Silverton

The mayor and councilmen are to be commended for their thought of the future in having engineers establish paving and sidewalk grades for Silverton at this time. The action should insure conformity in the building of sidewalks, the city's great need this winter, and assist materially in the future in controlling drainage when paving is instituted.

It may appear amiss to be talking of preparing for paving, but why not get ready for the next convenience that is sure to come? We have plenty of electric power, a big supply of natural gas, an ample water system that can be added to when necessary and a modern sewer plant is nearing completion.

We now have everything else that the big cities have, excepting sidewalks and paved streets and not quite as many people. When we have everything that people want in establishing a home, they will come.

It hasn't been long since a brick business house was a novelty, when we had no railroad, when the electric power supply was intermittent, when gas was only a dream, when windmills and the housewife as water-carrier were good enough, and a modern sewer disposal was not considered.

Silverton has all these conveniences of the late day, through the determination of a few of its thoughtful men and the acquiescence of the majority of its people to build a town in which folks would like to live.

We do not want to stop; there isn't ever any place to stop and rest in the shade of the trees. New York and London haven't yet ceased building and planning and providing for their population.

A good drainage system must be devised without wrecking the streets, and the streets must be made pleasant for riding over. Connected sidewalks are next on the demand list, with a paved business district in the offing. Who will be the benefactor to put through a satisfying street improvement program?

The streets can't be improved without money; the city's coffers are low in coin; and those at the helm must be backed up with the where-withall before they can be expected to act or before criticizing them for non-action. Filling station men should get busy to drum up sentiment for better streets, for they are being hurt. Cars in garages burn no gas, use no oil nor do they wear out tires. Every day gas dispensers lose business in Silverton, because it is so uncomfortable to ride. As for us, we prefer to walk unless we feel the need of a good shake-down.

Wanted: a good cheap place to eat, by the Silverton Lions Club. The late Vice-president Thomas Marshall said that what this country needed was a good five-cent cigar. What the Lions club needs is a good fifty-cent lunch, for, unless it is found soon, the organization is apt to become listed as moribund, and later, to use a legal phrase, become the corpus delicti.

BRISCOE IN STATE PRIZE MONEY

As West Texas came into its own for the first time within two years at the State Fair, Briscoe County, with its county booth, was in the money class, assisting in putting this section over. Briscoe placed in the third grouping in the awards and received a cash prize of $125. Hemphill county won first place, receiving $200.

The Briscoe County Fair Association, with J. L. Francis and W. M. Gourley to the front in taking the exhibit to Dallas arranging and caring for it the past week, sponsored the state showing that has reflected so much credit to dear old Briscoe and its enterprising citizenship.

Council Has Engineers Run Out Sidewalks and Street Paving Grades

Sidewalks and paving grades are being worked up by Ernest Lee of the H. N. Roberts Engineering company, while here installing the city's sewer system.

This work is being done now in order that sidewalk grades established will conform to grades that will be used at some time in the future in paving the city streets, said Mr. Lee.

The foresighted move shows the progress of the city and the thoughtful attention given such matters by the mayor and council, not only in planning for today but for years to come.

While the establishment of such grades does not appear to the layman of any essential value, it is recognized by engineers to be very vital, said Mr. Lee. Especially is the laying out of grades important in the section here, where the proper drainage of city streets is a hard matter to care for properly.

The city authorities and the engineers hope that the citizens will adhere to the grades established by these surveys when they put down their sidewalks.

Zane Grey Picture At Palace Saturday

Under a ban of $1,000 reward for his capture, a dashing "badman" dares arrest and death to save a girl and her lover from a dangerous situation. In doing so he falls in love with the girl himself, which ends in a climax as dramatic as it is thrilling.

Zane Grey fans and lover of western stories will cheer this thriller, coming to the Palace theatre Saturday and Monday.

Hubert Simmons, manager, announces that from now on during the week the admission will be only 10 and 25 cents, while on Saturdays it will be 15 and 35 cents.

Postoffice Gets Larger Allowance

Arrangements Made for Two Postal Assistants; Mrs. Roy Leslie Selected As New Clerk

An increased allowance for operation of the post office here has been granted, states A. E. Frieze, postmaster. Under the arrangement two clerks are possible. The allowance is now in effect and Mrs. Roy Leslie has accepted a position in the postal force. Mrs. Joe Alexander is the other clerk.

Heretofore, Mr. Frieze has been tied so closely to his work that he has been unable to utilize the annual 30-day vacation with pay permitted under the postal regulations. With two assistants he expects to take advantage of the time-off allowed, with no risk of disrupting the postoffice's efficient service and with no financial loss personally in hiring a substitute, he said.

Evolution Discussed By Rev. Arceneau

Interesting services were held at the Church of Christ here Monday and Tuesday evenings by Rev. Early Arceneaux of Lockney, who covered such live topics as evolution opposed to divine revelation. The sermons were to have begun Sunday but rains prevented. Rev. Arceneaux is the pastor at Lockney, an experienced debater on Biblical questions, and is a direct and logical speaker.

Baptists Start Meeting

A protracted meeting at the First Baptist church was begun here Monday night, with the preaching in charge of P. D. O'Brien of Floydada.

"Starved to death", would be the coroner's verdict.

One of the main reasons for holding a county fair is the benefit we may derive, the lessons we may learn from the show. Frank R. Phillips, the dairy judge, has made a few observations to assist in making the fair more profitable. We recommend his comments for your perusal.

Over at the little town of Flomot they have organized a Better English Campaign, which ought to have converts in every high school. Their slogan is well expressed, "Good English Can Never Die. Don't try to murder it."

Houston—Five-story auto hotel will go up at cost of $500,000.

PROF. A. M. BUSWELL

Prof. A. M. Buswell of the University of Illinois and his assistants have devised a practicable method of making illuminating power and heating gas from corn stalks. It is expected that farmers will be able to take full advantage of the device.

Boost for Crops in Recent Big Rains

Heavy Downpours Drench the County, As If Made to Order for Next Year's Wheat.

Wheat prospects for another year were given a big boost following the heavy rains over Briscoe county, beginning Thursday night and covering the week-end. Two and three-quarter inches of rain fell Thursday night during a severe electrical storm, a hard downpour accompanied by some hail, resulting in flood waters. There was no wind in the storm.

The total rainfall for the several days perhaps totals four inches. In the eastern part of the county there was a heavier fall Friday night than the preceding evening. Most of the wheat is estimated to have been drilled, and the fine sub-moisture is timely for sprouting of the late sowing and giving growth to the earlier planting.

Much cotton was beaten from the burs on the plains, with the severest scattering of cotton below the caprock. Unless more rain falls, it is claimed that the loose cotton will be recovered for the most part.

In Silverton storm-sewers were too small to carry off the floods, and the highway was damaged by a break-over.

The rains could not have come more opportunely from the standpoint of wheat growing, is the opinion generally expressed.

ATTEND WORKERS' MEET

Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Davis, Mrs. R. E. Stephens and Mrs. P. E. C. Cowart attended the Worker's meeting at Ralls Tuesday. Dr. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lubbock spoke on the church's responsibilities to the incoming Mexicans. A wonderful dinner was served in the modernly equipped new church at Ralls.

RETURNED FROM CALIFORNIA

The hosts o' friends of Mr. and Mrs. U. M. Meeker and Gale are very glad to see them in Silverton again, after a two or three months' stay in Southern California.

Tax Rolls Approved By Commissioners

$100,000 Required for Next Year; $37,000 for County Expenses; J. A. Ranch Largest Tax Payer.

The county and state tax rolls for the present year were approved Monday by the commissioners court, and tax payers may now begin paying their annual assessments, according to Manley Wood, county tax assessor.

The total tax for 1929, according to Mr. Wood's rolls, is slightly short of $100,000, exact figures being $99,755.22. Of this amount $37,216.79 is retained for general purposes of county expenses, such as official salaries and courthouse bonds. The state receives $26,639.39; roads, $18,890.51; and the district schools, $17,008.53.

The assessed poll taxes total $3,335.50. The county's part will be $476.50. The largest tax payer is the J. A. Ranch, assessed this year for $19,996.45.

Indicated Cotton Yield Is 1,800 Bales, States Cline, Local Ginner

Approximately 1800 bales of cotton will be ginned here this fall, according to the prediction of C. S. Cline, manager of the Silverton Gin company, who is in close touch with cotton growers of the immediate trade territory.

If this amount is realized, it will exceed the total received last year by 300 bales. Mr. Cline said that, while the recent heavy rains and hail showers had knocked much cotton to the ground, it was his opinion that most of it would be saved, as the weather was cool enough to prevent immediate rotting.

Up to the time of the rains Thursday night and Friday, the local gin had turned out 400 bales and was receiving cotton at the rate of about 75 bales daily. The harvest on the plains was just getting into full swing when stopped by wet weather.

R. F. Stvenson, special agent of the bureau of census for Briscoe county, reported to the department of commerce that prior to Oct 1, 1,157 bales of cotton had been ginned in the county, counting round as half bales, as compared with 465 bales of same date last year. This covers the new crop of 1929.

According to the Post, about 1700 bales had been turned out at Quitaque there up to Thursday, Oct. 10.

Dairy Show Judge Likes The Briscoe County Fair; Makes Some Suggestions

Briscoe County people should be proud of their Fair, according to statements made by those who served in the capacity of judges Oct 4. Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the Department of Agriculture of the Teachers College at Canyon, makes some suggestions for improvement in the dairy division.

"I certainly appreciate the effort which you people have put forth to make this wonderful display of farm products," said Mr. Phillips. "We did not expect so many community exhibits. We figured that the dry weather would keep your people back, however, I have always heard that you could not keep a good man down."

Should Send to Dallas

"I think that you did the right thing in sending the exhibit to Dallas and putting it in the State Fair," continues Mr. Phillips. "Your wheat deserves special attention, as well as your grain sorghums. In order to get any first place at Dallas, one must begin to collect material months ahead of time; nevertheless, you can attract very favorable attention with the kind of material you have here. I think such exhibits offer the best means of advertising the advantage of West Texas farms."

Wants More Hogs

"I am disappointed in your hog division. There is no doubt that the Plains farmers are failing to market their grain sorghums profitable; Swisher and Hale Counties have proved that. However, before one gets far with Dairy development, he finds he must have hogs as a side line. I should like to see more hogs exhibited at our county fairs."

Dairy Cattle Division to Be Improved

Professor Phillips, in a conference with the dairy exhibitors, expressed satisfaction in improvements since two years ago when he judged here; however, he pointed out some things that he thinks would help the dairy division. Among the suggestions are:

- (1) Have the agriculture class visit farms and, under the direction of the teacher, help farmers train their animals for standing in the show ring.
- (2) Secure the same boys for trimming cows' feet, hair and polishing horns.
- (3) Add a milking contest. He said that at the Plainview Dairy Show the milking contest had become one of the most interesting parts of the show.
- (4) Ask the Agriculture teacher to have some of his older boys present during the judging to help any farmer who needs help in holding animals to the best advantage.
- (5) Have a dairy tour; that is, have the farmers who are interested in improving their animals visit other dairy farmers to see how the best dairymen handle their farms.

Professor Phillips promised to return some Saturday to help Professor Gourley conduct such a tour through Swisher and Hale Counties, or to go with him to the local dairy farms near Silverton and point out desirable improvements.

Work Started for Methodist Building

Razing of Old Structure Begun Wednesday in Preparation for First Unit; Will Use School Building.

Demolishing of the old frame church building of the Methodist church started Wednesday afternoon, and when the ancient landmark disappears Silverton's first brick and concrete church will begin to arise. The new church will be built upon the unit plan as finances permit. A usable basement will be the first unit. While construction is going on, the congregation will occupy the old school building for Sunday-School and church services.

City Market Under New Ownership

A business change is announced this week in the purchase by W. E. Lemons and J. L. Graham of the City Market from J. G. Fort and E. H. Perry. The market will be operated in the same building as before, but the service counter has been moved to the front and space walled off for this department.

This will make for greater convenience of the customers. The market has also been put on a cash basis, according to the new owners.

"We will handle plenty of choice meats at all times," said Messrs Lemons and Graham, "and our cuts will be from only young fat stuff. We cordially invite the public to visit us." Mr. Lemons is an experienced meat cutter, and will continue to render the same courteous service as in the past.

John Folley Grows 51-Pound Melon

A fine specimen of Briscoe County's melon products was given to A. E. Frieze, postmaster, Monday by John Folley of Gasoline. The water melon was perfect, said Mr. Frieze, and it weighed 51 pounds. The melon was grown in the east part of the county below the caprock.

Key has a run of tough luck, the Owls will have to be content with second position.

Next Friday Coach Kelsay will take the local eleven to Happy for the fifth game of the season, being due to win, as they are winning and losing alternately.

The Owls are being drilled hard and long on charging, blocking, and interference this week in anticipating a hard game with the Happy Jacks.

Silverton Owls Lost to Turkey

Turkey Is a Jinx, Takes the Second One by Lone Touchdown; Happy Next

The Silverton Owls lost another close game to Turkey here last Friday afternoon by the score of 7 to 0. The visitors made their lone touchdown within the first four minutes of play with a long pass and a dashing end run.

At the start the Owls were rushed until the damage had been done. For off their feet and did not get settled the remainder of the game, the boys buckled down, keeping their own goal safe, but were unable to cross the goal of their heavy opponents.

The Owls and Turks played the best game of football that has been played on the local gridiron in several years. Both teams were fighting with determination to carry their side to victory. Fans say that this was the hardest fought game that they ever witnessed. The Turks scored the only touchdown of the game by the air route. A pass placed them in scoring position.

Captain Colvin of the Turks led his team to victory by his accurate passing. He was rushed hard at all times but his height gave him an advantage that he used. McClendon showed some real football by making several nice runs, despite the wet field.

Space is limited to mention all stars. Every man on each team turned in good accounts. Patton kept the Turks back from the Owls territory by getting away some beautiful punts. The Owls threatened several times to score and even the count, but Turkey would stiffen and the ball would be held for downs or forced to kick.

This is the second game of the season lost to Turkey, and it is a severe blow. Losing in September to the Hall county boys by one point, there was hope that the count would be evened in the second encounter, giving the Owls an equal chance for the best percentage of this section. Unless Tur-

WHEN ELECTRIC SERVICE IS INTERRUPTED

Recently a large American city was without electric current for a short time. The chaos resulting was graphically described by the Boston Herald, which said: "Street lights failed to work, with consequent traffic snarls; radios were struck dumb; electrical machinery in dozens of factories stopped; elevators stuck between floors; pipe organs in movie theatres died with dismal groans and the pictures 'froze' on the screen; soda fountain milk shakers refused to shake, and the supply of carbonated water soon gave out; afternoon newspapers were delayed by idle presses."

Such a list could be continued for many pages. Electricity has become so integral a part of our lives and so necessary to all the machinery of our civilization that when service is interrupted for the briefest period of time, business actually comes to a stand-still. Behind almost every luxury and necessity we use and almost every task and occupation is electric power. It is no wonder that electricity has often been considered the greatest agency of progress we have.

THE FIRST PUBLIC UTILITY

Gas was first of the public utilities. It was followed by electricity which, in the opinion of many sages, was to sound the death knell of the gas industry.

This was a logical belief, for the early use of gas was restricted almost entirely to lighting. But when electric power took its place in this field, a period of progress began for the gas industry in other fields that is still continuing.

A steadily increasing number of homes favor gas-fired heating systems. In industry, where manufacturing and chemical processes require heat, gas has more than 20,000 uses.

The gas industry is a social development. First of the utilities, it remains one of the greatest.

GO TO BED

According to a press dispatch, the Russian government, in order to make citizens go to bed, turn off most street lights and doubles the prices of food and drink after 10 p. m. It seems as if the greatest radical experiment ever attempted is determined to revoke all personal liberty and individuals rights.

IN MEMORY OF ROZETTA CARTER

There's a whisper among all the neighbors: In the hush there is scarcely a sound.

There are tears in the eyes of the slow passer-by, For a death lingers over the town.

It is so natural that we fall asleep, Like tired children when the day is done,

That I would question why the living weep.

When death has kissed the laughing lips of one.

We do not sigh when golden skies have dawned, The purple shadows and the grey of night,

Because we know the morning lies beyond,

And we must wait a little while for light.

So when, grown weary with care and strife,

Our love ones find in sleep, the peace they crave,

We should not weep, but learn to count this life,

A prelude to the one beyond the grave;

And this be happy for them, not distressed,

But lift our hearts with love, to God and smile,

And we anon, like tired ones will rest,

If we will hope and wait a little while.

Young Rozetta has lived, loved, and left us. Life had meant much to her in her bloom.

But the one, once so dear, Lies at rest, far from here, in her tomb.

Fifteen years her bright smile graced our township, And her quite modest ways pleased us all;

But, as tragics end, came the death Angel then,

And she smilingly answered her call.

Mother Carter, we sympathize greatly.

For the vacancy now in your home; But God wanted her too,

He loved her, He loves you, and someday you will follow her home.

Friends and parents must now take the comfort,

We must not be sick and heartsore. She is now happy there,

She has suffered while here, but will suffer no more.

She has gone to a land much more pleasant,

To a land where no tears fill the eyes.

We will not bring her back, we will go to her,

To that home just beyond the blue skies.

BULBS SET OUT NOW WILL HELP TO BRIGHTEN YARDS NEXT SPRING

Set out bulbs this fall if you would brighten up your premises early next year with colorful spring bloom. Cheerful flowering bulbs are the home gardener's annual inspiration, the first encouraging sign that Old Mother Nature is ready to help us make our grounds beautiful through the growing season.

Winter leaves the average yard a somewhat dreary prospect. The tulip, hyacinth, narcissus and crocus, dispel the gloom. It is these bulbs commence. Tulips may be planted before the end of October.

After September the bulbs will keep well in the ground. They will at once begin to root and at the outbreak of spring growth will recommence. Tulips may be planted a little later in the fall than either the narcissi or hyacinths.

A way to keep ground suitable for planting, if your bulbs are delayed in arrival until after hard frosts, is to cover the space where they are to be set out with a thick layer of leaves or straw.

Late planted bulbs should be immediately well mulched, except in the Southern states or like climates, but those set out early in the fall should not be covered with a mulch until after the ground has been frozen. Summer and fall flowering bulbs such as gladioli should not be set out until next spring, unless the gardener is quite experienced.

Appearance of bulbs is indicative of vigor. They should be plump, solid and of full size. They should be moist rather than dry.

Soil should be well drained and rich. Sand and leaf mould can be used to advantage around the bulbs if the soil is heavy.

Well rotted manure not touching the bulbs but available to the roots, likewise bone meal, are the fertilizers usually recommended.

Uniform depth of planting will insure blooming at the same time. The larger the bulb, as a rule, the deeper it should be planted. In sandy soil the depth may be greater than in heavy soils. Three times the diameter of the bulb is an accepted planting depth. A practical table of bulb planting depths is:

Anemone, 3 inches; bulbous Iris, crocus and snowdrop, 4 inches; grape hyacinth, 5 inches; tulips, 6 inches; hyacinth and narcissus, 7 inches, and lily, 8 inches. Crocus, snowdrop and grape hyacinth should be planted 3 inches apart; bulbous iris, 4 inches apart; narcissus, tulip and anemone, 6 inches apart and lilies, 12 inches.

If the bulbs are planted in beds the surface of the beds should be slightly higher at the center so that the water will run off. Bulbs are apt to rot with water standing in the beds.

All gardeners wish to have the largest flowering varieties, but if bulbs are left in the ground year after year and are not removed after flowering, the size and quality of the blooms will be decreased.

Next spring, about a month after the bulbs have flowered, when the tops have turned yellow, they should be dug up and the tops cut off within an inch of the bulb. The roots should be left on. The bulbs should be spread out in a dry airy room for about 12 days, at the end of which time they will have become dry. Then they should be wrapped in paper or packed in dry sand and stored in a dry, cool place.

If the home owner's garden plan calls for a rapid succession of bloom, the early flowering bulbs can be dug up after flowering and "heeled in" elsewhere until the tops turn yellow.

For varieties of bulbs the amateur will find many valuable suggestions in the current magazines, the plants-

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY...

What have tank cars to do with motor cars? Just this. Every day, tank cars filled with Phillips 66 are shipped North, South, East and West. The volatility of the gasoline in each of these tank cars is scientifically controlled to fit the climatic conditions of the locality in which it is sold. The result? Instant starting, quick warm-up, rapid acceleration, remarkable power and mileage—regardless of weather—at no extra cost! For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66... or 66 Ethyl.

ALBANY, Oct. 16.—Sudan grass has out-yielded and out-lasted cane in the summer drouth on a demonstration of Billie Moore's in Ibez Community, Shackelford county. ## CHEVROLET CO. KEEPS TWELVE CARS IN CONSTANT OPERATION TO TEST OUT DEFECTS AND EXPERIMENT

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—Chevrolet test cars at General Motors Proving Ground have already been driven upwards of five million miles, according to James M. Crawford, chief engineer of the company, who declared last week that use of this vast outdoor laboratory has been one of the principal reasons for Chevrolet's constant success.

"An average of 12 test cars are in constant operation, purring up steep inclines, plowing through sand, mud and snow, driving into the teeth of heavy winds, testing speed and endurance on the track and subjecting themselves to every known performance trial," he said. These cars are not retired until they have been driven between 30,000 and 50,000 miles.

"After an experimental model attains this mileage it goes to the experimental laboratory to be dismantled. Every part is inspected, all evidences of wear noted. If a detail is not as it should be, work starts immediately developing a new part or process to replace the old.

Wide Corn Rows Have Bigger Crop

BIG FOOT, Oct. 14.—Planting corn in rows seven feet apart gives eight to ten bushels more to the acre than that in three and one-half foot rows, is easier to gather, takes less labor in cultivating, and is easier to keep clean of weeds, according to O. M. Ruede, local Frio county corn demonstrator.

Ladies Department Most Popular In Exhibit Hall

A department overlooked until three days before the fair, proved to be the most popular spot in the exhibit hall. It was the Woman's booth. Hurriedly collected and arranged by Mrs. C. L. Dickerson, Mrs. Clifford Allard, Mrs. Coffee and Mrs. Robert Hill, the fancy needle-work, the quilts, cakes, pies, bread, etc. made a creditable and attractive exhibit. In the sewing, older women won out in the main contests. A quilt made by Mrs. R. Sedgwick 71 years ago, was awarded first premium, a bed spread made by the late Mrs. W. E. Burleson, won a blue ribbon, three luncheon sets embroidered by Mrs. J. W. Smylie received first, second and third places—in competition with several others. Several other ribbons were won by the more mature matrons, for needle art. But in cooking it was notable that the best display of canned vegetables was brought by Mrs. Agnes Turner, twenty year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Donnell; (most of this was put up while the young woman was handicapped by being crippled from a broken leg), the blue ribbon for canned fruits went to Miss Bonnie Smith, another twenty-year-old girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith. Both girls were formerly Home-Ec Students in Silverton High. The second place of Angel food cakes was given little Miss Annie Fowler, who is only nine years old.

Everyone appreciated the earnest conscientiousness of the judges. They were Mrs. F. R. Phillips of Canyon, Miss Annis, Silverton Domestic Science teacher, and Mrs. Chancellor. Mrs. Upchurch of Canyon also helped judge some of the exhibits.

Mrs. Patton Gave Surprise Dinner for Miss Lucille King

Mrs. G. C. Patton honored Miss Lucille King last Thursday evening with a six o'clock dinner. The occasion was in celebration of Miss King's birthday; and was a complete surprise to her. She was the recipient of several nice remembrances.

The table was lovely with a large center bouquet of orchid and white dahlias. The cake was a culinary picture in pink and white, with a blaze of candles topping it. The exquisite dinner was served to Mrs. Walling, Miss Anna Lee Anderson, Miss Morton, Miss Brown, Lallie Haynes and Bonnie Mae Walling and the honoree, Miss King.

New Coat Length for Autumn Ensembles

Shorter than longer coats are the style. The most recent cloth ensembles are "that way." To explain rather than full length the mode raises the coat hemline to three-quarter or to anywhere that is "different," accenting the line as pictured with wide fur borderings.

Dinner in Honor Of Amarillo Guests

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Peters of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. Wood Hardcastle last week-end; and in their honor Mrs. Hardcastle gave a chicken dinner Sunday, having as her additional guests. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ed Burleson and family, Mr. A. G. Stevenson, Mrs. Peters will be remembered by her friends here, as Miss Iris Mae Fox.

Friends Enjoy Afternoon With Mrs. Bland Burson

The outstanding social event of the autumn was the bridge party given by Mrs. Bland Burson at her beautiful new home in North Silverton last Friday afternoon. Softly shaded lights enhanced the elegance of the rooms where 5 tables for bridge and 2 for "42" were set. Red dahlias and the bright colors of the tallies struck the right note of gaiety.

In the games Mrs. D. O. Bomar won high bridge score and was presented a dainty dance handkerchief. In "42" Mrs. Walter Fogerson was high, and won the handpainted crystal powder-jar.

The refreshments were artistic and delicious, the "cheese apples" being particularly pretty and original. The guests were Mesdames F. P. Bain, O. T. Bundy, R. G. Alexander, J. A. Neill, J. W. Casey, C. R. E. Weaver True Burson, John Bain, Jr., T. R. Whiteside, Ben Smylie, R. E. Douglas, M. R. Alexander, Ernest Tibbetts, D. W. Cowart, D. O. Floral Club Illustrated Its Hobby of Beautiful Homes and Gardens

Everyone seemed to agree that the two windows arranged by the Floral Club were the most beautiful corners at the Fair. Mrs. Guest was chairman of the club's fair booth; and the display of plants and flowers were a credit to Mrs. Guest and her committee.

Their artistry was in evidence also in the bit of landscape architecture that demonstrated the club's hobby, "beautiful homes and gardens." A miniature scene in the window, with beauty and convenience shown in every detail, fascinated hundreds who stopped to admire, and plan more exquisite home-surroundings because of its inspirational charm.

The ladies who—in the face of this season's drought and heat—have persevered in their floricultural efforts until they could show such rare specimens as the dahlias and roses and other flowers deservedly decorated with ribbons, in the flower-window, should have unreserved commendation. Some of the flowers shown, might well have been the pride of professional florists—as well as Briscoe's pride.

Mrs. Smith is the talented and cultured daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas and has many friends, as has the young groom, Mr. Doyle Smith.

Mrs. Smith's "speech" expressing her appreciation for the tokens of love and respect was given in her usual gracious way.

A most enjoyable affair was the shower for Mrs. Doyle Smith, formerly Miss Marie Thomas, given by Mrs. R. E. Douglas and Mrs. W. L. Jewett in the pretty new Jewett residence, last Tuesday afternoon.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the lavish floral decorations of roses and dahlias and in the other appointments. The guests pieced a pink and white quilt for Mrs. Smith. A little love-story, read by Mrs. Douglas, a reading by Wilma

ACCORDING TO MODERN COATOLOGY THE FUR CUFF STYLES THE SLEEVE

A spirit to ring out the old, ring in a new, pervades the entire coatology realm. The whole atmosphere is fairly surcharged with a sense of change. Flares instead of straight silhouette, sleeves which have developed a complex; high waistlines which compete with princess fitted effects; these details and more bespeak a revolution in "lines."

And the fur treatments! "See what happens" when the autumn and winter season gets into full swing. Just one thrill after another is on the program, both for the all-fur coat and the furred cloth coat.

Especially in the matter of sleeve-design, style creators are stopping at nothing which will achieve the unusual. One of the vagaries of fur cuffs is to travel up the sleeves, to and beyond the elbow. The sleeves in the picture tell a story of this outstanding trend. It suggests but one among the strange and devious tricks modern cuffs are performing.

One of the distinctive features of sleeves, this is that of widened and lowering lines about the wrist. In other words sleeves are taking to themselves flares quite the same as are skirt hemlines. Flat pelts, such as caracul, ermine and broadtail, especially lend themselves to these effects. A wide cuff of the fabric-like fur often starts at the elbow developing into a decided bell at the wrist. Then again godets of the thin fur are seamed into the cloth of the coat so as to secure a conspicuous flare.

And the whimsical collars, how flattering they are. In many instances there is a definite reaction from small tailored types. The inclination toward picturesque lines is especially apparent in collars which set away from the face. There are cleverly designed shawl interpretations which become capes when flattened over the shoulders. Often the shawl is of the cloth bordered with wide fur. Scarf themes are endless, worked out in flat caracul, ermine, sheared panther, or the popular galyak.

There's a lot being done with two kinds of furs, or with two colors of the same fur. Flat furs are frequently enhanced with long-haired borders. JULIA BOTTOMLEY, (© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

Fall Frocks Enhanced With Intriguing Lace

Lace, lace, lace! If not an elaborate bertha-collar and cuff set as pictured, then a yoke, a jabot, a fichu of lace on her new autumn velvet or satin or lightweight woolen frock declares fashion's craze for "touches" of lace. Whimsical lace cuffs especially add zest to the mode.

Mrs. Dick Cowart Charming Hostess To London Bridge

One of the most delightful parties of the season occurred Thursday, when Mrs. Dick Cowart proved to be every charming hostess when she entertained the London Bridge Club, in the beautiful home of Mrs. Tom Bomar. The home was very attractive with autumn flowers in brown and yellow. Each table with small yellow baskets was filled with dainty candies. The tables were of same color with graceful little pencils to tell the owner.

High score favor for the club members was a beautiful fruit dish, which was received by Mrs. Roy Allard. High guest prize, a beautiful perfume atomizer, went to Mrs. Bland Burson.

Dainty refreshments of a lovely brown salad, hot rolls and an orange drink with colored ice was served by Mesdames Dean Allard, Elmer Allard, Roy Allard, Bruce Burleson, D. O. Bomar, Tom Bomar, Walter Lee Bain, True Burson, Max Crawford, Raymond Patton, Hubert Simmons, Wood Hardcastle, E. G. Snapka, Leo L. McAnaw, James Meeker, A. R. Castleberry.

The guests were Mesdames Frank Bain, Bland Burson, Tom Burson, John Bain, Jr., Ernest Tibbetts, J. T. Bundy, Guy Whitacre and Mrs. Carroll Gunter of Dimmitt.
