Crowd Attends Watson Reception

Elizabeth Watson Retires After Fifty Years Teaching

Approximately 250 people including several superintendents, teachers and ex-students gathered in the Watson Junior High School library Sunday afternoon for the retirement reception honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, who has taught in the Muleshoe Independent School District more than forty years.

Guests were registered from Lubbock, Amarillo, Oklahoma City, Friona, Olton, Littlefield, Earth, Springlake, Plainview, Clovis, N.M., Portales, N.M., Hereford, Denver City, San Marcus, Marble Falls and Oklahoma.

When asked what she planned to do following her retirement, Mrs. Watson stated, "I plan to travel, do mission work, church work, visit the lonely...Keep Busy. To sum it up I plan to smell the roses and spread sunshine."

Elizabeth Bailey Watson was born December 13, 1916 in Childress, TX. Her father, John William Bailey, was a carpenter and a farmer. Her mother, Hannah Moore Daniel Bailey, was a teacher in schools in Hale County. Ms. Watson began her school career at the age of four when she started going to school with her mother. She has some interesting tales about those experiences!

She and John Watson were married for many years before his death. He was born in Bowie and was reared in Oklahoma. He retired from Ladd Allis-Chalmers as a mechanic. They had no children of their own, but Watson "adopted" neighbor children and watched out for them.

After her early beginning in school, Ms. Watson graduated from Plainview High School in 1932. She began attending Wayland Baptist College in 1934; health had delayed her college years. She was to receive a B.A. from Texas Tech in 1939, and the M. Ed. from Tech in 1952. She also has hours from other colleges and universities.

Ms. Watson began her teaching career in Bellview Schools (near Plainview) in 1939. In 1941, she moved to Muleshoe and has taught in Muleshoe I.S.D. since that time with three years out when she worked at E.R. Hart Company. During her years in Muleshoe, she has taught elementary and junior high classes. She also served as junior high librarian for a time.

She is currently serving as Assistant Superintendent for Instruction.

Memberships in many organizations keep Ms. Watson abreast of current thought in education. She is a member of American Association of University Women, Texas Association of School Administrators, American Supervision and Curriculum Development, and Texas Association for Improvement of Reading. She has also served on the American Heart Association Board in Bailey County.

An active member of the First Baptist Church, she teaches an adult Sunday School class. She has served on many of the church's committees of work.

Delta Kappa Gamma initiation came in Gamma Iota Chapter in 1948, in Plainview. She was a charter member of Epsilon Delta Chapter and also served as the first chapter president. She has been active in the chapter and has chaired many committees and received the Chapter Achievement Award in 1984.

Other honors and awards Ms. Watson has received are: Muleshoe Junior High School renamed Watson Junior High in her honor; Muleshoe Citizen of the Year, 1980; TCTA Administrator of the Year, 1968; Muletrain Annual Dedication, 1968; Plains American Heritage Administrator of the Year, 1971; and Beta Sigma Phi First Lady of the Year, 1976.

DPS Warns Motorist Watch Out For Kids

The last bell has rung for the school year. Students are happy, summer vacation is here and the fun begins. Many children forget the rules of safety as they have their minds on having fun for the summer.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, is asking all Texas motorists to drive with extra care this time of year. He said, "Long trips across our state can be very stressful on all occupants in the car. Frequent rest stops should be used to let the children run off some of their excess energy. Remember, to protect everyone in your car by using your safety belts."

Major Cawthon also reminds us to be extra careful to keep alert while driving in residential areas. Children seem to forget about the traffic around them and run into the roadways unexpectedly, not realizing that oncoming cars are in the area. Since, the younger children do not know the law, it would be wise to always expect the unexpected and be prepared to give them the right of way.

Major Cawthon said, "In order to make this an accident free summer vacation, motorist need to take a more mature attitude towards safe driving. Let's all remember to slow down a little and live alot by driving defensively each and every day of this summer while school is out.

Palmer, Mrs. Loy Mae Williams, Doris Crouch Scott, Forist Williams, Norris Leroy Conklin, Randall Lee Pitcock, W.C. Eubanks, Mrs. Ina M. Wilemon, Jeanetta Dewbre Fine, Vaunda Patton Gore, Onieda Sebastiana Lopez and Archie Lewis Sowder.

Phyllis Phillips, Briggs United In Marriage

Phyllis Colleen Phillips and Ronald Kent Briggs were united in marriage April 25 at Arlington's First Baptist Church in a double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m. with Calvin Beach, pastor of International Crusades, officiating.

Colleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil W. (Scooter) Phillips and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Katherine Alexander of New London and the late Mrs. Clara Phillips.

Ronald is the son of Mrs. Rosemary Briggs and the late Ronald Hinds Briggs. He is the grandson of Mrs. Marie Briggs and Mrs. Louise Agee.

Organist for the ceremony was Mark Edwards. Pianist and soloist was Carey Hendrickson, who sang "I Will Be There," "We Have Gathered Together" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a designer gown by Dimitri, which was completely embellished with pearls and iridescent sequins all over the tight-fitting bodice, long sleeves and straight skirt. Her veil was crowned with roses, iridescent sequins and rhinestones and flowed just below the satin bustle of her dress. The cathedral-length train flowed from the bustle and was highlighted with iridescent sequins, handsewn by the bride's mother.

The bride carried a bouquet of white silk roses, gypsophila and myriads of similar blossoms, interspersed with peach status and greenery. Tucked in the midst of these cascading blossoms was a peach handkerchief which had belonged to the bride's late grandmother, Mrs. Clara Phillips, of Overton.

Mary Blevins of Irving served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Poe of Houston, Cindy Smith Truett of Tyler, Rhonda Churchwell, sister of the groom, of San Angelo and Mika Conner of Arlington. Flower girl was Rebecca Little, niece of the bride. The attendants wore a sophisticated ensemble of peach moire, featuring long-sleeved, fitted peplum jackets and above-the-knee straight skirts. Each of the attendants carried long-stemmed silk peach roses tied with ribbons, lace and gypsophila. Rebecca was attired in a sheer, white batiste dress which was accented with a huge bow at the waist.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple plan to make their home in Arlington.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Henderson High School and a 1989 graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University. She is currently employed at Lomas Mortgage. ## Farm Credit District Reports Higher Net Income

The Tenth Farm Credit District reported a net income of $13.9 million for the quarter ended March 31, 1992, an increase of $2.3 million over the same quarter a year ago. The report was made on Tuesday, May 19.

Chief Executive Officer Arnold Henson attributed the increase to a lower cost of funding and an increase in performing loan volume. The district's net interest income improved $3.1 million compared to the same quarter one year ago.

"The district's good financial performance during the first quarter reflects continued improvement and optimism in the agricultural economy," Henson said, noting a decline in non-accrual loans in the district. Non-accrual loan volume declined $27 million from $188.3 million at March 31, 1991, to $161.2 million at March 31, 1992.

Lower funding costs also allowed the district to lower interest rates this past quarter, Henson said. On March 1, the fixed rate for long-term loans made through the district's 49 Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs) was reduced to 8.2 percent.

"We believe our lower interest rates and focus on customer service are creating a high level of return business," Henson stated. "In a recent survey, more than 95 percent

Economic Injury Loans

Walter Fronstin, district director of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) in Lubbock announced that SBA is accepting applications for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) from eligible small business concerns and small agricultural cooperatives located in Bailey County, as well as several other West Texas counties which are serviced by the Lubbock office.

In addition to Bailey county businesses located in the following counties have until Dec. 10, 1992 to file an EIDL application.

Businesses seeking loan information and loan applications may call, toll-free, 1-800-473-0477.

Fronstin said applicants must have sustained substantial economic injury because of their dependence upon farmers and ranchers who suffered agricultural damages. The agricultural damages were caused by extreme freezing weather conditions which occurred between October 1 and December 31, 1991.

To qualify for the EIDL loans, applicants must be unable to secure financing from other sources and must be considered small by SBA size standards.

This loan program is intended to assist agriculture-dependable business and small agricultural cooperatives who sustained a substantial decrease in sales (or other forms of economic injury) directly due to losses incurred by farmers and ranchers to whom the business usually sells.

"Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for these SBA loans," Fronstin said. "Nor are small businesses claiming to have been physically injured by the specified weather conditions."

The interest rate for loans processed under this designation is four percent. The loans are limited to the financial needs of the applicant based on the actual economic injury

Computer Training Center Offers Three June Classes

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will offer three courses in June at the Texas A&M Computer Training and Education Center at Halfway. One of these courses will be a popular repeat offering. The other two will be taught for the first time.

Introduction to Lotus is a course designed for computer users needing to learn the basis of spreadsheets. "Spreadsheets have many practical applications, but are especially useful for budgeting and addressing other what-if questions," said Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension Service economist and marketing specialist, instructor for the course. Participants will learn to build their own or modify existing spreadsheets during this course, June 4-5.

In an effort to help area producers become aware of other commercially developed software, Farm Accounting with IDI Accounting, will be offered June 18-19. Participants will learn to use the basic accounting package developed by IDI (Intelligent Decisions Incorporated) of Raleigh, N.C. This system, provides complete general accounting with simplified payroll and accounts functions. Other add-on modules, such as advanced payroll, budgeting and field records will also be shown. The workshop will be taught by IDI representatives.

Microsoft Works with Agricultural Applications, June 25-26, is also a new course offering. Microsoft Works is a low-cost software package that includes spreadsheet, wordprocessing database and communication components. Microsoft Works is often included as part of the package when computer hardware is purchased. The course will emphasize the use of the spreadsheet but will also cover the other components.

For each course, training will take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. The registration fee will be $100 per course, which covers the cost of meals and teaching materials. Couples are encouraged to attend and will be charged only one registration fee if they share a computer. Registration will be limited to 14 to provide hands-on computer experience. No computer experience is required for any of the courses.

The Computer Training and Education center is 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 80. It is in the Moody Building at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station facilities in Halfway.

For more information contact Jackie Smith at the Texas A&M Research and Experiment Station in Lubbock, (806) 746-6101.

GTE Votes To Strike

The Communications Workers of America announced that the union is taking a strike vote, as the May 15 contract expiration date approached. Union negotiators said the parties are still far apart on major issues, and charged that the company is demanding 19 separate give backs from its workers, despite its profitable financial outlook.

The results of the strike vote by the 5,670 union-represented workers will be announced on Wednesday, May 13, 1992.

"We are fighting for our future with GTE," said Communications Workers of America Vice President T.O. Moses.

"GTE's proposals would destroy the good American jobs our communities have come to depend on," Moses charged. "GTE is attacking the existence of a full-time stable workforce in this company. They want to undermine good, stable jobs, that contribute to a good standard of living in our communities--in favor of substandard out-of-town contractors, temporary low-wage clerical jobs, and part-time jobs with inferior wages and benefits."

"GTE's insistence on destroying good jobs with good pay, benefits, and a future with the company has CWA to seek authorization from our members for a strike," Moses said. We must let the company know that we are serious about protecting good jobs for the people of our community, and quality service for the customers."

CWA is bargaining with GTE Southwest for a new three year contract covering 5,760 workers in Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas, represented by CWA

RED WING SHOES
Made in U.S.A.

Local 6171, based in San Angelo, Texas. Bargaining began on March 31; the current contract expires on Friday, May 15. The results of the secret ballot strike vote was announced on Wednesday, May 13.

One of GTE's principal demands is the right to unlimited subcontracting. CWA contends that this would mean no guarantee that any union members would have jobs with GTE. The union also argues that contract lab or not only threatens good jobs for the communities served by GTE, it erodes the quality of service to the customer.

"CWA has been running ads to reach out to customers and apologize for the inferior service they get from subcontractors," Moses said. "We want them to clearly understand that the veteran, skilled workforce that has provided years of quality telephone service is getting pushed out by GTE. We want to do a good job for the customers, but the company just wants to cut corners."

"The community knows us," Moses said. "The wages and benefits we make and the service we provide benefits our communities. But GTE's subcontractors bring in people from all over the country. That means that local telephone rate-payers' money goes to benefit communities all over the country, but not your friends and neighbors right here at home. Our communities are losing money through this practice, and it should stop."

"GTE is also degrading good clerical and accounting jobs and giving the work to temporary agencies," Moses stated. "Those jobs are primarily held by women, and GTE is jeopardizing some of the only decent paying jobs that clerical workers have in our communities. We're fighting for good paying, stable jobs with benefits and an opportunity to advance. GTE's clerical workers deserve no less."

Moses pointed out that GTE spent $34.8 million last year on subcontracting, while getting rid of 487 union workers--2,325 union workers have lost their jobs since 1988.

"GTE spent $600,000 of rate-payers money on back-pay awards over the last few years for violating the contract provision against subcontracting union work," Moses stated. "They mistreated the union workers, and they wasted the rate-payers money. If GTE had followed the contract, and treated the workers fairly, they could have invested that money in productive ways."

CWA will hold a nationwide mobilization activity on May 14 against GTE's contract labor demand. GTE Locals around the country, who will begin bargaining in later months, will show their solidarity with the workers at GTE Southwest, in opposing subcontracting of union work.

"Basically, to summarize where we are in bargaining," Moses said, "there are 23 company proposals on the table--and 19 of those are retrogressive, requiring workers to accept major job erosion and loss of hard-won benefits. The company wants to shift health care costs to the workers--which is a line in the sand that CWA has adamantly refused to cross with other employers around the country, and we won't start now with GTE."

"The most unfortunate thing about the company's retrogressive demands," Moses remarked, "is how unnecessary their stance is. GTE is one of the healthiest, most profitable corporations in America, and continues to grow and prosper. Our members, whose hard work has made millions for GTE, deserve a fair contract that protects their standard of living and insures employment security now and in the future," Moses stated.

GTE, the largest U.S. telephone holding company, is a financially strong, growing, successful corporation. In 1991, GTE saw significant increases in profits, revenues, return to shareholders, productivity, and acquired new assets. GTE paid $945 million for a share of the Venezuelan phone company in 1991, and consummated a $6.2 billion merger with Contel. Profitability per employee is estimated to exceed $35,000 per worker in 1991.

GTE's telephone operations are the key to the company's success, providing an overwhelming share (85 percent) of their profits.

"These economic security goals mean a great deal to the communities where GTE employees live and work," Moses continued. "If our economy is ever going to thrive again, successful, profitable companies like GTE must make a commitment to create good jobs, instead of continuing to downsize. The thousands of jobs that GTE has cut over the years have hurt families and communities all over this country, in favor of boosting short-term profits. GTE and other corporations must stop playing to Wall Street, putting workers on the unemployment lines to gain a quick jump in stock prices. GTE would adopt a long-term strategy that creates--not eliminates--good American jobs, with good benefits and opportunities for advancement. GTE is more than able to meet those goals."

The GTE Southwest negotiations are the first of several rounds of bargaining between CWA and GTE to be held in 1992 and 1993, for new contracts covering a total of about 26,000 union represented workers nationwide.

CWA represents over 600,000 workers in telecommunications, printing, publishing, media, health care, and the public sector in the United States and Canada.

Texas Veterans' Land Board Reduces Interest Rate

The Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB) has reduced the interest rate on veterans home loans to 7.25 percent interest--the lowest rate offered by the VLB since the home loan program was started in 1984.

"Lowering the interest rate to 7.25 percent makes our home loan program far and away the best deal in today's market for a veteran looking for affordable housing," said Garry Mauro, chairman of the VLB. "It places us below the VA, below FHA, and below conventional rates."

The new rate is effective immediately. The rate had been 8.5 percent.

Mauro urged any Texas veteran thinking about a home loan to call the VLB at 1-800-252-VETS.

"These changes mean substantial savings for Texas veterans," Mauro said. "For example, the new 7.25 percent rate means the monthly payment on a $45,000 home loan would decrease from $346 to $307 (principle and interest) - a savings of $39 a month. That amounts to $14,000 in savings over the life of a 30-year loan."

"That $39 a month can mean the difference between qualifying or not qualifying for thousands of Texas veterans that are struggling with the rising costs of home ownership," Mauro said.

"Lower monthly payments will also enable our state's 1.8 million veterans to get more home and more value for the same amount of money," Mauro said.

While new legislation that took effect in September raised the amount of a home loan a veteran can receive through the VLB to $45,000, veterans are not limited to homes in that price range. Veterans who want to buy a home costing more than $45,000 can combine their VLB loan with a FHA, VA or conventional loan.

Normal Pain Killers No Help To MS Patients

Normal pain killers do not help the nerve pain associated with multiple sclerosis (MS), but researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston hope a drug commonly prescribed for depression will bring relief.

"About 30 percent of MS patients suffer severe pain," said Dr. Loren Rolak, associate professor of clinical neurology at Baylor. "The nerves that carry pain are damaged and become extremely sensitive."

This damage results in pain often described as an intense feeling of heat, burning or electricity.

Rolak and his colleagues are investigating the effectiveness of Amitriptyline and Fluoxetine (sold as Prozac) for treating MS pain. The drugs are antidepressants, and both raise the level of serotonin in the body, a chemical that helps control nerve pain.

"Serotonin helps control pain by shutting off the nerves carrying the pain," Rolak said.

Amitriptyline is currently the standard drug prescribed for MS pain.

"Several years ago it was found to help treat diabetic nerve pain, so physicians began using it for MS as well," Rolak said.

Prozac, commonly used for treating depression, increases serotonin levels well. Rolak added that, on paper, Prozac looks like it should out-perform Amitriptyline.

But the 30 patients in the study will be the ones who really put the drugs to the test.

"The patients receive a different drug each month and rate their pain at the start and finish of the month," Rolak said. "One month they receive a placebo, pills that have no effect at all."

To make sure there is no personal bias involved, the drugs are given in random order and identified only as No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. Patients and doctors are reporting a dramatic improvement with one of the drugs," Rolak said.

When the last patient finishes the study, researchers will crack the code and determine if there is a clear-cut winner in the Amitriptyline/Prozac comparison.

"I hope we find a new alternative for patients suffering from this pain," Rolak said. "It will not be the first time a drug has turned out to be useful for more than one problem."

Better Business Bureau Alert

South Plains consumers are now endangered by high-pressure telemarketing operations pushing worthless or overvalued applications in the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) lottery awarding licenses for "wireless cable" television, which relies upon new technology as an alternative for consumers used to traditional, "hard-wired" cable TV service, according to a special "Investor Alert" released by Nan Campbell, President of the Better Business Bureau of the South Plains, Inc., American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA).

"It is our hope that this warning will cause South Plains consumers to 'tune out' these fast-buck operators dangling the enticements of high technology and get-rich-quick promises in cable television," said Ms. Campbell. "The 'application mills' now cranking out applications for wireless cable license applications are playing the same slippery game that we saw a few years back with the fraud-plagued federal lotteries for cellular telephone licenses and oil and gas leases."

According to the "Investor Alert," wireless TV cable lottery application services now qualify as "the single fastest-growing telemarketing 'program' category for small investors" in the U.S. High-pressure boiler room phone sales tactics to fleece consumers out of $5,000 or more each with extravagant and misleading get-rich-quick promises about the likelihood of getting an FCC license and then being able to operate a profitable wireless cable TV service.

"This is just a fancy, high-tech twist on the old 'something for nothing' scam," warned Campbell. "In fact, the chances of getting a license are remote and the wireless cable television industry is new and very risky for even the most sophisticated investors."

Wireless cable uses microwave radio technology to transmit non-broadcast programming (such as HBO and ESPN) directly to a small antenna attached to a subscriber's roof. Application mills inflate the prospects for an investor to prevail in a wireless cable television lottery, gloss over the complicated mechanics of the FCC lottery process, understand the risks, exaggerate the potential value of a license, overstate the availability of necessary financing, and make it seem that fat profits are all but certain and will start rolling in almost immediately.

If wireless cable application mills generate only 5,000 new applications in 1992, the one-year "take" will be $25 million, according to the "Investor Alert". Given the rapid growth of application mill efforts, the actual toll of victims this year could be two or three times this level. The "Alert" sets out the facts about the wireless cable television lottery and provides specific tips for interested investors.

New federal lotteries to award market licenses for even newer technology are now either underway or being contemplated. For example, efforts are afoot in Washington, DC to shift a major section of the radio frequency spectrum from public use (such as the military) to private applications, including new and emerging technologies. The outcome may have enormous (even if entirely unintended) consequences for consumers; this new federal licensing process could serve as the biggest generation of application mills.

"Investor Alert" is a quarterly publication of the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA) and the Council of Better Business Bureaus (CBBB). In the U.S., NASAA is the national voice of the 50 state securities agencies responsible for investor protection and the efficient functioning of the capital markets at the grassroots level. Securities regulators in the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Canada also are members of NASAA. The CBBB promotes ethical standards for business practices and protects consumers through voluntary self-regulation and monitoring activities. The CBBB is supported through the membership of private business; it is not a government agency. CBBB members include major businesses and more than 170 Better Business Bureaus and branches in the United States (17 in Canada).
