MARCUS GRIFFIN'S
WATCHING POST

Happy

FRITZ FALKENBURG made us glad some the other rainy afternoon. The rains came & Fritz, true to form blossomed out in a rain defying outfit. High boots, large hat, water repellent kind & a rain fighting cravat. That's what we need Fritz, more clothes to suit the weather. It almost made us sally forth to our igloo & don shoes, parka, snow binders & snow shoes. For when Cape Cod is with us, Hudson Bay can't be far ahead.

Veterans View

CLAUDE FERNANDEZ is home & in mufti. His view hasn't changed due to his experiences overseas. He doesn't think he did anything more than thousands of other fellows. All he wants now is to get back into homefront action. His first homefront experience was with rationing. Both Claude & old-time buddy Henry Ogas, also discharged have learned to their consternation they can no longer answer chow call & scoff at the trough. Now, they must rummage around and have points, ration books & all that stuff. "There's some consolation in being a soldier after all," sadly declared Fernandez. "Si, si, senior. Pass the biscuits to me pappy," agreed Ogas.

Trademarks

BERT BRADBURY was in town yesterday from Texas. Ordinarily we don't even talk to Texans because up in Mora county they frighten little buttons by threatening them with Tejanos. But, Bert being a sort of sociable hombre we stopped long enough to cut a touch with him. Bert said he is a direct descendant of Robert Travis who was an uncle of some sort. If you know what we mean. Anyway, Bradbury stated that Travis had webbed toes & every so often some boy in the family has webbed toes, which brings the family around to naming the babe Travis. Clan was stumped when Brad arrived because he didn't have webbed toes, but possessed ears which he could wriggle like a rabbit. So, best that they could do was name him Bert. . . . Anyhow, Mack Colvard feels an affinity for Bradbury because he can twist his upper lip like a cottontail. Which reminds me we knew a case once. The boy was named Fertilizer because his father's name was Ferdinand & his mammy's Eliza & wanting to name the boy after both they called him Fertilizer.

Conceit

SOME PEOPLE are forever branded as conceited due to their self confidence. We got to meditating on the topic while waiting outside a gimball the other eventide for a character we knew. It recalled the admonition of our Aunt Mary Griffin who used to say, "Don't be afraid to think too highly of yourself. If the Creator made you and is not ashamed of the job, certainly you should not be. He pronounced His work good, and you should respect it."

Thanks Fellows

REV. RALPH CHANNON, REV. PETE TRONE, Bob Cunningham, Bill Godfrey, Bob Pritchett, Ken Davis & a host of others deserve a community bow for their efforts in behalf of community recreation. These men are bending their efforts toward the making of a better Carlsbad. We need more public spirited men who are willing to donate their time for the betterment of the greater number. Thanks fellows for showing us the way.

TO FARM FOR VACATION

JUDGE McGEE HERE

District Court was in session Monday and Tuesday of this week, Judge James B. McGee, presiding. "Not much on the docket except divorces," said the judge Tuesday.

It's Wash Day for Jap Prisoners

Sights such as the above were viewed by Eddy County soldiers, sailors and marines who fought on Okinawa. Among the Eddy County men who met the Jap face to face are Kenneth Allen, USN, Cottonwood, Sgt. Ivis Boykin, Artesia, Pfc. Orlando Fernandez, Pvt. C. L. Conway, Pvt. William C. Loman, Pfc. Alejandro Ruiz, Pfc. Joe Sims, all of Carlsbad and Pfc. Teddy Briggs, Artesia. Pvt. Ernie Howard, Artesia was killed on Okinawa on April 26. The above photos, taken on Okinawa give Eddy County residents some idea of the prisoner of war compound and the sights therein viewed by county men. Scenes picture the daily routine of Jap prisoners. The prisoners in the top photo are shown hard at work doing their laundry, which they later dry on the camp's barbed wire. Two hard-boiled prisoners (bottom) pose not too prettily for the Yank lensman. Their dug-out is covered with two shelter halves to make it more comfortable. One of them has managed to acquire a pair of U. S. shoes and a cap. (International)

Twelve Bodies Brought Here From Saturday Wreck Arizona - Based Bomber

All twelve of the bodies from the four-engine bomber, which wrecked Saturday night at 10:30, 20 miles east of Salt Flat, Texas, have been brought to Carlsbad to the West Funeral Home.

The plane was based at Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Arizona, and was on routine flight, officials said.

When the accident was reported Saturday night by a pilot of American Airlines, who heard the crash and saw the fire, Capt. J. H. Alexander, A. C., Capt. L. S. Orleans, M. C., and Bill Lewis, state police, started for the scene. So rugged was the country, they did not arrive until 7:30 Sunday morning.

Under direction of Capt. Orleans, Lewis said, the rescue party carried the twelve bodies between one-half and three-quarters of a mile, since the terrain was such that not even a jeep could drive in.

Two ambulances were used to bring the bodies into Carlsbad. Captain Alexander made preliminary investigations of the crash.

Col. W. H. Reed, commanding officer of Carlsbad Army Air Field, has released the list of names of those in the ill-fated plane. They are:

1st. Lt. James H. Couch, 23, the airplane commander, whose wife resides at 725 East 5th St. in Tucson, Arizona; Flight Officer James A. Thomas, 22, the pilot, whose wife lives at 2539 4th St., Tucson; 2nd. Lt. James M. Greene, 23, the navigator, whose wife lives at 1134 North Highland, Tucson;

1st. Lt. Joseph J. Nennen, 28, bombardier instructor, whose wife resides at 2343 South 6th Ave., Tucson; Corporal Arisco

3 Gaines Boys In Navy

Sons of Mrs. F. S. Gaines Carry Carlsbad Banner On High Seas

The Navy claimed the three Gaines boys, sons of Mrs. F. S. Gaines, 108 South Ash, Carlsbad. George Benjamin Gaines is 29, is married and has a wife who lives in Alameda, Calif. Before entering the service, he was an employee of the Potash Company of America. Now he is a first class officer.

Next comes Deurell Harold Gaines, 25. This son has received his medical discharge and is now at home. He attained the rank of S-2/c, and before induction he was a picture salesman.

Frank Smith Gaines Jr., 19, is the youngest, and was in school when he was called into service. He has a rating of electrician 2/c.

MRS. F. S. GAINES
Mrs. Gaines glows with pride when she mentions her boys, for she is proud of them, and well she should be. They have been a credit to their family and to their country.

County Agent Begins Program

Dallas Rierson, county farm agent, and Miss Doris Mardis, of home extension, have already begun the campaign against farm accidents, and will make special effort to bring before the farm people the many things they may do toward prevention of accidents, with designation of July 22 to 28 as "Farm Safety Week."

Miss Mardis said she was now preparing and sending out to the nine 4-H clubs of the county, material for the programs they are to carry out, and she will incorporate "Safety" in her radio talks given each Monday over KAVE at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Rierson said he was incorporating articles on prevention of accidents in the press releases each week. He will also tell of how accidents can be prevented on his 7:30 hour on the radio each Tuesday morning.

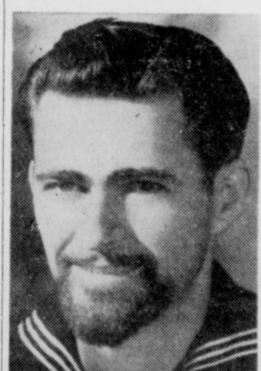

The need for a National Farm Safety Week is emphasized by the findings that between 40 and 50 farm dwellers are killed by accidents each day, making an annual death toll of 15,000 to 17,000, Mr. Rierson said.

At the banquet which followed the final session, Don West, Ray Grandi and Morris Roberson were awarded a first in the poultry judging contest. Rainfall Worth Millions 'Saves' Eddy County From Its Worst Drought Livestock Industry Was At Stake. Rain Fills Tanks, Makes Grass Grow. Producers Had Begun to Lose Their Cattle From Lack of Feed and Water. Value Inestimable.

A rain, estimated to be worth $5,000,000 which began Sunday night fell over the drought stricken area of southeastern New Mexico, filling tanks long dry and causing the ranges to take on new life.

Farmers and stockmen are happy again as cool weather, water and feed bring relief.

The drought was the worst in twenty years, according to official estimates.

North Seven Rivers overflowed the tracks at Lakewood and train schedules were hampered for a short time.

John R. Joyce, of the National Livestock company, said "The life of the livestock industry was at stake. It was the driest I have ever seen since I came back to New Mexico twenty years ago. Farmers and stockmen stood to lose the accumulation of years, until the rain came."

Joyce said conditions were worse now during a sectional drought than in times past, as formerly a grower could move his stock to greener pastures, but now there is no land to be had in this state.

Dallas Rierson, county agent, said he could make no estimate as to the value of the rain; that farmers had already begun to lose their stock from lack of grass and water. "This," he said, "will fill the tanks and start the grass growing again." He expressed the hope that the storm will continue since it has been spotty throughout the county, a good rain falling two miles this side of Hope, while in Hope and beyond, rainfall has been light.

Residents of Ruidoso section said at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning not one drop of rain had fallen there.

With grass seared and tanks dry, some producers had already begun to move their cattle to Kansas and Missouri in an effort to save them.

International Votes for CIO Unionism

Workers Select Local 415 As Bargaining Agent . . . Gives CIO Domination of Nation's Potash Industry

The Congress of Industrial Organizations, through its affiliate, The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers won a smashing victory over the American Federation of Labor on Tuesday when its Local 415, Carlsbad Potash Workers was voted as the bargaining agency for all employees at the International Minerals & Chemical Corp. mine and refinery, Carlsbad. The AFL local, International Chemical Workers Union, Local 158 has been the bargaining agency in the past for the workers at International Minerals & Chemical Corp.

The CIO received 232 votes, the AFL 39, one ballot was void and 211 workers eligible to vote failed to ballot. The reason given for the large number failing to vote was that the rain and bus schedules prevented workers' participation in the election.

CIO DOMINANT

The triumph at International gives the CIO dominance in the industry. It holds union contractual bargaining rights at Potash Company of America, International Minerals & Chemical Corp. and the mine of the United States Potash Company, all Carlsbad and a contract with the American Potash Company, Trona, California. It has before the War Labor Board at present a petition requesting an election for bargaining rights for workers at the United States Potash Company refinery, Loving.

WILL START NEGOTIATIONS

C. D. Smothermon, president of Local 415 told the Eddy County News that he expected a certification would be received shortly from the War Labor Board designating the CIO as the bargaining agent at International Minerals. He said that his union expected to launch contract negotiations with the International Minerals management not later than August 1. The CIO is operating under a contract at Potash Company of America and a stipulation agreement at United States Potash Company mine until a complete contract can be negotiated there, Smothermon said.

SMOTHERMON YOUNGSTER

Credited with being the organizer and force behind the successful campaign to make the entire potash industry CIO, Smothermon is only 26 years of age. He came to Carlsbad 4 years ago from Texas. He has been employed at the Potash Company of America as a pipe fitter.

Homefront Presents Problems For Discharged Veterans

It's nice to be home again and good to be a civilian, but the homefront presents problems for five Carlsbad combat veterans who were discharged from the armed forces.

They had to register for Selective Service, obtain ration books, secure jobs and make arrangements for their chow, the latter one problem which didn't bother them when they were in uniform.

Some will rest a few weeks, then seek employment, others will complete their education, interrupted when they entered the army. They have come to the realization that the homefront wartime population is faced with difficulties too, rationing being the principal gripe of the civilian.

The men discharged under the army point system are combat veterans of Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany. They are Claude Fernandez, Henry Ogas, Jose Luna, Reynaldo Chavarria and Braulio Rocha.

The reconversion problem of the veteran is just as keen as that of the postwar civilian, one veteran told the Eddy County News. However, we must all do our part to get the war over and now that I am a civilian I am going to see to it the boys aren't let down, he concluded.

BRO DINNER GIVEN THURSDAY NIGHT

A Meal for a Small Family

By BETSY NEWMAN
 ONLY the smallest amounts of meat are available to the small family with today's high ration points on all meat and fats. I'm a little worried about the person who lives alone. I know some who don't eat meat at all any more, concentrating on cheese, vegetables, eggs, and fish. For the small family one pound or half a pound of low point meat is allowable once or twice a week, and I'm giving you a recipe which will serve six to eight. Use one fourth of the recipe if you live alone.

 1/2 c. uncooked rice
 2 tsp. margarine or drippings
 1 medium onion, minced
 1 lb. beef, chuck or neck, cut in cubes
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. paprika
 1 c. chopped celery
 1/2 c. chopped green pepper
 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed tomato soup

Cook rice in boiling, salted water, rinse and drain. Melt fat in frying pan, add onion and meat cubes, cook until brown; add seasonings. Arrange rice, meat and vegetables in alternate layers in oiled baking dish, having a layer of rice on bottom and on top. Pour tomato soup over all. Cover dish and bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours. Serves 6 to 8.

Marmalade Tarts
 Put a thin layer of pastry on an inverted baking pan; spread with a thick marmalade or any filling that does not run. Cover with another thin layer. Cut into strips four inches by one and a half. Bake in quick oven (400-450 degrees F.). When cool, spread with a thin icing made of confectioners' sugar and water, and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts.

CLOTHING DRIVE IS UNDERWAY AT CARLSBAD FIELD

A drive for used clothing is being conducted among the families of servicemen and War Department civilian employees at Carlsbad Army Air Field during the next two weeks. The campaign will be handled by the Volunteer Utilization Branch of the National Association of Air Force Women.

Mrs. George Jackson, head of the clothing committee, stated that any clothing that is still servicable—excluding items of government issue or distinctive parts of army uniforms—is badly needed. All clothing collected in the two week period will be sent to Europe to help rehabilitate the civilian populace, Jackson said. Clothing bins are located at the CAAF Service Club, NCO Club, Officers Club, and Civilian Club.

They are feeding us so little in restaurants nowadays that when they invite us to come again we feel like accepting the invitation immediately.

The War Isn't Over--The Japs Must Be Beaten--

How long will it take to beat JAPAN?

One Year? Three Years? Five Years? Look at these Facts... From the Army and Navy. Then Figure it Out for Yourself!

In spite of Midway, Bougainville, Tarawa, Saipan, Leyte, Manila, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, and all the other American victories, Japan now controls an area and population far larger than the United States, and with many natural resources greater than ours.

Her home islands are industrialized and organized to the last rivet, the last kilowatt of power, the last pair of human hands.

Japan can put in the field over 4,000,000 well-trained, battle-hardened troops, many with ten years of war behind them. This force is twice as large as all the German armies which defended France, the low countries and the Western front of the Reich against the combined armies of the United States, Britain, Canada and the Free French.

Back of these soldiers are more than 70 million civilians on the Jap home front, firmly indoctrinated in emperor worship—every man, woman and child ready and eager to die for the man they believe is a god.

Japan is fighting on "interior" lines. It's true that its fleet is now much smaller than ours. But never forget that the U. S. Navy has a much bigger job to do.

The Japs have stated, and no thinking man or woman doubts it, that they are prepared to sacrifice 10,000,000 men to hold their empire. To the Japanese, life is cheap. The emperor and the state mean everything—the individual, nothing.

If the war were to end tomorrow, Japan would have put the seal on a conquest greater than Napoleon's.

"But," you say, "the war with Japan won't end tomorrow."

Well, what about it? Will it end "tomorrow," or next month or next year, for you? Are you planning to quit your war job, stop your blood donations, slacken your Bond buying, use more gas, have more fun, ease up generally?

Before you do, remember that many a gallant American boy, now vibrant with the breath of life, will die at the hands of the Japs.

How many? Thousands? Certainly. Hundreds of thousands? Probably!

Well, how many? That's up to you.

How you can help

- 1 Keep that war job!
- 2 Keep buying Bonds!
- 3 Keep doing all your country asks!

How Sober Hoskins Got His Name

Everybody kids Sober Hoskins about his name. Of course, they allow that it's appropriate. Sober never drinks anything stronger than a glass of beer. And a harder worker in the fields there never was.

"Shucks," says Sober's dad. "We named Sober 'Sober' just because he looked that way when he was born. Like we called his sister 'Gay,' and his other sister 'Prissy.' And it's had its effect on all of 'em," he adds with spirit. (Prissy is the old maid in the Hoskins family.)

From where I sit, there may be something in what Sober's dad says. Naming children after virtues is a fine old American custom. Look at the names of our pioneers and pilgrims: Faith, Pious, Charity, Hope, Ernest.

Maybe we should use such names more often. And one I'd like to add is "Tolerance." If we all had Tolerance for a middle name, and lived up to it, we'd have a better, happier world.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Genesis 3-9.

In the Garden of Eden the serpent was the most subtle beast, and he tempted Eve to eat of the fruit of the tree of knowledge, and finding it good, she gave some to Adam and he did eat.

Adam and Eve had two sons, Cain and Abel; each sacrificed unto the Lord, and Abel's sacrifice was accepted, but Cain's was not, which so angered Cain that he rose up against Abel, and killed him.

As men multiplied in the earth, they became wicked, and God began to be sorry He had made man, and decided to destroy every living thing; so He told one good man, Noah, to build an ark.

For 40 days and nights the rain descended, but at last it ceased; the ark landed, and a rainbow signified that there never would be another flood. MEMORY VERSE—Gen. 8:22.

Kenneth Allen, U. S. Navy, who was in the Pacific theatre, and on Okinawa for the past four months, returned here a few days ago on an emergency furlough, because of the death of his father, Mr. Sidney Allen, of Amarillo, Texas. Kenneth is wearing one battle star, as he was slightly burned when three Japanese suicide planes struck his ship.

The Allen family lived in Cottonwood several years, and farmed one of Glen O'Bannon's farms before moving to Amarillo a few months ago. Mr. Allen had been in poor health for some time, although just before he suffered the fatal heart attack, he told members of the family that he was feeling better than he had for some time. Funeral services and burial services were held in Amarillo.

Kenneth will be accompanied to California by his mother, Mrs. Sidney Allen, and his brother, Dickie Allen, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Allen has three other sons in the army and navy.

Miss Lucile Norris, a teacher at Santa Rosa high school, who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Norris of Hagerman, and her sisters, Mrs. Roy Laman, Mrs. J. L. Taylor, and Miss Dorothy Norris of Cottonwood, left Friday for Fort Collins, Colo., where she will attend Teacher's Summer School. She also plans to attend the Teacher's convention in Las Cruces.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Holt, and family of Odessa, Texas, visited a few days with Mr. Holt's aunt, Mrs. G. W. Holt, in Cottonwood. They left Friday afternoon for their home.

Rev. and Mrs. Chester Rogers and son Kenneth of Lake Arthur, left Monday for Albuquerque, where they will attend to business matters, and visit their daughter and family a few days.

The Cottonwood Women's club will meet for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Bill Ross in Artesia on July 5th at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marable of Hopi, recently visited Mrs. Marable's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Prentice of Cottonwood.

THE MARRY-GO-ROUND FOR THE WOMEN

BY HELEN ROWLAND

DIVORCE - A DOUBTFUL CURE

There is a right and a wrong side to everything; and to the rosate divorce cloud is not more than one person nor even "German silver"

DOUBTFUL DELIVERANCE

Most unhappy young wives think of divorce as a deliverance. But it is a doubtful deliverance which permits a woman to get rid of the burdens and bondage of a home, for the light-hearted of a nine-to-five war job or the unshackled gaiety of a desk; and allows her to take orders from a "boss," ignoring orders from her husband.

NOT HAPPY SOLUTION

Divorce is not always the Happy Hunting Ground. It is a panacea to which a man looks forward, either. Of course, him of the obligation to go home every night for dinner, afford him a chance to eat far more often in restaurants, it affords it, and to pay three dollars for a minute steak, clean his own brushes, find his own clothes, go with a tonic and get as sick as he likes.

LIKE OPERATION

In short, it gives a man a chance to live in the fear of woman's smile, instead of in the fear of one woman's frown. And it gives a woman a chance to listen to a lot of men instead of one man's alibi.

NO. DIVORCE, LIKE A SURGICAL OPERATION, MAY BE NECESSARY, AS A LAST RESORT; BUT IT IS NOT ANYTHING TO BE JOYOUS TO LOOK FORWARD TO, AS SOME GIRLS SEEM TO THINK.

NEWS on the RURAL FRONT

Lower Cotton, Weak Stock Marks Ranch Products

Lower cotton prices and some weakness on livestock were more than offset by strength on other southwest farm products during the last week of June, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

EGGS UNCHANGED

The recent advance in egg prices brought little change in the market situation generally with supplies gradually decreasing in both quality and quantity while demand remains active. Current receipt eggs are bringing mostly around 32 to 33 cents a dozen in Fort Worth and Dallas, 34 to 36 in Denver. New Orleans reported too few arrivals to quote during most of the week. Poultry offerings have increased slightly during the past few weeks but continue to sell readily at ceiling levels. Hens are quoted around 25 to 26 cents a pound in Dallas and Fort Worth, 24 1/2 to 25 in Denver.

CATTLE INCREASE

Cattle receipts increased slightly at the nation's 12 major livestock markets but were offset by lighter sheep and hog receipts. Fort Worth received about half of the nation's offerings of sheep, and reported mostly steady prices along with other southwest markets. However, some weak spots on sheep and lambs developed further north where receipts of southwest spring lambs increased.

TOPS FOR SPRINGERS

Top prices for choice springers were $14.50 in Fort Worth, $15.25 in Oklahoma City and $16 in Denver. Good grades sold up to $12.50 per cwt. in San Antonio. Southwest cattle markets varied from steady to weak. Houston and San Antonio fell in the steady to strong bracket, while Fort Worth and Oklahoma City had weak spots on both slaughter and stocker offerings, and Wichita was easy on butcher steers, yearlings and cows. Denver quoted a new high of $17.30 per cwt. on choice steers, while Fort Worth's top grade was $16. Medium grade cows were selling as high as $11 per cwt. at Texas markets and in Wichita at the close of the week, while late sales in Oklahoma City reached $11.50. Hog markets continued active at fully steady prices with most sales around the ceiling. Top butchers brought $14.55 per cwt. at Fort Worth and San Antonio, $14.45 in Oklahoma City and Wichita, and $14.75 in Denver.

WHEAT GAINS

Wheat regained part of the previous week's loss while oats and sorghum grains continued to strengthen under a good demand. New crop sorghums are available in south Texas, but most receipts sold at a discount because the grain was out of condition. Wheat movement is increasing although the shortage of cars hampers movement. On June 29, Fort Worth quoted No. 1 hard ordinary wheat at $1.70 per bushel, bulk, in carlots; sorghum grains at $2.52 per cwt.; No. 3 Texas Red oats at 78 cents a bushel.

Cotton prices continued to slide downward, losing 25 to 75 cents a bale at the principal southwest markets. On June 29, Middling 15/16 inch was quoted at 22.35 cents a pound in Dallas, Houston and New Orleans, 22.43 in Galveston, and 22.40 in Little Rock.

Receipts Needed For Milk

Acceptable evidence of farm milk production has been limited to milk statements or sales receipts. The revision became effective on July 1 when payments on April-May-June production began.

The new regulation, which does not apply to producer-distributors, defines acceptable evidence as milk statements or sales receipts issued by cooperatives, dairies, creameries, and others, showing the amount of milk or butterfat purchased, the date of purchase, and the names of the sellers and buyers. Producer-distributors may personally certify the amount of milk and butterfat sold, number of cows milked, amount and type of feed used, and customers served, provided that the report is consistent with the AAA county committee's knowledge of the individual producer-distributor's business.

URGENT 4-H CLUBBERS TO CHECK ACCIDENTS

4-H Club boys and girls are urged to go the limit in checking accident hazards on farms this year. Authorities emphasize that due to labor shortage, farm families must work longer hours and the resulting fatigue makes them less alert. Also farmers must employ as helpers young people with no previous experience in farm work, who may fail to recognize hazards. Preventable accidents on farms result in the death of 17,000 members of farm households and the injury of 1,500,000 annually. This toll seriously affects production of farm food. In time lost due to farm accidents last year, seven bushels of wheat could have been produced for each of the 137,000,000 persons in the United States.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

Quality Beef To Market

Market reports indicate that producers are sending considerably more quality beef to market than they usually do. In the first week in June more than 16,000 choice and prime steers arrived at Chicago—more than four times as many as for the same week in 1944. In April feeders sent to the Chicago market twice as many choice and prime steers as in the same month last year.

Reports from other markets also indicate unusually large marketings of finished cattle.

Ranching Can Be Hazardous Work

Almost as dangerous as machinery, livestock help make farming and ranching the world's most hazardous industry. One run-away can wipe out years of training, besides injuring a good team. A bull, an old boar, a sow with pigs, or even a vicious goat or ram can cause a serious injury.

Here are a few practical hints from Lee Gould, state chairman for the National Safety Council:

Handle young stock gently but firmly before breaking and during training. A mean horse or mule is sometimes docile when handled by a person in whom it has confidence.

Speak to an animal before entering the stall; if it's too nervous, stroke its neck or back.

Keep gear and harness in good repair. Ring the nose of the bull, and use a leader. A safe-keeper bull pen can also save lives.

Human beings are susceptible to many animals; use every precaution in treating sick animals and disposing of dead ones.

Household Hints

When stacking your dishes before washing, be sure to stack in neat piles according to size. You'll avoid a toppling crash that may occur when soiled dishes are jumbled on the drainboard.

FATS REMAIN CRITICAL ITEM IN VITAL EFFORT

Every housewife in Eddy County is urged to save all used fats to build up a depleted national reserve and help head off any further cut in hard-to-get civilian items containing fats and oils, Gordon H. Wood, District Representative, WFA's Office of Supply, announced this week.

Reduction in output of many civilian items several weeks ago was necessary because the national stockpile of fats and oils is the lowest in two years and further drains cannot be placed on the dwindling supply now.

Collections in the state of New Mexico so far this year are running ahead of those for the same period last year, according to current OPA records. For the first three months, 42,941 pounds were turned in by housewives, compared to 32,832 pounds last year.

"It's even dangerous to spray ditches that will later carry water to cotton fields. Apparently irrigation water leaches enough spray from dead weeds to effect the growth of cotton plants."

WARNING SOUNDED NEW WEED KILLERS MAY DESTROY COTTON

A warning that some of the most promising of the new weed killers may also injure a cotton crop was sounded today by Glen Staten, associate agronomist of the New Mexico Experiment Station. He specifically referred to 2,4-D sprays containing 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid.

"Until more is known about the effect of the sprays on cotton plants, don't run the risk of getting the material on your cotton land," he advised farmers.

Miss Mardis urges all women to take note of this announcement and if they are interested to learn more about preparing foods for freezing to plan to be present at this demonstration.

Farmers Getting Priorities Break

Though the shortage of farm machinery and supplies continues, government agencies are doing what they can to give farmers a break.

A new War Production Board regulation gives farmers a priority of AA-2 on farm supplies and repair service. When a farmer needs priority, he must give his dealer a signed certificate indicating that the supplies or repairs are needed in the operation of his farm.

In emergencies, WPB has arranged to give the farmer priority of AAI by letter, telegram, telephone, or personal visit.

According to A. E. Triviz, extension economist, farmers can buy most of the items covered by the new regulation without certificates. "However, for certain items, a priority is necessary," he said. "A dealer must be unable to replace certain stock unless he can turn in certificates. Furthermore, a farmer who presents a certificate can buy any farm supplies a dealer has in stock."

COMING OF AGE

Carlsbad and Artesia are suffering growing pains. They are coming of age and prior to their arrival as cosmopolitan cities they are undergoing the same changes in general appearances, viewpoints and understandings as all young cities.

Neither Carlsbad or Artesia will be able to achieve their rightful places in New Mexico without proper leadership. That is a commodity sadly lacking in both cities. We need men and women capable of taking the bit in their teeth and carrying the ball of progress forward. It is important that these leaders be selected so that the future development of both Artesia and Carlsbad will be along sane, sound, yet constructive and progressive lines.

We need leadership. The postwar isn't in the future, it is upon us. It is time for realization of our needs. If we are to progress we should be looking around for leadership in our endeavors.

THEY ARE HOME

At least fifteen Carlsbad boys are home from the wars and back in civilian clothes. They look different to many of us now that they are no longer the heroes in uniform. But our obligation to these fighting men remain. The Eddy County News slogan, "A job for every veteran and a veteran for every job" should be adopted by every businessman. We owe these veterans an obligation not easily erased. We must discharge this obligation. Let us impress upon these returned veterans that the great promises we made when they were marching away were sincere. Let us emphasize that opportunity awaits them and they are welcome home.

A CREDITABLE MOVE

The move underway in Carlsbad to form a junior chamber of commerce is a creditable one which should receive the support of the graybeards in the senior chamber. Returning veterans, younger businessmen and women have felt the need for a mutual society of interests, enabling them to act in unison in their endeavors to improve their status from a youth standpoint.

A junior chamber of commerce would blend in objectives and interests with the senior members, enabling young businessmen and women to work out their own problems from a progressive standpoint and to air their views among themselves. The junior chamber of commerce project should receive the hearty support of the senior members.

HOW ABOUT IT, JOHN?

Dear Mr. Hartford:

I am in need of $200,000. I edit and publish a country newspaper. Please send the money to me. I am unimportant, can't do you any favors, but you were so ready and willing to let another man have $200,000 without security I feel certain you'll lend it to a country editor. How about it John? I am not a president, nor am I a president's son, but I do have influence with Harry Cameron.

WHAT ARE YOU WORTH?

Does this question embarrass you? Would you prefer not to answer it? Do you hide behind the excuse that it is a sacred secret and you do not wish to talk about it?

What are you worth to God? It is a question that transcends in importance all others. What you think of God who has given you life, opportunity, blessings and privileges, largely discloses your sense of gratitude, obligation, and personal character.

What are you worth to God?
Does He use you in His plan?
Can He depend on you?
Are you His kind of man?

What are you worth to God?
Are you always staunch and true?
Do you work unselfishly?
What does He want from you?

What are you worth to God?
Is your purpose high and pure?
Have you surrendered self?
Will your daily deeds endure?

What are you worth to God?
Do you serve Him well today?

You can boast yourself somebody,
But you can't fool God!
Is He satisfied with you?
What are you worth? Can you say?

If you are a youth this question is particularly pertinent. Youth is the period of building habits, hopes and faith. It is the time of enterprise and energy. Youth, with swift feet, walks forward to

When you answer the question: "What are you worth to God?" Think of this:
You'll go to school and college, spend years with book and pen, to acquire an education. Maybe true, but what then? You'll enter into business, do things within your ken, become perchance, employer. Maybe true, but what then?

You'll pile up heaps of money, in thousands, say plus ten, call yourself successful. Maybe true, but what then? You'll accumulate

Women Make No Progress As Congressional Members | Rep. Douglas Says Few Of Sex Enter Politics

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Rep. Emily Taft Douglas (D) of Illinois, predicts it will be a long time before a woman would be wise to run for president.

The number of women voted into office in the last election decreased, Mrs. Douglas pointed out—although women did 60 per cent of the voting.

There is one more woman in Congress this year. But Mrs. Douglas said that "only puts the number back to what it was 15 years ago."

Few women, she declares, are entering national politics. "One reason is that this career is hard to combine with being a wife and mother," she explains. "If a man is elected to Congress, his wife moves to Washington. But the husband's business makes it impossible for him to trail along if his wife is elected."

Further, she says, women are not willing gamblers. A political career does not offer the security the average woman wants.

MIDWESTERN NEIGHBORLINESS fairly radiated from the White House when President Truman invited 1936 and 1944 Republican candidates Alfred E. Landon and Thomas E. Dewey to visit the presidential mansion.

Prefacing the conference between President Truman and former President Herbert Hoover on the world food problem, White House Secretary Charles Ross made public the chief executive's invitation to the two Republican nominees to "drop in to talk at any time they care to."

CUPID APPEARED to be in a slump as the Commerce department reported eight per cent less marriages for April than in the same month of 1944.

Only 39,725 marriage licenses were issued in April, compared with 43,032 the year before and 45,783 in April, 1943.

Reflecting Cupid's current defeatist attitude, the department report added, morosely, that "obviously, not all licenses will result in marriages."

IT'S A LITTLE BIT TOO EARLY to talk about Christmas, but not for manufacturers who already are thinking about Santa Claus' next visit.

In Washington moves have gotten under way to make Christmas, 1945, somewhat brighter than those of other war years.

WPB has removed restrictions on making new tree light sets, and this is expected to remove a shortage of bulbs which has existed for the past several years.

It is probable that new electric trains will be available, for WPB plans to help the toy train industry to get scarce metals to resume limited output of the toy—for the first time since 1942.

Some bicycles may be available, as WPB has removed manufacturing restrictions provided the producers can get materials. But do not look for tricycles for smaller children. The WPB's toy division says that wheel goods manufacturers are still tied up in war work and will continue to be until 1946.

LOOK FOR A POINT SYSTEM of discharges for the Marine Corps in the next 90 days. Plans are only being formulated, but some system is to be worked out.

The reason behind it is that, although the war in which they have best shown their abilities is still on, there aren't so many places left for them to go.

They have borne the brunt of amphibious landings in the Pacific. The Marines are trained historically to go ashore, delivering smash hits to establish a beachhead.

They are not equipped to move far inland, and don't have the supply equipment to conduct inland operations.

So there are few places left for them to go—only the Asiatic mainland or the home islands of Japan.

A lot of things, win economies from men, but some day you may ask yourself—yes, I know, but what then?

Whether or not you frankly answer the question, "What am I worth to God," bear in mind that you can not fool God.

You can fool the general public,
You can be a subtle fraud,
You can hide your little meanness,
But you can't fool God!

You can advertise your virtues,
You can self-achievement laud,
You can load yourself with riches,

You can criticize the Bible,
You can be a selfish clod,
You can lie, swear, drink, and gamble,
But you can't fool God!

You can magnify your talent,
You can hear the world applaud,
But you can't fool God!

Artesia Boys In Toll Of Ship

Relatives of Pfc Jess C. (Mann) House and Sgt. D. White, both of Artesia, have been notified that the boys went down on the ship which was sunk by submarine action Oct. 24, 1944, off the China coast. Both boys were 23 years old.

Wac Recruiters In Carlsbad Next Tuesday

A WAC recruiting team, headed by Lt. Nan Everhart, will arrive in Carlsbad to interview all women between the ages of 20 and 38 interested in joining the Women's Army Corps, Tuesday, July 10.

"The need for women to serve in the WAC is greater now than ever before," said Lt. Everhart. "Clerical workers, medical technicians, radio specialists, telephone operators and many others are needed."

Headquarters will be at Selective Service office in the courthouse, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Private interviews in applicants' homes may be arranged by appointment.

Miss Thelma Davis First to Solo Under New Time

The first person at Riverside airfield, and perhaps the first in the United States to make a solo flight under the new regulations effective July 1st, changing the required time of pre-solo instruction from eight hours to five hours and 40 minutes, was Miss Thelma Davis, daughter of Mrs. Laura Davis and Frank Davis.

Miss Davis, who is a graduate of Carlsbad high, class of 1944, soloed an Aeronca trainer.

"This demonstrates," said John J. Small, her instructor, "that a full eight hours of instruction is unnecessary."

Westaway President Carlsbad Chapter National Foundation

At a meeting of the Carlsbad chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, R. H. Westaway was elected president; Hollis Watson, vice president; R. T. Spence, treasurer, and G. M. Gossard, secretary. Mrs. R. N. Thomas, Lee Downey and Charles Battiste are members of the executive committee.

There are 2500 trained physiotherapists in the United States, but 5,000 more are needed. The National Foundation is offering 1,000 scholarships to persons wishing to enter this field.

Towns Show Increase In Number Meters

Southern Union News, for June, published by the Employees of the Southern Union Gas System, gives the following interesting item:

We have had a nice increase in meters for Carlsbad and Loving within the past five years. In April, 1940, Carlsbad had 1,759 meters while Loving had 91. In April, 1945, Carlsbad had 3,641 meters and Loving had increased to 147. This is an increase of 1,938 meters.

Injured Child Dies; No Inquest Held Says Police Chief

There will be no inquest into the death of Lela Elisales, four year and seven-month-old child, who died at St. Francis Hospital last Thursday afternoon from injuries received when she was hit by a car on Monday, according to Chief of Police Joe Johns.

Chief Johns said that witnesses were questioned again, and the officers felt that an inquest would be an unnecessary expense, as all completely vindicated the driver of the car.

POST CHAPEL WEDDING

BY THE DUCHESS

THE GIRLS ARE EYING A JOB

SANTA FE, July 4 (By Airmail)—The girls around the capitol are speculating on the successor to Madam Clegg, incumbent secretary of state. Veima Clegg figured on the job in 1942, only to be eulcered out of the whirl. Another aspirant is Marian Rhea, acting as Madam Clegg's assistant.

The job has always gone to a native because it is important enough for men to worry over. However, it is likely to be scarce by primary time almost anyone including a soldier, back from the wars and anxious to get into the political swim. May Hood of Clovis would also be a contender.

The secretary of state's niche is an important one, always been filled by persons of mediocre abilities. When the governor and lieutenant governor are away, she is acting governor. Should vacancies occur, the deaths of both governor and lieutenant governor the secretary of state takes over. I would dearly love to see Clegg land in the mansion of El Gobernador.

BIG MEDICINE BREWING

These days it seems everyone is going to Washington to help the state along. J. O. Gallegos, Old Port, Miles have shown surprising interest in the nation's capitol in the past few weeks. I long to sit in on the conference. Hatch, Chavez, Anderson and Fernandez; hear their vocal sparring which takes place when Gallegos, Old Port call for a friendly visit. I'll bet Miles isn't in acquiring 10 million acres of land for the state from the government as he is in hearing Nicho's political plans.

RODGERS WATCHING DEVELOPMENTS

H. R. Rodgers, who was telling inmates around Jarama was through with politics and would retire to private life is considering a federal job and possibilities of running for congress. Los republicanos may come up with a dark horse to oppose Old Port's selection. There's talk of Joe Tondre, Joe San Angelo was beaten by Dempsey in 1942, but he himself into a strong position since. He speaks Spanish, is a merchant and rancher, understands the problems of racial divisions. If Tondre runs it will be on a different time. He'll campaign on the east side where he has friends who will work in his behalf.

The death recently of Frank Bond removes Carroll Gunderson from the 1946 gubernatorial picture. Gunderson's responsibilities have multiplied, he's now in a position to make more money in the mercantile business than would be as a politico. And he can do it without trading with the EL ORINO, better known as SINISTER J. INFLUENCE.

SHUART ACTIVE

Ginmill operators have nicknamed Harry Shuart crystal ball. He's always on the watch. But, since Shuart took over the control deadfalls, operators have shown a surprising willingness to cooperate, or so they say. Of course, an old gaffer like Shuart won't ACTUALLY know if they are observing his peep hole or not, for Harry hits the sack after sundown. When he's up the morning the saloons aren't yet open. But, there's no scandal over the liquor control since old, grayheaded, boss Stuart took over.

THE RADIO IDEA

Whatever happened to Old Port's idea of taking free KOB and selling the state to the people. Nothing has been since the meeting at Las Cruces and the counter blast to KOB management.

ORMSBEE EFFICIENT, BUT DISLIKED

Cold fish Bob Ormsbee, who took over the bureau of motor vehicles, is efficient, but generally disliked by bureau employees. His discipline and ruling that all must do a day's work for a pay is proving irksome to the girls who used to eat hot lunch during business hours and scoff their breakfast coffee and adas at Mutt and Jeff's on the state's time. John Misk still has the Indian sign on Ormsbee, however, and is still with the respect and dignity his fine war record deserves.

GAGE GROWS STRONGER

Howell Gage, man voted most likely to be the gubernatorial choice of Old Port next year is building strength among the people. Though his candidacy will be opposed by John Misk, who will do everything possible in a "friendly" fashion to kill Gage, right now Howell is favorite in the early book.

CAIN STILL DARK HORSE

Colonel Memory Cain is still the 'veterans' dark horse favorite for governor. A friend of Senator Chavez, the Deming soldier received encouragement from the Chavez faction to enter the lists next year. Right now Cain is too ill to discuss politics.

KEEN LADY

I always say that in marriage, like in the mat matches hereabouts, the preliminaries are always better than the event. But, some of the girls around here are getting out of the bullet proof bras for the time when their huddles with points arrive home bearing discharge papers. More has been going on around here during the war than I saw in the wagon yard at the Bernalillo Mercantile Co. I always say some husbands are in handy around the house and some come in unexpectedly. Take aspirin or use the divorce court.

IN THE SUMMER TIME

The dog daze being upon us those barbed wire dresses are vogue around here again. You know barbed wire dresses, kind that protect the property without obstructing the view. I wish Nicho would holler calf rope on the Fair Employment state payrolls reveals five natives on the payroll to every Anglo. Maybe los gavachos need a bill to protect them too.

More Visitors See Caverns This June

The record shows that Australia and Germany each had one visitor, with two from the Canal Zone and two from Guatemala. There were three from England and three from Brazil, five from Puerto Rico and nine from Canada, with 10 registering from Mexico. Case to the number of 60, evidenced boys in training here, joined the cavern tours.

Every state in the Union was represented among the June visitors.

Life in Washington

Corporal Mike Pulice has arrived in Washington and Walter... of his trip from Carlsbad to Washington he says: "I made it back to the hospital with the grace of God and a hell of a good pilot. Milton Smith was on the plane from Carlsbad to Big Spring here I changed and took the American Air Lines from there Washington. I was grounded Memphis for about five hours cause Gen. 'Ike' was coming in Washington at the same time I was supposed to have landed, before he was first. I have not made a complete check of just how many people in New Mexico there are here I will have it in about a week so. I am working trying to get lightened out so I can start trying to get to work. I didn't get to see 'Ike' because he came in at 11:00 a. m. I finally made it at 4:30 the nation's capital, all because he held me up. I hope Betty gets off to hear their talk and makes it o.k. Well that is all there is for present but there will be more as soon as I find out some of the dope around here. Bob Glaiser is not here at the hospital he is at the annex, west Glenn, therefore I haven't seen him as yet but in a day or 'I'll call him and ask him what he is doing. Well I'll sign off now, tell everybody Hello for me. Yours Truly "Mike"

Returning veterans who want to go into agriculture will welcome two new developments on Capitol Hill: (1) The Farm Security Administration has been authorized by Congress to lend $25,000,000 in the next 12 months to returning servicemen who want to buy family-size farms. FSA began making these earmarked loans July 2. Part of an additional $25,000,000, not restricted for the use of veterans, may also be used to make loans to discharged servicemen. (2) Veterans of World War II are given preference over nearly all other prospective purchasers of new farm machinery through an order issued by the War Food Administration. "The FSA loans can cover the full purchase price of a farm and allow up to 40 years for repayment," A. E. Triviz, economist of the New Mexico Extension Service, says. "The loans bear interest at three per cent on the unpaid balance. Applicants must find themselves the farms they want to buy. Each farm is appraised, and a loan is made only when the purchase price is in line with the farm's actual value, based on its long-range earning capacity." Under the new WFA order, veterans who can show both the need for and the inability to obtain farm machinery to establish or reestablish themselves in farming may obtain preference certificate that require dealers to give priority to their needs. County agricultural conservation committees will issue the veterans' certificates, which are given preference over all prior commitments or contracts for sale other than those carrying War Production Board ratings.

Eddy County men, members of the Red Arrow Division are now fighting in this area on Luzon. Hastening in the cleanup of Luzon and assisting the Red Arrows in their campaign to wipe the Jap off every island in the Philippines, parachutists of the U.S. 11th Airborne Division, landing near Aparri (1), have put the squeeze on an estimated 20,000 Japs now sealed off from that major escape port. Farmers Are Asked for Alfalfa Seed

New Mexico farmers can help... harvesting more seed this year, according to John T. Stovall, extension agronomist. "There'll be even greater demand for quality seed in 1946," he says. "More and more farmers are learning that New Mexico seed gives better results. Moreover, because of the new seed law, New Mexico will no longer be the ideal dumping ground for inferior seed." Alfalfa seed prices are attractive. In addition, the War Food Administration has announced incentive payments of 2 1/2 cents a pound for alfalfa seed harvested and sold into commercial channels before December 31 or this year.

More Clothing Next Winter

Though the clothing shortage is still serious, housewives can expect increased supplies by next winter. In fact, according to Miss Pearl Chapman, extension clothing specialist of New Mexico A & M College, women's dresses, children's clothes, and men's rayon shirts are likely to be more plentiful by autumn. In the meantime, unless military requirements are reduced, shortages of certain items may become even more acute by fall. "It now looks as if men's woolen and worsted suits and overcoats will be scarce for at least six months," Miss Chapman said. "Cotton shirts, shoes, nylon hosiery, men's underwear, and socks are also trouble spots. "Military demands are the key to the shortage. Once they're met or reduced, homemakers can look for a change for the better."

International Playing Part In Producing Materials Vital to the War Effort

By LOUIS WARE
President of International Minerals & Chemical Corp.

Before the war, ships bearing phosphate from International Minerals and Chemical Corporation's mines sailed to ports all over the world. Farmlands in Australia, Ireland, England, Belgium, Germany, Spain, Japan, Italy, Czechoslovakia, and many other countries were productive because of this International product. Our phosphate has also gone into vital war materials for Allied troops around the globe.

Monon Sodium Glutamate in Army rations has made the food for our fighting men more flavorful, and has gone into Lend-Lease shipments to enhance the taste of food shipped to our Allies. It is also being used in increasing quantities in essential civilian goods. Our fertilizer has also played its world-wide part during the war as it has helped American farmers grow record-breaking crops to feed our Nation and its Allies.

Now, with the European war ended and victorious progress being made against Japan, International, while continuing at wartime peak production, is making careful plans for its peace time business.

FERTILIZER IN DEMAND

Today there is unprecedented demand for agricultural production, especially food. The need to help supply the war devastated nations of Europe, to continue maintenance of our vast armed forces and supply more food for this country requires maximum output from our farms. To meet these requirements and restore depleted inventories, a long period of maximum productivity will be required. International's minerals and chemicals will help satisfy this demand.

Our farmers have learned the value of commercial fertilizers in cutting costs, reducing labor, and increasing production. Fertilizer consumption was steadily rising for a decade preceding the war and since Pearl Harbor consumption has attained new highs.

PLAN NEW PLANT

Of the three major elements in commercial fertilizer, International supplies two of these from its own mines: phosphate and potash. A new plant at Mason City, Iowa, is planned to produce a complete line of mixed fertilizer, largely increasing its output about 30 percent.

International is the largest producer of phosphate in this country. Its mines and plants have been improved during the war period and it is in excellent condition to supply post-war demands for export. Our potash mine has been enlarged and improved. Our potash production helped make this country self-sufficient for that needed material.

NEEDS RAW MATERIALS

During the past year, because of wartime restrictions, we have been unable to get a sufficient supply of raw material for our Amino Division, and, consequently, its operations have been unprofitable. The demand for Monon Sodium Glutamate and Amino acid products show continuous growth and it is believed this unit will be an important profitable producer for the company during coming years.

Silica Gel produced by International in its Georgia plant has been used by industry in packaging and protecting war materials. Customer acceptance of this product, improvements at the plant in its production and continuing increased demand for civilian users indicate good prospects in the post-war period. International's Defluorophos, a supplement for animal feed, has made continued progress. Sales of magnesium sulphate have also continued to expand.

The Corporation has the largest and most able research staff in its history which is hard at work on improving and developing new products. Summarizing, we believe stockholders can be proud of the Corporation's contribution during the war years and its improved outlook.

TRUTH ABOUT ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH National Authority on Effective Selling

CLOSE SHAVES

WITHOUT advertising, we might today be where the world was in the '30s, a community made up of solemn-looking men with long beards. We're lucky. We only have to tolerate beards on Monte Woolley and Ernest Hemingway.

Behind our clean shaven appearance is one of the most dramatic stories in advertising.

A 40-year-old Boston salesman, troubled by the problem of a continually dull razor, sought some way out. One morning during a bout with a razor which was particularly dull, this thought struck him: why not a razor with replaceable blades, so that when one becomes dull it can be replaced with a sharp new one? Why not?

Before nightfall King C. Gillette had a working model of his razor. But advertising in those days was a fairly new working form. When the inventor offered his product, the response was an engulfing public yawn.

It took five years to sell the first razor and nine years before the company had begun to make progress. Now witness another miracle of advertising. The standard price of the first safety razor was $5. Blades cost 25 cents apiece. There the price remained for some years. But advertising brought more demand, and more demand brought lower prices, and from $5 to $3, and then to $1 the prices dropped. Blades cost as little as five cents. Eventually razors could be purchased for a quarter and some blades were 50 cents for 50 blades.

Later came the electric razor. It had no nine-year struggle, for advertising by then had shown how to cut time. Inside of a few months, the buzz of electric razors could be heard in bathrooms, hotel rooms, and Pullman washrooms.

In place of men who shaved not at all or only on Saturdays, we have today the well-groomed male who shaves, not once a day, but often twice, sometimes three times. Shaving is so easy, so convenient, so quick with modern shaving equipment.

Women are perhaps the greatest benefactors in this change. They should express their gratitude to advertising daily.

Continuing scarcity of materials, however, will also limit the number of these items available to consumers for many months. To provide more work socks for civilians, WPB removed the freeze on circular hosiery knitting machines above 72 needles that had been frozen for the production of wool socks for the armed services.

Don't marry on Sunday. It's unlucky to gamble on the Sabbath.

Appliances In Sight

Production of bedsprings, box springs, innerspring mattresses, studio couches and other types of bedding will be increased in the coming months, says WPB, but not to any appreciable extent, as the supply of textiles and other materials is still limited. Limitations have been removed on the manufacture of the following electrical supplies—air heaters, household toasters, chafing dishes, casseroles, heating pads, dry shavers, household irons, hair clippers, permanent wave equip-boards for ration checks. Distributors have until June 20 to deposit these coupons in their ration bank accounts.

Release On Shoes

Consumers will be given an opportunity to buy men's and women's "odd lot" shoes ration-free and at mark-down prices when a small percentage of shoes in these categories is released to the public during the three-week period July 9 through July 28, OPA announced. "Odd lot" shoes must be sold to consumers at prices at least 25 percent below the prices at which they were being offered for sale on June 1, 1945, OPA said. Women's shoes with heel heights of one inch or less may not be included in the release as these shoes are usually the type worn by growing girls and do not accumulate on dealers shelves as odd lots. Dealers are requested to limit sales of "odd lot" shoes to no more than a pair to each customer. The first complete inventory of the nation's stocks of both rationed and non-rationed shoes will be taken by shoe dealers on July 31, 1945, OPA has announced. This is to determine how many pairs of shoes can be allotted to consumers and whether any shoes can be released from rationing.

Ceiling prices have been given for all sales in civilian channels of eighteen rubber footwear items rejected by the armed forces as not up to required standards. The ceiling effective June 18, 1945, apply to men's and women's rubber boots, overshoes or artics, rubbers, flying boots, jungle boots, tennis and gym shoes. A retail ceiling price of forty cents a pair for men's black rubber half soles, also rejected by the army, became effective June 26, 1945. This ceiling applies to sales by chain, hardware and other retail stores of soles a quarter of an inch thick and in military sizes seven to 13.

Getty Crude Oil

Increases ranging from 10 cents to 32 cents a barrel have been allowed in certain crude oil pools in California and Wyoming, district officials have announced. Increases were granted to stripper well production which provides purchases of the oil. The exact amount of the increase and thus the amount passed on to the consumer is the form of higher petroleum products.

The amount of each barrel is as follows: Empire, 18 cents; Smith, 20 cents; OPA said. A revision of the amount of 14 cents.

Rent Records Permanent

George C. Taylor, district OPA executive, this week warned hotels, camp grounds and rooming houses in particular that they must retain all records of rental charges. He said a recent survey in some places revealed that some of these institutions had destroyed their records, claiming they gave them to the paper salvage drive.

"Records must be kept, not only under OPA regulations," he said, "but they are needed also by internal revenue officials sometimes and destroying them is a violation of the law."

Carlsbad Trade News
 "Is it hot enough for you?" is a question frequently heard these days. Just in case Mr. weatherman should have any more tricks in his bag for the summer days-to-come you can be assured that sunny and little sis will stay cool and comfy in those cute lill' play suits that can be found at Sporing's.

Why not mix business with pleasure? The next time you're in town shopping or happen to step out of the office for a coke with a friend, wander into the City Drug. The building is air-conditioned and the fountain service is complete.

It may not be true that clothes make the woman, but cute accessories really help make the clothes! Ann's Shop carries a complete line of up-to-date costume jewelry and good looking accessories, just the thing to add a little zip to that dull dress that you don't know quite what to do with. It's patriotic too, to "wear it out."

Mandell's has a new supply of huaraches from Old Mexico. Why not buy a pair today and capture that so popular South American touch the easy way?

If you wish to fish for good fish, you will wish to fish with good tackle. Pratt-Smith Hardware is just the place to supply you with any fishing needs. Just drop in and air your needs, the chance is ten-to-one that they'll find a solution.

Yes, it is hard to find work clothes nowadays because the thousands of skilled workers who normally labor to produce this clothing are now busy manufacturing uniforms for the armed services. The chances are, if you can't find it at Mac's Men's Store, you'll not find it anywhere!

Experience is the best teacher when you buy anything, but if you buy your furniture at Dann's you'll not need any experience, for their entire stock is high quality merchandise. If you have a new home, why not see Dann's Furniture Company about furnishing it right? The quality is high — the price is right.

Anton J. Snyder, your local insurance agent, says, "Plate glass insurance is very inexpensive and it replaces broken glass from any cause except fire. The expense of temporarily closing an opening until glass may be obtained is also taken care of by this new, practical insurance."

"Frailty, thy name is woman," so saith Shakespeare; but what woman doesn't like such frailties as knickknacks to "dress up" her house? Any Miss or Mrs. would be mighty pleased with a few knickknacks from McCoy's Jewelry Store!

Officers Get Pay Hike

All elective officers of Eddy county are looking forward to the increase in salary they will receive as members of the county advisory board, created by the last legislature.

As members of the board, whose duty it will be to advise the county commissioners, Sheriff Fred Hill, Assessor Kate Westaway, Treasurer Bill High and County School Superintendent Velma Thomas will each receive $50 a month extra. Probate Judge Xury White will also receive an increase through this method, though not so much.

The board will be dissolved Jan. 1, 1947, when the increase in salary can be handled in the regular way. The first checks, carrying the added amounts, will be distributed August 1.

County Schools Being Redecorated During Vacation Months

"We are taking advantage of vacation months to paint and redecorate the schools of the county," said Mrs. R. N. Thomas, superintendent of Eddy County schools.

Work has been completed at Harroun Farm, and painting and redecorating at Otis are drawing to a close, she said.

Lakewood and Cottonwood schools are being dressed up with paint, and the water systems at Atoka and Malaga are undergoing repairs.

Mrs. Thomas also said that applications from teachers for jobs in Eddy county are coming in daily, and said it was noticeable that qualifications are higher this year than in the immediate past.

Schools, she said, will open September 4.

CHRISTIAN COMES HOME

H. F. Christian, who was operated on in a Lubbock, Texas, hospital two weeks ago, came home Monday evening. He said he was "feeling fine." His many friends will be glad when he is able to take up his work in the county treasurer's office again.

Carlsbad Brothers' Surprise Meeting

A pleasant coincidence occurred in San Francisco last week when two Carlsbad brothers, both on leave from the navy, met face on the street, neither having known the other was there.

Robert E. Burks, Phm-3/c, and Sonnie A. Burks, chief yeoman, are now in Carlsbad together, to spend a part of their leave. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Burks, former owners of the Smithville Courts in this city, but now living in Springfield, Mo.

Robert entered the service two years ago, but Sonnie has been a navy man since October, 1940. Robert came from the Asiatic theatre and Sonnie from the North Pacific. Both were attending school when they entered the service.

LETTER FROM BUCKNER

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buckner from their son Hollis, who is in the radio service in the South Pacific:

"Dear Mom and Pop: We just made another invasion. This time it was Borneo. I guess you have read about it. We will probably have quite a bit of mail whenever we get where we are going. I hope so anyway. Mom, everyone here says I am double-jointed in my shoulders as I can lay my arms straight across the back of my neck and the other boys here can't. As soon as we get some pictures made we had taken about a month ago. I'll send some. Please send me some magazines or cocoa. The quartermaster here gets them and when he wants cocoa he makes it. Charles writes that he may go to college at Albuquerque. I hope he does. We had a bottle of coke for dinner the other day and boy did it taste good. I could drink a case now if I had it. I would like to give $5.00 for a fresh tomato, if I could get it. Don't guess you have heard from Brother or Hoyte Keller have you? I haven't heard any more messages from the New Mexico boys over the radio from the Jap prison camps. I haven't weighed since I left the States but guess I'll weigh about 135 or 140 now. Mom is my little radio set still working? I forgot what I did with it. This is all for this time. I will write again when I get to port. Love, Hollis

When the old man works hard to earn his money the old lady usually has to work just as hard to get it.

THIS BUSINESS OF LIVING

By Susan Thayer

My friend has been looking for a new house. She hunted and hunted, and finally she went home and said, "This is pretty good. I'd be foolish to leave."

Which reminded me of some people who are looking for an improvement on the traditional American way of life. If they're wise, they'll take a good look at what they have and say, "I'll keep it."

We can look at America and say, "It's not perfect." But we can look again and say, "It's the best any country has been able to do—and it's pretty darn wonderful!"

As somebody put it, our form of society has combined liberty and groceries better than any form of government ever conceived by man.

So, if your house isn't perfect, let's see what we can do to improve it. But let's not give it up lightly. We'd never find anything to compare.

You haven't had a real grower until you can't stand the noise of the Bromo-Seltzer.

Travel Ban Does Not Affect Livestock Show Where Animals Are Sold Through Ring

Despite the cancellation of the annual New Mexico State Fair and Race meet, E. G. Hayward, Cimmaron, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, has announced that the association will promote the annual Junior State Livestock Show and Sale, held for the past six years, some time in September.

"Boys and girls throughout the state have been feeding calves and other livestock for an entire year in anticipation of this sale at Albuquerque," Hayward said, "and many have made heavy investments in feed and livestock, on the assurance that a sale would be held."

Government convention and travel-ban rules do not apply to any livestock show and sale where all animals are sold through the ring.
