafted the 1954 State Democratic Platform. In Eddy County he has served since 1950 as Secretary-Treasurer of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Sen. Lusk is a member of Elks, Kiwanis, Jaycees and the American Legion. Active in church work, he is serving his second 3-year term as a member of the Vestry of Grace Episcopal Church in Carlisbad.

With his wife and 3 children, Sen. Lusk lives at 1402 Bryan Circle, Carlisbad.

DECLARE FOR SHERIFF
FARMINGTON (AP)—A Democrat and two Republicans have declared their intentions of running for the office of sheriff of San Juan County. The Republicans are Police Chief Dan Sullivan of Farmington, and Vernon Mitchell, Aztec. The Democrat is Marvin A. Mosely, special investigator for the Farmington police.

On Monday, before the Senate passed the bill, Johnson proposed the Senate appoint a special four-man committee to investigate the Case matter, and only that.

Hennings, chairman of a Senate subcommittee on elections, said he'd go along with the idea of an investigation by a special committee but he wanted it to go into the circumstances under which "any senator" might have been offered contributions to influence his vote.

This opened the door to an investigation of any senator and of the political activities of the oil and utility companies. There wasn't any rush of senators to Hennings' support.

Johnson objected to linking the Case investigation with the kind of broad search Hennings urged. Johnson said "I have no desire to cover up anything" and added he thought the special committee ought to get to work on the Case matter in a hurry.

Johnson was backed up by the Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California.

On Tuesday the Senate unanimously voted for the special committee. George was named chairman. It had hardly been appointed before Hennings said he wanted Case to appear before his committee at 2 p.m.

This could be interpreted as defiance of the Senate and its leadership. George promptly ordered Case before his committee at 2 p.m. Case chose to go before George's group.

Then George boxed Hennings in by telling Case not to talk to anyone until he appeared again before the special committee tomorrow. Hennings backed down—but not all the way.

Yesterday he said his committee would wait to start a broad investigation until after George's committee had finished up the Case problem. Then, to add to the confusion, Hennings said he would step off his committee before it began its investigation.

Hennings is up for re-election this year and it is customary for a member of the elections subcommittee to step aside if he has a campaign of his own coming up.

13-Inch Snow

Albuquerque highway headquarters told state headquarters here that snow extended all the way to the Mexican border. There also was more snow in western New Mexico and in Arizona.

Highway 66, the Broadway of America, was reported open across the state, as was Highway 85, north and south, although Raton Pass was reported slippery.

Extreme caution again was the watchword for all motorists on the roads today.

The Roswell highway district, hard hit last week, reported this morning that all roads were believed open there, although it had started snowing at Roswell again and conditions possibly would worsen.

The coming highway headquarters, covering southwestern New Mexico made this morning report: Lordsburg, Highway 70-80 open but slow; slick and packing snow; State Road 80, Lordsburg to Silver City, travel hazardous and uncertain. Silver City, 13 inches of snow and still falling at 8:45 a.m., roads slick, deep snow was drifted in a number of places, travel hazardous; 14 inches of snow near Grandwood and Highway 260 closed temporarily to traffic moving west of Silver City; Reserve, two inches State Road 12 closed temporarily Apache Creek to Dattil; Deming, roads open in all directions but packed wet snow made travel very slick, caution urged; Hatch, roads open but slick north on Highway 85; Las Cruces, Highways 80 and 85 north and south open and fair; Highway 70 east and west open but icy at Organ where a "me, said the road was closed; icy west of Las Cruces.

Albuquerque district headquarters reported traffic moving in most directions out of Albuquerque, although caution was needed. It advocated that any motorist heading for southeast New Mexico late in the day should make a check before departure.

It reported seven inches of snow at Zuni, six at Winslow and five at Flagstaff, with traffic apparently going through, but bound to be hindered to some extent. To the south and southwest, the report continued, snow had been reported since yesterday afternoon, still falling today.

Socorro had an average of two inches, roads very slippery; Truth or Consequences, seven inches, rough going; no report from Magdalena-Reserve but believed moderate-heavy snow there the last 24 hours. Snow in these areas was believed likely to continue most of today, causing considerable delay if not the temporary blocking of certain stretches.

State Road 108, closed for a time north of Clovis yesterday, was believed again open to traffic today.

State Legislature Has Grown Approximately One-Third Since 1949; 98 Members To Serve

By JOHN B. CURTIS
AP State Capital Correspondent

SANTA FE (AP)—The New Mexico Legislature has kept pace with everything else in the state by scoring a fantastic growth since the war.

The Legislature has grown by approximately one-third since 1949. Next November the voters will elect 98 persons to the 1957 Legislature.

The odd part of it is that there were no charges at all in the Legislature's size from statehood in 1912 until 1949. During all those years the assembly consisted of a Senate of 24 senators and 49 representatives—a total of 73.

By constitutional amendment submitted by the Legislature and approved by the people in 1949, the House was increased to 55 members and the Senate to 31. All shoestring (multi-county) districts were abandoned in the Senate and each county except Los Alamos was given a senator.

In 1955 the Legislature gave Los Alamos a senator and then submitted another constitutional amendment, approved by the people last September. This eliminated all shoestring districts in the House and added 11 House members, thus giving the state an assembly of 32 senators and 66 representatives.

This is the membership situation in the House under the 1955 reapportionment: Bernalillo, nine; Chavez, Dona Ana, Eddy, Lea, McKinley, Rio Arriba, San Juan, San Miguel and Santa Fe, three members each; Colfax, Curry, Grant, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt, Taos, and Valencia, two members each; Catron, De Baca, Guadalupe, Harding, Hidalgo, Lincoln, Los Alamos, Luna, Mora, Sandoval, Sierra, Socorro, Torrance and Union, one member each.

Because of the manner in which various counties formerly participated in shoestring districts of two or more counties, some lost or gained such odd-sized fractions as two-thirds or three-fourths of a seat.

Bernalillo County gained three members. Catron formerly was in a two-seat, two-county district. DeBaca formerly elected one member with Roosevelt County. Dona Ana, Eddy and Grant all gained one member. Hidalgo has one member after sharing in a two-member shoestring district.

Abolition of shoestrings means loss of three-fourths of a seat for Guadalupe. Lea gains one; Lincoln loses one-third and Los Alamos gains three-fourths of a seat. McKinley gains one and Mora loses one; Otero gains two-thirds of a seat.

of a seat, Rio Arriba one-half and Roosevelt, which formerly shared one seat with DeBaca, now has two of its own.

Sandoval is down a net one-half; booming San Juan county gains two; San Miguel drops half a seat and Santa Fe picks up three-fourths of a seat; Socorro is down one-third and Torrance one-fourth of a seat. Harding and Union each have one member, where they used to elect two jointly.

Counties whose house strength was unchanged by the reapportionment are Chavez, Colfax, Curry, Luna, Quay, Sierra, Taos and Valencia.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today allocated $43,000 for New Mexico flood relief.

BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) has introduced a bill whereby federal payments to the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District in New Mexico for irrigating pueblo Indian lands would be continued. The federal government has been paying operation and maintenance costs to the district under a contract which recently expired.

DEAF GET LAB

SANTA FE (AP)—Lawrence Abraham of Santa Fe submitted bid of $41,179 for remodeling of an old bakery building into an audiological laboratory for the State School for the Deaf. The laboratory will be used to test hearing of students and determine the extent and the type of hearing deficiencies.

Know YOUR Schools

By Jo Connell

DID YOU KNOW that the Eddy County Administrative Council is meeting today in Carlisbad? That state money for school use comes to us by counties?

The Eddy County Administrative Council is made up of all members of the local boards of education of Carlisbad, Loving and Artesia, and the school superintendents. The school business managers usually attend meetings of the Council.

This Council was first set up when we were still on a county school system. It still has cause for existence since budgets are made on a county basis. There are several other school policies decided on by all three school systems.

Setting up school budgets is the topic for discussion for the Council today.

The Council usually meets officially three times a year and has several called meetings.

And did you know that American citizens are much more progressive in their thinking about school finance than most of their representatives in Congress and state legislatures, according to the Phi Delta Kappa National Commission on Free Public Education? In a national survey of 5,000 persons, the American public was found to have overwhelming confidence in its public schools, three out of four respondents thought that teachers' salaries were too low. While one out of three respondents thought that property taxes for school support were too low, another third thought such taxes were about right.

Stockton Takes Corrective Measures To Get NM Squad Ready For Fight With Denver U.

ALBUQUERQUE — Faced with a dearth of manpower and a couple more rugged road games, University of New Mexico basketball coach Bill Stockton is taking some corrective measures this week as his squad readies for a Saturday game against the DU Pioneers at Denver.

Stockton's Lobos slipped from third to fifth place in the Skyline Conference last week with away-from-home losses to Brigham Young and Utah State.

Now owners of a 44 mark in the Skyline and standing 5-11 over-all, New Mexico must still play Denver and Utah away from home before returning to its own gymnasium to end the season with four games at home.

But, for this week, Stockton's manipulations involve moving 6-6 sophomore John Teel from his forward position to center—a move made necessary by an injury to senior Keith Bruns in the BYU game last week.

Brun's injury wiped out the New Mexico staff of post men, although Stockton did get some heartening news when 6-5 sophomore Walt Schuman reported for practice Monday. Schuman has been out of the past seven games with a leg injury, but is still the squad's fourth leading scorer.

Even so, figuring Schuman may not be ready by this weekend, Stockton plans to stick with Teel at the post position, sacrificing the lanky Carlsbad boy's consistent outside jump shooting in order to get some height under the basket—a must against Denver's towering aggregation.

New Mexico took the Pioneers in Albuquerque earlier this season, 69-61, but Stockton doesn't see it that way for the second go-round. Denver's height, steady improvement, plus being on their home court, add up to a favorite's role for the Pioneers, says the UNM coach.

"They are a good team getting better all the time," he contends. "We are weaker and we haven't looked good on the road. We'll be fortunate to stay close."

Stockton didn't have too much to say about the Wolfpack's double loss last week, other than to comment that Brigham Young "has one of the finest basketball team's I've seen, and we played good ball at Utah State, but couldn't beat the free throws."

Stockton also commended senior Toby Roybal, still the Skyline's leading scorer, for his good work "in the face of some of the toughest defenses." Roybal hit for 25 points against Brigham Young, but was beaten down to 17 points at Utah State.

Roybal now has a 212-point output in eight Skyline games to maintain his lead, but is being pressed by Wyoming's brilliant Joe Capua in the chase for the individual scoring title.

Roybal will start at guard against Denver this week, with 6-0 Junior Dave Syme at the other guard spot. Teel will open at center, and sophomores Floyd Siegel, 6-4, and Walt Wincaid, 6-1, will start at forwards.

If Schuman is ready, Stockton will take a 10-man team to the Denver game with senior Byron Caton, and sophomores Don Boulware, Mark Southard and Jim Williams rounding out the squad.

New Mexico Frosh Basketball Team Faces Tough Fight With Air Force

ALBUQUERQUE — The University of New Mexico's freshman basketball team faces its toughest and most important test this week when it goes to Denver for a Saturday night game against the United States Air Force Academy.

The game will be played as the first part of a double-header at the Denver University gymnasium. Second game on the bill is a varsity contest between Denver and New Mexico in a Skyline game.

The Wolfpups, under the guidance of former Lobo player Gene Golden, have won four, lost two so far and have averaged 73.3 points per game in running to their record.

Last week, in its first road trip of the season, the New Mexico frosh quintet rolled to an 87-58 triumph over Ft. Lewis A&M junior college at Mancos, Colo.

So far, the Wolfpups have been led in the scoring columns by a "big and little" combination of center Merle "Rusty" Goodwin, 6-5 product of Durango, Colo., and Joe Willmore, 6-0 guard considered the best in New Mexico in prep days at Carlsbad high school.

Both boys have scored 69 points in six games to date, but are being passed by forward Bob Martin, who has dumped in 68 points in an offense that has featured balanced scoring. Martin is a 6-2 performer from Clovis, N. M.

Coach Golden said he plans to start Goodwin at center this week, flanked by Martin and 6-0 Caton, at forwards, and Willmore and 6-0 Lidy Lanier, at guards. That starting five averages 61. Golden says he will take a 10-man squad to the game.

Net Star Moylan Hits Opposition In Fla. Tourney

KEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J., co-favorite with Philadelphia's Vic Seixas, faced what was expected to prove rugged opposition today in a third round match of the South Florida tennis championships.

Moylan plays Allan Quay, University of Miami singles star. The Jerseyite who is defending champion, had to go all-out to win from Lonnie Jordan of Montgomery, Ala., 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, yesterday.

Another top match sends Jerry Moss of Miami, a junior Davis Cupper, against Armando Vieira of Sao Paulo, Brazil, seeded No. 1 among the foreign players.

Moss won from Gus Peoples of West Palm Beach, 6-3, 6-3, and Vieira defeated Wayne Van Voorhees of Palm Beach, 6-2, 6-3.

Seixas and Moss defeated Bill Oughterson of Stuart, Fla., and Dean Mathey of Palm Beach, 6-2, 6-3, while Vieira teamed with Bob Howe of Sydney, Australia, to win from Don Platt of Toronto, Canada, and Joseph DeFina of Palm Beach, 6-2, 6-1.

ARIZONA OPEN GOLF TOURNEY TO PRODUCE LOWEST SCORES

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Some of the lowest scores of the winter circuit are expected during the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf tournament that starts today.

Rains have softened the hard fairways of the simple, 6,434-yard, par-70 El Rio course. Pros who have been coming here for years say the greens are the best yet.

Tommy Bolt, winner of the last two Tucson Opens, believes it will take a 14-under-par 266 to earn top money of $2,000.

Bolt and Lloyd Mangrum, another double winner here, are the sentimental favorites.

The absence of 13 of the top 25 money winners of 1955 has turned the tourney into a wide open affair.

Julius Boros, Cary Middlecoff and Doug Ford, the top three of last year, are all missing. So are many others and the local sponsors are unhappy.

Ricki Barick, tourney chairman, said yesterday, "I think the PGA should be more strict about their golfers making tournament appearances. I think Middlecoff, after winning at Phoenix last week, should have played in the Tucson Open."

Ray O'Brien, PGA Tournament director, said some of the golfers had personal reasons for not playing here. "The tournament trail is a long grind," he said. "Golfers have to take some time off."

Hard-working Mike Souchak, the former Duke University football star now playing out of Grossinger, N. Y., is off to his fastest start on the winter tour and isn't expected to slow down here. He shot a 67 in the pro-amateur yesterday in a steady rain.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Ted Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., also are listed high among the dozen golfers listed as major threats here.

So are Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.; Bill Ogden, Chicago, Ill., and Ed Furgol, St. Louis, all of whom had four under par 66's yesterday.

Tiger Jones Kayoes Baldoni

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ralph (Tiger) Jones, whose long ring career demonstrates his capacity to take it as well as dish it out, was clamoring for a shot at the middleweight title today after a dashing knockout of Tony Baldoni. The 27-year-old Jones had to call on all his experience and stamina to withstand the pounding given him by young Baldoni in the early stages of the nationally telecast fight last night.

But Jones rallied strongly in the fifth, sending Baldoni down for a nine count with a short, chopping right, and then putting him away for keeps at 2:30 of the sixth with a pair of wicked left pabs.

Jones, of Yonkers, N.Y., weighed 157. Baldoni, who had won 12 in a row, weighed 160. Tony is from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Rice Owls Will Have Chance At Comeback With Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Rice Owls, who got derailed after a highballing early season start, will have a chance to hit the comeback trail Saturday night when they meet the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The Owls, who handled the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, 80-72, without too much difficulty Wednesday night, have been dumped twice—once by the second-place Hogs and once by the loop-leading Southern Methodist Mustangs—since conference play started.

The Owls-Razorback game at Houston is the stellar tilt of this weekend's conference offering. In other games Saturday night Baylor is host to Texas AM at Waco while Texas Christian meets Texas at Austin. The Mustangs are idle this weekend.

The Owls, now in third place with a 5-2 conference record, were placed by Joe Durrenberger and Gerry Thomas in their Wednesday night victory over TCU at Fort Worth.

Rice's top scorer, Temple Tucker, had a rough night. He scored only 9 points in the first half, none in the second and fouled out with 9:26 minutes left in the game.

TCU's Dick O'Neal with 30 points was high man of the evening. Durrenberger had 28 points and Thomas 22.

The Horned Frogs took an early lead but lost it after six minutes of play. By halftime the Owls had a 45-34 advantage which was not seriously endangered during the balance of the game.
