60 MPH Speed Limit in New Mexico

Gov. Mechem and his traffic safety committee has made public a five point program which it hopes will reduce New Mexico's record breaking highway fatality record.

The five points included a speed limit recommendation, announced after Friday's session of the committee here. This asked the highway commission to adopt a 60-mile speed limit for daylight driving, 55 miles for night driving in open country.

The other aims of the committee as announced by Secretary J. T. Reece:

1. Establishment of a system to handle report from which analysis can be made of all vehicle accidents causing $25 damage or more.

2. A request that the State Bar Association work with district attorneys police magistrates and justices of the peace in bringing about stricter enforcement of present laws to help reduce accidents.

3. Education for drivers.

4. Attempted reduction of tourist accidents by stopping all cars at port of entry for quick car inspections, suggested repairs and information on road conditions and speed limits. The committee thought this also would tend to reduce some drinking in automobiles.

5. A request that the highway department erect mile post markers every 10 miles on the highways to make easier the reporting of accident locations.

Flying H News

Mrs. N. C. Hartell, Mrs. W. M. Evans, Judge and Mrs. Josey and son Harvey Josey of Artesia spent the week end camping on the Flying H.

Mrs. W. C. Teel is now reporting the news for the Penasco Valley News. Sonny Haythorn is leaving Tuesday for Grants, N. M., for school. He is a nephew of Mrs. Fred Teel. He has spent the summer on the ranch.

Charlie Green who finished high school at Dexter is leaving soon for college.

We regret that Mr. and Mrs. Dee Gregory have left the community.

Harve Everett brought in the largest artesian well of the community for Clement Hendricks. (It is reported that it flows 2000 gallons a minute.—Ed.)

Mrs. Mort Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Slusher and son from Richman, Calif., are visiting Mrs. Johns' brothers, Fred and W. C. Teel over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Teel of Roswell were out visiting relatives over the week end.

W. R. Joy, Sr., is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. W. R. Joy, Sr., is improving wonderfully over her burn.

Church was held in the open this week. Enjoyed a good sermon delivered by Bro. Estlack. Dinner was served at noon with evening services later.

The community was entertained Saturday night with a delicious barbecue with all trimmings including cake and watermelon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hendricks and Connie Jean. All the Flying H employees and their families, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Joy and family, "Dub" Joy, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Treet, Mrs. Martha Donaldson, the county school superintendent and her sister from Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Collins and daughter, Patty of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Maples and daughter, Darleen of Roswell and many others.

School News

3rd, 4th and 5th grade news—Several pupils have bright live insects for us to observe in our social study period. Now we are making insect books. Peggy Harris brought us a bouquet of wild daisies and golden rod for our room. Only one pupil in our room failed to make 100 on the spelling test last week. We hope to have a perfect score next time.

Water Well Flows 2000 Gallon per Min.

Harve Evarts brought in a water well out at the Flying H west of Hope last week. It is 318 feet deep and flows 2000 gallons per minute. A large tank has been constructed and a 40-acre trace cleared and leveled which will be planted to crops in 1952.

The Gov. Mechem Trophy, shown above, will be presented to the winning .30 caliber rifle team when the New Mexico State Rifle and Pistol Association holds its annual two-day shoot at Ruidoso, Sept. 15 and 16.

Trimble, Ruidoso, present individual .30 caliber state champion and co-holder of two national records. Gun clubs of 71 New Mexico towns are members of the state association.

United Veterans Rodeo, Celebration

The United Veterans of Artesia are holding their fifth annual celebration this week Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The rodeo performance starts each night at 8 o'clock at the Municipal Stadium. The western dance starts at 9 o'clock at the Veterans Memorial building. A big street parade will be held Thursday afternoon, with Gov. Mechem in attendance. Saturday has been designated Hope Day and many from here and the mountain communities are planning to attend.

The Eddy County Sheriff's Possee will add a dash of color to the parade Thursday afternoon. They will also participate in the parade in the evening at the stadium.

The Artesia Advocate has completed printing a souvenir program for the rodeo and celebration. It is a very nice job of printing and The Advocate force can well be proud of their efforts. Get a souvenir program, it sells for 25 cents per copy and is worth twice that much.

Schools Should Offer Driver Education

The Governor's Traffic and Safety Coordinating Committee has requested that action be taken regarding the following:

1. That all high schools of this state formulate plans to offer driver education to all students immediately.

2. That driver education training be offered to students as near as possible at the legal driving age of 14 years.

3. That when possible any other phase of safety instructions be made to students as time permits; and

4. That classroom instructions in driver education be provided even though it may not be possible to offer "behind-the-wheel" instructions.

The increasing seriousness of the present emergency makes it apparent that driver education become increasingly important in all communities. Conservation of materials and manpower is an urgent necessity. If driver education is important in peace time, then it doubly so in times such as this.

40,000 Pounds of Clothing Collected

Forty thousand pounds of clothing was collected during the 10th National Children's Clothing Crusade held this spring in New Mexico Schools it was reported by Tom Wiley, Superintendent of Public Instruction and New Mexico Chairman of the Campaign.

The week long clothing collection was conducted under the auspices of Save the Children Federation, a child service organization that renders aid to children in six countries of Western Europe, in Korea, on American Indian Reservations and in isolated rural areas of America not reached by other agencies. Free transportation of the clothing brought to school by school children of the state was furnished by the New Mexico Motor Carriers Association.

nished by the New Mexico Motor Carriers Association.

Election Board Is Appointed

The Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County has appointed the following persons to hold the special election on Tuesday, Sept. 18. Election judges: Mrs. D. W. Carson, Robert Barley and Lawrence Blakeney. Alternates: Mrs. Guy Crockett, Mrs. John Hardin and Henry Coffin. Poll clerks: Mrs. George O. Teel and Mrs. Felix Cauhape. Alternates: Mrs. Jane Pitt and Mrs. Bill Madron.

Artesia helps Hope, let's help Artesia by buying a souvenir rodeo program for 25 cents. If you don't you will be sorry. They are for sale at the Altman Cafe.

Bryant Williams shipped 250 turkeys to El Paso Wednesday. That leave 9,975 to get rid of before the first of February, 1952.

The 11th annual Ranch Day will be held at the New Mexico A & M College Ranch and the U. S. Forest Service's Experimental Range on Monday, Oct. 8.

A dispatch from Richmond, Va., says that the Southern Baptist Foreign Missionary board has earmarked $100,000 for relief of suffering in Korea.

The population of Hope has increased by one. The new arrival's name is Kenny Ray, he arrived on Sept. 5, 1951 at 11:30 p. m. He weighed 7 lbs., 8 oz. and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher.

A young man in Artesia (whose name he requested to be omitted) is planning on moving to Hope and making his home. He contemplates running for mayor against Ethel Altman. He says his platform will be "nickle beer and free lunch."

Tuna fishermen from Santa Barbara, Calif., to Mexico, are up in arms about the importation of bulk frozen tuna from Japan and South America. The imported tuna is selling at $275 per ton, in comparison to $520 paid for catches in Southern California-Mexican waters.

From Rev. Brashear of the Methodist church who is acting as secretary of the Castro County Fair at Dimmitt, Texas, has sent the editor of the News a premium list. It consists of 64 pages of advertising and information about the fair and represents a lot of work. Rev. Brashear has certainly been a busy man.

When Ethel Altman, mayor of Hope heard that she was to have some opposition at the town election next March and that her competitor's platform consisted of one plan: "Nickle beer and free lunch" she wanted to know immediately just how long this free lunch business was going to keep on. Just the day before election or longer.

J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has warned that Communist saboteurs may attempt to cripple the United States mobilization effort by starting fires or touching off explosion in industrial plants. Hoover asked the cooperation from municipal, county and state law enforcement officers throughout the nation in combating the menace of the Red saboteur.

We want to urge everyone to buy a souvenir program of the 11th annual United Veterans Rodeo and Celebration. They only cost 25 cents and when you buy one, it will show that you appreciate what Artesia has done for us in the past and what they will do for us in the future. The programs are for sale at the Altman Cafe.

New Mexico's first bale of cotton will be auctioned in front of the Peoples State Bank in Artesia at 2 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 15. Among the business firms who are expected to bid on the cotton are Artesia Alfalfa Growers, Peoples State Bank, First National Bank, H & J Food Basket, Artesia Advocate and Radio Station KSVP and several others.

Oscar, the young bull elephant the king of Cambodia sent to President Truman, is dead. The animal died as the ship on which it was traveling was docking at Capetown, South Africa. No reason is given for the animal's death, as he had been given special care during the voyage. As we said before the king should have sent Truman a donkey.

Britain's treasury chief, Hugh Gait-skill, has obtained a qualified promise of 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 tons of American steel in 1952. We can't understand that especially when there is such a shortage of steel in this country. Construction work on schools and highway bridges is being held up on account of no steel available. Since when does Britain come first? Use what steel we need in this country and if there is any left over send it to England. Senator Chavez is bitterly opposing the earmarking of steel for Britain.

Handy Tool Hangers

Here is an idea for the gardener who never has a place to hang up his tools. Bore holes, at a slant, in a piece of 1 by 4 board. Drive old clothes pins in holes and saw off protruding ends at back. Nail the board up on a wall where tools are kept and hang up your tools. It's convenient and practical.

Dyed Mulches Suggested As Aid to Garden Beauty

Mrs. Phil Patterson of Colorado came up with a new idea in the current issue of The Farm Journal. She suggested dying garden mulch to harmonize with the colors in your flower plot. A 10-cent package of vegetable dye, mixed with water, would dye a great amount. Mulches have been recommended for years as the home gardener's best friend. Now, it will add to the beauty of your garden.

Threat of Inflation Increases As Price Index Hits a New High

INFLATION THREAT—With the government's report that the consumers' price index rose to a record level last month, the dangers of inflation took first place in the week's news.

The bureau of labor statistics reported the index figure went from 185.2 to 185.5. This means the retail prices of goods and services bought by moderate-income families averaged 85.5 per cent higher than the average between 1935 and 1939. This is 9 per cent above the level before the Korean war.

It also means that more than 3,000,000 workers who have cost-of-living escalator clauses in their contracts will receive automatic raises of approximately 1 cent per hour.

Industry member of the wage stabilization board, who recently approved escalator clauses in union contracts, warned when the new index figures were announced that the arrangement is not based on sound economic principles. "Putting all workers, manufacturers, farmers and merchants on escalation may easily prove the first step to national bankruptcy," the group warned.

The average home townner seems to have the feeling that runaway inflation is dangerously near. If each group in the nation's economy continues trying to get ahead of every other, then the economic situation may explode into a mad race that can lead to ruin.

Food and rent prices are credited with pushing the index figures to the new high. Food prices averaged 12.1 per cent higher than in June, 1950, just before the Korean war. There are indications of further increases. Large dealers are reported demanding boosts of 1 to 6 cents an item for well known brands of flour, breakfast cereals, canned fruit and vegetables, vinegar, mayonnaise and spaghetti.

PRICE CONTROLS—While the average home townner views the price picture with increasing fear, President Truman asked congress for three major changes in the new price controls law.

The President asked repeal of: (1) The provision requiring that price ceilings reflect rises in business costs that have occurred since Korea. ("An economic booby trap," Truman called it.); (2) The amendment giving wholesalers and retailers their customary percentage markups; (3) The amendment banning the OPS livestock-slaughter quotas, under which each slaughterer was told how many animals he could handle.

No one can predict how congress will react to the President's requests, but the average small town American, whatever his political views and his beliefs concerning the cause of higher prices, wants something done about it. He realizes the nation is in as much danger today from its internal economic picture as from external enemies; he feels it is time for personal interests and politics to take a back seat to the nation's welfare.

WESTERN POLITICS—Democratic party representatives from 15 midwest states, as far east as Ohio and as far west as Wyoming, the great farm belt that came to President Truman's rescue in 1948, met at French Lick, Ind., to discuss possibilities for 1952. Their conclusions were startling to the average home townner.

Briefly, they concluded that President Truman will be a candidate for reelection and that he can defeat Sen. Robert Taft. Should Gen. Eisenhower seek the office he could have had in 1948, then Mr. Truman's chances would not be so good.

As a basis for these startling conclusions, the democratic leaders believe the President would get a large farm vote as he did in 1948 because farm prices have been high during his administration. A continued high level of domestic prosperity without inflation would also add to his chances, they concluded.

They also pointed out that Truman was denied New York's 47 electoral votes by the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace and those of four southern states by the Dixiecrats. This is unlikely in the 1952 campaign.

The big question, of course, is Gen. Eisenhower. The general is a midwesterner, and it would not be difficult to sell a national hero to the people in the home towns.

THE NEW FEAR—The latest news from Korea would indicate the Chinese Communists are beset with a new fear, that of world condemnation for breaking off the Kaesong peace talks. It is the only reasonable conclusion since the Reds announced the talks can continue if the Allies will admit a plane tried to murder the Communist delegates by dropping explosive bombs and jellied gasoline near their quarters.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who previously rejected their charge as a fake and a fraud, is unlikely to accede to their demand. Ridgway has informed the Reds that their neutrality-violation charges are nothing more than malicious lies, deliberately manufactured for propaganda effect and unworthy of reply.

As long as both parties maintain this attitude there is little hope for a resumption of talks. And even if they should be resumed, other incidents will be manufactured by the Reds to further their propaganda aims. Peace in Korea will not be restored until one side or the other is thoroughly and completely defeated.

JAPANESE TREATY—On Tuesday 34 nations gathered at San Francisco to sign the proposed peace treaty with Japan. Russia is represented, but no one expects her to sign the document which is sponsored by the United States. To the contrary, she will do everything in her power to wreck the treaty negotiations and eventually will present her own versions of a pact.

The big news as the conference opened was India's boycott of the meeting. That country's denunciation of the treaty was in direct line with Moscow propaganda and will have many repercussions in this nation's foreign aid program. It may lead to a tougher U.S. policy toward India and a reduction in aid given her in recent months. It may also mean that a number of other countries will suffer as a direct result of India's stand.

From now until the conference closes, the people in the home towns of the country can expect a flood of Soviet propaganda against the treaty. In fact, one of the greatest propaganda slanders the world has ever seen is about to begin.

Eva Peron, wife of President Juan Peron of Argentina, often called the most powerful woman in the world, has been nominated to be her husband's running mate as Vice-President in the November 11 elections. The election is only a formality under Argentina's dictatorship. She would be the first woman in history to hold such a high office in the Americas.

The young girls collect the thousands of tons of flowers used while back in the town boys and old men prepare the flowers and the reeds for the floral carpet. Other crews engage in the actual artistic creation—first making chalk designs on the street and then placing flowers in line with the marks.

LOVELY FIGUREHEAD . . . Movie star Virginia Mayo poses for famed sculptor Yucca Salamunich as he designs a figurehead for a schooner which is to be built in the near future in Norway. The age-old custom of installing feminine figures on the bows of ships is believed about due for a revival in the 20th century. The builder of the ship asked Sculptor Salamunich to select the most beautiful Hollywood woman for a model.

PRELUDE TO ATOM SUB . . . Third of a new class of fast attack submarines now being built, the USS Trout takes to the water at Groton, Conn. The navy announced the award of a contract for its first atomic-powered sub which would be capable of speeds up to 60 knots an hour. The Trout was sponsored by the widow of Lt. Comm. Albert Clark, USN, who was commanding officer of the earlier Trout when she was lost in action off the China coast in 1944.

Ain't It So

There will be trouble in this old world so long as the ideal woman is the other fellow's wife.

It has just about gotten so that a man has to have money to burn if he wants to buy coal nowadays.

Anyway, when a skinny girl is wearing a See-More skirt, you can see that she isn't standing on her dignity.

If a girl can't get the man she wants, she goes ahead and cops out the man some other girl wants.

INSPIRATION
Meditation

MANY PEOPLE think that spiritual meditation is strictly for those with religious vocations. Some even try to argue that the practice is too "mystical" or lofty for the average man. The truth is that meditation is necessary for all men, regardless of their vocations in life.

Meditation means reflection on God and man's relationship to Him. It means giving thought to the all-important questions: Who am I? Why am I here? Where am I going? To quote one writer, meditation is "the tongue of the soul and the language of the spirit."

Action Is Demanded In Laborers' Favor

NEW YORK—A call to Christian action in favor of migrant workers, the poverty stricken, the aged and disabled and those who "are denied fair employment opportunities" was sounded here in the annual Labor Sunday message of the National Council of Churches.

"It is the Christian's responsibility," the message said, "to understand the conditions under which men work, to see that work is made meaningful, and that it brings a just reward."

Challenging Christians "in the name of God to reject complacency," it urged them to act:

"Wherever, in the midst of plenty which multitudes today enjoy, there are families who still taste the bitterness of daily poverty.

"Wherever those who labor in the fields as migrants, whether from within or without our borders, work without respect accorded to their human dignity, without a basis for security, or without a place in the community.

"Wherever men are denied fair employment opportunities."

Pastor Urges Stand On Race Relations

IOWA CITY, Iowa—Delegates to the biennial convention of the Luther League of America here were urged by one of their leaders to become "Christian radicals" by taking a bold stand in defense of equal rights for members of all races.

In delivering the keynote address of the meeting, the Rev. F. Leslie Conrad, Jr., of Philadelphia, the organization's new executive secretary, also called on the more than 1,400 young people to "show their elders the way" to better race relations.

Delegates, whose average age was 16, were advised to "shock your parents and friends by demonstrating that racial intolerance is a thing of the past—that there is only one race and everyone belongs to it."

"The churches and schools of America haven't gotten to first base in the matter of race tolerance," Mr. Conrad told participants.

Religion Question Box

Q: How many appearances to men is Christ said to have made after His resurrection?
A: At least eleven are definitely mentioned by New Testament writers, although it is implied that there were numerous others.

THE STORY SO FAR:

Jesse recovers from his wound and begins to lead a fairly normal life, attending church and associating with other young people. However, the times and the Missouri geography are suited to outlawry, and on February 13, 1866, 10 men, among them Frank James, rob the Liberty, Missouri, bank of $62,000. Frank shows Jesse his share of this "easy money" and Jesse is intrigued. About eight months later, in October, 1866, Jesse takes part in his first bank robbery—in Lexington, Missouri. Jesse thus is launched on his fabulous career as a bandit; but, complex character that he is, he never misses an opportunity to go to church and pray.

CHAPTER IV

The days of moods and meditations continued for Jesse. God wanted him. Perhaps; but so did his bold friends. He was an expert shot, he was a fine horseman, and he was fearless. He was an addition to any band. And, young as he was, he was beginning to show qualities of leadership. It seemed easier to make a living robbing a bank now and then than it did farming. There is a good deal of evidence—too detailed to go into here—to indicate that Jesse was violently pulled between the requirements of a religious life and the demands of banditry. He became moody; his mother complained that he would no longer 'talk' to her. She had lost his confidence. Once she told her husband, "I don't understand him any more."

Not far away was another powerful influence. The Youngers. Big, portly Cole Younger also had a great interest in religion (sometimes the others called him 'Bishop'), but he didn't allow it to confuse the issue; the issue with Cole was banditry. He had been in the Richmond raid, although he always said he hadn't been. But then, he was the most sanctimonious liar in three counties.

Cole Younger had ridden with Quantrill in Kentucky and thought he knew all about it. He began to talk up Kentucky as a land overflowing with gold and banknotes, and finally convinced the others this was true.

Cole Younger Scouts The Russellville Job

He said that Russellville, Kentucky, was just waiting to be plucked, so he was sent down to scout it. He used the method that had almost unconsciously been adopted by the gang. He went to the window and said, "Can you change this $100 note for me?"

The cashier looked Cole over and smelled something.

"No," said the cashier, "I'm afraid I can't."

The cattle buyer returned his $100 note to his pocket and left.

A week later, on March 20, 1868, Cole led the gang back; among the six was Jesse James.

By a streak of good luck, the gang galloped out of town with $14,000 in the faithful grain sack, and without killing a single man. They didn't even give the inevitable posse a chance not to get too close to them.

But the Russellville bankers were not satisfied with half-hearted pursuit and a hue and cry that quickly died down. They wired to Louisville and engaged a detective to get on the trail—D. T. Bligh. He began to work with an assistant, William Gallagher, and they soon discovered that Jesse James was suspected but that nothing had been done about it. Bligh and his man decided to do something. And now, for the first time, Jesse had detectives to deal with.

Jesse was accustomed to outdistancing posses. He didn't know about the kind that came in the silence of the night and listened at keyholes. But some way or other he found out that they were on his trail, and he realized that he had to do something and do it fast. He had plenty of money, so he did a surprising thing. He went to New York, saw the sights, got on a boat and went to Panama. He crossed the Isthmus, got on a steamship, landed in San Francisco, then, his trail well confused, he headed for Paso Robles, California, the place where he had intended to go all the time.

forty miles from the James farm. They appeared in the town on December 7, 1869. Cole and Jesse went in, leaving Frank outside to hold the horses. Cole used his old dodge—could the cashier change a $100 bill? The cashier said he could and started to count out the change. As he was doing so, Cole drew his pistol and said, "Don't make a move or I will kill you."

Out came the grain sack and Jesse began to toss in all the money he could see, which, goodness knows, wasn't much—$700.

Two or three persons had started to enter the bank, but Frank warned them off. Suddenly the people realized what was happening and scurried away after their guns. Frank yelled to Cole and Jesse to hurry.

The cashier looked Cole over. "I'm a cattle buyer from Louisville," said Cole.

A characteristic of Jesse's was his loyalty to friends. Now, as he was filling the sack, his attention was suddenly caught. Where had he seen that cashier before? Stepping over to Cole, he talked in a low undertone, both of them looking intently at the cashier. And then suddenly Jesse shot him. The cashier fell dead in as cold and cruel a murder as Jesse ever committed.

A Cold-Blooded Act: Jesse Shoots Cashier

By this time Frank was popping away right and left. The other two rushed out, but in attempting to mount Jesse was thrown. He was in a pickle. He had no horse and the citizens were beginning to come up with their hardware. The tricky situation was solved by Frank, who pulled Jesse up behind him and out of town they galloped, Jesse clinging to the sack.

Luck was with them. In fact, luck was with Jesse all his life, until the last. The two met a man on a horse. In no time at all Jesse had a horse and an honest farmer had none.

As they approached the next town they met another man and made him pilot them safely around it. Something was on Jesse's mind; finally he said: "We were just up to the Gallatin bank. I killed a man there. I think he was S. P. Cox. He killed Bill Anderson and I always said I'd get the man if I could."

The Anderson he referred to was Bloody Bill. But Jesse hadn't killed S. P. Cox; he had killed Captain John W. Sheets, a local man.

A posse rode out to no avail. But something else happened. The riderless horse was caught and was identified as belonging to Jesse James. The local talk about the 'tough James Boys' boiled up again with a vengeance, and became more than just talk, for the Gallatin men went to Captain Thomason, the sheriff of Clay County, gave their proof, and asked the sheriff to 'bring 'em in.'

The sheriff knew Jesse's and Frank's courage and their ability to take care of themselves, and didn't hanker after the job. But he had to do it. So he swore in three deputies and rode over to get the Boys. They turned in from the main highway and advanced toward the house. Frank and Jesse saw them coming, but instead of trying to get out the back side of the farm, they rode out to meet them.

"You boys've got to go to town with us," called Captain Thomason. "We don't want to go to town with you," said Jesse with complete logic.

The four deputies glanced at one another, then one said, "You boys think it over."

"We've thought it over," said the Boys.

"I'll count ten," announced the sheriff.

"You can count all you want to, but it won't do you any good. We don't figger to change our minds." Frank glanced at his brother. Jesse's pistol flashed out, and, taking careful aim, he shot the horse the sheriff was on. The animal reeled to the ground, Thomason managing to keep from being entangled with it.

Whirling, Frank and Jesse dashed away. The deputies fired a few shots, hitting nothing but the wind.

The humiliating part came when the sheriff had to go to the house and get Mrs. James's permission to borrow a horse. She gave him her permission and something he hadn't asked for—a piece of her mind.

Jesse was now definitely on the 'dodge,' as his mother phrased it. He returned to the James farm; all his life he was returning, and all his life he was having to scurry away. There was no reward on his head, but he was wanted. And yet, so strange a person was he, he was getting quite a bit of fun out of living. He was courting Zee Mimms, he was living better than the average young man of his day. He wore good clothes and kept himself neat and clean. He never looked like a suspicious character.

Political Meet Turns Attention From Gang

Now the story moves along to June 3, 1871, and to the town of Corydon, Iowa, about two jumps above the Missouri-Iowa line. The place was agog with excitement—not because seven strangers had ridden in on horseback, but because an outdoor political meeting was being held on the edge of town.

The reason Jesse had fixed on Corydon was that he knew the taxes had just been collected and the banks were bursting. Going in to one establishment, he hauled out the usual $100 bill and required some change. But the teller explained that the bank's treasurer was at the meeting, and only he had the combination to the safe; so no change. But the teller aimed to be accommodating. He informed the stranger that a new bank had opened just that day, across the town square, and that in view of the fact that it had one-half of its capital on deposit, it might quite likely be able to take care of the $100 bill.

Jesse went out and consulted with his men. Never was there a harder decision. Then over to the new bank he walked, and laid down the bill. The cashier went to the safe to get the money; when he returned he was gazing down into the machinery of a six-shooter. He was promptly taken into the back room and tied up. Jesse and his much-encouraged gang started to fill the sack, but as they were going about their business in walked a Negro preacher to make a deposit. The men received his contribution gratefully, and invited him to join the cashier.

Shortly the inspection was over. The gang mounted their horses and started down the streets of Corydon in a state of pleasurable accomplishment. Soon they reached the spot where the meeting was being held. They rode up as close as the speaker's platform as they could, and then one of them—it was Jesse, of course—called out, "Excuse me for interrupting, but may I ask a question?"

The speaker gazed at him sourly. "Well, what is it?" he asked, none too pleasantly.

"Did you know there's something wrong at the bank?"

It had seemed a curious interruption, and nothing was thought of it right away. Then somebody from the audience figured it might be a good idea to look anyhow. It turned out to be an exceedingly good idea, for, thrashing around in the back room, they found the cashier and the minister.

Interest in the speaking immediately fell off. The farmers unhitched their work mares, straddled them, and went clipping down the road after the riders who had the finest and fastest horseflesh in the State of Missouri. The usual happened. They came drooping back after a while, without even having caught sight of the callers from out of state.

The Way it Happened . .

IN MILWAUKEE . . . After being awarded a National Safety Council medal for two years of safe driving, Truck Driver George Pratt went to a ball game where he drank eight bottles of beer and a slug of whisky, adjourned to a tavern where he tossed down two more beers, headed for another saloon, missed a turn, caromed off a telephone pole, was robbed of his medal, called the cops, was sentenced to ten days.

IN BUDAPEST . . . Communist Ministry of Construction ordered all staircase banisters to be equipped with large knobs to prevent youngsters from sliding down.

IN BEECHWOOD, WISC. . . Mrs. Joseph Hann bruised her leg in a collision involving a car, a truck, and the tavern in which she was sitting when she was knocked off her bar stool.

IN HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA . . . Eaton's department store advertised 400-day clocks, "covered by our one-year guarantee."

Predicts Intensity Polio Cases for 1951

ANN ARBOR — Approximately 27,000 cases of polio will occur in the United States during 1951, a University of Michigan school of public health statistician has predicted.

"There are a number of reasons for supposing that 1951 will be a far less severe year for polio than the record year of 1949 during which about 43,000 cases were reported," Dr. Fay M. Hemphill indicated.

Dr. Hemphill's "guesstimate" is based on figures supplied to him through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., by the United States public health service which receives weekly reports from the various state health departments throughout the nation.

Since June, 1950, he has been making a continuous statistical study of the areas and number of polio cases occurring in the United States. His studies are sponsored by grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc.

In the twenty-sixth week of last year, Dr. Hemphill predicted that slightly over 32,000 cases of polio would occur during 1950, and the year's final figure revealed that 32,271 cases were reported.

MRS. CAMERON FINDS RELIEF FROM HER STOMACH DISTRESS

HADACOL Helps Folks Who Suffer Stomach Distress and Sleeplessness Caused by an Upset Stomach, If Due to a Deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Life is wonderful when you feel well. And in order to feel well, folks just must get a good night's sleep, but that is sometimes pretty difficult when you suffer from stomach distress. Mrs. Evelyn Cameron of 1844 48th Avenue, San Francisco, California, says this used to be her problem. She suffered with stomach distress and bloating which prevented her from getting a full night's sleep. Then she heard how folks who suffered from these ailments when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron were being helped by today's great HADACOL. Mrs. Cameron started taking HADACOL and soon felt so much better. Now she says that she thinks HADACOL is marvelous and is more than happy to recommend it.

Here is what she says: "I used to have such stomach distress—would have so much bloating after meals. This was not only very uncomfortable but prevented me from sleeping. I would go to bed and then not be able to sleep. I started taking HADACOL—I had heard so much about it. Well, after just a couple of weeks I felt so much better. I was no longer bothered with my stomach, and I could sleep so wonderfully well. I go to bed now and get a full night's sleep. I wake up in the morning feeling so fresh and rested. HADACOL is certainly marvelous and I am more than happy to recommend it."

Yes, HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of stomach distress and sleeplessness due to an upset stomach when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND EVEN MORE IMPORTANT! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps prevent these ailments from returning when due to such deficiencies. Now, that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once. And HADACOL is so easy to take—comes in pleasant liquid form and is so easily and quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work for you immediately.

HADACOL is So Effective
Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today if you need Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee. You take no chances.

So be fair to yourself. Don't put off finding relief another day. If you are suffering from these deficiency-caused ailments, you owe it to yourself to start taking HADACOL today.

Refuse Substitutes
And remember! There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

DOAN'S PILLS

It's Wonderful the Way Chewing-Gum Laxative Acts Chiefly to REMOVE WASTE—NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different! Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon... right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out. But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, worn-out feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

Your future's guaranteed—when you're a nurse!

Churches Unite
Lesson for September 16, 1951

MORE THAN 200 different denominations of the Christian church exist in the United States alone. Several of these claim to be the one and only "true" church, but even those that do not make this claim are sufficiently pleased with themselves to stay on as separate denominations. Some Christians find this division of Christendom a scandal and a sin. Others find it the glory of Protestant Christianity that it has freedom and room for so many varieties of Christian faith. Has the Bible anything to say about this?

Dr. Foreman

The Mother of All Churches
You will not find such words as "denomination" in the New Testament. Such words as Episcopalian, Lutheran, Baptist (referring to a church), Presbyterian, Mennonite, Roman Catholic, or other modern tags, are not to be found in the Scriptures.

All the same, our lesson passages give us some important suggestions. Luke tells how horrified the disciples were at discovering some one not of their own organization, doing good work in Jesus' name. They would have stopped him; but Jesus said, "He that is not against us is for us."

That is a good way to think about other Christian churches. The story in Acts 11 tells how churches in the earliest times helped one another in various ways. II Cor. 9 shows how the good example of one church can be a challenge to others to do still better.

All Christians Are Brothers
IN HIS first letter to that problem-church of Corinth, their first pastor Paul urges the different parties in the church to remember above all that they are Christ's people rather than any one's else.

In his letter to the Philippians Paul says an even more striking thing. "I know that some are preaching Christ out of jealousy, to annoy me... but what does it matter? The fact remains that Christ is being preached, whether sincerely or not, and that fact makes me very happy."

In America today we are beginning to catch the New Testament spirit. Taking the situation as a whole, there is more get-togetherness than fly-apartness among the churches. Cooperation is taking many forms. Locally in communities, or in state-wide interdenominational associations, or on a national scale, churches are doing together what separate churches or denominations would find difficult or impossible.

Besides recent large mergers of denominations such as the union of Methodists north and south, the Evangelical United Brethren, the Evangelical and Reformed, and Congregational-Christian, there are many other groupings of like-minded churches, pooling their resources.

Message to the People

THE largest and most impressive get-togethers are the National Council of Churches of Christ in America which includes every large American denomination but two; and the great World Council of Churches with member-churches in every Christian land.

These words from the first message of the National Council to the people of America ring out the spirit of unity growing today: "This council has been constituted by 29 churches for the glory of God and the well-being of humanity. It manifests our oneness in Jesus Christ as divine Lord and Savior; his is the mandate we obey and his the power on which we rely. Our hope is in him. In him we see the solution of the world's ills. The Council itself is a demonstration of his power to unite his followers in joyous cooperation."

THE READER'S DATE BOOK
Hunting Season Will Stimulate Business in Many Communities

October is to the hunter what May is to the fisherman. And to the small towns and Main Streets across the nation it means big business. As the month approaches guns are taken from cases and oiled, hunting clothes are aired and repaired, training of hunting dogs is intensified, and the local sporting goods store and the hardware begin to notice an increase in business.

October is "Let's Go Hunting" month and the sportsman wants to see and read about the latest guns and equipment. It's a subject he doesn't tire of quickly. And it's a wide local merchant and newspaper editor that realizes the fact.

There are approximately 12,000,000 men and women in the United States today who hunt during season. Last season various states sold 12,626,530 licenses, producing $37,641,049 in revenue. This does not include 1,954,735 migratory-bird hunting stamps, commonly called duck stamps, at $2 each.

Some years ago it was estimated that each hunter spent $41.88 a year on his sport, of which 31.1 per cent went for hunting clothing, 28.8 per cent for guns and 11.7 per cent for ammunition.

The remaining 28.4 per cent was spent for licenses, transportation, meals, lodging and various miscellaneous items, all provided in the home towns of the nation.

On that basis, the nation's annual hunting bill exceeds a half-billion dollars.

Millinery Promotions Begin in September

Beginning September 16 retail millinery groups in many communities in the United States will stage fall millinery promotions. At the same time previews of all that's new in millinery fashions will be released to national magazines and large and small newspapers.

The promotion is timely because women in the United States are more fashion conscious than any in the world. Although primarily staged to promote the sale of hats, the event fills the need of telling women what is new and fashionable. It is an educational and entertaining program as well as a sales promotion.

Unfortunately, there are still many millinery retailers who prefer to be rugged individuals. They fail to realize that the creation of an active market for millinery in the community means added sales for everybody. And conversely, in a stagnant market, business is bad for all.

There is no better way to inform the women in an area of what is new in fashions than for every merchant in the community to get together and announce the opening of the new season simultaneously with dramatic newspaper ads and window displays. It doesn't matter whether the town itself has a large or small population.

The psychological effect of such simultaneous community-wide promotions is tremendous. It turns the woman's attention to the new season's fashions in an important way, something which could never be achieved by individual stores and windows appearing at sporadic intervals.

And speaking of fashions, here's a note of interest to the women of every community. Next to a hat, every woman wants a fur coat.

CRIME IN THE U.S.
Home Towns Have Less Crime Than Big Cities, FBI Reports

Life and property are much safer in a small town than a big city, according to a recent report on nationwide crime statistics by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI report shows that the murder rate last year in the nation's 37 largest cities (populations of 250,000 or more) was more than twice as high as that in 1,197 towns having populations under 10,000. The large cities had almost seven murders per 100,000 population, while small towns had less than three. The balance sheet on other crimes shows a similar tendency.

But there is one exception to the rule. Levittown, N. Y., the nation's fastest-growing city, had even less crime than the typical American small town.

Pork Loin Roast Gives Good, Economical Meal
(See Recipes Below)

LOOKING FOR WAYS to have meat on the menu and still live within an economical food budget? Proper preparation of even the thriftiest cuts makes them simply delicious. Along with eating hand-some of these nutritious cuts, you may also want to take a few bows for keeping the budget straight-laced.

Some of the really economical cuts of meat are scarcely heard about, any more. Many of the butchers don't stock them because the demand is low, but usually they're happy to get them simply for the asking.

Salt pork, for example, was an old-time favorite and grandmother knew how to prepare it deliciously. Pork hocks are another tempting dish and so are lamb shanks. Try some savory liver dishes, using beef or pork liver because they're more economical. Stretch inexpensive roast pork with clever dressing sticks and vegetables. All these will make a difference in how much more you get out of the meat dollar!

Salt Pork and Cream Gravy
(Serves 4)
1 pound salt pork
1/4 cup cornmeal
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper

Have salt pork cut in slices, 1/4-inch thick. Cover with hot water for a few minutes, then drain. Dip each piece in cornmeal and brown slowly in fat, in skillet.

Drain off all but 2 tablespoons of the fat and mix in flour. Cook 2 minutes, stirring well, then add milk slowly and cook for 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper, if needed. Serve with onion slices, marinated in French Dressing and potatoes cooked in their jackets.

Pork Hocks, Sauerkraut
(Serves 4)
4-6 fresh pork hocks
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
2 medium onions, sliced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 cup boiling water
1 No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed

Brown pork hocks slowly in lard or drippings. Add sliced onion, salt, pepper and boiling water. Cover closely and cook slowly for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add sauerkraut and cook until heated through. Remove to hot platter. Sprinkle caraway seed over sauerkraut before serving.

Pork Loin Roast
3-5 pound pork loin roast
Salt and pepper

Have backbone removed from pork loin. Season with salt and pepper. Place fat side up on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Be careful that the thermometer does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate (350°F.) oven until meat thermometer registers 185°F. Allow about 30 minutes to the pound for the roasting time. Serve with lima beans, onion rings and these dressing sticks:

Dressing Sticks
4 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons finely cut parsley
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons hot water
3 tablespoons melted lard

Toss the dry ingredients together lightly. Stir in beaten egg, hot water and melted lard. Press dressing into shallow 5x7 inch pan and chill. Turn out on greased cookie sheet and cut into sticks 1x3 inches. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 20 minutes.

Swiss Style Liver
(Serves 6-8)
1 1/2 pounds beef or pork liver
Flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 onions, sliced
2 1/2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes

Buy liver in one piece. Dredge with flour mixed with salt and pepper. Brown liver in lard or drippings. Add onions and tomatoes, cover closely and cook in a moderate (350°F.) oven or simmer gently on top of range for 1 1/2 hours.

Liver Roll-Ups
(Serves 4)
4 slices beef or pork liver, cut 1/4-inch thick
Salt, pepper, nutmeg, thyme
4 sausage links
4 slices bacon
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1/2 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
1 small bay leaf
1 whole clove
1 small clove garlic, minced
1 small onion, sliced
Flour for gravy

Remove any membrane from sliced liver. Sprinkle slices with salt, pepper, nutmeg and thyme. Roll sausage link in each slice, then wrap with a bacon slice and fasten with toothpick. Brown the rolls on all sides in lard. Pour off drippings. Add water, worcestershire sauce, bay leaf, clove, garlic and onion. Cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Thicken liquid with flour for gravy.

Legumes, Fertilizer Re-Build Worn Field Most Soil Will Produce If Cared for Properly

The teamwork of legumes, grasses and plenty of fertilizer made the difference between these two fields in Huntington County, Indiana, points out the middle west soil improvement committee.

The barren field in the upper photo had 6 feet of soil removed at the deepest point for road fill. It had no soil care, no fertilizer. After three years the field is still badly eroded, criss-crossed with gullies 2 to 3 feet deep.

The lower field located on Norman Thompson's farm near Huntington, had 8 feet of soil removed

The above fields are examples of what can be done to build soil even on the most barren, eroded fields. Given proper plant food and plenty of it, plus legume-grass mixture, most soil can be made to produce.

from a hilltop, for road fill. As soon as the soil was carted off, Thompson added heavy applications of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Altogether, he used the equivalent of 600 pounds of plant food per acre—approximately 250 pounds of 3-12-12 and 350 pounds of 0-20-0. No lime was needed, as the subsoil is almost neutral.

Thompson seeded bluegrass and some ladino and red clover. The roots anchored well and soon built up a protective growth that yields good forage. Volunteer white clover has come in to add to the pasture.

Now Thompson uses the field for night pasture.

Factory Wages Buy More Food Than in 1929

An hour of work in a factory will buy, on the average, a larger quantity of nearly all kinds of food than it would a generation ago, according to the U.S. department of agriculture.

Department figures on food prices and factory wages for 1929 show that the average wage for an hour of factory work would buy 6.4 loaves of bread. Now it would buy 10 loaves.
