Cattle Growers Warned Of Tax Increase Effort

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Reuben Pankey has warned the New Mexi- co Cattle Growers Assn., that a strong effort will be made in the next Legislature to "break the 20-mill tax limitation."

Pankey, chairman of the associa- tion's standing committee on taxa- tion, made the statement Sunday night at the 42nd annual conven- tion swung into general member- ship meeting.

Besides Pankey, speakers Sun- day night included Dallas Rierson, head of the Department of Agri- culture at New Mexico A&M, who told of the fight against grasshop- pers, and Fred Kennedy, regional forester of the Forest Service, who told of recent changes in grazing permits.

Earlier in the day, several other groups held meetings in connec- tion with the big convention, which gave signs of topping all former attendance records. About 2,200 were expected to be on hand by the time registration closed today.

A full slate of speakers and ac- tivities was planned for today, with one of the major addresses to be given by Gov. John F. Simms. Other top speakers today were Don Collins of Colorado, president of the American Nation- al Cattlemen's Assn.; Earl L. Butz, assistant secretary of agri- culture, and Dr. Roger B. Corbett, president of New Mexico A&M.

Pankey, in warning against what he said would be an attempt to increase property taxes in the next Legislature, said the tax limitation would be lifted some day unless strong efforts were made to stop it.

"Collar your candidate for the Legislature when you return home and put them on the mat as to where they stand" on the matter, he urged.

In one of the meetings held in connection with the big get-together the New Mexico Hereford Breed- ers Assn. was told members should strive to reach two new markets which have developed in the past year for Texas herefords.

The association elected a new secretary-treasurer and re-elected its other officers in the meeting.

Max Cox of Fort Worth, south- western representative of the asso- ciation, said prices at Texas Here- ford sales have kept up during the past year, largely because of two new markets: Mexico and the Brahma cattle raisers of the Texas Gulf Coast.

Deming Doak, president of the association, called for a revival of its range bull sale.

He said the association was formed to sponsor an annual sale but has expanded its activities to promote the raising of Herefords called "the beef breed supreme" in New Mexico.

WEEKEND CURFEW HOLDS CYPRUS VIOLENCE DOWN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The pop- ulation of Cyprus went back to work as usual today after the British ended their unprecedented 24 hour curfew on the east Mediter- ranean island colony.

One killing and some minor vio- lence were reported during the 4 a.m.-to-4 a.m. restriction the British ordered to prevent an outbreak Sunday on Greek Independence Day.

But with Cypriots free to roam the streets and countryside again, there was a fresh threat of vio- lence from pro-Greek islanders seeking to get rid of their British colonial government. There were recurring reports, also, that an- other general strike might break out later this week.

British intelligence agents pressed a search during the cur- few for the mysterious chieftain of the Cypriot rebels. They had been tipped off that the shadowy rebel leader, known only as "Dig- hennis" after a legendary Greek hero, was disguised as a black- robed Greek Orthodox priest.

The British governor, Field Mar- shal Sir John Harding, ordered an absolute curfew in 15 cities and a limited curfew elsewhere to avoid possible violence on the 135th anniversary of Greece's independ- ence from Turkey.

More than 160,000 Cypriots were sealed in their homes in the 15 cities during the curfew. Outside the cities, the rest of the island's 500,000 Cypriots were restricted to the immediate vicinity of their homes. Virtually the entire 18- 000-man British garrison and the entire police force moved about on the alert to throttle any vio- lence.

Masked men shot and killed a Turkish Cypriot in a coffee shop near Limassol. The assassins escaped.

A bomb was tossed at a military patrol in Paphos port, 60 miles southwest of Nicosia. A Greek woman was injured slightly. Other bombings were reported in a village near Paphos and at a police station near Kyrenia. There were no casualties and damage was slight.

Greek-origin Cypriots are seek- ing union with Greece. Harding deported their leader Archbishop Makarios March 9 on charges he had sponsored violence which has cost the lives of 22 British sold- iers.

During the curfew, only govern- ment authorities, police, troops and newsmen generally were per- mitted to move about.

In Athens, Independence Day also passed quietly. Riot police guarded the British and Turkish embassies during the annual mili- tary parade. A small group of stu- dents broke windows on some British-owned buses during the chief attempt at anti-British demon- stration. Police scattered the students with their clubs, injuring four of them.

Malenkov's Group See British Show-Piece Of Power Program

CALDER HALL, England (AP)—Georgi Malenkov and his touring Russian electrical experts today viewed the show- piece of Britain's power program, the new Calder Hall atom electricity station. British engineers said Malenkov seemed impressed.

The station stands just across the road from a top-sec- ret factory that makes plutonium for both military and civil uses.

Britain claims it is the world's first full-scale atomic power sta- tion, though Russia is known to have a much smaller station al- ready in operation.

Malenkov, apparently to avoid embarrassing security-conscious British officials, stuck rigidly to his schedule. He did not go out of his way to chat with the power plant workers, as he has done previously.

In a statement recorded for broadcast, Malenkov said: "We shall be only too glad to share our experience with our British friends, just as we have seen valuable things here which we can follow."

"Long live friendship between the peoples of the U. S. S. R., Brit- ain, and the United States and be- tween all peoples of the world."

Tiflis Red Educators Hit For Pro-Stalin Youth Disorders

MOSCOW (AP)—Educator's in Sta- lin's home state of Georgia have come under Communist party fire for failing to keep rebellious pro- Stalin youths in line.

The party action came after re- ported student demonstrations in Tiflis against the downgrading of Stalin.

A current issue of the Tiflis newspaper Dawn of the East told of a recent party meeting in Georgia at which V. Kuprabe, re- ctor of Tiflis University, and oth- ers were charged with failure to keep discipline.

Kuprabe, who denied reports of student disturbances in Tiflis in a telephone conversation with The Associated Press Saturday, was hauled over the coals for not giv- ing satisfactory explanations of shortcomings.

The New York Times said in- formation reaching the United States told of trains arriving in Moscow from Georgia and other parts of the Caucasus with win- dows broken, apparently by dem- onstrators enroute.

The Times said Georgian rep- resentatives had been summoned to the Kremlin to report to party leader Nikita Khrushchev and other high officials on the situation.

The Kremlin's campaign to de- flate the Stalin myth also has touched off rumblings of revolt in- side Europe's Communist parties. Open doubts about the desanctifi- cation program have been ex- pressed by Red leaders in several countries including:

SCATTERED VIOLENCE STRIKES IN SOUTH'S RACIAL CONTEST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered violence and a decla- ration that the South is not bluff- ing in its determination to win a legal reversal of the U. S. Supreme Court decisions highlighted the tense segregation scene Sunday.

At Pensacola, Fla., about 100 Negroes attacked and beat two white men after a Negro was shot, and in Atlanta five Negroes es- caped injury when an explosion damaged a home in the northwest section into which they moved last Friday.

The Pensacola incident devel- oped in a predominantly Negro section while two Pensacola white men, Johnnie J. Maloy, 50, and Hillary Calhoun, 41, were selling oranges from a truck.

Sheriff's deputies said Maloy ac- cused a Negro of stealing a crate of oranges, drew a gun and fired twice. A bullet struck Foster King, a 34-year-old Negro, in the leg.

Deputies said Love Andrews, 29-year-old Negro, took the gun away from Maloy and then other Ne- groes swarmed over both men. Maloy suffered a brain concus- sion and a compound fracture of the leg. Andrews was held without bond on a charge of affray. Cal- houn was arrested on the same charge and then freed under $100 bond.

The Atlanta explosion occurred in a predominantly white section where some homes have been sold to Negroes. A similar blast was reported Feb. 25 in the same area.

C Of C Group Plans Survey

The Retail Merchants' commit- tee of the Chamber of Commerce met this morning and decided to conduct a survey among the resi- dents of Artesia and vicinity to determine in what manner local business men might improve their scores and services in an effort to provide their customers with bet- ter retail shopping service.

After a lively discussion among the more than twenty members present, it was unanimously de- cided to go ahead with the survey and the matter was referred to the Executive Committee to work out details as to the best method of obtaining the information de- sired. It was also decided to wait until the results of the survey were known before planning any further promotional projects.

Lakewood Man's Car Was Struck By Death Vehicle

Sheriff Hartsill Martin confirm- ed today that a Lakewood man, Claude Garrett, was involved in an accident which took the life of an Artesia woman and a Carlsbad man and woman a few miles north of the New Mexico-Texas state line March 18.

Garrett's car was struck from behind by a car driven by Lee Voight, 29, of Carlsbad, as Voight attempted to pass. Voight's car then turned over three times kill- ing Mrs. Clarence Lewellen, 25, of Artesia; Reala Lu Barksstrase, 18, of Carlsbad; and Jack Barnett, 21, of Carlsbad.

The left rear fender of Garrett's car was crushed by the impact.

Sheriff Martin said Garrett re- turned to the scene of the acci- dent and rendered first aid to the injured.

Garrett didn't admit being in- volved in the accident until last Friday, the sheriff said.

Garrett said he didn't know why he didn't report his connection with the accident at the time.

Garrett was not at fault in the accident and did not actually leave the scene, Sheriff Martin said, and no charges are being filed against him.

Scratchy Pens To Leave Artesia Post Office

At long last, Artesia Postmaster Mrs. Marion Dummam today announced that the old-fashioned, scratchy and much-maligned "Post Office" pens that have long graced the desks of Post Office clerks across the na- tion, and which have brought on a rise in blood pressure and in- flamed the ulcers of millions of pa- tients down through the years, are soon to be replaced with a ball- point version.

Postmaster General Arthur E.

Summerfield announced today that aids have gone out for the manu- facturing of 500,000 ball point pens and refills for use in post offices across the country, the decision to make these standard equip- ment being based upon extensive studies which have been made by the PO Department.

Mr. Summerfield said experi- ments have been conducted for months in the use of ball point pens in various sections of the country at selected post offices, and results proved so encourag- ing that overall use was recom- mended by industrial engineers of the PO Department.

Commenting on the pilferage of the new pens, Mr. Summerfield noted that it was held to a mini- mum in the majority of post of- fices. Few individuals will risk up- to a year in prison or up to a $500 fine to steal a pen labeled "Prop- erty of the United States Post Office Department," and held to the (Continued on Page Four)

Baby Sitting Job Requires Careful Work

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What's your baby sitter I Q? If you aren't making a good income out of this occupation, take the advice of other sitters—you can clean up if you have the right attitude toward the job.

Nine out of ten high school girls seem to earn spare money taking care of youngsters these days, but some of them are more in demand than others.

"Why?" I asked one popular girl recently. She thought the reason was this:

"If you remain calm with the children, do not impose too many restrictions on them—but watch them carefully and feed them the way they have been accustomed to, they will like you."

She explains that some baby sitters keep saying "don't, don't, don't!" to the children rather than taking the trouble to distract the youngster from the danger he courts or from his uncontrollable urge to be naughty because mama is away. She says:

It is much easier to take their minds off what they plan to do than to keep telling them not to do it. But you must take the trouble.

Some parents complain that their baby sitters just sit and smoke all the time they are in the house, issuing orders to the children, like top sergeants. Others say the sitter really doesn't want to work. She wants to read or watch television in peace and keep the children quiet so she can enjoy herself.

Another baby sitter thought that you should try to earn the child's respect by dressing nicely and by

Artesia Students Pledge Fraternity

STATE COLLEGE (Special) — Lambda Chi Alpha, national social fraternity at New Mexico A&M College, recently pledged 19 men. Among those pledged were Gerard Gore and Patrick Reeves, freshmen from Artesia.

being firm but kind. She says: "I used to wear blue jeans and the kids never would do anything I asked them to. When I started dressing up I seemed to get along with them much better."

Two of the favorite baby sitters in our neighborhood have an added qualification that seems to have acclimating influence on little helions: soft voices. Neither girl raises her voice when speaking to a youngster, and each manages to control them beautifully. One mother was dumbfounded when she arrived home from a shopping trip and found her 2-year-old little boy asleep on the sofa. "It's the first time he's ever done that," she said. "Normally he won't sleep anywhere other than his crib."

She attributed his sudden dropping off to the sandman voice of the sitter. "Just as important as a doctor's good bedside manner," she says.

These girls earn the reward of having little to worry them with children because the children love to mind. What's more, they reap extra pay because they are in demand, and because mothers are so grateful for their good services.

One mother even took one of these girls on a nice summer vacation last year. She said:

"I wouldn't take the average sitter because they're so noisy, and their idea of entertaining the children is to play jive records or watch soap operas on TV. But our little sitter is so ladylike it's a pleasure to have her around."

I asked one of these girls what the secret of her success was so that we could all profit by it and she surprised me with this an-

Reports Seep Egyptians Train In Red Poland

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign Office said Britain has received secret reports that "a considerable number" of Egyptians are under military training in Poland.

A spokesman told reporters the British government "places reliance on these reports," but he would not disclose their source. He said the matter will be taken into account in determination of Britain's Middle Eastern policies.

British informants estimated about 200 Egyptian officers and noncommissioned officers are being trained in land, sea and air operations and the use of armaments at a Soviet base near Poland's Baltic Sea port of Gdynia. Their instruction was reported to include the use of radar, submarines and all forms of artillery.

CITIZENS WINNER CHOSEN

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A West-ern High School student Sylvia Tyrone Patton of Silver City, has been chosen winner of the 1956 Good Citizens Contest of the New Mexico Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"I like to pretend I'm the children's mother when I'm with them. I find that this makes me enjoy the children more. I like children and I think if you don't you shouldn't be a baby sitter. Some sitters tell me they spank naughty types they take care of. I think that is terrible. If the child is naughty in the sitter's presence it is usually the sitter's fault. Even the worst brought up child should be intrigued by the face of the substitute, and usually they are very easily handled if you treat them gently, and let them know you like to be with them."

U.S. Women Lack Femininity Says French Student At Mines

SOCORRO (Special) — When a Frenchman visits the U. S. and is asked to give an opinion of our country, he naturally assumes that his views on women and politics are requested.

Michel L. Lavergne, graduate student in the earth sciences at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, in Socorro held true to his countrymen's tastes when interviewed this week. "To a foreigner," he observed, "the U. S. seems to be a paradise for women. Where the European woman spends hours to peel the vegetables, prepare the sauce, and season the food, the American woman opens a tin, and the food is ready in five minutes. The American husband seems to spend less time in the kitchen than the European husband does not."

Lavergne finds women in our country to be generally attractive owing to the fact that they wear spare time in which to take care of their appearance. "I do not find in them as much femininity as I do in French women. This feature is balanced by activity that makes them no less attractive."

The visitor's observation of American women are lacking in femininity applies especially to the way they dress. The young blue jeans worn by many of the aged girls in this country, he said, are only a makeshift adaptation of Jean Paul Sartre's mode of dress, however, do not prevent American girls from being attractive, especially the Frenchman, Lavergne has added.

Like many foreign visitors, Lavergne is surprised by the fact that a large country like the United States has no "feminine" parties. "Being a Frenchman, it seems unbelievable that a nation people can be so satisfied choosing between only two or three styles, when 40 million French are not satisfied with 15 or 20 styles. The visitor is amazed to hear people saying that they are not feminists, yet agree with President Eisenhower."

Lavergne's strongest argument from completing his studies, travel in America as extensive as possible in order to know country and its people. He presses particular fondness for Southwest and the openness of the people in this part of the country.

Moose Tyra NIT's Champion; Uhl Weeps In Disappointment

NEW YORK (AP) — There are champions with silver cups and champions with tears. The National Invitation Basketball Tournament had both.

The champ with the hardware was Louisville, which after four unsuccessful tries to survive the quarter-finals, finally got the ideal and mastered Dayton 93-80 in Saturday's finale at Madison Square Garden.

Charlie (Moose) Tyra, a 6-8 junior with a dandy hook and smart rebounding, was the big man for the Cardinals and an unanimous choice as the NIT's most valuable player.

The champ with the tears was Dayton's Bill Uhl, a seven-foot senior and nominee for the U. S. Olympic basketball team whose biggest foe never Louisville or Tyra—but himself.

Uhl wept bitterly but never has approached his top game in the Garden—the one place he's wanted to look best of all.

Like Dayton, never a champ and four times an NIT runner-up in five chances, Uhl missed again Saturday. It may have been one of his better games in the Garden, but it was hidden in Tyra's shadow.

The Louisville pivot time and again got position on Uhl to sink hook shots and get the jump on rebounds.

Tyra outscored Uhl 27-19 and outbounced him 19-10.

Uhl felt the defeat deeply. After accepting one of the wristwatches awarded to members of both finalists, Bill returned to the bench and wept into the warmup robe he clutched in his hands. He had wanted desperately to prove himself to himself.

"I don't know what it's been," he said. "I've always hoped and tried to play my best here, but . . ."

Dayton, despite two losses to Louisville during the regular season, had been top-seeded this time, with Louisville second.

Olympics Committee Plans Contest To Select Basketball Team Members

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The NCAA, NIT, AAU and armed forces champions have their title trophies in hand and all that remains in amateur basketball this season is the task of selecting the U.S. Olympic team that will compete in Melbourne next November.

The Olympic committee has set up a three-day, four-team round robin to decide the team members at Kansas City April 24. Under Olympic rules, the roster will be limited to 12 men—with the round-robin winner contributing at least five but no more than seven.

The other Olympic team members will be selected by the committee from the round-robin rosters.

Each of the four teams will bring a 14-man squad to Kansas City.

The collegians are topped by All-America Bill Russell and K.C. Jones of San Francisco, who whipped Iowa 83-71 for its 55th straight victory and second consecutive NCAA title last weekend.

Louisville, which defeated Dayton 93-80 in the NIT championship Saturday, is not represented on the college roster. The Cardinals' 6-8 Charlie Tyra was the most valuable player in the NIT, but he's only a junior—and the collegiate roster is limited to seniors.

Dayton's runner-up NIT squad, however, contributes seven-foot Bill Uhl and forward Jim Paxson to the Olympic trials.

Other members of the collegiate roster are Willie Naulls, UCLA; Hal Lear, Temple; Joe Holup, George Washington; Paul Judson, Illinois; Gary Bergen, Utah; Carl Cain, Iowa; Chuck Rolley, Cornell; Bob Burrow, Kentucky; Vic Molodet, North Carolina State; and Bill Reigel, McNeese State.

The Seattle Bakers and the Bartlesville Oilers, finalists in the national tournament at Denver last weekend, will represent the AAU. Seattle defeated the defending champion Oilers 59-57 for the title.

The Air Force all-stars, coached by Bruce Drake, on leave from Oklahoma, made the Olympic playoffs by defeating Navy 78-76 for the armed forces title Saturday.

Coaching Staff Of Kansas City Looking Hopefully To Shantz

The Associated Press
Sad, sad Kansas City pitching staff is looking hopefully to a left-hander who has won 11 games in the past three to take over as the big win-

arm. He hasn't been the same since that year, he pitched only 106 innings. In 1954, he threw just eight innings and won one game. Last season, he began to climb the long road back and compiled a 5-10 record and a far-from-sensational 4.54 earned run average.

Last December, his arm was declared "sound" by a physician and when he signed his contract in January, he said it felt good. Shantz, now 30, has been in three games this spring. One was a bad one. He was tagged for seven runs by the Chicago White Sox in 4 2/3 innings. The other two were good. He held Milwaukee to one run in three innings, and Sunday at West Palm Beach he took his longest test, handuffing the Washington Senators for six innings. The A's won the game 13-1.

He was ahead of the hitters most of the way and scattered seven hits while fanning five.

Another big question mark, Saul Rogovin, who has been in and out of the majors for more than a decade, turned in a fine performance for Philadelphia in Clearwater. He tossed four scoreless innings against Boston and the Phillies finally won out in the 10th, 1-0 on Granny Hamner's home run.

At Tampa, the Chicago White Sox licked the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-1 with Jack Harshman giving up just four hits.

Ancient Tommy Byrne, aided by fuzzy-cheeked Ralph Terry, shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-0 for the New York Yankees at Miami. Byrne held the Brooks to two hits for six innings, and Terry, up from Denver, doled out two more the rest of the way.

Elsewhere, the Cleveland Indians edged the New York Giants 4-3 at Tucson; the St. Louis Cardinals stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 at St. Petersburg; the Chicago Cubs battered the Baltimore Orioles 10-5 at Los Angeles, and the Detroit Tigers, 5-2 at Braedenton.

Rule Prohibits Sideboard Hands In Basketball

DALLAS (AP)—Coach E. O. (Doc) Hayes of SMU thinks only one basketball rule change will materially affect the game next season—it will remove a certain menace of big men like Bill Russell of San Francisco.

The National Basketball Committee adopted six rules changes at Chicago Sunday. One of them said "no offensive player may reach above the cylinder to guide an attempted shot into the basket."

Hayes said that Russell used his hands "like sideboards to guide the ball into the basket."

"Russell is graduating and the rules change will have no effect on him but Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the Kansas freshman, will be playing varsity basketball next season," Hayes observed. "This rule change will prevent him doing the same as Russell did with so much effect."

Chamberlain is a 7-footer. Hayes, whose team was Southwest Conference and Western NCAA Regional champion and lost to San Francisco in the NCAA semi-finals, said he figured the thinking of the rules committee in adopting this rule change was to not let a team dominate the game as did San Francisco.

The committee also adopted the 12-foot lane for high schools, although this is not to go into effect until 1957-58. Schools wishing to use the 12-foot lane next season may do so only if the system is put into effect on a state-wide basis.

John Rowland, coach of North Dallas, which played in the Class AAAA schoolboy finals this year, said he was definitely opposed to it.

'Frisco Anchor Favorite Player For Shrine Game

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A West team anchored by Bill Russell of San Francisco and an East squad that includes high-scoring Darrell Floyd of Furman meet tonight in the fifth annual Ararat Shrine All-Star Basketball game.

The tilt is expected to attract a capacity crowd of 10,000 to Municipal Auditorium.

If there's a favorite, it's the West on the basis of Russell's presence in the lineup. Russell, who just got through leading San Francisco to its second straight NCAA championship, is regarded as one of the greatest collegiate defensive goal tenders of all time.

Playing with him will be San Francisco teammate K. C. Jones.

The West, coached by Floyd Stahl of Ohio State, also will offer a great scorer in Robin Freeman, who averaged 32.4 points for Ohio State last winter; Art Bunte of Utah, 21.6, and Russell, 20.6.

Just one Kennecott employee keeps them in business

Studies show that for every job in a basic industry like Kennecott Copper Corporation, three additional jobs are needed in the state to meet company and employee needs.

So Kennecott's 2500 jobs at its Chino Mines Division result in 7500 additional jobs — a total of 10,000 New Mexicans who can trace their earnings to the production of copper by Kennecott.

A payroll of nearly $1,000,000 a month provides just one of the channels through which Kennecott is constantly putting new wealth into circulation in New Mexico.

Don't Expect Too Much

ALL of the probing, the talk, the testifying and the conversation in Washington concerning the lobbies and the making of contributions to campaign funds isn't going to accomplish very much.

There may be a good many things come out of the probe—lots of smoke—but that doesn't mean there are going to be any rigid laws passed to halt the lobbying or to stop these campaign funds.

All political parties need campaign funds. Most candidates need campaign money and they would rather spend donated funds than their own money.

The practice of accepting campaign funds has been carried on for too many years for it to be stopped now since the need prevails. It is also true that lobbying didn't exactly start yesterday.

Often times, of course, lobbying is a good thing. Frequently it brings out certain facts and information regarding legislation both in our state legislatures as well as congress that otherwise the public would not have.

In the passage of the natural gas bill, of course, the money given was for campaign purposes but it appears the timing was definitely bad and it was pretty self evident why the contributions were made at this particular time.

Certainly it did not look good to have these donations at this time. Whether it influenced any votes, of course, is not known and it does not matter insofar as legislation is concerned. President Dwight D. Eisenhower vetoed the bill because of the fact that contributions were made.

Most of us, of course, will agree that we do not want members of congress whose vote can be bought. We definitely want money payments halted and we likewise don't want contributions made to political campaigns at such a time that they leave the impression the gift is being made to influence the members of congress.

We are glad that probes are being made and the facts are being made known as to what contributions have been made and who made them but—don't expect much to be done about it.

The contributions will continue in the future and we will still have lobbying but maybe it won't be handled in the same manner as they were in this particular case.

GOPers Have Ike's Candidacy, But Democrats Have Confusion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The jolly Republicans can sit back at this moment in the presidential campaign, smile happily at the Democrats, and say: "We have President Eisenhower. What have you got?"

What the Democrats have is confusion. Ahead is more of the same.

They don't know who their candidate will be; except for the farm problem, the campaign issues are pretty thin; and they don't know, because of the Southern Democrats' angry mood whether they can keep their party intact.

Until Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee beat him in the Minnesota presidential primary, Adlai Stevenson had the inside track for the party's nomination at next August's convention. Maybe he can make a comeback in other primaries.

But even if Kefauver sweeps them all, proving himself a miracle vote-getter, the convention may turn him down. He's never been a favorite of the big city bosses or the Southern Democrats.

The Democrats can't even feel sure they'll come out of the convention with a whole party. A Southern revolt would just about wreck any chance the party has in 1956.

A revolt may come unless the Southern plank on civil rights and even the tone of the party's candidate through an ever-present threat to turn against him after he convention.

Yet a Democratic candidate who remained tongue-tied on civil rights through fear of losing the Southern vote would, to the rest of the country, be a recognizably weak candidate.

As a sign of trouble ahead, South Carolina Democrats called on all Southern Democrats this week to take a strong stand on states' rights at the convention. They urged all Southern states, Democratic parties to arrange to meet after the convention if they're not satisfied with what happens there. This is a neat nudge to all Democrats outside the South.

The Democrats can't forget that Virginia, Texas, Florida and Tennessee went for Eisenhower in 1952 and may do so again this year no matter what happens at the convention.

But the Democrats have other troubles: except for falling farm income, the other issues in the campaign as they outline them don't have much emotional heat.

The Republicans will make the most of the country's prosperity and peace. The Democrats may warn of the danger of war but as long as this country's isn't involved in one by election day, the warnings may sound hollow.

Even organized labor—at a time when employment is at a peak—sounds quieter than in 1948 and 1952 when the unions made the Taft-Hartley Act, passed by a Republican-run Congress in 1947, a big issue.

Kefauver advocates outright repeal of that act. The man who gets the nomination may do the same. But the Democrats have had control of Congress five of the nine years since then and haven't repealed it.

With Eisenhower running again, the Republicans appear to have a clear edge on the Democrats.

But even with him heading the ticket they can't be completely sure of winning. In the Minnesota primary Democratic votes far outnumbered the Republicans'. What does that mean? The Republicans can't say they have the answer.

It may indicate such widespread discontent among farmers with Eisenhower's policies affecting them that the Republicans will lose the farm states. If that happens, and the Democrats manage to stay together, their chances go up.

He said, however, that he would consider this "a last resort. I hope this step won't be necessary."

As another measure, which he called another "drastic step," Simms said that the Traffic Safety Commission is considering "recommending a program which would establish a demerit system under the driver's license program of the state."

He said this system would provide each driver with so many demerits for each infraction of traffic laws, the number of demerits to depend on the severity of

DID YOU KNOW that the responsibility for budget commission consisting of the state education budget auditor, appointed by the Governor, and two members appointed by the county commissioners?

A. R. Wood, Artesia Public School Business Manager, says that the governing board of education are responsible for submitting estimates for maintenance and direct charge budgets to the county seat of each county for consideration these estimates.

Before budgets can be made on a local basis, available funds for the whole state must be considered since the major portion of school monies is distributed on a percentage basis, determined by the pupil average daily attendance.

The percentage distribution for Eddy County for 1955-56 is .0702255. This percentage is applied to the amount of money available to determine the size of the maintenance budget for Eddy County.

Disbursements are made by warrant, on the county treasurer, signed by the president and secretary of the school board.

Each warrant is charged against the specific item in the budget. The total amount of warrants issued is limited to the total of the budget. Warrants issued must not exceed the funds in the treasurer's office although the budget is sufficient.

In Washington, Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) said one purpose of a manifesto signed by 101 Southern senators and House members was to alert all sections of the nation to what he called Southern determination to win a legal reversal of the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in the schools.

"People in other sections of the nation think we are bluffing about this," he said in a TV interview. "We are not bluffing."

The Mississippi Democrat said there was "lots of room" for enactment of a constitutional amendment to permit continued racial segregation in the public schools but did not indicate such a move is planned.

"I think the association should make every effort to revive the sale," he said.

Directors of the organization, after the membership meeting, re-elected Doak president; C. X. McSherry of Deming, vice president; R. U. Boyd of Carlsbad, vice president; and Parley Jensen of Albuquerque, executive secretary.

As members gathered Sunday for the annual convention of the cattle growers, "we need moisture," the old complaint of New Mexico ranchers, was heard on every hand.

The range picture of the state, all agreed, is much better than in March of any of the preceding five years. Most areas of the state had enough grass for winter grazing. There has been only a little supplemental emergency feeding. Subsoil moisture, in most areas, is still better than for several years, although windstorms in most areas so far this year have taken much moisture from soil.

The program as set up for this morning was for the Junior Cattle Growers Assn. meeting, the general convention session, and at 11:30 a luncheon for visiting leaders.

A meeting of the New Mexico Aberdeen - Angus Cattlemen's Assn. was scheduled this afternoon and the New Mexico Quarter Horse Assn. meeting was to follow. The annual convention ball was to be held tonight.

The New Mexico Palomino Exhibitors Assn. Board of Directors agreed Sunday to again sponsor the Palomino show at the New Mexico State Fair and started the sponsorship of class events in the Santa Fe Horse Show and the Pecos Valley Horse Show in Roswell.

Leon Harms, manager of the State Fair, spoke briefly to the directors. Harms said the New Mexico Palomino group was very healthy compared to similar groups in some neighboring states.

A State Game Protective Assn. meeting was held in connection with the convention Sunday at which a board of directors of the G P A decided to ask Gov. John F. Simms to appoint a new member to the State Game Commission.

Mrs. Dunnam, local Acting Postmaster, feels certain the public, who will benefit most, will welcome the use of these pens, as will post office employees, who have found it difficult to keep good pens and points in service for the use and convenience of Artesia postal patrons. "Ball point pens will be placed into use just as soon as our supply arrives," Mrs. Dunnam said.

issue, Rep. Forrester (D-Ga.) insisted the Supreme Court's decision outlawing segregation is "illegal" and called the Southern manifesto an "immortal" document.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) said it seemed to him "ridiculous to claim that a decision of the Supreme Court is illegal" and said the segregation decision "is a good decision and it is one which must be lived up to."

Margaret Truman's Fiance Ran London News Desk During War

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Letter from New York:

A lot of nice things have been said about Miss Truman's fiance, Cliff Daniel, and I am going to add to them from a particular point of view. During the big war, he ran the day news desk in the Associated Press London office, and I was on his staff for a spell. He is a quiet type, with an easy way and an off-beat sense of humor. But when necessary, he could be a hard driver, and his famous urbanity disappeared.

Nevertheless, he was unfailingly popular with his staff, a fairly acid test of a newspaperman, or of any man.

blasted such "somersaults" as humiliating and said they raised doubt about the "moral integrity" of communism.

Italy: Rome's anti-Communist Socialist newspaper La Giustizia quoted a "very reliable" source as saying Italian Red Leader Palmiro Togliatti had predicted his party would lose one million votes as a result of the anti-Stalin campaign.

East Germany: At a party Congress attended by 5,000 comrades, Deputy Premier Heinrich Rau condemned what he called "hysterical attacks" against party boss Walter Ulbricht, who has approved the new Kremlin line.

Know how to bread fish fillets? Beat an egg with a couple of tablespoons of cold water. Dip the fillets into the egg, then into fine dry bread crumbs.

Joe Alex Morris has written a honey of a book about the year 1929 called, "What a Year." What a year, indeed! The book mowed me down like a train because I graduated from college in 1929. The world was a lovely looking oyster then, a whole plate of oysters.

We were all going to sell stocks and bonds and play the market and be millionaires at 25, if not sooner. But October and "Black Thursday" were soon to come, and presently I was working on a newspaper for $12 a week and hugging my job for dear life.

What can ever forget that year?

Adlai Stevenson was here a while back and a theatrical producer gave a cocktail party for him at a restaurant in the theater district. Most of the guests were actors and actresses accustomed to attracting all of the attention themselves. But such is the lure of politics that they crowded around Stevenson oh-ing -a-nd-ah-ing and one lady said, "I just want to tell you that I think you're wonderful."

Stevenson, a man seldom at a loss for words, could only run his fingers around his collar, murmuring, "Well - ah - well, I'm sure I - well, thank you very much."

Ever hear of a "three-course vegetable lunch?"

It is described in "Native Stone," a new novel about architects. It consists, says the author, of the following—

A martini with an olive, a martini with lemon, and a martini with an onion.

Ike's Illness Lifts Curtain Letting Light On Heart Cases

By RELMAN MORIN
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's illness has had some interesting and far-reaching effects on the whole story of heart trouble in the United States.

It is as though a curtain had been pulled, letting in a lot of light.

This thought struck me forcibly during some recent political pulse-taking along the Atlantic seaboard. I talked with politicians and corporation heads, but most with plain John Smith, the voter, and his wife. The question of the President's physical condition naturally figured in most of these conversations.

Several things emerged. People now have a very good idea of exactly what happens in a "heart attack."

Newspapers published an immense amount of basic information and explanation, along with charts and diagrams, after the President was stricken. In short, the ABC's of this disability are pretty well known now whereas, before, it was a mysterious and terrifying subject to most of us.

Also, business executives discovered that they have more cardiac cases in their organization than they realized. "I was surprised about some in this office," said a New York business leader. "I never would have suspected them."

Two Homemakers Attend Meeting In Albuquerque

Marion Simmons, Elsie De-Anda and her adviser, Helen Johnson of the Future Homemakers of America, attended a State Executive Council Meeting on the University of New Mexico campus at Albuquerque last week.

Miss Simmons represented Artesia High School and District II at the state-wide meeting which was attended by 42 high school students.

At the Executive Council Meeting of the Future Homemakers of America, Miss Simmons worked on a committee to choose delegates to the National meeting at Chicago this summer, to choose a national committee member, an officer candidate, and an All-State chorus member.

Marion Simmons is District II president and is working with Miss Hendrix, the state adviser, in planning the district II meeting. Marion attended a backward party Friday night and the Red Rose Banquet at La Placita Saturday night.

Still another result seems to have been that people who had heart attacks have lost some of their fear about discussing the problem. I met several who, in discussing the coming election, quietly volunteered the information that they had been through the same experience as Eisenhower. I mentioned the fact that I had Incidentally, three out of four said they would vote for him, though one man said he thought the President was "foolish" to undertake a second term.

Another story seems funny to me. The man who lived through pains in his chest and an occasional flutter, and who had had heart trouble, he told me, said he could not help himself to see his doctor and the verdict. Instead, he had spasms of dread. Then the President's case steered him to an examination. It showed a normal dislocation.

All he needed, he said, was a built-up shoe!

Unquestionably, some of the panic and terror about heart disease has been dispelled simply by the publicity the President's attack brought to it.

People know that thousands of others have had attacks, and that they, and gone on to live long and useful lives. They know "cardiac" is not an invalid.

Statistics in the United States are sometimes called "vicious." But the odds are still heavily in your favor that you won't be attacked. One corporation, which had had a number of cases in a given year, discovered that it amounted to exactly 1 out of every 100 employees.

It seems certain, too, that money now will go to research into the causes of heart disease. Heart-fund organizations are not having not fared well, respectively, although the need is thought which believes that the harmful, that it may induce anxiety and apprehension, and happens actually bring on heart attacks.

But there is also a saying, "truth shall set you free."
